It is alleged that Dewdney exploited stock of the Commercial Binder Twine Company, supposed to be operating in Must Leave at Once.

New York, and sold a large number of In imposing the fine on Watson, his shares, of which Mr. Lorie bought $2,000 worth. It is stated by the police authorities that Dewdney received $60,000 in the same way. The Commercial Binder Twine Company, the authorities alleged, never came into existence, and the dividends purchased stock were paid by Dewdney out of the capital he collected.

Mr. Lorie received one dividend, and as no others were forthooming he investi-gated, and on Friday placed the affair in the hands of Walter Duncan, inspector of detectives. Mr. Duncan learned that Dewd-ney had been living in Hamilton for a week, and sent word there, with the reult that he was arrested on Saturday. Dewdney is an Englishman, and was in the wholesale jewelry business in Toronto for nearly twenty years, residing at Eglinton. He was considered to be in good finanoftl standing, and his assignment in July, with liabilities of over $100,000, caused a great surprise.

. It is probable that other charges will be laid against Dewdney, and it is alleged in Newark N. J. that he is also wanted in Newark, N. J., by Dr. W. Cowf, of that city, in a dispute nvolving $42,000. Dr. Cowf is the inventor of the machine which the Commercial Binder Twin Company was to use, and Dewdney secured the money by stating that it was needed to handle the firm's growing Canadian business. "Sir, we have also another treaty which was negotiated some years ago by British diplomats, negotiated with the full assent and request of the Canadian Government. I mean the treaty with Japan. When we came into office some fifteen years ago-the present Government, I mean-we found a treaty had been negotiated between Great Britain and Japan. Its purpose was in the interests of commerce. We had a chance at the moment to become a party to it, but we did not become a party to it because of the difficulty that we met in one section of the community on the Pacific Coast in so far as labor was concerned. But in the year 1905 and 1906 after the war between Japan and Russia, and after of Canada. the conquest of Korea by Japan, we thought that the time had come when we might become a party to that treaty, especially as Japan had just passed a law restricting its immigration to foreign countries. The Americans are our competitors in the Japcountries. They had the benefit of a treaty which gave them a very great advantage in the markets of Japan. After the address by the President the Bishop of London delivered the salutation. Turning towards the President, the bishop thanked him for his presence "amidst all his multitudinous duties."

He also expressed thanks for the burning words of encouragement and inspiration" of the President, which, he said, would send him back across the seas inspired for his work. The bishop then referred to the Canterbury ambon, or pulpit, which he brought over as a gift to the cathedral. "I come," he said, "as the successor of St. Augustine's champion, Miletus, to bring ou from the old Associate Justice Brewer, Secretary diocese of London, of which you one Metcalfe, Secretary Garfield, Admiral day were a part, a real message of love and godgneed."

Referring to the gift of the shrine, the bishop asked: "Why do we value The attendance numbered from 20,- so much these historical links? First, because ours is a historical religion. THE METER AS A PREVENTER OF WATER WASTE.

Halifax, N. S., a city of some 42,000 population, has, like London, a water an insufficient supply. The greater part of the city, including the commercial and manufacturing districts, Ga., where the consumption was reother 27 inches in diameter, from Chain and Long Lakes, which stand at an elevation of 207 feet above This is the low service system, and yields 10,000,000 gallons per per cent in five years. Jay in an ordinary dry season. The higher portions of the city principal- says Mr. Chipman, that by metering ly residential, are supplied from a lake the services in the city of Halifax, the having an elevation of 363 feet above consumption could be reduced from the sea, and yielding 2,000,000 gallons 14,000,000 gallons, as at present, to 3,per day. The consumers number some $5,000, leaving 6,500 unsupplied. Service pipes are being laid at the rate of 100 per day, and it has been found that the supply which passes through the mains is steadily diminishing, and Is now scarcely adequate to meet reautrements

From time to time statements have appeared in the reports of the city engineer, as to the enormous consumption, and finally Mr. Willis Chipman, the well-known expert engineer of Toronto, was engaged to investigate and report. Mr. Chipman's report is now in the hands of the city council. He states that the maximum domestic supply during extreme hot, dry weather or extreme cold weather, probably exceeds 14,000,000 gallons per 24 hours, or say 10,000 gallons per minute; that instead of getting on comfortably with 4,000,000 gallons per day, the city is consuming about three times that quantity, two-thirds of which is probably wasted. The per capita consumption is 262 gallons per day, which is by long odds, the greatest of any city on the continent, the only city in any way approaching it beons Mr Chipman finds that the leakage and waste in the high level district is double what it should be, but in the low level district the loss is twelve times the average. "The city of Halifax," reports the engineer, "has today the largest per capita consumpweakest fire supply of any Canadian the better of the bargain. city with which I am acquainted, and preservation from a disastrous condemonstrate to every consumer the exact quantity of water he is using.

