CANADIAN NURSES ARE DROWNED

WHEN HOSPITAL SHIP TORPEDOED

Another Added to Long List of German Crimes When Ship is Sunk and Her People Turned Adrift in Their Boats or Swim as Best They Might

"THE SISTERS WERE DROWNED" CANADIAN HOSPITAL SHIP SUNK 234 DROWNED INCLUDING NURSES

Life Boat Containing Twelve Nurses Was Seen to Capsize After Leaving the Llandovery Castle and Occupants Perished.

LONDON, July 1.—One of the boats of the hospital ship Llandovery Castle, containing 12 nursing sisters, was seen to capsize, according to latest information. The sisters were drowned.

SMALL BOAT CARRYING NURSES SUCKED DOWN BY WHIRLPOOL

Canadian Medical Officer, Wounded and Exhausted, Climbed Into German Boat and Was Thrown Back Into Water Like a Handbag—Survivors Chered When Picked Up.

London, July 1.—The commander of the destroyer Lysander, which rescued the captain of Llandovery Castle, and those in his boat, describing the rescue today, said:

"When the survivors were picked up they cheered, although they had been drifting about for 36 hours, and had for sustenance only ship's biscuits and water which they brought from the sinking vessel. They were wonderfully amused at an incident in which the captain figured. When he was certain that the vessel was sinking, Sylvester made a dash for his cabin and brought out a pipe and a tin of tobacco. Each man, in turn, had a pull at the pipe, but the tobacco was of little use because it got water-soaked."

Shelled a Boat.

The commander, telling of the circumstances of the sinking as he learned them from the survivors, made it quite clear that this was another instance of sinking at sight, and that it was obviously intended to follow the policy of "leave no trace," for when they saw the submarine was apparently shelling in the darkness one of the seven boats launched.

"One boat, in which there were 12 nursing sisters, was seen to capsize. The sisters were thrown out, and were either drowned directly or caught beneath the boat."

A Canadian sergeant, who was in the same boat, managed to crawl on the keel.

Nothing had been seen of the remaining five boats. Whether they had been destroyed by shell fire, the commander of the Lysander could not say.

The submarine, on which might have been survivors, and in the locality where it was likely some of the boats were drifting.

Moreover, the submarine steamed swiftly towards the captain's boat containing the survivors, and passed just astern. Ordinarily such a manoeuvre would disturb the water so as to make the capsizing of a small boat almost a certainty. This boat, however, kept on her keel.

Thrown Back Into Water.

How the little craft with the nurses was swamped is also described. Not far from the stern of the sinking vessel, when the latter sank stern first, the boat was carried down by the whirlpool created. The commander of the Lysander, describing the ferocity of the submarine commander, said:

"The Canadian sergeant was dazed with the buffeting he had received and was badly bruised. When the overturned boat got near the submarine the sergeant climbed aboard in an exhausted condition. He thought it was a rescue, but he was seized by one of the submarine officers and thrown back like a hand-bag."

The commander, in a general review of the circumstances, says that Captain Sylvester knew nothing about a submarine being in the vicinity. He did not at first realize that he had been torpedoed. He could not use his wireless, and tried to get the emergency dynamo to work, but there was no time.

No Wreckage Seen.

"After the submarine charged into the wreckage," says the commander, "From what I have heard I firmly believe that the submarine tried to ram the survivors' boat, and thought it had done so."

"As far as can be ascertained, one stoker was observed on the upper deck just as the ship was disappearing. We have since been cruising in the neighborhood, but not a single speck of wreckage of any kind was seen. It must, of course, be remembered that it was a long time after the event that any naval craft got on the spot. The wreckage might have drifted away, but none has been discovered. Neither have we been able to find any trace of the missing boats."

Official British Report of German Crime Says Submarine Commander Ill-treated Ship's Captain and Canadian Officers and Fired on Unseen Target, Probably Boatload of People.

The British admiralty's official reports on the sinking of the Llandovery Castle follows:

"Germany's awful debt to the world continues to grow. Another hospital ship has been torpedoed, this time 70 miles from the nearest land, and her people turned adrift in their boats to sink or swim as best they might. "And, tho so it happened she was a Canadian hospital ship, returning from Halifax, with no wounded aboard, the tale of crime reveals wanton deliberation on the part of the submarine commander, and almost suggests the hope on his part that he would find her full of injured and helpless men."

"The Llandovery Castle, R. A. Sylvester, master, was chartered by the Canadian Government to convey their sick and wounded from England to Halifax. The Llandovery Castle had on board a total of 268 persons, including 80 Canadian Army Medical Corps men and 14 female nurses. One boat, containing 24 survivors, has reached port so far."

"It was during the night of June 27, towards 10.30, that the crime occurred. The Llandovery Castle, steaming on her course at some 14 knots, showed the usual navigation and regulation hospital ship lights. Under the over-cast sky she was plain to see and could not be mistaken for anything but what she was—a ship immune by every law of war and peace from attack or molestation.

"The first intimation of the presence of a submarine was a jar and the roar of an explosion from aft. Then the lights went out."

"All that followed, save when a dim light was obtained from an emergency dynamo, just before the ship foundered, took place in the darkness. The engines were rung to stop, then full speed astern, but from the engine room came no answer.

"The rescued routine of the ship, however, held good. With the German enemy one must be prepared for every emergency like this, and along the darkened decks the crew groped to the boat stations and stood by for orders to leave her."

"From the bridge the captain's megaphone, loud in the night, bade them hold till way was off the ship. The carpenter was aft making an examination of the damage.

Wireless Spark Gone.

"In his wireless cabin the Marconi operator was trying in vain to transmit the ship's position. His key gave no response; the spark was gone."

"The carpenter's report was that number four hold aft was blown in and that the ship could not remain afloat. The order was given to lower away the boats on both sides and abandon ship."

"The officer commanding the Canadian Army Medical Corps on board reported that his people were out. This is important in view of the fact that no boat but the captain's has been picked up."

"From any of the ship's company the engine room crew who may have been killed by the explosion of the torpedo, it is clear that everyone got away. One of the small boats, called accident boats, was held back for those last to leave the ship, but when all the others were away, the captain went to his cabin for an electric torch, and, on returning to deck, found that this also had gone."

