33 and injured 200, evidently was caused by a bomb.

More than 150 pounds of broken sash-weights and other metal fragments have been collected by the fire department at the scene of the disaster, ap's turned over to the police, Commissioner Drennan said. At the police headquarters it was said the first task of detectives would be to assemble the fragments in an effort to reconstruct the bomb and determine whether it was made by skilled hands, or by a novice.

The explosion, according to the official investigators, "apparently occurred in a horse-drawn covered wagon at a point almost opposite an entrance to the United States assay office.

The investigators found that the wagon had a red running gear, and that there were no markings on the harness other than to show it was for one horse. The small pieces of window weights with which the infernal machine had been loaded, had been "fused by an intense heat," indicating they had been cut into slugs by a high-powered gas burner.

Guard Against Plots.

men and police reserves in their olg business districts; and federal agents worked with state and city officials to run down reports of widespread extremist plots.

The Wall street scene of yesterday's blast is roped off, while the Stock Exchange and allied organizations resumed business at the usual hour this morning.

Several New York detectives and secret service men left the city before dawn this morning.

William J. Flynn, chief of the bureau of investigation of the department of justice, viewed the scene of the blast personally, accompanied by police head quarters detectives and his own men steadfastly refusing to "talk" on the subject.

Troops Heid in Readiness.

Troops Were heid in readiness on Governor's Island against the possibility of renewed "outrages" today. Detachments of the 22nd infantry were held in barracks subject to instant call.

All public buildings and the homes of wealthy and prominent men here are under special watch, and every available man is held in reserve or actively working in federal, state and city investigation agencies.

Between 8 and 9 o'clock this morning.

The stock exchange, the roof of which is made of glass, will probably not be used again for several days. It was said that the dome was ready to fall at any minute, and everyone was ordered from the building.

Saved by Wires.

The J. P. Morgan banking house, in front of which the explosion occurred, owes the fact that it is still standing to the precaution taken when the building was consructed to having everything reinforced with one-eighth inch steel wire. The wire held today as the windows toppled in.

Across the aireet the new stock exchange building is under construction. Here workmen were just quitting for Hamilton. Sept. 17.—Suspected of being the autnor of the warning post-cards in connection with the New York of bomb disaster. Edward P. Fischer of New York, was arrested here this morning charged with insanity, on information laid by his brother-in-law. Robert A. Pope, of New York.

Fischer was taken into custody in the offices of Lees, Hobson, Lees, Telford & McBride, lawyers, in the Bank of Hamilton Building.

The police say Mr. Pope informed them that three weeks ago the prisoner predicted the New York catastrophe, and sent warnings to Wall street friends. Pope says his relative has been in a peculiar mental condition for some time, and he believes that the information as to the approaching dispersion of love, but that he had information in the lormation as to the approaching dispersion may papers found in the Urisoner's possession was a possession. Nome, Alaska, Sept. 17.-Capt. Raould Amundsen's expedition ship, the Maud, which left this port nearly two months ago, bound for the North Pole, is caught in the ice about 20 miles off Cape Serge on the Siberian coast, according to information brought here yesterday by Capt. Heckla, whose fishing boat was also icebound near the Maud.

Friday or Saurday of next week would be selected.

Premier Millerand's colleagues in the cabinet were insistent at today's meeting that the premier should signify his willingness to accept the presidency of the republic.

The prime minister, however, persisted in his refusal to consider such a step, declaring he felt it incumbent on him Capt. Heckla said his vessel, being of light draft, worked its way out after being icebound near the Maud for ten been in a peculiar mental condition for some time, and he believes that the information as to the approaching disaster was received by mental telepathy. Fischer's arrest quickly followed the unfolding of Pope's story to Deputy Chief Coulter in police court this morning. The local lunacy commission was immediately summoned, and its report will be made known this afternoon. Officers who took the prisoner in charge say he talked queerly. He claimed that he had once acted as sparring partner to Jack Dempsey, the world's champion.

Sever, did not talk like an anarchist.

