PRINCE BESIEGED BY REBELS IN CASTLE

Consulates Crowded With Terrified Refugees.

Fighting Against the Ottoman Troops Still Continues in Island of Samos.

CONSTANTINOPLE, June 13.—Consular telegrams dated yesterday state that fighting is continuing in Samos, and that the prince governor is blockaded in his castle, which is guarded by imperial troops. The prince is without provisions, and his life is said to be in danger. The remainder of the imperial troops composing the small garrison, are besieged in their barracks. The troops appear only to fire when fired upon. The casualties of both sides thus far are placed at 150 killed and wounded. The consulates are crowded with refugees, chiefly women and children; trade is suspended, and the want of provisions is beginning to be felt. The consular representatives, who are mostly native engaged in commerce, are profoundly disgusted if not panic-stricken, and request the despatch of warships.

According to the latest information received by the ports, supplied by the commander of the Turkish gunboat at Vathy, the town is quiet, and only the gendarmerie force, consisting of 150 men, maintain hostilities. Rouff Pasha has received full instructions to act energetically, but it is thought that it will be an act of prudence to issue a proclamation calling on the gendarmerie of the island to surrender, and further, to open an inquiry into the cause of the disturbance.

The embassies of the three protecting powers are watching and reporting developments of the situation, thought not interfering with the measures of the ports. The promulgation of the port's action has made an impression. The port insists on the recall of the Greek consul.

Samos, which is an island of 180 square miles and 85,000 inhabitants, mostly Greeks, is situated in the Aegean sea, about fifty miles south of Smyrna. It is subject to Turkey, under the guarantee of Great Britain, France and Russia. The present situation is due to differences between the Prince Governor Kopsars Effendi and the parliamentary majority. The majority would demand his recall by the sultan, declined to summon the Assembly. The Assembly, however, decided to meet in spite of the price, and two companies of infantry, dispatched by the ports from Vathy to prevent their assembling, landed, and a condition of warfare followed.

Will Spend Millions on Calcutta Harbor

Enormous Development of Trade Leads to Immense Extension of Port Facilities.

CALCUTTA, June 12.—The enormous development in the trade of the Port of Calcutta, is evidenced by the fact that the government has just sanctioned an expenditure by the Port Commissioners of $750,000 on capital account for 1903-1904. Of this sum $250,000 is for the acquisition of land in connection with the extension of the Kidderpore Docks, and $440,000 for the completion of those in hand. Trade has grown so rapidly that the existing accommodation at the port has been found to be quite inadequate. The improvements now sanctioned have been put in progress last year but for the unfavorable state of the money market. This year conditions the better all round, and the work is to go ahead with all speed.

The Indian Mining Association has under consideration an important question affecting the supply of new wagons for the East Indian Railway. The great growth of traffic over the line has evidenced a very considerable shortage of rolling-stock, and it is proposed that representatives of the association, accompanied by railway experts, should travel over the line, and estimate the probable expansion of the mineral and other traffic with a view to framing an estimate of rolling stock requirements during the next few years. When this is done tenders will be asked for in due course.

A report has now been issued declaring the results of the experiments entered upon three years ago in the direction of introducing American indigenous and Egyptian varieties as exceedingly liable to boll-worm and other pests, and that for this and other reasons other crops are likely to be much more profitable in Bihar than cotton.

LIBERALS RESENT REACTION IN SPAIN

It May Lead to Serious Results.

Measure Introduced by Premier for Suppression of Crime is Bitterly Denounced.

MADRID, June 13.—The coalition Liberal and Republican parties have held a meeting at the Princess Theater to protest against the bill modifying the law which punishes crimes committed by the use of explosives. Senor Moret, chief of the Liberals; Ascarate, chief of the Government Republicans; Senor Ortega, chief of the Revolutionary Republicans, and Melquiades Alvarez, the Republican known as the Castor of days, in Spain, pronounced violent speeches against the reactionary policy of Senor Maura and his ministry. Senor Perez Galdos, the most distinguished Spanish writer, who was unable to be present, sent a message, which was read to the meeting. The speakers were loudly applauded by the assembled crowd. There were no arrests, although great precautions, inspired by fear, had been taken.

All ranks of the Liberal party and the Liberal and independent papers form a "bloc" against the bill, and meetings will be held all over Spain to protest against it. It is believed that the bill will not be discussed, but that some excuse will be found for adjourning Parliament for the holidays before the bill is laid on the table of the House. If the bill is submitted to discussion a difficult position will ensue.

The present campaign against the project is energetic, and even violent, but without regrettable incidents so far. All public opinion, even that of the Conservatives, leads to the belief that the project is a lamentable mistake, as terrorism does not exist over Spain except in Barcelona, where it is only a young man's delusion. The union of all ranks of the Liberal party against the project renders it impossible, and if Senor Maura insists on discussing the bill a crisis is imminent.

JEALOUSY LEADS TO TERRIBLE CRIME

Body of Young Woman Found Hacked to Pieces in Suburb of Town.

NICE, June 12.—A terrible crime has been committed in the neighborhood of Nice. Two boys while walking along a wooded slope on the outskirts of the city last evening, came across the body of a young woman. She had been literally hacked to death with a knife, there being no fewer than twenty-five wounds on the body. The doctors found that four of the stabs had penetrated the heart. The victim, it was evident, should want to see that comfortable place, the hall and the blind had, with other, some hapless and a "transformation."

The murdered woman has since been identified as a dressmaker's assistant named Julie Dorchi, who resided alone in a small house, and was engaged to be married to a youth named Portaneri. A second young man named Scopio, who had lately been discharged from the army, was jealous of Portaneri's success in winning her, and he threatened to revenge. One night in November last the three met on the Promenade des Anglais. A quarrel ensued between the two men, the upshot of which was that Scopio drew a revolver and shot his rival dead.

The woman who was the only other witness of the deed, gave evidence against Scopio. He was convicted on her uncorroborated testimony and was sentenced to eight years' imprisonment. Scopio totally denied his guilt and his friends always maintained that he was innocent of the killing of Portaneri.

Now that the young woman has been struck down by the hand of an unknown assassin, the police think that some of Scopio's partisans are responsible for the deed.

ROMANCE OF LOVE ENDS IN A TRAGEDY

BERLIN, June 12.—A romantic love story ended in a terrible tragedy at Lichtenau, a suburb of Baden-Baden yesterday.

Some time ago Major Bauer, a retired army officer, received a letter from his son who was undergoing his military service at Freiburg, that he had fallen in love with the beautiful daughter of a railway employe and that he intended to marry her.

The father wrote indignant letters threatening to cut him off without a penny if he should make such a mess of his life. The young man's decision could not be shaken, and he obtained leave to go home yesterday to see his father.

A stormy scene took place between the two, the young man declaring that he gladly would give up name and position for his sweetheart. At this the father drew a revolver, and exclaiming that death for both was better than a dishonored name, he shot his son and then sent a bullet through his own head.

10,000 SUFFRAGETTES WILL BE IN LINE

An Imposing Procession in London Today.

Women From all Parts of British Isles, the Colonies, U. S. and Continent Take Part.

LONDON, June 12.—The Suffragettes tomorrow afternoon will hold the most imposing demonstration they have yet attempted when 10,000 women, from every part of the British Isles and from the colonies, the United States and several of the European countries, will march from the Thames embankment to Albert Hall, where they will hold a meeting. Misses Garret Fawcett, LL. D., widow of the Right Hon. Henry Fawcett, was to have led the procession, but in a compliment to her American co-workers, she has resigned the place of honor to two delegates from the United States, Mrs. Anna Shaw, and Miss Lucy Anthony, who will be in the first carriage. Mrs. Catherine Hugh McCall, of Evanston, Ill., Mrs. S. S. Sewall, and Dr. Medley will be in the second carriage. Dr. Fawcett and Lady Frances Balfour and Mrs. Fawcett will be in the third carriage. The Suffragette movement and a number of women novelists, will march in the procession.

HOW THEY TALK POLITICS IN NEWFOUNDLAND

Biting Sarcasm of the Island Editor Directed Against Political Opponent.

(Chronicle, St. John's, Nfld.) "Rattle their bones all over the stones; They are only paupers, whom nobody owns."

"May I go to the circus, father?" asked a boy when the red wagons were coming to town, and the walls of the circus cars were decorated with pictures of pink ladies, and a sign in the window said "Ringside Seats." "No," replied the thoughtful parent, "but you are a good boy. I will take you next Sunday to see your grandfather's grave. Some such idea was coursing through the mind of Sir Robert Bond when public necessity demanded a decent Poor Asylum, and he decided to give the people a Museum.

A museum is a nice thing to have about a place, anyway. It was perhaps fitting that the Bond Government should want to see that comfortable place, the hall and the blind had, with other, some hapless and a "transformation."

