DEAR PLACE TO LIVE.

The Windsor Record man evidently has some axe to grind, or he has experienced a rude awakening. He broke out a few days ago and this is what he says about his own town: "It would be difficult perhaps to explain why it should be so, but living is from 25 to 50 per cent. higher in Windsor than any other town or city in Ontario. Food, shelter and clothing, which comprise nearly all human needs, are at famine prices, especially the first two. The last is of course to some extent controllable, but food and shelter are prime needs and must be had. "Commercially and industrially Windsor is like the proverbial toad in tar and the reason is palpable. The town grows, it is true, but it grows despite the blighting factor of abnormally high prices for the necessities of life. "All of which is well enough known without the Record editor exploiting the disadvantages and drawbacks of his town. In all that he says is true Chathamites may indeed be thankful that Windsor is as far away as it is."

THE ROUND-UP.

The action of Crown Attorney H. D. Smith and the local police force in pulling up a certain Maple City gambling den, as reported in last evening's Planet, cannot be too warmly commended. Chatham has room for many things, but there is certainly no room for resorts of this kind, and the sooner the people are given to understand this the better.

It is a matter to be thankful for, that there are not many gambling rooms in the city, and the others should take this lesson to heart and close up shop, or they will undoubtedly share the same fate. There is nothing which interferes more with the prosperity and advancement of a city, or the people in it, than gambling. It has a demoralizing and disastrous effect upon business, and a degrading influence upon the moral and physical condition of the people who indulge in its vices. There is no discrimination between the "gentleman sport" and the professional gambler, as regards this influence.

It is to be hoped that the authorities will continue their investigations, and prosecute wherever it is needed, until Chatham is freed from this undesirable evil. They have the undivided sympathy of the best element, in their efforts along this line.

KISSING THE BIBLE.

Mr. Temple C. Martin, Chief Clerk of the Lambeth, England, Police Court, has opened a crusade against the kissing of the Bible. His argument is that the practice is dirty and dangerous to health. Some time ago a judge in the States ordered the practice discontinued, because he said that daily perjury made a blasphemous mockery, and an insult to the word of God. In Montreal there was a different experience. The oath of a member of the Salvation Army was objected to because it was said that it was part of his religion that the truth should be told every day, and an oath gave his statement no additional sanctity.

The teaching thus objected to, says the Toronto Star, is the Christian teaching, as set forth in the Sermon on the Mount. The kissing of a book, on the other hand, looks more like a heathen than a Christian practice. Among Christians it is said that the teachings of the Bible are to be believed and obeyed, but not that there is any virtue in applying the lips to the leather or pasteboard binding of the book.

Whatever utility there is in the practice is based upon superstition. Among the criminal classes there is a notion that if the witness manage to kiss his thumb instead of the book he will avoid the penalties of perjury. The Scottish practice is for the witness to raise his hand, and repeat the words: "I swear by Almighty God, and as I shall answer to God at the great Day of Judgment, that I will tell the truth, the whole truth, and nothing but the truth." That is surely more impressive than to imprint a kiss on the dirty cover of a book.

TO THE NIGHT.

Swiftly walk over the western wave,
Spirit of Night!
Out of the misty eastern cave
Where all the long and lone daylight
Thou wovest dreams of joy and fear
Which make thee terrible and dear—
Swift be thy flight!

Wrap thy form in a mantle gray,
Star inwrought;
Blind with thine hair the eyes of day,
Kiss her until she be wearied out;
Then wander o'er city and sea and land,
Touching all with thine opiate wand—
Come, long sought!

When I arose and saw the dawn
I sighed for thee;
When light rode high and the dew was gone,
And noon lay heavy on flower and tree,
And the weary Day turned to her rest,
Lingering like an unloved guest,
I sighed for thee!

Thy brother, Death, came and cried,
"Wouldst thou me?"
Thy sweet child, Sleep, the filmy eyed,
Murmured like a nocturnal bee:
"Shall I nestle near thy side?"
"Wouldst thou me?" And I replied,
"No; not thee!"

Death will come when thou art dead—
Soon, too soon;
Sleep will come when thou art fled.
Of neither would I ask the boon
I ask of thee, beloved Night—
Swift be thine approaching flight;
Come soon, soon!

—Percy Bysshe Shelley.

BOY SMOKERS.

Stringent Bill to Operate in England to Stop Juvenile Smoking.

In their report issued recently the Committee on Juvenile Smoking strongly urged the British Government to introduce a bill next session (partly on the lines of Sir Ralph Litter's measure, which they prefer to Lord Ray's) as follows:

1. Every person knowingly selling cigarettes, cigarette papers, cigars, or tobacco to any child under sixteen is liable for the first offence to a fine not exceeding £2, and for subsequent offences not exceeding £5.

2. Every child under sixteen found smoking or in possession of cigarettes, etc., to be liable to a penalty not exceeding £2 for each offence.

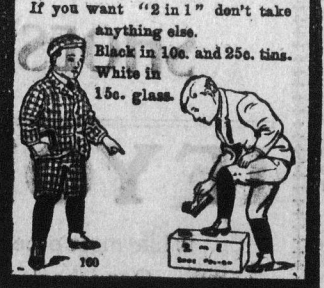

3. Constables to be allowed to stop youths apparently under sixteen seen smoking in a public place and to confiscate tobacco found on them.

