Provincial Autonomy in Dealing With Immigration

A determined demand from the socalled left wing of the Dominion Trades and Labor Congress for greater activity on the part of the executive in carrying out the immigration and unemployment policies of the congress, and for provincial autonomy in dealing with immigration, was nade at this morning's session.

Immigration, when it appeared under the officer's report, was the ubject of the keenest discussion yet featured in the 1924 congress. Delegate Tim Buck of Toronto summed up the aspirations of the younger element in the congress when he Toronto Labor Council, was said:

Women's National Labor League, Born Here, Demands Congress Recognition

NEW FEDERATION ORGANIZED TODAY

Women's Labor League Will Ask Recognition of Congress.

NATION-WIDE

A Canadian Federation of Women's Labor Leagues came into being this morning when delegates representing women's labor leagues from different sections of Canada met in session in the London Labor Temple and organized a Dominion-wide league. Officers for the new organization will be elected this afternoon, following which the new executive will wait upon the Dominion Trades and Labor Congress in an effort to induce that body to recognize the league as an official body of organized labor.

The new national body this morning proceeded to pass a platform, which was presented to the league Curbs Will Be Constructed by Mrs. Custance of Drumheller. In this platform the league demands for women in industry the same rights as those demanded by men, such as raising of wages, an eight-hour day, 44-hour week, and in addition aws relating to women in industry. The application of the minimum the residential streets. The application of the minimum wage law to all women wage earners is demanded with absolute prohibition of night work for women. Other demands are: Prohibition of women labor in harmful trades, two months' leave of absence for work before and leave of absence for work before and after child birth with full pay and a guarantee against dismissal: extensive government relief to mothers and children through the building and maintaining of maternity homes and clinics and nurseries for the children; mothers' pensions for widows, and women with disabled husbands in penitentiaries, with one child or more. Equal Relief.

The league demands equal relie for both male and female unemployed workers, this relief to come from the government in the form of social insurance. It further asks for the appointment of factory women inspec tors for the protection of women workers, the appointees to be chosen from among women workers, nurses

The new body aims to work toward the organization of women working in industry into the unions of their industry. The members have found that as a rule women in industry are that as a rule wollen in massive.

They know they may be married and that the period through the sales department at the of employment will be short.

City Clerk's Office Becomes Busier as "The Day" Draws Nearer.

"HIC-I DON'T CARE"

Until noon today some 225 appeals o have names added to the voters' lists had been entered at the office of the city clerk. Mr. Baker told The Advertiser that easily three times that many people had made inquiries only to find that their names were already on the list. From 7 to 9 o'clock last evening 70 appeals were entered at Mr. Baker's office. It is likely that two members of the city clerk's staff will be put on the work full time until a week from Saturday. Telephone calls and personal visits at the clerk's office have crowded out any possibility of 'business as usual" until the end of the month

In order to alleviate the work at the clerk's office and secure the full-est possible representation on the voters' lists, prohibition headquarters have opened an office especially for the purpose of giving information and securing appeals. Offices are open at the Merchants Bank build-ing, corner of ichmond and Queens avenue. Telephone inquiries may be made at 8560

The Homely Man Who Can't Understand Why His Beautiful Fiancee Is Marrying Him-Does "Steady Company" Mean an Engagement? - Being and Acting Good.

Dear Miss Dix: We are engaged to be married. The young lady is twenty, beautiful and full of life. I am twenty-five, and a very old person for that age, poor, fat and homely. Of course, I am crazy about the girl and she says that she loves me and has proved it in many ways, but she could do much better in getting a husband than she is in getting me. Suppose she comes to realize that? In other words, I am getting a bargain and she is not. What do you JOSEPH H.

I think that your sweetheart is a very level-headed young person, Joseph, and that she is making no mistake in choosing you. I think that any girl who gets a husband who admires her. and looks up to her, and considers her happiness before his own, is getting the very best bargain that is in the matrimonial market and that Lady Luck is her twin sister, for most men in these days seem to think that they confer a favor on a woman by marrying her, and that she should be down on her knees in gratitude to them ever after.

