The price of sugar takes big slump. Boston, Aug. 23—So great has been the slump in the price of sugar in the last ten days that Boston's two big refineries, the American and the Heavens have withdrawn their product from the market. In other words, rather than cut prices and take big losses, they refuse to sell their sugar. Although, one and probably both have large stocks on hand, with sugar selling at retail in some Boston stores for almost one a pound, both the refineries and the brokers are facing terrific losses. Fifteen cent sugar at retail is believed to be in sight.

Boston brokers are offering sugar at from $18.25 to $22.25 a hundred pounds. All of them are losing money on every pound they dispose of because their quotations are below the prices they paid at the market.

The sugar refiners and dealers of the country are panicky according to Washington advice, over their mounting losses. They have provided for the possibility of having to sell their sugar at a loss, but they are not prepared to do so. ## Disastrous Fire in Yards of Sinclair Lumber Co.

A disastrous fire occurred in the lumber yards of The Edward Sinclair Company last Saturday afternoon, the first of the fire being noticed about 12:30 o'clock. The fire started in a lumber pile and quickly spread to the adjoining piles. A strong southwest wind was blowing and it fanned the flames into one of the largest conflagrations seen here for some years. In a very short time it was recognized by the workers on hand that it was beyond their control and immediately sent for Newcastle and Chatham for assistance.

The Newcastle firemen went to the scene of the fire with a large quantity of hose, in automobiles and did good work in checking the flames. The Chatham Fire Department came up the river on board the Steamer "St. Nicholas" and they also did excellent work. A number of tug boats and a hand engine were kept constantly pumping water and a large number of men were employed filling casks and barrels which were hauled from the river to the fire and the water used by a bucket brigade. By this means the fire was held in control and the workers deserve the greatest praise for their endeavors. The mills along the river were shut down and the employees rushed to the fire, where they did excellent work. It is estimated that about four million feet of lumber, including deals, boards and laths, worth about $300,000 was destroyed besides four houses, occupied by employees of the Edward Sinclair Lumber Company and owned by the company. The mill was saved by the heroic work of the fire fighters but had the wind changed, it is doubt would also have been destroyed by the fire. The fire

2 Days Picnic Proceed Total $5200 at Neguac

The two days picnic held at Neguac on August 15th and 16th, was well attended and highly popular with the gratifying result that Fr. Balducci was able to add very largely to his church fund. On Sunday the Feast of the Assumption was celebrated and it is estimated that there were 2000 people present during the morning and afternoon, although the weather doubtless deterred many others from coming. Speeches were delivered by popular orators from the neighboring province and also by Fr. Albert of Shippagan. The proceeds for the two days picnic totaled the fine sum of $5200.

Bathurst Defeats Newcastle

The Newcastle team had been defeated by Bathurst in a game of ball to be played in Bathurst on Saturday. The locals made arrangements with a number of lads who were sent by automobile and left about noon on Saturday, going by way of the old Bathurst Road. The two teams were met at the river and were accompanied with the usual song, being the striking of the war. It was necessary to pay the amount out of the ditch and a tree which was felled was used for that purpose. While felling the tree it came crashing down on the automobile, smashing all the glass contained therein. A team was at last procured and the car pulled out and again proceeded on its way with a few members of the team who had remained the majority of the players having walked or received a drive by passing teams. The team arrived, both shaken up and head aches their opponents trip along the road.

Billie Burke At Happy Hour Thursday

Billie Burke had nothing on her mind but to enjoy the last of her vacation from the theatre. She was with her mother and sister at the Happy Hour at the Hotel. Billie Burke, who is now in the city, is expected to appear at the Happy Hour on Thursday night. She had a little surprise in store for her friends who caused her to rub her eyes in wonder. The picture is one of the most attractive in which Billie Burke has yet appeared and will delight cinema lovers who have tire of the conventional type of this popular star.

Twenty Years of Troubles are Over

Howard Clattenburg Says Tanlac is Grandest Medicine in the World

Since I started taking Tanlac I am enjoying good health for the first time in twenty years and have gained ten pounds in weight," said Howard A. Clattenburg, Havimond Street, Dartmouth, Canada, while telling of his experience with Tanlac recently.