The murdered woman has since been identified as a dressmaker's assistant named Julie Dorchi, who resided alone in a small house, and was engaged to be married to a youth named Portaneri. A second young man named Scopio, who had lately been discharged from the army, was jealous of Portaneri's success in winning her, and he threatened to revenge. T. ADY, SURE RECOVERY.

Sir George Drummond Talks of the Business Revival.

MONTREAL, June 12.—In an interview Sir George Drummond, President of the Bank of Montreal, spoke in generally favorable terms as to the outlook of business throughout the country. Sir George said that he did not expect to see complete recovery of trade conditions in the very near future, but with good crops the Dominion would surely experience a complete renewal of its trade activities.

"A great deal," continued Sir George, "necessarily depends on the success of our next harvest, and from present indications there is every reason to expect a bountiful crop. There is as much money in Canada today as ever, but one sees a certain lack of present confidence, which, however, will gradually disappear. In some quarters people are asking for cheaper money, but I do not expect to see lower rates in Canada, at least for the present. "I am of the opinion that speculation in stocks or business generally should be discouraged, as present business conditions do not warrant it. However, I fall to see any reason for uneasiness, as all signs indicate that there will be steady and certain recovery in all lines of products and industries."

GERMANY TO HAVE NEW NAVAL PORT

Canal is Being Widened to Admit Warships.

Extraordinary Activity Prevails in all Preparation - for - War Departments.

BERLIN, June 13.—The German government has decided to establish a new war port and naval station in the Baltic at Apender, a small town of 6000 inhabitants at the mouth of the Apender Firth, in Schleswig-Holstein. The fifth upon which the town stands is a very fine one and admits vessels of the largest size. The decision of the government is based on the lessons of the combined naval and military maneuvers of last year, coupled with the appeal of the municipal authorities, who have offered to defray part of the cost of the necessary work. The new naval station will be known as Prinz Heinrich Haven. This is only one instance of the extraordinary activity which is prevailing in all the preparation-for-war departments of Germany. Prinz Heinrich Haven is on the Baltic, but at Brunstede, on the North Sea, exit from the Kaiser Wilhelm canal, a new and extensive dockyard is being constructed with two docks capable of taking the largest warships yet designed, and the works are being pushed forward with such rapidity as to insure the completion of the station long before 1913—the date fixed by the preliminary works at Rosyth. Further, the canal itself is being widened at a cost of $6,000,000.

At other ports large extensions are being made, notably at Wilhelmshaven, where two Dreadnaught docks will be completed this year, and at Emden, where a first class torpedo base is being erected on the islands round the mouth of the Ems, and at Emden itself barracks for the accommodation of troops and quays for the quick embarkation of soldiers are being rapidly pushed forward.

In addition to this, the small canal between Emden and Wilhelmshaven, known as the Ems-Jade canal, is being widened so as to allow the largest destroyers to traverse it and a beginning has been made with the construction of a direct line of railway between the two ports via the town of Aurich.

DREW LOTS TO FIND WHICH ONE SHOULD DIE

Polish Baron and Russian Millionaire Participants in "American Duel."

DRESDEN, June 11.—Remarkable facts are coming to light in reference to the mysterious death of a Russian student, Von Tselowsky, who was found with a bullet through his lungs in this city on Sunday. Two other Russians, one of whom is a millionaire landowner, are under arrest.

Tselowsky, it now appears, was a Polish baron belonging to one of the noblest families of Warsaw, and served with distinction in the Russo-Japanese War. Interest for the moment centers in the role played in the tragedy by the Polish millionaire landowner, Von Wastchinsky, a fellow-student of the baron at the Dresden Technical University, in whose apartments the latter was found dead.

Von Wastchinsky was in a state of intoxication when the fatal revolver shot rang out, and remained in a condition of insensibility until aroused from his stupor by fellow-students who called later in the day, five or six hours after the report of the revolver had alarmed Von Wastchinsky's housekeeper. When the housekeeper rushed into the room Von Wastchinsky had suffered from a slight heart attack and would soon be all right. He then fell into a stupor, and the baron's other companion, a student named Anderson, left the apartment and went back to the public house where the three had spent the previous night carousing.

When the police aroused Wastchinsky he was still intoxicated and protested with copious tears that he knew nothing of how his friend died. The baron, says, must have taken his own life. The landlord of the public house where the three students caroused, asserts that a quarrel arose and that the dispute ended with an exchange of cards for a so-called "American duel," the being drawn to decide which of the combatants was to commit suicide.

SAYS GERMANY DID NOT EXPRESS DISAPPROVAL

BERLIN, June 12.—A most specific assertion has been given the Associated Press by the foreign office of the report that Germany expressed in the strongest of terms to the St. Petersburg government her disapproval of a former alliance being formulated between Great Britain, Russia and France, as a result of the recent meeting between King Edward and Emperor Nicholas at Reval.

SAYS LONDON'S FULL OF HAUNTED HOUSES

Lecturer Gives Some of His Own Experiences

And Not Only That, But the Ghosts Disport Themselves Upon Its Streets.

LONDON, June 11.—"Actual Experiences in Haunted Houses," was the title of a lecture given by Elliott O'Donnell, "The well known authority on occult matters," in the Business Miles Salon, yesterday afternoon. It was announced from the chair that Mr. O'Donnell "forms parties to visit haunted houses" and that those who desire to enjoy such gruesome experiences were invited to communicate with him. The lecturer, however, was not very precise as to the haunted houses which are to be visited. He claimed, however, because of the scope of the law of libel, to give fictitious names and addresses when referring to houses which are thus possessed. But he contended that London is full of such abodes, and the region from Fleet street to Oxford street is the "cockpit of metropolitan spookdom."

A house which he would only describe as "191 Berkeley square," has a strange record, of which there are two explanations. In this establishment everyone who sleeps in a certain room as a certain time of the year dies of fright. In the early eighties, he says, it was occupied by a Mrs. Denman, whose daughter Phyllis, was engaged to a Major Hector Munro, of the Royal Engineers.

The major insisted on sleeping in the room in spite of the protests of his fiancee, and at midnight the crack of a revolver shot was heard. When the alarmed occupants entered the room he was found in bed with a smoking revolver in his hand, but he was dead—of fright.

How came this house to be haunted? Mr. O'Donnell told two stories, neither of which furnished the explanation, and he did not himself supply the definition. He told also of houses possessed by two forms of ghosts, one in Dean's yard, Westminster, the other in Jersey street. In the former case the specter took the form of a cavalier with a grisly wound in his forehead; in the latter it was "an auditory ghost," which imitated every sound of the occupants of the room, even if he did nothing more than move his chair.

"There is no explanation," he said, "as to the cause of the haunting, and one is left to draw one's own conclusions. Mine is that the cause is a phantom of the dead, earthbound after some unfulfilled desire or passion." Berners street, Newman street and Bryanston street, he asserts, have their haunted houses and so do all other parts, and the Euston district is full of phantoms remaining earthbound after many tragedies.

PROSPERITY INCREASING IN NEW ZEALAND

Country Progressing Rapidly and Prosperity Firmly Intrenched—Died Not Feel Effects of Panic.

WELLINGTON, June 12.—The following figures will give some idea of the progress and prosperity of the Dominion. The private wealth of the country, in 1890, was 140 millions sterling; in 1902, it was 240 millions, an increase of 100 millions. Public property, that is railways, public buildings, telegraphs, crown and other lands is valued at $2 millions sterling, nearly nineteen millions more than six years ago. Native lands and improvements have increased in the same period by nearly four millions. The public indebtedness of the Dominion, including foreign loans to local bodies, has increased by over 100 millions sterling in the last six years but the net credit balance over and above the public indebtedness outside the Dominion, of both general and local governments, is 171 millions sterling. Gold exports have increased in six years by £1,020,000, silver by £12,000, and Kauni gum 214,000. The financial position of the country is very strong, as was proved by the fact that the recent panic in America produced no ill results in the Dominion.

TRAGEDY AT LUNCH

Polish Captain Kills His Sweetheart and His Rival.

WARSAW, June 12.—Lieutenant Ladurigin and Miss Nadia Tchhoff were both killed in a restaurant here today. The girl had been asked next to lunch by Captain Popoff, who was the adjutant of her father, General Tchhoff. She accepted, but, unknown the captain asked Ladurigin, his rival, to come and join them.

As soon as he appeared, the captain was so incensed that he drew his revolver and shot his sweetheart and the lieutenant dead. He then turned the weapon against himself, but was disarmed and arrested.

