LONDON, May 19—The British war office, complaining that its young women stenographers are too often absent on account of illness, has decided that the trouble lies in the food they eat and in the clothes they wear.

"Go into any restaurant at the noon hour. Look over what the women have on the table before them. Sweets and pastries and tea? No, sir—no, the working woman. It's roast beef, soup, fish—whatever is solid and sustaining on the bill of fare. And they don't bolt it."

Flowers Sold in Lynn for Benefit of Consumption Camp.

LYNN, May 20.—More than 20,000 pinkies are being worn in Lynn today by people who show sympathy for the anti-tuberculosis workers to obtain funds for the establishment of a day camp as a means of relief for the sufferers from consumption who are unable to take care of themselves.

Flower girls have been stationed at numerous points throughout the city, and as they report are so successful that there is no doubt that enough money will be contributed to assure the maintenance of the camp of rest, sunshine and nourishment for these unfortunate victims of the wasting disease.

Every centy and store in the downtown district was visited by the volunteers who also called at the offices of the Red Cross and many private residences on their rounds. While a corps of boys and girls were thoroughly covering the residential and factory districts, another throng of flower sellers were working in the outskirts of the city, being conveyed to the sections assigned to them in automobiles, from which flattered the red cross Carnation day pennants.

The man who appeared on the streets during the day without a carnation in the lapel of his coat was curious, and the pinkies were immediately exchanged for sums ranging from one dime to $5. In several instances, flower girls were given $10 for one pink, and one man sent in his check to the committee for $100.

While a corps of boys and girls were thoroughly covering the residential and factory districts, another throng of flower sellers were working in the outskirts of the city, being conveyed to the sections assigned to them in automobiles, from which flattered the red cross Carnation day pennants.

The man who appeared on the streets during the day without a carnation in the lapel of his coat was curious, and the pinkies were immediately exchanged for sums ranging from one dime to $5. In several instances, flower girls were given $10 for one pink, and one man sent in his check to the committee for $100.

Every factory and store in the downtown district was visited by the volunteers who also called at the offices of the Red Cross and many private residences on their rounds. GIRL MISSIONARY, CAPTIVE IN HUT

2 DAYS, ESCAPES

Emma Trotter Imprisoned in Woods Near Ocean Grove by Three Men.

Beaten, Kicked and Dragged by Captors—Gains Freedom by Appealing to Conscience of One, Who Finally Knels in Prayer.

NEW YORK, May 20.—Lured to a shanty on the outskirts of Asbury Park, Miss Emma Trotter, thirty-five years old, a missionary for the Florence Crittenton circle of that place, was held prisoner for two days and nights by three men, piled with drugs, and treated with the utmost brutality in an effort to extort from her information concerning the whereabouts of a young girl who had been rescued by the circle from the influence of these men.

Eventually, she gained her freedom by working upon the conscience of one of her captors, while the others were stupefied with liquor, and, reminding him of his childhood days, induced him to kneel and pray with her by the memory of his mother until, tearful and penitent, he aided her to escape.

That was the story she told when, weak and ill from her experience, she staggered into Police Headquarters in Asbury Park yesterday. Despite the indignities she suffered she did not betray the trust of her captors, and last night she was confined to her home in Ocean Grove, seriously ill as a result of the treatment she received.

As a part of her work, Miss Trotter, who has been in Asbury Park for several months, is frequently called upon to go to the aid of young women in distress. A few nights ago she received a summons by telephone from a girl who gave her name as Worrell, asking her to come to her at an address in Ocean Grove Heights. Miss Trotter responded promptly. When she reached the house, which was in a secluded section, she says, the door was no sooner opened than she was seized by three men who were strangers to her.

They dragged her into a back room, thrust her into a chair, and, standing over her in a threatening attitude, demanded to know the whereabouts of Charlotte Graves, a girl who had been discovered with them and who was placed in a home for unfortunate young women. Miss Trotter refused to give information and rose to her feet. Instantly, she declares, she was knocked down and kicked.

Her screams for help were unanswered, but she remained firm in her purpose in spite of threats of death. Finally, she says, one of the men flung his arm around her neck and thrust her head back, forcing her mouth open, while one of the others poured down her throat a liquid that soon caused her to lose consciousness.

When she regained her senses she was in the shanty, she says, after a night before she became conscious. When she finally came to herself she found several miles away from Ocean Grove Heights. It was not until she won her freedom that she learned she had been in the place a day and a night before she became conscious.

