Fifty New Fashion Models of Semi-ready

Ed. Mack Has Advance Showing of the Very Latest Creations by the Semi-ready Designers.

When Ed. Mack went to Montreal and secured the sole franchise for the sale of Semi-ready Tailoring in Toronto, he placed a hurry-up order for the latest creations of the Semi-ready Designers. These garments have arrived.

"Every week I am getting new Semi-ready garments in, and this first arrival of fifty new fashion models will bring gladness to the heart of the many thousand admirers of the original Semi-ready Tailoring in this city," said Ed. Mack.

"There is one spring top coat which epitomizes the great strength of Semi-ready Tailoring in Canada—which shows why in over 600 towns and cities in this country it is the vogue—temperamentally and sartorially. This top coat, known as 'the Newport Slip-on,' has all the ease and comfort of the Halmacian type, but it is neat and dapper—exquisitely neat, one might say, in contrast to the slouchiness of the other garment.

"The Martin is a new suit which also gives the wearer that sense of English ease in dress, and yet does not sacrifice a single line of art in dress.

"I am proud of these new models, many in number, and in expressing

Imperial Government Apologizes to Chili for Destruction of Dresden.

FLEW GERMAN FLAG

Raider Had Not Accepted Interment and Might Have Escaped.

LONDON, April 15, 8.55 p.m.—The British government has offered "a full and ample apology" to the Chilean government for the sinking on March 14 in Chilean territorial waters of the German cruiser Dresden, the internment of which had already been ordered by the maritime governor of Cumberland Bay when the British squadron attacked and sunk her.

This fact was made public tonight in a white paper, giving the texts of the Chilean note protesting against the sinking of the Dresden and the British government's reply.

The note delivered by the Chilean minister to Great Britain says that the Dresden anchored in Cumberland Bay (Juan Fernandez Island), March 9 and asked permission to remain eight days for the purpose of repairing her engines, which were said to be out of order. The governor refused this request, as he considered it unfounded, and ordered the captain to leave the bay within 24 hours.

Ship interned.

As the order was not complied with, the captain of the Dresden was informed that his ship was interned.

When the British squadron appeared on March 14 the governor was proceeding to the cruiser Glasgow to inform the British officers of the steps he had taken, but he had to turn back, as the British ships opened fire on the Dresden, on which a flag of truce had already been hoisted, and called on her captain to surrender. The captain then gave orders to blow up the magazine of the Dresden.

British Officer Not Informed.

The minister says that had the officer in command of the British squadron been informed of the Dresden's presence, the Dresden would not have opened fire on her and brought about a situation which constrains the Chilean government in defence of its sovereign rights to formulate a more energetic protest.

After referring to the hospitalities shown British ships in Chilean waters and to the long friendship between the two peoples, the minister says: "Nothing could be a more painful surprise to us than to see our extremely cordial attitude repaid by an act which bears unfortunately all the evidences of contempt for our sovereign rights, altho it is probable that nothing was further from the minds of those by whom it was unthinkingly committed."

Britain Regrets Misunderstanding.

The British government, in its reply, expresses regret that a misunderstanding arose, and adds:

"On the facts, as stated in the communication of the Chilean minister, the British government is prepared to offer a full and ample apology to the Chilean government."

It is, however, pointed out that, according to the information the British government has received, the Dresden had her colors flying and her guns trained.

The British reply continues:

"If this is so and if there were no means available for enforcing the decision of the Chilean authorities to intern the Dresden, the might obviously have not the British ships taken action, have escaped again to attack British commerce."

It is added that the captain of the Glasgow probably assumed, especially in view of the past action of the Dresden, that he was defying the Chilean authorities and abiding Chilean neutrality, and was only waiting for a favorable opportunity to sail out and attack British commerce again.

"In view of the time it would take to clear up the circumstances and because of the Chilean communication, the British government does not wish to qualify the apology that we now present to the Chilean government."

become operative so far as voting overseas is concerned, not upon the action of Lord Kitchener, but on the approval of His Majesty the King in council.

