THIRTEENTH YEAR

REDISTRIBUTION BILL.

Under Discussion in the Commons Yesterday.

D'ALTON M'CARTHY'S CRITICISM

Believes in Maintaining the County Boundaries.

MR. LAURIER SAYS GERRYMANDER

And Confines His Remarks to His Own Province.

Messrs. Cartwright and Mills Deal With Outside-Trade and Government Deal With Trade Through and Through and the Probabilities are That the House, Instead of Remaining in Session all Summer, Will be Prorogued in 20 Days, Perhaps Less.

OTTAWA, May 31.—The Redistribution measure is up in the House. How long it will remain there is the great question tonight, for on it will depend the length of the session. The Government are determined to carry it through. Their supporters will support it with the exception of Mr. A. L. M. McCarthy, who is opposed to it, in spite of a determined effort to have it allowed to pass, by reason of the force of numbers if not other.

D'Alton McCarthy has an elaborate criticism on the bill, so far as it is understood, will be delivered at an early opportunity. He believes in maintaining the county boundaries. If a county has in the neighborhood of 20,000 inhabitants, he would give it one member. If it had about 35,000 to 40,000 he would give it two members, but he would make up no electoral districts until the census is taken, and the representation. This is supposed to be his scheme. At all events it will be a strong speech, if it is delivered in the House.

Up to midnight the question had been fairly open, the preliminary discussion confined itself to the details of the redistribution of the Province of Quebec, Mr. Laurier limiting himself in his opening speech to his own province.

Mr. Cartwright and Mr. Mills will open up the Ontario side of the question later on. This may provoke a discussion. The French members were rather good-natured over the discussion of Quebec.

To sum up, then, it would look as if the discussion could not be prolonged into the night. It even appears to-night that the House might be brought to rest in 20 days, or less.

THE DEBATE IN THE HOUSE.

Mr. Laurier pronounced the Proposed Bill an Inflationary Measure.

OTTAWA, May 31.—At 2:30 minutes past 3 o'clock this afternoon Sir John Thompson moved the second reading of the Redistribution Bill, which was carried by a vote of 100 to 75.

Mr. Laurier was on his feet and amid the plaudits of his followers commenced his criticism of the act, which he denounced as an inflationary measure. He said that the bill would confine his own province to the Province of Quebec, leaving Ontario and the other parts of the Dominion to be dealt with by his followers. He first attacked the new representation bill to Montreal, and claimed that that city was not entitled to any further representation, although it had nominally 13 members of the House who were not entitled to sit there, and who represented the interests of that city. He did not desire, he said, to see the American system of delegate to reside in the district he represented, but he thought that Montreal was being represented by more than 13 citizens who were elected for other constituencies as he was by Sir Donald Smith and the two other members elected for the district.

He denounced the redistribution of the Montreal district as inflationary. Of the 25 constituencies in the Montreal district, 12 are represented by Conservatives and 13 by Liberals, but the bill would increase the number of Conservatives to 19 and the Liberals to 6.

He pointed out in detail how weak districts for the Conservatives had been strengthened and strong districts for the Liberals weakened. He said that the redistribution would be made by a committee of judges, but he and his friends would never agree to delegating any of the privileges of Parliament to a commission. The right must be exercised by Parliament itself, and he approved the plan adopted by Mr. Gladstone when he invited the Conservatives to join him in favoring a redistribution bill. He moved in amendment.

That the bill be not now read a second time, but that it be referred to a conference or committee of both sides of the House to consider the best lines on which a redistribution could be made.

Mr. Outram's Reply.

Hon. Mr. Outram replied at some length, taking up and answering the objections made by Mr. Laurier. He denied that there had been any gerrymandering, and claimed that the redistribution was as suitable as possible. There had been some equalization, and that this was necessary as shown by the fact that after the last general election the Conservative majority in the Province of Quebec aggregated more than 14,000 and the Liberal majority 10,000, not the Liberals only had 27 members and the Conservatives 38. In other words a minority of 4000 on the popular vote was assigned to the Conservatives by a majority of 11 members in the House.

Mr. Cartwright had a head-on attack on the redistribution, and spoke for a few minutes up to recess dealing with the gerrymandering as an American institution which was designed to obtain a party advantage, and regretting that it had been introduced in Canada. He would have no objection, he said, to having a head-on attack on the redistribution, but he confined himself to

HOLLAND'S LITTLE QUEEN.

THE DUTCH PEOPLE'S 'KORING-IN' IN THE 'ROYALTY' WELCOMED.

