GREEKS EXPECTED TO REFUSE TO AGREE TO ALLIED PROPOSALS FOR SETTLEMENT NEAR EAST QUESTION

American Representatives Submit Views at London Conference—Greek Premier To Be Member of Commission To Investigate Conditions in Thrace and Smyrna.

London, Feb. 26.—(Canadian Press.)—The Greek representatives were heard this forenoon by Allied representatives gathered here for the Near East conference. Later questions affecting Armenia and Kurdistan were taken up with Turkish delegates to the conference. While it was generally expected the representatives of the Turkish Nationalist Government would agree to the proposals for a solution of the Near Eastern question, it was forecast the Greek answer would be in the negative. It was stated the foreign office, however, that M. Kallio, head of the Greek delegation, would be appointed a member of the inter-Allied commission which will conduct an investigation of conditions in Thrace and Smyrna, and that the fact that this inquiry would be made did not imply that the Greeks would be compelled to evacuate territories they occupy. Greek occupation of strategic points along the Dardanelles, it was said, would not be affected, necessarily. Moreover, the London Times points out the fate of Thrace and Smyrna will be determined by the commission, but will be settled by the Allied governments after a study of its report.

ADVISES MILITARY MEN TO GET BUSY

MAJOR-GENERAL SIR A. C. MACDONELL, who told the Canadian Army Association to combat the talk that the possession of a militia force meant militarism.

Foreign Minister Sforza of Italy is credited with the success attending the Allies' efforts to improve the Turkish situation. He bluntly told them that, in view of the proposed investigation, they must refrain from raising greater difficulties on other points. Newspapers here published today a cable appeal from citizens of various localities around Smyrna, complaining of Turkish Nationalist cruelties to native Christians.

FARM LAND VALUES IN 1920 HIGHEST IN CANADA'S HISTORY

Ottawa, Feb. 26.—(Canadian Press.)—The average values of farm land in Canada were higher in 1920, as also were farm wages, but values of farm live stock and of wool showed a considerable decrease, according to the Dominion Bureau of Statistics' annual report for the year in question.

The average values of occupied farm land in Canada, including both improved and unimproved land, together with all classes of farm buildings was $45 per acre, as compared with $46 in 1919, $41 in 1918, $35 in 1917, $26 in 1916, $35 in 1915.

Average farm wages increased over the preceding year. The average value per head, all ages, for horses in Canada was $106 as against $115 in 1919; cattle, $59 against $70 in 1919; sheep, $10 as against $15 in 1919; swine, $23 as against $25. The approximate values of farm live stock in 1920, with 1919 values in brackets, was: Horses, $361,328,000 ($435,070,000); cattle, $561,500,000 ($708,081,000); sheep, $37,253,000 ($50,402,000); swine, $81,155,000 ($102,308,000). The total value of these descriptions of live stock for 1920 amounted to $1,041,246,000 as compared with $1,296,602,000. The total value of farm property in 1920 was $7,016,000.

CARRYING OUT WILL OF BRITISH COLUMBIA

HON. J. W. DEV-FARRIS, who has introduced a bill in the Legislature to make changes in the liquor laws of the province.

Believing the Dominion Government to be absolutely lax, inefficient and unbusinesslike in its methods of conducting the tobacco experimental and demonstration station located at Harrow, Essex, the Western Ontario Alumni Association will, after a report is brought in by certain members, discuss the matter at its next regular meeting to be held March 31 in St. Thomas. In all probability some action will be taken to bring about better conditions at the station.

NEW YORK SINN FEINERS FAIL TO PREVENT GIBBS FROM SPEAKING

Noted British War Correspondent Delivers His Message.

New York, Feb. 26.—By Canadian Press.—The civilized code of law and order scored a decided victory over hooliganism, as demonstrated by an organized party of Sinn Feiners, who endeavored to break up a lecture on the Irish question, given by Sir Philip Gibbs, British war correspondent, at Carnegie Hall tonight. Sir Philip, who had been subjected to public abuse since his arrival here, Rev. Francis P. Duffy, chaplain of the 8th United States division, took the platform five minutes after the inception of the disturbance, and temporarily quelled it. Besides the outbreak in the hall, women picketers paraded outside displaying anti-British posters, and distributing Sinn Fein propaganda. After Sir Philip had concluded reading excerpts from statements made by the late James Redmond on conditions in Ireland during the anti-British demonstration started.

AGREEMENT REACHED BETWEEN MEDICOS AND OSTEOPATHS

Bill Will Be Presented to the Government for Ratification.

Local osteopaths stated this morning that so far they had received no information of the reported agreement between the Ontario Medical College, the University of Toronto and the Ontario Association of Osteopaths, whereby the osteopaths operating in the province are to be accorded the same status as homoeopaths, and a prepared one holding an agreement for presentation to the government.

NINE APPLICATIONS FOR DIVORCE HAVE BEEN CONSIDERED

Senate Committee Continues to Hear Evidence.

Ottawa, Feb. 26.—The Senate divorce committee is continuing to sit, though the Senate adjourned last night until Tuesday. To date nine applications have been disposed of, and several others have been put through various stages of committee hearing. It is expected that the first batch of applications will be ready for attention by the Commons committee on miscellaneous private bills by about Thursday or Friday next.

DOMINION GOVERNMENT STORING AT THE HELM, CLAM OF WESTERN ONTARIO ALUMNI ASSOCIATION

Tobacco Experimental Station at Harrow a Disgrace—Government Issues Bulletins on Care of Farm Machinery, Yet Refuses to Build Sheds to House Valuable Apparatus—Farm Bulletins Not Worth Paper Written On.

Despite these handicaps the superintendent and his staff have been experimenting, but his efforts have come to naught, for the Government had failed to discontinue among the tobacco growers the tobacco growing experiments. Mr. McKenny proposed that some resolution be passed to stir up the Government. Lieut.-Col. W. J. Brown said that such an experimental station was a disgrace. He believed that the association should go on record calling upon the Government to supply machinery, sheds and adopt proper methods of giving out the results of the experiments. If the Dominion Government had too much to do he could not see why it did not turn the work over to the Provincial House. The conducting of this station by the Government was a lot of trouble done to satisfy public demand.

S. P. Brown of Ilderton did not think that the bulletins issued by the Government were worth the paper they were written on. They were so uninteresting that the average farmer did not know what or where to look for things. He thought that the Government would get much better results if they gave out the results of the experiments through the public press or farm magazines.

Every member present expressed opinions regarding the station, and without exception they believed that something should be done to awaken the sleeping department of agriculture at Ottawa.

Like Solomon, KING WINTER IS AGAIN SMILING

Takes Slap at Street Car Service in Early Morning Hours.

Small Attendance at the Local Market in Consequence of Storm.

Unless conditions are much worse by the afternoon, London's first real February blizzard will have done little more than provide a change of scenery. "Cl" right, flakey flakes borne on a keen east wind had not piled up in sufficient quantities by noon to interfere with the city's business activities.

Street cars maintained their usual schedule after the first few runs had been accomplished. Sweepers were out early in the morning and had the tracks cleared for the rest of the "freak" by 6 o'clock. Constant attention was necessary, as the wind drifted the snow over the lines almost as quickly as they were cleared. Some of the older and more feeble vehicles had to exert themselves to make headway, but the larger cars treated the affair as a joke.

THOUGHT METHODIST MINISTER A RABBI

Montreal Judge Reserves Decision in Annulment Case.

Montreal, Feb. 26.—Mr. Justice Bruneau yesterday heard evidence in the superior court on a petition in which Bertha J. Spiegel sought to have her marriage with N. A. Agashkin annulled on three grounds: first, that Rev. F. S. Spaulde, the officiating Methodist minister, was not competent to marry her, as he was a Jew; second, that she was a minor when married, and had no parental consent; third, that she was led to believe by her husband that she was being married by a rabbi. The first pretension was a mere dismissal on the recent private council judgment in the Tremblay-Despatie case, and counsel for the petitioner abandoned this plea.

UNEMPLOYED BENEFIT SWINDLER WANTED

Montreal, Feb. 26.—A swindler, who was wanted in Boston for an "unemployed" scheme, which he worked there recently with marked success, would seem to have resurfaced in a man named Treadwell, who was recently in this city organizing a mammoth carnival for unemployed benefit and who had been seen with a large sum of money which had been collected for the proposed carnival. A similar scheme has just been worked in Boston and the police are of the opinion that Treadwell is responsible for both.

Expected to Aspire for Council Seat Made Vacant by Moorhead's Death.

O. A. C. Alumni Want Western Ontario Experimental Station

Several questions of vital importance to the farming districts of Southwestern Ontario were thoroughly discussed Friday night at the annual meeting of the Western O. A. C. Alumni Association in the offices of the department of agriculture, this city. To bring certain recommendations and resolutions before the Provincial House, a committee of three was appointed to act if possible in conjunction with representatives of other interested associations in that part of the country.

The most important of the problems taken up was that of a proposed experimental and demonstration station for the southwestern portion of the province. After considerable discussion the following resolution was passed unanimously:

Petition Government.
That the Western O. A. C. Alumni Association petition the Hon. Mr. Drury, premier of Ontario, and the Hon. Mr. Manning, minister of agriculture, with the object of having an experimental and demonstration station established in a central place in the southwestern portion of the province, where specialized crops are grown, and that a committee of three be appointed to wait upon and present this report to the above mentioned ministers.

That it is the opinion of the association that it might best serve the purpose of the farmers of the district, that it be operated by the Provincial Department of Agriculture.

To present this resolution before the Government the following were appointed a committee: A. McKenney, Essex; R. H. Abraham, Kent; and L. Hankinson, Aylmer. Because it was the belief of the meeting that the matter should be taken up directly with Hon. Mr. Doherty, it was decided to approach the Government after their return from England, probably some time after March 18.

Want Corn Specialist.
This committee was instructed by the members of the association to urge the Government to appoint a corn specialist in that portion of the province in the near future. It was believed that a man thoroughly conversant with the growing of corn should be appointed immediately to assist the farmers.

Embodied in the preamble of the resolution concerning the establishment of the experimental station were many reasons why this step should be taken. It was believed that because certain specialized crops such as corn, beans, sugar beets, onions, early tomatoes and tobacco could be grown only in a climate and on soils such as were to be found in that district, proper experiments in those crops could not be carried on at the Ontario Agriculture College.

Tobacco Growers Interested.
It was also claimed that the corn growers were asking that the experiment station be made for the purpose of eliminating scrub varieties of corn, and that tobacco growers were also asking for experiments to bring out more remunerative crops.

