THREE OF IRISH LEADERS STILL IN IRELAND; MAYBE NOT YET CAUGHT

Other Ring-Leaders are Being Quickly Tried by Court Martials—Sir John Maxwell Issues Severe Orders Against Snipers.

SOLDIERS' BEARING GOOD

DUBLIN, May 3.—Justice has been swift in the case of the leaders of the Sinn Fein rebellion. Three of the ringleaders, signatories of the proclamation of the short-lived Irish republic, paid the supreme sacrifice yesterday.

Others being tried in Ireland the now being tried with great rapidity by the central court martial, while the local courts martial are dealing with minor rebels in various districts.

Further captures of isolated snipers occurred today in the outlying quarters of the capital and orders were issued by Major-General Sir John Maxwell that any rebels found with arms should be severely dealt with.

Organizer Disappears. Everybody is asking what has become of John McNeill, the local organizer of the Sinn Feiners, who appears to have disappeared from Dublin with the firing of the first shot.

Confidence is rapidly returning among the civilian population, and although work has not been generally resumed, many stores have reopened.

ALL PREPARED

Dublin, via London, May 4.—Postage stamps prepared by the short-lived Irish republic, have been found ready for issue.

AMERICAN IMPLICATED

LONDON, May 4, 3.12 p.m.—James M. Sullivan of New York, formerly American minister to Santo Domingo, has been arrested in Dublin on the charge of complicity in the Irish rebellion.

POSTAL SERVICE.

A provisional postal service has been established in Dublin where letters are now arriving from the provinces and from England, but no outgoing mail has yet been organized and it is impossible to obtain postage stamps.

The authorities have acquired premises in the city to replace the general post office which was destroyed during its occupation as a rebel headquarters.

Broadway, New York, hung up another costly dinner record when L. C. Wallick, proprietor of Wallick's hotel entertained thirty-six at a stag dinner at a cost said to have been about $50 a plate.

LT.-COLONEL GENET WRITES HOME FROM BATTLE FRONT

In a Most Interesting Letter He Tells of Conditions on the Firing Line—Chaplain Jeakins Now on Hospital Duty and Colonel Acts in His Stead Among Other Duties.

Lt.-Col. Genet, who is in command of the 58th Battalion now at the front, during the course of a very interesting letter to Mr. J. Sanderson, president of the Adams Wagon Company, says:

"You are not far wrong in your estimation of the 58th Battalion. We have a good one and we made very rapid progress to the front. I do not wish you to think that I am at all conceited about it, or that I take any but a very small part of the credit to myself.

The rest of the family are well, Mrs. Genet is living at Folkestone, 33 Brockman road. Jack is still at Shorncliffe and Harry as far as I know is at Alexandria, Egypt. He has seen quite a lot of the world in the last few months, having been at Tulud Bay, Malta, Sicily, Italy, and now Egypt.

METZ IS BEING EVACUATED BY CIVIL POPULATION; FRENCH MAKE PROGRESS AT VERDUN

German Capital of Lorraine is Evidently Preparing For Trouble—French Increased and Consolidated Gains in District of Dead Man's Hill.

Berlin, May 4, via London, 3.31 p.m.—It is officially announced that the French have obtained a foothold in one of the German advance posts south of Dead Man's Hill.

Brantford May Have a Daylight Saving Scheme

Motion to Adopt Device Will be Introduced in the Council as Soon as Possible—Opinions of Mayor, Some of the Aldermen, ex-Mayor Spence and Mr. Ham, M.L.A.

The advisability of adopting the Daylight Saving Scheme in Brantford which device is being tried in many Canadian cities, as well as Holland and Germany, and which was shrewdly discussed in the House of Commons at London, will be laid before the City Council probably at its next session.

OPPOSED TO SCHEME.

Mayor Bowly, Ald. Pichel, chairman of the Fire and Light committee, Ald. Mellen, chairman of the Manufacturers' committee.

IN FAVOR OF THE SCHEME.

Ald. Dowling, chairman of the Board of Works, who thinks it is worth trying, though admittedly it has disadvantages. A special committee of the council, he thinks, should report on the matter.

Commissioner Meredith Asked Lawyer to Stop Heckling. GENERAL BERTRAM AGAIN ON STAND

Ottawa, Ont., May 4.—The connection of General Bertram, who was chairman of the shell committee, which let two fuse contracts to the American Ammunition and the International Fuse companies, the subject of the Meredith-Duff Commission's investigation, with John Bertram and Sons of Dundas, was probed by E. F. B. Johnston, K.C., Liberal counsel, at this morning's session of the enquiry.

SORE POINT FOR LAWYER.

Eugene Lafleur, K.S., of counsel for Sir Sam Hughes: "This seems to be a sore point with you, Mr. Johnston."

RESTRICTS QUESTIONS

Sir William: "You can only ask questions along that line insofar as they refer to the committee's dealings with the four companies being investigated."

188 DEATHS.

LONDON, May 3 (delayed)—It is officially announced, says a despatch to the Evening News from Dublin, that the number of deaths in the hospitals alone resulting from the recent revolt is 188. This includes 66 soldiers and 122 rebels.

The Situation.

