New Political Party In Britain

Twenty Seven Peers and M. P's Secede for Unionists—Speed up War and Other Aims

London, Aug. 30.—Birth of an attempt to establish a new political party in Great Britain was announced yesterday in a long manifesto signed by twenty-seven peers, members of the House of Commons and others who have seceded from the Unionist party to take independent action in which national consideration will be the sole concern. The signers of the manifesto all have been associated with the Unionist party movement, but although they are prominent and highly respected men, they are not generally regarded as leading statesmen. The new party's aim, judged by the manifesto, is to speed up the war and promote good administration and good social conditions. The newspapers, with the exception of the Tory Morning Post, do not give prominence to the manifesto. Some of the newspapers do not even print it.

ASSAULTED, HE SAYS, BY MEN ON WAY HOME

Court Case Follows on Alleged Trouble Over Dismissal in Refinery

Norman McLeod, charged with assaulting Charles Chery in company with others as he was returning from his work at 215 this morning, was remanded. It appeared that Mr. Chery was employed at the Sugar Refinery, as was a man named MacDonald. MacDonald was discharged, and it is said blamed Chery for his dismissal. This morning, as Chery was passing the Union depot on his way home from work, it was reported that he was set upon by MacDonald and McLeod with several others and received a severe beating. The police were not far from the scene, but the only prisoner secured was McLeod, the others making good their escape on first sight of the officers.

SEVERE GUN SHOT WOUND IN HIP

Wm. Arbing Wounded—Another Killed in War

James S. Arbing of 571 Main street, received a telegram from Ottawa this morning notifying him that his son, Pte. William Arbing, was officially reported admitted to No. 7 Canadian General Hospital in Le Treport on August 18, suffering from a severe gunshot wound in his hip. Pte. Arbing crossed to England with the 146th Band, but when that military organization was broken up, he was transferred into another Canadian battalion prior to enlisting, he was employed in the I. C. R. shops in Moncton. He is a brother of Harry Spurgeon Arbing, who was killed in action on April 9. Another brother, Gunner N. B. Arbing, is in France with a Canadian sledge battery.

COAL MEN AT ODDS OVER PRICE

Some Would Accept Wilson's Order; Some Fight it in Courts

Washington, Aug. 30.—Federal control of the country's coal industry was again today the subject of discussion by the directors of the National Coal Association, with prospects that an announcement as to whether President Wilson's price scale will be accepted without protest would be forthcoming before the day is over. The operators are divided into two groups, one counselling acceptance of the government's fixed prices and the other urging that the case be taken to the courts. Efforts of the first group are being directed toward winning the others over to its side.

TWO BROTHERS AND THEIR SISTER'S HUSBAND KILLED

Richmond, Va., Aug. 30.—Overton Howard, a prominent lawyer, his brother Thomas P. Howard, a federal bank examiner, and their brother-in-law, Mr. Bagby, were killed early today when their automobile was struck by an electric car near Ashland.

CONFLAGRATION IN RUSSIAN CITY

Petrograd, Aug. 30.—Many persons were injured in a fire which broke out in the city of Kazan, on the Kazanka River, 480 miles east of Moscow, on Monday. The flames spread rapidly and caused such destruction that martial law has been proclaimed.

OVERSEAS VIEWS ON WILSON NOTE

Opinions in Newspapers of London and Paris

TIMES' ONE EXCEPTION

Cannot See That There Should be Distinction Between German Rulers and People in This Matter—Praise by London Telegraph

London, Aug. 30.—The Times described President Wilson's reply to the Pope as the answer of a practical statesman to a peace dream of the Vatican, and may be of other courts as well, and suggests that it possibly will discourage similar proposals in the future. While wholly endorsing the substance of the reply, the Times previously had taken to the president's distinction between the German people and the German rulers. It says the distinction is sound theoretically, but that up to the present it has proved quite negligible in practice. "It is true," says the Times, "that they (the German people) did not choose the war, because the Bismarckian constitution gave them no long as German people and they have supported it throughout, while their press have exulted in its worst atrocities."

ESTEY CASE IS TAKEN UP IN COUNTY COURT

Mr. Clark on Stand—Mother of Abandoned Baby Takes Speedy Trials

The case of the King vs. Westley H. Estey was taken up in the County Court this morning before His Honor Judge Armstrong. In this case Estey is charged with misappropriating funds amounting to $7,288 while in the employ of Charles A. Clark, coal and wood merchant. J. A. Barry is appearing for the defendant and Clarence H. Ferguson for the crown. This morning's session was mostly taken up with the examination of the books kept by Estey while in the employ of Mr. Clark. There was some difficulty in getting the twelve judgments. J. A. Barry, counsel for the defense, challenged three of the judgments, Messrs. How, Walker and Burton—and Mr. McAllister was challenged as being over aged. Messrs. Grierson, Mitchell, Kennedy and O'Brien failed to appear, and Sheriff Wilson summoned three men as bailsmen, Benjamin Milroy was selected to fill the vacancy on the jury. In answer to a question put by Clarence H. Ferguson, appearing for the crown, Estey pleaded not guilty. Mr. Clark told of Estey's sudden departure on Dec. 15, 1914, and testified as to the financial matters. He said that J. B. Andrews and Paul Blanchett made an audit of the books. When asked what control he kept over the business when Estey was in his employ, the witness said that he did not have much to do with the finances and did not know how they stood. He said he was ill and his doctor had advised him not to work too hard. Mr. Clark said he could not prove directly that Estey had taken the money, but he could not see any other way it could have disappeared. In going over the books, however, several cases of entries being made by A. Y. Cowan, one of the clerks, were found, and these would naturally not appear in the bank book. Some speedy trials cases were taken up. Edward Brown, charged with stealing the sum of $17, after a drinking bout in the Old Burying Ground, was allowed out on suspended sentence. He is yet to go before the police court on a charge of having liquor in his possession. Mary E. Titus was brought before the court on charge of abandoning her two-year-old child. She pleaded guilty. She said her husband had left her eight months before her last child had been born and she had since worked for a living. She had been told by certain persons that it would be an easy matter to leave the child and had acted on the advice. She was sorry that she had done so. Judge Armstrong deferred her trial until he could see her aunt and cousin, both of whom are in the city. The jurors who had been challenged by the defense were allowed to depart with the understanding that they return at 11 a. m. on September 14.

