Grove's O-Pen-Trate Salve Opens the Pores and Penetrates

A Remedy for Chest Colds, Head Colds, Sore Throat, Stiff Neck, Earache, Spasmodic Croup and kindred ailments. Apply freely to the skin just over the affected parts and rub it in.

GROVE'S O-PEN-TRATE SALVE

is also an Excellent Germicide for the Nose and Throat.

It should be applied to the nostrils so that you will be continually inhaling the vapors while in the presence of patients who are sick with contagious diseases, or when you are entering crowded cars or other public places during an epidemic of Grip or Influenza. Any Grip or Influenza germs breathed through the nose are destroyed by this germicide salve before the germs can reach the throat.

FOR THE SICK

Place One Level Teaspoonful of GROVE'S O-PEN-TRATE SALVE in a hot saucer in the sick room. The Antiseptic Vapor rising from the heated salve makes breathing easy for the patient. It induces sleep and is a great comfort to anyone suffering with Spasmodic Croup, Asthma, Bronchitis, Sore Throat, Coughs, Colds, Whooping Cough, Diphtheria or Pneumonia. The Healing Effect of the Vapor relieves the patient and is very comforting. Price 35c per box. If your Druggist hasn't any, send 35c in postage stamps to Paris Medicine Company, 183 Spadina Ave., Toronto, and a full-size box will be mailed to you promptly.

The Romance OF A Marriage.

CHAPTER X.

"Admirably done, my dear young man," murmurs the major, eyeing the comical figure without a smile. "Admirably! But now, what shall we do? Of course you will avail yourself of my carriage—the ladies, at any rate," suddenly bethinking himself that there will not be room for all. "You must return to the Court—which, if I remember rightly, cannot be at any great distance—in the landau. Come, I must insist," he adds, with charming persistence, though no one has as yet refused. "I really must insist," and he goes up to Alice, as being the most fashionably dressed of the group, and holds out his hand. "Permit me the honour of conducting you, my dear young lady. You are sure you are not hurt? Shaken and upset, of course; but not, I trust, injured?"

Alice, who a few minutes ago could have sat upon the grass and wept over her spilt finery, revives under the blandishments of this polished specimen of humanity, and calls up her usual smile.

"Oh, no," she says, "not at all. But I am rather shaken."

"You must be, my dear young lady," murmurs the major. "Enough to kill a delicate young creature like yourself. What a merciful providence that I should have been passing! I never can be too thankful—never!"

And he looks up at the sky with pious gratitude.

Alice and May are escorted to the fly, and only Paula remains.

To her the major approaches, hat in hand, polished smile on face; but Paula draws back.

"I think I'd rather walk," she says, her soul revolting at the idea of entering Hampden Pavia in a strange landau. "Mr. Palmer could ride, if I do not, I shall walk."

The major looks at her with a keen scrutiny under his polished smile. "But, my dear young lady, it is—dear me!—three miles."

Paula laughs.

"That is nothing," she says. "I can walk that very easily."

The major bows, overcome with astonishment.

"Is it possible?" he murmurs. "Let me entreat you, my dear young lady, not to overtask your strength. Three miles! Far too many for a lady to undertake after such a terrible shock!"

"I didn't feel any shock," says Paula, sweetly. "I was waiting for it. I'd rather walk. I would indeed. Let Mr. Palmer ride."

"I shall be delighted," murmurs the major, "if you are quite sure."

"Quite," says Paula.

And Mr. Palmer, protesting faintly, takes his place in the landau.

The major sees them all in, and stands on the step looking at Sir Herrick.

"I shall see you again, my dear Rick!"

Sir Herrick nods rather curiously. "Delighted to find that you are in the neighbourhood. Had no idea of it. Adieu!" And he raises his hat. "You are quite sure you would rather walk, my dear young lady?"—to Paula.

"Quite," says Paula.

And, with a shrug of the shoulders, expressing grief and astonishment, the major enters the landau.

Bob, Stancy, Sir Herrick, and Paula stand for a moment looking after them as they drive away; then Bob pulls out his pipe.

"Better get home as quick as we can. Come on, Stancy, I should advise you never to drive a four-in-hand again!"

Stancy colours, and hangs back, glancing at Paula; but there is a smile on her face which does not encourage him, and he goes off with Bob, his stiff collar crushed and limp, his white hat spotted no longer, his long frock-coat torn and bespattered—all his glory, in fact, departed.

Paula looks after him with a smile, then she says, cheerfully:

"Poor Mr. Stancy! It is very sad for him! There is one consolation for him; he can shift the blame on to your shoulders. He will say—mark my words—that if you hadn't interfered the accident would not have occurred."

"No doubt," says Sir Herrick, calmly. "But it might have been worse. You might have been hurt."

Paula tries quickly to turn the subject of the "you."

"To say nothing of Alice and May," she says. "Poor Alice! Wild horses couldn't drag her on to a coach again!" Then, with an almost imperceptible falter, "I should have been hurt but for you. I should have fallen when the coach tilted, if you had not got me down."

He looks up eagerly.

"Do you think so? I mean, do you think I really saved you? I am glad. I felt somehow that you would hold on; you were so cool and self-possessed."

"But I was waiting for it," says Paula. "Hedn' we better walk on?" for they have been standing to discuss the accident.

He nods, and they step out briskly towards Hampden.

"And that was your uncle—the wonderful uncle!" says Paula, after a pause, during which she has been recalling the polished major.

"Yes," he says, shortly, as if he were in a brown study. "Yes," and then he laughs. "What do you think of him?"

Paula smiles.

"Isn't that rather a leading question, as the lawyers say? I thought he was very beautiful."

"Beautiful!" he echoes, with an amazed stare.

"Yes; like a fine old picture, or a piece of china or lace. Beautiful to look at and to listen to. He reminded me of—But you will be offended?"

"Nothing you could say would give me offence," he says, with his frank eyes fixed on hers with simple directness.

"Of the old card-table in our room at home."

He laughs.

"The card-table?"

"Yes," with a smile. "It is an old-fashioned piece of furniture, and it has such a wonderful polish."

"I see," he says.

"So very polished," laughs Paula. "It was quite a pleasure to hear him speak in that soft, slow tone; and his smile—one knew that he was smiling at everybody in the same way, and yet he seemed to be smiling with particular significance at the person to whom he was speaking. Then the way he carried his cane and bowed! It was just like a picture of one of those old aristocrats in King George's time. I call it beautiful."

He laughs thoughtfully.

"Is this old-fashioned table of yours solid all through, or only veneer?"

"Oh, solid all through," she replies.

"Then it isn't like my uncle, Major Vericourt," he says, emphatically, "for he is, I regret to say, only veneer; veneer of the first quality and highest finish, but only veneer. What on earth brought him here to-day of all days?"

Paula looks at him curiously.

"You weren't a bit glad to see him?" she asks.

"Not a little bit," he replies, grimly; then he laughs. "I never see my uncle but I am reminded of the beautiful leopard in the Zoo; it looks so quiet, and placid, and affable, but is the most cruel and cunning animal under the sun. The major is just like that; he has always got some game on, and generally manages to win it. That's one reason why I am not overwhelmed with pleasure at the sight of him. You see, I always fall to wondering what the particular game may be that he happens to have in hand at the moment."

Paula laughs.

"He is deliciously interesting," she says. "But it doesn't matter to you, does it? I mean what 'game,' as you call it, he may be planning?"

HOW THIS NERVOUS WOMAN
GOT WELL

Told by Herself. Her Sincerity Should Convince Others.

Christopher, Ill.—"For four years I suffered from irregularities, weakness, nervousness, and was in a run-down condition. Two of our best doctors failed to do me any good. I heard so much about what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound had done for others, I tried it and was cured. I am no longer nervous, am regular, and in excellent health. I believe the Compound will cure any female trouble."—Mrs. ALICE HILLMAN, Christopher, Ill.

Nervousness is often a symptom of weakness or some functional derangement, which may be overcome by this famous root and herb remedy, Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, as thousands of women have found by experience.

If complications exist, write Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Lynn, Mass., for suggestions in regard to your ailment. The result of its long experience is at your service.

LIFT OFF CORNS!

Apply few drops then lift sore, touchy corns off with fingers—No pain!

Doesn't hurt a bit! Drop a little Frezome on an aching corn, instantly that corn stops hurting, then you lift it right out. Yes, magic!

A tiny bottle of Frezome costs but a few cents at any drug store, but is sufficient to remove every hard corn, soft corn, or corn between the toes, and the calluses, without soreness or irritation.

Frezome is the sensational discovery of a Cincinnati genius. It is wonderful!

but in a low voice, as if he were following out a train of thought. "Is it only the day before yesterday that that we met?" she neither starts nor blushes, nor thinks the question strange.

"Yes," she says, "the day before yesterday."

He is silent for a moment, then he looks at her.

