Major Coogan Says Case is the Most Deplorable in his Experience—

"It is the most deplorable matter with which I have had anything to do." said High Constable Major with which I have had anything to do," said High Constable Major Coogan this morning, alluding to the case of the girl Maggie McCarthy, charged with causing the death of her child and William, her young brother, who secretly buried the bedy in I fence corner.

The family, says the High Constable who visited Raleigh to make the arrests, live in a little shanty in the seriest state of poverty. In order to bring the girl to fown she had to borrow the skirt and shoes of her mather, the latter being left practically bundled in shawls and rags. They eat practically nothing but potatoes and pay no rent for the little shanty they inhabit.

The girl alleges that the father of her dead baby was W. Scott, a colored man, and says she was married to him "in the menth that Christmes comes in. This is being investigated by the authorities. The girl says he ceremony was performed in secret by a colored elder and neither her mother or brother knew of it. No locase was apparently procured and there seems to be some question as to the yalidity of the marriage.

When asked by the officer why she married a colored man and there seems to be some question as to the yalidity of the marriage.

When asked by the officer why she married a colored man the girl said he was good to her and promised to teach her to read and write. The authorities believe that both prisoners are felling the truth and the case will be carefully looked into. "It is very sad," concluded Major. Coogan, "neither of them seem at all to realize their position. They are untutored and innocent. When I told the girl the charge was a very serious one on which she could be seent away for a long time, she asked anxiously if she would be warm, get plenty to eat and learn to read and write. I said I expect so. Then," was her reply, I'd like to go."

GOOD YEAR

Methodists to be Complimented on the Excellent and Encouraging Re-ports in Work, Received at Dis-trict Meeting.

The second session of the district neeting of the Chatham District of the London Conference of the Methodist Church, was held in the Victoria Ave. Methodist Church yesterday morning and evening. There was a large attendance of ministers and laymen from the various churches in the district when the work of the year was reviewed and reports received from the different charges. In connection with the meeting public service was held in the church public service was held in the church on Tuesday evening, when addresses on the year's work were delivered by different ministers in the district. There was a large attendance at this meeting and an interesting and profitable time was spent.

At the session yesterday much routine business was done and preparations were made for the annual meeting of the conference which will be held in Listowel this year. Several reports were read from the different charges and both the financial and membership returns showed large increases over last year.

Lay delegates were appointed from all the charges to attend the Conference.

Much time was spent on the question of re-arranging the work on the Lake Shore, taking in the charges of Merlin, Cedar Springs and Blenheim. An committee was appointed to deal with the matter and bring in a report at conference time. This come deal with the matter and bring in a report at conference time. This committee is composed of Rév. Messrs. Garbutt, W. E. Kerr, F. E. Malott, Jas. Kennedy and A. E. M. Thompson, and Messrs. Wm. Greenwood, Geo. Clark and J. W. Humphrey. Rev. W. E. Kerr, of Blenheim, was appointed representative of the district on the Stationing committee. It is quite probable that many of the ministers of the district will be moved this year.

This was, perhaps, the best year in the history of the church, and the ministers and Methodists in general have every reason to feel satisfied over the work accomplished. The meeting closed yesterday afternoon at five o'clock.

We are advised by Mr. W. E. Rispin That Saturday excursion tickets to Detroit via Grand Trunk and Wabash railways, are now on sale, issued Saturday and Sunday, good to return any time Monday, $1.60 return.

ROSS, THE FIBER.

It is humiliating to have to recog nise, but it is no less a fact, that the reputation for veracity enjoyed by numbers of our, Canadian public men is purely honorary. Their position and standing is presumed to protect them from the accusation of being deliberate falsifiers or they would not have a shred of reputa tion left. Here again is ex-Premier Ross getting up in the Legislature and declaring that the job with the Ontario Development Company was consummated not in January just before the Government died, but in June, a year ago. The next mo-ment Hon. Mr. Foy pointed out that this was impossible because the report upon which the Government's action was based did not come before the Government until Nov. 11.

TWO "HONORABLES"

W. S. Fielding and Sir Frederick Borden, charged with corruption in the election of last November have been triumphantly vindicated! No: they did not go to trial and prove that the accusation was unfounded. Nor did the petitioner acknowledge that he had been misinformed. What happened was this: These two Liberal politicians slipped away after the election, and had to be served with the necessary notices of the fling of the petition against them in another country. They at once pleaded that the service was irregular, seeing that it took place out of Canada, and the plea has held good. So they escaped. Had they been elected honorably they could have faced the trial and would not have had to put in the technical plea that got them off. The Ontario machine, as will be soon seen, was not half so bad as the affair at Ottawa .- Toronto Mail.

HOW TO AVOID GERM DISEASES

Strengthen the Stomach and Digestion, and you Will Keep Well When there is an epidemic of germ disease, and most diseases are caused by germs, it is the person with a weak stomach who succumbs firse.