REPORTED BOMBING TRIP BY ALLES TO FRANKFORT-ON-MAINE

Amsterdam, Aug. 30.—An English aerial squadron attempted to attack Frankfort-on-the-Main last Sunday, the Berliner Tageblatt reports. The squadron, which came from the west, is said to have been forced to return when half way between Main and Frankfurt because of the activity of anti-aircraft guns.

LARKIN WILL NOT BE ALLOWED TO LAND IN AUSTRALIA

Melbourne, Aug. 30.—Questioned in parliament concerning a report that James Larkin, head of the transport workers' union in England and well known as a strike leader, on his way to Australia, Premier Hughes said that instructions had been given to prevent the landing of Larkin anywhere in Australia.

PARIS PAPERS MUST INCREASE THE PRICE

Paris, Aug. 30.—An announcement issued by the inter-ministerial press commission says that by agreement with the government the increase in the price of newspapers will be enforced strictly after September 1. The newspapers affected are requested, when publishing the commission's notice, to add that the price of their paper has been raised from one to two cents.

MOVING FOR PEACE—AND MOVING FAST

WILSON CUTS PRICE OF PAPER FOR USE IN OFFICIAL BULLETINS

Publishers Hoping That It May Mean Lower Figure For The Newspapers

Washington, Aug. 30.—In an order which newspaper publishers declare will serve as an important precedent, President Wilson has fixed a price of two and a half cents on newspaper paper for use in publishing the government's daily official bulletins. The order fixing the price was issued by Secretary of War Baker at the president's direction under the national defense act, which empowers the government to commandeer supplies needed for war purposes. It was directed to the International Paper Company, which had declined to furnish newspaper paper for the bulletin at less than three cents a pound. Newspaper publishers who learned of the order today voiced the hope that it might open the way for cheaper newspaper paper to publishers generally.

GUNARDER SUNK

The Volodia Lost Off English Coast—Bath Schooner Also Sent Down

Boston, Aug. 30.—The Cunard line steamship Volodia, of 2,686 tons gross, was torpedoed and sunk off the English coast recently, according to private advice reaching this city last night. The Volodia, formerly the Den of Ogl, was built at Port Glasgow in 1913.

SIX MEN AND WOMAN HELD IN MURDER CASE

Suspected of Complicity in Killing and Robbing of Express Company Messengers

Chicago, Aug. 30.—Six men and a woman were in custody on Wednesday suspected of complicity in the robbery and murder of Barton G. Allen and Louis C. Osenberg, messengers for Brinks Chicago Express Company on Tuesday, as they were about to deliver the weekly payroll of $9,100 at the plant of the Winslow Foundry Company. The robbery opened fire as the messengers approached the foundry gate, took the money and fled in an automobile. Information obtained from an anonymous telephone call which identified the automobile used by the robbers, the police arrested Charles Carro, president of the Chicago Street Cleaners' Union. Later five other men were arrested after a fight in a saloon. A woman relative of Carro also is being held.

FIRST OF STANDARDIZED SHIPS IN COMMISSION

Another Phase in British Combat With Submarines; French Losses in Week Small

London, Aug. 30.—The first of the British standardized merchant steamers to replace tonnage lost through submarine attacks, it is announced, has been commissioned after completing most successful trials. The keel was laid down in February and the hull was launched in June. It is understood that six types of vessel, varying in size from 8,000 tons downward, are being built. Many hundreds of such ships will be constructed.

GERMANY WAITS FOR NEWS FROM FRIENDS ON POPE'S PEACE NOTE

Amsterdam, Aug. 30.—A commission appointed by the German chancellor to consider a reply to the peace note of Pope Benedict held its first sessions on Tuesday, according to the Lokal Anzeiger of Berlin. Chancellor Michaelis presided at the meeting, which lasted about two hours and a half. The session adjourned until results of the discussions over the note are available from Vienna, Constantinople and Sofia.

More Russian Troops Desert The Trenches

Petrograd Says Measures Taken to Restore Positions—German Failures on West—Austrians Beaten

Petrograd, Aug. 30.—A large proportion of two Russian regiments in the Fokahai region on the Rumanian front left their trenches and retired yesterday, says today's war office statement. The dispersal of one of the regiments followed and measures have been taken, it is said, to restore the positions affected in the battle now in progress. MORE ARTILLERYMEN THAN INFANTRY IN VERDUN FIGHT

Paris, Aug. 30.—The number of artillerymen employed in the recent operations in the Verdun region was greater than the number of infantrymen put into battle here. This surprising fact is explained by the Verdun correspondent of the Temps as being due to the difficulty of the gunners' tasks in addition to the immense number of cannon. Heavy shells had to be carried to the guns for hours at a stretch by men who were compelled to wear masks, which rendered breathing difficult and obstructed their vision. The correspondent adds that the object of the artillery now is less directed at destroying enemy guns than to forcing the German gunners to suspend service and seek shelter. For this purpose, he says, gas shells are employed largely.

SENATOR RESIGNS AT FIRST HAND

Hon. Mr. Lariviere Retires From Upper House—No Reason Given

Ottawa, Aug. 30.—Senator Lariviere has sent the speaker the resignation of his seat in the Upper House. It is understood that he will be succeeded by Aime Bernard of Winnipeg, although Hon. Joseph Bernier of Winnipeg is said to have a chance for the place. There is no reason assigned for the resignation as Senator Lariviere enjoys good health, in spite of his seventy-six years, and his feelings on Conscription never have been indicated as such as to induce his resignation by way of protest.

OFFICER IN PERSHING'S COMMAND MEETS DEATH

New York, Aug. 30.—Word of the first casualty to an officer in General Pershing's forces in France was received here by the marine corps in a cablegram announcing the death of Second Lieutenant Whistrom of the marine corps, in a motorcycle accident. The message came from the commander of the marine expeditionary forces with General Pershing.