W. F. Maclean (South York) asked if it was not throwing upon the British cabinet the responsibility of bringing the law into effect.

Concessions Forced.

Judge Doherty admitted that it was, but said that in order to get the bill thru concessions had to be made to the senate. The senate desired to vest a veto in one member of the British government. Would it not be better such responsibility should rest upon the British government rather than upon Lord Kitchener?

Sir Wilfrid Laurier thought it a most anomalous proceeding to have part of a bill assented to by the governor-general and another part by the King.

Judge Doherty replied that this did not quite state the case. The bill would become law upon receiving the assent of the governor-general. One of the provisions of the law kept it from becoming operative until set in motion by the King himself.

Discussion in Senate.

In the discussion in the senate, Senator Dandurand said that there had been complaints that the senate had shown political partisanship in its amendment of the bill made to the government legislation. He denied that such partisanship had been shown, and referred to the branch lines bill.

This he said had been amended by the senate before the recent change of government. It had been amended by the senate less radically after the government had changed. He hoped the majority in the senate would change, as it shortly would, the new majority would show as much independence as the present senate had.

"Mailed glove," says Sir.

Senator Cloran denied the charge he said had been made by Premier Borden that the senate was a partisan body ready to follow the dictation of the leader of the Liberal opposition. The action of the senate on the soldiers' vote bill demonstrated that this was not the case. Senators had denounced this measure as infamous, vicious and impracticable and then had turned around and voted for the bill.

"What is the way the senate showed its independence," he said. "What had the prime minister to say to the senate's acceptance of the commonsense amendment?"

Senator Cloran said that the government intended thru the soldiers' vote bill to hold a "mailed glove" over the country. They could count the votes as they pleased and assign them to such constituencies as they pleased. He believed Kitchener would say there should be no politics in the trenches.

Laurier's Lament.

Speaker Landry, who has been on "strike" resumed his seat before prorogation and made the following announcement:

"In resuming my seat I would like to give only one word of explanation for my recent absence. I shall not refer to the facts except to say that, tho I attach very little importance to the fact that my last two decisions have been reversed, I confess that I felt deeply the defection of the conservative friends, which has been manifested by the hostile vote of some of them and by the abstention from voting of others. That reason alone prompted me to decline to preside over a house which failed to give me expected support.

"Now that all the contentious matters have been settled without any participation of mine, I feel it my duty to take part in the closing of parliament, and to be at my post at this last call of the crown. I do all the more willingly because I have received the best assurances that my last decisions were strictly in conformity with the law, and that action will be taken which will ensure the full recognition of my rights as speaker of the house."

The governor-general attended at the senate chamber, granted assent to bills passed by the two houses and prorogued parliament.

gers is out of town, but will be back Monday or Tuesday.

Rebuked by Borden.

Practically all of today's sitting in the house was occupied by the speeches of Sir Robert Borden and Sir Wilfrid Laurier.

The prime minister dealt impressively with the cases of Mr. Garland, the Conservative member for Carleton, and Mr. Foster, the Conservative member for Kings, who had refused to follow the lead to say to the house and country that their conduct merited and met with his grave disapproval. He reviewed the two cases in which these members were interested, and their statements and explanations were not satisfactory.

Sir Robert, in the course of a long and carefully-prepared address, announced the determination of his government to follow up the work of the public accounts committee, to demand restitution in the civil courts for all money of which the Dominion Government had been defrauded, and to prosecute criminally all persons who had defrauded the government. He also announced a radical reform in the purchase of war supplies, which will be under a small committee, consisting of the strongest business men of the country.

Laurier's Ironical.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier noted that the prime minister was very severe in meeting out future punishments to obscure horse traders in Nova Scotia who had refused to follow the lead in telling the truth to the public accounts committee, but he was far more guarded when he came to discuss offences by people higher up and associated with him politically. However, Sir Wilfrid hoped for good results. He suggested that if the justice department was as slow in prosecuting those who defrauded the government as it was in settling with the people whose lands were taken for the Valcartier camp no justice would be felt by the offenders.

