

FRATERNIZED AT TORONTO.

Mayor and Aldermen Forget Cares of the Day

For a Game of Ball at the Island Grounds.

Return Jollification In This City at Early Date.

Mayor McLaren and his colleagues who look after Hamilton's civic administration forgot the power question and other worries and strife of municipal life long enough yesterday afternoon to trip to Toronto and fraternize with Mayor Oliver, the aldermen and controllers of that city. It was the annual reunion of the civic sons of the two cities, an event for which Joe Thompson, Toronto's publicity commissioner, and Ald. Tommy Church are responsible. They launched it three years ago. The joint yesterday was the most pleasant yet. The Hamilton delegation, which included press representatives, was entertained in regal style. Arriving in Toronto at 1.30, they were met at the Union Station by the Toronto reception committee, with taxicabs, and after luncheon hurried over to the Island for the ball game, which was the feature of the outing.

The game was played on the Toronto club's grounds. Unfortunately, some one forgot to lock the gate after the party landed, and the audience that piled into the grand stand gave Captain Sweeney's team an attack of stage fright, as the members are not accustomed to playing ball in public. Just as the Hamilton men were recovering their nerve and beginning to straighten out the heads and shoulders served up by Jimmie Simpson, the municipal editor of the Toronto Star, Captain Church replaced him with George Farley, a long, lanky gentleman, who scared Captain Sweeney's men half to death with the way he heaved them over.

After Mayor Oliver had been placed in the field to watch the bees and Jesse Appleburgh behind the catcher, the trouble began. Mayor McLaren and Chairman Allan, of the Board of Works, who refused to play after examining the ball, became so disgusted with the slaughter in the first inning that they left the grounds. Excitement of good fellows followed fast on each other's heels. Dr. Hopkins pulled a hard drive out of the air in startling fashion and followed this up with a Billy Bounce stunt, in which his 270 pounds collided with the ground in shocking fashion. Fred Howe also started giving the Hamilton team, and the Toronto men were kept busy dodging his twists. One of them hit Jimmie Simpson on the head and keeled him over. Joe Thompson distinguished himself by climbing half way into the grand stand and capturing a foul tip. The Toronto men forged ahead in the third inning, but after that things went from bad to worse until, at the end of the seventh, Capt. Sweeney decided that for Hamilton's honor it was time to call the game. The score was 15-11.

The teams: Toronto (15)—Simpson p., Keeler 2b, Marsh c., McGuire 1b, Adams cf., Geary ss., Thompson 3b, Graham and Church r.f., Bredin and McGhie l.f. Hamilton (11)—Howe p., Sweeney 3b, Wright c., McKenty cf., Appleburgh r.f., Hopkins 2b, Cooper l.f., Robinson ss. Ald. Church, better known as "Old Time" was master of ceremonies, and after the game the visitors were given a grand tour. Dinner was served at the Hotel Hamlan, where Ald. Keeler proposed a toast to the guests, Mayor McLaren and Ald. Sweeney responding. Mayor Oliver proposed a toast to the directors of the Toronto ball club for giving the use of the grounds. The Hamilton men responded enthusiastically to a toast proposed by Mayor McLaren to Mayor Oliver and his colleagues.

The Hamilton aldermen, in one of the patrol boats, followed a water canoe race, in which 150 paddlers took part. It was the first of the evening on the "Dip of Death," the figure eight and other attractions on the Island, which were kindly thrown open for the visitors, through the courtesy of the Ferry Company.

Before leaving for home, Mayor McLaren invited the Toronto aldermen, controllers and representatives of the press gallery to come to Hamilton on Wednesday next. Lawn bowling, instead of baseball, will be the feature of the Hamilton trip.

SNYDER HERE.

Provincial License Inspector Looks Over the Hotels.

Many complaints were made during the race meet about the lack of good hotel accommodation, and many of the horsemen and bookmakers had to go to the Grant House, at Burlington, for lodging. A special baggage car on the Radial Railway was required to move the trunks and grips from the Burlington hotel on Saturday night.

Mr. H. W. Snyder, of Toronto, Provincial License Inspector, was in the city to-day and it was reported that he came here to investigate conditions—to see if all those holding hotel licenses are really keeping hotel. The local inspector, Mr. Jas. Sturdy, said that the Provincial Inspector's visit had no such significance—that he simply stopped off here and that he found everything in a satisfactory state.

LEAVES FIVE ORPHANS.

Mrs. Mary Jones, widow of the late Mr. John Jones, and daughter of Mr. Thomas Marshall, James street tailor, died at her home, 26 New street, this morning, after a short illness. Deceased was 36 years of age and leaving five young children, their father having died not very long ago. The funeral will take place on Thursday afternoon, 2.30, from her father's residence, 288 Jackson street west.

MANY CHANGES IN THE PRESBYTERY.

Toronto Minister Comes to Waterdown—Induction to Take Place on July 20.

The regular meeting of the Presbytery of Hamilton was held this morning in Knox Church Sunday school, and a large number of the clergy were present. Dr. Lyle acted as moderator. Rev. J. R. Campbell, of St. David's, was appointed moderator for the next six months, and thanked the Presbytery for the confidence placed in him. A communication from Rev. W. J. Dey, of Simcoe, was read, stating that he had left for Scotland, and that Rev. D. M. Buchanan would take his place as interim moderator of Lindoch and Carholm. The resignation of Rev. J. W. McLeod from the pastorate at Thorold was considered, and after the commissioners from the church had been heard, and Mr. McLeod had stated his reasons for resigning, a committee was appointed from the congregation to meet with him to endeavor to persuade him to withdraw his resignation, and the committee reported that Mr. McLeod had consented to do so, and would continue until the next November meeting of the Presbytery. A call from Calvin Church, Montreal, to Rev. Mr. McKay, of Chippewa, was considered, and after the commissioners from the Chippewa church had been heard the call was left in the hands of Mr. McKay, and he expressed difficulty in deciding, but it was agreed that he go to Montreal. Mr. S. Kennedy, from St. Ann's congregation, asked that the Presbytery appoint one of its members to be present at the 100th anniversary, and Rev. Dr. Fletcher was appointed. A petition was read from Drummond Hill Church asking the Presbytery to appoint a committee to investigate certain conditions in the church, and the following committee was appointed: Sir Thomas Taylor, convener; Dr. Smith, St. Catharines; Rev. John Young, Hamilton; Rev. J. D. Cunningham, Welland, and J. K. Black, of St. Catharines. Rev. Dr. Wallis reported that he had moderated in a call to a minister in Onondaga in favor of Rev. B. M. Smith, of Kincaidine Presbytery, after the call had been signed by 150 communicants and 54 adherents. After the commission (Continued on Page 10.)

SUCCESSFUL ELECTROCUTION

Execution One of the Best Ever Held in Auburn.

Italian Murderer Had Speedy Exit From This World.

Had Foully Murdered an Italian Private Detective.

Auburn, N. Y., July 6.—Giuseppe Sanducci, who murdered Joseph Dardano, an Italian detective, at Belfast Albany County, on the morning of Dec. 21st, 1907, was put to death in the electric chair in Auburn Prison at 6.15 o'clock this morning. The execution was one of the most successful in the history of the prison and was remarkable for the celerity with which it was carried out. Two shocks were used to kill, one lasting for three seconds over a minute and the second being of less than ten seconds' duration. The voltage was 1,850 and it ranged from eight and one-half to nine amperes. Sanducci's crime was committed in the broad light of day, and in the presence of forty or fifty people, who were at the railroad station in Belfast early in the morning of Dec. 21st, 1907. It was a sequel to the arrest of his employer, Michael De Cicco, on a charge of violation of the liquor law, the evidence of which was secured by Dardano and Albert J. Mancia, private detectives, of Albany.

The arrest was made the day before the shooting, and the detectives, after De Cicco was held on the charge, waited until the following morning before starting for Albany. They were just boarding the train when four shots were fired. Mancia was wounded in the head, but recovered, but Dardano was shot twice, one bullet striking him under the right shoulder blade and proving fatal. The fourth shot that was fired went through a mail bag.

After the shooting Sanducci escaped on a hand car, but a posse of forty or fifty residents captured him within three hours. He was tried and convicted and on April 2nd, 1908, was sentenced to die in the electric chair here. An appeal to the court of appeals resulted in an affirmation of the judgment of death on May 19th, 1909.

HAMILTON WOMAN

Swallowed Dose of Poison in Toronto But Still Lives.

"I've Had Enough of This World" Was Her Exclamation.

(Special Despatch to the Times.) Toronto, Ont., July 6.—Mrs. James Wood, thought to be the wife of a wood worker or cooper, of Hamilton or vicinity, is at the General Hospital here in a dangerous condition, as the result of taking atropine, a deadly poison, with suicidal intent. Mrs. Wood was housekeeper for the past month with Frank Humphrey, a teamster, on Berkeley street. This morning she said: "I've had enough of this life," and promptly swallowed the atropine, which was kept in the house for veterinary purposes. A doctor was summoned, and the woman rushed to the hospital. Restoratives were applied, and antidotes given vigorously. She may recover.

ROOF ON FIRE.

Chatham, July 6.—When Wabash passenger train No. 9 arrived here at 1.10 a. m. it was found that the roof of the second coach, Pullman sleeper, was on fire. The passengers were hustled out, and a hose was brought into service, with the result that the fire was put out after 20 minutes' work. The fire is supposed to have been caused by a spark from the engine.

The members of the Street Railway Union are wearing a very pretty monthly button for July. It was designed by Secretary Lamond, and shows a car with a background made of crossed flags and the initials of the union in the side of the car.

Aunt Emily

Columbus, Ga., July 6.—Emily Morgan, colored, probably the oldest resident of Georgia, is dead at the age of 117. "Aunt Emily" took in washing until she was 109 years old. For a year or two she had suffered with a "misery."

MOTOR TRIP.

Mr. John Moodie and Family Back From Europe.

Mr. and Mrs. John Moodie and their two daughters returned home yesterday after a unique and most enjoyable trip which was begun in the latter part of the winter and which was made chiefly by automobile. Not since they left Paris have they been on a railway train. Their stay in France included visits to all the leading points on the coast. From Paris they motored to the southwest of France and thence to the channel. Crossing over to England they motored to Hastings, Brighton and London, staying a day or so in each place, and ten days in London. Then they went to Stamford, on the northeast coast and on to York. At the hotel there they met Mr. and Mrs. Crookston (formerly Miss Gortshore, of this city). Continuing their motor trip they visited Newcastle, Carlisle and on to Castle Douglas, a run of 150 miles right across the island in a day; then on to Glasgow and Edinburgh. By steamer they went to Burt Island, then over to Aberdeen, via Perth, then from Aberdeen to Inverness in two days, visiting the estate of the late John Proctor en route; thence through the Grampian mountains to Blair, then to the Trossachs, back to Carlisle again, and via the Windermere lakes to Liverpool; thence to Chester and back, taking boat at Liverpool for home. On arriving at Montreal their intention to motor to Hamilton was interfered with by heavy rain, so they took a boat of the R. & O. line to Toronto and motored the last stage of the trip.

Mr. Moodie and every member of the party enjoyed the outing immensely, and each gained 20 pounds or over in weight. They were accompanied by their own chauffeur.

DEPORT HIM.

Alfred Petman Will be Sent Back After Serving Term.

In the criminal court this morning three prisoners were tried before Judge Monck. The first case was that against Arthur Petman, charged with stealing several articles from Peter Proca at the home of William Hendry, 141 Cannon street west. Several witnesses were examined, all of whom swore that the missing articles were found to be in Petman's possession when he was arrested at the Grand Trunk station. Constable John Clark testified that he had searched the prisoner's grip and found all the articles there except the belt, which he found on his person. Petman swore that he did not know he was pleading guilty when he appeared before Magistrate Jelfs on preliminary hearing; also that he did not know how the articles came into his possession. He had never stolen anything in all his life, he said; had a splendid reputation, and had never been charged with theft before. He said he came here from England in March, and on the night of the alleged theft was on his way to London.

His honor found the prisoner guilty, and sentenced him to two months at hard labor, after which he will be deported to England. He was defended by Mr. J. A. Ogilvie.

Harry Goodman, charged with stealing a suit of clothes from Maurice Moore, was acquitted, as no evidence was brought against him. Mr. A. M. Lewis appeared on behalf of the prisoner.

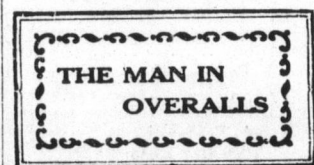

Michael Martin pleaded guilty to a charge of stealing a programme and two race track tickets valued at $26, and was released on suspended sentence on condition that he leave the country at once. He said he acted to New Orleans. Mr. A. M. Lewis acted as his solicitor.

NEW YORK'S BIG POLITICAL SHAKE-UP

GEN. THEO. A. BINGHAM.

Gen. Bingham, for three and a half years commissioner of police under Mayor McClellan, has been removed because, on the surface at least, he supported the police in "mugging" unconvicted persons. The politicians regard his disposal as a Tammany Hall victory.

THE MAN IN OVERALLS

This expert business is going to eat up a lot of the city's money.

What's this about politics in the Technical School?

Don't be in such a hurry when in your auto. It's sometimes not good for the health.

Mr. Lobb is not the only one who should mind his own business. What a lot of time people lose keeping other people from business.

What kind of a pump is it to be, Mr. Clark, for the mountain water system?

When women have votes we will have a compulsory marriage Act that will make some of our young fellows sit up and take notice, you bet. This single blessedness style of life is getting out of date.

Perhaps the Patriotic Fund Trustees intend to buy a Dreadnought with it.