People with healthy digestion are People with healthy digestion are ordinarily not subject to sickness, and can throw off readily any disease germs that enter the system. Strengthen the stomach and digestive organs with a Mi-o-na tablet before each meal, and every atom of food taken into the stomach will be digested and assimilated, and the whole digestive system made so healthy, clean and sweet that there will be no chance for disease germs to breed.

If you suffer with pains or distress after eating, headache, belching of gases, sour food, a bad taste in the mouth, dizziness, pains in the heart, specks before the eyes and a general feeling of despondency and weakness, you should get well at once by strengthening the stomach with Miona. use so much more satisfactory is because it is perfectly adapted to weak conditions of the body. The stomach can accept and retain it even when vitality is low and enters the system almost entirely digested. It puts no strain on the stomach or weakened organs. The nourishment it gives passes quickly into the blood. Its goodness reaches the seat of weakness quickly, easily and without effort. An improvement begins at once. There's nothing in the world like it for thin, weak people or pale, delicate children. Consumptives and those affected with chronic colds, coughs and bronchitis are invariably helped by Scott's Emplsion.

The competitors take up positions by the stumps allotted, and when the signal to start is given the long han dled, keen edged axes flash downward to the opening stroke. The cooper round a cask is but a sloth to these brown skinned, brawny woodsmen, who with marvelous accuracy and strength strike up, down and straight until the hard wood chips fly in showers from the smitten tree. To him who in the best time most cleanly decapitates the stump the prize is given. The sawing contests, which are hardly less excit fng, depend upon the evenness and speed of the cutting, and for the man who thinks he knows what a hard day's work is a share in sawing through a thirty-six inch iron bark log in a tem-perature of 120 degrees or thereabout would be the most perfect disillusion-ment imaginable.—London Tatler.

A VERDICT IN RHYME.

The Suit Was In Jest, but the Fine Was In Earnest,

An interesting verdict was rendered in the district court of Travis county, Tex., in 1857.

The defendant, Frank B. Rafer, at that time a well known citizen of Austin, was accused of gambling, which was not regarded as a very serious offense in Texas in those early days, especially if the offender chanced to be a prominent citizen.

The prosecution was generally treated as a pleasant jest, but was nevertheless carried through in earnest, and a jury composed of lawyers brought in the following verdict:

We, the jury, lawful men,
Fine the defendant dollars ten;
A guilty man beyond all doubt,
Let the defendant pay himself out.
Thus we've said this freezing morn,
Your obedient servant, A. O. Horne,
Foreman

The composition of this verdict is at-The composition of this vertice is at-tributed to A. W. Terrell, who at the time of his service on the jury was a young lawyer. Afterward he attained greaf distinction in practice, served as a district court judge and was United States minister to Turkey under President Cleveland.

who afterward achieved renown were Charles S. West, who rose to be a justice of the Texas supreme court, and F. W. Chandler, who became one of the leaders of the Texas bar.—Law Notes.

He Was Loyal to His Friend.
Coventry Patmore's talk, as Mr.
Gosse describes it, was apt to be startiling. Behold an example:
In the presence of a number of menof letters Patmore mentioned an accomplished writer who was an intimate friend of his. The conversation passed to the lyrical poems of Herrick, whereupon Patmore, in his most positive manner, exclaimed, "By the side of —, Herrick was nothing but a brilliant insect!" There was a universal murmur of indignant protest. Patmore pursed up his lips, blinked his eyes and said nothing. The conversation proceeded, and an opinion of Goethe's was presently quoted. Then Patmore lifted up his voice and cried,
"By the side of —, Goethe was nothing but a brilliant insect!"

In Switzerland many of the funeral customs are most peculiar. At the death of a person the family inserts a black edged announcement in the papers asking for sympathy and stating that "the mourning urn" will be exhibited within certain hours on a special day. In front of the heuse whene the person died there is placed a little black table, covered with a black cloth, on which stands a black jar. Into this the friends and acquaintances of the family drop small black margined visiting cards, sometimes with a few words of sympathy on them. The urn is put on the table on the day of the funeral. Only men go over to the churchyard, and they generally follow the hearse on foot. black edged announcement in the

WOMEN WHO WEAR WELL.

It is astonishing now great a change a few years of married life will make in the appearance and disposition of many women. The freshness, the charm, the brilliance vanish like the bloom from a peach which is rudely handled. The matron is only a dim shadow, a faint echo of the charming maiden. There are two reasons for this change, ignorance and neglect. Few young women appreciate the shock to the system through the change which comes with marriage. Many neglect to deal with the unpleasant drains which are often consequent on marriage and motherhood, not understanding that this secret drain is robbing the cheek of its frashness and the form of its fairness. As surely as the general health suffers when there is derangement of the health of the delicate womanly organs, so surely when these organs are established in health the face and form at once witness to the fact in renewed comliness. Half a million women and more have found health and happiness in the use of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. It makes weak women strong and sick women well. WOMEN WHO WEAR WELL.

