SLACKERS MUST GO, SAYS SAM M'BRIDE

Controllers Speak Out on Subject of Soldier Employment.
 Employment of returned soldiers and the city's policy in connection therewith evolved some plain talk towards the end of yesterday's meeting of the board of control.
 Controller McBride stated men who had to give way to returned soldiers, provided they were fitted for the position.
 "The mayor: We are already bound by the action of the city council, which passed a resolution.
 Controller Maguire asked that the order be read.
 Controller McBride read the minutes of the council meeting of Jan. 24, 1916, which ordered that the heads of civic departments be notified that all appointments other than those confirmed by bylaw made in the service of the war in order that positions may be reserved for returning soldiers who were in the service at the time of enlistment.
 Controller Robbins: There have been a great many hardships. I say we should look after our soldiers; any vacancies should be filled by appointing returned soldiers, but when it comes down to discharging our employees and taking into our departments somebody who has never been there before it is different.
 Controller McBride: Vacancies have all along been filled by slackers and they are the ones who should go.
 The matter was laid over for further consideration.
WILL SAFEGUARD PUBLIC
 The board of control yesterday considered Fire Chief Russell's report that certain places of amusement were unsafe from a fire standpoint and after some discussion it was decided to have a conference with the parties interested on Friday.
 The mayor stated that the city officials were seeing to it that citizens were not endangered.

SOUTH PEEL WOMEN PLAN BIG THINGS

The South Peel Women's Institute is among the organizations that not only plan big things but devise means for putting their plans into execution. Last year they did splendid work for the sailors. This year their chief object upon which their activities centre are the children of the district. They have decided to provide a district nurse for the county and to provide the necessary funds will hold a monster summer festival in the spacious and beautiful grounds of Mr. A. McHobberlin's residence, "Ben Macree," Port Credit, on Saturday afternoon and evening.
 A fascinating program of amusements, dancing on the green, music, a sale of vegetables and a cafeteria will be provided. In the evening the king and queen of the night will be crowned and will make a royal progress thru the grounds. A masquerade dance and a musical program will close the evening.
RAIN BEAUTIFIES C. N. E.
 Because of the change of arrangement the Exhibition management feel they cannot emphasize too much the fact that the Exhibition opens this year on Saturday of this week and not on Monday of next week, the day the Prince will arrive. It was at first thought that H. R. H. would be here on Monday, but for this a change was found necessary. The initial plan, with regard to the opening, however, will be carried out.
 Thanks to the rain of Tuesday the grounds yesterday were looking at their best, the lawns and exceptionally fine beds of foliage and bloom being wonderfully improved by the downfall. Workers are busy as the proverbial bees in preparation for Saturday, when the gates will be open and the grounds and buildings ready for the public. The shows for the midway, in many cases, arrived last night. The scenery before the grand stand is completed, and it is expected that the band of the British Grenadiers will arrive on Saturday morning and take part in the ensemble music of the bands in the evening.
APPROVES DAYLIGHT SAVING.
 The mayor thinks Toronto should continue daylight saving in 1920 and that the matter should be submitted to the citizens in January.

ELECTRIC SYSTEM MAINTAINS REVENUE

Toronto Hydro-Electric Submit Financial Statement to Board of Control.
 According to the interim balance statement and revenue account submitted to the board of control yesterday, the income of the Toronto Hydro-Electric System for the half-year ending June 30, amounted to $1,193,054.81. The expenditure was made up as follows: Electric current, $327,777.71; expenses of operation, management, repairs, etc., $346,050.00, a total of $673,827.71, leaving $519,227.10 of net income from operations for the period. This has been applied, as follows: Interest, $204,295.54; sinking fund, $79,278.17; balance for depreciation and adjustments, $235,653.39.
 The total revenue of $1,193,054.81 compares with $1,157,108.44 received during the corresponding period in 1918. The balance for depreciation was $235,623.72, as compared with $154,663.36 in the same half-year of 1918.
 "The falling off in the k.w. hours, amounting to 23 per cent, is still maintained, as compared with the corresponding period of the preceding year. This is entirely due to the cessation in the demand for munitions and war supplies. In spite of this falling off the revenue remains practically constant. This is due in part to the removal of the war-time restrictions in the use of electrical energy for general purposes, and also to the new business obtained by the system."
NOTHING DONE RE COMMUTATION RATES
 I. S. Fairly of the city's legal department reported to the board of control yesterday that nothing had been done yet regarding commutation rates on the street railways as the department had not seen the new act. He asked what radius the board wished to include in the application. Mr. Fairly was instructed to communicate with other municipalities.