This brought General Sam Hughes to his feet with the statement that he would refer to the charges against the purchase of war supplies, which was made by Sir Wilfrid in the provinces of Quebec at any time or place he might name in the near future. The general then intimated that he would take an active part in the coming campaign.

Sir Wilfrid closed with a protest against a premature election. He made no reference to the charges against Hon. Frank Oliver, nor did the latter take any part in today's debate. However, in order to expedite prorogation it had been agreed that only the two leaders would speak today.

Charge of Theft Laid Against Henry Hilton Last Night.

Henry Hilton, age 22, 51 Ontario street, was arrested by officer 287 last evening, charged with stealing a caddy of tobacco from Armstrong & Pappert, tobacconists. Hilton went into the premises with an expressman and one of the clerks saw him walk off with a tin.

Fire, believed to have started in the chimney, caused $500 damage to the four-story brick apartment house at the corner of Carlton and Pappert streets yesterday afternoon. W. E. Dwyer is the owner and occupant. The loss is covered by insurance.

Charged with stealing $1140 from Effie Seagram, A. E. Henderson, inventor of certain tire improvements, and connected with the Superior Tube and Accessories Company, Kent Building, was sent over to a jury for trial.

No One to Object.

Not a single person appeared at the annual meeting of the license commission yesterday afternoon to protest against the granting of 110 hotel, 50 shops and 20 club liquor licenses. The meeting was adjourned until Saturday, April 24, when the commissioners will renew all the licenses, and on which date they will receive a report from the chief inspector on the general situation.

Yesterday's meeting is, in all probability, the last annual meeting of the board. By next year the government's new central commission will have taken over the reins of office.

INDIA'S WHEAT FIELDS YIELD ABUNDANTLY

LONDON, April 15.—(Thru Reuter's Ottawa Agency).—A special despatch from Simla, India, says that the government forecast of the wheat harvest in the months of April and May is 10,250,000 tons, compared with 8,750,000 tons last year. Some authorities consider the harvest has been underestimated. It is hoped two millions will be available for export under government control. Where new crops are coming into the markets, prices are showing a distinct tendency to fall.

It directly affects the Dutch Government to which the cargo of grain on board the steamer was consigned.

While awaiting further details of the torpedoing of the Katwyk, the ministerial departments concerned discussed the matter today, but declined to make a statement.

NEW HIGHWAY BILL WILL STAND IDLE

No Big Projects Undertaken Except for Urgent Reasons.

The new highway legislation passed during the closing week of the legislature will not likely be brought into effect during the year unless thru some special demand. The bill stands ready for operation as a whole or in part at the call of the lieutenant-governor, but it is felt that any of the bigger projects involving large expenditure can well stand over for the year. Thus the provisions with reference to maintenance and government aid to municipal undertakings will stand idle for the time being.

There will be no decrease, however, in the ordinary road work of the province which is undertaken every year. The county system still prevails and no interruption will be brought in its work. Even if the government should decide to bring the big measure partly into effect it would co-operate with this established system.

Too Early Yet

Much too early yet to think of planting anything outdoors. Indeed it is only in very exceptional cases that we suggest even thinking of the garden beds.

There are plenty of things that can be attended to indoors and should be started right away, to get ready for transplanting.

I have before me, here, no less than five letters, all asking the same question: re gladiolus bulbs and dahlias.

Gladiolus bulbs should be treated the same way. But plant them outdoors when the sprout has just come out.

Amateur—I see we shall have to deal with your letter now. Or you are too busy to do your paeonies and your roses.

THE MORELAND MYSTERY

Scenario by Paul Bern, Novelized by Edward H. Robbins

At 10 o'clock Mollineux called at the Temperley residence on Waverley place. The maid who admitted him gave a frightened start as she glanced at the card, "going into the sitting room, she offered the piece of pasteboard to a man of about 60 years of age, sitting dejectedly in a large armchair.

