LOCAL CO. OF 55TH OFF FOR SUSSEX

Bay Chaleur Boys Leave on Local Monday Morning For Further Training

The local company of the 55th, under command of Lieut. G. A. Wallace left for Camp Sussex, Monday morning on the day express, which leaves here at 6:40. The early hour at which the train leaves may have been responsible for the small number of citizens present and lack of enthusiasm manifested on their departure.

In this respect, Campbellton citizens show a lamentable lack of enthusiasm and feeling for the boys who are going to the front to fight our battles. The least that we, who stay at home, can do, is to perform our little share in seeing that the volunteers are given enthusiastic send offs and best wishes for a safe return, as well as providing entertainment for them while among us.

The 55th recruits were here for a number of weeks. They were in uniform upon our streets and many remarked upon how quickly they were being whipped into shape, and what a fine company of men they were physically. Yet during all the time they were here no effort was made for their comfort or entertainment, and had it not been for the thoughtfulness of one Campbellton lady, who on Sunday telephoned a friend and solicited help in preparing lunches for the fifty-four men, they, so far as Campbellton citizens were concerned, would have gone to Sussex hungry.

At the station Monday morning, there was not present one Campbellton clergyman to wish them God speed, not one town or municipal official to grasp them by the hand and wish them success, and not enough men to give three cheers as the train pulled out.

Surely this is not the way Campbellton citizens wish to show their appreciation of the volunteers from our midst who are going out to fight upon the blood stained plains of Belgium.

Read what other towns have done for their volunteers. Bathurst gave their twenty recruits a banquet Saturday evening at which Mayor Michaud presided. Addresses were delivered by all the clergymen and others. Sunday the entire company were the guests of Sheriff and Deputy Sheriff Donnett for dinner, while P. J. DeWolf gave them an oyster supper. Monday morning a large crowd of citizens with the band were at the depot to see them off.

There was a big demonstration at Chatham. Mayor Hickey addressed the 92 men. School children paraded, sang patriotic songs and citizens were by the thousands to see them off. The Red Cross ladies gave lunches to all. On Sunday the men attended divine service.

At Fredericton, Woodstock, Moncton and every other town, practically the same class of send off was given departing soldiers.

SUPPOSED SHOOTING UP FREIGHT TRAIN

Turns Out to be the Action of Young Lad.—Officials Have Bad Scare

(Moncton Transcript)
Reference was made a few days ago to the fact that an I. C. R. train had been fired upon near Newcastle, a bullet passing through a car and coming within an ace of killing a trainman whose cap was knocked off his head. All sorts of conjectures regarding the shooting were in circulation. It is now learned that the train was accidentally "shot up" by young Harold Craik, aged twelve, of Newcastle, who had borrowed his big brother's Winchester rifle to go squirrel hunting. Harold persimmoned out through the forest principal, in the vicinity of Newcastle, and was just drawing a bead on a squirrel almost the size of the 45-70's bullet when Conductor Whelan's special on the Indian town Branch got in the line of fire with the result that the bullet went through the van, fortunately without hurting anybody.

Of course, the train crew did not see the boy and the incident was duly reported at headquarters where it raised quite a sensation, German spies and so forth, being suspected. So the railroad sleuths were sent out on the case, but they found out that they will have to go some to beat the "home brews" in this one. Officer Harry Culligan, of Newcastle, who located the culprit after sleuthing around for less than an hour. Meantime Harold had pursued the even tenor of his way, unaware of the fact that he had thrown a scare into the vitals of the Canadian Government Railways system, until the grim shadow of the law fell adverse on his house and he was haled into Newcastle Police Court to explain.

The Magistrate was too much of a patriot not to recognize and be delighted at the desire of Young Craik to improve in the noble art of marksmanship; so taking into consideration the extreme youth of the prisoner, he dismissed him with a serious lecture on the propriety of the motto—"Safety First"—"Look before you shoot." The "shooting" caused a lot of talk on the North Shore before it was cleared up by Detective Culligan, who has a number of clever captures to his credit.

CLEANING UP THE ILLEGAL SELLERS

Thirteen Cases Heard in One Week For Selling Liquor Without a License

During this last week the courts here have been working at high pressure dealing with infringements of the Liquor License act. Up till today thirteen cases in all have been dealt with and others are pending. Some of these cases were got through the agency of a couple of detectives who have been working among the various restaurants in town, and rather than face trial, some of the owners of these places have left for parts unknown.