THE TIMES NEVER RETRACTS.

A Cardinal Principle in the Conduct of the Thunderer.

Sir John Lawrence, in presiding as judge of the king's Bench division of the High Court of Justice, in the trial of the suit brought by Col. Morgan, director of supplies at Woolwich Arsenal, for libel against The London Times, managed to extort from the assistant business manager of that paper the revelation of a cardinal principle of its conduct, which, though familiar to a very few, has hitherto been unknown to the public at large. It is this, namely, that The London Times never, under any circumstances whatseever, makes a retraction or a correction. It abides by what it has printed, whether right or wrong, and is prepared to take the consequences. Thus in the case of Col. Morgan, though it was made absolutely clear that he was innocent of the charges unjustly brought against him by The Times, it declined to make any correction. It was up to him, The Times declared, to disprove these charges by means of a libel suit, and if he won his case The Times would pay whatever damages might be awarded. That has always been the policy of The Times during the hundred years or more of its existence, and it cannot be denied that it has contributed to its presilge and authority. It has paid hundreds of thousands of dollars, possibly millions, in damages and legal costs, rather than retract statements made editorially or by correspondents in its columns. No one will ever, indeed, exactly know how colossal was the sum of money which it spent in connection with the great libel suit known as the Parnell Commission, where its principal witness was shown to have perjured and forged the evidence upon which the paper, believing it to be authentic, had based its charges against Charles Stewart Parnell.

In the trial the other day the libel cemplained of by Col. Morgan was contained in a cable despatch from South Africa. It was not even an editorial assertion. On learning of the despatch the colonel had at once insisted upon a court of inquiry at Prestoria, which acquitted him with flying colors. The colonel thereupon returned to En

Scotland Under Mary.

Scotland Under Mary.

The Speaker, discussing Dr. Hume Brown's "Scotland in the Time of Mary," thus summarizes the book's chief points:—The country was very poor; the population, he thinks, was about half a million; traveling was dangerous; barley, oats, peas and beans were grown on the hillsides; the lower lands were undrained; the roads were in bad order; the towns were unwalled; the coast swarmed with pirates; and yet "the Scotch peasant was not much worse off than his English fellow," and "his lot compared favorably with that of his class in Germany and France." The houses in towns were, of course, much better than those in villages; although even in the construction of the latter, stone was largely use. Strangers were impressed by Glasgow as the most beautiful of Scottish towns; and by Edinburgh as the most striking and peculiar. Dr. Brown, in his description of the capital, refers to the "filthiness of the numberless wynds and closes"; and quotes Sir William Breteton's opinion that the inhabitants (so late as 1636) were "most siutitish, nasty, and slothful people."
Had Dr. Brown drawn more from the Burgh Records of Edinburgh he could nabitants (so late as 1636) were "most sluttish, nasty, and slothful people."
Had Dr. Brown drawn more from the Burgh Records of Edinburgh he could have presented an appalling picture of the insanitary and disgusting condition of the city in the sixteenth century.

Worthy Knight of St. Patrick.

Since the Knights of St. Patrick were founded by George III. the order has not been conferred on a worthier nobleman than the Earl of Meath, whom the King has chosen in succession to the late Earl of Kenmare, says M. A. P. The whole field of philanthropic effort has the attention of the Earl of Meath. He was one of the first to establish a playground for children in a city slum. The Pimilco district of Dublin, where the Meath Manor House once stood, is now a poor quarter of the city, and there the earl cleared away a space and opened it as a well equipped recreation ground for the poor children of the district. The Countess of Meath's philanthropic at-homes, at-Kiliruddery, amongst the Wicklow Hills, are really unique hospitable events, and represent all sections of the people. The grounds of Kiliruddery are amongst the most beautiful in Ireland. They contain an open air theatre which gave the idea to Sir Walter Scott, when he visited the present earl's grandfather at Kiliruddery, which he embodied in "St. Roman's Well." A minister, addressing a meeting of his congregation, asked all women who had never quarreled with their husbands to stand up. Every woman kept her seat. Then the minister asked all men who had never quarreled with their wives to stand up. Ten men stood up, and they expected the minister to praise them. Instead, he said. "O Lord, have mercy on these ten liars."

TO VISIT CITY

Commissioner Coombs will Address Mass Meeting at Salvation Barracks on Saturday.

Mayor Cowan will Preside and Local Ministers and Speakers will be Present.

On Saturday evening Capadian Commissioner Coombs, of the Salvation Army, will address a mass meeting at the local barracks, commencing at 7.30. Adjutant Bloss has completed arrangements for a splendid gathering. His worship the Mayor will preside, and a number of prominent citizens have promised to be on the platform. A cordial invitation is extended to all the city ministers. The Commissioner will speak on the work of the Army.