He seemed nervous, and she seemed to follow him. She ascended the stairs above. As she passed the door she noticed the change from the previous night. Then the ball-room, which had been crowded, now it was empty.

"What does he want?" "Asked to see you?" "Show him in," growled the sick man.

"He is here," said the girl as Mollineux, carelessly entered the room.

"What can I do for you?" "Ask me to be seated." "Well, sit down and state your business."

"Is Mrs. Temperley at home?" "For what purpose do you want to know?" "A little matter of business."

"Call your mistress, Marie." The maid hurriedly left the room. During the few minutes' interval until the lady of the house entered the room in response to the peremptory summons of her husband, not a word was spoken.

Mollineux was thinking deeply, and Temperley was too grumpy to speak. As Mrs. Temperley entered the room, Mollineux rose and took her outstretched hand. She was a trifle pale and nervous, but smiled a welcome. When she was comfortably seated, the detective said:

"Mysterious—the death of young Moreland, wasn't it?" "Terribly sad," replied the woman.

"Did you know him very well?" "We both did," answered Temperley.

"I shall have to ask you to accompany me to the Burnham house." "What?" belched the man, half rising from his chair.

"I mean just what I say," replied the detective. "I am sure you have no objection. It is merely an investigation I intend making. It is necessary to get all the information I can from those who were his friends. Surely you are not afraid?"

"Certainly not! I shall be only too happy," said Mrs. Temperley. "My car is at the door," said the detective, rising.

With a smart Temperley told his wife and Mollineux. Once in the car, space was annihilated, and the Temperley residence was soon in the distance. Suddenly the detective gave an order to the chauffeur, and the car swerved quickly into Queen street. Soon it stopped before a florist's shop.

Turning to Mrs. Temperley, Mollineux said: "Parson me a moment." He entered the store, was gone a few minutes, and returned with a handsome bouquet of a dozen white roses. These he handed to the lady, who accepted them with an air of absolute helplessness. Mollineux's expression never changed, save for an

SON OF SPEAKER THROWN BY SHELL

M. Dent Read Interesting Letter During Address to Empire Club.

J. M. Dent, head of the great English publishing firm of J. M. Dent & Co. was the speaker at the Empire Club luncheon yesterday. He described conditions in England at the outbreak of war and England's unpreparedness for it. The most interesting part of the address was when he read a letter from Paton Dent, one of his two sons, serving at the front.

"Describing shell fire, young Dent said: 'One 'Jack Johnson' blew one man from one trench to another and he was unharmed, while others near him were all knocked over. A piece of shrapnel killed an Indian, passed over one of our men's packs and killed another Indian on his other side, while I was untouched. Dent and his comrades had dug themselves out for a whole afternoon," he said, "and he was lying in the little holes he had made, and wondering where the next shell would burst."

ROMANIA IS READY.

ROME, April 14.—(Via Paris, April 14.)—A despatch to The Tribune from Bucharest says the intervention of Roumania in the war seems imminent. The army, splendidly equipped, is ready for action.

SAID NO, THEN YES, MIND IS CHANGED

Toronto Controllers Favor Steep Grade on Yonge St. Subway Now.

MAKE TRIP ALONE

Board of Control Will Not "Talk 'Feeble Minds' With Educationists.

The board of control has changed its mind in regard to the Yonge street subway grade. The grade asked for by the city was 2 1/2 per cent, and this was allowed by the railway board. About a week ago the C.P.R. appeared before the board asking that the grade be made 5 per cent, and the city was asked to support the railway in this application, which the city refused to do.

Now the controllers are recommending to council that application be made to have the grade changed to 5 per cent.

Will Go Alone.

The board of control will wait on the Ontario Government asking for aid in connection with a school for feeble-minded children without being accompanied by the board of education.