$185,000 SCHOOL IS RECOMMENDED BY NO. 2 COMMITTEE

After considerable discussion, which was very much a repetition of what has been heard time and time again in connection with the question of Victoria School, No. 2 committee of the board of education yesterday afternoon adopted a motion by Trustee Wright, recommending to the board that it proceed with the erection of a complete new fourteen-room school at an estimated cost of not more than $185,000, rather than with the piecemeal proposal of erecting four classrooms and assembly hall at an approximate cost of $120,000 to $125,000. That it give authority for the calling for tenders for such a school, and that it ask the city council for the necessary money.

In accordance with instructions given him by No. 2 committee, following the opening of tenders for the four rooms on Tuesday last, Architect L. E. Carrothers laid before the committee tentative plans along with an estimate of the cost of the larger scheme, which he stated in reply to the chairman of the committee, Trustee H. Hayman, could be built at a cost not exceeding $185,000 or a matter of only $60,000 to $70,000 more than the tenders for the smaller program.

A Saving Possible.
During the discussion it was remarked that certain contractors had claimed that they could do the work at lower figures if some of the frills were cut out, and they were allowed to install plumbing and other equipment which they have in stock instead of the standard of goods called for by the architects' specifications.

"What are the frills referred to?" asked one of the trustees, and Mr. Hayman replied that among them was the requirement for the use of glass brick on the interior walls of the school rooms, but this, he claimed, was more a decided advantage than a frill, the additional cost of the brick was saved, he said, in the doing away with the need of plastering the walls and the wood for the skirting boards.

In regard to the plumbing equipment, Mr. Carrothers questioned whether the claim that the goods in stock could be used to be "as good" as those specified by him. In one case at least it would mean increased height and in the case of the plumbing in the equipment would be used in additional work. He also pointed out that the goods in stock could not be purchased in Canadian-made goods. He admitted that British-made goods could be got that would meet the requirements, but that at the present time there are none of these goods in Canada. Several of the trustees strongly support the use of British-made goods if Canadian cannot be secured in preference to American, and the architect was given instructions to this effect.

Complete Knollwood School.
The committee decided to recommend to the board that the city council be asked for the $4,000 necessary to complete the work at the Knollwood school. The original contract for the work had been $15,000, the intention being to build only two rooms, but after the work had been started it was deemed advisable to make the school a four-roomed one, and the additional rooms were added, the total cost being $15,000, thereby creating a deficit of $4,000.

A number of accounts were ordered paid and Inspector Greer who is assisting acting Secretary Tanner in the preparing of the school's estimates for presentation to the city council, made some inquiries for his own information relative to certain accounts. While the matter of the financial statement and estimates is one of concern to No. 1 committee it was intimated during the discussion that the financial statement for 1920 will show a substantial surplus.

DONAHUE IS LABOR NOMINEE FOR CITY COUNCIL VACANCY

Solicitor Will Contest Ward 4 to Succeed Late Alderman Moorhead.

J. M. Donahue, solicitor for the Fair Price Committee, which conducted the successful fight against the City Gas Company's "readiness-to-serve" charge was nominated by the Labor Representation Committee last night as candidate for the vacancy in the city council caused by the death of Alderman Moorhead.

H. Kibbler who was fourth in that ward at the January election and H. B. Asplund, the defeated majority candidate on the same occasion, were also considered, but Donahue received the strongest support. J. G. Hothersall, Arthur Morand and Frank McKay were nominated, but withdrew.

The executive of the committee was empowered to take the necessary legal steps to place their candidate in the running at the proper time and to arrange for a strong campaign in his support. It was felt by the meeting that the outcome of this election would indicate how the Labor party was prepared for the next general municipal election. Election of Donahue would give the party three representatives on the council, the other two being Ald. F. R. Watkinson and Ald. John Ashton.

It was decided to send a deputation to Toronto next week to oppose a clause in the London bill to authorize a commission form of government for the city. This will be done on the ground that the provisions of the clause were changed so that a commission of only eight members is provided for, in place of 20 for which the people voted. The committee would not have opposed it in its original state.

WANT REFERENDUM ON SEPARATE SCHOOL.
Saskatoon, Feb. 25.—The Saskatchewan school trustees' convention in session here unanimously passed a resolution at the morning's session asking that two questions be submitted to a referendum of the electors of Saskatchewan at the next provincial election. The first "Are you in favor of the abolition of the separate school system in Saskatchewan?" the second, "Are you in favor of repealing the bilingual clause in our school act, which now provides for the use of the French language in the primary schools?"

The unanimity of the convention on the questions was expressed when the resolution was unanimously passed by a standing vote, with scarcely any discussion.

"LADIES' NIGHT" WITH KIWANIS CLUB IS A BRILLIANT AFFAIR

Banquet and Entertainment of Mirth and Novel Surprises Staged.

To describe the London Kiwanis Club's ladies' night as a brilliant affair is doing it no more than justice. It was a conspicuous success in every detail.

The spacious dining hall of the Tecumseh House was filled to capacity by one of the gayest and jolliest assemblies ever drawn together in this city. There was a "flow of soul," but there was no "flow of soul" in the sense of a genuine enjoyment in all its moods and tenor.

The room was gorgeously but artistically embellished with flags and ribbons of many hues and devices, and the effect was picturesque in the extreme. The richness of the color scheme being enhanced by the rainbow headgear of the Kiwanians and their fair guests.

Julius Brazil, from Toronto, who was accompanied by Mrs. Brazil, was the star entertainer, and he certainly made things go with a bang, not only contributing largely to the merriment of the evening, but acting in a masterly manner as the "lord-high-everything-else" of the festive occasion.

After a repast, for which even the most competent connoisseurs among the ladies had nothing but praise, the King's health was drunk with patriotic fervor.

In the toast list which followed, "The Ladies" as a matter of course, occupied the most prominent place. It was given by Vice-President Arthur Ford, who was followed by Sam Rowed.

Lovely Woman.
Kiwanian Ford, by a happy inspiration, submitted his eulogy of "Lovely woman" in the form of an acoustic, namely, "love, affection, discourse, ire, peace, and smile." In the latter of these words, he it observed, spelling out the subject of the toast.

Sam Rowed's eloquence was somewhat marred by the demonstrations of the jazz instruments with which the company was supplied, but which he no means failed to turn to his tribute to the Kiwanian girls.

"The toast of 'London Kiwanis Club' was, according to the program, given by the hands of Lord George, but that distinguished statesman, for reasons which were not elucidated by cable or otherwise, was not present, and his place was efficiently filled by Julius Brazil himself, who, if he did not come up to the oratorical standard of the British premier, at least imparted more variety and originality to his remarks than is customary with the "little Welshman."

As for Ernie Dennis, Demosthenes would have turned green with envy had that Greek paragon heard him speak forth on what the Kiwanis stood for in general, and what London Kiwanians had as their policy in particular.

Mrs. Brazil appeared with her versatile husband in a vocal selection from "Floradora" and, as an encore, "The Belle of New York." Both were enthusiastically applauded.

Prizes and Surprises.
A number of prizes and surprises lent variety to the evening's proceedings, the former being distributed to the ladies in the shape of beautifully designed crystal dishes, and the latter springing up at every turn and causing unrestrained hilarity, owing to their skillful engineering.

Several unique stunts were staged at separate intervals, one of these being a balloon-riding contest, and another a wicker quartet, which almost literally brought down the house. So many bouquets were thrown at the "singers" that the ladies were literally buried in a sea of flowers.

A more serious interlude was the address of Rev. Kiwanian Tom Roy, who intimated that the committee which had been appointed to formulate a main objective for the club had decided that no other end but the betterment of the "unprivileged" boys and girls of the city.

HE SUFFERED FOR A YEAR WITH HIS BACK

Now John Bowers Sings the Praises of Dodd's Kidney Pills.

Severn Bridge Man Looks on the Great Canadian Kidney Remedy, Dodd's Kidney Pills, as a Blessing Sent From Above.

SEVERN BRIDGE, Ont., Feb. 25.—(Special)—Since indeed is the tribute paid here, says to the benefit he has received from the use of Dodd's Kidney Pills.

"I had been suffering for a year with a bad back," Mr. Bowers states. "Sometimes I could not work with the pain. Six boxes of Dodd's Kidney Pills took the pain all out of me and I feel like a new man."

"I highly recommend Dodd's Kidney Pills to anyone suffering with the back and I say that the pills are a blessing from God sent into the world." One of the earliest symptoms of kidney trouble is pain in the back. It is itself the cause of a great deal of suffering. But kidney trouble, unless given prompt attention, may become a much more serious form of disease, such as urinary troubles, rheumatism, dropsy, lumbago, diabetes and heart disease.

To be assured of good health the kidneys must be kept in good working order all the time. At the first sign of trouble use Dodd's Kidney Pills. Ask your neighbors if Dodd's Kidney Pills are not the best remedy for kidney trouble.

The celebrated Dr. Michenoff, an authority on early old age, says that it is "caused by poisons generated in the intestine." When your stomach digests food properly it is absorbed without forming poisonous matter. Poisons bring on early old age and premature death; 18 to 20 drops of "Belger's Syrup" after meals makes your digestion sound.

FRENCH PLANT UNDER RED FLAG

PARIS, Feb. 25.—The first attempt to Sovietize a large plant in France when the red flag was raised today over a big electrical works under construction at Gennevilliers, ended in a dismal failure, according to the police and military authorities. On the other hand, the leaders of the Communists claim that it was a complete success. The police and military draw their conclusions from the fact that not a single man is at work on the plant, while the leaders in the Soviet movement point out that the red flag is flying over the building as a token of victory.

The trouble had its origin when the workers refused to quit the place in spite of a lockout declared by the company, which had reduced wages because the employees had slackened off in their work. Louis Loucheur, the minister of liberated regions, is interested in the company.

An "armed peace" is the situation tonight with hundreds of gendarmes and Republican guards under Lieutenant Dubois and Police Commissioner Germain, patrolling the plant at Gennevilliers, which is located to the north of Paris in the department of the Seine, while the workers are assembled across the River Seine in the department of Seine-et-Marne at Argenteuil, spurring "The Internationals" and proclaiming that they will rush the works tomorrow morning.

At dusk this evening the workers made a concerted attempt to cross the bridge over the Seine, shouting "Down with the police." The police easily repelled the attempted invasion after they brought down a few of the marks with their rifles. None was seriously injured.

The officers of the General Electric Society, the builders of the plant, are advertising for other help. They say that they intend to resume work Tuesday, discharging all the workers who had accepted payment of wages this morning. These officials explain the presence of the red flag over the building as due to the absence of a stepladder among the police or Republican guards able to climb the high pole over the plant where the flag is flying.