Did the police make that raid on the advice of the Citizens' League or was it on their own motion?

Lord Rosebery, like many another taxpayer, hates to get hit in the pocket. But his is unearned increment.

It's not so much that marriage is a failure as that so many fail to get married. But that will all be changed when women have votes.

Too many small fires. Be more careful.

What about pumps for the Mount Hamilton water supply? Do you want the mountaineers to carry water all winter?

So far the Herald has failed to produce that affidavit. The Mayor was quite sure of the deliberate—what did he call them—lies?

But why should there be so many cases of infectious disease in the city? Is the water wormy or the atmosphere tainted? We used to have a pretty clean bill of health. Keep in the open.

Law costs, expert help and deputations are going to land this city in a heap of debt, and nobody sees the end of it.

Would it be too much to ask the Y. M. C. A. teams, after they catch their breath, to turn in and help the Greater Hamilton movement?

In the matter of casualties the Fourth was little better than a fourth rate affair.

If Mr. Waddell needed expert advice, why did not the Council employ that eminent legal expert and hydraulic engineer, Mr. T. J. Stewart?

Cobalt should know that there is a silver lining to every cloud.

Now that the International Council of Women is out of the way, Toronto is open for a Free Thinkers' Convention; the Hotel Men's Congress or a meeting of the Union of Municipalities. Anything to make an honest penny.

BEGINNING TO GET ONE EYE OPENED.

London Wants to be Relieved of 2,000 Horse-Power—The Hydro Tangle.

The motion by George S. Kerr, solicitor for Robert S. Morris, to enlarge until Thursday the injunction restraining the city from entering into a contract with the Hydro-Electric Commission, was granted at Osgoode Hall, Toronto, by Judge McMahon yesterday. City Solicitor Waddell and H. L. Drayton appeared for the city. On Thursday the case will come before the vacation Judge and Mr. Waddell thinks it will be disposed of at once. Before Judge Monck this morning Mr. Kerr moved for an order to the scrutiny of the ballots cast in the election. Mr. Waddell objected on the ground that the time for asking for a scrutiny had expired. Mr. Kerr contends that while the bylaw directed that City Clerk Kent was to certify to the vote on June 9, he did not do so until June 14, the day the council met, so that the application for a scrutiny, filed on June 28, was within the two weeks' time limit. Judgment was reserved sine die.

The Toronto World to-day selected a very inopportune time to lecture the Times for publishing an article last Saturday entitled "Going It Blind on the Power Question." The article referred to was based on a report in the London Free Press of the power meeting held there last Friday night, and if further proof were required the London City Council furnished it last night, when it decided to ask the commission for permission to reduce the city's quantity of power from 5,000 to 3,000 horse-power. This was done on the recommendation of London's electrical engineer. The fact that London ordered over 2,000 more horse-power than it required is a fair indication that the aldermen, as some of them admit, did not know what they were voting on. Of course if London is permitted to reduce the amount the cost of power to other municipalities, Hamilton included, will be proportionately higher. Another thing pointed out by the Times and admitted by Hon. Adam Beck is that Hamilton will be tied to the commission for thirty years just as soon as it fulfills or breaks its five-year contract with the Cataract. The World to-day quotes him as saying: "The fact is, the only respect in which any difference is made is that Hamilton is given permission to carry out the (Continued on Page 10.)"

Woman Murdered

New York, July 6.—The body of an unknown woman was found early to-day in the hallway of an Italian tenement house on East 13th street. There was every indication that the woman had fought desperately for her life, and her head and face were so battered that the features were unrecognizable.

TWO STORIES

About a Baby That Was Left at Stoney Creek.

Yesterday morning Mrs. Davis, of Stoney Creek, called on Truancy Inspector Hunter with a baby in her arms, which she said was left on her hands by a strange woman the previous night. The story she told was that a woman called at her residence and asked her to look after her baby for a few minutes while she was attending to some business. Mrs. Davis said she complied, but when after the hour had expired and no mother showed up, she became suspicious. In the morning the child was still unclaimed, and Mrs. Davis decided to turn it over to Inspector Hunter. This she did, and the Inspector in turn handed it over to the Children's Aid Society. The above is the story Mrs. Davis told Hunter.

"This morning," said Mr. Hunter, speaking to a Times reporter, "the mother of the child, a Mrs. Adams, came to me and said that Mrs. Davis had not been telling the truth. She said the Mrs. Davis wrote to her in answer to an advertisement she had promised to adopt the child. Mrs. Adams produced the letter to back her statement. She said she had taken the child to the home of Mrs. Davis, who had taken it in and promised to adopt it. The child is still in the charge of the Children's Aid Society, and Mrs. Adams expressed her intention of taking the child again and trying to get some responsible family to adopt it."

QUASHED.

Appeal Against Conviction of Thos. Cornwall Sustained.

George S. Kerr entered an appeal in the County Court this morning before Judge Monck against a conviction of theft against Thos. Cornwall by Mayor Lawson and Magistrate William Lawson, both of Dundas. Some time ago Cornwall, acting as agent of the Metropolitan Furniture Company, of Hamilton, went out to Dundas and seized a clock from Mr. F. C. Collins, on which the company had a lien. Collins refused to hand over the clock, consequently when the agent seized it he was arrested on a charge of theft and convicted. Mr. Kerr claimed that the conviction was without jurisdiction, and that there was no theft. Judge Monck granted the appeal.

WRIT ISSUED.

Edman Brown Seeks Damages Over a Seizure.

Through his solicitor, J. L. Schelter, Mr. E. Brown issued a writ on July 3 against Mark Pulling, Sylvester Nelson and Thomas Burrows for illegal distress and excessive conversion of goods. It is alleged that the defendants seized and sold goods belonging to a man named Bens, who was in arrears of rent, and in selling the goods, Mr. Brown claims, they did not stop when they had sold sufficient to cover their claim. The plaintiff held a mortgage on the said goods and maintains that he was beaten out of his claim. He is suing for $300 damages.

SMITH MUST SERVE TERM.

Had $38 In Pocket But Is Convicted of Vagrancy.

Magistrate Considers "Eddie" a Very Undesirable Citizen.

J. McDonald Ordered to Pay His Wife $4 Weekly.

William E. Smith, who was before Magistrate Jelfs at the Police Court yesterday morning, charged with keeping an immoral house and was acquitted, was this morning sentenced to six months in jail on being found guilty of being a vagrant. Detective Bleasley said he had known the defendant for the last five years, and during that time he had never done anything for a living, to his knowledge. "Do you know how he gets his living?" asked Chief Smith. "I believe his wife kept him until she was sent to jail for keeping that house," replied Bleasley.

Detectives Campbell, Coulter and Sayers were called and all gave Smith a very bad reputation. Constables Gibbs and Cameron also testified. When testifying on his own behalf Smith said that he had $38 in his pocket when he was arrested. A. M. Lewis, counsel for the defense, submitted that Smith could not be convicted of being a vagrant, as he had money in his pocket when arrested, and according to a decision of the Supreme Court of Manitoba a man who had sufficient money in his pockets to cover his immediate expenses could not be convicted of vagrancy. Said the Magistrate:

"This man has been up before me on so many occasions and been allowed to go without punishment that it would be foolish to give him another chance. I consider him a most undesirable citizen and am going to send him to jail for six months."

William De Tyler, 85 John street south, pleaded guilty to a charge of acting in a disorderly manner in the Savoy Theatre last night. The complainant, P. J. Green, said that the defendant, together with three companions, entered the theatre and began creating a disturbance. He ejected the other two, thinking that it was they who were raising the row, but De Tyler began kicking up again. He warned him to keep quiet, but he refused. P. C. Hill was called and De Tyler was arrested.

"You must understand that you must go into these places and get fresh," said the Magistrate, as he fined the offender $5.

Benjamin Yunis charged Morris Minuels, 77 Catharine street south, with assaulting him. Both are foreigners, and their evidence was both hard to understand, and hard to extract. After asking innumerable questions the Magistrate finally found out that the blame lay a little on each side and dismissed the case.

Nancy McDonald travelled all the way from Owen Sound to this city to find her husband and then sue him for non-support. J. McDonald, the defendant, told the Magistrate confidentially that he had no use for his better half and did not want to support her.

"But the law says you must support her," said the bench. "You took her for better or for worse, and you can't cast off a wife simply because you don't like her." In pursuance of this idea the Magistrate made out an order for $4 a week, to be paid to Mrs. McDonald.

HE WALKED

From Toronto to Hamilton to Draw His Pension.

A solitary soldier of the forces which represented the British arms in '85 made a forced march on Friday last from Toronto to this city. It was not the enemy whom he was pursuing. It was filthy lucre, for this hero was dead-broke, and his pension was awaiting him in Hamilton. The man, it appears, had been in the States for some time, and his pension of $16.75 had been forwarded to him there. He left before it came, and again the grant was sent after him, this time to Hamilton. The money was good, but the man was in Toronto. He had no funds, but was too proud to beg, and so set out on Friday for the Ambitious City.

Tired out, hungry and expectant, the man presented himself at the Bank of Montreal early Saturday morning. He had his land grant papers, as well as those regarding the pension, but he was too early to get his money. A clerk advanced him 25 cents and with this the man secured a breakfast, and came back much revived to draw the pension.

Though declaring he was quite fit, the former soldier did not take the road back to Toronto. He went by boat.

Love Finds the Way

CHAPTER XX.

Mr. Clarence Clifford's performance at the piano resulted the next morning in a message from Sir Ralph that he would be obliged if Mr. Clifford would give him a few minutes in the library.

"Good-morning, Mr. Clifford," said Sir Ralph, with his usual stern staidness; "I hope I have not disturbed your—ahem—studies."

"Not at all, sir," replied the tutor, seating himself in obedience to a wave of the aristocratic hand.

"I wish to speak to you, in conformity to a wish of Miss Melville's, relative to your excellent performance last evening."

"The tutor inclined his head and waited gravely and attentively."

"The baronet straightened the ruffles of his shirt and continued: 'May I ask what opinion you have formed, as a master of the art, of Miss Melville's musical abilities?'"

"That they are great, but untrained, unfinished," replied Mr. Clifford, at once.

"Just so, just so," said Sir Ralph. "Her own opinion, exactly. Having obtained your opinion, Mr. Clifford, I may put the proposal she wishes me to put, which is that you should add music to the Italian, and superintend her studies in both directions."

"The tutor nodded, hesitatingly."

"Sir Ralph, misunderstanding the reluctance, said as quickly as was compatible with his dignity: 'I need not add that your salary would be increased by the usual fee of a professor of music.'"

"A slight flush mounted to Mr. Clifford's brow for a moment, but disappeared, and left it clear again as he replied: 'You misunderstood my hesitation, Sir Ralph. I am doubtful whether I possess the capabilities required to undertake the duty you propose.'"

"Yes, infinitely; I am grateful to you," she added, "for making my song so much more sweet."

Impassable, sternly indifferent to her gratitude as he was to her compliments, he took up another and still another song, improving each in its turn, and showing her where to put the emphasis, never had Lillian been so gracious, so gentle, so bewitching.

A less vigorously self-sustained man would have lost his head as well as his breath before the lesson was over. But Mr. Clifford grew only the more grave, and when the climax came by the beautiful girl placing a duet on the stand and saying, with a winning smile: 'Will you sing this with me?' his gravity leaped suddenly into sternness and his face grew set and hard as he turned, saying: 'The lesson is finished for to-day.'"

"The tone, more than the abrupt words, recalled her to herself."

With a sudden flush, succeeded by a deep pallor, she said, haughtily: 'Thank you, I am afraid I have given you very much trouble.'"

"Lillian, standing in the room, crimson to the very roots of her hair, was trembling with wounded modesty, and crying: 'Oh, what have I done? Oh, dear, oh, dear, why wasn't Kate in the room to take care of me? I forgot my place and slipped out of it; he knew his and pushed me back—savagely—too savagely!'"

"Polly found her usually gentle mistress rather capricious that morning, and very free with the whip and the gaiter spur."

"Perhaps if she had known that her beautiful young mistress was being whipped and whipped by her own conscience quite as freely she might have been comforted."

"Soon after Lillian had started for her gallop Sir Ralph had his own light trap brought round, intending to drive to an outlying farm, the tenant of which was being sought for repairs."

"The tenant, an old-fashioned farmer, with little to say beyond expressing his obstinacy in demanding the repairs, got his way, and Sir Ralph turned the horse's head."

"That house," said he, pointing with his whip, "is Besant Towers."

RESCUE DROWNING.

