

What Society is doing

Do the women get the credit, boys, for all the good they do? They are shouldering lots of burdens, boys, this I know is true: There are lots of them that's sorry that they cannot go to fight. So they are backing us up with muscle, working with all their might.

Tell you, boys, it's the women's age, they surely make us wonder; They are going right ahead in spite of many a blunder; They are working on munitions, the cars, and on the farm, they are getting very quick of eye, and also strong of arm.

A word to you chaps in khaki who are going over to fight; Don't forget the girls you've left behind, each and every night, the English girls are very nice, the French ones are the same, but you cannot beat our Canadian girl she surely is the dame.

She packs you your weekly box with pride and loving care; She fills it full of good things, to send you over there. So, fellows, when you're lonely we don't want you to forget some girl's heart is yearning, and waiting for you yet.

The spacious lawn and garden surrounding the home of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Kohl, Dufferin avenue, presented a most attractive appearance to the early arrivals on Wednesday afternoon. The many articles for sale were displayed in a most novel manner, suspended from large garden umbrellas and latticed booths with flowers and shrubs forming a pretty background for the display. All manner of garden things were shown, baskets of all sorts from the humble market basket to the ornate flower basket, were attractively arranged, while bird houses and garden implements, not to mention shrubs and sport hats, were much in evidence, so too the pretty garden-smocks in many colors, while the dainty baby garments were most attractive.

Rustic benches and chairs were arranged about the lawn, and matches had been planned, when unexpectedly the weather, which had been uncertain all day, became decidedly threatening, large drops of rain falling, and the ladies, in their hurry indoors with their attractive warders, and only the early arrivals had the privilege of seeing the garden in all its glory. Despite the rain, many visitors came and went all afternoon, making it well worth the trouble of articles for sale finding a ready purchaser. Most of the fish pond, on the verandah, under the management of Mrs. Kohl and Mrs. Laing, did a brisk business all the afternoon and evening, everyone being delighted with their catches.

In the tea room, which was in charge of Mrs. Fotheringham and Mrs. Hammond, Mrs. Creighton and Mrs. Henderson dispensed tea and coffee, the tea room being crowded all afternoon, many remaining to enjoy the music. Madame Rolinska, the talented Polish vocalist, delighting all who were fortunate enough to hear her. Madame Rolinska is an amateur singer of note and delights in giving her services for all causes connected with relief. Assisting in the tea room were a bevy of young girls members of The Busy Bees Society, who kindly gave their services on both afternoons.

Thursday afternoon, the weather still remaining inclement, the garden was again held in the house, and was largely attended. In the tea room, Mrs. Henry Kirksham and Mrs. Henderson resided at the tea-table, assisted by The Busy Bees. In the evening musical dancing had been arranged for on the lawn by members of Miss Clifford's dancing class. This would have been a most novel and effective program, but unfortunately the grass was still too damp for dancing, and though the dancers were willing to make the attempt it was thought best to adjourn to the house, where a most artistic program was given under the direction of Miss Mildred Sanderson, Miss Gladys Sanderson at the piano. Solo dances by Miss Dorothy Rowe and Miss Margaret Fraser, and two group dances, one entitled "Moment Musical," danced by the Misses Jean Miller, Margaret Fraser and Dorothy Rowe, and a "Butterfly Dance," by the Misses Margaret Watt, Eileen Muir and Dolcie Kerr, the young artists receiving much applause.

Despite the weather the returns were most gratifying, in the neighborhood of six hundred dollars being realized for the South of France Relief Association.

Mr. and Mrs. Kohl were ideal host and hostess and altogether the South of France Garden Fete was one of the most successful events ever recorded in Brantford.

CHARGES AGAINST OFFICER

Ruggerio Tonna, Maltese, laid an information against Dominion Policeman Vaughan yesterday afternoon at the Police Station. Vaughan, Tonna claims, accosted him on Thursday night and asked for his registration papers. These he showed with the result that the policeman tore the document and assaulted him. Officer had been charged with having attributed to Vaughan, who while driving a car on Brant Ave. late that night collided with J. H. Minshew's automobile, damaging it severely.

When asked for an explanation, he drew a revolver and used threatening language. Dominion Inspector Parks for the Hamilton district was notified, and has taken charge of Vaughan's case. Vaughan will be tried in the police court for assaulting the Maltese.

The local police authorities have not said that Vaughan was under the influence of liquor, it being thought that he having received a shell shock while at the front, a nervous attack was responsible for his actions.

The man told the Courier that when accosted, he offered to return to his home for proof, but neither option was allowed. He told the magistrate he was 21 years of age and married.

THANKS FOR SOX

The Patricia Club received a letter from the commanding officer of the Princess Patricia Regiment in France expressing his thanks for a parcel of useful articles for the men of the regiment, received on the 12th of April, 1918. "The contents were very highly appreciated by the men."

SHOW MILITARY POLICE

Word is received from Ottawa that the Dominion Police will henceforth be commanded and administered by the Provost-Marshal at Ottawa, and be known as a civil detachment of the Military Police. The Assistant Provost-Marshal in each district will be in charge of both the civil and military sections of the police.

CONTROL DANCE HALLS

Very little other than the usual routine business was done at the meeting of the finance committee last night. The by-law for control over the dance halls of the city was briefly discussed. There is no thought of closing the doors of the halls, but as one or two have given the police trouble of late, some control is necessary.

VETERANS' CHURCH PARADE

The Army and War Veterans of Toronto have arranged to hold their annual church parade to-morrow night to St. James' Anglican church. Capt. (Rev.) Gore M. Barrow, Honorary Chaplain of the organization, and who has been overseas for three years, will preach. Capt. Barrow is well known in Brantford, having been chaplain of the 8th Battalion during its stay here.

GOES OVERSEAS

Rev. A. L. Geggie, of Parkdale Presbyterian church, Toronto, who is well known in this city, leaves on Sunday afternoon for overseas. The unveiling of the memorial tablets in memory of the forty members who adhered to the church, who have suffered the supreme sacrifice, will take place at the morning service, instead of at the evening as previously announced. After the unveiling the sacrament of the Lord's Supper will be observed. Mr. Geggie will be assisted by Dr. Robertson at the service. Whilst Mr. Geggie goes under engagement with the British Y. M. C. A., he will give part of his services overseas to the Canadian Y. M. C. A., by arrangement with the British Y. M. C. A.

KING'S BIRTHDAY

The local customs department will be closed on Monday, in recognition of the birthday of King George. General observance of the day will be quiet, as in the past.

CUSTOMS RETURNS.

Customs returns for May reached a total of $89,066.14, which is a satisfactory figure, although not equal to the total of a year ago, which was an exceptionally busy month.

OPEN BOWLING SEASON

Terrace Hill bowlers are looking forward anxiously for favorable weather on Monday evening, when the club's season will be formally opened with games between the members. The Highland greens are reported to be in splendid condition.

WITH THE DUFFERINS.

The Dufferin Bowlers Games Committee have decided to hold their home nights on Tuesday for the season, starting off with Progressive Night next Tuesday. They also decided to hold an open tournament to the city clubs on June 12, which is Dufferin night.

WHEEL TORN OFF

A motorcycle with a side car attached, standing on Market street, just above Dalhousie last night, came to grief when a passing automobile struck it and severed one wheel from the side car. The damaged vehicle remained standing for a considerable time before the owner, returning became aware of the damage done his property.

MEASLES PREVALENT.

