Animals which have soft hair or fur possess, in most cases, the power of erecting it as an additional means of protection from cold. making it apparent that looseness or openness is better for that purpose than having it closely or compactly laid. As it is a well-known fact that what protects from cold will protect from heat also, it would also follow that hair loosely worn would be the best protection in either case. It would matter little whether long or short for that purpose. To leave it loose, that the air may reach the head freely and easily, and that the exhalations which are continually passing off from the surface should be removed in that manner, would be the most healthful way at least. Brom the Washington Post.

The question whether strikes are a profitable resort for dissatisfied workmen is one which they ought to settle to their entire satisfaction before proceeding to multiply them. Such figures as are accessible seem to show that the average strike is an improvident expenditure, and that the strikes of this year have cost labor not less than $1,000,000 at make up your mind to a sight extra day. The bitter and relentless was waged by the employes of the Third-avenue (New York) Railroad on that company is well remembered, and on more than one occasion nearly the whole police force of the metropolishad to protect the company's property. During the strike, which was of long duration, the men suffered grievously for the necessaries of life, and the contributions which supported them were a heavy drain on the resources of their companions. The sworm statement of the road for the past year shows that the receipts fell off $117,487 as compared with 1885, or, in other words, the strike cost the road $117,487 plus the earnings coming from the natural increase of business due to greater population. Of course, this is a good round, sum to have to write off on the wrong side of the ledger under the head of strike; but it is questionable if the road felt the shrinkage as much as did the treasuries of labor organizations and took from wage-workers money for which they received depleted the reasuries of labor organizations and took from wage-workers money for which they received depleted the reasuries of labor organizations and took from wage-workers money for which they received depleted the reasuries of labor organizations and took from wage-workers money for which they received depleted the reasuries of labor organizations and took from wage-workers money for which they received the them as if they had thrown it in the sewer in the product of the many of the reasures of labor organizations and took from wage-workers money for which they received the them as if they had thrown it in the sewer waged to them as if they had thrown it in the sewer. It may be set down as an ascertained fact that strikes do not pay.

—Maladies multiply one another. A simple fit of digestion may—especially if the constitution is not naturally vigorous—throw the entire mechanism of the liver and howels out of gear. Sick headache follows, poisoning of the blood by bile ensues, and there is grave and serious disturbance of the entire system. Check the threatened dangers at the outset with Northrop & Lyman's Vegetable Discovery and Dyspeptic Cure, the medicine that drives every impurity from the blood.

Salisbury's Land Policy Disclosed.

On Wednesday Premier Salisbury made his appearance at the opening of a Conservative county club at St. Albans, Hertfordshire, and gave pretty straight information as to what the policy of his Government on the Irish land question is. That policy 3s, in brief, the creation of a peasant proprietary in Ireland. In other words, tenancy is to be gradually abolished, and the land is to be divided among many proprietors, each one the owner of his own little key. In other words, tenancy is to be gradually abolished, and the land is to be divided among many proprieturs, each one the owner of his own little bit of ground. This is a policy at cace Radical and Conservative. It is Radical inasmuch as it would revolutionize the whole system of land ownership in Ireland. It is also Conservative in this way—that if carried into effect it would create a numerous body of land-owners who would fight to the death against communism and spoliation of property for all time afterwards to come. Still mother view we may take of it. It is a cheek of the Grand Central Depot.

The Catholic clergy will, we believe, find it to their profit to cease to influence their people in political matters. There are Conservatives and Liberals in their communion as in others and whichever side the church injured. The people are quite and the church injured. The people are quite able to guide themselves and the motives which influencetheir votes are apt to be quite as good as those of the clergy. There can be no worse course than the clergy banding them selves together to obtain undue favors from governments. Public jealousy is thereby excited and under its influence even common justice may be refused, which all good citizens would regret.

Now a part of Toronto, is our most popular district for the better class of residences. No part of our rapidly growing city is improving so fast. High land, pure air, good drainage, adjoining the Queen's Park. Toronto is the social and commercial centre of the Dominion, and the Queen's Park with its federated colleges and new Parliament Buildings will ever be the social and intellectual centre of Toronto.

