ARNOLD LOSES CASE

At Osgoode Hall, Toronto, on Friday, Mr. Justice Lennox, dismissed with costs the writ of habeas corpus of Alexander Arnold, farmer of Arthur township, in which Arnold claimed his wife, Mrs. Azelia Edna Moore Arnold, seventeen years of age, of Teviotdale, was restrained by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Moore of Teviotdale. Mrs. Arnold, her mother and father expressed themselves as well pleased with the verdict and the girl wife left with her parents for their home at Teviotdale where she will reside. Mr. Justice Lennox in delivering judgment said there was a preponderance of evidence in favor of the father and mother. "I presume they are respectable people who understand the necessity of truth in making an affidavit. The girl confirms and more than confirms what is in the affidavit. I asked her if her father and mother died if she would go back to her husband and she said no. Seeing her I can quite understand how this man of experience influenced her and used it upon her."

"She was badly treated by this man who I can term aged," he continued, "who is the father of a family, and who should know the rights of fathers and mothers and respect other people's children. He did not do so. I have no doubt as to the facts of the case and if my mind was in the balance as to the truth of the affidavits I would not support the application made here."

Mr. Justice Lennox, in reply to Mr. Clarke, who acted for the appellant, said even if the matter hung in the balance he could not take the girl from the custody of her parents.

Mr. Justice Lennox: "If some blackguard captures a man's wife on the streets of Toronto, then the husband is entitled to proceedings. Take this case, it is doubtful at the beginning if this woman wishes to return with her husband. If the affidavits can be depended upon there has been no restraint."

New material denying Arnold's allegations that his bride was being kept from him had been filed by William Moore and Mrs. Azelia Edna Moore Arnold.

Moore's affidavit stated that Arnold, farmer and highway foreman, came to board with the Moore's in November, 1921. On January 4th, 1922, the daughter left home about 1.20 in the afternoon, saying that

A ROMANCE OF BIRD LIFE

When one day, several years ago, a pair of wild geese halted on their way north at a small farm in Essex County, Ontario, the farmer did not seize his gun, rush out and blaze away at his rare visitors, but watched them, gained their confidence and encouraged them to call again. The response to this unusual treatment at the hands of man was remarkable. By means of wild goose language, strange bits of which we overhear as they fly high overhead on unexpected nights in spring and autumn, the birds who had received protection and kindness instead of the customary hostile reception through the bore of a rifle, old their brothers and sisters of the sanctuary they had found.

Next season the number of callers multiplied; the next they multiplied again, until now thousands call every year and the farmer has to spend hundreds of dollars in boarding his feathered guests during their sojourn here.

The farmer in this history is Jack Miner. The fame of this bird sanctuary has spread, until to-day it is the mecca of innumerable sightseers who go to witness the scenes on the farm when the geese pause in their long flight and pay Jack a neighborly visit.

The story of the geese and Jack Miner is one of the romances of wild life. And it will prove that there is more fun in watching the ways of our charming feathered visitors than in hunting and killing them. What a lively, delicate, entrancing thing a wild bird is. What a sad and tragic thing is a limp and lifeless one.

PEEL FARMER HAS PECULIAR TROUBLE

There is much interest in Peel township in the case of Mr. Bartholemew Farrell, a native of the township and widely known there, who is in the hands of an expert masseur in Syracuse, New York, who is endeavoring to restore to him his speech, lost two years ago when he was struck on the head by a pan of dough. The injury practically paralyzed the vocal chords and his tongue and affected his jaws so that he could not speak a word. He was taken to three hospitals in Syracuse, where he was working at the time, for treatment, but all methods used to restore speech failed and he was then taken to New York where two specialists worked on him, also without success. He has been drawing compensation of $15 weekly and on this he and his wife and two children have to get along. All his bills for hospital and medical treatment have been met by his former employer, Mr. Farrell can not use his jaws and when he makes an effort a slight hissing sound comes from him as a result of his treatments. Since he lost his speech he has learned the sign language. The circumstances of his injury were peculiar. He was at work piling trays on dough carriers. A pan of dough weighing 30 pounds slipped off the top shelf of one of the carriers and fell 15 inches, striking him squarely on the head. He has never spoken since. The masseur is hopeful that methods being used will effect a cure.

A TOBOGGAN ACCIDENT

A company of young people were enjoying a toboggan party on the hill west of the Agricultural ground Saturday night when an unfortunate accident occurred. A toboggan containing Eric Ramsay, Irene Moore and Hilda McNamara got off to a bad start and ran into a tree root on the side of the hill, the occupants being thrown in all directions. Hilda McNamara was launched violently against a tree and painfully injured. Her forehead was cut across, requiring several stitches to close the wound, one of her eyes hurt, some teeth broken and her hip and body met severely. While it is thought her injuries will not prove serious they are very painful and will keep her in bed for some weeks. Irene Moore escaped with a slightly injured ankle, and Eric Ramsay was bruised and shaken up.—Tel-escape.