PLAYGROUND PUPILS DO DAINTY DANCING

Exhibition of progress made in the art of dancing by the pupils of the schools who throught the summer attended the supervised playgrounds, are in progress all week, the dainty steps of the folk and solo dancing being greatly admired by the many who attend the different centres where the exhibitions are being given.
 On Monday night Manning Avenue Playground was the scene of work done by seniors, intermediates and juniors, when a program of thirteen numbers, including "The Nixie polka and the Highland schottische, was given. Tuesday the pupils put on a splendid program at the King Edward centre, the rose dance, scard dance and flower dance being included. Last evening exhibitions were given by the girls of the Queen Alexandra and Lee Schools in the Alexandra grounds, a similar exhibit being given at Leslie street playgrounds. Tonight Earl Grey playgrounds will give an exhibition, Essex pupils on Friday and Western avenue pupils on Saturday evening. Fern Avenue will have the final exhibit in the school yard. An invitation is extended to parents and friends to attend the graceful performances, which are well worth while, by the general supervisor, J. A. Woodward, and playground teachers.
Parliament Buildings Looking Spick and Span for Prince
 Everything is becoming spick and span in and around the parliament buildings for the reception to the Prince of Wales on Monday next. The raised platform outside, on which the welcome ceremonies will take place, was placed in position yesterday and completed. The large flag staff has been given a new coat of white paint. The blue lettering on white, "Welcome to the Prince," has also arrived. Carpets have covered up the bare floors inside the building and a number of women are toiling hard each day cleaning up the few dirty places.

WOMEN TO HOLD PICNIC

The women's association of the 33rd Battalion, C.E.F., is holding a basket picnic at Centre Island at 2.30 Saturday afternoon, Aug. 23. A program of sports, for which handsome prizes will be given, has been arranged. An invitation to friends and members of the battalion, to be present is extended.  The mayor will bring the matter before the board of control at the meeting next Wednesday.

COUNCIL AUTHORIZE BIG IMPROVEMENTS

Bylaws Passed at Special Meeting to Spend $2,000,000.

REORGANIZE FIRST Board of Education Grant Withheld Pending Thoro. Housecleaning.

At its special meeting yesterday, which lasted about three-quarters of an hour, the city passed bylaws for certain improvements amounting to over two million dollars. The board of education bylaw providing for $200,000 for new sites as well as buildings was withheld on the basis of control taking the position as well as aldermen that the building department of the board was spending in agreement with Mr. Bradshaw, who, he said, was trying to get the tax rate down to what it should be.

Alderman Beamish alluded to the extra half mill on the dollar which had been earmarked for parks, and said the members of the parks committee had gone into the matter of locating three playgrounds. The estimates, however, had now been pared down to $150,000, which would give only one field.

Part of Boulevard. Controller Maguire considered the western harbor improvements really a park and boulevard scheme, and consequently the city was spending a great deal more on parks development than the half mill on the dollar allotment. He also pointed out as to the parks committee by Alderman Beamish he had not yet had a single recommendation.

Controller McBride: It was never anticipated that so far as my knowledge goes that any of the money provided by the half mill on the dollar was to be taken and used for development along the waterfront. The half mill on the dollar should be for the acquisition of lands for park purposes.

Controller Maguire: There is not a dollar of this being used on the western harbor improvements, but still what is being done there should be kept in view as park development. We have placed $150,000 for parks, and there has not yet been a single recommendation by the parks department, and here's September. I cannot understand a controller advising to halt capital expenditure and wanting more.

Park Work. Finance Commissioner Bradshaw: It seems to me the city must take cognizance of the fact that most of the harbor work that is being done is not to spend more than the $150,000 on other parks than you will require to pass additional bylaws for additional amounts. What's the use of having money on hand, paying interest on it and making the taxpayer pay for it when you are not using it?

Alderman Beamish: We are negotiating for three places now, and we were given to understand that this half mill was for us. In the course of further discussion about passing bylaws for parks up to the amount represented by the half mill on the dollar, Mr. Bradshaw remarked: "I would think council would have regard to financial conditions and not go heading into the purchase of parks this year."