The claim that meters restrict the use of water and in this way fosters unsanitary conditions has, he says, been proven erroneous by actual experience in many places within the last few years. The report makes the important statement that as a general rule the per capita consumption in the unmetered cities in Canada and the United States is fully double the consumption in metered cities. In a gravity system this means double the outlay for collecting and conserving the water and double the expenditure for conduits and mains. Mr. Chipman mentions some recent examples of what has been accomplished in United States cities in restricting waste through the introduction of meters, instancing the experience of Atlantic City, Milwaukee. Cleveland and Richmond, Va., to demonstrate the efficacy of metering.

The case of the last named city is lation was 70.000 and the consumption 24.000.000 gallons per 24 hours. This would be at the rate of 12,000,000 a few instances reached as high respective spheres. 140,000 gallons per month. This increased 40 per cent. At the time of the superintendent's report this months. "It will thus be seen that the annual saving amounts to $19,500, nearly equal to the entire outlay for meters. The reduction in the per capita consumption for 1898 was 41 per cent from that of 1890, and the quantity of water used in 1899 was 27 per cent less than used in 1890, while the population had increased 20 per cent. In 1904, with 41 per cent of the serbe an abnormal wastage rather than vices metered the consumption per capita at Richmond was 129 gallons.

Other examples cited are Atlanta, is supplied by gravity through two duced 60 per cent in four years as a large conduits, one 24 inches and the result of the adoption of meters. > There can be no reasonable doubt, 000,000 gallons per day. He disposes of the more or less plausible objections to meters, and declares that it has been proven beyond question that meters do not in any way restrict the legitimate use of water, neither have they any effect upon the health rate. Whether the revenue be effected or not depends upon the tariff adopted. The recommendations of Mr. Chip man have been adopted by the City of Halifax. The City of London would be wise to listen to the same authority on the same subject. He has advocated the installation of meters in this city in combination with a high-pressure fire-fighting system, as the most sensible and economical method of conserving spring water for domestic consumption. It is too late in the day to object to the meter system. When cities with unlimited water supplies are adopting it as a means of saving waterworks expenses, how much stronger are the reasons for adopting it in a city like London which has a limited water supply?

"CEASE THIS ORGY" TOLSTOI TO CZAR

Count's Latest Message: "Thou Shalt Kill No One!"-Solemn Warning.

London, Sept. 30 .- In the 80th year of his life, and the 55th year of his literary activity, Count Leo Tolstoi Snyder, Canadian, 2; Binghampton, again preaches the doctrine of the lit-Delaware, 2:30; Bethlehem, 4; Warner, eral interpretation of the Christian commandments. the contrary, punishes them." The keynote of his latest message is indicated by the following extracts: "The governments of Christian nations, aided by the churchmen, long taught the nations they rule that the law, 'Thou Shalt Not Kill,' does not mean that people must refrain from killing their fellowmen without any exception, but that there are cases when we not only may, but must kill people. "They believed their governments and concurred in the killing of those whom the governments determined to murder: but when the time came for the belief in the infallibility of governments to break down, the people began to act toward those who formed the governments just as the governments acted toward those whose death seemed to them desirable-only with this difference, that the governments considered it right to kill in time of war, and after certain deliberations called trials, whereas the people decided it right to kill in time of revolution and after the deliberations of certain people who call themselves 'revolutionary committees,' etc.

"And that came about which we now see in Russia-namely: after Christianity has been taught 1,900 years, people have taken to killing one another unceasingly for two whole years already. Revolutionists kill their enemies-men, women, children, all, in fact, whose death they consider desirable-and what is the strangest of all, while acting thus they all fully assured that they are not infringing any moral or religious law.

"It comes to this, that were possibility given to every one to kill all whom they consider harmful to themselves almost the whole Russian population would be slain. The revoluionists would kill all the rulers and capitalists, the rulers and capitalists would kill all the revolutionists, the peasants all the landlords, the landords all the peasants, etc.

"The position becomes worse and vorse because the Government, feeling itself obliged to resist this state of things, tries to check it by the only means it considers effective.