"I am thirty-eight years ago," continued Mr. Clattenburg, "and ever since I was eighteen I had suffered with rheumatism and stomach trouble. The rheumatism was costly in the muscles of my shoulders, arms and legs and there was always a throbbing aching pain in them. My shoulders and arms hurt me so bad and became so stiff I could not raise my hands above my head and every move I made caused me intense pain. Every joint in my body was stiff, and especially those in my shoulders and my arms, which felt just like they were breaking in two every time I moved them. The muscles in my legs just seemed to draw up in knots and every step I took caused me intense pain. Often at night I suffered with cramps in my legs until I would have to jump out of bed and put my feet on the floor before I could get relief, and at times even my toes would draw up until I could hardly put on my shoes. Every morning of my life the muscles of my whole body hurt me so bad it was all I could do to get out of bed. Why, sir, I don't remember a single day in all those years when I was free from pain, and there was one whole winter I was not able to get out of the house. All my stomach this time was in such bad condition and I suffered so with indigestion, I dreaded to eat a thing, and when I did manage to eat a little something I would blow up with gas and have such intense cramping pains in the pit of my stomach I could hardly stand them. I had lost a great deal in weight, and between this rheumatism and stomach trouble I was in a terrible shape and just about past going.

"Several people urged me to try Tanlac, saying it had done them a lot of good, so I went to the drug store and got a bottle. I have taken five bottles now and am entirely rid of my stomach trouble and able to eat anything I want without suffering any bad after effects. All signs of rheumatism have about disappeared, and the stiffness in my joints and those throbbing aching pains are things of the past. I am working now every day, and can get about with as much ease as I ever could in my life, and, thanks to Tanlac after all these years of suffering, I am a well man. I think Tanlac is the grandest medicine in the world today and cannot recommend it too highly."

Tanlac is sold in Newcastle by E. J. Morris, in Redbank by Wm. M. Sullivan and in Doaktown by O. Hildebrand.

REDUCE M. C. L.

The Royal Family, headed by the King, is continuing its efforts to support the price cutting movement. They are instituting reductions throughout the whole personal household. The King desiring to replenish his private wardrobe, sent for the court tailors, with whom he closely discussed prices. The tailors' estimate for tweed lounge suits was eighty dollars, but the King declined to pay more than sixty. The merchants declined to accept this, and the King accordingly decided to cut out the usual special autumn gifting orders and purchased six ready made suits at thirty-six dollars each.

Has Asked For An Investigation

Charles Kerr, who until lately has been an inspector under the Prohibition Act, but was recently notified that his services would be no longer required, said last evening that he had given Inspector James Dickson, of Chatham, a four ounce bottle of whiskey.

"Dickson told me that he had put in a hand night and asked if I could get him some whiskey," said Kerr. "He also said that he had an important engagement in the afternoon and that he really needed the liquor. I got for him a four ounce bottle, but instead of using the liquor as he had given me to understand he would, he marked it and turned it over to the chief inspector. There will be further developments in the near future regarding this little matter, as I have asked for an investigation."

The resignation of Inspector Albert McAlpin was announced on Wednesday and yesterday it was made known that Inspector J. J. Merryfield also had tendered his resignation.—St. John Globe Aug. 22th

Palp Company In Liquidation

The Dominion Palp Co., Ltd., a concern incorporated under the laws of the United Kingdom, has gone into liquidation and A. H. Huckle, of London, has been appointed liquidator by the English courts. The company did business in Chatham, operating a large pulp mill there. Estimated capital is said to be the principal source of the liquidation of the corporation, as the pulp manufacturing industry has been in an unusually

SOME SMILES

A Quick Change.

"This plaintiff in the Court of Domestic Relations claims that his wife got 'hard bodied' all of a sudden. 'Is it possible for anybody to undergo a transformation like that?' 'Perhaps so. I've seen people go into a telephone booth at peace with all mankind and come out a few minutes later thirsting for blood.'

Merely Tolerated. "Sustarus, you don't seem to like my family at all," pouted the bride. "Give me time, my dear. I'm doing my best to be agreeable." "But what's wrong with my family?" "Nothing whatever, but I'm a sensitive man, I assure you, and the look of hopeless resignation your people wear whenever I'm around is getting on my nerves."

Youth's Handicap. While awaiting me my friend asked my little sister where her two other sisters were.

"O," she replied, "they are somewhere in mischief."

"Why don't you join them in their fun?" "Mother trusts me so dreadfully that I can't have much fun," replied she with a sigh.—Exchange.

Plural Number. "I wish to see a man for breaches of promise."

"Breach of promise' is the legal term, madam," said the lawyer. "I don't care. He proposed to me nine times, and if that isn't breaches of promise I don't know what you'd call it."

Harsh Terms. "Why did Jibway and Gadspur fall out?"

"Gadspur says Jibway kept picking on his fiver."