THE BRITISH TURF

New York, Aug. 30.—According to a cable from New Market, Eng., yesterday, published in the Tribune today, the Ramey Plate handicap with a value of $1,000 was won by E. Hulter's Violist, ridden by Smyth, by four lengths from Sir W. Tate's Scatwell, with Colling in the saddle, at the opening of the races.

Grand Cross of The Legion For Petain For Verdun Success

Verdun, Aug. 30.—President Poincare personally presented today to General Petain, the French commander-in-chief, the Grand Cross of the Legion of Honor or awarded to him several days ago for the recent successes here. The presentation was made in the Place d'Armes. In his presentation address the president said: "Our enemies try in vain to disguise history and spread among neutrals false made to order. They try desperately to shake off the responsibilities that crush them. In vain do the false newsmongers, established in imperial cities, spread clouds of black smoke for a propitious world to blow across the frontier. "Convinced herself that she cannot obtain a military victory on our front, Germany takes refuge in a last illusion. She imagines she can overcome us through an internal crisis and during several weeks past she has announced this noisily. Neither those puerile manoeuvres nor the infamous propaganda that accompanies them will succeed in troubling public opinion, which will remain worthy of our cause and that of the admirable soldiers that defend it."

THE CONSERVATIVE CAUCUS

What the Conservative caucus actually did yesterday was to declare that the government should go to the country with Sir Robert Borden as leader and with as few changes as possible in its make-up.

So much for the official report of the caucus proceedings. The unofficial reports say that the endorsement of Sir Robert Borden was put through on the understanding that further flirtation with the union idea shall be dropped and that the government shall go to the country as a party ministry, and denouncing its "war record" and denouncing the "diplomatic crisis."

Ottawa despatches intimate that the preliminaries in connection with the Military Service Act, which is now the law of the land, will occupy many weeks and that the first classes for service could not be called out before the early days of 1918. If that be true, people will wonder what the government has been doing since Sir Robert Borden declared for conscription last May.

The Standard this morning says the western Liberals must accept Sir Robert Borden as the head of a union ministry, or that further negotiations are useless. The western Liberals have made it sufficiently clear that they will not accept him. If they had accepted him they would not have been speaking for a majority of the people of Canada.

On one or two morning recently, while the wind was hanging in the south, the southeast, or the southwest, the sun has been noticed something closely resembling an almost imperceptible mist coming in from the bay and having a tendency to shield the city from the direct rays of the autumn sun.

This unusual phenomenon has attracted considerable attention since last April and extremists, public enemies, conscientious objectors, and disgruntled folk generally, have been tempted to say that we have been having a foggy summer. That, of course, would be a brutal and exaggerated view of the case but it is not to be denied that in more than one instance St. John people have been able to stare fixedly in the direction of the sun without feeling any eye-strain.

"THE MINISTER OF ELECTIONS" Hon. Robert Rogers, it appears, is to organize and manage the Conservative election campaign. Mr. Rogers has been called the "Minister of Elections" and while he is no longer in the cabinet it appears to be thought in Conservative circles that he can be more useful as a campaign manager than as a cabinet minister.

Rogers is to play, we get some information from the Winnipeg Saturday Post which sees this country rushing headlong to its fate unless Mr. Rogers comes to the rescue.

"The country is about to enter upon a political campaign in which its very life is at stake. The loyalists of this country are faced by a highly organized mass of disloyalists, foreign enemies, slackers, and cowards of the most formidable dimensions. Never in the history of the country has organizing ability of the first order been so seriously needed as it is needed today to save Canada from its greatest danger.

Now that they have had this warning, the people of Canada will await with interest coming manifestations of Hon. Robert Rogers' power as an organizer and as a savior of the country—or rather of the government—in the time of trial before us.

Canadian prices of coal, flour, and other necessities, are still uncontrolled. The government gives millions to the owners of the Canadian Northern—unnecessary and unjustifiable gift of public money—but it leaves people of small or meagre income wholly unprotected.

It is well to remember that $250,000 will only begin, not complete, the extension of the breakwaters to Fairbridge Island. When is the work really to be done?

"Germany," says Colonel Frank H. Simonds, "will be able to avoid defeat in 1918 only if both the United States and Russia fail to play their part."

Russia is in the very furnace of trial. Is Kerevsky the super-man?

The city should repair the Marsh road, without delay.

Conservative drums are beating for an election.

What if the Sobos Came? She was a very nervous old lady, and her particular horror was Zeppelins, and she made careful inquiries of the vicar as to her best course in the event of a raid.

Has Learned His Lesson. After our own experience this summer as an agriculturist, we now understand what was meant when it was said "the shoemaker should stick to his last and the tailor to his goose."

Still, while the case is so, no misguided or thoughtless persons should be tempted into a confession that this has been a foggy summer. In fact, the oldest inhabitant who can remember back as far as the days of the Cholera, and beyond, can distinctly recall—or says he can—summers when he was a boy during which fog was really quite prevalent.

"WHO COUNSELS PEACE?"

(From a Poem by Robert Southey) Who counsels peace at this momentous hour When God hath given deliverance to the oppressed. And to the injured power? Who counsels peace, when vengeance like a flood Roll on, no longer now to be repressed— When innocent blood From the four corners of the world cries For justice upon one accused head.

Woe, woe to all, both woe and endless shame If this heroic land, False to her feelings and unspotted fame, Holds out the olive to the Tyrant's hand. Down with the Tyrant: with the Mud-drever down.

LIGHTER VEIN. Wanted Only Facts. They were having an argument as to whether it was correct to say of a hen she is "setting" or "sitting," and not being able to arrive at a satisfactory conclusion, they decided to submit the problem to Farmer Giles.

On the Screen. "Has Crissum Gulek quit drinking?" "Yes," replied Broncho Bob. "And playing faro-bank?" "Quit, entirely."

Wasted Sympathy. The rector returning after his holiday heard that a parishioner had "lost his old Betty," and at once hurried off to console him.

"Oh, well, sir, thankie," replied Giles: "it's a pity, of course, but she was a rare lay lady; she would never do anything unless she was well thrashed."

"I'm talking about my wife Betty," said the astonished Giles. "I'm talking about my old mare that died yesterday."

A Plea For Autocracy. Undoubtedly there are some advantages in an autocracy.