CONFLICTS IN ITALY.

ROME, Feb. 25.—Alarm reports of disorders come from the province of Bari, in consequence of conflicts between socialists and members of the Fascist or extreme nationalist party, in which several persons were killed. The chamber of labor of the town of Grottole, near Bari, was stormed and burned, whereupon it is stated, the socialists proclaimed a general strike, obeyed among others by the employees of the electric light plant, leaving the town without light. A fresh encounter followed.

The socialists are said to have formed bands of peasants which went throughout the country in search of extreme Nationalists and land owners, and destroyed property and poisoned water used by cattle for drinking purposes. Because of the seriousness of the trouble the reports said the Nationalists were unable to cope with the situation.

YOUNG FARMER DIES OF HEART-FAILURE

Woodstock, Feb. 25.—Death came very suddenly to Henry Neeb, a young farmer living near Tavistock. He went to the barn to do some chores, and not returning in a reasonable time, the barn of the family investigated. In the barn they found him sitting on a box in a stall as if asleep, but life was extinct. Heart-failure caused death. He was 42 years old, had been in excellent health, and had worked all yesterday in the bush. He is survived by his wife and two sons and one daughter. He was the only son of Mr. and Mrs. Neeb.

Piles Cured Permanently Without Drugs

Internal Bathing Relieves the Cause. Mr. A. N. Steele, Cupar, Sask., writes: "I had been troubled with my Stomach, Piles and Constipation for years until I had become very thin and looked 30 years older. A leading doctor in Regina told me that the main canal was badly blocked. I gradually became worse, until one day, when purchasing a threshing outfit from Mr. Russell of Regina, Mr. Russell noticed my condition and said: 'I can cure you. Get a J. B. J. Cascade. Well, I did so, and the first night I used it I slept all night for the first time in weeks, and in a short time felt quite myself again. It also cured my piles, which had troubled me for years.' This wonderful appliance is the invention of Dr. Chas. A. Tyrrell, New York. It is pleasant and easy to use, and will serve the whole family. It should be in every home. See the J. B. J. Cascade advertisement in the Company, London, where it will be shown and explained to you. Ask for 12-page booklet all about internal bathing. It is free, or write Tyrrell's Hygienic Institute, 168 College Street Toronto, Ont.

OPPOSITION BANKS PROTEST DOHERTY'S EMBARGO JOURNEY

Major J. C. Tolmie Introduces Embargo Subject in Legislature by Declaring Minister of Agriculture's Intended Participation in Controversy in England Was Dangerous to Canada's Interests.

[Special to The Advertiser.] TORONTO, Feb. 25.—Two entirely unforeseen controversies occupied the whole of the time of the Ontario Legislature yesterday afternoon, an eleventh hour protest from Opposition benches as to the propriety of Hon. Manning Doherty, minister of agriculture, journeying to London, England, in regard to the cattle embargo, and a vigorous charge leveled by T. H. Lennox, K. C., Conservative member for North York, to the effect that Attorney-General Raney was displaying favoritism to J. W. Curry, K. C., Liberal member for Southeast Toronto, when Mr. Curry applied for remission of fines imposed on clients for B. O. T. A.

Introduced Topic. Major J. C. Tolmie, member for Windsor, introduced the embargo topic by saying that in his opinion the minister of agriculture's intended participation in the controversy in England was a "dangerous thing," and one against which he felt called upon to protest. Hon. G. H. Ferguson took up the issue where the member for Windsor dropped it and declared that Hon. Mr. Doherty's action constituted not only an affront to the authorities at Ottawa, but was "an unwarranted interference in British politics."

Impending By-Election. "Had I known," he said, "of an impending by-election in England when the prime minister spoke to me about Mr. Doherty's trip I might have given a very different answer. Perhaps there is a little politics behind all this. It seems to me to be an unprecedented procedure."

Hon. Thomas Crawford, a big livestock shipper, thought there was an international aspect to the question. If Britain removed the embargo on Canadian cattle alone the United States, he feared, would institute tariff retaliation against agriculture for Ontario. If the Forney bill passed the United States House, he said, Canada would be deprived of her United States market for cattle, and it was vital, therefore, that the British market be made available.

Gas Conferences Postponed Pending Changes in the Act

ST. THOMAS, Feb. 25.—The adjourned conference at Dutton today between the representatives of the western municipalities and the Southern Ontario Gas Company, over the unsatisfactory service reaching all points of the territory covered by the distribution, was abruptly ended after General Manager H. R. Davis of the gas company had addressed the gathering. Further hearing was postponed indefinitely, as amended legislation will be considered by the House the second week in March.

But this situation was only reached on the assurance that the company will provide and maintain the pressure on all the complaining municipalities which has been given for the past ten days. General Manager Davis intimated that the company had in view the manufacture of artificial gas to overcome the defective service of certain sections of the town. The plan would be in operation within the next couple of years.

Mr. Davis, in his testimony, said that since 1917 the total production of gas west of London had been reduced 80 per cent. The municipalities west of London in 1917 were using 9 per cent of the total, and in 1920 29 per cent. West of London there are 1,370 users and east of London 13,150. He asserted that east of London, with the exception

THEFT IN BANK BALKS SLEUTHS

Detectives Fail To Unravel Mysterious Robbery in Toronto.

Toronto, Feb. 25.—The theft of $11,300 in cash and two legal tenders of $5,000 each, representing mutilated currency taken from the safe of George Wright, paying teller of the Toronto head office of the Bank of Montreal yesterday, is still unsolved today. It is one of the most mystifying cases the Toronto police have handled in years. Sergeant Bart Cronin spent fifteen hours in the bank yesterday, never leaving it from the time he was assigned to the case till 10 o'clock last night, and today went back to the bank to carry on further investigation.

An interesting feature of the case is that three armed messengers sat within ten feet of Mr. Wright's cage, guarding a strong box. They were waiting for the bank automobile. These guards are positive in their story to the police that they never entered the cage. Auditors have checked up the books of the four tellers, and they have been unable to find any discrepancies.

"The money has not been found," stated Graeme G. Adam, general manager of the Toronto branch. "It will be a loss, but happily not a serious one."

One of the rules of the bank was broken when the two girls tellers put money into Mr. Wright's cage without signing for the deposit of it, and without Mr. Wright being present.

"The bank regulations state such deposits should be signed for," said Mr. Cronin, "and in this case it was not done."

BILL IS REFERRED BACK TO COMMITTEE

St. Thomas, Feb. 25.—The proposed bill to vest St. Andrew's market in the council, with the rider that it may be used for park or factory purposes, was before the House today, and was referred back to the committee for reconsideration. An appeal from the west end residents was resolved by several of the members of the committee that the bill should not pass in its present shape, and before it may be again considered, that the words "factory sites" be eliminated from the proposed legislative measure. The property owners living in the vicinity of the old market site would not want any movement of the council that would lower the value of their buildings by many thousands of dollars.

Favor a Park. General expression of the ratepayers in all parts of the city is that the area should be turned over for park purposes, or made a playground for the children.

May Operate Dining-Rooms. The Union News Company is negotiating for lunch and dining-room privileges at the local M. C. R. depot. The dining-room is now under the direct control of the railway company.

A local motorcycleist was fined $15 today for exceeding the speed limit. Harry Cox injured. Harry Cox, a C. P. R. freeman, residing at 81 Woodworth avenue, fell off the running board of his engine at Cathlamet street, and broke his arm, dislocated his shoulder and suffered other serious injuries. He was removed to the hospital there, and is in the St. Thomas hospital. Mrs. Cox is at present in England.

Reduced Values. The court of revision allowed a reduction of $3,529 on the property of J. D. Lamont, Elm street, and $3,500 on the premises of the Harding Company, St. Catharines street.

George Bradley, station agent at Stratfordville, has been transferred to Tillsonburg.

Died From Diphtheria. In a couple of days with diphtheria, Walter Kirkwood, eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. James Kirkwood, 67 Malakoff street, died this morning. The interment took place this afternoon in St. Thomas Cemetery.

DECLARES SARNIA WILL GET FACTORY

Sarnia, Feb. 25.—"It may be a year, or it may be later, but we will be in Sarnia," stated C. Harold Wells of the Willis-Leo Automobile Corporation, in an interview today during the reception and dinner by the chamber of commerce in honor of the builders of Marysville and their associates. "One big task we have to accomplish," said Mr. Wells, "is the completion of Marysville, and his associates would be Canadians, builders of Canada for Canada, and that in all work in the Dominion, Canadian men would be given the preference in the building of the automobile plant and the manufacture of the cars in the Canadian branch of the industry. C. Harold Wells had a business conference today with J. R. L. Starr, C. B. Calvert, Col. William McBain of Toronto, and J. J. Mahon of New York.

GOTHAM FEARS CRIME RELAPSE

New York, Feb. 25.—Fear that New York's recent crime wave might be breaking out afresh was expressed this afternoon when shortly after the Rat-koff robbery had been reported auto handbills held up three men in a building on West Twenty-eighth street and escaped with cash and jewelry valued at between $5,000 and $10,000.

Seven bandits hid up the office of the Connecticut Screen Company on West Twenty-eighth street and escaped with $15,000.

At noon two robbers crossed the "dead-line for crooks," told a jeweler in his office on the ninth floor of a Broadway office building, and escaped with $20,000 worth of his wares.

Earlier in the day the watchman of a Bowery theatre located a short distance from a police station was found slain in the dressing-room after evidences of having engaged in a pistol battle.

THIEVES GET $20,000. New York, Feb. 25.—Two well-dressed men today entered the jewelry shop of Ratkoff Bros. & Co., on the ninth floor of a Broadway office building near the city hall, below the famous "dead-line" for crooks, knocked Joseph Maforano, a member of the firm, unconscious with the butt of a revolver, and escaped with $20,000 worth of jewelry.

PLEADS GUILTY TO SERIOUS CHARGES

Windsor, Feb. 25.—Vincent Masse, a Windsor youth, pleaded guilty today at the spring assizes at Sandwich on three charges, shooting with intent to commit murder, assault with intent to rob, and attempted robbery. Sentence was deferred by the court until the young man's mother appeared to make a plea for her son.

The first charge arose out of the shooting of a man named Sigondo Simoni, on December 28. The second charge laid by the crown was made on the information of Alfonso Bell, who informed the police that Masse had assaulted him and attempted to rob him on December 28. The last charge was laid by the crown on the information of Thomas H. Elliott, who claimed Masse attempted to rob him of a sum of money. This also occurred on December 28.

