Everybody knows there's a world of difference in clothes. But only those who have had the experience are conscious of the fact that any old thing looks good when it is new. Some suits of clothing will outwear three or four others, and they will look bet-ter than the fourth that is made of shoddy. It pays, and pays well, to invest in good clothes. Defaming the City,

The Free Press, in its editorial of today, writes as if it had just arisen after a late supper overnight on indigestible viands, and was still suffering from the effects of nightmare. It actually loses its head sufficiently to argue that the bringing in of outside militia "was warrantable from the fact anarchistic uprising on a scale which the civil power could not attempt to control." In its crazy comments, our contemporary goes on to say, "the war' was plainly to be an onslaught on property, with all the consequences possible to issue from a popular outburst of passion." It then proceeds to lecture the clergymen of the city for having failed "to grasp what this means." etc-

Our contemporary would be injurious to the city, were it not making itself ridiculous, in talking as if the great mass of orderly, law-abiding citizens of this beautiful and prosperous city were "anarchists." In a city in which to a greater extent than any other, the masses of the people own the houses in which they live, such talk about "anarchy" is childish in the extreme.

Nor need our headless contemporary be too much alarmed about the safety and value of property in our pleasant city. In no city in the world is property safer than amidst our own English-speaking homogeneous population. We do not know of any persons in London who desire property to be without its due protection, even though they may not fall down and worship it, like Tennyson's "Northern

'Dosn't thou 'ear my erse's legs, as they canters awaay? Proputty, proputty, proputty-that's what I 'ears 'em saay."

And what shall be said of our contemporary's lecture to the clergymen of the city? Simply, that our contemporary is again talking nonsense. If our clergymen as a whole have had any fault-and we are not sitting in judgment-it has not been the fault of holding up in their true light the mistakes and misdoings of the London Street Railway Company. In Old London, some years ago, on the occasion of the great dockmen's strike, the greatest English clergymen of the day, Protestant and Catholic, remembering that Christ himself had been a carpenter, did not hesitate to side strongly with the men against monopoly. We do not say our local clergymen should declare all the fault to be on the one side; but there would be propriety rather than the opposite in their insisting on a settlement on the Christian principle of full and fair arbitration.

More Light Needed.

As will be seen in another column. the Police Commissioners have declined to make investigation into the causes of the resignation of Sergeant Jenkins, or the condition of the police force generally. Though the police Commissioners sat for more than two hours, only a few details of the discussion have been furnished. This unfortunate, both for the commissioners and the public, and illustrates once more that all public bodies should be open to representatives of the press. Even now, the meetings are not actually confined to the commissioners. The chief of police, as a sort of secretary, is always present. One can understand that the chief should be always near by, so that he could be brought in when required; but there might often be matters affecting members of the force, or for that matter an occasional complaint against the chicf himself, that could be dealt with but awkwardly with a person not a commissioner insisting on always being present. One could imagine cases, toe, in which the interests of faithful men might depend on the personal liking or otherwise of the fourth unauthorized member of a secret board. The Advertiser is more than ever impressed with the absolute necessity, in the public interests, for all meetings of public bodies and committees being thrown open to the press.

London, June 19 .- The Times this morning says: "The government attaches the highest importance to the climbing the Planspitz, in the Austrian volksraad's seven-year proposal, which is regarded as practically ending the crisis." The Volksraad resumed discussion of the franchise bill yesterday. The trend of debate favored seven-years' retrospective franchises. Replying to a question, President Kruger reviewed the Bloemfontein conference, and said that the proposals of Sir Alfred Milner, governor of Cape Colony and British high commissioner of South Africa, were too wide, but that the alteration from nine to seven years was only a slight difference, and for reasons of honesty and righteousness he (President Kruger) recommended the alteration, which would not be endangered thereby, but would gain the applause of the world. The Volksraad, in secret session, ultimately adopted the seven-years' franchise proposition.

SCENE IN THE SPANISH SENATE. A scene occurred in the Spanish Senate yesterday. Several delegations of women, having relatives among the prisoners in the hands of the Filipinos sought an audience with Senor Silvela, the premier, who had them conducted to the galleries of the senate, where Count d'Almenas drew a lamentable picture of the sufferings of the prisoners, which aroused frequent outbursts of sobbing from the women. Count d'Almenas blamed the American authorities and the Spanish Government for the plight of the unhappy men. Senor Silvela, in defending the government, said that although the United States had at first placed obstacles in the way, they were now endeavoring to assist in the liberation of the prisoners. For the sake of prudence, and in order not to hamper the negotiations now in progress, the premier declined to say anything regarding the steps being taken to accomplish that end. MILAN'S LITTLE GAME. London, July 19.—According to the Daily Mail's London correspondent, absolute confirmation has been obtained that ex-King Milan of Servia himself planned the sham attempt upon his life recently made, for political purposes. The correspondent also says that the Austrian Government has decided to invite Milan to voluntarily exile himself from Servia in order to prevent further trouble. THE PEACE CONFERENCE The sub-committee of the arbitration committee of the peace conference met yesterday afternoon to draft the amendments demanded at the last session of the plenary committee. It is understood that Capt. Alfred H. Mahone of the American delegates, has decided to withdraw his proposed amendments to the scheme for adapt. ing the Geneva convention to naval wars, owing to objections on the part of Great Britain and other powers.

THE KAISER'S OUTING. According to the Daily Chronicle, Emperor William wished to come to England to attend the Queen's birthday ceremonies, intending to spend some time in this country, but his visit was considered inopportune. Being piqued at this, his majesty refused to come for the Cowes yachting week, which was considered a more favorable time for his visit. GRAVE FULL OF BRICKS. People were growing tired of dukedom and earldom claimant cases, when two fresh ones bobbed up-claims to the dukedom of Hamilton and the earldom of Buchan-which are creating a sensation in Scotland. Colin Gunn Hamilton, claiming the dukedom, was chased out of Arran, and is now in Glasgow working up his case. He claims he is the supposed dead Lord Charles Hamilton, whose burial was a bogus one, and that the grave is full of bricks. The case is to come before the courts shortly, and is pected to be a prolonged one. Two claimants to the earldom of Buchan have come to an arrangement. Erskine, the Chili claimant, is to stand while Milton Bradford, a London solicitor, has his try; then, failing him, Erskine will have a shot for injured and two cars badly wrecked. Car No. 76, in charge of Motorman Frank Talbot and Conductor James Murphy, going east on Dundas street, stopped to take on a passenger at the half-way station between Waterloo and Colborne streets. Car No. 88, in charge of Motorman James Bartell and Conductor M. J. Conan, was a short distance behind. The men in charge were so engrossed in watching a boy on a bicycle that they failed to notice the car ahead. The rear car, going at a high rate of speed, crashed into the stationary car with terrific force. The short circuit exploded with great violence, and the noise of breaking glass, clashing metal and splintering wood could be heard for several blocks. The platforms and hoods of both cars crumpled each other like so much cardboard. Motorman James Bartell, who was in charge of the rear car, No. 88, was seriously injured. He was hurled with great force against the brake, and sustained abdominal injuries, the extent of which are not yet fully known. The explosion of the short circuit also gave him a severe electrical shock. The injured man was removed to Dr. David H. Piper's office, near by, and later, accompanied by the doctor, was taken in a carriage to his home on Stanley street. He was unconscious for over an hour, and was revived with considerable difficulty. Considering the terrific force of the collision it was remark ably fortunate that Bartell escaped with his life. Conductor Murphy, who was on the front car, was badly shaken up, and appeared to be severely injured. Dr. J. B. Campbell was called to attend to him, but reported that Murphy was suffering chiefly from a

The damaged cars were towed into the barn. The accident occurred on an upgrade, with a dry rail, and the motorman should have been able to stop the rear car within a short distance. ANOTHER COLLISION. Another street car collision occurred on Dundas street east about 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon. A large wagon from C. W. Smith's cooperage was struck and slightly damaged. The car ran into the front end of the wagon and broke the rack.

