THE LAST DAY WAS ABOUT THE BEST DAY

The Largest Attendance of All at the Show Last Evening

CHILDREN'S DAY AT CALGARY HORSE SHOW

Some Very Excellent Performances During the Afternoon.

The second Calgary Indoor Horse Show was concluded last night. It was the best entertainment of this kind that has ever been offered to the people of western Canada.

The record attendance for the show was the answer given by Manager E. L. Richardson last night, when asked by the attendance.

Particularly enthusiastic in the comment of owners who have seen the men of the classes competing would be interesting, particularly the seed in a lot of ribbons, they also have a good word to say for the able manner in which the management conducted the big evening.

The concluding program of last night was a good one and all the events were interesting, particularly the seed in a lot of ribbons, they also have a good word to say for the able manner in which the management conducted the big evening.

The winners of five event received an enthusiastic cheer when the result was declared and the decisions handed out by the different judges, were very favorably commented on by those who know a horse.

Yesterday afternoon was the Children's Day of the Calgary indoor horse show. The children were very much in prominence, not only in the show ring, but as spectators, as school children were admitted free and many took advantage of it, being under the care of the various teachers.

On the program, there were two features, a riding and a driving contest. The riding contest was a 100 yard race, in which the children were very much interested. The driving contest was a 100 yard race, in which the children were very much interested.

The first class judged was that for Combination Pony. Fourteen hands entered, shown to an appropriate standard and under saddle, shown by a boy or girl under 15 years. There were nine showings, three being shodded ponies, G. E. Goddard's "Jessica" was shown, but was disqualified for being over the named height, as was "Jacky," owned and driven by Miss Evelyn M. Miller, of Millerville. Little Miss Miller, who is only seven years old, handled the ribbons like an old hand, and it was unfortunate that her pony was thrown out.

The first prize went to "Maximus," owned and handled by "Master de Roalde's," This is a small little pony and was well handled by the owner. The second honor went to Russell H. Turner's "Sunshine." This little pony was shown by Miss Evelyn M. Miller, driving "Jacky" and to "Master de Roalde's" "Maximus."

A CELEBRATED WAR CORRESPONDENT HERE

Frederick Villiers Arrives From the North and Will Lecture Here on Monday Night Next.

"Please don't ask me now, I'm more tired than I had been through a Sudan campaign. My head is aching and I feel as cross as an English bull. Wait until tomorrow to come around, and I'll tell you enough war stories to fill a book."

Frederick Villiers, the noted war correspondent, used the foregoing language in blocking an attempt to interview him last night when he arrived from Edmonton and registered at the Alberta hotel. He has come here to deliver an illustrated lecture, next Monday night.

Few men have seen more service on the battlefield in the capacity of newspaper correspondent and artist or have achieved more world-wide reputation than that of Frederick Villiers. For a quarter of a century his pen and ink drawings of the Sudan, South African and other campaigns and descriptive articles appearing in the leading London newspapers and magazines and were seen by thousands.

Mr. Villiers has been in Canada before, but he said last night that he could not help but notice the wonderful progress the country has made since his last visit.

J. T. Carey Makes Sensational Statement About Company

Waterbury, N. Y., April 8.—An advertisement in the Montreal Herald-Brotherhood of Pulp and Paper Makers in a statement issued today claims that a representative of the International Paper company has repeatedly offered him a bribe of $25,000 if he would use his influence in having the company go back to work not as an union man, but as individuals and accept a five per cent increase in wages.

A Glimpse at Towns in the Making Along the Way

(By J. N. McDonald)

Acme, April 8.—The regular train service on the Langdon-Acme branch was inaugurated Tuesday, April 6, the train arriving here about 3 p.m. The train consisted of fourteen freight cars, a baggage car, passenger coach and a caboose left Calgary at 8:05 a.m. and arrived here at 3 p.m.

Leaving Langdon, the number of freight cars had been increased to 18, chiefly for the purpose of increasing the service, but it will not be long until at least three trains each week.

For a new, unutilized road the track is in fairly good condition, and there is no heavy work in its construction.

The country through which it passes is rich in timber, and the timber is being developed very rapidly. As far as the eye can reach on both sides of the track is the almighty undulating hills, the timber is being developed very rapidly.

Halifax Minister Dead

MISSION TOMORROW

Prominent Preacher, Scholar, Poet, Author and Evangelist at Central Methodist for Next 10 Days

Rev. W. J. Dawson, D.D., a distinguished minister, will open a ten day mission in Central church on Sunday, Dr. Dawson is a son of the Wesleyan Mission. His early ministry was in that connection. Two years ago he preached from John Wesley's pulpit in Wesley's Chapel, City Road, London.

His numerous gifts and attainments have him remarkable success from the first, accepting afterward the pastorate of one of London's principal churches. In this new field he continued that striking career, which established his commanding position in Great Britain. Half a dozen ordinary situations in diverse fields are woven into the single chapter of this most illustrious man. He is a scholar, a poet, an author, a lecturer, a preacher, and an evangelist. His greatest work of fiction, "A Prophet in Babylon" is one of the most notable of modern stories for social service. For the past three or four years he has given himself very largely to special mission work in the great cities of the world. Speaking of a revival, he says, "We cannot organize a revival, but we can organize the work of evangelism, he further stated that those who have been waiting for the time to come, and who are now being called to the work of evangelism, should be prepared to meet the needs of the hour."

HOW THE C.M.A. WILL GO TO THE MOUNTAINS

It is Believed That it Will Strike to the North of the G. T. P.

CAMROSE-STRATHONA LINE WILL START SOON

Strathcona to Calgary Line Will Be Further West Than at First Planned

Edmonton, April 8.—The Canadian Northern Pacific's rival, the Great Trunk Pacific, west of the Yellowhead Pass, and this seems to be the line of the proposed building west from St. Albert, instead of from Edmonton.

