ACADIA GIRLS LOSE DEBATE

Dalhousie Wins Inter-collegiate Contest at Halifax

The Acadia girls debating team lost the inter-collegiate debate with Dalhousie, which was held last Friday evening at the School for the Blind, Halifax. The subject of the debate was "Resolved, that in the interests of industrial peace in Canada, voluntary methods of arbitration, conciliation and mediation are preferable to any form of compulsory legislation. The Industrial Disputes Act of 1907 is to be regarded as a form of compulsory legislation in its relation to public utilities." Dalhousie had the affirmative side. The chair was occupied by Mrs. Dennis, and the judges were Premier Armstrong, Principal Clarence Mackinnon, and Judge Margeson, of Bridgewater. The personnel of the Dalhousie team was Miss Mae Linton (leader), Miss Claire Murray and Miss Olive Atlee; that of Acadia, Miss Kathleen Bowlby, Miss Jean M. Waller, Miss Helen Archibald.

The subject of the debate, involving most intricate labor questions and problems of the day, required the utmost amount of research and preparation. That it had been given such was very evident by the presentation of every one of the young ladies participating. Convincing arguments, a vast array of facts and references, and a display of very logical reasoning featured the debate.

Miss Claire Murray opened for Dalhousie. There was too much over-legislation in the country; state enterprise and control killed the initiative; compulsion accepted as a principle in politics would only add to the unrest. Any form of compulsion was against the interests of the laboring men, and compulsion was contrary to the British Constitution. Voluntary action for settlement of labor disputes placed both parties on an equal basis, and the public, the third party to such disputes, would suffer less than if under a compulsory law.

Miss Bowlby, leading for Acadia, and taking the negative side of the debate, upheld the compulsory method of dealing with trade disputes, contending that the Industrial Disputes Act of Canada had proven that such methods was the better. She cited instances of the success of compulsory arbitration, or at least investigation, to settle or avoid strikes in Canada. The Industrial Disputes Act of Canada had been in force for sixteen years and favored by all Governments and approved by the highest officials of the Department of Labor, all men who had been taken from the ranks of labor. This Act was to absolutely prohibit strikes and lock-outs before an investigation had been made. It has been based on actual conditions in Canada and after the voluntary efforts to settle disputes had failed.

Miss Linton, of Dalhousie, humorously referred to the methods used by the head of the family to prevent strikes. There was much compulsion on the part of Maggie, with Jiggs, but she doubted very much if there was harmony in that family (laughter). The negative had based their whole argument for compulsion on the Industrial Disputes Act, but they had yet to show that the success of the Act was not due to voluntary efforts by which it was interpreted. There was only one compulsory feature in the Act, that for investigation before a strike. There had never been any attempt in Canada for an absolutely compulsory Act, as in Australia. Examples of its futility were the many strikes in the coal fields of Nova Scotia, one lasting for years, that of Springhill, and only then settled by the voluntary methods of mediation on the part of Premier Murray. Miss Linton cited instances of endeavoring to repeal the Act, and other instances of where it had been treated with contempt.

Miss Walker for Acadia declared the Industrial Disputes Act, involving the principle of compulsion, the most practical yet devised in Canada. Under the voluntary system the negotiation continued until it was agreeable to both parties, and the public, the third party to the strike, suffered. There was advantage to both capital and labor in the compulsory arbitration system, as it averted the sudden strike. Ninety per cent of the settlements under the Industrial Disputes Act of Canada were favorable to labor. Capital had been almost unanimous in favor of the Act, and the Labor Congress requested extension of the Act, and were disappointed at its limitations.

Miss Atlee, for Dalhousie, contended that voluntary methods of settling disputes developed better feeling between employee and employer. She cited the Whitley Council scheme, where industrial concerns had councils of workmen and employers, as practical ex-

ACADIA DEFEATS U.N.B.

Local Collegians Too much for Old Rivals—Score 35 to 21

The Acadia basketball team defeated their old rivals the University of New Brunswick, at the Memorial Gymnasium on Thursday evening of last week. This was Acadia's first win over U. N. B. in this game for some years and the local collegians celebrated in fitting style.

The game was a good exhibition of basketball, though Acadia clearly outplayed their opponents. Both sides showed excellent team work, but the locals were better shots. The stars for U. N. B. were Dunmore and Seely, while Wigmore and Clarke were perhaps the best for Acadia. With Clark back on the team, playing his usual stellar game, the Acadia team is better than ever, and are fully competent to make a good showing before any team in the Maritime Provinces. T. Hutcheon refereed.

In the first period U. N. B. started out strong and for the first five minutes neither side was able to score more than three points. However, the locals' steady pace began to tell on the Red and Black basket players and Wigmore and Clark piled up the scores for Acadia. Toward the last of the period the visitors rallied, keeping the score down to 25-14, when the period ended.

In the second period it was the locals game for the first ten minutes but the last five minutes passed almost scoreless. In this period the brand of basketball was inferior to that in the first, neither side being able to shoot as accurately as before. The game ended with the score 35-21 in favor of Acadia. The line-up:

U. N. B.—L. Gilmore, 6; Seely, 7; R. Dummer (Capt.), 8; E. Kerley, G. MacPhail, W. Jones, S. Miller, J. Clayton.

Acadia—Wigmore, 9; T. Robinson, (Capt.), 7; A. Clark, 11; S. Chipman, 4; L. Rhodeniser, C. McCready, A. Brown, 4.

DEATH'S HARVEST

The death took place yesterday at Kentville of Edwin, infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Glen Blenkhorn, of Canning, aged six months. This is the second child Mr. and Mrs. Blenkhorn have lost during a year and they have the profound sympathy of a host of friends. The father, who has been in poor health since his return from overseas, is now a patient at the Provincial Sanatorium. Mr. Blenkhorn, who is a son of Mr. and Mrs. L. F. Blenkhorn, of Canning, enlisted early in the war in the 25th Batt. and did excellent service, being twice mentioned in despatches.

amples of voluntary methods. A spirit of partnership never could be brought about by compulsion. Miss Atlee had a shaft aimed at the recent effort of the University to impose the one hundred per cent attendance at lectures, and amid much laughter attributed that as the reason for the strike of students, "because they were being compelled by those in authority". The compulsory features of the Industrial Disputes Act of Canada had never been emphasized.

Miss Helen Archibald, for Acadia, emphasized the place of the public in labor disputes, and some form of compulsion was necessary to protect its interests. The welfare of the public was above that of the individual. The principle of compulsion had been recognized in the League of Nations, which compelled its members to bring its disputes before it.

Miss Bowlby made the rebuttal for Acadia, and presented arguments to show that it was not true the Industrial Disputes Act aroused any permanent suspicion of labor. The Act did not signify that disputes were settled by the State, for the Act only provided the means of investigation before the strike should occur. Miss Linton in her rebuttal questioned if compulsion averted the sudden strike. She did not know how men were to be controlled under the Act; it would be an impossible thing to arrest seven thousand men because they struck in defiance of the Act. Owing to the voluntary councils of the Canadian railways system, there had been only one occasion to resort to the Industrial Disputes Act since the war. It had been said that there were twenty-eight cases referred to the Act within a given time and the Act failed only in one case, but Miss Linton contended that there had been in the same time seventy strikes not referred to the Act, therefore proving its inability to deal with disputes from a compulsory point. "It was not the spirit of compulsion that won the war, but the magnificent voluntary efforts." How were men to be made to obey. That word had been written into the marriage vows, but how was a man to make his wife obey (laughter).

Enthusiastic Conference At Kentville

Delegates From All Points in Valley Discuss Tourist Business And Pass Important Resolutions

At the invitation of the Kentville Board of Trade representatives from nearly every Valley town between Halifax and Yarmouth met at Kentville on Monday to discuss the tourist traffic and consider ways and means of increasing this business. Boards of trade, hotel men, transportation companies and newspapers were represented. Wolfville's delegates being Edson Graham, Col. Eric MacDonald and H. P. Davidson.

