DOMINION PARLIAMENT.

OTTAWA, June 5th.

Mr. O'Connor, in the absence of Mr. Harrison, moved the second reading of a bill to extend the law as to carrying dangerous weapons, so as to prohibit the carrying of loaded pistols. Lost on a division.

Sir F. Hincks asked leave to move a resolution which was not in order. He had to-day received a telegram from Washington informing him that both Houses of Congress had agreed to impose a duty of ten per cent on all tea and coffee imported into the United States from countries west of the Cape of Good Hope.

His resolution proposed to give the Governor-General in Council power to impose by proclamation the same duty upon tea and coffee imported from the United States that the United States imposed upon tea and coffee imported into that country from Canada. He moved that the House go into committee to-morrow on the resolution. Carried.

Mr. Tremblay moved the second reading of his bill to provide for taking the poll at parliamentary elections by ballot, and explained the details of the measure. A motion for the three months' rest was carried.

Mr. Fournier moved the second reading of a bill to provide for the nomination of Returning Officers for the next general election of members for the House of Commons.

It also got the three months' rest. A number of private bills were advanced a stage.

Sir Francis Hincks moved that on Friday next the House do go into committee of the whole on a resolution to improve the navigation of St. Lawrence between Montreal and Quebec.

Several items in the Supply Bill were passed.

Wesleyan Methodist Conference.

The annual Conference of this Church opened at Montreal on the 24th in Great St. James's Church. The Rev. W. M. Pughon, L. L. D., in the chair. After introductory devotional exercises, the roll of the Conference was called. The attendance was large. The paragraph of the address from the English Conference, which contained the re-appointment of Mr. Pughon as President, and the approval of Mr. Borland's election as delegate, was read. The Conference proceeded to the election of its secretary.

The Rev. W. Scott received 159 votes, Rev. A. Sutherland 31, and Rev. E. Rickman 27. The Revs. E. Rickman and J. Clark were appointed assistant secretaries, G. French, journal secretary, and Dr. Evans and Leville conference letter writers.

The President, in addressing the Conference, said he had attended during the year the two largest Methodist Conferences in the world, that of our brethren in the United States and that of our fathers in England. Of the interference of the latter he was not tired, and was sure Conference shared with him in this feeling, and he greatly rejoiced in the wonderful prosperity of the former.

The Rev. Mr. Borland, co-delegate, also briefly addressed the Conference. The Rev. B. G. Sanderson gratefully acknowledged the thanks tendered to him for his services as the co-delegate of the past year, as did also the Rev. A. Sutherland, the retiring secretary, who was cordially thanked for his services.

After the appointment of Committees the Revs. Dr. Mulligan and Mr. Tang, a deputation from the Kirk of Scotland to the Kirk in this country, were introduced to the Conference by Rev. Dr. Taylor. They were presented in a few most appropriate words of welcome by the President. Suitable acknowledgments were made by the gentlemen.

The Rev. L. W. Wigham, the secretary of the English Conference, was introduced and said a few words.

The Rev. Mr. McKay, Secretary of the Irish Conference, was also introduced.

Part of the forenoon and most of the afternoon was employed in the yearly examination of the character of each minister.

Church of Scotland Synod.

The Synod of the Church of Scotland in Canada opened on the 5th inst., in St. Andrew's Church, Kingston.

After devotional exercises, the Moderator, Rev. Duncan Morrison, of Owen Sound, preached an appropriate sermon. The roll was then called by Rev. Prof. Macdonald, Clerk. About one hundred and twenty persons were in attendance.

The retiring Moderator briefly thanked the Synod for its indulgence, and nominated the Rev. Dr. Hogg, of Guelph, as his successor, which was unanimously approved, and the new Moderator was formally conducted to the chair, and returned thanks for the honour conferred upon him.

The first item of business was the reading of the replies to the addresses of last session.

Rev. Dr. Bain, Rev. David Watson, and Rev. D. J. Macdonnell were re-elected Trustees of Queen's College.

Rev. Principal Snodgrass read a report of the Commission appointed to enquire into and settle the Fergus matter. The Commission visited Fergus, and after conferring with both parties, effected a settlement. As the case had been happily settled by a harmonious agreement of the elders and managers of the congregation, Principal Snodgrass thought no more explanations were needed.

