

THE DEAREST TREASURES of old families from all parts of the Kingdom, the portraits of their forefathers, those old familiar faces which for centuries have looked down from their high places on great clan gatherings, on the christenings, the comings of age, the marriages, the Christmas merry-makings, the deaths and funeral pomps of their descendants. Those priceless treasures of great houses—Gossips about Portraits.

His paintings are well known in the household of every educated man through the length and breadth of the land—The Times Obituary Notice on Sir Edwin Landseer, Oct. 2, 1873.
