Tory Truce!

leau Temporarily Comes Into Line.

Old Ministers to Resume Their Portfolios.

ohn Thompson the Real Premier of the Country.

sting Interview With the Secre- y of State, the Report of Which He Indorses as Partially Correct.

ESTING INTERVIEW WITH MR. CHAP LEAU.

TTAWA, June 16.—A cablegram has been ived by Mr. Abbott from Sir Charles per congratulating him on his appoint- t as Premier. It is understood the nt places in the Cabinet, President of Council, Minister of Railways and als and Minister of Agriculture, will be filled this session.

t is reported that Mr. Chapleau has re- ved a written guarantee from Mr. bott that he will be made Minister of ilways and Canals after the session. Mr. apleau was asked if the interview with n in the Montreal Herald of yesterday s correct, and he replied that it was tially correct. This is the interview:

"It is quite evident, Mr. Chapleau, that Herald was right when it stated that Abbott would be called to form a binet."

"Yes, you were correct. It is an ex- mely difficult task under the circum- nces to do and do successfully, what has n asked of him. He was busy Friday Saturday, and he has only to-morrow ore him, so you may judge of his work."

"Why did you say 'under the circum- tances?"

"Ah, now (with a suggestive shrug of the shoulders), you probably know quite well what I mean without my saying too much."

"I think I do. Another thing I know, Mr. Chapleau. Simply this: More than one Montrealer hangs to the opinion that before long your name and those of your followers will be heard of among the Liberal ranks."

Another shrug of the shoulders; then without hesitation, but instead, a gleam of determination in his eye: "I do not doubt it. I must have my rights, or I may do something which I will not now say."

"I should like to hear it now."

Gestures, nothing more, and then I con- "What portfolio do you wish, Mr. au?"

ore Sir John Macdonald died he told at he intended to resign his portfolio that I should have it. Our beloved emier is gone, but I remember his promise, d beyond that I also remember that by iority I am entitled to the position of ister of Railways and Canals, and I have my rights."

o you know who the men are who will selected for the offices? I do not include urself or Sir Hector."

"I have no doubt that with the excep- ions you have mentioned the old Cabinet will be again selected. I think, however, that there is no man who is better qualified to accept the Premiership than Sir John Thompson. He is a clever man, though perhaps not quite such a manipulator of men as one could wish for in a leader; these are not always the best kind."

"You will have to be satisfied with Mr. Abbott."

"Quite so. Mr. Abbott is, as you probably know, a great friend to the C. P. R., while everyone knows that my friends are those of the G. T. R. Now, do you not see that in case I am appointed as the Minister of Railways it would mean a stepping stone to harmony and peace?"

"But would Sir Hector like this? You must know, Mr. Chapleau, that public opinion, and public opinion counts high, claims that you and the Minister of Public Works are not very good friends."

"Personally we are quite good friends, but partisans on either side have talked considerably, and this may have a great to do with what you have just spoken

Some have suggested Sir Hector as the er of the Government."

That would never do. In the first place s getting very old, and then his follow- in the House is very small. I was tunate, he was unfortunate. I am re- ferring to the last elections. Do you know that now I have the largest following in the House?"

"I did not know it until you told me, but o know that in this city at least Sir tor is very unpopular."

r. Chapleau did not appear to relish this or to in any way gloat over his con- 's fall, but in a quiet manner he said: Hector's usefulness is gone, and I k he will soon retire."

What would he then do?"

Seek rest."

When do you propose to return to Ot- a?"

I have had a carriage ordered and have le arrangements to be taken back to the pital to-night, so that I shall be on hand receive Mr. Abbott's answer to-morrow."

"Answer to what?"

"To a question. I must be told my position at once; in fact, we must all know immediately what is going to be done. The House will sit on Tuesday and a great crisis is at hand."

"To what do you refer—the formation of the Cabinet?"

"Y-e-e-s; though I do not apprehend any great trouble, but at the same time I must tell you that Mr. Abbott is a wise lawyer. Take for instance his work upon the Insolvency Act; take a look at his business principles. Yet when remembering all this, you must not forget that politically he is almost unknown, while Sir John Thompson is eminently fitted for the position. Ontario people take exception to his religious principles, but when I tell you that when a man takes a position and holds it simply because of his religious tendencies it is time that he should retire."

"You have no ambition to lead the party yourself?"

"None whatever. I am ready to follow the right man, but my principles will always be just sentiments and not those of party. Should I be called upon to fill the important position of Minister of Railways and Canals I shall carry out the same as that I worked upon when twice before I held a similar position."

In referring to the Intercolonial Railway Mr. Chapleau said that it was sure to drop between $500,000 and $600,000 this year.

POLITICAL PROBABILITIES.

The Mail's Ottawa correspondent says; "More than one Minister has expressed the opinion that there must be an adjournment of Parliament from day to day till some agreement is arrived at. The question of leadership of the House has been helved until the new Government is able to meet and act for itself. In the meantime everyone is at liberty to choose his own candidate. It rests of course between Sir Hector Langevin and Sir John Thompson, and if the former is chosen, the arrangement will be regarded as only temporary. The meeting which the Ministers held today was called by personal letters from Mr. Abbott. He wrote to all who had accepted, inviting them to confer with him in the office of the President of the Privy Council.

All the Ministers except Mr. Chapleau and Mr. Frank Smith made their appearance. Mr. Frank Smith is out of the city, and Mr. Chapleau was absent on account of illness and doubtless other reasons. The situation was talked over for and hour, and Mr. Chapleau's attitude was no doubt the chief topic. At 1 o'clock six of the Ministers emerged and walked off in pairs. Sir Adolphe Caron and Sir Hector Langevin were together, for since the political horizon became obscured they seem to have become inseparable. Sir Adolphe is at Sir Hector's house or Sir Hector is in Sir Adolphe's office. They are pulling in the same boat, and what the one does the other stands or falls by. After them came Messrs. Tupper and Foster, who were followed by Messrs. Carling and Costigan. Those that remained in the room were Mr. Abbott, Sir John Thompson and Mr. Bowell. The three had evidently been delegated to give further consideration to the situation. They were a special committee for the pacification of Mr. Chapleau. In half an hour they adjourned.

In private interviews several Ministers authorize the statement that Mr. Chapleau is still pressing for the portfolio of Railways, and the demand is not being acceded to. Sir Hector Langevin's friends express themselves as satisfied with the turn of events, and say that Mr. Abbott's Premiership is a check to Mr. Chapleau.

[Special to the ADVERTISER.]

OTTAWA, Oct. 16.—The Cabinet will meet Parliament this afternoon as if the illness of Sir John Macdonald had not terminated fatally. The Premier will not be lying ill at Earnscliffe, but he will be silently waiting in his apartments for the meeting of his indolent and superfluous Senate to-morrow night at 8:30. All the Ministers will be back in their old portfolios with that of Railways and Canals probably in charge of Hon. Mackenzie Bowell. Sir John Thompson will be the real Premier of the country with a mask in both Houses. The Government supporters will hold a caucus to-morrow morning, and will press for an early adjournment with a view to holding an extra session in the fall. This will likely be vigorously opposed by the Liberals, who do not mean to leave the criminals in the McGreevy scandal longer unwhipped of justice.

Mr. Chapleau has come into line temporarily. He will keep his present portfolio during a short session, with the explicit understanding that he replaces Langevin in the leadership and receives the Railway Department at prorogation.

[Press Dispatch.]

OTTAWA, June 16.—Hon. Mr. Chapleau has joined the new Ministry on condition that he will become Minister of Railways after the session. The Railway Department in the meanwhile will be administered by Hon. Mackenzie Bowell, Minister of Customs. Hon. Mr. Abbott, Premier-elect, will become President of the Privy Council. Sir John Thompson will lead the Lower House.

LET DOWN EASILY.

"A Cushion" Softens the Prince of Wales' Fall.

Albert Edward Gets Off with "An Apology."

Rumors of His Entanglement in Another Disgraceful Affair.

LONDON, June 16.—In regard to the baccarat scandal, Hon. Edward Stanhope, replying to a question asked in the House of Commons, said Sir William Gordon Cummings was the chief person who had broken faith, because he did not report the case to his commanding officer. Gen. Owen Williams was a retired officer of the army, and was not, therefore, subject to regulations. The regulations had never been specially brought to the notice of the Prince of Wales, but when they were brought to his notice, and looking back at all the circumstances of the case, the Prince saw the error which he had committed in not requiring Sir William Gordon Cumming to immediately report the matter to his commanding officer. Mr. Stanhope added: Lieut. Levett had written a letter to his commanding officer expressing deep regret that he had not acted in accordance with army regulations. Consequently, said the Secretary of War in conclusion, it was not proposed to take any further action in the matter.

The London Chronicle finds fault with the Government and the War Office for providing a cushion to soften the Prince of Wales' fall. Instancing the case of a private who was degraded for shielding a comrade who stole a trifle while drunk, the Chronicle asks, "Why should a field marshal—the Prince of Wales—be treated differently. We get nothing in the shape of military benefit from any of the Royal family. The least we expect is that they remember that they wear the uniform."

The Primitive Methodist Conference at Northampton has passed a resolution censuring the Prince of Wales for his connection with the baccarat scandal.

A rumor is current that Lord Brooke has filed a petition for a divorce from his wife on the ground of adultery with the Prince of Wales. The intimacy between the Prince of Wales and the Brookes has long been a matter of common knowledge, but it has always been regarded as a platonic attachment.

The London Daily News says: "We venture to say the Prince of Wales' new departure, in substantially apologizing to Parliament and the country, exhibits a just deference to public opinion which will dispose of the whole matter. The pain which the unpleasant process must have cost the Prince will count as a part of his expiation with every generous mind."

DOMINION PARLIAMENT.

Abbott and Thompson Assume the Reins of Power,

And the Old Government, Headed by the Tories, Champion the Old Policy.

OTTAWA, June 16.—When the House opened this afternoon the late Premier's chair was vacant. No information was vouchsafed as to who was to fill the vacant portfolio of Railways and Canals. The announcement was made by Sir Hector Langevin, and this settled all speculations as to who would be the leader of the Commons. Sir Hector Langevin had insisted upon his rights, and those rights had been conceded by the new Premier. Mr. Chapleau was the only Minister absent.

Sir Hector Langevin read the following statement from Hon. Mr. Abbott:

"Having obtained the requisite permission from his Excellency, I desire to make a statement of proceedings after the death of the late Right Honorable Sir John Macdonald. It was felt by his Excellency that the state of public affairs did not necessitate the formation of a new Cabinet until the grave had closed over the late Premier and the last honors had been paid him. On the morning following the funeral his Excellency, exercising his constitutional right, applied to the Hon. Sir John Thompson for his advice with respect to the steps which should be taken for the formation of a new Government. Later, on the same day, by Sir John Thompson's advice, I was myself summoned by his Excellency, and after consideration I accepted on the following day the duty which his Excellency desired me to assume. I therefore communicated with my colleagues and requested their consents to remain in their respective offices, and with their assent submitted to his Excellency my recomendation that they should be continued in the positions, which his Excellency was pleased to approve, and he also sanctioned my assuming the departmental office of President of the Council. The vacancy caused by the lamented death of the late Right Hon. Sir John Macdonald has not been filled, and, pending the appointment of a successor, the affairs of the Department of Railways will be administered by a member of the Cabinet.

It was not yet 4 o'clock when Michael Connolly was commanded to appear on the floor of the House, and Sir John Thompson moved that "an act with respect to certain matters affecting administration of justice be read a second time." It was briefly discussed in committee and passed its reading.

At 4:10 Michael Connolly appeared at the bar, attended by his counsel, Mr. Ferguson, Q.C., in his barrister's gown. Connolly was silent and respectful now. He wore a light summer suit with the coat unbuttoned, revealing his faultless white waistcoat and gold Albert chain. His head was bent slightly forward. His left arm leaned on the gilded bar, and he touched the brazen end with the finger of his right. His attitude of respectful attention changed not as long as he was allowed to stand there.

"I move," said Sir John Thompson, "that the report of the sub-committee and the exhibits annexed be read in the presence of the witness in order that he may have a full knowledge of the report which the committee has made." The motion was agreed to, and Mr. Rouleau read the documents in a way that nobody could possibly understand. "Read them in English now," sarcastically observed Dr. Montague from the Government benches. "Yes, read them in English," struck in members on both sides of the House amid general laughter when Mr. Rouleau's task was done.

Sir John Thompson then asked Mr. Connolly whether he was willing to place in the custody of the committee the books in his possession that have been demanded in the Tarte-McGreevy investigation.