Objected to Expenditure. Alderman Baker objected to the $188,000 expenditure on the western harbor improvements, considering it an unequal distribution. The other end of the city was not getting a proportionate benefit. He opposed the bylaw.

Controller McBride described Alderman Baker's attitude as narrow and mean and said that because he can't get what he wants for Ward Eight.

Alderman Baker got up to reply to this, but the vote on the bylaw carried and he was denied the chance of answering the controller. The alderman plainly did not like the way he had been snuffed out.

Ald. Ryding and others desired to talk on other subjects and did get in part of their say, but Controller McBride or somebody else moved that council adjourned. In a flash this was carried and amid laughter while several were speaking the mayor announced "Council adjourned" and left the chamber.

Twelve Bylaws Passed. In all twelve bylaws were passed. These provided for the following amounts: $196,217.73 for Duplex ave. extension and opening of Cleveland st.; $84,569 for additional local improvements, including asphalt pavement on Danforth ave., sewer on Queen street (Pape to Leslie), widening Kingston road from Balsam ave. to Silver Birch ave., and widening Morton road; $150,000 for purchase of additional parks and playgrounds; $16,000 for completion of Strachan ave. bridge; $394,000 for relief sewers; $25,000 to cover balance of registry office cost; $388,000 for extending and improving waterworks; $100,000 for completing Cherry street bridge; $186,000 for harbor improvements; $200,000 for purchase of cars for civic car lines; $68,000 for public libraries; $249,000 to discharge indebtedness created to extend Teravault street and Applegrove avenue.

NO ACCOMMODATION ON OCEAN STEAMSHIPS

The five dollars additional which the steamship companies traveling between Europe and Canada have tacked on to the third class fare is not likely to affect immigration just at present, according to information given to The World yesterday by officials of the immigration office, as trans-ocean movement is practically at a standstill owing to lack of accommodation. The immigration authorities are busy day after day with people in Canada who want to bring out relatives, and seek the influence of that body to help them to last for another three or four months, and then real immigration ought to commence. The extra $5 (one pound sterling) may deter some people from coming to Canada, as if a man has a family of five the extra five pounds he will have to pay may make him seek for other pastures or even not emigrate at all.

RAILWAYMEN PROMOTED BY CANADIAN NATIONAL

Mr. George Stephen, freight and traffic manager of the Canadian National Railways, has just issued a circular announcing the promotion of T. A. Weldon to the position of assistant freight traffic manager at Montreal, with jurisdiction over all lines east of Fort. Arthur and Armstrong, Ont. These changes are consequent on the resignation of Guy Tombs, formerly assistant freight traffic manager at Montreal.

HARVEST FOR BRICKLAYERS.

The bricklayers are having a real harvest time just at present. There is a great scarcity of labor in the trade, and according to Business Agent Vick, many large firms are paying 75 and 80 cents an hour, over the rate of 72 cents, in order to obtain men. A three weeks' campaign for new members to the union is being held, and over 100 new members have already been obtained.

TO PREPARE STADIUM PLANS

The board of control yesterday instructed City Architect Pearce to prepare plans, specifications and estimates for the stadium at Rosedale.

COMPANIES MUST COMPLY WITH LAW

Attorney-General Takes Action Against Sellers of Oil Stock.

Hon. I. B. Lucas, attorney-general, announced yesterday that several oil and other companies are being prosecuted by the government for non-compliance with the terms of the Ontario companies act.

This act, Mr. Lucas explained, requires that before a company offers its shares for sale to the public, it shall file a prospectus containing definite information as to the names, addresses and description of the original incorporators, and as to the number of shares subscribed for, with the names and addresses of the directors.

The names must also be given of the advertisements dealing particularly with oil stocks have recently been appearing in the papers, Mr. Lucas added, "without giving proper information as to the real standing of the company. The government proposes to make determined efforts to stop advertisements of this kind or if they cannot be stopped, under the existing laws, we hope at least to secure a bylaw to compel compliance with the law as to information which shall be given in the advertisements.

"If all companies," said Mr. Lucas, "comply with the law in advertising their stock issues it will at least give the investing public an opportunity to investigate the character of the company and form some idea of its prospects. The advertisements in which we are now taking action give little real information of value to investors, but mainly vague, elusive and mainly scattering generalities of the get-rich-quick variety. As far as we have power we propose to stop this. There are many difficulties in the way of a prosecution, but every effort is being made to secure the necessary evidence.