The board of control yesterday increased the salary of Supt. Scott of the Industrial Farm from $1100 to $1500, the $400 extra being for the women's farm, which Scott now has charge of.

One Steps—Two Go.

Controller Spence changed his attitude in regard to civic employees going to the front when the name of Frank Graham was before the board with a request from Street Commissioner Wilson that he be allowed leave of absence to go to the war. Graham is only a casual driver and has only been in the department a short time. His application was turned down. Controller O'Neill, Foster and Spence voting against it. George M. Young of the medical health department and John Nichol of the works department will be allowed to go.

There Isn't Any.

The board of control yesterday received City Treasurer Patterson's answer to an enquiry from the British Imperial Association of Baricadeurs as to whether the city received anything from the insurance companies toward the upkeep of the fire department in connection with services outside the city. The treasurer reported that there was none.

No—Go There!

The board of control yesterday turned down applications from the Advertising Club and the Toronto Consumers' Gas Co. to put streamers across main streets.

The members of council will April 26 with a view to deciding as to the best plan for getting rid of the nuisance.

Meant a Deficit.

The vote which the Toronto board had for the past five years have resulted in a deficit each year, due account has been largely over-estimated in an effort to keep the rate down. The overdrafts ranged from $34,338 in 1910 to $378,078 in 1914, the spent over and above that collected by taxes and the revenue received.

The rate for this year has been increased somewhat by reason of these overdrafts of former years.

The railway board has approved the new civic car line on Lansdowne avenue, despite the fact that there was strong opposition by a number of citizens who want the line built on Dufferin street.

New Court Building.

For the purpose of inspecting the court building a sub-committee of the board of control will visit Montreal next week. At the present time the Toronto courts take up a lot of room at the city hall, which is needed for civic administration purposes, and a new building is being planned to house the courts.

The $10,000 interest on the debentures issued by the harbor board for the purpose of reclaiming park lands at Ward's Island and along the waterfront east of the Harbour will be included in the general tax rate.

Hereafter contractors on city work will have to make a statement that the fair wage clause has been complied with when sending in their accounts.

WHAT A SURPRISE! 'T WAS DOG BISCUITS

Hundred and Fifty "Going, Going, Gones" at Customs Sale.

PRIZE PACKAGES UP

Bidding Got Brisk When Buyer Found He Had Silverware.

"Going, Going, Gone!" One hundred and fifty times did the auctioneer shout aloud this famous call and one hundred and fifty times did the hammer crash down upon the auction table closing prices for the prize packages at the customs house, corner of Yonge and Esplanade, yesterday morning.

It was the annual sale of unclaimed goods. The auctioneer Henderson that for years has conducted the sales held the rostrum and many of the same old victims that for years have bartered with the auctioneer, long before the conflict began.

It is truly a conflict—no lot of bargain hunters ever had anything on this herd of shovers in their ultra frantic endeavors to be in the front line.

Full of Dog Biscuits.

The first package went for 50 cents, and the purchaser had the nerve to open it. It looked a healthy bit, but was full of dog biscuits. The buyer began to growl and walked out disheartened. Short bids were given on a baby buggy, some scrap brass, a bundle of umbrellas, paint, automobile parts, etc. The added price of duty made most of the sales prohibitive for the sons of the ghetto, and they were passed and relegated to the junk pile.

Two enthusiastic bidders and bunter began to trade parcels sight unseen. When one of them opened a package of silverware the bidder began to pull out their pocketbooks and live up to the sales, but the pressure of hard times was a dominant factor in their speculation, nevertheless.

FREIGHT TRAFFIC BEGINS.

Whacondah Will Start for Fort William Soon With Cargo.

Freight traffic on Lake Ontario started into full swing yesterday when the Welland Canal was officially opened for the summer season. The 1800-ton freighter Whacondah of the Canadian Lines will probably carry the first cargo of the season from Toronto thru the canal.

She has been loaded and waiting to go for the past four days, and will leave for Fort William this morning with a general cargo. Captain James Wilson will be in command, and a record passage for this season of the year is looked forward to.