Mr. Daly interposed, on behalf of the witness. "Before that question is put," he said, "I move that Michael Connolly be heard at the bar of this House by counsel."

This motion was agreed to and a lengthy defense of Mr. Connolly's position was read by Mr. Ferguson, reciting the probable injury to the business interests of the firm which might follow communication to the public of information contained in these books having no connection whatever with the investigation, but adding that if the House insisted upon the surrender of the books Connolly was prepared to bow to the decision.

On motion Connolly then withdrew from the House accompanied by several officers, and Sir John Thompson moved for an order that the books should be produced to the clerk of the House, saying he would have added that Connolly be placed in the custody of the sergeant-at-arms until the order was complied with were it not for the statement just made by counsel that he was prepared to obey the order. The motion carried.

The House then went into Committee of Supply, and the item for Dorchester penitentiary was discussed, Mr. Muloch taking exception to the manufacture of woodenware carried on there. In connection with the item for the Stoney Mountain penitentiary it was announced that Col. Bedsor, whose health had broken down, had been retired on a pension, and that the penitentiary was now in the charge of Mr. Foster, an accountant in the penitentiary branch of the justice department at Ottawa.

The House rose at 6, and after recess other items were discussed. The item of $150,000 for revisions of electoral lists under the Franchise Act under the heading of legislation provoked discussion in the neighborhood of 11 o'clock. There was talk about the officers employed, about the revising barristers and on the general broad question of revision.

Mr. Mulock complained of the enormous expense to which the country had been put by the previous revisions. Altogether they had cost nearly $1,000,000. The act itself was condemned on every side of the House.

Dr. Landerkin appealed to the Minister, in view of the prospects of an unfavorable season for agriculturists to, put the $250,000 which the revision would cost into seed grain for the farmers. They probably might not do much good for the Tory party if expended in that way, but they would do far more for the country as a whole. The item, however, was agreed to.

On the motion for adjournment, Sir Richard Cartwright asked when the Minister of Finance intended to make his budget. Mr. Foster said that if nothing extraordinary happened he proposed to make his statement on Tuesday next.

Mr. Patterson pointed out the importance of having the budget brought down at once. It ought to have been brought down long ago. He said the Minister must know that the sugar trade was almost paralyzed. It was expected, whether rightly or wrongly he could not say, that the sugar duties would be dealt with in some way, and it was important that the tariff changes should be known.

Mr. Foster protested that it was no fault of his that the budget had not been brought down before. It was owing to circumstances he could not control. If possible he would deliver it on Friday. If not it would be on Tuesday.

Sir Richard Cartwright thought it was important that a day should be fixed. Mr. Foster promised to let the House know definitely to-morrow. The House rose at 11:15 o'clock.

THE ANGLICANS.

Opening Business Session of the Synod of Huron.

An Eloquent Address by the Bishop.

Resume of Church Affairs for the Year —The Financial Outlook—The Deficit in the Clergy Maintenance and Mission Fund—Delegates Complain of Hard Times.

The opening devotional services of the Synod of the Diocese of Huron took place at St. Paul's Cathedral Tuesday at 10 o'clock, and was attended by clerical and lay delegates, the divinity students in gowns, and a fair representation of the general public. The Bishop of Huron, the Dean of Huron, Archdeacon Mulholland, of Owen Sound, Canons Hills, of St. Thomas, Hincks, of Windsor, and Richardson and Davis, of London, and Rev. Principal Miller, of Huron College, were the assisting clergymen. George B. Sippi presided at the organ, and a detachment of the choir was present. Rev. Principal Miller preached the sermon from Isaiah, ix, 8. "The Lord sent a word unto Jacob and it hath lighted upon Israel." The discourse showed profound thought and was couched in eloquent language. The applicability of the text to the influences of the Bible were pointed out clearly. Nations which were once poor are now prosperous owing to the presence of the wonderful book, and nations once rich are now poor for the want of it. In its teachings lay the only panacea for the ills of humanity, to remedy which statesmen were puzzled and philosophers confounded. The preacher hoped the blessing of God would rest upon the deliberations of the Synod.

At 2:30 in the afternoon the Synod's regular business was commenced, a large proportion of the following delegates being present:

TAKE NOTICE THAT THE MUNICIPAL Council of the corporation of the city of London intends to construct a tile drain on Hamilton street and Maple avenue, and thence northwesterly to the River Thames, between Maryboro Place and the said River Thames, and to assess the final cost thereof upon the property abutting thereon and to be benefited thereby, and that a statement showing the lands liable to pay the said assessment and the names of the owners thereof as far as can be ascertained from the last revised assessment roll is now filed in the office of the clerk of the municipality and is open for inspection during office hours. The estimated cost of the work is $688, of which $196 is to be provided out of the general funds of the municipality. A court of revision will be held on Friday, the 19th day of June, at 8 p.m., at the city clerk's office, for the purpose of hearing complaints against the proposed assessment or accuracy of the frontage measurements, or any other complaints which persons interested may desire to make, and which is by law cognizable by the court. C. A. KINGSON, city clerk. Dated June 9, 1891. 65u x

ABOUT HAIR

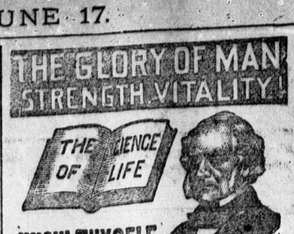

Editor of the ADVERTISER:

Sir,—I have, as you know, for some time advertised in Canada and the States a prescription for the hair called "Dr. Dorenwend's Hair Magic." I have received some thousands of flattering testimonials from those who have used it as to its merits as a restorative of gray or faded hair; also as a promoter of the growth and a certain cure for dandruff.

A great many of my correspondents ask the question: "Why is my hair turning gray so early? Why is my hair falling out?" As it is impossible for me to answer every one, I take the liberty of encroaching on your valuable space to make a general reply. A great many persons do not seem to be aware that excessive washing and rubbing is injurious to the growth of the hair; such is the case, however. Constant washing and rubbing the scalp and hair causes over irritation and removes the oily substance which gives strength to the hair; undue heat caused by the wearing of heavy headgear is also injurious. Anything that will tend to dry up the sap or life of the hair will cause dandruff, falling out of the hair, gray or faded hair and finally baldness. Of course there are other causes as diseases, hereditary tendencies, etc., but the first mentioned are the main and most common.

Dr. Dorenwend, an eminent German physician, has given to the world after years of toil and experiment his now famous "Hair Magic." The object of this preparation is to assist nature in the production of this oily substance absolutely necessary to the growth of the hair. It is now sold by all reliable druggists at $1 per bottle, or six bottles for $5, or will be sent on receipt of price to any address. See that each wrapper bears the seal and signature of the manufacturer.

HAPPENINGS OF THE HOUR.

A Rat Portage dispatch says the body of Frank Garnieau, reported on May 22 as missing, was found in the river on Saturday night by Donald Sinclair.

At High Bluff, Man., on Monday, Mrs. Robert Patterson attempted to commit suicide by drowning. She has been in poor health for some time past. A neighbor rescued her from the old well into which she jumped.

The Marchison medal has been awarded by the Royal Geographical Society to Mr. William Ogilvy, of the Dominion survey, for his two years' services in the exploration of the Mackenzie and Yukon River districts in the far Northwest.

A case of infanticide was brought to light in a second-class car on the C. P. R. western express on Saturday at Montreal. It was discovered by the bad odor issuing from a trunk, the property of a young woman on the train. An examination showed that the child had been strangled and a verdict to that effect was brought in, while the woman was committed to jail. She stated that her name was Enwright, and that she came from Arnprior, Ont. She claimed to have been employed as a domestic by a Mrs. Shaw, of Montreal.

GOING RIGHT AHEAD.

The Steady Growth of a Well-Known Firm—Some of the Secrets of Success—A Colossal Establishment.

The magnificent new front just put in by MR. T. F. KINGSMILL is a credit to the city, surpassing, it is claimed, anything outside the metropolis of the Province. The advancement of this firm has been phenomenal. Starting business about twenty years ago in a small store, Mr. Kingsmill struck out from the beaten track at once by advertising "The Store Without Doors or Windows." This attracted visitors who were soon transformed into steady customers by the reliable dealing and courteous treatment they received. So quickly did their number increase that in about six years he became the purchaser of one of the finest Dundas street stores, which he rebuilt and extended to the other side of the block, opening on Carling street. A few more years saw the firm again crowded for room to show their ever-increasing stock and accommodate their ever-increasing customers, and their carpet warehouse, one of the largest showrooms in Canada, was built. Now they have secured the lease of the store adjoining their original place of business and made one magnificent emporium of the two. The plate glass windows are each sixteen feet wide, and all the departments have been rearranged with a view to convenience and efficiency regardless of expense. The millinery and mantle showrooms are placed on the first floor of the new store, communicating by an archway with the dressmaking department, and will always prove a fascinating place for the ladies. A few of Mr. Kingsmill's strong points as a business man are that he neither incurs expense unnecessarily nor hesitates about it when the growth of his business demands it; that he has always been a judicious advertiser, being careful to promise nothing that he is not prepared to perform; that the customeas thus gained he has been careful to retain, and that he possesses both taste and tact in purchasing, choosing the best as well as the cheapest markets.

Mrs. Elias Beemer stubbed her toe against a nail or loose plank in Waterford, and was thrown down with such force that her leg was broken between her hip and knee.

OXFORD.

Complaint having been made against a Harrington teacher by a parent who thought his boy had been too severely punished, the case was tried before three magistrates, one of whom thought the evidence sufficient to convict, while the other two thought it was not, and he was acquitted. It appeared that there had been some feeling manifested against the teacher before the punishment was inflicted. Two doctors thought the boy had not been badly punished. The boy was rebellious, having been told by his father not to submit to punishment.

Thamesford Independent Order Foresters will have a demonstration on July 1, when addresses will be delivered by Bro. C. C. Whale, H. C. I., and R. Millar, S. V. C. D., on Forestry. Music, recitations, etc., will also be given. The celebrated Rankin family, of Woodstock, has been engaged for the afternoon and evening.

The proprietor of the Ingersoll Tribune, though financially involved, continues the publication of that long-established journal.

Catharine Ryan, a girl about 15 years of age, was tried at the Oxford County Court on a charge of stealing a pair of shoes from Trotter's store and four gold rings and two silver watches from Woodroofe's jewelry store in Woodstock. She was acquitted on both charges. He parents proved an alibi.

A Prisoner Eaten by Rats.

LONDON, June 17.—A deaf and dumb man was arrested in the village of Herabin, Austria, for vagrancy on May 28, and was put in a cell. The police forgot all about the prisoner and did not visit his cell again until yesterday, when it was found that the man had died of starvation and that the body had been eaten by rats.

Kincaid St., Brockville, Ont., Jan. 11, 1889: "I was confined to my bed by a severe attack of lumbago. A lady friend of mine sent me a part of a bottle of St. Jacobs Oil, which I applied. The effect was simply magical. In a day I was able to go about my household duties. I have used it with splendid success for neuralgic toothache. I would not be without it." MRS. J. RINGLAND.

When a young woman accepts a young man's heart and hand he puts a ring on one of her fingers so that she may not forget the engagement.

NOBILITY IN CANADA.

No Need for a Hereditary Aristocracy in the Dominion.

Hon. Edward Blake on an Aristocracy of Knowledge and of Talent.