FATHER ACCUSED BY SON OF THEFT

Samuel O'Donnell Locked Up Son Charges Him With Stealing Suit—A Pitiful Scene

Samuel O'Donnell of Sheriff street entered the house of his son last night and, it is alleged, stole a suit of clothes which he afterwards sold for a few dollars. Early in the evening Mrs. O'Donnell called at the North End police station and told Police Constable Covay that the clothes were missing and that she suspected her husband of having taken them. O'Donnell was arrested later. He denied having taken the clothes, declaring that he knew nothing about them. Several people had seen O'Donnell with the suit over his arm, however, and the police were sure the drunken man was telling falsehoods. Mrs. O'Donnell brought her son to the station, who said that there were papers in the pocket of his coat which he had taken them. Finally, however, he produced the papers from his pocket and handed them over to the son, who promised not to prosecute. The man also admitted he had taken the suit and had pawned it on Main street. It was a sorrowful scene in the police station to witness—the mother and son pleading to a drunken husband and father to admit being guilty of theft and to disclose the whereabouts of a suit of clothes. O'Donnell will appear before Judge Ritchie today, charged with being drunk and taking a suit of clothes which were not his own.

C. P. R. SUBURBAN SERVICE

Commencing June 4th and until June 14th, suburban train will leave Wolford at 4:45 a. m., via St. John, 7:30 a. m., making all suburban stops. For same period Boston Express leaving St. John at 4:30 p. m. will make suburban stops. After June 14th full suburban service will be in effect.

Agnes Cunningham, charged with stealing 170 from Alexander Ross of Digby, was before Magistrate Ritchie yesterday afternoon. She pleaded not guilty, but the evidence was considered strong enough to warrant sending her up to the district court for trial. This court opens on Tuesday.

Mattie Lee and her husband, George Lee, were sent up for trial by Judge Ritchie yesterday afternoon. They will come before the district court on Tuesday next to answer to the charge of acting together to rob Percy Barnett of Baradoc.

EDITOR GETS TWO YEARS PENAL SERVITUDE

SAN JUAN, P. R., June 12.—Julio Abat, the editor of a labor paper here was today sentenced to 2 years penal servitude on two counts of libel, consisting of an attack made upon a judge. The article did not mention the judge by name, the town in which he lived or the court over which he presided. The judge identified himself as the person against whom the attack was intended and his contention was upheld by the supreme court.

SCOTTISH PICNIC JULY 1.

The Scottish gathering at Watter's Landing on July 1st, should be patronized to the extent of a ticket at least by every one of Scotch sentiments in this vicinity, as the object is a good one to help provide funds to build a hall. That a city the size of St. John should be without some memorial of the idol of the Scottish race, Burns, is considered by all loyal Scots a scandal, and Clan MacKenzie hopes to wipe out the disgrace by erecting a Burns Memorial Hall. The proceeds of the gathering are for that object.

SPORTING MATTERS

CASE MAKES FIRST FAIRLY GOOD BALL

"HOMER" OF SEASON BEING PLAYED NOW Both City Leagues Show Improvement Since Season Opened

The Portlands outplayed the Exmouths last night by putting up a steady snappy game and won by a score of 5 to 1. Four of the runs, however, were gained on errors by the Exmouths. The only run made by the defeated team was gained by the default of the deep left field fence for the first home run of the season. Only four other Exmouths got as far as first base safely. Board was pitcher for the winners. He gave two bases on balls, struck out six men and was only found for three hits. Case pitched for his team. He passed four men struck out four men and was only found for five hits, one a two bagger by Board.

The Portlands were first to bat and the two men who scored in the first inning were given first on bases on balls. One scored on Cooper's error and the other on a single made by Totten. No runs were made in the second.

Case made a homer in the third and the Portlands gained another run on an error.

The Portlands with the aid of two errors scored two more runs in the fourth and this ended the run getting.

M.A.A.A. MAY SEND ONE FOR MARATHON

Noseworthy May Go, Also Cote, Lightweight, and Birks, Swimmer

The Canadian Olympic teams left Montreal yesterday for the Tinsman for Liverpool. At the meeting selecting the athletes, the committee decided to send only those who showed exceptional ability in the various events. Of those named fitters are Canadian Amateur Athletic Union men, three Federation and one unattached. Not an Ottawa man was chosen, Alex Quinn's chances being regarded as slight, in view of the distance of his running jump at Montreal.

The committee decided that Longboat, Coley, Irving, Parks and Arthur Burn of Calgary may go at their own expense, to be reimbursed on their return to Canada should they succeed in making good showings in the London sports.

It was first intended to send six runners in the Marathon, but the committee was desirous of spending no more money than could be helped so the Marathon entries were reduced to four. This has given much dissatisfaction, as it is felt such should have been made before the Toronto race.

The M. A. A. A. may send Noseworthy for the Marathon, A. Cote, the lightweight wrestler, and H. Birks, the swimmer, who has been making very fast time for the 1,500 metres.

TO MEET LOAN BY BOND ISSUE

Premier Hazen Back from Ottawa Speaks of Government Loan and of Double Subsidy For Central

Premier Hazen returned from Ottawa and Montreal yesterday at noon. Speaking to a reporter for The Sun yesterday Mr. Hazen said that he had gone to the Dominion capital on the invitation of the Minister of Public Works for the purpose of investigating the double subsidy for the Central Railway which the late provincial government claimed from the Dominion of Canada. The premier stated that he and the Minister of Public Works interviewed the Minister of Railways and Canals on the subject. Hon. Mr. Graham promised to take the matter of the double subsidy for the Central into his consideration. With regard to the royal commission appointed to look into the way the Central Railway has been managed, these rumors that the government would local the government through the Bank of Montreal has been negotiating with parties in England concerning the double subsidy for the Central Railway will fall due in August. A reply to the negotiations of the government is expected in the course of a few days. The premier stated yesterday that it was expected that the loan would be met by making a bond issue.

DRIVING HORSES TO BE EXPO. FEATURE

Management is Offering Additional Prizes for This Class

What promises to be one of the best features of the St. John Exhibition is the class for driving horses. Additional prizes have been devoted to this class, so that the inducements held out this year are sufficient to attract the attention of all who own good horses and handsome turnout. The exhibition management is arranging for the accommodation of these turnout. The exhibitors will not be placed at the disadvantage of removing their traps from the grounds. Better facilities for washing the carriages and looking after them in every particular will be provided, and in fact everything possible will be done to make this feature of the exhibition stronger and better than ever. Applications for space and privileges are coming in very rapidly and there is every prospect that the exhibition will be more varied than it has ever been.

TO HOLD AN "AT HOME" FOR FEW DOG OWNERS

Judge Ritchie will be at home at the police court to the owners of unlicensed canines on Friday next. During the early part of next week Police Court Clerk Henderson will issue invitations to the function. About four hundred or four hundred and fifty invitations will be sent out. Up to yesterday Mayor's Clerk Ward issued eleven hundred and one dog licenses. The approach of dog day in the police court always causes a rush of dog-owners to the office of the mayor's clerk, where the payment of one dollar gives each canine a certain standing in the eyes of the city government. This year has been no exception to the general rule, and during the past week there has been a large number of dog licenses issued.

TWO C. P. R. FREIGHT CARS LEAVE TRACK

An incident C. P. R. freight occurred at Etnashullen, a station near Fredericton Junction, yesterday afternoon, when two freight cars were completely derailed and thrown over on their side. The track was torn up and had the track cleared by 12 p. m. A wrecking train was sent out and had the track cleared by 12 p. m. A train passed on a siding up to that time. It is said that the accident was due to a spreading rail on the main line almost opposite the station. A wrecking train was sent out and had the track cleared by 12 p. m. McADAM SHOPS TO CLOSE DOWN

It is generally believed at McAdam Junction that the C. P. R. car shops at that place will close down temporarily on June 22 owing to the condition of the money market. Citizens of McAdam take the matter very seriously, and expressions of regret are heard on all sides. At the present time the employees are working eight hours a day instead of ten, and there is every indication that the rumor is true.

BURNING METEORS.

It is supposed that meteors begin to burn when they are within about 125 miles of the earth and that combustion is completed and they disappear at from thirty-five to fifty miles above the earth. When we see a falling star, therefore, we may consider that we have watched it through a flight of about a hundred miles before it finally burns out and disappears from view.

BAPTISTS DISCUSS BIG FALLING OFF IN THE ATTENDANCE AT ALL COUNTRY CHURCHES—REMEDY SOUGHT

The annual meetings of the sixth district of the United Baptist churches of New Brunswick were continued yesterday morning and afternoon in the Gouda Point United Baptist church. The morning service opened with devotional service by Rev. H. G. Kennedy. At 10:30 o'clock the regular business was taken up.