"Certain informations have already been laid, and where the necessary evidence can be procured further prosecutions will follow. In the cases where informations have been laid or warrants issued I understand the officers have been able to secure at least some evidence by the seizure of papers and documents that will prove of value in the prosecutions."

Mr. Lucas said his department had specially instructed T. J. Agar, who would act with Crown Attorney Corrie in the prosecutions. The informations already laid are against: Glen Craig Tobias, the advertisement for which he is said to be responsible offers shares in the Canada Petroleum and Refining Corporation, Limited.

Thomas F. Fleming, the Texas Producing and Refining Company, O. J. B. Yearsey, the Texas Globe Oil Company, A. G. Rogers, the Dollar Oil Wells, Limited.

These changes are consequent on the resignation of Guy Tombs, formerly assistant freight traffic manager at Montreal, who has left the railway field to engage in commercial work.

Chief Engineer Cousins of the Toronto Harbor Commission has written the mayor regarding the decorating of the commission's building in honor of the visit of the Prince of Wales. It is stated that four electric posts will be placed along the waterfront and two pedestal lights in front of the building. The commission is also arranging to have the stonework over the front of the door suitably draped with flags.

Controller McBride: "Motor buses and subways will be the transportation of the future." Controller Robbins thought motor buses would be very expensive. The matter was allowed to drop for the time being.

SHIPS WILL BE BUSY CARRYING SOLDIERS

G. Mitchell, of the Dominion immigration office, said yesterday that travelers to the old country wishing to reserve passage back are being told that they will have to take their chances on getting accommodation on returning ships. It is expected that soldiers and dependents, who are given priority over other travelers, will require all the available tonnage for some little time. In view of this fact, emigration from the old country on the large scale predicted cannot be looked for for several months.

HARVESTERS FOR WEST ARE NOT SO NUMEROUS

Workers for the western harvest are not responding to the call as in the days of yore. Only 1,000 left by the C. P. R., and C. N. R. trains last night, and a great number of women and children were in the party. Descriptive Waittaker had a busy time in helping women and children to climb from one train to another. She found only women with fifteen children between them and in other cases they should not get lost in the darkness, tied them together with a piece of rope.

TRAFFIC MANAGER PROMOTED.

In a circular issued by George Stephen, freight traffic manager of the Canadian National Railways, the promotion of A. T. Weldon to the position of assistant freight traffic manager at Montreal with jurisdiction over all lines east of Port Arthur and Armstrong, Ont., is announced.

Mr. Weldon will be succeeded at Montreal, N.B., by M. F. Tompkins, who will have jurisdiction in freight traffic matters over the lines of the Canadian National Railways east of Matapedia, Que., and Edmundston, N.B., with the title of general freight agent only.

These changes are consequent on the resignation of Guy Tombs, formerly assistant freight traffic manager at Montreal, who has left the railway field to engage in commercial work.

A communication was received from the London, Ont., police union stating that delegates from that body would attend the conference. The London local is affiliated with the Trades and Labor Council, but the Toronto organization was requested by the royal commission to drop its affiliation.

This Oakoal opportunity is too great for any man or woman with $100 to $1,000 to invest to miss (no one can buy more than $1,000 worth of stock). This statement is made in seriousness, as this space is too valuable and the reputation of the Company's heads and the value of the assets too great to make unwarranted statements.

BALANCE SHEET SOUGHT IN VAIN

Absence Brings Christian Men's Brotherhood Federation Under Scrutiny.

SUBSCRIBERS ANXIOUS
Want to Know How Collections Are Used—Treasurer Answered.

When a person subscribes directly to a society seeking for its maintenance by public subscription, it is his duty to obtain information as to how such money is expended, and such society fails to produce a balance sheet, the said subscribers are apt to become suspicious as to the capable management of the society.

The Christian Men's Brotherhood Federation of Canada, incorporated in the province of Ontario, in the month of May last, has been the subject of some of the most serious inquiries in the past few days. The following letters inquiring as to the standing and the nature of the work performed by the society, the following letter seems to contain all the inquiries asked by other correspondents.