A street car was derailed at the corner of the Hamilton road and Rectory streets this morning and another at the Queen's Park loop.

There were few burnt-out motors under the old experienced men. For Ald. Pritchard's information, Chairman Garnett wishes it stated that International President Mahon receives only $1,000 a year, and not $3,000, as Ald. Pritchard professed to believe.

Four cars were run by the street railway company last night. The police officials who manned them say that no stones were thrown at the cars, and that they were not in any way molested. Chairman Garnett has received a letter from President Mahon in Cleveland stating that the men look for a long, hard battle. They consider themselves much stronger in this fight, however, as the linemen and trackmen are also with them this time.

In this new Cleveland strike, Mr. Everett says, part of the trouble comes from the union employes not paying proper respect to the non-union men. This might easily be true because of the proverbial difficulty of getting oil and water to mix satisfactorily. But the men now again on strike in Cleveland say the trouble is due to the vidtenced to imprisonment for life at hard lation of Mr. Everett's undertakings labor, while the other women were let and agreements.

Dare had asked him to run his car into the barn on Saturday at 12:30. He agreed to run the car in, but said he would force no one else to. He saw Chairman Garnett and Richard Westby, another of the striking employes, The long list of street car accidents at Adelaide street, about 9:30 in the morning. Garnett crossed in front of the car and dropped a note. Dare got off the car and picked up the note and in company with James Westbrook on cheered. W. H. Laughlin, non-union motorman, was riding on car 54. When the car came west from the fair grounds loop, the switch was turned to run the car to the barn. The car was run in, but Superintendent Potter was at the barn and ordered it out again. Superintendent Potter, sworn, was at the barns on the 8th inst. There had been no order for the cars to run into the barns. He gave the order for them to go out again. Dare had no authority to order the cars run into the barn. He should judge that the damage done to the cars would total $2,500 or $3,000. Some seven employes of the company were more or less injured by the stone-throwing.

Manager Carr gave evidence that Dare had no authority to run the cars

He would not speak to a dog the way Howie spoke to him. Mr. Stevens has been a citizen of London for over 40 years, and was never in court before. Mr. Enoch Gale, who was talking to Mr. Stevens, swore that they were standing over two minutes, and that there was no crowd around. Mr. Gale said it was petty persecution to grab a man and drag him through the streets like Officer Howie did. It was a shabby, contemptible trick. He had lived in London 50 years, and never saw such an outrage.

Stevens was fined $2. A drunk was discharged.

Touching Aliusion to the Late Hon. Mr. Geoffrion.

Sir Charles Tupper Condoles With Sir Wilfrid Laurier.

Sir Charles and Mr. Haggart Have Dispute Over the Iron Bounties -Health on Public Works.

Ottawa, July 19.-For the second time this week the commons was yesterday called upon to express its sorrow at the loss of one of its members. As the premier rose to announce the death of the Hon. Mr. Geoffrion there was & solemn silence in the chamber. In a few simple words the premier paid a well-merited tribute to his late colleague. "He (Mr. Geoffrion) had only come late into this parliament," said Sir Wilfrid, "and, though he was always a strong party man he had no ways a strong party man, he had no taste for political life, and it was only out of the abundance of his heart and generosity that he consented to become a member of this house. In it he never had the opportunity of giving the full measure of the ability that was in him. His influence among us, however, though not actively engaged in politics, was extraordinary, and it was ties with which providence had en-dowed him. It resulted from his great talents, his sound judgment, his strength of character, his kind heart, and his broad, fair mind. Al Ithese combined qualities made of him a ruling personality in the sphere in which he moved. In the city of Montreal, of which he was a citizen for more than 30 years, and especially at the bar of that city, he leaves a void which, I am sure, can hardly be measured and can-not be filled. For more than 30 years he was daily engaged in the discharge of his professional duties before the court. Daily he had given all the genius of his mind, all the treasures of his intellect, and all his ability to the administration of justice. He was always strong with the bench and popular with the bar. He was a friend of all, no matter to what station they might happen to belong, and his loss today is a loss to every man who has anything to do with the admisitration of justice in Montreal, whatever may his station. His loss is simply irre-rable. We can never have in any man the same amount of prestige and was his unfailing kindness of heart. He was my friend for more than 36 years, and during all these years I am free to say; I never heard from him an unkind word of anybody, and my ex-perience in that respect is the experience of all. He was one of those men who honor mankind, and his whole life was spent in doing good." Sir Charles Tupper also paid an eloquent tribute to Mr. Geoffrion, and tendered his condolence to Sir Wilfrid influence which he enjoyed, but if there was in a man so eminently and generously endowed as he a quality which was perhaps superior to all others, it his dear friend. THE QUEBEC BENCH. Mr. Fortin, rising to a question of privilege, corrected an impression which was conveyed by reports in Montreal papers of his speech upon the question of appointing additional judges in Montreal. Mr. Fortin explained that he did not say that second-class men were appointed to the bench, but that the salary paid is so low that many first-class men would not accept the appointment.

OPPOSITION MEMBERS DISAGREE Mr. Fielding moved the second reading of the bill respecting steel and iron made in Canada.

Mr. Mills (Annapolis, N.S.) protested against bounties being paid upon iron produced from ore other than Canadian. There is, he contended, plenty of ore in the different provinces, and therefore no need for paying bounties on iron from ore produced in other

Sir Charles Tupper hoped that Mr Mills would not press his opposition to the government bill, as he thought the measure a good one.

Mr. Haggart, minister of railways, and canals in the last government, opposed the view expressed by Sir Charles Tupper, and supported that charles Tupper, and supported that advocated by Mr. Mills.

Sir Charles Tupper expressed his surprise at Mr. Haggart's opposition to the government's bill, which was upon the same lines as the measure of which Mr. Haggart, when a member of a former government, was one of the fathers, and which dealt with foreign and domestic ores precisely the same as this bill does. His hon friend (Mr. Haggart) was, therefore, responsible for the policy of this measure, which maintained that of the former government. If his honorable friend would tell him how the iron mines could be developed without providing for the establishment of furnaces for the smelting of the ore, he would say that there something in the contention. By this bill the iron mines would be developed in a manner that would be utterly impossible under any other me-

Mr. Haggart persisted in his opposition to the bill, contending that the American ore would drive the Canadian out of the market, or seriously interfere with the development of our mines, owing to the cheapness with which it could be produced in large

Mr. Edwards (Russell), although a free trader, supported the bill, because it provided for the termination of the iron bounties. After some further discussion the bill was passed.

Abbey's Effervescent Salt Company Secure a Judgment Against a London Publisher.

[From Montreal Herald.]