Speaking at the laying of the corner stone of the new Victoria College, Hon. Edward Blake said: "We live here in a democracy, in a democratic age, and are a very democratic people in that democratic age. Our higher education is not demanded in order to enable the scions of any hereditary and privileged class by superior learning to continue their predominence over the masses of the community. It is demanded amongst a democratic people, and amongst a self-governing people, whose pride and honor it is—and long may it continue so—that the door is open and the stairs are not barred to the sons of the lowest in station, who may rise to the highest position in the land. It is demanded in a democratic country that these doors should be widely and freely open; not, as I say, that the scions of a limited privileged hereditary class may dominate, but that from the rank and file of the mass of the people those whom God has gifted with unusual strength of intellect and will and purpose may have added to those natural endowments the great endowment which education will give, and may be made capable of rendering the best and highest service to their country in the various walks of the professions, and in that which ought to be, though it is not always, the noblest task of all, the task of politics, the task of statesmanship. For though we have now very few—and I wish they were less—though we have now very few stars, knighthoods and orders of nobility, we shall not in the future be without a nobility, we shall not be without an aristocracy; we shall have not a hereditary aristocracy, but an aristocracy of learning and talent, of integrity and virtue. These shall be the marks, these shall be the indicia of admission to that aristocracy, and their proof shall be the titles of confidence, of respect and of affection which the masses of the people pay to those who bring forward those proofs and marks and titles. A democratic people, a self-governing people, must yet recognize that they cannot in any absolute sense govern themselves. They can command but a limited amount of time and attention to devote to public affairs. What they can do is to know enough to choose wise men to lead them, and to consider fairly and fully and intelligently the propositions which are advanced to them from various quarters. The have to be led; we in Canada have to be led, and we should combine to provide the best appliances, so that we may be well and wisely led forward towards our great destines. Therefore, I say that those who in a short-sighted way talk of university education as of interest to only a limited class of the community, as interesting only to the rich; talk of what they know not. The rich! What do they care? They can get their children instructed whether you have a university or not. Abolish the university and their sons are sent elsewhere, at the great loss to the community, for they will lose some part of that patriotic feeling which they ought to have and would have if nurtured from youth to old age in their own land. But what of the masses of the people at large? I have said in the halls over yonder, and I repeat it here, I want to see your university a poor man's university, to see its doors open as wide as possible. I want to see it possible for the prudent and frugal poor man, if his son has such natural talents as to render him fit, to send him to these doors, and to have him sent out from them the peer of the highest and the proudest by descent who may be found in the land. I am rejoiced to tell you that within the last few years, recognizing the importance in a country like ours of instructing the youth in the fundamentals of our constitutional system, we have established in the university a department of political science. No longer can we be reproached on the ground that the national university sends out its youth without any notion as to the constitution of their country or the principles of government and freedom, upon which they are expected not merely to act themselves but to be the guides, the light, the leaders of the rising community. Now, I have said that the union which takes place between these universities is dissoluble.

"German Syrup"

Here is something from Mr. Frank A. Hale, proprietor of the De Witt House, Lewiston, and the Tontine Hotel, Brunswick, Me. Hotel men meet the world as it comes and goes, and are not slow in sizing people and things up for what they are worth. He says that he has lost a father and several brothers and sisters from Pulmonary Consumption, and is himself frequently troubled with colds, and he often coughs enough to make him sick at his stomach. Whenever he has taken a cold of this kind he uses Boschee's German Syrup, and it cures him every time. Here is a man who knows the full danger of lung troubles, and would therefore be most particular as to the medicine he used. What is his opinion? Listen! "I use nothing but Boschee's German Syrup, and have advised, I presume, more than a hundred different persons to take it. They agree with me that it is the best cough syrup in the market." ⓪

Three Years Free

The Coming School of Medicine.

The Histogenetic System.

THIS SYSTEM IS COMPLETE, having different medicines for all the different diseases. The theory is entirely different from that of the old schools. The medicines are perfectly pure, containing nothing of a poisonous nature whatever, and are quite tasteless. For three years these medicines have been given away free and thoroughly tested in the most hopeless cases before being placed on the market. The result has exceeded the most sanguine expectations. Hundreds of cases supposed to be incurable have been cured, and abundance of proof can be produced to convince the most skeptical that Histogenetic Medicines have cured and are curing to-day DISEASES at a later stage than any other system of medicine in the world. In ACUTE cases the medicines act like magic. Chronic troubles require a longer time, generally from one to three months, according to the nature of the complaint. In FEMALE IRREGULARITIES, WOMB TROUBLES, etc., the medicines have been especially successful. Private EXAMINATIONS in these troubles are almost, if not quite, absolutely unnecessary. Call or send for one of our free books explaining the system. They should be in every house in the land.

RHEUMATISM and SCIATICA

LONDON, April 20, 1891.

I am happy to acknowledge, and now testify, to the efficacy of your medicines in curing Rheumatism. I have suffered with this painful disease in my shoulders, knees and hips for twenty-five years, also with sciatica for some time. I decided to try Histogenetic Medicines as a last resort, as nothing ever seemed to give me any permanent relief. The first week's medicine gave me relief, and in two weeks the sciatica disappeared and has not returned. I took the medicines for six weeks, and am cured of the rheumatism. I feel better in every way. I am sixty years of age, and feel quite smart and active. I can cheerfully recommend these medicines to the public, and will be glad to tell any sufferer about my case. It is now nearly two months since I ceased taking the medicines, and the effect is permanent.

THE CITY SEWAGE AND THE ASYLUM'S EXPERIMENT.

One of the civic problems of the near future will be the disposal of the sewage of the city in a proper and as far as possible profitable manner. As the city grows the problem will become more and more pressing if in the meantime it is not solved. The river cannot be continued as the chief depository for sewage, and it is equally certain that the system of sewerage must be extended and the quantity to be disposed of in one way or other vastly increased. The most feasible scheme so far propounded is that of conveying the refuse to the flats at the Cove, and there filtering it through the soil after the methods exemplified at the London Asylum for the Insane. That system, we learn from Superintendent Bucke, has been an unqualified success. It went into operation on 5th July, 1889, and has ever since been continuously employed. Day by day the sewage, to the amount of 50,000 gallons and upwards, is thrown by the powerful centrifugal pump upon the field graded to receive it. Every day, within a couple of hours thereafter, it sinks into the soil, and as far as the asylum authorities are concerned that is the last of it. "The soil in the bottom of the trenches into which the sewage is thrown," Dr. Bucke says, "is no more foul to-day than it was before the asylum managers began using it for that purpose. No odors rise from the sewage field. The 'chemistry of the earth' disposes day by day of the sewage of our population of 1,100 persons, and to all appearance it could dispose of much more with the same ease. It is enough to make one feel terrified at the earth, it is that calm and patient. It gives such divine materials to man and accepts such leavings from them at last."

It is satisfactory to know that the experiment at the asylum has proved so thorough a success. The change from the time when the sewage was diverted into Carling's Creek is most marked. Then it polluted that stream, and brought the institution much incidental trouble. Now it is got rid of in a way that benefits the earth and injures no person. Unfortunately, the expense of pumping the sewage upon the ground for filtration is considerable. The site of the asylum was not chosen with a view to its future sanitary needs, and by no process could the sewage be conveyed to grounds controlled by the authorities by gravitation. Therefore resort was had to steam pumping. Even by that agency the improvement is well worth the money.

In disposing of the city sewage by filtration there is a prospect that the refuse could find its way to the Griffith's flats by gravitation. Mr. Ironsides, of the city engineer's office, has just ascertained that from the east end of the Carling Creek culvert at Talbot street to the surface of the flats there is a fall of 16 feet in the 2½ miles to be piped, while from the river end of the King street sewer there is a fall of about the same height in the 1½ miles. Should that fall be sufficient to carry the refuse from the city sewers to the flats it could be disposed of as is the sewage from the asylum.

A NATIONAL EVENT.

After 50 years of honorable existence, in the course of which it has produced many eminent men and been of enormous advantage in providing sound education for the Methodist ministry, Cobourg University has united its fortunes to the Provincial University. In conjunction with that seat of learning, while still carrying out its distinctive aims, the college will henceforth be managed. The proceedings at the laying of the corner stone yesterday were highly interesting. They showed a unity of purpose for maintaining a high standard of education in the Province that cannot fail to be productive of good fruit in the future.

Old Victoria is no more; but a newer, a stronger, a more useful institution, let us hope, takes its place.

THE SITUATION AT OTTAWA.

Mr. Abbott has already earned the title of "Old To-Morrow." He is attempting to postpone the settlement of every knotty point in disposing of the party policy and the party politicians. It is even announced that the vacant seats in the Cabinet, caused by the defeat of Mr. Colby at the general election and by the death of Sir John Macdonald, will not be filled at present, and that Mr. Chapleau will be given whatsoever he desires in the way of promises—only he must keep still for the present.

The trimming may go for a little yet, but the day of reckoning cannot long be post oned.

WOMEN AND PUBLIC AFFAIRS.

Under the head of "Woman Suffrage in the United States" our city contemporary prints an article on the opinions of a few Chicago women who have objected to their sex possessing the right of suffrage.

The ground taken by these opponents of the women suffragists is that "women at large are quite content with the political administration of men." If this be true, how is it that so many thousands of the most intelligent and philanthropic among women are active workers in the W. C. T. U., the most gigantic organized protest against "the political administration of men" only that is now in existence? This society is an overwhelming contradiction of the statement that "men have done better for women than women could have done for themselves."

The position of the Canadians who oppose the complete enfranchisement of women is simply this: They say to women: "Take an interest in schools if you like, and in municipal government, for that is right and feminine and proper. But concerning the larger bodies which control these interests you shall have nothing to say, because that is entirely out of your sphere." Where is the logic of such a position? Where is the common sense? Whatever may be thought or said on the subject in this country, the fact remains that women are not only permitted but invited by both the great political parties in England to take an active interest in their work. The Federation of Liberal Women, with the Countess of Aberdeen at its head, the Conservative Primrose League, to which ladies of the highest rank and position belong, engage in every sort of political work save that of dropping a ballot into the box. There is a general understanding that arduous public work for the good of the cause detracts nothing from a woman's dignity, but voting is unfeminine.

The Free Press closes its article with the words:

"Women do not want to make themselves independent of marriage, whether they are wage-earners or not. They want to be married, and their complaint is that men are not so generally in that disposition. These remonstrants, accordingly, have a strong argument on their side in the actual situation of society, and in the sentiment of the great mass of women."

Considering that in most civilized countries the women outnumber the men, it is to be feared that "sentiment" will not be an overruling factor in the destiny of many of them. Unless polygamic practices are to prevail generally many women will be forced to work for their own living. What right has anyone to say that a woman shall not choose what that work shall be? She is the one most interested. The world is before her—let her make her own choice. Marriage is not always an absolute guarantee against poverty. Cases have been known of widows obliged to support their families.

All things considered, is it so very much better for a girl to wait with folded hands for some man to come and support her or to be able to make her own honorable way in the world? Emerson says: "A man's task is his life preserver." It is doubly true when applied to a woman.

THE MARKET FOR BARLEY.

The United States is now the great beer-drinking nation of the world. Last year, according to the Brewers' Handbook, 30,021,079 barrels were produced there, an increase of over 3,000,000 compared with 1890. The increase is chiefly in the older States, New York leading, but in the Dakotas, Kansas, New Hampshire, Wyoming, South Carolina and Idaho reductions are noted. As Canadian barley sent to the States is used for beer-making, it is interesting to note that the Province of Ontario lies close to the principal beer-producing States of the Union, over one-half of the beer manfactured being the product of Connecticut, Massachusetts, New Hampshire, New Jersey, New York and Pennsylvania, States lying closer to the Eastern Canadian barley region than the average Western State. This is a good argument in favor of reciprocity.

WHAT THE ADVERTISER" THINKS ABOUT IT.

ON SATURDAY next the Queen will have reigned 54 years. Only two British sovereigns have exceeded her age, viz., George II., who lived for 77 years, and George III., who attained 82 years.

Two years ago Hon. Mr. Abbott, the new Conservative leader, stated that he had reached the period of garrulous old age. He cannot be in worse shape than the policy of high taxation which he promises to maintain.

THE Hamilton Times has obtained for itself a new dress. It is determined to remain a leader in typographical fashion, just as it keeps in the van of progressive discussion of public affairs. Indeed, the Times is an all-round good newspaper, and has earned its success.

DURING its recent session the Synod of Niagara offered prayer for rain twice every day. The country needs moisture badly enough. According to the officers of the observatory at Toronto we had almost an average fall of rain in April, but in May the fall amounted to only 0.49 inches, whereas the average for 50 years in that month has been 2.98. Up to the evening of the 15th inst. the fall for June was 1.23 inches, whereas the average for the first fifteen days in June during the past 50 years was 1.50. In this district the recent rainfall has been less than around Toronto. The total fall since April 1 has been 2.72 inches below the average.

The Opposition are vigorous and united, and there is no denying the fact that Sir John Macdonald's death will produce a crisis in the affairs of the Conservative party the outcome of which it is hard to fortell.

NO "IF" ABOUT IT.

[Detroit Free Press.]

A well-known Detroit millionaire was saying to his confidential clerk the other day: "Now, I've arranged those papers for my wife and children all right, so that if I die—" "If you die," interrupted the secretary, "say when you die; there's no if about dying."

OVERWORKED HOUSEKEEPERS.

[Wives and Daughters for June.]