Seeks Information.
Editor World: Information regarding the objects and aims of a mysterious association which has sprung up among us during the war, under the title of "The Christian Men's Brotherhood Federation of Canada," with offices in Kent building, The promoter of this association is the Rev. J. O. McCarthy, of the Salvation Army, and manager of the immigration department of the late Canadian Northern Railway. Mr. McCarthy is a graduate of the University of Toronto, and I believe is the only paid official outside the office staff. It would be interesting to know something of their methods of collecting and distributing the money they beg from the public for carrying on their propaganda.

Can you throw any light on above and oblige.
Patriot.

The above letter contains questions needing an answer, and veiled insinuations which required unravelling. The World yesterday established an investigation into the history, aims and present, and the financial position of the federation of Christian men.

The Christian Men's Brotherhood Federation of Canada was established some ten years back, under the name of the Brotherhood of Christian Men, and was changed to the Christian Men's Federation, etc., and just lately to the title it now bears. For six years Thomas Howell, honorary secretary of the movement, but for the past two years he has become the general secretary of the organization. Mr. Howell has had a wide experience in the establishment of societies, and was a colonel in the local Salvation Army. He left that body to join the immigration staff of the C. N. R. Two years ago he took up his present position and began to make the society from a little toy into a real business. The Rev. J. O. McCarthy, treasurer, is a graduate of the University of Toronto, and is a specialist in an important branch of the law.

Society's Aims
(a) To extend the Kingdom of God in Canada and in the world.
(b) To promote the Federation of Christian men in congregations and communities.
(c) To foster worthy ideals of citizenship, and to focus public sentiment upon great moral issues.
The society is federated with the national brotherhood council, an old country organization, of which William Howard, president, and Rev. John Clifford, D.D., president. This British body have done some excellent work during the war, and are now holding a convention in London, England, in September, the delegates who came from such distant lands as Canada, United States, Africa, Egypt, Palestine, Serbia, Japan, China, and all the European countries are to be entertained by the lord mayor of London and will be addressed by Lloyd George, premier of Great Britain, and the American ambassador. The head of the Canadian branch is Rev. T. Albert Moore, D.D., president; Rev. J. O. McCarthy, D.D., past president, and J. O. McCarthy, general treasurer. The executive is composed of ministers living in towns from Montreal to Winnipeg.

Asked for Balance Sheet
When The World yesterday sought Mr. Howell, the secretary to the organization, at the offices in the Kent building, he found a good staff busily at work. The World told Mr. Howell the object of the visit and asked for a balance sheet. Mr. Howell was unable to produce this document, or rather as he put it, "without the consent of my executive and many of them are now on the sea on their way to the conference in England." After some persuasion the secretary rang up Dr. Moore, the president, and his reply was to the effect that he was against giving the desired information at present. After a time better counsel, however, prevailed and Mr. Howell was able to obtain a letter from J. O. McCarthy, the treasurer, stating the receipts and expenditures for the past three months. Mr. McCarthy is the first vice-president and manager of the Security Life Insurance Company of Canada, of which Sir Henry Pellatt is president.

Treasurer's Statement
The letter is as follows:
T. Howell, Secretary, Christian Men's Federation of Canada.
Dear Sir: Following our telephone conversation I beg to give you herewith the figures of receipts and disbursements of the Christian Men's Federation up to the time of audit on the 31st of July, 1919. The receipts, from January 1, 1919, to March 31, 1919. The total receipts

WARD FOUR OUTING BY CONSERVATIVES

Col. Evans, Provincial Candidate, Calls for Protection of the Fish Resources.

Lieut.-Col. A. Kelly Evans, Conservative candidate for N. E. Toronto in the coming provincial election, was the chief speaker at the Ward Four Riding Conservative Association outing, held at Scarborough Beach Park yesterday. The speaker dwelt at considerable length on the natural resources of the country, and the urgent necessity and duty of the government to take every care and attention of same, owing to their depletion in consequence of the great war.

"We have three great natural resources," said the speaker, "the forests—which it is common knowledge have been depleted and cut over in a way we all must deplore, during the past five years, and much remains to be done in exploitation of our forests. The farms are also being depleted of natural resources, said the speaker, who pointed out that there are fewer people farming the land, particularly in western Manitoba, where they are not farming, but mining the ground in order to get rich quick."

