BOMB OUTRAGE

In New York.

19 KILLED, 97 INJURED

Settlement of Miners' Dispute--
French President Has Resigned
--New President Will be Chosen
Sept. 28.

BOMB OUTRAGE IN NEW YORK.

NEW YORK, Sept. 16. A bomb exploded outside J. P. Morgan & Co.'s Offices in the Financial District at noon today, killing fifteen to thirty people, injuring scores of others and partially wrecking the Morgan Offices and the United States Sub-Treasury. The Stock Exchange was immediately closed and the attention of the Financial District centered on caring for the dead and wounded. The entire of Manhattan Island felt the shock.

DELIBERATELY PLANNED BY "REDS."

NEW YORK, Sept. 16. Chief Police Inspector Lahey reported late today that he had found evidence to justify the conclusion that the explosion was caused by a huge bomb loaded with T. N. T.—Trinitrotoluol—reinforced with iron slugs fashioned from window weight bars. Warnings that the radicals planned a renewal of bombings were sent recently to all eastern clients of the Wm. J. Burns Detective Agency, according to a statement today by Burns, who said he is convinced that today's explosion is a premeditated attack and was not accidental.

CASUALTY LIST HEAVY.

NEW YORK, Sept. 16. Police Headquarters reported at seven o'clock this evening that it was definitely known that at least nineteen people were killed and ninety-seven injured in the explosion. Complete casualty figures, the police said, would show at least ten more killed, and several scores more injured, most of them by flying glass.

POLES DEFEAT SOVIETS.

WARSAW, Sept. 16. Polish operations against the Soviet forces along the upper reaches of the Bug River have been completely successful and the Soviet forces have been defeated, according to reports reaching the city. The Poles have captured three thousand prisoners, twenty-five cannon, five airplanes, two armored trains and fifty machine guns. It is officially announced.

RETURN TO WORK.

CINCINNATI, Sept. 16. Ten thousand union machinists in Cincinnati district, who have been on strike for twenty weeks past, have voted to return to work. It was announced at union headquarters here today.

MINERS' LEADERS HAVE MISGIVINGS.

LONDON, Sept. 16. Indications that the leaders of the Miners' Federation have misgivings relative to calling a strike, are found in the announcement of a conference Thursday. It is said another conference with Sir Robert Horne, President of the Board of Trade, will be asked for.

SETTLEMENT OF MINERS' DISPUTE LIKELY.

LONDON, Sept. 16. Prospects for a settlement of the miners' dispute with the Government without strike in the coal industry, appeared brighter today. The miners' executive resumed its conference this afternoon with Sir Robert Horne, President of the Board of Trade, for the purpose of making new proposals, and, according to newspaper reports, the miners have definitely dropped their demand for a reduction in the price of coal. The miners are now said to be seeking assurances from the Government that the price of coal shall not be increased to the consumer to make up for any increase in wages which the men may obtain.

HOPE OF INDUSTRIAL PEACE.

LONDON, Sept. 16. Prospects look better today for peace. The industrial dispute, which threatened the stoppage of all electric power until the question of whether a foreman must be a member of a trades union had been disposed of is settled. There are expectations of an early termination of the strike, which has held up Manchester and Liverpool newspapers.

WILL URGE MINERS TO RETURN TO WORK.

HAZLETON, Pa., Sept. 16. The police committee of the United Mine Workers' announced today it would issue a proclamation recommending and advising all anthracite miners to return to work immediately.

N.B. ELECTIONS IN OCTOBER.

ST. JOHN, N.B., Sept. 16. The New Brunswick Legislature has been dissolved and elections called for October ninth.

DESCHANEL PRESENTS RESIGNATION.

RAMBOUILLET, France, Sept. 16. Paul Deschanel, President of France, presented his resignation from that office today. The President, at his residence here, gave his letter of resignation and presidential message to accompany it to Premier Millerand, who will read the documents to the Senate and Chamber of Deputies on Tuesday.

CRICKET SEASON ENDS.

LONDON, Sept. 16. A brilliant cricket season came to a close yesterday with Middlesex County, against the rest of England at Kensington Oval. The match was a draw.

WILL ELECT PRESIDENT SEPT. 25.

PARIS, Sept. 16. The National Assembly will convene at Versailles, Saturday, Sept. 25, to consider the election of a successor to President Deschanel, according to an official announcement.

U. S. CITIZEN MURDERED BY MEXICANS.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 16. E. W. Sneed, United States citizen of Derby, Texas, was shot and killed by a Mexican named Santiago Cavazos on the Mexican end of the International Foot Bridge at Nuevo Laredo yesterday, according to a telegram received today by the State Dept. from the United States Consul at that point. Cavazos is now in jail in Nuevo Laredo.

RAILWAY COLLISION; BRAKESMAN KILLED.

COBALT, Ont., Sept. 16. George Curtin, brakeman, of Northbay, was killed and F. Thomas, engineer, of same place, was badly scalded when two trains figured in a pitch in at Redwater last night. One freight train had stopped for water and the other coming behind, crashed into it and the engine of the second turned over and Curtin, who was in it was killed.

THE "GRUB" PEST.

To prevent damage to plants and shrubs a simple remedy is a weak solution of Sulphate of Ammonia. Use 1/4 oz. of Sulphate to one gallon of water. On no account use a stronger solution or you may "burn" the plants.

We have a limited quantity of Sulphate of Ammonia at our Showroom, Oke Building. Full instructions given with each package.

ST. JOHN'S GAS LIGHT CO.

Before cleaning out the fireplace, sprinkle a handful of tea leaves among ashes. The ashes will be easier to lift and the dust will not fly about the room.

C. L. B. Cadets.

The Brigade paraded at 7.45 last night as per order of Lt.-Col. Goodridge, O.C., who was present in full kit with the following officers: Major Wm. Lindsay, of Wabana, Major Williams, Quartermaster, Rev. Lt. Fletcher, W. R. Moty, Frank Miles, Harold Hayward, Norman Henry, Fred R. Emerson, R. G. Ash and A. B. Perlin.

Headquarters Staff were delighted last night to be honored with a visit from Lieut. Mercer, of Bay Roberts Co. Lieut. Mercer was given the "freedom of the m.c.s." and arranged with the Quartermaster for a shipment of fifty rifles for his lads. Our old friend Major Lindsay, of Bell Island, also spent the evening with the officers who were glad to renew old comradeship.

On Sunday the 1st Cadet Battalion, C.L.B. parades at 9.45 a.m. for Divine Service in the C. E. Cathedral. Dress: Full Kit. Order of march: Band, Old Comrades, A. Co., C. Co., Drums, Color Party, F. Co., K. Co., Headquarters Co. No leave for this parade will be given.

Lieut. Marmaduke Winter will be Orderly Officer this week, and Rev. J. Brinton, Duty Chaplain. Capt. Avalon Goodridge has tendered his resignation and is placed on the reserve of officers. "Captain Avalon" has been a loyal, conscientious Brigade officer, gentlemanly and courteous in manner to all ranks so that his passing to the reserve will be a distinct loss to the Brigade. Lieut. C. E. A. Jeffery has been promoted to the rank of Captain with seniority next above Capt. H. L. Pike.