4. Local authorities to be allowed to extend some of these powers to park-keepers, schoolmasters, and others, and possibly to railway and dock companies.

5. Provisions to be made to exempt children procuring tobacco for their parents or carrying messages for their employers.

No recommendation is made in regard to automatic machines. Teachers are expected to dwell occasionally on the bad effects of the habit.

The committee are satisfied that juvenile smoking has rapidly increased, that it facilitates disease and leads to drinking, and are impressed by the absence of signs of physical deterioration among girls who are as a rule free from the habit.

GIRLS' DRESS.

No. 4166.
Green colored albatross, a yoke of all-over lace and trimming band, cuffs and belt embroidered in red dots result in a pretty contrast in the model illustrated here. The waist is made with box pleats at the front and back, and the yoke is at the back. The full short sleeves show the cuffs in fancy design, while a narrow edging of Valenciennes lace adds a dainty touch to the lower edge. The berth being cut in two sections, gives a lapel effect at the shoulder, and the yoke is topped with a standing collar. A four gores circular skirt, with an inverted pleat at the centre, front and at each seam, closes at the back, and a deep hem finishes the lower edge. With Persian lawn and gingham, all-over lace, embroidery, embroidered mull and swisses combine well. Cashmere, veiling, challis and poplins are suggested for making.

The quantity of material required for size 10 is 5 3/4 yards of 27-inch goods. Pattern No. 4166 is cut in sizes 6 to 14 years. Mailed postpaid on receipt of 10 cents, name, size and address to the Fashion Department of the C. Austin & Co.

HELPS MEN TO WORK HARD.

That's what Ferrozone does; it supplies the additional strength that enables a man to maintain health under difficulties. "Last spring I was so completely fagged out that I could not work," writes J. W. Mc-Nichol, of Turbun, Iowa, and gingham, all-over lace, embroidery, embroidered mull and swisses combine well. Cashmere, veiling, challis and poplins are suggested for making. "I was tired—limb ached all over. Had no appetite, was sleepless, nervous and unhappy. Ferrozone put new life into me. Now I eat heartily, nerves are strong, I sleep well. I know the joy of real health." It's by supplying nourishment and good blood that Ferrozone builds up; try it—50c. per box at all dealers.

The Ashes of the Dead.
James Russell Lowell was a great favorite in the literary circles of London. On one occasion at a large banquet the peculiarities of American speech were discussed with English bluntness. Lord S. called to Mr. Lowell loudly, so as to silence all other speakers:

"There is one new expression invented by your countrymen so foolish and vulgar as to be unpardonable. They talk of the 'ashes of the dead.' We don't burn corpses. No Englishman would use a phrase so absurd."

"And yet," said Mr. Lowell gently, "your poet Gray says, speaking of the dead:

"To in our ashes live their wonted fires."

"And in the burial services of the church of England it is said, 'Dust to dust and ashes to ashes.' We sin in good company." A cordial burst of applause greeted this prompt rejoinder.

The Severe Test.
The severest test of manhood is never found in good times, but only in hard times. It is not the man who has success when others are doing well, but it is the man who keeps up his courage and struggles on when everybody else is wavering or going down who is the hero in the sight of God and men. It is an easy matter to make good time when both wind and tide are in one's favor or when one is moving with the current, but it requires character and skill and daring to make head in spite of opposing forces or to work successfully against the current.—Exchange.

THE DRAGO DOCTRINE.

Something About South America's Claim Upon the World Powers—It Originated in Argentine.

An event that is likely to have considerable influence upon the future relations of South America with European powers is the Pan-American Congress at Rio de Janeiro. In ordinary circumstances not much attention would be given to a gathering of South American Presidents, they being for the most part mere phantoms, in power to-day and fugitives to-morrow. But the presence of Elihu Root, one of the most eminent of the Republican party's statesmen of his day, has given a new significance to the congress. His speeches have aroused the utmost enthusiasm, and have betrayed the keen anxiety of the United States to be regarded, not as a dragoning bully with "the big stick," but as an elder brother whose destiny is bound up with the other republics on the continent rather than with the powers of Europe.

The Calvo or Drago Doctrine. There have been two Pan-American Congresses in the past, one in Washington and the other in Mexico. The purposes of these gatherings is the discussion of intra-American affairs, all the South American republics realizing that they had interests in common that might have to be defended against European interests. The congress of 1890 has been in session for a couple of weeks, and a great number of matters have been debated. It was found that there was harmony of opinion on all topics save the Calvo or Drago Doctrine. This proposition of South American relations with Europe is the most interesting of the matters that remain unsettled, and a brief account of it is timely.