Farmers Buying Milk.
The same applies to Alberta and Saskatchewan, where farmers in thousands buy in their milk and butter supplies. The fisheries, the third great natural resource, in which the speaker dwelt at length, he pointed out were depleted in the Fraser River, and "the fate of the Fraser will be the fate of other rivers in British Columbia, not given attention. On the Atlantic coast, the depletion of the lobster fisheries which is sinking down is deplorable. The great lakes with a total catch today of 1,300,000 pounds, is falling away from former times, when it was a common occurrence for a catch of from 600 to 10,000,000 with one net in a single day. "In the old days," said the speaker, "the fish so plentifully caught was salted down for future consumption, and large quantities were sent to the land for manure. This is worthy of serious consideration when we think of the price we now pay for fish."

Bacon Versus Fish.
"Owing to the scarcity of bacon during the war, it was decided by the province of Ontario to set people to eat fish, in order to send as much bacon as possible to our boys overseas. The minister of public works tried to give the public fish, and in so doing endeavored to cope with the trouble."

"It was found about 95 per cent. of the fish caught in the great lakes was taken by the people of the United States, and it was necessary to find some other lakes for public supply. Nipissing and Nipigon were fished, and the price of this food was stabilized," said the speaker, who gave some interesting figures regarding the great fishing combine of the Gorton Fish Company of Gloucester, who started a permanent company with a $2,000,000 capital, and have now a $2,000,000 preferred capital, and $2,350,000 common stock, upon which they are paying four per cent. "which is all water stock," said Lieut.-Col. Kelly Evans.

Benefit Thru Tourists.
"A by-product of the fishery industry is the tourist trade, which has been successfully fostered by the State of Maine, which benefited by its game fishery facilities, and the people of the interior of the state, and realizing $14,000,000 revenue, according to government statistics."

"The State of Maine is only one-eighth the size of Ontario, and we should take example by their enterprise. We require increased railway, hotel, and steamship facilities, and it is worthy of consideration."

"There exists in the great lakes the greatest political problems in the Dominion of Canada, and the most difficult to solve."

"Owing to the dual control, the more deeply you go into the matter the more rocks you find. Both the Dominion and provincial governments have the endorsement rights to close down the lake fisheries, and there is also dual control by each state on the other side, and the difficulties are still harder, as between Canada and the United States."

To Settle in Legislature.
"The most recent question of all to settle is the great lakes, and there is no place for ultimate success more favorable than the floor of the provincial houses of debate, the speaker, who concluded by stating that having been appointed by the late Sir James Whitney on the fisheries commission, he had considerable knowledge of the situation, and his only desire was to devote the remainder of his life to this great question."

OTTAWA WILL BE GREAT ART CENTRE

Critic Gives History of Canada's Unsurpassed War Pictures.

Paul G. Konody, art critic, member of the editorial staff of The London Observer, art director, and honorary secretary of the Canadian war memorials fund, welcomes the opportunity to give a brief explanation of the exhibition of war paintings at the Canadian National Exhibition on August 23.

The ultimate object of the committee, consisting of Lord Rothermere, formerly British air minister; Lord Beaverbrook, head of the Canadian war records, and of the late Sir Bertram Lima, director of pictorial propaganda, was to provide the capital of a vast series of monuments imposing artistic memorial of the part Canada played in the great war. This memorial was to consist in the first place of a vast series of monuments, from 12 feet to 40 feet in length and dealing with every phase of Canadian activity on land, on sea and in the air. Battle pictures were to be supplemented by portrait groups of the army leaders, representations in life in training camps, recreation huts, munition works, railway construction, forestry, historical, shipping, in fact, every phase of labor and organization required by the exigencies of modern warfare.

By Eye-Witnesses.
These great panels were to form an integral part of a magnificent architectural scheme constructed around these decorative settings for which spaces of suitable dimensions were to be provided in the architect's design. Subsidiary to this series which in itself would constitute a vast collection of smaller paintings, drawings and engravings done on the spot by the selected artists of uniformed and ununiformed forces, were to be a historical section of paintings by old masters that have some special bearing on Canadian history, such as Romney's famous portrait of Joseph Brant, bought by the fund at public auction for $27,500, and the "Death of a Hero" by the artist, presented to the fund by the Duke of Westminster.