We congratulate Sergt. Ricketts, V.C., on his promotion to be Sergt. Major, and the following are promoted to be Sergeants, viz., Corporals H. W. Smith, Gerald LeMessurier and Lance-Corporals E. Wood and R. Withers to be Corporals. Sergt. Brown and Corporal Rendell have joined the Battalion and are posted to C. Co. Mr. A. B. Perlin, son of I. F. Perlin, Esq., has been granted a commission as 2nd Lieut. and has been attached to the educational department. Mr. George Hunt, an ex-C.L.B. member has also rejoined and will assist Lieut. Fred Emerson in the Brigade School. Parents who have lads backward in their education should get their lads to join the C.L.B. and have free tuition in the Brigade's Educational Department under Lieut. Emerson and staff.

The following lads have been promoted Lance-Corporals: Ptes. Ches. Dawe, R. Anderson, T. Quinton, M. Tetford, Meadus, Dowden, Downton, Lockyer and Rumsey.

A recruiting campaign will shortly be started in order to bring the Battalion up to full strength. The Sports Committee, under the chairmanship of Rev. E. H. Fletcher, met last night and decided to finalize their C.L.B. Sports on next Wednesday and Thursday at 5.15 p.m., and the public are asked to note the dates.

BELL ISLAND.

J. Company, Wabana, under Major Wm. Lindsay, continues to report progress. Now the holiday season is over, the officers of this up-to-date Company are planning their Fall and Winter campaign. In the near future J. Co. will hold a C.L.B. Annual. What? Come and see! And Bandmaster Martin and his musicians are working overtime to prepare a nice musical programme for the event.

The new hot air heaters are shortly to be installed in their Armoury and the lads will, this winter, be more comfortable than ever. Their enthusiastic Chaplain, Rev. John Stead, of Bell Island, is at present attending the Synod.

The Brigade Officers hope to arrange to have the pleasure of an

Is life's hill growing hard to climb?
Make not their pathway steeper,
Smooth out the furrows on their brows—
Oh, do not make them deeper!

There's nothing makes a face so young
As joy, youth's fairest token;
And nothing makes a face grow old
Like hearts that have been broken.
Take heed lest deeds of thine should make
Thy mother be a weeper:
Stamp peace upon a father's brow—
Don't make the wrinkles deeper.

Be lavish with thy loving deeds,
Be patient, true and tender;
And make the path that ageward leads
Aglow with earthly splendor.
Some day, thy dear ones, stricken low,
Must yield to death, the reaper;
And you will then be glad to know
You made no wrinkles deeper.

STIRS THE APPETITE TO ACTION!

MRS. VENIOTT TELLS ABOUT HER TROUBLES.

Wishes Everyone Who Suffers As She Did Could Experience The Relief She Got By Taking Tanlac.

"I only wish that everybody suffering like I was could experience the wonderful relief I have by taking a few bottles of Tanlac," declared Mrs. C. J. Veniott, of 23 Seaford Street, Halifax, N.S.

"For the past three years, before I got Tanlac, my health was mighty bad, and I suffered terribly with a severe case of indigestion. My appetite was so poor that I didn't relish my food a bit, and many times I went all day long without eating scarcely a thing. Even the little I did eat caused me to bloat all up with sour gas, and I had cramping pains in my stomach which hurt me dreadfully.

"I suffered a lot with constipation too, and had awful headaches. At night I was so restless I couldn't get any sound sleep, and I often became so nervous I had to get up and walk the floor. I felt so tired and worn-out all the time that my housework was simply a burden to me, and many times I just had to give up and go to bed as I was too weak to stay on my feet.

"Well, I kept getting worse all the time until I finally got Tanlac, and it has only taken five bottles of this grand medicine to build me up and put me in splendid health again. Everything tastes different now, and my appetite is so good that I relish everything I eat. I'm never troubled with indigestion, gas, or constipation, and those awful headaches have entirely disappeared.

"My nerves are just as steady as a clock, and at night I sleep like a child. I'm gaining in weight right along, and have so much strength and energy that I can hardly find enough work to do about the house. Words simply can't express my gratitude and thankfulness for what Tanlac has done for me, and I'll never stop praising the medicine as long as I live."

Tanlac is sold in St. John's by M. Connors, by Reg. Sullivan, Pouch Cove; Sound Island Store, Sound Island; Dennis Flynn, Avondale; J. J. O'Brien, Cape Broyle; J. W. Smith, Baine Harbor; W. A. Burdock, Belleoram; John Morey, Fermeuse; Mrs. Jos. Quinn, Renewes.—adv.

Wanted An Explanation!

Editor Evening Telegram.

Dear Sir.—I saw in the Advocate, Saturday, 11th inst., a letter written by Joseph Dave, foreman Road Construction, Long Pond, Manuels. The letter itself would make a cat laugh, and I am sure Mr. Dave would not know but some of the words used were fit to eat.

He says his reason for not giving some men work was because they received allocations last fall, and had not worked out the money and also had not sent in returns.

Is it because I did not send in my returns last fall that I cannot get a job? Allow me to tell him that it is several years now since I received allocations, then I had the money honestly worked out and returns sent in. It appears from rumors that he was not in a hurry to rush in his returns for the one hundred and sixteen dollars he received last fall. Why did Constable O'Neil call at Joseph's house as was reported? But perhaps the Constable didn't call. Yet there seems to be a feeling of mystery around here about that money. This Mr. Foreman also said that he had instructions to employ men irrespective of political affiliations. I suppose these law-breakers mean that he was to take on men and leave politics out of the question.

It seems that these instructions were not carried out, for Mr. Dave digs right into the heart of politics, and even acts as if he had it in his power to punish these men. I thought judgment could only be carried out by the law, but this man takes it upon himself to chastise these wrongdoers as he thinks them. For is it not punishing people to refuse them a day's work, when he gives others from five to fifteen, and I hear some had twenty days. I understand this Road Commission money is Government money, and why should not every man if he so wish, get a day's work?

I have received the sum of nine dollars in seven years, and I am prepared to bet that Mr. Joseph Dave did not write that letter, which he signed, Joseph Dave, Foreman Road Construction, Long Pond.

To-day's Messages.

The Explosion in N. Y. Financial District.

NEW YORK, Sept. 16.

A mysterious explosion at noon in Wall Street, near Broadway, is believed by trained United States Department of Justice and Police investigators to have been caused by an infernal machine, rocketed from New York's financial district, resulting in death and destruction in its wake. At least twenty persons were killed and more than two hundred were injured in the banking house of J. P. Morgan and Co. subterranean office was caused by blast. Noon hour had struck and an endless stream of office workers had just started pouring into the banking house in the neighbourhood. Suddenly a cloud of yellowish black smoke and piercing jet of flames leaped from the street outside Morgan's office. A moment later scores of men, women and children were lying prostrated on the ground and the streets were covered with debris from the burst of broken windows and torn facades of adjacent buildings. Two minutes later the Stock and Curb Exchanges had closed. Panic and confusion reigned in heart of New York's financial district. Thousands of clerks and stenographers, many of them girls, fled in terror from adjoining structures. Scores of others were trampled on in the rush. Meanwhile the noise of the explosion, which was heard through lower Manhattan and across river in Brooklyn, brought thousands of onlookers to the scene, and the few police on duty in the district were unable to cope with the crowds and hurry call for police reserves was sent to all downtown police stations. Several treasury officials fearing that an attempt might be made to rob the building, all windows of which were broken, requested assistance of the army authorities at Governor's Island and a company of soldiers was sent to guard the structure. Hurry calls were also sent to all hospitals in downtown section of New York as scores of persons were soon speeding through the narrow streets. Dressing stations were established in lobbies of buildings nearby, where the less seriously injured were given immediate treatment. Evidence to confirm the theory that the explosion was caused by bomb or some other infernal machine came from several sources. Pieces of metal found in the bombs were found in several adjacent structures. This type of weight bars, on close inspection by the police and Department of Justice agents disclosed, is not used in any building within radius of several hundred feet from the scene of the explosion. Mr. Burns, who said he had been engaged by the Morgan firm to make an investigation of the accident, stated that his personal investigation convinced him that a wagon containing a bomb or bombs was left in front of the sub-treasury building with timing device so fixed as to cause it to explode precisely at noon. No trace of the driver of the wagon has been found, he said, and added that in his opinion the man escaped a few moments before the explosion occurred. Fire Chief Kenlon and officers from Bureau of Combustibles, also expressed the belief that the explosion was caused by bomb. After examining fragments of metal found in front of Morgan's office, Dr. William F. Doyle, Chief of the Bureau of Combustibles pointed out that the small hole found in the street near Morgan's office and widely scattered scars on facades of nearby buildings, also indicated that the blast was caused by a bomb, rather than by an explosion of a quantity of dynamite or other explosives.