Big Barn Burns at Blenheim

[Special to The Advertiser.]
BLENHEIM, Feb. 25.—Fire which broke out shortly after 1 o'clock this morning completely destroyed the big some barns of the Sheldon Hotel. The fire apparently started in the south end and had made great headway when noticed. All efforts to save the barns were unavailing, and it was with great difficulty that the flames were kept from the Truxa livery and the hotel. In the barn was stored a large quantity of hay and straw.

FORMER MINISTER IN BORDEN'S GOVERNMENT DEMANDS ELECTION

Hon. A. K. McLean Declares Objects for Which War-Time Coalition Was Created Have Long Since Past and That Meighen Administration Should No Longer Attempt to Govern Without a Mandate From the People of Canada.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

OTTAWA, Feb. 25.—Hon. A. K. McLean, formerly minister without portfolio, in the late Borden Government, is the second of the original Liberal Unionists who helped to form the war-time coalition of 1917, to stand in the House and declare in effect that the reasons for the creation of union are past, and that the Government which has succeeded union should dissolve Parliament and go to the people.

Last evening Hon. T. A. Crerar, minister of agriculture in the Union cabinet, declared that the Government had outgrown its mandate and that, with or without redistribution, it should dissolve Parliament and be on its way. This afternoon Mr. McLean declared that under the Canadian parliamentary system, and under the peculiar circumstances by which the present parliament was elected in 1917, there should be dissolution at an early date. Both declared their intention of voting for the lack of confidence amendment proposed by Hon. W. L. Mackenzie King, the Liberal leader.

Mr. Crerar left union a couple of years ago. Mr. McLean remained with it until Sir Robert Borden, the creator of Union, intimated his intentions of retirement, and today Mr. McLean is on the Opposition benches. There was probably no more loyal supporter of Union than Mr. McLean. His straightforward statement on this occasion was all the more damaging to the cause of the present Government, which insists upon hanging on long after the reasons for the formation of Union had ceased to exist.

It is a notable fact that of the nine

BEWARE OF BRONCHITIS

Bronchitis is generally caused by neglecting cold, or exposing wet and inclement weather. It begins with a tightness across the chest, difficulty in breathing, and a wheezing sound comes from the lungs. There is a raising of phlegm, especially the first thing in the morning. This is at first white, but later becomes a greenish or yellowish color, and is occasionally streaked with blood.

On the first sign of bronchitis you should check it immediately by using Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup, thereby prevent it becoming chronic, and perhaps developing into some more serious lung trouble.

Mrs. Brice Culham, Sheffield, Ont., writes: "In December, 1919, I was very sick with bronchitis, and had to stay in the house all winter. One day I saw Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup advertised, so I got a small bottle which I used very much; it then got a 50c size, and it completely relieved me. I cannot praise Dr. Wood's enough for what it did. Two of my neighbors are now using it for colds."

Don't accept a substitute for Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup; the genuine is put up in a yellow wrapper; three pine trees the trade mark; price 50c and 50c; manufactured only by The T. Milburn Company, Limited, Toronto, Ont.

Col. J. A. Currie (North Simcoe) also opposed the amendment.
Oppose Amendment.
F. S. Scott (South Waterloo), speaking from the Government side, opposed the amendment on the ground that dissolution should come in a constitutional way and not at the dictation of the Opposition leader.

Members of the Progressive party held the floor for a large part of the night sitting. J. F. Beld of MacKenzie charged the Government with an alliance with the "big interests." The Government had asked the protectionist flag to the mast. It needed help and money from these interests to fight the Liberals and Progressives.
O. H. Gould, Progressive member from Asiniboia, criticized the tariff composition entirely of the protectionist element, he declared, would accept battle on the tariff issue at any time. He said that the Government had elected in 1917 had broken faith with them. They had expected a general election at the close of the war, but this had not been forthcoming. He prophesied that the prime minister would have to resign in the next election.

PROVINCE CAN'T STOP BETTING
Court Decides Ontario Has No
Power To Prohibit Race
Track Wagers.

TORONTO, Feb. 25.—The province of Ontario has no power to enact legislation prohibiting betting on horse tracks. This is the decision of the appellate division given at Osgoode Hall today.

Justice Riddell, dissenting, stated that Ontario's attempt to legislate to prohibit betting on horse tracks was a "deliberate attempt to trespass upon a forbidden field"—that of legislation which the British North America act reserves for the Dominion.

"To the Dominion," he says, "has been given exclusive jurisdiction over criminal law. It alone can define crime and punish it. The acts which are prohibited and punished in the interests of public morality." With this view Justice Riddell dissented.

Chief Justice Meredith says: "That which is to be affected mainly, if the racing is to be prohibited, is the horse racing; also, more directly, but less effectively, is betting at horse races; but no betting, no racing, a killing of two birds with one stone. There are in the province three classes of persons who are engaged in the betting business: the owners of race courses and race horses, whose business would be ruined by the suppression of betting; the bookmakers; and the gamblers themselves."

In closing his judgment, Chief Justice Meredith says: "There are those of the

RONDEAU PARK.

N. H. Stevens of Chatham, president of the Canada Milling Company, has sent the following letter to Mr. Drury, the premier of Ontario:

"Dear Mr. Drury.—The people here are wild over the rumor that your Government is about to turn the Provincial Rondeau Park over to a commission, and that the commissioners are to make the park self-sustaining by cutting and selling timber. The people are entirely opposed to cutting timber in this park."

"The people want the timber, animals and birds preserved in this wild state. There is no other such park in the Dominion. The land is nearly surrounded by the water of Rondeau harbor and Lake Erie. The park is a constant supply of specimens of walnut, butternut, hickory, white-oak, several kinds of oak, beech, maple, pine, birch, ash and elm, with several other varieties of wood, and the woods and marsh lands are well stocked with deer, groundhogs, coon, squirrel, beaver, mink, muskrat, in birds, wild turkey, geese, ducks, partridge, pheasants, some quail, and really a 'birds' paradise.' It has taken many years to produce the trees."

"Nothing could be more unpopular than to turn this park over to a commission to make it self-supporting by cutting the timber. We want the park to remain a 'primeval forest,' with the animals and birds preserved, that child born one or five hundred years from now may see this primeval forest as it was when their forefathers settled the country."

"Please keep the park under the control of the Government, and make such grants as will keep the park in its present state of beauty, and the people will be well pleased and thankful. Yours sincerely, (Signed), N. H. STEVENS."

Mr. Stevens makes out a good case. It would be very wrong to destroy the slightest extent Rondeau Park. It is in the class of Niagara Falls, the Prince's Gardens in Edinburgh, and many other places in which the public interest is very great. The people want the grandeur of Niagara Falls retained. It is one of the seven wonders of the world. Rondeau Park, with its variety of trees, should be kept for its educational value. It exhibits, as Mr. Stevens points out, splendid specimens of walnut, butternut, hickory, white-oak, several kinds of oak, beech, maple, pine, birch, ash and elm, with several other varieties of wood." He says: "There is no other such park in the Dominion."

And add to these the varieties of birds and animals, including deer. The original forest should be preserved. Mr. Stevens is doing a great public service in pointing out the great wrong it would be to the public to have any of the timber cut or the park destroyed or injured in any way. It is not at all likely that the Government, when the wrong is pointed out, will fail not only to preserve, but to obtain the greatest possible benefit out of Rondeau Park.

LIFE'S OPEN SESAME.

In a period like the present, alive with every form of activity, youth eagerly scans its horizon for opportunities of material advancement, lest, perchance,

"Omitted, all the voyage of their life is bound in shallows and in miseries; And we must take the current when it serves, Or lose our venture."

The Bard of Avon, incomparable mirror of mankind, thus presents one mood or concept of the way of life, and George Elliot offers the responsibility.

OTHERS' VIEWS

BUYING IN CANADA. (Vancouver Sun.)

The people of British Columbia buy Canadian-made goods "sway and all" the time, loyal to Canadian trade amounts to a controlling belief in this province; a control by a real national spirit.

We have none of the bitter antagonism to the tariff which is felt in the Prairie provinces, and which is even finding a stronger foothold in rural Ontario.

British Columbians believe in a tariff which will produce Federal revenue and give reasonable protection to Canadian industries and Canadian producers. They stand for a continuance of the Laurier tariff policy under which Canada made its great industrial and its great agricultural expansion.

The Melgren tariff policy is entirely different; it is radically unjust to British Columbia producers.

Mr. Melgren's Ontario speeches are direct appeals to greed. When he says buy in Canada, the context restricts it to buying in Ontario.

AS OLD AS HIS FEEL. (London Daily Mail.)

The secret of success at every age is "to work on and keep the passion fresh," and there are abundant examples of those who by doing this have placed themselves in advancing years among the immortals. Mr. Hardy, for example, disappointed by the criticisms on his novels, turned to writing his great poem, "The Dynasts," the first part of which he published at 65. Handel was broken down in health and bankrupt at 53, when he began to compose the music which has made his fame. M. Clemenceau, at 75 when by his firmness in meeting the German offensive of 1918, he saved his country and Europe.

NATURAL QUEVRY. (Vancouver Province.)

A woman's journal, wants to know why men should have anything to say about what women wear, when it took them 300 years to find that they could sew for themselves and put them on like a coat instead of pulling them over their heads.

WHAT YOU COULD DO, IF— (Calgary Albertan.)

We all think in terms of three dimensions—length, width and depth, by which we measure rooms, objects, distance, space.

But mathematicians claim that if you mastered it, you could not be locked in a room, for a room has only three dimensions and you could escape through the fourth.

What is the fourth dimension? Time is the fourth dimension, answers Einstein.

Go to see a friend. Walk down one street, traversing the dimension, length. Turn at a corner and travel along another dimension, width. Reaching the friend's house, take the elevator to his apartment, traversing the third dimension, depth or height.

But, arriving you find your friend out. You have to wait 30 minutes before reaching him.

This time is a fourth dimension in locating any physical object or reaching any given point on the earth.

And even time, says Einstein, is relative. He claims that time varies in different parts of the universe.

Take the star Polaris—15 years for its light to reach us, and vice versa, which means that it takes 15 years for eyes to see from one to another. A man on Polaris, given a powerful telescope, is watching events that took place on the earth 15 years ago. Thus now is the year 1921 on earth, but it is the year 1906 on Polaris, yet both are identical to the same.

On more distant stars, inhabitants may be looking down and watching the building of the pyramids in Egypt. Time is relative. It varies with the object in relation to which it is considered.

Einstein advances this novel claim: Shoot a man from the earth out into space in a shell traveling with a speed limit of light—186,000 miles a second. If the shell travels and returns to earth with that speed, the man would emerge from the shell unchanged.

He would be exactly the same age and unchanged physically, even though the trip had taken 1,000,000 years.