Commissioner Coombs is essentially an Army product, and is, as someone has aptly expressed it, "a personal epitome of the character, aim, and vigor of the Salvation Army."

Thirty years ago the seventeen-year-old lad knelt at the Army penitent form, at Wellingboro, in the Old Country, and it is certain that nobody had the faintest idea that in the penitent youth was the germ of the future Commissioner. But his was a buoyant spirit, which urged him on to devote his life to the newhim on to devote his life to the newfound passion for the salvation of souls. He offered himself for service, and was accepted, when the Army was in its infancy. His ability to see opportunities where others were blind, and his natural shrewdness to adapt himself to whateven conditions he found in his appointments, were speedily recognized. Accordingly he was promoted and placed in positions of responsibility.

COMMISSIONER COOMBS. Head of the Salvation Army in Canada.

The Army in the meantime had crossed the Atlantic Ocean and made rapid progress in the New England States, from which it overflowed into Canada. Here it gained ground even more rapidly, which influenced General Booth to separate this field of labor from that across the International line, and he appointed Major Coombs to take charge of Canada. The latter relinquished his Divisional command of Wales, and, full of faith, entered upon his new sphere of labor in the new land.

For over five years Commissioner Coombs labored in Canada, and during that time the country experienced a revival of religion, which swept ence in that direction was probably even more remarkable if less observable on the surface.

In the fall of 1889 Comm ssioner Coombs received orders to farewell, as it is termed in the Army, and proceed to Australia, io take charge of the Army's operations in that land.

broceed to Australia, to take charge of the Army's operations in that land.

During his eight years' command in that continent he witnessed many great advances. Although smaller in population than Canada, the Army there is nearly double the strength of its troops here. Probably this may to some extent be accounted for by the fact that the population of Australia is congregated chiefly in large centres, instead of being scattered over an immense territory. Still, the Army's prosperity under the Southern Cross was remarkable: especially did its Social operations develop under Commissioner Coombs' direction very rapidly.

From Australia the Commissioner was transferred to the command of the Army's forces in the United Kingdom, and for eight-and-a-half years there he made himself a distinct influence. Blessed with good health, and an indomitable zealous spirit, he spread an infectious influence by his constant visits to all parts of his great command.

When the General's choice of a successor to Miss Booth fell upon Commissioner Coombs, there was a general concurrence of opinion throughout the Dom nion that no better selection could have been made.

Since his coming to Canada the Commissioner has amply justified his reputation as a hustler and a soul-winner. He is continually at work and keeps his secretaries at a lively pace. He plans constant visits to his corps, both great and small, and to his keen observation the true condition of affairs are quickly revealed. We can probably better understand the man by his own estimate of preaching:

"I am not against preaching in the Apostolic sense," said Commissioner Coombe. "I hope I myself have given ample evidence of that; but it is not the end-all and be-all of a salvation meeting. Hence I recognize that in the average crowd before me are sinners and backsliders; that they know themselves to be such; that they know the way of salvation; and that, in a measure, they feel the need of the divine pardon. Marriage In England. Marriage has been declining in England for twenty years. In 1903 the slump was so marked that nothing like it had been known. With the decline of marriage remarriage has fallen too. In 1879, 93 out of every 1,000 widows were induced to wed again. SWISS SCHOOLS.

The Course of Study and the System of Training.

The education given in the schools of Switzerland is in many respects more comprehensive and practical than that offered in our curriculums. The girls, for instance, are taught not only to read and write and spell, but to cook, to wash, to sew, says the Housekeeper. In addition to being trained for the duties of homeometric and In addition to being trained for the du-ties of homemaking and housekeeping, each girl is taught some useful trade. Many of the pupils are daughters of rich parents, and there is little likeli-hood of their ever having to earn their own living, but the paternal govern-ment takes the view that every mem-per of scalary should pages; the abilber of society should possess the ability to be self supporting even though the necessity to exercise that ability For sale at all drug stores. The boys, too, have not been neglected in the Swiss system of education. LOCATING SWITCHES

This morning Ald. Chas. Austin, chairman, and Ald. Westman, of the Industrial committee, with the Mayor, visited the factories of Gray & Sons, Park Bros., Chaplin Wheel Works and the Kent Mills, with a view to locating the switches that will be put in by the electric road. It was decided to recommend that the switch at Gray's be laid on Park street along side the factory; at Park Bros. on Witherspoon street; at Kent Mills on the south side of Dover street to suit the convenience of McKeough & Trotter and Blonde Bros. and at the Chaplin Wheel Works it will travel from Raleigh street to the firm's property.

The committee also conferred with the railway people, suggesting that as it has been decided to run through the Township of Dover on the Baldoon line, the rails be laid on Head street from St. Clair to Sandys street and out Sandys to the second concession, thence securing a right of way by the mest desired route to the Baldoon line,

"The people do not have to drink on the sly now and the hotel keeperers have been warned against breaking the law and perhaps they will do better now.

zines for June Great Silk Sale

Once again there are doings in the dining domain of the Hotel Garner. The waitresses have doffed their aprons and donned their warpaint—and the boarders have to struggle along with a motley collection of amateurs or wear out their shoe leather cantering to the kitchen.