A few of those on board managed to seize some of their personal belongings as they fled from the burning schooner. The crew rowed about for ten hours, when they sighted the French schooner Amadee, which brought them to St. Pierre.

A NEW PAPER

On Friday morning, May the 21st, "The Charlottetown Morning News" will make its first appearance in Charlottetown. It will be issued in conjunction with and from the same offices as the afternoon Daily Examiner, but by a distinct publishing company. The new paper is designed especially to fill the needs of the farmers of the more extensive of the Eastern Peninsula, and to give them a daily mail and demand a daily paper to keep them abreast of the news of the rural mails and the rural delivery routes go out from the city in the morning and whereas the Examiner did not get to these latter places until the day after issue the new morning paper will take to the country at an early hour at the very earliest opportunity. The paper will be 4 pages of 7 columns and will be principally devoted to local happenings with brief telegrams of the important world news and like the Examiner it will club with the big city dailies from those of its readers who wish extended reports of the greater world events. On May the 21st the first issue of The Daily Examiner appeared in the year 1887. It was the first daily newspaper published in Prince Edward Island and the first newspaper of any kind in the Province to be printed on a press operated by other than hand power.

NOTHING NEW ABOUT IT.

But the human salamander is by no means a novel or an inexplicable creature. In fact, he is a very ancient institution of the earth. For countless centuries fire tests have been used in India, and fairs have performed most extraordinary feats with blazing of various sorts. The Rev. P. Percival, from personal observation of the fanaticism of the Mohammedans, describes how some of them place pans of burning coals on the head and bore them along in the crowd, and how others prostrate on their backs with a vessel full of burning embers on the breast. So, too, did the Mohammedans through their ordeals of fire with the utmost indifference.

William H. Carpenter describes some of the feats of these stalwart fellows that he witnessed in Algiers. Performers, says, gathered round a large coal fire burning in a brazier. One of them drew out a red-hot iron and licked it with his tongue. He then placed a burning coal between his teeth and fanned it by his breath into a white heat. Another took a burning whip of hay and passed it all over his body. Still another snatched an iron rod with a ball on one end from the fire, and held it in his hand, while his eyelids round it until the eyeball was completely exposed, thrust its point in behind his ear, and passed it far out on his cheek. "How much of the exhibition was real," says Mr. Carpenter, "and how much pure sleight of hand, I have no means of knowing; but the fire of the blazing whip had not even singed the man's garments over which it had been passed."

It is not impossible for the ordinary layman to do the things which are done by the fakirs of the East. It is on record that Europeans have walked across beds of blazing coals, and how much more might be done by any man that would tend to indicate that the feat had been in contact with fire. In fact, a Colonel, British resident at Bayrotona, went through this kind of ordeal of fire under the instruction of native priests, and is said to have been entirely unharmed. Lowell's "Occult Japan" tells of similar cases of fire walking in the land of the chrysanthemum.

FEATS OF DANIEL DUNGLAS HOME. One of the most famous and remarkable of the human salamanders was Daniel Dunglas Home, the "Napoleon of Necromancy, and the East Grand Master of Mediums," a man with an extraordinary career in that he was petted by royalty and was received in the best society of London, Paris, St. Petersburg, Berlin, and Rome. Home was a strange character. He despised money; but never refused a diamond worth ten times the amount he would have received in cash, or some valuable present that the host of the house which he happened to be giving an exhibition always felt obliged to offer. Among his varied collection of startling exhibitions was that of the test by fire. The Earl of Crawford made the earliest comment thereon, printed in the "Report of the Diabolical Society," "I have frequently seen Home," said he, "when in a trance, go to the fire and take out red-hot coals, and carry them about in his hands, put them inside his shirt, etc. Eight times I have myself held a red-hot coal in my hands without injury, when I searched my face on raising my hand. Once, I wished to see if it really would burn, and I said so, and touched the coal with the middle finger of my right hand, and I got a blister as large as a sixpence. I instantly asked him to put me the coal, and I held the part that burnt me in the middle of my hand

FIRE HAS NO TERROR FOR THEM

The man who can startle the Boston branch of the Society for the Psychological Research, and incidentally puzzle into silence the celebrated Professor James of Harvard University, has certainly some remarkable exhibits in his bag of performances. But that Fred E. Foskett, a young machinist of Orange, Mass., accomplished it, and only a few weeks ago, is now a matter of record. This man seems to be among the most redoubtable of the race of modern human salamanders.

