THE NOVA SCOTIA TEMPERANCE ACT.

ITS MERITS AND DEFECTS. BETTER LEGISLATION REQUIRED. The Nova Scotia Temperance Act marks a distinct change of policy, on the part of the Government, in the matter of temperance legislation, and is a decided step in advance upon previous provincial enactments.

GOVERNMENT ENFORCEMENT.

Again, the change of policy on the part of the Government, and the advance made in temperance legislation, is seen in the adoption of the principle of Government enforcement of the liquor laws.

DEFECTS IN THE ACT.

While the Nova Scotia Temperance Act was careful, at the earliest opportunity, to express appreciation of the Government in placing upon the statute the N. S. Temperance Act, the Alliance was also careful to state that the Act required to be amended.

INADEQUATE PENALTIES.

One of the serious defects in the Act, is the inadequacy of the penalties. These are the same as in the Scott Act. The magistrate may imprison for first or second offence, or impose a fine. As a rule, the option granted the magistrate of sending a violator of the law to prison is of no avail.

NOT REAL PROHIBITION.

We have had nominal prohibition under the local option method in 15 out of 18 counties in the province for many years, but not real prohibition, because with other defects, the penalties were utterly inadequate. We appeal to electors to use their influence, so that at the ensuing session of the House of Assembly our representatives will vote for an amendment to the Act which will remedy this defect.

THE MATTER OF PENALTIES, THE ACT IS FAR SHORTER TO UNITED STATES LEGISLATION.

For instance, we there find such drastic legislation as the following: For first offence, three to twelve months working on the roads, and for second offence, a year or more in the penitentiary. Fine $15 and judgment against a person, a lien upon the building where the liquor is sold.

WOLFVILLE, N.S., DEC. 30, 1910

A Happy New Year! The twenty-seventh THE ACADIAN has wished its readers...

Deserved Criticism.

It is a characteristic of Earl Grey that when he speaks to the people, no matter where, he delivers a message worth while.

In Toronto recently when attending a boy scout movement meeting, he expressed the opinion that our schools are not sending out boys fitted, when they become men, to be resisters of a splendid destiny.

Your children, observed our Governor-General, in many places are without manners. That is not their fault, but their parents' and teachers' fault.

Lord Dufferin was the first Governor-General to interest himself in our manners. His criticism made a strong protest against the habit observed in the press and private life, of speaking of ladies by their first names.

A spirit of self-assertiveness prevails among our young people whose manners are derived from the several schools of our country. This is the fault of parental indifference, and of the inability of the teacher to add deportment to the already comprehensive list of studies.

These rules appear to have been repeated. This is most unfortunate, especially for those who are the victims, for of the many qualities that contribute to success in life there is not one that is more potent than courteous behavior.

A kindly disposition, backed by actions that are prudent and attractive, constitutes the fortune for the average man or woman. It gives the man an advantage in his intercourse with his fellows, and it adds to the beauty and the loveliness of the woman.

The humblest born and poorest man in Canada, who is moved by high ideals, is a greater gentleman than a rich man without any. Earl Grey says, "God help the people whose teachers teach that irreverence is a mark of sturdy independence, and he speaks with truth. It is a fact that although too little attention is being paid by educators to the development in their pupils of those instincts which are essential to mark the gentleman in after years.

Whether the curriculum is too overcrowded to make it possible to do more in that direction, or that it is not regarded as being sufficiently important to warrant any special attention, we do not know. What we do know, however, is that there is not only plenty of room, but marked need for improvement. It should be the duty of somebody to see that the criticism of our Governor-General never again be uttered by anyone.

Electricity and Farmers. The government of Ontario has adopted a scheme so that farmers as well as the manufacturers, may share in the benefits of the Hydro-electric power of that wide awake province.

Low tension wires are to be erected to radiate thirty miles from the power centres. Upon the request of twenty farmers a line will be built. The government will construct the lines and the farmers interested will pay interest on the cost at the rate of four per cent. The cost will be so low as to encourage the general use of electricity for lighting and many labor saving purposes.

Drunkards on Trains. The Supreme Court of New York has just given a strong decision to the effect that a railroad company was liable for damages if it failed to protect passengers, by putting off quarrelsome or disgusting drunkards, and to prevent scandal and aggression.