There are several stories as to why the girls struck. The strong patriotic spirit that pervaded them is said to have much to do with it. A young lady was imported from Detroit, they declare, to assume the duties of head waitress—and the Canadian girls did enthuse over the idea of American chaperonage. There are other minor grievances hinted—the absence of social quarters of their own, the fact that visiting was not permitted, etc.

Captain Granville is an old trader here, having been coming to Chatham with cagoes of merchandise for fully 18 years. He came here with lumber when the late Mr. S. Hadley was in business in Chatham. At that time and later he sailed the "Nemesis" and the "Heather Bell," and latterly he secured the "On-

This is the first trip of the season for the "Ontario." She was laid up at Port Elgin all winter, and made the trip from Port Elgin to Pine Tree Harbor and then to Chattary in eight days. She stood the Rispin, or Station Ticket Agent.

Made the trip from Port Eigin to Pine Tree Harbor and then to Chatham in eight days, She stood the trip well, although the head winds were quite heavy in Lake Huron. Among the islands about 25 miles below Southampton there are great quantities of ice, but it does not interefer with navigation.

The captain experienced quite a little treuble getting across the bar at the mouth of the river. The water there is about ten feet deep, but not deep enough to allow a decent sized vessel to get across. There is another spot near the oid-Fisher place, about two miles out from Chatterm, that is also very shallow and in another year it will be worse than the bar at the mouth. Captain Granville expects to make about thirteen trips here with lumber this season. Last year he made twelve trips and the most head was fifteen. It is quite likely that Mrs. Granville and family will move to Chatham from Southampton and reside here during the summer. The captain will be coming here often and besides he thinks Chatham a desirable city for a place of residence.

Dear Sir,-The Council of Township

Dear Sir,—The Council of Township of Dover have requested me to instruct you to attend a meeting of the Reeves of the several Townships affected by flooding from the River Thames owing to the ever increasing volume of water brought down by the spring freshets from the upper reaches of the river and the insufficiency of the lower part of the river to carry the same. The difficulty seems to be increasing from year to year, as the improved drainage of lands finding an outlet for their drainage in the river hastens the water more rapidly to its outlet.

The meeting is villed at the office of Wilson, Pike & Gundy, at the City of Chatham on Friday, the 26th day of May at two o'clock in the afternoon, for the purpose of taking concerted action in making representations to the Dominion Government, or otherwise, with a view to obtaining relief without interfering with the navigation of the river.

"Now this is very encouraging indeed and speaks well for the city officials, and especially the Board of Health and health officials who have this important branch of the city's welfare under their charge,

"There is one thing that I would like you to suggest, however, and I think it is something that should be looked after promptly if we are think it is something that should be looked after promptly if we are to keep up our reputation of having one of the healthiest cities in Ontario, and that is the appointment of a milk and butter inspector, to be a public officer and paid for his-average by the city.

A milk-man to-day can put his milk through a cream separator, sell the milk afterwards, and then sell the cream thus obtained and the people are none the wiser. There is also a question in the price of milk that ought to be considered. For instance, why is it that milk is dearer here than it is in London, and this is the best agricultural district in Ontario, and thus should provide the cheapest milk.

At a later age such a sch me of reading as this should interest a girl in History—to the best poets who lived in this century.

Take, again, the history of the end of the eighteenth century and the best poets and the best poets of the eighteenth century and the best poets. The poets are the century of the Eeighteenth century. It would be interesting to begin with.

Lecky's History of the Eeighteenth Century, Stanhope's Life of Pitt, Early Life of Charles James Fox, Fanny Burn'y's Letter and Memoirs, Life of Madame Roland, Correspondence of Maria Theresa with Mercy-Argenteau, Taleyrand's Memoirs, Life of the Duke of Wellington, Lady Stanhope's Letters, Life of Sir John Moore, Life of Nelson, Lady Westmoreland's Letters, Life of Sir John Moore, Life of Nelson, Lady Sarah Lennox's Correspondence, Lady Hester Stanhope's Letters, Carlyle's French Revolution, Life of Napoleon, poets and essayists who wrote and lived between 1780 and 1820.

Reading in this way a girl becomes saturated with the subject; she breathes the atmosphere of the period she is reading about, and learns to take an interest in the lives of great men and women, and realizes the consequences of actions in real life; her judgment would be trained and her character formed by some such plan. I finish this lengthy letter with a list of authors with which I think every sirl should be familiar:

Field For Missionary and Healer-Sport As An Aid to Advancement-Tale of a Wooden Leg That Served in Various Denominations-Hardy Tellers of the Deep Who Inhabit Canada's Wildest Coast Country.