His principal feat before the learned and apparently stupefied Bostonians were to hold lighted matches in his hands, warm his fingers above the tip of the chimney of the lamp as if it was a walking stick, and bathe his hands in a basin of blazing alcohol. Professor James has thus far refused to make any comment upon Foskett's feats, but the other psychoscientist gentlemen seem not to be able to offer any adequate explanation. Some of the more enthusiastic of the Boston Brahmins attribute the fiery deeds of the young mechanic to a "marvellous psychic power," while the unbelievers have various explanations, one of which is that Foskett prepares his hands in some secret way, and another is that he is a hypnotist and sends the whole collection of eminent Bostonians into a trance, making them believe they saw something that did not actually occur.

Nothing new about it. Among the other notables who saw this experiment were Sir William Crookes, Lord Lindsay, Lord Adare, Professor W. H. Harrison and Professor Wallace. The only plausible explanation of Home's fire feats - and even that was not without the logical fault - was written by Henry Wood, a well known English investigator and writer on spiritualism. This is his opinion: "It is a singular feat. The coat is a piece of spongy platinum, which bears a close resemblance to a lump of half-penny metal, and is placed in the hand, as a prestidigitator conceals a coin, a pack of cards, an egg, or a small lemon. The medium or magician advances through the grate and pretends to take a genuine lump of coal from the fire; but brings up instead, at the tip of his fingers, the piece of platinum. In a secret breast pocket of his coat he has a small reservoir of hydrogen gas, which he pours over the platinum, and the gas is ignited by the heat of the fire, and the flame is extinguished by the medium's breath. The gas is then allowed to escape, and the medium is restored to his normal condition."

THIRD OPERATION PREVENTED

By Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Chicago, Ill. - "I want to tell you what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound did for me. I was so sick that two of the best doctors in Chicago said I would die if I did not have an operation. I had already had two operations, and they wanted me to go through a third one. I suffered from inflammation and a small tumor, and never thought of seeing a well day again. A friend told me how Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound helped her, and I tried it, and after the third bottle I was cured." - Mrs. ALVINA SPERLING, 11 Langdon Street, Chicago, Ill.

If you are ill do not drag along at home or in your place of employment until an operation is necessary, but build up the feminine system, and remove the cause of those distressing aches and pains by using Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from roots and herbs. For thirty years it has been the standard remedy for female ills, and has positively restored the health of thousands of women who have been troubled with displacements, inflammation, ulceration, fibroid tumors, irregularities, periodic pains, backache, bearing-down feeling, flatulency, indigestion, dizziness, or nervous prostration. Why don't you try it?

PLAYING WITH MOLTEN METAL

Robert Houdin, probably the world's greatest necromancer, had some experience with the harmlessness of fire under certain conditions. Tending one day an article by Mr. Bouigny as to the possibility of bathing the hands in molten metal, Houdin called upon that man and together they went to a foundry at La Villette. This is his account of the visit.

"I must mention that to insure the success of the marvelous experiment no other condition is requisite than to have the hands slightly damp. I regret I can offer no explanation as to the principle of the phenomenon; for this would require many a long chapter; hence, I will refer my readers to Mr. Bouigny's work. It will be enough to state that the metal, when in a state of fusion, is kept at a distance from the skin by a repulsive force, which opposes an insurmountable barrier. "I had scarce finished wiping my hands, when the furnace was opened and a jet of molten metal, about the thickness of my arm, burst forth. Sparks flew in every direction, as if it was a fireworks performance. "Wait a few minutes," Mr. Bouigny said, "till the metal is cleaned; for it would be dangerous to try our experiment at this moment." Five minutes later, the stream of liquid fire left off bubbling and emitting scoriae. It became indeed so limpid and brilliant that it scorched our eyes at a few yards off.

"All at once my companion walked up to the furnace, and calmly began washing his hands in the metal as if it had been lukewarm water.

THE HYPNOTIC EXPLANATION.

"I make no pretence to bravery - I confess at this moment my heart beat as if it would burst - and yet, when Mr. Bouigny ended his strange ablutions, I walked forward in my turn with a determination that proved a certain strength of will. I imitated my professor's movements. I literally dived in the burning liquid, and in my opinion, inspired by this marvelous operation, I took a handful of the metal and threw it in the air, and it fell back in a fire shower on the ground. The impression I felt in touching the molten iron can be compared only to what I should have experienced in handling liquid velvet, if I may express myself so."