The Moderator said he lived a few miles from the place, and that the congregation was now completely united. He thought the gentlemen forming the Commission deserved thanks for their successful labors.

The report was adopted, and the Commission formally thanked. Some charges in connection with this affair, preferred against the Rev. Mr. Burnett by the Fergus managers, were withdrawn.

Rev. Dr. Masson, minister of the Gaelic Church, Edinburgh, Scotland, was introduced and cordially invited to a seat in the Synod.

Rev. Dr. Bell, as delegate to the General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church at Detroit, reported that he was received with great cordiality, along with the other delegates.

Rev. Prof. Macdonald presented the report of the Committee on Correspondence with the Colonial Committee of the General Assembly of the Church of Scotland. The report showed that the Colonial Committee continued to manifest warm interest in the welfare of the Church in Canada, and had placed at its disposal Messrs. Thomas Hart, M.A., and Robert Campbell, M.A.

Rev. Dr. Masson, Gaelic missionary, was then called upon to address the Synod, and said he did so with great diligence, and would confine his remarks wholly to his special work in this country, which had given him great satisfaction. The report was adopted.

Rev. R. Campbell read the report of the Commission, composed of himself, Mr. D. J. Macdonnell, of Toronto, and Rev. Mr. Gordon, appointed to visit the Synod of the Church in the Lower Provinces, meeting at St. John, New Brunswick, last summer. The report gave an interesting description of the zeal, prosperity, and devotion manifested in this portion of the Dominion. It mentioned their desire for Union, and concluded by hoping that this Church would be placed in more intimate relations with the sister Church.

Mr. Campbell introduced delegates from the Lower Provinces, the Revs. Messrs. Wilson and Duncan, who were cordially received.

The report was adopted.

The Republican Convention at Philadelphia has got to work. The three candidates for President are Grant, Wilson and Colfax, and the latest reports state that the contest between the latter two is very close.

HELEN MOIR OR—
LOVE AND HONOUR.

A TALE OF THE CLYDE. CHAPTER XXXV.

RESTORATION—THE FAST-SPEERING BRIGHTNESS—
" Well, Ritchie," cried Helen, "what are we to say of this? Is it bonnier than the Clyde?"

"Oh, it's grand; it's very, very grand," answered Ritchie, as he drew a long breath. "It's just like a fairy scene in a mountain, only the happy prospect of Mr. Helen is added in a little, and with a depreciating shake of his head, 'there's naething like Benmore of Glenmessen, and it wants the bonny people heather and the curlin' mist.'"

"A very fine view of the Clyde in the main." "The Clyde in Germany and the Clyde in Scotland, both are best." "And," added Edwin, "when we are in Scotland we prefer the Clyde; when we are in Germany we prefer the Rhine. So, as we are Germany now, we shall all be Rhine worshippers—most sincere, most devoted, most enthusiastic. Eh, Ritchie?—Deed ye-er, that we will, for, after a', it's a glorious life!"

After feasting on the splendid scene to their hearts' content, the carriages moved forward in the descending path, and soon they were moving under the cool shadows of the vines, and obtaining glimpses of the river through still openings in the foliage.

Arrived at Natchford, and willing up the broad avenue to Rheinbach Villa, a joyous welcome awaited them from Madama Rheinbach and Mignon Lessing, who had been there a fortnight, and had been deterred from proceeding to Germany only on the assurance given them that Hermann was improving, and would soon be at the Villa.

The meeting between him and his mother was tender in the extreme. At sight of his wasted frame she burst into tears, so altered was he from the strong manly youth who had left her not two months before. But his bright smile and hopeful words cheered her, and when he pointed to Helen as his good angel through all his distress, the overjoyed mother pressed the fair girl to her bosom, and gave her a mother's thanks and blessing.

Mignon, too—the gay and lively Mignon—received Hermann with much gladness and laughter, devoured Helen with frantic kisses, almost in her rapture kissed the Herr and Madam Rheinbach, shook Ritchie vigorously by the hand, and only blushed and hesitated in confusion when Edwin presented himself for her reception. Then, as if she were the glances from the eyes of both, which met each other as they face to face, their mutual love was fully betrayed, if not to themselves, at least to those who were looking on, and the satisfaction produced was genuine and universal.