How to Approach a Struggling Person—Breaking Strangle Holds. The annual advice to those who go near the water either with or without knowing how to swim is now in order. Some expert information on how to deal with the drowning is afforded by "Recreation," which cautions would-be saviors against attempting to rescue fully dressed. "It takes but an instant to remove your outer clothing and shoes," says the writer, "and this will be more than made up by your being able to swim faster in getting to him and from him to the surface three times. Proceed immediately to undress, and while so doing think fast. "Of course my advice to be deliberate is not intended to mean that you should lose any time. I have known men to wait after the person in danger had disappeared from sight, under the impression that a drowning person comes to the surface three times. That tradition is senseless, and has been responsible for many fatalities. "A drowning man may rise a dozen times or go under once and never be seen again; there is no telling. Make up your mind, therefore, that when a head sinks the situation is critical and not a second should be lost. If the body is visible under the water there is no difficulty in securing it, but if the water is muddy, more especially if a tide or current is running, use judgment, for you will need all your faculties to be successful. "Take your first dive from a point above where the body has last been seen, or bubbles have indicated its location, and work down stream. Thus you will not be bucking the current, nor will you miss the body if it has caught some submerged obstacle; while if it is free you will soon overtake it by swimming. "On reaching it if under water try to seize the clothing at the back of the neck; in the absence of these lift by the armpits, the chin or the hair. If the bottom is rocky or sandy and you are near it, take a good push off, but if the water is too deep or the bottom soft and muddy swim to the surface, using legs and free arm. "Now before describing how to carry a victim ashore it will be well to touch on the most dangerous phase of life saving, the rescue of persons made frantic by fear. "Water polo players have recently developed a system of breaks and holds that has been adopted by scientific life savers, and has been of invaluable assistance to them. Its most simple features are within reach of any one, and will enable you to handle even the worst cases with comparative safety. "In approaching a struggling person do so warily, and if possible from the back. If he shows any intention of grabbing wildly keep him off with your foot until you can seize one of his wrists. In doing this use the right hand for the right wrist and the left for the left. "On securing a hold swing him quickly around and throw your free arm around his neck. This places him in your power, and no matter how he struggles you will be able to carry him in safety. "Another good way, advocated by water polo players is to approach the man boldly, and as soon as he leaves his arm to clutch you to plant your open hand squarely under his armpit, allow yourself to sink, turning your body outwardly, and then shoving him over you come to the surface. If this is done correctly you will find yourself behind him, looking at the back of his head, when it will be an easy matter to place on him any hold you want. "Professional life savers often recommend splashing water in the face of a struggling person on the ground that it makes him turn from you. My experience has been that it only increases his terror and excitement. "Leg holds are the great fear of life savers. Let a powerful man encircle you with his legs an eight times out of ten you are a goner. To be caught either by legs or arms from the rear is also generally fatal, for back holds are almost impossible to break. Against

Good Short Stories

Paul Morton, at a banquet of insurance men, said of a rival company, says the Washington Star: "They have our sympathy in their bad luck, but they took our sympathy in ill part. It was like the widow who called upon us the other day. "This widow called to collect a small policy due her on her husband's death. Our clerk, as he counted out the money, said sympathetically: "I am sorry to hear of your sad misfortune, ma'am. "Well, that's just like you men!" snapped the widow. "You're all the same, always sorry when a poor woman gets a chance at a little money." —Boston Herald.

ANNOYING INTERRUPTION.

The lecturer warmed up. "Let us follow civilization's torch," he cried. Before he could say more a little man in the back part of the hall suddenly bobbed in view. "What is civilization's torch?" he shrilly demanded. The lecturer was annoyed. "Why, it's a—a—a—it's an expression." "It ain't got nuthin' to do with Standard Oil, has it?" "No," the lecturer shouted back. "Then you can go ahead with your lecture," said the little man as he disappeared from view.—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

GOOD ROADS NEEDED.

Of all the yarns that ever came down the line regarding deep mud, says Lippincott's, the following should be entitled to the blue ribbon. It happened in the place where mud originated. A man was walking along the roadside one summer day and noticed a fairly good looking boy out in the road. Reaching out with his cane he gave it a cut and was startled to hear a voice exclaim: "Here, what the deuce are you doing?" "Great Heavens!" exclaimed the man who had hit the boy. "Is that mud as deep as that?" "Deep!" cried the victim. "Why, man alive, I'm standing on a load of hay!"

THE HAMILTON TIMES

TUESDAY, JULY 6, 1909.

MR. BECK TALKS.

Having got back from his five weeks' holiday in England, Adam Beck tells the Globe that he is going to take up his "work" as Minister of Power again. Adam's "work" seems to be principally large talk on the matter. But out of his statement to the Globe little information is to be obtained save that a number of the engineers of the Commission are having a good time in Europe; that as yet practically nothing has been done as to the construction of the transmission line, and that he is hopeful that the Commission may be able to take power next spring and to complete the line in two years. According to Mr. Beck, Hamilton is to get no concessions, but "is given permission to carry out the contract with the Cataract Power Company so far as it is bound to do so."

The only respect in which the Hamilton contract differed from the others, was that Hamilton was allowed to fulfill its contract with the Cataract Company, in so far as it is bound to do so, while other municipalities have bound themselves to take power from the Hydro-Electric Commission exclusively. It was hardly candid on Mr. Beck's part to make such a statement with the evident object of conveying the idea that Hamilton is being given some favor. This favor is a goldbrick. It was always intended that existing contracts should be carried out. Even in the original form of contract furnished to the city of Hamilton by the Commission, Section 2, sub-section b (the monopoly clause), it was provided:

Nothing herein contained shall affect existing contracts between the corporations and other parties for a supply of electric power, but the corporations shall determine said contracts at the earliest possible date.

Nothing could be more definite than that statement; and if Mr. Lobb's letter to the Council means no more, the Council would appear to have very good reason for complaining that it was not being dealt with frankly. According to the London Free Press the Council of that city has been somewhat exercised over Hamilton being allowed special concessions. But Mr. Beck has assured it that Hamilton has a right to demand why an effort should have been made to lead our Council to suppose that an exception was being made to meet its views. Such conduct calls for explanation. Mr. Beck is reported in the London Free Press as saying that "Hamilton is not a member of the power union, and never was." An Act passed by the Legislature to validate the by-laws passed by the municipalities of this power union, Chapter 22, O. S., 1908, and including the agreement with the Ontario Power Company, signed by Adam Beck, names these municipalities, the second name being "Hamilton."

Schedule A of Chapter 19, O. S., 1909, again includes Hamilton. In the body of the Act, however, Sec 2 (a), Hamilton and Brantford are struck out. There could be no better evidence that Mr. Beck's statement that Hamilton was never considered a member of the power union is incorrect. In the multiplicity of his statements, Mr. Beck appears to have slipped a cog. The really important part of Mr. Beck's talk is that which goes to indicate that if any Hamilton alderman flatters himself that he is getting exceptional terms for Hamilton, he is being goldbricked.

CANADA HAS DONE WELL.

Speaking at Sheffield at the Lord Mayor's dinner to the Imperial Press delegates, Mr. J. W. Dufos, of the Winnipeg Free Press, took occasion to point out that some of the men who thought themselves to be the best friends of the Empire were very far from doing the best in its interests. These were the men who believed that they could sit in a library in London and formulate a constitution or a working programme, in which they could compress the life of the nations overseas. The evidence that had been forthcoming at the conference that no responsible statesman in either party accepted that theory, had done more for the consolidation of the Empire than anything that had happened for many years. Mr. Dufos frankly put before the meeting an evidence of Canada's devotion to the Empire and of her determination to maintain her British status, even at the cost of suffering which is too often overlooked or disregarded by many of those who would propagate the notion that Canada has been remiss in discharging her obligations towards the motherland. Mr. Dufos said:

Because Canada had been British for the last hundred years it had perhaps prospered less than it might otherwise have done, but no Canadian had ever regarded that as a sacrifice. It had been a condition of their national life—and they had accepted it. The bond which had held the British Empire together had been a community of aspiration. The British Empire grew and endured because the people who lived in it, whatever language they spoke, believed that the British principles, the British system of Government, were the best assurance of that social and political toleration that was in the heart of every good man.

There is just a hint here, and it was very properly given, that Canada has suffered disadvantages as well as she enjoyed advantages, from her connection with the Empire. There is not a doubt that very much of the tariff hostility to which we have been subjected has been exhibited in the effort to alienate us from Great Britain. Those efforts were fruitless. They have but served the purpose of rendering us more British and of shaping our policy along British lines. Especially since the Laurier Government came into power has Canada's policy been thoroughly British. For many years we lost population and lost trade by the tariff efforts put forth to kill British sentiment in Canada. We have survived that period, and we are now in a position to smile at such attempts to wean us away from the Empire. The money we have devoted—and it has been many millions—to placing ourselves in a position of trade independence and drawing closer the bonds with the other nations of the British Empire has been vastly better spent than it would have been had it been devoted to the building of Dreadnoughts, or given in contributions to the British fleet. The policy Canada has pursued has been the best policy, not only for herself, but for the Empire at large. She has not been remiss in her Empire duties; she will not be remiss. She is the best judge of her own affairs, and it is, well that the British people should be given to thoroughly understand the situation from the Canadian point of view.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

How the Times ads do lubricate the wheels of business!

Some of the aldermen do not appear to take kindly to Hydro-Electric lobbying.

But if the city buys those boulevard natural gas lamps what will it do with them?

Is the Greater Hamilton Association angling for the C. N. R. shops? Toronto has its hooks out.

It is not conducive to the enjoyment of life and freedom from bruises to dispute right of way with a street car.

Queer ideas of ethics prevail in Morocco. El Kebir having entered Meaquize and committed some depredations, Sultan Mulai Hafid has had his rebel brother's mother whipped in public!

It is all very well for ratepayers to grumble at the extravagance of the School Board, which has sent the cost of education up "by leaps and bounds." But what are they going to do about it?

In France, one in every 90 of the population is a government official, at an average salary of $320. Of course, this computation includes school teachers. As many as 1,700 women have competed for a single post.

Next to Sir Wilfrid Laurier, Mayor McLaren was soon ranked as the Herald's dearest foe and special aversion. The Mayor did not facilitate the scheme to hand the city over bound to the spoilers of the Hydro gang.

London is going to reduce its order for power from the Hydro-Electric Commission from 5,000 to 3,000 h.p. The city engineer advises the committee that that will be sufficient for London's purposes. What's wrong with Mr. Beck's home city?

The Belleville Ontario had a narrow escape from total destruction by fire last night. We hope the damage sustained by our sprightly contemporary may not cause serious interruption to the publication of the paper, and that it will come forth from its trial by fire brighter and more vigorous than ever.

The Toronto World says the Hydro transmission line will be "completed in December." Hon. Adam Beck says the Commission hopes to begin to take power in the spring, and to complete the line in two years. Those behind the scenes say that the Commission has no thought of being able to take power even in the spring.

There is much complaint in British trade journals about the wretched quality of the American steel which is sent to the United Kingdom. The rails will bear the ordinary railway traffic but a very short time, and the tool steel, a few lots of which have been tested, is of an inferior grade, quite useless for cutting purposes.

The wonderfully improved conveniences of transportation, water, steam and electric, are yearly conferring boons on the fruit growers and dairymen, as well as on the denizens of the towns and cities. It will be a busy time with the transportation companies in the Niagara district for some time to come.

Guelph boasts much of the profit it derives from the Guelph Junction Railway. Guelph did a good stroke of business in building that link, which is leased and operated by the C. P. R. It is one of the "ownership" ventures that has been justified—largely because the road gives it the C. P. R. connection, and because the C. P. R. operates it.

Mr. Billings has laid before the Mayor the congested state of the scarlet fever hospital and pointed out the urgent need of more accommodation. He reminds him that the people voted down a by-law to provide means to furnish such accommodation, and there the matter stands. The unfortunate part of the business is that the money which would have furnished the badly needed room for the little patients has been spent in booming the Hydro scheme and in paying experts connected with that campaign!

The sight of one of his old employees in an intoxicated condition lurching through the gates leading to the shops recently set Mr. Frick, the great steel magnate, a-thinking. He called a cab and took the man home and then set about interviewing the various steel men of Pittsburg. The result of his efforts was that a temperance pledge was agreed upon, which all workmen must hereafter sign before being employed. Pittsburg is a great steel centre, and the enforcement of this rule will affect about 60,000 men. The employers expect that it will result in sober employees, a better state of morals, and fewer accidents.

In Germany great interest is taken in new electric lamps. The tantalum filament lamp is said to be the latest favorite. It is cheaper, but not quite so economical to run as the tungsten lamp. The ordinary carbon filament lamp of 5 to 32-candle power costs in Germany 12c; the tungsten lamp, 75 cents; the tantalum lamp, 62c. The respective ratios of current consumption are: Carbon 3.05 watts per candle power; tungsten, 1.15 watts; tantalum, 1.50 watts. The tungsten lamp is vastly more economical of current, but the filament is very fragile. The tantalum filament is said to stand rough usage.

The celebration of Independence Day in the United States, while productive of a large number of fatalities and minor accidents, appears to have been an improvement upon former years. A number of the large cities have made an earnest effort to secure a saner celebration, and the benefits are seen in the reduced mortality returns. The movement has now well begun to place a ban upon fireworks in the cities. Cleveland deserves credit for the reform carried into effect this year.

The great colliers' strike in Nova Scotia presents a peculiar situation to Canadians. Canadian industry and the good of Canadian workmen would appear to be sacrificed in a struggle between Nationalism and Internationalism in labor unions. One party controlled by the United States Mine Workers insists on striking, while the Provincial Workers' Association party wants to work and says it has no grievances. Is there not some better way to settle which union is to be boss without disturbing industrial conditions and causing much loss both to the employers and employed?

Speaking of Hon. Mr. Brodeur's declaration before the Montreal Chambre de Commerce that any contributions which Canada might make toward naval defence would be made in the shape of a Canadian navy under the control of our own Government, as are the Canadian land forces, the Victoria Colonel, Conservative, says: "To this principle the great majority of Canadians will assent." Our contemporary, however, is quite prepared to find campers. Party politics is everything with some people. The Colonel declares, however, that "the question is not one of politics, although it will probably be impossible to restrain the disposition of some people to claim to be more truly loyal than any one else."

Others than nervous Englishmen get attacks of war scare. The U. S. War Department has received the following: "The Japanese spies now in the Philippine Islands are working night and day digging tunnels under our forts and ammunition vaults so that when war breaks out they can blow them all up."

Gen. Oliver promptly referred the matter to Brigadier Edwards, Chief of the Bureau of Insular Affairs: "Bosh!" he said, "I don't see why General Oliver gets so excited about this. There are only a few Japs drilling under our forts or laying charges of dynamite."