Hereward Carrington, a writer on spiritualistic phenomena, inclines to the opinion that the individual can resist great heat for a certain period by hypnotic suggestion. He made practical experiments in this line, and he is of the opinion that the explanation of these phenomena, "may ultimately prove to be a purely normal one, though the evidence in some cases would seem to point to a contrary conclusion."

As against the "psychic power" theory and the hypnotic suggestion, the apparently established ability of the human salamander who indulges in fiery working done museum folk performed feats as startling as those carried out before psychological research societies or in the saloons of the rich. These fire-eaters of our childhood days used to blow flames from their mouths, lick red-hot bars of iron, just wash their hands in blazing alcohol; manipulate fire, and do otherwise manifold and disagreeable elements with ease and impunity. But it is now known that they coated their hands with a substance composed of camphor, aquaviva, quicklime, and strychnine. The preparation could not be detected by ordinary scrutiny, and, thus protected, even the living skeleton or the tattooed man could be transformed into a salamander indeed.

WILL LIKELY BE TOTAL WRECK

LAGOS, Africa, May 20 - The British bark W. W. McLaughlin, from New York, March 6, for Old Calabar, is expected she will be a total loss, but cargo may be saved. The crew have been safely landed. The W. W. McLaughlin was built at Hopewell Cape, N. B., in 1891 and registers 471 tons. The forest fire at Mattland caused by fishermen were under control on Saturday last, but not before a considerable area of timber land had been devastated amounting to some thousands of dollars. The benefit of the appointment of Fire Ranger was demonstrated in the fire which otherwise would have assumed much larger proportions. The sensational dispatches sent to some of the Halifax and St. John papers were misleading and in some particulars lacked the essential element - truth - as there was no necessity of rushing aid from Annapolis, which was at hand near the scene of the fire. Phy Mr. Julia Ditto Young, husband of the woman who prophesied in verse the career of Theodore Roosevelt, and became famous thereby. First his wife turned literary. NO WOMAN CAN BE STRONG AND HEALTHY UNLESS THE KIDNEYS ARE WELL

When the kidneys are ill, the whole body is ill, for the poisons which the kidneys ought to filter out of the blood are left in the system. Then how important it must be to see to it that this system of sewerage is not clogged up. Those who have never been troubled with kidney trouble know not the misery and suffering which these afflicted undergo. Doan's Kidney Pills are a specific for all kidney troubles. They begin by leading the diluted mucus of the kidneys and thus make their action regular and natural. They help the kidneys to flush out the acid and poisonous impurities which have collected, thus clearing out the kidneys, bladder and all the urinary passages. Doan's Kidney Pills are entirely vegetable, and may be safely taken by young and old. Ladies: Doan's Kidney Pills do for you what only a doctor can do for the kidneys. I was troubled with my kidneys for two years. They were so bad at times I could not cross the floor for the pain. I tried a doctor but he did me no good at all. I sent a my nearest druggist and got four boxes of Doan's Kidney Pills, and I am glad to say that after taking them I have had no more trouble for nearly three years now. ENGLISH LIQUID PAINT

Said the House-owner:
"Give me ten gallons of 'English' Liquid White Paint.
"No, Sir! I won't take any other kind.
"Yes, that other paint may possibly be good paint, but if it is all right in every way, why don't the makers tell you, and tell me, frankly, what they are trying to sell us—namely, what is in the paint.
"I always use 'English' Liquid Paint because the guarantee formula is on the can telling me that it is made of 70% white lead, 30% zinc white, pure linseed oil, pure turpentine oil, and I know that I am taking no chance when I use that kind of paint."
"English" Liquid Paint made by Bradam-Henderson Limited, is very economical to use. Come in for a color card.

MONGTON WON'T ENTER THE PROVINCIAL LEAGUE

Afraid It Would Not Pay—Preparations for the College Sports

MONCTON, N. B., May 21.—There seems little prospect of Moncton having a team in the provincial baseball league.
The matter came up last evening at a meeting of the M. A. A. A. executive, when the report of George Trite, delegate from the association to the recent league meeting at St. John, was received. It was considered and action deferred for a week, which practically means that the association will not enter a team in the organization.
Cot is the main local objection, there being doubts whether provincial league games would draw sufficiently in opposition to the city league, which plays at a much cheaper price.
In preparation for the intercollegiate games next Friday repairs are being made to the M. A. A. grounds, including installation of electric lights. The grounds will be in fine shape for the meet.
Empire day was fittingly observed in the city schools here today with the usual exercises.