and injury to two hundred others, possibly caused by infernal machine, according to almost unanimous opinion of experts at Department of Justice and police today. Search of wreckage revealed fragments of clockwork commonly used in making bombs, according to official. Three pieces of carved metal were found in hole caused by explosion. Another piece of similar metal was taken from body of Harold Westday, who was killed, according to Dr. Charles H. Norris.

MacSWEENEY'S CONDITION. LONDON, To-day.

MacSweeney who began his thirty-sixth day of his hunger strike today, passed a better night, and had a little sleep, said a bulletin issued by the Irish Self-Determination League this morning. The physician at Brixton prison declared no change in MacSweeney's condition except gradual deterioration not noticeable daily.

The Motorist's Lament.

I cannot burn the country roads in my chug-chug machine. Caving down the Broad Cove Road name a no longer am I seen. For if I do the populace will give a ribald cry. And ask me unto which resort I'm going on the sly. No longer can I take my bus and get some country air. But people grin as I go past, it really isn't fair. In days of old before this fuss, a man might ride serene. And zip along the Topsail Road and burn up gasoline. But now as I pass, Matty Kent's I heave a sigh and say, "Be careful of your ground." They only laugh at me and say, "Be careful of your ground." And since Inspector Hutchings went and put us on the rack I see that of Overland, of Ford and Cadillac. No more on lightsome summer days they'll burn the Thorburn Line. No more the benzine buggy spoils the ozone fresh and fine. Since this event the motorists must scrap their steeds of tin. And find fresh fields and pastures new for them to wander in. —J. Mc.

Wedding Bells.

WILKINSON—BURT.

A quiet but very pretty wedding was solemnized on Wednesday evening, September 8th, when Mr. W. J. Burt of Grand Falls, led to the altar Miss Margaret Chancey Wilkinson of St. John's. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. W. B. Bugden of Wesley St. Church, at 212 Pleasant St., the home of the bride's sister. The bridesmaid was Miss Nellie Bartlett of this city, while Mr. Jas. Parsons of Grand Falls, supported the groom, who were both presented with a bracelet and a stickpin respectively as mementoes of the happy occasion. The groom's present to the bride was a beautiful pendant. A reception was held after the ceremony, when the health of the bride was proposed by the Rev. Mr. Bugden, and suitably responded to by the groom. A feast of music, wit, and song was then indulged in, which lasted until the wee sma' hours of the morning. Mr. Burt holds a very responsible position with the Anglo-Newfoundland Development Co., Ltd., and as evidence of the Company's appreciation their wedding present was a very substantial cheque. The esteem in which both the bride and groom is held, and their popularity, were also testified by the many and valuable presents received from their numerous friends. The Telegram joins in extending to them heartfelt felicitations and a long and pleasant voyage o'er the sea of matrimonial bliss. The groom will be remembered by many in St. John's as being the Official Scorer of the Grand Falls' team in the Inter-Town series for the past few seasons.

Side Talks by Ruth Cameron

ONE FOOT IN FRONT OF ANOTHER FOOT.

Once upon a time I walked twenty-five miles in a day.

I wouldn't do it again and I was a fool to do it that time for I stole the strength for that day out of several days to come, and that is always a bad thing to do, unless there is some justifying reason.

friends who showed by their prompt response to my article on the subject that they were anxious to know how to travel the road that leads away from ill padded nerves and eternal tiredness, I send anew the reminder that that road, too, can only be traveled one foot in front of another foot. If this thought is a discouraging one, look back some day after you have taken a long walk and see how far you have come and how swiftly the time has passed. And remember that it will be the same with whatever other road you are travelling. If you only push along faithfully and patiently.

But It Won't Work If—

But also remember that while putting one foot in front of another foot unceasingly can carry you far, it won't serve if you put one foot in front of another foot a few times and then stop to admire your progress. Or if you put one foot in front of another foot for a little while and then take as many steps the other way. Or if you put one foot in front of another foot and then stop in your tracks and bewail that you have not gotten further.

Was He Stupid?

A school superintendent, on one of his visits was complaining to a teacher that children of the present day are so stupid, it is almost useless to attempt to teach them anything.

Said he: "I'll show you what I mean. Johnny, give me a number."

Johnny: "Fifty-eight."

The superintendent wrote eighty-five on the board.

Silence—no comment from anyone. "You see," he remarked to the teacher, "they don't observe. Let's try another."

Superintendent: "James, you give a number."

James: "Fifty-seven."

The superintendent wrote seventy-five.

Same result as before, and he remarked to the school-teacher: "It is deplorable, such a lack of perception, dense stupidity. It is disheartening."

Spry red-headed, freckled-faced, fidgety little Tim O'Brien, he said: "My boy, you give a number."

Tim: "Twenty-seven; thee if you can turn that around."—The Purrow.

Women Who Live Underground.

Among the startling discoveries made by Mrs. J. R. Forbes, the well-known woman traveller, who lately returned after wandering for several months from Morocco to Syria, was a tribe of women who live underground.

They are to be found in caves in the Tripoli mountains, and come up, says Mrs. Forbes, only once in the course of their lives. That is when they marry and change their abode for that of their husband.

Being continually in their underground caves a remarkable change takes place in their appearance. They become very white in the face, and their eyes become dark and brilliant. As they grow older they are seized with a passion for dyeing their hair with henna.

In the daylight these women are almost blind; in fact, they stagger about as though under the influence of drink. Their houses are spacious enough for them to keep all their live stock below ground, including their camels.

Another curious venture of Mrs. Forbes was into the harem of the Syrian sheikh, Mohamed Abdulla. At a feast at which she was entertained a sheep was roasted whole, and, by way of doing tribute to his guest, Mohamed Abdulla extracted the sheep's eye whole with his hands and proffered it to the Englishwoman.

ORGANIZATION.

The merchant princes, no w-days, keep tab on all the N. G. Jays. There comes to Prunville-in-the-Valle a stranger, J. Adolphus Kale. He's no apologetic runt; he puts up quite a gorgeous front; he talks as though he owned a mine; that turned out gold or rubies fine. In olden times this sort of bluff was really quite artistic stuff. But now when J. Adolphus goes to stores that deal in furbelows, and says, "I've come to settle down in this, your enterprising town, and need three miles of barb wire fence, which I will pay for three weeks hence," the dealer sighs and says, "By Jones, I fear you'll have to show the bones before you pack that wire away—you're not renowned as first class pay." That J. Adolphus leaves the store and kicks himself until he's sore. The Prunville merchants, when they found the gay Adolphus on the ground, inquired of Mudtown-on-the-Pike, what this Adolphus gent was like, and Mudtown said, "If he's your guest, nail down all things and guard the rest." Thus, nowadays, our records go from town to town, and all men know if we are classed as "good as wheat," or listed "neath the head of 'Beat."