The advantages of this change in the C. N. P. are obvious. The entire north country will be shut off from the G. T. P. by the Canadian Northern, over the tracks of which all traffic will have to cross to reach the G. T. P. main line. TURNUED THE GUNS ON MR. WORLD MACLEAN

Conservative Member Severely Censures Toronto Papers' Criticism

SOME VERY INTERESTING INCIDENTS OF SESSION

A Large Amount of Work Was Done at the House Yesterday

Ottawa, April 8.—In the Commons this morning Hon. Mr. Fielding gave notice of amendment to the coynage act which has for its object the manufacture of a silver dollar similar to the American silver dollar.

Mr. Blain (P.C.) called Mr. Fielding's attention to amount of work and defaced American money now circulating in Canada.

Mr. Fielding in reply said he would draw attention of the banks to the matter as there was understanding that they should ship money out of the country. Mr. Fielding added humorously that a good deal of this coin came from church collections.

Major Beatty (London) called the Government's attention to the treatment of English arrivals at Quebec, and cited a case where the father of a London, Ont. man, an English farmer, who had sold out his holdings in order to come to Canada with the former's wife and daughter, had been located in the immigration quarters at Quebec, despite the fact that the father referred to, produced $1000 in his purse and some bank drafts. Major Beatty said immigration officials refused to open the door, but on being threatened by bodily violence by the London man, who is six feet four inches, they at last opened it. Beatty would not like to say it was a hold-up, but it looked like one.

THE LORDS VETO BILL

Resolution Regarding Inability of the House Regarding Money Bills Carried

London, April 7.—The House of Commons in committee today adopted Premier Asquith's first veto resolution of the 27th. This resolution declares it expedient that the House of Lords be disabled by law from rejecting or amending a money bill, but that any such limitations shall not be taken to diminish or disqualify the existing rights of the House of Commons.

Lord Rosebery has his efforts in the return of the House of Lords. He gave a large dinner party to the leading peers, with the special object of informing them of the resolution which Lord Rosebery intends to introduce for the reconstruction of the House of Lords.

Baseball Carney Signs More Men Lacrosse Local Club Organized Soccer Coast Team Making a Kick

TO THE LAND WHERE BALL PLAYERS GROW

Deacon White, The Esquimaux Chief Is Hiking His Foot to the Coast League Cities After Champs.

Deacon White, the chief of the Esquimaux, was in town yesterday on his way to Seattle to get a few more champions for his baseball team.

Then there was one little accident which rather put a dent in Deacon's good humor. It was a little strip of paper upon which they print things in a telegraph office that causes the unhappiness of a boy and he never can give it to him.

He explained, however, that he had good cause and hoped to be forgiven, but that man, Bill Carney, had landed Les Wolfe, one of the best outfielders in the business.

The first team that the Maroons will try conditions with will be the Shamrocks for several years prominent in local city league circles.

The Shamrocks will hold a practice on their grounds, corner of Arlington and Kensington, this evening at 8 o'clock.

Deacon thinks Carney will land here with a great team, one that will take some beating.

EVERYBODY COME AND PLAY THE BASEBALL GAME

All The Candidates Wishing For Position on Ball Team Should Get Busy

All candidates who wish for a position on the Calgary semi pro team are requested to be at Victoria Park on Friday.

There is no reason why Calgary should not be represented by a fast semi pro team, as no doubt a number of the outside towns who are now busy gathering together their players, will try hard to lift the brewery cup, and as the professionals are away from home nearly half the season, a few such games will be appreciated by the local fans.

So gather your gloves and shoes and head for Victoria park for all those who think they have a chance to make the team, are welcome, and all will have an equal chance for the positions to be given to the most likely candidates.

Paragon of Team: Stated to Land the Championship for Capital City

Deacon White has corralled a baseball team that seems to have won the confidence of the Edmonton fans, a circumstance which, besides being a decided contrast to the feeling last year, ought to be an inspiration to the team to win every game played at home.

Once more the people of Calgary are placed under an obligation to Mr. E. L. Richardson, manager of the Calgary Horse Show.

Visitors with experience, say that it was the very best horse show they have ever seen any place.

A lecture on the "Forests of Europe" will be delivered in the high school assembly hall on the evening of Friday, April 15. Mr. A. Knichtel of the Dominion Forestry branch of the department of the interior will give the address.

Half a million dollars or more, which should at this time be under the hand of the province. We would prefer to have the roads and bridges.

If the government, or its people, could get an incident upon which to base a criticism of Hon. W. H. Cushing, they would turn the world upside down to do it. But because they are unable to do so they are trying to threaten something by publishing untruthful insinuations in their newspapers.

The bill board will have to go. It is a menace to all that is good. It is an offense to the eye, unseemly and objectionable. Mr. Chadwick of the neglected children's department of the province, places it high in the list of causes that lead to the downfall of young boys. It should be taxed out of business if it cannot be abolished in any other way.

Corset Covers in a Half Price Bargain Breeze

EXTRA heavy selling in the popular whitewear section has resulted in many lines selling down to an odd few, sizes broken and not a complete range of sizes in every style.

In such instances a clean-up and "hurry-out" sale is the policy of this store, and such is the case Monday, when we offer these 141 dainty corset covers in a half-price bargain breeze that should whisk them off the tables in a jiffy.

There are about twenty different designs in the lot, and though there is not every size in each particular design, you'll find every size among the collection. Were we to keep these odd styles and sizes we could very easily receive their regular prices for them, for they represent splendid value. It's simply a little clean-up that usually takes place in all well-managed stores every little while.

Every corset cover included is brand new and fresh as a daisy. Moreover, they were bought before the advance in cotton and are exceptional value at their original prices.