MERELY ABOUT DOGS

Clarence Ward, the Mayor's Clerk, is busy issuing licenses to the owners of dogs. So far he has issued 63 licenses.
Deputy Chief of Police Jenkins has reported that there are 780 unlicensed dogs in the city, exclusive of North End, and there is according to this report a lively rush awaiting the Mayor's clerk.
Last year there were no less than 164 licenses granted against 1373 the year previous.
Deputy Mayor Christie this morning said that after the 1st of July the licenses for dogs would be double the present cost, and all unlicensed dogs found on the streets after that date would be gathered in by the pound keeper.

FIND OPIUM HIDDEN ON CAPT. HAINS

Keepers in Queen's County Jail Discover Enough in Coat Lining to Kill Several Men

NEW YORK, May 20.—That Captain Peter C. Hains, Jr., entertained an idea of taking his own life rather than go to the Penitentiary is a theory advanced by officials at the Queens County Jail, in Long Island City, where Hains was confined between the date of the shooting of William E. Annis and his removal to Sing Sing on Tuesday.
It became known yesterday that a quantity of opium was found in his clothing when he was searched immediately after his return to the jail from the Court House in Flushing, where his sentence was pronounced last Monday morning.

Harvey ordered two keepers to search Hains. One of them noticed an enlargement in the lining of the prisoner's coat and upon ripping it open they found three small rolls of opium. The three rolls contained thirty-six grains, enough to kill several men.
How the prisoner got the drug was not explained, nor has it been determined whether he had been using the drug during his confinement in jail.

John F. McIntyre, counsel for Captain Hains, renounced as false a report that his client was continuously under the influence of a narcotic during the trial.
"Captain Hains is not and never has been a user of morphine or any other drug," said Mr. McIntyre. "I know he did not use any such drug during his trial. The story contradicts itself. It evidently is meant to suggest that the conduct of Captain Hains during his trial was due to drugs. His conduct was the same from the time of his arrest until he entered Sing Sing Prison, though his mental troubles at times were more acute than usual. If his mental condition during the trial was due to the use of drugs his mental condition during his imprisonment prior to his trial must have been due to the same cause. It is manifestly impossible that this could be the case without discovery by the jail authorities of their interference. Captain Hains' conduct was due to his mental condition and not to any artificial cause."

A report was current in Long Island City yesterday that Thornton J. Hains had leased a residence in the city, and that his father and mother and the three children of Peter C. Hains, Jr., would share its occupancy during the summer.

RUBENSTEIN CLUB'S QUIET ELECTION

Rumor of Injunction, Proves Groundless and Mrs. Chapman Becomes President by Acclamation

NEW YORK, May 20.—Not a harsh word, not even an intemperate gesture marred the serenity of an election of officers of the Rubenstein Club held in the Waldorf-Astoria yesterday. The one man who was present, a lawyer who attended in the preliminary capacity in order to act as a torpedo net in case Dr. Adelside Wallerstein tossed an injunction or two into the room, as members of the club feared she would, went away as soon as he saw that Mrs. Wm. Rogers Chapman, founder of the club, was elected president by acclamation.
Not only was Mrs. Chapman elected president, but all the officers of the club whose election she favored were seen on the premises all day.
There were two schools of the controversy between Dr. Wallerstein, who had been president for five years, and Mrs. Chapman. The one school was to arrange the entertainments, and Mrs. Chapman. One who was the passage of a resolution in which the club was to give a firm but gentle notice to Dr. Wallerstein that she tries to interfere with the officers who were elected yesterday, the Attorney General of the State will be asked to intervene. The other school was the announcement read and carried with the utmost feeling that Dr. Wallerstein has formed another club.
The organization is called the Mozart Club and will meet at the Plaza. Mrs. Alma Webster Powell will be chairman of the musical programme, and Victor Herbert has promised to compose a piece especially for the club. Arthur Chasen will be the musical director.

CRAZY RAILWAY METHODS.