An Argentine Dogma. The doctrine takes its name from Senor Carlos Calvo, a very eminent Argentine jurist, who formulated it, and from Dr. Luis F. Drago, the Argentine Minister of Foreign Affairs, who brought it forward for international adoption. The pith of this doctrine is that force should never be employed in the collection of pecuniary claims by the citizens of one country upon the Government of another. As the Washington correspondent of The London Times writes, the principle is an old one, and was advocated by Alexander Hamilton in the eighteenth century. Since then it has been affirmed by a long line of American Presidents, although President Jackson said that a nation was bound to take up the claims of its citizens regarding the matter even to the point of war. In 1835 a wise American statesman, Albert Gallatin, declared this view to be utterly untenable, and in 1856 the American Secretary of State, William L. Marcy, officially laid down the rule that "the Government of the United States is not bound to interfere to secure the fulfillment of contracts made between its citizens and foreign Governments, it being presumed that before entering into such contracts the ability of the foreign power to perform its obligation was examined and the risk of failure was taken into account."

South American "Welchers." Lord Palmerston laid down the same rule for the guidance of English investors, and as a general principle it seems to be accepted; but the South Americans have such inveterate "welchers" that there soon grew up a sentiment that the law should be suspended in the case of their defaulting. But in 1883 the United States Government announced that it could not regard but with grave anxiety the attempts to force the United States to recognize the American statesmen perceived that a failure to maintain this principle might defeat the ends of the Monroe Doctrine, at that time not surely established, for European countries might secure such heavy claims against South American republics as to gain an American foothold for foreclosure mortgages. In 1875 it was asserted that when States had left claims to arbitration and then failed to abide by the result the doctrine did not apply.

The Venezuelan Blockade. The Drago doctrine was laid down forward at a time when Britain, Germany and the United States were standing with the United States, were blockading Venezuelan ports to compel Castro to pay some debts. It was understood at the time that Dr. Drago's action was intended as a rebuke for the United States Government's participation in the blockade. Several South American statesmen indeed flatly accused the Washington Government of denying the principle laid down in 1883. Indeed, complaisant action of the United States did much to make her unpopular in South America, for, although without excuse, the Southern republics were strongly opposed to being coerced into paying their debts. But the United States, whatever its academic views on the question, has no desire to be constituted the official protector of South America. It would not mind undertaking the job if there were compensations, but now that the Monroe Doctrine is an acknowledged principle of international law, its earlier anxiety on the subject has disappeared.

Dodging the Question. Therefore Secretary Root took care, in assisting in the preparation of a program for the congress, that the discussion of the Drago Doctrine was limited to a resolution recommending "that the second Peace Conference at The Hague be requested to consider the extent to which the use of force for the collection of public debts is admissible." South America desired something stronger than this colorless resolution, and the chief and only important debate of the congress was upon this topic.

It will remain the policy of South American republics to tolerate the Drago Doctrine and to secure its enforcement by the United States Government. Without this backing or the support of The Hague Tribunal it is not likely to prove an effective protection to national defaulters.

FEES IN ENGLAND.

The Treasury Has Many Schemes That Swell its Income.

When a young man determines to become a barrister and enters his name at one of the Inns of Court in London or Dublin he has to pay to the government a fee of £25. And when he is a full fledged English or Irish barrister or a Scotch advocate he has to fork out a further sum of £50.

Should he desire to become a solicitor he is fined even more heavily. When he becomes an apprentice his fee to the government is £80, and his yearly duty when he begins to practice is, for the first three years, £3 in the country and £4 10s. in London or Dublin and after the third year £6 and £9 respectively. So that a solicitor practicing forty years in London will have paid the government over £400.

A law agent (Scotland) pays £60 at commencement of study and £55 or £85 on beginning practice in the sheriff's court or court of session.

If you want to change your surname of your own free will the government charges you only £10, but if you do it under the direction of some deceased benefactor it costs you £50.

Bishops pay £30 for permission to be elected and £80 more for the royal assent to their election, and the fees paid on receiving letters patent are: By a baronet, £100; a baron, £150; a viscount, £200; an earl, £250; a marquess, £300, and a duke, £350.—London Express.

GOG AND MAGOG.

Various Traditions Relating to These Two Famous Giants.

Who were Gog and Magog? English tradition says that they were the last of a race of giants who infested England until they were destroyed by some of the Trojans who went to the British Isles after the destruction of Troy. Gog and Magog, it is said, were taken captive to London, where they were chained at the door of the palace of the king. When they died wooden images of the two giants were put in their places. In the course of time a great fire destroyed these, but now, if you go to London, you will see in the great hall of one of the famous buildings—the Guildhall—two immense wooden effigies of men called Gog and Magog.

But there are other traditions of the two giants. One is to the effect that when Alexander the Great overran Asia he chased into the mountains of the north an impure, wicked and man eating people who were twenty-two nations in number and who were shut up with a rampart in which were gates of brass. One of these nations was Gog and another Magog, from which we readily get the names of the mythical giants. It is supposed, however, that the Turks were meant by Gog and the Mongols were the children of Magog. We shall find mention made of Gog and Magog in many books, including the Bible, but there are the great wall and the rampart of Gog and Magog, whatever may have been the fact that gave the names of the two giants to that portion of the structure.

Sameness is the mother of disgust, variety the cure.

Indigestion is Exercise.

It is better to be busy than dead, and it is probably just as comfortable. For obvious reasons the prescription to take moderate exercise is misleading and unsatisfactory. Most of us are constitutionally incapable of exercising moderately. We begin violently and end quickly. And what is moderate exercise? One philosopher who tried it for twenty years arrived at this conclusion: "Keep a pair of Indian clubs in your bedroom. Look at them frequently. Exercise by their suggestion." This has the merit of moderation. It is the same as to walking. Smell the morning, look down the long way that separates you from your business. Then take a car.—Detroit Free Press.