"I don't suppose one out of a dozen Japs in the Philippines is really planning to blow up our ammunition supplies. The majority of the Japanese are not trying to explode anything at all, so why should we worry. Besides, we have no forts in the Philippines."

The anti-Hamilton power organ tries to convict Mayor McLaren of inconsistency in objecting to the monopoly feature of the Hydro contract, saying that he did not regard it so seriously last year. A good many people who honestly seek to serve the city's interests and who have studied the contract have learned since they first took up the matter that it contains much that is disadvantageous and dangerous to Hamilton. But the anti-Hamilton organ after denouncing the Hydro monopoly clause and approving of this year's contract with the Cataract Company turned round and did its best against the city by misrepresenting the facts and misleading the ratepayers. Even now it declares that the Commission has agreed to waive the clause in Hamilton's case. We have only a statement of Mr. Lobb to that effect, and Adam Beck told the Londoners that Hamilton would get no special favors, but would have to come in on the same terms as the other municipalities. He is as good—or as bad—an authority as Mr. Lobb; he is "Minister of POWER" (note capitals), while Lobb is only an underling.

The contract for building the new G. T. R. Central Station at Ottawa has been awarded to Peter Lyall & Sons, of Montreal. The station will cost $500,000.

The group of children awaiting admission to the supervised playground at the Borden Street School before the morning hour for opening the gates proves the pressing need that lies behind the whole playgrounds movement.

RAISE THE STANDARD. (London Advertiser.)

It would be wise to have the same standard of morality for both sexes. But what certainty have we? If a certain lapse from virtue in a man is just as bad as it is in a woman, what about the converse that it is no worse in a woman than in a man?

WOMAN'S MOVEMENT. (Montreal Gazette.)

There is hardly a feature of daily life that has not been blessed by it, for it is almost needless to say that whatever made women more quick of brain, more deft of hand, more pure and kind of heart, has tended to ameliorate the conditions of society, to make the lot of women more desirable and to render men at once happier and better.

SHOULD WHISTLE. (Ottawa Journal.)

The smallest Ontario hamlet has its brass band which gladdens the ears of the populace at least once a week during the summer if not oftener. In many of the larger Canadian cities there is abundant provision for public music. But the people of the capital of the Dominion have to go without music in the summer unless they man make it themselves.

IS THIS TRUE? (The Pioneer.)

Wide-open, unchecked law violation, prevails in Ontario with the knowledge and practical consent of the officials who are employed and paid by the people to prevent that law-breaking. This is most notably the case in lake ports, in and out of which run passenger vessels, many of which keep bar-rooms in full blast with almost no pretence at concealment.

FOOLISH GIRLS. (Kingston Whig.)

If anyone wants to see how many young girls are travelling the streets and given to foolish flirtations he has only to take up a position of vantage any Sunday evening between 7 and 8 o'clock and use his eyes. When these girls, in their teens, should be at home, or in their homes, some places justifiably or modestly employed, they are inviting the attentions of the young men, and doing it by methods which are shockingly improper.

MEN OVER 50. (Philadelphia Record.)

Our philanthropic contemporary the New York Times is developing a large and wholly unexpected demand from employers for men over 50 years of age. This age is commonly spoken of as a "dead line," and much has been said of the cruelty of refusing employment to men who have passed it.

But the Times' discovery of a demand for men over 50 is exceedingly gratifying, for society is trying to prolong life, which means increasing the number of old men.

The determination is to retain this banner for 1910.

The membership of the council was increased by two. At the close of the meeting the ladies served ice cream and cake, and thus brought to a close a successful meeting.

Scrap Book Poetry
MY EMMY LOU.
A man once wrote a little book,
And he called it "Emmy Lou,"
I had a sweet big doll of bisque,
And I call her that name, too.
Her eyes are so like blue bells,
Her hair is golden brown;
She is such a darling beauty,
There's no prettier doll in town.
But, oh! a careless doll is she,
Of faults she has a few;
I've warned her to be careful,
For she'll always lose her shoe.
I've talked to her and scolded her,
As hard as hard could be;
She'd open wide her pretty eyes,
And just look straight at me.
To make a little friendly call
She went with me one day,
And what do you think happened
Before we got half-way.
To the house where we were going?
I was in quite a stew—
For there I saw my pretty doll
Had lost her dainty shoe.
Now, how to cure a careless girl
Of this fault I cannot tell;
That it is an ugly habit
She ought to know full well.
And, oh! it really worries me,
I don't know what to do;
All that I say has no effect
On my lovely Emmy Lou.

HOT WEATHER SHOES
July and August are the months for wearing low cut Oxfords, but if we sell as many of them in July as we did in June we will be more than satisfied. From all parts of the city people come to this store for their shoes, and there must be some good reason for it. The main reason is: We keep the shoes the people want, and sell them at a fair profit, mark the price in plain figures and only the marked price asked or accepted.
SOROSIS AND HAGAR—We candidly state from several years' experience that Sorosis and Hagar Shoes are the best value shoes to be had in Hamilton for women. The fit, style and workmanship are exactly as should be, and the hidden parts of the shoe—the parts which you cannot see—are all of the best material and put together with great care by expert workmen.
SOROSIS is the best line of shoes made in the States, and HAGAR is the finest and best line made in Canada, so there you are; take your choice, as we are fortunate in having the selling agency for both of these celebrated lines of shoes.
DRESSY YOUNG MEN buy their shoes in this store because they know that we lead in advance styles in narrow, medium and wide toe shoes. Our Russia tan calf Oxford at $3.50 has been a seller. They are genuine calfskin—solid all through and Goodyear welt soles; a very natty shoe and only $3.50.
SMALL THINGS, but you will want them with you on your holidays. Lacess, Shoe Polish, Shoe Trees, Bunion Protectors, Arch Supports, Bathing Shoes, Outing Shoes, Rubbers, etc., and they are here ready for you.
BRONZE.—We will bronze your old Oxfords or Slippers for 50c.

THANKSGIVING ON MONDAY.

Board of Trade Will So Petition the Government.

The quarterly meeting of the Hamilton Board of Trade was held yesterday afternoon at 4 o'clock.

The annual general meeting fixed by statute for yesterday was adjourned until January in accordance with a resolution adopted by the Board last year.

On motion of Mr. Geo. C. Copley, seconded by Mr. W. B. Champ, the following were elected members of the Board: Messrs. Blair Robertson, G. V. Greenhill and H. S. Connolly.

In support of the Commercial Travelers' Association and for the benefit of laboring classes generally a motion was made by Mr. G. C. Copley, seconded by Mr. W. A. Robinson, that the Board petition the Dominion Government to petition the Dominion Government to fix Thanksgiving day for Monday, as was done last year. The resolution was adopted.

Notice was given that the Seventh Congress of Chambers of Commerce of the Empire will be held in Sydney, N. S. W., beginning on Tuesday, September 14 and lasting until Friday, September 17. Any member of the Board who would like to go should communicate with the secretary.

A letter was read from Mr. C. James, Deputy Minister of Agriculture, Toronto, to the effect that there has been established in connection with the Ontario Department of Agriculture, an office in London, England, for the purpose of directing colonization work and emigration from the British Isles and desiring that as complete a set as possible of reports and pamphlets dealing with Ontario in particular, and also of other parts of Canada, be sent in to the Ontario Government office.

A letter was received from Samuel Barker, M. P., promising to furnish the information asked for regarding the proposed building of a canal from Selkirk to Hamilton.

The movement to have the Welland canal widened was endorsed.

The Board authorized the president to communicate with Mr. Coates, London, England, with a view of having him represent them at the annual Congress of Chamber of Commerce of the Empire at Sydney, also any other individuals who would like to go.

LIBERTY TALK.

Dr. J. A. Macdonald's Speech at Edinburgh Luncheon.

Lord Rosebery Induiges in the Gaelic Tongue.

The Imperial press delegates ended their itinerary at Edinburgh, Scotland, where they spent an interesting time visiting the many historic scenes there. At the luncheon tendered them by the Lord Provost and Corporation, many fine speeches were made. That of Dr. J. A. Macdonald, of the Toronto Globe, was a splendid effort. He said:

No words of his, in the few moments they had at their disposal, would convey our sense of appreciation at least no words in the tongue understood by the most of the members here. It might speak in the original language, if one might convey a sense of affection, regard and respect that would be understood by some of the elect left in Edinburgh. (Laughter and applause.) Not in the interest of the men for whom he spoke, he would only use the Sassenach tongue. They wished to thank them for receiving them there. It was no accident or chance, but by the foreordination of things, that those who arranged the programme arranged that this tour should end in this ancient city, the capital of the unconquered people of Scotland. (Applause.) All matters in their programme were foreordained; and by the eternal fitness of things they were there that day, and they would close their tour with memories of Scotland and Edinburgh—the city to which they should all look forward, those of them from over the seas with something Scottish in them yet—(applause)—and as for those who had not, it would put some into them. (Laughter and applause.) Our country they were welcomed by the orator of the Empire, Lord Rosebery, a Scotsman. (Applause.) Time would fail him to tell what was in the hearts of the men from overseas, and in the hearts of the women too; for of all spots they wanted to see this was the one. (Applause.) It had spoken to them not only through the navy and army—they had heard much of the navy and army in these last two or three weeks—but that day in the Cathedral and in the streets they had been reminded what Scotland and Edinburgh had done for the liberty of the world and the strength of the overseas dominion. (Applause.) From Edinburgh the word had come, not of war always, but of peace and liberty. (Applause.)

A GAELIC BATTLE-CRY.

Lord Rosebery charged them, who represented the overseas dominions, that they must stand shoulder to shoulder. The Sassenach who heard him did not understand the full meaning of that charge; but there were here enough of the elect to know what it meant. It meant more than shoulder to shoulder. The Sassenachs or the Frenchmen or the common folk from anywhere could stand shoulder to shoulder; if there were enough of them. The Gael understood the charge to mean, "shoulders together." (Applause.) The Gael understood the meaning of the charge—"Clann na n-Gaibheil an gaillich a cheile." "Sons of the Gael, shoulders together." (Applause.) Your own shoulders together! Whether you stand in martial gear alone, or backed by armed men, you must face the foe; you must meet the situation square-set and full front. (Applause.) So in all the dominions overseas, in Canada, Australia, in India, in the West Indies, in Ceylon, each part of the Empire stood shoulder to shoulder with great and free and true in the Empire, and so standing they would find themselves with England and Scotland and Ireland and all the King's dominions standing shoulder to shoulder. (Loud applause.)

MONTREAL THEATRE CHANGES. Montreal, July 6.—It was announced here yesterday that the Princess Theatre, St. Catherine street, built a year ago at a cost of about $350,000, including land, changed hands to-day, and in future, instead of having burlesque upon its boards, will have higher class attractions.

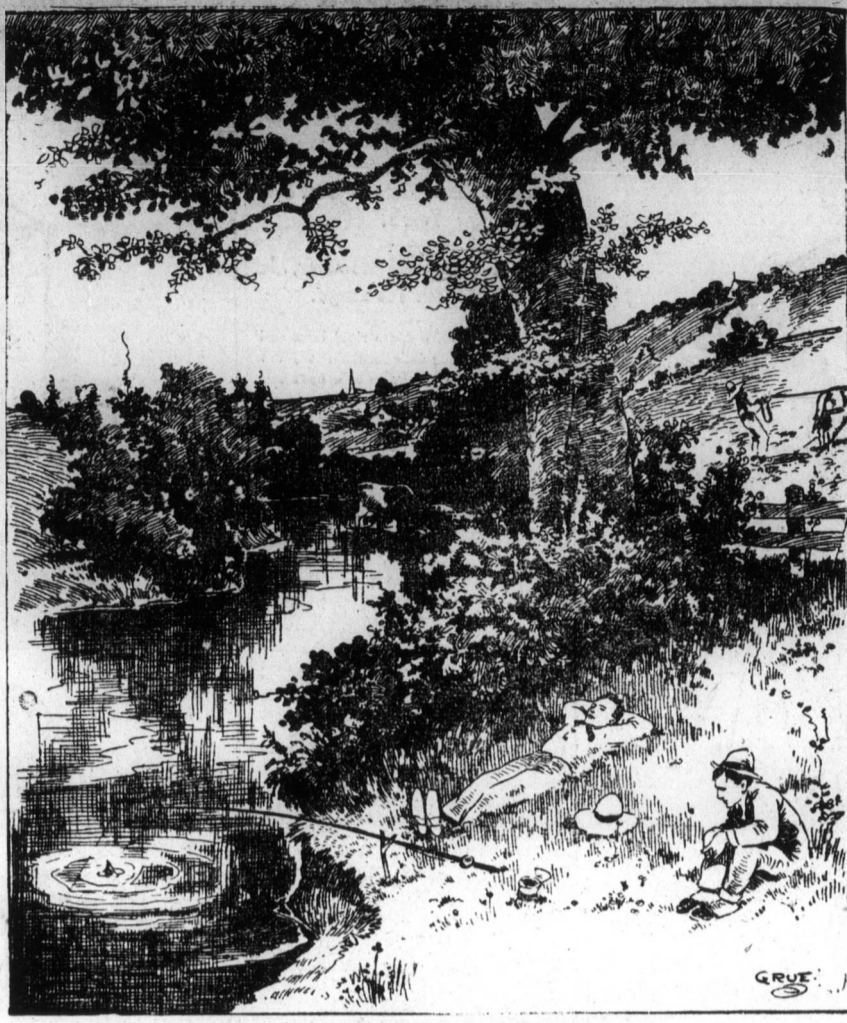

The new lessees are a company incorporated in Ottawa, to be known as Entertainments, Limited. In the company are Mr. Cawthra Mulock, Mr. R. A. Smith and Mr. Stephen Haas, all of Toronto, with Mr. Solman as manager. The rental of the Princess Theatre is $25,000 a year for a period of ten years. Mr. Solman is the manager of the Alexandra Theatre, Toronto, and the other Toronto men mentioned are also interested in the Toronto theatre. The Princess at Montreal is to be conducted in connection with the Royal Alexandra, and the deal is the outcome of the Shuberts leaving the theatrical trust.