Here's the detailed list of quantity. Be here Monday morning at 9:30:

- 14 only Corset Covers, in sizes 32, 34, 36, 38, 40 and 42. Regular $1.00. Monday 1-2 PRICE

Twentieth Anniversary of C.M.B.A. in Calgary

Calgary branch No. 126 of the Catholic Mutual Benefit Association, or the C. M. B. A., as it is more generally known, will today celebrate the twentieth anniversary of its organization. The history of the C. M. B. A. dates back to Dec. 1, 1878, when the first association was instituted in the village of Niagara Falls, with fifty-seven charter members. Two years later the membership had sufficiently increased in Ontario, to warrant the formation of a grand council which was incorporated in January, 1880, and on Dec. 27, 1894, it received a charter from the Dominion government, authorizing it to do business in any part of Canada. In 1895, the grand council of the C. M. B. A. of Canada formed itself into a separate body, thus severing itself from the C. M. B. A. of the United States.

Since that date the Association has made wonderful progress and has extended its operations to every province of the Dominion, its membership being now about 30,000. Such in brief is the history of the general progress of the association; its objects, aims and work will be dealt with in detail further on.

The first officers installed were: President, Mr. Justice C. B. Rouleau; first vice-president, J. R. Costello; second vice-president, W. N. Costello; treasurer, John S. Feehan; recording secretary, Hugh J. Curley; assistant secretary, J. R. Miquelon; financial secretary, J. L. McNamara; marshal, W. M. Carroll; guard, Joseph Walsh; chancellor, J. W. Costello; trustees, J. R. Costello, N. A. Cloutier, John Costello, James O'Brien, Jas. Walsh. The meeting place for the association was fixed for the old Methodist church, where Shavers' undertaking establishment now stands, and which had previously been purchased by the separate school board for a school, in which place the association met for a number of years, fortnightly, commencing on April 22, 1890. The present meeting place is in St. Mary's hall, in which the association has elegantly fitted up and comfortable quarters. The present officers are: J. W. Costello, president, who was for ten years financial secretary and the establishment now stands, and which had previously been purchased by the separate school board for a school, in which place the association met for a number of years, fortnightly, commencing on April 22, 1890. The present meeting place is in St. Mary's hall, in which the association has elegantly fitted up and comfortable quarters. The present officers are: J. W. Costello, president, who was for ten years financial secretary and the disbursed members who have suffered from illness or accident. There is no Catholic fraternal society doing business in Canada that occupies such a warm place in the hearts of the people as the C. M. B. A. and there is none in which the people have such unbounded confidence. There is none whose unselfish work and object have been so closely watched by the hierarchy and clergy of Canada, and none to which such marks of special favor have been shown. Distinguished prelates and clergy have been found to be numbered among its members and have watched over its proceedings and valued it as a great auxiliary.

Since the formation of the grand council about $5,000,000 have been paid to the heirs of deceased brothers and it can easily be understood what a vast amount of good has been effected by the association in the Catholics of Canada. A reserve fund, a measure towards the perpetuation of the association was established in 1887, which now amounts to over $300,000. The restrictions as to membership in the association are that applicants for membership must be practical from which, within sixty days after the receipt at the office of the secretary of the association of satisfactory evidence of the death of a member, a sum not exceeding two thousand dollars, shall be paid to dependents or other beneficiary, whom the deceased member has designated by the association to the widow, orphan or to the legal representatives of such deceased member.

No charge for service or advice, as we do not enter into the practice of medicine. The sad thing about medical practitioners today is that they continually practice and doctor. Our specialties cost from $10 upward.

Biographical Sketch

Mrs. Keane, Author and Composer of the "Rider of the Plains."

Mrs. (Dr.) Keane (nee Amy Hopkins) author of the accompanying song and music, "The Rider of the Plains," is a native-born Canadian, the third daughter of the late L. Hopkins, a pioneer of the Northumberland county, Ontario, Ontario was badly off for schools and teachers in its early days of settlement, and as Mr. Hopkins was the only one in his district with a university education, he was requested by his fellow settlers to take charge of the district school, and hence taught school for many years after coming to this country. Mrs. Keane got her classical education from her father, and passed through the various grades of the public and high schools of her native province. Ontario, her father having encouraged all his children to secure teacher's certificates whether they intended to follow the profession of a teacher or not. After finishing her school course, she married Dr. M. J. Keane of Dublin, Ireland, nephew of the late Rev. Dr. Keane of Toronto. On her maternal side, Mrs. Keane is connected with a number of old French-Canadian families, one of whose ancestors, de Courtenanche de Repentigny, held the Traverse against Wolfe at the time of the Conquest.

Mrs. Keane is the author of several songs, among which is "The Colonist and the Flag," approved by His Majesty as Canadian Empire Day song, and which is under the patronage of Lord Minto, former governor general, and Lord Grey, present Governor General of Canada. This song was written and originally sold for the Canadian South African Memorial fund. "The Rider of the Plains," the words and music of which we give in the present issue is esteemed one of the gems of Canadian literature. Mrs. Keane is also well known in journalistic circles as a forcible and interesting newspaper writer, these articles being usually contributed under a nom de plume.

Dr. and Mrs. Keane have one child, Miss Irene Keane, at present attending the University of Alberta, and whose clever newspaper articles would seem to indicate that she inherits her parents' literary talents.

LADY WHO IS QUEEN'S GREATEST FRIEND

Miss Knollys Has Position of Great Influence at British Court

London, April 8.—Miss Knollys is one of those very important personages at court who remain a great deal in the background. In the great state functions by the rules of procedure, she plays but a comparatively minor part, and is seen very little in general society, except when in attendance on the queen. Yet Miss Knollys is the one member of her household whom her majesty probably regards as indispensable. Some of the great ladies of the court, as for example, the duchess of Devonshire, or Lady Grosford, are old friends of the queen, and if either resigned their positions, it is reported that the queen would be intended to do it, it would certainly be a matter of much regret to her majesty. But Miss Knollys' position differs from that of any other lady of the household, outside certainly, she is the only person whom the queen has honored with friendship, so close and intimate, that in private life, at all events, it has broken down all the barriers that usually separate sovereign from subject.