RED OR GREEN.

Color Troubles of the Color Blind
Poet, Whittier.

It is well known that the poet Whittier was color blind and unable to distinguish red from green. He once bought for himself a necktie which he supposed to be of a modest and suitable olive tint and wore it once. He never wore it again, for his friends
soon made him aware that it offended against the traditional quietness of costume enjoined alike by the habits of the Friends and by his own taste.
The tie was of flaming scarlet.

On another occasion, when he found a little girl in distress on account of a new gown, made over from her elder sister's, which was not becoming to her coloring and complexion, he tried to console her.

"I wouldn't mind what a rude boy says about it, Mary," he said kindly.
"These looks very well indeed in it,
like an oroad, Mary, dressed all in green."

Unfortunately, Mary was not dressed in green. She was red haired, and her dress was red. That was the trouble.

Once, on a day in mid-March, when walking with a friend and deeply engaged in conversation, Mr. Whittier approached too near for safety to a place where blasting was going on.
The danger signal was shown, but neither friend noticed it until a workman, violently waving his arms and shouting, leaped before them and warned them back.

"I didn't see the flag at all," said
Mr. Whittier's companion.

"I saw it," rejoined the poet, with a twinkle in his eye, "but I thought it was in honor of St. Patrick. These knows my defect. I can't tell Erin from explosions except by the harp!"

ROMAN ROSES.

They are Beautiful and Abundant
Because They Eat Meat.

"I have yet to see a rose equal to those grown in Rome," said the amateur horticulturist. "They bloom in the greatest abundance all through the winter, and they are as large and rich and velvety as American Beauties, living out of doors, climbing like ivy or honeysuckle over the crumbling marble walls of ruined temples, gleaming in crimson and green masses upon ancient columns, giving to the grimest and saddest of mediæval palazzos an air of gaiety and youth."

"One day on the Via Sistina, as I passed the garden that had once been the garden of Lucullus, I saw an old man tending the superb roots that grow
there. He was pouring on their roots a dark, rich looking fluid.

"Why are the Roman roses so beautiful and abundant?" I said to the old man.

"Because they eat meat," he answered.

"Eat meat? Nonsense," said I.
"Well, they drink meat-meat extract, which is the same thing," said
the old man. "We Roman gardeners have for centuries watered our roses three times a week with a strong decoction of fresh beef—a rich grade of beef tea. They are meat eaters. That is why the roses of Rome are as hardy and prolific as woods and at the same time as richly, delicately beautiful and as sweetly perfumed as flowers grown under glass."

Called Back.

A commercial traveler for a London firm secured an order for £1,000 in the west of England and, as it was not duly acknowledged, wrote a letter to the firm calling special attention to it and saying, "I thought you would consider such an order quite a feather in my cap."

In reply he received this note from his principal: "We have filed your order and inclose for your cap the one feather you require."
After a fortnight came another letter from the firm: "The people who gave you the £1,000 order have failed, and we lose the goods. We have this day sent to you a bagful of feathers
for you to fly home with, as we do not want you out on the road for us
any more."—Strand Magazine.

Food Value of Cheese.

It is said that one pound of cheese is equal in food value to more than two pounds of meat. It is very rich in proteins and fat. Considering this, it is low in price when compared with meat and ought to do good service to the poor man in replacing occasionally the regular diet of meat. In America cheese is looked upon more as a side dish and luxury than in some parts of Europe.
The Swiss peasant depends on it as a staple second only to bread, while the use of it in England and Germany is extensive.

Delay Fatal.

Visitor (to widow)—I am so sorry to hear of the sudden death of your husband. Did they hold a postmortem examination?
"Yes, and, like those doctors, they did not hold it until he was dead, or they might have saved his life."

What It Cost Him.

Mrs. Watts—There! We have cleared off the last of that church debt, and it never cost you men a cent. See what women can do. Mr. Watts—I don't know about the other fellows, but I know you have made me spend more than $100 for extra meals downtown
while you were out monkeying around.

The First Sight.

Ethel—I understand it was a case of love at first sight between Jack and Miss Oldgirl. Maud—Yes, dear. But the first sight was at her bank book.

A Wrinkle For Housewives.

"I have been putting up preserves and pickles for 30 years," said a housewife of the old school, "and I discovered the other day that I am not too old to learn something new. I went to see my son's young wife. They were married last winter. She was putting up onions—a decidedly disagreeable task.
But her eyes were not watery. They were as clear as the sky. She simply nodded and muttered something between closed teeth. 'What in the world are you thinking that pin between your teeth for?' I asked. 'To keep the onions from hurting my eyes. I'll be through in a minute.' 'Do you mean to say that will do it?' I asked incredulously. She nodded. The pin was in its place again. She kept it there for ten minutes while I watched her work, and her eyes were as dry as a walnut."

Barnstormers For the West.

A theatrical syndicate is being formed in Winnipeg for the purpose of supplying attractions at every town between that city and Vancouver on the main line of the Canadian Pacific Railway. The idea is to play one night a week in each town and to have the same night each week, so that farmers as well as townspeople will always look forward to this one day each week for stage amusement. If this kind of thing keeps up, how long will the spectacle-buried farmer of the prairies come down to see a play at Christmas-tide to "have a good time?"