Measles were prevalent throughout the province during the month of May, according to reports received by the Provincial Board of Health. Toronto and Hamilton had almost an epidemic and the cases in the two cities totalled 1,663, with Toronto recording no less than 979 cases. The total for the province was 1,955.

LADIES' AID MET

The Ladies' Aid of Wesley Methodist church held the annual meeting in the church parlors on Wednesday afternoon. The following officers were elected for the ensuing year: President, Mrs. Jewell; 1st vice-president, Mrs. Scherzinger; 2nd vice-president, Mrs. McGarrell; 3rd vice-president, Mrs. J. G. Brown; Sec., Mrs. S. Cook; Treas., Mrs. G. K. Wedlake; Cor. Sec., Mrs. A. B. Day; pianist, Mrs. J. A. Wedlake.

TAX ON FILMS

The first week's tax upon motion picture films falls due to-day, and M. J. O'Donohue, collector of Inland Revenue, is receiving returns from proprietors of many theatres in Brantford and this district. The average theatre program here consists of nine reels of pictures, on which the tax is $135 weekly or $8.19 per week. The fee of fifteen cents daily for each reel is levied independently no matter how many times the film is shown in the day.

LOOK FOR TAX STAMP

It having come to the attention of the authorities that some grocers in the city are selling matches bought before May 31, at advanced prices, and professing to have paid war tax upon them, a warning is issued to the public that all matches upon which war tax has been paid will bear a special war tax stamp, which will not be found on matches dealers may have had in stock before May 1. Dealers have until July 1st to dispose of these stocks, after which they too will become liable for taxation.

REMAIN UNDER O.B.A.A.

At last night's meeting of the executive of the city league, considerable dissatisfaction was voiced at the ruling of the O.B.A.A. debarring Oregut and Leq from playing in the league. While some were in favor of breaking away from the amateur association and running the league independently, it was decided to play this afternoon's games, at least, under O.B.A.A. auspices, after which the managers of the four teams will meet and arrive at a decision, reporting back to the league executive in the matter.

SMOKING ON INCREASE.

Canadians smoked last year over three hundred million more cigarettes than the year previous. Whether this is due to the addition of women to the habit or the increase in smoking among soldiers is not explained.

The figures of the Inland Revenue Department show an enormous increase in the use of all kinds of tobacco. The figures for the year ending March 31, 1918, are as follows: Tobacco, 21,987,373 pounds; cigarettes, 1,671,703,975; cigars, 254,445,945. For the same period ending March 31, 1917, the figures were: Tobacco, 20,735,080 pounds; cigarettes, 1,307,276,750; cigars, 239,753,205.

Striker at Fraser, Brace and Co. shipbuilders at Cote St. Paul, Montreal, have temporarily adjusted their differences, and the men returned to work.

John Stanton, assessor for the past fifteen years of Port Dalhousie, has completed the roll for the present year without a single appeal being registered.

Thos. J. Watt was trampled to death by a bull at the farm of his employer, John Beatty, of McKillop Township, as he was tying the animal up.

MUREAVY SERVICE

At Cobalt, a boy fourteen years of age robbed a blind man, who had lost a portion of his arm, of $60. Medical War Congress, a combined gathering of several organizations, is meeting in Hamilton. Death at Elmira of Geo. Jung of Heimbecker & Jung, furniture manufacturers, took place from a paralytic stroke. Joseph Garbutt, 78, was instantly killed at the Chremont station, when he walked from behind a car in front of the Montreal-Toronto flyer. At Guelph, the Chinese proprietor of a cafe was fined $100 and costs for selling pork to a customer on a day on which meat is prohibited by law.

What is T. N. T.?
Tri-nitro-toluol, or tri-nitro-toluene or T.N.T. is a white solid which is easily made and which is safer to use than many other explosives. Chemically it is CH₃-C₆H₂-N₃ (No. 2)-3. It is made from toluol and nitric acid. The toluol is obtained as a by-product in the coke industry. There is not enough toluol prepared in the United States to supply its present needs. The tar and illuminating gas of the city gas-works contain toluol. By making certain changes in equipment the toluol could be saved. Toluol in gas gives illuminating power, but if gas meters are used its absence will not be missed. It is of no value to the gas used for heat. It has been estimated that enough toluol is burned in illuminating in the United States in one day to make T.N.T. for 150,000 3-inch shells. Three hundred pounds of T.N.T. are used in a single torpedo.—Electrical Experimenter.

FAMOUS MAN MAY VISIT US
Australian Premier Is Coming to America.
AN INTERESTING CAREER

William Morris Hughes is a Labor Man, Though He Does Not Work With the Radical Element, and He Resembles Premier Lloyd George in Many Ways.
WILLIAM M. HUGHES Prime Minister of Australia, is paying a visit to America. He was of this continent a few years ago. Since then he has passed through a crisis in his career and triumphed in a difficult achievement, and he appears before us in a somewhat different light. A labor man he is still, but a labor man who has broken with the radical element in his party, fought with all his strength for the establishment of conservatism, been expelled from the councils of the labor extremists, and wielded the moderate laborites into one war party with the conservative elements in Australian politics. As Prime Minister in a Coalition Cabinet, he has ceased to be the leader of a majority party only; he has fused labor and capital into a working combination in which only the "I. W. W. element" has been opposed. And he has worked successfully to overthrow the labor machine which he himself built up.

In February of last year the Australian Cabinet, with Mr. Hughes as Prime Minister, resigned, and he was at once asked to form the new coalition Ministry.
Like Lloyd George, the Australian Premier is a Welshman, and self-made. His rise has been against tremendous odds of physical disability. He was born in 1864, weighs scarcely 100 pounds, and is said to be a chronic dyspeptic.

They Were Once a Religious Sect.
The word "thug" has an interesting historical origin and comes to us from India. In a recent address in England, Rudyard Kipling told the story as follows:
"Once upon a time, a hundred years ago, there was a large and highly-organized community in India who lived by assassination and robbery. They were educated to it from their infancy, they followed it as a profession, and it was also their religion. They were called Thugs. Their method was to disguise themselves as pilgrims or travellers or merchants and to join with parties of pilgrims, travellers and merchants moving about India. They got into the confidence of their victims, found out what they had on them, and in due time—after weeks or months of acquaintance—they killed them by giving them poisoned food—sweetmeats for choice—or by strangling them from behind, as they sat over the fire of an evening, with a knotted towel or a specially prepared piece of rope. They then stripped the corpse of all valuables, threw it down a well or buried it, and went on to the next job.
"At last, things got so bad that the Government of India had to interfere. Like all Governments, it created a department—the Department of Thugges—to deal with the situation. Unlike most departments, this department worked well, and after many years of tracking down and hanging up the actual murderers, and imprisoning their spies and confederates, who included all ranks of society, it put an end to the whole business of Thugges."

They're Selling Bones for Food in England. You are only asked to save a little.
Over in England they are selling bones at the rate of five pounds for one shilling. Policemen regulate long lines of people patiently standing out on the side walks, waiting for their favorite intestine idol to pass, but for a chance to enter a food shop and buy a small quantity of food. It takes about three minutes for the shop keepers to dress their windows over there, merely because there are, perhaps, but a few cans of condensed milk and a box or two of corned beef to be displayed.
Yet over here in America, bones, hay, even fats and precious scraps of meat are going into the garbage pails! Although in many cities there were long lines of people waiting this winter for supplies of coal, there has as yet been no pinched-faced mob pleading for food. True, there are frequently long lines of people on the street, but mostly they are buying tickets to shows! In the busy streets in towns and cities, shop keepers display elaborate arrangements of all kinds of delicacies in their show case windows. They would scorn a "display" of corned beef and condensed milk!