It is almost proverbially useless to reason with overworked housekeepers. The heathen in her blindness bows down to wood and stone, particularly if by so doing she can keep them absolutely free from dust. This disposition to neglect nine-tenths of life for the sake of putting a higher polish upon the remaining one-tenth argues an inability to look at life as a whole, and to give to each part of it its true value. The success of life is measured by the uses to which strength is put. The most important duties have the first claim, but it is by no means an easy task to prudently discriminate among them. Choose ye this day what ye will serve, is the warning note that comes to many a woman's ear with the new morning.

Peculiar

To itself in many important particulars, Hood's Sarsaparilla is different from and superior to any other medicine.

Peculiar in combination, proportion and preparation of ingredients, Hood's Sarsaparilla possesses the full curative value of the best known remedies of the vegetable kingdom.

Peculiar in its medicinal merit, Hood's Sarsaparilla accomplishes cures hitherto unknown.

Peculiar in strength and economy—Hood's Sarsaparilla is the only medicine of which can truly be said, "100 doses one dollar." Medicines in larger and smaller bottles require larger doses, and do not produce as good results as Hood's Sarsaparilla.

Peculiar in its "good name at home"—there is more of Hood's Sarsaparilla sold in Lowell, where it is made, than of all other blood purifiers.

Peculiar in its phenomenal record of sales abroad, no other preparation has ever attained such popularity in so short a time. Do not be induced to take any other preparation. Be sure to get

PALEFACES AND REDMEN PLAY BALL.

Several of Munceytown's bravest warriors sallied forth on Saturday afternoon to take the scalps of the Delaware baseball team on the diamond. At intervals after leaving the reserve scouts were sent forth to size up the Dells, who were at practice, while the main body, hampered by two bats, a mask, a ball, the hot sun and an inclination to take their time, made but slow progress. The reports brought in by the runners were not cheering, and several councils of war were held on sacred ground—ground on which in days long past hundreds of warriors had died while fighting for their homes. In consequence of these repeated halts, it was getting on to 6 o'clock before Big Bear, heading the main body, put in an appearance. By this time the Dells had three hours' practice and were anxious to start. At last the fearful battle royal commenced. "Never-take-back-water" went in the box and retired the Dells for one run. When "Strike-him-in-the-back" went up to face Bert Robinson's neck-twirlers his friends expected to see the festive sphere lose itself on the other side of the hills. But a kink in his war-club, through which the gentle zephyrs played three short, heart-rending tunes, told the tale. Then the slugging started. Big Bear meant business, and when he got his lanterns on the ball she went sailing, sailing, oh, so nicely, into the hands of a left fielder. Again they took the field, and the scores loomed up large and brilliant. Home runs and three-baggers were cracked out without mercy on the ball. During the second inning the umpire gave a couple of decisions decidedly against the Munceyites. The Indians raised objections, and Wm. Robinson, king of his class, stepped into the breech. In the sixth another rupture occurred. The Dells wished to substitute Lucas, their regular pitcher, for a man who was not injured in any way. The score was about even and the Dells were fearsome of the result. The Indians claimed it unfair to put on a fresh man against them when no one was injured, but the umpire claimed it was according to rules, and the game proceeded. About 8 o'clock, amid the setting of the sun and the din of two, three and four pounders being cracked out, the majority of the spectators left to join the overworked scorer in seeking repose. When the game ended was not officially known, but perhaps kind night came to the players' relief and folded them in her mantle of darkness. The features of the game were the coaching of "Hole-in-his-lungs," whose war-whoop of "Come In" struck ter ror into the hearts of his opponents and inspired the feet of his friends to runs bases like all possessed, and the small telegraph pole used by "Miserable Man" to razzle-dazzle the ball. Later—The score was given out on Monday as 26 to 12 in favor of the Dells.

ATHLETICS.

KILRAIN VS. SLAVIN.

In the glove contest at Hoboken, N. J., last night between Kilrain and Slavin for a purse of $10,000 the latter won in the ninth round. The audience hissed the referee's decision.

Charles North, the wrestler, was knocked out by Billy Woods, of Denver, in three rounds Monday night at St. Paul, Minn.

A glove contest took place at the Pelican Club, London, last night, between Gibbons, of New Jersey, and Jem Verrol, an English boxer. Four rounds were fought and Gibbons won.

THE TURF.

SHEEPSHEAD BAY, June 16.—Twenty-five thousand or more persons braved the heat of a tropical sun to-day and visited this course to see Suburban, one of the great handicaps of the year, decided. In this race the association adds the amount necessary to make the value of the race $15,000, the second to receive $3,500, and the third $1,500 of the money, a mile and a quarter. The starters were Isaac Lewis, Fitzjames, Major Domo, Loantaka, Cassius, Demuth, Tea Tray, Riley, Banquet, Tenny. In the betting Lewis was favorite 50 to 1. Loantaka won by a length and a half from Major Domo, who beat Cassius a length for the place. A length away came Fitzjames, who was followed in order by Banquet, Tenny, Riley, Demuth, Isaac Lewis and Tea Tray. Time, 2:07.

THE WHEEL.

A bicycle fire brigade has been formed in Houston, Texas. The corps consists of two tandems, carrying axes, hooks and ropes, and a number of single machines, carrying 40 feet of hose each.

"A mathematician" has discovered that a man can travel fifteen miles on his wheel with less exertion than he can walk three miles. This was worked out on paper, not alternately awheel and afoot.

J. S. Thom was expelled from the Sarnia Bicycle Club at a recent meeting.

A CHICAGO 'CYCLIST'S NOVEL TRIP.

Quite a crowd assembled in Victoria Park last evening in expectation of seeing something fancy in the bicycle line from Roy Carter, of the Lincoln Club, Chicago, who is on his way from that city to New York, accompanied by his brother Harry. Both were the guests of the F. C. 'C. Club, a large number of the latter turning out in honor of the visitors and ascorting them round the city. Roy gave an exhibition in front of the park guns about 8 o'clock. He handles the ordinary bicycle like a mere toy, and the many clever feats called forth showers of applause. His performance on one wheel showed wonderful balancing powers. He holds the unicycle championship of the world, and this season intends to make the 1,200 miles between Chicago and New York on that singular machine, the object of the present tour being to find the best route. Which city the start will be made from he has not yet decided. He gives himself 31 days in which to make the trip, although he will attempt to complete it in 21 days, and in order to escape the heat will limit his riding hours to between 3 a.m. and 10 a.m. In this novel journey walking will be permissable; he pledges himself to utilize no other means of locomotion than his wheel and his feet. The 'cyclist is decidedly young, but the picture of health, and attributes his condition to the splendid exercise of the unicycle. He says he will make his best time over Canadian roads, which are excellent at present. The Chicago men expressed themselves as highly grateful for the hospitality shown them by the F. C. 'C. Club members, who did everything possible to make them at home. Their trip will be resumed to-morrow. Both are capital fellows, and the many friends they have made here wish them luck.

CRICKET.

Upper Canada College's match with the Toronto club Monday was marked by a great batting record for Laing, who carried his bat out for 44 without giving a chance. Score: Upper Canada College, 87. Toronto, 101 and 6 wickets to spare.

Upper Canada College defeated the Hamilton Juniors at Hamilton on Saturday, scoring 82 and 77 against 76 and 49.

The Paris and Brantford cricket clubs played a match on the Mohawk crease at Brantford on Saturday. Paris went to bat and made 123 runs, while their opponents succeeded in making 55 runs with a loss of six wickets when game was called.

FOOTBALL.

Saturday afternoon St. Thomas Collegiate Institute Football Club defeated Orwell team by one goal to nothing.

TERRESTRIAL HEALING

A branch office of the Magnetic Meridian Vitapoise Company is now permanently located at 294 Dundas street, for the purpose of giving practical demonstrations of the healing virtues of the "Vitapoise," (or miniature earth.) It is the most wonderful healing instrument ever discovered. It only fails to cure the afflicted when their case is hopeless, and it makes no difference what ails you.

If you would like to investigate "TERRESTRIAL HEALING," call at the office, and Prof Reid, will cheerfully explain to you the mysteries of the subtle healing force contained in a Magnetic Meridian Vitapoise.

Separate rooms are fitted up for the treatment of ladies and gentlemen. We want every family and physician in Canada to buy a "Vitapoise," and we will accomplish our object if an afflicted member of every tenth family will give the instrument a trial, by taking a "course of treatment." Its application is absolutely painless and is also harmless: but disease will flee from before it as if driven away by magic. Physicians! try a "Vitapoise" on one of your patients, having either la grippe, inflammation, fever, insomnia, neuralgia or rheumatism, and thereafter your "medical case" will be a secondary consideration so long as you have a "Vitapoise" with you

The Street Watering Contractors to be Looked After.

No Grant for the Orangemen—Stenographer Not Appointed—Holidays for Messrs. Tracy and Abbott.

The thermometer recorded a high number of degrees last night in the City Hall, and the following sat around the City Council's table and fanned themselves vigorously: Mayor Taylor, Aldermen Wyatt, Connors, Taylor, O'Meara, Ivey, W. W. Fitzgerald, Winnett, Skinner, Gartshore, Spencer, J. Fitzgerald, Scarrow, F. J. Fitzgerald, Bartlett, Wilkey, Thomas, Judd, Shaw, Clerk Kingston, Acting Engineer Graydon, Chief Roe.

COMMUNICATIONS.

References to No. 1 Committee—Rebecca McNab, re taxes; P. Kelly, for remission of statute labor tax; Jane Lloyd, Susan Taylor, Martha Butler, Mrs. Sinclair, re taxes.

References to No. 2 Committee—George Deacon et al., re sidewalk, Garfield avenue; N. Sage et al., for artificial stone walk on the north side of York street from Adelaide to William; G. W. Cox, for damages for injury to Mrs. Cox.

References to No. 3 Committee with power—Elizabeth Mann et al., for watering Waterloo street between Queen's and Dufferin avenues; Alex. Gunn, for watering Queen's avenue.

Charles Hutchinson—Enclosing presentment of grand jury. Filed.

A. S. Abbott—Asking for leave of absence for one month. Granted.

T. H. Tracy—Asking for one month's leave of absence. Ald. O'Meara said Mr. Graydon was doing the work well and he moved that Mr. Tracy be allowed the holiday. The mayor said no doubt the engineer had had a very severe illness. Request granted.

NUMBER TWO COMMITTEE.

By Ald. Connors, chairman: 1. Referring the communications of the W. C. T. U. and others asking for drinking fountains to the water commissioners, with the request that they accede to the request, but that not more than six fountains be erected. 2. That petition of Capt. Jones, of the Salvation Army, to hold services in Victoria Park on Sundays be granted. 3. That petition of J. McMartin for use of Queen's Park on civic holiday be not granted, and that in future the Council do not grant the use of any public park on any holiday to any person or society. 4. That petition of L. H. Ingram et al. for sewer on Dufferin avenue and Maitland street be granted, provided they are satisfied with depth that is available there. 5. That the petition of Thos. Gray et al. for sewer on Waterloo street from King to York street be advertised under the Municipal Act. 6. That the Silica, Barytic, Stone & M. Co. be awarded the contract for artificial stone walks on west side of Richmond street and north side of Dundas street at 18 cents per square foot, and the work be proceeded with at once. 7. That the Council cancel the existing agreement made between McCrae and Inwood and the city for laying plank walks, provided always that Mr. Inwood enters into a new and satisfactory one. 8. That Mr. Graydon, assistant engineer, be given control of the city engineer's office and all city works during the absence of Mr. Tracy during his illness. 9. That the tenders of John Walters for William street sewer be accepted. 10. Referring petition of Thos. Kent et al. against Richmond street sewer to your honorable body. 11. That tender of W. P. Turner for Wellington, Hyman and Richmond street sewer be accepted. 12. That Jas. Rogers' tender for cedar blocking Maryboro Place be accepted, provided he does the grading under sidewalks required to bring sidewalk to correspond with curbing when laid. 13. That tenders be called for new band stand in Victoria Park in accordance with the plans prepared.

On clause 6 the petition of John K. Peel and others, owners of 120 feet, against laying the walk on Richmond street, was read. Referred back to No. 3 with power.

THE SEWAGE QUESTION AGAIN.

On clauses 10 and 11, the petition of T. Kent and 69 others was read. Ald. Ivey said the petitioners would drain nothing but waste water into the drain, all connections to be put in under supervision of the engineer. Mr. McNab spoke in support of the petition, and Joseph Jeffery, for the opponents of the scheme, said no objection would be raised if no sewage be allowed to enter the drain. Mayor Taylor said this would call the attention of the public to the necessity of better drainage for the city at large and for the north end in particular. Ald. O'Meara said the city engineer at present had a man out taking levels in connection with the proposed downward-filtration system to the Griffith flats. Ald. W. W. Fitzgerald said in view of the judgment standing against the city on this question any further step was perilous. The sewage would have to be disposed of in a proper manner, and the Council should take up the matter at once. Mr. Blinn said the medical health officer had agreed to see that the drain was used only as a drain. J. Bland said the petitioners would not violate the Council's wish as to keeping sewage out of the drain. The tender for the drain was accepted and work ordered to be done.