"That's strange. Picking, you say?"

"Yes, Jibway refused to call it anything but a 'chariot'."

EGGS.

Visitor—An egg is mighty valuable these days.

Farmer—Of course, An egg will bring almost enough to pay for feeding the hen until she lays the next one.

A Prodigy. For good in independence, Rose, Our baby, can't be beat. Already, 'twixt her mouth and toes she's making both ends meet.

An Omission. Susanna—Have you heard the news? Sergt. Jack Higgins has married a French girl overseas.

Madeline—I don't believe it. I've examined the daily casualty lists carefully and never saw it mentioned.

Silent. "That Mrs. Wise is a remarkable woman," said Mr. Benedict. "What is so remarkable about her?" asked Mr. Bachelor. "Why, she is a silent partner in a local firm," replied Mr. Benedict.

Unappreciated. "Evidently she doesn't like me." "What did she say?" "She just told me that she wouldn't marry me if I were the richest man on earth."

The Umpire. "I guess I must be the umpire in my family."

"What makes you think so?" "Because all my decisions are based 'at'."

It is True. "So you had a bad fall—how at the ladies' club?"

"Yes, I couldn't talk politics intelligently and I was afraid to ask for the speaking room."

Up to the Air. The Mayor—(What's the charge against this man, officer?)

The Air—(The man's speaking to a high-powered engine, and he says it's a child's machine. This fellow's got a child's mind.)

Her Experience. "How did your evening with the young man go?"

"I missed out on the opportunity to be a good girl."

The Kind Word. "The girl you wanted to go around with, didn't she like you?"

Chicago Americans Look Like Winners

NEW YORK, Aug. 23—The winning race of the Chicago Americans, which has carried them to the top of the league standing, indicated that they a decided brace by either Cleveland or New York can prevent a White Sox from repeating last success.

Chicago has won 12 of its last 11 games, including yesterday's victory over Washington.

No great strength is being displayed by the three leading National League teams, and a close race down the September stretch is expected.

Brooklyn yesterday brought about a virtual tie with Cincinnati for first place by defeating the Reds and breaking even on the four game series.

New York, two games behind, will start a series with Cincinnati next Friday.

The Cleveland Americans outplayed New York last week, but dropped two to Boston. Chapman's death has affected the batting of the league with unofficial team averages of more than 300.

After Monday's game, they batted only at a rate of 145. The Yankees also are hitting lightly and although they improved yesterday against Detroit, the Tigers' batsmen could not do better than the New York twirlers even harder than in Saturday's game. Of the other teams, Boston alone is showing to advantage, but is too far back in the race to hope for more than fourth place.

The pitching of Fisher and Eitel against Chicago put the Reds ahead of Brooklyn in the National League last week. In the series with Brooklyn, the Reds took the first two by heavy hitting, but were blanked by Marquard and lost yesterday, when Fling was ineffective.

New York yesterday won the rubber contest of a three game series with Chicago, after breaking even with Boston and Philadelphia.

Pittsburg was unable to do better than split even last week and despite strong pitching is making no threat of re-entering the struggle for the league leadership.

The fall-end Philadelphia had a balance on the winning side of the weekly ledger for the first time since July June.

YOUNG WOMEN AVOID PAIN

This One Tells How She Was Benefited by Taking Lydia E. Finkham's Vegetable Compound.

Regina, Sask. — "For two years I suffered from periodic pains and nausea so I was unable to get around. My mother had me take Lydia E. Finkham's Vegetable Compound, and I am much better and able to go about all the time, which I could not do before. I recommend Vegetable Compound to my friends if I know they suffer the same way, and you may publish my letter if it will help any one, as I hope it will." — Miss Z. G. BLACKWELL, 2078 Ouellet Place, Regina, Sask.

If every girl who suffers as Miss Blackwell did, or from irregularities, painful periods, backache, headache, dragging down pains, inflammation or ulceration would only give this famous root and herb remedy a trial they would soon find relief from such suffering.

It hardly seems possible that there is a woman in this country who will continue to suffer without giving Lydia E. Finkham's Vegetable Compound a trial after all the evidence that is continually being published, proving beyond contradiction that this grand old medicine has relieved more suffering among women than any other medicine in the world.

For special advice women are asked to write the Lydia E. Finkham Medicine Co., Lynn, Mass. The result of forty years experience is at your service.

To Follow The Political Game

Ottawa, Ont., Aug. 18.—The resignation of Dr. W. J. Black from the chairmanship of the Soldiers' Settlement Board was announced by Premier Meighen tonight. Dr. Black will become director of the organization work of the Liberal and Conservative Party.