"The submarine halted the boat in English. 'Come alongside,' it ordered. 'Was Saving a Man.'"

"The boat was pulling down to pick up a drowning man. The second officer stood up and shouted back: 'We are picking up a man from the water.' 'Come alongside,' repeated the submarine voice from the submarine. The boat held on its way, and forthwith two revolver shots were fired at or over it.

"Come alongside. I will shoot with my big gun,' shouted the submarine commander. The boat lay alongside the submarine and the captain (probably the man picked up) was ordered on board. In case he should be made prisoner and kept on board, he gave the second officer, who remained in the boat, the course to steer. He was then taken to the conning tower of the submarine, where two officers awaited him.

"The commander asked him sharply: 'What ship is that?'"

"It is the hospital ship Llandovery Castle," answered the captain.

"Yes," the commander did not attempt to appear surprised—"but you are carrying eight American flight officers?"

"Captain Denied it."

"We are not," replied the captain. "We have seven Canadian medical officers on board. The ship was chartered by the Canadian Government to carry sick and wounded Canadians from England to Canada."

"The submarine commander's reiterated: 'You have been carrying American flight officers,' he added: 'I have been running to Canada for six months with wounded. I give you my word of honor that we have carried none except patients, medical staff, crew and sisters.'"

"The commander then demanded if there were any Canadian medical officers in the boat, and he was told there was one."

"Where are our other boats?" asked the captain. The submarine commander did not answer. He was watching the Canadian medical officer being roughly hauled on board and thrust along the deck. This was done so violently and with such plain intention to injure the Canadian, Major T. Lyon of the Canadian Army Medical Corps, that he actually had a small bone in his foot broken by the handling he received.

"There was another German officer in the conning tower, the second in command, who had not yet spoken. In reply to the captain's question he motioned over his shoulder with his field glasses, northwards."

List of Survivors.

"The following survivors from the captain's boat are the only ones accounted for up to the present. Eleven of them were picked up from the water."

"R. A. Sylvester, captain; L. Chapman, second officer; D. C. Barton, fourth officer; H. M. Evans, purser; Lemmy Trimmer Davies; Painter Scott; O. S. Hunt; able-bodied seamen Murphy, Schroeder, Goodrich, Ward, Tredgran; Fireman P. McVey; Fireman Moushey; Trimmer Headley; Deck Steward Savage; Assistant Steward Abraham; Ward, attendant of the Canadian Army Medical Corps. The boat also contained the following: Major P. Lyon, Sergt. Knight and Orderlies Taylor, Hickman, Pilot and Cooper."

"Major Lyon was interrogated after protesting, as a medical officer, and ordered back into the boat. The captain also was allowed to go. The boat was cast off and pulled away from the submarine."

"The submarine began to circle around the wreckage at full speed. Several times it shaved the boat narrowly, once swirling past within two feet of it; once it stopped and again took the second and fourth officers aboard and questioned them."

A New Excuse.

"By this time the submarine commander invented a new excuse. He stated that there was a big explosion aft as the vessel sank, and that therefore she must have been carrying ammunition. The second officer explained patiently that this was the explosion of the boiler and the falling of the funnel. They were allowed to return to the boat, which then made sail and proceeded."

"Again for a while the submarine circled and threatened her by swooping close to her; then moved off and seemed to come to a stop. From this position she fired the captain's official statement, she opened fire at an unseen target, firing about 12 shells."

"It is perhaps too early yet to guess what the unseen target may have been. Possibly the other boats when they are picked up can furnish evidence on this point."

LONDON, July 1.—A German submarine 70 miles from the Irish coast on the night of June 27, torpedoed the 11,000-ton hospital ship Llandovery Castle, which had been chartered by the Canadian Government and had been in the service of carrying wounded and sick from England to Canada for many months. The ship was then on her way to England. She had on board 258 persons, including 80 men of the Canadian Army Medical Corps and 14 nurses.

Up to the latest reports, only 24 of those on board, including the captain, have survived the treacherous attack, which came without warning. The submarine commander, who ordered the captain of the Llandovery Castle, several of his officers, and Major Lyon, of the medical corps, aboard, declared that he had sunk the ship because she was carrying American aviation officers and others in the fighting service of the allies. He added to this later by asserting that the vessel was carrying munition stores, because of an explosion which had occurred aft.

All lights were burning when the Llandovery Castle was torpedoed. These included a huge electric cross over the bridge and strings of white and green lights on either side. The red crosses on the sides of the vessel also were illuminated by electric lights.

It is assumed that the 14 nursing sisters reached a lifeboat, but so far as known, there was no trace of them after the ship sank.

KILLED IN ENGINE ROOMS.

According to Red Cross information, many were killed in the engine rooms. There is hardly any doubt of this, as there was no response to Captain Sylvester's signals from the bridge after the torpedo struck. As the enginemen were either killed or left their posts, there was no one to shut off the power, and the ship went on her way despite the great holes torn by the torpedo, not beginning to slow down until the water rushed into the boiler room, extinguishing the fires.

This added to the confusion in launching the lifeboats. There was no panic, however, and by the time the Llandovery Castle lost her momentum, most of the boats were over the side. Those above decks began climbing into them in good order, but many were unable to reach the boats and the ship was sinking rapidly. They jumped into the sea, and a few of them were picked up.

MAJOR LYON THREATENED.

According to information received by the Canadian Red Cross here, Major Lyon, from the Llandovery Castle, was forced to stand in the conning tower, despite an injured foot, while the German submarine officers questioned him. The Germans insisted that Major Lyon was an aviation officer, despite the officer's strenuous denials. The Germans even threatened to shoot Major Lyon, contending he was an officer of the fighting unit, not a medical officer.

The admiralty report on the sinking describes the cruel treatment of Major Lyon and declares that the submarine, after sinking the vessel, shelled an unknown target, which it intimates might have been the missing boats.

THE ADMIRALTY STATEMENT.

The captain's boat, containing the survivors, was picked up by the destroyer Lysander, the commander of which has reported that he had found no trace of the remaining five boats.