An additional clause to Number Two's report regarding the extension west of the sewer which runs east from the London South fire hall to the river was passed on condition that the expense be borne by parties interested.

NUMBER ONE COMMITTEE.

By Ald. Spencer, chairman: 1. Payment recommended of following accounts:

No. 1 Committee accounts: Incidental expenses (including deputations), $81 62; salaries, $55 50; printing and advertising, $346 35; insurance, $4; total, $487 37.

No. 2 Committee accounts—Pay sheet and contracts, $3,567 72; block pavement, $700; artificial walk, $222; city parks, $7 70; City Hall, $44 10; registry office, $8 30; town hall, $6 84; fire hall, sixth ward, $200; total, $4,756 66.

No. 3 Committee—Street lighting, $2,331 99; street watering, $275; market, $26 19; fire department, $791 60; total, $3,424 78.

Relief accounts, $8,864 08.

2. That A. Mountjoy be granted a renewal of lease of store in City Hall for ten years at advance of $50 per annum, subject to three months' notice be given him to vacate.

3. That petition of T. W. Routledge et al., re Simcoe street sewer, be filed.

4. That petition of T. R. Rhoder be granted by accepting the sum of $3 60 in full for 1890 taxes.

5. That petitions of J. H. Moran and F. H. Wright et al. be filed. No power.

6. That the petition of T. D. Smith et al. re grant to free library be filed. No power.

7. That a stenographer be engaged to work in the city offices.

8. That W. H. Winnett's petition for permission to let railroad cross Adelaide street be filed.

9. Progress on other petitions.

The Mountjoy clause was amended by inserting six instead of three months.

On clause 5 Ald. W. W. Fitzgerald and Ald. O'Meara moved that Mr. Wright's petition for grant to the Orange order be granted. Ald. O'Meara said that the sons of one country were no better than the sons and daughters of Ireland, and should receive equal fair play. Ald. Spencer said that because money had been illegally granted before was no reason that it should be now. The "yeas" on the motion to grant $200 to the Orangemen were: Aldermen Taylor, O'Meara, W. W. Fitzgerald, Jas. Fitzgerald and Skinner.

THE FREE LIBRARY BONUS.

On clause 6 Mr. Smith said that 500 volumes were now in the library, but it was impossible to meet the demand. It cost any citizen but 10 cents for a card which allowed 100 volumes to be used. Many works required in trades and occupations were too costly for workmen to buy, but could be got at this library. H. McLean said that money spent in this free library would be of far more benefit to the community than the night school for which the School Board paid. Ald. Scarrow moved that $100 be granted on condition that an understanding be given that all books be handed to the city should the corporation ever establish a free public library. Carried. Yeas—Wyatt, Taylor, O'Meara, James Fitzgerald, Winnett, Skinner, Scarrow, Bartlett, Thomas, Judd and Shaw. Nays—Connor, Ivey, W. W. Fitzgerald, F. J. Fitzgerald and Wilkey.

On clause 7 Ald. O'Meara said the move was only one to encourage laziness and meant an additional city official. Ald. Gartshore said that the assistant city clerk got $1,000 and did but $100 worth of work. Ald. Wyatt, Ivey, Gartshore and Spencer supported the appointment, the remainder voting "nay."

Major Larmour, assistant superintendent of the G. T. R., and Ald. Winnett supported the application for permission to extend the "blind siding" mentioned in clause 8. It was granted after lengthy discussion.

MOTIONS.

Ald. W. W. Fitzgerald moved that No. 2 Committee be empowered to let the contract for block-paving Richmond street north. Carried.

It was decided that the assessment commissioners will visit and report on all factories having secured grants from the Council on condition of employing a certain number of hands.

Ald. James Fitzgerald moved that the block-paving of Dufferin avenue be advertised in the usual way. Carried.

Ald. Scarrow gave notice of motion that the question of extending the fire alarm system in the northwest section of the city be considered.

BYLAWS.

For block-paving Maryboro Place. Passed.

For artificial walk on Dundas street, north side, Waterloo to Colborne. Passed.

Against huckstering on market or streets. Referred to No. 3.

For borrowing certain moneys to meet current expenditure. Passed.

THE STREET WATERING.

Ald. Ivey asked if there was any method whereby the street watering contractor who was supposed to look after Dundas street could be made to sprinkle the street before 9 or 9:30 in the morning. Merchants were complaining.

Mayor Taylor said the matter would be looked after.

Ald. Spencer—There seems to be considerable confusion as to how many times a day the streets should be sprinkled. On Dufferin avenue a slight sprinkling at 5 in the afternoon is often made to do.

Chairman F. J. Fitzgerald, of No. 3 Committee, said that one of the street watering contractors seemed to be doing as he liked. The inspector would complain, but the contractor acted behind-back at every opportunity. If the Council empowered the speaker to keep the contractors up to the letter of their contracts it would be done.

Voices—Certainly, carry out the law.

Council adjourned for three weeks.

The Dairy Inspectors.

STRATFORD, June 16.—Messrs. Millar, Hopkins, Waddell and Williams, the recently-appointed dairy inspectors, met A. F. McLaren, chairman of the Executive Committee of the Westen Dairymen's Association, at the Tavistock dairy school yesterday for the purpose of presenting a report of their work since their appointment and receiving instructions as to their duties in the coming four weeks. The inspectors reported having visited several factories in their respective districts. They also reported appplications for inspections from 112 of the leading factories west of Toronto. This number, they expected, would be doubled. The use of Dr. Babcock's milk tester, together with Quevense's lactometer, is proving highly satisfactory, as by this means the inspector is enabled to inform the factorymen of the value of each factory's milk, being able to ascertain if the milk has been skimmed, watered or tampered with in any way. The Executive Committee are determined that the work of the inspectors shall be thorough this season, and that any patron found delivering milk which has in any way been tampered with shall be exposed and punished. The next meeting of the inspectors with Mr. McLaren will be held at Tavistock on July 13.

It may be taken for granted that the people who are ashamed of their religion have good reason to be.

To Whom It May Concern.

Wonderland Park will open Thursday, June 18, with a camp meeting in charge of H. O. Wills, of Detroit, and J. H. Hathway, of Brantford. I have concluded to keep this for those wishing to camp out during the summer months, for religious services, Sunday school picnics, etc. No dancing, drinking or anything that would be detrimental to the work of God will be allowed at any time. PRESBYTERIAN ASSEMBLY.

Report on the Deceased Wife's Sister Bill Remit.

Proposal to Curtail Speech-Making—Overtures for Summer Sessions of Colleges.

KINGSTON, June 15.—The General Assembly resumed business this morning. Before the order of proceedings was taken up Mr. W. B. McMurrich, of Toronto, with the idea of facilitating business, moved that a time limit be put upon speeches—ten minutes for opening a subject and five minutes for other remarks. Mr. John Cameron, London, seconded the motion.

It raised quite a burst of opposition, and Mr. McMurrich remarking that its object had probably been attained by bringing the question before the Assembly, withdrew the resolution.

With regard to the marriage remit, which was, "The discipline of the church shall not be exercised in regard to marriage with a deceased wife's sister or a deceased wife's niece," the report was as follows:

"Twenty-one Presbyteries approve simplicity; two substitute "need" for "shall;" one Presbytery leaves out "niece." A majority of the Presbyteries did not report at all. In view of the latter fact Dr. MacLean moved that the matter be referred to the Committee on Bills and Overtures to be reported upon on some future date. The motion was carried.

Overtures asking for summer sessions in colleges were read from the Presbyteries of Toronto and Brandon.

Dr. Robertson, superintendent of Sessions in the Northwest, and Prof. Brice, Winnipeg, spoke in favor of the overtures and pointed out that if summer sessions were held in theological colleges in summer students would be free in cold weather. The matter was referred to committee.

The report of the western section of the Aged and Infirm Ministers' Fund Committee showed receipts from congregational contributions to be $9,597; ministers' rate, $2,148; interest, $1,671; total increase over previous year, $1,609. Still there is an adverse balance. In order to secure Sir Donald Smith's conditional donation, energetic efforts will have to be made to raise the proposed $200,000.

The report of Brantford Young Ladies' College was received and indorsed as satisfactory.

The report of the board of management of the church and manse building fund showed that during the nine years the board had been in existence it had helped to build 147 churches and 24 manses. The buildings had been valued at $212,660, and the total aid to them was $72,427. In last year's report the board appealed for larger help from the church for the work, but apparently the appeal was unheeded. At the inception of the fund the aim was to have a capital of $100,000, but only about half of the sum was obtained owing to causes already reported to the Assembly.

A resolution was adopted that the committee be authorized to take whatever steps may seem practicable to increase the capital to at least the original figure, viz., $100,000.

The report of the Board of French Evangelization for the year ending May 1, 1891, was presented and was of an encouraging nature. In summarizing the report it appears that there were 36 congregations and mission fields. In these the Gospel was preached at 93 stations to 973 Protestant families, and many more who are not nominally Protestant. One hundred and ninety-seven were received into the church, making a total membership of 1,312. Eleven hundred and thirty-six scholars attended the Sabbath schools. The people contributed $5,090. One thousand and fifty-nine scholars, of whom 363 were from Roman Catholic homes, were enrolled in the mission day schools.

Father Chiniquy addressed the Assembly and a resolution expressing satisfaction with the success of Coligny College under it accomplished principal, Mrs. Crawford, and her efficient staff of teachers, and with the policy of the Board was passed.

Bright Crop Prospects in Manitoba.

WINNIPEG, June 16.—The Manitoba Government's crop bulletin says: "The total acreage put under crop this season, assuming that the area under flax is the same as last year, is shown to be 1,350,201 acres, being an increase of 267,407 over that of 1890. Of this increased area 170,707 acres are devoted to wheat, 70,110 to oats and 23,793 to barley. The remainder, 2,898 acres, is divided among potato, root and rye areas. The area shown under wheat in the Province is a decided increase over that of last season, being a total of 916,664 acres, or an advance of over 22 per cent. With the exception of two or three divisions in the northwestern part of the the Province increased areas are noted throughout.

The Toronto Conference on Temperance.

TORONTO, June 16.—At yesterday's sitting of the Toronto Conference Rev. W. T. Hicks presented an interim report as follows, "Resolved, that this Conference desires to express in the strongest manner possible its cordial approval of the prohibitory resolution now before the House of Commons and calls upon the new members of that body to support it, and to discountenance and vote against any amendment that may be proposed to the resolution as presented to the House. Resolved, that the president and secretary of the Conference communicate to each member of the House of Commons whose constituency is within the boundary of this Conference the purport of the foregoing resolution." The report was adopted.

FIERCE FLAMES.

The Village of Casselman Partially Destroyed—A Big Blaze at Halifax.

OTTAWA, June 16.—The village of Casselman, on the line of the Canada Atlantic Railway, was partially destroyed by fire last night. The saw mills of the Casselman Lumber Company are in ashes and the immense lumber piles, together with six houses and one stable, are a heap of smouldering ruins. The burned district includes 30 acres on the south of the Nation River. The occupants of the houses—mostly mill hands—managed to save their effects. A fire engine was sent from Ottawa. Loss on mill, $40,000; lumber, $70,000; six houses and stables, $5,000. Total, $115,000. The insurance is about $70,000. Two hundred men are out of employment.

HALIFAX, N. S., June 16.—Fire was discovered at 4 o'clock this morning in Moir's big bakery fronting on Argyle Duke and Grafton streets, one of the largest and best equipped establishments of the kind in the Dominion. The entire structure is in ruins. The loss will be about $100,000; insurance about $20,000. Several hundred men and boys are thrown out of work.

Strathroy Sketches.

On Monday night about midnight the fire alarm sounded, but it was found to be only a burning brush heap near the Fourth Line.

The directors of the West Middlesex Agricultural Society met in the Firemen's Hall on Saturday afternoon and received the report of Messrs. Currie and Healey, who had been in Aylmer seeing the agricultural building there. After discussion it was resolved to prepare plans and specifications much the same as the Aylmer building and ask for tenders. When tenders are received it will be decided at a meeting to be held shortly whether to build this year or not. It is supposed the cost will be in the neighborhood of $2,000, and meantime efforts will be made to get assistance from the municipal councils.