In the complaints preferred before Police Judge Matheson, fines ranging from $50 to $90 and costs were imposed, the fines in two cases one of $75.00 and one of $90.00 were not collected, the defendants not making any appearance in court and have since left town.

On Wednesday the new amendment to the Liquor License Act was put into force, regarding the hours of bar-rooms. The Liquor License Inspector got into communication with the Attorney-General for the Province and information was forwarded to the effect that the new rules went into force on Monday, and the hours during which licensed houses may sell are now from 8 a. m. till 8 p. m. and 4 p. m. on Saturday.

BUSINESS AS USUAL

WOMEN'S INSTITUTE TAKES UP MORE WORK

Are Now Arranging to Send Gift of Maple Sugar and Tobacco. Acknowledgements.

At the last meeting of the Red Cross Committee of the Women's Institute, it was decided to send out an appeal for gifts of maple sugar and tobacco for the soldiers at the front. The committee have a large shipment of goods almost ready to go and it was decided to add those little luxuries, which would be so much appreciated by the men in the trenches. Contributions will be received at the Red Cross rooms every afternoon except Saturday from 3 to 5, and it is hoped that the men, especially the smokers will respond to this appeal. It is such a little thing to ask and it means so much to the soldiers in the trenches. The committee desires to publicly thank Messrs. Marquis & Co. for the use of their store on Saturday, May 1st, when through their kindness the ladies were able to add such a handsome sum to their funds, and to also gratefully acknowledge the assistance given by the ladies, who acted as sales ladies, who in conjunction with Messrs. Marquis' staff did so much to make the day a success.

The thanks of the committee is also extended to the Fire Company, who through Mr. Geo. F. Myles donated the proceeds of their recent dance to the Red Cross funds.

THE UNITED STATES DEMANDS GUARANTEE

Serves Notice That Full Reparation Will be Exacted for Lives Lost on Lusitania

Washington, May 13.—The United States, in a note sent to Germany today demands a guarantee that there will be no further attacks by submarines on merchant ships carrying non-combatants. The U. S. also serves notice that full reparation will be sought for the loss of more than 100 American lives in the sinking of the Lusitania, and for other violations of American rights in the sea zone of war. While no indication is given of the steps to be taken in the event of an unfavorable reply, the note informs the German Government that the American government will leave nothing undone, either in diplomatic representation or by other action, to obtain compliance with its requests.

Geneva, May 13th.—Crawco despatch says that the losses of Austrians and Germans since the first of May, amount to 165,000 officers and men. The losses of Russians in prisoners is placed at 50,000. It says the Russians are holding firmly the principal strategic points and both sides are receiving heavy reinforcements.

London, May 13th.—The sinking of the Lusitania has aroused to a violent climax the smouldering hatred and suspicion against Germans living in England. This animosity has found expression during the last 24 hours in attacks on Germans, principally upon their shops in poor quarters of London and Liverpool, while there have been minor disturbances in Manchester, Birkenhead, Glasgow and a few other places.

Ottawa, Ont., May 13.—Five New Brunswickers on today's casualty list. One is John Walter D. Forrest of Loggieville, Northumberland Co.

Paris, May 13.—More than 3,000 prisoners, including 40 officers were taken by French soldiers at Carencey and Neuville, north of Arras, since Sunday.

TWO FATALITIES IN THE PAST WEEK

Man Killed at the Wharf Here and Another Man Drowned in Christopher Brook

Two fatalities marked the opening of the lumber season here. In one case a young man named James Dube (21), belonging to Tobique was drowned on Saturday while working on one of Richards drives on Christopher Brook.

He was working on a jam which broke quickly, one of the logs striking him on the head, and knocking him into the brook. A fellow driver made a grab at his head to save him, but missed his hold and the unfortunate was carried away on the current and drowned. The body was afterwards recovered and forwarded to Tobique for burial.

In the other case a young man named LeBlanc (24), belonging to Black Cape, was killed at the wharf, on Monday afternoon. He was engaged on a vessel there loading lumber, when some deals slipped from the sling, one of them rebounding from the deck striking him on the head and another on the body. Medical aid was summoned, but death supervened. The body was removed to Black Cape for burial.

The Ladies' Aid of the Methodist church will entertain the members and adherents at a social in the Sunday school hall of the church Friday evening. All members and adherents are invited to attend.