Intoxicated and irresponsible persons have no business in public conveyances and they should not be permitted to get into a car, and once there, at the first sign of misconduct they should be gently and firmly put off.

There is much in the newspapers these days about the very great shortage of turkeys. Even England seems to have had to supply out of. We are glad to know that our own shortage exists in Wolfville, and that while many tons were consumed at Christmas there are still plenty on hand for New Year.

A Chicago medical authority has discovered that grief is a disease. This may be true, but the practice we hold in great service, to be cured.

The Reviewer.

THE FARMERS AT OTTAWA.

When the big demonstration of Farmers unfolded their grievances at Ottawa two weeks ago there were those who were ungenerous enough to say or think that these farmers were asking too much. They were certainly asking a good deal. But they were not unfair in their demands. They were not asking when they reminded politicians of their promises and enquired why these solemn promises had not been kept.

The policy of a party is practically a contract with the people, and those who have accepted the terms are justified in wanting those who prepared the agreement to give a good reason for willfully breaking it.

Fourteen years ago the present Premier of Canada made a tour of the provinces, expounding his policy and promising certain lines of action. He pledged himself definitely to wipe out the tariff and abolish the duties on agricultural implements. His speeches upon the tariff were direct and could not be misunderstood. He described protection as slavery. He stood with uplifted hand that if he signed any law which imposed such a system, he would resign his office.

Richard King's organization of farmers advising them to work together with the party then seeking to abolish protection, as he said their interests were identical. Protection is in Canada to stay, and with our increased tariff is more likely to be increased than cut down. When the farmers came to Ottawa there were those who were ready to say that the Ottawa demonstration, the unusual gathering, was another case of "the chicken coming home to roost."

Class legislation is quite improper and unfair, and we must feel that the attempted stampeding of our politicians at Ottawa by the farmers was ill advised and likely to react against their own best interests.

For instance, very large industrial interests are represented in the controversy between the farmers and the manufacturers of agricultural implements in respect to the duty on the same. Nothing is more important in this country than that the produce which the farmer brings to market be kept within reasonable limits of price.

On the other hand it is important that the implements required for the farmer be, as far as possible, the product of Canadian labor. The old national policy was based on the idea of developing the agricultural and the manufacturing industries of Canada as productive interests that are mutual and complimentary to each other.

Mowing machines, harvesters, binding attachments, reapers and parts thereof are subject to a general tariff of 7 1/2 per cent, ad valorem. The British preferential tariff rate is 12 1/2 per cent. As there are no mowing machines or self binders coming to this country from Great Britain, there is but one rate, namely, of 17 1/2 per cent.

On cultivators, plows, harrows, horse-rakes, seed drills, manure spreaders, weeders and wind-mills the general tariff is 20 per cent. For all practical purposes there is but one duty, that of 20 per cent. On hay loaders, potato diggers, feed cutters, grain crushers, fanning mills, hay tedders, field rollers and other implements not otherwise provided for, the general duty is 25 per cent. Besides the benefits of these duties the implement manufacturers have practical exemption from the customs duties on most of the rolled iron, rolled steel and pig iron they import for consumption in their factories. When these imported materials are used in the manufacture of any, or most of the implements, a drawback of 99 per cent of the duty is allowed. To other consumers of the same materials it could not but appear unfair to relieve makers of farm machines from the payment of the duty and to require full payment thereof by makers of stoves, furnaces, factory equipment and plant of all kinds.

These western grain growers allege grievances against the makers of implements, because they say that higher prices are charged in this country than elsewhere. It was affirmed that Canadian implements were being sold abroad at prices much below those current in this country. This, of course, is a matter for investigation. If the farmers have a grievance let it be redressed.

Farmers pay almost the lowest duties paid by any section of the people of Canada. They are able to raise from the soil the food they eat, the clothes they wear and the houses in which they live. They enjoy the home market of our cities and towns in order to sell their own products and wares. The prices they are able to procure for the products of their farms are altogether higher than ever before, and yet they complain. We are confident however that notwithstanding the excitement and noise of some of these farmers, who reached Ottawa, the great majority of the farmers of Canada are opposed to free trade with the United States. The farming communities of Canada would be well advised to stay clear of agitators.