The ladies of the W. C. T. U. held a very successful garden party at the Keefer homestead on Monday evening. The Citizens' Band furnished music and there was a large attendance.

The children's service in the Baptist Church last Sunday morning was quite interesting and successful. The children occupied the center pews, and instructive addresses were given by Charles Horton and the pastor, Rev. P. K. Dayfoot.

On Tuesday morning the arbitration of the pending disputes between the townships of Caradoc and Metcalfe commence here in the firemen's hall. The arbitrator are Messrs. Fleck, reeve of Moore; Mc Kericher, ex-reeve of Howard, and D. A Campbell, ex-reeve of Adelaide; and Reeve. Calvert, of Metcalfe, Leitch, of Caradoc, and McDougall, of Ekfrid, are here watching the proceedings. The Metcalfe council constructed a drain, which is claimed to have benefited a part of Caradoc, and the dispute is as to the proportion which should be paid by the latter township.

Dr. G. Henderson has been in Toronto attending the meeting of the Ontario Medical Council.

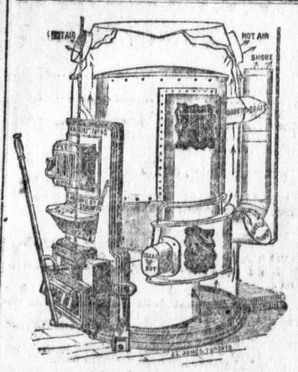

The Stars and Stripes.

WASHINGTON, June 17.—The field of union of the national flag in use in the United States army will, on and after July 4, 1891, consist of 44 stars in six rows, the upper and lower rows to have eight stars, and the second, third, fourth and fifth rows seven stars each, all in a blue field.

It will be noticed that thoughtlessness always takes a selfish form and seldom leads to personal discomfort, except to others.

Live Stock Markets.

EAST BUFFALO.

EAST BUFFALO, June 16.—Cattle—Demand fair from stock buyers who wish to buy on declining market, and near all the stockers were sold at weak Monday's prices. The cows still hang on, and will probably be turned out to pasture till next week. Veal calves—No inquiry; a deck and a part of a deck were received for sale, but they were forwarded east.
Sheep and Lambs—Hardly enough stock offered to make a market; unchanged from Monday.
Hogs—Six cars on sale; demand light, and prices hardly as strong as yesterday. Best packers' weights brought $4 90 yesterday and sold at $4 85 to-day; the feeling was generally weaker and about 5c lower than Monday About all were sold, the market closing weak.

MONTREAL.

MONTREAL, June 16.—There was a very light run of bunchers' stock to-day, all being taken by speculators. Some 200 hogs sold at $5 60 to $5 75. At the east end abattoir there were about 500 cattle, 500 sheep and lambs, and 450 calves. Best cattle were sold for export at from 5½c to 5¾c, and what might be termed good cattle for butchers' use brought from 5c to 5¼c. The lower grades varied in price from 3c to 4½c per lb. The best calves were in demand at from $8 to $12 each, and the inferior ones, which are always slow of sale, were offered at from $2 to $6 each. Sheep for exportation were bought at from $5 to $6 each, and those for local consumption at from $4 to $4 75. Good lambs are always in demand and sell well. Some sold as high as $5 each.

BRITISH LIVE STOCK TRADE.

EDINBURGH, June 16.—John Swan & Son's weekly report says: The supply of home-fed fat cattle has been light all over this week, while States have also been shorter, and with the non-arrival of the China in time for the market, there were 500 fewer Canadians in Glasgow than were expected. Trade throughout has been decidedly better, the local demand being greater, while there has been a good many cattle taken south. Hence at every market an easy clearance has been made, with prices tending upwards. There was a large number of Irish buyers, who in ordinary seasons would have been senders of fat cattle to this country, but as there is no immediate prospect of grass-fed cattle in Ireland they are compelled to come to Glasgow to purchase. Foreign supplies for the week have only comprised one cargo of Canadians and 350 States, the former of which were very good, and in some cases nearly made the top price. There are about 1,900 Canadians due for next week. The demand for States cattle has been rather quieter on account of the bleak weather. Still anything well bred made fair prices. The number of fat sheep on offer in Edinburgh this week was considerably less, and in Glasgow more than last week. Notwithstanding the unfavorable returns from London the local demand in Edinburgh was about sufficient to clear off the small supply, and prices were as nearly as possible similar to last week. In Glasgow trade was decidedly worse and prices fell ½d per lb all round. Lambs shown in smaller numbers met a good demand at fully last week's prices. Calves not so numerous and met an active demand at nearly 1d per lb advance.
There was a large number of store sheep on offer, and they met a quiet trade, a clearance not being effected. There was no improvement in the prices of milch cows.
Top prices best beef, 8s 6d to 8s 9d; secondary, 7s 9d to 8s; top Canadians, 8s to 8s 3d; secondary, 7s 6d to 7s 9d; bulls, 6s 3d to 6s 6d per stone; best mutton, 8d to 8½d; ewes, 6½d to 7½d per lb.

TWO SUICIDES.

A Horton Street Young Man Hangs Himself.

Robert Balmer, of London Township, Takes Poison.

His Attempt a Few Weeks Ago Failed, But the Second Time He Accomplished His Purpose.

August Freudenhall, a young man apparently about 24 years of age, lies dead in a room at 233 Talbot street. A black mark around his neck tells of the awful manner in which he came to his end. About 11 o'clock yesterday morning screams from his wife caused a neighbor named Richard Tunks to rush in, and in a small clothes room off the kitchen his body was found hanging, it is said, by a slender cord tied round his neck and attached to a nail near the ceiling. Life was extinct. Freudenhall came to this city from San Francisco a little over a year ago, and from what has been gathered was a doctor by profession. Despondency, caused by poor circumstances and a lawsuit with which he was connected, but of which nothing can be learned at present, is ascribed as the cause of the act. He leaves a wife and an infant child. The former is half crazed with grief and cannot realize that her husband is dead, but thinks he is sleeping. The cord with which deceased was hanged has not been seen since, as Tunks is said to have carried it off and has not turned up since the first alarm. He lived next door to deceased, but had moved away a day or two previous. An inquest will reveal all particulars.

Took Paris Green.

Robert Balmer, of concession 11, London township, Monday afternoon at 3 o'clock succeeded in taking his life by swallowing a very large dose of paris green. Some two or three weeks ago he attempted suicide by cutting his throat with a razor and came very near bleeding to death, the affair causing a great sensation in and around this city, where he was well known. Careful attention brought him around, and to thank his attendants he evaded them by taking the paris green yesterday. He suffered greatly for about twelve hours, dying about 3 o'clock Tuesday morning. The length of time which he suffered was due to the extremely large quantity he swallowed. Every effort was made to resuscitate the man, but without avail.

LONDON AND ENVIRONS.

THE LAWYER'S LULLABY.

Be still, my child! remain in statu quo,
While I propel thy cradle to and fro.
Let no involved res inter alios
Prevail while we're consulting inter nos.

Was that a little pain in medias res?
Too bad! too bad! we'll have no more of these,
I'll send a capias for some wise expert
Who knows how to eject the pain and stay the hurt.

No trespasser should come to trouble thee,
For thou dost own this house in simple fee—
And thy administrators, heirs, assigns,
To have, to hold, convey at thy designs.

Correct thy pleadings, my own baby boy,
Let there be an abatement of thy joy;
Quash every tendency to keep awake,
And verdict, costs and judgment thou shalt take.

—The body of the late George Pickell, brakeman, who was killed in a railroad accident on the M. C. R. last Saturday, arrived in the city yesterday via M. C. R., the company placing a special car at the disposal of the family and friends.

Married at the College.

Yesterday a very pretty weeding was celebrated at St. Ann's chapel, Hellmuth College, the edifice being tastily decorated for the occasion with the college flowers—marguerites. Waldemar Arthur Bluthner, professor of music at the college, was the bridegroom, and Miss Letitia M. Martin, sister of Prof. Martin, of the college, was the bride. The bridesmaid was Miss Elizabeth Martin and the groomsman Mr. G. B. Sippi, while the Dean of Huron tied the nuptial knot. The bride was given away by her brother, wore a traveling dress of grey and carried white roses. The bridal chorus (Lohengrin) was sung by the college choir as they escorted the bride to the chancel and Mendelssohn's wedding march was played as the party left the church, the aisle being strewed with daisies. The couple left at the conclusion of the ceremony for the west amid many congratulations and profuse showers of rice. They will return at the end of four weeks and take up their residence at the college. The large and varied assortment of presents received from friends in various parts of the country testified to the high esteem in which both are held.

Why It Is Popular.

Because it has proven its absolute merit over and over again, because it has an unequaled record of cures, because its business is conducted in a thoroughly honest manner, and because it combines economy and strength, being the only medicine of which "100 Doses One Dollar" is true—these strong points have made Hood's Sarsaparilla the most successful medicine of the day. b

Mr. J. R. Allen, upholsterer, Toronto, sends us the following: "For six or seven years my wife suffered with Dyspepsia, Costiveness, Inward Piles and Kidney Complaint. We tried two physicians and any number of medicines without getting any relief, until we got a bottle of Northrop & Lyman's Vegetable Discovery. This was the first relief she got, and before one bottle was used the benefit she derived from it was beyond our expectation."

THE ANGLICANS.

The opening business session of the Synod of Huron commenced at 2:30 p.m. yesterday in the Chapter House, the bishop presiding. Seventy-seven clerical and 72 lay delegates answered the roll call. The election of secretaries resulted in the appointment of Canon Richardson, of this city, as honorary clerical secretary, and Wilmot Swaisland, of Glencoe, as honorary lay secretary. Geo. F. Jewell and C. F. Complin, of this city, were re-elected auditors for the year.
The Committee on Certificates and Synod Assessments reported that 90 congregations out of about 400 had not paid their assessments, and the lay delegates from those places were not therefore entitled to seats in the Synod; also that delegates were elected at another time than the law prescribed. The report recommended the remission or part remission of several assessments.
Wm. Gray, of Woodstock, thought the manner in which the assessments were collected or enforced was demoralizing.
A. H. Dymond, of Brantford, said there was a distinct law that no lay delegates from churches whose assessments were unpaid should be allowed to take their seats. If the clergy were included it might be a better means of enforcement. (Laughter.)
The report was adopted.
Rev. G. C. Mackenzie, of Brantford, moved, seconded by Wm. Gray, that the whole matter of arrears be referred to a committee consisting of the mover and seconder and Canon Hill and Rural Dean Dewney. Carried.

The Bishop's Charge.

The charge of the bishop contained many interesting statements of church affairs, and was an eloquent and instructive address. He noted feelingly that earthly separations had occurred since the last meeting. Two old and highly esteemed members of the diocese had passed away in the persons of Rev. Wm. Davis, rector of Woodhouse, and Rev. John Gemley, rector of Simcoe. The former had a record of 27 years of unwearying industry and sacred zeal; his earnest desire that he should die in harness was strictly realized. Rev. John Gemley was ordained to the priesthood in May, 1875, and was for some time assistant minister in St. Paul's Cathedral under the Dean of Huron. In 1880 he was preferred to the rectory of Simcoe, where he remained until his death. He was a man of marked ability, genial manners and extraordinary freshness. The late Rev. Henry Bandwell they were also called upon to mourn. He was admitted into the diocese in 1881 and was stationed for a while at Essex, subsequently going to Port Stanley.

THE FINANCIAL OUTLOOK.

The total receipts for the year ending April 30, 1890, said the bishop, amounted to $16,978 83, whereas the total for the same date, 1891, was $18,005 97, being an increase of $1,027 14. (Applause.) The free-will contributions were $15,287, an increase of $454 over last year. The bishop called attention to the maintenance and mission funds, which he said were largely overdrawn. The whole amount of this fund available for the secretary-treasurer for the year ending April 30 was $13,297 29, including $974 surplus from the previous year. He actually paid out $17,312 75, or $4,015 44 in excess of the receipts. Some portion of this had been placed to the credit of other funds, but such a state of affairs was worthy of serious attention. His lordship also pointed out that if there was no increase in the receipts for the fund provided for by canon 29 (endowments to the clergy) there must be in the immediate future a severe financial crisis. As regarded parochial subscriptions gross carelessness existed somewhere. Thirty-six places had sent in no subscriptions whatever, while some were so small that it could not be imagined the clergymen or people exhausted themselves in the effort.

THE INDIAN WORK.