The Llandovery Castle was 11,423 tons gross and was built at Glasgow in 1914 for the Union-Castle mail steamship service. The vessel was 500 feet long, 63 feet beam and 27 feet deep.

Carried Thousands of Canadians.

Halifax, N.S., July 1.—The hospital ship Llandovery Castle was well-known at this port, she having made many trips here and brought back thousands of Canadian soldiers who were wounded at the front.

Among the medical staff on board were several Nova Scotians. Major MacDonald, the officer commanding, is a brother of Dr. H. C. MacDonald, dentist, of this city. The matron was Nursing Sister Margaret Fraser, youngest daughter of the late Hon. D. C. Fraser, formerly lieutenant-governor of Nova Scotia.

BRITISH FORCE ENEMY BACK SOUTHEAST OF BOUZINCOURT

Important Position on High Ground Overlooks the Valley of the Ancre is Taken and Held.

With the British Army in France, July 1.—In last night's successful operation north of Albert, the British attacked the German lines near Bouzincourt and forced the enemy back from an important position on the high ground southeast of that town.

The Germans had been holding the end of the crest here, which overlooks the valley of the Ancre around Albert and the Hamlet of Aveluy. In order to force the enemy from this elevation, last night's attack was undertaken at 9.30 o'clock.

The drive was entirely successful and the British this morning had consolidated themselves in the new defences, which included virtually all the highest ground, as well as some further down to the southward.

The Germans heavily bombarded the British positions in the territory west of Aveluy Wood early this morning, but thus far no hostile infantry attack has been reported.

BRITISH CONTINUE BOMBING OF RAILWAY WORKS AND STATIONS

Chemical Works at Mannheim, and Aerodrome at Boulay Are Again the Target for Airplanes.

London, July 1.—Recent air raids against railway stations and military establishments in Germany are being continued, according to an official statement issued by the air ministry tonight. The statement reads:

"On the night of June 30-July 1, further attacks were made on the enemy aerodrome at Boulay, and on railway works and stations at Thionville, Remilly, Landau, Zweibrücken and Saarbrücken. The chemical works at Mannheim were again attacked."

"On July 1 the railway and workshops at Karthaus, the station at Treves and the railway triangle of Metz Sablon were bombed with good effect. One hostile machine was shot down and two of ours are missing. One of the machines reported as missing on June 30 has returned."

Noel Pemberton Billing Suspended and Ejected

London, July 1.—Having refused to leave the house of commons when ordered to do so by the speaker for disorderly conduct, Noel Pemberton Billing, member for Hertfordshire, was forcibly removed by the officials.

The incident arose thru Mr. Pemberton Billing persistently attempting to discuss the question of internment of enemy aliens while other business was before the house.

"Before his removal, the house had, on motion of Andrew Bonar Law, the chancellor of the exchequer, unanimously decided to suspend Mr. Pemberton Billing for the rest of the session. He fought desperately, and outside assistance had to be secured before he was removed beyond the parliamentary precincts."

Navy and Black Silk and Satin Dresses Are the Proverbial "Rage" in New York

And Behold Them in the Rose and Grey Rooms Here--a Collection of Immensely Smart Models Just Arrived From That Stronghold of Style--Priced From $42.50 Upward.

FASHION'S EDICT HAS GONE FORTH--that there's nothing much smarter under the Summer sun than blue and black silk and satin dresses, tight skirts (a trifle longer) and fringe! And our latest conignment of dresses from New York is all in accord with the proclamation.

One of the most recent arrivals is a gown of heavy navy blue crepe de Chine in a very smart and tailored design. The bodice is in basque effect, the plain front extending below the waist and ending in a fringe.

Navy crepe meteor makes a stunning model with a skirt which folds over itself to form a tunic effect in front. The skirt is narrow, and has the new little hem-wide slit which makes walking a possibility.

The long, severely straight silhouette is strictly adhered to in a lovely dress of heavy black satin, the only decoration being tiny square tabs on the front of the waist embroidered effectively in white.

Tricolette is one of the very new and intensely smart materials. A stunning model of black tricolette is made very simply with long panels in front and back edged with wide fringe.

A particularly attractive dress of navy blue Georgette crepe has hemstitched headed tucks and wide hemstitching as the sole trimming of the skirt, waist, collar and sleeves.

A beautiful dress of heavy black satin has narrow white satin collar and cuffs, with tiny scalloped edges. The tunic is finished with two scalloped flounces.

DOCTORING YOUR PLANTS.
Sometimes plants need a little doctoring just as human beings do. They have a tendency to catch diseases which cause them to wilt and die. Occasionally the outside evidence of disease is lacking and the plants die quickly—others, again, dry up and die by slow degrees. To the first-class, belongs the tomato cucumber and muskmelon, and to the latter the potato and bean.

The wilt diseases are caused by bacteria which work inside the plant and clear the way so that it chokes. The only remedy is to pull up the wilted plants and burn them. Before pulling them up, however, you should be quite sure that the wilting is not caused by dry weather or by a worm in the stem of the plant near the ground.

The other diseases are called fungus diseases. They are sally caused by tiny invisible plants which are parasites living upon the larger plants. The disease is in the form of discolored spots or portions of leaves or stems which die and dry off. These diseases can only be prevented or controlled by spraying.

SQUALLY WEATHER; LIFE-SAVERS BUSY
Crew is Kept Employed Rescuing Amateur Mariners From the Bay.

The unfavorable weather which prevailed over the west-end was doubtless responsible for the fact that no serious accidents occurred on the water. As the reflection of the fire at the Grimsby Beach Inn, and in order to make sure that it was not a vessel in distress the crew made a run out some distance in the lake until they were satisfied that the blaze was on the shore. The water was exceedingly rough and the crew experienced great difficulty in navigating, particularly ascertaining the blaze was on the far shore and not a ship they returned to port.

At 10:45 yesterday morning, a member of the Royal Canadian Yacht Club lost control of his boat in a squall and it turned over on him. He managed to hang on to the keel, however, until he was spotted by the life-saving lookout and taken off.