WANTED IT KEPT SECRET.

After writing a letter to the police, requesting them to keep the manner of his death from the public, so that his parents in Montreal might not hear of it, Fred W. Coulter, aged 28, committed suicide in his room at 70 Beverly street early yesterday morning, by inhaling illuminating gas. The jet was turned full on. He left $10 with the police to pay his board bill.

BROCKVILLE LOSES LEADING CITIZEN

Special to The Toronto World.

BROCKVILLE, April 15.—Relatives were notified today of the death at Windsor, Man., of ex-Mayor G. H. Weatherhead at the age of 74 years. He was visiting his son when the end came. Mr. Weatherhead was a prominent citizen of Brockville and held many positions of public trust. In fraternal circles he stood high, being a Mason and an Oddfellow. In the former craft he had attained the 32nd degree. Three children survive. F. Weatherhead of Winkler, Mrs. T. A. Martin of Calgary, and Edwin Weatherhead of Brockville.

ASK MORE PARTICULARS.

Charges Against McCutcheons Too Vague, Says Counsel.

Before Chancellor Sir John Boyd, in the criminal assize court yesterday morning, an application was made by counsel for particulars in connection with the charge of conspiracy against the McCutcheons others. The defendant states that the charges in the indictment are too vague and that they did not furnish sufficient material on which to prepare a defence.

Owing to the attorney-general's department being unable to present to speak to the application on behalf of the crown, the motion was put over until 10 o'clock this morning.

J. R. Snow, K.C., counsel for two of the accused, said he was not hopeful that the case would go on at this assize.

FRED BLACKFORD DEAD.

Frederick Blackford, foreman of the Harris abattoir cold storage plant, 260 Brock avenue, collapsed at his work yesterday morning and died half an hour later in the Western Hospital. Blackford was 32 years of age. Heart failure is believed to have caused his death.

For peddling kettle knobs without a license, Wilfred McGill was fined $1 and costs or 30 days by Magistrate Deason yesterday.

INSPECTOR URGES NEW INSTITUTIONS

Dr. Bruce Smith Declares More Consumptive Sanitaria Necessary.

FIRE-PROOF WALLS

Time Coming When All Refuges Must Be Free From Danger.

Ontario must have more local sanitariums established in different parts if the large number of consumptives is to be cared for yearly in a proper manner, declares Dr. Bruce Smith, provincial inspector of prisons and hospitals, in his report to Hon. W. J. Hanna. He says that altho 1600 were treated in institutions last year the great percentage of such cases are going uncared for. The solution, he thinks, should be for patients in each county or group of counties to have separate provisions so that they can be treated by their own physicians in their own homes. He points to Toronto, Hamilton and London as setting an example of proper courses to pursue.

As incentives to this work he refers to the liberality of the government grant, and the requirement only of a maximum of fresh air at a minimum expense in architectural outlay. Moreover, these places constitute in no way a detriment or menace to a community.

In referring to the economy of certain boards which fail to provide a nurse for houses of refuge, the inspector speaks of the serious responsibilities facing charitable institutions. Disproportionate city building was a cause of trouble. The time was quickly coming when able-bodied men would be forced to work the farm and leave the cities. Immigrants unfit for this work should be turned back, cities should have authority to put men out of their borders and a co-operative "handicraft" league was suggested to attack the problem.

Should Be Fireproof.

In reference to the 48 city refuges which have housed over 6000 persons during the year at a cost of $448,001, he states that because of overcrowding tendencies legislation requiring all buildings for aged and infirm to be fireproof will be needed soon. Cities should cease erecting refuges within the city limits, but should go to the country, and pauper-making work should be avoided.

Dr. Smith refers to the progressive step made by the opening of the reception hospital for the insane in Toronto and hopes that other places will follow suit.

SUIT OVER DEAD HORSE.

Judgment was reserved by Judge Coatsworth in the suit of W. T. Squire

YOUNG STUDENT KILLED.