The opening meeting was held in the afternoon at the I. O. D. E. rooms with A. E. McMahon in the chair and W. E. Porter as secretary.

The chairman in opening urged the necessity for earnest co-operation between all the interests represented, adding, "We should not consider the good to ourselves, but the good that would accrue to our Province." He stated the reason for the conference as being the need of a greater tourist trade; that visitors might be so well received that they would make Nova Scotia the regular field for their summer vacation.

The first speaker was Prof. W. S. Blair who outlined the object of the conference, the value of and importance of the tourist trade to this Province.

F. W. Bowes, of Halifax, spoke of the need of good hotels. Last year there were 600,000 tourists in the State of Maine. He quoted from the Montreal Star that about 150,000 people from the cities of Montreal, Toronto and Ottawa go to the State of Maine each year. These should be diverted to this Province. One of the advantages to the country is the added valuation to properties and land that was formerly valueless has increased very materially in various sections because of the tourist trade, consequently adding to assessment and more taxable property.

L. M. Fortier, superintendent of Fort Anne, Annapolis Royal, spoke of the marked developments made in the tourist attractions of this national park. Last year over 10,000 tourists visited the Old Fort. He cited the wonderful organization that has been formed in California known as Californians, Inc. and suggested that an organization of a similar kind might be formed here to great advantage.

Mr. Fortier was followed by Rev. G. P. Raymond, who mentioned our Canadian office at Boston, and raised the question as to whether this office might not be used for the propagation of our tourist trade and the dissemination in regard to our province.

Several other very interesting speakers were heard, including Leslie Wiltshire, of Windsor; F. G. J. Comeau, of Halifax; F. E. Cox, of Middleton; Rev. R. B. Layton, of Kentville; and Edson Graham, of Wolfville, all of whom urged the need for concerted action and especially the need of a central information bureau. Mayor Murray, of Hantsport, R. W. North, Canning, and J. L. Peters, Digby, also took active part in the discussion.

The gathering adjourned at six o'clock to reconvene at a very pleasing function at seven-thirty when a complimentary dinner was tendered the delegates at the Cornwallis Inn, the Kentville Board of Trade being the hosts. This session took on a wider significance than that of the afternoon, because of the fact that it embraced both the present season and a discussion of the Old Home Summer project of next year.

Horatio Crowell, speaking on this subject, was particularly eloquent and his enthusiasm seemed to capture the entire audience. So enthusiastic indeed did the audience become that the following resolution was drawn up and adopted by the conference, being moved by F. E. Cox, Middleton, and seconded by J. L. Peters, Digby:

Whereas, the government of Nova Scotia has appointed a parliamentary committee to investigate and consider the possibilities of the development of the tourist travel of Nova Scotia;

And whereas, that committee will make certain recommendations to the Legislature as to ways and means of developing the tourist traffic; and

Whereas, there is now before the province a proposal to hold an Old Home Summer in 1924 and appeal to all Nova Scotians living abroad to visit their native land in the summer of 1924.

Be it the delegates of the tourist conference at Kentville resolve: That we strongly endorse the Old Home Summer movement for 1924, and urge upon the government of Nova Scotia to grant all legislation that will give the official sanction and assist in its organization and successful conduct.

Further resolved: That this conference will take immediate steps to organize the committees necessary to carry on the work of Old Home Summer in all the towns and counties here represented.

James Sealy, M. P. P., a member of the tourist committee of government, spoke briefly, pledging his support to any project that might be put forward by the conference.

At the close of this enthusiastic conference the following resolution was moved by Edson Graham, Wolfville, and seconded by L. W. Fortier, Annapolis Royal, being unanimously adopted:

Whereas, this meeting has been held for the purpose of studying and formulating plans for the development of the tourist travel in the Annapolis Valley; and

Whereas, the government of Nova Scotia has appointed a parliamentary committee to investigate the possibilities of tourist travel to Nova Scotia and recommend legislation that will assist in this development.

Therefore resolved: That the attention of the government be directed to the necessity for more aggressive action in the dissemination of information throughout New England and other parts of the United States and upper Canada, in reference to the attractiveness of our province as a tourist resort, through a central and unified source; and that they be urged to at once set aside a sum not less than fifteen thousand dollars as a start in the organization of a publicity campaign for the purpose outlined above, and establish a central information bureau for tourists for the province of Nova Scotia, it being understood that voluntary information bureaus will be established by local board of trade organizations.

As a proof of the trend toward immediate action that was instilled into the delegates, the fact of the actual formation of an Annapolis Valley Tourist Association may be cited. A tentative organization was formed with the following officers:

President—A. E. McMahon

Vice-President—Prof. Blair

Secretary—H. M. Chase

All the towns from Digby to Windsor will be asked to elect members of this organization who will get together and form an organization.

The conference has done a great deal by bringing together these representative business men and unifying their aims to such an extent that organizations will be formed in each town with these men as the nucleus. With the impetus received and with the aid which was promised the tourist interest by Premier Armstrong on the floor of the

Given by Rev. D. B. Hemmeon on the Subject "The New World"

The lecture given by Rev. D. B. Hemmeon on Thursday evening of last week at the Baptist Church, under the auspices of the Social and Benevolent Society, was most interesting and instructive. Mr. Hemmeon illustrated his remarks with maps prepared by himself which added greatly to the enjoyment of those present.

Mr. Hemmeon announced that his aim in lecturing about "The New World" that the Great War has left us was to enlarge our horizon, to increase our knowledge, stimulate our tolerance and deepen our sympathies.

Some of the problems of the new world are:

(1) Can the new world be made as orderly and peaceable as the old one was?

(2) How much of the old world is left to us?

(3) What are the new boundaries, nations, colonies, mandates?

(4) What kind of people compose the new states?

(5) The Great Powers have a new set of "Rights" and "Responsibilities". How will these be met?

(6) How far can the hold of the Great Powers be loosened in their possessions (India, Egypt, etc.)?

(7) The greatest of all, viz., the new world is not a collection of separate and independent countries but a series of inter-dependent communities necessitating some kind of machinery for preserving undisturbed and equitable interchange of commodities.

Shall the old international rivalries for "Raw materials", "gateways of commerce", "trade routes" and "concessions" continue or shall some method be found whereby communities shall have shares?

Great Britain has trebled her territorial holdings in seventy years and now holds over one quarter of the land and population of the world. As a result of the war she has obtained German South West Africa, German East Africa, Togoland, Kaiser Wilhelm's Land, Palestine and Mesopotamia, certain islands, totaling nearly one million square miles of territory.

France has secured Alsace and Lorraine, the Saar valley for fifteen years and perhaps indefinitely, additions to French North Africa, Nigeria and a large area south and east of Nigeria, in all some two hundred and fifty thousand square miles.

Belgium obtained small territories on her eastern borders and two considerable sections added to the Congo.

Italy obtained the least of all the Allies in territory: The Tyrol, Istria, Valona and Trieste in Europe, and some small additions in Africa.

Germany loses all her overseas colonies, totaling over a million square miles.

In Europe she lost thirteen per cent of her territory, twelve per cent of her population, thirteen per cent of her agricultural production, ten per cent of her manufacturing capacity, thirty per cent of her coal and seventy-five per cent of her iron, besides certain punitive restrictions and humiliations including the occupation of her territory by thousands of native African troops all of whose appetites she is compelled to satisfy.

Austria and Hungary have been reduced to one third their former size and population.

Turkey recovered in a surprising manner from her defeat and is today one of the most cheerful and insistent nations on the world's stage.

Poland has been restored to something of her old power in Europe but owing to the heterogeneous elements of her population her future is uncertain. The same is true of Czech-Slovakia and Jug-Slavia, of whose future it is difficult to prophesy success since they do not possess the elements of stability. Finland is the most northern of the civilized nations.

Russia has instituted the most risky and radical problem possible into the world in her effort to reduce communistic theories to practice. Her endeavours will be watched with wide-spread and it is to be hoped impartial and careful interest.