Mr. John A. Grose has just returned from the west, where he has been very successful in carrying on the prosecution of a case of infringement on Abbey's Effervescent Salt. For some time past the printing house of Knowles & Co., London, Ont., have been buying bottles used by the Abbey Effervescent Salt Company, printing a label which closely resembled that of the genuine article, and the directions on which they were copied word for word from the directions for the use of Abbey's Effervescent Salt, and have also lithographed an outer package resembling that of the Abbey Effervescent Salt Company so closely that at a short distance it was practically impossible to tell them apart. With these packages, which they supplied to a number of druggists, they furnished a formula which purported to be "equally as good" as Abbey's Effervescent Salt. Mr. Grose and two men of his secret service made a thorough investigation into and injunction proceeding were inand injunction proceeding were in-stituted against Mr. Thomas Knowles, jr., of London, by the Abbey Effer-vescent Sait Company. The examina-tion of Mr. Knowles established the allegations of the Abbey Effervescent Salt Company, and an injunction has been issued by Mr. Justice Moss, of the Ontario High Court of Justice, re-straining the defendant, Knowles, not only from continuing to put out these only from continuing to put out these packages, but also from employing the words "Effervescent Salt," and, further, he is to withdraw from sale all of these goods that have gone out of his establishment. All the druggists who purchased these imitation packages have been notified if they expose any of them for sale after the 15th July they will be immediately prosecuted, both criminally and civilly, by the Abbey Effervescent Salt Company. The extent of the opera-tions of Knowles & Co. may be judged Laurier for the loss he had sustained from the fact that these preparations, which were placed on the market unwhich were placed on the market un-der various names, such as Laxa Sa-line, Dr. Howard's Effervescent Salt, Dr. Carroll's Effervescent Salt, Gil-pin's Effervescent Salt, Webb's Effer-vescent Salt, English Fruit Saline, and a number of other names, were sold to no less than 59 druggists, among whom were: Messrs. R. W. Webb, J. A. E. Gauvin, and W. A. Hendrie, of Montreal; the Burgess Powell Com-pany, George Reid, H. W. Burgess, M. B. Annis, W. H. Gilpin, A. E. Kennedy, of Toronto; J. S. Armstrong, Paris; R. Ferrah, Galt; W. O. Foster, St. Thomas: May & Co., and A. D. Brandon, Wallaceburg: H. Southcott, T. E. Sweet and others, of St. Catharines; J. A. Zimmerman and F. W. Mills, Hamilton; S. McDirmid, C. McGregor and others, of St. John, N.B.: Irwin &

Sons, H. W. Cameron, in Halifax, besides a number in smaller towns. In the commercial history of Canada there has probably never been a period when there were so many imitations on the market of articles that are well known and in common use by the public. The numerous prosecutions and lawsuit of the past year have made this fact very apparent. However, the warning and experience will not be thrown away among dealers who undertake the sale of spurious prepara-tions without properly investigating their right to do so, and certainly the public at large will not suffer from any increase in the business morality of the community, even though this has to be enforced at the point of the law.

SENATE WILL THROW IT OUT

Sir Mackenzie Bowell Shows His Hand -The Redistribution Bill To Be Rejected.

Ottawa, July 19.—It had been ex-pected that Sir Mackenzie Bowell would permit the redistribution bill to pass the senate, but yesterday he shattered that hope by coming out flat-footed against the measure. It is now certain that the bill will be defeated by the opposition in the senate, in spite of the fact that the House of Commons passed it by 50 majority. Sir John Macdonald's redistribution bill in 1882 was rushed through in a few minutes. The senate's action then contrasted with its action now, afford the strongest argument for a reform of the Upper Chamber. Sir Mackenzie Bowell today, upon Hon. David Mills moving the second reading of the bill moved as follows:

"That it be resolved that it is inexpedient to proceed further with the bill now under consideration, inasmuch as it is provided by section 51 of the British North America Act that the representation of the provinces in the House of Commons shall be readjusted upon the completion of each decennial census, subject to and in accordance with the rules in the said act set forth, and as the next decennial census will under the provision of the Confederation Act be taken in 1901, a re-adjustment of constituencies in the Dominion made previous to such census being taken would in the opinion of this house be a violation of the spirit of such act."

Canada's Prosperity Justifies a Large Outlay-The St. Lawrence Channel and the Yukon, Fielding in April last, were for $46,286,550, of which $4,758,252 were chargeable to capital. Last year the total amount voted was $47,300,487. It will thus be seen that the country's total amount voted was $47,300,487. It will thus be seen that the country's expenditure for the present year will be some $3,883,408 greater than for the preceding year. The increase is in some measure nominal, however. As nearly $600,000 of the amount is composed of revotes. The total sum asked is the largest in Canada's history, but, as has been said, we have more and have spent more. Canada's prosperity justifies the expenditure.

HALIFAX HARBOR A SEA OF FLAME

Standard Oil Tank Ship Maverick, Explodes and Sinks-10,000 Barrels

Hallfax, N. S., July 19.-The Standard Oil Company's tank steamer Maverick, which arrived on Saturday from New York with a cargo of 10,000 barrels of cil in bulk, lies sunk in this harbor. She was taken to her pier, and pumping of the oil from the ship's hold to the oil tank on the shore was commenced, a six-inch pipe connecting the tanks. During the pumping the pipe burst and the oil flowed down into the engine room and became ignited. The steamer's crew made efforts to subdue the flames which followed, but were obliged to leave the ship to save their lives.

In a short time sheets of flame were rising from the steamer in several places. The city fire brigade was called out, fearing a general conflagration, but this danger was averted by an explosion which blew a hole in the ship's side. She careened and gradually filled with water and sank. She now lies sub-merged, only her masts being visible. A large area of water was covered with the blazing oil, and thousands of people were attracted to the scene.

FIREMAN PERISHED. Another account says: The conflagration made a grand spectacle after dark, the flames shooting hundreds of feet into the air, despite a thick fog, illuminating the land and water for the oil was being pumped ashore burst-ing on the deck. The oil gushing from ing.

the pipe swept along the iron deck and streamed down into the engine-room. In a twinkling the fires had caught it, and with a roar they communicated with the loose oil spreading over the deck above.

There was one fireman below, who made a bold dash through the rushing flames and reached the deck, to fall flames and reached the deck, to fall there writhing in agony from the ter-rible burns received. He was picked up and hurried to the hospital, but his life is despaired of. The hair and mustache were burned from his head, and the clothing from his body.

BAFEBALL.

That was a ragged, picturesque, interesting game at Tecumseh Park yesterday. It had special features to burn. The way the Bains batted Cooper must have been rather annoying to that young hero of a hundred fights. Then some of the numerous errors on both sides were particularly stupid, and as costly as stupid.

The long lead taken by the Cockneys in the first inning, and held until the eighth, made the interest flag during the early part of the game. But it re-vived in the seventh inning, when Handiboe opened the pot with a three-sacker, and scored on Eddy's sacrifice. Hemphill reached first on Franck's erat short, and Martin followed on Mohler's poor attempt at a double play in which he lost both chances. Pickard's long fly to center brought the two men in, he himself going to third on Reed's poor throw, and scoring on an

In London's eighth inning the interest became intense. McFadden flew out to left fleld. Schwartz was hit by a pitched ball, stole second, and reached third on Thompson's error; Jones flew out to Handibee; Cope drew a pass, and stole second. With two men on bases and two men out, Franck had two strikes called on him before he finally hit the ball for three sacks, and Schwartz and Cope tallied, winning the game for London.

The five runs in the first inning were got peculiarly. Mohier made a three-sacker and scored on a passed ball.
Reed drew a pass and tallied on an error of Handiboe's. MoFadden singled and Schwartz reached first on Tipton's unsuccessful attempt to cut off McFadden at second.; Jones singled, Cope flew out to O'Brien, and Franck went to first on Jones' out at second. One of the best features of the game was a wonderful left-hand catch of after a long run. It was the best catch on these grounds this sea-son. Two men on bases at the time would undoubtedly have scored had he missed it. Mohler's feat was practically impossible and fairly dazed the fans for a few minutes. Score:

Rev. F. Elliott, of Richmond Hill. Gives Evidence in Favor of Dodd's Kidney Pills.