OLD SEPTEMBER.

Old September pleases me, Like the way he tints a tree, Like the way he comes to call With some trinket for us all. In the pockets of his coat, Bringin' things we like the best, Apples, peaches, pears an' plums Load the table when he comes An' for something extra fine, Grapes are ready on the vine.

Old September doesn't show Wrinkled face or hair of snow, He is like some man who hides Age beneath a glad outside, Coverin' up his lines of care With a smile that's always fair, Joinin' every song that's sung, Just as youthful as the young, Ready for a round of fun Or the task that's to be done.

Old September never grieves 'Bout the fallin' of the leaves, Never grumbles or complains 'Bout his numerous aches an' pains. Just goes traipsin' round the place With a bright an' smilin' face 'Splishin' colors here an' there Till there's beauty everywhere. Scatterin' happiness an' cheer Till the whole world's glad he's here.

When old age gets hold o' me, Like September I would be, Want to keep up with the throng, An' go marchin' right along. Want to putter round the place With a smile upon my face, Sharin' in the work an' fun Just as young as anyone. When old age gets hold o' me, Like September I would be.

Some Marvellous Goals.

IN AND OUT OF THE NET, "ON THE BOUNCE," AND WITH THE SPEED OF CANNON BALLS.

Which is the most remarkable goal you have seen scored?—a well-known player was asked.

After a moment's reflection he answered: "During the war I was a spectator of a match between Fulham and West Ham. The latter had a team composed chiefly of Internationalists from other clubs, and the goalkeeper was Brownlie, from the Scottish International. There was an attack on the West Ham goal, and the ball was sent back forty yards where Marvin met it.

"Instantly, the Fulham centre-half drove it back, and before Brownlie could move a foot the ball was in the net. I never saw a ball made to travel at such a pace. It flew like a shot from a gun. Brownlie was amazed. Afterwards he declared that in his long experience he had never before seen such a shot."

Then there was that mysterious goal which settled the England and Scotland match of 1908, in Glasgow. Windridge shot, the ball seemed to go into the net, and yet, the next second, was bouncing thirty yards up the field. A goal was allowed, the official explanation being that the ball had cannoned out of goal off the iron stay at the back of the net.

But it was hotly disputed. Jimmy Sharp, now the Fulham trainer, was one of Scotland's backs that day, and when asked whether the ball had been in the net, put this question: "I was standing ten yards out of goal when Windridge shot, and the ball came back over my head. How could that have happened if the ball had been in the net?"

Another memorable goal, curiously enough, also concerns Windridge. Playing for Chelsea, at Stamford Bridge against Bolton Wanderers, he suddenly kicked his hardest at the half-way line, and the ball travelled high in the air towards the Lancashire club's goal. It was a pur-poseless sort of kick, but—it produced a goal.

The Wanderers' goalkeeper ran out to meet the ball, but he ran too far, and yet not far enough. The ball bounced in front of him and vaulted over his head into the net. This happened a minute from time, and the goal won the match for Chelsea. The crowd were almost too dumbfounded to cheer.—Answers.

Household Notes.

Into ramekins put a little cooked spinach. Break an egg in each, dust with salt, pepper and cheese, and shr.

Keep ready-made coffee on hand in fruit jars or cans. It is just as good as though freshly made, when heated up.

Use a skimmer to drain spinach when removing it from the kettle. The last grain of sand will drop to the bottom.

To pack bottles safely in a picnic hamper, cut circular holes in the lid of a cardboard box and place bottles in holes.

Ten-cent baking-powder cans are excellent receptacles for salt, pepper and other staple supplies for the camping trip.

A few lumps of unslaked lime, tied in a cheesecloth bag and fastened to the lids of your bread jar will prevent molding.

Substitute pineapple juice for water in a lemon meringue pie recipe. Reduce the sugar and use only a little lemon juice.

The kitchen should have white walls and woodwork, so that the "dirt will show" and consequently be frequently cleaned.

During hot weather, much work is saved if flat pieces, such as towels and pillow cases are run through the wringer instead of ironed.

Cut up into strips every crisp thing that an invalid is to eat. Toast which has to be broken is sure to send a shower of crumbs into the bed.

Financial Lunacy.

These words are by no means too strong to characterize the financial debauch of the finances of this unfortunate Dominion now carried on by the wild and extravagant schemes of the Government. This railway project to Argentina, is being as buoyantly undertaken by Mr. Coaker as if it were the building of a $100 wooden bridge and as if there were a full exchequer and a plethoric revenue coming in. No wonder the public are alarmed and say "where is it going to end?" Are they plotting to drive the country into insolvency and bring about Confederation? This is the most plausible solution of their extravagant conduct. We have a reckless, stubborn individual at the head of the Government, who knows as much about high finance as he does about astronomy, but the man is so inflated with pride and so flattered by the few sycophants that surround him, that he will stop at nothing. There is a million dollars granted in the estimates to repair the railway and put it in order so that the people's lives will not be jeopardized in travelling to and from Port aux Basques. Is this now going to be diverted to the branch line to Argentina, or are they going to raise a new loan for the work? In England at the present time it costs 8 per cent to earn money, and if another loan is to be made at this high rate, where will the protection of the present bond holders of Newfoundland loans stand? It is a most serious situation, and one to cause every thinking citizen of this country the most serious apprehension.

Thousands of dollars have been thrown away on useless old coastal boats that are sinking money at the rate of $2,000 a day. They are coming and going and not bringing enough of freight to keep them in ballast. How can the financial stability of the country last under such conditions? The same dark cloud that overwhelmed the country in 1894 is now hovering over Newfoundland, and unless something is done there will be a sad and disastrous state of affairs at the close of the year. How can we expect to be able to raise a loan when the people in England, who have money to invest, know the incapacity, the blundering and extravagance of the gang of incapables who now govern this doomed country? Where is the man or the men who will arise to lift our country out of the "Slough of Despond?" Certainly there ought to be patriotism and ability enough in the country to save us from the impending financial ruin. There is and will be no confidence in the men that now have control, and there will be no prosperity for Newfoundland till they are relegated to that obscurity from which they emerged through an accidental but most unfortunate set of circumstances. Lack of confidence in them has killed all trade and industry, ruined the fish business so that all good people who want to live in this country should unite as soon as an organized effort is made, which we hope soon will be, to turn the rascals out.