Is "Alex." to Her Friend

For many years past her majesty in private has ceased to be addressed as "Your majesty," or "Madame," by Miss Knollys. The queen is "Alex." to her friend, and the latter is Charlotte to her majesty, and indeed, to all the immediate members of the royal family, with whom she has been on terms of intimacy for the past fifty years. It was in 1863 that Miss Charlotte Knollys went to stay at Sandringham as a guest of the queen, then, of course, princess of Wales. The princess took a great liking to the young, downy-looking, girl, of eighteen, and though there was in reality no vacancy in the royal household at the moment, offered to make her an extra lady of the bedchamber. Miss Knollys was certainly very young for such a position, and she hesitated about accepting it, but her reluctance was overcome by the gracious lady who had set her heart on retaining her young friend near her. Miss Knollys was, of course, familiar with the atmosphere and ways of the court. Her father, General Sir William Knollys and her brother, then Mr. Francis Knollys, now Lord Knollys, were both in Queen Victoria's household. Miss Knollys, therefore in spite of her youth, possessed that essential qualification of a maid of honor, an intimate knowledge of the usages and customs of the court. From the day she entered the royal establishment it became evident that Miss Knollys was destined to occupy a position of considerable influence. It is well known at court that Miss Knollys made one last sacrifice for the sake of her royal mistress, to whom she has devoted her life's service. Some six or seven years after Miss Knollys entered the royal household, she could have married. Like all maids of honor, however, she had first to obtain her majesty's consent to do so, but it was not sought. That it would have been granted there is not the least doubt; indeed, there is not an instance of it having been actually refused. But had Miss Knollys asked for the royal permission to marry, there can be no doubt that, however reluctant the queen would have been to part with her friend, it would have been at once granted. The story is that the queen once expressed the earnest hope to her friend that she would never marry, that Miss Knollys promised she never would, and that a couple of years later she had to choose between breaking her promise to the lady whom she had promised to serve for life, or sacrificing her affection for the man she loved. She chose to do the latter, and it was not until long afterwards that her majesty learnt the whole story of how much her maid of honor had given up for her sake.

A Great Favorite

Miss Knollys has always been an immense favorite with the children of King Edward, and the queen, though the queen of Norway was said to be her special favorite.

A story is told of how on one occasion when her majesty went, accompanied by Miss Knollys, to be photographed with the little Princess Maud, who was then about four years old, her little royal highness at the conclusion of the sitting suddenly began to cry. On being asked to explain the cause of her trouble the little princess said plaintively, "I want to be photographed with Chatty, too," and her request was duly granted. In Miss Knollys the queen has something more than a dear friend and companion, she has a secretary whose services are well-nigh indispensable. Her majesty's official and public correspondence is, of course, attended to by Mr. Sydney Greville, while Mr. Ernest Bryant looks after the accounts of her majesty's establishment, which are kept quite separate from those of the king's household. But it is in regard to her private affairs and business that the queen finds Miss Knollys so invaluable, nearly so, because her friend is so familiar with them, but perhaps more largely because Miss Knollys possesses considerable business ability.

THE RIDER OF THE PLAINS.

DEDICATED TO THE RYAN NORTH WEST MOUNTED POLICE.

WORDS AND MUSIC BY AMY H. KEANE.

INTRODUCTION.

Musical score for the introduction of "The Rider of the Plains," featuring a piano accompaniment and a vocal line with lyrics: "His patrol alone, out-riding, came a 'Rider of the Plains,' softly humming through the distance an old song's light refrain; For bright skies and sunny weather brought sweet thoughts of love and home, though the dear old land he sang of lay across the ocean's foam."

Obtained according to Act of Parliament of Canada in the year 1906, by Amy H. Keane at the Department of Agriculture.

Tempo: Valse.

Musical score for the main body of "The Rider of the Plains," featuring a piano accompaniment and a vocal line with lyrics: "No carpet knight is he, this rider bold and free, though his king's best, he does his soldier's best, guarding well the empire's honor in the great Canadian West. But what light or sound of danger breaks the current of his dream? What alarms his dumb companion, friend by field and wood and stream? Only gleam of tattered uniform, a comrade's friendly red, till a nearer view reveals that friend one of the ghostly dead. There's no need to ask the story of that comrade's bitter fate, 'Twas no foe in equal warfare, nor cunning Indian's hate. Dying there alone, he traced it on the papers at his breast: 'I have lost my way, my horse is dead. Good-bye! I've done my best.' And no comrade's voice had cheered him, entering there that last long trail, where the storm king's joy fingers seized the nobly guarded mail; Nor for him the fond endearments of a sweetheart's last caress, nor the solace of a sister's prayer, a mother's holy kiss. Yet no woman could be gentler in assuaging other's grief, weak and desolate sought this prairie knight to bring them sure relief; But no plant of death, oh cheated, would this rider hero bring; From life's angel he had chosen the red wine of suffering. A thousand years of glory and renown by sea and land, has produced this truest hero, guardian of the hinterland. Every gear of mind and person, every manliest quality, let us cheer him as we see him passing into history."

WHAT IT COSTS TO BECOME A PEER

Charges that Newly-enobled Commoners Are Obligated to Face

London, April 8.—Although titles cannot be bought in this country in the open market, as they can in many continental countries by merely paying so much gold "over the counter," Mr. Herbert Gladstone and Mr. Ivor Guest will not get into the house of lords for nothing.

They will both have to pay pretty heavily for their peerage in stamp duty, crown office fees, and home office fees—the total in each case running into several hundred pounds, and all fees are collected strictly in advance.

As a viscount Mr. Gladstone will be charged £467 4s. 6d., the amount being made up as follows: stamp duties, £280 12s.; crown office fees, £223 10s.; and home office fees, £37 2s. 6d. A viscount is, of course, the fourth

MINERAL LANDS WILL NOT BE ALIENATED

Very Important Changes to be Made in the Regulations.

NO SURFACE RIGHTS WITH PETROLEUM LANDS. And Grants Will be Made For Actual Operations Only.

Ottawa, April 8.—The department of the interior has recently issued new regulations governing the disposal of mineral rights on government lands, the property of the crown.