Pts. D. H. Scott Came From Edinburgh About Two Years Ago.

Information has been received at the Presbyterian Home Mission Office that William D. H. Scott was recently killed in action in north France. Pts. Scott was one of a party of young theological students who came from Edinburgh to Canada two years ago and was stationed at the Abbey Mission field in the Swift Current Presbyterian, Saskatchewan.

MAKING A MISTAKE.

Trustee Vokes Says All of Money Could Be Spent East of Yonge St.

"The estimate allowed for purchasing sites for this year would begin to cover the amount needed for the schools east of Yonge street alone," stated Trustee Vokes, after just completing an inspection of all schools east of Yonge street with other members of the property committee yesterday. "We are making a mistake not to provide for this need. We could use all the present appropriation for sites east of Yonge street, and more would be wisdom."

ASHER IS GUILTY WILL BE EXAMINED

Attempted to Murder Rev. McPherson Scott Last December.

Found guilty by a jury in the criminal assize court of attempting to murder Rev. J. McPherson Scott, Harry Asher, the young Montreal mission worker, was remanded by Chancellor Boyd to jail to be examined as to his sanity.

After hearing the verdict his lordship said he did not think it would be safe to allow Asher out on suspended sentence, as he had heard accused had threatened other people.

On Dec. 25 Mr. Scott was walking down Broadway avenue on his way to church when he was attacked by Asher. Five bullets went thru the minister's clothes. He was struck twice.

Burning the Candle at Both Ends

You cannot burn a candle at both ends without greatly shortening the period of its existence. The same applies to the nerve force—the power which drives the machinery of the body. The supply is limited. The waste resulting from the activities of the day is replenished by the night's rest and sleep—for sleep is Nature's greatest restorative.

When the hours of activity are greatly increased and those of restoration cut down you are burning the candle of nerve force at both ends, and sooner or later nervous collapse must follow. There will be warning symptoms, such as headaches, sleeplessness, irritability, indigestion and feelings of fatigue and depression. If you will heed this warning take things easier and use Dr. Chase's Nerve Food. You can prevent serious developments.

Fainting Spells—Sleeplessness

Miss Emma Scott, Athens, Ont., writes:—"Dr. Chase's Nerve Food has done me a world of good. I was troubled with fainting spells, bodily weakness, and spent restless, sleepless nights. I frequently had cramps in the stomach, and would at times become entirely insensible, not knowing what was going on until others told me afterwards."

"I doctored with several doctors, and they told me I was threatened with paralysis. They gave me relief, but could not cure me. After suffering for three years I began the use of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, and it has done me more good than all the medicines I ever used."

These letters bring a message of good cheer to all who suffer from exhaustion of the nervous system. They tell of the most successful nerve restorative of modern times—Dr. Chase's Nerve Food. There is new hope and courage, new health and strength for you in the use of this great food cure. It has proved its efficiency in so many thousands of cases that it can scarcely fail to benefit you. Fifty cents a box, 6 for $2.50, all dealers, or Edmondson, Bates & Co., Limited, Toronto. Insist on getting what you ask for.

No Hit Game by Giant Twirler

OUR BOYS ARE SURE TERRIFIC HITTERS

Leafs Collect Sixteen Slashing Hits in Second Game Against Greenboro.

GREENBORO, N.C., April 15.—The Toronto players their second game here this afternoon and again proved themselves terrific hitters; sixteen slashing hits, not one of them doubtful, six in the eighth inning, tell the tale. Two left-hand pitchers performed until the eighth inning, a right hander taking up the burden after Graham had slanted out his third straight double of the game, followed by Jordan's triple and Graham hit the left hander like a fender, his first effort going within six inches of the top of the fence in left field.

The team on these two games look like a cracking strong club. Hollander was again more than good. He hits from both sides of the plate. The game was rather ragged and long drawn out. McTigue pitched five innings and was inclined to be wild, passing four hitting men and having a wild pitch. When he got over he was not hit. Lake used his splitter sparingly in the last four rounds and was touched up freely. He did not exert himself and was wild.