PREMIER OF N. B. MAY GIVE UP POST

Hon. George J. Clark May Step Down From Leadership Through Ill-health

Another shift in the premiership of New Brunswick through the retirement of Hon. George J. Clark is one of the probabilities for the near future. For political reasons in New Brunswick there may be denial but the statement is true just the same. Since his assumption of the premiership and indeed, since shortly before he succeeded Mr. J. K. Flemming, as first minister in New Brunswick, Mr. Clark's health has been anything but the best. The cares brought by his position have affected him physically and his condition has not been improved in the least. Worries brought by troubles both within the party he leads and by difficult problems with which his Government is faced in connection with railway and other legislation.

While no announcement has been made, it is known that Premier Clark has been advised that a long rest is imperative if he is to remain in public life at all. More than this, the advice there has gone the intimation that it may prove to be necessary for him to give up all public duties. News of this effect will be heard of with regret by Mr. Clark's many friends on both sides of politics, for he is personally popular with men among his Liberal opponents as well as with his party friends.

Presumably, if Mr. Clark should be forced to retire in the near future, he will be succeeded in the premiership by Hon. J. B. M. Baxter, of St. John, the present Attorney General of New Brunswick. Mr. Baxter is a chosen politician and is regarded as a possible successor to Mr. Flemming when the former premier was forced to retire.

REINFORCEMENTS FOR PRINCESS PATS

Second University Company Will Be Organized Shortly in Montreal

The following is a copy of the announcement that is being issued in connection with the organization of the Second University Company which is going to the front shortly as a reinforcement to the Princess Patricia's Canadian Light Infantry.

SECOND UNIVERSITY COMPANY

Canada Expeditionary Force

Princess Patricia's Canadian Light Infantry

The Canadian Militia Department has authorized the organization of a Second University Company for Overseas Service, to go as a reinforcement to the Princess Patricia's Canadian Light Infantry. The Company will be commanded by Captain Geo. C. McDonald, of the McGill Contingent, C.O.T.C., with Captain Percival Molson, also of the McGill Contingent, C.O.T.C., as Second in Command.

Owing to the success which has attended the recruiting for the First University Company, which at present is up to full strength, and attached as "D" Company to the 38th Battalion Canadian Expeditionary Force, it was thought advisable to form another Company, and an application was made to the Department for the necessary authority, which has been granted.

Recruiting for the Company has already been started, and many names have been received. The Company will be composed of Graduates or Undergraduates of Universities or their friends. Conditions of Service and Rate of Pay will be the same as in the other Units of the Canadian Expeditionary Force.

The First University Company and the Toronto University and McGill University Contingents, C.O.T.C., are going to a Training Camp at Niagara-on-the-Lake on May 3rd to the 15th, and it is expected that during that period a large number of recruits for the new Company will be obtained.

Immediately after the Camp active recruiting will be commenced at Montreal. The Headquarters of the Company will be at 282 Sherbrooke Street West, and any enquiries or applications should be addressed there to Lieutenant Geo. S. Currie, Recruiting Officer, April 28th, 1915.

The Australian State of Victoria, with a population of less than a million, and a half has contributed $124,000, or $220,000, to the Belgian relief fund.

OFFICER SAYS KILTS THE PROPER THING

Sets Forth His Reasons Why Highland Dress is Better Than Trousers

London, May 10th.—The kilt as a soldier's uniform has proved itself entirely superior to the trousers. In the winter's hard campaign in France, according to an officer who writes home:

"The only times I've ever thought with even a tinge of regret on the trousers I've almost forgotten how to wear have been when I've had to wear gaiters in a cold, breezy night, when the wind maliciously whistles round about your legs; then you feel involuntarily almost that two thickness of cloth might be better than none. But the thought vanishes as soon as you are relieved and see the guard-room fire again."

"I am told that the Canadian Scottish regiments treat their kilts as a sort of dress parade, and put on trousers when they go into the trenches. This is a great mistake, for it is in these very trenches that the kilts shine."

"For instance, it's no uncommon thing for a trousered section who have stood shivering on their platform with their wet things clinging to their legs for twenty-four hours to see with a feeling of envy their kilted comrades coming up through the water to relieve them with their kilts tucked up high out of the wet, so that the exception of feet and puttees they can look forward to a comfortable and all things considered, a warm time instead of a shivery one. For the kilt, being exceptionally thick around the waist and loins keeps the whole body nice and warm, and if it does happen to get wet the constant swinging about tends to dry it quickly without a constant clumsy contact with the legs."