An Interview With a Well-Known Minister-His Experience With Dodd's Kidney Pills-He Recommends Them to All Sufferers.

Richmond Hill, July 18 .- Rev. Mr. Elliott has just lately returned from a month's trip in the pursuit of his duties as a country clergyman. Some time ago a letter of Mr. Elliott's was printed in the newspapers giving his opinion of Dodd's Kidney Pills. The letter read: "I consider Dodd's Kidney Pills a good honest reliable medicine for the diseases for which they are recommended. When I hear people complain of Lame Back or Rheumatic trouble I always say, 'why don't you take Dodd's Kidney Pills?' I wish to say that this testimonial is entirely unsolicited and only 'good will to men' induces me to allow my name to be published in this connection." While in Toronto on his way home to Richmond Hill, Mr. Elliott was in-Flidad 3. Time, 1:44%.

Pills. He himself was recommended to take them by Mr. Wideman, of Duntroon, who was crippled with Rheu-matism and bed-ridden for five months. "The last time I saw him before he started, taking Dodd's Kidney Pills," said Mr. Elliott, "I thought the next time we met would be at his funeral." Nevertheless, Mr. Wideman is alive and well today, solely on account of Dodd's Kidney Pills. Elliott says that an astonishing num-ber of people are using Dodd's Kidney Pills in different towns he visits, and all are delighted at the sure prospect they now have of getting well.

Most of the planos and organs in the South African republic are bought from Germany, but some are from England and the United States.

A DINNER PILL. — Many persons suffer excruciating agony after partaking of a hearty dinner. The food partaken of is like a ball of lead upon the stomach, and instead of being a healing nutriment, it becomes a poison to the system. Dr. Parmelee's Vegetable Pills are wonderful correctives of such troubles. They correct acidity, open the secretions and convey the food partaken of into healthy nutri-ment. They are just the medicine to take if troubled with indigestion. Much of the wisdom of one age is the

The Premier's Inadequate Salary.

The Montreal Gazette (Conservative) generously suggests that the salary of the Prime Minister should be increas-The question is not a new one, but it has been brought to the front again by the discussion of Sir Wilfrid Laurier's private affairs in the House of Commons. The Premier, to refute a mean slander, was obliged to disse that he had had to borrow money to enable him to purchase a residence at Ottawa. Many of the social functions which devolve on a premier are inseparable from his public post and entail an expense which his official salary is barely able to meet. Unless he has an independent income, he is put in an unjust and perhaps embarrassing position in trying to maintain the social honors of his station.

Sir John Macdonald, after a lifetime in the country's service, was by no means a rich man. Sir John Thompson died absolutely poor, and parliament, without a dissenting voice, voted his wife and children a substantial provision for the future. It was an act of public gratitude and public duty. Sir Wilfrid Laurier, by his devotion to politics, sacrificed a lucrative professional career. It is said a number for his personal friends recently undertook to raise privately testimonial of $100,000, in order to lift him above private anxieties. There are illustrious precedents for such a step both in British and Canadian public life; but it is understood the has declined the proffered It would be more credstable to the Dominion if its First Minister were given decent remuneration, so that if he happened to be a poor man he would not have financial wormes superadded to the cares of his office which, in all conscience, are enough. The Premier's salary of $3,000 per year is far less than is paid to many men who manage banks, ctal institutions, and who have nothing like the social obligations imposed on a Cabinet Minister.

This is a matter which should be handled with delicate consideration for the Premier's feelings. Rather than be thought self-seeking, he would reject any proposal to increase his allowance. It would be a graceful act, on the part of an Opposition member to move at the next session of Parliament that the salary be raised after the next general election. There would be no chance to make party capital out of such a motion. No self-respecting Canadian would raise an objection.

An English Expert on the Klondike.

a most interesting and exhaustive report on the Klondike by an English expert, A. N. C. Treadgold, M. A. (late scholar of Hertford College, Oxford), has been published by George N. Morang & Co., Toronto. Mr. Treadgold was the special commissioner of The Mining Journal, Railway and Commercial Gazette, of London, England. He appears to have gathered a vast amount of information, which is presented in clear, readable form, and in terms which show him to be a technical authority on mining. His report is illustrated by two maps, and by numerous diagrams and sketches. It is a most valuable addition to our information on Canadian resources and the favorable picture of conditions in the Yukon, which it presents must stimulate British interest and confidence in that great country.

Mr. Treadgold devotes a chapter to the administration of the Yukon, and throws a flood of light on the real source of the "grievances" and complaints which have reached eastern Canada in such a loud chorus. He thus defines the various groups and sections at Dawson camp:

1. The old-timers, used in the past to govern themselves, largely Americans, inclined to regard the incoming Canadian civil organization as needless, yet seldom heard on any subject save royalty; on that eloquent as on other 'crown reservations."

The chechakos or new-comers of this year, all of course chagrined to find that officials and old-timers had had not reserved a claim for each of their 20,000 on the best part of Eldorado or Dominion, but, except for this fact, easy to distinguish into.

(a) Australians, excellent fellows and good miners, used to laws of their own, and not always liking to have to obey the Canadian laws, complaining some time because "they had not been told that the Klondike was mostly staked out." but after a time settling down to work, pushing further afield (b) British Columbians, also accustomed to laws of their own, convinced that the Yukon ought to figure as part of British Columbia, the mining province of the Dominion; yet I never heard one of them suggest that Yukon claims (250 feet) should be reduced to the length of British Columbia claims (100 feet)

(c) Genuine miners, of whatever naionality, in considerable numbers with genuine grievances, partly remediable,

(d) A crowd of professional men and traders and "superior persons," all wanting claims, and expecting from the officials special facilities for acquiring claims. Some of them had been forbidden to practice law or medicine with-out Canadian diplomas. Many were adepts at "skinning" a new country, and hated to find that concessions from Ottawa barred their way in their quest for timber, firewood, hay, and rights of various kinds as for telephones, fer-

(e) Scum of all classes and trades and nations, ready to do or say any thing for dollars and for the privilege to loaf at Dawson, especially dangerous to the newspaper correspondent, whom they frequently beguiled with their loud-voiced complaint that there was nothing left for the "free miner," that "the officials kept all for themselves," etc., that the poor man had no chance of getting his letter or his record of a claim," etc.

A perusal of the above, Mr. Treadgold truly says, will show how plentiful a crop of grievances could be collected by a correspondent with an aptitude for the garbage of a mining camp, and without that power of perspective which is so necessary, and yet so difficult to exercise in hurried letter-writing. "It is beyond question," he adds, "that 'grievances' and 'scandals' were made on the outside to assume an importance which they never possessed in the Klondike itself." Mr. Treadgold proceeds to enumerate the genuine grievances of the Klondike among which he classes: 1. Unequal taxation. 2. Want of publicity of claim records. 3. Want of surveyors. 4. Certain defects in the mining laws. 5. Want of roads. 6. Want of adequate mail service and delivery of mail. 7. Want of recording officials on every creek. Mr. Treadgold says these grievances have been exaggerated by critics. A glance at the list reveals the need of time and of a whole army of trained officials, with an unlimited purse, to effect the remedy. The writer points out that the phenomenal growth of the camp, the sudden volume of business, and the fact that Canada is new to mining, made it hard for any officials to cope with the conditions in Dawson City, especially as the officials have to learn their business as they go on. He saw little that could not be made smooth by a telegraph wire to Ottawa, and a few changes in the mining laws. The telegraph line, which is now being erected, is the easiest step the mining interests of the country. Mr. Treadgold discusses the royalty at ength, and recommends that the taxes be spread over all classes and industries, instead of falling almost exclusively on the mining interests. The latter owe a very great debt to the Dominion for the security of person and property enjoyed in the Yukon; but the writer fears that the royalty may retard the development of the country by

However one may differ from Mr. Treadgold's conclusions, he reaches them by fair and reasonable argument. He gives the Dominion Government and the Yukon administration credit for the best intentions. He spurns as utterly base the attacks on the character of men like Major Walsh and Mr. Thos. Fawcett. "There is not a man living," he says, "who dare openly suggest that either of them was corrupt. " Evidently Mr. Treadgold had not heard of Sir Charles Hibbert Tupper. The legitimate grievances, he insists, arose from the inefficiency of two departmentsthe postoffice and the record officebut inexperience, and not corruption, was the cause. Since Mr. Treadgold's visit, these defects have been remedied and we now hear little complaint from making capital slow to move into it.