Among many papers found in the prisoner's possession was a postcard addressed in Toronto under date of September 13 to a man in New York, whose name is being withheld. It stated that he was in financial straits, and saked that money be remitted promptly. In one corner of the card was the following warning: "Have both keep away from Wall street this Wednesday aftermoon."

Mr. Pope, speaking to newspapermen, said Fischer told him three weeks ago that he had a premonition that Wall street would be blown up, but he naturally paid no attention to him.

"It is a most extraordinary coincidence," said Mr. Pope.

Mr. Pope, a noted landscape gardener, spent several weeks here this summer arranging for the layout of the McKittrick properties.

After Fischer left New York for Totonto, Pope followed him. On Wednesday when Fischer crossed the Niagara border his brother-in-law followed. They came to Hamilton on an early train this morning.

The lunacy commission adjudged Fischer a fit subject for the asylum, and he will be taken there this afternoon.

Mr. Pope absolutely insists that Fischer has been in Canada for the past two weeks, spending his time between Toronto and Hamilton, attending the tennis championships. Fischer was a well-known tennis enthusiast.

Fischer talked freely to Magistrate Jeffs in the detention room. He admitted sending the postcard to his chief in the French mission, located on Broad Present Equipment Will Probably Be Scrapped by Directors As Result of What Has Been Happening—Today's Crowd Is Estimated At 30,000 by Secretary Hunt.

FAIR ATTENDANCE FIGURES

A number of Advertiser readers have been questioning the accuracy The Advertiser's daily attendance figures, claiming they are exaggerated. The Fair board has refused to give out any official statement as to attendance, but the figures which appear in this paper are based on estimates of Secretary Hunt and several of the directors.

The attendance at the Fair grounds this morning failed to indicate that today's attendance would equal or exceed the attendance on the last two of the 50-cent admission days, Wednesday and Thursday, but it did promise to easily exceed the admission either on Monday or Tuesday. The directors anticipate that the attendance today will be close to 30,000 at a reasonable estimate. mate.

At the directors' meeting at noon to-day, the advocates of the increased ad-mission prices appeared impressed strongly with the belief that the big attendances on Wednesday and Thurs-

Secretary's Comment.

Secretary A. M. Hunt made some reference to the condition of the grounds. Some earth had been deposited during the year, but the city had attendances on Wednesday and Thursday had amply demonstrated the wisdom of increasing the admission price to 50 cents.

The turnstile nuisance was discussed at some length, and it is practically certain that the present turnstiles will be scrapped before another exhibition. The lact that in a crowd of several thousand people waiting to get through the gates, children had to leave their parents in order to get through the gates on a 15-cent admission ticket, was admitted by several of the directors to be sufficient reason for the dissatisfaction on the part of the Fair visitors, which nearly culminated in a riot on Wednesday.

Some earth had osed deposited during the year, but the city had not turned over the grounds in as good condition as might be desired.

A grant of $50 was voted to the kiltie band for helping out with musical programs several evenings this week.

A vote of appreciation was carried to Chief of Police Birrell and staff for the best policing of the grounds ever provided by the city police department, according to Directors Manning and McCormick, who sponsored the resolution.

Explains Raise.

Mr. McCormick wanted to take the becassion with reporters present to let the people know why the 50-cent admission charge was necessary. If the Pair could get $50,000 a year from the city, the 25-cent admission might be all right. But now 25 cents admission would not pay expenses. New buildings were needed. A larger fair ground was needed. The question was, how was a larger place going to be financed. The Western Fair is the only fair in the new location soon after the drills were sunk, and further investigation showed that there was a fine bed of pumping tests now under way prove that

No man can fight the battles of life and hold his own if his blood is not pure, for rich red blood is what strength is based upon. When you see a strong, vigorous man, who never knows when he is licked, you may wager that such a man has coursing through his veins rich, red blood. Many people have thin, pale blood. They are weak, tire easily, become discouraged quickly, and sometimes feel like giving up the struggle. Such folks need Dr. Pierce's Golden Discovery, which is prepared in Dr. Pierce's branch Laboratory, Bridgeburg, Ont. Sold by druggists. Liquid or Tablets.