The French continue their successful assaults in the Verdun region, and there seems to be no longer any reason to doubt the fact that the Hun attempt on this fortress has signally failed. Joffre's men are now taking positions which the Crown Prince sacrificed thousands of lives to attain in the first instance, and the setback to the Kaisers is beyond all compute.

It would be foolish, however, to contend that the end is even yet measurably in sight. Without any doubt there is hereanulc war yet to be done by the Allies, and lots of it. Some critics think that with improved physical conditions there will be a mighty effort of the foe on the Eastern front, with the object of getting to Petrograd.

The Kaisers are now making an effort to stir up Sweden against the Allies on the ground that Russia is erecting fortifications on the Aland islands, of a permanent nature. These islands form a numerous group at the entrance to the Gulf of Bothnia, on the Baltic Sea.

It is significant that the first reading of the Compulsion Bill was received with cheers in the British House of Commons, and that a leading Labor member expressed his entire approval. Those slackers hereabouts and elsewhere, who have been making the excuse that the available men of England should go first, will now have the last shred of their miserable underpinning knocked from beneath them.

The Patriotic Stand of a Liberal Paper.

The Ottawa Free Press is a staunch Liberal paper, but it cannot stand for the carping criticisms and the unsupported charges of the Carvells, the Kyt's and other small-minded Grit members of that ilk, in an effort to embarrass the Borden Government in connection with war supplies.

But the Free Press is still an organ of Liberalism and evidence comes to us from day to day that not a few Liberals in Parliament agree absolutely with the view expressed by the Free Press that, for the duration of the war, petty political partisanship should be dropped, and that criticism of the government of the day should be sincere, sympathetic, and intelligent.

The Free Press knows some cabinet ministers who are working very hard and very conscientiously. These ministers hold no sinecure. They are loaded down with worry and responsibilities. They are sincerely trying to solve some of the big problems that the war has brought in a flood. For these men the Free Press has nothing but respect, and however we may have played the political game when it was a pastime, our inclination now is to give them, if not favor, at least a fair field. As for the members of the Bertram shell committee, we have not yet observed any evidence given before the Meredith-Duff Commission to make us change our opinion that Canada is under a deep debt of gratitude to these gentlemen. And if Sam Hughes is an idiot, as some declare, all we have to say is that he constantly displays an extraordinary amount of horse sense and he is taxing his enormous vitality and physical strength to the limit in the prosecution of his duties as Minister of Militia.

With Canada engaged in a war that means life or death to the British Empire and all it stands for, is there anything "liberal" about the man who continues to place party interest above national interest, who deliberately besmirches the name of his country for a selfish purpose, who delights to embarrass those upon whom fate has placed burdens almost greater than they can bear?

During the course of another article in the same issue, the Free Press also says: "Hats off to Dr. Michael Clark, M. P. for Red Deer, Alberta. He has, by the sounding of a clarion note of statesmanship, a roughing honor to his constituency, to his province, to the country of his adoption, and to himself. He has done an inestimable service for Canada. His speech should be circulated broadcast throughout this land by Liberals and Conservatives alike. Hansard and the printing presses of the Government Printing Bureau have never been employed to a better purpose than in spreading at the present time the declaration of principles that ought to govern every Britisher. As Dr. Michael Clark says, our people were fast losing a proper sense of proportion. Stamped by partisan politicians, and partisan newspapers, vital essentials were being forgotten in the discussion of comparatively trivial things."

It must not be imagined that it was an easy thing for Dr. Clark to do what he has done. For saying less, this paper has been branded with treachery. A member of Parliament of the standing of Dr. Clark cannot lightly take issue with the policy of a majority of the members of his party. It may be taken for granted that Dr. Clark did not speak out so clearly and so boldly without the most serious commune with himself.

"Enough evidence has been taken already by the Meredith-Duff Commission to warrant the belief that the Prime Minister was right when he refused to permit a public investigation into the operations of the Bertram Shell Committee; enough facts have been produced to vindicate Sir Sam Hughes and the members of the shell committee, whatever may be subsequently shown to have taken place among outsiders in the sharing of commissions; enough testimony has been put in to indicate that the bitter speeches of Mr. Carvell and Mr. Kyt in Parliament were unwarranted except for petty partisan purposes."

That we had been losing our sense of proportion is evidenced by the fact that, nine days after Mr. Kyt had made his sensational charges and the Prime Minister had ordered an enquiry by Royal Commission, the British War Office sent an honorarium of $25,000 to Colonel Carnegie, the expert mind of the Bertram Shell Committee who had already received a salary of $12,000. The kind of men that the Maritime Province partisans were attacking so viciously is shown by Colonel Carnegie's desire to give up a salary of $12,000 and work for nothing for the Imperial Munitions Board, rather than accept $75,000 a year from an American firm; and by the War Office's refusal to accept Col. Carnegie's generous offer and its action in increasing his salary to $25,000 instead.

The Royal Commission of enquiry was made necessary because Messrs. Carvell and Kyt had so unsettled the public mind that a full expose of the facts was the only remedy. But it is being shown that Messrs. Carvell and Kyt were making unwarranted attacks upon Sir Sam Hughes and the Bertram Shell Committee.

NOTES AND COMMENTS

Read Dr. Clark's speech elsewhere in this issue, and you will join in the general praise of him for taking such a manly stand at this period.