Dawson City. So many people lose their lives every year through not being able to swim that there is a disposition in many places to have children taught the swimming art along with their ordinary school studies. In Boston, any child under 15 years of age is entitled to be taught to swim at the public bathing place. This teaching will be given two hours daily, and one hour before and one hour after high tide on the beaches. The instructors are experts, and will teach the children the plain swimming stroke by the most scientific methods, leaving the little ones to pick up the fancy strokes as they see fit. The idea in view is to enable every child to save himself or herself from drowning when beyond depth. Later in the season there will be special instruction in life-saving work. The Bostonians exhibit wisdom. The proper time to learn to swim is in early youth. Then it is so easy; later in life, it is generally very difficult. In China, among the residents on the houseboats, every child is taught to swim almost as soon as it can walk, and thus, though often falling overboard, few children ever lose their lives. The same methods pursued among the hardy fishermen the Bahamas. When a child is thus taught to swim in early years, he never forgets it. He insures himself against drowning under almost every condition in which he may be placed.

Better News From South Africa. The news from London and Pretoris is more cheering. The action of the Raad in conceding the franchise to Uitlanders who have been seven years in the Transvaal has apparently averted a crisis and cleared up the situation in South Africa. At the recent conference between Sir Alfred Milner, the British Commissioner, and President Kruger, the latter flatly refused to consider the retroactive principle, except under restrictions' which Sir Alfred could not entertain. Since then the President has come to his senses, under the moral pressure of British war preparations. The seven-year term aproved by the Raad on Mr. Kruger's recommendation, will likely be accepted by the British Government as a reasonable compromise. A large number of Uitlanders will at once reach the status of citizenship and exercise the power of the ballot, which has been hitherto denied them. The Boers have a presentiment that the foreigners will use the franchise eventually to vote away the independence of the republic. They are right. The Uitlanders already outnumber the Boers, and in time will so utterly swamp them that political control must pass from the minority to the majority. It is a stage in the natural process of evolution which is shaping another great confederation under the British flag in South Africa.

Tennyson's famous phrase, "The eternal want of pence which vexes public men," seems to fit the Canadian Premiers exactly.

The Toronto Telegram says the street car disturbance in Toronto some years ago was a hundred times as bad as the disturbance here. Very true. But Toronto escaped humiliation because the disturbance did not enter the heads of the local authorities.

One of the aldermen who to now "hedging" on the strike question, has been the loudest denouncer of the Street Railway Company for years, and during the trouble last October declared that the Company had broken nearly every clause of the agreement, and that there was little use in asking them to carry out the clause which required them to provide a complete service. The Company and the City Council have been at loggerheads for years, and the Council have little reason to show the Company any leniency.

The American war correspondents at Manila have declared war on Gen. Otis, the American commander, who has been slaughtering their dispatches. The general has hitherto been far more successful in suppressing the truth than in suppressing the Filipinos, but the facts have now leaked out, and it looks as if the general's health will require him to be sent home. The American people are sick and tired of the way the war is dragging. The Administration will have to take vigorous measures to stamp out the insurrection, or the people will soon demand the reason why.

The Premier's House.

[Hamilton Herald.] The opposition in the Dominion House of Commons is guilty of pretty small business when it compels the head of the government to enter into a detailed, explanation of his personal affairs in order to show that he has not accepted a bribe from a wealthy

It had, he said, been common talk on the streets of Ottawa. Judges Should Be Circumspect

[Woodstock Sentinel-Review.] The attitude of some of the occupants of judicial and magisterial positions towards the public suggests that it might be an improvement on the present system if these officials were appointed for a term of years instead of for life. Taylor's blunder. [Toronto Telegram.]

Greed of money is not the flaw in the public or private character of Wilfrid Laurier, and it was a mistake for Geo. of an open accusation against the honor of the premier.

Judged by moral standards Mr. Taylor's achievement was worse than a mistake, but party strategy is not regulated by moral standards, and the failure which proves that his move was inexpedient carries more bitterness than the truth that his move was inexcusably wrong.

It is a good law in politics never to expose the weakness of an adversary in such a way as to give him a chance to reveal his own strength. The attempt of Mr. Taylor to fasten the regarded as important.

Epitish Government's Plan for Increase ing Anglo-Colonial Commerce.

Washington, D. C., July 19.-Details of plans by the British Government building up trade between the British West Indies and British ports, and between Canada and the British West Indies, have been received here. They are in a letter from the colonial office in London to the West Indian committee, written under direction of Mr. Chamberlain, secretary Taylor, M.P., to throw the full force for the colonies, explaining the plan of establishing new steamship lines, with subsidies paid in part by the Imperial Government and intended to link together the mother country and the colonies, as well as the colonies among themselves. The matter is of special interest in connection with the recent negotia-tions between the United States and Great Britain on reciprocity with the British West Indies, as these colonies have shown a disposition to look to this country for trade as well as to the mother country or Canada. As to the line between Canada and the Britguilt of a corrupt transaction on Wil-frid Laurier violated that law, and in-ionial office says: "As regards improvcidentally outrages one or two of the ed inter-insular service and an imten commandments which are usually proved Canadian service, a contract will, it is hoped, shortly be concluded with the aid of an imperial subsidy, between the Dominion Government and Messrs. This service will begin in May, 1900, the steamers making fortnightly runs and having fifteen knots speed. They will have a capacity for carrying 20,000 bunches of ban-anas, and while intended especially as fruit carriers, they will take passen-

60 HOUSES BURNED

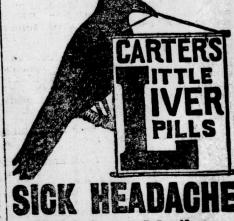

Disastrous Conflagration in Qubec-Loss Estimated at Over $100,000.

Quebec, July 19.—Quebec was again visited by a disastrous conflagration yesterday afternoon, the fire fiend destroying over 60 houses. The loss will be over $100,000; partially covered by some $50,000 of insurance.

At 3 o'clock fire broke out in the first story of a house occupied by the family of a man named Nadeau, a shoemaker, corner of Richardson street and Boulevard Lengelier, the upper part being occupied by the proprietor, a roofer, named Edmund Barbeau. Before the firemen arrived and got to work the fire had made considerable progress. The woodwork in the vicinity of the fire was dry and ignited like tinder. Next to the building where the fire originated was a shop full of inflammable material, such as varnish, oils, etc., belonging to Barbeau. Unfortunately there is a break in the water main, and the supply of water by the old pipes was very poor. A strong northeast wind was blowing, and the fire spread rapidly, notwithstanding the firemen's efforts. tachment of the Royal Canadian Ar-tillery was called from the citadal, and they set to work at once pulling down the houses belonging to Messrs. Guay and Bourget, in order to stop the progress of the fire.