There is probably no one in the Dominion who is more familiar than Dr. Black with the administrative activities of the various provincial governments. He has had wide experience as a live stock judge; has lectured on agriculture in the various Provinces, and has addressed a great many important public meetings. As Commissioner of Agriculture he made a careful survey of the activities of the Federal and Provincial Departments of Agriculture.

Booze was Confiscated

Vancouver, Aug. 17.—A huge stock of liquor, consisting of 5,800 cases of bottled whiskey and 130 cases belonging to the Canadian Pacific Wine Company, of this city, was today confiscated by the crown. This is probably the greatest seizure of liquor ever made in Canada. Police Magistrate South signed the order for confiscation and added a fine of $1,000 against the company for unlawfully having kept liquor for sale. The wholesale value of the stock, according to invoices was $237,000.

THE GOVERNMENT'S SCHEME OF LIFE INSURANCE FOR RETURNED SOLDIERS

Canada now has a scheme of State Insurance for Returned Soldiers. The Act providing this was passed into law on June 23rd. Those eligible for insurance under the provisions of the Act are returned soldiers and widows of those returned soldiers who have died after retirement or honorable discharge from service and before the expiration of twelve months from the coming into force of the Act (Sept. 1st 1920). The term "returned soldier" is defined in the Act as "any person male or female, who has served in the naval, military or air forces of Canada in the Great War, or having been domiciled and resident in Canada on the fourth day of August, 1914, has served in any of His Majesty's naval, military or air forces in the said war; or, having been domiciled and resident as aforesaid, has served in the naval, military or air forces of one of His Majesty's Allies or Associated Powers in the Great War; and who has been retired or obtained honorable discharge therefrom."

Any such returned soldier or widow of a returned soldier may, after Sept. 1st, 1920, insure with the Government on the Whole Life or Limited Payment Life plans for $500 or any multiple of $500 up to a maximum of $5,000 to be payable at death to a beneficiary named by the insured, who must be the wife, husband, child, grandchild, parent, brother or sister (or any other person as may be provided by the Act) be declared eligible to rank as a beneficiary. The payment of the insurance proceeds is to be one-fifth of the amount in a lump sum and the remaining four-fifths applied at the option of the insured either as a life annuity, or as an annuity certain for five, ten, fifteen or twenty years, or as an annuity guaranteed for five, ten, fifteen or twenty years and as long thereafter as the beneficiary shall live. The idea is, presumably, to provide for the funeral expenses of the insured and a fixed annual income for the beneficiary. The insurance contract contains a provision that if insured becomes totally and permanently disabled and rendered incapable of pursuing continuously any substantially gainful occupation, and if such disability is not deemed to be attributable to his service with the Forces so as to bring him under the provisions of the Pension Act, then the payment of future premiums for his policy will cease and the insured will receive an annual payment not exceeding one-twentieth of the sum insured for the remainder of his life (but not to exceed twenty annual payments in all). If the insured dies before twenty such annual payments have been received by him, the balance will be paid to the named beneficiary in accordance with the death benefit conditions of settlement.

The Act states that the Minister of Finance may refuse to issue a contract of insurance for any case where there is, in his opinion, sufficient grounds for refusing, but does not indicate what such grounds may be. There is no medical examination to be made and no other evidence of insurability required. Impaired physical condition is no bar to insurance. The policies are unassignable and are not subject to the claims of creditors either of the insured or the beneficiary. No application for insurance will be considered after Sept. 1st, 1922, which allows two full years for those eligible to apply and take out policies.

The Governor in Council has power to make regulations for granting surrender values in cash or in paid up insurance which are not provided for in the Act.

Special rates: The plans include Whole Life (premiums payable throughout life); Limited Payment Life (premiums payable for 10 years, fifteen years, twenty years or to age 65); and Single Premium (premium paid in one sum only), rates being quoted from age 18 to 35. ### THEIR GREAT MOMENT GONE

Writers Had Little Expectation of Creative Ability Being Displayed by Returned Soldiers.

The spiritual point in this, writes John Galsworthy in Scribner's, is front of a man in ordinary civilized existence there hovers ever that moment in the future when he expects to prove himself more of a man than he has yet proved himself. For these soldiers of the great carnage the moment of probation is already in the past. They have proved themselves as they will never have the chance to do again, and solemnly they know it. One talks of their powers of heroism and sacrifice being wanted just as much in time of peace, but that cannot really be so, because peace times do not demand men's lives—which is the ultimate test—with every minute that passes. No, the great moment of their existence lies behind them, young though so many of them are. This makes them at once greater than us, yet in a way smaller, because they have lost the power and hope of expansion. They have lived their masterpiece already. Human nature is elastic and hope springs eternal, but a climax of emotion and sensation cannot be repeated; I think these have reached and passed the uttermost climax, and in Europe their number millions.