PLAYED FOR TEDDY ROOSEVELT. Nairobi, British East Africa.—(Letter)—Colonel Roosevelt heard his prowess as a lion killer told in song and sketch at the entertainment given by the "Nairobi Police," which Mr. Roosevelt and his son, Kermit, attended as the guests of his excellency, F. J. Jackson, C. G., C. M. G., acting governor, as an evening's diversion after dining at Government house. The topical songs dealing with Mr. Roosevelt were a feature of the entertainment and at each allusion made to himself Colonel Roosevelt's laugh rang out above the applause and laughter of the rest of the audience. The song describing Colonel Roosevelt's lion hunting was sung by Miss Wheeler in the course of a sketch entitled "A Tale of the Chase." It ran as follows:

"Felis Leo."
A lion lurked in his lonely lair,
As African lions do,
For he liked to be where he could get a share
Of a nice little buck with a slice of luck.
In our wonderful Nature zoo,
His large inside he rightly fed
With zebra, or hartbeest instead.
"Here isn't a scrap of doubt," said he,
"This diet's exceedingly good for me.
For I grow fat, fat, fatter,
What on earth does it mat, mat, mat.
If the way that I creep, on the beasts
In their sleep.
Makes the poor things scat, scat, scatter!"

He hunted game in the moonshine bright,
With never a thought of harm,
But he got quite a fright when there
Heve in sight
Teddy armed to the teeth with a knife
And a rifle beneath his arm.
The colonel plucked him with a laugh,
While Kermit took his photograph.
Said he, "Those Wall street boys would cry
If they knew how near I'd been to die,
Oh, this country's bull, bull, bull,
I've enjoyed it full, full, fully,
For it eulches the best they can show in the west.
That's so wild and wool, wool, woolly!"

AT MAPLE LEAF PARK.
Adgie and her lions drew a crowd to Maple Leaf Park last night, and there was a great deal of interest taken in the feeding of the animals after the performance. The act is creating a great deal of interest among the amusement lovers of Hamilton and there promises to be a record week from an attendance standpoint. The park has arranged with some of the leading societies to hold benefits at the park, and with everything in first class running order, there promises to be some lively times at the popular resort during the next two weeks.

SHOOTS THREE MEN.

Fraxton, Ga., July 5.—As a result of a quarrel of long standing, Robt. Cooper, a wealthy planter, to-day shot Rev. A. L. Langley, a prominent Baptist minister, and his son, Rose Langley, and J. E. Webb. The senior Langley was shot twice in the abdomen. His son was shot in his right arm. Webb received one shot in the neck and one in the back. Cooper claims that he met the Langleys and Webb in the road and was halted by them. He says he tried to pass them when they attacked him and he was forced to shoot in self defence. The friends of the Langleys are very bitter and further trouble is feared.

PRESIDENT TAFT

To Take Part in the Champlain Celebration To-morrow.

Lump of Coal Caused Scare on Presidential Train.

New York, July 6.—President Taft, who arrived here from Norwich, Conn., by special train at 3 a. m. to-day, left at 6.45 a. m. for Albany, en route to the Lake Champlain celebration. The President will spend this afternoon sight-seeing at old Fort Ticonderoga, and will spend the night at the Hotel Champlain at Bluff Point. To-morrow the celebration along the New York shore reaches its climax, and a day of impressive ceremonies will be concluded by a banquet tendered by the Governor and the New York State Commission to President Taft. This banquet will be probably the most brilliant function of the celebration. It will be attended by representatives of three great nations—Great Britain, France and the United States, and at it President Taft is expected to deliver his principal speech. He may also speak briefly at the Plattsburg ceremonies to-morrow afternoon, when Senator Root will be the orator of the day. The French Minister, M. Jusserand, is among the guests from Washington who will spend the day in Plattsburg.

The trip of the President from Norwich to New York furnished no little excitement when one of the windows in the day coach acting as a buffer between the private car, Mayflower, and the engine, was struck by a missile flying through the air. A freight train was passing at the time, and a large lump of coal slipping from one of the cars was hurled by the momentum of the train against the window. A trainman sitting nearby was badly frightened, but suffered no serious injury.

FRENCH CELEBRATE. Burlington, Vt., July 6.—For the large French population of this city and other places in the State to-day was the most important of the Champlain tercentenary celebration. Practically the entire programme was devoted to observances by the descendants of the men who fought to retain for France the country explored by their illustrious countryman, Samuel de Champlain.

In the forenoon after an open air meeting at which several addresses were made in French, a large number of the French societies of Vermont and other New England States, and from Canada participated in a parade which was reviewed along the line of march by representatives of the city, State and church. Yacht and motorboat races, and other forms of aquatic sports were held on the lake during the day, with an illuminated boat parade in the evening.

THE CEREMONIES. Ticonderoga, N. Y., July 6.—Old Fort Ticonderoga, whose famous ruins are in process of restoration to their original condition of a century ago, formed the setting for to-day's ceremonies in connection with the Lake Champlain tercentenary celebration. Here great battles were fought and won and the forts were taken and retaken repeatedly, and here it was that Ethan Allen made his famous demand for the surrender of the forts in the name of the Great Jehovah and the continental congress.

Added importance was given to to-day's ceremonies by the arrival of President Taft and a party of distinguished guests, late in the afternoon. A heavy rain gave the gay decorations a bedraggled appearance, and threatened to play havoc with the plans of the commissions. A special guest train, which left Albany this morning, brought the members of the New York State Legislature and a party of guests of the New York Champlain Commission, arriving at 10.30 a. m. The party was disembarked at the Ticonderoga dock and went directly on board the steamer Ticonderoga, where they remained for lunch.

The Indian pageants, a feature of the week's celebration, were scheduled to be given during the afternoon and evening at Fort Ticonderoga. Late in the afternoon the companies of the Tenth regiment will leave for their respective homes.

Emperor Encourages Women. Emperor William seems to be encouraging women to enter public affairs. In the early years of his reign the Emperor made no secret of his hostility to women taking part in public life, but he has since changed his views within the last few years. He has evidence in Germany sufficient to sway him. German women are making their influence felt. They have gained entrance to the universities; they have become doctors and lawyers, and recently women have been appointed as poor law guardians. A Mother's Protective Union is becoming a power throughout Germany, and the Mercantile Industrial Aid Association, with a membership of 16,000 women clerks, has declared for the ballot. Women's Clubs in Germany are doing a big work in educating poor girls and assisting them to positions. New York Press.

POOR LENA.

Reporter Visits the Scene of the Aylmer Domestic Tragedy.

An Awful Story of a Mother's Cruelty to Her Child.

(Ottawa Free Press.)

It has been said that the days of inhumanity in the treatment of one's children are long since past in an enlightened community. Not so. The history of the Lajoie family, of Aylmer, unfolded a tale of a mother's cruelty to her child which is probably without a parallel in the unchronicled domestic history of Canada.

Already the Lajoie family has been torn asunder by the mother's cruel death. She goes to a penitentiary to serve seven years' imprisonment; little nine-year-old Lena, the victim of her maltreatment, is being tenderly cared for in Water street hospital; the baby of nine months is in charge of a kind family in Aylmer; the oldest girl, of 13 years, who is incorrigible, may go to a girls' reformatory; the six remaining children, varying in age from three to 12 years, will go to foster homes or to the Orphans' Home; the father, broken in spirit and burdened with grief, will leave his log hut in the village of Aylmer to seek lodging in the boarding house. This is a French-Canadian family torn asunder and a home—if indeed it could be called a home—made a mere memory of the past.

There was no exaggeration in the stories of ill-treatment told by the witnesses at the trial of this creature who deserved not the name of woman and mother. The half was never told in the court-room.

SIXTEEN years ago at L'Arche, Quebec, a young French-Canadian lumber band, Nelson Lajoie, wood and won a girl. Three years later the first child, a girl, was born. The second child, a young son, was born shortly before Mr. Lajoie and his family removed to Parker's Depot, 14 miles from Aylmer. There little Lena was born nine years ago.

All had gone well in the little household up till this time. The father was temperate and industrious, while the mother ministered to the needs of her little ones with true maternal love. The parish priest was a frequent caller at the little house, and Lajoie was a regular attendant at the parish church.

LENA'S GOD-MOTHER. When Lena was born, the priest was called to perform the christening. The father's sister, Miss Helena Lajoie, was present to officiate as god-mother, and after her the baby girl was named—Lena. For a while all continued to go well. Other children were born, and there was happiness in the little French-Canadian home.

THE GREEN-EYED MONSTER. But gradually a strange transformation came over the mother. Her motherly affection yielded place to neglect of her children and indifference concerning the welfare of the home. In time she became addicted to bad habits, and the Lajoie children, who had once been the dwelling place of that happiness unalloyed which pervades many pleasant homes of French Canada, became the abode of unhappiness and gloom and filth. But Mrs. Lajoie's mind was not unbalanced, as many have supposed. Lajoie's relatives, bitterly resentful of the woman's actions and were not backward in making their displeasure known to her. This circumstance led to the wrecking of the home. Of all the children little Lena bore the closest resemblance to the father's people. Moreover, her features were very similar to those of her aunt, after whom she had been named, and whom Mrs. Lajoie hated with a bitter hatred, as Miss Helena Lajoie had been especially strong in her denunciation of the life the mother was leading. Mrs. Lajoie planned that revenge would be hers. She would wreak vengeance upon her little daughter, Lena, whose face brought to mind Lajoie's people every hour of the day, and who bore the name of this detested aunt.

WHEN CRUELTY BEGAN. When little Lena was five years of age the mother's maltreatment began. The child was too small to reach up to the dish-pan, so the mother secured a small box, on which little Lena stood as she washed the dishes three times a day. This unrelenting persecution continued without ceasing. The child had to split the wood, carry the water, and do all the drudgery of the household, her only reward at the hands of her mother being merciless beatings from time to time.

Four years ago the Lajoie's removed to Aylmer. Nelson Lajoie, having secured a "job" in Fraser's mill. Here the heartless mother's cruel treatment of the child was resumed. Discrimination against Lena was apparent at all times. Not that the other children were treated kindly, or even decently—a filthier and more unkempt lot would be hard to imagine—but not one of them ever did a tap of work. The eldest daughter, 13 years of age, followed very rapidly in the footsteps of her mother—slovenly and lazy, dirty and illiterate, predisposed to everything that was bad.

NO PLAY FOR LENA. None of the children attended school, as there are no trunancy laws in Quebec. They whiled away all their time playing on the street with the other children. But not so with little Lena. Never once in those long four years, declare the neighbors, was she seen playing on the street. After completing her work she was usually beaten by her mother with a stick without the slightest provocation.

On one occasion one of the little boxes out his toe very badly and this event occasioned great excitement in the household. In the midst of the melée the mother seized Lena sitting on the stairs, as she had been ordered to do. Seizing the child she gave her a thrashing from which she did not recover for several days. "I didn't lick her half hard enough," said the mother to one of the neighbors who expostulated with her for so abusing her own offspring. After the child had been whipped she was always told to "sit on the stairs and not say a word," or as a more severe form of punishment, to kneel on the stairs without supporting herself by her hands on the wall.

WARNING OF NO AVAL. Two years ago Village Constable Perrine warned Mrs. Lajoie that the authorities would take action if the mother's cruelty was not stopped. Then it was that the child had a brief respite from her mother's inexorable treatment.

FINCH BROS., 29 and 311 King St. W.

For two days she went to school, and then the mother's cruelty recommenced.

POOR CHILD WAS FASHIONED. Lena never occupied a place at the table with the other children and was given but sparingly of the scraps which remained from the meals. The other children had rude beds at night but Lena slept upon the floor. The child was so famished that she used to pick up the meat bones which had been thrown into the back yard and ravenously devour the little scraps of meat left on them. Frequently she gained access to the flour-bag at night and ate the dry flour to satisfy her hunger. The mother discovered this and suspended the bag of flour by a rope from the ceiling, beyond the girl's reach.

One night Lena stole downstairs after all were asleep, mounted a chair, cut a small hole in the corner of the bag and obtained a cup of flour. This, together with some potato peelings which she gathered into her little apron, in the yard, constituted her meal—all she had had for a whole day.

NOVA SCOTIA COAL STRIKE.

United Mine Workers Members Go Out and Quit Work.

Provincial Workers' Association Refuse to Strike Work.

Union Against Union—May be Much Trouble.

Halifax, July 5.—The town of Glace Bay presents a busy scene this evening with its throngs of men who ceased work at the collieries of the Dominion Coal Company, probably for many months, many perhaps never to return to their places in the pits.

The leaders of the U. M. W. have been engaged in their preparations for the strike all day, and it is learned that they will make their greatest demonstration of strength at No. 2 colliery, the largest owned by the company.

As a prelude to what will occur tomorrow morning a strike was declared at Dominion No. 6 to-day, at which colliery a large majority of the men are known to be U. M. W. sympathizers.