Western Liberal papers are violent in their opposition to the demand of the Maritime Provinces representation in Parliament that they be not seriously reduced or absolutely wiped out. This is narrow but natural.

"I HAD ONE OF MY RAGING HEADACHES When I First Used 'Fruit-a-tive'"

DR. FITZ. You certainly have the 'Cerebrovascular' headache, in fact, before 'Fruit-a-tive' came before me, I suffered torturing headaches, caused mostly from stress disorders. I tried many different remedies without any relief.

One of your travellers called on me shortly after you started selling 'Fruit-a-tive', and on that day I had one of my raging headaches, and he brought almost in a raw sore from actual applications. I hated to see any one coming into the store (I am a general store keeper at the above address) and have been in the same store ever since. I told him, very early, that 'Fruit-a-tive' was the only remedy for such a headache and 'wast none of your medicine', but he very goodly offered me a sample of 'Fruit-a-tive' and insisted on my trying them. I did so, with what I would call a very good result. They completely cured me and since then (nearly six years) I have not had a headache, and I can take one occasionally to prevent me in my present profession.

'Fruit-a-tive' cures Headaches because it is the greatest blood purifying medicine in the world. 'Fruit-a-tive' is also the best remedy for rheumatism, neuralgia, dizziness, and all other ailments of the head, neck, and eyes. If your dealer does not handle 'Fruit-a-tive', send to Fruit-a-tive Limited, Ottawa, enclosing regular retail price.

The Last of Sam Slick's Family.

The death occurred on Tuesday morning at Nice, France, of Mrs. William Cunard, whose husband was a son of Sir Samuel Cunard, founder of the great steamship firm of S. Cunard and company. Mrs. Cunard was Laura Charlotte Haliburton, a daughter of Judge Haliburton (Sam Slick). Mrs. Cunard was for many years a resident of Halifax, where her husband, Wm. Cunard, represented the Halifax and West India line of steamships. On the termination of the mail contract to the West Indies, Mr. Cunard removed to London, where he resided until his death about two years ago.

The people of this portion of the field and some of the Lockhartville folks met at the home of their pastor on Tuesday night to give him and his wife a pleasant surprise. Each of the visitors brought parcels and deposited them upon the table and then settled themselves to have a good time. A very pleasant time was spent together with games, music, readings, etc. At a seasonable hour the party broke up, leaving their pastor that much richer in stock and good wishes.

Cute recitations by the little folk were, as is usual, well received. The boys showed up well in their parts. Besides sweet Christmas music, attention must be made to the Holly Drill given by eight young girls which received a hearty encore.

The appearance of Santa Claus was the signal for considerable excitement among the juniors, and with the distribution of gifts, the entertainment closed, all being apparently well satisfied.

George V. Conan Doyle says: George V., in my opinion, is the strongest and biggest man, mentally, who ever ascended the throne of England. I believe he has a greater facility with the needs and concerns of the British Empire than any man in England. He has all the gracious qualities that endeared his father to the people, and on the human side he is quite as much interested in the things that interest the average man as his father, except that they are of different character.

Cleaned by the Way.

Even Germany, which ought to be reconciled to military armament, is tiring of the kaptin.

Her boom swells with honest pride, Joy lights her honest, azure eyes, She has her washing out at nine, To all her neighbors' vast surprise.

A Bilious Headache. Mile to the blood is poison and causes pain. Mrs. Thos. Conant, Highland Grove, Ont., writes: For years I suffered with biliousness, stomach trouble and terrible headaches. Having used Dr. Chase's Kidney and Liver Pills will say without hesitating that this is the most effective treatment obtainable for these troubles.

Now, professor, you have heard my daughter sing, tell me what I ought to do with her.

Sir, if I told you what you ought to do with her the law would hold me as an accessory.

Pity the Babies. All babies whom mothers do not know about Dr. Chase's treatment are truly to be pitied. They are sure to have skin troubles of one kind or another such as itching, skin irritation, scald, head, neck rash or baby eczema, and scabies can bring them comfort so quickly as Dr. Chase's treatment. It stops itching promptly and heals the skin like a charm.