Underneath there are some advantages in an autocracy, for example, that the members of the New York Vegetarian Society claim exemption from military service on the ground that they are conscientiously opposed to killing any living thing, and if we had an autocrat instead of a republican we could take them out and throw tomatoes at them at sunrise.—Ohio State Journal.

THE U-BOATS' WORK

London, Aug. 29—A slight increase in the number of British vessels sunk last week by mines or submarines is shown by the weekly admiralty statement issued tonight. Eighteen vessels of more than 1,600 tons were sent to the bottom as compared with fifteen of the previous week, and five vessels of 257 tons as against three of the previous week. No fishing vessels were sunk.

Stomach Troubles Due To Acidity

SO SAYS EMINENT SPECIALIST. So-called stomach troubles, such as indigestion, wind, and stomach-ache are probably nine cases out of ten simply evidence that fermentation is taking place in the food contents of the stomach, causing the formation of gas and acids. Wind distends the stomach, and causes that full, oppressive feeling sometimes known as heartburn, while the acid irritates and inflames the delicate lining of the stomach. The trouble lies entirely in the fermenting food. Such fermentation is unnatural, but may involve most serious consequences if not corrected. To stop it prevent fermentation of the food contents of the stomach and to neutralize the acid, and render it bland and harmless, a teaspoonful of bisulphate of magnesia, probably the best and most effective corrector of acid stomach known, should be taken in a quartet of glass of hot or cold water immediately after eating, or whenever wind or acidity is felt. This stops the fermentation, and neutralizes the acidity in a few moments. Fermentation, wind and acidity are dangerous and unnecessary. Stop or prevent them by the use of a proper anti-acid, such as bisulphate of magnesia, which can be obtained from any druggist and thus enable the stomach to do its work properly without being hindered by poisonous gas and dangerous acids.—M. F. P.

EVIDENCE OF LATE HOURS OF YESTERDAY IN THE HARRIS CASE

At the continuation of the trial of Everett Carland and John O'Brien for the murder of Robert Harris, yesterday afternoon, Harry T. Lunn and Edward McCann gave evidence.

Police Magistrate Hightch was called and stated that the depositions of Carland and O'Brien were taken before him and he identified his signature to the documents produced by the crown.

Mr. Mullin, in cross-examination, asked the police magistrate if he had issued any order to have Carland and O'Brien removed from jail to testify at the coroner's inquest. He replied that he had not, but he could not deny, he said, that he had heard they were going to be witnesses. Asked whether anyone but himself and a supreme court judge had authority to remove a man from jail, the witness stated that when he was inquisitor-general, coroner could take a man from jail to give evidence. The magistrate stated that at the time of the coroner's inquest Carland and O'Brien were in jail and he recalled that there was some suspicion about them.

Spent Night in Shop.

James Campbell, a striking plumber, told of what happened the night Harris was assaulted, about the men, including Carland and O'Brien, assembling at the rooms, leaving about 10 o'clock. The witness new place of this witness' testimony was given in cross-examination by Mr. Mullin. He stated that on Friday afternoon he went to Joe O'Brien's place in Mill street and fell asleep and remained there all night with John O'Brien. O'Brien left the place and went down to the corner for a drink of beer. They then came up Mill street past Estabrook's and separated at the corner of Union street.

The witness stated that he did not know Jeremiah Lushan and therefore could not say whether the man passed that morning. That morning neither the witness nor O'Brien were overcast.

The witness recalled that he had remarked to O'Brien about being out all night and O'Brien replied that he hadn't been home since yesterday morning (Friday).

Lawrence Lambert told of the happenings of the evening of June 14 at the union rooms. The next afternoon he went to Joe O'Brien's shop. While there two women came in the alley. The witness heard one of the women remark: "Is he there?"

Joe replied, "No."

The women said, "Well, he must be there because he hasn't been home."

The witness went back and told Jack that someone was looking for him.

He replied, "Yes, I know; it's the wife."

Mr. Mullin objected to this testimony because neither of the prisoners was present.

The witness stated that O'Brien, the accused, was within twenty-five feet and the evidence was allowed.

Subsequently, the witness said, he identified the woman as Jack's wife.

That Friday night the witness was in Crawford's store when Jack O'Brien called him out and said he had no right to be there. They walked down the street and O'Brien said, "Harris has the pill, why in hell can't we give Farrell the needle?" The witness explained that Farrell was a strike-breaker from Fredrickton.

In cross-examination by Mr. Mullin the witness stated that he was not now a member of the plumbers' union, and had not been for about two weeks. He denied that he got more than three weeks' allowance of five dollars a week from Mr. Bruce. He denied, too, that he had "hipped" the police. He had given them no further information than his testimony at the inquest and going to the west side on the request of the chief of police.

EVERY WOMAN A GREAT SUCCESS AT IMPERIAL

Theatre Thronged as Clever Play is Produced

Large Company of Capable Stage People; Leading Parts in Most Competent Hands; Good Orchestra; Elaborate Settings

St. John theatre patrons last night revelled in enjoyment of a grandly impressive and spectacular production of Walter Browne's modern morality play, "Everywoman," given with that lavishness of attention which only the youth and modesty of the Henry W. Savage companies. The Imperial theatre, with its practically all seats occupied, the scene presented was very inviting. Choice and interesting characters were played by the efficient corps of actors.

The company carries the own orchestra—and it is a superior aggregation—delighting the musically favored with an artistic programme between acts and an alluring musical accompaniment to many of the spoken lines.

"Everywoman" differs much from anything before seen here. It is spoken with musical settings in places and several excellent solos and choruses.

It teaches a lesson, and does so very effectively—a lesson of the life of today, the good and the evil influences that are about woman, the dangers of passion, the gay life of a large city, the gradual abandonment of Everywoman by wealth, by choice and modesty and wealth, the disregard of truth's warnings, but the final return to truth where love and happiness at last are found.

The play was gorgeously mounted, treated with artistic lighting effects, and bits of stagecraft and costume elaborately. The play is large and the members all well fitted for their roles.

Miss Paula Shay Donahue, who plays as Everywoman and gives a remarkably good performance of a very exacting part. Her voice is of such quality, her acting most natural and her dresses were the envy of all the ladies.