Great difficulty is anticipated at the company's Reserve and Dominion No. 1 collieries, where the P. W. A. men are said to be practically in their full strength, and many anticipate considerable trouble between the U. M. W. and the men who refuse to join the strike.

Officials of the company claim tonight that they will be able to operate at least three of their collieries with the number of loyal men who will not join the strike, and that they are in a position to give them every protection against molestation by the strikers.

Sets Fasting Record.

Los Angeles, July 5.—Mrs. Lillian D. Hoag has broken records for fasting by abstaining from food for forty-nine days, or since May 17.—During this period she has done her own housework. Mrs. Hoag claims to have cured herself of several physical ailments. Dr. H. S. Tanner, of Long Beach, Cal., set the first record by fasting forty days and nights.

FRUIT—THE GREAT PHYSICIAN

Wonderful Medicinal Value of Apples, Oranges, Figs and Prunes.

How many people realize what remarkable curative principles are contained in fruit juices. There are two—the bitter and the sweet. There is about ten times as much of the sweet as of the bitter, though the bitter principle is the one which has the curative effect on disease.

It was a theory of a physician in Ottawa, that if the amount of bitter principle in fruit juice could be doubled, the curative property would be increased, not twice, but many times.

After many tests, this physician succeeded in forcing into the combined fruit juices an additional atom of bitter principle, and in doing so formed an entirely new compound. To the combined juices were added valuable tonics and antiseptics and the whole made into tablets.

These are "Fruit-a-tives"—the only remedy known to science that is made of fruit. The wonderful cures in cases of Stomach Trouble, Biliousness, Constipation, Rheumatism, Chronic Headaches and Neuralgia, Kidney, Liver and Skin Diseases are due solely to the fact that "Fruit-a-tives" contain the medicinal properties of fruit.

WIPE OUT PIRATES.

Dutch Soldiers Take Dire Revenge on Chinese.

Victoria, B. C., July 5.—News comes by the Empress of Japan of a tragic sequel to the daring capture of a Chinese junk and the massacre of eight members of its crew off Singapore six weeks ago.

A military force sent against them located the miscreants strongly in a cave. They refused to surrender when called upon, and the promise that the women and children would be given immunity brought a fusillade of missiles from a party of these supposed to be non-combatants.

Stern measures were then decided upon. The Dutch commander ordering that a fire be lighted at the mouth of the cavern, a strong wind blowing from seaward. When this fire was allowed to die down and volunteers from the Dutch soldiers entered, it was found that the crimes of the wretched Chinese had been atoned for, not one of the pirates remaining alive.

Militia Authorities Regard It as a Fake.

FOUR MEN DROWNED 100 YEARS' PEACE.

Their Launch Upset in the Detroit River.

Windsor, July 5.—By the capsizing of a small launch four men were drowned in the river yesterday. All the party were Detroiters except one, Peter Dow, aged 27, who resided in this city. The dead are Alex. Drouillard, Laurence Lucier, August Beausejour and Peter Dow.

The accident was caused by the men attempting to change seats while the vessel was being tossed about on the high sea which was running. Two men in the party, Joseph Pattenade and his brother, Ernest, saved their lives by swimming ashore, half a mile distant. The accident has made four women widows, and left thirteen children fatherless. The bodies have not yet been recovered. Dow resided on Wellington avenue, and was employed by the Windsor Turned Goods Company.

WERE FEWER CASUALTIES.

Several Cities Place Fireworks Under the Ban.

Fatalities Show Decrease Over Last Year's.

National Slaughter, However, is Still Much Too Large.

Chicago, July 5.—More rigid laws and the growth of public sentiment for a sane celebration of the Fourth have had their result all over the country in reducing the number of killed and wounded in the annual holiday. Full returns of the two-day celebration this year show a falling off in the number of killed of twenty-one from the record of 1908. There were twenty-five fatalities reported at midnight last night, as against fifty-six at the same time last year. Chicago and its suburbs gave strong evidence of the progress which has been made in stopping the slaughter in the path of the rejoicing over the nation's freedom.

It was the quietest and sanest Fourth Chicago has had since the city was a village, and the din of previous years was almost totally squelched by police regulations and the awakening of public sentiment.

Cleveland probably made the best record of any city of its size in the country in the fight against the noise and perils of the day. While there were ten persons killed and sixty-two injured during the one-day celebration in 1908, the two-day festivity in 1909 was passed without a single death or injury serious enough to require the attention of a physician. This was due to the fact that the firing, and even the sale, of fireworks or crackers was forbidden within the city limits.

Milwaukee, another leader in the sane fourth movement, reported only twenty-two persons injured during the two days this year, as against one killed and sixty-seven injured in 1908. Washington, D. C., escaped this year without an accident, where forty-one persons were seriously injured in the previous year, and Los Angeles, Cal., and Providence, R. I., cut in half the list of victims of the day by the enforcement of their laws.

NEW YORK RANKS HIGH.

New York, July 5.—Four deaths, 337 injured, eleven of them dangerously, and three so seriously that death seems certain, was the Fourth of July record in New York and Brooklyn up to 10 o'clock to-night.

Buffalo, N. Y., July 5.—Forty fires and the injury of fifteen children between the ages of two and sixteen were the toll paid for an old-fashioned Fourth of July here to-day. The injuries to the children ranged from broken fingers from giant firecrackers to the loss of eyesight. Mary Colbis, two years old, will die from burns.

TOLEDO IS SAME.

Toledo, O., July 5.—Toledo began to-day its fifth celebration for a "sane" Fourth. Since the discharge of dangerous fireworks was prohibited by city ordinance five years ago there has not been a serious accident here due to the customary causes, and to-day was no exception.

SAN FRANCISCO, TOO.

San Francisco, July 5.—The Fourth of July celebration in the city was of the "sane" kind and noiseless variety. The ordinance prohibiting the sale or discharge of firecrackers and fireworks was rigidly enforced.

CHILDREN'S HOME.

Lieut.-Gov. Gibson's Visit to Belleville.

Belleville, July 5.—Lieut.-Governor J. M. Gibson came here to-day to formally take over the new children's home, recently presented to the Children's Aid Society by the city. At the station at noon he was met by a large number of prominent citizens, and dined at the Hotel Quinze, after which, escorted by a guard of honor from the 6th Regiment, His Honor went to the grounds, followed by leading residents in carriages and automobiles.

MESSINA STILL RUMBLING.

Another Fire Breaks Out in the Earthquake Ruins.

Messina, July 5.—The fire which broke out in the ruins after yesterday's earthquake shocks, and which was subdued made a fresh start to-day. There was a series of quakes yesterday and at 2.25 and 2.45 this morning there were two more shocks that were pretty severe. They were accompanied by loud subterranean rumblings, which caused a panic among the inhabitants of the city.

CUNARD CHANGE.

FISHGUARD IS CHOSEN AS ENGLISH TERMINAL.

Abandoning of Liverpool Means Great Saving of Time in Crossing—First Experiment to be Made by the Lusitania.

New York, July 5.—After giving the matter their consideration for the last three months, the directors of the Cunard Line have decided to make the experiment of having their mail and passenger steamships call at Fishguard, on the coast of Pembrokeshire, South Wales, to save time on the outward and homeward voyages.

Fishguard is thirty-two miles nearer to Queenstown than Holyhead, and one hundred and two miles nearer than Liverpool. This means a saving of at least three months, the directors of the Cunard Line have decided to make the experiment of having their mail and passenger steamships call at Fishguard, on the coast of Pembrokeshire, South Wales, to save time on the outward and homeward voyages.

Passengers desiring to go on to Liverpool will be permitted to do so. The railroad service from London to Fishguard is operated by the Great Western Railway, which has spent fifteen million dollars in erecting long piers and deepening the harbor, so that there is plenty of water there for the largest battleships. A fleet of twenty-three knot turbine steamships make the passage across from Fishguard to Rosslare, Ireland, in two hours and forty-five minutes. The American boat train specials will make the journey to London in five hours either way.

One of the officials of the Cunard Line said today: "The question is not so much cutting out Queenstown as a port of call for passengers and the Irish mails, but where the delay comes in in the waiting three and four hours for the mails from London. On the eastward run the Lusitania and Mauretania generally reach Queenstown early enough on Mondays to get away before noon. The distance is eighty-six miles to the Tuskar Light and fifty-four miles from there to Fishguard, a total of 140 miles. Allowing for an hour's delay the train should get away at 5 o'clock at night and land passengers in London by 10 o'clock."

"On the south run from August 23 to January 15 there is a difference of 130 miles in the course, and this should land passengers on the two big ships in Fishguard at 11 in the morning, and in London at 3 p. m. on Monday night. The Lusitania and Mauretania should be able to land their passengers at Fishguard on Tuesday in ample time to arrive in London the same night."

The Cunard officers are all in favor of the ships calling at Fishguard, as it will no doubt be a great saving in time, especially in the winter, when the Mersey is full of fog.

COUNCIL OF VALLEY CITY.

A Lot of Business at the July Meeting.

Grant of $50 For Civic Holiday Demonstration.

Dissatisfaction About Lighting—Street and Road Work.

Dundas, July 6.—The July meeting of the Town Council was held last evening. Mayor Lawson presiding. The other members present were Reeve Lawson, Deputy Reeve Spittal and Councillors Bertram, Boyle, Pennington, Moss, Lunn and Mount.

N. Nevilles and others petitioned against the proposed location of the isolation hospital. Referred to special committee in charge of proposed hospital.

Heaton's Agency submitted a write-up of the town which they desired to have changed or improved as the town might desire. Referred to Industrial Committee.

T. H. A. Begue informed the Council that his sisters had a claim against the town for injuries to their property on King street caused by the removal of a window during a storm some weeks ago. The communication was received.

John Kent and J. W. Dickson asked to have their pool table license renewed, which the Council granted.

Stanfield Rawnsley asked for town water for use in building a house on Alma street. Referred to Board of Works.

Frank Roberts asked for town water for a house on Victoria street. Referred to Fire and Water Committee.

W. H. C. Fisher asked for water for a bowling green, and the Board asked for water for the new High School building. These petitions were referred to the Fire and Water Committee.

T. H. A. Begue called attention to the dangerous condition of a portion of the walk on Victoria street. The matter was referred to the Board of Works.

The Board of Education asked for a walk on the west side of Elgin street, from Melville to Victoria street.

The Citizens' Committee asked for a grant of $50 to aid in the celebration of Civic Holiday. Councillor Moss strongly opposed the principle of voting such a grant, but the other members of the Council voted in favor of it.

Chairman Spittal, of the Property Committee, reported that the H. & D. Railway was considering the matter of dredging the canal.

The Property Committee recommended that the park in line with the log cabin, and the grand stand, and that it be placed on a stone foundation and otherwise improved, at a cost not to exceed $400. Councillor Moss alone objected to the recommendation.

Reeve Lawson reported for the Board of Works as follows: That the condition of Dundas street, complained of by Joseph Brend and others, be referred to the Town Solicitor as to the town's liability in the matter; adopted. That the petition for a walk on Bond street be deferred until next lot of sidewalks, be laid on Bond street, it was recommended that the walk be laid with screenings from Doolittle's quarry. These recommendations were adopted.

Regarding a footpath in Boyle's lane and the opening of a street east of the Bowman-Gray lumber yard, from King to Park streets, it was recommended that the Board of Works be referred back to committee to ascertain probable cost.

The report stated that necessary repairs had been made on Napier street and on the Head street bridge. Regarding complaints re water spouts causing ice on the sidewalks, it was recommended that the City notify persons having such spouts to have them removed. This recommendation was referred back for further consideration.

Another recommendation was that Cross street be rebuilt from King street to the park, and in this the Council concurred.

A recommendation that a plan of the H. & D. Railway crossings be prepared and submitted to the railway for their approval, was left with the committee, with power to act. Regarding a petition for a walk on Peel street, the committee asked that the matter be decided upon, and this was agreed to.

MONTREAL'S FINANCES.

Over $9,260,000 is available for civic improvements, etc. The report also shows $235,000,000 of property which is taxable and $64,000,000 worth of property which is exempt. This latter amount increased by $10,000,000 in the past two years.

His body was terribly mangled. Coroner McKinley was called, but considered an inquest unnecessary. He was 27 years of age, and leaves a young wife to mourn his loss.

Son of Stratford Man Bitten by Mad Dog, Sent to New York.
Stratford, Ont., July 5.—George Peake, son of Mr. William Peake, Downie Township, was this morning sent to the Pasteur Institute, New York, for treatment. He was bitten about a month ago by a mad dog, which also bit several of the cattle belonging to the Peake farm. The cattle later developed all the symptoms of madness or rabies and were shot. As yet no symptoms of the disease have developed in young Peake.

RABIES FEARED.

IN BAD CONDITION.
Yesterday morning a man, who subsequently gave his name as Joseph Fiore, and said he was a window dresser from Toronto, was found in a state of utter collapse on King street west. The police were sent for and he was removed to shelter and doctors summoned. He was afterwards taken to the Osborne Hotel. He is thought to be an epileptic.

GOOD TEMPLARS.
At the weekly meeting of Britannia Lodge, I. O. G. T., in the Salvation Army Hall, Barton street east, last evening, a good attendance of officers, members and visitors was recorded. John Porteous, D. G. C. T. presided. The resignation was received and accepted with feelings of regret, of who has moved to Toronto. F. S. Morrison, of International, extended a cordial invitation to the members to unite with their brethren in International, on the occasion of their annual picnic, next Saturday afternoon, at Station 4, Beach. The invitation was heartily accepted. The following contributed to the programme: Mrs. J. Porteous, Mrs. D. B. Smith, Geo. H. Lander, Jas. Brown, D. Campbell and J. Porteous. Next Monday evening Misses May and Lizzie Taylor will have control of Lodge, after disposal of business.