The lands in question are situated in Manitoba, Alberta, Saskatchewan, and the North West Territories. The purpose is to revise the regulations relative to all mineral rights, but especially subjects heretofore dealt with at this time relate to petroleum, natural gas and tar-sand rights.

The purpose in promulgating the new regulations is to conserve to the people of Canada their interest in the natural resources that remain in the control of the government, while affording every opportunity and inducement for the investment of capital in their actual development.

In former times it was the policy of the government to dispose outright of mineral rights. Industrial development along such lines was in its infancy and it was regarded as proper and necessary that a broad liberality should be practised in order to encourage and foster the building up of such industries. At that time land had but small value and an added inducement to capital individuals and corporations were permitted to acquire freehold rights to the surface on lands on which they undertook to develop mineral.

Times Have Changed. But times have changed; the great tide of immigration of the last few years has given a vastly increased value to land and the encouragement so liberally extended to capital has had the effect of placing the development of the mineral resources of the country on a substantial footing. Hence the determination of the government to inaugurate a new policy for dealing with mineral rights, the modern policy of conservation.

Formerly, when the surface had no great value, regulations were framed whereby the applicant for mineral rights was permitted to acquire both the surface and mineral rights upon the payment of a given sum per acre. As the demand for farming lands increased, the value of the surface of mineral lands was very greatly enhanced, and under this increase in the value of surface lands it in time came about that mineral rights were being acquired for the purpose of getting the surface. Instead of the surface being acquired as an incident to the mineral rights, it became evident in many instances that ostensible mineral rights were merely being availed of to grab the surface.

For Operation Only. To meet this condition new regulations have been framed designed to segregate the mineral from the surface rights and introducing the principle that mineral rights may only be acquired for actual operations. Under the former regulations the right to acquire the surface with the mineral rights applied to both coal and petroleum lands with the difference that whereas title to coal lands could be acquired upon the necessary payments being made, title to petroleum lands could not be had until machinery was on the ground and a commercial flow of oil obtained. The new regulations made it apply to coal lands, were so framed as to give only the coal rights under lease subject to being operated on demand. It was found, however, that the same conditions that had obtained with respect to coal lands were operating with respect to petroleum lands and to protect the public interest the petroleum regulations are now being changed.

No Surface Rights at All. The principle of the new petroleum regulations is that the mineral rights are secured under lease subject to an annual rental, except that for the first two years of the lease the rent may be paid in prospecting operations. But the lessee of the mineral rights does not acquire the right to the surface, though he may have leased a sufficient area of the surface to enable him to carry on operations.

The same principle is being worked out in connection with the demand for opportunity to develop the tar-sand or asphalt lands on the Athabasca in northern Alberta. Under the tar-sand regulations recently issued the mineral rights to these lands may be secured on payment of $10 an acre and then only so much as the government considers necessary for operations.

One important principle involved in the new regulations respecting the petroleum and tar-sand lands relates to the rights of the prospector, the discoverer whose interests are protected as they have not hitherto been. In the new regulations all lands must be staked and they must be staked in person by the individual making application for a lease but the original locator is given the right under certain restrictions of transferring his right.

No Longer Sell the Rights. The underlying principle of these regulations and upon which all others in the future will be built is, that the government will no longer sell or alienate mineral rights; but will only lease them subject to terms of operation, that leases shall be held subject to annual rentals which are intended to be burdensome unless actual operations are carried on. In short, the whole tenor of them is that while general operations in the development of mineral resources are made easier, getting land through obtaining mineral rights is entirely cut out.

Orders-in-council authorizing the new regulations have been passed within recent days. They are now being published by the interior department.

The tar-sand regulations which became effective on the 19th, are made to apply to that portion of Alberta lying north of township 30 and between the fourth and fifth meridians in which territory the asphalt deposits are situated. For the purpose of developing the tar-sand deposits these lands may be leased for a term of twenty-one years at an annual rental of fifty cents per acre in advance. No applicant is allowed to lease more than 1200 acres. The lease may be renewed for a further term of twenty-one years provided the lessee can satisfy the minister he has fully complied with the terms of the lease and all the regulations under which the lease was granted.

Where the surface rights to lands applied for are disposed of no lease will be granted.

The applicant for tar-sand rights must make application in person to the agent for Dominion lands or a sub-agent in the lands district in which the lands applied for are situated and must show that he has personally staked the land by placing a wooden post four inches square and four feet high at one corner of the tract, on which has been inscribed the name of the applicant, the boundaries defining and a notice posted declaring the intention of the applicant to apply within thirty days for a lease. If the land applied for lies on the shores of a river or lake the applicant will be entitled to apply for no more than one mile of water frontage.

The lease granted the applicant entitles only the tar-sand rights but the lessee may upon making application be permitted to purchase at $10 an acre so much surface rights as the minister may consider necessary for carrying the mineral rights.

The lessee is required to begin active operations upon the land within one year from the date upon which he is notified by the department to do so, and must produce from such operations the quantity of asphalt specified in the notification. Such notification may not be given until the expiration of the first year of the lease, when issued it must state the quantity of asphalt the lessee will be required to produce, which amount may be increased from time to time, but may never be made to exceed ten tons per annum for each acre of land leased.

During the first three years of the lease the lessee is required to make such expenditure in the development of the leasehold and in installation of equipment for efficient operation as may be prescribed in the lease and at the end of each year he must furnish evidence to the satisfaction of the minister that he has fully complied with these requirements. The lessee may not transfer his rights without the consent of the minister. A fee of $5 must accompany each application for a lease.

It is provided with a view to encouraging the development of the products of the lands subject to lease that no royalty shall be charged by the government on the products of tar-sand operations prior to 1920. A period of twenty years but provision will be made in all leases making the products of the lands subject to what may be levied after that date.