That is, according to Einstein.

EVERYTHING

UNREST. (Lambert W. Cresson.)

The trade and the wind are weaving lace. On the silver loom of the sky, And I am set in the tower to watch While the weary clouds go by. In the sad, grey tower where the snow sits through the narrow windows the clouds look in. And they see That my eyes are wet.

THE LAST VOYAGE. (Nancy Byrd Turner.)

Some silver night this barque, my soul, Will spread a sudden sail, When the warm anchor gives at last And the old moorings fall.

Without a word, without a cry, Wide-winged, elate and free, No doubt or fear for fright or pain, Will put to the open sea.

I shall not mind me if my prow Be pointed north or south, So there are wild winds on my brow And salt spray on my mouth.

I shall not reckon how the miles Go flinging down my wake, If, brittle on my questing prow, The pungent brine shall break.

So shall I sail and sail and sail Till, in the whistling foam, The sea's God and my soul's shall say, Good mariner, put home!

Then, through the gate of some gold dawn, Strong helmed and straightly driven, Hip shall make that ancient port, The happiness of heaven!

THE AIRWAYS. (Harold A. Danne.)

Highway and byway, dusty and muddy Using and wearing out youth and old age, Alleyway pathway, rough and forbidding, Wearing and tearing our lives in their rage.

But oh! the clean Airways, kind guiding stairways, Gentle, soft Airways, they serve us for aye.

Subway and railway, dark, damp and dismal, Gasping and roaring, in nerve-racking storm; Streamway and seaway, restless, complaining, Risking in threatening, menacing form.

But oh! the great Airways, unwearying Airways, Their soft eager bowoms upbear us for aye.

Trolley and tramway, clanging, mechanical, Avid and sordid, belching with dust Creek and canals, muddy, deserted Destruction lurking, worthless of trust.

But oh! the long Airways, the lasting long stairways, The soft yielding stairways, they bear us for aye.

DUTY. (Richmond Times-Dispatch.)

Could I but do one worthy deed, Of crime one living line To fill the measure of my need— Could I but sow one faithful seed, Then were contentment mine.

Could I but sing one living song To banish mortal pain; Could I but right one crying wrong, Or help one living soul along, I had not lived in vain.

So vast the universe, so cold The peaks to which we climb, So grey the skies, the stars so old, So many sheep strayed from the fold, And so swiftly fleeting time! Drive on I may, somehow it seems That each succeeding sun Finds me yet distant from my Dreams On paths rock-strewn, with swollen streams.

And no day's journey done! Yet I must carry on the fight, Still I must do my best, So when I pass from the Night Into the Day, into the Light, My weary soul may rest!

THE TURN OF THE ROAD. (Scott Grey.)

Soft grey buds on the willow, Warm moist winds from the bay, Seagulls out on the sandy beach, And a road my eager feet would reach, That leads to the far away.

Dust on the wayward flower, The meadow lark's luring tone Is silent now, from the grasses tipped With dew at the dawn, the pearls have slipped— Far have I fared alone.

And then, by the alder thicket, The turn of the road—and you! 'Tis the earth life white in the noonday heat, Or the swift storm follow our hurrying feet, What do we care—we two?

THE JOY OF BEING. (John Kendrick Bangs.)

Whether my life is leading me, Perhaps I do not know; But, Oh, the path is fair to see, And sweet the winds that blow in sun or storm, by day or night, If skies are lowering or bright, The highroad holds so much delight I run with heart aglow.

The lanes may thorny be, and lead To steep heart-breaking high; The forests wild with bush and weed My strength may mortify; Yet, with resolve to do and dare, I hold within my soul small care For pathways spread or paths where.

The goals worth winning lie. It is enough to live and plan, To joy in earth and sea; To do what things a mortal can, To spirit with life and free; To prove one's strength of soul, and will.

To meet and overcome the ill, To gain on earth the gain the thrill Of manifold mastery!

WARNING. (Louise Driscoll.)

I heard the snow in my garden— It sang a melting song. It spoke to some one I cannot see And said "It will not be long— It will not be very long."

I looked out over my garden And saw a red chickadee Eating the purple berries On dark green cedar trees— A friendly cedar tree.

I thought he seemed to listen, And like the dripping sound The melting snow was making.

To something underground— Some listener underground.

It may be some one answered With words I do not know (I've never heard a cuckoo bulb Stir under the soft snow— Under the melting snow).

I have a wide, white garden Without perfume or sweet; Right wings flutter to it, Nor little skipping feet— No small, adventuring feet.

But bulbs and roots are waiting And hear the melting song: In musical, slow numbers It says: "It will not be long— It will not be very long."

FOR LOVE OF BETTY

(Copyright, 1920, by the McClure Newspaper Syndicate.)

XXIII.—"I Do Care!"

With a sudden movement Trevor brushed his face in both hands as though he were ashamed of it.

"You haven't heard what I was going to say," Betty's tone was steady now. He looked so terribly unhappy and so boyish in his misery that her kind heart smote her.

"I can't say it!" came the muffled answer.

"I haven't got the right to say it—no, no!"

"You mean—because of April?"

"She nodded miserably.

"No happiness could possibly come of it—of hurting another person," she added, almost inaudibly.

"Jack," Betty spoke his name softly. "I can't say it!"

SEWER "GAS."

A recent outbreak, in which the ancient fallacy of disease from sewer "gas" was revived, makes this curious relic of the past again of momentary interest. The subject has been so thoroughly investigated, and so thoroughly, even wearisomely, thrashed out in the last 30 years or so, that one would suppose no modern citizen who had his eyes open could have grown to manhood without knowing what has been discovered; but it seems that there are such individuals, after all.

Sewer "gas," as a matter of fact, is to begin with, a mistaken term, for there is no one "gas" peculiar to sewage or sewers. Sewer AIR is the proper term, for the "gas" from sewers is always made up of ordinary air chiefly, with, ordinarily, a very small percentage, indeed, of other gases, under or over odoriferous, and therefore, impressive, but in exceedingly small proportions.

WHAT IS SEWAGE?

Sewage in a modern city is simply the water which is supplied to the citizens fresh and clean from the water taps, but after it has received such additions to it as the citizens' daily life requires. The citizen uses some of the water for drinking purposes, and it is a very small proportion of the total water—much less than 1 per cent.

Some of us use the water for bathing; some of us use it for washing dishes, washing laundry, sprinkling the lawn, locomotives and other steam engines use it for their boilers; many industries require water in their processes or products. We have in London about 100 gallons a day apiece to use as we like, or 500 gallons per family. We waste a tremendous lot of it, of course, probably nearly half of it. But nearly all of it sooner or later, and by various paths, gets finally into the sewers, thus making just about the same 100 gallons a day apiece of sewage, composed of the same water, dirtied now, that first was the clean, fresh water from the taps. Thus London receives about 6,000,000 gallons of water a day, uses it and passes it on again as about 6,000,000 gallons of sewage.

WHAT MAKES SEWAGE DANGEROUS?

On the average, every citizen adds to the sewage every day about an ounce or so of solid matter, in the form of bowel discharges. The water in the urine, or, in fact, in any of the discharges, should not be counted as an addition, because that water came chiefly from the water supply in the first place, and is merely returned to it when the water supply has reached the sewage stage.

FOREIGN MATTER IN SEWAGE

Thus, the one ounce or so of solid discharge per person is mixed in the sewage with 100 gallons of water—or one part of such solids to about 16,000 parts water. Most people have a general idea that sewage is "very strong" in such discharges, while as a matter of fact it is very weak, indeed, in this kind of matter. We ourselves carry about in our intestines all the time the very essence of sewage, 16,000 times as "strong" as the city sewage. Victor Hugo, the great writer of novels, is responsible in part for this mistaken idea of the strength of sewage. He became so impressed with it that he urged the city of Paris not to waste the millions of money (as he thought) thrown into the River Seine every day in the form of sewage, but to use its rich material for fertilizing the soil. Thus converting the waste matter back into valuable food material. But after long years of experiment it was found that sewage really contains so little fertilizing material in proportion to its bulk that its direct use as fertilizer is not only impracticable, but these plans had to be abandoned.

DISCHARGES SOMETIMES DANGEROUS.

These discharges of the human body, small as they are in proportion to the sewage, nevertheless sometimes produce disease; that is, when the discharges contain the germs of disease. The danger consists, however, not in smelling such sewage, but in drinking it. Our ancestors had an indiscriminate notion that there was something bad about sewage—and they jumped to the conclusion that it was the quite open and obvious smell. They quite overlooked the odorless, slippery methods by which the sewage stole quietly and unobtrusively back into the water supply, and so produced typhoid, dysentery, cholera and other deadly epidemics. Therefore our forefathers, while innocently drinking the sewage itself, spread a great deal of trouble about the smells, fussed about the plumbing—and had great epidemics of typhoid at the same time! They were doing the same old, very human trick of mistaking the cause, and therefore applying these wrong remedies.

WHY DON'T WE HAVE TYPHOID FEVER NOW?

Not because of our splendid plumbing, but because the plumbers are to be believed, a great deal of what we have is bad; and we all know that one-half our population—our rural friends—have hardly any plumbing. Yet they have no more typhoid or dysentery or cholera than the rest of us. Moreover, we still, which means that 4,000 of our 12,000 families—one-third of our city population—has no plumbing at all.

Why don't we have typhoid fever and dysentery and cholera and so on from the smell, then? First, because smells don't cause disease; second, because our water supplies ARE supervised to exclude the real danger. SEWAGE, not the fictitious one, SEWER "GAS," EXPLODED BOOBY.

If ordinary sewer "gas" were dangerous, then sanitary engineers, dealing with sewage plants and sewers continually, ought to show a high percentage of disease and a high mortality, compared with ordinary citizens. So, also, sanitary chemists, their assistants and helpers, dealing with sewage, examining it, smelling it, analyzing it, ought to be in constant bad health. Sewer employees working about sewers and sewer plants, and plumbers themselves, all ought to be a very sickly lot. As a matter of fact, the great cities—London, Paris, New York—have thousands of sewer employees, many of whom spend their whole working day right in the immense sewers, and who, after cleaning them, repairing them, extending them, etc. These men are just as healthy as any similar set of workmen engaged in ordinary outdoor occupations. Of course, there encounter, as miners and tunnelers do, dangerous conditions from sulphuretted hydrogen and carbon monoxide and dioxide. These are the exceptions, not the rules, however.

INSURANCE AND SEWER "GAS."