At 11:20 a.m. a telephone message was received at headquarters to the effect that a thirty-foot sailing sloop had its canvas carried away and was in danger of being wrecked. The crew had been put out and located the boat off the exhibition grounds and were successful in bringing the vessel to shore. The crew were in good luck. They stated that they were on a return trip from the Dalhousie when the squall struck them.

At 11:45 a.m. a message was received from the crew and towed into the body of Henry Harrison, who is thought to be a sailor. He was recovered from a canoe in Humber Bay on Friday, has not yet been recovered.

INJURED ALIGHTING FROM MOVING TRAIN
When he jumped or fell from a train at McPherson avenue and Avenue road at 7:30 yesterday morning, Morris Pain, aged 51, of 171 Parkhurst street, sustained slight injuries to his feet and was removed to the emergency ward of St. Michael's Hospital in the police ambulance.

Pain is an employee of the Leaside Munition Company, and was coming back to the city on one of the special munition cars, to carry the employes to and from work.

Pain was on the night shift and was returning from his work. He is thought that the man attempted to jump from the train in order that he might get home earlier.

WIDOW OF SOLDIER GETS NO PENSION

She is Left With Eight Young Children to Provide for. HUSBAND WAS GASED Her Only Brother and Seven Brothers-in-Law in Army.

Domion Day did not seem an occasion on which one might readily gather up a story of an injustice of so glaring a type that it had actually gone to bed. Yet that is apparently what a reporter for The World found in the course of a search for Mrs. Tarrington, something of whose case appeared in the editorial columns of this paper yesterday, and with whom it was desired to get in personal touch to get her story from her own lips.

Looking for 108 Laughton avenue in West Toronto, the reporter saw a number of children playing on the opposite side of the street, and in tention at once pointed to the group as being of the nine children which he had already been learning a dead soldier's wife left as a legacy to his widow. Crossing over, the reporter inquired of the eldest of the tots, a bright little girl of about nine, "Is this Mrs. Tarrington?"

Yes, this Mrs. Tarrington's, but mamma was out, and without further explanation the child ran into the house, and in a few moments returned with a piece of paper on which was written the information that the mother of the children was at the house, and in a few moments returned with a piece of paper on which was written the information that the mother of the children was at the house, and in a few moments returned with a piece of paper on which was written the information that the mother of the children was at the house...

Both of the men, according to the police, have been treating at the College street military hospital, and it is alleged that Adcock removed the button from the tunic of William P. LIFE GUARDS GET FIRST AID PAPERS

St. John Society of Salvation Army Awards Certificates to Workers.

The annual presentation of certificates for St. John's First Aid was made in the Salvation Army Temple last night to seventeen of the Life-Saving Guards of the Salvation Army. The presentation was made by Col. John McMillan, chief secretary for Canada east, who stated that no men this year were present to receive their certificates as had been usual in past years. This was on account of the war, and the soldiers had come "to the front" to fill the places of the men. The following were awarded certificates: Ensign Violet Hodgson, Captain Olive Bond, headquarters staff; Life-Saving Guard Leaders Mabel Bell (Chester), Nellie Cox (Lippincott), Mrs. Key (Barlscourt), Gladys Pickering (Chester); Assistant Leaders Myrtle Knight (Lansdowne), Margaret Atkins (West Toronto), Dolly Turner (West Toronto), Laura Morgan (Toronto), Agnes Weaver (Lippincott); Chaplains Barbara Robinson (Barlscourt), Sarah Cooke (Wychwood); Instructor Violet Hickling (Barlscourt); Gladys Ryall (Lippincott); Guards M. A. Doby and Gladys Blake (Lansar street).

Cadets Are Commissioned. Thirty-eight cadets of the training college division were commissioned and allotted to their various stations. The certificates to each cadet were presented by Brigadier (Mrs.) Stewart, and the commissions by Mrs. McMillan. The following is a list of the cadets with their stations: Training College Division—Chester, Lieutenant Elsie Evans.

Bell, principal of the training college on Sherbourne street, submitted his report in which he stated that the motto adopted for this year was "carry on." The fact that the women are filling the places of the men, he said, "shows that they are carrying on for God, even as the men are today carrying on for king and country, and truth and justice, in the battle line." He pointed out that the cadets had attended 90 lectures during the year, and a special feature was the holding of 14 cookery classes. The total visitations to homes had been 839, and $508.50 had been collected.

MILITARY NEWS

ARE STILL SOLDIERS DURING TRAINING

The latest orders at the demobilization depot touching upon the death of returned soldiers, state that the funeral expenses of men who die within the three months covering their post-discharge pay will be chargeable to the government up to the sum of $65. The period formerly covered by the regulations dealing with this matter was four months. Asked as to the responsibility of the government in connection with those men who might die during the period of vocational training, Major N. P. Kelly stated that these men during the course of training were under the jurisdiction of the invalided soldiers' commission. It was the custom, formerly, to give soldier six weeks or so holiday prior to giving him his full discharge. This holiday was called "pending discharge," and during this time his affairs were put in order by the board of pensions. The moment he was granted his discharge he was given his post-discharge pay, and also his pension. If he undertook to take up vocational training he was granted this privilege thru a civil commission known as the soldiers' aid commission. This course occupied six months in the majority of cases and eight months in some. If the then civilian were to die five months after having received his discharge papers his funeral expenses would not be paid by the military authorities, but in all probability by his family or relatives. Under the new system the returned soldier who no longer a member of the C.E.F., would still be a soldier if he took a course in any school of vocational training, and as such would have to wear his uniform. In these circumstances he would not be considered in the light of a discharged soldier, and therefore not a civilian. And until he was discharged from the school of vocational training he would not receive his discharge pay. In this case, if he died six months after enlisting in vocational training the military authorities would still be responsible for all funeral expenses incurred, up to the sum of $65.

The City and North Rosedale Problems.

The city should do nothing to help the Ottawa Government to get an approach to the new Rosedale Military Hospital, says The Globe.

And yet the city has as many problems of its own in these parts of the town, and must work them out.

The city and government should work together and each pay its fair share. And all these problems can be linked into the one plan of treatment.

Leslie has all the promise of being a great railway centre east of Yonge street as West Toronto now is as the result of Canadian Pacific and Grand Trunk expenditures in that quarter of the city.