The days that followed were days full of happiness and quiet, peaceful joy, and, as the doctor had predicted, brought to Hermann rapid health and strength. All day long the young folk were to be found rambling among the vineyards, or sailing over the blue and glassy waters of the river—Mignon and Edwin in one boat, and Helen and Hermann in another—the latter being rowed by Ritchie, not the least proud and happy of the group.

Of course, the two boats were often to be found in very close company, the lovers occasionally going away in different directions, in obedience to certain propinquities of the heart which can easily be guessed at. What circumstances could be more favorable to the growth and increase of affection? What wonder that Edwin and Mignon were speedily betrothed?

As for Hermann and Helen, their bliss was beyond description great, arising at once from their exalted natures, the depth and intensity of their love, and the great and peculiar trials by which that love had been subjected. This last was perhaps the chief element in their exquisite cup of joy, if faithfulness to duty, if maintained integrity ever produces satisfaction of soul; how abundant must that satisfaction have been in the case of Helen and Hermann, who had so nobly stood the severe test to which they had been subjected. What a recollection had they to dwell upon of unvalued and accepted sacrifice, the fruit of which had come to them in their present cloudless happiness, which was doubly sweet because it was the realized reward of former faith and resolve.

And so the autumn passed away, and Edwin left them to join his mother in England. At the end of September, she had quitted Ardenham and come to Allerton Hall. She, too, had had a time of great anxiety and suspense, which had its relief only in the receipt of letters from Edwin, in which he kept her apprised of all that took place at Gorse, and it was with heartfelt thankfulness she learned of Hermann's progress towards convalescence, and the removal of the party to the Villa on the Rhine, at which place she had the expectation of joining them ere long.

Yes; for the interesting information must now be communicated that before Edwin left Natchford, and before the Herr departed for Glasgow—which he required to do for business considerations—it had been settled that on a day near to Christmas the double marriage should be celebrated, when Mignon—Lessing should change her German name for that of Allerton, and when Helen should be no longer known by the name either of Moir or Allerton, but, as Hermann's wife, become a youthful Madama Rheinbach.

This was the happy prospect before them when Edwin left to arrange matters at Allerton Hall, and make preparations for the bringing home of his bride. About the middle of December he was to return accompanied by his mother, whose presence on the occasion was specially requested by Mignon—a request with which, as may naturally be supposed, Mrs. Allerton was very glad to comply.

"Now, let me find you quite recovered and quite strong when I return," was Edwin's parting injunction to Hermann as they separated at the gangway of the steamer that was to take the former down the river. "I have every hope that I shall," was Hermann's reply and he had good reason to hope so, for would he not spend the intervening weeks of winter in the salubrious air of the Rhine, and in the sweet inspiring society of his betrothed?

Erin Correspondence.

Erin seems to have been lost sight of in the columns of your valuable and widely circulated paper, for some time, especially since the Railway excitement has apparently subsided. Although we say the excitement has abated for a short time, yet we hope to rise at no distant day with renewed vigor, and work with might and main until the snorting from horse is heard speeding on its way through this village and township.

We will briefly notice a few of the improvements and changes recently taken place here. Messrs. McMillan, Gott Bros. have their large foundry and machine shop enclosed, and will soon have it in full blast for the manufacture of all kinds of farming implements.

Mr. H. Milloy has also fitted up a fine blacksmithshop in the old Shutter saw-mill. The fans and lathes are at present driven by water power. He also intends to fit up a trip-hammer, and other machinery for general blacksmithing, and for the manufacture of his celebrated ploughs.

Mr. John Walker is still carrying on the foundry and blacksmithing business, and manufacturing largely a new plough, which is said to be a good one. The village has in the past been celebrated for its ploughs, and we hope the new impetus which it has received will enable the manufacturers to supply the large demand for them.