Motor Association

GETS CONCESSIONS FOR FORD OWNERS.
At a meeting of the executive and members of the Road Committee of the Newfoundland Motor Association, held on Sept. 14th, the following resolution was passed:
"Whereas, owing to information given the Association by the Acting City Treasurer to the effect that Ford cars were rated 13 H.P. R.A.C., the Act was framed so as to make the tax on Ford cars and other small four cylinder cars thirty-five dollars; and whereas it now transpires that the Municipal Commissions claim that Ford cars are rated 22.5 R.A.C. and are collecting Fifty Dollars tax; and Resolved, that a recommendation be made to the Road Commission that consideration be given for a claim for a refund to motor owners by the Road Commission of the difference between thirty-five dollars and fifty dollars to all motor owners who have paid the tax on Ford or similar cars."
It is noted from the account of the last meeting of the Road Commission that the Commission who are on most harmonious terms with the Newfoundland Motor Association, have decided to make this refund. All that will be necessary for owners of Fords or other small four cylinder cars to do will be to advise the full amount of the tax to the City Commissioners and then apply to the Road Commission for a refund of the excess. This is one only of the advantages to motor owners brought about by the Motor Association and any Ford owner who does not now join the Motor Association ought to be ashamed to be driving even a "Lizzie."
All motor owners will note with interest the big parade of the new road machinery consisting of rock crusher, scarifier, grad and other machines which will leave Furness Withy's wharf sometime on Saturday or Monday for the Topsail Road via Duckworth St. will be driven through the town on its own power.
This equipment was imported for the Road Commission by the Newfoundland and Motor Association and is the first attempt in years to get suitable equipment for keeping Newfoundland roads in permanent repair. This machinery was imported from the Sawyer-Massey Co. of Hamilton, Ont., and their engineer, Mr. A. C. Campbell is now in town attending to the setting up of the machinery. Mr. Campbell, before leaving will instruct a local engineer in operating this machinery and same will be utilized repairing the roads at all seasons of the year except the actual winter months. Newfoundland will, in fact, shortly have as good roads as any place this side of the Atlantic and this will have been brought about solely by the efforts of the Road Commission and the Newfoundland Motor Association. Surely the least way motor owners can show their appreciation of the efforts being made for their good is to join the Newfoundland Motor Association.

Diocesan Synod Proceedings.

The afternoon session was called to order by His Lordship the Bishop at 3.30. After reading the prayer the roll was called and the House proceeded to discuss the proceedings of yesterday's proceedings which were read and adopted. The report of the Executive Committee was then read by Canon Bolt. The Executive Committee is elected at each session of the Synod, and is appointed for the purpose of assisting the Bishop in the administration of the Diocese according to the constitution and rules. Their report is therefore an account of the active life of the church in the diocese during the past year. Police Court.

The hearing of the charge of keeping a disorderly house preferred against a resident of Broad Cove was opened this morning. Mr. W. J. Higgins representing the accused, moved that the trial should be held in a smaller court "where the proceedings would not be open to so much scandal." The Inspector General in reply said, "This is a prosecution to break down and prevent conditions shown to exist, and it would be improper to have cases like these tried in camera. But as the counsel for the defence requests that the trial be held in a smaller court I neither object nor consent." Judge Morris—"I might state here that some people like notoriety. This prosecution is under the Municipal Act. It is not a proceedings between party and party. This is a prosecution on the part of the public for the benefit of the public. If those who have a right to hear the evidence bring away scandal and associate names that have never been connected with the case that is common to every appeal. I say the condition is appalling—good virtuous men and women have been dragged into these cases by scandal mongers and vindictive people. There has not been a public gathering so well attended as has these trials and it seems that the public mind has been aggravated. I cannot try this case in camera. The public are concerned. The hearing must be in public and if those present spread scandal it is not the fault of the Court. The case, however, be tried without the bestial details that were given in the previous cases." The hearing was then proceeded with and after several witnesses had been examined the case was adjourned till this afternoon.

The Telephone.

The other day I went to use the telephone and all about I rang for nearly half a year before a voice broke on my ear. Said I "Please give me George McGuire."
And then a sound came from the wire.
At first a bang and then a bump enough to make a fellow jump. And then voice said "HELLO."
I said "Is that you, George, if so I want to get some hard-boiled buns."
They answered "This is Ayre & Sons."
And then I swore with might and main.
And rang up Central once again.
And said "Give me the Board of Trade."
Where export rules and things are made.
And after waiting half an hour I heard the voice of Doctor Power say, "Hello, Harry, is that you." (He thought that I was Peddrew).
And then I said "It's not his book. And went and read the number book. When I had given it a scan, I found Din Barron was the man that ruled like Caesar in his pride. So Din was the next I tried. And when I got an answer, said "This service, Din, is good and dead." Said he, "That's just the way I feel, But I'm not Din, I'm Doctor Nell." Said I "If I can find a rock. There soon will be a funeral. Doc." And then I gave up, feeling blue. But there's a little hint to you: If for your sins you would atone JUST TRY TO USE THE TELEPHONE. —J. Mc.

Cathedral Tower and Spire.

The preliminary drawings for the external completion of the Cathedral were prepared by Mr. G. Gilbert Scott, A.R.A., during his recent visit to St. John's. The design combines in an eminent degree simplicity and dignity, the result being a tower and spire of graceful proportions and uncommon beauty.
The work has been designed in the Decorated Gothic style in conformity with the general architecture of the Cathedral. The tower is carried 42 feet above the ridge of the Nave and is surmounted by a spire 75 feet high. The total height from the ground level of the Cathedral to the apex of the pinnacle is 205 feet.
The tower is 34 feet square with external stone facing of the same material as the main work. Each face is relieved by two lofty belfry windows, deeply recessed and filled with graceful geometrical tracery. Each pair of windows is surmounted by six smaller belfry lights of lancet shape; and all the windows are surrounded with deep moulded architraves and fluted shafts. The faces of the tower are divided by central buttresses terminating in triangular gables.
The spire, which is octagonal in form, rises directly from the tower without any intervening parapet; in its construction it is proposed to make use of reinforced concrete—a material which will allow of great strength combined with lightness. The spire will be covered in copper.
It is proposed to construct the internal vaulting over the crossing. This will protect the building while the tower is being erected, and will also form part of the permanent stone vaulting which, it is hoped, will be completed at some future time.
It has been the aim of the distinguished Architect to design the tower and spire of such proportions that the Cathedral will stand out as a landmark and prominent feature of the city when viewed from any direction, and there is no doubt that this aim will be attended if the scheme is carried out.
The plan and a pen and ink drawing of the Cathedral when completed are on exhibition in the window of Messrs. Grey & Goodland's Bookstore.

Bad for the Elephant.

The story is recalled by an amazing occurrence which happened in Indo-China, not far from Saigon. It appears that a big-game hunter had wounded a large bull-elephant, which he was unable to follow up. The beast came upon the railway, where it passed through the jungle, and sensing the approach of a train, charged down the track to meet it.

A bend hid the elephant from the driver until it was too late to avoid a collision. So great was the shock that the engine was thrown completely off the track, where it rolled over on its side. The tender was thrown across the line and the two foremost carriages were also derailed. The driver and stoker escaped injury by jumping from their cab. The elephant, however, was killed outright.

Friendships cannot be kept in reputation without some effect.—Right Hon. H. A. L. Fisher.

The chief thing to bear in mind in starting life is that everyone is entitled to an opinion.—Sir J. Colman.

It is not the prize that is the great thing; it is the effort which has deserved the prize.—Bishop Weldon.

When I was a bit younger I was told that one's boyhood was the best time in a man's life. At the time I did not think it was true, but I must say that I know it is now.—The Duke of York.

One is a good judge of her own reputation.—Mrs. Asquith.

One often lightens troubles by telling them.—M. Millerand.

I am now a rich woman, but my greatest wealth is my imagination.—Mary Peckford.