The world is in a perilous but not a hopeless state and it is the duty of wise and good people to do something however little to moderate its excesses, to reduce its hatreds, stupidities and prejudices and to increase its kindness and charity. This will cost something but we must pay for a better world or get a worse one.

House last week, Nova Scotia should this year see the biggest tourist trade in her history.

ACADIA ACADEMY BEAT HALIFAX ACADEMY

In Closely Contested Game of Hockey—Score 5 to 4

In a well played and interesting game of hockey at Wolfville Saturday the Acadia Academy boys defeated the Halifax County Academy six by a score of 5-4, thus making up for their defeat by the latter a week previous at Halifax. The ice was soft, and the spectators were expecting a slow game, but were greatly surprised to witness one of the fastest games of the season. The first period started off with good playing on either side. Acadia was out to retaliate, and Halifax was determined to hold what she had won. Acadia had the better of the game in this period, which ended without a score.

Shortly after the beginning of the second period Chipman netted the rubber for the first score of the locals. After many attempts on the part of the home team, "Dutch" Himmelman finally succeeded in making the second score for Acadia. The visitors now rallied and put all their energy in a few minutes' spurt, ending in their first score by Fox from close in. After good playing the Red and Blue made a rush, and Eaton sent one in from in front of the nets. This made the visitors determined to offset the score, and after a spectacular rush, Furzy scored for the Halifax team from close in. The period ended 3-2 in favor of Acadia.

Both teams came on the ice for the third period with a determination to do their best, Acadia to hold her lead and Halifax to overtake the score of her opponents. Johnson made a rush from defense and shot a swift one for Acadia. The playing now went to Acadia's territory, and only the work good of Zwicker on several occasions saved the day for the home team. Even then Langorth was able to send in another for the visitors. At the end of the first ten minutes of this period it looked as though the Halifax boys had been holding something in reserve, for the rubber was kept dangerously near the nets guarded by Acadia. Owing to a little difference in centre ice, Johnson and Langorth were sent to the cooler for a rest of two minutes each, during which time the Halifax boys tied the score by a shot from Bartlett. In spite of the efforts of both sides to terminate the game with a win, the period ended four all. This period was the visitors' and only the lead the home boys had saved them from defeat.

The teams agreed to two five minute overtime periods. Just before the end Johnson made his second from close in. The second period of the overtime ended with no score, thus leaving the home team victors by a score of 5-4.

The line-up was as follows:
Halifax—McCuen, goal; Bartlett, Fox, defence; Warren, Dunlop, Langorth, forwards; Warren, Furzy, subs.

BOY SCOUT BILL DEFEATED

Bill No. 46, entitled "An Act respecting town aid for the Wolfville Boy Scouts and Girl Guides"; has been reported on unfavorably by the private and local bills committee of the House of Assembly. This action is due to the presentation of a petition against the passing of the bill, signed by over 100 ratepayers.

It would now appear that the method of supporting the Boy Scout work by town funds raised by assessment of ratepayers has been definitely disposed of for the present. On March 21st Mayor Phinney and Dr. W. L. Archibald appeared before the committee for the bill, and R. E. Harris and C. S. Fitch appeared as an opposing delegation. The large petition presented by the opposing delegation determined the fate of the bill.

Citizens of Wolfville must now decide on the fate of the Boy Scout movement. Within a few days solicitors will probably call upon the citizens, when the ratepayers who signed the petition will have a chance to prove that they were right and the supporters of the bill wrong.

The Carroll Players, of Halifax, made another visit to Wolfville last week and presented the comedy drama, "Spite Corner", at the Opera House on Wednesday evening. The play, although exceedingly light, contained some very interesting amusing situations and was well put on. All the parts were well acted, that of "Eben Gooch", by Mr. Nat Burns, being the strong feature of the performance. There was a fairly good house in spite of numerous colder attractions and those present showed evident satisfaction at the announcement that the Players will appear again in Wolfville on April 11th.

LET THE PEOPLE HAVE A SAY

With the assessed valuation of the town increased by one hundred per cent. and many of the individual properties increased three times or more, a general rate of three dollars on the hundred will mean a pretty stiff taxation for Wolfville citizens. That is the rate proposed by the Council, however, and the published estimates reveal no new expenditures and no provision for town improvements of any description. Money is not as plentiful as it was a few years ago and we venture to say that rate-payers will find it rather difficult to finance their taxes during the coming year. Probably the large budget for 1923 is necessary in order to carry on the various departments of town business, but citizens naturally will enquire if it is not possible to lighten the burden by the practice of more economical methods than are now being followed.

Some weeks ago THE ACADIAN suggested the holding of a public meeting for the discussion of civic problems and we still believe that the idea is a good one. Even now it might be found possible to make some changes that would enable the Council to revise their estimated expenditures and thus relieve the already over-burdened tax-payer. After all the people must provide the money and there is nothing unreasonable in the suggestion that they have a voice as to the manner in which it is to be expended. In these days when we ought to be getting back to normal a rate of three per cent. upon an inflated valuation seems rather too much.

PROPOSED REDUCTION IN INDEMNITY

When a politician deliberately advocates a measure that takes money out of his own pocket and his action cannot be interpreted as being in the interest of party advantage we must at least give him credit for honesty of purpose. Thus when from his place in parliament last week Mr. Harry Leader, the progressive member for Portage la Prairie, introduced a resolution calling for a decrease of twelve and a half per cent. in the sessional indemnity—which means a reduction from four thousand dollars to thirty-five hundred per session—he gives evidence of a spirit that is most commendable. Mr. Leader urged that while the total saving would not be great—some two hundred thousands of dollars per annum—the result of the passing of his resolution would be to set a helpful example to the country and would make other measures for reduction in public expenses on the part of parliament appear more consistent. The newspaper reports of the incident state that the remarks of the member for Portage la Prairie were greeted with outbursts of laughter, which indicates that the proposition to thus cut down their pay is likely to receive summary treatment at the hands of the M. P.'s but why it should appear especially amusing that a government elected on a program of promised economy might be inclined to show some sign of willingness to redeem its pledges is not revealed.

The public will follow with interest this attempt on the part of Mr. Leader to save money for the country, and if wise will insist that governmental expenditures in other directions shall also be considered and a reasonable policy of economy followed. The increase in the sessional indemnity from twenty-five hundred dollars to four thousand dollars was made as a war-time measure and at a time when living expenses were at the highest and there is now no justifiable excuse for its continuance.

One refreshing item in connection with the recent assessment appeals was the case of a citizen who protested against his assessment on the grounds that it was too low—but that was before the Appeal Court took a hand.

The Nova Scotia legislature is making another effort to change the rule of the road—which reminds us that the old rule was: "Keep to the left and you are right; keep to the right and you are wrong." Here's strength to their arm.

CAN TAX STOVES BUT NOT AUTOS

NEW GLASGOW, March 14.—At the meeting of the town council Monday night the councillors and Mayor White expressed great surprise at an anomalous question of taxation. This year the board of assessors had assessed the stock in trade of automobile dealers, who made an appeal to have this annulled, and Solicitor Fitzpatrick on studying the subject found that the objections of the dealers was sustained. It would appear that while accessories can be taxed, the dealers can not be assessed on their stock of cars. It was pointed out that a man can do a business in stoves and must pay taxes on them, but the automobile dealer who does a $200,000 business a year escapes town taxation, altho the provincial government take a large slice of the profits. The councillors were rather indignant at this state of affairs, but felt that nothing could be done at present. During the present year the assessment for the town of New Glasgow is up about $60,000, and the total valuation of the property is $6,061,355.

THE VIOLATION OF LAW

(From the Halifax Herald)

It is claimed by promoters of temperance in this province that there is flagrant violation of the law. Is this true? If it is there is but one course to be pursued. The law should be strengthened. The force of officers in public service should be subjected to rigid investigation. If more or better men be needed these should be appointed. We cannot afford to let the law become dead.

If we admit that we cannot enforce the law which now exists the only course would be to repeal it; and try a new system. Are we prepared for that? We do not know what the provincial government will say to this question. We feel satisfied that an overwhelming majority of the people of the province will not consent to abandonment of prohibition.