Fredrick Parsons, shared the honors with the star, and his work was of very high grade. His deep resonant voice, his clear enunciation, were outstanding features. Nobody's appearance on the stage always was welcome.

Berta Donn, Elnor Kay and Margaret Batterson, as Youth, Beauty and Modesty, are three attractive young women who play their parts well and dance gracefully. Truth is another good character, played by Helen Daine. Jack Hitchinson as Wealth, G. Choate as Willness, Fred Hampton as Time, Frank Kilday as Bluff and F. J. McCarthy as Stuff all were good, as in Berta Donn who took part in London, William Modesty and Townsend Ahern as Consience added delightful singing numbers to good acting work.

The stage scene in a metropolitan theatre, the banquet in Everywoman's home, New Year's Eve in Broadway, all were very effectively presented. Every act brought several curtain calls. The production of Everywoman in St. John certainly was a marked success in every way. It is being presented again this afternoon and will have its finale tonight. The cast is as follows:—

BLOOD RED WAR

Some years ago every one in America who reads poetry waxed enthusiastic over "The Songs of the Southland" and other virile verses of a young Canadian, ex-bank clerk and Yukon adventurer, Robert W. Service. His poems, full of fire and the dare-devilry of the wild Northwest, when published in book form brought him fame as the "Kipling of the North."

When the war broke out Service went to the front as a Red Cross man. His work has been with the Canadian contingent of the British Army in Flanders.

Between times he has written a new volume of verse "Rhymes of a Red Cross Man," just published by Barse & Hopkins, New York and dedicated to the memory of his brother, Lieut. Albert Service, Canadian infantry, who was killed in action in France last August.

Herenn "Bob" Service has written his name on the hearts of the English-speaking people. Read "Bill the Bomber" or the other verses here chosen because of their brevity, and recognize a genius of these epic times, a poet whose verse swings as a pendulum 'twixt smile and tear.

BILL THE BOMBER.

The popples gleamed like bloody pools through cotton-woolly mist; The Captain kept a-lookin' at the watch upon his wrist; And there we smoked and squatted, as we watched the shrapnel flame; 'Twas wonderful, I tell you, how fast them bullets came. Per waddin' means a-lookin', and I don't do it think. So I closed my eyes a little, and I had a nice dream; And a-standin' by a dresser with a dish of Devon cream; But I hadn't time to sample it, for sudden I woke; "Come on, me lads!" the Captain says, "I climbed out through the smoke. We spread out in the open; it was like a bath of lead; But the boys they cheered and hoisted it to raise the bloody dead; 'Twas a-standin' by a dresser with a dish of Devon cream; And it's odd—we didn't seem to heed 'em corpses on the ground. And I kept on thinkin', thinkin', as the bullets faster flew, How they plied the weary ranks, as they let the rotters through; So indiscriminate-like they spares a man of sin, And a rare lad wots a husband and a father gets one in. And while havin' these reflections and advancin' the war, A bullet biffs my shoulder, and says I: "That's number one." Well, it dorned me for a jiffy, but I didn't lose me calm, For I knew that I was a fitter; I'm a bomber, so I am. And I lost me cap and rifle, but I carried on 'cause I had me bunch of bombs and knew that when they were needed, so they was. We didn't 'ave no singin' now, nor many men to cheer; And the shrapnel dorned 'em, crashin' out so werry near; And the Maxim got us sideways, and the bullets faster flew, And I copped one on me hipper, and says I: "That's number two." It was pleased it was the left one, for I had me mooms, ye see. And I was 'fraid if they'd be waded like and all singin' now; And I'd lost me 'at and rifle—but I told you that before, So I packed me mitt inside me coat and 'carried on' once more. And the Maxim got us sideways, and the bullets faster flew, And I fell me ginger goin', but me jaws I kindo set. And we passed the Boche first trenches, which was 'capin' 'igh with dead, And they started for their second, but the men were scarier yet. When something like a 'ammer smashed me savage on the knee, And down I came all muck and blood; Says I: "That's number three."

So there I lay all 'elpless like, and bloody sick at that, Like anythink, because I'd lost me 'at. And thinkin' of me misses, and the partin' words she said: "If you get killed, write quick, 'o' man, and tell me as you're dead." And then I got at me bunch of bombs—that was the best blow, To think I'd never 'ave the chance to 'url 'em at the foe. And there was all our boys in front, a-fightin' there like mad, And me as could 'ave 'elped 'em werry lovely bombs I 'ad. And so I cussed and cussed, and then I struggled back again, Into that bit of battered trench, packed solid with its slain.

Now as I lay 't'wixt there and blastin' of me lot, And wishin' I could just dispose of all them bombs I got, I sees within the doorway of a shy, retirin' dugout me! Six Boches all a-grinnin', and their Captain stuck 'is mug out; And they 'ad a nice machine gun, and I twigged what they was at; And they fixed it on a tripod, and I watched 'em like a cat. And they got it in position, and they seemed so werry glad, Like they'd got us in a death-trap, which, condemn their souls; they 'ad. For these our boys was fightin' fifty yards in front, and 'ere This lousy bunch of Boches they 'ad got us in the rear.

O, it set me blood a-boilin' and I quite forgot me pain, So I started crawlin', crawlin' over all them mounds of slain; And them bastards was so busy like they 'ad no eyes for me, And me bleedin' leg was draggin', but me right arm it was free, And now they 'ave it all in shape, and swingin' sweet and clear; And now they're all excited like, but I am drawin' near; And now they 'ave it loaded up, and now they're talkin' aim. Rat-at-tat-tat! O, here, says I, is where I join the game. And my right arm it goes swingin' and a bomb it goes a-slingin'; And that "typewriter" goes swingin' in a thunderbolt of flame. Then these Boches, wot was left of 'em, they tumbled down their 'ole, And up I climbed a mound of dead, and down on them I stole. And O, that blessed moment when I heard that frightened yell, And I laughed down in that dugout, ere I mombed their souls to hell. And now I'm in the hospital, surprised that I'm alive; We started out a thousand men, we came back thirty-five. And I'm minus of a trotter, but I'm most amazin' gay, For me bombs they wasn't wasted, though, you might say, "thrown away."

THE REVELATION.