Let Mayor Church intimate to the minister of militia and the minister of railways that he is willing to go into conference on these things.

Chains and Shackles. The Journal of Commerce, edited by Hon. W. S. Fielding, M.P., continues to lament the absence of a free parliament.

Whether or not the government came to a wise conclusion on the question of titles, and whether or not the prime minister was well advised to press that conclusion upon the assent of a reluctant house by threatening to resign in case of defeat, we are not called upon to say.

ber of parliament is a freeman. He can break the shackles of the government, as did Mr. Fielding himself, on the title resolution, or he may submit as did Mr. R. L. Richardson. The latter seemed at the time to rejoice in his shackles, and to rattle his chains with delight.

Proposals of Government for India.

Some form of progressive responsible government for India is undoubtedly being considered as one of the necessary measures to be adopted as soon as practicable, that is to say, according to Indian authorities, at the earliest possible moment.

Among the points advanced were the acceptance of the pronouncement of last August, which spoke of the "gradual development of self-governing institutions"; and the consideration of the new situation created by that statement with open minds.

During the period of transition, governments of two types must co-exist, one responsible to the electorate for specific powers, the other to the secretary of state for all other powers; and the responsibility in each case must be real.

Every seven years there should be a revision of the powers delegated to the provincial states, on the report of commissioners to be appointed. Where further responsibility appeared to have been merited or justified, this would be granted.

What is most encouraging about the situation is the desire of all parties to co-operate for the welfare of all concerned, and the genuine loyalty which the proposals exhibit to British principles of government.

Bolshevik Government Hands It Over on Condition Germany Does Not Use It in the War.

London, July 1.—The Bolshevik Government has surrendered to Germany a part of the Russian Black Sea fleet which fled to Novo Rossysk when the Germans captured Sebastopol, says an official telegram from Moscow.

Germany has promised not to use the ships and to return them to Russia after the conclusion of peace. Foreign Minister Tehtcherin's announcement says: "The return of part of the fleet from Novo Rossysk to Sebastopol was agreed to on the express condition that the ships would not be utilized by Germany and her allies in the war, and that they be returned to Russia after the conclusion of a general peace, and that the German troops do not cross the line of demarcation which approximately coincided with their position at the opening of the negotiations with the Ukraine."

The Woman Who Changed

BY JANE PHELPS.

George is Annoyed.

Chapter CXXII. "What in the world are you all painted up like that for?" George asked as I sat down to dinner.

"I haven't been feeling very well, George, and I looked so white," I thought as he had fixed up a little. "A little! You know very well that I don't object to a woman's doing anything in her power to improve her looks, but to make yourself look like a caricature is another thing. Where was Celeste?"

"She urged me not to come down to dinner, but I insisted," I replied, anxious to save the maid a scolding. "George got up from the table and, taking his handkerchief, he rubbed it across both cheeks, then on my lips. Holding it up he showed me the pink stains."

"You have enough left on now," he said as he returned to his place and commenced to eat his dinner. "The incident, foolishly, made so much of an impression upon me, that I have tried to make myself look well for him—to hide the wearied, anxious look. I had received nothing but criticism for so doing. What was the use in attempting to make myself attractive to so critical a man?"

"Helen Refuses an Invitation. After dinner," George said: "I feel inclined to see a show. Get ready and we will go." "Oh, do let's stay at home tonight, George. I really do not feel very well."

"What's the matter? If you are really ill, why don't you say so and have a doctor? I've no patience with women who imagine they are ill. I hope you aren't going to develop into such a one." "The tears came into my eyes. I tried to hide them, but it was no use. I couldn't."

"Tears again! By God, Helen, will you never grow old enough to learn not to cry over everything? It makes home a delightful place! Go to bed or anywhere you want to. I hope when I return you will be more agreeable," and without a kiss or another word he left the house.

"Then I did cry. All the tears I had when I was a child came back in torrents, and I did not try to hold them back. I just cried and cried. Perhaps I could wash away some of the tears, some of my fears for the future. It was eleven o'clock when I bathed my swollen eyes and crawled into bed. I would pretend to be asleep when George came in; he mustn't see I had been crying so hard."

TORONTO
UNSEEMLY WEATHER FOR DOMINION DAY

Cold, Blustery Conditions Made the Holiday One of Quietest in Years.

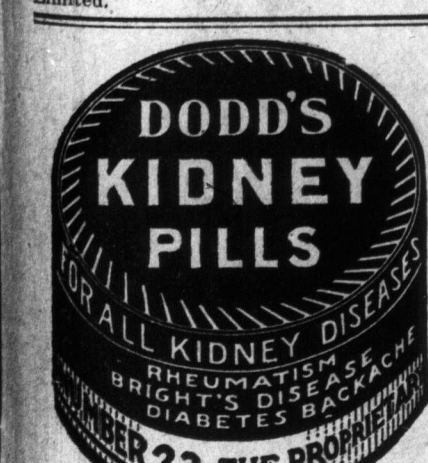

Laden with umbrellas, mackintoshes and winter overcoats, Toronto yesterday braved the elements and optimistically started out to enjoy Canada's national holiday. The weather man was not kind, and although he promised "fair and cool," the weather was like last year's cake, good in patches. The threatening clouds early in the morning prevented a lot from starting off, but as the rain held off during the day, the holiday was as quiet as a mouse. The men employed in lines had previously followed the Vancouver men, who were taking the day off.

In the suburbs, it was a great day for the war-time gardener. Recalling a one-time popular song, "It was doing it," rain or not, early in the morning a steady stream of city toilers, airily clad in duck trousers and a turbaned hat, wended their way with hoe and rake over their shoulders, towards the vacant lots that border east and west on north Yonge street. Threatening clouds would not deter them. On thru the day and well on into the dusk of evening they bent their backs, industriously weeding and tending their lots.