Notwithstanding the reports which come from the province of Ontario to the effect that the prohibitory law there is being flagrantly violated, there is reason to believe that the law is being well observed. There is some exaggeration in the stories of the opponents of the temperance law. Thus a responsible newspaper like the Toronto Daily Star contributes proof that "prohibition is a social benefit" by collating the police court returns of the city of Toronto, and showing that whereas in 1913 there were 15,116 drunks, in 1922 there were only 4,059 cases.

We have now in this province a government system of selling intoxicating liquors. It is of the utmost importance to know how far the government vendors are in practical sympathy with the policy of prohibition. This should be closely investigated. We should know where we are, and in what direction we are moving on so vital an issue.

CANADA AS AN INDUSTRIAL POWER

It is safe to say, that few Canadians had realized that Canada was justly entitled to rank as one of the eight countries of chief industrial importance. We have long, and rightly so, considered ourselves as predominantly an agricultural people. It may come with some surprise to the more modest or less observant among us, says the journal of the Canadian Bankers' Association, to note that an objective and authoritative judgment ranks us fifth or sixth among the nations of the world in industrial development as well.

Under the peace treaties, it was provided that eight of the twelve government seats on the governing body of the International Labor Office, should be held by the countries of "chief industrial importance", the others being filled by election. The task of interpreting this phrase was entrusted by the League of Nations Council to a special commission. It was agreed that seven standards should be applied: numbers of the industrial population (manufacturing, mining, transport); proportion to total population; miles of railway; relation of railway mileage to area; horse power used in industry; relation of this to population, and size of the mercantile marine. The United States was excluded from consideration, but Germany was included. The seven criteria were weighed differently. On one computation, the order of industrial importance was: Great Britain, Germany, France, Canada, Italy, Belgium, Japan and India; on the other; Great Britain, France, Germany, Italy, Japan, Canada, Belgium and Sweden. It was finally agreed to include India rather than Sweden as the eighth power. Evidently Canada's new industrial status is receiving as full recognition abroad as her new political status.—Financial Post.

"Would Wake Up Screaming"

"The Least Sudden Noise or Loud Talking Would Startle Him."

"Up to the age of eight, my boy was a strong, healthy lad, full of life and energy. While playing leap frog one day with some boys of his own age, and, while in a stooped position, a big boy jumped on his back and in falling my boy caught his foot in an iron grating and dislocated his hip. The pain was so great that he fainted and the other boys were so frightened they ran away. For hours he suffered terrible pain and when found and brought home was very weak, with his thigh and leg swollen twice its size. The doctor set the bone but the pain and exposure were too much for the poor boy and he became unconscious. A high fever set in and for weeks he lay between life and death raving for hours at a stretch. One day he opened his eyes and murmured 'Mother,' but this is the only word he could utter he was so weak, but I knew the worst was over. He got stronger but for months was in a nervous condition. The least sudden noise or loud talking would startle him and he would begin trembling. He was quite lame and the swelling still remained. The doctor gave him a tonic and told me to rub the leg with olive oil. This reduced the swelling and took away the lameness, but the nervousness remained. The poor child would waken in the night screaming at the top of his voice. The doctor gave him several different tonics but they were no use. I found a circular about Carnol and it seemed so different from other tonics I had heard of, that I thought I would get a bottle. Three bottles were all that was needed to make my boy like his own self again. It is hard to convince my friends that the change in him now is entirely due to Carnol. Of course I still have to watch him and give him Carnol occasionally but I know that he will soon be as strong again as ever he was."

Carnol is sold by your druggist, and if you can conscientiously say, after you have tried it, that it hasn't done you any good, return the empty bottle to him and he will refund your money. 2-623

The Snow Hadn't Blocked The Long Distance Telephone Lines

A Halifax newspaper announced on Tuesday last that, owing to the quantity of fallen snow, no mails had reached Inverness during a period of ten days previous. Doubtless no mails had left there either during that time.

An awkward plight for those in that busy mining town if they were dependent solely on the mails to keep alive their business and social relationships.

But the people at Inverness, as at many other places temporarily snow-blocked this winter, could depend on the Long Distance Telephone Lines to put them in touch with their business and social friends beyond the snow-drifts, and to put these friends in touch with them.

For, stormy as this winter has been, it has—with the exception of the great storm in Cape Breton—dealt comparatively lightly with our Long Distance Lines, so far.

Rarely indeed have any of the lines to any point in the Province been out of order for more than 24 hours at a time; and then there was usually another telephone route available.

GOOD NEWS FROM ENGLAND

It is reported from England, through British newspapers, that there is to be no more beer in Woolwich Arsenal. Up to now the manual workers in the arsenal have been allowed to send out for beer during their dinner hour. Now a notice has been posted up announcing that no alcoholic liquor is to be brought into the factories. The notice concludes: "In cases where the work is necessarily of a hot nature, such as forges, furnaces, etc., barley water will be provided."

Mr. William George, brother of the Chancellor of the Exchequer, at the close of the quarterly meeting of the Carnarvonshire County Council, of which he is chairman, gave a luncheon to all the members and officials. "No toasts, no intoxicants," was the special notice on the invitation cards. The firm of Lloyd George and George has never accepted a brief in connection with the liquor traffic. Once a firm of brewers offered a fee of 100 guineas for a single day's appearance at a local petty sessions, but the offer was refused.

Sir Basil Thompson, former Chief of Scotland Yard, ascribes the self-restraint in England after the signing of the armistice, unlike the after period of all former wars, to the decrease in drinking. Sir Basil says there has been no crime wave in Great Britain after the war, and that the public house is a far less important factor in the life of the people than before.

HUSBAND OF FORMER GREENWICH LADY DIED IN OREGON

A copy of the Morning Oregonian, dated Feb. 22nd, gives particulars concerning the death at Portland, Oregon of Thompson T. Davis, which was briefly noted in these columns in a previous issue of THE ACADIAN. Mr. Davis, who was born at Amherst 71 years ago, was known by many in this vicinity, having been a visitor from time to time at Greenwich, where his wife, who was a daughter of the late J. Lovett Bishop and a sister of Messrs. George L. and Leslie H. Bishop, had her home. The deceased was a graduate of Mt. Allison University and the New Brunswick Normal School and taught at Hamilton, Ont., and at a private school at Toronto, Bermuda. He went to the United States in 1890, enrolling as a student at Harvard where he received the B. A. degree in 1891 and took his M. A. the following year. In 1893 he located at Portland, Oregon, where he has since resided and done most excellent work, being dean of school principals at the time of his death. For 26 years he was in charge of the Lincoln High School and under his instruction almost 4000 graduates had entered upon life.

"I have", he once said, when pressed for an estimate of his service, "tried to secure faithful and efficient work on the part of the pupil. I have tried to create harmonious co-operation on the part of the teacher. So far as I have succeeded in these aims, I have benefited Portland schools."

Prosperity will come when men watch their work instead of watching the clock work.

(From the Sunday Leader)

Rapidly carving her way to the top rung of the ladder, and destined to become a very vital force in the world of Education, Miss Rosamund Archibald, whose portrait, a singularly unflattering likeness of her by the way, but the best that her interviewer could obtain, appears in this week's illustrated supplement of the Sunday Leader, is a young Nova Scotian who is already winning recognition throughout the Dominion. Her recently published book "The King's English Drill" which was reviewed in the Sunday Leader as well as all the leading newspapers of Canada and the United States, is being adopted in many schools as the best method of teaching the correct manner of speaking and writing the English tongue. Rosamund de Wolfe Archibald, M. A., to give her her full name, is the daughter of the late John S. and Rachel de Wolfe Archibald, of Wolfville. She was educated at Windsor Academy, Acadia University and Smith College, and won her degrees of B. A. and M. A. at both colleges.

At the time when the war cloud of 1914 was gathering over Europe Miss Archibald was considering an offer made to her to take up a position in the Women's College at Constantinople, Turkey. She had at that time almost completed her studies for the taking of her Doctorate Degree, which she hoped to complete at the University of Oxford, England.