"These stupid, cruel means consist in committing the crimes the Government wishes to suppress, and as must necessarily be the case, especially implements of murder - revolvers, means not only fail to attain their end

I had to tell her that it was not yet even begun, but that, God willing, to the test. She was disheartened and discouraged at that; it was as if she had gone through an unsuccessful operation, she was so exhausted and fearful, but in the end I suceeded in reassuring her somewhat, and she was restored to calmness and courage to bear the suspense. As soon a she felt better we went outdoors for a while, and the fresh, cool air brought back her spirits. There I told her just what had happened, and what we had to expect. Then, as I had eaten nothing since morning, I went back

New York Traction Companies Killed or Hurt 5,689 in Two Months.

New York, Sept, 30 During the first two months of its admnistration, the public service commission reported 5,689 persons were killed or injured in the accidents of all the transportation companies in the five boroughs of the city.

At this rate more than 35,000 persons, or an average of 100 a day, are injured annually by the traction companies in New York City. Forty-two were killed in July and August, and 150 others sustained serious injuries which will maim them for life.

At this rate for twelve months, the total number of deaths would average about 250, and the total number of those seriously injured would reach ,500. This is the first time in the history of the city that accurate statistics of accidents on the transportation lines have been made public. These accidents occurred in July

New York, Sept. 30.-The romance of seventeen-year-old Beatrice Penton, of New Rochelle, and Guido de pair sailed from New Rochelle shortly before the storm on Sept. 21, presumably to elope, is at an end. The hope of her distracted father, Thomas R. Penton, that she might have run away and married the young man whom he disliked, while everyone else seemed certain that De Angelis' yacht, the Microbe, had been wrecked in the storm, is extinguished. The young girl's body was found floating in the Sound near Eaton's lighthouse, east of Huntington Bay, about eighteen miles from New Ro-In the afternoon Mr. Penton, accompanied by Detective-Sergeant Cody, of New Rochelle, went to Huntington Bay in a fast launch.

Only one glance was necessary for the father to recognize the body as that of his daughter, and he broke

The body was picked up just opposite Stamford by fishermen who towed it to shore and notified the authorities. As soon as Mr. Penton was given the description of the body and the clothing he declared that it was that of his daughter.

Miss Penton and De Angelis had been sweethearts for some time. Her parents objected to the attentions of the young man because of his seniority and once had him arrested for his persistence in pressing his suit.

Before the couple left Saturday in the Microbe Miss Penton had been looking about the house for a suit case. De Angelis told his parents that he and the girl were going across the Sound to Sans Point to swim, and is a most important one for bakers, and one which should be seriously considered by all.

A strong, rich flour, which absorbs a great deal of water, is more satisfactory, inasmuch as, pound for pound, it will make more bread than a weaker flour, and with less trouble. Consequently it is more economical.

All bakers who are desirous of reducing their expenses and increasing their profits proportionately, should use our "FIVE ROSES" and "HARVEST QUEEN" brands. These are strong, rich, Manitoba Flours, especially suited to fill the requirements of the bakery trade, and which will be found more economical than any ordinary brands on the market.

Havens, dead husband had come to her in the spirit and warned her against marrying again, Mrs. Mary Lincoln, widow Charles Lincoln, refused to proceed with her intended marriage to Joseph Parker, a prominent young man, and the guests who were assembled to witness the ceremony were dismissed.

Mrs. Lincoln is a pretty young woman. A little over a year ago her husband died. After brief mourning she was courted by Parker, whom she finally agreed to marry. Parker furnished a house and invitations were issued for the ceremony. In the afternoon, when Parker called at the home of his flancee, he found her in tears and greatly excited. She finally declared that the ceremony could not proceed, but refused to give a reason. At last he got an explanation from he mother. She said that some time the previous night her daughter had come sobbing into her room and declared that she had just been visited by the spirit of her dead husband. He had warned her against marrying again, she said, and when she protested the spirit had taken hold of her arms and held her until she promised that she would call the marriage off. She was completely exhausted, and declared that arms ached from the encounter she had had with her husband's spirit.

CHICAGO MARE WINS AT COLUMBUS

Columbus, Ohio, Sept. 28 .- By commencing racing at 10 o'clock the final programme of the grand circuit meeting was almost completed today when rain in mid-afternoon stopped everything. The 2:11 pace was the only event declared off altogether. In three events the money went to the horses that stood best. The defeat of Hedgewood Boy in the 2:07 pace was the urprise of the day. He was a topneavy favorite, but broke in both heats at the head of the stretch. Ardelle, favorite in the 2:05 pace, was behind the money. The race was awarded to Citation, a Chicago mare that has not been beaten this year.