A large number made Scarborough Beach their object, and although the crowd was not as large as last year, owing to the weather, it was estimated that between fifteen and twenty thousand visited the park during the day, which is regarded as a good crowd considering the inclement weather. The suburban cars were not nearly so crowded as in former years, although a fair crowd made its way up north Yonge street to places visited by Bond Lake and even as far north as Jackson's Point. Centre Island, as usual, seemed to be the principal place for vertigo resorts, where shelter is easily found, although about half of the crowd last year ventured across the bay. It is estimated that between twenty-five and twenty-six thousand made the journey across during the day, of which number probably seventy-five per cent. went to Hamilton Point.

The down-town places of amusement benefited most by the uncertain weather, and early in the afternoon it was almost impossible to obtain a seat at any of the shows. The slight shower that came on about four o'clock drove those that were on the streets at that time into the nearest picture show, and long lines were to be seen outside every place. Altogether, Toronto people spent one of the quietest Dominion days on record.

GRAND DUKE MICHAEL APPEALS TO PEOPLE

Issues Manifesto Calling Upon Them to Overthrow the Present Government.
London, July 1.—Grand Duke Michael is reported to have issued a manifesto stating that he considered it his duty to restore order and regenerate the Russian people, says an Exchange Telegraph despatch from Moscow under date of June 25. He calls upon the people to overthrow the present government. The grand duke's appeal for the ousting of the Bolshevik Government is based upon the dissolution of the constituent assembly which was called to decide upon Russia's form of government, the Bolshevik act resulting in the disintegration of Russia, the manifesto declares. Amnesty for past offenses will be granted all who take part in the revolution, the grand duke promises. The volunteer army being raised in the Don Cossack district is increasing rapidly in size. General Alekzieff has been appointed commander-in-chief and is directing all operations. This is reported in an Exchange Telegraph despatch from Moscow, dated June 25, transmitting advice received from Rostov. The Germans, according to reports received from Voronezh, are advancing steadily and are arming German colonists in the Tavris district. The Ukrainian Government has ordered the mobilization of all men who have not taken part in the war up to this time and plans to create eight new army corps.

MONTREAL'S BIG TOLL OF AUTO FATALITIES

Montreal, July 1.—Thirteen persons were killed and 28 injured in twenty automobile accidents in or near Montreal during the month of June. The accidents were, in the main, caused by speeding, and in one case the chauffeur of a machine is still at large under a charge of manslaughter recorded by a coroner's jury. In all the other fatalities verdicts of accidental death were returned. The largest number of accidents occurred in the week-end of June 15 to 17. Four accidents and three fatalities were then recorded. The most disastrous accident was that of the early morning of June 35, when two men and a woman were killed in a smash on Park avenue, when a car containing nine persons skidded into a telegraph pole. Two accidents occurring on the same day, June 28, and at the same street corner, took toll of eleven injured. Other smashes on various days of the month account for the balance of the deaths and injuries.

PLAYS, PICTURES AND MUSIC

ROBINS PLAYERS CHOOSE BRIGHT PLAY THIS WEEK

There are few cleverer plays in dramatic construction than "The Gentleman From Mississippi." It abounds in situations, its dialogue is unceasingly bright and laughable, and it develops a character which once seen can never be forgotten. In Senator Langford, there are episodes in the play such as the interview with the old Yankee colonel when the senator and he fought the battle of Crawfordville over again, which is among the classics of American drama, and the sequel is a bit of touching sentiment which cannot be ignored. The plot turns on the attempt of an innocent amateur surgeon just arrived in Washington to make some fellow senators' honest. There are four acts in the play, and one is inclined to say, not a superfluous word. The big situations of the third and fourth acts are admirably well matched. The sympathy of the audience are never scattered, and the interest is maintained till the drop of the curtain. Thomas Wood, in his part as the senator, is one of the choices of memories of the stage, something to talk about in after years, when stage history is under debate, and the end of the third act, when he is asked, "What are you going to do at 32.30?" sums up a lifetime of art. Anybody could get a laugh out of the line, but to put the whole character of the senator into it, his perplexity, his worry, his confidence, his innocence and inexperience, and his honesty takes Tom Wood. Mortimer Weldon has a well-fitting part in Bud Haines, the New York reporter who becomes the senator's secretary. He plays the part in breezy style, and got an ovation at the end of the second act for his letter dictated to Senator Peabody. Lynn Pratt takes this part with distinction, and cleverly individualizes the crafty grafter, who accepts the only chance he has left. Jack Amory is another excellent member of the cast. John Maurice Sullivan, Charles Norton, a congressman involved in the senatorial plot. George Spelvin's work as the Yankee colonel is particularly good, and M. Tello Webb gives another good study in Colonel Teifer. There are a great many other characters, all well defined and "brated" characterizations. None let finer than Senator Langford.

FASCINATING PHOTOPLAY HEADLINED AT STRAND

That fascinating photoplay, "The Shuttle," adapted from the story by Frances Hodgson Burnett, featuring Constance Talmadge, is the headliner at the Strand for the week of this week. Forbably in no other picture has the versatility of this popular film actress been shown to greater advantage. Her part is that of the daughter of an American multimillionaire, who after completing her education in Europe goes to England to see her married father. On her arrival she finds her sister is nearly broken-hearted, and her health and spirit is absolutely ruined by her brutal husband. Nothing is so impressive as the state of affairs, Constance Talmadge as the heroine, completely rehabilitates her sister, and puts Sir Nigel, the husband, in his proper place. Notwithstanding the vulgar intrigues with which Sir Nigel vainly attempts to prevent her, she wins the heart of Lord Mount, the neighboring nobleman, with the usual happy ending. The picture is exceptionally strong through, and the star is ably supported by a first-class company. The singing of J. T. Fiddes, the well known tenor, and a program of music above the ordinary supplied by the Strand orchestra, are interesting. A bill of exceptional merit that is bound to please the most fastidious patron.