The insurance companies are particularly enough about their policyholders—they reject or condition applicants who are overweight, underweight, show a high blood pressure, etc., and especially are they careful about applicants engaged in any dangerous or unhealthy trade or occupation. But they welcome sewage experts and sewer employees, on the same basis as the farmer or the milkman or the postman or any other man of the post office. And you may depend upon it that if sewer "gas" was one-tenth as dangerous as it is painted by some out-of-date old fogey the insurance companies would have everyone exposed to it in their daily lives heavily insured. Plumbers suffer sometimes from lead and brass poisoning, and occasionally from illuminating gas, which they encounter in connection with leaking gas mains, but not from sewer "gas" in the usual sense.

SEWER "GAS" PURER THAN STREET AIR.

So far, as germs are concerned, it is an absolute fact that sewer "gas," the air from sewers—containing the germs of typhoid, cholera, and other diseases—sometimes give bad smells in houses—is almost free of germs, of bacteria; and much, very much, freer of them than is the ordinary "fresh air" of our city streets. Indeed, most of the germs or bacteria found in sewer "gas" COME FROM THE CITY AIR—not from the sewage at all. How can that be? Did not someone say the other day that sewer "gas" was a mass of germs? But how could a GAS be a MASS of ANYTHING solid—germ or otherwise?

Quite seriously, and as a matter of scientific demonstration, germs in a sewer are in the SEWER AGE by the million, but not in the sewer AIR at all, practically speaking—and for the very simple reason that the many millions of sewage germs in the sewage are necessarily wet and necessarily stay together because they are wet. It is not until they are dry, and very dry, indeed, that they can be caught up and carried about by sewer gas or air to any extent; and a sewer is a very poor place to dry anything in—much less to dry germs.

PLUMBING NOT A PUBLIC HEALTH PROPOSITION.

Perhaps no more conclusive proof of the non-importance of plumbing in public health can be offered than the general disappearance of the subject from the modern health textbooks on public health. Years ago a large proportion of the best authoritative textbooks on public health dealt with plumbing at great length. But in the modern Rose's (1917-1924) pages 137-1374 (pages) deal with plumbing, and in the index at all. He does say with regard to it that the influence of the old beliefs "still pervades the entire plumbing regulations in many places." Park (1920), the latest of all the big ones) has four pages of text on plumbing and two of pictures, making about two-thirds of 1 per cent of the total pages; and the plumbing section winds up with the statement: "Sewer gas, once a hygienic bugaboo, is not now seriously regarded by sanitarians." Plumbing is like sewerage, lighting, heating, electricity, good foundations, and all other details of house or city construction, a matter of a thoroughly good engineering department, not for a board of health. Boards of health are concerned in dealing with reduction in death and disease, not with preventing smells. Boards of health now have full powers to correct any cause of disease or death they may find in connection with sewage. There is no reason why their proper functions should be diverted to plumbing any more than to house-painting or removing snow from sidewalks—both very good things in their way, are all well-paved streets, and readable street names. All such comforts are matters for the city to attend to, certainly—but because the city should do them does not mean that the board of health should be diverted to plumbing with comfort or decency were put under the board of health, there would be nothing, from city markets to lectures, including hold-ups and sites for schoolhouses, that could not easily be regarded as part of health work. But boards of health are short-handed, and short of funds—they are not accomplishing one-half what they could do in reducing death and disease. Why distract them still further by loading them up with plumbing inspection, which has no effect on death or disease at all?

HEARTBURN LIVER TROUBLE

When the liver becomes torpid and inflamed, it cannot furnish sufficient bile to the bowels, thus causing them to become constipated.

The stomach is also affected. In the case of heartburn there is a gnawing and burning pain in the stomach, attended by disturbed appetite, caused by great acidity. Whenever too much food is taken, it is liable to ferment, and become extremely sour, vomiting often occurs; and what is thrown up, is sour and sometimes bitter.

Other liver trouble symptoms are pain under the right shoulder, yellowness of the skin and eyes, floating specks before the eyes, coated tongue, bad taste in the morning, foul breath, water brash, jaundice, constipation, etc.

Keep your liver active by using Milburn's Laxa-Liver Pills and you will have no heartburn or other liver troubles. Being purely vegetable they do not gripe, weaken or sicken like the old-fashioned purgative cathartics do.

Mrs. Mary Strome, Glazeburn, Sask., writes: "I have used Milburn's Laxa-Liver Pills, and they have cleared me of heartburn and liver trouble. I don't think they can be beaten by any other medicine, and I can highly recommend them."

'MACBETH' PRESENTED IN SETTINGS FROM GREENWICH VILLAGE

Lionel Barrymore and Julia
Arthur Star in Futuristic Version.

THE SCENERY'S THE THING

Much Is Left to Imagination;
Futurists of Stage Believe in Mere "Suggesting."

BY BEN DEACON
(Canadian Press Correspondent.)

NEW YORK, Feb. 25.—New York has seen some weird things done in the name of art, but the limit was probably reached this week, when a particularly "modern" producer took the work of a great classic playwright, tore it loose from its foundation of tradition, and presented it in a Greenwich Village setting.

It was Arthur Hopkins' production of "Macbeth," featuring Robert Edmund Jones, Robert Arden, and Julia Arthur, who had collaborated previously from Hopkins. The latter would appear to have selected the play for a scenic stage art, very advanced ideas. Unfortunately to the person whose ideas are not likewise advanced the Hopkins-Jones production should be a strong family resemblance to jazz.

The critics were practically unanimous in condemning the production as a piece of futurist scenery. It made it difficult to concentrate the mind upon the lines of William Shakespeare. If the futurist interpretation of them given by an excellent company led by Lionel Barrymore and Julia Arthur, but it is a question whether the play of the Scotchman and the Dane concentrate upon the lines of William Shakespeare. New York has an inordinate love of the futurist and bizarre theatrical effects and the chances are that this weird thing will draw big crowds to the Apollo, and as we go to it should read: "Macbeth," a scenic display by Robert Edmund Jones, with incidental lines by William Shakespeare.

Much is left to the imagination. A series of curtains with various fantastic set pieces as adjuncts represent the scenes in which the action of the play occurs. Everything which might create a clear impression of time or place is carefully omitted. "Macbeth" as presented at the Apollo Theatre, it has no definite locality and the costumes do not conform to any definite period of time.

Just take a look at the opening scene. The stage is draped with heavy black curtains. Nothing even faintly suggests a health. Suspended in the centre are three masks which glare down at a ring around which are gathered the three figures which in the Shakespeare version are the three maidens who look as though they might have been recruited from some burlesque chorus. They wear robes of very pretty cerise hue and their faces are hidden in large bronze-colored masks which resemble the heads of birds. They drone their lines in girlish voices into these masks. The words are every bit as indistinguishable as are the words of the opening chorus of a musical comedy.

Plain hanging backgrounds are used to "indicate" practically everything. The courtyard at Inverness is merely a curtain with an irregular screen resembling a decayed mill, extracted from some giant's jaw. The audience room is a fantastic drapery with a couple of rude stone thrones. The futurists of the stage art believe in merely "suggesting" things. Sometimes they are rather too stingy even with suggestions. The audience is forced to put in an evening of very strenuous imagination.

This, of course, must be a great handicap to the players. Lionel Barrymore and Julia Arthur, who both rise to noble heights at times, but the futurism of Robert Edmund Jones frequently makes their best efforts seem futile.

Charles Gilpin, the colored actor, whose talent previously to this season found but little outlet in a series of minor parts, suddenly shot up to stardom when he was given the leading role of "The Emperor Jones." This week he had a new leading role thrust upon him. He became the chief figure in a little drama of the Drama League, which has caused a great deal of discussion and dissension in that organization, and has amused or annoyed the theatrical world generally.

Whence in "The Emperor Jones," Gilpin has the most important speaking role, nearly all of the other actors doing heavy things, and the futurist of Gilpin is the only one who is saying nothing while others are doing a great deal of talking.

Every year the members of the Drama League select by vote the ten persons considered to be the most distinguished contributors to dramatic art during the year, and these become the guests of honor at the league's annual dinner. An announcement was made early in the week that Gilpin had been elected to wear the league laurel. This was followed by a story, which was printed in several newspapers, to the effect that the directors of the league feared objection might be raised to the presence of a negro as a distinguished guest, and decided that they would overcome this difficulty by failing to invite him. The story declared that, instead of a bid to the banquet, they would send Gilpin a nice little letter, assuring him that the league held him in very high esteem.

Then the story started. The majority of the "most distinguished" had not yet been chosen, as the vote would not be counted until tonight, and therefore no one knew whether Gilpin would be among the guests of honor. He asserted, they would not object to inviting him. The only question that had come up in regard to the matter was as to whether a rule of the league that the dinner was to take place might not prevent them placing Gilpin at their festive board, as this hotel draws the color line.

This apparently has not pleased the anti-Gilpiners nor pleased the pro-Gilpiners. The rumour is still in progress, with righteous indignation on one side encountering a solid front of prejudice on the other.

While practically everyone else had been heard from, it was not until late in the week that the bright idea occurred to someone to secure Gilpin's views upon the subject. It developed that he is probably the least interested person in New York. He was an actor, not an eater, he said, in fact, he is intimate, tactfully and politely that he was not anxious to attend the dinner anyway.

Last year, Gilpin played the part of an old negro slave in Drinkwater's "Abraham Lincoln." His very excellent work in this attracted attention, and when the Provincetown Players produced Eugene O'Neill's "The Emperor Jones," Gilpin was selected for the leading role. The success of the O'Neill play is unquestionably a personal triumph for him. It is practically a monologue after the first scene—and its power is entirely dependent upon one character portrayed by Gilpin. An American negro who has committed murder and broken from prison in the United States, having been cast by chance upon an island where the natives are still in a densely ignorant and uncivilized state, succeeds in making himself their ruler. As the play opens his subjects have revolted, and every one of his followers has been camped to the hills there to plot his overthrow. Gradually he loses the air of bravado with which he has started out; gradually the superstitions inherent in his race conquer him and in the end he is a broken man, a man who is no longer a conqueror but a slave.

There would seem to be no doubt that Gilpin is deserving the honor of dining with the Drama League—that is, if it really is honor. Meanwhile he is receiving a great deal of unsolicited publicity, and publicity is valuable to actors of every shade. So the Drama League is doing something for Gilpin, no matter what the final decision may be. Also it is giving the public some amusement at its expense.

Laurette Taylor has played the title role in "Peg o' My Heart" 1,138 times, and she is back in it again. The popular "heart-throb" comedy was revived this week at the Cort Theatre, and it was welcomed as an old and very dear friend. The company is composed entirely of "Peg" veterans. Not a single member but has played in the comedy before. Michael, the dog, had 1,610 performances to his credit. It is a regular old home week for Peggy, for the initial production of the play was at the Cort, and the stage setting is being used for the present revival.