He had long hair and a pensive look. He wrote a poem entitled "Why live." He signed it Angustus and sent it to a magazine.

The editor wrote to him as follows: "My dear Angustus, the reason why you live is because you sent the poem by mail instead of bringing it personally."

The greatest danger from influenza is its resulting in pneumonia. This can be avoided by using Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, as it not only cures influenza, but counteracts any tendency of the disease towards pneumonia. Sold by Read's Drug Store.

The peculiar properties of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy have been thoroughly tested during epidemics of influenza, and when it was used in time we have heard of a single case of pneumonia. Sold by Read's Drug Store.

Caller: "May I ask whether you pay for poetry?" Western Editor: "Sometimes, indirectly."

Caller: "Indirectly? How is that?" Western Editor: "Well, we had to pay a heavy doctor's bill for a poet who was rash enough to come here last week."

"How much does that stylish doctor of yours charge?" "Ten dollars a tin has he called at your house this month?" "Twenty times."

"Gosh! you owe him $200 then?" "Nope, only $20. He's made the other 19 calls trying to collect it."

Cobbler—should like to lend you that $20 old man, but I know how it should be if I did—it would end our friendship.

Stowe—Well old chap, there has been a great deal of friendship between us. I think I could make it five, we might worry along on half as much.

DR. A. W. CHASE'S CATARRH POWDER 25c. In each packet the famous powder by the Imperial Powder Co. of London, England, is sold in the original tin. Sold by Read's Drug Store.

A little girl who had a live bantam presented to her was disappointed at the smallness of the first egg laid by the bird. Her ideal egg was that of the ostrich, a specimen of which was on the table in the drawing room. One day the ostrich's egg was missing from its accustomed place. It was subsequently found near the spot where the bantam nested, and on it was stuck a piece of paper, with the words: "Something like this, please. Keep on trying."

How to Remove Paper from the Wall. An excellent way to remove paper from the wall when desiring to re-paper a room is to make a "chase." This is done by cutting the paper with a large brush or cloth, wetting every part. After allowing this to stand for a little while the paper may be taken off in great strips without making a bit of dust or dirt.

Some Varied Hints.

When washing flannels put two teaspoonfuls of ammonia into one gallon of water, to soften the fabric. Flour thrown over burning oil will instantly extinguish it, while water only spreads the flames.

When grease is spilled on the kitchen floor, pour cold water upon it at once. This will harden it, and prevent its soaking into the boards. Silk dresses should never be brushed, but should be carefully rubbed with an old piece of velvet kept especially for that purpose.

A dying fire may be coaxed into life by scattering over the embers a tablespoonful of granulated sugar. The tender leaves and small ends of the stalks of celery, if dried, are excellent for flavoring soups.

To renew velvet, cover the face of a flat-iron with a wet cloth, hold the wrong side of the velvet next to this cloth until thoroughly steamed; then brush the pile with a soft brush.

To powder paralytic, the bunch is dipped quickly into boiling water to make it a brilliant green; then put into a hot oven for a few moments to dry thoroughly. After this it may be broken into tiny flakes.

For that Dull Feeling After Eating. I have used Chamberlain's Mucilage and Laxative for some time, and can testify that they have done me more good than any tablets I have ever used. My trouble was a heavy dull feeling after eating.—DAVID FERRELL, Kemp, Nova Scotia. These tablets strengthen the stomach and improve the digestion. They also regulate the liver and bowels. They are far superior to pills but cost no more. Get a free sample at Read's Drug Store and see what a splendid medicine it is.

A Cable Recorder. One of the most ingenious devices employed to record cable messages is used in foreign countries. A fine wire is stretched vertically between poles of powerful electro-magnet. The currents from the cable in passing through the wire cause it to be deflected, according to their direction at one time to the north and at another to the south pole of a magnet. The shadow of the wire, projected across a narrow slit, falls as a black spot upon a strip of photographic paper that is caused to travel at a fixed rate of speed.