Dr. Wilfrid T. Grenfell, who is said to be the original of "Dr. Luke of the Labrador," Norman Duncan's powerful epic of the fisherfolk, and the rock and ice bound coast of Labrador, was recently the guest of the Toronto Canadian Club.

Dr. Grenfell is a young Englishmen.

Dr. Grenfell bears in his face the traces of the strife of the elements and the rigors of the climate. He is a sturdy man in the prime of life, and his address illustrated his whole-souled devotion to the cause of the fishermen.

Ottawa, May 17.—A. W. Donly, Canadian commercial agent in Mexico, reports that the Monetary Reform Act went into effect on the first of this month. This means that the Mexican currency now stands on a gold basis, with the peso at a fixed value of 50 cents. Mr. Donly calls attention to a demand in Mexico for the potato, and sees no reason why Canadians should not enjoy a share of the trade. F. J. Cheney & Co.,

Ritchens in the Tropics.

The kitchens of tropical countries, such as are to be found in our Spanish-American lands, are like cells from the thickness of the stone walls—often two or three feet deep—and the projecting, emnipresent veranda, which gives a grateful shade and which looks out on a court. The cell resemblance is enanced by the iron bars at the windows and the heavy double doors, which look if they could resist a siege. The tills are whitewashed, and the floors of tiles. The diling room is often parated from this room by a long esch other, then—but they did later on."

He said that his work was entirely undenominational, and proved it by a story concerning an artificial leg. Two boys brought their mother on a dog sled 50 miles to have him amputate her leg. He did so, and in response to a request made on a visit to civilization for cast-off artificial limbs, received a few months later a parcel of three artificial legs. One of them belonged to a Faptist minister, and in tracing its history he discovered that it had first belonged to a Methodist who had died.

"It was three years a Methodist leg, three years s Baptist leg, and finally it came to me, an Episcopalian, and I fitted it onto a Roman Catholic fisherman's grandmother, and she is now stumping around the coast village on it."

to be overcome, but it had done so well that it was copied in four different places, and had established a branch of its own. These stores had greatly improved the economic conditions of the districts around them. This was another method of preaching the Gospel.

another method of preaching the Gospiel.

For the education of the people—few could read, and there was little to read—they had established small ill-braries. Now that there was something to read, the people were becoming ambitious to learn. The books were good—not goody-goody. One man had read "Swiss Family Robinson" and had told the story to everybody in the village, and now they were all anxious to learn to read.

For the children of trappers who go inland during the winter Dr. Grenfeil said that he was going to establish a boarding school. The general custom had been when a man died for the next door neighbor to take care of the family. Now Dr. Grenfeil is usually the recipient. He places them in great homes and they usually turned them out well.

He had introduced sports, especially He had introduced sports, especially football, because it gets them together, which has an educational advantage. People had donated disused toys, and he had the privilege of teaching the Gospel with legless dolls and damaged the control of the c

Dr. Grenfell was also a magistrate. He knew nothing of law and went brequity. An instance of the exercise of his magisterial power was amusing. A man had a cow—a rare bird on that coast. The cow was killed by dogs of a neighbor. Dr. Grenfell decided that the man who owned the dogs should buy half the cow, whose value he fixed at $20. The man bought his half, sold it, and made a profit of $12. besides having some meat for himself.

Dr. Grenfell said he was a teetotaler. Liquor caused more danger to the fishermen than the fogs or reefs.

Signatures of the Future.

The time will probably come when the natural signature, the impression of the thumb or finger tip, will be widely used for purposes of identification. If the thumb be lightly predicted upon a surface smeared with priming ink and then pressed upon clean paper an impression is obtained which is distinctive for the particular individual who owns the member. No two thumbs or fingers are alike in the arrangement of their multitudinous lines; each, therefore, is a seal which is unique and a seal which cannot readily be mislaid or lost. The French police use this test to assure themselves of the identity of a prisoner; but surely the system could be usefully extended. A newspaper correspondent who recently pleaded for such an extension of the thumb mark test stated that once when abroad he was in great straits for money, although he held checks for a considerable amount, simply because he could not prove his identity. If the local banker had only had an impression of his finger tip, as well as anthority to pay, all difficulty would at once have vanished.

Why Horsehoes Are Lucky.

Why Horsehoes Are Lucky. Why Horsehoes Are Lucky.

A new explanation is offered for the belief in the luck of old horseshoes. St. Dunstan was a skilled farrier. One day while at work in his forge the devil entered in disguise and requested Dunstan to shoe his "single hoot." The value of the house he recognised his malign customer, acceded, but caused him so much nain during the openion that Satan begged him to desist. This St. Dunstan did, but only after he had made the Evil One promise that neither he nor any of the lesser evil spirits, his servants, would ever molest the inmates of the house where the horseshoe is displayed.

Midowhood in Sumatra.