At 5 o'clock twenty houses had been destroyed and the fire was still raging fiercely, threatening to spread in the direction of the large Congregation de Notre Dame Church (Roman Catholic), situated on the corner of St. Joseph and Caron streets. At 7 o'clock the fire brigade succeeded in getting the fire under control, but not before it had reduced to ashes between 60 and 70 houses.

The fire area covered three blocks, from Richardson street, on the Boulevard Lengelier, to St. Francis street. destroying houses on King street and on both sides of the street between St. Anseleme street and the Boulevard Langelier.

LINEMEN JOIN THE STRIKERS. The linemen of the company held a meeting last night and decided to join the strikers. The linemen are 30 in number. They do the repairing of trol-ley wires, and are an important factor operating a street railway. During the last strike no attempt was made to get them to strike, and they were kept busy in repairing the lines. Just what the company will do is not known. Linemen are scarce. All the linemen who are out are members of the Cleveland Electrical Workers' Union. An effort, it is said, will be made to bring out the power house employes.

ORE HANDLERS GO OUT. The ore handlers on the Nypano dock quit work this morning and six and rough lots, $2 to $4 25. Lambs sold 25c to 35c higher; western sheep 10c lower, and native wethers unchanged; vessels are hung up. The trouble was caused by a misunderstanding about the turns of vessels at the dock. Manager Coulby, of the dock had a conference with the vice-president of the union and the gang bosses. The men held a meeting at night, and the strike will probably be settled. An attempt was made to blow up the elevated railroad structure at Fifth avenue and Thirty-fifth street, Brook-lyn, early this morning. The police say that it was the work of the strikers or their sympathizers. One of the pillars of the structure was shattered by the explosion of dynamite at 1:10 a.m. The entire base of the pillar was blown to pieces and the side of the pillar several feet up were torn away. Several pieces of steel were thrown through neighboring houses. Several policemen who were on duty in the vicinity hurried to the scene of the explosion, but no arrests were made. The explosion caused a delay in the running of trains over the Fifth avenue line for a time. Fortunately no one was injured.

ARRESTS MADE. Twenty-two strikers were placed under arrest about four o'clock this King's New Discovery for Consumption, and was so much relieved on taking the first dose that she slept all morning, suspected of complicity in the South Brooklyn dynamite explosion on the elevated railroad. Acting under orders from Chief of Police Devery nine detectives proceeded to the strikers' headquarters, and placed all the strike leaders they found under arrest. The men are still under arrest, but it is expected they will be given a hearing this morning.

The situation of the Brooklyn strike today had not changed from that of yesterday sufficient to warrant either side in claiming gains over the other, although both are boasting of victories. From a general observation at 8 o'clock this morning there were fewer cars running past the city hall at the same hour on Tuesday. Very little travel was indulged in by patrons of the road during the forepart of the night, the cars being occupied principally by policemen.

Sergt. Jenkins' Resignation.

The Sergeant Says He Will Make His Charges Public.

If the Opportunity Is Not Otherwise Afforded-Two Resolutions Passed by the Board.

The board of police commissioners met in secret session yesterday afternoon in Police Magistrate Parke's office. The commissioners met to consider the resignation of Sergt. Jenkins, which contained implied charges against the chief and P. C. Egelton. Chief Williams was present at the meeting, but Sergt. Jenkins was not notified to be present. Sergt. Jenkins' resignation was accepted, Judge Elliot and Police Magistrate Parke voting for, and Mayor Wilson voting against searching investigation before the county judge of the affairs of the police force, with special reference to the resignation of Sergt. Jenkins, and the causes thereof.

The commissioners' position is set forth in the following resolution: ACCEPTED.

out any previous communication upon his part to the commissioners, and the commissioners have accepted his resignation, the commissioners are not called upon to make any particular examination as to the cause of his resignation.'

DECLINED.

"That the request of the city council to have an investigation before the county judges into the affairs of the police force is too vague to be acted upon. It is not stated in what particular this is asked for, and it is de

Mayor Wilson voted against these resolutions.

SERGT. JENKINS' POSITION.

Sergt. Jenkins, when seen this morning by an Advertiser representative "Under the circumstances I shall not be sorry to go. The conditions here have become simply intolerable. I desired an investigation in the hope that when the actual state of affairs became known to the commissioners they would at once see the necessity of a change. But without notifying me or making any inquiry, they met in secret session and accepted my resignation in a cowardly manner.

"The statement in the morning paper that I asked, previous to the meeting, to be allowed to withdraw my resignation is only partly true. Chief Williams asked me on Monday to withdraw my resignation, and to send a note to the commissioners retracting the charges hinted at in the resignation. I refused. A number of prom-inent citizens came to me and urged me to withdraw the resignation for a time at least, on account of the present disturbed state of the city. this ground alone I consented to withdraw it, but I refused to retract the implied charges. I do not care to say anything more at present regarding those charges, but if I cannot get them before the commissioners, I shall place them before the public."

The unanimous feeling among the members of the police force, with the exception of Chief Williams and P. C. Egelton, is that Sergeant Jenkins' with-drawal is a great loss to the force, and general dissatisfaction is expressed as openly as the men dare speak. Sergeant Jenkins was the drill instructor, and it is said there is not a man on the force can fill his place.

IMPROVEMENTS AT THE GRAND

London's Opera House to Receive New Scenery and Carpets, and To Be Handsomely Decorated-Some of the Attractions for the Coming Season.

The Grand Opera House is at present undergoing an improvement which will be gratifying to theater-goers next season. For two or three seasons past the scenery has not been ornamental, as well as pleasing, to those who have attended, and this year when the season opens the entire theater proper will have received a renovating that will make it probably the best and prettiest theater in Ontario. Mr. Louis Fett, an American scenic artist of excellent reputation, is at present in the city, and has already commenced work upon the scenery. Mr. Fett's work has already been shown upon many scenic can-vasses in several of the theaters in Canada. When he is finished he will place in the Grand some of the finest scenes that the artist's brush is cap- son opens.

able of turning out. To begin with. . new drop-curtain will be painted; at present the design has not been settled on, but it will be a handsome affair, without any doubt. The many sets of scenery, which became somewhat worn, will be entirely thrown out, and a complete and modern set of scenery will be painted. The proscenium arch will be decorated, and the wails of the The Police Commissioners Accept theater, which were painted a dark red two years ago, will be brightened up with a lighter red. The walls on the sides will be frescoed, in harmony with the red background. All the painting will be done in a color that harmonizes with the rest of the embellishments. The lobby will also be painted and decorated from the entrance up. The side walls and ceilings on the stairway up, will also be decorated and freshly painted. The balcony will also receive the same attention. After all this work has been completed the entire theater will be newly carpeted. Sing the Grand was built the mechanical devices for moving and shifting scenery have improved wonderfully, and the more modern way of shifting scenes will be used. The grooves will also be taken out, and instead the scenes will be held by lashed lines and braces.

Last season's business here was the most prosperous ever experienced by Mr. C. J. Whitney, and to the energetic management of Mr. A. E. Roote ne doubt was due the success, besides the better class of attractions that London received.

Already the majority of the attractions have been booked. The attractions for the fair are: Gorman Bros., "Who is Who?" and "Darkest Russia." for, and Mayor Wilson voting against the acceptance.