LEADING MERCHANT THERE MURDERED BY FRENCH FISHERMEN.
Halifax, July 5.—The French mail steamer from St. Pierre, Miquelon, which arrived at North Sydney today, brings news of a bloodthirsty murder committed at St. Pierre on Friday last, the victim being Lucien Lebon, one of the most prominent merchants of that place, who was stabbed in the doorway of his place of business by a fisherman.

The murder of Lebon was the outcome of trouble with four members of the crew of a French fishing vessel which had been consigned to the firm. The fishermen had gone to Lebon's store, and, becoming boisterous, and creating a disturbance, were ordered out by the merchant. The fishermen refused to go, and were forcibly ejected by the clerks of the store.

When in the street they swore vengeance on Lebon. Shortly after leaving the premises they returned with a companion, who assumed the leadership of the quartette and sought to enter the store. They were met at the door by Mr. Lebon, who again ordered them away. They refused to leave, however, and when Mr. Lebon, who held a small stick in his hand, raised his hand to push the leader back, the latter drew his big sheath knife and plunged it into the merchant's groin. With a groan Lebon sank to the floor. He lived only a few hours.

The fishermen, after accomplishing their foul purpose, hurriedly left the premises, but were soon after locked up and placed under a strong guard. Their victim was only twenty-two years of age, and was one of the most popular business men of St. Pierre.

LANDS SELL WELL.
York Loan Dividend Probably About Christmas.

Toronto, July 6.—It is possible that the National Trust Company, liquidators of the York Loan Company, may be able to declare the first dividend to the 105,000 shareholders a month or so before Christmas, and it may even come towards the end of September.

The lands are selling well and as soon as the company collects enough money, enabling them to distribute a fair portion to shareholders, they will be notified that payment will be made. At present the liquidators look to the assets to return about 50 cents on the dollar, but continued good prices for the lands might give an increase on that sum.

It also eases and cures piles. All druggists and stores.

JUDGE "DIZZY."

Prisoner Drunk and Fixed His Own Sentence.

Utica, N. Y., July 6.—Few public officials have been placed in such an embarrassing position as that in which Chief of Police Carman, of Canastota, found himself yesterday afternoon. For half an hour he stood between love and duty, and the latter eventually won out.

When he arraigned a man before a justice of the peace charged with intoxication he noticed that his honor was swaying from side to side with a motion that could mean but two things. The court was drunk or dizzy.

Chief Carman watched his lifelong friend for twenty minutes and finally decided he was not dizzy. He had a prisoner on his hands, and if the case was not disposed of he would have him in his lap for the rest of the day.

The judge was the only one who could dispose of the case, and Chief Carman delayed matters for a time in the hope that he would not be compelled to take the court on a journey.

Five, ten, fifteen minutes passed, and the swaying of the court had reached the stage where spectators were wincing as to which side he would fall on. To make matters worse, the prisoner got a relapse and began a little swaying on his own account. The judge could not understand the prisoner, and the prisoner could not make out what the court was saying.

Chief Carman was convinced that the court was in no condition to do business when the judge handed the prisoner a pad and pencil and told him to write out his own commitment. The man helped himself to ten days and was escorted to a cell.

Then Chief Carman returned and announced to the court that it would have to be locked up for its own safety. He told the judge in a cell next door to the prisoner, and the pair conversed in a friendly manner during the afternoon. At an extraordinary term of court last night the judge was arraigned before an acting judge. He pleaded not guilty to the charge of intoxication. His case was adjourned, and the case of Chief Carman will round up several witnesses to support his charge.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE TREATMENT.

To the Editor of the Times:
Sir,—A recent issue of your paper contained references to the arrest of J. H. Williams, of Viridun, Man., for alleged neglect to provide medical attendance for his daughter, Violet, aged eight, whose death under Christian Science treatment was said to be due to pleurisy and pneumonia.

Investigation of the facts in this case as made by the Attorney-General's department showed clearly that Mr. Williams was justified in his reliance upon Christian Science, as another daughter, Irene, had been healed through this method of severe skin disease, of jaundice and of whooping cough.

It is also shown that the fact that Mr. Williams had always shown himself to be a kind and loving father, at all times providing his children liberally with food, clothing and the best of attention. It was also shown that the child Violet had suffered very little pain, and had been able to partake of solid food up to the time of her death. These conditions are very unusual under medical treatment, and a distinct advance upon the results obtained under the usual forms of treatment.

In view of the fact that pneumonia is acknowledged by medical men to be one of the most dangerous of diseases known to the profession, for which no effective treatment is known, it will scarcely be contended that medical attendance in such cases should be withheld. On the other hand, many cases of pneumonia have been and are being healed daily under Christian Science treatment, which fact may easily be verified by any who care to investigate the matter. How unreasonable then to assume that a disease of this type would have recovered under materia medica. In the practice of medicine, the orthodox of to-day becomes the orthodox of tomorrow.

Many of the remedies and methods of treatment of fifty years ago—nay, of twenty-five—have been superseded. This is the history, in a nutshell, of the four thousand years of material medicine. Diseases are no less prevalent or less deadly since being subjected to this prolonged and universal siege. They have rather thrived and multiplied, sure proof that material methods of healing have failed utterly to cope with them.

Under the circumstances, who can blame the Christian Scientist for preferring to follow the Bible teaching, and to rely for healing solely upon God, the great Physician, "in whom we live and move and have our being," and who is able to say "to the uttermost" all who come unto Him. Yours very truly,
C. R. Muaro.

The claims amount to some $3,100,000 and the property and cash about $1,500,000. Of this $650,000 is the estimated value of property still on hand. This is a conservative estimate and it may yield a better price than that in the end.

SEPARATE SCHOOLS.

More Room Required—The Tender For Supplies Awarded.

The regular meeting of the Separate School Board was held last evening in St. Mary's Hall, and the following gentlemen were present: Messrs. M. J. Foster, W. Keating, C. J. Bird, T. Cochrane, Jas. Reding, P. Arland, Rev. Father Leyes, T. J. Coughlin, C. Southworth, P. Roman.

T. J. Coughlin was in the chair, and the business was soon disposed of. It consisted of the passing of the accounts and the discussion as to whether it would be advisable to make certain improvements at St. Ann's and St. Vincent's Schools.

Mr. Reding, chairman of the Internal Management Committee, submitted the list of accounts, which aggregated $2,805.04. They were ordered to be paid.

Mr. Reding was of the opinion that some improvements should be made for the teachers at a cost of $50, which was the amount of the tender submitted by Staunton & Mitchell. It was decided that the tender be accepted.

Tenders for the year's supplies were received and were somewhat in advance of last year's owing to a number of changes. Last year a large amount of stationery had to be ordered extra. The inspectors also recommended that slates be done away with, and as a result more copy paper will be needed. A. S. Turnbull's tender for the supplies was $908.12 as compared with $960.98 from J. G. Cloke. The tender of Mr. Turnbull was accepted.

A short discussion took place as to whether it would be advisable to have the work of fitting up St. Ann's completed so that more room could be had, as the school is rather crowded, only a few rooms being finished. It was decided that the matter be left over until the beginning of next year.

The board then adjourned until the second Monday in September.

New Publications.

"The Vision of His Face," by Dora Farncombe. Pp. 221. $1.00 net. Postage prepaid: The William Weld Co., London, Canada. This book comes with a special message to men and women who live in a continual rush, and also to those who find the daily round of life trivial or disappointing. It shows how the consciousness of an Unseen Master's presence can transfigure the most commonplace existence. Everyday drudgery is transformed into high and glorious "service." Each day is accepted as a splendid Opportunity—a priceless gift, pressed by God into the hand of one who is eager to do "great things." The author is well known in Canada, having for many years conducted the "Quiet Hour" department of "The Farmer's Advocate."

If, as some poet has said, all life is music, the tramp must have been set to rag-time.

BRIDGE PAINTER GIVES PITTSBURGERS A THRILLER.

Pittsburg, Pa., July 6.—Michael Munroe, a bridge painter, yesterday gave to 20,000 people in Pittsburg a thrill not down on the regular fourth of July programme. When the big new city flag, 180 by 90 feet, the largest in the world, could not be formally unfurled and dedicated at noon because a rope had broken, Munroe crept along the two-inch steel cable from a 17th storey window of the Frick building to the tower of the court house, about 150 feet distant and at least 300 feet from the street below.

Hundreds fled from the crowd and many were knocked down and hurt, while scores of persons fainted at the sight of the man so high in the air.

Munroe had put the needed rope about his shoulders, and without asking the advice of any one connected with the flag unfurling, slipped out of the window and hand over hand went across the chasm.

Mayor Magee became sick when he saw Munroe dangling in the air, and had to be taken away.

Terrorism in Barcelona.
Barcelona, July 5.—The terrorist campaign of last year shows signs of being revived. A bomb exploded in a cafe, doing serious damage. Another, found at the circus, was placed in a steel van, to be taken to the city laboratory. The bomb exploded on the way, wrecking the vehicle.

At the Independence Day celebration in London Lieut. Shackleton paid a warm tribute to the prowess of Capt. Peary, who is now approaching the north pole.

MARKETS AND FINANCE

Tuesday, July 6.—Central market presented a good appearance this morning with the large number of buyers and farmers present. As most lines of produce were more plentiful the prices generally were lower. English cherries went up a little, and sold as high as $1.00, while Canadian cherries could be had for from 70 to 80 cents. New potatoes are coming in faster now and this morning the price was about 10c lower. Beans put in an appearance for the first time this year, and brought 75c a basket. The meat market was a little slow.

Toronto Markets. The offerings of fruit to-day were good and prices steady. Quotations as follows: Bananas, bunch, $1.50 to $2.00; Strawberries, 100 lbs, $1.00 to $1.50; Raspberries, 100 lbs, $1.00 to $1.50; Apples, 100 lbs, $1.00 to $1.50; etc.

ceedingly moderate, and in consequence the undertone to the market is strong, but prices show no actual advance as compared with a week ago. Canadians are selling at very high prices, some bulls making $150 to $175 each. Last week's current prices for best steers were 13 1/2 to 14c, and secondary, including bullocks, 11 1/2 to 12 1/2c per lb. The total receipts of cattle at this market for the season up to the end of June show a decrease of 4,448 head, as compared with the same period last year.

Liverpool.—The strong feeling which has prevailed in the market of late still continues to be the main feature of the trade, and prices have scored a further advance since this day week owing to very tight supplies of both Canadian and American cattle. The holiday in Liverpool to-day and in Manchester tomorrow on account of the King's visit tended to interfere with the demand, which was low, but firm. American cattle sold at 15c, and Canadians at 13 1/2 to 14 3/4c per lb.

COBALT STOCKS. The feature of the market yesterday was the strength developed in Nova Scotia, which advanced from 40c to 47 1/2c, this being occasioned by a report of a fresh surface find on the property. A private wire to the city stated that the new find had been uncovered for a distance of sixty feet, with a showing of from two to six inches of ore. Heaver was quiet, but firm, closing at 30 1/4c. Temiskaming closed at 88 1/4c. Oil was firmer. There was a sharp advance in the price of the new London stock which had been introduced on the London market under strong influence having a good effect on the shares.

LIVE STOCK. Receipts of live stock at the Union Stock Yards were 122 carloads, consisting of 2,616 cattle, 29 hogs, 138 sheep and 21 calves. The receipts at the yards were the largest in their history, except the opening day, when 300,000 steers, 140 carloads, were on sale. But this is the largest run ever received on a Monday. The management, at the request of many drovers, tried to do away with the Monday market, as they did not want to be away on Sunday from their homes. Expectations for export steers were improved, but dealers stated that they were worth about the same as last week. Bulls sold at from $4.50 to $5.25; cows, $4 to $5.25.

FARMERS' MARKET. The offerings of grain to-day were nil and prices purely nominal. Hay quiet and steady, with sales of 15 loads at $15 to $14 a ton for No. 1. Straw is unchanged at $12 a ton. New hay is expected next week. Dressed hogs continue firm, selling at $11 for heavy, and at $11.25 to $11.50 for light. Wheat, fall, bushel, $1.35 to $1.40; Do, goose, bushel, 1.25 to 1.30; Barley, bushel, 0.60 to 0.61; Eye, bushel, 0.74 to 0.80; Peas, bushel, 0.95 to 0.97; Hay, per ton, 12.00 to 14.00; Do, No. 2, 8.00 to 10.00; Straw, per ton, 12.00 to 14.00; Dressed hogs, 11.00 to 11.50; Butcher, dairy, 0.22 to 0.24; Do, inferior, 0.18 to 0.20; Eggs, dozen, 0.23 to 0.25; Chickens, spring, lb., 0.23 to 0.25; Do, yearlings, lb., 0.12 to 0.14; Fowl, lb., 0.10 to 0.11; Celery, per dozen, 0.40 to 0.60; Potatoes, bag, 0.75 to 0.85; Onions, bag, 1.65 to 1.75; Onions, barrel, 3.00 to 5.00; Beef, hindquarters, 9.50 to 11.00; Do, forequarters, 6.50 to 7.50; Do, choice, carcass, 9.00 to 9.50; Do, medium, carcass, 7.00 to 8.00; Mutton, per cwt., 9.00 to 11.00; Veal, prime, per cwt., 9.00 to 11.00; Lamb, per cwt., 13.00 to 15.00; Spring lamb, 16.00 to 18.00.

GRAND TRUNK R.Y. SYSTEM. Traffic earnings from June 22nd to 30th, 1909: 1909, $1,195,366; 1908, $1,184,800. Increase, $10,568.