In Sumatra the length of time that a widow must wear her weeds is determined by the wind. Just after her husband's death she plants a flag-staff at her door, upon which a flag is raised. While the flag remains untorn by the wind etiquette forbids that she should marry. But as soon as a rent appears, no matter how tiny, she can lay aside her weeds and don her most becoming gown and bewitching smile.

Toronto, May 18.—For the immedi-e use of the University of Toronto—$465,000.

Next year a bill will be introduced to take funds from the succession duties revenues or some other Provincial resource to meet the annual requirements of the university.

These are the main features of Premier Whitney's speech in the Legislature yesterday in giving effect to one of his pre-election promises that he would put the finances of the university on a "sound, stable and permanent" footing. The first item embraces a scheme for supplying the immediate needs of the university. Briefly the Government will provide $465,000 by the sale of $30,000 annuities to run the Government will provide $465,000 by the sale of $30,000 annuities to run for 30 years at 3 1-2 or 4 per cent, producing a fund of approximately half a million dollars. This is the Government contribution towards the sum of $1,600,000 that will be raised in various ways. The scheme embraces:

Big Proposition.

Mr. Whitney in introducing his bill, said he might well be excused if he deemed this a question beyond his power to deal with, having regard to power to deal with, having regard to the seriousness of the proposal. He was speaking for a body of 2,400 students, and 15,000 graduates, although there are only 12,000 graduates in the province to-day. Mr. Whitney rejoiced that he represented a majority of the Legislature, and he had the satisfaction of knowing that he represented the opinion of nine-tenths of the people of the Province. And more than that, "he is thrice armed who hath his quarrel just." It was not given to many public men," said Mr. Whitney, "to know that he represented such a "to know that he represented such a large body of public opinion. After giving a history of the university from its foundation in 1797 and the means adopted to finance it, the Premier gave the estimated receipts for the year as $168,087,39, and expenditures $214,177.83, leaving a deficit of $46,090.44. Besides the deficit nct of $46,090.44. Besides the deficit there were three departments which the Government paid directly to and the whole amount paid by the Province for the year would be $94,103.67. He quoted the figures of several United States universities, showing the productive funds of Cornell to be over seven millions and Columbia over seven millions and Columbia over thirteen millions.

The principle had been laid down by Sandfield Macdokaid, the Premier went on, that no state aid be given to sectarian universities, and the result had been that the sectarian universities have been dependent upon the beneficence of private individuals, but it had been found to be the proper principle.

Policy Carried Out. Policy Carried Out.

Mr. Whitney then arrived at the reasons which had led the Government to adopt this policy with reference to the university. It was the policy advocated by the Government when in opposition, that the finances of the university be put on a sound, stable and remanant footing by providing a and permanent footing by providing a stated amount each year for its support.

Speaking of the position of Queen's University, Mr. Whitney said the Government would do to it just what was right to do. The policy announced ply to estates under $10,000; to proright to do. The policy announced ply to estates under $10,000; to pro-scheme to place the university on a sound basis, showing the necessity for the tabulated expenditures above.

The Hospital.

Hospital: While the late Government was in office a proposal was made looking to the improvement of the relations between the Toronto General Hospital and the Medical Faculty of the university. The hospital board expressed its willingness, provided the Government donated $100,000 to resign its trust, and in forming a new trust, and with other sums available begin the gradual rebuilding of the hospital on its present site, or on another site if desirable, and financially practicable. The late Fremler prorilesd to grant $100,000, but imposed the condition that a similar sum must be given by the City of Toronto. He also said emphatically that the hospital must be erected elsewhere, and such proved to be the almost unanimous opinion of the medical profession. A suitable hospital on a new site will mean the expenditure of at least $1,000,000, and should the university not be able to svail itself of the present opportunity, it will some day have to face such an expenditure. If, however, a site can be found and hep obtained from the Government to the extent of $250,000 towards the purchase of a site from other sources, and provided the city will also make a grant of $100,000, the project, in view of generous aftered years and present sites of the inviversity sity endowment to the extent of $250,000 towards the purchase of a site of the inviversity sity of Toronto would site of the foot may have to be advanced by the university to the substantial profession.

Mr. Whitney, said he had reason to be closed to the foot of the site of the inviversity sity of Toronto would site of the the foot of the situation of the sources, and provided the condition of the project, in view of generous after the substantial section of the situation of the sources, and provided the condition of the sources, and provided the condition of the project in view of generous site of the project in view of generous site of th would be placed on a sound basis, and that it would not again in the near future have to make at one time so large a demand upon the generosity of the Government.

The total expenditure under the seventhese to a tag on an

of the Government.

The total expenditure under the seven heads is $1,600,000.

Where Money Will Come From.

It is recommended that, in order to provide the necessary, $465,000, the Government issue annuities payable once annually for the ensuing thirty years, for $30,000 per annum. These, if sold on a basis of $1-2 per cent. Interest, would yield $551,760, or if sold on a basis of 4 per cent., the yield would be $518,760. This would allow for any difference between the estimated and actual expenditures.