Study the Pictures Carefully—The Lesson There is to Cut Down Your Waste.
The accompanying pictures are from the Official Press Bureau in London. They were sent over to this country for the express purpose of showing America what England is really facing. A country in such straits not only needs help herself, but cannot possibly be expected to contribute to the support of the hundreds of thousands of United States troops now on the other side. The food shortage is real. Says food and "Carry On."

AIRDALE WINS OUT AS WAR MESSENGER
 Shaggy, Sad-Eyed Canine, Established Superiority Over Other Dogs

Chicago, June 1.—The Airdale, a shaggy, sad-eyed dog that gained popularity only in recent years, has convinced officers of the Central Department Signal Corps, United States Army, of its superiority over all breeds as a canine war messenger.

While official authorization for use of the Airdale on the battlefields of Europe has not yet been issued by the War Department, schools for intensive courses in training have been established and officers say that reports from the various army camps show that the dogs have made remarkable progress.

The Airdales surpass all other dogs in point of intelligence, and although peaceful, is also most courageous," said one officer. "Test after test has established beyond doubt its superiority over other dogs as a war messenger, particularly those used by the German army."

"The Airdale is a cross from a bull terrier, otter hound and a Bernese mountain dog. It is a result of years of careful breeding and its name, it is said, is derived from the Aire Valley of England where it originated."

The dogs now in training were either given to the Signal Corps by patriotic citizens or purchased by interested army officers. Scores of them with long pedigrees and valuable pedigrees have been given and other offers are coming in daily. Females are in greater demand because of their intelligence. Methods of training are a military secret.

"When the dogs are taken at the age of from ten to sixteen months and properly developed as one-man dogs (for the Airdale is distinctly a one-man dog), no beast can equal them as war dogs," said the officer. Their color blends perfectly with their shades. The ability of the dogs to slip quietly through barb wire entanglements without a scratch is remarkable."

NAVAL SITUATION IMPROVES.

More Submarines Sunk; More Merchantmen Built.

Twelve German submarines were sunk or captured by British and American destroyers during the month of April. This means that twelve U-boats were officially reported and recognized as sunk, and that evidence either a cap bearing the name of the submarine, a portion of the craft, or a live or dead German, was produced when each case was recorded.

In addition to this number, at least two other U-boats were destroyed during that period. One was sunk on April 8 in the North Sea, while making an attack on a convoy to Holland.

Another U-boat, making the total fourteen, was sunk on Friday, April 26, during the forenoon, while attempting to attack a convoy of transports filled with American troops on the way to France.

In the last two cases depth charges were used and large patches of oil came to the surface.

The commanders of the U-boats are working now on a new offensive. Several cases of mutiny among the crews and the wrecking of submarines along desolate land during the last night.

The convoys are escorted by cruisers, destroyers, patrol boats, and dirigibles, called "blimps," which are better than the seaplanes, as they can swoop down over the water and hover in one spot for any length of time without difficulty. Battleships, as well as battle-cruisers and destroyers, are used to escort the big convoys across the North Sea to Norway and Denmark. There are from fifty to seventy-five steamships in each convoy, and they all manage to get across safely. The U-boats try very hard to get the vessels in the Dutch convoys as they can see them from Zebrugge, and are directed by scout airplanes.

If the submarine cannot get there in time the airplanes try to drop bombs on the steamships, even when they have reached neutral waters along the coast of Holland. So far they have only succeeded in sinking one small Dutch vessel.

Admiral Jellicoe was against sending the battleships to sea for the purpose of protecting convoys, as he thought the risk of their being torpedoed was too great. He was overruled at the Admiralty after the capture of a convoy in the North Sea by the Germans, and that, it is understood, was the cause of his resignation.

The sinking of vessels in the Mediterranean is still considerable or account of the lack of destroyers. The British and American destroyers are all needed for convoy work, and for protecting the shipping in the Irish Sea and waters around the British coast, and the Mediterranean is left to the French and Italian destroyers, with a few Japanese destroyers.

According to the official figures in London, the output of shipyards in Britain and America in June will exceed the estimated loss of tonnage of 10,000 and increase monthly hereafter.

The Romanoffs and Labor.

Unlike the old Rurik dynasty of princes of Muscovy, the upstart Romanoffs never sided with the people, but stood with the powerful. It was under them that the peasants became serfs, and in the end slaves. When factories began to spring up in Russia, the Romanoffs, of course, became accomplices of the capitalists in holding workmen down with a ruthlessness long since abandoned in Western Europe. Unions of wage-earners to promote their economic interests were stamped out. Even when some employers wanted to be given the right to organize, in order that there would be authorized representatives of the men with whom they could make a stable agreement, the Government refused. Let such organizations become centres of political movements. The Government at times patronized mutual-benefit societies among wage-earners, but would tolerate no association that might lessen profits. Nor would it allow the workmen to quit work in concert. Forced in 1905 to recognize their right to strike, it nullified this concession when a year or two later, it felt itself firm again in the saddle. A strike was treated as a seditious outbreak calling for stern measures. Through his spies among the men the employer would learn in advance the day and hour of the walk-out and, when the strikers marched out of the works, they would be met by gendarmes or Cossacks, who would disperse them with clubs and whips, and throw their leaders into jail, if they did not send them to the front."

—Edward Allworth Ross, in the May Century.

GREATEST HARVEST IN HISTORY COMING
 British Complete Euphrates Irrigation Scheme in Mesopotamia

WITH BRITISH ARMY IN MESOPOTAMIA, June 1.—(Correspondence of the Associated Press.)—The peaceful penetration of the Euphrates country from Feluja to Hilleh began in April last year, a month after the British army entered Bagdad. Before the Turk was finally routed on the Tigris, Great Britain had begun to tap the resources of the Euphrates.

For months during the hot weather the roads from Hilleh and Musayib to Bagdad were obscured by the dust of camel and donkey convoys bringing in corn. Arab levies were raised to police the roads, villages, and towns, and the country was cleared of bands of marauders. This year, owing to the success of the Euphrates irrigation scheme, the supplies from the Euphrates side will be enormously increased and the transport of the country will be hard put to it to bring in the grain. The British engineers have been at work on the irrigation scheme connected with the Hindieh Barrage, or dam, which was finished before the war, but the Turk neglected to profit by it. The canalization work connected with it was left incomplete, and the area to be cultivated was never brought under irrigation.

The Euphrates divides at Hindieh into two branches, the Shatt-el-Hilleh to the east and the Shatt-el-Hindieh to the west, and the two channels of the river meet again a few miles above Samawa.

The function of the dam was to provide water for the Hilleh branch, which was filling with silt. This year nearly a hundred canals on the Hilleh branch which had fallen into disuse have been dug out, 300,000 acres have been brought under cultivation, and there is promise of the greatest harvest in the memory of man, possibly the greatest since the days of Nebuchadnezzar.

But the Shatt-el-Tilleh developments are only part of the scheme. For several years the land on both banks of the Hindieh branch below the dam down to Kifil has been out of cultivation.

As the canals provided in the schemes to irrigate that area were neglected. The British invaders were not long in getting to work at them. In May, as soon as the Tigris operations were completed, they began to open posts on the Euphrates. The work on the canals was started early in June; they were finished by the end of October; and the ground they irrigate is now under cultivation.