It adds vigor to the heart beats and tones up the nerves in a wonderful way. This "Medical Discovery" of Dr. Pierce's is made from Blood root, Oregon Grape root, Stone root, contains no alcohol-vet tones up the stomach, stimulates the liver and puts the blood making glands in the best of condition. Many people write Dr. Pierce at the Invalids' Hotel in Buffalo, N. Y., as follows:

CHATHAM, ONT .- "For many years I suffered with stomach trouble. I tried many remedies but they seemed to be a failure-my stomach seemed to be getting worse instead of better. One day I came in possession of a bottle of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, and took it. My stomach seemed completely cured. I have great faith in this medicine, and hope any sufferer that reads this will give the 'Discovery' Once tried, never without it."-C. TITUS, JR., 28 Duke Street.

Mrs. Amy Akorn's Jaw Cut by Stray Bullet From Gallery. -

Mrs. Amy Akorn, wife of Alex Akorn, a ticket-taker, at the World's Strange People sideshow on the Western Fair Midway, was severely injured by a stray bullet from a shooting gallery operated to the south of the Midway on the avenue facing the Transportation building. Mrs. Akorn was at work in the kitchen department of the show commissary, when a bullet whizzed by. cutting into her jaw, and narrowly missing an artery. She suffered another wound in her arm, but whether this was caused by the bullet or by a splinter of wood from the target or side of the shooting gallery, is not known. The physician, who was called to attend her was unable to say. Mrs. Akorn was taken to St. John Ambulance emergency hospital on the grounds, where she remained for some time, but later returned to her tent.

Protests made by the Midway people were effective in inducing the fair directors to force the proprietor of the shooting gallery to better cover the end of the gallery surrounding the target with a view to preventing any more accidents of the kind. It is claimed by the Midway people that ineffectual protests against the danger existing had been made previous to the accident. This is the second accident of the kind that has occurred at the fair during the past few years, a young girl having been similarly injured four years ago.

According to the police, a new record According to the police, a new record has been made at the Western Fair this year, in the fact that not a single theft or pocket-picking has been reported. This is the first time in many years that such has been the case. "There were signs posted up by the police to beware of pickpockets. This was apparently unnecessary this year, but it is the wisest pan to put the Fair visitors on their grard," stated Detective Thomas Nickle.

As today is the last big day, it is tective Thomas Nickle.

As today is the last big day, it is not expected that any trouble will be experienced. A number of pocket-books have been lost, but in the majority of cases these have been returned to their rightful owners. The police have experienced very little difficulty in maintaining order, and only a few minor motor accidents have occurred. occurred.

SIGHTSEERS CROWD SCENE OF TRAGEDY IN WALL STREET

New York, Sept. 17.—The financial district was crowded with sightseers this morning, surveying the scene of yesterday's mysterious explosion. Police lines were established for a distance of two blocks north, east, south and west, the market police aiding in maintaining order.

The stock market opened promptly at 10 o'clock with no outward signs of excitement and few traces of yesterday's disaster, aside from temporary windows which were covered with canvas in place of the huge glass windows which were splintered by yesterday's explosion.

The banking house of J. P. Morgan & Co., which suffered most in the catastrophe was also heavily guarded by regular police and a score of private detectives. side of the Morgan building. They were shaken up by the force of the explosion but all escaped without injury.

Junius Spencer Morgan, son of J. P. Morgan, head of the firm, who is now abroad, was at his desk on the lower floor when the explosion occurred. It shattered the glass partitions of his office, showering him with fragments. He received only slight cuts on the hands and arms.

"The explosion threw the conference upstairs into disorder," Mr. Lamont said. "We were jarred by the concussion and rather excitedly ran down to the main floor, where the most confusion prevailed. There were about fifty employees who were more or less injured, and those clerks who had miraculously escaped injury from falling debris were courageously devoting their attention to assisting those who were less fortunate.