"On the night of the tenth, for instance, we were taken about seven o'clock through a stream, which came over my hips, but the kilt was quite dry soon, and I felt no ill effects whatever from the wetting, although it was a bitterly cold night."

"But it is on the march that one appreciates the kilt most. There is a delicious coolness as the wind strikes your knees and helps you along, and there is a sense of freedom about the waist and shoulders that the trousered man will never feel."

"When you are in billets on a hard wood or stone floor, all you have to do is to take off your kilt and spread it on the floor, then with your blanket starting from the bottom of it and brought forward and over your head, you have a bed which keeps all the cold and harness away."

"In actual fighting the moral effect of the kilt is of value, and its association with heroism and gallantry are so well known and appreciated that the very sight of bare knees and 'wing kilts' has an effect on the enemy as well as on ourselves."

METHODIST SERVICES

(From the Gloucester Northern Light) The services led by the Rev. G. S. Anderson at the Methodist Church during last week were of lasting benefit to those attending the same. Wightman and the Rev. R. Brodie led services to extra congregations at Stonehaven, Salmon Beach and Canobie. On Monday Rev. Mr. Wightman left for Moncton with Mrs. Wightman, where she will undergo a medical examination. The same evening Mr. Anderson stated his second week of services. Hence a word of advice to all who have not yet been to the services to go on Sunday evening when a special illustrated sermon will be given. If Mr. W. McN. Matthews, Mr. Brodie will attend to any who may need his help.

Campbellton, N. B., May 13, 1915.

In an editorial entitled "The Dugal Report," the St. John Globe says:

Hon. J. K. Fleming's resignation of the Premiership of New Brunswick was a necessary and imperative result of disclosures before an impartial tribunal which investigated charges of a most serious nature. The evidence submitted disclosed conditions in the Crown Land department, controlled and managed by Hon. Mr. Fleming, inimical to the best interests of the province. The Chief Scaler of the province was revealed as the collector of a corruption fund from men who paid a stipulated price at a time when they were seeking to get control of the public domain, with knowledge that the special fund was to go not into the public treasury, but into private hands, although the rights involved were public rights. The recipient and custodian of this fund was a gentleman designated by Hon. Mr. Fleming himself, a warm personal and political friend, who, when he was dangerously ill, turned the custody of the fund over to his sponsor, Hon. J.
K. Fleming, Premier of New Brunswick. Although these facts were clearly established, and although there was evidence that at least one lumberman had a personal talk with Hon. Mr.
Fleming, which he interpreted as a command in connection with this fund, the Royal Commission gave Mr. Fleming the benefit of the doubt, declaring the evidence, "in our opinion, stops short of such sufficiency of proof as would justify the Commission in declaring the charge of directing the extortion proven." Those three words, "directing the extortion," are what Mr. Fleming was acquitted of. What he was convicted of is set out in these paragraphs from the report of the commissioners:

"The Premier named the treasurer, Mr. Teed of Woodstock. He knew that efforts were being made to get money from certain holders of crown and timber licenses; he knew that from time to time such money was being sent into Mr. Teed's hands; he set his seal of approval on the transaction by introducing his chosen treasurer to Mr. Brankley with the words: 'Anything Mr. Brankley tells you about this man (Teed) will be all right.' At the time of such remark the Premier, with Messrs. Brankley and Brankley, was in his room at the Barker House in Fredericton and Brankley had acquainted him with the fact that Brankley was active for the lumbermen in holding the fund prior to its being passed over."

In the case of the Partington-Pain and Paper Company, the Premier was aware that Perry was urging a contribution and, backed by all these facts and circumstances, the view was strongly pressed upon the commission that Hon. Mr. Fleming could not possibly have been in ignorance of Berry's activities and of the method employed. There is a great deal to support this view, but in our opinion it stops short of such sufficiency of proof as would justify the commission in declaring the charge of directing the extortion proved."

That the money was in fact extorted by Perry is fully proved. That the Premier was fully aware that moneys were being collected for a purpose unquestionably improper is also shown.
It is also manifest that he directed the disposition of such moneys when collected, also that he acquiesced in the collection of such moneys at a time and from a source highly and grievously improper."