DOHERTY CASE GOES TO JURY

CHARLOTTETOWN, P. E. I., June 12.—The trial of A. E. Doherty, charged with the murder of Joseph D. McMillan of Miscouche on May 10th, came to a close today, having lasted three days. The addresses of the two counsel and the judge's charge lasted an hour each, the case being given to the jury at 4:30 p. m. The prisoner, charged through the proceedings each day apparently unperturbed and quite cheerful. This morning on direct examination he said that at no time had he any suspicion of Stella McDonald's conduct. On cross-examination he said that he had three brothers in Winnipeg, one a lawyer. The evening of the shooting he was looking in a coat for a handkerchief and found the revolver, which he transferred to the coat he was wearing. Asked about the two hours just preceding the shooting he said that he had been sitting in a room, but did not remember giving details to a newspaper man, the details of which he now claimed to have no knowledge. Donald McCallum of St. Eleazer's testified to the prisoner's tender-heartedness. He would not look at sheep being butchered on the farm. Dr. Jardine of Summerside, who visited the prisoner many times in jail, testified as to his mental condition. His intelligence was below the average.

A TERRIBLE CRIME

LONDON, June 12.—A peculiarly ghastly tragedy came to light yesterday afternoon. During the morning of that day a man carrying a large parcel entered a public lavatory in St. George's road, Southwark. The attendant noticed the man because he seemed to be either exhausted by the weight of the package or else in a very drowsy state. The attendant went to discover the contents of the parcel, and after removing the outer covering of brown paper used for padding, discovered the mutilated body of a little girl wrapped in a blanket. The throat had been hacked across, and there was a long gash down the chest and abdomen. The head had been wrapped in a piece of linen, and the legs folded from the knee and tied back, with the evident object of reducing the length of the parcel. The body, which was nude, had been washed after the commission of the crime, and very little blood was found upon it; while the fact that the blanket contained a good deal of sand led to the conclusion that the body had been buried. A medical examination showed that death had taken place within twenty-four hours. The police were communicated with, and the circumstances were promptly investigated by Sir Melville Macnaghten, head of Scotland Yard, and Detective-Inspector Fegret. The lavatory attendant was asked to give the following description of the man who left the parcel: Age about thirty-three, height five feet six inches, fair, brown dark-tinted coat, dark grey trousers, double collar, dark sailor knot tie, dark green cap. But the appearance of a respectable working man. A clue to the identity of the murdered child was not long in forthcoming. It was a very morning, a man named Bailes, an artisan, living in Prebend street, Islington, had sought the aid of the police in tracing the whereabouts of his seven-year-old daughter, Marie Ellen Bailes. Marie was a scholar at the Catholic school in Duncan terrace, Islington, and left with the other children at 4:30 on Friday afternoon. As she failed to return, her father sent a description of the child to the police station. On Saturday afternoon he was communicated with, and on arriving at the Lambeth mortuary he identified the body as that of his missing daughter. He collapsed on seeing her, and it was some time before he could give any details as to her disappearance. Although nearly 700 detectives have been engaged on the case during the week, no clue to the murderer has yet been discovered. The police at Derby detained on suspicion a man who had pawned some clothing on the night before the murder, and was unable to account for his movements on the Saturday, but the Scotland Yard authorities ordered his release. Some of the little girl's clothing has been found on the bank of the New River at Islington.

FINE $350 FOR SELLING LIQUOR

Commissioner Farris' First Case

Baptiste Theriault Convicted of Selling Liquor to G. T. P. Laborers

Hon. L. P. Farris, police commissioner of the Grand Trunk Railway in New Brunswick, reached the city last night from Victoria County, where he had been investigating a charge against a man for selling liquor along the Grand Trunk Pacific route. A few days ago, Ryan McDonald, a G. T. P. contractor, lodged a complaint with Deputy Commissioner Foster against Baptiste Theriault for selling liquor to construction men. Theriault was arrested by Deputy Foster and a quantity of liquor found on his premises seized. The hearing came up before Commissioner Farris Thursday and Friday at Keith. Theriault was convicted of seven violations and fined $30 on each count. The liquor was destroyed. This was Mr. Farris' first case. Mr. Farris leaves today for his home at White Cove. He goes to Chipman the first of the week.

OUT OF DOOR STUDY.

In today's sermonette Thaddeus makes a plea for open air instruction for school children. His idea, which he does not attempt to expound in detail, is to have school classes taught by their teachers during the fine weather of late May and early June in the parks or woods or shore where the pupils may be given opportunity to study nature and to enjoy outdoor life away from the dust and turmoil of the city streets. The idea as understood from the sermonette is not that the children are in need of more play, but the writer advocates instruction along the lines adopted by the Natural History Society and various summer schools throughout the province. It is to be feared that in the hurry of the present day while people are living under the impression that children attending schools have barely enough time to cram themselves with the necessary amount of book knowledge, much work as nature study will not be regarded as of very great importance if it is to exclude other instruction. In most of our public schools a small portion of the time each week is set apart for lessons in nature study, but pupils could learn more in half an hour in the fields than they can in a month in the classroom. Public schools have not been established for the purpose of sending the scholars somewhere else, but it would seem that much good might be done if say on one afternoon each week during the fine months the children instead of giving attention to the nature study lessons laid down, were, under escort of their teachers, taken to the park. In any event the suggestions made by Thaddeus are worthy of consideration.

INSURANCE NEGLECT.

A feature of life insurance business which strikes an outsider as peculiar is the apparent unconcern with which the various companies, in Canada and the United States at least, keep on meeting numerous losses without any attempt to minimize the risks. It may be that in life insurance the profits are so great of the competition so keen that no companies can afford to impose unusual obligations or to see for themselves that the chances of loss are reduced as low as possible. This, however, is scarcely probable—though at the present rate of progress life companies will soon own the earth—but rather is the condition due to lack of proper organization, though in fighting proper organization they seem to be sufficiently well organized. No fire insurance company would take a risk on a building if a crowd of men were standing around with matches in their hands waiting to earn a few dollars by burning the structure. They insist that all properties insured must be in fair condition, but they do not stop at this, as do the life companies on finding that the applicant is physically sound. They remove all features which might possibly cause loss. No explosives or very inflammable material are permitted in the buildings. But further than this the fire companies make other corporations insure their buildings. The means for fighting fire must be efficient, the water supply strong and reliable, and all companies work together in seeing that these desirable conditions prevail. How different in life insurance. Almost every man runs more risk every day of his life than does any building in existence. He may carry large insurance, but the companies are not concerned. He may do business in a fire-trap building, but the agent who insured him pays no attention to this. He may travel on a money-grubbing railroad which neglects the safety of its passengers, he may even walk across the street when a St. John railway car with its deadly fender is approaching, yet the company in which he is insured takes no notice. Perhaps a policy holder may develop consumption; or even pneumonia. He is allowed to die, and the company hands over the money. The natural supposition would be that the company might profit by keeping that man alive, or at least by restoring him to health. In Germany it is true the insurance companies conduct sanatoria and have found that free treatment is a source of revenue inasmuch as the profits from these policy holders who are restored to health are greatly in excess of the cost of the hospitals. If such a scheme meets with success in Germany, why not in America? If the idea is good when applied to one disease, why not good for all diseases? And if in diseases, why not in the prevention of so-called accidents? It would pay the insurance companies to hand out generous annual contributions for medical research. It would pay them to provide better safeguards for railroad travelers and for those engaged in the various industries; it would even be profitable for them to bribe the St. John council into having a building law enacted, than to continue standing idly by and seeing their risks maturing through gross neglect.

ABOVE SALERNO.

Silvery the olives on Ravello's steep, Terraced the verdure of her nurtured hills, Far, far below the blue Salerno sweeps And on the shore her emerald largesse spills. Lost and the base of melting hills and side, Sad Passum's plain in shadowy distance lies. How the Spring flings her tribute to the breeze Through every slit in the long, winding walls! Shunning the screen of flowery tapestries, The silver gray lizard, turquoise vest-ed, crawls— Blind worshipper of the unconscious sun, His pagan shrine, his splendid edolon. Here Scala lifts upon her furrowed breast Twin cities of the living and the dead, Where toll the quick and where the buried rest With Roman tombs low vaulted overhead: In these strange dwellings life must surely seem To hold the secret of its final dream. The nectarine, peach and almond trees in flower Play on the hues from deep to palest rose, Shy druid birches guard a eclect bower Where many a homelike English blossom blows; With daisy, primrose and narcissus shine The lavish stars of Wordsworth's cock-ardine. On rocky, wave girt slopes, where buds the vine, Golden and green the trellised orchards grow, Beyond the beach's pale, receding line Beams dusky herds of sullen buffalo, The distant Apennines' dark ranges wear Haloes of snow and amethystine air. Can this be Italy, or but a dream Emerging from the broken waves of sleep? Since even the rudest works of peasant seem Some spell of ancient miracle to keep: As when against old Barbarossa's power The Romans threw the grim rock of this tower.

More exquisite than our imagining, In silent hours how often shall arise— From the dim waters of that myrtle spring Where the soul keeps her anchored memories— The memory of beauty, color and perfume; Hoary with age, yet of unaging bloom. "Is love blind?" "It ought to be." "Ought to be?" "Yes, it has so often had its eyes scratched out after marriage."