"In the game my uncle plays the cards are men and women, and I've always a dread that he may hold me in his hand."

"I see," says Paula. "You mean that?"

But she stops.

He laughs a little laugh of annoyance and perplexity.

"Just this; that the major considers my welfare his particular charge—you see, I am his only nephew—and to promote it he wouldn't scruple to—well, to play any deep game. I wish I could find some one who'd buy my uncle, the major."

"I would, if he is not too expensive, and if he'd consent to remain in a glass case," says Paula.

"Would to Heaven he would!" says Sir Herrick, half-seriously, half-laughingly. "Never mind, let's forget him. By the way, can't we get off the high-road? He'll be coming back this way and will meet us."

Paula laughs.

"Anyone would really think he was a tiger," she says. "Yes, we can go through the plantation and across the meadows; there are no wild beasts there."

"Let us go on, for mercy's sake, then," he says.

Paula laughingly leads the way down a turning, and they leave the high-road and enter a plantation of young firs.

"Ah!" he says, drawing a long breath, "this is better—major or no major!"

CHAPTER XI.

It is better than the dusty high-road certainly; here among the sweet-scented pines, with a carpet of moss and powdered cones beneath their feet, and the cool, green leaves above their heads. Much better than the glare of the afternoon sun in the soft light filtered between the trunks and branches, and falling gently on Paula's suburban hair, and turning it to bright red-gold wherever the sun's fingers touch it. Much better here.

They walk along, these two, side by side, almost silent, listening to the gentle complaining of the trees, the evening breeze whistles through them; a vague, indefinite happiness seems to fall upon Paula; a strange glamour which she is conscious of, but cannot analyze. She only feels that the plantation is all too short, and the end too near. She does not feel inclined to talk, does not wish him to do so. Somehow it seems as if they were thinking together as they walk, and when he says suddenly:

"It seems longer than that," he says, "and yet the time has flown swiftly enough. Are you not tired? Shall we rest a little while?" And he stops and looks at a sloping bank of moss.

Paula sinks down and glances at the slit of sky between the trees.

"They are home nearly by now," she says.

He scarcely seems to hear her, but looks round lost in thought; then he lies full length on the bank, and leaning his head upon his hands, looks up at her.

Police Barracks Attacked By Armed Force --- Building Partly Destroyed and Looted --- Egyptian Nationalists Issue Manifesto--U. S. Troops Withdrawing From France---Local Election for Ireland.

MORE SINN FEIN DISTURBANCE.
LONDON, Jan. 4. Three hundred Sinn Feiners attacked the police barracks at Carrigrohilly at ten o'clock Saturday night according to a despatch to the Central News from Cork. The attacking forces fired volleys for three hours and then blew up the end of the building with bombs. Its occupants were made prisoners while raiders looted the barracks.

BODIES WILL BE SHIPPED BACK.
PARIS, Nov. 4. The French Government has granted permission for the removal of bodies of twenty thousand United States soldiers buried in France to United States.

AFTER DENEKINE.
COPENHAGEN, Jan. 4. An unsuccessful attempt has been made to assassinate General Denekine head of the Government in Southern Russia according to advices received here. One of Denekine's aides was killed.

EGYPTIAN MANIFESTO.
CAIRO, Jan. 4. In a manifesto just issued Six Egyptian princesses associate themselves with the demand of the Nationalists for complete independence of Egypt, now a British protectorate. The manifesto is addressed to the people and to Viscount Milner, the British Secretary for the Colonies, who is in Egypt at the head of a mission of conciliation.

U. S. SOLDIERS WITHDRAWN.
PARIS, Nov. 4. The departure of Brigadier General William D. Connor from Paris on the evening of January 3 with three hundred officers and men marks the withdrawal of the United States forces from France.

FIRES IN MONTREAL.
MONTREAL, Que., Jan. 4. Three fierce fires broke out over the week-end, as a result of which eleven families were rendered homeless and several stores and Jewish theatres were destroyed. Firemen had to fight the fires through weather some ten degrees below zero and man suffered from frost bites, cuts and burns, having at times to be cut out of ice that had frozen them to the ladders.

TO RELEASE SCHOONER.
MONTREAL, Que., Jan. 4. The Government ice breaker Montcalm, from Sydney, is on her way to the relief of a vessel which for the past fortnight has been fighting with the ice floe in the Lower St. Lawrence. She may be relieved either to-morrow night or Tuesday morning. The latest report of the schooner's position places her in the neighborhood of Fame Point.

LABOR IN THE ASCENDENT.
LONDON, Jan. 4. Development in British politics is growing strength of Labor Party which if it is to be continued is pointing to in political circles as insuring control of next Government by that Party. In last three important bye-elections candidates polled a total of more votes than either of the old Parties. The majority of the Labor Party recruits, the figures indicate come from the Liberal ranks. Features of the Labor platform which appears to attract the middle class voters are opposition to big armaments and demands for live and let live policy with regard to the nation's recent enemies.

BOLSHEVIKS CAPTURE TOWN.
LONDON, Nov. 4. The capture of Teatitzkyt on the volga, 110 miles south of Kamshin, is announced in a Bolshevik official statement received from Moscow by wireless. The Bolshevik forces captured much booty the statement adds.

NITTI GONE TO PARIS.
ROME, Jan. 3. Premier Nitti left at noon to-day for Paris where he has been invited to meet Premier Lloyd George and Premier Clemenceau and possibly an American representative. It is understood an effort to settle the Fiume question will be made.

CLEMENCEAU.
TOULON, Jan. 3. Premier Clemenceau who is on a visit to the department of war was in a smash up of automobiles to-day but escaped without injury. The collision occurred between Fyres and Toulon. Four deputies were quite badly hurt.

TAKING PRECAUTION.
WINNIPEG, Man., Jan. 4. To-morrow the public health physicians will begin to vaccinate 7,000 school children against smallpox.

A TEST ELECTION.
DUBLIN, Jan. 4. The first local elections since the beginning of the war will be held all over Ireland on Jan. 15, and remarkable interest is attached to them because they will show how far the Sinn Fein party is holding its own. The Irish local government for long periods has been conducted by popularly elected County Rural and Urban Councils. Their composition is generally a safe guide to the state of feeling in the country, is the opinion of the candidates.

NEWFOUNDLAND SCHOONER IN TROUBLE.
SYDNEY, Jan. 4. En route from a Newfoundland port to Sydney, the schooner Madonna grounded on Pelican Point, outside Sydney harbor, Saturday night in a snow storm. The Madonna left Newfoundland on the last day of December in ballast, and the storm sprung up with such severity that the schooner was driven ashore. All the crew of seven are still aboard, but no fear is entertained for their safety, as they are in touch with the land. The Madonna is 90 tons and owned in Newfoundland.

EARTHQUAKE RECORDED.
WASHINGTON, D.C., Jan. 4. A very pronounced earthquake lasting almost an hour and believed to have been centered somewhere in South America, was recorded by Georgetown Observatory during last night.

NOT SUFFICIENTLY SCHOOLED.
LONDON, Jan. 1. Winston Churchill, Secretary of State for War, speaking at Sunderland declared the return to party Government in England at this time would simply mean turning the country over to the Labor Party. This party, he charged, was insufficiently schooled in the method of conducting a Government and would bring the country to grief.

The "Skull Cracker."
Old iron is worth more to-day than it ever was before, and tons upon tons of rusty waste are being collected for re-smelting. Much of this waste is in big sheets or large masses, and must be broken up before being put into the furnaces. This is done by dropping upon the scrap a huge steel ball weighing from 22,000 to 36,000 pounds. The ball is called a "skull cracker," and it is handled by a huge magnet and a crane. The "skull cracker" is picked up by the magnet, raised to the required height, then the current is shut off, the ball is released, and falls with terrific force on the junk below.

Not only does the magnet handle the "skull cracker," but also it moves the scrap into the required position.

Here is a proof of the gigantic power of one of these great electromagnets.

At some works in Yorkshire a truck containing ten tons of steel filings was left on a siding in the rain. The result was that it rusted, and the whole ten tons were matted into one solid lump, and man-power was absolutely useless to handle the mass. The job seemed hopeless.

At last it was decided to try a magnet. It was brought and lowered into the truck. When the current was switched on the rusting and tearing could be heard a mile away, but the magnet won out, and presently came up with more than a ton of the rusty tangle clinging to its face.

The New Motor Car

The Greatest Improvement In Riding Comfort Since The Introduction of Pneumatic Tires

HERE is a brand new type of car. It solves the problem which has baffled automotive engineers—how to combine riding comfort with light weight and economy.

The new Three-Point Cantilever Springs make this possible.

These are the first springs of their kind and they are made of chrome vanadium steel. They are exclusive with Overland.

Because of these springs, the Overland 4 combines the riding qualities of large, heavy, expensive, long wheelbase cars, together with the advantages and economy of small light cars.