A Wonderful Record.

As made up by improved and exact processes Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is a most efficient remedy for regulating all the woman's functions, correcting displacements, as prolapsus, ante-version and retroversion, overcoming painful periods, toning up the nerves and bringing about a perfect state of health. It cures the backache, periodical headaches, the dragging-down distress in the pelvic region, the pain and tenderness over lower abdominal region and restores the pelvic catarrhal drain, so disagreeable and weakening, and overcomes every form of weakness incident to the organs distinctly feminine.

"Favorite Prescription" is the only medicine for women, the makers of which are not afraid to print their formula on the bottle wrapper, thus taking their patrons into their full confidence. It is the only medicine for women, every ingredient of which has the strongest possible endorsement of the most eminent medical practitioners and writers of our day, recommending it for the diseases for which "Favorite Prescription" is used. It is the only put-up medicine for women, sold through druggists, which does not contain a large percentage of alcohol, so harmful to the system, and especially to delicate women. It has more genuine cures to its credit than all other medicines for women combined, having saved thousands of sufferers from the operating table and the surgeon's knife.
It has restored delicate, weak women to strong and vigorous health and virility, making motherhood possible, where there was barrenness before, thereby brightening and making happy many thousands of homes by the advent of little ones to strengthen the marital bonds and add sunshine where gloom and despondency
had reigned before.

Broad sash ribbons tied in the back

Linen dresses of every description are now offered everywhere among the bargain sales at the department stores as well as at the fashionable modistes. Linen gowns simple enough for morning or sufficiently elaborate for afternoon are alike smart. Dark colors and light, new unusual shades and soft, pale tones that look cool with

are all on the market.

ation of white chip. The brim rolls gracefully from the face and is lined with chiffon and tulle lace. A large pink rose and a long white feather are the becoming trimmings.

Gun metal shades of gray will be

Some of the summer lounging robes are luxurious creations of chiffon, trimmed with yards and yards of valenciennes lace and elaborate hand embroideries.

Japanese crapes for kimonoes and dressing sacks have cherry blossoms, dragons, quaint little Japanese maid-ens and butterflies scattered over them in a confusion of gay colors with a perfect disregard of proportions.

The thin woman should remember that checks make her look stout and that full skirts, wide belts, large hats, vertical trimmings and materials with glace surfaces are other mediums that add to size.

Gray chiffon is the material used for the pretty gown pictured. The full skirt has a graceful little train and is trimmed about the foot line with ruf-

waist has incrustations of crochet lace and shoulder and neck trimmings of

The opening of a new Jain temple in Persepolis, India, was recently the scene of a great popular gathering.
The local Jain Fanatics had built a splendid temple to Parasnath and retake part in the installation of the "Thakur." As among the Hindoos, the ceremony is called Pratishtha. The

The Forbidden In London.

A noted clergyman and author was talking to a group of young men.

"Half the wrong things you chap-do," he said, "you only do because they are forbidden. If you didn't know they were forbidden, if you didn't know they were wrong, they would only seem to you disgusting and repugnant."

"I pulled one spring morning in a beautiful park.

"Look here," I said to one of the guards, 'why do you have "Keep Off the Grass" signs all over the park? You don't seem to enforce the rule."

"No, sir," said the guard. "The object of the sign is to cause the people to more thoroughly enjoy being on the grass."

AUTUMNAL CATARRH

Disease Prevalent Now. Hyomei Will Cure It Quickly.

A great many people suffer more with catarrh during the fall months than at any other season of the

At the first warning of catarrh,
one should begin the use of Hyomei.
A few days' treatment will often prevent a serious attack of this dis-

RUN DOWN AT ODESSA

Jacob Gibriski Fools The Authorities For 48 Hours
But Is Caught

DETAILS OF THE ESCAPE

Jacob Gibriski has been caught. This was the welcome news sent to Sheriff Gemmill this morning by Chief of Police Baillie, of Kingston. The telegram was as follows: "Jacob Gibriski was arrested last night at Odessa by a bank clerk and W. Kearns with constable. I have him here, and will land him in penitentiary to-day." "The Chief of Police and the force of Kingston were very kind and willing to do all in their power to assist us," said the Sheriff this morning when speaking of the case, and the escape of the prisoner.

"We knew the prisoner to be very cunning and clever," continued the Sheriff, "so we took extra precautions. How he ever got the chains off the lad is a mystery to me. Dusk had just fallen, the train had passed Napanee and arrived at Fredrickburg. The constable wished to go to the toilet room and, shackled as before, he was allowed the privilege. The constable remained outside the door, and in a moment was startled by a scream. He looked in the room and the boy was alone. The old man had in some mysterious way rid the boy of the irons, raised the window, and with the cuffs and feet bands still binding him, jumped to liberty.