You don't see why the girl loves you because you are poor and fat and homely. Well, you know women have more sense in love than men have and a woman doesn't just look at the outside of an individual, as a man does, and marry for that. Any pretty face can catch a man. All that a man asks before marriage is that the girl have a peaches-and-cream com-plexion and a slim, willowy figure. He doesn't even try to find out whether she has got any sense in her head or any love and tenderness

But women look into a man's soul, and if that is beautiful it doesn't make any difference to them whether he looks like a sheik or has won the ugly man's medal. Nor do they care, if he is intelligent and interesting, whether he has got varnished hair or a head as bald as an egg. As for keeping the girl's love after marriage, that is a chance that every man takes on the one they marry. But it isn't hard to retain a wife's affection. Just be good to her and keep burning incense at her shrine and you can't lose her. DOROTHY DIX.

Dear Dorothy Dix—I have been keeping company with a man for two Several Mishaps Feature Last Hon. George .S. Henry Deyears. We dearly love each other, but this man has never asked me to marry him, although he speaks vaguely of our being happy together some Would you consider yourself engaged in a case like this? This man is amply able to marry. He is in business for himself, is well off, and we are both twenty-six years of age.

I do not like to ask him what his intentions are, as I am afraid he would throw it up to me after we were married. What do you think of A DAILY READER. this situation?

Certainly you are not engaged to the man. Before a woman is engaged to a man he has to make her a definite open-and-shut matrimonial proposition, and this man has never asked you to be

I should say he was a trifler, and that he merely wanted some woman who would love him and flatter him, and entertain him, and whom he could monopolize without burdening himself with her support or having to stand for any of the restrictions of married and many men have their vanity tickled by being loved. They like to do a little lovemaking themselves if it commits them to nothing.

Your own common sense must tell you that this man, who is able to marry, does not really want you, or else he would name the wedding day. He grabs the girl he desires and rushes with her to Certainly I think you should ask this man what he means to do and make him either put up or shut up. He will respect you more for it than he will for being an easy mark. DOROTHY DIX.

Dear Miss Dix—Among my acquaintances is a man who has always seemed to be a gentleman. Recently he extended an invitation to me to go away for a week-end with him. To me there is only one meaning in a proposition such as that, and I indignantly refused. When I told him I considered it an insult he said that I was evil-minded, and that he never intended anything that wasn't perfectly proper. Don't you think I was Absolutely, and it isn't an evil mind, it is common sense, and common prudence and decency that makes a woman look upon such an invitation as a gross affront. Such excursions are simply the thing that are not done by respectable young women.

Of course, to the pure all things are pure, and it is perfectly possible to continue the race, the Unko horse had to yield to the platonically discussing Shakespears and the musical places. platonically discussing Shakespeare and the musical glasses, but it would take a great deal to convince a cynical world of the fact.

"Be thou pure as ice and chaste as snow, thou shall not escape calumny." Especially when you give cause for Mrs. Grundy to suspicion the worst, and as long as hotel registers are admitted evidence in the chronicles of scandal, a young woman needs a chaperon when she goes week-ending with any man outside of her

Now that was an occupation of which he had had more than his fill, and since he had been washed and restored to the normal sensations of a clean human being he found that whatever might be within the scope of his courage he could not envisage returning to the oar. We have seen the ease with which he had abandoned the religion in which he was reared for the Roman faith, and how utterly deluded he had found himself. With the same degree of ease did he now go over to Islam, and with much greater profit. Moreover he embraced the religion of Mahomet with a measure of fierce conviction that had been entirely lacking from his earlier apostasy.

He had arrived at the conclusion whilst aboard the galley of Spain, as we have seen, that Christianity as practiced in his day was a grim mockery of which the world were better rid. It it not to be supposed that his convictions that Christianity was at fault went the length of making him suppose that Islam was right, or that his

He became the Kayla or lieutenant to Yusuf on the galley of that corsair's command, and seconded him in half a score of engagements with an ability and a conspicuity that made him swiftly famous throughout the tanks of the Meditarranean rovers. Some six months later in a fight off the coast of Sicily with one of the galleys of the Religion—as the vessels of the Knights of Malta were called—Yusuf was mortally wounded in the very moment of victory. He died an hour later in the arms of Sir Oliver, naming the latter his successor in the command of the galley and enjoining until they should be returned to Miss Gertie Hoggarth, who is now