The new regulations with respect to petroleum and natural gas lands will come into force the second day of May of this year. They represent a complete revolution in the system of dealing with such lands. Under the old regulations, all crown lands were declared to be open for prospecting for oil. Applications for oil lands might secure the oil rights to 1200 acres and $5.00 was found the owner of a right was entitled to purchase the land at the rate of $1 an acre for the first 400 acres and $3 an acre for the remaining 800.

Under the new regulations individuals or corporations may acquire by lease only the petroleum and natural gas rights under an area not exceeding 1200 acres of crown land at an annual rental in advance, of twenty-five cents an acre the first year and fifty cents an acre each subsequent year. The lease runs for twenty-one years and is renewable for another twenty-one years upon the lessee satisfying the minister of compliance with all the terms of the lease and the regulations in force during the currency of the lease.

In cases where the surface rights to lands applied for have been patented or otherwise passed to freehold right the lease does not authorize entry upon the land without obtaining the consent of the owner of the surface and in case of the surface being covered by timber license, grazing or coal mining leases, permission of the minister to enter upon the land must be obtained.

Application for petroleum or gas rights must be made in person by the applicant to the Dominion lands agent or a sub-agent in the district in which the lands in question are situated. The applicant must file a plan of the tract and must show the lands agent that he has personally staked the land, placing a wooden post four inches square and four feet high at one corner of the land, bearing the name of the applicant, the date of location, a description of the land and that written notice of the plan of the tract and declaring the intention of the applicant to apply for a lease within thirty days from the date of location. If the land is situated on a river or lake the applicant may not acquire the right to more than a mile of water front.

The lessee is required to have on the ground within one year, the necessary equipment and machinery for carrying on operations, such as the minister may consider necessary and must satisfy the minister he has made such installation but the minister may not require that the value of such machinery exceed $5,000.

The lessee must begin boring operations within fifteen months of the date of his lease and must conduct such operations with reasonable diligence, to the satisfaction of the minister, with a view to the discovery of oil or gas and the lease is subject to cancellation unless it can be shown that at least $2,000 is expended in legitimate boring operations in any one year. For the first two years of the lease, the applicant may be submitting satisfactory affidavits as to the sums expended in boring operations, have such sums, exclusive of the cost of machinery and casing, applied to his rental for those years.

The lease conveys only the rights to the oil and gas but the lessee may on application being made, be granted a lease at $1 per acre per year payable in advance, whatever surface available the minister may consider necessary for operations and should oil or gas be found in such quantities the lessee may be granted permission to purchase at $10 an acre so much of the available surface rights as the minister may determine is necessary for the efficient operation of the rights granted.

If it is not established to the satisfaction of the minister that oil or gas exists on the leasehold, the lease becomes subject to termination upon two years' notice being given by the minister.

A fee of $5 is required to accompany each application for a lease. The lessee is not permitted to transfer his rights without the consent of the minister. No royalty is to be charged on petroleum until 1920 but as in the case of tar-sand leases, the lessee must provide for the imposition and collection of whatever royalty the government may impose thereafter. A royalty may, however, be levied on natural gas in such amount as may be determined by order in council.

It is provided that at the end of each year of the term of the lease the lessee must furnish to the minister a statement supported by affidavits showing the number of days operations were carried on during the year, the number of men employed, the character of the work done, the depth attained, the total expenditure incurred, a detailed statement showing what such expenditure was incurred for, the quantity of crude oil or natural gas obtained and the amount realized therefrom. Failure to furnish such return will subject the lessee to a fine of $10 a day for each day's delay in submitting the return and after three months delay the lease will be subject to cancellation.

Under the new regulations individuals or corporations may acquire by lease only the petroleum and natural gas rights under an area not exceeding 1200 acres of crown land at an annual rental in advance, of twenty-five cents an acre the first year and fifty cents an acre each subsequent year. The lease runs for twenty-one years and is renewable for another twenty-one years upon the lessee satisfying the minister of compliance with all the terms of the lease and the regulations in force during the currency of the lease.

CANADA GOT BETTER OF TRADE TREATY

United States Papers Say That They Got the Worst of it.

BUT THE DEAL WAS VERY FAIR IN GENERAL

The Tariff Treaty as the United States People Call it.

Chicago, April 8.—The Washington correspondent of the Chicago Tribune thus refers to the trade treaty with Canada.

The Canadian agreement is attacked by many tariff experts as a "compromise" which extends most of the advantages to Canada. This view is vigorously combated by the government of-officials. They declare the United States has obtained all it could hope for from Canada in the way of tariff concessions and that American trade will have a better opening in Canada now than at any time since the Canadian government adopted the protective tariff.

In exchange for the minimum rates from the United States Canada gives this country the "intermediate" rates on all goods which come under the miscellaneous or omnibus section of its tariff law and on twelve specific schedules. These new rates are the same as are given to France under the terms of the new French Canadian tariff.

France Held no Menace. The reduced rates apply to only $5,000,000 of the $180,000,000 export trade which the United States enjoys with the Dominion. The American tariff officials assert, however, that on practically all the rest of the trade the lower rates given by Canada to France do not carry any menace for the American commerce. The competition of the French goods will be so slight that there will be no actual discrimination against American trade.

The arrangement constitutes the most important step that has been taken toward an actual reciprocity since 1896. The United States and Canada now are pledged to undertake a lowering of duties on each side, so as to increase trade and bring about a freer exchange of goods.

This is stated in a letter written by Secretary Knox to W. S. Fielding, minister of finance of Canada. "Let me take this opportunity to express, by his direction, the desire of the president that your government will find it convenient to deal up with this France and Spain reached $200,000,000. Watch actions and movements in which there is competition from Switzerland amounted to $500,000. Dressed leather in various forms was about the same. Minimum Rates to All. The proclamation of the president of the United States will be admitted which will be signed tomorrow, complete the extension of the country's rates to the whole world. About 150 nations and dependencies are included. A semi-official statement is made, however, that from this time forward from 50 to 60 per cent of the products of the United States will be admitted to foreign countries free of duty, and that of the American products which pay a duty in foreign countries 50 per cent will be entitled to the minimum rate. Of the proclamation signed today that with Australia is the most important. Columbus Threatened Strike Settled. Columbus, Ohio, April 8.—The newly formed Union of the Motorman and Conductor of the Columbus St. Railway Co. voted early today to accept the offer of the company, and thus the threatened strike was averted. The compromise gives the men a cent an hour increase, being based upon the time that they have been employed by the company. An additional half cent an hour will be given the men after January 1, 1911.