There was a gap in the British communications between Nasiriyeh and Hilleh in the hot weather, but the army has lately bridged it, establishing posts south of Hilleh and north of Nasiriyeh, so that it now administers the whole country from Basra to Ramadi. It has been a singularly peaceful penetration.

A man named Taylor, living at Tomstown, in northern Ontario, was murdered in his house during Friday night, being given a blow which smashed his skull. Taylor's wife has been arrested on suspicion.

German Public Opinion.

Every appeal to the German people over the heads of its leaders, every attempt to impress it with the good faith and disinterestedness of its opponents in this war, every assurance that we are fighting, not for the extermination of the German people, but for their right to develop their great virtues and manifest genius in the humane forms inspired alone under the influence of free institutions, pre-supposes in Germany the existence of at least a kernel of the sort of thought which we describe by the phrase "public opinion." But no one who has been long and intimately familiar with the inside of German institutions, with the ways of thinking in typical German circles, whether liberal or conservative so-called, with the whole political atmosphere breathed by radical or reactionary within the borders of the German Empire, can hesitate to say that there never has been in Germany any such thing as public opinion.

Tin In Australia.

Geologists have estimated that Austria's little developed tin deposits could be made to supply about three-fourths of the country's needs of metal.

"A RICH MAN'S PLAYTHING"
"A Rich Man's Plaything," which will be seen at the Rex the first of next week fits Miss Suratt as if it were written for her. Never has the famous actress appeared to better advantage and—this for the women film fan—never has she appeared in a more gorgeous array of gowns and other finery.

The story of this drama is remarkably well developed and full of tense gripping situations. It is a story of love against gold, of a cynical man's fight against and yet for a poor but noble country girl. He loves the girl and wants to love her but yet in his cynicism fears she cannot stand wealth. So to test her with a heartless test. But she wins.

Miss Suratt's work in this picture in which she does not play the siren type with which her name has been associated, but the innocent girl, she gives another proof of her versatility.

"A Rich Man's Plaything" is a fine production and well worth seeing.

Miss Suratt has the advantage of having a strong supporting cast. Edward Martindel plays opposite her. Others in the cast are John Dillon, well known to Fox audiences, Chas. Craig, Robert Cummings and Gladys Kelly.

"OVER THE TOP"
Sergeant Arthur Guy Empey, veteran of the Somme and author of the most famous of war books, "Over the Top" is coming to town. Manager Moulou of the Rex theatre, announces that he has booked the Vitagraph super-feature "Over the Top," which was made from Empey's book, and the sergeant will be seen as the star of the production.

This is probably the most important news which has come to local motion picture "fans" in an age, because they have all heard of Empey and want to see him. According to the advance information received by Mr. Moulou, Empey will appear on the screen with all of the magnetism that has made him one of the most notable personalities developed by the war. Albert E. Smith, president of the Vitagraph Company, has pronounced him one of the greatest natural actors he ever saw, and he also says that Empey has been permitted to re-enact on the screen the thrilling moments he experienced during the eighteen months he fought the Germans in France.

"LET'S GET A DIVORCE."
The romance of convent life and its inevitable effect upon girls, whose romantic dispositions are their chief characteristic, is admirably brought out in the story of "Let's Get a Divorce," the latest Paramount photo comedy featuring Billie Burke, the dainty star recently seen here in "Eve's Daughter."

In this photoplay, which will be seen at the Brant the first of next week, Miss Burke appears to excellent advantage as a young convent girl who, to relieve the humdrum existence which is her lot, indulges in secret flirtations of the first and only one in America. This act is causing a big sensation in Buffalo this week.

"UNCLAIMED GOODS"
The admirers of Vivian Martin, the celebrated screen star, who made an enormous hit in her recent Paramount successes, "The Fair Barbarian," and "A Petticoat Pilot," will find in her newest photoplay, "Unclaimed Goods," a vehicle of captivating attraction. This is a Western comedy of an unique character and laughs thrills, dramatic expectancy and tragedy, are its chief elements.

As Betsy Burke, the daughter of a Sheriff, the star is sent to a mining town by express, but on her arrival at her destination, no one claims her. The reason for this is obvious when it is known that the town is in the hands of a band of thugs and that all good citizens thereof are locked up while the thieves loot the community. The leader of the band seeks to buy Betsy at auction, but she is saved by the timely intervention of a man she had befriended, and who sacrifices his life in a gun battle in her behalf. Betsy finds happiness in the love of the express agent in whose care she had been placed by her father, and whose devotion to her welfare and comfort wins her love.

"Unclaimed Goods" is to be the feature of Manager Moulou's bill at the Rex Theatre next Thursday, Friday, Saturday.

"The Fair Pretender."
Madge Kennedy as a stage-struck typist who does not achieve her ambition but finds herself in a maze of high society complications instead of this is the crux of the newest Goldwyn production, "The Fair Pretender," which comes to the Brant Theatre Thursday, Friday, Saturday.

The star is Sylvia Maynard, working in the office of a play producer. In her enthusiasm to prove her ability to act, the girl shows the manager what she would do if given the star part in a play then being put on.

The erstwhile typist blossoms out as a dashing widow. She is taken up by society after inventing and telling a romantic story of her husband's death in the service of his country. There she meets Don Meredith, author of the play, though he is ignorant of her knowledge of his affairs.

Matters take a dramatic turn when her fictitious husband turns out to be a real man and not dead at all. Don, who has fallen in love with the supposed widow, is heartbroken to find that she is not free. The ensuing complications and the manner in which they are circumvented make a film play at once absorbing and thrilling.

absolutely indispensable to a nation. When the nervous system of every individual is working under constant strain, the calming, sustaining influence of music should be given every opportunity to make its presence felt. When patriotic emotions demand expression and encouragement, it is music that will supply it. When thousands of people have to be brought together to one common purpose, music is the only universal language, the only oratory that reaches every heart. We want the "O! Canada," "The Maple Leaf" and the national anthem to be sung in every public place. Yet some so-called economists limit the possibilities of music by placing an embargo on the instruments that should lead us in single file.

The musical sense is one of the highest and noblest possessed by man. It is also one of the most fundamental, reaching down to the earliest stages of civilization and the lowest order of intelligence.

MUSIC ALWAYS INDISPENSABLE
—MORE SO DURING WAR TIMES—
More Singing of National Anthem Wanted

In time of war everyone expects to sacrifice a certain amount of luxury. By a single process of taxation such sacrifices are automatically systematized for the entire community. But the question arises: What is a luxury, what is a necessity?

It has been proposed that musical instruments should be classed as luxuries. In other words music is to be classed with liquor and tobacco as one of those utterly useless frivolities that every serious and patriotic citizen should be glad to give up.

What an anomaly! Music always a necessity, becomes in times of war music in times of peace would naturally be sublimated into an attribute of necessity. To tax musical instruments then, even to put a tax on musical events, would be the taxation of necessities, and I earnestly feel that there are a great many luxuries which go untaxed at present."

AIRMEN EXPERTS IN USE OF WIRELESS
Service is Limited by Weight of Apparatus and Noise of the Engines

Somewhere in France, June 1.—Every pilot in the British air service is now a trained wireless telegraphist. The field of use of the wireless in connection with airplanes is, however, limited by two factors—the weight of the apparatus and the noise and vibration of the engines.