With 100-inch (2.54m) wheelbase, Overland 4 has the luxurious riding ease of 130-inch (3.3m) Springbase.

The exclusive, Three-Point Cantilever Springs cushion the car so that it rides well on all roads: they reduce choppy rebounds and side swaying, protect the car from road shocks and prolong its life, minimize twisting or racking of frame and body, enable the car to hold the road better.

The car and passengers ride smoothly as though floating, free from road shocks that the springs ward off.

But this new riding comfort, possible only with these Three-Point Cantilever Springs, is but one of the advantages of Overland 4. Its light weight makes possible great economy of petrol and tires.

High quality materials insure durability. All vital parts of the front axle and steering gear and all highly stressed gears and shafts for driving the car are made of alloy steel.

The equipment list of Overland 4 is high grade, including Auto-Lite Starting and Lighting System—Electric Horn—Marshall Divan Upholstery Springs—Demountable Rims—Three Speed Transmission—Slanting Rain Vision Windscreen—Tillotson Carburetor—USL Battery and many other high quality conveniences.

In every respect Overland 4 is a quality car. The body is all steel, all enamel, the brightest, hardest, most lasting finish.

Overland 4 has been tested for two years and more than 250,000 miles (400,000 km.) over the Rocky Mountains and prairies of America, through deep mud and scorching deserts—through quick, sharp climatic changes. As a result of these tests it was possible to judge the car's performance under every condition and to perfect it before offering it to the public.

The farther you ride in it the more you will appreciate it. Let us demonstrate the Overland 4 to you at your earliest convenience.

Side Talks by Ruth Cameron

WHAT OLD AGE OUGHT (I) TO WANT.

In one of the recent magazines, in an article on the folly of growing old, the author tells of an old lady he has heard of who celebrated her eightieth birthday by taking a ride in an aeroplane. He imagines the family asking her what she wants most for her birthday, and their astonishment when, instead of saying she'd like a pair of slippers or a picture of the grandchildren she chooses "an aeroplane ride."

It is like to meet that old lady. I'd give a good deal to meet her. She must have had spirit. Not only to want such a thing, but to be brave enough to ask for it and to insist on getting it against the opposition she probably met with.

The writer's mention of the purple and black slippers and the group picture of the grandchildren seemed to me inspired, for it represents so perfectly the conception held by youth and by middle age as to what old age ought to want.

One would think that middle age, being nearer old age than youth, would understand that much better, but it seldom does.

They Expect to be Different Then.

Though middle age knows that in the 20 years that have passed since early youth it has not lost its appetite for pleasure and excitement and something to break the routine, it remains entirely confident that the next 20 years will make a complete change.

For instance, I know a woman who, in spite of her four nice children and her lovely home, is ever on a restless, unsatisfied search for pleasure. Yet she cannot understand why mother isn't more contented with a monotonous life broken now and then by a visit from her or the grandchildren.

But She Might Like a Trip, Sometimes.

Again, I know another woman who is always telling people how much the children's grandmother does enjoy coming to stay with the children while she and her husband go off on week-end tours. Doubtless she does, but I can't help wondering if once in a while the grandmother wouldn't enjoy a week-end tour.

One of the most delighted old ladies I ever saw was a dear old friend of mine who on Christmas day received from a rich cousin (whose gift was always the great event of the day) an exquisitely dainty white blouse instead of the more practical gifts the latter usually gave. Her daughter bewailed the fact that the waist was too young and that mother had so few chances to use a thing like that, but the lady hung over it in delight.

Her pleasure was a lesson to me that I never forgot.

Macbeth's Castle To Be Sold.

The old castle of Cawdor and the finely wooded lands surrounding it are on the market.

Whether the old castle now standing on the estate is the one Shakespeare had in mind when he wrote his play "Macbeth," is uncertain. There was a castle there in the morning of Scottish history. The one there now must date back five hundred years or more and it has been changed little in the centuries since it was built.

There is a story that Thane William of Cawdor was granted permission to build a castle by the Scottish king whom he served. He was sorely perplexed as to site, but in a dream he was told to put all the treasure he had collected in a coffer, then to bind it on a donkey's back and build his castle wherever the donkey should stop. The donkey stopped beside a hawthorn tree and lay down to rest.

The castle is said to have been built about this tree. Certain it is that a hawthorn tree stood for many years in the lowest vault of the tower.

The Cawdors have a grim history, one filled with tragedy and no small amount of misfortune. The recent career of the family serves to illustrate this phase of the Cawdor history. There have been five earls of Cawdor in twenty years, and two of the five met violent deaths. The present earl is only 20 years old.

Muriel of Cawdor perhaps is the most famous in the line. At least she serves as a figure in one of the old Scottish folk romances. She was sought after by the Earl of Argyll for his son, Sir John Campbell, and was kidnapped when only 12 years old. Her uncle the Cawdors, heard of the kidnapping and set out to recover her. They came upon her captors and slew eight of them, all sons of Campbell of Inverliver, and obtained what they believed was the girl. But it turned out to be only a sheaf of straw dressed in Muriel's clothes. The Campbells had escaped with Muriel herself and she became the bride of the heir of Argyll.

It was only nine miles from the castle that the Battle of Culloden was fought and the hopes of the Pretender dashed. And Lord Lovat, the Scottish Jacobite, sought refuge in the garret of the castle after the failure of the Stuart rebellion.

The drawbridge still hangs in front of the castle, as it has hung for centuries, and the castle towers, gray and grim, above the birches and oaks about it. There is something at once solemn and impressive about the ancient place, fully in keeping with its history and its romantic place in literature. The thought of it passing into irreverent hands, to be changed and modernized, causes a thrill to historical students.

Far Concord.

The American War of Independence is one of the saddest tragedies in all history, for it rent asunder the most virtile and capable race in existence and forever prevented that united development which would have made the English-speaking people to-day the guardians of the peace of the world, a dominant League of Nations by their own right. A stupid German King and a body of toady Ministers and the tragedy was accomplished. Ever since that fatal time wise men both in England and America have done their utmost to heal the breach and at least bring about an era of good feeling, even if political reunion is impossible. In these later days no man of eminence has striven with greater energy to bring about such an Entente as

Cecil Rhodes—the biggest Englishman of his time. Looking to this, he instituted the system of Rhodes Scholarships open for young men from the United States, the British Empire and Germany to attend the University of Oxford. The war, of course, eliminated the Germans, and now the men are Americans and Britishers only. Quite recently Sulgrave Manor, the home of the Washingtons in England, has been set apart as a memento of the Great First President, and founded upon this fact, a body of men and women has been organized into a Society for the creating of a better understanding between Britain and America. They are not only taking pains care of the Sulgrave Manor, but they have established in a number of American Colleges chairs for the teaching of British History. This is certainly a step in the right direction. The British and the American people never yet have had a fight, for the fight was between the American people and a pig-headed German who happened to be King of England at the time. The establishment of Chairs of British History in America, will of course, prove a shock to those who have been brought up on the old school histories which represented everything about the Revolution and its leaders as angelically pure, while the Britisher stood no chance at all, either in rights or in courage. Indeed, the school histories of America have been largely instrumental in keeping alive the old prejudices and hatreds standing in the way of a closer friendship.

This better understanding between the English-speaking peoples is a matter of vast importance when dangers from half-alien populations are so threatening. Let us understand one another's history better and we shall be better friends.—Acadian Recorder.

The Writing Changed.

The Ionians first introduced the present system of writing from left to right about 420 B.C. Previous to that date from right to left prevailed, although the method called boustrophedon, that is, alternately from right to left, and from left to right, was somewhat extensively practised. The ancient Hebrew and Greek languages were written from right to left until about 450 B.C., when the form of the Greek letters was changed from the uncial to the cursive, and the manner of writing changed from right to left to left to right.

GETTING BACK.

Let us all get back to working, back to earning honest r o o k s, back to baking, painting, clerking, back to winding eight-day clocks. Long enough we've whooped a n d clamored, making all the welkins ring; long enough we've knocked and hammered every sane and useful thing. If we'd all get back to toiling like a bunch of earnest men, industries nvy dead and spoiling would be cutting grass again. There would be a trade revival that would simply beat the band, and a boom without a rival in the annals of this land. There would be no idle pulley, smoke would come from every stack, if we'd be less wild and woolly, if we'd hit the old time track. Let's get back to useful labor, as we labored long ago, peeling onions with a saber, sawing firewood with a hoe. Let us all resume our knitting, make the shining needles fly, working blithely, nor admitting any "agitator" guy. Let us darn the socks and mittens, prune the hedge and shear the cow, hunt the eggs and drown the kittens—let us all get busy now.

Government Muddles.