The same old sprint in the morning, boys, to the same old din and smut; Chained all day to the same old desk; down in the same old rut; Found the same old greasy books, catching the same old train; O, how will I manage to stick it all, if I ever get back again?

We've bidden goodbye to a life in a cage, we've finished with pushing a pen; They're pumping us full of bellicose rage; they're showing us how to be men. We're only beginning to find ourselves; we're wonders of hewn and they; But when we go back to our Clissy jobs, oh, what are we going to do?

For shoulders curved with the counter stop will be carried erect and square, And faces white from the office light will be bronzed by the open air; And we'll walk with the stride of a new-born pride, with a new-found joy in our eyes. Scourful men who have died with death under the naked skies. And when we get back to the dreary grind, and the bald-headed boss' call. Don't you think that the dingy window-blind, and the dingier office wall. Will suddenly melt to a vision of space, of a vision of same-scarred night? Then... oh, the joy of the danger-thrill, and the roar of the fight! Don't you think as we peddle a card of pins the counter will fade away, And again we'll be seeing the sand-bag rims, and the barbed wire's misty gray? As a fat voice asks for a pound of tea, don't you fancy we'll hear instead, The night wind moan and the soothing drone of the packet that's overhead? Don't you guess that the things we're seeing now will haunt us through all the years; Heaven and Hell rolled into one, glory and blood and tears; Life's pattern picked with a scarlet thread, when once we wore a gray To remind us all how we played our part in the shock of an epic day? O, we're booked for the Great Adventure now, we're pledged to the Real Romance! We'll find ourselves or we'll lose ourselves somewhere in giddy old France; We'll know the zest of the fighter's 'alife; the best that we have we'll give.

ON MAKING FRIENDS.

Suggestions Useful to Those Wishing Permanent Relationships.
It is well to be general at all, but one should be careful in the choice of friends. Friendship is more than acquaintance. A few friends, well chosen, are a joy forever. A true friend is for life. Some young folks choose their friends because they are schoolmates, or in the same neighborhood or church, and when removing to wood country they drop them and find new friends. Higher reasons should govern the formation of lasting friendship.
Friendship is not of a mushroom quality, growing up in a few hours. Slowly formed friendships are likely to be permanent. A friend should be one you can love, trust, and respect. It takes time to know who may be trusted, who should be respected. It takes experience to tell the strength of one's professions of friendship. One should not, therefore, hastily divulge the secrets of one's heart in sudden friendship. Wait till tests have been made through adversity or other things that try men's souls.
Choose for a friend one whose character influences to better things, not one who is careless and frivolous. Be faithful always to the right kind of a friend. To keep friends one must show one's self friendly. Never betray a confidence. Advise a friend with care and listen to his advice with care. Help and comfort in times of need. Be a friend if you would have one.—Milwaukee Journal.

THOUGHT CHILD WAS DYING

"Cholera Infantum"

DR. FOWLER'S EXTRACT OF WILD STRAWBERRY CURED HER

Mothers should look well after their children during the hot summer months, as this is the time of the year this trouble is most prevalent. It begins with a profuse diarrhoea, the stomach becomes irritated, vomiting and purging set in, and the child rapidly loses flesh, and becomes weak, prostrated and languid.
Mrs. R. A. Currell, Rosway, N. S., writes: "I can recommend, most highly, Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry. A friend of mine whose little daughter was ill with cholera infantum was given up by the doctors. The little one's mother asked me to come in and see the child. I told her I had a bottle of 'Dr. Fowler's' and asked her if she would try it. When the bottle was half used the child was well. This cure was a miraculous one, for I thought the child was dying at the time."
There is nothing can take the place of Dr. Fowler's.
Do not accept a substitute, and thus endanger your life.

PROHIBITION ENTRY IN RACE FOR MAYOR IN NEW YORK ELECTION

Suffrage, Food, White Slavery, Harbor Improvement, and City Ownership, as Well as No Liquor

New York, Aug. 30.—Another important ticket has been put in the field, a combination Prohibition-Progressive ticket with candidates for mayor, controller, and president of the aldermen. The remnant of the Progressive Party will go over to the Republicans when the party virtually went out of existence last year because it failed to place on the ballot three in their lot with the Prohibitionists, hoping that the disgruntled Democrats and Democrats will line up with them.
The candidate for mayor is Dr. Leigh Colvin, vice-president of the National Temperance Council and an official of the Intercollegiate Prohibition Association. He was born in Ohio in 1880 and came to New York in 1905 to take a post-graduate course in Columbia University, where he received the degree of Doctor of Philosophy in the School of Political Science. He is the author of a treatise, "The Bicameral Principle in the State Legislatures," and an authority on the lawmaking system of New York State. John Robert Taylor, a member of the bar of patent lawyers, Dyer Taylor, 81 Nassau street, is the candidate for controller. He is state chairman of what is left of the Progressive organization. The candidate for president of the aldermen is William E. Moore, of Evergreen, L. I.
Besides national prohibition as defined in the St. Louis platform, the platform on which the majority fight will include plank on woman suffrage, food conservation, white slavery, harbor improvement, education reform, municipal ownership of transit facilities and public utilities, efficiency and economy, and enforcement of the law.
That the revolt in the Tammany organization on the part of leaders who are dissatisfied with the ticket selected by Leader Charles F. Murphy is still active is shown when friends of Richard J. Delaney of the Fifth Assembly District started a movement to nominate him for mayor. Delaney is a Tammany candidate, David H. Knott, Delaney is an undertaker and was an unsuccessful candidate for coroner five years ago. Although beaten, he ran 6,000 votes in the city.

CORBETT TO TEACH SOLDIERS

Responding to an invitation of the War Department, James J. Corbett, one of our best known athletes, has accepted the chairmanship of the Committee on Athletic Instruction, which is to teach soldiers in the United States army cantonments how to box. The other members of the committee are Norman Selby (Kid McCoy), Mike Donovan of the New York Athletic Club, Richard Nelligan of Amherst College, and Robert Edgren of New York, secretary. The committee met in the city yesterday afternoon at the headquarters of the Commission on Training Camp Activities.
"Many of the movements in boxing are similar to those used in bayonet charges," Dr. Raycroft explained, "and for this reason the government feels that the best way to school the soldiers in bayonet drills is to teach them the tricks in boxing."
More than fifty famous boxers and boxing instructors will act under the direction of the committee and give instructions at the camps. Included in this group will be Benny Leonard, Johnny Dundee, Paeky McFarland, Johnny Kibbons, Ted Lewis, Joe Kibbons, Tommy Ryan, Art Atwell, Freddy Welch, DeWitt Van Court, and others.