"One of our valued employees. William Joyce, was killed. He was the son of Thomas W. Joyce, who has been in our employ for 30 years, and who was himself badly hurt. All our large windows on the first floor and some on the second floor were blown in. The office will be ready for business tomorrow morning."

There were between 400 and 500 employees in the Morgan building at the time, of the accident.

Letter Giving Warning.

A letter giving warning of today's explosion was dropped Wednesday morning through the mail slot of a door in one of the offices of the French high commission at 65 Broadway, it became known tonight. This letter, apparently written by a man formerly in the employ of the commission, was torn into small pieces soon after it was read and dropped into a waste basket.

Today, after the explosion, these bits of paper were taken from the basket, pasted tocether, and turned over to the pelice. The letter, which was addressed to Lieut, Arnaud, who is attached to the commission, began with the word: "Greetings."

The writer said he thought he was rendering a service to the French commission by advising Maurice Casenave.

The writer said he thought he was rendering a service to the French commission by advising Maurice Casenave, minister plenipotentiary, and his assistants, of the fact that a catastrophe would occur in Wall Street about 2:30 o'clock. No date was mentioned.

Advise Minister.

The writer suggested that Lieut. Arnaud advise Minister Casenave to have the offices of the commission closed and unoccupied at 2 o'clock, so that the lives of the office staff might be spared. The letter also mentioned "between 2 and 4 o'clock, daylight saving time." as the probable hour for the catastrophe.

time." as the probable hour for the catastrophe.

It was intimated in the letter that "some people had grievances," and wanted to take revenge."

Lieut. Arnaud read the letter several times. Feeling assured that it had been written by an alarmist, and should not be taken seriously, he tore it up and threw it into a waste-paper basket. He gave no further thought to the letter until after the explosion today, when he rushed into the office, emptied the contents of the waste basket in a heap on his desk, sorted the bits of the letter, pieced them together, and turned them over to the police

Efforts to learn whether the letter bore a signature proved futile.

Police Seek Man.

Soon after the letter had been handed to the police it was learned that detectives had been sent to an address in West 22nd street to seek a man formerly in the employ of the French commission. It was said that he had left the service of the French Government on September 1, 1919.

The writer of the letter, the police believe, was familiar with all plans for the explosion and would be able to point out the responsible parties.

Despite the police theory that the accident was caused by the explosion of an infernal machine several everwitnesses reported that a wagon bear witnesses reported that a wagon bear and action of the Morgan firm tonight, that the explosion was caused by the explosion was due merely to an accident. LENINE PLANS A WORLD DRIVE. From Moscow comes what appears to anthentic information to the effect that the Bolshevist leaders have mapped out a campaign to bolshevize the world, which will be put into force at once. It was stated that agents were already active in England and France and that at once an army of agents would be sent into the United States, China, Japan and Asia. Much that comes out of Russia regarding Bolshevism is undoubtedly exaggerated, if not altogether false, but it is easy to believe the above report correct, as it is clear the only way soviet rule in Russia can be kept going is by triumphs outside Russia. THE COAL SITUATION IN CANADA. Despite much loose talk to the contrary, the Canadian coal supply situation does not appear alarming, although prices continue high, and no relief may be expected as yet.

The year 1920, therefore, at August 21, is sixteen million tons behind 1917, and about thirty-nine and a half million tons behind 1918, is forty-eight and two-thirds million tons out that production during 1918 exceeded consumption and provided for a net addition to consumers' stocks by the end of the year, of approximately 30,000,000 tons. In 1919, the condition was reversed; consumption exceeded production and there was a net draft on stocks of perhaps 40,000.000 tons for the year.