Ever since the assumption of power by the Squires-Coaker administration, their chief business appears to have been hunting up departmental matters concerning expenditures, with a view to discrediting and covering with obloquy the men who held office under the late Government. Nothing apparently matters, so long as the Squires-Coaker newspapers can unearth some imaginary purchasing scandal, the padded particulars of which are spread flaringly over their first pages. The Road Board discoveries did not work so well as thought, and to divert the minds of the voters of St. John's West, the Green Peas and Plank purchases were dished up. These sensations (?) will have a like effect as the Roads and Bridges and Marine Works expenditures. The voters of St. John's West are not going to be turned aside from the purpose to which they have already made up their minds, and January 22nd will be the day of decision for them, the day when the ballots of freemen will pile up in mighty numbers against the menace of Coakerism which threatens the fair future of this city.

No thought of anything else but that of unearthing material with which to blacken the character of their adversaries, is being considered by the Government, which is the friend of monopolists and the foe of independence amongst the masses. So interested is the Government in protecting the public, and according to his manifesto, that was to be the chief aim of Mr. Squires, that it permits an outrageous increase, without the least shadow of reason, in the price of two of the principal articles of food used in Newfoundland: Flour and manufactured Butter. In other words they have allowed profiteering on a gigantic scale in these two necessary articles. As, however, Mr. Squires was to attend an Executive meeting on Friday night to discuss the flour situation with his colleagues of the Cabinet, we may expect to have it announced in the Advocate that because of pressure brought to bear by the Government, the recent advance in the price of Flour and Butter has been forbidden. We don't think. Such a Liberal (?) Administration as Newfoundland has the misfortune to be burdened with at the moment is not likely to trouble very much about the common people, or the small merchant, or to express much sympathy for them. But the people are not forgetting.

Among some of the other muddles made by the Squires-Coaker aggregation, might be mentioned the South Coast postal steamship service. Under the late Government efforts were made to cope with an unprecedented situation, and two boats were kept on, though these were not capable of coping with the quantities of freight piling up. Nevertheless the schedules were made. To-day the South Coast has but one boat, and it can readily be imagined how utterly inadequate that single vessel is to supply the needs of a section extending from St. John's to Bonne Bay. But these inconveniences do not worry the men who are at the head of affairs, whose sole aim and object is now to secure the election of their Prime Minister by permission, and Minister of Finance and Customs, in St. John's West. Futile hope. The temper of the western portion of St. John's is aroused. The electors do not intend to allow themselves to be caught again. The menace of Coaker-cum-Squires-ism is too great, and must be put down. The shadow of Tory times is again being cast over the land, and St. John's has had too many examples of those to wish for or desire their return. Labor has associated itself with the real Liberal Party, and Martin and Linegar are the candidates of progress. Squires and Brownrigg represent Coaker and the downfall of St. John's. Their alliance with the worn-out Conservative elements which formerly controlled the trade and destiny of Newfoundland show them to be but political masqueraders. The people of St. John's West have taken their measure, and at the bye-election of January 22nd, history will be repeated and the Government nominees will go down to defeat before the wrath of an aroused and indignant electorate, as they did in the bye-elections of that historic year 1894.

Flour and Butterine Going Up!

Truly, Tory times are hard times! If the miseries and misfortunes heap falling on the country under the Squires-Tory Government at the same rate the coming four years as have marked the first three months of their control, the town will become like it was in '64-67 when half the houses were closed up, meal and molasses doled out, and hundreds flew away in vessels to the States. Truly, Tory Governments have brought hard time on Newfoundland in past years, and we seem to be on the edge of them now. To see the women around Collingwood's coal office the bitter days of last week tears streaming down their cheeks beseeching a half ton or a quarter of a ton of coal, would touch the heart of the most callous. They had money to pay for the coal, but could not get it for love or money. "It is well known that the Tory Government is in power," said one of the witnesses of this scene, and he was right. The coal should have been provided by the Minister of Shipping long ago. The next indication of Tory times happened last week when flour and butterine advanced. They are only waiting to see how the people take it here to make the big advance. They will go step by step with the low-bought flour till it is level with the Canadian advance. It seems to be a case of "everybody's business and nobody's business." This we do know that Hon. Mr. Squires, now Premier of this country, wrote a Manifesto last autumn in which—as one may say—went out of his way to threaten the profiteers and to promise that he was going to take drastic measures to keep down the high cost of living should he be returned to power. Nearly everything has gone higher since Mr. Squires came in. Now here is his chance to do a good thing for the people especially the poor. Let him enquire whether it is true work that has put up the price of butterine, and if so make them sell at the old price. Let him make the manufacturers declare the reasons for the advance. A big chance offers in regard to flour. We hold that this low-bought flour should not be put up on the poor people, especially at this season of the year. We do not know whether Mr. Squires has power to keep down the price, no matter whether he may be inclined to do so. Mr. Coaker is his master now, and Mr. Coaker himself deals in flour, so between the two the people have not much to hope for, whether it be in coal or in flour. For Tory times are hard times, and the only way to begin the work of relief from the Tories is to vote against Squires and Brownrigg by voting for Martin and Linegar.

Liberal-Labor Meeting.

Star Hall, Thursday Night--- Challenge Issued to Government Candidates.

The initial public meeting of the Liberal-Labor Party, opening the bye-election campaign in St. John's West, will be held in the Star Hall on Thursday evening next at 8 o'clock, sharp. At the meeting not only will the candidates, Messrs. Martin and Linegar address the audience, but a gallery of the most brilliant speakers will also deal with the principles involved in this election. A challenge to attend this meeting, and engage in a joint discussion has been issued to Honrs. R. A. Squires and H. J. Brownrigg, the Government candidates in St. John's West, as the Opposition are anxious that the voters shall be fully conversant with the issues they will have to decide at the polls on January 22nd. The Liberal-Labor Party realize that it is futile to discuss, or attempt to discuss any matters of vital importance with the Government press, their stock in trade consisting merely of substituting personalities and abuse in the place of logical argument and fair comment. Thus the present opportunity is offered the Government leaders to engage in fair debate with their political opponents.

BEFORE THE FULL BENCH.
Smith and Shipman v. H. J. Brownrigg, Minister of Finance.
Preliminary objections were heard. The court reserves decision on the preliminary objection and will proceed to proceed with main arguments, Mr. Warren and Mr. Gibbs for the Crown, Mr. Emerson and Mr. Higgins for the plaintiffs. The case will be resumed this evening.

To-day's Messages.

OFFER REFUSED.
LONDON, Jan. 4.
The Governments offer to railwaymen, made public to-night, which conceded considerable advances in wages, was rejected later at mass meetings of the railwaymen held in the East End of London, and at Northampton. The men decided that the offer was unsatisfactory.

DEATHS FOLLOW EARTHQUAKE.
MEXICO CITY, Jan. 4.
Scores of persons were killed in violent earthquake, which occurred in many parts of Mexico last night. The extent of the disturbance is believed to have been near the volcano of Orizaba. Incomplete press reports indicate that the state of Vera Cruz suffered more than any other section, although seismic disturbances were felt throughout the entire republic.

BIG FIGHT ARRANGED.
LOS ANGELES, Cal., Jan. 4.
Jack Kearns, Mgr. for Jack Dempsey, heavyweight champion, announced here to-night that he had accepted an offer of a $400,000 purse from James Coffroth, for a 15 round fight between Dempsey and George Carpentier at Tijuana Lower California.

Police Court.

A man, for being drunk and disorderly, and for another offence, was fined $5 or 10 days' imprisonment. A well-known female character, arrested at two o'clock this morning, was charged with being drunk. She was fined $5, the amount paid, the steamer who conveyed her to the station.

Yamheil in Port.

S. S. Yamheil, which wired from Cape Race for accommodation arrived in port Saturday at 6 p.m. The steamer is bound to New York from Hamburg with a general cargo. She experienced very heavy weather on her passage and has four feet of water in No. 1 hold, and her refrigerating installation was torn adrift. She will haul into the Furness Wharf pier this evening.

Street Car Line Clear.

Employees of the Electrical Dept. of the Relief Co. were hard at work on the belt-line of the street car system to-day and it was stated at noon that this would be "all clear" before six o'clock, thereby enabling all the cars to run. This winter's snow has been the worst the company has had to handle for several years and the delay in getting the whole line cleared was quite unavoidable.

KOLCHAK'S THREAT.

Wireless despatches received here from Moscow, quote a Dorpat report as saying that Admiral Kolchak, Head of the Omsk Government, has notified the United States Government that he will cede part of Siberia to Japan, unless Allies send further assistance to White Armies to save Russia.

DENEKINE STILL IN CHARGE.

M. Alexeyev, former member of the Russian Duma, and a delegate of the Union for the Regeneration of Russia, in a note issued yesterday, denied the report of the overthrow of General Denekine's Government in South Russia by the Union and the replacement of Denekine by General Romanovsky.

THE MAXIMUM REACHED.