Education.
4. BUILDINGS.
The Inter Denominational Committee at an early period of its deliberations was confronted with the question of the buildings in St. John's used at elementary schools. One such building had been condemned ten years ago, but it was still in use. A number of other elementary school buildings were in much the same condition, and the committee felt that they really were not suitable for use as schools, and in some cases were prejudicial to the health of the pupils and teachers.

takes into consideration the health and well-being of the children as well as mental development. A minimum of 200 square feet per child is the standard set down for the play grounds. It was evident to the experts that play space, recreational grounds, athletic fields, game courts, etc., had not been considered here as a part of the physical equipment of school plants. This was also found that in St. John's even in the best educational buildings, window ventilation was depended upon entirely, and with the weather any temperature of this country there are many days during which window ventilation cannot be used while the classes are in session, and the children are therefore required to breathe and rebreathe the same vitiated air, hour after hour.

Six school buildings each scored five points or less out of a possible ten. This means that the adequacy and arrangement of the toilet fixtures and facilities were of the lowest order. The insanitary condition was especially remarked, that is the room and fixtures showed no evidence of having ever been cleaned, and the floors were wet and filthy. There was also lack of a proper water supply for drinking purposes, and where such existed there was no provision to protect the children against transmission of infection.

Another important consideration was the question of light in the classrooms, and it was found that only 10 per cent of the class-rooms in colleges and elementary schools have anything like adequate light. Over one half the class-rooms in the city were so poorly lighted, that the experts give it as their opinion that this condition is undoubtedly responsible for life-long impairment of vision in a great many school children, and for many headaches, sickness, general discomfort and absence from school. Such condition of course greatly hampers the work of the teacher.

The people are interested in the education of their children, and the Board of Education have done what was possible with the meagre funds at their disposal. The "possible" was not what it should have been, as the present system scatters, instead of consolidates, money and energy.

At the City Hall.
The Weekly Meeting of the Municipal Commission was held last evening at 7 o'clock in the City Hall. Present: Chairman Gosling and Councillors Ayre, Mullaly, Morris, Peet, Vinnicombe and Devine were present. Minutes of last meeting were read and confirmed. The following matters were then dealt with.

"There's a Reason"

Made by Canadian Postum Cereal Co. Ltd. Windsor, Ontario.

The experts summed up the situation by stating:

- (1) The study of the school buildings of St. John's has pointed out that there are no school which score as high as 400 points out of a possible 1000 points for a perfect school building.
- (2) St. John's school buildings rank lower than the school buildings of any other city which has been similarly analysed. There have been hundreds of cities studied in this way, many of them smaller and less wealthy than St. John's.
- (3) The defects of St. John's school buildings cannot be listed under one particular heading. They are defective throughout. St. John's houses approximately 3000 children in 14 school buildings. The classification of

Ten years without a corn

Countless people boast that record now.

Years ago they started using Blue-jay. Never since has a corn pained twice. And never has a corn stayed a week.

You can quickly prove that corns are needless. Millions have already done it. Think what it means.

No more paring, no more pain, no more unsightly pads. Dainty shoes without unhappy hours.

Apply a touch of liquid Blue-jay or a Blue-jay plaster.

The corn pain will end. And soon the whole corn will loosen and come out.

The action is gentle but sure. Blue-jay is the scientific method, created by this world-famed laboratory.

It is not like the methods which are harsh and crude.

Try Blue-jay on one corn. Buy it tonight from your druggist. Live the rest of your life without corns.

If We Could Excel the Animals.

EVEN SCIENTISTS GET HELP FROM SPIDERS.

Man—vain man—is prone to boast of his prowess, but in many respects the lower orders of the kingdom to which he belongs are immeasurably more wonderful than he is.

Can he jump as well, in proportion to size, as the despised cricket, which can spring from the ground on to a wretched table? If he could he would be able to hop over the highest building in the country.

If, again, he had a memory as tenacious in proportion as that of the ant, he would never forget anything.

And what would man do with innumerable animal products? Can he, with all his machinery, make a thread as strong and elastic as silk? Can he manufacture a thread as fine, strong, elastic, light, and durable as that of the spider's web? No.

It is for such qualities that astronomers use this exquisite thread in preference to all others, metallic or vegetable. They stretch it across the field of view of their telescopes, where it performs an important function. When one of those instruments is directed towards a star, the image of the body is a minute point of light. As soon as the point coincides with the intersection of two central spider lines the instrument is properly sighted.

The aid of the spider has also to be called in when the flar micrometer is used, because here, too, the astronomer must have the utmost nicety.

Again, the shoemaker's boast, "Nothing like leather," is as true now as ever it was. The beautifully soft and elastic down which we get from the eider duck has also completely baffled inventors, who cannot produce anything to equal it.

Ivory, mother-of-pearl, sponges—these are other products which man cannot successfully imitate. For some purposes ivory, in particular, has held its own since it was brought from Tarshish by King Solomon's ships.

What, again, of certain substances derived from the whale? For hundreds of years there was no substitute for baleen (commonly known as whalebone), which we get from the Greenland whale, a single catch yielding from 1,000 lbs. to more than 3,000 lbs. The average price of the commodity for ten years was £2,520 a ton. But we are not so dependent on baleen as we were, though for certain purposes it is still without a rival.

Ambergris, however, is even yet unequalled by anything made by man. A secretion of the whale, it is usually found floating in masses on the sea, and in this country it is now used solely for adding to the strength of perfumes. It is a valuable commodity, a single lump sometimes fetching £1,000 or more.

Our Debt to the Snail.

A product obtained from a very different creature—the snail—stands alone in its own particular sphere. It is a gelatinous substance contained in a small, whitish bladder at the extremity of the snail's body—a substance which has such remarkable adhesive properties that it surpasses glue, cement, etc., for joining some materials.

One other industrial marvel must be noted. For nearly four centuries we have derived our scarlet dye, as well as our colours scarlet and carmine, from the dried bodies of a tiny insect, the cochineal. It is so small that about 70,000 make one pound of cochineal as imported.

Rub the rusty grate well with paraffin, leave for a day or two, then brush over with black lead, mixed to a rather soft paste, and leave again for a day. Then polish in the usual way.

TO WOMEN OF MIDDLE AGE

This Woman's Letter Tells You How To Pass The Crisis Safely.

Lascelles, P.Q.—"During the Change of Life I felt so weak and run down I could hardly do my work. The perspiration would pour over my face so that I couldn't see what I was doing. We live on a farm, so there is lots to do, but many who felt as I did would have been in bed. I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and it did me a world of good. I tried other remedies but I put Vegetable Compound ahead of them all, and I tell every one I know how much good it has done me."—Mrs. DUNCAN BROWN, Lascelles, Prov. Quebec.

Such warning symptoms as sense of suffocation, hot flashes, headaches, backaches, dread of impending evil, timidity, sounds in the ear, palpitation of the heart, sparks before the eyes, irregularities, constipation, variable appetite, weakness and dizziness should be heeded by middle-aged women, and let Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound carry them safely through this crisis as it did Mrs. Brown.

You are invited to write for free advice. No other medicine has been so successful in relieving woman's suffering as has Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. Women may receive free and helpful advice by writing the Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Lynn, Mass.

With Royalty at Balmoral.

How Their Majesties Enjoy the Simple Life of Their Holiday home in the Highlands, where Court etiquette is Gladly Laid Aside.

Early hours are the order of the day at Balmoral. The King is dressed and downstairs by seven o'clock, and is joined by the Duke of York and Prince Henry.

His Majesty and the two Princes are going salmon-fishing, and leave the Castle at eight o'clock. A quarter of an hour is spent in the spacious gun-room in a final overhauling of the rods and flies. The King and the two Princes are joined at breakfast by the Queen and Princess Mary.