WORK THE BEST TONIC

London, Aug. 30.—G. M. Barnes, pension minister, in opening a hostel here, provided for men who have been disabled in the war, declared that England was just beginning to find out that the problem of the disabled soldier was psychological as well as medical.
"We must ease," he said, "dozing men with staff, which sometimes did them no good, and leaving them in hospitals where they may be irritated by the sight of all that discipline meant, and let them go into the workshop where they can apply their hands and their skill, and lose the feeling that they are a burden to everybody."

ALICE BRADY IN ONE OF HER BEST PICTURES YET AT GEM THEATRE

Thrilling Story of Russian and Parisian High Life and in the Ballet—New Vaudeville Good
Alice Brady numbers her friends and admirers by the hundreds of thousands and those in St. John will want to see her in "The Dancer's Peril," in which she is at the Gem theatre. This is one of the greatest productions yet made by the World Film Corporation. It is gorgeous from a scenic standpoint and the story told is marked by high spots of romance, intrigue and intensely dramatic situations. In this drama Miss Brady appears as the big star of a Russian ballet and there makes a tremendous hit. The impresario of the ballet becomes infatuated with her, but she is in love with a young man. Love triumphs, but only after many obstacles have been overcome. Miss Brady has two powerful characterizations. She appears as the mother of a famous Russian dancer and as the dancer herself. In stupendous dance scenes Miss Brady appears with Alexis Kosloff, a famous Russian dancer. The story is of gripping interest and the photography is especially appealing because of the wonderful work in which mother and daughter are shown. No Gloominess in North France—
To Each Successive German
Problem an Effective Reply Has Been Provided

(Thomas Geggie, late Sergt.-Major, K. O. S. B., in Toronto Star.)
Glasgow, Aug. 4.—"Three years or the duration of the war." Do you remember the superior smile of disbelief on our faces when that phrase first began to circulate? "Oh, Kitchener is just trying to frighten us into putting our best foot forward. The war won't last one year."
I think we were on the Aisne in mid-September, 1914, when the first letter mail reached the expeditionary force, and, at this day, one sentence in my wife's letter caused me some grin-amusement. "People here are saying that the war may last three years, but surely that can't be true. We should never be able to bear it." Well, here are the completed three years and we are still bearing it, and all things considered, bearing it mightily well.

But were you or I to suggest that "the duration" may mean yet another three years we would certainly encounter the same smiles of superior wisdom, the same arguments, supported by arrays of figures, to the effect that financial considerations must end the struggle in a few months, and the same expressed beliefs that the Social Democrats of Germany were about to do this or that. Such is the virtue of human faith and hope which in these war days is termed optimism.
In August, 1914, in which month the war began, we were, every one of us, super-optimists. To my mind there is nothing more reasonable in the whole situation than the well-established fact that the nearer you are to the British Empire's battle line in Northern France the more pronounced is this feeling that "all's well in the west."

How Things Have Changed.
By that I do not mean to assert that the people of Canada are any less merry and bright than the people near the war zone in Great Britain, but simply to emphasize my belief that the cheeriest of us all are in the fighting line next the Hun—and for good reason. Over there they have not, and never had, any use for the person of gloomy expression. They who are up against Fritz know him to be quite an ordinary cuss and not any sort of a superman.
There was a day, which some of us recall, when the five-point-nines of the German army many times exceeded ours has a new and delicious flavour, obtained by blending the choicest oriental fruits and spices with Pure Malt Vinegar.

Wouldn't it be worth your while to try a bottle right away?

yes, there was a day when we were far, far behind the Hun in the more brutal instruments of horror, but there never was a single minute in this war when the German was the superior or even the equal of our men as soldiers.
The general knows this, and Tommy knows, and greatest reason of all for our optimism, the German soldier himself knows it. So if our men found time to be optimistic at Mons in August, 1914, do you think to find gloominess in our ranks in Northern France this third anniversary, when our guns are numbered by the tens of thousands, and our shells and our men by the million? No, sir!
Messages Were Politely Worded.
During the Ypres first battle in October, 1914, the Prussian Guard, the elite of the German army, with their Kaiser at some safe distance observing them, attacked our hastily dug trenches in massed howling hordes with front rank firing from the hip as they advanced. By means of coolly given and carefully executed infantry fire orders our rifles brought their advance to a standstill, and at the exact correct moment a rush forward from our position turned their hesitancy into a rout. This was done while enemy shells were tearing gaps in our ranks and while our own guns were conspicuously silent.
During the hill a politely worded message was sent to the battery stating that as this little foolishness of the Prussian Guard was likely to be of frequent occurrence might not a few shells act as a deterrent, and (oh, we were immensely polite and considerate for one another's tempers in those days) the reply came lions of high explosive shells, each one with a real kick in it, for a whole fortnight before an infantryman was asked to show his steel helmet over the bags.

To each successive German problem we have provided an effective reply. To the question of guns we replied with more and heavier guns; to the problem of poison gas we replied with a mask which gives immunity and a more poisonous gas, the antidote to which our enemy has yet to discover.
In July, 1916, as you stood at the top of Picardilly, amid the shattered debris of Longueval, at the left top corner of Deville Wood there were five deadly, undiscoverable, damnable German strong points. Despite artillery preparation in each case in ten days a dozen British attacks melted before the deadliness of the German machine guns. The rotting dead of many summer days lay before the position to testify to its impregnability; the nauseating horror of that time is still with me and brings me with a start to wakefulness when its memory fits across my midnight dreams. Here, then, my friend, was the problem of the machine gun emplacements, and again came the reply—the Tanks.
The Submarine Question.
There remains the U-boat. Well, we have been told that a specific cure for this may never be found, that there are daily in use a number of measures which limit its activities, and that the only sure antidote lies in the British national spirit of self-denial. With the will to victory opposed to it the submarine will not achieve its purpose. This we all firmly believe. So that just as the German's millions of men and thousands of guns and clouds of poison gas failed to break the spirit of freedom-loving people, so also will fall the U-boat.