Why, in the face of such language in a public document, should the Legislature of New Brunswick justify itself and behold the report of an important session, by passing unanimously a resolution, noting "with satisfaction that Hon. Mr. Fleming is not guilty as charged" by Mr. Dugal. All that saves the resolution from being a deliberate misstatement of facts is the two words, "as charged." Had the Dugal charges been worded just a little differently, even the "Scotch verdict" would have been impossible.

More pertinent questioning on the part of those prosecuting the charges might have brought out the reason for the payments, the lumbermen so willingly made. There was in these Crown land transactions both a buyer and a seller, and, however much Hon. Mr. Fleming is to be condemned, recollection that the money was paid for something other than appeared on the surface must ever be kept in mind. It was not a political contribution pure and simple that the lumbermen made at the dictates of Berry.

Because of the important public rights involved, the large number of wealthy, influential and prominent men who participated in the affair and the amount of money paid, the Globe has regarded this Crown Land scandal, which the Royal Commission says Hon. Mr. Fleming was not guilty of directing, as a far more serious affair than the Valley Railway matter, which, after all, resolved itself into the old familiar exchange between a contractor and those for whom he was working. At the same time, there is no getting away from the fact that the Commission looked lightly on Hon.
Mr. Fleming's demand from John Kennedy for a contribution, when the Commission explicitly and unequivocally condemned that transaction. The resolution passed by the Legislature emphatically and approved these words from the finding of the Royal Commission:

"There is no doubt, we think, that when the payment in question was made, it had no connection in the minds of either party with obtaining a second contract, such as was afterwards entered into."

The resolution entirely omitted reference to these further words on the very same subject, although they presented the transaction in the light viewed by the Royal Commissioners:

"In the case before us the contractor obtained two contracts. He was compelled to pay the money in the interval between the two, and admittedly at a time when no thought of a second one was in his mind, but he certainly was compelled to make this payment, and in our opinion it was just as reprehensible to compel payment of this money under the circumstances as if the second contract had been in sight.
The contractor, having been compelled to make the payment in the year 1912 and before the second contract was entered into, we think and find that Hon. Mr. Fleming is guilty of this act of compulsion, which has been charged against him."

If the people of Carleton-Victoria want Hon. Mr. Fleming as their Federal or Local representative, with a full knowledge of his record, that is their affair. The expression of public opinion in the Legislature in the light of the disclosures and in the face of the finding of the Royal Commission, is an altogether different matter and cannot be passed in silence. Mr.
Fleming's rule in New Brunswick ended because it was not possible for a political party to hold up its head under his leadership. No resolution of the Legislature can disguise that fact, nor should it seek to do so.

SOCK DAY CARRIED OUT SUCCESSFULLY

Large Shipment Made by the Daughters of Empire—Ladies Contributing

A special business meeting of the Royal Standard Chapter I. O. D. E. was held at the home of Mrs. T. E.
G. Armstrong, Queen Square, St. John, when the reports of the various committees in connection with the recent "soldiers' sock social" were given. The reports were all of a most interesting nature, that of the Sock Committee being to the effect that more than four thousand pairs were collected on "sock day," and over a hundred pairs had come in since that date. The committee realizing that newspaper space at the present time, could not be given to publish the names of all the societies and donors of socks from the various towns and places in New Brunswick, decided to acknowledge them as a committee on behalf of the Royal Standard Chapter, consequently numerous letters of appreciation have already been sent through the mails, while to the hundreds of ladies, who attended the social and personally handed the Sock Committee in many cases not one but half dozens of pairs of beautiful socks the chapter is indeed grateful. Through the kindness of Mr. J. B. Cudlip, manager of the cotton mills here, the socks were sent to the packing rooms of the Cornwall Cotton Mill, where they were packed under proper supervision by professional hands into large bales and individual packages. Many were the addresses sent in by private individuals of Canadian fighting men and special attention was given by the members of the chapter, overseeing and helping in the work, that those individual packages contained very choice socks and other good things and that the address was carefully attached. There were also large bales for certain lieutenants and their platoons, while the prize socks were sent with others to well known St. John boys. In packing the little missive from the writer sometimes dropped out, only to be more carefully replaced.