Holmer Folke, New York's noted authority on charity, said the other day of an applicant for help: "His recommendation was not very satisfactory. It reminded me of a woman I heard about recently. 'Somebody said to this woman's husband, 'So you've insured in the Blank Company, eh? Who on earth induced you to choose that of all concerns?' 'My wife,' was the reply. 'She says they issue the prettiest calendars.'"

"The late Duke of Devonshire," said a diplomat at a recent dinner here, "kept a stud and took calm and dual interest in the races. 'There was a certain sporting paper that kept a large staff of prophets and always prophesied the outcome of important races. The Duke, for some reason, put great reliance in these prophets and their prophecies. He always read the papers, and he continually recommended it to his friends. 'But once at Goodwood, at the day's end, a man came up to the Duke and said: 'What of your paper now? Did you see it this morning? Six prophets prophesied that different horses would win, and here only seven ran, and the winner was the seventh, which no prophet had selected. Well, what have you to say now?' 'All I have to say,' the Duke answered calmly, 'is that there's room for another prophet on that paper.'"

A good story is going the round of theatrical circles in London, which has the advantage of being perfectly true, according to The Jewish Chronicle. One of the features of Beertholm Tree's production of "The Merchant of Venice," has been his introduction of real Jews to form the crowd in the ghetto. When Mr. Tree first met his Jewish crowd he informed them that the Christians in the play would affect to spit upon them. "Understand," said Mr. Tree, "it will not be real, but only pretence. He then informed them as to the proposed remuneration. One old man looked wistfully at Mr. Tree and said at last: "I say, sir, couldn't you make it a little more and let them spit?"

LIVERPOOL, June 11.—The West-ans, of High Wycombe have just been celebrating the 130th anniversary of their Sunday school hospital. If such a scheme meets with success in Germany, why not in America? If the idea is good when applied to one disease, why not good for all diseases? And if in diseases, why not in the prevention of so-called accidents? It would pay the insurance companies to hand out generous annual contributions for medical research. It would pay them to provide better safeguards for railroad travelers and for those engaged in the various industries; it

ROCHESTER, N. Y., June 12.—Guiltily as charged in the indictment of forty counts was the verdict brought in by the federal court jury in the Standard Oil Company case here this evening. The jury had been out since noon. The maximum fine on each count is $25,000, or a total for the whole of the shipments of $2,500,000.

SATURDAY SERMONETTE

THE CALL OF THE WILD.

To me there is no more pathetic sight and sound than the glimpse I get of the children, and the murmur of their voices through the open windows of the school room, where the little prisoners sit chained to their work. Even in the city school, bird and bee and flowers are calling to the children to come out and enjoy them. How transient then must be the call and how bewitching and almost irresistible its charm to the children of the country who do not hear the rumble and roar of the city, but hear only the hum and murmur of the country.

I wish the superintendents of education and school trustees could come to know what a waste of time it is to keep the children in school after the first of June when the days are so warm and beautiful.

What beautiful and useful books there are to study in the vast school room of outdoors. So many schemes to study that one day of each week is too short to get more than a glimpse of one page.

Every fine day the last of May and every fine day in June should be spent out of doors.

What a beautiful school room Rockwood Park would make. Let the teachers and the children be sent there every fine day in the afternoon and let them learn all the lessons of God's world as seen in the park and they will learn that which will enrich them as long as they live. Their love of the beautiful will be developed and intensified, and they will be taught by their habits of observation to see beauty where they never saw it before.

To know the wild flowers by name and the birds by their song and to know their habits and homes and haunts.

To know the trees well is to love them and to know shrub and fern well will take more than one half of each week.

I do not pretend to work out the details of my out-of-door school plan, the teachers can do that, but there can be no trouble about the discipline of the school for any infringement of the rules would be punished by the culprit or culprit's friends for more out-of-door study during the regular school term, for many pupils will never get it if they do not get it then.

AN ANCIENT SHIP ON ARCTIC HILLS

Klondike Miner Brings Word of the Finding of a Strange Craft.

SEATTLE, Wash., June 12.—Practical confirmation of a weird story growing out of the earlier days of the Klondike gold stampede, of the finding of the hull of a ship high upon the hills within the Arctic circle, is furnished by N. J. Brown, a well known miner, just arrived in Dawson.

Brown located the strange craft, which, he says, is still in a fair state of preservation. It resembles an over-looking a chain of lakes from 40 to 50 miles from the head of the Chandelar River and possibly 200 miles from the Arctic circle.

Brown says the big structure has crude doors and windows in the upper works similar to those of a ship, and bears letters or hieroglyphics which he believes translation by those who have seen it, Russians and natives alike.

GRANDSTAND COLLAPSES.

MONTGOMERY, Ala., June 12.—A special platform erected for exercises at the unveiling of the monument to General Robert E. Lee, collapsed this evening. Several persons were injured and surgeons have gone to the scene in automobiles. Federal Judge Thomas Fox and ex-Gov. Oates were the speakers of the day.

BOSTON CLUB FAILS.

BOSTON, June 12.—The New Hampshire club, organized some three years ago, mainly through the efforts of former Governor Frank W. Rollins, New Hampshire, has ended its existence and the club furniture will be sold to meet the debts.

NIGHT RIDERS SHOT.

RIPPLY, Ohio, June 12.—It developed today that two night riders were shot in a conflict with the officers at Slett, Wednesday night one was wounded in the lungs and the other in the leg. Officers are now trying to find the two wounded men, one of whom is reported to have died.

Character is what you are; reputation is what people think you are. But today you may need glasses. Consult D. Boyaner, 38 Dock street.

Obstruction Was Withdrawn Last Night.

Over $50,000,000 Granted for Payment of all Salaries to Public Employees.

OTTAWA, Ont., June 12.—The tactical blunder they were making needlessly blocking practically the non-contentious items of supply for the past two months and holding up the business of the House generally, has been gradually borne in upon the minds of the opposition during the last two weeks.

The necessary embarrassment caused to several thousands of the public employees throughout Canada by the withholding of supplies for overdue salaries and the rising disgust of the general public at the spectacle of the last two or three months on Parliament Hill, combined to induce a more reasonable frame of mind among the members of his majesty's loyal opposition.

The result, that tonight they made a complete capitulation from their former attitude of "not one cent for supply until the election bill is withdrawn." They did what the government vainly asked them to do two months ago and allowed a second interim supply bill to go through, assuring the payment of all salaries and the continuation of all public services. The total amount voted is $21,292,336, embodying all estimates passed since the end of March last and one-eighth of the remainder of the total estimates.

Foster sought to make a climb-down of obstructionists as graceful as possible by stating that it was partly a matter of the total estimates. Mr. Foster sought to make a climb-down of obstructionists as graceful as possible by stating that it was partly a matter of the total estimates.

CROSSED AFRICA BY AUTO.

Lieut. Graetz of the German Army Safe in Rhodesia After Ten Months Journey.

in six weeks if all well. The present news is the first has reached the outside world last April, when he was at Finsfontein, having consumed eight days in getting that far. Part of the delay was caused by the craze of a cylinder 250 miles out from Salama. He had to send to Efor a new one. Then the water for cooling the engine gave out and had to be replaced by a stock of kerosene.

Lieut. Graetz has horse-power car with immensely wheels and massive tires. This has compartments holding enough for more than 600 miles took a mechanic and a native with him. The Kaiser is g interested in the enterprise. Heeted the auto before it was shipped from Berlin to the African coast.

Nickel's New Show a Wonder

"Where's this thing going to stop?" asked a delighted spectator at the Nickel last evening when the gorgeous scenes of the Legend of a Ghost were thrown on the curtain in bewildering succession. It seems as if no person wants to answer a question like this, for those French wizards, Pates, Freses, cut themselves so often. The legend is a grandly weird one with electrical, fire and colored effects never equaled on any stage. The trio of the grotesque autos to the cavernous depths of the nether world is a magnificent triumph in photographic trickery and splendor. The Fish Curing Industry in Astrakhan, Russia, was an instructive travel scene and A Weird Symbology, a new comedy, very amusing. In the afternoon the big theatre was crowded with children of all ages to see the famous fairy tale, Silverlocks and the Three Bears, in regulation pictures, and the manner in which they chartered and laughed as the Teddy Bears did their many tricks denoted another happy hit for the popular Nickel. Teddy Bears again this afternoon as an extra. Show a whole hour long.