The mayor presented a letter and a resolution passed at the last meeting of the city council, demanding a some of the attractions: "De Wolf Hopper, "Bride Elect," West's Minstrels, "Gay Metropolis," Louis Morrisof, "The Christian," Primrose & Dockstader's Minstrels, Colonial Girl Opera Company, Otis Skinner, Modjeska, "Cherry Pickers," "Under the Red Robe," Ward & Vokes, Field's Minstrels, Gilmore's Band.

Electricians are now at work wiring the house, and before the season opens the entire theater and stage will be supplied with incandescent lights.

WANT MILES SENT TO MANILA

To Take Otis' Place and Push the War.

Natives Are Fighting to Rid Them. selves of Tagal Rule in Philippine Provinces.

Washington, July 18 .- Press comment in the east today is largely in favor of sending someone to take Gen. Otis' place in charge of the American campaign in the Philippines. A majority of the papers urge Gen. Miles as the one man above all others who should have been sent in the first place and who should now be given an opportunity to exercise the responsibility attaching to his office of commanding general. SENT SOME MULES, ANYWAY. On a rush order from the war department, 200 horses and mules and 50 escort wagons were shipped from the Chickamauga quartermaster's department to San Francisco yesterday by special train, to be forwarded at once to Manila.

Manila, July 19.-The natives of the Province of Albay, South Camarines and North Camarines are endeavoring to throw off the domination of the Tagals. It is reported that there has been fighting between the people of the provinces named, and small bands of Tagals who were quartered upon them, running the local governments, and that the people in question are willing to declare allegiance to the United States when troops are sent to protect them.

Popular Grand Trunk Freight Agent Going Into Business.

Has Purchased the Business of A. D. Cameron & Son, Coal and Wood Dealers-A Possible Successor.

Mr. R. W. Scott, the well-known freight agent of the Grand Trunk here, having purchased the business of A. D. Cameron & Son, has tendered his resignation, to take effect in two months. Mr. Scott has the ability and experience to make his new undertaking a great success, and as an addition to the ranks of prominent business men in London he will have the best wishes of a very large circle of friends. By his resignation the Grand Trunk loses a popular and efficient servant. He began his railroad career in this city in 1873 as messenger boy with the Grand Trunk prior to the amaigamation with the Great Western, and worked steadily up the ladder. In 1882 he was appointed relieving agent east of Montreal, and has since been permanently located as agent at St. Hyacinthe, Quebec, Port Hope, Guelph and London. He returned to London from Guelph as cashier, and next was located at Chatham. From there he was moved to Niagara Falls, where he had charge of all the business, including the customs. Upon the death of the late E. N. King, Mr. Scott received the important appointment of agent at London. Wherever Mr. Scott has been he has made a host of friends. He has tangible evidence of the good will of the business men with whom he has come in contact, those of Guelph, Chatham, Niagara Falls and London having presented him with illuminated addresses. Mr. Arthur H. Huff, district freight agent of this city, is spoken of as Mr. Scott's successor.

Yet she was thankful that In the midst of melancholy and dazement, her appointed way lay clear and before her; that she had still a sure staff on which to lean-the hope and resolve that she would do her duty bravely and well in the sphere which her marriage-vow had set her apart. It was indicative of the generous temper and sound sense that never failed to assert themselves when momentary tumult of passion had passed, which neither her faults nor the influence of the tempter had warped, that she had never, for one moment blamed Roy for hurrying forward their marriage. the platform of the Hamilton station had cheered her heart like a cordial. She forgot that he was her husband; remembered him only as a noble and faithful friend, in whose presence she would be no longer solitary and sad. She was even conscious of a proud sense of proprietorship in the looking, dignified man who was the first to enter the car when it stopped - a consciousness that flushed her cheeks faintly, and quickened her pulses, as she introduced him to the gentleman who had acted as her escort, and heard his well-chosen words of acknowledg-ment for the favor done him. He had not kissed her then-she supposed because there were so many looking on; but after taking his place beside her in the carriage, he would surely tell her that her coming gave him joy; repeat something of the rapturous anticipa-tions that had overflowed his heart in writing his last letter, received by her the night before. His face was very pale, his eyes abstracted, his voice constrained. Anything more unlike the Roy she had known in Dundee could hardly be imagined, without changing the identity of the man. It was not! surprising that a qualm of homesickness weakened her heroic resolutions; put to flight her dreams of forgetting her unhappiness in the sustained effort to be and do all he wished. Roy saw the struggle and surmised, in part, the cause of it; but what could he say to assuage or encourage? The caresses and fond words with which he had sought to console her in the ear-lier days of her desolation must, he now saw in the lurid light shed upon his honeymoon by that terrible letter, "But there is only one Jessie in the have aggravated her sufferings.

The divorce evil seems to grow with every year. 7,500 divorces were granted in the State of Ohio last year. We agree that there are faults on both sides, but the great problem is: Are those faults remediable? To a great extent there is no doubt the conditions which result in divorce may be remedied. Given a dyspeptic husband and a wife suffering from female trouble and we have the ready made elements of a divorce case. In view of the facts there can be very little doubt that many women look forward to divorce only because they seek relief from obligations they do not feel fitted to fulfill. Women are not to blame. They have looked forward to their home life as a dream of paradise. Then disease comes like a sergent and destroys

A LETTER TARI

Mr. John Hague's Revelations - Mr. Devlin and Irish Immigration-The Late Senator Sanford.

Ottawa, July 15. The Montreal Herald, a few days ago, published a remarkable letter from Mr. John Hague, editor of the Journal of Commerce, purporting to give the inside history of the preparation of the gerrymander bill of 1882. Mr. Hague tells how, at the request of Sir John Macdonald, he prepared an electoral map, showing the vote in the various constituencies at the two previous elections. "I was informed," he says, "that what the government wished to effect was a rearrangement of the electoral districts, so far as possible recognizing a common unit of representation. however, was to be made sufficiently elastic to allow the grouping of different sections of the districts so as to detach Conservative voters from places where they were in excess of the needs of a majority, and the attachment of such voters to districts where the new accession would turn the scale in an election in favor of a Conservative candidate, where a Liberal has hitherto been returned. toral districts which were hopelessly Liberal were, if possible, to be abolished, or the constituencies so arranged as to put the Liberal voters all together in one district, especially where they could be drawn away from a district where they menaced

the Conservative candidate. HIVING THE GRITS.

"The process was afterwards called 'hiving,' which is quite appropriate, though while the work was being done for the act of 1882 this word was never used. After making a co-lossal chart, I took each electoral dission for her. And he could not free her. triet and its surroundings in hand, Loving her better than he did his own and wrote upon each the number happiness and life, he was powerless polled for each party at the two previous elections, the total number of electors with the majority in each than the true Christian and true man case. I colored each district so as to he was, the distracting anguish of that show at a glance its political com-conviction would have driven him to plexion. I then made a thorough student in the university. The smile madness and to suicide, as a sequel to lingered lovingly about mouth and eyes, while he tore off the inner wrapcovery of his real position.

It was by such kindly deeds as a brother said the configuration of some of might perform for the promotion of a these represented nothing on earth, sister's welfare; by abstaining from in the heavens, or the waters under even such manifestations of affections as are a brother's right. There should represented an effort to fix the bounbe no formal explanation until she daries of electoral districts accordhal acovered from the fatigue of her ing to two rules; first, on the princijourney, and begun to feel at home in ple of equal representation to equal her new abode. Thus much he could numbers of voters; second, on the numbers of voters; second, on the principle that electoral districts should "What a pretty, pretty house," ex-claimed Jessie, as the carriage drew up the party in power when they are rearranged. These rules do not work well together, hence the highly ec-centric shapes of some of the dis-tricts on the chart I have constructed. The Gerrymander Act as it was called was simply the chart I have constructed expressed in legal language.