This is a veritable portent, and I am glad that in America you will not have it to any great extent. Now how does this affect the future? Roughly speaking it must, I think, have a diminishing effect on what I may call loosely—creative ability. There shall have often said to me: "You shall have great writings and paintings from these young men when they come back." We shall certainly have poignant expressions of their experiences and sufferings, and the best books and paintings of the war itself are probably yet to come. But, taking the long view, I do not believe we shall have from them, in the end, as much creative art and literature as we should have had if they had not been through the war.

Will Go Back to Work in France. If Charles W. Bradley, Jr., formerly a teacher of manual arts in Worcester academy, Worcester, Mass., hadn't been an obliging sort of gentleman, he wouldn't be carrying a shell splinter today under his right cheekbone, so eminently lodged there that physicians hesitate to operate for fear of his face becoming paralyzed. While a worker with the Foyer du Soldat in France, Bradley confessed August 1 to replace another worker on the front line at Ebbry. The other well fare man was away on leave so Bradley, with his knapsack filled with Y. M. C. A. supplies went up near the front line. At that time a jagged scar caused by a shell splinter was heating on his forehead. He had been working only a short period at Liberty when a Hun shell burst and he was given another memento of service. This time the silver of a flying shell lodged in his chest.

A Forgotten Language. "The crowfoot girde tree-trip turtle," said one gentleman to another, as reported by the Minneapolis Journal, in an office in that city. "Scalp thirty reel blades," he continued, reading from an old leather-bound ledger. "Scalp thirty reel blades," repeated his companion, and wrote it down on a sheet of paper. The two gentlemen, says the Journal, were talking a language once used but now forgotten in Minnesota. For they were respectively a former inventor of logs and a lumberman and his assistant, busy identifying some ancient logs that had been a long time sunk in a river. The strange-sounding sentences were composed of identification marks, of which at least 6,000 have been recorded since the present days when logs were first cut in Minnesota forests. Millions of feet of lumber from the great forests have been thus marked, and once in a while some old logs are recovered from the river bottom, and the old ledger of bark marks and stamps on the ends of the logs is again referred to.

Raising Monkeys for Fur. As wild fur-bearing animals have decreased in numbers and the scarcity and prices of furs consequently increased, many individuals have been led to undertake the rearing of fur-bearing in captivity, as for example the efforts to breed foxes in Canada and parts of the United States, and the widespread interest in skunk raising. It is of significance that in one state alone the game warden, within a period of two years, issued more than five permits for breeding skunks in the National Geographic Magazine.

Energy From Common Powder. Common black powder proved to be a source of mechanical energy in some railway machine shops and to send the workmen on working their own wheels, turning up scraps from and out, breaking a record in a furnace. It is reported in steel gauge 5 to 12 inch size and of proportionate diameter.

Lovely Spots in Pontiac County, Quebec

- (1) The Harbour at Fort William, P.Q.
- (2) Water Falls at Des Jochins, along the Ottawa River.
- (3) On the beautiful sandy beach at Fort William, P.Q., there are hundreds of log-seats.

The Province of Quebec is dotted with many beautiful landscape and water scenes. Some of these are well known, but many of them have been little heard of. For years Guyon and Campbell's Bay, Fort Coulonge and Bryson have been known to lumbermen and sportsmen. These sportsmen have fished and hunted, and have kept secretly still about their exploits. But that sandy beach at Campbell's Bay and that new camping ground at Davidson fairly cry out for visitors, and if we show the signs it won't be long before dozens of families follow the example of the few lumbermen who have used this beautiful country's carefully-guarded secret.

Can pack up the family and have fun in one of these quiet villages, confident that the children will grow brown and fat, and that they themselves will have no worry over household problems. It is a country of low green hills, of many sparkling lakes, of silvery rivers, the Ottawa and the Constance—there are streams and brooks to carry you across the river-streets of Farnham and ferries to Cabaret and Renfrew. Beyond Watton, at the end of the line, is the well-known resort of Fort William, Quebec, just across the river from Farnham. On the river, Fort William is the Johnsons, where there is a pretty waterfall. The surrounding lumber, and the picturesque beauty have largely vanished from the village.