The scheme Mr. Whitney said would put the university finances on a sound and stable basis and make good the promises made before the present party succeeded to power. By the next session the Government would decide what proportion of the revenue from succession dues or any other resource should be appropriated annually for the university.

Time For Change.

should be appropriated annually for the university.

Time For Change.

In respect to the management of the university there appeared to be con-siderable room for change. If was time that the little disputes were put an end to. He would not say whether the management were to blame for this or whether it was that the constant irritamanagement were to blame for this or whether it was that the constant irritation born of the financial straits in which they had been kept was calculated to induce despair and trouble and care. As for himself Mr. Whitney declared that if he should be permitted to see the success of this scheme he would be glad to sing his political nunc dimittis and go back into the ranks proud of the opportunity he had had to take some part in this great work. He added that he had assurances that $250,000 would be given in aid of the university as soon as the bill was passed.

Old Regime Charged. Mr. Harcourt did not propose to criticize the bill until he had read it criticize the bill until he had read it line by line and even between the lines. Thos who loved the public schools must perforce assist the university because their efficiency depended on the welfare of the university. The same of the high schools and the technical schools. The old Covernment had been of the high schools and the technical schools. The old Government had been charged with not moving fast enough, and there were seven counts in the indictment. The future of the physics building was assured by the late Gevernment, and $300,000 had been spent on the science building. Also, steps had been taken with regard to convocation hall been varied for the screen. had been taken with regard to convo-cation hall, botany and forestry, and the women's residence. He believed that the a few years the number of wo-men students would be doubled if they could be assured of home comforts. Regarding men's residences the Pre-mier had claimed a great deal of party credit, as if it was a question of earth-shaking importance. However, Mr. Har-court was glad that a successful appear shaking importance. However, Mr. Har-court was glad that a successful appeal had been made to private munificence. Then, touching the hospital scheme, Mr. Harcourt said a deputation ap-proached the Government last year, but had not formulated a plan. He de-fied anyone to point to a single word uttered by the old Government, that uttered by the old Government that was not friendly to the university. He had assumed a friendly attitude towards the university when it was not fashionable to be friendly to it.

Mr. Whitney replied that he had not attempted to take credit from the Opposition. As to the suggestion about the public school system the people knew what he had proposed.

Mr. Harcourt asked what the new annual charge would be.

Mr. Harcourt asked what the new annual charge would be.
For Annual Expense.
The Premier replied that next session he would propose to appropriate from some public resource a sum to be paid annually for the maintenance of the university. He had distinctly endeavored to avoid framing an indictment against the old Government, but if the Opposition wanted it he would accept the issue. If they wanted to take steps to place the university on a staple footing why didn't they? He proposed during the recess to take steps to change the administration of the university. It was perfectly unreasenable change the administration of the uni-versity. It was perfectly unreasonabl that the finances could not be conduct ed in a plain, business way.

The bill was read a first time.

New Succession Duties.

Col. Matheson's Duties Act amend right to do. The policy announced by the present Government before the election was endorsed by the people, and he proposed to carry out the pledges then made by means of the bill.

Mr. Whitney then outlined his scheme to place the university on a sound basis, showing the necessity for the tabulated expenditures above.

The Heaviel Proposed to carry out the pledges then made by means of the bill.

DREDGING

Capt. McDonald is Handicapped this Year Owing to Lack of Water at the Mouth of the River.

The dredging of the River Thames a question which has often come up in discussion before the public, but up to the present the sche-is at a standstill so far as presen benefit and relief is concerned. Captain McDonald, of the Azov, who came up the river yesterday trip," said Mort in conversation with with a cargo of lumber, in conversation with a Planet reporter regard-ng the matter, said: "It is really a shame that nothing has been done yet towards dredging this splendid river of yours. If the be of untold advantage to navigation to Chatham. At present navigation is limited, and if the river were only a little deeper at the mouth the city would reap a benefit which at present is little dreamed When we came up the river yes terday we were drawing nine feet

"When we came up the river yesterday we were drawing nine feet two inches of water, and it was all the tug could do to drag us over the bar at the mouth of the river. At present there is only nine feet of water over the bar. Of course this cuts out all big vessels from continuous of two million dollars, and we had the pleasure of dining in this hotel and sat next table to the big gun himself.

"I heard some of the finest chorus singing I ever heard in my life, in a large Catholic church in Camaguey, Of course it was all Spanish and the choir was composed of Spaniards, but they could certainly warble a few. "We saw Howard Waddell, son uf ex-Ald, John Waddell. He has a large orange grove in the best orange land and has just got his trees planted."

Mort brought home a few choice Cuban cigarettes which he is distributing among his friends, who would like to see him go again if he would bring back more cigarettes.