Heavier than air craft cannot remain aloft, as airplanes can, with engines stopped for the better reception of long distance wireless messages. But the wireless has enlarged the field of use of airplanes in warfare. Messages transmitted by the "beak" of the air" now keep headquarters in touch with every visible movement on the part of the enemy. It is, however, in connection with artillery that wireless is chiefly employed. The comparatively light sets required for the transmission of messages a distance equal to the range of the largest of modern guns is but a small load for the average two-seater airplane.

The difficulty of receiving "sonnet" signals in the air will be apparent when it is stated that conversation between pilot and observer is impracticable without the use of special "loudspeaking" telephones, on account of the noise made by the engine, the hum of the vibrating rigging, and the rush of air. The effect of vibration, apart from the noise, is perhaps the greatest difficulty to overcome in designing the receiving apparatus.

Signals sent when flying across the ground station, or when turning are not clear as those sent while flying directly toward or away from the receiving station.

DUNKIRK IS EVER IN PUBLIC EYE
"City of Dreadful Night" Figures Frequently in War Office Statements

Associated Press
LONDON, June 1.—Dunkirk, "The City of Dreadful Night," it is pointed out by a correspondent of the Daily Mail, has been mentioned perhaps more often in French communiques during the war than any other city. There are weeks when it is rare for a communique not to conclude with the words, "Enemy airplanes dropped bombs on Dunkirk during the night," or "A long-range gun has fired into Dunkirk."

That seaport, the nearest of all to the firing line is not scarcely less dear to the hearts of the French people than Verdun, and, like Verdun, it has been decorated for its courage under fire. Recently France's biggest ship was launched there.

The amazing thing about Dunkirk, the writer continues, is that it is still a city. Its inhabitants, refusing to leave, have carried on its normal life with indomitable courage. Tramway cars run as usual along its cobbled streets and well-stocked shops are open every day. Weekly in the main square, market is held and the countless stalls are well patronized by shrewd housewives.

The frequent bombardments from sea, land and air are not laughed at, but taken as a matter of course. Bedrooms, instead of being on the upper floors of the houses, are now in the cellars, and public dugouts dot the town, as do the air raid shelters of London.

Scarcely a house or wall in the town remains without its record of the enemy's continual efforts to destroy Dunkirk.

GREAT LAKES STEAMSHIP SERVICE
Canadian Pacific Steamship "Manitoba" now leaves Owen Sound 10:30 p.m. each Thursday for Sault Ste. Marie, Port Arthur and Fort William. Steamships "Kewatin" and "Assiniboia" will sail from Port McNicoll Wednesdays and Saturdays commencing June 1st.

Connecting train running through to Port McNicoll will leave Toronto 2 p.m. Saturday, June 1st and each Wednesday and Saturdays thereafter.

Charles Matson, a Swede, was found on the floor of the gas house at the aluminum plant at Massena, and died about two hours afterwards. His skull had been fractured by a fall presumably, being overcome by gas fumes.

Canada's Registration

Its Purpose and Application.

CANADA faces the gravest crisis in her history. Four years of war have taken from the Dominion a heavy toll in talent and labor, yet despite the shortage of man power, our Allies still depend on Canada to maintain her own fighting forces at full strength and to increase her exports of food and war materials, so vital to them, and to the successful prosecution of the war.

Every ounce by which Canada can increase her food production and every ounce Canada can save in her food consumption is needed for export to the Allies.

Should the war continue for another year, food cards and a rationing system may have to be instituted. It is the duty of Canada to be prepared for whatever situation circumstances may force upon her.

It is quite probable that before the war is won our Government may have to place restrictions upon the occupations in which men and women may engage. In such an event the Government wishes to be in a position to render all possible assistance in keeping our population usefully and profitably employed.

Registration Day, June 22nd

These conditions point to the necessity of Canada knowing the exact capabilities of her men and women at home.

All persons residing in Canada, male or female, British or alien of 16 years and over, will be required to register on June 22nd and truthfully answer the questions set forth upon the registration card.

It is not the Government's intention to conscript labour in any form, but to assist in directing it wisely, so that every available unit of human energy may be utilized to the best advantage.

The information procured through registrations will be used—as an aid to the Military Authorities in procuring the men necessary to maintain "Canada's First Line of Defence"—to mobilize all units of available labor in the Dominion and direct them from less essential to more essential occupations—to establish and intelligently administer a system of food rationing should that become necessary.

HOLDING THE GERMAN OFFENSIVE--Howitzers In Action

(1) On the British Western Front in France.—Short cuts to the line. (2) Peronne Cathedral. (3) Howitzers in action at the corner of a wood in France. (4) On the British Western Front.—Guns in position to check the big German drive. (5) The German offensive.—Our artillery resting by the roadside. (6) Tank moving out to assist in holding the German drive. (7) A German scout aeroplane brought down over our lines. (8) The German offensive.—Aeroplanes by the roadside ready to go out for reports of the enemy's position. (9) Hogs raised in Alberta, Canada. (10) Nursing one of the little pigs.

ARE YOU RAISING PIGS? IF NOT, WHY NOT?
THERE'S MONEY IN THEM TO-DAY

The lowly Pig has come into his own. The juicy pork chop, the savory sausage and the succulent sort of foods that make for good ham-bone are high priced luxuries on to-day's bills-of-fare. The time when the average family laid in a porker as part of the winter's supplies, paying from 5 cents to 8 1/2 cents per pound for the carcass, has long gone by. To-day hogs are fetching 15 cents and over, per pound on the hoof and the supply is wholly inadequate to the demand. This accounts for current prices of 48 cents per pound for chops and 50 cents for choice sausage meat.

Mr. Farmer is not blind to this opportunity to increase his income. Everywhere he is giving more attention to the breeding of hogs. This is particularly true in Canada's Western Provinces where favorable climatic conditions reduce disease dangers to the minimum. The fertility of the prairie's virgin soil makes possible the record-breaking yields of grain that Canadian farmers have been shipping to the hungry millions of Europe and is turned to account in the raising of hogs. The savory sausage and the succulent pork grow there in abundance, even on the cheap lands, and hogs can be raised there at less expense than elsewhere.

The principal hog foods of Western Canada are alfalfa, oats, barley and wheat. Alfalfa, the king of hog feeders, is grown successfully throughout the west, especially in the irrigated areas of Southern Alberta. Oats and barley yield heavy crops and make pork and bacon of the finest flavor, the sort that commands the highest prices. For growing hogs there is no food superior to Western Canadian oats which weigh up to 52 pounds per bushel and contain a large amount of meat and comparatively small amount of hull. For fattening, barley is used chiefly and apart from the hull, Canadian barley is equal in food value to corn and produces a superior quality of meat.

The Canadian Pacific Railway, which makes it possible for the farmer to get his hogs to market in the quickest and best way, helps him further by maintaining demonstration farms where crop experiments, breeding and food tests are carried on for the benefit of the farmers.

No class of stock brings money into the farmer's pocket more quickly than do hogs. Their prolificacy and the short time in which they grow to marketable size ensure a maximum production of meat in the shortest time.

The raising of hogs has meant big money for Canadian farmers the past year. In the Province of Alberta alone, the live stock estimate of the Department of Agriculture for 1917 give the number of hogs at 730,237 with a valuation of $10,563,565. It is confidently predicted that the 1918 record will go far beyond these figures. The market price for hogs in the Calgary market for the week of February 21-25, 1918 averaged $19.70 per hundred weight.