"Col. David Carnegie is a veritable multi-millionaire of words."—Toronto Globe. That sequel is probably because his testimony has made the Kyt charges bankrupt.

In the evidence brought out yesterday at the fuse enquiry it was shown that one shell contract which the Russell people got for half a million, they immediately sublet for the bigger part of it to a firm in Boston. This is the concern, be it remembered, which has been yelling that all the work should have been done in Canada.

History will record of Sir Wilfrid Laurier that the only two great moves he ever attempted resulted in rank failure. His effort to saddle reciprocity on this country wrecked his party, and the Grand Trunk Pacific has turned out to be a white elephant of such dimensions as to make the late lamented Jumbo look like a toy article.

The daylight-saving movement is making big strides in popular favor. Holland has adopted the plan, and Great Britain is evidently about to do so. The thing means one hour more of daylight, and that much more time for outside recreations. More than one Canadian centre is adopting the plan, and so should Brantford.

The causes for which divorces become granted in the States are wonderfully concocted. A woman in Kansas is after one because hubbie kisses her too often, whereas a lot of other married women complain of the shortness of the crop. In another case an Illinois woman wants the matrimonial bonds piled apart for the reason that her hege lord moves their home too often. She is evidently in direct connection with the other class of females who are all the time asking, "How much longer are we going to live in this old shack?"

SHOULD NOT PROCEED AGAINST DR. LIEBKNECHT

Socialist Wants Him Left Alone Till Reichstag Rises

By Special Wire to the Courier. Berlin, May 3.—via London, May 4.—A Berlin Socialist introduced a resolution in the Reichstag to-day requesting Chancellor Von Bethmann-Hollweg to release Dr. Karl Liebknecht from arrest and to suspend proceedings against him until after the adjournment of the Reichstag.

GREAT EXCITEMENT. The arrest of Dr. Karl Liebknecht, the Socialist leader, in connection with a May-day demonstration in Berlin, May 1, caused great excitement among the workers there and led to a fresh demonstration, which was suppressed by a large body of police, according to reports from Berlin, forwarded from Copenhagen by the Exchange Telegraph company. The despatch adds that it is believed the German Government will be compelled to release Dr. Liebknecht in order to prevent a public investigation into the operations of the Bertram Shell Committee; that it was a violation of the military regulations for him to wear the civilian clothes in which he was arrested, as he is a soldier.

Mr. Johnston: "In the face of that ruling I must defer the cross-examination of General Bertram on this matter until representations are made in the proper quarters. These questions are considered very important by us."

Sir William: "Is it intended to ask for power to enquire into the whole dealings of the shell committee?" Mr. Johnston: "No."

DISARRANGES SCHEDULE. Mr. Hellmuth protested against adjourning the commission's enquiry in the meantime. He said he had arranged a schedule for witnesses. He proposed to call Col. Cantle, Watts and Messrs. Harris and Patterson and Major Hawkins of the International Fuse Company, Messrs. Yoakum, Cadwell and Gladeck of the American Ammunition Company; Col. Allison and General Hughes.

Mr. Carvell: "Mr. Flavelle of the Imperial munitions board." Mr. Hellmuth said he did not think that Mr. Flavelle could tell much about the shell committee, though he knew of the delays in deliveries of fuses.

Mr. Hellmuth said he also intended to call from another point of view, Messrs. Lloyd Harris and Russell. It struck him that it was his duty to call Mr. Kyt, who had made the fuse charges in the House and ask him what information he had about the matter.

Sir William: "And Mr. Johnston too?" Mr. Hellmuth: "He only made a minor charge. I can also state here shall be pleased to get any other information on these contracts available."

Mr. Johnston: "If the House says 'nay' then I shall be governed by the ruling of the commission." Sir William Meredith declined to adjourn the enquiry of the commission while the move in the House was being made.

FINANCIAL STATEMENT. The financial statement showing money received and expended by the shell committee in which yesterday it was discovered an error of several millions had been made—thus reducing the balance—$41,000,000—handing over the Imperial munitions board, was put in by Mr. Herschell, the accountant of the board.

Mr. Carvell wanted to cross-examine on the document as an error of $12,000,000 had been found. Mr. Hellmuth said the statement would not be filed until the commission had decided whether cross-examination could be allowed.

BIRRELL ADMITS HE MIS-CALCULATED THE STRENGTH OF REBELS

Hopes Rebellion Will be Put Down and Yet With Humanity Towards the Dupes of the Rank and File; Hopes That Old Feuds May be Healed Over the Ashes of Dublin.

By Special Wire to the Courier. London, May 4.—The on / protest voiced in parliament yesterday against the execution of the three leaders of the Irish revolution came from Laurence Ginnell, member of the North division of West Meath, who is classed as a Nationalist, but is actually an Independent. The three leaders, Patrick H. Pearse, Thomas J. Clark and Thomas MacDonagh were shot Wednesday morning after trial by court martial.

John Redmond, leader of the Irish parliamentary party, joined with Sir Edward H. Carson, leader of the Irish Unionists in a plea for leniency toward the great mass of the revolutionists. A remarkable speech explaining his resignation as chief secretary for Ireland, Augustine Birrell confessed that he had miscalculated the strength and seriousness of the Sinn Fein movement. Mr. Birrell paid a tribute to the Irish race, and said that he hoped good might come of these grave events at Dublin. "Irish soldiers," he said, "are still the best representatives of their country, fighting as they are in all theatres of the war."