From statistics furnished him he was informed that the Indian population of the Diocese of Huron was 7,441, of whom 5,870 were Protestants, 303 Roman Catholics, and 1,268 pagans or religion unknown. Of 7,256 Indians in the Diocese of Algoma, 1,054 were Protestants, 6,043 Roman Catholics, and 158 pagans or unknown. The work of the missions among the Indians in this diocese was dealt with by the bishop at length.

CHURCH OF ENGLAND CONSOLIDATION.

Touching this matter the bishop read the scheme for the consolidation of the Church of England in British North America, adopted for submission to the various dioceses by a conference of delegates held in Winnipeg on Aug. 15 and 16, 1890. Stated briefly, it provides for a General Synod consisting of the bishops of the church in Canada and Newfoundland and of delegates chosen from the clergy and laity. It states that the following, or such-like objects, may be suggested as properly coming within its jurisdiction: (a) Matters of doctrine, worship and discipline; (b) all agencies employed in the carrying on of the church's work; (c) the missionary and educational work of the church; (d) the adjustment of relations between dioceses in respect to clergy, widows' and orphans' and superannuation funds; (e) regulations affecting the transfer of clergy from one diocese to another; (f) education and training of candidates for holy orders; (g) constitution and powers of and appellate tribunal; (h) the erection division, or rearrangement of Provinces; but the erection, division, or rearrangement of dioceses, and the appointment and consecration of bishops, within a Province, shall be dealt with by the Synod of that Province. It further provides that the Synod shall meet for the first time in the city of Toronto, on the second Wednesday in September, 1893, and that it shall consist of two houses, the bishops constituting the upper, and clergy and laity together the lower house. Both houses to sit separate. In commenting upon the scheme, the bishop said the establishment of a new body must detract from the power of existing bodies. The creation of a superior synod could only be the practical dissipation of the Provincial system, which in a while would almost apologize for its existence. He did not advocate the abolition of the Provincial system. In the Northwest it was an absolute necessity, and here it could be successfully applied to minor purposes. A simple and less expensive scheme than that proposed could be elaborated to serve the purpose.

HURON COLLEGE.

This institution was rapidly advancing in general utility and efficiency. There were upwards of twenty students attending the college, a number too large for the present capacity of the building, which absolutely needed enlargement. The necessity of generously supporting the college, on which they were mainly dependent for the yearly clerical supply, was strongly urged. The splendid services of Principal Miller and Professor Williams were duly recognized. With proper support the bishop trusted the department of arts and the advantages of a university education would be added.

PATRONAGE.

"I don't approve of some of the changes which are being advocated," remarked the bishop under this heading. He said he did not believe in all the powers being vested in the bishop. The desire of a congregation in the selection of an incumbent should have some force. (Applause.) "When there are five or six clergymen seeking a place," he continued, "and each one is convinced that he is the best one for the vacancy, what is the unhappy bishop to do? (Laughter.) The man appointed thinks the bishop is a man of transcendent genius and diaphanous equality—(laughter)—but the others feel that there is a downright abuse of power. (Laughter.) The best way is to find a man a place where the sympathies of the people will move in harmony with his own." (Applause.) Neither did he approve of all the power being in the hands of the people. (Hear, hear.) Although freed from the bishop of the diocese, a congregation owing to the manipulations of some designing man might find itself under the dictation of a self-constituted bishop of the parish. (Laughter.)

WOMEN'S AUXILIARY.

Seventy-seven branches of this thriving organization existed in connection with the parent body. The total receipts, including a balance of $606 from the past year, were $2,451.

LAY WORKERS' ASSOCIATION.

The formation of this body recently was alluded to. The bishop had no doubt that the Synod would willingly accede to the request that such funds as the association needed should be drawn from the exchequer.

INCUMBENCIES, ORDINATIONS, CONSECRATIONS, CONFIRMATIONS, ETC.

The newly-appointed incumbents and the churches consecrated during the year were detailed. Forty-four confirmation services had been held and 300 males and 541 females received the rite. Speaking of the spiritual wants of the church, the bishop said it was not money nor human wisdom required. The Bible was the infallible guide as to what was and what was not right. The glory of the Church of England was that she was primitive, and had added no dogmas nor subtracted any awful mystery from its articles which were declared by the apostles. In conclusion he referred to the death of Sir John A. Macdonald, whom he highly eulogized.

INTENSE INTEREST IN POWELL'S
Great Bankrupt Sale

The immense run of trade and customers is keeping up day after day. To those who may not fully understand the reason of this great and growing and interesting sale at Powell's Old Stand we must give the information in a word or two, viz.: The reason the crowds come is simply this, they can buy their dry-goods at Powell's Old Stand at little over half price. Immense lines of bankrupt goods will be opened out on Thursday morning. We want you to look out for this big offering. The quantities are big, but the price will clear them out in a few days. We want everybody to remember that we don't pretend to get more than about half price for our goods. Remember, when you buy goods at Powell's Old Stand you get the finest class of goods imported into London. Compare the prices of our Prints, Table Linens, Cottons, Sheetings, Blankets, Lace Curtains, Silks, Bengalines, Colored Henriettas, Black Henriettas, Millinery, etc., with prices elsewhere and you will find our prices are about half ordinary prices. We are always busy. We are busy in the millinery rooms busy at the front counters; in fact, busy all over the store. It would be a wonder if it were not so where all classes of goods are sold at half price—at Powell's Old Stand. We give you a few samples of prices:

1st—50c and 60c Ladies' Hats selling for 20c.

2nd—75c and 90c Ladies' Hats selling for 20c.

3rd—$1 and $1 25 Ladies' Hats selling for 35c.

4th—Just think, ladies, that you can buy Silk Illusions, 40 inches wide, for 10c per yard at Powell's Old Stand.

5th—Fancy all colors in Silk Net Veiling, with self-colored spots, for 10c at Powell's Old Stand.

6th—The greatest awakener in Dress Goods is the Full Dress Length of about 50 different ways, for $1 25, the dress pattern at Powell's Old Stand.

7th—Nobody ever heard of pure Silk Lace being sold at 10c per yard until Powell's great bankrupt sale started. We have them in all colors.

8th—Read this carefully. These are figures from the invoices, viz.: 3,600 yards of Ribbons in one case. We will offer them in two lots, at 4c and 6c. Come and see them; you will wonder at these Ribbons; the price will make a wholesale millinery men shudder.

9th—Ladies' underwear—Please read this and don't forget what we say; the invoice speak again. 133½ dozen Ladies' Undervests will be offered Thursday morning at net wholesale prices. Merchants from the surrounding towns should send for sample.

10th—Ladies, please remember Bangalines, in plain, colored and figured. You save from 10c to 25c per yard by buying at Powell's Old Stand.

We close our list for to-day. We could go on with a much longer list, but will stop here just now by reminding our thousands of customers to remember that prices the Blankets, Prints, Ginghams, Hosiery and Gloves are at at Powell's Old Stand.

Please note our goods are sold for spot cash, as we keep no books for accounts.

Owing to the hot weather we open our doors for trade at 9 o'clock instead of 10 o'clock as in the past. Don't make a mistake and go into the wrong store. Be sure you find

The Nugents of Carriconna

An Irish Story.

BY TIGHE HOPKINS, AUTHOR OF "TWIXT LOVE AND DUTY," "FOR FREEDOM," ETC.

"Was Bessie my cousin's name?" said Arthur, still pressing that point.

"Yes, Bessie was the name your father always used when he spoke of her in his letters."

Arthur got up and walked across the drawing-room to the place where the old family Bible always lay, and began to turn over its leaves.

"Arthur, you are very obstinate," said his aunt, observing what he was at.

"But see here, Aunt Barbara," said he; "Cousin Bessie's first name is Theodora, so you see there is a Dora, after all."

Barbara went over and looked for herself at the name recorded in full in the family Bible—"Theodora Elizabeth."

"And," said Arthur, "the sight of Cousin Dora's' name reminds me of something else. Don't you remember, Aunt Barbara, telling me when I came home from Africa, that Mrs. Lytton's voice reminded you at times of Uncle Kedagh's?"

In fact Dora's voice had at first put Barbara very strongly in mind of the voice of her brother in Australia, a voice very different in tone and quality from Anthony's, though when she had begun to grow familiar with Dora's voice she thought about it no more.

She was puzzled, vexed, disquieted; but he would not give in.

"There's nothing in the world in it," she insisted; "it's a wrong and absurd notion that you've got hold of, Arthur."

"Where is Mr. Trenchard now?" pursued Arthur quietly.

"I don't know exactly where they are," replied his aunt.

"When are they to be back?"

"I don't know that either, but it's not likely they will be long."

"Did Mrs. Trenchard leave no address with you?"

"No," replied Barbara, "they are to be moving about all the time they are away, and won't be able to receive any letters."

"I must say," said Arthur, "all this looks to me like rather clever management."

Poor Barbara by this time was almost in tears, and she was positively relieved to hear Dr. Maguire's voice calling her again to the sick-chamber.

Scarcely had Barbara gone upstairs when Lady Frayne and Kitty arrived to make their inquiries. They had followed Arthur from Dublin that morning, on receiving a letter from him respecting the desperate condition of his father.

When their first questions as to Anthony's immediate state had been answered, Arthur had to give them the whole story of the storm and its consequences. The door of the drawing-room stood open; they heard Barbara come out on the landing above, and give whispered instructions to somebody. Kitty, with her quick, though gentle sympathy, rose up quietly and went out of the room and up the stairs.

Lady Frayne bent towards Arthur and said:

"Did you tell your aunt what you heard in Tresidder?"

"Yes," answered Arthur, "I have told her everything."

"Well?" continued Lady Frayne.

"She knows no more than I do," said Arthur.

Lady Frayne sighed.

"I'm terribly sorry for your poor father," she, "but one can't help feeling that the other is a serious matter, too."

"Yes," answered Arthur, "one has to admit that, though, of course, at the moment, one thinks as little about it as possible."

"To be sure," assented Lady Frayne, "to be sure, and yet 'tis not a thing to be overlooked."

Arthur was silent. He could talk freely to his aunt, who was as a mother to him, but he did not like discussing with Lady Frayne the money matters of his father immediately beneath the room in which his father lay within sight of death. He himself, however, he could not but admit that this aspect of the situation was grave in the extreme. He was so hopelessly in the dark about it all. He would not say to himself that his father had treated him unfairly, but—well, was it not strange, the only son never to have had one generous word from the father who had been suddenly enriched; never to have been taken into confidence about those riches; never to have had sight of them; never to have had the littlest share in them?

For this was precisely the footing on which Arthur stood with his father in regard to Kedagh's fortune. In all that concerned his money, Anthony had held his son at arm's length ever since his return home. He had made half promises and promises; he had held out hopes, not one of which had been realized. Since his father had grown to wealth Arthur had been made to feel himself a stranger in the house.

And while it had been thus with him, he had seen, or fancied he had seen, that the place which might have been the son's had little by little been usurped by the stranger Dora. At any rate, it had not, and could not have failed of notice how greatly Dora had been in the confidence of Anthony; as far, as east as could be judged by one who had not been in the confidence of Anthony himself.

Touching that vital affair of the money, Dora, of course, had never been in Anthony's confidence at all; but it seemed to Arthur that acts pointed quite in the opposite direction.

Kitty had run upstairs to whisper an inquiry if she could help Barbara.

"What does Maguire say of your father?" asked Lady Frayne.

"He gives scarcely any hope," answered Arthur.

Lady Frayne sighed again. She was touched on her old friend's behalf, and desperately puzzled about his money.

"How did yon find things at home?" said Arthur.

"Quiet enough; but not too comfortable," answered her ladyship. "We'll be a little while settling down again. Ah! doctor, how is he now?"

The doctor shook his head without speaking.

"Dear, dear," said Lady Frayne, "is it so bad as that?"

"Have you given up all hope, doctor?" asked Arthur.

"You see," said the doctor, "there's no strength left in him; he bled so long before they found him. He can't stand against the fever."

"Does he still lose strength?" said Lady Frayne.

"Every minute," answered the doctor. "I suppose you know that we had Fitzgerald over yesterday from Dublin, but he said we could do only what I am doing—fight the fever step by step as we can. His mind is wandering in the strangest way; he has a notion that somebody is taking his money from him."

"Oh," said Lady Frayne, "that's a queer idea for him to have."

"It is," said the doctor; "but there's no idea too queer for delirium."

CHAPTER XLIII.

THERE IS MUCH TO CLEAR UP.

Anthony lay a-dying in his chamber. The end of the death-struggle had become now only a question of hours; the doctor had said that his utmost was done, and that it would avail nothing.