MAKING YOURSELF WELL AND STRONG

You Can Improve Your Physical Condition by Keeping the Blood Pure.

People with strong constitutions escape most of the minor ills that make life miserable for others. Don't you envy the friend who does not know what a headache is, whose digestion is perfect, and who sleeps soundly at night? How far do you come from this description? Have you ever made an earnest effort to strengthen your constitution, to build up your system, to ward off discomfort and disease? Unless you have an organic disease it is generally possible to so improve your physical condition that perfect health will be yours. The first thing to be done is to build up your blood as poor blood is the source of physical weakness. To build up the blood, Dr. Williams' Pink Pills is just the medicine you need. Every dose helps to make new blood which reaches every nerve and every part of the body, bringing color to the cheeks, brightness to the eyes, a steadiness to the hands, a good appetite and splendid energy. Thousands throughout the country whose condition once made them despair owe their present good health to this medicine. If you are one of the weak and ailing give Dr. Williams' Pink Pills a fair trial and note the daily gain in new blood and abounding vitality. Among those who have proved the truth of these statements is Mrs. Fred Gould, R. R. No. 2, Buxton, Ont. who says: "A few years ago I underwent an operation for a fibroid tumor. I had been ailing so long that I did not gain as the doctors said I should. I was such a run-down condition that they said it would take me a very long time to recover. But instead of gaining, I was getting weaker, and the doctor said I must go back to the hospital. I did not want to do this, and having often heard of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills as a strength builder I decided to try them. I was greatly surprised at the help I received from them. In three months I was able to go about and our home doctor expressed his astonishment as he had not expected me to recover, believing pernicious anemia had set in. It took me about a year to recover my full strength, but ever since I have been doing my own housework, and have to give Dr. Williams' Pink Pills the praise for my present state of good health." You can get these pills through any medicine dealer or by mail post paid at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont. Third fatality within a week in which the victims were children occurred when Basil, the three year old son of W. J. McLeod, wheelman on the C.P.R. steamer Manitoba, was drowned in the harbor at Owen Sound.

$100 Reward. $100.

The readers of this paper will be amazed to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is cancer. Cancer being greatly influenced by constitutional conditions requires constitutional treatment and acts thru the blood. The Microscopic Surface of the System thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in the curative powers of Hall's Cancer Cure that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for free testimonials. Address: F. J. QUEEN MARIE STANDS FIRM
 Will Not Bow Before Teuton Conquerors.
BRAVER THAN THE MEN
 The Germans Are Finding It Very Difficult to Deal With the Heroic Queen of Roumania Who Refuses to Recognize the Terms of the Treaty as Binding.

THE signing of the treaty of peace between Germany and Roumania will be by no means the last action in the Roumanian tragedy. The announcement by German newspapers that Queen Marie would rather abdicate than reign over the country under the German peace conditions is held to be a case of the wish probably being father to the thought. The queen was largely instrumental in bringing Roumania into the war on the side of the allies and she has fought stubbornly for many months to avert peace. Even now that peace has been signed, it is predicted she will continue to be a formidable obstacle in the path of the German plans for "penetration."

 In a talk with the Associated Press correspondent at Jassy the day before his departure from that city Queen Marie said:
 "I shall never become reconciled to a humiliating peace with Germany—never and I hope, indeed, for I shall have the support of Americans as well as Roumanians in continuing the fight against the invader. The time is a critical one for Roumania, but we know we are right and our courage is undaunted. We have been through critical times before. We have borne great hardships and undergone great sufferings. Greater hardships and sufferings are perhaps in store, but I continue to hope. It is only a woman's hope, but I cannot abandon it."
 The Wilhelmstrasse is probably considering ways and means for riding Roumania of the queen's infantry. As a preparatory step, the German newspapers apparently have been instructed to speak of her as planning abdication. It seems safe to predict that she will never abdicate unless forced to do so, as she is known to be imbued with a deep sense of responsibility to the Roumanian people. It seems probable that the only reason why Germany has not already insisted upon the abdication of the queen is that King Ferdinand is a member of the Hohenzollern family and therefore still regarded with some degree of consideration by the German rulers.

Neglected Streets.
 San Sebastian stands almost alone as a famous cosmopolitan watering place upon which the shadow of the war is scarcely cast. Existence there proceeds almost exactly as usual. The concerts are crowded in the mornings with bathing parties and boulevards and the terraces of the Casino are as gay as ever. As a result of the war the place certainly suffers from the absence of a good part of the cosmopolitan element, largely French and American, and it is dependent chiefly on the people of Spain itself, but there are quite as many of the aristocratic families as ever there were, and the humbler folk follow them in their thousands. The absence of the aliens inevitably means a considerable decrease in the income, and this is made the excuse for certain apparent neglect on the part of the Ayuntamiento, for some say they notice an occasional untidiness in the streets which did not exist before. It has been declared of San Sebastian that a lady might cross the street in dancing slippers immediately after a heavy rain without marking them with mud, but that is scarcely true at the present moment.

Artificial Gems.
 Nearly all artificial gems—that is to say, stones that are really made by artificial means—are compounds of alum crystallized under special conditions. The metallic salts that are added during fusion determine whether the stones produced shall be sapphires, rubies, oriental topazes, amethysts or emeralds.

W. J. Elliott, J. E. Ferguson and S. M. Douglas were nominated at Ingersoll to fill a vacancy in the town council.

STRANGE FIGURES OF WAR.
 Striking Acrostics Produced by a New York Golf Instructor.
 A novel calculation in connection with the war has been made by John Forman, instructor in the Far East Garden golf course at the Vanderbilt Hotel, New York.
 "For some time I have worked over the figures that have come up in the war," Forman states, "and possibly this month may bring about some surprises when you take into consideration the significance of six curious comparisons and citations which I shall give you."
 "The Kaiser is the man who started the war; Serbia is the country where the war started. There are six letters in each of these words, mark you, and if written together and divided in two, these two halves will spell 'Kaiser' and 'Serbia,' thus:
 Kai : ser
 Ser : bia
 "The great man in France is Joffre. Apply the same rule as above, and we have:
 Jof : fre
 Fre : nch
 "Germany claims to be the most cultivated nation in the world. This superculture is termed Kultur. Turkey has the least Kultur. Apply the same rule:
 Kul : tur
 Tur : key
 "The Kaiser's Number. — If the word Kaiser is written with each letter followed by the number of its place in the alphabet, and after these numbers is placed the significant number 6, we have:
 K—116
 A—16
 I—98
 S—196
 E—56
 R—186
 Kaiser's number 666
 "Also note that when the Kaiser started the war he was aged 55 years and 6 months (666 months), which again fixes the Kaiser's number. Having established this fact, you will be interested in reading from the thirteenth chapter of Revelations, the fourth, fifth, and eighteenth verses:
 "And they worshipped the dragon which gave power unto the beast; and they worshipped the beast, saying—Who is like unto the beast? Who is able to make war with him?
 "And there was given unto him a mouth speaking great things and blasphemies; and power was given unto him to continue forty and two months.
 "Here is wisdom. Let him that hath understanding count the number of the beast; for it is the number of a man; and his number is six hundred and three score and six (666)."
 "War started in August, 1914; plus 42 months make February, 1918.
 The Open Ballot in Prussia.
 The landlord in the eastern provinces replaced Social Democrats and laborers with Poles; or if Poles are unavailable, he may raise their rent or foreclose a mortgage. Official candidates are encouraged by the fact that functionaries are elected from the district where they hold office. Von Buelow, as Chancellor, declared that no official could occupy himself with Social Democratic politics; and it is well understood that, as votes the Landrath, so vote the minor officials, since he controls the local patronage. Through various channels a vote is exerted in favor of landed and bureaucratic interests.
 Whether Prussia is a parish on account of this manipulation of the suffrage depends largely on the point of view. If the vote is taken in section either open or secret, voting may have with political poignancy. Even if a landlord does not learn his peasant's vote at the open poll, there is a reluctance to let the question be asked him point-blank. Denying one's political faith under pressure carries with it somewhat the stigma of declining to recognize one's pastor or social gaiter.
 Die echte Burgertrunkend itself keeps down the number of Peters. The idea that when a man takes a daily paper in his hand, he suddenly becomes a detached political animal, is pure fantasy; for isolation is unattainable even in a polling booth. It is enough to say that it makes easier the independence of the voter from circumstances of employment and social affiliations. In Prussia, where both these ties are strong, public voting neutralizes universal suffrage by destroying the freedom of the common voter.
 More significant than the practical effect of the open ballot is its psychological effect. The small voter knows the slight reluctance to let the vote would entail, and rather than face the music, he stays away from the polls. One may concede the apathy of the farming classes; but the abstention of 50 per cent of the third class in one district in East Prussia, and of 92 per cent in Koeslin betrays an unwholesome state in the body politic. The poorer classes would rather forego the suffrage than enjoy it under the patronage of the first class.—Donald Paige Frary in Review of Reviews.