The prayer circulated by Lord Roberts among the soldiers in South Africa was printed on suitable cards and one put in each pair of socks. Readers of this prayer will realize that its message to our boys was a fitting finale to all that loving hearts and hands had suggested and so successfully carried out for their welfare.

Soldier's Prayer.
Almighty Father, I have often sinned against Thee, O wash me in the precious blood of the Lamb of God. Fill me with Thy Holy Spirit, that I may lead a new life.
Spare me to see again those whom I love at home, or fit me for Thy presence in peace.
Strengthen us to quit ourselves like men in our right and great cause, keep us faithful unto death, calm in danger, patient in suffering, merciful as well as brave, true to our King and colors, and if it be Thy will enable us to win victory for England. But above all, grant us the better victory over temptation and sin, over life and death, that at last we may be more than conquerors through Him that loved us and laid down His life for us, Jesus our Saviour.
Amen.

Suffice it to add, the bales of socks, well covered by machine insurance, with the war clause attached, are now well on their way to London, where on arrival, they will be personally handed by the captain of the steamer, to Mr. Colmer, secretary of the Cana-

COMPENSATIONS IN WAR'S AFTER-EFFECTS

Economic Living Practised During the War Results in Increased Wealth

One of the biggest effects is the saving people practice on account of war.
Immediately in Great Britain it became fashionable for the rich to be down to a one course dinner and housewives all over Europe were instructed by their governments in ways of saving food, down even to potato peelings. If economy so painstakingly been practiced for a generation in Europe more capital would have been saved than could safely have been invested. Instead, the whole world has been practicing wild extravagance saving almost nothing, even borrowing on the future, so that when their canthe incentive of war to save there was great room for it. It is easy to calculate the outlay of war in dollars, because the spending is concentrated at show; it is impossible to calculate the saving, because it is so widely diffused.
But it is arguable that a very large proportion of the money cost of war actually saved during the year. The would account for the immediate stacess of the huge popular war loans England, Germany and France.

The tale of destruction is always made to include the economic value the life lost. Herein many a man, abide. The economic value of man, terms of money, or as you like, is in the place an abstraction. It is unfair, the second place (not unfair to w but statistically misleading), to dethe account of destruction with the economic value of all the life lost w out deducting anything for the that if the men engaged in war h been peacefully occupied instea

One of the biggest offsets is the saving people practice on account of war. If economy so patently had been practiced for a generation in Europe more capital would have been saved than could safely have been invested. But it is arguable that a very large proportion of the money cost of war is actually saved during the year. That would account for the immediate success of the huge popular war loans in England, Germany and France.

The tale of destruction is always made to include the economic value of the life lost. Herein many fallacies abide. The economic value of man, in terms of money, or capitalized at 4 or 5 per cent, as you like, is, in the first place an abstraction. It is unfair, in the second place (not unfair to war, but statistically misleading), to debit the account of destruction with the full economic value of all the life lost without deducting anything for the fact that if the men engaged in war had been peacefully occupied, instead a great many would have died of natural causes. The difference between the mortality of war and that of peace is less than is imagined.

There is, of course, the destruction of tangible property. That is real enough but the value is much more likely to be over than under estimated. And here, again, no allowance is made for the fact that there is a very high rate of property destruction in time of peace. The higher that rate is the more rapidly wealth increases. New York city is being continually rebuilt. In every direction you see buildings, far from the end of their economic utility, in process of demolition, making way for new and bigger ones. The physical wealth destroyed by war is never replaced as it was; it reappears in improved and more efficient forms.

The Napoleonic wars of a century ago were not actually so destructive as the present war, but relatively they were perhaps more destructive, as the stock of the world's wealth was then much smaller and the processes of reproducing it much slower. And yet, never did wealth increase so fast in the world as in the twenty-five years following the restoration of peace in Europe. Machinery helped. But man's mechanical genius is not yet bankrupt.

PREMIER ASQUITH'S CALL TO THE WORKERS

Appeal for Suspension of Trade Union Rules During War—No Conscription

(The Daily Mirror)

Men.—This is a war not only of men, but of material. No fewer than 217,000 miners have enlisted—20 per cent of the total number. Workers have gone to the front by doing regular work and increasing the output.

Munitions.—Operations at the front are not being crippled by lack of supplies or slackness of workers at home. The present urgency is due to the unprecedented rate at which ammunition is being used; to the shortage of labour caused by recruiting, and to the multiplication of machinery.