The outbreak of hostilities in Europe entirely put an end to these hopes and ambitions, and Miss Archibald accepted instead the position as Head of the Department of English at Acadia Ladies Seminary, Wolfville, where she is still installed.

"Here," said Miss Archibald, "I have been developing original methods of teaching the English language and literature. In 1921 I published 'The King's English Drill,' the first of a series which is a very pleasing, rational and effective method of teaching correct speech. I am engaged, in addition to my regular teaching, in giving Lecture Demonstrations of the Method. I simply cannot fill all the engagements I am offered in this respect.

"Then, I am hoping soon to publish a 40,000 word volume on my method of teaching English Literature by means of illustrations, which my pupils have been assisting me in developing for seven years as part of their regular courses. Just at present we are bringing out 'The True Story of the Acadians' which is to be used as a Pageant.

"While I was studying at Smith College I was made a member of the Philosophical Society, which was then engaged chiefly in investigating Psychological subjects, and doing some special work for the Psychological Society of the U. S. A." In this connection Miss Archibald received congratulatory mention from Professor Munsterberg of Harvard University. Asked if she had ever contemplated leaving Wolfville and entering upon some wider sphere of activities, Miss Archibald replied that though she had had offers by the score, especially from across the Border, she had steadfastly refused them all.

"Although some of these offers were magnificent and really promised splendid opportunities," she said, "I prefer to live in my own home town, under my own flag, and pursue my own quiet way. I would rather feel that I am serving my own people and my own country than be saving money under another flag."

"My whole hearted passion is to promote the speaking and general usage of better English throughout Canada, and some day I hope to inaugurate

In appearance Miss Archibald is a tall, slim, dark haired girl, with a soft voice and unassuming manner. The charm of her personality and the drawing power that she exerts over young people, particularly young girls, proves how effective she would be as a teacher, and how completely she could enthuse

Wolfville and Nova Scotia alike are to be congratulated on being the birthplace and the chosen home of so gifted a daughter, who will one day undoubtedly wear the laurel wreath of international fame.

UNITED FRUIT COMPANIES DUST PRICES 1923

It has always been the policy of the United Fruit Companies to supply the highest quality of dust at the lowest price possible. When we first went into the dust business, dust was selling at $11.50 per 100 lbs in the Annapolis Valley. We steadily lowered this price until last year we sold Bordeaux dust at $6.00, and 90-10 sulphur arsenate dust at $7.00, delivered to the farmer. Consistent with this policy we are again pleased to announce a further price reduction, a reduction which is only made possible because of the large scale upon which we are now operating.

Prices (retail to the farmer from every local company).
Bordeaux Dust, per 100 lbs. $4.75
90-10 sulphur-lead arsenate dust, per 100 lbs. 6.00
Straight superfine dusting sulphur, per 100 lbs. 3.70

Prices on other mixed dusts may be had on application, and are proportionately low.

The Bordeaux dust is of the same strength as last year, being composed of 12 lbs dehydrated copper sulphate, 8 lbs. arsenate of lime, and 80 lbs hydrated lime, or in other words a little over 4% metallic copper and a little over 2% metallic arsenic. This dust is little more than half the retail price of the same dust of the same strength sold by any other concern in America according to all the price lists now available.

The sulphur-lead arsenate dust is about two-thirds the price at which the same material may be bought in any other district.

The above dust mixtures are all standard dusts thoroughly tried and tested and well-known in all American fruit growing areas and it is consequently with much pride that we announce ourselves as pioneers in setting new low price standards on high quality materials.

We were early approached with regard to handling the new dusts known as "green dust" and "brown dust", which are dusts containing copper and arsenic in different forms from the regular Bordeaux, and in consequence we obtained from the Dominion Entomological Laboratory at Annapolis all the information and experimental figures relating to these new dusts. From an examination of this data we found:

1. That the "green dust" gave a very poor control of apple scab.
2. That the "brown dust" gave a control of apple scab on an average a little poorer than our regular Bordeaux dust.
3. That both these dusts were heavy materials and that it took nearly half as much again of these dusts, as compared with our regular Bordeaux dust, to cover the same area of orchard.

From the above we could only come to the conclusion that these dusts were not only of lower quality than we desired, but also that they would be very expensive for an orchardist to use, and consequently that the handling of these dusts would not be consistent with the United Fruit Companies policy of low cost and high quality.

We were further warned by the Provincial Entomologist in his speech before the Fruit Growers Association against the danger of changing from proven materials, to materials about which little was known. On the same occasion the officer in charge of the Dominion Entomological Laboratory stated that these new dusts were in some respects defective, were only in an experimental stage, and had not stood the test of time. These statements served to confirm us in our opinion, and in view of the low prices at which it was possible for us to supply standard dusts, the handling of these new dusts appeared to us the height of business folly.

We are informed from our Entomological advisers that it is possible that future experiments may find methods for improving and overcoming the defects of these new green and brown dusts. We are keeping ourselves informed on any developments of this nature, and are ourselves participating in factory experiments with this end in view. In the event of such new methods being found we will be in a position to manufacture and supply green or brown dust at a retail price of about $4.00 per 100 lbs.

The above is written to explain the policy of the United Fruit Companies, which is to only supply the best quality dusts at the lowest price possible, to handle no materials which have not proven their value in the hands of impartial experimenters, but at the same time to keep in touch with all new developments so that when sufficient is known about them, they may be utilized for the benefit of all the farmers and not for the benefit of any private exploiters.

CANADA RANKS THIRD AS A GOLD PRODUCER

With a total of $26,500,000 in gold in 1922 as compared with $19,400,000 in 1921 and $16,500,000 in 1920, Canada is again in the position of being the only country in the world to increase her output in the year. The Dominion is now the third largest producer of gold in the world and ranks second within the Empire.

HANTSPORT NEWS

Mrs. Fred Smith
The community was saddened on Saturday evening to learn of the passing away of Mrs. Fred Smith, at the age of 59 years, after a short illness of pneumonia. The deceased was well known and highly esteemed, having a wide circle of friends in Hantsport and vicinity. She will be missed in the community and in the home, being a most devoted wife and mother. Besides a sorrowing husband, she leaves to mourn their loss two sons and two daughters, Hazel at home, Maurice and Annie (Mrs. M. Fritenburg) of Hantsport, and Frank of Truro. The funeral services were held from her late residence on Tuesday, conducted by the Rev. Mr. Mellish, assisted by Rev. Dr. Dickie and Rev. J. C. Spurr. Interment in River Bank Cemetery.

The "St. Patrick's Day" Fair at the Empire Theatre on Saturday evening was an unqualified success from every standpoint. Mere words are quite inadequate to describe the brilliant scene witnessed there, but most certainly those who were fortunate enough to be present will have reason to remember this most pleasant evening. The Fair was undertaken and successfully carried out by the Hantsport Tennis Club, who are trying to complete paying off the big construction bill of their splendid courts. Much praise and credit is due the lady members of the club, who so untiringly laboured at the booth decorations, as well as those who were responsible for the success of the "Fairy Dance". Though the Candy, Flower, Fortune, and Post Office Booths did a thriving business, without a doubt the "Fairy Dance" and Shooting Gallery were the leading attractions. The Fair was followed by an informal dance.

Mrs. (Capt.) Burton Davison, who returned recently, via Yarmouth, from Boston where she spent the winter, had quite a thrilling experience. Leaving Yarmouth Friday morning on the Eastern bound express they found on reaching Bridgetown that it was impossible to proceed further as there was a train bound west stalled in a snowbank. They arrived in Bridgetown at 1.30 o'clock, where they were compelled to remain for ten hours, during which time a terrific gale was sweeping over the Province. While there a steeple was blown from a church, and the cars rocked to such an extent that they almost appeared in danger of being overturned. At 11.30, the track once more being free, the train proceeded on its way, only to have another delay at Kentville. On reaching that town a message was flashed over the wires that an engine was imbedded in a snowbank on the track at the "Sugar Loaf" about one mile and a half west of Hantsport and men with their shovels from Kentville, Windsor and Hantsport were trying to extricate it, which they succeeded in doing after many hours of strenuous labour. The express reached Hantsport at 5 o'clock Saturday morning.