SURVIVES BRIDGE JUMP
New York, Aug. 20.—Harold Klume, a printer living at 791 St. John's Place, Brooklyn, attempted suicide by jumping from the Brooklyn Bridge into the East River. He nearly struck a tugboat passing under the bridge. The crew threw a looped lifeline over the man as he rose to the surface and pulled him aboard. Klume was taken to the Roosevelt Hospital, where he was held a prisoner charged with attempting suicide. He would give no reason for his act. His condition is not serious.

FORMER ST. JOHN MAN IS MARRIED IN SALEM

The wedding of Leonard J. Hayes of Boston, formerly of St. John, brother of Harry Hayes of this city, and Marguerite Morrison Russell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Russell of Salem, Mass., was solemnized in Salem on Monday. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Father Fitzgibbon of St. James' church, Salem. The bride was attended by Miss Mabel Elizabeth Hayes, sister of the groom, and Jack Russell, brother of the bride, acted as best man. The bride was becomingly gowned in white georgette crepe with large black velvet hat and carried a bouquet of lilacs of the valley. Following the ceremony, Mr. and Mrs. Hayes left on a wedding trip to the White Mountains. On their return they will reside in Boston.

You'll be impressed with "Wear-Ever" Aluminum Utensils once you have used them—especially in canning, preserving and jelly-making time, although you'll prefer them for general culinary purposes. There are no joints, seams, or soldered parts to collect dirt, they cannot scale or chip—are pure and safe. They take more heat, quicker and store it longer than other utensils, and so are much easier on fuel.

PROSECUTION NOT YET COMPLETED

Today's Proceedings in Harris Murder Trial

SISTER'S EVIDENCE GIVEN

Objection to Deposition by Youth Who Found Robert Harris Lying in Street and Helped Him Home

Nothing sensational was brought out in the trial of John O'Brien and Everett Carland, which was continued in the Supreme Court this morning before His Honor Chief Justice McKeown. The first witness was John McAniff of Kitchener street, the last person with the late Robert Harris on the night on which he was attacked. He said he and Harris had been working together in a house in West St. John and on the way home, he was of the opinion that it would take Harris three or five minutes to walk from where they parted to the place where he was struck down. Carrie Harris, sister of the unfortunate young man, said in answer to Dr. Wallace, that she was in bed when her brother arrived home, but she saw him about a quarter to one o'clock. He was then in bed and Dr. G. O. Baxter had just arrived. Q.—Were you walking with him at any time previous to the time he was hurt? A.—Yes, I was walking with him in Wright street. Q.—Were any men following him? A.—Yes, there were three men following him. Q.—Would you recognize any of these men as being one of the defendants? A.—Yes, Mr. Carland. Q.—Did you hear any of these men say anything? A.—Yes, my brother said to them—"It's nice living up around here," and one answered "My brother then said, 'won't you come and have some supper,' and some one answered 'No, son, you will be without your supper some night.'"

Q.—Was anyone with you at the time? A.—Yes, my little brother. In answer to Mr. Mullin the witness said she could not remember where she was coming from when she met her brother in Wright street. She met him at the foot of Wright street. Q.—What kind of a tone did your brother use when he said it is nice living up here? A.—Friendly. Margaret Cobolan was then called and told about seeing two men standing in an alley opposite Cranston avenue on the night in which Robert Harris was assaulted. She said one was wearing a coat, which looked dark, the other's head was covered with a peaked cap. She was unable to discern the features of either man.

At this point Dr. Wallace wished to have admitted a deposition by John Wilson, a boy who found Harris lying on the sidewalk that night and assisted him to his home. The boy is in Maine and cannot be summoned. Mr. Mullin objected on the grounds that it has not been established that the stenographer in this case was appointed by a justice, and that there was no stenographer's certificate that the document produced was a true report of the evidence. The matter was dropped for the time being, and Jeremiah Leatham was summoned. Others who testified were Henry Evans and Detective William Duncan. The latter told about the arrest of the two defendants and also produced two pieces of brick which he found near the spot pointed out to him as the place where Harris was picked up. At one o'clock the court adjourned to meet again at half-past two.

SAD NEWS COMES TO ST. JOHN HOME

Twelve Year Old Girl Drowned Yesterday in The Charles River

To Mr. and Mrs. John Murphy of 39 George street came a telegram from their daughter, Nellie, now Mrs. Harry Irving of 18 Grant street, Cambridge, conveying the sad news that her eldest child, Teresa, aged twelve years, was drowned yesterday in the Charles river, back of her home. A letter today brought further particulars. She had been bathing and was caught by the tide. Her companions hurried to the house with the news, and the body was recovered in half an hour. Mrs. Irving's husband is a soldier, now in France as a member of the first American army contingent. There also are three surviving children. Mrs. Irving has been living in the States for the last seven or eight years. St. John friends will sympathize with the family in their loss.

SUD.DEN DEATH OF WM. RITCHIE

Wm. Ritchie, one of the oldest residents of Hampton, N. B., died suddenly on Wednesday morning. He was eighty-eight years old and enjoyed splendid health up to the moment of his death. He was seated in the garden reading the morning paper when he peacefully passed away. He was well known in St. John and up to the time of his retiring from active business was a member of the well known firm of shipbuilders of this city, Stewart & Ritchie. They built for many years at the Marsh Creek. Mr. Ritchie was of a very genial nature and had a host of friends, who will greatly miss him.

He was the youngest son of the late merchant Ritchie, who arrived in St. John from Ulster, Ireland, in 1813. One daughter and three sons survive—Miss Rosa at home, Norman, well known artist of the Boston Post; George E., and Dr. Stephen G. of Halifax, N. S. S. D. Crawford is a son-in-law; R. E. Crawford of J. M. Humphrey & Co., is a grandson. The three sons have all arrived home for the funeral, which will take place to Fernhill on Friday afternoon on arrival of the 2.40 train.