Tregentle, a horse that has nursed along for several years, won his first race by defeating the favorite, St. Valiant Vincent, in two of the three heats of the 2:24 trot.

Discusses Christian Science, Immigration, Race Suicide and Other Topics.

Boston, Sept. 29.—In an hour's chat with local newspapermen General Booth covered a world-wide field of work of the Saivation Army, and discussed many topics including immithe railroad station, and the party left gration, Christian Science and race suicide.

> This is the fourth visit of the founder and commander of the Salvation Army to this country, yet he spoke so hopefully of the future as to banish the thought that it might be his last, as he is 79 years of age.

> Immigration seemed to be the fore most thought in his mind, and in speaking of it in connection with the work of his organization, he said that the Salvation Army was trying to become a transfer agent. He referre to the demand for people, workers and especially in Canada, in the Western States and in South America, and of the great mass of human beings in the slums of Europe who need assistance to reach such fields of labor. With its thousands of corps, the Salvation Army, he said, was in the best position to direct emigration from one country to another. It acts in fact as a pilot for these voyagers.

General Booth is decidedly in favor of large families. With one to two children, he said the parents always indulge them and such indulgence creates recklessness.

"Better seventer in the family or even twenty-for as in Germany than one or two spoiled children," he said. He condemned old age pensions in the severest terms and said it was only another scheme for idleness.

Ranging along in easy stages, the subject of Christian Science came up, but General Booth deftly parried anything in the way of criticism, saying that any breaking away from old faiths was better than slumber and showed agitation of the waters. General Booth will remain in Boston until Tuesday. He participated in three public meetings today.

Thousands of women have testified in crateful letters to Mrs. Pinkham that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound overcomes women's special pains and irregularities.

It provides a safe and sure way of escape from distressing and dangerous weaknesses and diseases.

The two following letters tell so convincingly what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound will do for women, they cannot fail to bring hope to thousands of sufferers.

Miss Matilda Richardson of 177 Wellington Street, Kingston, Ont., writes: Dear Mrs. Pinkham :-

Dear Mrs. Pinkham:—

"Some four years ago my usually good health began to fail. I had severe pains in my back, my head ached. I would have dizzy spells, and during my monthly periods I would suffer intense pain. I was advised to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and I am so glad that I did, for it brought new life and health to me. My monthly periods were natural and painless, and my general health improved. I have not had an ache or a pain since, and I feel it a duty as well as a pleasure to tell you what your medicine has done for me."

Such testimony should be accepted by all women as convincing evidence that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound stands without a peer as a remedy for all the distressing ills of women.

The success of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound rests upon the well-earned gratitude of Canadian women.

When women are troubled with irreg-ularities, displacements or ulceration of the organs, that bearing-down feeling, inflammation, backache, bloating, (or flatulency), general debility, indigestion and nervous prostration, or are beset with such symptoms as dizziness, faint-ness, lassitude, excitability, irritability, nervousness, sleeplessness, melancholy, they should remember there is one tried and true remedy. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound at once removes such troubles. Refuse to buy any other medicine, for you need the best.

Don't hesitate to write to Mrs. Pinkham if there is anything about your sickness you do not understand. She will treat you Mme. Louise McKenzie, of Mount Car- with kindness and her advice is free. No woman ever regretted "I had heard so much good about Lydia

in the White House.

Washington, Sept. 30.—On roller kates, and oblivious of the fact that said roller skates and reptiles are "undesirable citizens" in the White House, Quentin Roosevelt, youngest son of the President, dashed into the antercom of the executive chambers with a bull snake wrapped around his neck. The women waiting to see the President screamed, and the men drew brok in fear, while Quentin whirled up to a secret service man and asked: "Is father here?"

The boy then wheeled past the detective, pushed open the door and sped to where his father sat. "I've got a snake." he said, "Caught him out in the lot there. Isn't he a beauty?" The President jumped up and looked at the reptile, which was strikingly marked, and three feet in length. Pre-Mr. Roosevelt then strode to the door, came out to the antercom with a grin on his face, and said: "Friends, my young son will entertain you with a snake he caught, while you are waiting." Quentin skated out of the room, and coiled the creature about his neck and arms, knowing it to be perfectly harmless. He had captured the snake while skating in the White House lot. He but wheeled up to his prey, almost running over it. All kinds vegetables fresh daily. F. B. Smythe, grocer, corner Richmond and Hyman. Phone 1291.