There is nothing particularly new in this confession of Mr. Hague's, for it has been practically admitted often-times that the principles actuating the framers of the last two redistribution were exactly those suggested in the above statement. It is, however, interesting to have confirmation from such a well-informed source. ANOTHER BURBLE BURST It will be within the memory of many of your readers that during the last session of parliament considerable fuss was made by Sir Hibbert Tupper in the public accounts committee over the expenditure of certain federal moneys the purpose of investigating frauds in Manitoba in connection with the federal general election. The energetic and imaginative ex-minister of justice charged all sorts of things in connection with this matter. Cabinet ministers had paid their private debts out of the fund, Liberal candidates had drawn on it for their election expenses. party workers had made a good thing for themselves on the side, and, in fact, the public moneys had been squandered right and left. Every facility was given to Sir Hibbert Tupper to prove his charges, and any and all witnesses whom he desired were summoned before the committee. The result was complete failure to prove one solitary allegation; but, nothing daunted, Sir Hibbert declared that if the matter were laid over till this session he would prove everything. The matter was laid over at his request. All manner of returns were prepared at considerable cost, and now, after the government had put every possible facility at his disposal, Sir Hibbert abandons the investigation and practically admits that he had no evidence whatever upon which to base his reckless charges, but that he was only fishing, in the vague hope of discovering something to make

DEATH OF SENATOR SANFORD. The tragic death of Senator Sanford drowning in Muskoka has called forth widespread expressions of sym-pathy and regret. The deceased gentleman was particularly well liked in the halls of legislature, irrespective of politics. He was a favorite with all with whom he came in contact. pointed to the senate by Sir John Macdonald, though he was prepared at all times to give an intelligent consideration to current events, he was not an ardent politician. Blessed with abundance of this world's goods, amassed through his own industry and integrity, he gave liberally to such religious and philanthropic projects as com-mended themselves to his judgment. Though an American by birth, he was thoroughly British in all his sympathies, and within the four corners of the Dominion there could not be found a more loyal and whole-hearted Canadian than William Ell Sanford. IRISH SETTLERS IN THE WEST.

The Globe's Ottawa correspondent states: "On Saturday next Mr. Charles R. Devlin, the government immigra-tion agent in Ireland will sail for Londonderry. Mr. Devlin has spent the last two months in the Northwest. In the course of his journeyings Mr. Devlin met a number of Irish settlers whom he had been instrumental in sending to Canada. They expressed themselves satisfied and contented, and were enthusiastic over their prospects. 'A feeling prevails among Irish-Cana-dian settlers in Manitoba and the Northwest,' adds Mr. Devlin, 'that a strong effort should be made in Ireland to set forth the advantages enjoyed by their countrymen already reaping the benefits of the change.' The crop outlook so far as Mr. Devlin had been able ascertain was decidedly favorable He will return to Ireland more than ever favorably impressed with Manitoba and the Northwest. His recent experiences will further qualify him speaking from personal knowledge of the great advantages Canada offers as a field for settlement."

CHANGES IN POSTAGE STAMPS A.

Unsued 3-Cent Stamps May Be Redeemed at Face Value-The New 2-Cent Stamp.

Ottawa, July 18.-The Postoffice Department has issued the following notice: "Owing to the reduction in the domestic letter rate of postage, the issue of the three-cent letter-card, the three-cent stamped envelope and the three-cent postage stamp from the department has ceased. Any unused three-cent letter-cards, three-cent stamps still extant will, however, continue available for postage purposes, or may be exchanged at any postoffice at their full face value for postage stamps of other denominations. The color of the domestic-rate postage stamp, as prescribed by the Universal Postal Union, is red, and it is intended to discontinue the issue of the ordinary two-cent purple colored stamps as soon as the present supply on hand is exhausted. This will be about the 20th July, 1899. Thereafter the department will issue two-cent stamps in red; first, however, surcharging down to two cents the unissued remnant of three-cent stamps in red now in the possession of the department, and as soon as the supply of such surcharged threes is exhausted the issue of two-cent stamps in red will begin. The surcharged stamps will be issued to postmasters as two cent postage stamps, and be recognized as stamps of that denomination. Postmasters are requested to change, as above mentioned, all unused three-cent letter-cards, three-cent stamped envelopes and three-cent stamps which may be offered them to be exchanged for other postage stamps of an equal value. Postmasters who. as a result of such exchange, may find the three-cent stamps, etc., un-salable, are at liberty, in the case of an accounting postoffice, to send them direct to the department for credit; and in the case of a non-accounting postoffice, to send them to the city postoffice from which it obtains its supplies, asking, in lieu of those returned, other stamps to an equal value. Postmasters must distinctly understand that the exchange of stamps herein permitted applies only to the three-cent letter-card, the three-cent stamped envelope and the three-cent postage stamp.

HUGE CONTRACT

The Carnegie Steel Company Makes Billion Dollar Deal.

Pittsburg, July 19.-The Pressed Steel Car Company has contracted with the Carnegie Steel Company for 30,000 tons of steel plates monthly, for a perlod of ten years. This is the largest steel contract ever awarded to one firm, and amounts to about $1,000,000,-900. A representative of the Pressed Steel Car Company said today that the actual cost of the material to be furnished will be between $75,000,000 and $80,000,000 a year. The delivery of the contract will begin on Aug. 1 next.

Several months ago the Carnegie Bteel Company contemplated the erection of a mammoth steel car plant, but the project was abandoned and a working arrangement entered into between the Pressed Steel Car Company and the Carnegies, the terms of which provided for the purchase of all steel requir-ed by the car company from the Car-

To the Editor of The Advertiser:

A recent case that appeared before the court, and which has attracted much attention, has been one that affects the public in regard to the weight of articles purchased. It has been stated in open court by some witnesses that it was a common practice for grocers and others to weigh in the paper, or other wrapping material, with the article sold. Now we would like to emphatically contradict this, and we state that it is not the practice of the trade to do so. There are individual cases in which it is done, as was proved against the accused in court, but our goods have been before the public for many years, and we can say most decidedly that every package of tea sold under the brand of "Salada" contains full weight inside the lead of each package. We will thank you very much if you will acquaint your readers of this fact. Yours truly, THE SALADA TEA COMPANY,

Annual Picnic of the Scots at Port Stanley.

One of the Most Successful in the History of St. Andrew's Society.

Grand Weather-Great Crowd-Good Music-Excellent Management _A Glorious Day.

The annual outing of St. Andrew's Society and Clan Fraser, held at Port Stanley yesterday, was an immense affair. The trains leaving this city both morning and afternoon were crowded. The number that went from here is estimated at about 2,500; added to this were the hundreds from St. Thomas and many other places in the vicinity of Port, which made the total attendance between 3,500 and 4,000.

It was "a braw day," and the fine crowd of Scotchmen and their friends were happy.

Everything favored the promoters of the picnic, and notably the weather, which was perfect—fine and breezy. The attractions provided were the best for many years.

THE BANQUET.

In the evening, as is customary, a banquet was held at the Fraser House, with President Wanless in the chair. The dining hall was gaily decorated with flags, bunting and flowers. Acting on this advice I procured the medicine, and less than half a bottle cured me; was with reluctance that I consented to a trial, as I was reduced to such a state that I doubted the power of any semedy to do me good. I certainly believe it saved my life. It