SHOWS UP METHODS OF HUN INTRIGUE

Probably the most wonderful film, which has been released in many months, is United States Ambassador Gerard's experiences in Germany. The pictureization is called "My Four Years in Germany," and is being shown at the Regent Theatre all this week. Money has been lavishly spent on this production, and the result is almost beyond one's idea, that is, because it would seem practically impossible for such experience to be screened so very accurately, and also for the settings to be so perfect. Exactly what Mr. Gerard earned of the despicable Hun is shown in many examples of their manner of carrying on the war, and also the treaty which broke so easily as explained as only pictures can explain. Besides that, this picture will give some faint notion of the way not only American women, but all others who happen to come under their eyes, are being treated. It is well worth patronage, and it might quite truthfully be said that one will go a long way before one finds a better evening's entertainment. This week the management of the Regent Theatre will give a large percentage of the receipts to the Prisoners' Aid Fund, and as the house is drawing remarkable crowds, this will mean that the donation will be one of no small figure. As this week you are also helping the boys who are being held prisoners in Germany.

Dr. Cody, at Merriton, Announces Intention to Establish Vocational Training. TRAINED MEN NEEDED

Canada's Industrial Requirements and Development of Natural Resources Call for Them. Special To The Toronto World. Merriton, July 1.—Technical and industrial training are to occupy a larger part in the educational system of the Province of Ontario. This was the announcement made today at the ceremonies commemorating the incorporation of Merriton as a town, by Hon. H. J. Cody, minister of education. Encouraged by a broad policy, and aided directly by liberal assistance from the provincial treasury, Dr. Cody declared that in the awakening of national impulse and responsibility that would follow the conclusion of the war, Canada with her wealth of natural resources should not have to import the trained men, the skilled artisans, and those with a knowledge of commerce and industry from other countries. That was part of the educational advancement of the day to which the Ontario Government had already committed itself, and it was now the policy of the government to enlarge the scope of this branch of the work of the department in a manner that would satisfy the needs of the province and the whole Dominion. The purpose of the gathering was to mark the transition of Merriton from a village to a town, and the program of festivities arranged for the day brought representatives from the adjoining municipalities of St. Catharines and Thorold, the County of Welland and the country roundabout. Mayor Hastings, who assumes that dignity automatically, was in charge of the proceedings.

VIOLINIST IS HELPED BY SINGING CANARY

A cold evening, conducive to indoor amusements, a holiday, and above all a remarkably good program all contributed to give Toronto's popular playhouse, Loew's Theatre, last night. Long before the usual opening time long queues of people, extending well down Yonge street, lined up outside, and the S. R. O. sign had to be hung out early. This week's show is a particularly interesting and exceptional merit. Hattie Kitchner, a charming young violinist, with her remarkably trained canary, which imitates a variety of birds, particularly notes the musician plays on her violin, is an innovation in the way of vaudeville. The audience was evidently puzzled and at the same time well pleased by the clever medium Miss Hope Eden, who, with Prescott, her manager, gave the heart of Lord Mount, the neighboring nobleman, with the usual happy ending. The picture is exceptionally strong through, and the star is ably supported by a first-class company. The singing of J. T. Fiddes, the well known tenor, and a program of music above the ordinary supplied by the Strand orchestra, are interesting. RUSSIAN CONDITIONS ARE SHOWN ON SCREEN

A wonderful portrayal of conditions in Russia is being shown at the Hippodrome in "The Yellow Ticket." Pictures of the famous French Blue Devils, now visiting Toronto, are also shown. Among the interesting pictures presented are those of a policeman in Broadway. Mr. Proxy, President Wilson's double, and also a monologist, tells the audience in his humorous way all about the food situation. Marie Sparrow, the singing comedienne, does not fail to make the audience laugh and enjoy her jokes and funny stories. Miss Horace's animal circus is a great contrast to the regular animal shows. One of her pieces cleverly walks on its hind feet, and her kicking mule becomes the centre of attraction, Conrad and Mayo, in their little bit of everything, gave a little idea of what it would be like with conductors on the street cars.

UNABLE TO HIT IN MORNING SWING CLUBS IN AFTERNOON

Rommell Baffles Howley's Boys in First Game and Bears Win Handily—Good Stick-work Wins Afternoon Fixture for the Leafs.

The weather-man did his best to spoil the holiday of the Toronto fans, but Dan and his men squeezed in the regulation morning and afternoon Dominion Day games. Tom McCarthy's Bears were the Leafs' opponents, and the best we could do was to get an even split.

Rommell was a huge puzzle in the morning fixture and only allowed one hit in eight innings. The Leafs got two more cracks in the ninth, but only one run, a gift, during the game. The Bears touched up Justin for six runs.

The Leafs clubbed their way to a 3 to 1 victory in the afternoon. The afternoon fixture was more cheerful from the local fans standpoint. The Leafs had no trouble in solving Jensen's offerings and a total of 12 hits secured four runs. Warhop held the visitors to nine hits and three runs.

It was a lively hitting affair, with the Leafs clustering their hits in nice fashion. The fielding was well up to the average and the only drawback to the whole afternoon was the chill breeze and the overcast skies. Partell and Reilly were the big performers for Howley. Each gentleman grabbed off three connections. Jacobs connected twice for doubles, and scored a single and laid down a sacrifice in four times up for the visitors.

We had to come from behind. Newark hurried over a run in the second. Zinn doubled and a few minutes later Jacobs grabbed off his first two-base smash, hence a run.

The Leafs soon took the lead. The third saw two runs on the Toronto side. Whitehouse replied with a neat single to centre and the second tally counted. Back came the Leafs with another hit in the third. Onslow walked and pulled up at third on Anderson's one-hit until he hit the seventh and then another run was shovelled over. With two down Wagner booted Madden's roller and it was turned into a counter. When Rommell and Shuy singled, Justice hit into a double and a run was over. Madden slipped to left field for two bases, but Fielder was held at third. Schmitt cut a hit back of third and two runs scampered over the plate. Shuy forced Rommell at second and was then tipped off.

Howley's boys got just one hit in eight innings. How they got their run in the eighth round has been explained. With two down in the ninth Fisher hit for Howley and Warhop for Justin. Both grabbed off singles, but Reilly ended it by rolling out.

Dull Days for Connie, But They All Come Back

At Chicago (American)—Chicago lacked the punch yesterday and St. Louis won both games of a double-header, 2 to 0 and 4 to 3, respectively. In the opening game Danforth held the visitors to four scattered hits, but arduo playing on the part of Schalk cost him the game. In the second game heavy hitting by Tobin and Maisel, coupled with some sensational fielding behind Davenport and errors by Eddie Collins, was accountable for St. Louis victory. Scores: Chicago, 0 to 2; St. Louis, 2 to 0. Batteries—Danforth and Nunn; Schalk and Schalk. Second game—Chicago, 0 to 4; St. Louis, 4 to 3. Batteries—Davenport and Severid; Benz, Wolfgang and Jacobs, Schalk.