CLEWS' REPORT. New York, July 3.—The new Lackawanna deal and the declaration of a dividend equal altogether to 150 per cent gave increased stimulus to the stock market. No change of an unfavorable character can be detected in the general situation. The business outlook is generally satisfactory as far as regards activity, but the present disposition is to await the outcome of the harvest.

of interest. The past week has been exceedingly favorable for corn. The wheat situation is better than at one time anticipated and farmers are sure of good prices. The most unsatisfactory feature in the corn situation is the deterioration in cotton. Congress continues to be a subject of uncertainty. The tariff debate is practically closed, but final action seems likely to be delayed another month or six weeks owing to discussion regarding the corporation tax. The local money market continues well supplied with funds. Western banks have large sums on deposit here; so also have the Canadian institutions. Our general situation is eminently sound. It is true we are on a pretty high level, and the price of wheat is strong. A partial revision of prices to a less inflated basis could be established. Nevertheless, there is no occasion for discouragement, and while the stock market after the large July dividend payments have exhausted their influence should recede to a lower level, it is not a part of our work for any immediate pronounced reaction. Pessimism does not thrive on American soil, especially when a good harvest is in prospect.—Henry Clews.

FAILURES LAST WEEK. July 3.—Commercial failures this week in the United States, as reported by R. G. Dun & Co., are 250, against 217 last week, 230 the preceding week and 277 the corresponding week last year. Failures in Canada number 16, against 24 last year, 16 the preceding week and 23 the corresponding week in the United States. 85 were in the east, 72 south, 57 west and 36 in the Pacific States, and 90 report liabilities of $5,000 or more, against 81 last week. Liabilities of commercial failures reported for June are $12,807,122, against $14,705,793 the same period last year.

STREEL IN FRANCE. Paris, July 6.—Referring to the published report concerning the present status of the efforts to list the common stock of the United States Steel Corporation on the Paris bourse, Morgan Harjes & Co. declared to-day that the negotiations to this end still were proceeding. Struck and Killed by Crank. St. John, N. B., July 5.—John Snider, aged 31, was instantly killed here to-day while working on the building of a new wharf. He and Fred Bedford were working a winch, whereby a crab for the wharf into place. Bedford's crank slipped and Snider's revolved at terrific speed, striking him on the head and killing him instantly. He leaves a widow.

A Simple Beauty Recipe. Three pints of water drunk every day will not make you beautiful, but it will help. That is six glasses—a cheap and easy road to beauty, is it not? Clearer skin, brighter eyes, and better general health—all these may be promised to the woman who takes her six glasses each day in the proper way. The proper way means water that is not excessively cold, and that is not taken at meals. Over-cold water greatly delays digestion, if it does not stop it entirely. Water taken at meals dilutes the gastric juices. Worse than that, persons frequently use it to wash down food that has had been chanced, bringing the work of the teeth upon the stomach. The water should be taken at different times during the day, but not during meals, or directly before or after. Each glass should be sipped very slowly. If liquid is not drunk with the meal, the food is to be chewed very thoroughly if it is to be swallowed at all. This is excellent for the stomach and excellent for the teeth. In all probability, cancer is the worst physical scourge with which we have to deal, says a writer in McClure's Magazine. It annually destroys half as many lives as tuberculosis; but it is an even greater menace, because whereas the mortality from tuberculosis steadily decreases year by year, that from cancer steadily increases. The actual facts even medical men themselves hesitate to discuss. How many realize, for example, that in England, of all women who have reached the age of 35 years, one in every eight dies of cancer, and one in every 100 men? Yet the latest official report of the Registrar General of England coldly declares that this is the present situation. Whether the same figures apply to the United States cannot be determined with available statistics; but as living conditions and medical practice represent about the same standard in both countries, the probability is that they do.

Woman's Front-Page Position. What's the use of our dear women folk getting in such an unbecoming state of mind over the Chicago professor who spoke superciliously about them? We all know that his ideas are absolutely baseless. Who's doing the things the world is talking about these days? The women, bless them! Why, there hasn't been a front-page story in the papers for a week without a woman as the central figure in it. Who was murdered by a New York Chinese? Whose corpse was found on the bank of a Maryland creek, done to death romantically? Who has been revealing the secrets of high life in one of our most prominent families? All women. Has anybody read anything in the papers lately? What are the men doing these days, anyway? Nothing, seemingly, but flying airships, building tunnels and rail-road stations, launching ships and a few ordinary stunts of that kind. Unless they talk about the women they can't get into the news at all. Never mind this Chicago man, dear hearts. He's jealous, that's all.—Detroit Free Press.

Some Hot Weather Don'ts. Don't take long snowshoe tramps. The exertion at hot is exhausting and should be avoided this weather. Don't attend hockey matches. The excitement heats the blood and may lead to prostration. Don't drink hot toddy before going to bed. A highball with a cube of ice in it is just as refreshing and safer. Don't wear a double suit of underwear. Don't wear furs nor ear-muffs. You can afford to ignore the fashion for the sake of health. Don't go skating. This is another form of exercise best avoided while the mercury is hovering about the eighties. Don't eat twelve plates of cabbage soup at one dinner. Leave a few for supper.—Montreal Herald.

A PHENOMENON. Willie (whose father is building a conservatory)—Papa, if I planted this plant would an orange tree grow up from it? Papa.—Of course, my son, and oranges would grow on it. Willie.—That's very wonderful, isn't it, papa?—'Cause this is a lemon pip!

BLACK HAWK FOURTH. Burlington, Vt., July 6.—Pat Dinsien, the Boston baker, won a full-distance Marathon race held at Centennial field here yesterday in connection with the Champlain celebration. Johnny Hayes, of New York, was second, and nearly a mile behind. Teddy Crooks, of Fall River, was third, and Black Hawk, a Canadian Indian, was fourth. Dinsien's time was three hours flat. FITZ AFTER LONGBOAT. Toronto, July 6.—Jimmie Fitzgerald, the western man who was a member of the Canadian Olympic team, writes to Lou Marsi as follows from Calgary: "As you are no doubt aware, I have turned professional, and I ran John D. Marsh a 15-mile race in Edmonton last Wednesday evening and beat him by 200 yards. Time, 1:22:56.15. For ten miles we ran level, then after the tenth I managed to get a lead of 30 yards, which I gradually increased to 100 yards, and eventually won by 200 yards, amidst great excitement. I should like very much to get a race on with Longboat, Shrubbs, St. Yves, or any of the cracks down east, if it could be arranged. "I am keeping in great shape. Jimmy McEwan is handling me. He is my manager. Our address is Grand Central Hotel, Calgary."

NO CANADIANS AT HENLEY THIS YEAR. Henley, July 6.—Two heats for the diamond sculls were rowed yesterday, the first day of the annual Henley regatta, Edge and Stuart being the winners. There is a total of 77 entries, including a number from the continent, as compared with 74 entries in 1907, the best previous record. Interest centres as usual in the Grand Challenge Cup, for which the Club Nautique de Gard of Belgium again will compete. The two heats in the diamond sculls resulted: First heat—Edge beat Gladstone by two lengths. Time—9:41. Second heat—Stuart beat Powell easily by two lengths in 9:41. "No Canadians are competing this year."

NO H. D. C. MAT. TO-MORROW. The Hamilton Driving Club officers announced to the lovers of the light horses that on account of conditions imposed by the Maple Leaf Amusement Company they find it impossible to successfully continue their weekly Wednesday matinees. It is the intention of the Driving Club to open negotiations with the Hamilton Jockey Club with a view of continuing their matinee races throughout the season. The matinees have been very enjoyable and it is hoped that arrangements can be made to renew them at no distant date.

WOODLANDS BEAT THE FROST NINE. Under the most favorable auspices the East End Soft Ball League was opened last evening at Woodland Park, when a large crowd was in attendance. The Woodlands and the Frost Nine were the contestants in the first game, the latter headed by the comedian, Tat Moran. The Woodlands won by a score of 19 to 13. The wireworkers had their fine machinery working in order for the first few innings, scoring seven runs in three innings. Towards the end of the game they began to weaken, however, then started the merry-go-round. The Woodlanders began to hit the ball, and one after another knocked out long drives, some of which resulted in home runs. The feature was the hitting of Tat Moran. Four times in succession he hit the ball out of sight. S. McEwan, a former team mate of Tat's, also showed some form with the bat. Laidman, who did the pitching for the losers, twirled a good game till the eighth inning. He was ably supported by Northcott, the best man on the winning team. The "codins" Lucas in left field, he caught some very hard and difficult flies. The teams lined up as follows: Woodlands (19)—Murphy, S. Lucas, B. Lucas, McEwan, Saunders, Bleakley, Shaw, Simmons, Bucksaw. Frost Wire Co. (13)—McMurray, Northcott, Cooper, Desjacks, Main, Stokoe, C. Cooper, J. Connors, R. Laidman, Empires—Lavis and Anderson. The next game will be played on Friday night between the Emeralds and Nortons.

WHO WANTS TO RUN WILLIAMS? One of the coming long distance runners, in the person of Walter Williams, is in the city for a few days, and is open for all engagements. His manager, Mr. Walter Polk, is a great admirer of Williams. During the short time that Williams has been in the racing field he has shown remarkable endurance, and has won thirteen medals and two cups. In the Marathon road race from Brantford recently he secured a prize. A few days ago he ran a distance of thirty miles in 3 hours and 15 minutes. As Williams is open for all engagements, but purposes leaving for Windsor within a few days, all correspondence should be addressed to Walter Polk, Windsor race track.

SCRAPS OF SPORT. There will be a general meeting of the Hamilton Swimming Club to-night at 8 o'clock in the Y. M. C. A. parlors. All interested in the sport are cordially invited to attend. Toronto Globe: It is interesting to note that Whirl, of the R. C. Y. C., won the final race at Kingston on Saturday, this being the first of the series that she did win. Mr. Jarvis, of Toronto, sailed her, so one might expect some credit of her. Mr. Jarvis would sail a comp. plate with a mast, that was, if there was an element of sport in it. London, July 6.—R. B. Powell, of Canada, won the All-England Plate at Wimbledon yesterday. Alliston, July 6.—A lacrosse match between Tottenham and Alliston in the juvenile series of the C. L. A. was played at Tottenham yesterday, the score being 13 to 1 in favor of the visiting team. All teams interested in the formation of a Beach Soft Ball League are requested to send representatives to Dynes' at 8 o'clock to-morrow evening, July 7th. It is desired that a large attendance will be at this meeting, as the election of officers and all details will be attended to at this meeting. "Marius," said Mr. Jenkins, as he pushed the bed against the wall, "Marius, didn't I ask you a week ago to oil those castors? They creak something awful." "I know you did, James. But there isn't a drop of castor oil in the house."—Stray Stories.

CLUE TO LEON LING.

May Have Left Philadelphia on Board German Vessel.

Police Wire to Mediterranean and Indian Ocean Points.

Think He May Have Shipped as a Chinese Cook.

New York, July 6.—In the hope of capturing Leon Ling, the accused slayer of Elsie Sigel, the police have just cabled to several cities on the Mediterranean coast and to points through the Suez Canal and Indian Ocean to hold up the German steamship Helen Rickners and search it for the fugitive.

Information is almost conclusive, the police say, that Ling shipped from Philadelphia between June 10 and 12. The murder was committed on June 9. Further information has just come to the police that the ship on which the Chinese took passage was bound for the Orient.

In looking up the records detectives found that the Helen Rickners left Philadelphia on June 12 bound for Itosaki, Japan, and that before sailing her commander, Captain Oetting, had shipped several Chinese as part of the crew.

Among the Chinese, who were engaged only short-term before sailing, was one well-dressed man who spoke good English and who professed to be an efficient cook.

Leon Ling wore good clothes, spoke English fluently, and was a master cook.

The Helen Rickners is the only vessel which left Philadelphia at about that time for the Orient. The vessel is now believed to be either approaching or just out of the Suez Canal.

It was last reported at Tarifa, a seaport town of Spain, fifteen miles southwest from Gibraltar, on June 26.

Central office detectives would not discuss how the information came to them, but advises from Philadelphia say that the agents for the steamship observed the report of Captain Oetting concerning the listing of a Chinese cook, and they compared their list with the description of Leon Ling and notified the authorities.

Capt. Carey, of the Homicide Bureau, was surprised when he heard that this information had leaked out, and he said that he regarded it as the best clue he had yet had as to the escape of the man wanted man.

As soon as the police learned that the Helen Rickners was bound for Japan and that it had shipped a Chinese cook, they cabled every port between Tarifa, Spain, and Itosaki, Japan, at which the German steamship might report.

FRENCH TARIFF.

Senator Opposes Measure of the Tariff Commission.

Paris, July 6.—Senator Chamie to-day followed up the speech made yesterday in the Chamber of Deputies by Minister of Commerce Cruppi on tariff revision with a motion to suspend further consideration on the tariff and invite the Government to submit a bill which would safeguard France's political and economic interests with foreign countries. He insisted that the present Parliament did not have a mandate for a general revision of the tariff, as in 1893, and he opposed the measure proposed by the tariff commission. He said, represented the "accumulated policies of particular interests" and constituted a menace to the export trade of France.

A RUNAWAY.

The Domestic Laundry horse ran away yesterday on Hughson street and created quite a stir. The animal was left standing and became frightened, running down Hughson street. Some of the harness became loose, and the shafts were allowed to drop to the ground. In trying to turn the corner of Gore street the wagon first tilted on the two side wheels and then fell on the side, breaking the glass in the side and scattering the laundry all over the road. The horse broke loose, but was caught before it could get away again.