FINED $20 FOR ASSAULT

Alvin Racher, a local youth who visited the Family Theatre on Thursday evening last and started in to beat up the manager, Fred Jewell, was mulcted $20 and costs by Magistrate McNab at the Town Hall here on Monday afternoon on a charge of assault with intent to do grievous bodily harm. Jewell, who is an ex-soldier, was carrying peacefully on at the ticket selling wicket, when Racher came in, and picking a quarrel, threatened to throw Fred through the window. On the latter resenting this, Racher grabbed the ex-warrior and was apparently proceeding to make good his threat, when, becoming incensed during the tussle, he hit Jewell a smashing blow over the eye, which blackened and almost closed the optic. Just how far the pommelling process would have gone is not known, but his aggressiveness was brought to a sudden close when Jewell grabbed up a hammer and tapped him on the head in a manner that sent him staggering to the doctor's for repairs. Lawyer Klein, who prosecuted at the trial, urged that Racher be given a prison term as he had been fined already several times for different offences. Herb Henderson, who defended the accused, pulled a pitiful tale in the Court about making a jail-bird of so young a man, and thought that this might be the turning point of the ways, and prayed that another chance be given him. Nor were Herbie's cries in vain, for the Magistrate decided to give him the chance asked for, and passed out a fine of $20 and costs, or a total assessment of $29, which the defendant promptly paid. On a charge of being disorderly in the Hartley House on the same day as he pulled off the picture show attack, Racher, who pleaded guilty to the affair, was mulcted $1.00 and costs by the Magistrate on Tuesday. UNION STOCK MARKETS TORONTO

A good demand was shown for all classes of butcher cattle, cows and bulls at the Union Stock Yards yesterday and despite an offering that was slightly heavier than a week ago, a brisk trade at steady prices was in evidence. The receipts were about 400 head heavier than those on the previous Monday, but the demand was strong enough to clean the offering up in good time. Sales were generally steady with last week's close, or Wednesday's market which should really be termed the finish of last week's trading. Receipts for the Thursday's market were decidedly high, and in spots exceedingly high prices were paid. The quality of yesterday's offering was generally good.

A few loads of heavy steers were purchased for export, but the activity in this class was not heavy enough to have much influence on the market. The feeder trade also continues slow, only a few loads of this class being picked up. Loads of choice heavy steers brought $8 and $8.40, with odd animals selling at $8.50. One load of choice butchers, averaging 1,138 lbs, sold at $8.10, with best loads handweight killing steers going at $7 and $7.75 and an odd lot at $8. In fact the quality of the cattle showing quality today's run closed at about as their bids were concerned, and were offering $12.25 f.o.b. and $13 fed and watered. Few sales were made, although one commission firm claimed to have sold nearly 300 hogs to an outside packer at $13 f.o.b. Packers, according to some of the drovers, paid $12.75 f.o.b. for hogs in the country late last week. Their bids for Tuesday's loading, however, are on the basis of $11.75 f.o.b. and the outcome for the balance of the week would appear to largely depend on the size of the offerings.

The higher prices prevailing on the Buffalo market for sheep and lambs is taking the big proportion of offerings away from this market. Of the week end receipts of 2400 less than 200 were offered for sale locally. At Buffalo yesterday lambs were quoted around $16, and sheep around $9.50. Locally the offerings were of poor quality and trade slow at lower levels for lambs. Sheep sold as high as $8.50, with the best lambs at $12 and $13.

The quality of the calves was also so poor, and a weaker trade was in evidence, prices being off from $10 to $1 per hundred from last week. Tops were generally $12, with an odd sale up to $14.

THAWING PIPE STARTED FIRE

While thawing out a frozen waste pipe at her home on the 9th con., Turnberry, last Thursday morning, Mrs. A. Fergie accidentally set fire to the side of the house and got her hands badly burned as she tried to extinguish the blaze. Before the fire was put out frost bite also added to the severity of the burns. The blaze gradually spread up between the partitions of the house but was prevented from doing extensive damage by the prompt action of Mr. Fred Lewis, a neighbor, who kicked a hole through the wall and threw a bucketful of water down upon it. Some other neighbors, including Geo. Fortune, Tom McLennan, John Smith, Nelson Underwood and Harold Gilkinson had gathered and rendered efficient assistance in putting out the fire. After her hands had been dressed by Miss Clara Fortune, Mrs. Fergie collapsed from the effects of the shock and exposure. At the time the fire started Mrs. Fergie was all alone.

The death occurred at Hepworth last week of J. J. Downes in his sixty-seventh year. The late Mr. Downes was one of the best known and most popular residents of the village, where he was proprietor of a hotel since the time he moved there from Warton some sixteen years ago.

There may be better ways of advertising than through the columns of your local newspaper, but they are as yet undiscovered. We may make signs to the moon with the idea that people inhabit the planet, but they won't know anything about it. You may have goods on the shelves of your shop, and real bargains, but without letting the people know about it through your local newspaper, is like making signs to the moon.

Frank Ambrose Mitchell and Mitchell Mitchell, the Indian Tom Thumbs of America, died of pneumonia at their home at the Indian village of Tobique, near St. John, N.B., last week. Ambrose was 63 years old and weighed 38 pounds and stood 30 inches. Mitchell was 65 years old and weighed 34 pounds and stood 28 inches. Their mother was made some tempting offers to travel with them in circuses and museums whereby they might have made a fortune, but they were all turned down. They lived in almost absolute seclusion.