The team plays Trinity College at Durham tomorrow.

At New York—Rube Marquard, who pitched two Brooklyn Federals during the winter and back to New York, celebrated his return to organized baseball by pitching the first no-hit game and shutting out the Brooklyn Nationals by a score of 5 to 0. Rucker, the veteran lefthanded pitcher of the Brooklyn, opposed Marquard and it was a great pitcher's battle. Only three men reached first base on Marquard's two on balls and errors by Fletcher. But three balls were hit to the outfield. Marquard also helped win his own game by driving in the second run scored on Rucker.

SHEEAN IS SMALL COVERS GROUND

New Second Sacker Makes Good Impression—Hollander Trying Out at Third.

DURHAM, N.C., April 15.—The reporting of Tom Sheean made the Toronto Ball Club look a lot different. He is ready for the call "Play Ball" after the training trip with Cincinnati and, of course, looks finished alongside our fellows just beginning to sprout in a training sense. Sheean is small and slight, but he is full of ginger and is playing ball all the time, whether the play is in deadly earnest or lagging at the close.

On a quick glance the newcomer looks as if he would make a great player alongside of Boede. The second was placed more than five minutes on Monday before they got their heads together and were at once coming to an understanding on throwing and playing generally.

Good Ground-Covers
Sheean looks like a great ground-covers. He is fast, has a good arm, his well-known, a dozen plays arose in his first work-out, and he never even hesitated in pulling off the right one. Whatever his future practices and the season may show in him, the impression he gave on his first appearance with the Toronto Ball Club is that he is right now a finished ball player with a splendid future.

The new second baseman is a right hand hitter, and while his opening performance gave no intimation of his forty gait, which he showed last season, still he stands up and meets the ball nicely and all the time we feel that he will and ought to hit.

The placing of Sheean at second brought the question, whether significant or not, the week's work will pretty well tell. Hollander, who has been performing nicely, is being placed on third for the regulars, Isaac playing that corner for the second. Hollander is an optional player belonging to the St. Louis Nationals, and gives every promise of making a cracking good player.

Trout an All-Round Man
Pepe is shifting around from third to short, and Trout is performing at second and first. Graham is working regularly at first. It is in addition a great day in the outfield, and Herbert is coming along splendidly. Wagner is leaving them up next as the season as yet, lacking only the finishing touches, which will come this week. Blanche's arm has kept him unimpaired, and he has shown nothing so far.

The regulars are suffering more or less from the effects of the spring weather, but the perfect boiling, training weather will quickly right that. Jordan and Isaac are troubled some, but it is nothing worse than what comes to all in the spring doings.

Pitchers Coming Along
The improvement noticeable daily among the pitchers is having its effect on the hitting. The clouters are popping a lot more in the air than at the beginning, and the curve ball and the floater are taking the place of the moderate paced fast ball. Gradually they are working up speed, and Manning and Geyer have handed out unmistakably clever nuckle balls or fasters. Lake is working along nicely, doing much duty in the outfield, and Herbert is coming along splendidly. The Dunlop Tire F.C. will open their new grounds on Saturday with Fraserburgh as visitors. The committee are working hard to have everything in readiness to handle the crowd, who are sure to turn out in large numbers to welcome the Dunlop Tire boys on their own grounds.

It will interest soccer fans to know that this ground has been leased by the Dunlop Club, who have with commendable enterprise laid out a large number of pitches in addition to a baseball diamond. The following clubs have arranged for the use of the grounds this season: The Caledonians and Queen's Park in the first division, Hearts and Dunlop Tire in the second division. Two games will be played every Saturday from now on, so that east and soccer fans are assured of seeing the best football teams playing during the season.

The Scottish selectors should keep an eye on Willie Sims of Queen's Park. He is fast rounding into shape and is one of the most dangerous centre forwards in the league.