When the message has been received the photographic paper that is caused to be automatically developed and becomes the handwriting of the instrument, to be ready when desired. It is claimed that a speed of 70 words per minute has been attained with this novel recorder. The machine has not been placed in use in America.

A Good Position. Can be had by ambitious young men and ladies in the field of "Wireless" or "radio" telegraphy. Since the 8 hour law became effective, and since the wireless companies are establishing stations throughout the country there is a great shortage of telegraphers. Positions pay beginners from $70 to $90 per month, with good chance of advancement. The National Telegraph Institute operates six official institutes in America, under the supervision of R. R. and Wireless officials and places all graduates into positions. I cannot say too much for this full details at Cincinnati, O., or Philadelphia, Pa.

Railway Flower Garden. Sixteen years ago the flower scheme of the C. P. R. was inaugurated. There are now over 1500 gardens on the whole system. While the men who take care of these, in their spare time, are naturally amateurs, their taste and example have spread to the communities across the continent with astonishing beneficial results. Enthusiasm and success this year have been greater than ever, showing the good use there has been made of the thousands of packages of seeds, plants and shrubs, which were distributed early in the spring. A number of prizes were awarded all over the system for the best gardens, and the winners' names will be announced shortly. Now the company is sending out over half a million bulbs for fall planting and early blossom in the spring of 1911. The company purchases all new varieties of flowers procurable and the markets of the world are sought for seeds and bulbs. Travelers on the Canadian Pacific are delighted with the green lawns brightened by flowers which greet their eyes, and it is a common occurrence for some flower lover from Europe or the United States to "visit" into the company's offices with a carefully prepared flower plan in some station garden to ask the name and how to cultivate it.

Ceople Apple.—Put some apples and take out the cores with a corer, without breaking the fruit. Cook the apples in water to which a little lemon juice is added, then let them out, drain, and place in a shallow baking dish. Fill the centres of the apples with current jelly or marmalade. Add half a cup of sugar to the liquid in the saucepan, boil to a syrup and pour over the apples. Drop a spoonful of marmalade of the white of egg and powdered sugar, beaten together on top of each apple, and set in a moderate oven for about ten minutes.

Many persons find themselves afflicted with a persistent cough after an attack of influenza. As this cough can be promptly cured by the use of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, it should not be allowed to run on until it becomes troublesome. Sold by Read's Drug Store.

A Physician, lately returned from touring in a foreign country, presented the best success yet. She said: My husband is a Russian, and I did not want to see him.

New Use of Glass.

The use of glass, instead of china, has become popular for bedrooms in London, according to the Daily Mail, and there really is something very bright in the aspect of a room that has a white or cream striped paper, gay chintz curtains of a flowery paper pattern, and on the washstand of which is placed a piece of plate glass with a piece of Irish lace, and on which in turn, you stand the basin, jugs, bottles, etc., also of glass!

For powder pots, large and small, are glass ones with lids, and for jewel receptacles, can one imagine anything daintier than a glass dish which has a lid and is supplied with a rose-colored cushion on which to lay brooches in use, chains, pendants, and the like? Glass candlesticks are nice with rose-colored candles and shades, the latter covered with lace.

The newest idea is to paint a piece of glass for wash-stand or toilet table on the under side with blue, pink, silver oxidized paint—what you will, color shows through very prettily.

A sprained ankle will usually disable the injured person for a few or four weeks. This is due to lack of proper treatment. When Chamberlain's Liniment is applied a cure may be effected in two or three days. It is the best and most remarkable preparation in use. Sold by Read's Drug Store.

Your Grocer Knows EVERY good grocer is willing and anxious to please his customers. Sometimes if he happens to be out of the goods you ask for, he may recommend a different brand rather than keep you waiting. But when it comes to flour, he knows that Ogilvie's

Royal Household Flour is one of the things for which there is no substitute. No other flour is "just as good." Ogilvie's "Royal Household" is in a class distinctly by itself. To offer a substitute for "Royal Household" would be like offering oleomargarine to a customer who wanted prime dairy butter. No good grocer would do it. When you tell him you want Ogilvie's Royal Household Flour, he will send that and nothing else.

Ogilvie's Book for a Cook, with 125 pages of recipes that have been tried and tested, will be sent free if you will send us your address and mention the name of your dealer.