States production of anthracite shows an output of 55,712,000 net tons for the calendar year up to August 21, 1920, compared with 52, 678,000 for the same period during the preced-

Central Ontario has received, up to June 30 in the three preceding years, and 100 of light blue light. of the amount of anthracite received during the same period in 1919. The bituminous coal supply is not as good. Receipts this year constitute only 89 per cent of the average year period, but when taken against last year's 1920 shows an increase of 9 per cent over 1919. Quebec has received this year 110 of the average amount of anthracite obtained during the same six months' period of three years preceding, and 119 per cent of the brought in during the six months of 1919. Receipts of bituminous are lower, the 1920 figures being 65 per cent of the three-year average, and 74 per cent of 1919 imports.

Total coal imports for Canada show that this year's receipts of anthracite to June 30 are 101 per cent of the three-year average, and 107 per cent of last year's receipts during the same six months. Bituminous coal imports into Canada up to June 30 have fallen this year to 80 per cent of the average for the same period during the three preceding years, but they still add up to 97 per cent of the receipts during the first six months last year. These data will serve to inform the reader that while there is undoubtedly a shortage of coal, it is not such as to cause undue alarm. There seems no reason why United States production should not continue on the same scale as at present, and with the return of the United States railways to private control, transporta tion facilities will probably be considerably augmented, so that the losses due to car shortage may be reduced, and the consequent increased a policy looking to the better development of Canada's coal fields would be acclaimed by both miners and consumers. Co-ordination of effort with the elimination of obsolete methods and unnecessary local competition in our coal mining districts would do much towards Canada's coal problem. But governments, capitalists and miners have all much progress yet to make before the necessary spirit of unity will be found pervading all.

COUNTING THE COST.

[Queen's Quarterly.] The Drury Government has shown courage and common sense in refusing to pledge the credit of the province further for ambitious proough inquiry. It has been so customary in Canada to build a railway first and to leave the investigation as to whether it was needed to the post-mortem, that this break with tradition has naturally aroused some criticism. On the face of it, the limited power available, the uncertainty as to the effects of motor competition. the existence in some cases of paralleling steam roads, and the high cost of construction warrant a careful and independent survey. If the case for going full speed ahead is as incon surely can be demontrated, and certainly no one will contend that under present construction conditions there is any serious loss by a few

Stewart is a marvel. Apparently one who has made a great study of the Scriptures. Like most Eible students, he takes it literally. Every now and then a citizen of New York city bobs up serenely with an idea under his hat that does more real, satisfactory business when at work than barrels of talk and tons of vocal protest. In proof of this statement a news item relates that a resident of New York has compelled the retail food dealers in his neighborhood to reduce their prices by the simple expedient of hiring a few sandwich men to parade up and down before their shops with placards giving the cost of the goods at shops with placards giving the cost of the goods at wholesale. I have always been very much interested in all the letters, especially those of Heart of the Night Wind. For lunch, you could have Brownie sandwiches, Halloween salad, goblin pie, doughnuts, fortune cake, coffee and home-made candy. The Brownie sandwiches are simply brown bread with a peanut butter filling; Halloween salad is an ordinary chicken and celery salad:

Make the fortune cake by any favorite recipe, and hide in the batter a thimble or two, several buttons, some pieces of silver and one or more rings. When the cake is divided, the one finding a ring in his or her piece will of course marry soon; a button or thimble is significant of single blessedness; and the money implies wealth for the

A cabbage would make a lovely 'booby' prize, don't you think? Or you could no doubt find some odd little thing among the Halloween favors in the five-cent stores. For the first prize a little book of poetry, a small picture suggestive of autumn, a box of candy, a birch berly the later to be a bright for t

Julie's explanation was quite feasible. She had met him accidentally at the railway station. She had insisted that he delay his trip to town by an hour or two in order to keep her company. Julie could be very persuasive, that I knew. And Fred was susceptible to a pretty woman's pleading.

The fault, of course, was Julie's. So I argued with myself.

I began to study Julie's powers of coquetry. Wherein lay her peculiar charm for men? Good looks? I wondered.
Julie wasn't very pretty; according to beauty's strictest canons. Her eyes were rather small and beady, like some inquisitive bird's.

And her complexion wasn't very good. In its early morning aspect, before its owner had arisen to face a new day and its trials, it was of the sallow brand. The above measurements, so far as can be learned, have never been excelled in this county and constitute a record in tobacco growing.