Through the zealous efforts of Principal Jacques a gramophone has been installed in the Hantsport School. Music in the School is steadily becoming a more important feature of public education. Music is a potent aid in the most important point of education. In observing measure and tone in music, one grows refined in speech and action. Everywhere human life stands in need of accurate measure and concordant harmony.

Mr. Donald Card, who has been on an Evangelistic tour with the Rev. Dr. Sidney, in Guysboro County, was a recent guest of his sister Mrs. Sidney, Avon Street. Mr. Card, who possesses a rich Baritone and a graduate in vocal at Acadia, has been conducting the song part of the services, but on account of throat troubles is obliged to take a rest. He left on Saturday for his home in Burlington, Hants County.

Porter Bros. have entered upon a new enterprise, having purchased room the Government, the Paint Mines at Ardoise, Hants County, which they expect to operate the coming summer.

DEATH OF FORMER WOLFVILLE RESIDENT

The funeral took place here yesterday of Mrs. E. H. Beattie, who passed away at Halifax on Tuesday evening. Services were conducted here by Rev. Dr. Manning, a long time friend of the deceased and of her late husband, Rev. Frank Beattie. Interment was made in the family lot in Willow Bank Cemetery, where her remains were laid beside those of her husband who predeceased her eleven years ago. The pall bearers were Dr. A. J. McKenna, Messrs. J. E. Hales, H. A. Peck, David Thompson, Harry Brown and Ernest Wickwire. Dr. Manning paid a most beautiful and touching tribute to the many good qualities of the deceased and to her valuable work as a co-laborer with her husband during his work of over forty years in the Christian ministry.

Mrs. Beattie was a native of Hammond, N. B., and a daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Charles Howe, her father being a first cousin of the late Honorable Joseph Howe. At the age of sixteen she secured a teacher's first class license and taught in various schools in New Brunswick with signal success. In 1871 she was united in marriage to the Rev. Francis Beattie and played worthily her part with him as a co-laborer in the Lord's Vinyard in a number of different churches including Hopewell, N. B., Kingston, Parrsboro, Granville, N. S., Galt and Glamis, Ont. In all these places she entered enthusiastically into the work of the church with a special interest in the Sunday School and Missions. In 1900 Mr. and Mrs. Beattie retired to Lower Wolfville and he gave up regular pastoral charges. Here she lived up till the past few years. One son survives, Frank Beattie, editor of the Bridgetown Monitor. Rev. E. H. Howe, of Kingston, N. S., is a nephew of the deceased. The late Mrs. Beattie was in the eighty-eighth year of her age and enjoyed the esteem and respect of a very large circle now of course almost entirely broken by death.

Vincent of North Sydney Baptist Church, will be interested to know that he is engaged as the speaker for all next week at the Tabernacle Baptist Church in Halifax. Two weeks of special services are being held there and Rev. A. J. McLeod, Evangelist, is the speaker for each evening this week, as stated in Halifax Herald and Mr. Vincent next week, and of which the paper says: He is a son of a former pastor of the Tabernacle Church, Rev. A. J. Vincent, and a young man very energetic and of much promise in the ministry. He was one of Acadia's graduates last May and was ordained in June, also married.

ACADIA GIRLS LOSE TO DALHOUSIE BUT WIN CHAMPIONSHIP

Dalhousie coeds defeated Acadia at Halifax last Saturday by 13-11, but their previous defeat here by 28 to 12, gives the Wolfville coeds the round by 39 to 25. The Dal girls excelled in all departments on Saturday and showed a vast improvement over their previous performance.

In the first half the score was 10 to 3 for Dal, Acadia showing up better in the final stages of the contest.

The line-up: Acadia—Misses McLean, McLaughlin, Doherty, Colbath, Archibald, Lawson. Dalhousie—Misses Marion Campbell, E. Crichton, Madeline Mader, Carol Hawkins, Elinor Barnstead, Eva Mader, May Procter.

A. B. Dawson refereed. Pinehill students prepared royal entertainment for the visitors. This included the show at the Majestic theatre where gay colors of Dalhousie and Acadia were conspicuous. Later, the Acadia girls were entertained at the Green Lantern dansant.

Early History Of The Shiretown Of Kings County

An Informing Sketch of Early Kentville in Which Many Readers Throughout the County Will Be Keenly Interested

might be many more stories told of the Court House and Gaol but there are too many tears there and the subject is not congenial.

But I think I should say a few words in reference to old William Gould and his wife who for 21 years kept the gaol under Sheriff Caldwell. During their long occupancy I never heard any complaint in regard to their treatment of prisoners. Mr. Gould is dead now, but his aged wife is still living. William Gould was also Town crier, and from him I learnt the curious rignarole beginning "O yes-O-yes," by which the court is opened, adjourned and closed. The crier's duties are now performed by the newspapers, and the office is really useless. I can hardly give a better idea of what their duties originally were than by quoting some lines from a nonsensical old poem called "The Bachelors Sale."

"And the crier was sent through the town to and fro
To rattle his bell and his trumpet to blow,
And to bawl out to all he might meet on the way,
Hof forty old bachelors sold here today.

In fact what is now done by newspaper advertisements was formerly done by the bawling paripatetic town crier.

Kentville's first school house stood near Margeson's gate nearly opposite the gaol. Here taught master Fisher and others. My father was one of master Fisher's pupils. Master Fisher was an old man-of-warman, and a rather vigorous disciplinarian. Which fact may account for the scarcity of the birch trees even yet in the vicinity of Kentville. The next School house was partially a government affair, and stood for many years near where Fletcher Neary's steps now stands. Many of the present inhabitants of the town received a considerable part of their education there, and it has turned out some persons at least, who held very respectable places in the world. As the town grew it was found to be too small and the present school house was built. It was said to have an efficient staff of teachers, tended by some three hundred pupils.

The first church built in Kentville was a small Methodist church, which stood on the hill where Albert DeWolf's house now stands. It has long been down and the present Methodist church on Main Street was built long afterwards. The second church was the old Catholic Chapel that stood on the hill near the bridge. It was commenced and far advanced by the priest Father McNama, and a large part of the work was done by James Neary, who, it is said, never lost a job if he tendered for it.

This old chapel has lately been pulled down and a new one built. The third church in Kentville was the Episcopal church. It formerly stood on Church Street near McIntosh's hotel, but was afterwards removed to the new street south of the Porter House, and was enlarged after its removal. It is said that the carpenter Stephen North fell from the tower of this church to the ground and how his life was preserved was little short of a miracle. A curious thing about this church is that the large east window is in the west end. Next was the Presbyterian church that stands on the corner of Webster and Church street. It really is a transposition of part at least of the old Congregational church of Chipman's Corner. Next came the Baptist Church which stands on Main street and is said to owe its initiation to the Rev. James Parker. And last of all the Salvation Army whose barracks or place of assembly was for some time in Carter's building on Church street. I have often wondered why people who profess to be brethren of the Lord Jesus Christ and one another could not meet in the same house and eat at the same table. Prof. Drummond I think wrote a book called "The Natural Law in the Spiritual World" and as I have seen so much quarrelling in families I am inclined to think the Prof. is correct.

I should not end I suppose without speaking of the battle of Moccasin Hollow. This battle was fought on the old French road (and not on the old military road as is commonly supposed), on John Harrington's land near the railroad, so that the place can be seen from the car windows. An old aunt now long deceased who lived in the vicinity in her youth, and was more than 80 years old when she died told me that when she was young the story was that as a result of this battle, three hundred Frenchmen were buried in a trench there. I have tried to get the history of this battle, but have not been able to make myself very sure about details. I think there is no doubt about the battle. The tradition is that after Colonel Noble's Massachusetts troops were so terribly massacred by Ramsey's band under Villiere in the winter of 1747 at Grand Pre, that the remnant of his army was retreating towards Port Royal, now Annapolis, and that they were waylaid and attacked by a band of French and Indians at Moccasin Hollow, and that the English soldiers who were not probably in a very pacific frame of mind defended themselves so valiantly that most of their enemies were slain. Moccasin Hollow was afterwards known by the rather unromantic appellation of the "war hole" and it was observed that the boys of the neighborhood never sought for cows or stray cattle there after night fall. The idea appearing to be that some of the old Frenchmen might occasionally become weary of their accommodations in the trench and be wandering around there clad in the airy habiliments of one of the characters in the old Primer.