Mr. Birrell admitted that he had been urged by a great many persons who possibly knew Ireland better than he did, that it was the duty of the government to suppress the Sinn Fein movement wherever they found it and take away their arms, although up to the last moment no proof had been forthcoming that they were in

German Airmen Raid Kent; Bombs Injure One Man

Damage by Zeppelins in Yorkshire and Scotland Was Insignificant.

London, May 4.—A German aeroplane yesterday afternoon bombed the city of Deal, in Kent, on the North Sea coast.

The official report says: "A hostile aeroplane visited Deal at 3.50 yesterday afternoon, coming from Ramsgate. Six bombs were dropped on the railway station. One man was injured. This is the only casualty known. The aeroplane escaped flying above the clouds. Our aircraft pursued it."

The Zeppelin air raid on the northeast coast of England and southeast coast of Scotland last night resulted in 36 casualties. This announcement was made officially yesterday. One hundred bombs were dropped.

The text of the statement reads: "The Zeppelin raid Monday night covered a considerable extent of the eastern coast. At least five or six airships actually crossed the shore. Reports from reliable observers made at various times during the night at many points, some as far distant as Ratthay Head, Scotland, down to the north coast of Norfolk, would point to the possibility of a greater

TWO SPEAKERS OF NOTE TO VISIT THE CITY.

One of the most extraordinary stories in connection with the war is the growth of the Canadian Y. M. C. A. among the troops.

The Canadian National Y. M. C. A. has now thirty-three men in overseas service and over sixty working with the military service department at home.

Maj. Gerald W. Birks of Montreal, has been supervising the Y. M. C. A. work overseas for six months at his own expense and will be in Brantford this week with Rev. George Adam, a young athletic type of clergyman, who has seen a lot of the Canadian Y. M. C. A. work in England.

Mr. Adam is a brilliant speaker and these two men will be in Victoria Hall on Friday evening at 8.15. The purpose of their visit is to tell the people of Canada about the needs and opportunities for service among the brave Canadian boys who are in the home camps and overseas.

Their new plans call for the raising of a special military service fund of $250,000 to meet the demands for this year; $100,000 will be raised in special ways in Great Britain, the United States and Canada. The balance of $150,000 it is planned to raise during the visit of these men to Canada where they will speak in ten of the largest cities.

His Royal Highness the Duke of Connaught has graciously given his patronage to the Military fund and has most cordially endorsed the plans and has asked that he might be permitted to make the first contribution.

There will be no appeals made at the meeting and those who are privileged to hear the addresses will get

It is a very sad sight to see the utter ruin of the towns around here, apparently destroyed for the lust of destruction, as their destruction serves no military purpose. SOLDIERS' WIVES' MEETING.

The regular meeting of the Soldiers' Wives and Mothers, was held Tuesday afternoon in the Park Baptist choir room. There was a very good attendance. Miss E. Vansomere took up the Bible study of Solomon's wise woman, Proverbs 31st chapter, and a very helpful and interesting address was given with a great deal of attention and profit. Miss Pearl Sayles sang very sweetly. "The Clouds Will Roll Away By and By," which was very appropriate and very much enjoyed. The practical talk was given by Mrs. Gardner. Mrs. J. Yule gave a helpful and interesting home talk, which was much enjoyed. One of the happy thoughts of these meetings is the number of children present, the mothers being urged to bring them. Although there were eleven in the meeting there was no disturbance or interference. They are the best children in the city to be good, and their ages range from four months to seven years old. These meetings are very interesting and helpful to all who attend, and are a great source of pleasure to the workers.

was of the opinion that it would be better if it were province wide. With Brantford having different time from Toronto and Hamilton, for example, it might prove inconvenient to business houses here. "However, even if the advantages were only on the surface, I would be in favor of trying it, although the idea has its disadvantages also," he said. Ald. Ward stated he had thought of the matter last winter, but pressure of other council business had hindered him from considering the subject further.

ALD. PITCHER Ald. Pitcher stated that the time we used now had been always satisfactory. He did not believe in jumping from an old way to a new way unless he could be shown by substantial evidence that the new method was an improvement here. "However, even if this scheme in Germany," said Ald. Pitcher, "and I think the last thing we should do would be to copy anything from the Germans. The time we use now has always been serviceable. I do not see any reason why we should change it."

ALD. MELLE. "My own personal experience makes me opposed to the scheme," said Ald. Mellen. "I have worked in different industries where it was tried out and they always went back to the old system. The net result is to take an hour off one's sleep at night, and as a result, workmen are tired in the morning, and come to work late."

ALD. WELSH I think it would be a good thing," said Ald. Welsh. "I do not see any reason why it should not be adopted." He said he was of the opinion it would not affect store trade.

MR. HAM. Mr. J. H. Ham, M.L.A., when asked what he thought of the advisability of introducing the scheme into Brantford replied, "I think it is a good idea. I do not see why it is not introduced all over. I do not know how it would work in Brantford alone, but the idea of day-light saving is a good one."