KING EDWARD NOT SO VERY SICK IS OFFICIAL REPORT. The Alarmist Stories About His Health Are Absurd.

Maritz, April 8.—Sir James Field, physician-in-ordinary to King Edward, who accompanied his majesty professionally to this place said yesterday:

"The king has not had influenza, therefore he is not suffering from its after effects. He is living his usual life here. The weather continues stormy, even wintry. Consequently the king is outdoors less than he wishes, but the alarmist stories about his condition are absurd."

British Trade With Canada. London, April 8.—Lord Bessford publishes a pamphlet giving advice for developing British trade with Canada. His recommendations include securing of a first class resident commercial traveller, catalogues, and advertisements in Canadian style, longer terms of credit, quick shipments, maintenance of larger stocks, and establishment of branch industry in the Dominion.

ACREAGE

in TEN ACRE LOTS

Splendid soil, perfectly level, on main road. Telephone by the property. Don't buy a 25-foot lot when, by going a little further out, you can secure enough ground that will allow you to have a garden, the proceeds of which would pay for the property first season.

Calgary is rapidly coming into her own, and the position of wanting property such as above.

Messrs. Tregillus & Hextall will Give 150 Acres of Land

Bridge to be Built Across the River to Park

"The Exhibition company has been offered practically free of charge very fine grounds to the far west west of the city. The proposed donors are Mr. W. J. Tregillus and J. Hextall, and the property is a portion of that part of the west of the city known as Bowness. It is on the south of the Bow river and directly across from the park now known as Shouldice Park.

"The advantages of this place as exhibition park is that the railway runs right past it and freight and passengers could be brought in that way. Then again it is directly across from the park to which a railway will be projected at an early date. Arrangements are being made to have a bridge span the river very soon. That will bring the park in direct communication with the street railway, with practically no additional expense."

BOWVIEW

Adjoins and overlooks this land. A bridge will make the land on the south of the river as valuable as on the north, 30 acres having been recently sold for $600 per acre.

We quote from Mr. W. J. Thorold, of London Press Association: (Albertan, March 11, 1910).—"To me the city presents the most remarkable future. I am told that in Calgary and vicinity, there will be commenced construction of works requiring an ultimate expenditure of TWENTY-FIVE MILLION DOLLARS, and of this sum the C.P.R. will expend Sixteen Million Dollars on the extension of their branch lines. The balance is to be expended in civic improvements and the construction of other branch lines into Calgary. Such an expenditure as this can only result in Calgary becoming one of the foremost cities in the Canadian or American West."

Try and realize what this will mean for Calgary. As a city expands, land suitable for gardening, or property that lends itself to home building, becomes greatly in demand and valuable. The near future will see such property commanding prices double what we are asking.

$100 PER ACRE AND UPWARDS

Calgary's progress during the last few years has borne out the saying, "There is no tomorrow." Putting of until "Tomorrow" in Calgary realty has spent a lost "Yesterday" in thousands of instances. The future will bring regret to many who let OPPORTUNITIES pass. Others will take advantage of present offerings and invest, reasoning out the truth of Mr. Thorold's statement: That Calgary will become one of the foremost cities of the Canadian or American West, with the consequent increase in values.

BAD POSTERS ARE CAUSE OF MUCH EVIL

Sensational Billboards Contribute Much to Delinquency of Youth.

BAD INFLUENCE ON THE YOUNG DISCUSSED

Interesting Facts Brought Out in Mr. Chadwick's Report.

Sensational posters on the billboards and cheap theatres are among the causes which contribute to the delinquency of children in this province according to R. B. Chadwick, provincial superintendent of dependent and delinquent children in a report for the year which he has filed with the legislature. In discussing the causes for bad boys and girls, Mr. Chadwick furnishes some interesting information. Sensational billboards, he says, have the same effect on small boys as cheap melodramas, giving them false ideas of life and an ambition to become law-breakers and desperadoes. Discussing delinquency, he says in his report:

Cause of Delinquency. The more time and study placed on a case of delinquency, the more elusive the cause seems to become. It is most difficult to isolate a definite or concrete cause in any case which has been dealt with by this department in the last two years. The general term, "Bad Home Conditions," is too indefinite to index a real cause. In the case of theft, investigation as a rule reveals poverty which incited the theft, lack of the poverty is usually sickness, idleness or misfortune which caused the poverty. In addition there is often a poor physique with its susceptibility to sickness and disease, lack of the poor physique there frequently lie bad habits, acquired or inherited, or there may be lack of home training, intensive and oversight or a combination of all.

The more searching the investigation into the case, as a rule, the more complex and difficult to locate the causes of delinquency become. Those who have given the matter of child delinquency the most serious thought and study, agree that the individual causes of delinquency lie hidden somewhere in bad habits and bad homes.

- Most prominent of bad influences and habits which contribute to cause of delinquency:
1. Intoxicants.
 2. Tobacco.
 3. Drugs.
 4. Sexual.
 5. Bad associates.
 6. Bad literature.
 7. Cheap theatres.
 8. Sensational posters.
 9. Loafing.
 10. Lack of trade.
 11. Street life.
 12. Laziness.
 13. Gambling.

Most prominent defects of the average "bad home":

1. Poor parental oversight.
2. Ignorance of laws of health.
3. Lack of attention to physical defects.
4. Lack of insistence on school attendance.
5. Desire to make child contribute to family income.
6. Lack of moral or religious training.
7. Lack of supervision of companionship.
8. Lack of example of industry and thrift.

Object of the Law to Reform, not to Punish.