Howard's Farewell This Evening

Tonight will be the last opportunity of hearing Howard at the Princess, and those who have not yet heard the wonderful ventriloquist should avail themselves of this opportunity. Howard will give what he terms his number one show, the very best of all the different sketches, bringing into use all the figures, Major Jim-

Happy Half Hour

The Scotch gathered in force yesterday at the Happy Half Hour to see the magnificent panoramic picture of the Scottish Highlands, and not a single patron left the building dissatisfied, many remaining to see the show two or three times. Space will not permit to describe the beauties of this picture, but the beautiful waterfalls, rivers, lakes, sea shore (many of them beautiful moonlight effects), the Scotch dances and Scotch music, and the rugged hills, combine to make one of the handsomest and most interesting pictures ever seen in this city. Rugby Football shows the match between All-England and All-Ireland, which took place only a few weeks ago. Over 20,000 were in attendance and this vast audience is clearly shown. The Redskins' Revenge is a melodramatic picture, beautifully tinted and cleverly acted, and the story is a very interesting one. The above three pictures are what are known as features, and in an ordinary programme one of them only would be shown. His Unlucky Luck is a comedy picture that amused comedy lovers. Prof. Titus received numerous encores for his singing of Whisper and I Shall Hear, as did Harry LeRoy for his singing of There's a Room in My Heart For You. Parents should send their children to the matinee today to see Scottish Highlands, and no true Scot or those who appreciate good pictures should miss this programme.

At the Unique

For this afternoon and evening the Unique will present an exceptionally fine programme. A Bridal Couple Dodging the Camera is the best comedy ever shown in this city. This picture stands in a class by itself. Those who contemplate entering the matrimonial state in the near future should not fall to see this great comedy, as it will give them many hints how to steer clear of the camera. All for a Bird, another of those high class comedies. This is one of Pathe's latest and best pictures and will prove a great treat for the children this afternoon. Blind Woman's Story, full of intense excitement, equal to any sensational drama ever produced. Two new songs, one by St. John's leading tenor, Wm. Lanyon, and the other by Robert Butler. Remember the souvenir matinee this afternoon at 2.15.

MARY EMERSON
 The appearance here of Miss Mary Emerson and her supporting company is being looked forward to with a great deal of interest, and that her engagement here will prove a great treat is earnestly believed by the management. Mr. Samuel Lewis, who has been in the city for the past few days in Miss Emerson's interest, assures us that we will see an unusually fine artist and two most entertaining and attractive plays in His Majesty and The Maid and Will O' The Wisp. Both plays were written for his star, and both have proved most successful, with long runs to their credit. For the first act, which takes place in a clearing in the forest, a most beautiful set is carried, painted in reds and yellows and browns to make the picture almost perfect. A large tree stands on the right, and into its branches Alice, The Maid, in the person of Miss Emerson, climbs, and from there learns of the plot against the king. From the forest she goes to the court, in the palace, where it finally develops that the brave girl is in reality the king's daughter. His Majesty and The Maid will be played the first half of the week, and Will O' The Wisp the latter half, the engagement beginning on Monday, June 15th.

MUST PAY TO FISH ACROSS THE BORDER
 New York State Will Charge Canadians a Fee.
 ALBANY, June 12.—State Forest, Fish and Game Commissioner Whitple today announced that the state would exact a fee from all Canadian fishermen fishing in New York State waters along the border line. The tax would be $5 for a single rod, and $10 for a family rod. This action is taken as a result of the Canadian Government imposing a similar fee upon American fishermen using Canadian waters.

SHAH THREATENS TO BLOW UP CITY
 His Majesty Keeping His Capital in Suspense—Appeal to German Emperor.
 LONDON, June 10.—Numerous reports from Teheran indicate that the Shah continues to keep on top, but things are slightly and the outcome is uncertain. One report ascribes to his Majesty a threat to blow up the city if the citizens resist his arbitrary punishment of those he regards as traitors. Meanwhile the Province of Azerbaidjan whose people drove the present Shah from Labriz when he was governor there, before he succeeded to the throne, has, it is reported, decided to proclaim autonomy and to appeal to Emperor William for protection. The autonomists fear that if they remain Persian they will have to bear the brunt of the Russian reprisals for the recent Kurdish raids into Russian territory, the perpetrators of which the Shah has not punished. Hence, they are determined to declare their independence. Their leaders do not explain how they expect Emperor William to protect them.

WILL MEET TREE CHAMPION
 HARTFORD, Conn., June 12.—West P. Hall, of New York, by successfully fighting his way to and through the finals in the New England championship tennis tournament, has earned the right of again facing Theodore E. NEARLY ONE THOUSAND TROOPS TO TURN OUT TOMORROW FOR THE ANNUAL CHURCH PARADE

Nearly one thousand troops—regulars, militia and cadets—will take part in the annual church parade of the St. John garrison to be held tomorrow afternoon. This parade is the most spectacular of the military events of the year as far as St. John is concerned. The sermon to the troops will be as usual preached in Trinity church. As was the case last year, Honorary Captain E. B. Hooper, chaplain of the 62nd St. John Fusiliers, will preach the sermon to the troops. Rev. W. B. Stewart, curate of Trinity church, will also take part in the service. The bands of both the 3rd New Brunswick Artillery and the 62nd Fusiliers will take positions inside the church. The band of the artillery will play an opening voluntary and that of the Fusiliers will play an offertory. The troops will parade at the Barrack Square at three o'clock, being formed in line of quarter columns facing north. Lt. Col. H. H. McLean will command the parade with Lt. Col. Sturdee as brigade-major. After an inspection by the D. O. C., Col. G. Ross White, the troops will march off in four. The route will be Carmarthen, Broad, Charlotte King and Germain streets to Trinity church, where divine service will begin at four o'clock. While Col. White is inspecting the troops on the Barrack Square the massed bands of the 62nd Fusiliers and 3rd Artillery under the direction of Bandmaster Jones of the 62nd will play an inspection march. After the service in Trinity church the parade will march past Col. White and staff at the head of King street, after which the various corps will march to their private parades and be dismissed. If Sunday should prove to be a rainy day Lt. Col. Ogilvie, D. S. A., will notify the various adjutants if the parade has been postponed. Admission to Trinity church will be by ticket.

The Fusiliers and the Artillery will each parade about three hundred and fifty strong. No. VIII, field ambulance unit and No. 1 Co., C. A. S. C., will have about fifty men each. The South African veterans will muster forty-five men. St. Stephen's cadets will be about fifty strong and the other cadet corps will have about fifty each. One feature of the parade will be the pipe band, the largest that has been got together in St. John. It will consist of seven pipers as well as the drummers and will play at the head of the cadets. The order of the column of route will be as follows: D. O. C., district staff, brigade staff, officers, reserve officers, retired list, 3rd New Brunswick Artillery, South African veterans, Canadian ordnance corps, pipers, St. Stephen's cadets, St. Andrew's cadets, St. Luke's cadets, St. Luke's cadets, St. Luke's cadets, St. Luke's cadets, No. 7 Co., C. A. S. C., No. VIII, field ambulance unit.

(Copyright, 1908, by P. C. Eastment). The evening paper contained very little news. Evening papers were getting stupid and dry. At least so thought Ethel Yorkie, as she turned over one page after the other in hopes of finding an item of interest.

he sat down before it, dreaming. The girl looked at the man as if upon the figure in a picture. The lights fell upon him as he sat before the instrument, and she wondered why he did not speak. Maybe, after all, the old thing was worth nothing.

Phillips realized the folly of not having kept track of her. Perhaps it had been love at first sight. Indeed, as he thought about it, he was sure that he was very much in love. But how could he tell her so if he could not find her?

Notes From Outlying Parts of Great Britain

CRIME IN BANGKOK

Nowhere, perhaps, in the world are the methods of the criminal more subtle, and the difficulties in the way of bringing him to justice more numerous, than in Burma. People who really could throw light upon the commission of a crime are apt to keep their mouths shut, and the witnesses who come forward are often enemies of the accused man, who are prepared to commit the worst kind of perjury to get him hanged or imprisoned. These witnesses manufacture the most extraordinary stories, and tell them wonderfully well, so well that only an expert can detect the false ring in them. Quite recently one Manocki was tried for the murder of one of the British, who died four years ago. Two men, who said they were eye-witnesses of the crime, came forward. One of them, Maung Tha Maung, related how he heard cries in Manocki's house, and looking through a hole in a window or a door, watched Manocki during twenty minutes, whilst he left Manocki to death. The other witness, Sultan, was Manocki's cook; he said he was inside the house and, sitting down to look through a hole in a partition, saw the murder committed by two men. He gave most elaborate details of the crime; Manocki and an accomplice took it in turns to beat Manocki; they murdered him slowly, first one man and then the other, until a spell at the thrashing. The wretched victim's screams, loud at first, grew gradually fainter and more faint, until the end of four awful hours, he died. Sultan wanted the court to believe that he stood in a cramped position, with an eye glued to the hole in the partition during the whole of that time. The court was incredulous, however, and the prisoner was acquitted.