PARIS, Jan. 5.
The Seine has risen more than a foot in the last day, but reports from up the river, with good weather, have caused the Government to announce that a few more inches of rise will be the maximum, which will continue for two days. The President of the Republic, The Marne is also rising, but other rivers are stationary or subsiding. Only two deaths are reported.

GREY MAY RETURN.

NEW YORK, Jan. 5.
The possibility of his return to Washington as British Ambassador to the United States was indicated in a statement made here Saturday by Viscount Grey prior to his departure for London aboard the steamship Adriatic, on which he described as "Leave of absence."

WHICH IS RIGHT?

LONDON, Jan. 5.
The newspapers draw various conclusions from the Spen Valley elections. The Times thinks it registers, with clarity, that there is no stopping the flow of tide of labor in constituencies. The Daily Telegraph prefers to see that labor has slipped into a seat between two Liberal candidates, and asks whether this is the time for those to play into the hands of labor, who hold that a realization of its schemes would mean national ruin. The Chronicle makes local excuses for the coalition defeat, but admits the bye-election current is running against the Government at the moment.

FORCED UPON HIM.

PARIS, Jan. 5.
Premier Clemenceau again denied, upon his return to the city yesterday, that he was a candidate for the Presidency of the Republic, but added, "The truth is the Presidency of the Republic is being forced upon me and I am being carried to the post." Relating the incident, the Echo de Paris says, "The Tiger" has said the word and there is nothing to it now."

Wrecked Crew Brought In.

The Norwegian steamer Albert W. Selmer called off the Narrows at 1 o'clock this afternoon and put on board the port pilot boat seven of the crew of the schooner Francis Gardiner of Lunenburg, Nova Scotia, which wrecked men were picked up by the Selmer yesterday some seventy miles south of Cape Race. The Gardiner, Capt. Shankle, caught the full force of the storm of Wednesday night last and sustained such damage as rendered it necessary for the abandonment of the foundering vessel, and the Norwegian ship came along just as they were making the attempt, taking the crew on board as before noted. The men are staying at the Seamen's Institute and are not suffering any ill effects.

Obituary.

Death has again visited Salmonier and taken from our midst a very amiable and kind woman, in the person of Mrs. Ellen Allison. Deceased was in her 66th year, and was feeling in good health until about three months ago when she was taken suddenly ill, but after a week or two recovered slightly only to be attacked three or four days later. From the second relapse she never recovered; each day she faded away and patiently awaited the approach of her end which she knew was the only cure for her frail system and which slowly and peacefully came on December 13th. During her long illness she was never known to complain, but was quite reconciled to Gods Holy will. Despite the lossness of her constitution her relatives and friends thought she would recover as it would be a consolation to her family if she had stayed with them to spend their Xmas together, but God willed it otherwise. As she was well prepared by the Very Rev. J. J. Rawlins for her eternal journey, we feel assured that she has obtained her reward which is due those who suffer and die in friendship with God. The funeral took place from her residence, at New Bridge, and was largely attended. Interment was at St. Joseph's, Mrs. Allison leaves to mourn her a husband, three sons, one daughter, two sisters and two grandchildren, and a large number of relatives. To these we extend our sympathy.

A loved one from that home is gone, a voice well loved is stilled. A place is vacant in that group. By no other it can be filled. R.I.P. Salmonier, North Side, Dec. 30, 1919.

NOTE OF THANKS.—Mr. and Mrs. Simon LeDrew and family of Briggs, wish to thank Dr. Keenan, the sisters and nurses of Crowdy War General Hospital, for their kind attendance to their son, Albert, during his short stay at the Hospital he having passed away Dec. 31st. Especially do they wish to thank nurses Lewis and Lester for many acts of kindness and courtesy shown them while visiting their dear son. —

BORN.
On December 30th, a daughter to Mr. and Mrs. Chas. J. Grace, 10 Knight's Street.
Jan. 1st, 1920, a daughter to Mr. and Mrs. A. Fitzgerald, 39 Henry St.

DIED.
Passed peacefully away, of heart failure, on New Year's Day, James Long, of Open Hall, B.B.—R.I.P.
On the 3rd inst. at New York, Adolphus John Harvey, eldest son of the late Hon. A. W. and Mrs. Harvey, aged 54.
On Sunday morning last, there passed away the person of Mrs. I. H. O'Leary, daughter of Timothy and Margaret Quigley, leaving a husband, one son and daughter, also Mrs. (Capt.) J. Turner and Mr. John Quigley, Grocer, Pleasant Street. Funeral takes place on (to-morrow) Tuesday, at 2.30 p.m. from her late residence, 123 Bond Street. Friends and acquaintances please accept this invitation without further notice.—May her soul rest in peace Amen.

Popular Priest Transferred.

PARISHIONERS MAKE PRESENTATION.

Address From the People of the Parish of Tor's Cove, to Rev. C. A. McCarthy, P.P. TOR'S COVE, Jan. 5. Special to Evening Telegram.

Rev. and Dear Father:—It is with the deepest regret that we are here this evening to express how keenly we feel having to part with such a dear friend and zealous Priest. During the three years that you have ministered to us you have endeared yourself to each and every one of us by your unceasing labors for our spiritual and temporal welfare. While we sincerely regret having to part with you, Rev. Father, it is a source of great consolation to us to know that you have been promoted to a larger and more populous parish of Renewal. During the years of your sojourn in this parish you have grown each day more dear to our hearts, and on leaving us you may feel certain the people bear for you sentiments of the warmest affection. We ask you to accept the accompanying gift as a small memento of our esteem and good will.

Signed on behalf of the parishioners,
JOHN B. RONAYNE,
WILLIAM TEE,
GARRETT MELVIN,
JOHN FITZGERALD,
MATTHEW MELVIN,
THOMAS COLBERT.

After thanking the people for their address and generous gift, the Rev. Pastor said:—

"Of your kindly interest in me, of your warm feelings and of your appreciation of my work, I was already aware, but this address, this outward expression of your sentiments regarding me, makes me feel still more happy in the thought that I bring to my new parish the affectionate regard, the good will and friendship of the people of the old. Your spirit of faith and religion is known throughout the land, and I hope you will hand down that spirit of faith and religion to future generations. I trust that spirit of loyalty and religion, which exists to-day, will continue as we go down the years, and that you will always have loyal and zealous pastors, who will encourage and promote that spirit of faith and religion. I go, but I shall be with you in lasting memory and happy recollections, and I hope to be remembered in your prayers. I shall keep and treasure your address, and in return shall remember you in prayers and masses." The Rev. Pastor also thanked the Sodality members for their kind gifts and remembrances, and hoped that all would later be members of the nobler sodalists of the Blessed Virgin in Heaven. Lastly he thanked all for manifold gifts and acts of kindness, and hoped God would protect all.

Placentian Bay Incensed by Action of Government.

Telegrams Pouring In From all Parts of District.

Mr. W. J. Walsh, Member for Placentia and St. Mary's, has within the past few days, received numerous telegrams from indignant constituents in all parts of the Bay in reference to the change in the schedule of the Coastal Bay steamer. The Argyle has been taken off her regular route and such places as Red Island, Placentia, Haystack, Sound Island, Merasheen and Tack's Beach are without mails or shipping facilities. Mr. Walsh has written a forceful letter to the Minister of Shipping, protesting vigorously against the Government's action. Mr. Walsh's colleagues and constituents are with him to a man, and it looks as if the Government is in trouble unless a speedy re-arrangement is effected.

Week of Prayer.

Following is the programme, speakers and places of meeting for the Week of Prayer, beginning to-day, January 6th:

Memorial Service at Gower St. Church.

A most impressive Memorial Service for the late J. E. P. Peters was held in the Gower Street Methodist Church last night. The Pastor of the Church conducted the service, assisted by Revs. Dr. Cowperthwaite and Dr. Fenwick; and the pulpit, rostrum, choir gallery and pew of deceased were draped in black.

The service was opened by the rendering of "Abide With Me," a favorite hymn, by the choir, followed by prayer by Dr. Fenwick. Then came another hymn, the reading of the scriptures, and the anthem "Hallelujah, what are these arrayed in white" by the choir. The panygetic, which was indeed a sermon and eulogy combined, was delivered by the Rev. Dr. Cowperthwaite, who despite his more than fourscore years, spoke with remarkable strength of voice and fervency of spirit. It was a wonderful and affecting address, which deeply touched his hearers and will abide a lasting memory.

