NEWEST AND LATEST DESIGNS. AND BEST VALUE!

During the time that I have been in business, notwithstanding my usually large importations of Room Paper, my supply has always been short of the demand, more particularly in the better qualities, therefore I was determined this year to get a sufficient stock, and mported direct from England, the largest invoice of this line of goods, and of far superior quality to any ever before offered for sale at one time in Bridgetown. All requiring Room Paper may rest assured that the most fastidious taste will be satisfied, among the varieties I am now offering for inspection, as the designs are all of the Latest and most Sashionable descriptions.

I will take pleasure in sending sample books for inspection, to any person desiring to select patterns. Books to be returned as soon as convenient,

As soon as tea-time came, she would begin, plaintively, with tears in her big, dark eyes, 'Baby don' wan' go bed, 'tall.'

Ten thousands devices familiar to parents only diverted her for the time being, and hardly was she laid in the crib, when she would begin to cry, and to tease mamma to 'come bed.'

It was a comparatively new habit, because, for a year past, the child had been in the habit of going to bed alone, singing herself to sleep.

Her mother was at her wit's end to break it up, until it seemed to her that Pansy must be afraid of the dark. As it was summer time, she began by putting the little girl to bed early enough to do away with the necessity for light, and while it, was still light enough out of doors for the baby to see all their was in the room distinctly.

[Clara Belle in Cincinnati Enquirer.] the clinging fingers than to lay down a child without disturbing it.

Stay with the dear little one, rather than let it cry itself to sleep, for slumber so obtained is far from restful, and the unconscious sobs which agitate the child long after forgetfulness has come, will bring tears to the tender parent's avea.

[Clara Belle in Chemnan Enquirer.]

We Fifth avenue girls have been scattering in all directions to make the most of the snow by sleighing, toboganing and snowshoeing. The most amusing moment I have enjoyed during it all was one night when we were on a straw sleigh ride. There was a loving couple aboard, in closer quarters than even the size of the vehicle and the number of the party necessita.

Will bring tears to the tender parent's eyes.

Make every effort, however, to teach the child to go to sleep alone, for the part to go go go, where it became a slight commotion, and curious electrons.

All of these medicines are for sale by unintentionally frightened by a chance word. Their active brains are quick to catch the idea conveyed. Do not incidentally allude to the dark, the possibility of a storm, or anything calculated to arouse fear. Many are afraid of shadows before they are old enough to express their terror. Crying is their only language. Bear with it patients old trick on him. It is at the word asked the girl. Did you bite him? No, no, she frankly replied. I had kept my mouth open a good deal, you see, and the frost had got into the metal plate of my false teeth. When he smacked me impulsively his lip can be smack