Now is the time to secure a desirable homestead or a few lots for investment. Many who urchased from us a few months ago have doubled their money. Values are sure to increase apidly. We now offer for sale lots in the Baldwin' estate, as shown on above diagram. St. eorge, Huron, Admiral, Bernard, Dupont, Bridgman, Davenport streets.

We give Torrens title. No business place or poor house allowed in the district. Lots are selling rapidly. Come early and secure choice of location. Remember when these lands are out of our hands they can only be bought at much higher prices.

One of these, as in old Roman days is dedicated to factional games, and in the other is reproduced the thrilling spectacles of war and contests with untamed beparts, just as the old Roman mails and matrons in the Colosseum. And all that a great railroad may be induced to come that way. On visiting the largest amphitheatre it would seem that we are not removed many generations from Pagan Rome. There are realistic encounters between Indians and whites, and contests in which wild buffaloes and vicious horses, mules and steers test their powers with men; and when the bucking burro or steer comes nearest to annihilating his rider then is our modern maiden most pleased. The gladiatorial combats only are missing to take us back 2,000 years.

position of the word "phonograph," and is intended to convey the same meaning.

It was found that tin foil, used in the phonograph, presented a surface unfit for the purpose it was called upon to fulfill, because of its pliability and destructibility. Many and elaborate experiments were made to discover a substance upon which a perfect and durable sound record could be made, resulting in the idea of using a surface upon which the sound record could be cut, instead of indenting a soft and pliable substance, as is done in the Edison machine. It was finally decided upon to use a paper surface, coated with a preparation composed of wax and parafilme.

The graphophone is provided with two diaphragms, one used in making the record and the other in reproducing the sound. The machine stands about five or six inches highly eight wide, and weighs about ten pounds machine.

In copying from dictation by the machine, the operator is enabled by a neat mechanical device to take as many words at a time as he can conveniently remember, and should he forget any part of the sentence, by a slight pressure of the finger on a rod running along the base of the machine the reproducer will repeat the sentence.

Should a correspondent also have a graphophone, the writer of a letter could in a few moments dictate what would make a lengthy epistle, enclose it in a box about the size of the apothecary's "pill box," place a stamp thereon and transmit through the mails. The correspondent can in turn place the cylinder received upon his graphophone, and listen to the letter of his friend with his voice preserved, thereby avoiding the vexation and loss of time consequent upon an encounter with bad chirography.

Beb and All's Brether Jim.

From the San Francisco Chronicle.

One of the most pathetic sights I have seen in a long time I saw the other afternoon. An oldish man stood on the corner of a street, with eyes cast down and a look of agony on his face. He was sighing heavily as he poked a thick stick into cracks and breaks in the asphaltum, which was terribly open to such poking. He seemed to be heart-broken. I was studying this picture when a friend came up.

"What's the matter?"

"What's the matter?"

"Look at that poor fellow," I said.

"That! Don't you know him? That's old —, the millionairs. He owns that block, and he's got to put down a new pavement."

Bet and All's Brether Jim.

From the Baltimore American.

There are in Washington two brothers of the Taylor brothers who are funning for the Governorship of Tennessee. Both of them are clerks of the government, and both say that if they were in Tennessee during the coming election they would vote for neither Bob not day that such of the speeches as are of a set character which the two candidates have candidates have delivered were written by another brother. All the bills are paid promptly at the first of each month and they average just $40 a month they year round, including $15 for rent. Every month $35 is tucked away for a rainy day. A happier, more contented family and he's got to put down a new pavement."

"Now, by my Halidom," quoth Walker
"As sure as eggs are eggs,
At these hard times I'll have a whack
And lower down the pegs.
I'll han no circus posters out,
I'll never beat a drum,
But folks shall know what I'm about—
Its prices makes things hum.
"Here, Julius Cassar Ponto Brown,
Just sharpen up my ax;
Once more I'll cut the figures down,
My folks can't stand the tax;
The times are hard—the workingman
Can comforts ill afford,
But give him my instalment plan
He will not need to board."