A. Hood, Esq., with his family left this place a few days ago to take charge of a business in Worcester. Mr. Hood has been in business in Erin village for upwards of thirteen years, and during that time accumulated a large amount of property; but he says that through dis-credit and partners he has recently lost very heavily. He has now sold all his property in Erin. Two other agents sold his beautiful residence to Mr. R. Wood, druggist, and last fall his fine brick store and stock to Mr. Charles Ferguson. Mr. Hood was considered a straightforward, honest man, in all his dealings, and we believe has left Erin with a clean sheet, which we are sorry to say has not been the case with all of Erin's merchants who left before. For the last few years the place seems to have been a rendezvous for unprincipled men, who wished to make a haul and leave for Uncle Sam's. There is now another bankrupt stock, that of J. B. Conroy's, being sold off, which we hope will be the last for many years to come. The remedy is in the hands of wholesale dealers. If they would adopt the cash system or require good security, there would not be so many bankrupt stocks for sale, to the injury of those who wish to do an honest business. Although it seems to have been the case in Erin, however, it may be elsewhere, that any person could get a stock of goods, to any amount, without cash, security, or even character. We hope this state of things will now be at an end, and that wholesale dealers will be more careful in future to whom they sell.

The Rev. J. A. Thomson, Presbyterian minister of this place, left last week for Scotland. For some time past his health has been failing, until he found himself unable to discharge his duties. He obtained leave of absence for five months from the Presbytery. The congregation of Erin presented him with a purse containing $207, and Caledonia congregation with $72, as a token of the high esteem in which he is held by them.

The crops in general look well in this township, with the exception of the fall wheat, a great deal of which has had to be ploughed down and the land re-sowed. There is a great show of fruit this season, and if we are spared from summer frosts, and moisture continues, we expect to reap a beautiful harvest.

Erin village, June 5th, 1872.

Johnson's Anodyne Liniment will give more relief in cases of Chronic Rheumatism, no matter how severe, than any other article known to medical men."

After twenty-five years' medical experience, we have never met with a remedy worthy of dependence in any disease of the lungs, until the discovery of Fallow's Compound Syrup of Hypophosphites. This article really is reliable, and successful in a majority of cases.

WHEELER'S COMPOUND ELIXIR OF THE PHOSPHATES AND CALCIUM SALT contains the most valuable and scientific ingredients for the cure of all diseases of the system. It is a powerful and efficient agent in the treatment of all diseases of the system, and is especially adapted to the treatment of all diseases of the system, and is especially adapted to the treatment of all diseases of the system.

THE WASHINGTON TREATY.—The latest in reference to this Treaty is a despatch to the New York Herald, which states that a message was sent to Mr. Schenck intimating that the British suggestion for postponing the business of the Geneva Tribunal with a view to a better understanding of the Supplementary Treaty was not unreasonable, and that the United States Government is willing to bring about an adjournment of the arbitrators in either of the two ways pointed out in Earl Granville's communication of last Saturday; that is, by the formal treaty concluded at Washington before the Senate adjourns, or by the joint application, to be presented by agents of the two parties to the arbitration.

The Province of Manitoba is, for the first time, represented at the Assembly of the Canada Presbyterian Church, now sitting in Hamilton. The delegate is Prof. Bryce.

DR. CLARKE, M. P. P., has been chosen the Reform candidate for North Norfolk for the Commons.

The loyal Tories are puffing look-to-Washington Macdougall.

BREAKFAST—Epps's Cocoa—Gruetzel and Company.—By a thorough knowledge of the natural laws which govern the operations of digestion and nutrition, and by a careful application of the fine properties of well-selected cocoa, Mr. Epps has provided our breakfast tables with a delicately flavored beverage which will save us many hours of doctors' bills. It is a most healthful and invigorating food, and is supplied with boiling water or milk. Each packet is labeled "James Epps & Co., Homeopathic Chemists, London." Also, makers of Epps's Milky Cocoa (Cocoa and Condensed Milk).

It is often remarked by strangers visiting our Province, that we show a larger proportion of good horses than any other Province in the Dominion. This, we tell them, is owing to two principal reasons: in the first place, we breed from the very best stock; and in the second place, our people use Sheridan's Curative Condition Powders, which, in our judgment, are of incalculable advantage.