Independence, Decoration, Labor and Other Big Days, He's Dangerous.

[By Ernest J. Lanigan.]. Larry Gardner, Indian third baseman, is a holiday hitter, and if the Tribe gets into the world's series, pitchers had better be careful of him on Columbus Day. His average for Decoration Day was 667: for Independence Day .375; for Labor Day .250 and for the three holidays combined, .409. Monday the Enosburg Falls, Vt., citizen got only two hits off the St. Louis pitchers, but each blow drove in the Indians' winning run, his single in the first game off Weilman coming in the sixth inning and his single in the second off Davis coming in the ninth, when the Speakerites yanked back a game that Jim Bagby had almost forced on the Burkmen. man, is a holiday hitter, and if the

On Decoration Day Gardner smote two doubles and one home run off George Dauss of the Tigers in the morning fray, his three wallops giving Cleveland five of her nine runs. In the afternoon, facing Myers, Alton and Glaiser, Larry accounted for three of the Indians' seven counters, hitting in eight during the day—just half Cleveland made.

On the Glorious Fourth Gardner knocked in two of Cleveland's eight scores against the White Sox.

In six holiday games Gardner has batted in 13 out of 37 runs made by the Tribe—more than a third.

This shows how W. Lawrence enjoys himself on other people's holidays:

Memorial Day—Made four hits (one single, two doubles and one home run) against Detroit, batting in eight runs and getting two passes. Cleveland scored 16 runs.

Independence Day—Made three singles the William of Club on Saturday, which promises some interesting trundling. The greens are in great shape at present, and ten of them will be used. Two 12-end games before lunch and two afterwards is the program. One dollar for each rink and 50 cents for lunch is the day's tariff. Entries may be phoned to 1843 or 276, and the first eight will be accommodated.

Ninety Per Cent Workers,
He had been reading in the papers in Canada since his arrival here that the clergy, while not seeking to direct, had suggested a line of action for workers. In Great Britain they had an eminent statesman who made an appeal to the workers to arise to assist the Empire in her great hour of peril, and union labor had responded by sending to the front 90 per cent of the soldiers who manned the trenches. Then an appeal was made to speed up production of the men and women who responded patriotically to this call were union workers. But this eminent statesman who had appealed to them to save the Empire now says that they are unfit to govern it. If they were not it was the fault of the two great political parties who had governed the country for a century.

He then mentioned the eminent statesman by name, referring to him as the Right Honorable Winston Churchill, grandson of the Seventh Duke of Marlmen loyal support.

Defends British Miners.

He defended the British miners, claiming that their loyalty was unquestioned, but that they objected to excess profits, which their speeding upproduction during the war had created, going into private bank accounts instead of developing the industries of the empire. He intimated that the visit of the British Press Association and financial magnates to Canada was worth watching, as it was no doubt planned to use the excess profits made during the war in exploiting Canada's natural resources.

Mr. Davidson also made a slashing attack on Hon. Winston Spencer Church-hill, whom he alluded to as "the gambler of Gallipoli; the raider of Russia; fomenter of industrial strife; first a Tory, then a Liberal, and finally a Coalitionist; the Jack Cade of politics; the hero of the Dardanelles."

D. J. Shea and E. J. Brock declared that union labor in the United States would see to it that Mr. Cox is put into the president's chair.

Mrs. C. M. Derry of Hamilton fraternal delegate of the International Congress of Working Women, and Miss Mabel Gillespie, Chicago, fraternal delegate of the National Women's Trades Union League, also spoke briefly of the work of their respective organizations. Delegate William Varley of Toronto resumed the debate on the resolution to reduce membership when the convention reconvened, taking exception to that part of it which fixed the number of delegates the same for all the same for that part of it which fixed the number of delegates the same for all trades and labor councils and favored leaving the constitution as it is for the present congress at least. The congress voted down both amendments to the resolution and also voted non-concurrence in idson, M. P., fraternal delegate of the British labor unions, told the convention that he conveyed greetings from 6,000,000 organized workers in the British Isles, and he hoped to be able to inspire them to emulate the great things that had been done by the organized workers of Great Britain. For a "Great" Vacation try the Great Lakes Trip by Canadian Pacific Steamer