His acquaintance with the late Mr. Peters, said Dr. Cowperthwaite in part, extended over a period of thirty years, in fact he was the first resident of Newfoundland he was acquainted with. The acquaintance developed from a letter, written by the deceased thirty years ago this month, and signed by him as Recording Steward of the Circuit, inviting him to become the Pastor of Gower Street Church and congregation. He believed the call was of God and accepted. On July 15th, 1890, Dr. Cowperthwaite and family arrived in St. John's for the first time, and was welcomed to the city and church by the late Mr. Peters and other kind friends. In the years since elapsed the friendship then formed has been cemented. They did not always see eye to eye in regard to the minor matters of life; but in the great essentials that form the warp and woof of the body politic and especially the Christian faith, they were in entire accord. He greatly prized the friendship of this good man, now momentarily broken, but which he hoped to renew in the land where partings would never take place. In accepting the invitation to speak he did so because it afforded him an opportunity of saying a few words of appreciation and drawing attention to some of the lessons we all might learn from the life our dear brother lived.

"In the course of my long ministry said Dr. Cowperthwaite, I have met some good men, but I can say honestly that I have rarely met a man who in my judgment more fully met the scriptural requirements of a good man. Try the late Mr. Peters by any test and he was a good man—diligent in business, fervent in spirit, serving the Lord. He did justly, loved mercy and walked humbly with God; such a man as Isaiah speaks of—"and a man shall be as the shadow of a great rock in a weary land." The words particularly refer to the Saviour, but in a general sense they are descriptive of the man of God."

"In the limited space it is impossible to do justice to the beauty of expression or the sympathetic appeal of the address. Nay it was more than an address, it was a benediction. The service, memorable as well as memorial, closed with the "Dead March in Saul."

Henry Blair

The shadow means influence, of which there are two kinds; voluntary or involuntary, conscious or unconscious. Voluntary influence was the outcome of a deliberate act. We are beings of influence. No one liveth to himself; the law of interdependence rules in the universe. The influence of a good man is the outcome of the shining of the Son of Righteousness upon his character and life. God designed to save the world through the agency of his people; but the work was not carried on altogether by the greatest leaders. The greatest factor in the aggregate was the influence of men and women less known, less renowned, who are content to work in the more circumscribed spheres of effort; and we should be thankful for the noble people who have served faithfully and well in their day and generation. "Need I say of the man who Sabbath after Sabbath walked up that aisle, but who will come back no more—the life and influence of that man is something to which we all can bear witness."

Influence was reproductive. No one liveth to himself. A man influences others and they in turn influence others still. The late Mr. Peters was a man of probity, industry, fearless in the denunciation of wrong and contention for right. In the Gower St. Church his influence will ever be felt; and his memory will be an inspiration to the workers who follow in the long years that stretch before the church in its opportunities for doing good.

As the sun of life draws near its setting, its influence is greatest, even as the natural sun as it goes down in the west casts a longer and broader shadow. He had no hesitation in saying that the influence of the deceased brother was greatest at the time of his death. He was in full possession of his mental powers, went regularly to his business, was always found in the House of God. For a few weeks we missed him, and then he fell asleep—"He was not for God took him." On last Sunday morning, just as the morning light was breaking over the Southside hills, the heavenly light caught his vision and he passed on.

A few minutes after Mr. Peters, death word had come to him, and he thought of the words of a famous musician:

"Spirit, spirit, thy labour is o'er,
Thy term of probation is run;
Thy steps are now bound for the untrodden shore
And the race of Immortals begun."

The departed now knows the mysteries of the hereafter—mysteries of which he had freely talked with Mr. Peters, with his late friends Dr. Shea, and Mr. Alexander Shirran. Here Dr. Cowperthwaite feelingly referred to the changes of the past 30 years. The middle aged have become old and passed on, the young had become middle-aged, and a new generation had grown up. Only a few of his age remain, and he was standing on the shore waiting for the boat to take him across the bar, and out into the Deep, where he hoped to meet his Pilot face to face. In his closing tribute, Dr. Cowperthwaite pointed out that the work of those who had gone on before, would have to be carried on, and the same difficulties would have to be experienced, but he exhorted the members of the congregation upon whom the burdens of the church would fall, to be not slothful but follow the example of the good men of God who had carried it on before them.

In the limited space it is impossible to do justice to the beauty of expression or the sympathetic appeal of the address. Nay it was more than an address, it was a benediction. The service, memorable as well as memorial, closed with the "Dead March in Saul."

The proposal to undertake vessel building in Newfoundland on a large scale is to-day a proposition that the Trade will be compelled not to ignore. Much has been done by Messrs. Harvey & Co., Job Brothers, Bishop & Sons, A. E. Hickman Co., M. E. Martin, the P. F. U. and other enterprising men, the past five years, to keep up the depleted fleet by building new vessels, but the work must be undertaken on a very much larger scale if Newfoundland is to carry on its fishing, trading and export business. Regular shipyards where operations can be carried on all the year round, and with seasoned timber of at least a year old, is what seems to be needed. Sporadic efforts such as have been going on in recent years will not be sufficient to keep up the fleet necessary to carry on the business of the country. Forty ton schooners are needed as badly as those over 100 tons. It is to our mind the most serious problem that is to-day confronting the future welfare of Newfoundland.

More Vessels Needed.

(Trade Review.)
During the past three months there have been 127 Newfoundland vessels lost, including foreign and coastwise schooners. This is a serious situation and its gravity will not be fully realized till next Spring when the usual season's operations on the sea begins. The Labrador fleet is dwindling down gradually every season, and it is now only half what it was 25 years ago. It is becoming more difficult and more expensive every year to buy vessels in Nova Scotia and Maine, and the price per ton has now reached a figure that is about prohibitive.

MAJESTIC THEATRE

The Hit of the New Year.

ENRICO CARUSO, The World Famous Singer, in a Wonderful Screen Production,
"MY COUSIN,"

In which he appears in the prologue of the great opera Pagliacci, as produced in the Metropolitan of New York, and to see which the people of that city paid big sums. CARUSO has appeared in a limited number of pictures and this is the best. This is his first showing on the St. John's screen.

A MOST UNUSUAL AND NOVEL ATTRACTION.—Besides seeing the famous Italian singer on the screen, Majestic patrons may actually hear him sing to-night—his own, bona fide voice has been brought to St. John's for the picture, and as you see him on the screen you may at the same time hear him sing! With-out giving the secret away, let us urge upon every lover of good pictures and even better music to be present to-night. See grand opera right here in the home town!

Special Selections from the Opera Pagliacci will be rendered by the Orchestra.

THE AMERICAN WORKINGMAN.

I don't believe the workingman is mad with lust and hate and greed. I don't believe the men I meet have banished justice from their creed. I know the toiler at his bench, I know the printer at his press. And they are men who hold The Flag above material success.

I do not fear the feet of those who march to work from day to day. Will follow men who deal in hate and miss the broad and open way. I have no fear that doctrines vile expounded by an alien breed will lure one real American to utter any vicious creed.

I know the workingman to-day; I know that he would sooner die Than see the flag which shelters him In shame come fluttering from the sky.

And this I also know of him; that he would quickly strike to earth The man who dared to raise his voice against the country of his birth.

I know the toiler in his home; I've seen his wife and children smile, I've seen them nappy and content with all the joys that are worth while;

And I refuse to-day to thir that such a man would ever see The moanings of an alien few or do one treasonable deed.

LUMPS OF INDIGESTION

"Pape's Diapepsin" at once
fixes your Sour, Gassy,
Acid Stomach

Undigested food! Lumps of pain; belching gas, acids and sourness. When your stomach is all upset, here is instant relief—no waiting!

The moment you eat a tablet or two of Pape's Diapepsin all the indigestion pain and dyspepsia distress caused by acidity is relieved.

Your disordered stomach will feel fine at once.

These pleasant, harmless tablets of Pape's Diapepsin neutralise the harmful acids in the stomach, and give almost instant relief; besides they cost so little at drug stores.

A Prophetic Postage Stamp.

During the late war Turkey was hard put to it to provide postage stamps.

The beautiful stamp issue of 1913 was engraved and printed in London, and when Turkey joined in the war, she had only a six months' supply. As a belligerent she could obtain no more supplies from England, and so the Turkish postal authorities determined to use up their old stocks of declassified stamps, by overprinting on them the values required and a legend that these "surcharged" stamps were available for postage.

Unfortunately for the Turks—though luckily for collectors of "varieties" in the overprinted design included in the national insignia of the "Star and Crescent" a six-pointed star instead of the Moslem five-pointed species. Now this six-pointed star happened to be the heraldic emblem of Bethlehem, and orthodox Moslems at once pointed out that Turkey could not use a hated Christian symbol.

So a fresh set had to be issued this time, with a star having only five points. Another curious "point" about the whole thing was that soon afterwards Bethlehem once more became Christian in possession as well as sentiment.

The Regulations and the Board.

Editor Evening Telegram.

Dear Sir.—Once a fortnight or so, W. F. Coaker, Minister of Marine and Fisheries, pays St. John's a visit and spits out a whole mouthful of venom against all and sundry who dare show spirit enough to oppose his Mad Mullah schemes, and try to earn their livelihood, independent of his wishes.