I think that a great many of the ideas at present entertained in regard to the explosion of the Acadians are erroneous. I believe that the true history of the Acadians is yet to be written and that when it is people will be very much astonished. It is to me a thing preposterous that the Old New England Puritans should have come up here for no other reason than to chop up and destroy peaceful inhabitants. My own opinion is that these men were performing a grim duty that they very much disliked and that their own homes, and the dominance of the English speaking race depended upon dislodging the French from their great base of supplies, the Grand Pre and other dykes and uplands bordering on the Bay of Fundy. I believe they acted far more wisely and for far greater results than they ever got credit for, and I think as I read over the old records that the French understood matters exactly as the English did. I might mention a lot of other Kentville people, Masters, Calkin, Dodge, Harris, DeWolfe, Hutchinson, Hall, Gould, Lyons, Redden, Eaton, Terry, Webster, etc., etc. of whom good things might be said but I guess my readers are tired and so am I.

E. J. COLSWELL.

ABOUT TOMATOES

Do you know that the greatest vegetable in the world is the tomato?

Do you know that doctors now agree that—

1. Tomatoes are the richest of all foods in the vitamins?

2. Tomatoes are the most wonderful and effective blood cleanser of all foods known to man?

3. Tomatoes are the richest of all vegetables in the natural health acids which keep our stomachs and intestines in condition?

4. Tomatoes are the most extraordinary corrector for the kidneys (what the doctors call a diuretic—a gentle, natural stimulant which helps wash away the poisons which cause disease and contaminate our systems?

5. Tomatoes are now prescribed for diabetes and Bright's disease.

6. Tomatoes are the most easily and quickly digestible of all the fruits and vegetables known to man. Tomatoes pass through the stomach almost at once, and their rich natural elements are taken up into the system with a rapidity that is in striking contrast to the digestibility of other foods? Who says all this? Where is the proof? Well, you'll find it in no less prominent a publication than the Journal of the American Medical Association.

The Natural Wealth of Canada
Water Powers

PRACTICALLY every industrial centre of the Dominion enjoys hydro-electric energy. Canada has potential water power resources to the extent of nearly 20,000,000 horse power, only 12 per cent of which has yet been developed. As the application of hydro-electric power is only in its infancy, Canada's wealth in water power is an asset of incalculable importance to the industrial development of this country.

OUR SCHOOL SYSTEM

E. W. Robinson, M. P., Says Present Public School System Does not Develop Individuality.

(From the Ottawa Citizen)
School children of today were turned out almost "machine made" from a common mould, which did not in any particular develop the individuality of the child, said Mr. Ernest W. Robinson, B. A., M. P. of King's county, Nova Scotia, in an address before a meeting of the Unity Club at the Church of Our Father (Unitarian) last evening. Mr. Robinson delivered an able and well argued address in which he attacked the present school system, which he said, through the grading system and its supreme leaning towards memory tests, turned out a graduate who "would not go around the corner to see the world explode." The graduate had lost all his curiosity and eagerness to learn. Mr. Albert Horton presided over a good attendance. Following Mr. Robinson's speech, a general discussion took place.

In the opening, Mr. Robinson stated that he wished to correct an error which had crept into the advertisements of the meeting. He was not a former professor of Acadia University, but simply a graduate of it.

Mr. Robinson went on to point out that the problem of the public school had arisen through the system which developed big cities, gathering large groups of children together, so that a teacher had as many as 40 or 50 pupils in a class. It was the teacher's duty to pass these 40 or 50 through her hands each year to the next higher class. The curriculum, as a result, was an arduous one and left no time for the development of the individual in the teaching. They were turned out in a common mould by a machine method. The teacher's time was taken up "hearing lessons" and therefore, did not have any time to teach.

The fault of the grading system, said Mr. Robinson, was that it was based on memory tests. Too much emphasis was laid on written examinations which did not produce good results. No proper idea could be formed from a written examination of the pupil's aptitude for learning in any particular. The perfect system would have a method of bringing out the best part of pupil's ability and developing it in such a way that he could turn energies to that at which he could do his best.

Subjects that should be taught in the public schools were, Mr. Robinson said, as follows:

First, a thorough training in reading was essential. This should be given in such a way that the pupil would be able to reproduce in his words the articles he read.

Writing would not be taught as purely mechanical forming of letters but so that the pupils would write their own thoughts, clearly, grammatically and properly punctuated. Arithmetic could be reduced to a thorough understanding of the four fundamentals of that subject. There were at present, in the modern presentation of this subject, too many puzzles and riddles.

Geography, instead of the memorizing of rivers and boundaries would consist of instruction in trade routes, climates, products, exports, imports, etc., with more reasoning and less memory work.

In history the teacher would give instruction in early customs, habits of eating and living, lessons learned through history, and such material instead of the memorizing of battles and dates.

While Mr. Robinson did not believe that every pupil could be made into an artist, nevertheless drawing was an important part of any school program. Each pupil should be taught to reproduce what he saw with his eyes and also should be taught to draw to scale and read plans.

One of the crimes of the grading system, contended Mr. Robinson, was that it "killed curiosity." When the pupil had been through the public school grind, he had got to a condition such that he would not go around the corner to see the "world blow up."

Education, said the speaker, should consist of the instilling of right habits of thinking and acting; and should develop the life of the child to the highest.

Proper teaching as he had outlined, said Mr. Robinson would result in: punctuality, method or system, industry, cleanliness, morality, Mr. Robinson thought that religion should be eliminated from the school curriculum and the teaching of elementary morals substituted and habits such as these which would give the pupil a chance to be the greatest good to himself and to his fellows.

NEGLIGES FOR SPRING STYLES

It is a simple silhouette that is to prevail for spring negligees this year. The familiar lines of the wrap robe for the boudoir or of the Japanese kimono, slightly modified to bring it up to date, are to the front. There are a few slip overs, which have details that make them quite different from those of previous seasons.

As usual, the number of fabrics employed is large, and one of the chief claims to originality lies in the combination of different materials. One of the room robes, for instance, is of old blue brocade crepe, lined with rose chiffon, the collar of rose taffeta. The same thing in old gold and jade is interesting. This order is reversed in another instance, where a taffeta coat is completed with Japanese sleeves of Chiffon. The taffeta collar is veiled in chiffon which gives it an interesting cast. There is a narrow gold lace edge on the collar, and wide bands of applique cut lace in gold on the sleeves.

A formal version of the wrap robe is developed in a crinkly crepe in Lanvin green, on the usual lines except for two falls of black lace that start at the raglan shoulder seams, and incidentally form a complete arm covering.

Lace is generously employed and this season promises to see all sorts, including metal laces, black, and tinted laces. Besides the treatment mentioned above there is a model with the top of black lace over flesh, and the bottom of black satin, the silhouette being drawn tight over the hips. Tinted lace is to be used in much the same way, that is, as the top of the garment, and here there is a chance for interesting combinations of color.

Wide bands of lace are used in such a way as to give a particularly graceful line. Black and silver are used in two distinct instances, making a sort of yoke across the back of the garment, and at the front either falling straight to the floor or crossing surplice fashion. The chiffon, of course falls from these lace bands, with various distinctive drapes. Besides individual draping, there are girdles and ornaments to lend character. Some of these models are like capes, to be worn over slips that match or contrast, others are made with a foundation of their own.