Seasonable Pointers For Farmers

Many Birds Help Farmers By Eating Insect Pests

Feathered Friends of Agriculture Devour Grasshoppers and Plant Lice—Tons of Weed Seeds Are Also Welcome Food of Bob White.

INSECT-EATING BIRDS.

Most species of birds devour grasshoppers with enjoyment. Here is a partial list of birds proved by their stomach-contents to eat this insect: Crow, Bob White, Jay, Meadowlark, Robin, Killdeer, Sandpiper, House Wren, Kingbird, Catbird, Nighthawk, Veery, Wood Thrush, Brown Thrasher, Maryland Yellowthroat, Yellow Warbler, Chickadee, Vireo, Cedar Waxwing, Scarlet Tanager, Herring Gull, Plover, Hawk, Owl, Duck—the list could be extended to their young in one hour. Prof. Beal found 60 grasshoppers in the stomach of one nighthawk. Never, never, injure a nighthawk. It is a plucky call over our cities in the night. It might well be called "Mosquito Hawk." Insects are its only prey.

OWLS AND HAWKS.

The Owls and Hawks are the other species greatly misrepresented. The Owls may always be convicted of wrongdoing if guilty by the evidence of the nature of the pellets of undigested food regurgitated at their roosting places. The slow-flying Marsh Hawk, scouting over meadows should never be molested. It seeks the field mice and small rodents so destructively to the crops. It is protected by the laws of Ontario and is perhaps the most useful of its family. It lives on mice, grasshoppers, moths, and beetles, though, driven by hunger, it attacks and kills small birds.

DEVOURERS OF PLANT LICE.

Plant lice are among the most difficult of insect enemies of control, because lice take food by suction. Here the small birds, wrens, warblers, kinglets, chickadees, etc., are of great value. It is a well-known and undisputed fact that some birds subsist through the winter on the eggs of plant lice. Edward Howe Forbush gives a list of 18 species of birds found by observation to feed on plant lice including the injurious birch aphid. By the same painstaking method 61 species have been proved to feed on hairy caterpillars.

The rapid digestion of birds—from 20 to 60 minutes—the great quantities of small food demanded by the rapid growth of their nestlings, and by the ceaseless activity of adult birds, makes their lives on the swarming legions of insects of utmost benefit to agriculture.

BOB WHITE EATS WEED SEEDS. Prof. Bracken, addressing the Canadian Club, Regina, in March, 1920, said that Saskatchewan farmers lost $25,000,000 a year by growing weeds. One hundred millions of dollars would be a conservative estimate of the loss of all Canadian farmers by growing weeds. Now, it has been proven, to be a fact, that the best-adapted agency for the destruction of weed seed is the bird. The bird charges nothing for its services, but a few bites of fruit at the most. It provided with drinking dish or fountain and with shrubs and trees these small leviathans would be omitted.

In controlling weeds the Bob White is again to the front. Eighty-five varieties of weed seeds have been found in the crops of quails. One thousand ragweed seeds have been counted in one crop; in another, 1,000 crab grass seeds; in another, 5,000 seeds of foxtail grass. In still another crop, 10,000 pig-weed seeds. Government reports of Virginia and North Carolina say that if there are four quail to each acre of land, they will eat up the weed seeds of an acre of land in one-fourth of an ounce of weed seeds twice a day, from September 1 to April 30, the total consumption of weed seeds by this number of quail would amount to 1,341 tons.

Starting Poultry On Farm Requires Care and Caution

Kind To Keep Depends On Requirements of Poultryman — Selection, Breeding and Feeding Are Important Points for Beginners to Observe.

THE FARM FLOCK.

It is not advisable to keep hens of the Rock type after they are two years old, except in cases where individuals have proven to be of special value as breeders. Poultry is much easier to keep in laying condition, and usually will produce more eggs than hens, so that it is advisable to raise enough chicks each year to renew at least half the flock. As fifty per cent of the chicks raised will be cockerels, it may readily be seen that allowing for culling it will be necessary to raise more than twice the number of chicks, as pullets required. Get the chicks hatched early in the season, as early chicks mean well-developed pullets in the fall, and well-developed pullets, properly handled, mean winter eggs. It is the winter egg production that will to a large extent determine the profit on the season's work.

KIND TO KEEP.

The question is frequently asked what is the best kind. The best kind for any individual, is the kind best suited to his conditions, but whatever variety is decided on, keep it pure so as to have uniformity in products. Under special conditions where eggs are to be of special value, it may be advisable to keep one of the lighter breeds, such as the Leghorns, but for ordinary farm use one of the heavier breeds, such as the Rocks or Wyandottes, will give the best results, as they will give good returns in both eggs and meat poultry.

The best way to get a start depends on the time of year. If in the spring early day, the best hatchery is to be secured from a reliable breeder. In purchasing, don't ask for exhibition quality if it is for utility stock that is required. So long as the stock you get is from a flock of large, vigorous birds that are producers of well-sized eggs, never mind about the finer points that are required in exhibition specimens. If in the fall, get a pen of vigorous early-hatched pullets, or a pen of young hens that have been used for breeding purpose the past season. A vigorous, early-hatched cockerel is generally more reliable as a breeder than an older male.

FEEDING.

To secure the best results in feeding it is necessary to separate the hens from the pullets, as what will give good results with pullets will make the old hens too fat. There are many methods of feeding and each individual must decide for himself just what plan he will follow. The old-fashioned method was to feed moist mash, but of late years the dry food system gives good results and so has very largely adopted it. In this system the ground grains are mixed, just as they would be in making the dry mash, but instead of waiting until the high price of feed, poultrymen, seeking for methods that would reduce cost of production, have found that the dry food system gives good results and so has very largely adopted it. FEEDING EXPERIMENTS WITH LEGHORN.
Average number of Eggs per pullet, per pen, per year:

Experiment	Tankage	Scraps	Food
One	184.89	191.42	74.6
Two	182.18	186.79	74.6
Average	183.53	179.09	69.53

In the above table is shown the egg production which is the most important part of the experiment. An experiment reason is known for the variations one year with the next in the meat scrap and no-meat-feed pens. Such variations are not what would be desired, but the tankage and meat-scrap pens averaged so closely together that these feedings might be considered of similar feeding value. The birds in these pens laid so much better than their sisters in the other pens that the feeding values of tankage and meat scrap are very high. Noting the above figures it is very evident that the six pounds of tankage or the seven pounds of meat scrap fed to each bird, as shown in table 1, were of extreme value in producing eggs. The 18 pound difference in feed consumed increased the egg production 134 eggs in the tankage pen and 130 eggs in the meat scrap pen. It pays to feed animal by-products in a ration for feeding fowls.—Purdue Experiment Station.

Tobacco Culture in Canada Possesses Many Possibilities

Best Market for Flue-Cured Is Undoubtedly Home Market — Some Observations Regarding Cultivation, Color and Other Characteristics of This Crop.

THE FUTURE OF CANADIAN FLUE-CURED TOBACCO.

While there are possibilities abroad, especially in England, for Canadian flue-cured tobacco of the right color, no doubt the best market for it will be the home market. Conditions hardly allow at the present time to form an opinion as to the future. The prices for that type of leaf are much lower this year in the United States than those which have been paid for the last few years, which might prove a strong temptation to the Canadian manufacturer.

On the other hand, some of them complain that the average crop of Canadian flue-cured tobacco contains, as a rule, too large a proportion of the higher grades, bright and semi-bright, to be of much value. The demand would certainly be much larger if the percentage of the higher grades, bright and semi-bright, could be increased. There is a strong belief that too much flue-cured tobacco of the Virginia bright type is grown in Canada on soil much too heavy for its purpose or too heavily manured. It is very difficult to cure the right color of a crop of flue-cured tobacco which, to a southern expression, has not yellowed up well on the mill. On the other hand, it is almost impossible to expect the best results with a crop of flue-cured tobacco harvested too late in the season, when weather conditions are generally adverse to successful curing.

There is the first thing the grower of flue-cured tobacco should do to see that he uses the right type of soil.

Judging from observations and data on growth and production extending over the past four years, and on physical analysis of the crop, the proper soil for flue-cured tobacco in Canada should be a loose, porous sand, containing 40 to 70 per cent of medium sand, and not more than 10 to 20 per cent of clay with the best results in favor of a clay content of 8 per cent. The surface soil should be 6 to 10 inches deep underlaid by a sand to sandy loam subsoil, preferably yellow, to a depth of at least three feet, and the natural drainage should be good. Tobacco cannot be profitably produced on poorly drained soil of any kind.

No Better Draft Horse Than the Top-Notch Clydesdale

This Breed Excels in Strength and Other Desirable Characteristics—Prof. Wade To Ole Offers Valuable Advice Regarding Breeding and Quality.

THE CLYDESDALE.

Few horsemen dispute the fact that for clean limbs, obliquity of pasterns and big, strong feet the Clydesdale compares favorably with any other draft breed. One thing is certain, too much size cannot be obtained in the present-day draft horse, and Clydesdale breeders, with good reason, should show the world to pay particular attention to size in their breeding stock. There are heavier horses than the Clydesdale, but there is no breed that will move heavier loads according to weight with greater ease. Quality and spirit have made the breed of outstanding excellence in endurance—the power to get work done. In clean-cut character, trimness and beauty, no breed, as a breed, excels the Clydesdale, but more attention might well be paid to strength of top, to middle and to muscling. If selected breeding stock the breeder who is looking to the future should pay attention to weight, coupling, middle, muscling and capacity as well as to the quality of the breed. Let the Clydesdale that is good at the ground, but also see that it is a fair distance from the ground to the top of his hindquarters. A good body of the space is filled with a great, heavy body. See that he moves boldly and straight, and that he shows the soles of his feet well when trotting. Taking it all in all there is no draft breed that shows more of the desirable characteristics than does the Clydesdale. Other breeds are good and all have a place to fill and must fill their places well. All have their faults. Breeders must recognize the weak points of their breeds and must breed to overcome such weakness. There is no breed that is so completely self-sufficient as the Clydesdale. There will always be a demand for the toppers. Canada has too many little, misshapen horses. All should make the Clydesdale of Canada better special-purpose draft horses. The greatest need of the present is the careful use of more weight, high-quality stock. The little size and the scrub must be discarded by breeders who should use nothing but the best—Wade To Ole, producer of animal husbandry, O. A. C. Guelph.

PERFORMANCE OF DAIRY CATTLE.