How the Chinese are wasting British capital in building the Shanghai-Hankow-Ningpo railway is told by the Paris correspondent of the London Times, who says: "The railway presents every possible defect. Bridges are unsafe. Rails are of native manufacture, of obsolete section, spiked into soft wood sleepers from Manchuria and Japan. Sleepers are wrongly laid. Wrongly ballasted, their life in this soil is little more than one year. Eight different patterns of rolling stock are in use. Where there was difficulty in bridging a stream the Chinese built the bridge on dry land and then dug under the bridge, both the entrance to the division and the exit from it being literally at right angles to the natural direction of the stream."

The best fluid to wash mugs, dishes of delicate color in is rice water; use no soap. Boil one pound of rice in a gallon of water. Reserve a quart of the water for starching. Then wash the dishes in the remainder. Rinse in clear or slightly blue water. Starch the dishes in the remaining rice water. Dishes which have been in the sun should never be hung in the sun to dry.
Closely woven goods require less starch than others.
Kid slippers, purses, belts and gloves are best cleaned by rubbing them with French chalk.

Although Battling Nelson is training for his contest with Hyland the latter has shown no signs of changing his plans about delaying his match with Ketchel until the latter date.
BALZ LAKE CITY, May 21.—Four local wrestlers were thrown in 15 minutes and three seconds by Frank Ketchel champion of the world, at the Salt Palace last night. The time of the 600 yard swim was changed from 5:37 3/8 to 5:33 4/8. The 400 yard record formerly was held by the N. Y. A. C.

CANADA AND A NATIONAL ANTHEM.

Every now and then some one tries to write a national anthem for Canada but, in the opinion of the Victoria Colonist, every effort is a failure. The Colonist adds: "Canada is not old enough to have evolved a national anthem. The sentiment of the people has not clustered around any particular person, event or idea. When the average rhymer sits down to write a Canadian song he tries to include everything in it, from the herring fleet of Nova Scotia, to the mines of the Klondike, and the result is a spasm of directory. By and by something may happen, or we may do something as a people, or some one may think of something that will catch the popular eye."

Mrs. Fred Lean, who was removed to the hospital on Monday from her home at the east end of Duke street, is reported to be very low. Dr. James Christie said last night that it was doubtful if she would recover. The disease from which she is suffering has a strong hold on her and she is badly run down.

I, the undersigned, will accept the challenge of Robert Pendleton to a five-mile race, and being the party challenged, have choice of date and place. I will run him 15 laps around Market square, Carleton Place (to the mile), July 1st, 10 a. m. (Signed) Billy Tutts.

The sad news reached here this morning of the death in Halifax after a lengthy illness, of Mrs. Fraser, wife of Dr. C. F. Fraser, Sup't. of the school for the Blind. Deceased was formerly Miss Ella J. Hunter, daughter of the late James Hunter, of St. John. Besides her mother she leaves three sisters, Mrs. Dr. G. Coulthard and Mrs. H. G. Penney, of Fredericton, and Miss E. R. Hunter.

The death took place last evening of Margaret A., widow of Thomas Walsh, at the residence of her son David at Milford. She leaves three sons and four daughters, William and David of Milford, and John, of the U. S. A., and Mrs. John Brown, of Lewiston. Mrs. Samuel Lockhart, of Milford, Mrs. H. L. Tripp, of Cambridge, and Mrs. William Duffy, of this city. The funeral takes place Saturday afternoon, from the residence of her son David, at Milford.

Mrs. Peter McGrath, a very indignant mother, called at the Star office today. She states that a ten-year-old child of the street, named John, had taken her child and forced the child and his own boy to fight. In the encounter Mrs. McGrath's boy was quite badly hurt, and was spitting mouthfuls of blood when his mother reached him. Dr. McDonald was summoned and attended the little fellow. Mrs. McGrath says that she telephoned to Chief Clark asking him to send an officer to look into the case, and was advised to go to court and make a charge. She thinks that she has done something in such an affair as this.

J. C. LITHGOW OF THE M. P. A. A. IN THE CITY

Confirms Story That Marathon Runners May Come Here—M. P. A. A. Will Not Allow Amateurs and Professionals to Compete

J. C. Lithgow, President of the M. P. A. A., arrived in the city this morning on the Boston express and left again on the C. P. R. for Halifax. Mr. Lithgow has just returned from New York, where he witnessed the St. Yves-Shrubbs incident.

Mr. Lithgow was asked by Mr. Powers regarding the prospects for a marathon race in the Maritime Provinces and said that if they could make it pay it was likely that a bunch of the fastest runners, including Shrubbs, St. Yves, Dorando, Longboat and some of the others, might be brought down.