This time his personal attack has been directed against the newly formed Brokers' Association and Messrs. Hue and Stone in particular.

I am not going to say anything in defence of these gentlemen, as it appears they are well able to defend themselves, except to call the attention of the public to the fact that they have lived all their lives in Newfoundland, and both have large families, which they are trying to bring up as good citizens. This is more than Coaker can say, and if he were to drop out of this mundane sphere to-morrow, no body would miss him, and few would care.

However, it is not Coaker either that I started to write about, but these obnoxious fishery regulations which he has foisted upon the Country, and which in my opinion, if persisted in, will mean the ruin of the Newfoundland fish markets of the world. Already there are unmistakable signs that our chief competitors—the Norwegians—are taking advantage of the situation, and are endeavouring to oust us from the Mediterranean markets. If we antagonize our customers there, this will be easily accomplished. So far as Codfish is concerned, we are not the "only pebbles on the beach." It is only a blind politician of the Coaker type, who would think this. There are other countries in the world that produce far more fish products than Newfoundland. Does the great Coaker know that after years of scientific study and research into the Western Methods of Catching and Curing fish, that the Japanese have taken up Codfishing into markets which we have had for hundreds of years. They are also curing it in the same manner that we are, and are exploiting it in the markets of the Pacific Coast of America. I say does Coaker know this? Then who is he, to think that

President White Explains

Editor Evening Telegram.

Dear Sir.—In recent issues of the Star and Post, there appeared a letter charging Mr. J. Cadwell and others with using the Rooms of the N. I. W. A. in the interest of the Cashin Party. The inference to be drawn, or may be drawn, was that Mr. Cadwell and his associates were doing so without proper authority, and with a view to having the public believe that the N. I. W. A. were allied with said party.

If such were the intention, then it is unwarranted, untruthful. As he had no more to do with the transaction than any other member of the Executive. Sir M. P. Cashin made application for the use of the Rooms and accepted the price asked by the N. I. W. A. Executive. The transaction was a purely business one, and in no sense allies the Association with the said party.

It is also a matter of surprise to the Executive of the N. I. W. A. to find that a great number of persons are of the opinion that the N. I. W. A. were the prime movers in placing Mr. Linegar on the Cashin ticket. Such belief is entirely wrong. The N. I. W. A. had no hand, act, or part in doing so. Nor is the Association the least bit interested in the Election now pending. And the same applied to the general Election. The members cast their votes as they pleased, and there is no obligation to prevent them from doing so in the present contest.

This contribution is at the request of the Executive of the N. I. W. A. Respectfully yours,
T. M. WHITE,
President.

Railway Partly Clear.

As far as Tor's Cove the Trepassy branch line is clear, though at Fourth Pond a drift is giving the trainmen some trouble.

The rotary was at work yesterday on the section between Munnels and Gambo, clearing the rails of a heavy drift, and owing to the presence of the latter the incoming train is held at Gambo, while another is at Bishop's Falls.

The Bay de Verde branch line is clear to Northern Bay.

Shot 2,000 Men to Give Indians Lesson.

The shooting of 2,000 Indian rioters last April, in order to terrify a threatening mob during the Punjab disturbance, is being investigated by a Commission of Inquiry in India. The facts are revealed in newspapers which have arrived from Calcutta. Evidence before the Commission was to the effect that the mob burned the National Bank premises at Amritsar, murdered the Manager and his assistant, and burned their bodies with kerosene. Railway lines were cut and villagers from outside arrived to help in the looting. General Dyer said he went round and through the city with a column consisting of 130 British troops, 330 Indian soldiers and two armoured cars. In one place the crowd numbered 5,000, and in order to disperse them, the General ordered rapid fire, 2,000 of the natives being killed.

Meeting in the armoury yesterday forenoon, some 150 old comrades of the Catholic Cadet Corps enrolled in the recently formed "Old Comrades' Association." Double as many as this are expected to have joined up by the end of the present month. Lord Morris, who for many years took an active part in the work of the Brigade, was elected Honorary President at yesterday's meeting, and he will be informed of the fact by the Secretary. The matters of opening club-rooms and of inaugurating a Ladies' Auxiliary were also discussed, and will receive further consideration. A card tournament for a prize of $20 will tonight open the winter's programme.

Shipping Notes.

S. S. Watuka with a cargo of coal from Sydney reached port yesterday. She is discharging at A. Harvey & Co.'s to-day.

The Glutha has cleared from G. M. Barr's. She takes 5682 qts. codfish to Gibraltar for orders.

Schooner Constellation has cleared from Wood's Island with 1650 barrels herring for Gloucester.

S. S. Rooke arrived from Bell Island yesterday. She will undergo general repairs here.

Capt. Kean's new schooner Little Princess, arrived in port yesterday morning from Halifax, with a cargo of coal. The vessel was launched about a month ago, since when she has been rigged, loaded and made her maiden voyage.

The tug Ingraham has gone to Sol-don to tow the Gordello to this port. A. H. Murray's vessel Falka, Capt. Hillier, has arrived at Patras, Greece. All well.

In Memory of Rose McCarthy.

(By Her Brother.)

A sweet little flower in its opening bloom
Shorn from the stem by the cycle of doom.

Not a leaf out of place, not a petal astray,
No token foreshadowing early decay.

No eating, destroying disease at its root,
No withering decline marred the promise of fruit.

No bruise, no mark, no violence shows
On the fair, pale form of our dead white Rose.

Oh, Rose, dearest Rose, thou art gone
From our tree
But thou'lt bloom in God's own conservatory.

Fairer and brighter than ever thou wert
In the rough, dry soil of this so-called earth.

And we will look up and see thee there
Happy and bright and radiant fair.
Oh Rose! sweet Rose, may your perfume there
Be ever and ever, for us, a prayer.

It is hard to lose you, so sweet, so fresh;
The spirit is strong, but weak our poor flesh!

Yet, who would not give to God above
That which He loves with greater love.

Than if all the love this cold world could impart
Were gathered together in one big heart?

Our poor dead Rose! we must lay you away,
God grant that we meet you again some day.

But we'll never, never forget you, dear
'Till by God's grace we see you again, up there.

Juvenile T. A.'s Meet.

The T. A. Juvenile Society met yesterday, when the $5 gold piece offered by President Ellis for the boy who had brought in the greatest number of new members was awarded to Master F. Fleming, who had succeeded in getting 23. The prize for the second biggest number went to Master James Bennett. A consolation prize was also given Master Richard Myron. Inspector O'Brien's prize of $5 for hygiene was awarded Master R. Wilson. These prizes, with some new ones, will be offered for the ensuing year. The annual treat will be given in a couple of weeks, it was decided. Application for membership were received from six candidates.

Hungry People Scarce.

CHRISTMAS DINNERS WENT BEGGING AT NEW YORK.

New York, Dec. 25.—Christmas dinners went begging on the Bowery to-night. Roast turkey with all its trimmings, candy and mince pie, failed to attract half as many hungry men as were served in former years. This was attributed to prevalent prosperity and prohibition.

The famous Bowery mission served only 400 persons, where in former years they had been called upon to provide for at least 1500. Many missions did not serve the usual Christmas dinners because of the lack of applicants.

The usual Christmas noon hour dinner at the McAuley Water Street mission was postponed until to-night because of the lack of applicants. Not a man appeared at noon, although 400 pounds of turkey and many good things had been prepared. A few years ago it was not unusual for the mission to feed 1,500 but to-night less than 300 hungry men appeared.

World's Murder Months.

Have you ever heard of the "Almanack of Crime?" It is one of the most remarkable almanacks ever published, and is the result of many years research by a well-known continental crime expert, who has been steadily collecting statistics for it nearly all his life.

The origin of this unique almanack is very simple. Like a good many other people he thought not only that crime was more common during certain months of the year, but that certain crimes occurred more frequently in one month than in another. No one else, however, has taken the trouble to test the theory thoroughly and so the almanack was born.

The compiler found that most cases of murder occurred in January, June and August, and fewest in November, December and February. The favourite month with poisoners is May, while the month they like least is September. September, in fact, is one of the least "criminal" months in the whole calendar.

Just as murderers dislike November and December, it was just these months that burglars and thieves generally got busy. Forgers, as one might have expected, chose round about quarter days more frequently than any other times in the year to show their skill.

NEWFOUNDLAND COAL!

Start The New Year Right.

GIVE IT YOUR MORAL AND FINANCIAL SUPPORT

Every Investor, Large or Small, has an Opportunity to Invest in the St. George's Coal Fields, Limited--A Project of National Importance to Newfoundland

Eminent Geologists and Coal Experts who have visited the property from time to time and made careful investigations and assays are convinced that the areas under consideration contain coal of considerable commercial value.

That there is coal in the areas referred to has been known for over seventy years, but only during the past year has the territory been receiving the attention that it deserves. An impending world shortage of coal, serious fuel problems in Canada and the United States, should focus the attention of every Newfoundlander on this great potential source of wealth.