"It was a desperate chance, but it worked. The train was pulling along quite lively, being nearly an hour late. Constable Peters made a jump from the train, but found no trace of the missing man. He went to Napanee and organized a search party. "It is a matter of conjecture as to how Jacob got himself free from his son, of the irons. It is the general opinion that the boy's hand was squeezed so as to admit of it being pulled out of the cuff. At the station it was tried, and while the hand was not pulled out it was thought that it was feasible as the boy's hand is small when doubled up. "But if this were so, the question naturally arises as to how the foot was got free. The shackles could not be pulled off the boy's shoe. This was still on his foot when the constable looked in the door and found Jacob missing. But of course, with hands free, the foot might easily have been taken off, the foot squeezed through the irons, and the shoe replaced."

Sheriff Gemmill refutes the idea of the irons being filed. It was pointed out that the prisoners had been thoroughly searched, and no file could get to them. Again the time to file through the steel would have taken too long.

It is a significant fact that Sheriff Gemmill has taken to the penitentiary 67 prisoners, and this is the first time that one has made good his escape.

Shortly after his escape Gibriski was seen by some men near the depot that the train had just left. He went into a corn field, and the men thought that he was a farmer. They noticed that he was walking lame. Gibriski, when caught, had been out for about 48 hours.

It was a very cunning escape. Roth Jacob and his son went to the toilet room. Peters stood outside and the door was partly open. When the young man screamed, he threw himself against the door so that Peters could not get in. Peters broke the door in and just as he did so he saw the old man's head disappearing on the outside of the window. He had backed out of the window. There is no doubt that if Sam most could have got the door locked that he would have followed. The train was immediately stopped and Peters allowed to get off. The whole thing happened in less than two minutes. The old man is evidently an expert at ridding himself of handcuffs and leg irons.

A reward of $50 was offered by the Sheriff, and this will now be paid to the capturers. The Sheriff arrived home last night.

BIGAMIST SENTENCED

St. Thomas, Sept. 5.—James See, found guilty by Judge Collier of bigamy, having on May 2nd, 1906, married Alice Albert McTaggart, of Springfield, at Aylmer, on May 2nd, 1906, while having a wife, three children, and a grandchild living in Chatham, was this morning sentenced to eight months in the Central Prison. See married his first wife in St. Joseph's R. C. church, Chatham, 21 years ago.

TROUBLE FROM CUBA

Government Forces Are
Routed By General
Guyman

ONE MAN WAS KILLED

Cienfuegos, Sept. 7.—A detachment of 50 Government troops from this city yesterday encountered a band of Gen. Guzman's insurgents near Camarones. In the fight which ensued the Government force was routed, many being killed or wounded.

There is great excitement in Cienfuegos.

Another Fight.
Havana, Sept. 7.—A body of volunteers and rural guards, numbering 200 men, exchanged shots with Col. Asbert's insurgents Wednesday night near San Jose de las Lajas, Province of Havana.

One rural guard was killed and three insurgents were wounded. A report that Gen. Menocal, who is using his influence to establish peace between the Government and the insurgents, has an eye on the Presidency, is vigorously denied by the leader of the Cuban veterans. Menocal adds that he desires solely to see the republic at peace.

RAINS CAUSE FLOODS.

One Life Lost by Upsetting of Canoe in Swollen River.

Victoria, B. C., Sept. 7.—Heavy rains are causing floods on Vancouver Island.

The down-pour was unprecedented, and at least one life was lost, while several others had narrow escapes. At Otter Point, the fatality occurred, while two men were attempting to cross the swollen Gordon River. Their canoe overturned on the bar, and Charles Keilum was drowned. Constantine Chum, the other occupant of the canoe, was washed on to the trap of the B. C. Packers' Association, and managed to reach the camp, where he lashed himself, and for five hours remained exposed to the bombardment of the elements.

He was rescued by caretakers of the Malcolm Canning Companies' trap.

A TIE GAME.

An interesting, half-day's cricket match was played yesterday afternoon at Detroit, between Chatham and Detroit, resulting in a tie, each side scoring 47 runs.

For Chatham, Miller with 18 and Wells 12 runs, were the chief scorers.

Aiken took seven wickets. For Detroit, Grills, who went in first and carried his bat through for a well made 27, was the only double figure.

Lea took five wickets and Stewart five, for Detroit. The home team will likely take a trip to London to play Wolsely Barwick Club.

ANNUAL MEETING

The annual meeting of the Chatham & Wallaceburg Electric Railway was held on Wednesday, and after the minutes of the previous meeting had been adopted the following directors were elected: Geo. W. Kipp, N. H. Stevens, J. T. O'Keefe, D. Gordon, M. P. R. Kizer, S. F. Robinson and Geo. R. Hill. The officers for the ensuing year are: Geo. W. Kipp, president; N. H. Stevens, vice-president; E. Bell, secretary; Geo. W. Kipp, treasurer; R. E. Kizer, general manager; and Harry Clark, superintendent.

The matter of the strengthening of the bridge was considered and the delay in proceeding with the work rests with the contractors, who report that it is impossible to get prompt delivery of material, but the work is promised to be fully completed this fall. Since the last board meeting application has been made to the Railway Commission for junctions with the P. M. Railway at this city and Wallaceburg to permit of all interchange of freight, and this application will be heard before the end of this month, when the Commission resume its sittings. It is also expected about the same time to have the Commission's decision on the G. T. R. crossing, which has delayed any progress with the line during the summer months. The matter of repairing King street was also considered by the board, and it is proposed that King street should be repaved at once, the difficulty at present being to get the local contractors to take up the work.

