STARR'S POINT, March, 1895.

I have much pleasure in testifying to the value of the Fertilizers sold by you. I used last year five tons, of Bradley's Potato Manure on twenty acres of potatoes, with a good deal of satisfaction, averaging nearly 200 bushels per acre from the whole field. Its dryness and mechanical condition seem to me to be perfect. I used it in the Planter without clogging, while other fertilizers that I used were too damp to be used at all in the machine. I got good value for my investment, and shall use it in increased quantities.

—A. A. Proctor.

In the long, dim night, if you cannot sleep, Don't fall to counting the dreamland sheep; They follow their leader fast and fain, Over the hedge in a dizy train, But they have no power to lrive away The haunting ghosts of the weary day.

Cease, if you can, from adding lines
Of courtesying figures, sevens and nines,
Sixes, elevens, till by and by,
Like a cloud of notes in a summer sky,
You could brush them away, but they'd backward creep,
And never, never would bring you sleep.

And whoever may bid you, do not say The verses you learned in your childhood's day,

Over and over, until full fain
You wish you were merely a child again,
With a head that at touch of the pillow The tender dropping of slumber's dew.

Or think, if you will, of the sweet grass,
Acres and acres where no feet pass;
Of daisies and clover that over and over
The zephyrs kiss, with the heart of a lover;
Of dunes that are billowy 'neath the sun,
Where the skylark stoops when his song is

Or ever you know it unaware
The angel of sleep will find you there,
Will sift his poppies above your head,
And rock you as if in a cradle bed;
And hushing and hiding will bury you deep
In the wonderful, beautiful care of sleep;
And you'll never wake till the new day's

—One of the most important needs of a person inclined to consumption or suffering therefrom, is abundance of nourishing food. Anything which tends to diminish the appetite should be carefully avoided. For instance, fatigue impairs the appetite of a consumptive, it must therefore be avoided; no work or exercise must be allowed to an extent productive of the least fatigue.

The closing exercises of the Nova Scotia School of Horticulture, which took place in College Hall, Wolfville, on Wednesday evening were of a very interesting nature, being the first time since the opening of the school that students have received certificates for the full two years course. The school, under the efficient management of Prof. Faville, enjoyed a degree of prosperity and popularity scarcely hoped for by the promoters, and it may now be confidently looked upon by its friends as having passed the experimental stage, and become one of the established in stitutions of the country. The number of pupils in attendance since the opening is sixty-seven, representing eleven counties.

This immense undertaking is now rapidly approaching completion, and Russia's great desire is for a more suitable terminus on the Pacific than her ice-bound port of Gladivostok. The present crisis gives her just the opportunity she seeks to obtain such a port and she appears willing to risk a war with Japan to secure it. With this railway Russia expects to revolutionize the trade of the east, securing for it much of the tea and other eastern trade which is now carried by way of the Suez canal, and even some of that now crossing and the manner in which it can be set at naught by those who have a sufficient quantity of the needful to keep the legal mill grinding, is just now being strikingly exemplified in the case of Dr. Buchanan of New York, formerly of Halifax. It is over two years since, after a trial lasting some six weeks, he was convicted of murder in the first degree, and sentenced to be executed. Had he been without means he would have suffered the penalty of his crime some few weeks after his conviction. But the woman whom he was convicted of poisoning foolishly made a will in his favor, leaving him all her property, some $40,000, and with this he bas ever since been fighting desparately for his life. From the artistic and exquisitely designed cover to the last advertising page it is a most admirable specimen of the typographer's art. Its pages contain attractive and lively descriptions of the various parts of our province which contain the most of interest for tourists, illustrated by the finest speciwork, when just at the last minute something would be done to stay the execution. A every expedient had been exhausted and that his execution must now take place upon the time fixed for that event, Governor Mor ton, at the very last minute, granted a respite of one week, at the earnest solicitation or tourists, illustrated by the finest speciof Buchanan's wife, to enable the doomed man to prepare himself for death. During this week his lawyers hit upon the further the control of such as the control of such as the control of this week his lawyers hit upon the further expedient of applying to the Supreme Court of the United States for a writ of error on certain grounds more or less trivial. This writ was promptly denied, but the ludicrous feature began there when Buchanan's lawyers appealed from this decision. This appeal will take at least six months to decide and in the meantime the execution cannot take place till it is decided. This gives him six months longer to live, and before that time has expired his attorneys will doubtless have discovered some other means of delay. However, the fact producting the same of interest of points that last year there was a deficit of $1.210,332, while that for the present year is expected to be much greater. The Finance Minister attributes the falling off in the revenue to two or three primary causes. While the volume and bulk of our imports have been fully up to the previous year, there has been a decrease in their value, owing to the decline in prices. The change from specific to advalorum, and the reduction in duties, made last session, together with the enlargement of the free list have helped to produce that visitor so unwelcome to group the fact was committed while in an unsound mind.

The announcement from one of the Boston pulpits that Sanday service will be held at S. 30 o'clock on Sundays during the early summer months, in order to accommedate those people who take an outing on the say in the day, is an interesting concession to the growing class of people. With all due respect to the sacrdness of the Sabbath day it seems to us that clergymen do not make a mistake when the country on Sunday, and if the services have their otoes, without protest, to incur a large debt upon the country, with an annual expenditure for interest and expenses of many bundred dollars, all of which will have to be born by the taxpayers of the whole country. Dr. Buchanan's Case.

Albany, N. Y., May 6.—Colonel Cole, private secretary to Governor Morton, who said Saturday that no legal obstacle remained to prevent the electrocution of Dr. Buchanan sting Sing, speaking for the governor to-day said Mr. Morton was through with the case. He would take no further action upon it. Those who had entangled the matter could proceed until their duty in the case was made clear by the authorities.

"The latest definition of "original sin" is by "Sam Jones, the evangelist. He asys: "Whatever disposition or tendency to sin we may have inherited from Adam, abrother who stops his paper, but still goes over regularly to a neighbor's and reads the same apper weekly, has a bad case of original sin that originates with himself, and for which Adam is in no wise responsible. We are rot disposed to argue with the evangelist about this. He is about right.

—Father Whelan, the Roman Catholic priest at St. Louis, who in his newspaper, the Western Watchman, slandered the Association of Christian Endeavor and Enworth Lague by alleging that their gathering gave rise to wholesale immorality, has been itingly rebuked by his bishop. From the published remarks of the bishop it would see that Father Whalen has been under discipline before and cannot be regarded as speaking for the church of which he is nominally a priest. This is well.

—R. Rantenburg, of Truro, has patented an election score card that will be found very useful. It gives the name of each constituency in the Dominion, the politics of its representative elected in 1891, and his majority, with columns for scoring the returns for the published remarks of the bishop it would seed the proposed bridge built, and the road would part the leight of folly to incur so large an expenditure for this purposed to argue with the constituency of the constituency of the published remarks of the bishop it would seed the published remarks of the bishop it would seed the