Must Vary Work.
 Officials in the French army do not believe that the most efficient service is obtained from members of the military clerical force when the latter sit at their desks practically all day without interruption, says Popular Mechanics. Accordingly the French Government is said to have installed, for the use of army clerks, typewriter stands so made that each machine is alternately raised and lowered each half hour. Under this arrangement the most sedentary individuals are compelled to stand while doing a part of each day's work. The innovation is reported to have proved very beneficial.

Photographing Animals.
 By building a concrete tank with a window in one side a Scotch physician succeeded in getting motion pictures of otters and other water animals.

If Not A Family Garden Why Not A Community Garden?

Those who grew vegetables in their gardens, or who went in for Community vegetable gardening last year, and had good results, will do the same this year.
 But to those who attempted vegetable gardening without success we say: Try again. As a matter of sheer necessity it is worth your while.
 Don't rush into it. Figure out what you aim to do before you start. Then get the advice of a friendly neighbor whose vegetable garden was a success.

In November of last year they had $42.00 still left in the treasury, and to each of thirty-five families there had been delivered (charges prepaid) vegetables to the market value of about $31.00.
Everybody was perfectly satisfied; and the result is, those same thirty-five men are going to double their efforts this year.

First of all fill out the coupon below and mail it and get a free copy of the Department of Agriculture's booklet entitled "A Vegetable Garden For Every Home." It is full of helpful practical suggestions, including plans for various sized gardens. If, after reading it, and getting the advice of your neighbor, you find that the soil in your own garden is not suited to vegetable gardening, get some neighbors or friends to join you and rent, or secure the donation of, a piece of suitable land nearby.
 Then pool your efforts in labour and money for the cultivation of substantial vegetable crops.

The point we want to make is this. If those thirty-five men had been left to their own devices, in their own back gardens, some of them might have taken off $30 worth of vegetables for their efforts, but most of them would not. Whereas by tackling the job on the Community plan they shared each others good fortune, joked over their disappointments, and produced more than $1,000.00 worth of vegetables at market prices, and so relieved the demand for food that much.
 Why not try to do likewise?
 One other point that may help you to decide is this.

For example: Last year thirty-five men in an Ontario city, all of whom were novices at gardening, formed a pool of ten dollars each, and rented four acres of ground on the outskirts of the city. They then secured the services of a man who knew something about farming. They paid him to plow and harrow the land, purchase seed, and get the job properly started. Then each man agreed, and lived up to his agreement, to do so much hoeing. Incidentally they paid the farmer for his supervision and direction through the season.

The farmers of Ontario have been urged to grow more wheat, and to produce more abundantly of the farm products that can best be sent overseas. The people in villages, towns and cities, therefore, are asked to grow food to feed themselves as far as possible so that the overseas supplies may not be drawn on unless absolutely necessary.
 It is quite possible that vegetables may be higher in price next fall and winter than they have been this last year, consequently every pound of food you grow will make you that much less dependent upon them.

Write now for a free copy of the booklet entitled "A Vegetable Garden for Every Home," prepared by the Ontario Department of Agriculture. It is full of helpful practical suggestions, including plans for various sized gardens. You can get a copy by filling out and mailing the coupon below.

QUEEN MARIE OF ROUMANIA.
will continue to be a formidable obstacle in the path of the German plans for "penetration."
In a talk with the Associated Press correspondent at Jassy the day before her departure from that city Queen Marie said:
"I shall never become reconciled to a humiliating peace with Germany—never! and I hope, indeed, I know, that I shall have the support of Americans as well as Roumanians in continuing the fight against the invader. The time is a critical one for Roumania, but we know we are right and our courage is undaunted. We have been through critical times before. We have borne great hardships and undergone great sufferings. Greater hardships and sufferings are perhaps in store, but I continue to hope. It is only a woman's hope, but I cannot abandon it."
The Wilhelmstrasse is probably considering ways and means for riding Roumania of the queen's infantry. As a preparatory step, the German newspapers apparently have been instructed to speak of her as planning abdication. It seems safe to predict that she will never abdicate unless forced to do so, as she is known to be imbued with a deep sense of responsibility to the Roumanian people. It seems probable that the only reason why Germany has not already insisted upon the abdication of the queen is that King Ferdinand is a member of the Hohenzollern family and therefore still regarded with some degree of consideration by the German rulers.

Neglected Streets.
San Sebastian stands almost alone as a famous cosmopolitan watering place upon which the shadow of the war is scarcely cast. Existence there proceeds almost exactly as usual. The beaches are crowded in the mornings with bathing parties and boulevards and the terraces of the others, and in the afternoons the boulevards and the terrace of the Casino are as gay as ever. As a result of the war the place certainly suffers from the absence of a good part of the cosmopolitan element, largely French and American, and it is dependent chiefly on the people of Spain itself, but there are quite as many of the aristocratic families as ever there were, and the humbler folk follow them in their thousands.
The absence of the aliens inevitably means a considerable decrease in the income, and this is made the excuse for certain apparent neglect on the part of the Ayuntamiento, for some say they notice an occasional untidiness in the streets which did not exist before. It has been declared of San Sebastian that a lady might cross the street in dancing slippers immediately after a heavy rain without marking them with mud, but that is scarcely true at the present moment.

Artificial Gems.
Nearly all artificial gems—that is to say, stones that are really made by artificial means—are compounds of alum crystallized under special conditions. The metallic salts that are added during fusion determine whether the stones produced shall be sapphires, rubies, oriental topazes, amethysts or emeralds.