EX-MAYOR SPENCE Ex-Mayor Spence when asked his opinion on the subject, said he really did not think about it, but supposed it would be a good thing. People

GOVERNMENT NOW ADMINISTERING MERCHANT MARINE

Fourteen Per Cent. of Half of World's Tonnage Requisitioned to Carry Food.

CARRYING FOR THE ALLIES

Canadian Official Says the Whole Problem of Shipping is Very Acute.

By Special Wire to the Courier.

London, May 4.—Admiral Baron Charles Beresford called the attention of the House of Lords yesterday to the depletion in the tonnage of British ships needed for trade purposes asserting that unless it were remedied it would endanger the supply of food and asking the government to consider the labor leaders with a view to obtaining more labor for ship building.

In reply, Earl Curzon, Lord Privy Seal, said the government is now administering the whole British merchant marine amounting to half the gross tonnage of the world. Forty three per cent. of the British tonnage, he added, has been requisitioned for naval and military purposes, fourteen per cent is occupied in carrying food stuffs and raw material in behalf of the government and its allies and the remaining forty three per cent. is being operated by British ship owners under state regulations.

CARRYING FOR ALLIES

"Our ships are carrying supplies of coal, grain, food, timber, munitions, and the raw material of munitions to all our allies on an unprecedented scale," continued Earl Curzon. "But for these supplies to France, Russia and Italy, they would be dependent upon their own totally inadequate resources. In several instances the shortage of tonnage has been balanced by new ships. It is surprising that we stood the strain so well. Five hundred merchant vessels of all sorts are being built and the number of small craft added to the mercantile marine has been more than 2,600."

CANADIAN LUMBERMEN

Personally Earl Curzon said he would like to see a much greater restriction of imports. The great difficulty was how to satisfy the conflicting interests of the allies and the dominions. The Government had engaged a considerable number of Canadian lumbermen to cut timber in this country and fifteen hundred of them were now on their way to England. By using British supplies of timber for sleepers, pit props and other purposes, he believed England would be less dependent upon foreign supplies and quite a large result from the experiment was expected in a few weeks.

Earl Curzon also announced that a total of 450 enemy ships had been detected, seized or captured by the allies in all parts of the world since the beginning of the war.

RESTRICTING IMPORTS

London, May 4.—(Montreal Gazette Cable)—Discussing the shipping question, Mr. W. L. Griffith, secretary to the high commissioner, said that the majority of Canadians seemed to have difficulty in realizing the acuteness of the problem. As the result of a conference he had had with the Board of Trade some relief for Canadian shipping had been devised, but the Board were rigidly adhering to the restriction of imports. Mr. Griffith stated that an important order which is being placed by the war office will result to the benefit of Ontario, and will be shipped to that province.

THE NOTABLE WORDS OF MR. CLARK

Verbatim Report of What the Liberal Member For Red Deer Said—The Striking Rebuke He Made to Some of His Carping Colleagues.

The speech which Dr. Michael Clark, the Liberal member for Red Deer, recently made in the Dominion House, will forever rank as one of the most patriotic and high-minded utterances ever delivered in the Canadian Commons. Sir Robert Borden, the Premier, in asking for a war vote of $250,000,000, had delivered one of those fiery and statesmanlike utterances for which he is so justly esteemed. Then some of the Laurierites followed with a lot of carping criticisms touching upon minor matters relating to Canadian war expenditures. Finally Dr. Clark interposed as follows: (Hansard official report):

"I intervene in this discussion with some reluctance, because I have a very great question in my mind as to whether this discussion should really be taking place. I think, Sir, there is room for grave doubt whether we are not losing our sense of proportion in the greatest crisis that has been passed through by this country, by this Empire, by the world, and by the world's prospects of the advance of civilization from a strict sense of duty and because I think it would be unfortunate that a vote of this magnitude in connection with a war of this magnitude, should pass without a note of clear support of the Government at this crisis, coming from this side of the House.

I come from a province where up to the present moment we have recruited 2,650 more men that make our quota toward the 500,000 at which the Government is aiming. This is a fact of which, as an Albertan, I am reasonably proud, and that is a fact for which I find the explanation, if it is to be found, in this: That the people of this province are not so much concerned where the sugar is being got for the troops, as they are in getting the troops and getting the Germans.

FIELD KITCHENS FOR THE POOR

"Goulash Cannon" Go About Berlin for Benefit of the Poverty-Stricken.

Berlin, May 4.—The portable field kitchens which the soldiers call "goulash cannons" are being introduced to the streets of the poorer sections of Berlin, selling warm dinners to the comers for 35 pennings per portion. The town council of Lichtenberg, a big suburb of north Berlin, was the first to adopt the idea. Many of the working people have no time to cook for themselves, and they can be far more cheaply fed by cooking en masse at central points and distributing the food through the field kitchens.

TORONTO EXCITED OVER GOODS SOLD MADE IN GERMANY

Evidence Supposed to be Conclusive Showing Such Are Sold.

GOVERNMENT IS INFORMED

That Brantford is not alone among the cities of Ontario in having German-made goods sent here is evidenced by a resolution drawn up at a meeting of the Toronto Anti-German League last evening, stating that as the meeting had learned on indisputable evidence that goods imported from Germany since the beginning of the war are being sold in Toronto, the Government was requested to prohibit absolutely the importation of German and Austrian-made goods, and to issue an official declaration that the sale of such goods shall not be less than 75 per cent.