A Holstein cow recently eclipsed all Canadian records for yield of milk and percentage of butter fat, according to Report No. 12, issued by the Dominion Department of Agriculture. This report gives the records of performance of all pure bred dairy cattle from April 1, 1919, to March 31, 1920. Also the standards of every breed, and a list of bulls qualified for registration. The names of the cows are given, and also the breeder, age at start, date of calving, production required, total production, percentage of fat, the number of days milked, and in the majority of cases the number of times milked per day. The last mentioned matter having lately been a subject of experiment on the Ontario Agricultural College, Guelph, and Macdonald College, Quebec. It is interesting to note that many of the Ayrshires were milked three times a day and some of the Holsteins four times. Of the Ayrshires the greatest yield for the year is credited to a cow owned in Prince Edward Island, and the best percentage of butter fat to another British Columbia. Of the Jerseys, the first in point of yield is an animal owned at Edgely, Ontario, the best percentage of fat is attributed to a three-year-old, owned in British Columbia. A four-year-old Shorthorn, owned at Buckingham, Quebec, the record for that breed in quantity of milk, and a two-year-old

THE SEXES IN GESE.

H. L. "Could you tell me where I could get some literature on geese and how to tell a goose from a gander?" It is a fair question to ask, as the sexes in adult geese of all breeds; the male is a little larger than the female and his one is shrill, while that of the female is harsh; the neck is a little larger and a little thinner in the male than in the female; the cheeks (between the eye and the jaw) are less prominent, but the posterior part of the upper mandible, which is generally of orange color, is a slightly heavier type of mandible than in the female. Other organs may be inspected in order to furnish further proof.

Literature regarding the management of geese may be had on application to the publications department, Dominion Experimental Farms, Ottawa.

owned at Waterford, Ont., the highest fat content.

BETTER BULLS.
Better bulls bring better calves. The boys will take pride in better stock. Is it worth anything to satisfy them?

A good bull is cheaper at any price than a scrub as a gift. The scrub bull is expensive—too expensive for the average farmer. Let there be great bull exchange this fall.

The quickest, surest and least expensive way to improve a herd is by the use of a high-class pure-bred sire. His offspring will produce more, are worth more, and are in greater demand.

There is no excuse for using a grade scrub in place of a pure-bred bull of the right type.

Great Britain is the recognized home of high-class, pure-bred beef cattle. They have long recognized the value of quality not only in live animals, but in the beef which they have consumed, and have gradually forced upon those supplying their requirements that nothing but the best would be acceptable. Quality has long controlled the price where volume was sufficient.

What's In a Book?

By Kathleen K. Bowker.

All the glamour of the Southern Seas, the mysteries of darkness, the sinister charm of dank forests and low islands shimmering in the heat, the passion and the poetry of tropic nights, and the sheer heroism of words, is gathered together between the pages of Joseph Conrad's latest book, "The Rescue" (published by J. M. Dent & Sons).

If it were called "The Derricks," "The Chaisways," "The Marooned," it would be nearer to the true statement of the case of hero and heroine when the story finishes.

No one who has read Conrad's romances of the exotic islands which he has made especially his own, but knows Conrad, a slightly heavier type of mandible than in the female. Other organs may be inspected in order to furnish further proof.

MEMORIAL RINK IS PLANNED AT CAYUGA

CAYUGA, Feb. 25.—A large, well-appointed skating rink, it has been decided at a public meeting in Cayuga, will be the memorial rink to the soldiers who fell in Flanders by the people of Cayuga and the adjacent country.

The building will bear a handsome memorial front, and will contain a brass table with the names of the local fallen heroes. The collectors, after being out only a couple of days, have secured about $4,000, and it appears from the ready response that there will be no difficulty in securing the sum required.

SAYS REFUSAL ARGUMENT FOR AMALGAMATION
Windsor Alderman Favors Taking a Plebiscite On the Question.

WINDSOR, Feb. 25.—Commenting upon the refusal of the private bills committee of the Ontario Legislature to entertain Windsor's application for withdrawal from the Essex Border Utilities Commission, Ald. Sam Keyser said today that the proceedings before the committee at Toronto constituted an excellent argument for amalgamation of the border cities.
"It would appear that we must remain in the commission whether we desire or not," he said. "Under the circumstances I suggest that the utilities commission should secure the necessary power from the Provincial Government to go over the heads of the council of the border municipalities and submit a plebiscite upon the question of amalgamation. I believe the people are in favor of a union of the border municipalities, but the local politicians upon the municipal councils refuse to give them an opportunity to decide the issue."

BRANTFORD, Feb. 25.—A noon-day luncheon featured the annual seed fair for Brant County today, with a large number of women present in addition to the men.
J. Lockie Wilson, societies superintendent, and C. G. Clarke, Dominion Seed Commissioner, were the principal speakers, the former dealing largely with the work of societies under his jurisdiction, and also announcing that a ploverman's association would be formed in Brantford.
G. H. Clarke, Dominion seed commissioner, after telling of the fine oat and barley seed secured in this district during an emergency, urged that the alkali and other seed be cleaned and distributed, bringing the highest possible price. Tonight the Brant County Junior Farmers also had a successful banquet.

WORK IS LAID OVER.
CHATHAM, Feb. 25.—As a result of a conference between the board of works, city officials and property owners affected, the proposal to construct a trunk sewer to relieve the drainage situation in the southern part of the city will not be undertaken at the present time, owing to the high cost of materials. The work, it is estimated, would cost $150,000, and would have to be done under the local improvement scheme. This would mean that the people benefited and those along the route of the sewer to the river would have to pay a cost of approximately $9 per foot frontage. The citizens say this price is prohibitive.

HELD FOR DESERTION.
KITCHENER, Feb. 25.—James Harvey, wanted in Oshawa for alleged wife desertion, was arrested today by P. C. Kraft. The local police have been looking for Harvey for three days, and trace of him was obtained last night. Harvey will be held for the Oshawa authorities.

It was forecast in well-informed circles here today. Meantime a cessation of hostilities between the Turks and Greeks will be declared.

EFFORT TO KILL LIQUOR MEASURE
Montreal Legal Move To Nullify Quebec Act Makes Taschereau Laugh.

MONTREAL, Feb. 25.—Ernest Pelletier, K.C., and Paul St. Germain, K.C., this morning announced their intention of starting proceedings to have the provincial liquor law, which was finally passed at Quebec yesterday, declared by the courts of justice to be null and ultra vires of the names of the clients of Messrs. Pelletier and St. Germain have not been announced, but it is rumored they are certain liquor dealers of the province.

BECOMES LAW.
QUEBEC, Feb. 25.—The Quebec alcoholic liquor act, which transfers the handling of all wines and spirits to the Provincial Government, became law this afternoon, when it was assented to by the lieutenant-governor, Sir Charles Fitzpatrick. The act comes into force on May 1. Asked regarding the news from Montreal of an attempt to hold up the operation of the new liquor bill by injunction proceedings, Premier Taschereau this afternoon said that he was amused at the suggestion.

"This is not April 1," he remarked, "and therefore I don't think we need to consider that matter seriously." It was pointed out that the act itself was made proof against hampering litigation while the permission of the attorney-general would have to be obtained for the launching of injunction proceedings against the province.

BULLET GRAZED HIS ABDOMEN
WINGHAM, Feb. 25.—William Patterson, a local jeweler was placed under arrest early today following a shooting affray at his home, in which Albert E. Luttitt had his abdomen grazed by a bullet. Later Patterson was released in the sum of $2,000 bail, and will appear in court next Thursday charged with assault with intent to do bodily harm. This charge may be reduced, as the wound is extremely slight, being a mere scratch and in no way serious.

Chief of Police Allen stated to the Advertiser that Patterson and Luttitt have been excellent friends for many years. He is convinced that the shooting was entirely accidental. Patterson's family was away, and Luttitt went over to visit with him. During the night, it is alleged, the men became intoxicated, and the shooting occurred accidentally.

"I am satisfied," said Chief Allen, "that there was not the slightest ill-feeling between the men." Luttitt is a local butcher.

FARMERS URGED TO IMPROVE STOCK
CLINTON, Feb. 25.—About 200 persons sat down to banquet tables in the town hall last night on the occasion of the annual social gathering of the Huron Central Agricultural Society. Huron County being one of the largest stock producing districts in Canada, and Clinton being "The Hub" of the county, much interest is always taken in these annual gatherings, as well as in the spring fairs, conducted by this society, which are said to be among the best of their kind held outside the large cities.

Mayor A. J. McMurray, who is also secretary of the society, acted acceptably as chairman and toastmaster. The principal toast was to "Agriculture," proposed by S. B. Stothers, Huron's district representative, and ably responded to by Professor G. E. Day of Guelph, who gave a splendid address on the improvement of live stock.

For the first time in the history of these gatherings the women of the town and country were admitted to the banquet and took part in the program.

PAYS FINE OF $400 FOR SELLING WHISKEY
BRANTFORD, Feb. 25.—The second O. T. A. conviction in two days was entered in police court, when Joe Willits today paid a fine of $400 for selling whiskey. Willits was caught in a motor car exchange, which had a bad reputation with the police.

Previous to her departure from the city Mrs. (Net) Robert White was presented by members of the Women's Mission Circle of Park Baptist Church with a wrist watch and several pieces of sterling silverware.

W. H. Clarke of the Ottawa Experiment Station, who was in the city today, reported that the wheat crop in the Ottawa district was very good.

ADVERTISER PUZZLE INTERESTING MANY

Three Weeks Yet To Enter the Contest.
TRY IT!

Advertiser readers have wonderful chance to turn some spare moments into solving the $2,500 Puzzle during the next three weeks. The $700 first prize is a fine award for a couple of hours' work, while the other capital prizes of $400, $300, $200 and $100 are not to be overlooked. Outside of these first five prizes there are forty-five more—all worth working for.

While the problem requires effort and thought, it is not a puzzle in the ordinary sense. There is nothing intricate about it and it is within the scope of such a puzzle as you can readily understand by studying the prize list. Those who are not now subscribers, and desire to enter the contest, may do so under the same conditions.

In order to determine how much you will be entitled to in the event of winning one of the larger prizes, it is necessary to make a payment on subscription when registering your solution of the puzzle. This you can readily understand by studying the prize list. Those who are not now subscribers, and desire to enter the contest, may do so under the same conditions.

The possibilities of the Advertiser's puzzle are shown by the great diversity in the solutions so far received, varying in no difference at all between the totals of the "odds" and "evens" to a very marked difference. The changes which the shifting of a few figures make are really surprising. Give it a trial and see what enjoyment you can derive out of solving this fascinating puzzle.

If you need charts to work on, ask Manager Managor for same or send stamp and they will be mailed to you. The Contest Office is open evenings from 7:30 to 9:30.