W. J. Elliott, J. E. Ferguson and S. M. Douglas were nominated at Ingersoll to fill a vacancy in the town council.

STRANGE FIGURES OF WAR.
Striking Acrostics Produced by a New York Golf Instructor.
A novel calculation in connection with the war has been made by John Forman, instructor in the Far East Garden golf course at the Vanderbilt Hotel, New York.
"For some time I have worked over the figures that have come up in the war," Forman states, "and possibly this month may bring about some surprises when you take into consideration the significance of six curious comparisons and citations which I shall give you."
"The Kaiser is the man who started the war. Serbia is the country where the war started. There are six letters in each of these words, mark you, and if written together and divided in halves, these two halves will spell 'Kaiser' and 'Serbia,' thus:
K a i s e r
S e r b i a
The great man in France is Joffre. Apply the same rule as above, and we have:
J o f f r e
F r e n c h
Germany claims to be the most cultivated nation in the world. This superlative is termed Kultur. The key has the least Kultur. Apply the same rule:
K u l t u r
C u r t e y
"The Kaiser's Number. — If the word Kaiser is written with each letter followed by the number of its place in the alphabet, and after these numbers is placed the significant number 6, we have:
K—116
A—16
I—96
S—198
E—56
R—186
Kaiser's number 666
"Also note that when the Kaiser started the war he was aged 55 years and 6 months (666 months), which again fixes the Kaiser's number. Having established this fact, you will be interested in reading from the thirteenth chapter of Revelations, the fourth, fifth, and eighteenth verses:
"And they worshipped the dragon which gave power unto the beast; and they worshipped the beast, saying—Who is like unto the beast? Who is able to make war with him?"
"And there was given unto him a mouth speaking great things and blasphemous; and power was given unto him to continue forty and two months."
"Here is wisdom. Let him that hath understanding count the number of the beast; for it is the number of a man; and his number is six hundred and three score and six (666)."
"War started in August, 1914; plus 42 months make February, 1918.

The Open Ballot in Prussia.
The landlord in the eastern provinces replaces his Social Democratic laborers with Poles; or if Poles are unavailable, he may raise their rent or foreclose a mortgage. Official candidature is encouraged by the fact that functionaries are eligible from the district where they hold office. Von Buelow, Chancellor, declares that no official could occupy himself with Social Democratic politics; and it is well understood that, as votes are counted, he votes the minor officials, since the local control of the suffrage. Through various channels a strong pressure is exerted in favor of landed and bureaucratic interests.
Prussia is a parish on the verge of this manipulation of the suffrage depends largely on the point of view. It is not clear what connection either open or secret voting may have with political poeage. Even if a landlord does not learn his peasant's vote at the open poll, there is a reluctance to lie if the question is asked him point-blank. Denying one's political faith under pressure carries with it somewhat the stigma of declining to recognize one's parents in a superior social gathering. Die echte Buergertugend itself is maintained even in a polling booth. It is enough to say that it makes easier the independence of the voter from circumstances of employment and social limitations. In Prussia, where both these things are strong, public voting neutralizes universal suffrage by destroying the freedom of the common voter.
More significant than the practical effect of the open ballot is its psychological effect. The small voter knows the dispute which an independent vote would entail, and rather than face the music, he stays away from the polls. One may wonder at the apathy of the farming classes; but the abstention of 90 per cent. of the third class in one district in East Prussia, and of 92 per cent. in Koestlin betrays an unwholesome state in the body politic. The poorer classes would rather forego the suffrage than enjoy it under the patronage of the first class. Donald Faige Frary in Review of Reviews.

Must Vary Work.
Officials in the French army do not believe that the most efficient service is obtained from members of the military clerical force when the latter sit at their desks practically all day without interruption, says the Popular Mechanic. Consequently the French Government is said to have installed, for the use of army clerks, typewriter stands so made that each machine is alternately raised and lowered each half hour. Under this arrangement the most sedentary individuals are compelled to stand while doing a part of each day's work. The innovation is reported to have proved very beneficial.

Photographing Animals.
By building a concrete tank with a way in one side a Scotch physician succeeded in getting under pictures of otters and other water animals.

If Not A Family Garden Why Not A Community Garden?

Those who grew vegetables in their gardens, or who went in for Community vegetable gardening last year, and had good results, will do the same this year.

But to those who attempted vegetable gardening without success we say: Try again. As a matter of sheer necessity it is worth your while.

Don't rush into it. Figure out what you aim to do before you start. Then get the advice of a friendly neighbor whose vegetable garden was a success.

First of all fill out the coupon below and mail it and get a free copy of the Department of Agriculture's booklet entitled "A Vegetable Garden For Every Home." It is full of helpful practical suggestions, including plans for various sized gardens. If, after reading it, and getting the advice of your neighbor, you find that the soil in your own garden is not suited to vegetable gardening, get some neighbors or friends to join you and rent, or secure the donation of, a piece of suitable land nearby.

Then pool your efforts in labour and money for the cultivation of substantial vegetable crops.

For example: Last year thirty-five men in an Ontario city, all of whom were novices at gardening, formed a pool of ten dollars each, and rented four acres of ground on the outskirts of the city. They then secured the services of a man who knew something about farming. They paid him to plow and harrow the land, purchase seed, and get the job properly started. Then each man agreed, and lived up to his agreement, to do so much hoeing. Incidentally they paid the farmer for his supervision and direction through the season.

In November of last year they had $42.00 still left in the treasury, and to each of thirty-five families there had been delivered (charges prepaid) vegetables to the market value of about $31.00.

Everybody was perfectly satisfied; and the result is, those same thirty-five men are going to double their efforts this year.

The point we want to make is this. If those thirty-five men had been left to their own devices, in their own back gardens, some of them might have taken off $30 worth of vegetables for their efforts, but most of them would not. Whereas by tackling the job on the Community plan they shared each others good fortune, joked over their disappointments, and produced more than $1,000.00 worth of vegetables at market prices, and so relieved the demand for food that much.

Why not try to do likewise? One other point that may help you to decide is this.

The farmers of Ontario have been urged to grow more wheat, and to produce more abundantly of the farm products that can best be sent overseas. The people in villages, towns and cities, therefore, are asked to grow food to feed themselves as far as possible so that the overseas supplies may not be drawn on unless absolutely necessary.

It is quite possible that vegetables may be higher in price next fall and winter than they have been this last year, consequently every pound of food you grow will make you that much less dependent upon them.

Write now for a free copy of the booklet entitled "A Vegetable Garden for Every Home," prepared by the Ontario Department of Agriculture. It is full of helpful practical suggestions, including plans for various sized gardens. You can get a copy by filling out and mailing the coupon below.

Rippling Rhymes

By Walt Mason
WINNING THE WAR.
 The things I do to win the war are things always did abhor. So give me credit, I beseech, for loyalty that is a creed. I'd like to mount a foaming steed and charge the foe at frightful speed. I'd like to ride an aeroplane above the clouds that send the rain, above the forest and the hill, and drop some bombs on Kaiser Bill. I'd like to walk a crusader's deck amid scenes of battle and of wreck. But all such things are barred to me, I may not fight on land or sea, I may not garner glory shares, because I'm fat and have the heaves. And so I'm doing things I hate, that I may keep my record straight. I'm digging soil and sowing seeds, and pruning vines and weeding, I'll till the garden and repeat and there are sandhills
 in my feet; that valued foodstuffs be supplied, I gather thistles in my hide; I grow the bean and marrow-
 fat; I'll win the war or break a leg.
 I hope when history is writ, and warriors who did their bit are loaded with the heroes' bays, there'll be some mention of the Jays who did as their stunt at home, and did their stunts in the garden
 and repeat and there are sandhills
 in my feet; that valued foodstuffs
 be supplied, I gather thistles in my hide; I grow the bean and marrow-
 fat; I'll win the war or break a leg.