A Prussian Prince to Be Betrothed to the Little Queen.

OTTAWA, May 31.—Queen Wilhelmina of the Netherlands and her mother, the Queen Regent Emma, reached Potsdam at 7 o'clock this evening.

At the station were Emperor William, the Emperor Augustus Victoria, Crown Prince William, Princess Elzevire, Adolphe, August Wilhelm, Oscar and Joachim Count Botho zu Eulenburg, the Duchess of Edinburgh and the Princess Marie, Gen. von Kallenberg-Stachan, Minister of Interior Herrfurth, Count von Wedel, Chief of the Emperor's household, many members of the royal household, and the commander of the garrison in Potsdam, Freiherr Marschall von Bieberstein, Secretary of State for Foreign Affairs, and about 40 officers of the guard.

The little Queen, after alighting from the train, took her mother's hand, and the Emperor hastened forward with the Empress and lifted her hand to his lips and kissed it. While he paid his respects to Queen Regent Emma in a similar manner the Emperor embraced Wilhelmina and kissed her repeatedly on the forehead and cheeks.

The Queen Regent and the Empress embraced, and then the small Princes of Hohenzollern were brought forward to welcome the little Queen.

The little Queen Prince was in his uniform of a Lieutenant of the First Foot Guard. He followed gravely the example set by his father and kissed the hands of the little Queen and her mother.

The royal parties were then taken to the New Palace, the Emperor and Crown Prince driving with the Queen-Regent and Queen Wilhelmina.

Queen Wilhelmina was attended in a grey traveling gown, belted at the waist and finished at the neck with a high collar, white and gold. She wore a lorgnon hat with a gray plume. She looked fatigued and pale, and her smile was forced.

Her four weeks in Seel had not benefited her health as it was expected. It is thought, therefore, that the Emperor's elaborate program for her entertainment will be somewhat modified.

The rumored plan of the Emperor to arrange for the marriage of the Crown Prince and Queen Wilhelmina will be brought to a head, it is thought, during the Potsdam visit.

POLICE AND SOCIALISTS.

Two Van Attempts at Rescuing a Communist.

BERLIN, May 31.—A Socialist writer named Paul, who was sentenced to three months' imprisonment, was taken to the jail at Ploetzstrasse yesterday. A crowd of about 400 Socialists accompanied the prisoner and the officers conducting him and threatened to rescue Paul.

The police finally ordered the mob to disperse. No attention was paid, and a charge was made by the police with drawn their number out under way scattered.

The officers then proceeded to the jail, when they were again met by a crowd. Another fight occurred, but the prisoner was landed in jail.

IN LOVING REMEMBRANCE.

Manchester Girls Sentenced to Prison for Indulging in 'Seating.'

MANCHESTER, May 31.—A new development of the "seating" nuisance has just occurred here.

Scuttling in the term applied to organized outrages committed by young rowdies in the streets of Manchester, who were frequently led by knives, pistols and other deadly weapons, with sometimes deadly results.

The female element has now entered into this murderous practice, and yesterday four girls were arrested on a charge of seating in a street fight. On the arms of one of the girls these words were tattooed: "I'm in love with you."

In loving remembrance of the girl who is now under sentence of death for killing a lad in a scuttling affair, the police arrested it is now quite common for girls to be mixed up in these outrages.

A LA OSBORNE.

Another Woman in Society Charged With Theft of a Jewel.

LONDON, May 31.—A case bearing a resemblance to the Osborne-Hargrave case is now being tried in the Court of Queen's Bench today.

The principals are the wives of prominent officers and they have hitherto been close friends.

The case came up on an appeal by counsel for Mrs. Leader from a decision of the judge. The case concerned a diamond brooch, which was found in the possession of Mrs. Leader in order to be placed in evidence and identified.

Counsel explained that his client was Mrs. Leader's friend, and that she had been charged with the theft of the brooch and she had received a present from a friend who was now dead, and whose evidence she had reason to believe that the brooch had been in the possession of Mrs. Leader, who, since the loss of the brooch, has been married and had gone to Cairo to live.

Counsel said that Mrs. Leader had no power to order anything brought from a foreign country, and he further ground that if it should turn out to be true that the brooch belonged to the late Mrs. Leader's hands, it would be unjust to subject the latter to the risk of its being lost in transit.

The court upheld the view of the case and dismissed the appeal.

Soldier vs. Civilian.

BERLIN, May 31.—During the funeral of Burgomaster Forckenbeck a number of speculators climbed up on the front of the funeral carriage and threw stones at the soldiers who were marching in the procession.