Sworn evidence was given to the effect that a certain Toronto company had a large stock of German-made goods of recent importation, and samples were produced. These consisted of German-made hose and combs. It was stated that, by order of the managers of the stores, the labels "Made in Germany" had been removed or otherwise obliterated.

Success of French Arms Has Turned France Away From Itself and Killed Revival of Partisanship Growing Because of the Long Inaction at the Front.

ATTACKED THE CLERICALS

Paris, May 4.—(Correspondence of the Associated Press)—The battle of Verdun appears to have had a great moral effect in France. It has turned attention from irritating discussions over details of the conduct of the war and has cut short an incipient revival of partisan spirit in parliament and in the press, which had been favored by relative stagnation at the front. Also it seems to have diminished the number of pessimists and hence increased French confidence in the final outcome.

ZEPPELIN L-20 IS DESTROYED

Driven Ashore on Western Side of Hafsø Firth, Norway.

London, May 4.—The Zeppelin L-20 has been completely destroyed and driven ashore on the western side of Hafsø Firth, Norway, according to advices from Stavanger. Some of the crew were rescued.

The zeppelin L-20 passed north of Sandness about 10 o'clock in the morning, says a Reuter despatch from Stavanger. She was flying at a low altitude, and was in a damaged condition. Boats put out to their assistance and the commander and one man were rescued and taken to a hospital.

The zeppelin was then driven over the hillsides and against a hillside. Its afterbody broke in two, and part of it fell to the ground. Some of the crew jumped or were hurled out.

The zeppelin then rose a little and was driven westward, but the bag of the dirigible collapsed in the centre and the airship descended rapidly.

A torpedo boat which had been following along the coast went to its assistance and rescued three men still in the cabin. A fourth man had jumped out shortly before.

Of the rescued men, three officers and two non-commissioned officers were brought ashore; the whereabouts of the rest of the crew is not known. The zeppelin was completely destroyed and driven ashore on the western side of the firth, near its outlet to the sea.

Baltimore, Md., May 4.—Although the home runs of George Twombly and Bates accounted for enough runs to win an ordinary game, the Orioles lost yesterday to Toronto because Pitcher Knowlson was unable to last the full route. The Leafs jumped on the former Mackman in the eighth and tied the count, and before Jack Dunn removed him in the ninth the Canucks had placed the laurels on the ice.

THE GRAND TRUNK PACIFIC HAS ASKED THE GOVERNMENT TO TAKE IT OVER AS LIABILITIES TOO GREAT

Alfred W. Snithers, Chairman of the Board of Directors of the G. T. P. Wrote to Sir Robert Borden Last December Outlining Financial Difficulties and Requesting That Road be Transferred to the Country.

Ottawa, May 4.—"We are now at the end of our tether with regard to Grand Trunk Pacific financing. I propose, as the only safe solution of our difficulties, that the Government should take over the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway, as from January 1 next, with all its branch lines, together with its development company and other subsidiary companies."

The letter which graphically sets forth the hopeless position in which the Laurier agency finds itself, failing further Government assistance, is one of a series of documents bearing on the proposed loans to the Grand Trunk Pacific and Canadian Northern Railway companies which were tabled in the Commons yesterday by the Minister of Finance.

The documents will be considered by the Parliament in connection with the Government's proposal to loan $75,000,000 to the Canadian Northern Railway Company, and $8,000,000 to the Grand Trunk Pacific. According to Mr. Snithers' letter, the Grand Trunk Company, however, is anxious to wash its hands of the Grand Trunk Pacific altogether. He refers therein to a suggestion by the Prime Minister to the Laurier Government to enable the road to meet its fixed charges for five years, and states that under present circumstances he did not think the Grand Trunk company would be justified in entering into any arrangement which would involve the accumulation of further liabilities against that company's revenue.

LIABILITIES TO BE MET. As regards the liabilities of the Grand Trunk Pacific, Mr. Snithers points out that "the liabilities will begin to accumulate as from January 1 next, against net revenue and other deficiencies will have to be met by the government and the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway Company. Under present circumstances, it is quite impossible for the Grand Trunk Pacific Company to meet extra liabilities arising from the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway. The amount of interest guaranteed by the Grand Trunk Pacific is about $2,750,000 annually, to which must be added the interest on the money spent on branch lines over and above the amount for which bonds have been or will be guaranteed by the Provincial Governments. It is expected that the Provincial Governments will issue additional bonds to cover some of this amount, leaving probably about $8,000,000 due to the Grand Trunk Railway company. The amount of interest guaranteed by the government amounts to about $4,000,000 per annum. In any case the Government would have to find interest charges on the amount of $4,000,000, which amount, however, includes $1,000,000 which the government has to pay on the mountain section bonds. The first Grand Trunk Pacific payments for interest after January 1 next will become due on March 1, and amount to just $1,000,000, and there is no prospect of our being able to meet that payment."

WINIFRED BLACK WRITES ABOUT The Visions of Youth

Winifred Black

The little boy was late to breakfast yesterday. This morning he was late again, and last night when I went to call him for dinner...

The Doting "Copy Cat."

