The copy filmed here has been reproduced thanks to the generosity of:

National Library of Canada

The images appearing here are the best quality possible considering the condition and legibility of the original copy and in keeping with the filming contract specifications.

Original copies in printed paper covers are filmed beginning with the front cover and ending on the last page with a printed or illustrated impression, or the back cover when appropriate. All other original copies are filmed beginning on the first page with a printed or illustrated impression, and ending on the last page with a printed or illustrated impression.

The last recorded frame on each microfiche shall contain the symbol $\longrightarrow$ (meaning "CONTINUED"), or the symbol ∇ (meaning "END"), whichever applies.

Maps, plates, charts, etc., may be filmed at different reduction ratios. Those too large to be entirely included in one exposure are filmed beginning in the upper left hand corner, left to right and top to bottom, as many frames as required. The following diagrams illustrate the method:

L'exemplaire filmé fut reproduit grâce à la générosité de:

Bibliothèque nationale du Canada

Les images suivantes ont été reproduites avec le plus grand soin, compte tenu de la condition et de la netteté de l'exemplaire filmé, et en conformité avec les conditions du contrat de filmage.

Les exemplaires originaux dont la couverture en papier est imprimée sont filmés en commençant par le premier plat et en terminant soit par la dernière page qui comporte une empreinte d'impression ou d'illustration, soit par le second plat, selon le cas. Tous les autres exemplaires originaux sont filmés en commençant par la première page qui comporte une empreinte d'impression ou d'illustration et en terminant par la dernière page qui comporte une telle empreinte.

Un des symboles suivants apparaîtra sur la dernière image de chaque microfiche, selon le cas: le symbole $\longrightarrow$ signifie "À SUIVRE", le symbole ∇ signifie "FIN".

Les cartes, planches, tableaux, etc., peuvent être filmés à des taux de réduction différents. Lorsque le document est trop grand pour être reproduit en un seul cliché, il est filmé à partir de l'angle supérieur gauche, de gauche à droite, et de haut en bas, en prenant le nombre d'images nécessaire. Les diagrammes suivants illustrent la méthode.

LABORATORY OF THE
INLAND REVENUE DEPARTMENT
OTTAWA, CANADA

BULLETIN No. 233

MARMALADES.

OTTAWA, February 13, 1912.

W. J. GERALD, Esq.,
Deputy Minister of Inland Revenue.

SIR,—I beg to hand you herewith a report upon 154 samples of marmalade, collected throughout Canada in April of last year. This report has been much delayed through the short-handedness of the staff of these laboratories; and the fact that more perishable articles had to be given priority.

Two samples were unfortunately destroyed by rats, whose ravages upon the labels were such as to make identification of the samples uncertain.

All samples, except nine, are orange marmalades.

One hundred and thirty-eight (138) samples are found to be genuine, in the sense that they consist of fruit and sugar. Fourteen (14) samples contain glucose, but in very varying amounts, as follows:—

	Samples.
Traces only.	2
About 2 per cent.	1
" 3 "	3
" 5 "	3
" 10 "	2
" 25 "	3
	14

Owing to the indefinite character of commercial glucose it is impossible to state the percentage admixture with exactitude. The numbers given above are calculated from work done upon a sample of glucose syrup, known to the trade as 43°.

In sample 40615 (10 per cent) the presence of glucose is declared. Under modern methods of manufacture, glucose is a perfectly wholesome article of food. It consists mainly of dextrose (grape sugar) with varying quantities of dextrin (8 to 20 per cent. See Bulletin 96, p. 18). In ordinary processes of digestion, cane sugar (sucrose) is changed into glucose, and dextrin is produced by the action of ptyalin (the amylolytic enzyme of saliva) on starchy foods. Both glucose and dextrin are therefore nutritious foods, and are normally contained in every meal we eat, if not as such, yet as results of digestion of sugar and starch. There can be no sufficient reason, on the ground of wholesomeness for objecting to commercial glucose as a component of jam or marmalade.

Owing, however, to the fact that jams and marmalade were known long before glucose, it is right and proper to define jam and marmalade in conformity with accepted usage, as consisting of fruit and sugar only. If, as is claimed by many manufacturers, the addition of glucose actually improves the quality of jams and marmalades, there can be no reason for withholding a statement of the fact of its presence. The improved character of the article (if this is fact) should be sufficient justification for the introduction of the new ingredient.

In the meantime, it is necessary to describe jams which contain glucose without declaration of the fact, as adulterated under the Act, in that a cheaper substance than sugar has been in part substituted for sugar. (Sec. 3*h*). This is merely technical adulteration, and does not mean that, as an article of food, the jam or marmalade is less nutritious or wholesome.

I beg to recommend the publication of this report as Bulletin No. 233.

I have the honour to be, sir,

Your obedient servant,

A. MCGILL,
Chief Analyst.