The Basha's will was to confirm his nephew's dying appointment of a successor, and Sir Oliver found himself in full command of a galley. From that hour he became oliver-Reis, but very soon his valor and fury earned him the byname of Sakr-el-Bahr, the Hawk of the Sea. His fame grew rapidly, and it spread across the tideless sea Algerine galleys, which meant in fact that he was the commander-in-chief, for Asad was growing old and took the sea more and more rarely now. It was clear to all that the favor of Allah was upon him, that he had been singled out by Allah to be the very glory of Islam. Asad, who had ever esteemed him, grew to love him. An intensely devout man, could he have done less in the case of one for whom the Pity. the case of one for whom the Pity-ing the Pitiful showed so marked a predilection? It was freely accept-ed that when the destiny of Asadd-Din should come to be fulfilled ed-Din should come to be fulfilled Sakr-el-Bahr must succeed him in the Bashalik of Algiers, and that thus Oliver-Reis would follow in the footsteps of Barbarossa, Ochi-ali, and other Christian renegades who had become corsair-princes of

In spite of certain hostilities which his rapid advancement be-got, and of which we shall hear more presently, once only did his power stand in danger of suffering a check. He swore by the beard of the Prophet that if he were to draw the sword of Mahomet and to serve Islam upon the seas, he would serve in his own way, and one of his ways was that his own countrymen were to have munity from the edge of that same sword. Toledo, Ohio, Sept. 17.—Tommy Murphy's Merriman captured the Kiwanis Club race here on Wednesday, the feature event of the third day's Grand Circuit program. The event produced some of the best harness racing seen here in several seasons and went the limit, four heats, before it was decided. The Murphy pacer was the favorite.

Merriman broke in the first heat, which was captured by Marvin Childs with Halmahone. Murphy sent Merriman out in the lead in the second heat and won easily. In the third heat Jimmie McKerron, with Nat Ray driving, sprung a surprise by staging a fine stretch drive.

The fourth heat went to Merriman, who crossed the wire a winner over Jimmie McKerron by a nose. The times of the miles were 2:01¼, 2:01¼.

Walter Cox took the Toledo Blade trot with Fair May, but had to go four heats to do it. Miss Belwin, with Vail in the sulky, won the 2:08 pace in straight heats. The 2:09 trot was postponed until Thursday.

MOTORIST DRIVES CAR INTO ST. CLAIR RIVER

Special to The Advertiser Port Lambton, Sept. 17.—Considerable excitement was created or On a long shot over a creek, where the outcome is doubtful, should the player try to "carry the hazard" and run the risk of dropping short in the water, or should he deliberately play short and run the risk of overshooting into the water? Which is the greater risk for the average player?

Answered by

erable excitement was created of Front street about 9 o'clock Monday night when a Wallaceburg motorist failed to make the turn at the intersection of the Lambton line and Front street, and ran about 30 feet out in the St. Clair river before the driver realized his position and stopped the car. The machine was backed out, without any assistance, and proceeded on its journey.

HARVEST HOME SERVICES

Always play short, in case of doubt. Play short and take a chance on having your next approach shot up to the hole where you can go down in one putt. But don't play a slack the hole where you can go down in one putt. But don't play a slack shot or underclub when playing short of a hazard. Take a shorter-distance club and play it for its full value, with a good firm stroke. The risk of overplaying a short shot is much smaller than the risk of falling short on a long shot that has to be "present."

Associated Press Despatch.

Cleveland, Sept. 17. — Washington made it two straight from Cleveland today, Walter Johnson holding the Indians to seven hits and winning a pitching duel from Sherrod Smith, 3 to 2. A wild throw by Catcher Walters in the seventh inning to catch Ruel off first, enabled Ruel to take third where from he scored the winning run on McNeely's single. Washington scored two runs in the sixth on an infield single by Judgs, bases on balls to Harris and Gohlin, an error by Burns and a sacrifice fly. It was Johnston's thirteenth straight victory. He fanned six men, increasing his strikeout record for the season to 149 and his all time record to 3,215. Sam Rice, Washington right fielder, today hit in his 24th consecutive game, a season's record in the American League. uel from Sherrod Smith, 3 to 2. A wild

HE ASKED FOR IT.

Jack Reddick, the big fellow who is to fight Paul Berlenbach in Madison Square Garden on Friday, was discovered by Pa Stribling in Toronto. When Billy came up to Canada to meet Reddick and met with stubborn opposition, Pa said that he might just as well take the tough one in tow. Better to have him in the camp than growling on the edge of it every time the Striblings came to Canada. So to the "States" he went. Jack has flattened twentyfour out of twenty-eight victims, and this is a record that even Paul Berlenbach can't laugh at. He did lose a decision to Ted Moore in Syracuse, though it was only a sixround bout. Ted said that Reddick hit him harder than any man has ever belted him. It is interesting to know that Reddick deliberately sought this match with Berlenbach. He sat with Pa during the Stribling and Berlenbach bout and when it was over he begged Pa to get Berlenbach for him. There is such a thing as digging inta a TNT factory, but that's the little job that Montreal; Matthew Lodge Moncton; Reddick wanted, and inasmuch as Pa doesn't have to stop the punches he night that Reddick could get his chin in the line of fire if he wanted to.