Mr. Lithgow explained the situation to Mr. Powers and said that it would be impossible to give large guarantees for either St. John or Halifax. He thinks that it is quite likely, however, that some of the racers may be induced to come along later in the summer, probably in August.

Regarding the local situation, Mr. Lithgow said that the M. P. A. A. would not give their sanction for amateurs contesting with or against professionals in any way. The St. John men who were suspended last year because of charges of professionalism in connection with the base ball league, had been reinstated, but they would again be suspended if they played on the same team with professionals or against professional teams.

He also informed the Star that the Maritime Rowing Association will be affiliated with the Canadian Rowing Association at the next meeting.

NOTICE TO ADVERTISERS.

SUMMER COLONY IS THREATENED BY FIRE Father Gaynor's Camp at Spruce Lake Destroyed

Fire Spread to Grass and Other Cottages
Are in Danger—St. John Men Fighting the Flames

Father Gaynor's pretty summer camp at Spruce Lake was totally destroyed by fire this morning. Father Gaynor spent the night at the camp and left this morning for the city about 9:30, and about an hour later his camp was discovered to be on fire. It was too far gone to be saved, and before anything could be done it was burned to the ground. The origin of the fire could be discovered.

Catching from the burning house a blaze spread along the grass and trees of the neighborhood and a number of other cottages along the lake were in serious danger of destruction. Their owners in the city were notified and a number of gentlemen went down to assist in fighting the fire. All the telephone wires between here and Spruce Lake are down, and it is impossible to learn the result of their efforts.

He graduated on the evening of May 15th and received his diploma and class honor for excellent work in elocution displayed in reading his graduation essay, which was chosen in English and best read of any paper of the evening. Several beautiful bouquets of flowers were presented Mr. Williams upon the receipt of his diploma including a large bunch of American Beauty roses from Mr. and Mrs. Hudson Williams, Maiden; a bunch of carnations from Mr. John Roland Willard, Tremont Temple; roses from Mr. and Mrs. French, Maiden; cut flowers from friends.

Owing to impaired health Mr. Williams will not be able to take up his pastoral duties for several weeks, but will go to his old home in the country, where he will remain till early autumn, after which he will return to Boston to take up his studies at the New England Conservatory of Music.

JEWS DISGUSTED WITH CHRISTIAN JUSTICE

Impossible, Says Jacob Myers, to Get Fair Treatment in St. John—The Windsor Breaking Charges

This morning Jacob Myers was in the police court to prosecute Edward Travis and James Lockhart, two boys who were charged with breaking windows in the Jewish Synagogue on Carleton street.

A great deal of damage has been done by boys and the cost to put in the glass is estimated at about fifty dollars. Travis and Lockhart told the court that they did not break the glass, but that Willie Guthro was the boy who caused the damage. They said that they were with Guthro at the time he threw the stone through the window.

The reason Guthro was not in court was that he is now an inmate in the Silver Falls Industrial Home for boys. Travis and Lockhart were discharged.

Mr. Myers was not quite satisfied with the result of the court proceedings. He said that young Guthro had been given in charge of Policeman Totten for breaking the windows and the policeman after taking hold of the boy, refused to lock him up.

In five weeks six windows have been broken. Mr. Myers said he had called on Chief of Police Clark regarding the matter and the chief had played tricks on him, for there was no officer sent to guard the place, and the only one to come was Detective Killen who measured the hole in the glass where the stone had passed through.

Mr. Myers was very much disgusted that the window breakers were not dealt with and said: "Our only friends are in the synagogue. All the rest in St. John are enemies. They all give us trouble and get off easy. We will have to board up our windows and not go to the synagogue. We catch the fellows who break the windows and nothing is done to them. There are no police on the benches against other boys for breaking windows in the Synagogue and the matter was settled quietly."

POLICE COURT.

In the police court this morning one drunk was sent to jail in default of paying a fine.

William Murphy was charged with stealing a ride on an I. R. C. train and after being given a severe reprimand, was allowed to continue on his way to Maine. The county was thus saved the cost of feeding him in the jail.

Frank Foster, a white man, was charged with assaulting Waldon Harris, a colored man. It was shown by Wm. Armstrong and Frank Stewart, two witnesses, that the negro was to blame and the case was dismissed.
