During the Michaelmas Term of the year 1871, the Editor was entrusted with the duty of preparing the following publication for the press. It was his intention to make it a moderately complete record and repository of all information of interest to the graduates, undergraduates, and friends of the Institution ; but the limited time at his disposal, together with the heavy pressure of professional duties towards the close of the Term, and the absolute necessity of having the Calendar ready for issue at the commencement of the new year, prevented him from fully realizing his expectations in this respect.

All the information contained herein will, it is believed, be found to be correct in the main ; but as it is more than likely that some slight mistakes may have crept in, it is deemed advisable to state that the authority of the Calendar is not to be accepted as final in any case in which it may be discovered to conflict with any of the Statutes of the University. For the correction of any mistakes that may be pointed out, or for any information that may be of use for future issues, the Editor will feel grateful. He desires, also, to take the present opportunity of expressing his obligations to his friend, Professor Wright, Ph.D., for much timely assistance in the preparation of the present edition.

48. ALBERT UNIVERSITY.

The advantages of Belleville as a location for a seat of learning had long been noticed before any steps were taken to found one in its vicinity. Accordingly, when the prosperity of Canada began to make the multiplication of facilities for higher education a necessity, its pleasant situation, and its prominence in the local history of the Bay of Quinte, pointed it out as a proper site for a college. When, in 1854, the General Conference of the M. E. Church adopted a scheme, initiated at the Bay of Quinte Annual Conference, in the preceding year, for the erection and maintenance of an educational institution, it was resolved to establish it at Belleville, and throw it open to persons of all grades and opinions without test or restriction. Having been incorporated in May, 1857, (20 Vic. Cap. 184), it was opened in July of the same year, under very favourable auspices and with a respectable staff of instructors. For seven years it continued to work without any change in its constitution, receiving meanwhile many gratifying tokens of public appreciation. It was then felt necessary to affiliate it to an University, in order that its progress might keep pace with the growing interests of the Province. But after a little more than a year's existence as an affiliated college, an Act of Parliament was obtained (29 and 30 Vic. Cap. CXXXVI), by which the name of the institution was changed to Albert College, and limited University powers thereto attached. By this Act a Senate was created, with power to make statutes for properly conferring degrees in Arts. The first session of the Senate began on the first day of April, 1867, the Rev. Philander Smith, D. D., presiding, and was continued by adjournments until the 4th of July, when the first curriculum was established. Under this statute

(numbered I. in the Statute-book, and now repealed) the Senate continued to grant degrees and honors until 1871, when it was made a body corporate, with the full powers and privileges of an University. Subsequently, in the ninth session of the Senate, the present course of study in Arts was established (Stat. XVII. de Acad. Curric. in Fac. Art.), and provision made, so far as was deemed expedient, for the other Faculties. The Senate meets twice a year, viz.: on the second Wednesday in May and September, and the duration of the session is limited by a statute of the University to thirteen weeks. The statutes of the Senate regulate the examinations for degrees, scholarships, prizes and honors, the manner and restrictions under which they shall be awarded, the fees for degrees and examinations, the application of such fees, the regular and special meetings of the Senate, the appointment and removal of examiners, the subjects of examination, and all matters for the interests and welfare of the University not under the jurisdiction of the Board of Management.

The Board of Management meets annually in June, but special meetings may be held at any time by order of the Chairman of the Board on the requisition of the members:

Lectures.

Lectures are delivered in Albert College on all the subjects appointed for B. A., B. D. and Mus. B. In the Faculty of Arts, Junior Freshmen are required to prepare for themselves the elements of Natural Philosophy and be examined therein before presenting themselves at the lectures in Chemistry. Senior Freshmen are required to prepare for examination the first 150 pages of Gray's Lessons in Botany, or its equivalent in any text-book, before presenting themselves at Professor Macoun's Lectures in Botany. The object of such private reading is to secure to the student the utmost benefit to be derived from the lectures. Students preparing these subjects are recommended to select an hour and appoint a grinder from among themselves or the Sophisters.

Every lecturer keeps an account of attendance and a record of answers to questions asked in the lecture room. The record is kept on a scale of 10 for an adequate answer, and any student obtaining an average in all his lectures of 9 or 8 during term, is placed in the first or second class in the Terminal Merit Roll, as the case may be, if not disqualified by misconduct.

In the Faculty of Law, the standing of the undergraduate is, for the present, determined by the examinations alone.

Examinations.