Mr. Clark, who succeeds Mr. W. N. Warburton in the part of his work, is an expert electrician and comes to this city highly recommended.

ANNOUNCEMENTS

(Supplied to The Planet by Press Agents.)

At the Brisco Opera House—

Dixie in Old Virginia—Sept. 8.

Dixie in Old Virginia, which holds the boards of the Brisco Opera House on the evening of Sept. 8, is endorsed by both press and public as being one of the best singing and dancing organizations travelling to-day, for it abounds with catchy lines and tuneful music of the latest and most up-to-date style.

During the performance many late minstrel stars will appear, such as Bryant, Johnson, Bert Sampson and many others; also a large and well-drilled chorus of ladies and gentlemen. As an extra attraction the management has secured Mr. Len. Francis for this engagement, and to miss him in his latest and most up-to-date comedy creation entitled "Is Everybody Happy," would be a disappointment never to be forgotten. Remember the name—Dixie in Old Virginia.

Water Works Inspector
Gets After The City
Lawn Sprinklers

A PLUMBER'S TROUBLES

During the past few months the inspector for the waterworks has been busy watching for people who have been violating the by-law regulating the use of city water for lawn sprinkling purposes. The result of his investigations proves that large numbers of people use their hydrants to sprinkle their lawns during prohibited hours, and others indulge in wilful waste, and worse still not a few have been found to be using their hydrants for this purpose without notifying the secretary of the Water Board, thus to all appearances endeavoring to use city water without paying for it.

Large numbers of persons resorting to the latter means of cutting down expenses have been caught in the act by the inspector, and as a result the secretary has been busy writing out bills to these people. Mr. Weir says that during the past month or so he has sent out three to six accounts of this kind every week.

At last night's meeting of the Water Board, the matter was spoken of by Chairman Sheldon, who said it was surprising to know the number of people who have been trying to use city water without paying for it. He said that it was also not an uncommon thing to find persons deliberately wasting city water on their lawns. Some of them leave the hose turned on all night, and others were found who took the nozzle off the hose and let the water run in large quantities over any portion of the lawn where the hose might have been dropped at the time.

Superintendent Jones of the Waterworks Department remarked that he had one time this summer run across a private hose line which was open and the water was being allowed to run into a ditch nearby for no purpose whatever.

The by-law distinctly states that any persons found violating the by-law in this manner may have their water supply cut off at any time by the Board. This course may be resorted to if the thing is kept up.

The by-law regulates the time for sprinkling lawns to the hours between six and eight in the morning, and five and ten in the evening, and that the hose must be shut off in case of fire breaking out. If these practices are not stopped the Board may have to institute proceedings.

PLUMBER IN TROUBLE.
D. McLachlan recently made application to the secretary of the Board to use city water for the purpose of sprinkling his lawn at the Business College. This was the first intimation the Board had that the taps were connected at the Business College. This was not Mr. McLachlan's fault, but was owing to the fact that the plumber who did the work at the Business College had never applied for a permit to connect the pipes with the waterworks mains.

The plumber in question violated the by-law, and is liable to have his license cut off for thirty days, and to a fine of $20 for his negligence. The chairman of the Board instructed the superintendent to look into the matter and report to the Board.

REBATES GRANTED.
Rev. J. W. Hoyt, of Victoria avenue, made application to the Board to have his account for lawn sprinkling cut down. It seems that Mr. Hoyt has not been using the hydrant, but that a large amount of broken glass is done to autos and bicycles, and at the same time warn the scavengers that the offence must be repeated.

It was suggested by one gentleman this morning that the motorists and bicyclists should form an association for mutual protection in matters of this kind. Such an association might be a great aid in keeping the street clear of dangerous impediments.

STEEL KNIFE IN THE FLESH.
That's the sensation experienced by Robert Price of Hexton, who knew it was scintilla and of course used "Nerviline." As usual, it cured and he says: "No liniment can excel Polson's Nerviline. Severe pains made my side lame. It result their bill for the past month had run up to an enormous amount—some $13.37 higher than was the average. They had not known that the metre was out of repair or they would have had it fixed. They asked for a rebate of the $13.37.

Chairman Sheldon—This is a case where both the Board and R. Martin & Son lose because the plumber did not do the work properly. However, that is not really our fault, and as a matter of fact we are not legally responsible for the leakage.

on waterworks deposits at the rate of three per cent., where at one time they charged the Board interest. He stated that this was a good showing.

J. G. Kerr applied to have his lawn metre cut off. No action was taken by the Board.

W. H. Nichols, 30c.

CERTAINLY PAYS TO ADVERTISE

A Windsor Editor, Well Known Here, Lands A Rural Wife

HE WILL GO TO INDIANA

Windsor, Sept. 6.—James Dickinson, formerly connected with Port Arthur and Toronto papers, and for several years past editor of the Windsor World, now defunct, has abandoned politics and editorial cares for life on a farm away down in old Indiana.