What strange ideals we have when we are little! I remember a girl who was the most beautiful creature alive in my eyes, when I was seven.

I imitated that girl for weeks. I couldn't have curls like her, but my mother wouldn't hear of a pinked jacket.

I walked like the "Vision," a little too-in, with a sort of lovely graceful awkwardness. It seemed to me, she lisped, and I lisped.

Slavishly I followed her every trick of speech and of manner until one day, when I tried to write with my left hand because she did, she laughed at me and called me a "copy cat."

I noticed that night that the look of puzzled worry on my mother's face began to change, and my little brother no longer watched me with awestruck amazement.

What Trick Catches You?

Later I fell under another enchantment. An older girl in the "big class" let me carry her books home from school for her one day, and I was lost again.

Who are you trying to look like, little boy, with your pompadour and your manful stride, and the strange gestures you are beginning to make?

Today's Fashion

I will watch you down the road. I'm glad her parents moved away before I had known her long. I'm afraid I might have gone on admiring her, and that would not have been good for me.

Perhaps the pompadour boy will be there. I hope so. I should really love to see him.

HOUSEHOLD HELPS When Saving Is Extravagance

A FRENCHWOMAN once said of an American housewife: "She throws into the garbage pail more than her husband can shovel in at the front door."

There is no doubt that through lack of information or experience a great deal is wasted in many homes. But there is another kind of waste that is just as much to be avoided, and that is the waste that comes from a desire to be economical.

Revelations of a Wife By ADELE GARRISON

Why Madge Felt Absolute Confidence in Miss Sonnot's Abilities.

NEVER was treated so outrageously in my life. With flashing eyes and flushed cheeks the trained nurse whom my mother-in-law had ordered from her room, confronted Dr. Pettit.

"Am I to understand that you would like to give up the case if another nurse can be secured?" the calm, grave tones of Dr. Pettit calmed the woman, and she was more composed as she answered.

"Her temperature has risen, and she is not responding to the treatment as I had hoped, although it is really too soon to judge of that. I will tell you frankly that I am afraid we are going to have a fight on our hands, and we must have skilled help. She has changed her mind about trained nurses, and now says her daughter-in-law can take care of her well enough."

"One thing I knew. The grave, steady face, the steady eyes told me. One could say a loved one's life in those slim, capable hands and rest assured that as far as human aid could go it would be safe."

Secrets of Health and Happiness

How the Breath of Life Is Brought to Your Body

By DR. LEONARD KEENE HIRSHBERG A. B., M. A., M. D. (Johns Hopkins University)

If a thing is alive, it breathes. The slimy creature in the sea oozes at the bottom of the ocean, the bacterium, which associates its unweildy self with tuberculosis, sore throat, "colds," "flu," "croup," the pussy-willow, the fern, the salmon, the bird, the monkey, may, even the despicable green mold on stale bread or the ring-worm fungus on human skin has its requisite respiration.

Perhaps they have lungs, again it may be gills, or even a hole or vacuole, but somehow all living creatures take in some sort of gas, even if it is not always—as it usually is—atmospheric oxygen.

Be the peculiarity of respiration what it is, the "function" or physiological mechanism of breathing is nothing less nor more than an exchange of old lamps for new; in human examples of carbonic acid gas—a waste or by-product—for oxygen. This is "to breathe"—the root of the word anciently meant "spirit."

Air is a mixture of gases. The atmosphere holds oxygen, nitrogen and traces of several less important gases, such as helium, argon, water vapor, hydrogen peroxide and carbonic acid.

Whenever you breathe—commonly it takes a minute—oxygen enters and carbonic acid gas makes its exit. Respiration, therefore, calls for two necessities—gases and a passageway for them. The intermediary of respiration is exchange in germs and microbes is moisture. This acts as a vehicle to carry gases to and from within the creature to without.

How Oxygen Acts. While there is a vital secret locked in the bosom of Nature about respiration, this much is explainable mechanically. A gas always passes in the direction of least pressure. That is to say, the nearer there is to a complete vacuum present, the more certain will the gas flow—fly, or expand, if you will—toward it.

It will do this even where a membrane or other semi-opaque curtain interferes or locks the way. When the pressure is greater outside than in—inside the same gas is or is not present—it will enter and penetrate the screen or membrane which seems an obstacle.

Carbonic acid gas is formed continuously on the living texture of man and other animals. This keeps its pressure always greater there than outside in the air. This induces its exodus. The reverse holds true for oxygen.

No balance can ever be established, because oxygen is quickly burned up in the living structures, whereas carbon dioxide is simultaneously generated in creatures of simple structure—such as the spot of living jelly with a dot in it called an amoeba, or even a typhoid bacillus—the pressure of oxygen in the sea or the other fluid in which they are found, is very low. The carbonic acid gas, however, made in the animal's or vegetable's tissues is under pressure, and oxygen continually enters to replace this as it is squeezed forth.

Structure of Lungs. In man and the higher animals, blood comes stale and "blue" because the bright red corpuscles lightly transport the bright oxygen liberate the oxygen to the Man is as hollow within as a barrel or a house. Inside his cavities are the groups of tissues busy with his life processes. Indeed, man may be likened to a two-story bungalow with the ceiling of the first floor just above his living and his sleeping.