An Early Start.
Here is the breakfast menu:
Porridge.
Grilled haddock.
Fruit.

At eight o'clock His Majesty and the two Princes, accompanied by a guide, leave the Castle in a landau, and an hour later all have begun their sport on one of the finest salmon rivers in Scotland. The King is an experienced fisherman, and it is under his supervision that the Princes of the Royal Family have learnt to throw a salmon fly, and land an eight-pounder.

When the King is out fishing with his younger sons he pays rather more attention to their sport than to his own.

When Prince Henry makes an awkward cast it draws a quick word of admonition from his father.

"Much too rough, Henry," calls out the King, and the Prince with his next cast brings the flies down gently on the water in a manner that induces his father to remark: "That is ever so much better!"

Her Majesty's Cooking Lesson.

And now, whilst the King and the two Princes are engaged in their sport, let us see how the other members of the Royal Family are engaged. Queen Mary, clad in a white blouse and tweed walking skirt, accompanied by the Princess Mary, similarly dressed, starts out after breakfast to walk to the house of a cottager on the Royal estate. The cottage is about four miles distant.

The cottager's wife has devised some new and improved method of making oatmeal cakes, and Her Majesty and the Princess are to be initiated into this culinary mystery; the results of which have greatly pleased Her Majesty, who had some of these cakes sent to her.

The cottager's wife receives the Queen and Princess Mary at the door of her dwelling with a curtsy, and then the Queen and Princess Mary shake hands with her, and all go into the cottage. The little demonstration in cooking proceeds rapidly, and is followed with much interest by the Queen.

The Cottager's Warning.

"Now we shall know how to make these delightful cakes, Mary," the Queen says, and Princess Mary expresses her intention of trying her hand at making them at the earliest possible moment.

"You'll make mistakes at first," the cottager's wife says bluntly, "for it's not so easy to make them as it looks." A remark that causes both the Queen and the Princess to laugh very heartily.

After a chat with the cottager the Queen and the Princess walk back to Balmoral, reaching it about lunch-time. The party at lunch is a small one to-day. It consists of the Queen, the Princess, and one lady of the household. The menu is a simple one:

Cold roast lamb.
Green peas.

Rice pudding.
Coffee.

The Minister in Attendance on the King and the few other visitors at the Castle, all intimate friends of the Royal Family, have gone shooting and are lunching out.

After lunch the Queen goes to her boudoir to get through some arrears of her private correspondence. Her Majesty will be at work there until four o'clock. In the meanwhile Princess Mary drives in a motor-car to see some friends and have tea with them.

At four o'clock the King and the Princes return. The Queen comes down to hear the result of the King's sport, and all have tea in the library. The Minister in Attendance returns at five o'clock, and then he and the King go to His Majesty's writing-room to attend to dispatches requiring His Majesty's attention.

A Link With Westminster.

It may be explained that the King when on his holiday cannot take a complete rest from work. The cares of State are to a certain extent always with him. Some member of the Cabinet, usually known as the Minister in Attendance, is always at Balmoral. Usually the Minister remains at the Castle for a week, and then his place is taken by some other Minister.

Every day for a couple of hours the King and the Minister in Attendance go through together the various State dispatches that are forwarded to Balmoral daily by special messenger from the Government offices. At seven o'clock the King parts from the Minister in Attendance, and His Majesty becomes a spectator of a game of lawn-tennis which is proceeding between the Duke of York and his brother.

The Duke of York is the better player, and wins the set rather easily by six games to two. The Duke, it may be mentioned, is champion player among Royalties. In a match at Buckingham Palace he beat the King of Spain two sets to one.

The Royal Tennis Champion.

After the game of tennis is finished the King and the Princess go to dress for dinner. The party at dinner consists of a dozen members of the household, the Minister in Attendance, and a few guests from the neighbourhood, and the members of the Royal Family. It is served at a big round table, in the centre of which is a massive silver bowl filled with flowers.

The rules of Court ceremony and etiquette are practically abolished during the King's holiday at Balmoral. For example, the rule that no guest must address the King or Queen at dinner until spoken to by their Majesties is not observed at Balmoral. Dinner lasts about an hour, when the Queen rises and the ladies of the party adjourn to the beautiful red drawing-room. The King with the men of the party go to the smoke-room, where they have their coffee, cigars, cigarettes or pipes. The gentlemen rejoin the ladies of the party in about half an hour.

As has been said, early hours are the rule at Balmoral. At ten o'clock the Queen and the Princess Mary retire for the night, and the rest of the party go to their rooms half an hour or so later.

Do Films Hurt Eyes?

AN EYE EXPERT GIVES HIS VIEWS

This is an important question which has been raised recently, and eye specialists and members of the cinema industry are inquiring deeply in the matter.

It is an undoubted fact that continuous visits to the "movies" are conducive to eye-strain, though people who only patronize them at intervals may not suffer from it. In any case, to look at a screen continuously for two or three hours is not natural. Remember you are looking fixedly at a near object, which is always bad for the eyes.

Gaze at a landscape or out to sea for as long as you like, and you will feel no strain, but watch the hand of an electric clock outside a building for the half-minute jerk forward, and you will find the difference. It is as if someone were pulling steadily at the eyeballs!

The Strain in Side Seats.

The best seat at a cinema from an optical standpoint is one about thirty to fifty feet from the screen and on a level with its centre. A person sitting any closer has to raise the eyeballs from the horizontal, which has a straining effect on them, being especially harmful to the nerve which one uses to raise the eye to the required position.

In some halls there are numbers of "side seats" from which the picture appears distorted, and the practice of watching a film from this position is extremely injurious to the vision. It is especially necessary that young children should be given good seats in the cinema, as their eyes are much more likely to be affected than those of adults.

A good deal, of course, depends upon the perfection of the film and the skill of the operator. The "flicker" varies considerably in different halls; the film which appears in a London hall, newly released and as perfect as yet possible, has degenerated considerably by the time it has reached the provincial "gaff."

There can be no doubt that some worn-out films are extremely injurious to the eyes, and the exhibition of them should be prevented in the public interest, especially as many of the shows are largely patronized by children spending their "Saturday pennies."

Those Sudden Shocks.

There are certain principles which should be observed in all cinemas. For instance, it is most harmful to have too striking a contrast between the screen and the hall itself. In many small cinemas the hall is kept completely dark, with the result that the eyes suffer from the great contrast of light and dark. The best theatres now use a soft diffused light throughout the amphitheatre which does not impair the image on the screen while lessening the strain upon the eye.

In cinemas a good matt-white screen is usually employed, but a newer kind composed of aluminium powder has been introduced, as it gives greater brilliancy and economises in the consumption of light. These screens, however, give varied degrees of brightness when viewed from different positions, and cannot be recommended from an optical standpoint.

Another cause of eyestrain in the old style cinema occurs in the interval. The hall is plunged in darkness, when—snap!—the eye witnesses before the sudden flood of light which has been switched on "for a rest between the pictures." You only want to look round at the blinking eyes to see how harmful this is. The lights of a cinematograph theatre should be controlled so that they gradually fade away before a film is shown and illumine the hall gradually when light is desired.

How Many Different Persons Are You?

Our Medical Correspondent Says Every Man's Multitude.

Recent discoveries would appear to point to the conclusion that each one of us is made up of quite a number of distinct personalities.