Reddick stopped Soldier Jones, ex-champion of Canada, twice, and scored ner, Brockville. The appointment of thought that Reddick could get his chin in the line of fire if he wanted to. a knockout over Jack Renault.

FORESIGHT.

Plenty of people believe that the helicopter will never be of any practical use. Yet the prediction is seriously made that businessmen will in this generation hop into a helicopter and land on the roof of their office buildings after a pleasant sail through the air. So many inventions which were "mad" dreams are now come into the ordinary usages of existence, that people are less and less prone to stamp as absurd predictions that seem foolish.

dreams are now come into the ordinary usages of existence, that beyon and less prone to stamp as absurd predictions that seem foolish.

Looking at the ordinary sulky now used in harness horse meets, one can hardly believe that they were at one time considered impracticable for use as against the old high-wheeled, iron-shod sulkies the present generation can remember. Yet one of the high spots of the late "Pop" Geers' tion can remember. Yet one of the high spots of the late "Pop" Geers' career was his recognition of progress when the pneumatic-tired sulky was introduced. It marked a strong characteristic of the veteran reinsmansulation that he was always willing to learn. Of the introduction of the present sulky, it is recorded.

"In 1892 Sterling Elliott made the first bike sulky. He sent it after a few trials to Budd Doble and asked him to try it with Nancy Hanks. A meeting was in progress at Detroit when the cumbersome-looking vehicle arrived. Doble hesitated. Geers came along and borrowed it. Honest George was worked a mile to the bike. Geers saw that he could step three or four seconds faster to it than he could do to the high wheels. Ed said nothing, but on race day borrowed the bike again. He won on a jog. After he repeated at Cleveland the following week the high-wheel sulky disappeared over night."

ENTER CAMP BORDEN.

Dave Harding, former Sarnia and Queen's football star, who would be the most ubiquitous gent extant if all the reports of his playing this fall in various cities were true, crops up again as sponsoring an intermediate rugby team from Camp Borden. To those Canadians who put in a part of their war-time training in that desolate waste of sand and cinders, the combination of rugby and Camp Borden will seem somewhat incongruous. Still somebody once started a story about Dundas playing senior rugby.

Basing the belief on the history of mine accidents caused by fire and gas explosions, there will be 71 more dead miners to take out of that grave.

It is hard for people who know nothing of mining, or who have never lived in a mining center, to realize what it all means. It is hard for them to credit the fact that 81 men in a mine where there is an explosion caused by fire means 81 lives snuffed out.

Yet that is what it means because there is nothing for the men to breathe but the air out ways in the provincial government, told the of which all the life-sustaining qualities have wealth that Canada needed to make it pros- or "after-damp." In plain language it is rank

THE ART OF DYING.

A French author, Abbe Brugerette, has issued a volume on the

Without having read the book I have much fault to find with it. In the first place, no one should write about the art of anything unless he has practiced it at least to some extent. Unless the Abbe Brugerette is the reincarnation of Lazarus or some other dead man, we do not understand how he could have gone through the

The question remains whether dying is an art at all. In the theater and the novel it is an art, perhaps, for much depends upon the way it is carried out. Also the historian has to deal with death in an artistic way. But in real life, dying is a matter of improvisation and no amount of learning can render one perfect at it. It is usually a very disagreeable and sometimes a very anguishing performance. It can be disguised a good deal for the sake of the people around, but nothing can conceal the fact from one's self.

It is much more important to write upon the art of living, which is a difficult matter, one which has been tried many times, upon which we have abundant experiment, and which remains a Dying is simply quitting the business of living. It is the end of life, its conclusion, and if one knows how to live well, the dying will take care of itself.

Perhaps, however, the art of living and the art of dying is exactly the same thing.

If one believes in the future life there is no art in dying except the art of preparing for a future existence, and the best way to prepare for the future is to improve the present. The same conclusion is reached by one who does not believe in the future life. Often a religion is of value to us only as it increases the importance and induces us to accept the responsibilities of this life. A religion that looks wholly beyond the grave is of little value to the living.