There are, as has been said, several slip-overs, and these have a youthful character. There is one of a brocaded chiffon material, straight and short. One unique feature is the banana like collar, and the other is the lack of balance between the sleeves, one being a long chiffon drape, trailing on the ground, through which the arm is thrust, and the other being a chiffon drape that covers the arm. A sleeveless slip over is made with margot lace yoke. At each side there is a jabot, of pleated silk bordered in lace, that is almost invisible except when the wearer moves.

Does It Pay To Grow From Certified Seed

It has been fully proved from carefully tabulated records that growers can increase their yield of potatoes from 50% to 100%, by planting carefully selected stock grown from certified seed that has been inspected and certified WHILST IN GROWTH, instead of planting seed grown haphazard, with no record taken of any disease the seed may have had when growing. We would advise all potato growers, to stop planting seed they have no record of, and plant government certified seed only.

From all reports at hand, owing to low prices experienced the past years, a large quantity of growers in all districts both in Canada and United States are discouraged, and the tendency is they will plant a smaller acreage than usual. This probably means that potato prices next Fall will be on a much more remunerative basis.

We have a quantity of Government certified Green Mountain seed on hand, every bushel of which should be used by Annapolis Valley growers, price on application.

PORT WILLIAMS HAPPENINGS

Mrs. M. K. Ellis spent Friday in Windsor. The storm, which came up so rapidly and unexpectedly, blocked the railway so that the evening express from Halifax did not arrive till 6 a. m. Saturday morning. Mrs. Ellis, with other passengers had the novel experience of sitting in the train all night. A hockey team kept things lively through the wee small hours.

Miss Hanson, who has been ill for a week with grippe, is improving but is not able to return to her work.

Mr. Robt. Rand, of Canard, had the misfortune to lose his valuable driving horse on Wednesday night. Mr. Rand was at Mr. M. K. Ellis working when the horse was found dead in their barn.

Mr. Ralph Lingley has been confined to the house for more than a week with "La Grippe".

Dr. Zwicker spent Monday and Tuesday in Halifax.

Rev. G. C. Brown and wife, of Church Street are both quite ill with La Grippe. Mr. Brown's mother who has been spending several months with her son has returned to Halifax, accompanied by her little grandson, Philip Brown.

Mrs. G. C. Brown's sister of Halifax, spent the week end at the rectory.

Mrs. Mark Shaw received severe burns by her cotton apron catching fire while standing too near the stove. Had it not been for the quick presence of mind of her daughter Dorothy who extinguished the flames a serious accident would have been the result.

"In the spring a young man's fancy lightly turns to thoughts of love". This time it takes a serious turn. "Dame Rumor" already whispers of an approaching marriage.

Mrs. Fred Jackson, of Lower Church Street, has received word from her brother, Mr. Payson Cahill, of Waverly, Mass., that he has entered the Massachusetts General Hospital for another operation. Two years ago he spent eight months in the City Hospital, the result of an automobile accident. He recovered quite enough to enable him to come to Aylesford, N. S. in December 1921 to attend the funeral of his late brother Mr. Joseph Cahill, but was unable to return to his home until the following August, and is now laid aside again. Let us hope for his speedy recovery.

Mrs. J. E. Faulkner went to Halifax on Saturday to meet her husband Capt. J. E. Faulkner, of the Str. "Canadian Mailer". She returned on Monday accompanied by the Captain who made a brief visit, returning to Halifax on Wednesday afternoon.

Mrs. Leander Woodworth, Sr., who has been very ill with "La Grippe", is steadily improving.

Mr. John Magee has been suffering with a very bad cold.

Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Magee are both confined to the house with "La Grippe".

Post Office Inspector McLeod paid our office a visit this week.

Bank Inspectors Fash and Connell have also been visitors at "The Port" this week.

Fred Murphy, who has been acting as ledger-keeper at the Royal Bank, has been transferred to the branch at Kentville.

DIPLOMAS AND MEDALS NOT IN GREAT DEMAND

Viscount De Fransec Unable to Interest Royalists in His Plan

(From a Toronto Paper)

A total of four people attended the meeting of the Canadian Order of the Empire (not connected in any way with the United Empire Loyalists), which was held last night in the Royal Canadian Institute on College Street. This meeting had been called at the instigation of the Viscount de Fransec to secure membership from those who are eligible to join—that is, he explained from those who are direct descendants in the male line of the Royalist officers of 1776-1783. These are entitled, he declared, to recognition and precedence in the Monarchical Court of Europe. "Of course," the Viscount stated, "we do not recognize the French Republic, or any other republic"—and also to receive medals, diplomas and marks of honor—always providing that the applicants were able to enclose fifty dollars in their application, which should be sent, so M. le Viscount declares, to the College of Arms, at Wolfville, Nova Scotia.

Certain of his auditors seemed to resent this gentleman's statement that members of his order take precedence in rank over the United Empire Loyalists.

GREENWICH NOTES

Mrs. A. K. Forsythe entertained at a pleasant "five o'clock tea" on Friday afternoon, March 2nd. A number of the ladies of the place were present, also our Pastor's wife, Mrs. Hemmeon, of Wolfville.

On Tuesday evening, March 6th, the Community League sleigh drive took place. A party of about twenty-five, "married and single", went to Kentville. The majority enjoyed the movies at the Strand theatre, others going to the Arena and enjoyed the Hockey match. A very cold night, but drive was enjoyed, arriving home just before midnight.

On Friday evening, March 9th, there was a good attendance at Community League. After the usual business, etc., the President, Rev. D. B. Hemmeon, delivered the last lecture of his series, subject being, "Japan, China, and the Far East." This proved to be exceedingly interesting and instructive, also had its humorous parts and was truly enjoyed. At the close of lecture, a number of questions were asked Mr. Hemmeon by different ones, pertaining to the subject. These questions and the answers also proved interesting to all present.

Miss Esther Pearson spent Sunday, March 11th, in Kentville, the guest of her friend, Mrs. Caryl Hiltz.

Mrs. Fred Forsythe recently received the sad news of the death of her sister in Vancouver. Her neighbours and friends extend sympathy.

During the last two weeks a number of our residents have been ill for a few days with colds or "Grippe".

Last Thursday evening three of our young ladies "hiked" to Wolfville on snow-shoes and enjoyed the "movies" at the Opera House.

No Community League last Friday evening—which was to be Social Night—owing to the big storm of that day.

Mr. Frederick Baker spent the weekend with Mrs. Baker at the home of Mr. and Mrs. George Bishop.

Miss Elsie Piper spent the week-end a guest of friends in Kentville.

John Andrew arrived on Monday evening, after being away from this place almost a year, and is now visiting at the home of his uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Fenwick. John has seen a good deal of the world during the last nine months, he being a sailor on the large steamship of which Captain Faulkner, of Port Williams, is in charge. The ship is now in Halifax for a short time.

Mrs. John Fenwick and Miss Betty Fenwick, of Habitant, recently spent a few days here, at the latter's home.

The Community League has been cancelled for this week owing to the large number of young people who have parts in the recent "show" of "Mrs. Jarley's Wax Works", which is to be repeated, by request, in the vestry of the Methodist church, Wolfville, on Friday evening this week, as a part of the evening's entertainment to be held there.

We hear one of our residents saw a robin, also heard his voice, on Monday of this week. His arrival reminds us that Spring is "just around the corner".

GIRL FOUND HANGING

The fatal step may end the most happy life; the most cultured, beautiful and best beloved are not exempt from the same fate. The father's devotion, a mother's love and fond care, and love for a brother, or sister's companionship, won't shield them when they decide to take the step. Such was the illustration recently, when one of the most refined girls was found hanging in the home parlour, surrounded by all the luxuries that go to make a happy life. Late in the evening she was missed, and a careful search failed to reveal her whereabouts. The telephone was used without results, her friends were called to search for her, but no one was able to locate her. Finally, the almost heart-broken mother entered the parlour and there, to her surprise, she found her beloved daughter hanging. How that poor mother was affected by the sight that met her gaze. There was her daughter hanging to the neck of her sweetheart, begging him to subscribe to THE ACADIAN, in order that he might be better posted on events and news which he ought to know within the town, and district.
