Thousands of other persons know similar cures.—
We appeal to their sense of justice—their lauran foolings.

It is but a daity you owe to your suffering follow beings to let this great remedy be known. Speak of it then te all your friends. This will save much pain where the newspapers are not read, or where readers are incredulous, because so many worthless articles are advertised for the same purpose. To buyers we say, if ell who have used it do not say it above out all praises, then do not take it. The proprietor will not allow this article to be paid for anless it cures, when all the directions are fully followed. Will any one suffering refuse none to try sit if he does he ought to be pitted more for his obstinately than his suffering.

Mr. Hays would never consent to offer this article, were he not compelled by his sense of moral—of religious duty—to de all in his power for the victims of distress and misery. For this purpose he would sooner devote a fortune, than secure a dollar for any worthless article.