BOOTS IN MANDALAY

The Burman—that is, the emancipated and comparatively well-to-do Burman who can afford to think about his apparel—has taken permanently to boots. He still shies at the ugliness and the inappropriateness in his climate of European clothes, but he has adopted boots. There was a danger at first that the reformers of foot-wear would content themselves with the boot in all its black Western ugliness. A few years ago it was a common thing, at ceremonies in Burman houses, to see men dressed in all the glory of native costumes—silks of the most delicately beautiful shades and of the most gorgeous hues—quite disguised by a pair of the biggest, blackest, dullest boots and coarse stockings, always down over the ankles. But, happily, the Burmans have evolved a boot of their own, shapely things in brown or white buckskin, which harmonizes very well with native clothes, and they wear finely knit, appropriately colored stockings kept in place by suspenders.

A RIDER IN THE STRAITS

A contributor to a Straits Settlements newspaper thus describes a ride through the Perak jungle on the back of an elephant: "I climbed upon the back of Maging Mas (Golden Age) a sedate female of middle age whose only weakness was a fondness for bread. I had been told much of the terrors and discomfort of a long elephant ride—rolls like a ship at sea, 'you'll soon be glad to get down'—but I must say that though the position was cramped and the rate of progress painfully slow, Maging Mas did nothing that a well-conducted lady elephant might not do. She neither rolled nor pitched, and excepting once when she refused to face a particularly swampy bit of ground, her behaviour was exemplary. Then the foolish driver beat her on the head, and gave her a sick headache, which made her balk for an hour. We started off, the 'ganbalas' perched in front with their feet stuck in rotten stumps behind the elephant's ears, at the rolling pace of two and a half miles an hour across the paddi-fields to the north of Ser. We took a couple of bamboo fences in our stride—a thing which is apparently not etiquette to do outside your own district, for we carefully avoided it the second day when passing by the two or three isolated 'hamlets' on the river. After about half a mile we struck the 'bukit' jungle track. Occasionally the elephant would be blocked by a fallen tree too high for the elephant to step over, too heavy to lift, and too low to allow us to pass underneath, or it would snarl and snarl in such a manner as to make it impossible for 'weights' beyond the usual track of the district. Then we had to plunge bodily into the jungle, and make our own track, the 'ganbalas' backing at the vegetation with their passages and the elephants using their feet and trunks to clear a way. We took nine hours to do fifteen miles but the distance covered was really much greater, owing to our frequent excursions into the jungle. I was very

THE PIRATES OF HONGKONG

The fact that several cases of piracy in British waters and in the immediate vicinity of Hong Kong have been reported, is causing quite a stir in the city. It is to our credit that we remember the tremendous ruff we made about the depredations of pirates in the Chinese waters of the Canton river, we could hardly find language strong enough to denounce the apathy or the weakness of the British administration in allowing such outrages to take place—driven out of the Canton river by British gunboats—on our own shores. We must sweep our waters clear of these evil-doers or make up our minds to be the laughing stock of South China. The pirates reported today to see the fact that the British government in allowing such outrages to take place—driven out of the Canton river by British gunboats—on our own shores. We must sweep our waters clear of these evil-doers or make up our minds to be the laughing stock of South China. APFARS IN ZANZIBAR

A small boat has arrived at Zanzibar with ten Indians and a Comoro wanderer aboard, who have pulled all the way from one hundred miles east of the Mafia Islands. They formed the crew of a show which struck a rock and went to pieces. The Mafia Islands are 8 1/2 degrees south latitude, so that the feat of the boat's crew in pulling to Zanzibar is probably a record one. Now that it has been discovered that the virus of the sleeping sickness is transmitted by the ordinary striped mosquito, it is recognized that a ruthless campaign must be instituted against that variety of the insect. At present people are providing breeding places for them in their houses. Nearly every European woman in Zanzibar grows ferns or flowers in hanging pots, or has some other sort of ornamental contrivance in which little pools of water or wet moss play a part. The larvae of the striped mosquito, it is almost anything that it merely delights in, they delight in the green coatings of banks and water channels.

PORT LOUIS, MAURETIUS

This year's cyclone has been the worst that has been experienced since 1893, but, happily, there is not the same terrible loss of life to deplore. Trees have been blown down, houses unroofed (and sometimes destroyed), and enormous damage done to the crops. Here and there had accidents to persons are reported, but no deaths at present. The S. S. Scudder, with a cargo of bullocks, has come in after a terrible passage from Volmar. She was due to call at Mauritius, but meeting foul weather, which delayed her and emptied her bunkers, her captain determined to run for Mauritius. He did so, with the cyclone blowing its wildest, and only had coal for six hours more steaming when he arrived. It is to be feared that the damage to the sugar crop is irreparable, and that there will be great distress in the island this year.

BROTHERS LOST FROM VESSEL'S BOAT

HALIFAX, N. S., June 12.—The schooner Hiawatha, Captain Benjamin Cook, arrived at Riverport today from the fishing grounds with her flag at half-mast. The vessel went out with fresh bait and arrived on the banks early Monday morning, and the crew proceeded to set their trawls. Freeman and Samuel Zinck, sons of John Zinck of Rose Bay, were on duty and as they were a long time gone the captain and two men went in search of them. They found Samuel hanging on to the dory trap, dead, and the body of Freeman could not be found. The disaster is unaccountable, as it was a fine calm day, with no sea to injure the smallest craft. It is supposed that when setting their trawls they in some way upset the dory. Freeman Zinck was married and leaves a widow and two children. The younger brother, whose remains were recovered, was unmarried and his remains were interred at Rose Bay today. The community is in gloom as the deceased were well known and highly respected.

BUILDING RAILWAY IN NORTHERN NIGERIA

Governor Sir Percy Girouard Tells of Rapid Development of Railroad Plans in Africa.

LONDON, June 13.—Sir Percy Girouard, Governor of Northern Nigeria, has just left England to resume his post at Zungeru. Sir Percy will land at Lagos in order to confer with Sir Walter Egerton, Governor of Southern Nigeria, on railway matters, and he will afterwards proceed up the Niger to Zungeru, inspecting en route the new railway lines from Baro toward Kano. He is due at Zungeru in July. With regard to the progress of the railway, it is stated that heavy shipments for the first year's work have begun, and that 25,000 tons of material will be delivered on the Niger by December. Track-laying will begin in the autumn, and it is hoped that the first section of the main line to Kano, a section of some 150 miles, will be completed by September of next year. The commencement of the line in August is completed to the 17th mile, and work is proceeding to mile 100. Unfortunately, the progress has been somewhat hampered owing to the exceptionally low water of this and last year. Important schemes for the improvement of the deepening of the Niger waterway are now under the consideration of the Colonial Office.

WOUNDED AMATEUR ADRIPT IN BALLOON

Aeronaut Falls and Breaks His Leg and Car Darts Up Into Space.

BARCELONA, June 12.—The Quo Vadis, one of seven balloons taking part in a race starting from here on Monday, completely disappeared on that day with a passenger. Near Saragossa the balloon came so close to earth that the car struck some trees, and the pilot, Senor Montolo, was thrown out, but held on to a rope. The car, which had been travelling in the car, and had his leg broken. Senor Montolo's rope then snapped, and the aeronaut also broke his leg in falling to the ground. The Quo Vadis, relieved of Senor Montolo's weight, shot up into the air, and Captain Cortada in the car. News of the balloon was awaited with the greatest anxiety, but nothing was heard until 8 o'clock last night, when a telegram announced the descent of the balloon at Ochoa, in the province of Saragossa. Captain Cortada is severely injured. No other details are obtainable.

The first day he went out with $2,000 in his pockets. The third came from N.T. Thompson, son of Ocean Park, he disappeared mysteriously about two weeks ago leaving his baggage at the hotel, but no word from him since.

"BOOTS" AT HOTEL IS SHOT BY GUEST

Young Englishman, Once in Insane Asylum, Kills Man in Outburst of Anger.

PARIS, June 12.—Thomas Allen, a young Englishman who was staying at the Hotel du Danube in the Latin Quarter, yesterday morning, in an outburst of rage, shot through the lung the hotel "boots," a man named Cogan. Allen, who two days ago returned from New York, is 28 years of age and of independent means. The hotel was fairly full when Allen arrived, and he in it on the understanding that as soon as a single room was vacant he was to have that. On Thursday when he was out his things were moved into a single room. He returned fairly late to the hotel and slept there, and yesterday morning asked Cogan why his things had been moved without his permission. Cogan spoke no English and Allen no French. Suddenly, without apparent reason, Allen became furious, and drawing a revolver fired three times at Cogan. All three bullets entered the man's chest, and he fell immediately. The sound of the shots attracted the attention of a policeman who was passing the door of the hotel. He rushed in and arrested Allen. Cogan was taken to the hospital in a hopeless condition and died later on.

AFTER MEALS

Have you a dull, heavy, oppressive feeling—a feeling that you have eaten too much? If so indigestion is at work. For comfort's sake you will probably eat more sparingly in future. Then your strength will suffer, and your stomach, like every other organ of your body, be further weakened. This method can only end in ruined health. The real cure is to strengthen your stomach with Mother Seigel's Syrup. Read this— "For a year my wife suffered with indigestion, and her condition became so serious that she could hardly stand on her feet. But as soon as she began taking Mother Seigel's Syrup she improved and now she is quite well."—From Mr. F. W. White, Victoria, Victoria Co., N.B., Jan. 22, 1908.