Cut In Speed Urged in Toronto

Canadian Press Despatch Toronto, Sept. 18 .- "Traffic regulations in Toronto are not only inadequate but are behind the time, Chief Constable Dickson told the board of control yesterday afternoon. The chief declared also that the speed limit within the city of twenty miles per hour was entirely too fast. He appeared before the board to urge the creation of more one-way streets; further prohibition of parking during rush hours, and the adoption of a system of "boulevard stops." The board agreed to some of the measures, but refused to sanction the boulevard stop system.

Forest, Sept. 17.-Actual construction on the new waterworks plant and system commenced on Monday when a gang of men, under the direction of the waterworks committee of the town council, began excavating for the concrete foundation piers of the big standpipe on the town property in rear of the hydro building. The contract for the standpipe has been let to the Horton Steel Works of Bridgeburg for $7,830. Local men

Despite many predictions and rumors to the contrary, the complete plans of the system have been approved by the provincial board of health. Engineer A. E. Berry of the board of health, during a recent visit inspected the final plans presented by James A. Bell and Son, water-

London Presbytery Goes on Record as Being Against Proposal.

CAMPAIGN URGED

Would Suppress Entirely Manufacture and Sale of Alcohol.

During its sessions held this week n First Presbyterian Church the Presbytery of London took occasion to deal with the temperature question and to assert in no uncertain terms its condemnation of the idea of "government control" as "a delusion and a snare" and to urge all its ministers, elders and church workers to carry on an active campaign of education and organization prior to the vote on October 23 next so that each and every voter favorable to prohibition might be able to record his or her vote at the polls.

Besides handing down its own dic tum on the temperance question, the Presbytery draws the attention of all congregations under its direction to the pronouncement of the general assembly of the Presbyterian Church of Canada given out at Owen Sound last June, and quotes the same in

The Presbytery of London put it-self on record as follows: Delusion and Snare.

"That the idea of "Government Control" is a "delusion and a snare" as is evidenced by experience in British Columbia and Quebec, where conditions are in many respects as bad as they were under the old in-iquitous "Bar" system of providing intoxicating liquors as beverages. "That the government sale of beer wine and whiskies in sealed pack ages, will tend to extend enormous ly the "hip-pocket" method of dis-tributing liquors, will create an army of bootleggers in every part of the province as they have it in British Columbia under so-called government control: will greatly aggravate present economic conditions by opening the way for the spending of millions upon millions of dollars in strong drink, in these stringent times, that should go into the channels of neces-sary and helpful trade: will create a menace to life and limb, in this thick-

populated province of the Domin-on, where automobiles abound, such as has never been experienced among for the friends and promoters of the liquor traffic to amass fortunes by debauching and impoverishing a large part of the population and inflicting upon women and children conditions of sorrow, poverty and shame that are the outcome of the blasting influence of the traffic as we have known it in the past and will know it again if any system of so-called government sale be put into effect.

"That this Presbytery urges its ministers, elders and other church workers to carry on a campaign of education looking to the vote of Oct-ober 23rd; and calls upon all patriotic Christian people to organize so that every male and woman voter favoring Prohibition may be able to record their vote at the polls."

The pronouncement of the general assembly with regard to the temperance question is as follows:

"That only by the entire suppression of the manufacture and sale of alevils connected therewith be eradicated.

"Notwithstanding the organized efforts of the liquor interests to make enforcement difficult prohibitory leg islation (Dominion and Provincial has been of very great moral, social and economic benefit to the nation. "No system of government sale of alcoholic liquor (as a beverage) can control the traffic, or eliminate the evils that have always accompanied

"Furthermore, since the failure to observe and enforce one law breaks down respect for all law, the general assembly appeals to every one who values good citizenship to rigorously observe the law, and to support actively the authorities charged with its administration, in their effort to secure better enforcement. "And reminds our neonle that only are being employed entirely for the by systematic and sustained educa tional effort can the remaining evils be completely and permanently over-come, and the efforts of the drink traffic to re-establish itself be de-

MISSION CIRCLE PLANS BIG DRIVE

Annual Membership Crusade Arranged at Askin Street Church.

MRS. CHILDS PRESIDES

Plans for the annual membership crusade to be held on Tuesday, Oct. 2, were made at Tuesday night's meeting of the Askin Street Mission Circle held in the junior schoolroom of the church. This crusade for new members and funds is held annually and is one of the biggest events of the year. Mrs. Ernest Moore will be convener of the refreshments, Miss Mabel Gregory of the decorations while the members of the executive will have charge of the program.