This ceiling is elastic and muscular. It is known as the diaphragm, and resembles the canvas flap of a circus tent. When the muscle fibres in it are relaxed it is too large to press evenly across the stomach and liver, so balloons up, and as the top of a circus tent does when the wind blows.

As it rises it helps to squeeze out the bad air in the lungs, and as it contracts and contracts, oxygen is sucked into the lungs, which, to be sure, occupy the second-story, and even the third-story in front of the barrel-shaped bungalow man.

Answers to Health Questions. C. M. Q.—Can you give me a remedy for ulceration of the stomach?

A.—Ulcers of the stomach are usually caused by indigestion, typhoid fever, infected teeth and many other germ diseases. Other causes are food too highly seasoned, condiments, peppers, salts, soups and hot drinks and hot victuals.

G. H. W. Q.—I have noticed for some time little specks appearing before my eyes. Can you suggest a remedy for this?

A.—Have the eyes examined and in the mean time bathe in warm boracic acid water twice daily.

Advice to Girls By ANNIE LAURIE

DEAR ANNE LAURIE: There is a fellow that hangs around our house, and when he comes out he comes and speaks to me and wants me to meet him at night. Now I have made dates with him, but I have not kept them, thinking he would take the hint, but he does not. He is not a bad looking boy, but I cannot like him. I do not know why. Then there is a boy who lives about our house or three doors from us, and he wants to go with me, and I consented to it. He is a very handsome fellow, and knows his manners well. I am 18 years of age. Please help me by giving me advice as to how to get rid of that fellow.

LITTLE TEASE: It would be ever so much better, my dear, instead of trying to be "diplomatic" with the young man who persists in waiting for you, to tell him frankly that you do not care for his attentions, and that you do not wish to have him wait for you. If you are really serious in your desire to be rid of his unentirely pleasant presence, all you need do is to speak to your father or your brother, and leave it to them.

DEAR ANNIE LAURIE: I am in love with a very nice looking fellow—ten times as nice looking as I am, and I am not bad looking—but not what you call pretty. He used to work at the same place I do, but now he has left. While he was here he used to tell me how he loved me, and I love him also. I used to go out with him often. He wrote a letter to me a long while ago, but I never answered it. Do you think it is too late to answer it, or I love him dearly? I am a young girl with no one to advise me in such matters. Please help me, O'NEILY ROSE.

O'NEILY ROSE: If you really and truly like this young man there is no reason why you should not reply to his letter even if you have delayed your answer so long. Tell him on the other hand, my dear, he cannot be exceedingly anxious to hear from you or he would not persist in your delay in answering his letter to keep him from writing to you again. Nor can you be as much in love with him as you say or you would have answered his letter at once. Really, aren't you more in love with love than you are with him?

There was a choppy sea so that the work of getting the ropes around the mine was of a hazardous character. The men succeeded, however, in securing it, but after towing it for a quarter of an hour the mine blew up, sending smoke and water to a great height, and fragments of the mine fell about the steamer.

O'Connor Don, the Lord Lieutenant of the County of Down, and one of the most active supporters of recruiting in Ireland, has written to the Dublin press complaining that the promises of support to their dependants by the young Irishmen enlisting have been very inadequately kept. Delays of months have, he says, taken place in the payments of money to the dependants of the deceased, and the money allocated has been totally inadequate. Wounded and discharged soldiers have been returning to their homes in County Antrim, and often sent back totally unfit for work, and without pay or pension being granted to them.

Belfast Boy Scouts have by a collection of empty bottles for the purpose of providing a "Boy Scouts Recreation Hut" for the front already raised the necessary sum of $3,000, and a letter has been received from Sir R. Baden-Powell, in which he says: "I am astounded and delighted by the good news which you send me of the splendid work done by the Boy Scouts of Belfast. It is quite a record in the history of the movement, and testifies to the splendid spirit existing among the Scouts and their officers and those kind sympathisers who have given such liberal help to their effort."

The adventures of a twenty-year old domestic servant employed at Leyton, Essex, who conceived the idea of joining the Army as a man, in imitation of Russian girls about whom she had read, are related by a Windsor correspondent. On her afternoon off she travelled to London, and got a barber to cut her hair short, saying a doctor had advised this course. She bought a suit of clothes "for her husband," and then journeyed to Stoke Poges, where in a shrubbery she changed into male attire. The girl, however, was dismayed on finding that a medical examination was necessary before she could enlist. Then it came on to hail and snow, and not knowing what to do, she called at a house, and confessed her dilemma. She was given hospitality, and servants provided her with an outfit of girl's clothes. She was then taken in charge by the police.

Irregular marriages in Scotland are receiving the attention of the Secretary of State for Scotland, and he has recently introduced in the House of Commons a bill to amend the present registration law. A memorandum attached to the bill states that the present law provides that the parties to an irregular marriage in Scotland may apply to the sheriff within three months of the marriage for a warrant to register the marriage. Owing to the neglect of the parties many warrants are not followed by registration. The number of applications has considerably increased since the war, and there is reason to suppose that the parties in a number of cases are soldiers and sailors. The bill makes it possible for men serving in the colors to comply with the limits of a short furlough with the formalities necessary to a regular marriage. At present that is often impossible, and many who would prefer to be married regularly are compelled to resort to an irregular marriage.
