Bangs His Fist on His Desk and Denies the Rumors of Insubordination.

NEW YORK, Jan. 30.—A correspondent of the American in St. Petersburg cables, under date of January 29: His imperial highness, the Grand Duke Vladimir, the uncle of the czar and the military dictator of St. Petersburg, and speaking as the personal correspondent of the Emperor, received the correspondent at the Winter palace this evening at 6 o'clock. The Grand Duke was exceedingly cordial and received him in his private library. It is decorated with priceless bronzes and pictures and is situated on the ground floor of the palace looking out on the snowy Yvortsovskaya square, the scene of last Sunday's sanguinary conflict. The Grand Duke is a handsome, soldierly man, of a face and high forehead. His manner is courteous and dignified. He spoke with great delicacy in discussing the recent strike. He speaks English and French fluently, but preferred the correspondent to converse with him in Russian. He said: "In no city in the world are revolutions permitted by the authorities. Child Emigration From England

Lord Mayor Presides over a Meeting to Discuss the Scheme.

Mr. Bryce Says Canadians Take No Interest in Fiscal Question.

Canadian Associated Press Cable.

LONDON, Jan. 30.—At the lord mayor's meeting in connection with the proposed scheme for child emigration, at which many spoke, Dr. Barnardo said Canada was unsuitable for children under five. He had made the experiment and found the death rate 200 in 1000. He thought the farms, under Mrs. Close's scheme, would soon be known as workhouse farms all over the country. He put an amendment to the original resolution, that the local government board be requested to have reported to the effect that the scheme would be very costly and impracticable. The resolution was declared carried by a large majority, though doubts were expressed whether a count of hands would prove the remedy for the unemployed and in sending to Canada a writer named H. Widdis with five pounds as a man of letters, speaking at Lewes, said the protectionists were under a complete delusion about Canadian sentiment. He had recently been to Canada and found some of the same ideas as those of the Canadian manufacturers feared British competition too much to let the tariff be lowered. Mr. Chaplin, addressing a tariff reform demonstration at Cambridge, said the colonies were the only place Great Britain could look to for a market for her goods. In spite of Lord Rosebery's denial, the colonies had made an arrangement with the United States, which in certain events she might repeat the present preference and possibly make an arrangement with the United States, who were doing their utmost to get Canada to make an arrangement with the United States.

The Japanese are now working under the name of the "Hokkaido" (Hokkaido) and "Chenshiang" (Chenshiang) and are entirely new organizations. The creation of increased fortifications in both directions is resulting in both sides heaping their reinforcements on their flanks, reaching the point of the Japanese army and hand will slowly be forced to precipitate a battle.

KUR OKI ATTEMPTS TO OUTFLANK RUSSIANS

Complete Failure of Kurapatkin's Move Results in a Counter Attack.

The Russian attempt to turn the Japanese left has resulted in a complete failure. The Russians close the front weather of the season, depending perhaps upon their familiarity with a snow country to aid them in their operations. Their artillery attacks on the Japanese permanent line were, it is thought, a demonstration to prevent the withdrawal of forces for the purpose of reforming the Japanese left. All yesterday afternoon and into the night an artillery duel was waged across the Shikhae river. There was much heavy rifle firing from positions where the entrenchments are closest. It has been quiet today, except on the left. The weather is much milder. Yesterday (Saturday) afternoon the Japanese began a fierce bombardment with artillery and musketry along the whole line. The fighting was not until midnight and was resumed at dawn today, continuing until noon. The Russian reply was feeble. The weather of the Japanese left wing for the purpose of surrounding and cutting off the Russians in the neighborhood of Pokoyev is progressing slowly, as the resistance has been stubborn. Should the Russian force be cut off it will result in a complete disaster to the flank unprotected.

PHILIPPINE ATROCITIES.

Montalvo offered a reward for the head of Governor Trias, and also various prices for the heads of other persons. The troops are on the trail of the bandits. It is declared that drastic measures are the government's only recourse.

NEW POLICE AND LICENSE BOARDS

Ald. Goodacre and Mr. G. Russell Renominated—Mr. Matson and Ald. Douglas.

Speculation as to the personnel of the police and licensing commissioners throughout the provincial cities will probably be ended today with the issue of an extra of the British Columbia Gazette containing the names of the gentlemen invested with responsibilities on these important boards. It is probable that there will be a change in the composition of Victoria's police commission. Ald. Goodacre and Mr. George Russell being reappointed to the board. The new license commissioners are understood to be Ald. James A. Douglas and Mr. J. S. H. Matson.

Lad Of Fifteen Ends His Life

Has Mania for Experiment With Deadly High-Power Explosives.

Despondency Ended With a Bullet Through the Heart.

Tragic in the extreme, and no less pathetic than tragic, was the death by his own hand on Sunday evening of Frederick Morrison Rogers, the fifteen-year-old son of Mr. C. W. Rogers, wholesale confectioner of 34 Government street.

On the authority of friends who knew him well and who were in frequent conversation with him in no way connected with the ghastly deed of Sunday, young Rogers was known as a "maniac for explosives."

Flourfax Fables

The Young Wife and the Honest Grocer.

A young wife decided to go to house keeping and do her own marketing.

"Now I want to save all the money I can," she told the grocer.

"I am going to buy just as economically as I can, and I am going to do my own cooking and bake my own bread."

"How much do you want?" "Well, we have them at various prices. The best are thirty cents a dozen."

"My, how expensive! Haven't you some for twenty?" "Yes, my dear, but I can't recommend them."

"But we are trying to save money." "True, but you can't afford to save money on eggs, butter and flour."

"Those are three things you want good and you can't have them too good."

"You can save lots of ways but don't do it on the necessities." "What is your best flour?"

"Royal Household." "How much does it cost?" "Ic told her.

"Have you cheaper flour." "Yes, cheaper in price but see in Royal Household Flour you get the largest amount of flour value for your money."

"What do you mean by 'flour value'?" "The largest amount of wheat nutrient—of pure flour."

"The cheaper the flour the less nutrient it has in it and the more it takes."

"It's all taken out of Royal Household Flour, and that means the best machinery all the best milling."

"And another thing, madam, perhaps you haven't heard of the new process used in making Royal Household Flour."

"It is purified by Electricity and that seems to make all the difference in the flour in flour."

"Everybody wants 'Royal Household' now—they seem to think it is healthier, and I guess it is."

Suddenly she looked suspicious at the earnestness of his argument.

"Don't you make more money on Royal Household Flour?"

"No, madam—not as much as we make on cheaper priced flour."

"Then why do you recommend it?" "Because when a customer once tries 'Royal Household' our trouble is all over. It sells itself after that and we never have any complaints. If you send to The Ogilvie Flour Mills Co., Limited, Montreal, they will send you the Royal Household Recipes."

"Well, send me a barrel of 'Royal Household' then; and I'll have some of those 30c. eggs too."