At Tuesday's meeting it was decided that the life members of the circle should undertake as their spe-cial work this year, the support of a child for a year in one of the mission homes in the Canadian west. Decision was also made to hold the meetings of the circle in the church schoolroom in future. Owing to the increased attendance it has become impossible to meet at the members The president, Mrs. J. H. Childs, presided over a very interesting program which included the first of a series of lessons arranged by the president and given by Mrs. R. J. Garbutt. A letter from Miss Isabel Govenlock, Japan, was read, telling of her work there and the difficul conditions under which it was carried on at the present time. Mrs. Walter Biggs gave an interesting article on the life of Mr. Liu, who re-cently spoke in London. Miss Robertson told of the experiences of a worker in one of the Canadian mis-

Miss Howson outlined the temperance situation, making special reference to conditions in Manitoba and urging the members of the circle to do their share in connection with the coming plebiscite campaign. Miss Carrie Fitchett gave a delightful solo after which the vacation offering was taken. Refreshments were served with the girls on the program committee acting as hosacid in the stomach, creating so-called "acid indigestion."

Acid stomachs are dangerous because too much acid irritates the delicate lining of the stomach, often leading to gastritis accompanied by serious stomach clucers. Food ferments and sours, creating the distressing as which distends the stomach and hampers the normal functions of the vital internal organs, often affecting the heart.

It is the worst of folly to neglect such a serious condition or to treat with ordinary digestive aids which have no neutralizing effect on the stomach acids. Instead get from any druggist a few ounces of Bisurated Magnesia and take a teaspoonful in a quarter glass of water right after eating. This will drive the gas, wind and bloat right out of the body, sweeten the stomach, neutralize the excess acid and prevent its formation and there is no sourness or pain. Bisurated Magnesia (in powder or tablet form—never liquid or milk) is harmless to the stomach, inexpensive to take and the best form of magnesia for stomach purposes. It is used by thousands of people who enjoy their meals with no more fear of indigestion.—Advt.

John S. McLelland, Manager of Hamilton Bank, Is Arrested.

Canadian Press Despatch. Hamilton, Sept. 17 .- John S. Mc-Lelland, manager of the Union Bank branch at Spadina avenue and King street, was taken into custody shortly before noon today charged with embezzlement of $25,000 of the bank's funds. McLelland is 34 years of age, married and has one child.

He was born in Hamilton and lived here all his life. He had been with the bank for some years. For several days investigations have been under way, and while the exact amount of the alleged shortage is not known, it is estimated to be $25,000. The cash was taken within the last eight months, it is alleged. BETTER IN

After Taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

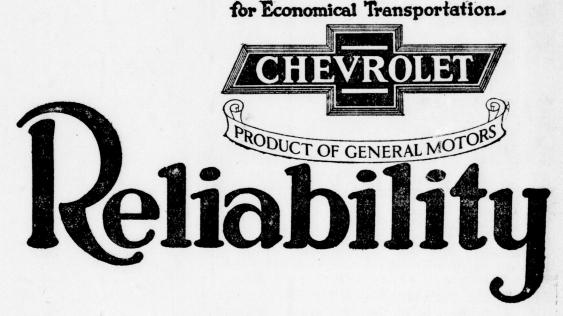

Ingomar, N.S.—"I took your medicine for a run-down condition and inward troubles. I had pains in my right side so bad at times that I could not walk any distance. I saw about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound in the newspapers and have taken five bottles of it. I am better in every way and you can use my letter to help other women." — Mrs. ALVITA M. PERRY, Ingomar, N. S.

Nervous Breakdown Relieved

Toronto, Ont .- "It is pretty hard to explain your feelings in nervous troubles. I felt low spirited, had pains in my head and eyes, always crying, and did not want to go anywhere. I do knitting and fancy work, and I would get irritable after a few minutes of work. I have been in Canada five years and have been this way ever since I came. I amtaking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and I sleep better and it seems to make me eat, and I must say I am feeling more jolly. I have great faith in your medicine because of what it has done for my husband's sister and she recommended it to me."—Mrs. A. SMITH, 10 Bur-leigh Ave., Todmorden, Toronto, Ont.

The city of London ought to build dam on the River Thames at Springbank Park, and that dam ought to be built as soon as possible. Such was the consensus of opinion expressed by the members of the public utilities commission, together with ex-members of that body, who attended the complimentary luncheon tendered them yesterday noon at Springbank by W. M. Lowry to mark the severance of his connection with the commission after 22 years' service as manager of the private pavilion at the park.

Mayor G. A.