All candidates for examination are examined by means of written or printed questions, the answers to which must be prepared in presence of one of the Examiners. Any student who brings into the Examination Hall any notes or other assistance, or who, during the hours of examination, gives or receives any hint or information touching anything upon the question paper, or who exposes his answers so as to be seen and read by any other candidate, thereby annuls all examinations that he may have passed during the then current term and excludes himself from any other examinations of the term. In ancient and modern languages the candidate must pass an examination viva voce in addition to the written one.

Examinations are of three kinds, viz.:—Annual, Terminal, and Supplemental.

The Annual Examinations are held in the month of June, during the two weeks preceding the week in which Convocation takes place. At these Examinations, candidates for Matriculation, Senior Freshmen, and candidates for Degrees or Testimonium may present themselves on giving three weeks' notice, in writing, to the Registrar of the Senate, of the subjects in which they desire to be examined. Senior Freshmen and Senior Sophisters must, before

The Terminal Examinations are held during the two last weeks of Term. At these Examinations Junior Freshmen and Junior Sophisters may present themselves by giving two weeks notice to the Secretary of the College Council, of the subjects in which they wish to be examined, but no candidate is permitted to present himself for examination in any subject without having obtained credit for attendance at seven-eighths of the lectures delivered during Term, on that subject.

The preceding restrictions as to attendance at lectures do not apply to cases in which the Senate has seen fit, for good and sufficient reasons, to grant a dispensation to be absent from lectures.

The Supplemental Examinations begin on the first Friday of every Term. At these Examinations any student who has failed to attend or to pass the Terminal or Annual Examinations, or any of them held in the Term next preceding such Supplemental Examination, is required to present himself for examination in the subjects in which he may have failed.

At least one week's notice must be given of the subjects in which the Supplemental Examination is sought, accompanied by the fine specified hereafter in the table of Fees payable to the Senate.

The Board of Examiners is constituted by a Statute of the University (XII.), and holds the Terminal and Supplemental Terminal Examinations under the direction of the College Council, and the Annual and Supplemental Annual Examinations under the direction of the Senate, but the Board has no power in either case to set aside the provisions of any Statute of the University relating to Examinations.

Faculty of Arts.

Students in the first and second years of their Undergraduate Course are denominated Junior and Senior Freshmen; in the third and fourth years, Junior and Senior Sophisters.

In order to obtain credit for any Term or Year, it is necessary for each Student to attend seven-eighths of the total number of Lectures delivered in each Department of the following Course during the Term or Year, and to pass the Terminal or Annual Examinations of his class, as specified in the section of the Calendar relating to Examinations. But in case any Student should by illness, or any other unavoidable cause, be prevented from presenting himself, or should fail to obtain credit for the requisite percentage of marks in any Department at the regular Examination of his class, he is allowed to present himself at a Supplemental Examination in the same subjects, at the commencement of the ensuing Term. A failure, however, to keep any Examination in the regular order is regarded as a Collegiate offence and punished by a fine. In order to rise from any Class to the next above it, it is necessary for each Student to have kept the Terms and passed all the Examinations of the lower Class; and no Student is allowed to present himself at the Annual Examination of the Senior Freshman Class "who shall not previously have received credit for attendance at the Lectures of the First and Second Years, and have passed all the Terminal or Supplemental Examinations of the First Year." (Stat. Univ., Cap. XVI, § 9).

The Undergraduate Course at each Examination is divided into two parts: the one to be read by all Students, the other by those who aspire to the higher Honors of their class.

The Alumni Society.

The Alumni Society was organized at a mass meeting of ex-students, held at Albert College, on the 3rd of July, 1867. As the University had then been but recently organized, many of the former students desired that the qualifications for membership should be extended so as to include as many of them as possible. Accordingly, all students who have left the College in good standing on the books, and who have since qualified as Ministers, Barristers, Physicians, or Engineers, are eligible for membership. The Society meets annually on the Monday preceding Convocation, at 3 p.m., and a member delivers a lecture before the Society at 8 p. m. of the same day. The Officers for 1871-2, are as follows:—

PRESIDENT :

FIRST VICE-PRESIDENT :

THOS. M. MACINTYRE, M.A.

SECOND VICE-PRESIDENT :

JOHN H. BELL, M.A.

TREASURER :

SECRETARY :

LECTURER FOR 1872 :

REV. ISAAC B. AYLSWORTH, M.A.

Albert College Literary Society.