Some time ago he advertised for a wife. Being a newspaper man of long experience, he naturally had great faith in advertising. His announcement caught the eye of a maiden lady in the Hossier State, who answered and entered into correspondence with Mr. Dickinson. The former editor took a flying trip to Sullivan, Ind., and found his correspondent owned a fine farm. The scene looked inviting, the marriage was performed with the least possible delay and Mr. Dickinson left yesterday to pursue the calling of an agriculturist.

It may be recalled that Mr. Dickinson's wife was drowned some few years ago off an ocean liner, which went down near Newfoundland.

GLASS ON STREET

Motorists and Bicyclists Have A Well
Grounded Complaint Against Scavengers

Motorists and bicyclists have a big complaint coming about the manner in which two city scavengers scatter broken glass over a number of the city streets, while carting away garbage from a down town store.

Two scavengers, who are engaged in clearing up the store formerly occupied by Dr. Keady, and which is being renovated for permanent quarters for the Bank of Commerce, loaded their wagon so full the other day, that a large amount of broken bottles, broken window glass, etc., was spilled all along Wellington St., Fifth St. bridge and sections of North Chatham. A number of bicyclists had the tires of their wheels punctured through the rank negligence of the scavengers, who should be well enough acquainted with the by-law to know that such an offence is punishable by a fine.

The authorities of the Board of Works would do well to have the broken glass cleaned up before serious damage is done to autos and bicycles, and at the same time warn the scavengers that the offence must be repeated.

It was suggested by one gentleman this morning that the motorists and bicyclists should form an association for mutual protection in matters of this kind. Such an association might be a great aid in keeping the street clear of dangerous impediments.

STEEL KNIFE IN THE FLESH.
That's the sensation experienced by Robert Price of Hexton, who knew it was scintilla and of course used "Nerviline." As usual, it cured and he says: "No liniment can excel Polson's Nerviline. Severe pains made my side lame. It result their bill for the past month had run up to an enormous amount—some $13.37 higher than was the average. They had not known that the metre was out of repair or they would have had it fixed. They asked for a rebate of the $13.37.

Chairman Sheldon—This is a case where both the Board and R. Martin & Son lose because the plumber did not do the work properly. However, that is not really our fault, and as a matter of fact we are not legally responsible for the leakage.

Dr. Cornell moved that the Board split the difference with the firm in question, and notify them that if such a thing occurs again, that the Board will assume no responsibility in the matter.

ROUTINE MATTERS.
The Canada Casualty & Boiler Insurance Company notified the Board that they would have a man here to inspect the waterworks boilers next Tuesday.

John Glassford, proprietor of Hotel Glassford, applied to the Board for a flat rate instead of a metre reading. He was granted a flat rate of $75.

CONTINUATION AND ENTRANCE

Thamesville Has Forty
Taking Up This Work
This Year

THERE ARE MORE COMING

From Our Own Correspondent.

Thamesville, Sept. 7.—Routine of school work has assumed regularity once more, with an attendance of forty for continuation work and entrance work, while the primary room has fifty, and not all yet returned.

Miss Kathryn Stewart is spending a few days with friends in London. W. B. Albertson is enjoying a holiday east, his duties being filled by Wm. Hubbell, from Chatham.

Mildred Albertson has resumed her duties at the library after spending two weeks at Niagara Falls.

A party of motor tourists visited Thamesville to-day en route for Detroit and St. Louis.

Harry Gillies, from Chatham, is spending the day in town.

Miss Kate Mayhew leaves Monday for Clifford, where she has secured a lucrative position. She will be much missed in Thamesville and Highgate, where she was located last year.

L. Evelyn McCulloch is spending the week end the guest of Dr. Blanche Campbell, Morpeth Road.

Messrs. Galloway and Buller have gone thirty miles north of Cobalt with bright prospects in view.

Bruce Gonne is spending the week in Toronto attending the Fair.

Jack Stewart, Merchants Bank, Perth, is spending his vacation at his home here.

Thamesville Fair, Oct. 2nd and 3rd. Mrs. Wilbert Milton, Masters Orland, Leslie and Leonard, returned from a week in Detroit, where they took in the State Fair. They were guests of the farmer's parents, Mr. and Mrs. L. M. Bentley.

SEWER FLUSHING
Some of Them Are In Very Bad Shape
But Work Will Go On

The work of flushing out city hydrants, as ordered by the Board of Health, commenced this morning. This was a much needed work as some of the hydrants were found to be in a very filthy state. They had not been cleaned out in a long time, and as the water does not pass very quickly through the hydrants, a great amount of sediment had gathered in some of them.

A hydrant was flushed out on Wellington street west this morning, and the result was that when residents turned on their taps the water which flowed out was a good sample of what is called mud. It was black as ink. Residents in some other parts of the city had similar experiences.

This state of affairs can be expected in various parts of the city for the next few days, while the hydrants are being cleaned out. In cleaning the hydrants the sediment is stirred up, and it works back into the water pipes.

The condition of the water this morning proves that the work of cleaning out the hydrants was a very useful one, and when the job is completed the water will be in a clearer and more sanitary condition.

Secretary Weir, of the Waterworks Department, in speaking to The Planet this morning, said the sediment will quickly settle and the water will resume its normal condition.

It seems that the work of cleaning out the hydrants was ordered by Superintendent E. B. Jones of the Waterworks Department a week ago and before the Health Board took the matter up.