You and I are by no means so simple or so single-minded as we have hitherto imagined. If two is company and three a crowd, then each of us is a multitude.

You who are reading these lines, for example, are only one of several other personalities of which you are for the time being the boss. The other fellows who are partners in the firm in which you are at the moment the most active member probably have something other to do than read, and are either asleep or otherwise engaged.

So long as you continue strong and determined in your decision to go on reading, your other partners will continue to attend to their own private affairs; but the moment you become weak and irresolute, and drop the paper, one or other of your many partners will immediately get busy, and a conflict will arise amongst them as to which of them is going to "boss the show."

In colloquial language these numerous partners "have a row" both with you and each other. The normal harmonious co-operation of the various members of the firm is interrupted. One of these rebellious subordinates may continue his defiant career indefinitely, and become a serious rival to yourself.

To make the relation of yourself to these other personalities clearer, you can liken yourself to the officer commanding an army headquarters, who receives reports from heads of departments, and achieves his results by having his orders executed through them without being actually or personally conscious of the carrying out of these orders.

Each of these different "selves" of yours is, of course, conscious of its own existence and of what it feels, thinks, and does. You are yourself not conscious of all these separate feelings, thoughts, and actions. But what you are conscious or aware of is the essence of all these things. In other words, these subordinate selves tell you what it is most necessary for you to know. You make decisions, or choose what action you want to take. You issue a general order; but you often remain, for the most part, unaware of the actual details of the execution of that order.

Plato's well-known description of the soul as "a charioteer controlling, with more or less success, a team of powerful, unruly creatures—the passions" has been long regarded as a figure of speech; it may now be considered as literally true. It is quite likely that each of the great driving instincts of humanity—self-preservation, nutrition, reproduction—is a special function of one of these subordinate and often unruly selves.

Characters That Change Places. From a consideration of the foregoing we can understand how it is that a man or woman of strongly-marked individuality may, as a result of some severe shock, become a different person altogether, with characteristics quite different from those of the original self, and without any memory of the old self. At varying intervals these two selves may change places over and over again. There are on record large numbers of cases in which such apparent spiritual changes have taken place.

The explanation is that the formerly dominant self has, as a result of the mental shock, been submerged, while one of the subordinate selves has for the time being taken command, and is running the human creature in its own way.—E.R.

When the Moon is Full.

It's Light is Beaten by a Candle!

You may think that the full moon has a lot of light. Yet if you try to see that light is. By actual test it is only equal to one quarter of the light of a wax candle placed at a distance of a yard away.

The moon is small compared with the earth. Its area is almost exactly that of the whole of North and South America.

Have you ever noticed that the moon sometimes shines with a sort of greenish yellow light instead of its usual ash-coloured tone? This happens only when it is passing over our Western hemisphere, and is supposed to be due to green light reflected from the vast forests of South America.

The moon's mountains are not only far more numerous than those of the earth, but also very much larger in proportion to its size. "Dorfil," the tallest moon mountain which has been accurately measured, has a height of 23,174 feet, and is, therefore, 1-492nd part of the moon's diameter. Everest, the earth's highest mountain, which is not quite 30,000 feet, is only 1-1440th part of the earth's diameter, and shown on a globe a yard in diameter would be scarcely perceptible.

Some of the moon's craters are 150 miles across, and as much as 18,000 feet deep.

All over the moon may be seen broad white rays extending out from circular plains. There are hundreds of these, and some are many hundreds of miles in length. These rays are always extraordinarily bright, but the source of their brightness is a mystery which has so far proved beyond explanation by any astronomer.

Painted in Five Minutes.

While great painters have spent weeks—perhaps months—on a simple study, a young artist is turning out delightful views of the sea and country in five minutes.

Impossible as this sounds it is a fact, and the artist in question is Mr. Albert Cronshaw, of Manchester.

It was an extremely dull day, with dark clouds overhead, when a crowd of holiday-makers stopped to watch a smart-looking man, mounted on a platform, transforming a plain piece of canvas into a marvellous scene of beauty. Everyone forgot the dark, gloomy atmosphere as they were transported, first, to a beautiful spot in North Wales, and then to a picturesque castle. And it was all done in ten minutes.

They were pictures to be proud of, too, painted with taste and an eye to the artistic. As fast as they were painted they were sold to the admiring audience.

There is no doubt that there will be a great demand for "rapid" artists in the near future, when we get some of those promised houses built, and undoubtedly the economical housewife will be on the look-out for good, cheap pictures to beautify the walls of her domain. She need search no farther than the travelling artist, who will complete a picture in five minutes and charge less for it than almost any art-dealer.

Here, too, is an opportunity for discharged soldiers who are artistically inclined. In a neat little hand issued by the travelling painter, will find all the business-like methods explained clearly and simply. It is really useful short cut to rapid painting.

Cadet Sports at Bell Island

ANNUAL OUTING GREAT SUCCESS
The annual Brigade Sports of "Wabana Co. Catholic Cadet Corp" held this week at Bell Island, proved a great success. The full Company numbering over 100 strong, assembled at Hammond's Field, Lance Cove Major Leo Murphy, Capt. J. J. Greene, Lieuts. John J. Murphy, J. L. Connors and R. Burnham were a parade and contributed greatly towards the success of the day. Lieut. J. Connors and R. Burnham conducted the football, while Major Murphy, Capt. Greene, Sergt.-Major J. F. McEvoy, Sergt. Matt. Farrell and Sergt. Patrick Stoyles conducted the other field sports. The senior football five, Sergt.-Major J. F. McEvoy, Sergt. I. Jackman, Sergt. John Stone, Sergt. M. Farrell and Pte. M. Dobbin, who won most of the "fives" in the Bell Island athletic events were present but did not compete as a unit. A feature of the day was an unexpected visit from Rev. Bro. Paul Stoyles, of the Christian Brothers, who just arrived from New York. Bro. Stoyles was formerly Staff-Sergt. in charge of the Lance Cove section and was warmly welcomed. The following programme was gone through and all events were most keenly contested. Special prizes were awarded at the Anniversary next week in conjunction with the presentation of the championship cup won this year by the Cadets in the Football League:

Seal Arrives From Labrador.

S.S. Seal, Capt. Randell arrived at 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon from the Labrador bringing a number of passengers including the Governor and party. Reports brought by the ship are not very encouraging. At Bolster's Rock some fish is being caught with jiggers as also at Comport Light and Ragged Islands. A number of traps were lost and other property damaged along the coast by the heavy sea a few weeks ago. Between Bolster's Rock and Grady the voyage has been a fairly good one but north of Hopeville it was poor and nothing is being done in this section at present. At Fishing Ship's Hr. there is a sign of cod with the jigger and according to reports received from the Wren, the schooners between Farmyards and Ryan's Bay have catches of from 100 to 500 qts. The voyage is now practically over and many of the crews are preparing to come south by the next steamer.

League Football.

In the League football match last night the Stars defeated the Saints by a score of 3 goals to 1. The game between the Feltidians and B.I.S. this evening promises to be exciting. A win for the Feltidians would give them the championship. If the B.I.S. win to-night three teams would stand equal and the play off would be with the Cadets. In a draw the Feltidians and Cadets would have to play off. The following will be the line-up of the Feltidians in to-night's game.
Goal, Rev. E. Fletcher; backs, E. R. Chafe, R. Martin, A. Martin, forwards, E. Jerrett, T. V. Payne, M. Winter, Arch Tait and E. Ewing. Spare A. Andrews.