FOR when the mercury is playing around in the upper eighties, and you wish Henry Ford would invent a self-refrigerating collar, do you ever stop to remember that the temperature of Lake Superior never rises above 40 degrees? What if you don't spare the time for a long holiday? The Canadian Pacific Railway's Clyde-built steamships make a five-day trip from Port McNicoll to Fort William and back, during which you can be as cool as an Eskimo and as comfortable as a clubman.

Roomy cabins, the best of chefs—oh, those broiled Lake Superior whitefish!—tea on deck under the lazy awnings—seagulls against the long, northern sunset—and a breeze from a thousand miles of clean pine woods, on duty twenty-four hours in the day.

Then—if you find you've got more time than you counted on—how about a week on the Nipigon River, forty miles from Fort William, with guides, canoes, and camp fires and white water under the moon—and more speckled trout than you know what to do with?

How do you get there? That's e a s y. Phone, write, or see any Canadian Pacific Ticket Agent; or Sept. 16.—A serious accident occurred here yesterday morning, when an auto in which Mr. and Mrs. John Readman and son and Mrs. Bondy were riding turned turtle on the hill near the farm of Simon Winger and the whole party were more or less badly bruised. That they escaped without fatal injuries is considered remarkable.

out fatal injuries is considered remarkable.

That the party was traveling this road was due to having been misdirected to Wardsville, where they purposed to spend the night and proceed to London in the morning. Just as the car, which was being driven by Mr. Readman, had crossed the crest of the hill and was descending, the rear axle broke on the left side and caused the breaking of the brake bands so that the driver had not control of the speed of the car.

To allow the car to continue its wild career down the hill looked like inviting total destruction, so Mr. Readman turned it into the bank, the crash which followed causing the car to turn turtle and smashing the top and windshield. Mr. Readman's foot was badly cut with glass from the windshield. Mrs. Readman was thrown clear of the car and received severe bruises on her left arm and shoulder. Their son had his head badly bruised, while Mrs. Bondy escaped with some rather painful minor bruises. The injured party was taken into Wardsville to the home of Rev. James Husser, where they were given medical attention. They will be able to return to their home in a few days.

UP THE AMAZON.

[Robert Leslie Ballem.]

Up the flowing Amazon, the boundless, soundless Amazon,

Jungles wall the sides with verdure, parrots shriek and scream,

Fragrant, light and airy land, an elemental fairy land—

Days pass by unnoticed in a misty, drowsy dream.

Up the placid Amazon, the floody muddy Amazon, Creepers trail from tree to tree in wild exotic life; wild exotic life;

Now a monkey chattering in accents far from flattering.

Then a booming savage drum that tells of stress and strife.

p the tranquil Amazon, the olden, golden Amazon, What a stage has Nature set for bold Adventure's plays!
Life is growing black again and I would fain be back again,
A-floating up the Amazon enguifed in tropic haze!

RECORD TOBACCO CROP, SAY REVENUE OFFICERS

Expect to Issue 4,500 Licenses Before Crop Is Harvested.

Windsor, Sept. 16.—That the tobacco crop of Essex and Kent counties this year will create a record, was declared tonight by officials of the Government inland revenue department, Walkerville. which has jurisdiction over the two counties.

This estimate is borne out by the number of licenses issued to growers this year, the aggregate already reaching over 3.500, while total for all last year was but 3.657. It is expected 4.500 licenses will be issued before the crop is harvested.

While the quantity of the weed will assume larger proportions in the two counties this year, it will not approach the same standard of quality, however, as that of last year, owing to unfavorable weather conditions of too much rain, with a lack of warm and continued high temperatures.

Will German-American Vote Be Organized For Harding?