Sacrifices.—Employer, employed and taxpayer are asked to make sacrifices as their contribution to the war burden. There must be give and take among the employers by limitation of profits; among men by temporarily suspending trade union restrictions, and by the taxpayer in having to pay compensation for reasonable injury or loss.

Such were the chief points of an important speech by Mr. Asquith last night at Newcastle, when he sounded a rousing call to the workers of the North-East Coast.

The Prime Minister spoke to a gathering of over 5,000 persons in the Palace Theatre, Newcastle, in fulfilment of his promise to address the men who had sworn "to deliver the goods."

There will be no conscription in Britain. In reply to Mr. Tickler in the House of Commons yesterday, Mr. Lloyd George, who replied for the Premier said: "The Government are not of opinion that there is any ground for believing that the war will be more successfully prosecuted by means of conscription." (Cheers.)

Then Mr. Tickler asked: "Are the Government quite satisfied with the rate of recruiting, and do they consider the present Army will be able to beat the Germans?" (Ironical cheers.) In reply, Mr. Lloyd George said that the Secretary for War was very gratified with the response for volunteers. (Cheers.)

Mr. Tennant informed Sir William Byles that Sir John French's Neuve Chapelle dispatch was published in its entirety.

Mr. J. M. Hogg asked why, when it only took Lord Kitchener three days to fill up the ranks which were depleted, it took the War Office a month to let the public know.

Mr. Tennant: Surely, sir, it is better to act quickly than to speak quickly. (Loud laughter.)

PAINT INSURANCE IS WHAT YOU NEED

EVERY wise property owner insures his buildings against possible damage by fire.

And yet we find many a man failing to insure his building against the certain deterioration of unprotected wood or iron, exposed to the constant wear and tear of the weather.

Keeping your buildings regularly painted is insurance against deterioration. Good paint protects and beautifies the surface to which it is applied—it keeps wood from cracking and checking—it keeps iron and steel surfaces from rusting.

We sell and recommend Canada Paint because it is made of pure materials thoroughly mixed and ground. Come and talk to us about your paint problems.

YOUR SUMMER HOLIDAY!

This Year the Maritime Provinces.

The question has repeatedly been asked how many Maritime people know from practical experience that within their gates they have the most beautiful summer resorts in America.

Le Baie de Chaleur, Prince Edward Island, the Bras d'Or Lakes and Cape Breton, the Evangeline Country, St. John River, to mention only a few that can be named from a wide and varied selection.

Predictions have been made from various sources that this year will see a large influx of American tourists. A authority says:

"The famed shrines of the old world are closed for a time at least, to American travel. The tourist necessarily will have to go somewhere, for as a rule the American who can afford to travel abroad is sufficiently independent of industrial conditions to allow them to interfere with the vacation that has become a necessity to him. Canada feels that the Dominion of all regions should be his natural destination. For Canada has as magnificent and as varied scenery as can be found anywhere in the Old World. She has a climate that, on this continent at least, has no counterpart. She has

NEW CARLISLE

It is with deep regret that we heard of the sudden death of Mr. S. J. Ripley, advocate of this place. It appeared that the deceased walked from his boarding place at Caldwell's Hotel about eight o'clock in the morning to look after his farm, as was his usual custom. After going into his house he was attacked with illness and passed away in a few minutes before any aid could reach him. The deceased was about seventy years of age and had always been in good health.

The formers have been very much disappointed in not been able to sell their potatoes this spring. Many of them however have disposed of them at the Robin Jones & Whitman Limited for the small sum of fifty cents per barrel but there is a big quantity yet and the stock is very good.

BEER LICENSES

As all existing Beer Licenses run out on the 1st May, new licenses must be obtained from the Liquor License Inspector, Chief Hughes. All stores selling beer, soft drinks, soda water, iced drinks, etc., and grocery stores selling beer in less quantities than a quart must have a license. It will therefore be seen that all persons now selling beer, etc., are violating the law and liable to be haled before the courts.

RUN KEDGEWICK

Mr. Frank McCallum, lumberman, and another man, whose name we did not learn, ran the foaming waters of the Restigouche last Friday from Kedgewick to Deslisle in seven and one half hours, on a catamaran made of three logs sixteen feet long. The distance is over sixty miles, so they must have made over eight miles an hour, and this against head winds. This was going some and taking chances that only the experienced could negotiate safely.