At Philadelphia—New York routed Gregg in the first inning and won 4 to 1. Batteries—Gregg and Phillips. The score was 2 to 2 in the seventh, but a brilliant fielding of Philadelphia's second baseman, resigned today, notifying Manager Mack that he could see no future for him in baseball. Dusanjko, who resigned last week, will return to the game within a few days. Score: New York 4, Philadelphia 1. Batteries—Gregg, Adams, Holmes and McAvoy.

At Cleveland—Cleveland defeated Detroit 4 to 1 in the final game of the series. It was Coumbe's second victory of the series. Although hit harder than Cunningham he was effective with men on bases. His brilliant fielding of Philadelphia's pitcher and his team mates. Score: Cleveland 4, Detroit 1. Batteries—Cunningham and Yello; Coumbe and O'Neill.

MISS MOLLA WON IN STRAIGHT SETS

Good Crowd of Society Folk Attend Second Day of Red Cross Tourney.

In spite of the inclement weather a large crowd representative of Toronto society attended the tennis tournament yesterday and were well repaid for so doing. Several interesting matches developed and a high-class of tennis was general throughout the entire play.

Miss Molla's victory was of course, the star attraction of the afternoon, and the gallery appreciated in full her fine strokes, which she found necessary to use extensively in defeating Miss Creswick. In fact, she played exceptionally well and is a coming player of whom much may be expected.

The Donaldson brothers, from New York, are natural players of merit and great prospects, and will now face each other in the final of the junior championship of Canada.

At Philadelphia—New York routed Gregg in the first inning and won 4 to 1. Batteries—Gregg and Phillips. The score was 2 to 2 in the seventh, but a brilliant fielding of Philadelphia's second baseman, resigned today, notifying Manager Mack that he could see no future for him in baseball. WANTED ANOTHER GAME TO DECIDE ISSUE

Scottish and Albions Score One Goal Each in Hilton Cup Final.

Despite the adverse weather conditions a record crowd turned out at Varsity stadium to witness the final game of the Hilton Cup, the contestants being the Toronto Scottish (cup holders) and Davenport Albions. The game was a hard fought affair, both teams mischievously scoring two times each. The Scottish started the second half in a determined manner, keeping the Albions from attacking. Gradually the Albions found their feet and Campbell gave them the lead about the seventh minute. The referee ruled that the ball had been kicked off from centre field, Davenport applied the pressure, and with only five minutes to go Archie Walker equalized scoring time being called short by the referee. The ball was kicked off from centre field, Davenport applied the pressure, and with only five minutes to go Archie Walker equalized scoring time being called short by the referee.

FAMOUS SCHAEFER

Most-Talked-Of Man in Baseball is Here With Newark.

By Ida L. Webster. The famous Schaefer of world-wide renown is here with the Newark Club, and fans who had heard of him for years were not at all disappointed. The young man. Not, however, because he pulled any of the stunts for which he is so well known, but because he is such a good, all-round ball player, and plays with capital C sticks out all over his performance. He did turn a couple of tricks in the morning game, but not at all in the afternoon game, but he managed to get a lot of fun with the fans. And, also, he managed to get on that old base a lot of times not always by hits, but because he did not have any in the morning game, but only one in the afternoon game, but he managed to get a lot of fun with the fans. And, also, he managed to get on that old base a lot of times not always by hits, but because he did not have any in the morning game, but only one in the afternoon game, but he managed to get a lot of fun with the fans.

Albions Made Highest Score of the Year

The Albions easily defeated St. Cyrians in a C. & M. game by a score of 254 for 7 wickets to 55. The Saints batted first, but could do nothing with the bowling, which was far too good for them to play. The only batsman who was able to make a stand was Forestall, who played freely for his 29 runs. Albaine also played a very careful innings for 10 runs, when he was run out. The remaining batsmen were unable to master the bowling, their innings ending for 55 runs. The Albions opened their innings with Blackman and Moyston, both batsmen playing perfect cricket and showed their mastery over the bowling. At 62 runs Blackman was caught. Thus the Saints were beaten at the fall of one wicket. Roberts, Wakfield, Hall and Smith all played perfect cricket and played the bowling at all stages of the game to their own satisfaction. Moyston was indeed the hero of the game, he playing a beautiful innings for 73 runs, showing his great skill with the bat, scoring as it pleased him, when he was bowled by a short pitched ball of E. Davis. The Saints in all used up 11 bowlers. The following are the scores: Forestall, c. Hall, b. Yaxley, 29; Moyston, c. Yaxley, b. Roberts, 73; E. Davis, c. Blackman, b. Moyston, 16; Machan, c. Muckleston, b. Roberts, 23; Huddleston, bowled Wakfield, 16; W. Davis, c. Seal, b. Moyston, 2; Headley, stpd. Seal, b. Moyston, 0; Clarke, bowled Lakfield, 0; E. Davis, c. Blackman, b. Moyston, 11; Johnson, not out, 0; T. Tunbridge, bowled Moyston, 2; Extras, 8. Total, 254.

Polarine advertisement featuring a large illustration of a car and text: "Polarine for Cylinder Walls. Makes a good car better. For Cylinder Walls. KEEP your cylinder walls like new—unscoured and as smooth as glass with a film of oil that withstands heat and cold and maintains effective lubrication. Scored cylinders cause poor compression, wasted power, lost efficiency that impairs both the performance and the actual value of your car. DELIVERY OF FULL POWER depends on a gas-tight piston-to-cylinder contact. Correct lubrication is therefore most essential. It reduces friction to a minimum, prevents overheating, protects the cylinder walls against scoring and so keeps power from leaking past the pistons. Buy Polarine where you get Premier Gasoline—at the sign of the 'Red Ball'." Includes logos for Premier Gasoline and Polarine Motor Oil.