THE ST. GEORGE'S COAL FIELDS, LIMITED, a Newfoundland Company, managed by Newfoundlanders, controls the choicest lands in the District of St. George's.

The Company's holdings have been selected by experts as the most promising coal areas in Newfoundland.

The Company intends to fully develop these lands, which after a year's careful work have been found to warrant complete exploration.

The St. George's Coal Fields, Ltd.

OFFICE: CABOT BUILDING 262 WATER STREET, ST. JOHN'S.

AUTHORIZED CAPITAL, $500,000.00.

DIVIDED INTO 500,000 SHARES OF PAR VALUE $1.00 EACH.

THE ST. GEORGE'S COAL FIELDS, LIMITED, was incorporated to acquire and develop a highly prolific bituminous coal mining area situated on the Middle Barachois and Robinson's Rivers about 7 miles inland from the Reid Newfoundland Company's Railroad, in the District of St. George's, on the West Coast of the Island of Newfoundland.

The area, originally 4 square miles, has now been increased to about 10 square miles, or 6400 acres, and is covered with a thick growth of virgin forest, thus containing in itself an unlimited supply of timber for building purposes, as well as suitable wood for pit props in the operation of the mines.

The ORIGINAL geological estimates made from surface indications placed the possible contents at 29,920,000 tons to the square mile. From DEVELOPMENT work performed during the past year considerably over 30,000,000 tons to the square mile can now be estimated.

In addition to the above holdings, the Company also has access to an additional 8 square miles, which can be acquired at any time.

The affairs of the Company are in the hands of reliable men, who are devoting every effort to ensure the greatest possible returns for the money expended.

The practical work is under the supervision of a competent man of thirty years' mining experience.

Seven promising seams of coal have already been located:

THE JUKES, giving 6 ft. of good, clean coal.

THE HOWLEY, giving 4 to 11 ft. of excellent coal.

THE MURRAY, giving 5 ft. of good coal.

THE CLEARY, giving 3 ft. of high grade coal.

THE DIAMOND, originally 1 foot, now giving over 30 inches of coal.

NEW FIND No. 1: Containing 4 ft. mixed coal and shale.

NEW FIND No. 2: 5 ft. in width at the outcrop.

In the Past the cream of Newfoundland's mineral resources have been exploited by foreign capital. This is a genuine Newfoundland enterprise which should have the support of every Newfoundlander interested in the development of Newfoundland's coal resources.

The work of the past year to which we invite inspection is alone a guarantee that the funds of the Company have been expended with economy and good judgment.

Sufficient is known as a result of the past season's work to warrant a thorough examination of the whole property.

There is no reason for a coal shortage in this Dominion to-day, and the investing public is invited to participate in bringing about the full and complete development of a resource which promises so much to the country's future.

The Directors have faith in their project that has the backing of Government Geological Reports. IF YOU, TOO, have faith in Newfoundland's resources, and want to contribute to the development of these areas, the potentialities of which are limitless, you are invited to participate in the present issue of stock.

There is no miracle in a good investment. A good investment is the result of good judgment.

We welcome the most thorough investigation. At the Office of the Company, CABOT BUILDING, 262 WATER STREET, ST. JOHN'S, every question that you may care to ask concerning this Company and its projects will be answered.

Newfoundland is at present suffering from a shortage of coal. Would not full development of Newfoundland's coal resources enable this country to be independent of outsiders for its fuel supply?

Newfoundland imported 286,000 tons of coal during 1918 at a cost of $3,700,000, the greater portion of which left this Dominion to swell the profits of foreign capitalists.

If this money is retained in Newfoundland it means the ultimate building up of other industries which will of necessity follow in the train of successful coal development.

Obituary.

HONORABLE JOHN HARVEY.

With regret we chronicle the death of one of Newfoundland's foremost sons—Honorable John Harvey, business man and legislator. A message from New York, received in the city, stated that he had passed away at 1 p.m. yesterday, the victim of a relapse in meningitis. Operated on on Christmas Day, his recovery seemed assured and it was not until New Year's Day that the relapse came. In the mercantile, social and political life of Newfoundland Mr. Harvey took a prominent part, and on more than one occasion was urged to accept political leadership. His large business interests prevented acquiescence, but the deep interest which he always evinced in public matters left the hope that the day might come when he would be in a position to devote his time, energies and great abilities in this direction. On the Legislative Council, of which he was a member for over fourteen years, the impress of his personality was pronounced from the time of his appointment. Every Bill presented for consideration received this from him in full measure. Into his legislative duties he put the same thoroughness which characterized his business life, which was also manifest in all social service, church and educational work in which he was engaged. The firm of Harvey & Co., Ltd., owes much of its great growth and prosperity to Mr. Harvey's invaluable services as Director, whilst his work in connection with Public Health and notably as President of the Association for the Prevention of Consumption, remains in its results as an enduring memorial of his philanthropic efforts. It may be said of him that nothing that promised to ameliorate the conditions governing the social or commercial life of St. John's or Newfoundland failed to find in him an active and practical leader or supporter. His passing in the fulness of his manhood, at the present critical juncture in the affairs of the Empire, will be deeply regretted by all citizens. It is as though a cornerstone had been removed from the edifice of the public, commercial and industrial life of the Colony.

The late John Harvey was the eldest son of Hon. Augustus W. Harvey, M.L.C., and was born 54 years ago. He received his education at Halesbury College, England. He became a partner in the business of his father in 1887. He held office as President of the Board of Trade, and was one of the Charter members. He was Chairman of the Commission of Public Health formed in 1909, and President of the A. P. C. In addition to his Directorship in Harvey & Co., Ltd., Mr. Harvey was an active director or member of many other industrial or commercial companies. The connection of his firm with the Red Cross Line brought him in prominent and close touch with the great transportation lines of America.

Mr. Harvey was married to Miss Henrietta Gordon, daughter of J. W. Gordon, Pictou, N.S., in 1905. Lieutenant-Commander Bernard Harvey, a brother, was the first Newfoundland soldier to make the Supreme Sacrifice in the Great War, being one of the lost on H. M. S. Cressy in September, 1914. Mr. Edward Harvey, of New York, and Miss Harvey, a sister, survive. To the bereaved widow, mother and family goes the sincere sympathy of the whole community, in which the Evening Telegram joins.

Xmas Tree at Kelligrews

On Tuesday evening, 30th ulto., the children of Codner and Kelligrews, as well as the adults were given a real good time in the spacious school room. The room was nicely decorated for the occasion. The tree, lit up with candles and loaded with good things, was cer-tainly the delight of the children. The ladies of the C. E. W. A. served teas, and the young people after assisting themselves at the ladies boards, tripped the light fantastic step in the Fish-ermen's Hall, kindly lent for the oc-casion. Much credit is due Mr. Jones for the success of the tree and to the ladies for their excellent teas. The handsome sum of $110.00 was realized, which was placed to the credit of the New Church fund.—Com. eKelligrews, Jan. 2, 1919.

Imports for 1919.

(Trade Review)
St. John's imported roundly last year 290,000 barrels of flour as against 181,577 in 1918; 29,000 bar-rels pork as compared with 36,828 in 1918; 25,000 barrels beef, as against 27,593 last year; 11,965 punchons of molasses as compared with 10,490 last year; 119,000 hundredweights of hay as against 111,035 in 1918. Also, 40,000 tons salt as compared with 70,059 last year. Our coal imports amount to 38,000 this year as com-pared with 94,000 last year.

Election Petitions Filed.

A petition charging bribery and cor-ruption against Dr. W. E. Jones, M. H.A. for Harbor Main, was filed on Saturday last. The petition is signed by Charles Hynes. A petition against W. W. Woodford, M.H.A., on similar charges was also filed and is signed by Richard Kelly.

Wedding Bells.

A pretty wedding took place at George St. Methodist Church on Dec. 31st, the contracting parties being Miss L. Hoskins and Mr. H. R. Wicks, both of Greenspond. The bride, who was dressed in a dark blue costume, with hat to match, was given away by Mr. J. T. Butler, and was attended by her sister, Miss Blanche Hoskins. Mr. Alpheus Wicks, brother of the groom, performed the duties of best man. After the ceremony a reception was held at the residence of the groom's sister. The many presents received testify to the popularity of the young couple, who have the best wishes of their many friends.

NOTICE!

Those who have not made application for telephone service within the past month or two should do so as soon as possible.

This applies also to present telephone subscribers who want additional telephones installed.

It is expected that the new telephone system will be in operation within nine months, meanwhile the Company will continue to operate the present telephone system which it has taken over from the Anglo and Western Union Telegraph Companies.

Applications made now will assist the Company materially in laying out its cables and lines to the best advantage and much less time will be lost in supplying applicants with telephone service.