Arthur, tired out with watching, had strolled down to the ruined tower. It was the first time that he had taken a fair survey of the wreck that the storm had wrought. Nothing had been touched there since the night when Anthony was carried in to his death-bed. The wintry sun glimmered on the desolate scene, a scene familiar to Arthur from his boyish days. The destruction of the tower seemed like the destruction of all the old life at Carriconna. He called to mind the legend that when the tower fell the head of the old house should fall with it, and there he was, standing, under he wreck of it, and every moment expecting the summons to close his father's eyes.

He climbed the broken stairs to the second floor of the tower, which was now its highest, and the wintry panorama lay bare and bleak before him. There was ice at the edges of the lake; he remembered rowing there with Kitty in the summer. Come what might, he had Kitty now, and the thought of her was his best comfort. Then the image of the future assailed him, and a vague dread rose up in and filled his mind. Those broad acres he looked out upon—would he be able to maintain them? Still the same haunting fear about the fortune that had so mysteriously vanished. And all the while he was standing right above it. He descended to the ground-floor, stepping over the fallen stones that hid the trap-door which led to the treasure-chamber of the old man, who would never count his gold in it again. And poor Arthur, thinking that all the gold had gone, and that by-and-by he would have to tell his wife that she had a beggar for her husband; for of late Anthony had been spending on the estate even less than he had done in the days of his poverty, and it had seemed as though he had scattered the old and the new fortune both.

Then and Now.

In ancient days for many an ill
We used to take a big blue pill.
It did so surely tear and gripe
We felt for purgatory ripe.

To-day, when sick, we take Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets. They are gently aperient or strongly cathartic, according to size of dose. Cures Sick Headache, Bilious Headache, Constipation, Indigestion, Bilious Attacks and all derangements of the Liver, Stomach and Bowels. Put up in vials, hermetically sealed, hence always fresh and reliable. Purely vegetable, they operate without disturbance to the system, diet or occupation. Sold by druggists at 25 cents a vial.

It is easy to tell when a man is flattering your neighbor, but it isn't so easy to decide when he is flattering you.

"Having used Burdock Blood Bitters for Loss of Appetite and Headache I heartily recommend it." Helen R. Sinclair, Ninette, Man.

The new fashionable envelope is not only long and narrow, but very long and very narrow, not at all pretty, though it is stylish.

Unfit for work or play, cross and miserable too, all because of a Headache which a few doses of Burdock Blood Bitters will remove.

PROGRESS IN SCIENCE.

Hitherto all the fuel used on the Italian railways has been imported, but an attempt is now being made to use the lignite, of which the country possesses large beds. Very satisfactory results have so far attended the experiments.

The method of purifying water invented by Dr. William Anderson, and now employed at Antwerp with success, consists in passing the water through a slowly revolving cylinder containing metallic iron in the form of scraps of filings. The estimated cost of purifying 1,000,000 gallons in this way is about $1 50.

The use of nitrogen as an anæsthetic was recently successfully tried in England. Nine patients took the gas, and in every case the result was the production of complete anæsthesia. The pulse was first full and throbbing, then feeble. In the advanced stage the respiration was deep and rapid and there was lividity of the surface, the pupils were dilated, and there was more or less jactitation of the limbs.

FUN, FACTS AND FICTION.

Mr. Ketchem—How is your boy getting along at school? Mr. Cheatem—Splendidly! splendidly! I just tell you, my old friend, that boy of mine will make his way in the world, don't you fear. During the eight years he's been going to school they have had 32 examinations, and he's managed to dodge every one of 'em.

Both for scientific and for industrial purposes a standard of color has long been desired, and in order to attempt a solution of the question the Society of Arts is investigating the subject through a committee.

A man's wife should always be the same especially to her husband; but if she is weak and nervous and uses Carter's Iron Pills, she cannot be, for they will make her "feel like a different person," at least so they all say, and their husbands say so, too.

Sir William Siemen's method of applying electric light to grow flowers and fruit by night or on cloudy days has been employed with good success on board a West Indian steamer to keep alive exotic vines and other plants.

Carter's Little Liver Pills must not be confounded with common Cathartic or Purgative Pills, as they are entirely unlike them in every respect. One trial will prove their superiority.

It is a mistake to suppose that the only way to keep friends is by the use of alcohol.

"Without doubt," says Mr. R. E. Hartt, of Sambre, N.S., "your B. B. B. has done me a lot of good. I was sick, had no appetite and was very weak, but it has helped me and made me feel smart."

—Rev. S. Bond, of this city, was introduced at Monday's meeting of the Toronto Conference.

—Alexander Gillean has a summer residence well under way at New Orchard Beach, Port Stanley.

—"Professor" J. W. Clark, the Boston pugilist, was allowed to go by the police magistrate yesterday after a week's confinement for drunkenness.

—A crowd of disorderly boys on Egerton street, near the Fair grounds, is complained of by residents of that locality. On Sundays the crowd is especially large and boisterous.

—D. McIntyre and wife and Miss Blossie McCrae, of Glencoe, left the city Monday night for the east. They join the steamer Vancouver and will make a trip round the world.

—At Osgoode Hall, Toronto, in re Schooley, E. R. Cameron (London) moved for an order declaring Asa William Schooley a lunatic. E. T. Malone for the inspector of asylums, etc. Stands for further material.

—Joseph Marks, of Dufferin avenue, met with a painful accident the other day. He was running a lawn mower and in turning the machine his finger was jammed between the iron boulevard and the handle of the mower, nearly severing the top of his finger.

—The funeral of the late Mrs. Reid took place Monday afternoon and the large attendance showed the esteem in which deceased and her bereaved husband are held by the community. About 70 conveyances followed the remains and the car works employes marched in a body, the grave being at St. Andrew's Church Cemetery, north of the city. The pallbearers were: Messrs. Laughlin, Lewis, Matthews, Fitzgerald, Treleaven and Johnston.

Big Extensions.

Mr. Wadland, superintendent of construction of the Bell Telephone Company, has gone to Peterboro on business with new lines being strung in that locality. Mr. Wadland said to a reporter: "We are putting in a new metallic line between Toronto and Peterboro, on which two gangs are working. We are building a line between Lindsay and Bobcaygeon, taking in Fenelon Falls. Two gangs of men are building between Parkhill and Wyoming, taking in Forest, Thedford and Arkona. We are also extending the system between St. Thomas and Ridgetown on the Michigan Central Railway, and between Orangeville and Owen Sound and Wiarton. Mount Forest and Flesherton will also be connected. The new extensions will cover 325 miles of poles, on which will be placed 650 miles of copper wire."

Death of George T. Fitzgerald.

Geo. T. Fitzgerald, eldest son of Fenton and Annie Fitzgerald, died Monday at his father's residence, lot 12, con. 16, London township. Deceased was a dentist in this city for a number of years and continued to work until three or four weeks ago; but consumption carried him off with frightful rapidity. He was a young man of bright promise and his death at the early age of 27 years is particularly sad. He was extensively related in this city and district. The funeral takes place to Mount Pleasant Cemetery on Wednesday morning. Deceased was a member of Dominion Lodge, I. O. O. F. He had been married about two years and leaves a widow and one child.

Important Waterworks Matters.

The water commissioners met at noon yesterday, Chairman Jones, Commissioner Davis and Mayor Taylor being present. The City Council's request that six drinking fountains be erected by the commissioners at various points in the city was read, being supported by Mayor Taylor. Chairman Jones said the Council should pay for the construction of the fountains and the water commissioners would supply the water. Commissioner Davis seconded the chairman's idea and the fountains will be erected on that understanding. Only one tender for making an opening in the dam at Springbank was offered—that by John Corrie & Co. It was referred to the City Council for their consideration and disposal at a special meeting to be called by the mayor. H. and C. Colerick tendered for painting at the pump house, Springbank, and as the figures were low the contract was awarded them. Chairman Jones moved that W. M. Moore, C. E., look after the waterworks during Col. Tracy's absence at the rate of $400 a year, the salary paid the city engineer by the commissioners. It was decided to purchase the Lackie property below Springbank for $300. Adjourned.

Huron College Alumni.

Monday evening the Huron College alumni united pleasure and business most agreeably in the classic halls of the institution. An enjoyable supper was served in the dining room early in the evening. Subsequently an adjournment was made to the library, about 50 members being present. The treasurer's, secretary's and committees' reports were adopted, and the election of officers taken up, with the following result: President, Rev. Canon Smith, Christ Church, London; first vice-president, Rev. H. A. Thomas, Warwick; second vice-president, Rev. R. McCosh, Petrolea; secretary, Rev. A. H. Rhodes, St. Paul's Cathedral; treasurer, Rev. Canon Davis, St. James', London; committee, Rev. N. H. Martin, Rev. W. Craig, Rev. T. F. Kingsmill, and Students Elliott and Sherwood. Resolutions of sympathy were tendered the relatives of the late Rev. W. Davis (president of the association for years) and of the late F. F. Davis, son of Judge Davis. On Rev. Canon Smith's motion the principal and professors of the college were made honorary members of the association. College affairs were discussed by Rev. Messrs. W. Craig, J. Downie, T. R. Davis and Prof. Williams, and the desirability of enlarging the capacity of the college was touched upon. Rev. H. A. Thomas read an entertaining paper on the "Influence of some natural laws in the vocal world." Rev. N. H. Martin followed in an interesting address on "Inspiration." Both were accorded votes of thanks. Rev. G. M. Cox and Rev. Jeffery Hill were instructed to prepare theological and literary essays respectively for next year.

PERFUMES.
Crystalized History—That's what someone says words are. But a good Perfume is the essence of sweet words. Petals by the thousand and are used to make a single drop of Otto of Roses, but that will stir up more memories in a second than could be read in the ADVERTISER in a week. Josephine loved musk. History says so, and we remember it as well as we do that her husband became Emperor of France. One cannot smell the odor without being reminded of it. But all do not limit their choice to one odor. We hear of a lady who puts her letter paper between sachets of different essences, and it is the perfume that she employs that speaks for her. When she uses Tuberose or Chypre she says: "I am true." If the letter smells of White Rose it is "Adieu;" but if it is the tenacious and persistent musk, it is "Eternal love." If the adorer is too stupid to understand, so much the worse for him. The Perfume should be always of the best quality; everything else depends upon your Perfumes. Good or bad perfume, good or bad anything else. If you can't see that, there must be something wrong in your eyes—better have them examined for spectacles. We say you can always get the best at Bark-well's, and we think we know. zxv

EMPLOYMENT OF WOMEN.

It is undeniable that many women of the present day are trained for places hitherto filled by men, but it by no means follows that this is hurtful and not helpful to womanhood. A six-bladed knife is of more value than a one-bladed knife, even supposing that the single blade is not dull, and does not move rustily in its proper groove. It is absurd that the accident of sex should prevent human beings from making the most and the best of themselves. Education is undoubtedly harmful to women when it is administered in too small quantities. It is a little learning that is a dangerous thing. The most hopeless old fogy will hardly deny the hungry brain all the food it requires, though that brain should have the misfortune to be lodged in a feminine body. But of what avail are highly developed faculties, stimulated energies and wide knowledge, unless they are put to some practical use in the places and professions generally filled by men? To be logical, those who object to a literary or legal or medical or business training for women should object to her learning the alphabet. —[From "Ignorance and Womanliness" in Wives and Daughters for June.

AWFUL ITCHING SKIN.
Suffering Terrible. Could Not Scratch Enough. Tried Every Medicine and Many Doctors.
Nothing Helped Her. Gave Up Hope. Hears of Cuticura. Uses Them and is Speedily Cured.

For years I have suffered with a terrible itching, especially on my feet, that I thought I would scratch the very flesh from them. I used everything there was in patent medicines and what my physician gave me; in fact, I had a physician from New York, but nothing helped me. Later I began to have a fearful hand covered with something that resembled fish scales, not alone itch, but intense pain. I was utterly disgusted, believed in no medicines, and gave it up as being incurable, when a friend of mine told me of the CUTICURA REMEDIES, which I said I would try for the last thing. I wrote for one of your pamphlets, received it, read it, and bought a box of CUTICURA, a cake of CUTICURA SOAP, and a bottle of CUTICURA RESOLVENT; and I gave these three the most heartfelt thanks, for I am now a lady of 55 years, and am as healthy and have as beautiful a skin as a young girl of 22. I would not be without the RESOLVENT or SOAP if it coast $1 a cake. I have told all my friends. Many of them have used the remedies, and they always have proved to be faithful in curing.