LOCAL NEWS

The police found a child's hat in the old burying ground early this morning.

Carl Peterson and Geo. Swanton have been reported for furiously driving a horse on the Marsh Road last evening.

The funeral of the late Mr. Parlee will be held from the residence of his son-in-law, William Roberts, 42 Edgworth street, on Sunday, at 3.30 o'clock.

We cordially invite your inspection of our handsome spring clothing and help us spread the tidings of the season's brightest offerings. C. B. Fidgeon, North End.

Rev. Mr. Johnston, who has been assisting Rev. D. L. Hutchinson in the North End, will occupy the pulpit at both services tomorrow in the Ladlow Street Baptist Church.

Harvey Brown's team ran away on Brussels street last evening and collided with a team driven by Mr. Creighton. The shaft of Mr. Brown's wagon was broken. Mr. Brown was thrown out and slightly injured.

Registrar John E. Jones reports that during the past week the stock was exceptionally busy, carrying parcels to this city, for there were no less than thirty-seven births. Of these twenty-four were boys. There were twelve marriages.

The Baptist ministers of the city exchange pulpits tomorrow. The various churches will be supplied as follows: German street, Rev. D. Hutchinson; Brussels street, Rev. M. E. Fletcher; Waterloo street, Rev. J. W. Kierstead; Tabernacle, Rev. F. E. Bishop; Charlotte street, W. E. Rev. W. E. McMaisters; Main street, Rev. Gideon Swin; Fairville, Rev. A. B. Coloe.

FOUR CONTESTANTS WALKED FIVE MILES

The five mile walking match which was held by the Every Day Club last night, was very successful. Remarkably good time was made. There were four entries, E. W. King came in first in forty-six minutes and 1-4 second; William Reese was next being only one second behind the winner; Henry Harlock was third. F. L. Turis was starter and timer. He also paced the contestants on a bicycle.

The course was from the Victoria grounds around the three mile house and back again to the pavilion on the grounds adjoining from the Victoria taken in last night's event there is likely to be a revival of this form of sport in St. John.

CHAS. S. SILK AS MEPHISTO.

Charles S. Silk appeared for the first time in St. John last night as the star in Wm. H. O'Neill's production of Faust.

The impression which he made was an excellent one. He played Mephisto with a strength and vigor that made the role seem extremely Satanic. The sardonic humor which the Evil One felt at humanity's weakness was very well portrayed. Well pleased with his work the audience voted him to respond to numerous curtain calls.

Miss Mabel M. Frost appeared to good advantage as Marguerite, a role to which she appears to unusually well suited. She showed a Maquette gentle lovable and beautiful with artistic simplicity.

In the heavier parts of the play, however, she showed dramatic power of the first quality, and by her excellent acting got a good grip on the audience which will not soon be forgotten by those who saw her.

James Devine appeared in the role of Faust and while he gave an excellent performance did not reach the highest standard as a romantic lover.

The play was very well staged. The scenery and costumes were beautiful and complete and the electrical effects added greatly to the effect of the production. The reveals of the demons in the last act was especially striking.

NIGHT RIDERS THREATEN MORE MURDERS

RIPLEY, O., June 13.—It has developed that two night riders were shot in a conflict with the troops at Hilet, Wednesday night. One was wounded in the lungs, the other in the leg. Officers are now trying to find the two wounded men, one of whom is reported to have died.

Farmer Martin, who went to the aid of the soldiers during the fight, found a note on his barn door, saying: "You got two of us, but we are coming back to get you and five others."

Newton Mann and Wm. Frost were arrested charged with shooting up the home of Walter Hookson, on May 30.

BOMB IN A CHURCH.

Placed in Confessional, it Explodes, and One Person is Hurt.

MADRID, June 13.—During the 11 o'clock mass at St. George's Church, Coruna, which was crowded, a bomb placed in a confessional box burst, and one person was wounded. Several persons sustained contusions in the subsequent panic. In the church hundreds of umbrellas, fans, purses and bonnets were found, abandoned by their owners. The author of the outrage is unknown. The bomb, it is thought, consisted of a hollow brass knob filled with powder.

TRAMP AND CAT LOST.

PARIS, June 13.—A curious accident happened this afternoon at Lille. A tramp named Delanoix ran after a cat. The cat ran into a sewer, and the tramp crawled into the sewer after the cat. Neither the cat nor the tramp has been seen since.

The police and firemen did all they could to find the man and the cat. Both are believed to have been sucked into the river.

POLICE COURT.

Another Case of Dumping Coal on the Sidewalk, Before the Court.

Two drunks were before the magistrate this morning. One was fined $4 and the other $8, and both went to jail in default of paying the fine.

The charge of allowing coal on June 1st to be dumped on Union street sidewalk, preferred by W. V. Hatfield against the White Candy Company and Deb. Carrette, was taken up this morning.

H. G. Forbes appeared for the complainant.

Mr. Carrette informed the court that he knew nothing about the matter as Max McCarthy had charge of the coal department, and any agreement made with Mr. White was made by Mr. McCarthy.

Thos. White said he knew nothing about it as it was done in his absence. Wm. V. Hatfield stated that on June 1st, at 7.55 a. m., at 9.05 a. m., a young man dumped coal on the sidewalk. About ten o'clock a third load was dumped on the street and shoveled across the sidewalk. He saw a policeman turn his back on the scene and witness says he has called the attention of the police to it on several occasions but no report was made.

Seeing the coal placed on the sidewalk, W. P. Munford gave evidence of Thos. F. White testified that the coal was delivered without his knowledge or consent. A couple of weeks previous Mr. McCarthy asked him to take some slack coal and it was to have been delivered to the bin. Several loads had been delivered and witness thought he had received all that he arranged for. The coal that was delivered to the factory on June 1st was without his request. He said he had tried to keep the sidewalk clear and has repeatedly spoken to the cartmen regarding the delivery of the coal. His bookkeeper called Mr. Carrette's attention to the coal being put on the sidewalk. Mr. Carrette said he owned the coal and he knew nothing about it.

Max McCarthy said he made the sale of the coal and two or three cartmen were engaged to deliver it, but he did not know anything about the delivery of it. The conditions made was that the coal was to be delivered in the bin. The magistrate said that the police should take notice that these teamsters can't dump coal on the sidewalk.

Mr. McCarthy said the teams were owned by a man named Naves. He further stated that he was acting as an agent for Mr. Carrette.

The magistrate said the first time that Mr. Hatfield calls attention of a policeman to the violation of the law and the officer does not act, to report the matter to the chief and if nothing is done bring it before the court. The matter could be taken before the common council. The case was adjourned until Monday afternoon at 1.45 o'clock, when the teamsters who dumped the coal will be brought before the court.

RIFLE TEAM BEATS THE WORLD'S RECORD

PORT CLINTON, Ohio, June 13.—A new world's record was made yesterday at the Ohio State Rifle Range. The Camp Perry rifle team, representing the United States at the Olympic games to be held at Bayreuth, Bavaria, in July.

There were 21 competitors. The high scores were made by the following: Eastman, Ohio, 864; Lusher, New York, 861; Hines, Ohio, 860; Hazy, Delaware, 856; Benedict, Ohio, 851; Martin, New Jersey, 851; Jeffers, Massachusetts, 851; Winder, Ohio, 849; Green, N. S. M. C., 839; Hesse, Delaware, 844.

The first ten will constitute the team which will represent the United States at the Olympic games. The world's record of 1,712 points made by the United States team at Ottawa, Canada, for the Palma trophy in September of last year, was beaten yesterday.

WHY WAS O'DONNELL NOT ARRESTED?

Samuel O'Donnell, who was in the North End police station last evening and charged by his son with stealing his coat, was not before the police yesterday morning for the reason that he had not been arrested, and he had not been reported by the police. It is said O'Donnell is on the itinerant. The magistrate this morning hinted quite strongly to the North End police that O'Donnell should have been held by them.

CHAMPLAIN LEAVES AT NOON

There will probably be a number of disappointed people around Indiantown about two o'clock this afternoon. It has been generally understood that the steamer Champlain would leave here wharf at that hour and a large number of holiday seekers have been planning to get over at that time. The steamer will leave at twelve o'clock, noon, and there will probably be a lively time when the belated excursionists reach Indiantown.

DENTIST

WHEN TEETH BEGIN TO DECAY they should be seen to at once, so as to arrest the process of rotting. If taken in time decay can be removed in the teeth of old or young. But there must be no delay. Once decay starts the whole set is liable to become contaminated. My specialty is to care for your teeth. I look after them in such a way as to prevent decay, or remove when apparent and stop the rotting process. Every branch of Dentistry practiced.