The attempt of the German-American Citizens' League to organize German-American voters to prevent the election of Governor Cox to the Presidency is arousing lively interest in both camps. "The hyphen, that detestable phenomenon of American society, is again lifting its hydra-headed hideousness and discharging its venom, exclaims the Louisville Courier-Journal (Dem.) picture filled with interest from beginning to end. The object of the producer is to show how the great city of New York is a refiner rather than a beamircher of character. To show this he brings four people, from different corners of the earth to the gay metropolis, and whirls them into the life of the great city. As the story progresses, their lives intermingle. For a time the lives of all four seem to be on the point of being swamped, but eventually all but one finds himself. The great city burns away the droes, leaving the pure gold, for three. The one goes out, meeting death with the filth of the life he is leading still clinging to him. The producer has managed to show what he wants in a series of thrilling and spectacular scenes. There is a great murder trial, where the young wife, and heroine of the story, enters dramatically at the last moment and leasmirches here own character to gain for her husband the sentence "not guilty." It's true, there has hardly been a visi-It's true, there has hardly been a visitor to London this week, not to mention the Londoners themselves, who are missing that exceptional film attraction, "On With the Dance," which the Allen is showing this week.

They come, they see, and they leave, charmed with the personality of delightfuly piquant Mae Murray, they find a feast for the eyes in the luxuriousness of the settings, in the splendor of the gowns and the sensations of the scenes of the moonlight revellers on New York's gay white way.

It's true, there has hardly been a visitor death-dealing snakes, fearing a poisoned arrow any minute, gradually sneaking up on a village of six-foot cannibals, and watch them at their horrible feasts and dances. Battle for your life, to break through the line of spears and war clubs that is advancing to secure your body for the chief delicacy at tomorrow's dinner. Then you'll say with the others who have seen this picture that it is really the most unusual and unexpected production that you ever hoped to see upon the screen.

The large and small set gulls have been here in large numbers for the past ten days, and will stay right here until the lake freezes over, and then they hustle to the open water, which is always found on the east side of Point Pelee. # Wash Your Finest Things Without Danger

The woman who owns an ELECTRIC WASHER knows that she may wear her finest things every day, because, when they become soiled, the machine will wash them safely and harmlessly.

Every woman delights in plenty of clean clothes, but providing them by hand takes half the joy out of wearing them. Bending over a sudsy, steaming tub, rubbing the dirt by main strength out of the clothes on a washboard, means slavery for the woman and injury to the garments.

In the shop, the factory or the office, labor-saving devices receive first consideration. Why not in the home? Let the woman have a chance. It's poor economy to compel her to spend hours on a washing, when an ELECTRIC WASHER will do the job in an hour or so for about one Threatened Drastic Measures If His Proposals Were Rejected.

Milan, Italy, Sept. 17.—Leaders of the Confederation of Labor and workers generally seem to believe they have won a great victory in the decision of Premier Giolitti to appoint a commission to submit concrete proposals respecting participation by workers in the technical financial and disciplinary management of factories, which was announced in Turin yesterday. This commission's report will be made the basis for a bill which will embody many of the demands made by metal workers since they have occupied industrial plants throughout the country. Representatives of workmen declare the premier took matters in his own hands when he found employers determined to resist despite his counsel for moderation. Employers and their supporters voice their indignation over the intervention at the present phase of the situation, after maintaining neutrality when the works were occupied. They say workers would not have been able to take over factories except "through the connivance of the authorities with criminals," and they accuse the government of being "the humble servants of the Bolsheviki." Nevertheless, employers agree they must necessarily bow to the storm.

Plans had been laid for the Panhandle Estate, which sails on her maiden voyage tomorrow, to stop at Queenstown on her way to Boulogne.

Diarmid Lynch, national secretary of the Friends of Irish-Freedom, yesterday sent a protest to Admiral W. S. Benson, chairman of the United States shipping board. It read in part: "As secretary of the Friends of Irish Freedom, I enter an emphatic protest against the order of the British Admiralty prohibiting eastbound passengerships from calling at the port of Queenstown.