Let Us Be Kind. Let us be kind: The way is long and lonely, And human hearts are aching for the blessing only— That we be kind. We cannot know the grief that may be born, We cannot see the souls storm-swept by sorrow. But love can shine upon the way to-day, to-morrow— Let us be kind.

Why He Did Not Drink. Four young men riding in a Pullman car chatting merrily together. At last one of them said: "Boys, I think it's time for drinks. Two of them consented, the other shook his head and said: 'No, I thank you.' 'What?' exclaimed his companion, 'have you become pious? Are you going to preach? Do you think you will become a missionary?' 'No, fellows,' he replied, 'I am not pious, and I may get to be one some day, but I have determined not to drink another drop, and I will tell you why. I had some business in Chicago with an old pawbroker, and as I stood before his counter talking about it, there came a young man about my age, and threw down upon the counter a little bundle. When the pawbroker opened it he found it was a pair of baby's shoes, with the buttons a trifle worn. The old pawbroker seemed to have some heart left in him, and he said: 'Look here, you ought not to sell your baby's shoes for drink.' 'Never mind, Cohen; baby is at home dead, and does not need the shoes. Give me ten cents for a drink.' 'Say fellows, I have a wife and baby at home, and when I saw what liquor could do in degrading that husband and father, I made up my mind that, God helping me, not a drop of that stuff should ever pass my lips again.'"

A New Temperance Movement. "Catch my Pal" is the unique name of a remarkable temperance movement which has been working a wonderful transformation in the North of Ireland during the last six months. It was originated by Rev. Robert J. Patterson of Armagh, who is a shrewd and witty Irish orator.

One day last July this clergyman persuaded twelve hard drinkers in the city of Armagh to sign the pledge. Before parting with them he said: "Now perhaps each of you could bring a pal to my house to-morrow and induce him to sign."

"I think I can catch my pal," said one of the men, and that was the origin of the "Catch my Pal" movement now sweeping over the North of Ireland.

Scarcely a town or village in Ulster is without an enthusiastic band of members each of whom wears an emerald brass button bearing the words "Catch My Pal, Ulster." The public houses in many of the province's manufacturing towns have lost fully fifty per cent of their trade. At the same time, the temperance movement has already taken strong root even in Glasgow. In the latter city the originator inaugurated the movement himself at a grand Sunday afternoon meeting. At the close of his address two hundred men gathered around him, and with uplifted arms recited the pledge after him, and then were dismissed and determined vows all declared. "We will see this thing through."

A Good Answer. To the question propounded by Mayor Ross, "Where will the people employed in the liquor business find work when it is prohibited?" Dr. Dickie said:

Of one of Michigan's towns the men were wiped out, the other day a woman's wife went over to a neighbor's and began to stomp about the people taking away her husband's business. "What am I to do when he has closed up?" she exclaimed.

"The neighbors had a woman scrubbing the floors, and this woman could stand it no longer. 'I'll tell you what you can do,' she said, with flashing eyes. 'My husband has been getting $12 a week, and has spent half of it in your husband's saloon. Now that the saloon is to be closed, he can support me, and you can have my job here after scrubbing.'"

Expenses of an Alcoholic Slave. In McClure's Magazine for August an "Alcoholic Slave," whose reliability was vouched for by the magazine, declared that he had kept an accurate account of his expenditures and during thirty years his habit had cost him in cash $21,098.88, while during the same period it had robbed him of 24 good jobs.

Mr. H. E. Hill of Shelton, Me., writes: "I suffered a long time with piles and tried numerous remedies, but without effect. Having tried a sample of Zam-Buk and being encouraged by the results, I persevered, using two boxes. It worked like magic, and effected a complete cure in a very short time."

Mr. James Ruddy of Killon, Ont., says: "I suffered greatly from piles. The pain from these—as anyone who suffers from them will know—was almost unbearable. I tried first one remedy and then another, but with no effect. Then I heard about Zam-Buk and determined to give this wonderful balm a trial. I obtained a supply and commenced with the treatment, and to my great joy, after persevering with Zam-Buk, I obtained permanent relief from the agonizing pain of the piles.