The law clearly distinguishes between the juvenile and the adult offender, setting the boundary at sixteen years of age, and in theory at least, punishment is not used except for educational purposes. The object is not to punish but to reform. Presuming a delinquent boy to be a healthy normal boy, but the victim of bad home conditions, it is a safer and safer method to place such child under the influence of a normal home where he will see the actual conditions of life, freed day by day, and where he will be absorbed into the community to become a citizen with a full knowledge of citizenship, than it would be to send the same boy to an institution for a number of years where he would come in contact with those who are defective and degenerate, and find himself homelike, friendly and branded as a prison product on his release.

The Place of the Institution. Institutions have their place and their work, such work should be that of giving expert care and training to the defective and degenerate cases which come up from time to time, and which are impossible to place in foster homes. In Alberta the plan has been tried, and with great success, of having first offenders made over to this department by the judge trying the case under the Children's Protection Act. In the event of the child being made over to this department, it is sent to a foster home, unless its own home is a good one, for a period of one or two years, full permission being given the parents to correspond with and see the child as long as such visits or correspondence have not an unsettling effect. If the child fails in three or four foster homes, physical or mental defects are looked for, and the parents are requested to have the child examined by a physician. Many cases of defective eyesight and of adroit growths have been discovered to be the cause back of the child's unruly behaviour.

Unresponsive Cases. A number of children pronounced as physically and mentally normal, continue to break laws and deliberately defy all authority in the face of any effort which may be made to prevent them so doing. In cases of this kind the recommendation is made that such children be sent to a reformatory, where the rigid rules and regulations of the institution will keep them within bounds and possibly reform their habits to the condition of self control and respect for law and order. An arrangement has been made with the province of Manitoba whereby boys in need of institutional care may be sent to the industrial school at Portage la Prairie.

The percentage of success which has attended the "placing out system" in dealing with delinquent children is marvelous. About ninety-eight per cent make good records and swing back into normal conditions of life without having the stain of reformatory life on their character. The cost of "placing out" as compared with the institution is considerably less, as after the child is once placed the only cost is supervision by a travelling inspector.

WE GOT RELIEF RIGHT AWAY

Dodd's Kidney Pills Cure Kidney Disease of Eight Years Standing.

That's What They Did for William O. Cain, and Now he says: "Dodd's Kidney Pills are a Great Medicine."

Mapleton, Alberta Co., N. B. April 8 (Special). "When I began taking Dodd's Kidney Pills I got relief right away. I have found Dodd's Kidney Pills a great medicine." So says William O. Cain, well known and highly respected in this neighborhood. And Mr. Cain has a very good reason for making so emphatic a statement. For eight years he was suffering from Kidney Disease, and did not seem to be able to get relief.

"Why I was so bad," Mr. Cain goes on to state, "and my kidneys bothered me so that if I would go to pick up anything off the ground I would fall." But Dodd's Kidney Pills cured him just as they have cured thousands of other sufferers all over Canada. They never fail to cure Kidney Disease of any kind. Not once, but scores of times, they have vanquished Bright's Disease, the most deadly of all Kidney troubles, while every day brings stories of cures of Rheumatism, Lumbago, Dropsy and Heart Disease from various parts of the Dominion. Other kidney medicines may cure. Dodd's Kidney Pills always cure.

FIGURES THAT TELL STORIES

The Labor Gazette, the official organ of the labor department of the Dominion government, contains a table showing the general condition of each of sixteen different branches of industrial employment in each of 46 different places from Charlottetown to Victoria.

If we take the latest returns, those for the month of February, and contrast the reports of "Active" and "Very Active," with "Quiet" and "Very Quiet," we find that busy workmen in Canada compare in number with those out of employment as the two men in the picture compare in size.

Considering that these are reports for February, and that they include such industries as farming, fishing, building trades, and unskilled labor as well as the different branches of manufacture, it is easy to believe that, as the summer season comes on, there will be more than enough work for all. In fact, these Labor Gazette reports tend to confirm the expectation expressed by many in the West that there will be an over-demand for workmen—a labor famine.

Details of these reports for February show the following: In the metal engineering and shipbuilding 43 out of 46 places sent reports and only one shows a "quiet" condition locally. Printing and allied trades show 41 reports of which all but two are "active." General manufacture is reported on from 41 places, and there is only one place where this branch is "quiet." Even the building trades are "active" in 19 places and "quiet" in 28.

As to localities, Montreal shows all manufactures to be doing well, and only building and unskilled labor as "quiet." In Toronto, only the unskilled laborers are short of employment, and everything else is "active." Winnipeg reports all but farmers and unskilled laborers as busy. In Vancouver, the people who are short of employment are fishermen, printers, clothing makers, and unskilled laborers.

Drugless Healing

No doubt there are people that believe all there is to this system of healing is pushing my hands on a person, and taking their money, but I want to say you are sadly mistaken, for we look after the physical, as well as the mental, and give the best advice the world knows, in using the good things that God has so graciously and abundantly placed around us, nor do I claim to be endowed with any special power from God to heal diseases. Any intelligent man or woman can heal diseases just as readily as I do, if they know how—it's all in knowing how. It seems to me if I were down and out dragging around with aches and pains, no ambition, no health and had tried medicine for years, as many of you have, it would surely find out something about this system of healing, as well as the remarkable cures I have lately made that I can point out to you. If our system was not based on a solid foundation and facts, how in the world could we ever brought about recognition and the national law of the United States in our favor, in 1907? This alone should convince the people there is something to it. Much less the number of severe cases I have lately healed, such as asthma, catarrh, eczema, old running sores, deafness, epilepsy, nervousness, constipation, organic troubles, rheumatism, insomnia, etc. These people are here in Calgary. I will give their names and address to anyone interested. I have healed a number of cases of rheumatism here in the city. Rheumatism in any form is one among the easiest things to cure with this treatment. There are so few chronic troubles even of long standing but what can be healed if gone about in the right way. This is the cheapest and quickest system of healing the world knows.

If out of the city, write me.