This Society took its rise in 1857, immediately after the incorporation of "Belleville Seminary," under the name of the "Belleville Seminary Literary Society." In 1866, when University powers were conferred on the Seminary, and its name changed to "Albert College," the name of the Society was also changed, and since then it has been known by its present designation. The Society has for its object the general improvement of its members in debating and oratory. Its meetings were formerly held in the College Chapel; but the Board of Managers, being convinced of the benefits likely to result from such an institution, and willing to foster it by all legitimate means, granted to its members the use of a commodious room, which the Society fitted up with all the requisite comforts and conveniences of a debating club, and still retains as its place of meeting.

During the fourteen years of its existence, it has continued to realize the high promise of its inauguration, and many of its former members, now holding prominent positions in the various professions both in Canada and the United States, attribute their success to the training received in the Society.

Its time of meeting is every Tuesday evening, at half-past six o'clock, in its room in Albert College.

All students of the College are eligible to be proposed for membership, on payment of the entrance fee.

The Corresponding Secretary will furnish intending members with all necessary information.

The following are the officers for Michaelmas Term, 1871.

II. S. Society.

This Society was organized during Michaelmas Term, 1870. Several Undergraduates, considering the ample means the College afforded for the successful operation of two societies, determined to form an Association, having for its object the pursuit of Literature and Art. Through the kindness of the Board of Managers, a room was granted them, which they have pleasantly furnished at a considerable cost. In connection with the Society is a Library, comprising volumes of general interest to the student, which have been donated by gentlemen of the Society, and by friends in different parts of Canada. During the winter season, lectures are delivered before the Society by distinguished gentlemen. The Association meets at its rooms in the College every Tuesday evening during term, where debates and miscellaneous literary exercises are held. Several gentlemen in Canada and the United States, who are corresponding members of the Society, from time to time send articles on literary and scientific subjects, which are read in assembly, filed, and preserved in the library.

All information of its internal organization and character, can be obtained by personal or written application to the President or Officers of the Society.

Library and Museum.

The College Library owes its maintenance and increase to the exertion of friends of the College. Since the charter of 1866, several valuable additions have been made to it, and during the past year, a number of gentlemen formed themselves into a society for the purpose of increasing the number of the volumes, by making and soliciting contributions. This Society, known as THE ALBERT COLLEGE LIBRARY ASSOCIATION, has already obtained some important and valuable donations, both in scientific and general reading. The Association meets annually on the day preceding Convocation, when reports are made and officers elected. The first report of this useful Society will therefore appear in the Calendar for 1873. The Library, though small, contains much matter useful to the student, and its utility renders its enlargement a matter of personal interest to all in any way connected with the College. The Museum contains over 1000 Botanical specimens, contributed by Professor Macoun, and about 500 Geological and Mineralogical specimens from various sources. To these may be added, the Canadian Archæological contributions of the Rev. Thos. Webster and others, besides many articles of interest and instruction to students.

Albert College Grammar School.

OBJECT AND ADVANTAGES.

The College Grammar School is designed to prepare students for the Faculties of the University, as well as to meet the wants of those who desire a partial or elective course of study. For the latter purpose, students in the Advanced Form are permitted to attend the lectures delivered to the Undergraduates of Albert College, without any additional fee. The facilities thus placed within the reach of students, together with the moderate charges for board and tuition, render the Grammar School one of the cheapest and most efficient in the Dominion. An ample opportunity is thus afforded to those preparing for the examinations of the Board of Provincial Surveyors, the College of Physicians and Surgeons of Ontario, the Law Society of Ontario, the literary and scientific portions of the various Theological Examinations, of which advantages many in Ontario have availed themselves with marked success.

REGULATIONS AND GOVERNMENT.

Students of the Grammar School are under the immediate supervision of the authorities of Albert College, and the regulations given in the Calendar, in the section on Residence, apply also to them as far as relates to conduct, attendance at prayers and church, and order and occupancy of rooms. Each student is also entered in one of the classes in Elocution and Composition, and is required to deliver an Essay or a Declamation in public at the Exhibitions held at close of Term. Memoranda of the student's conduct or progress will be furnished to his parents on application to the Rector of the

The names of students who have incurred demerit marks, fines, or rustication, for negligence or misconduct, are read at the Terminal Exhibitions; while, at the same time and place, the names of students whose progress and conduct have entitled them to a standing on the Merit Roll are also read.

FEEES.

The Grammar School classes are arranged in two forms, the Primary and Advanced. The fees for these are as follows:—

The sons of ministers, and probationers for the ministry in any denomination in Canada, are charged half the usual tuition fees.