A schedule of the main subjects having been drawn up by the committee, every effort was made to find for each subject the one and only artist whose best achievement justified faith to do full justice to the theme allotted to him. Thru the cooperation of the Canadian government, these artists, or most of them, were given commissions in the Canadian army, which enabled them to proceed to the front to collect their material. Throughout the committee endeavored to avoid the customary method of employing artists who work from newspaper descriptions, or rely upon their imagination. Every picture was the result of actual observation and experience of personal emotion.

Artistic Aspect
While thus making sure of life instead of historical accuracy, the committee did not lose sight of the artistic aspect of its colossal scheme. The collection of paintings was to give a complete and reliable picture of the condition of art in the period of the great war. Every phase, every school, from the ultra-academic and conventional to the extreme modern cubist and vortist was to be presented at its best so that the Ottawa war memorial should become—in future ages—a place of pilgrimage for art students of all countries; that Ottawa should become one of the greatest art centres of the American continent, if not the greatest.

Not the least important expense of this ambitious and gigantic scheme the committee asked neither for government grant nor for private sub-

High Time to Take Over the Grand Trunk.

A year ago Sir Robert Borden at the Toronto Exhibition announced to the people of Canada that it was the intention of his government to take over and absorb into the Canadian National Railway system the Grand Trunk Pacific and the old Grand Trunk as well. The Grand Trunk Pacific has been placed in the hands of a receiver and negotiations have been languidly proceeding for the acquisition of the old Grand Trunk.

In our opinion it is high time that these negotiations cease. The government should either appropriate the Grand Trunk or by withdrawing financial support force that system into liquidation. The people are getting tired of the extended negotiations and long delays.

What makes them more tired is the suspicion that the Canadian Pacific Railway is taking advantage of this interregnum to get business away from the government system. The Canadian National cannot properly function until it is joined up with the old Grand Trunk.

In short, the government should get a move on. To come down to our own locality, why should not the radicals like the Toronto and Eastern and the roads to Woodbridge and Guelph be turned over and turned over promptly to Sir Adam Beck and the Hydro Radicals?

Indecision and delay should not become the fixed characteristics of the Ottawa government. The railway problem no more brooks delay than does the high cost of living problem. Both should be tackled with energy and dispatch.

The Voting Lists and the Convention.

Mr. Hartley Dewar accused those in charge of preparing the voting lists with leaving off 20,000 names. We do not know where he got his figures, and presume it is an estimate based on ascertained facts. Premier Hearst declared in reply that the thing was impossible, that the compilers had instructions to put everybody on, that they were not interfered with, and, finally, that Mr. Dewar had strayed from the path of truth.

Judge Coatsworth is in charge of this registration business, and he thinks the case is so bad that he declares he is going to ask the government to investigate the lists turned in by the enumerators in some of the subdivisions, to find out why so many of the names were left off. Hundreds of soldiers were left off in one hospital alone.

There is nothing so significant of weakness and disintegration in a government as tampering with the voting lists. Premier Hearst undoubtedly means well, but he doesn't know all that is going on. His confidential informants are not reliable, and he is not getting the news.

We have pointed out again and again in the last few weeks the parallel that exists between present conditions and those in 1904, when the Ross government was tottering to its fall. Premier Ross could not be told anything at that time in opposition to his utterly erroneous confidential information. Premier Hearst appears to be in a similar position. The candid friend is rarely in favor when he brings disagreeable news, and the World does not suppose that its columns are read with joy and gratitude at cabinet meetings. All we have done, however, is to point out undoubted facts, easily verifiable, uncontradicted up till the present, and we believe uncontradictable.

The situation permits of one remedy. That remedy is a convention of the Conservative party of Ontario, to be held before any election is called. One authority threatens the calling of an election on fifteen days' notice. The government is scarcely mad enough to do this, but there are doubts if it is wise enough to call a convention and secure the sense and support of the party.

On this head we have pleasure in submitting an article from The Ottawa Journal of Tuesday last, which indicates that The World and The Hamilton Spectator are not alone in asking for a convention. Certain Conservative newspapers

Look on This Picture and Then on That---How the United States Leads Canada in Going After the Profiteers

The attorney-general of the United States is a busy man these days, for he is respecting the activities of district attorneys and federal officials all over the country. Some idea of what is being done may be gleaned from a Washington dispatch to The Christian Science Monitor, herewith reprinted alongside. Great hoards of food have been uncovered in Boston, Detroit, St. Louis, New Orleans and many other places. It will be observed that as these hoards are discovered the United States district attorney applies to a federal judge to "libel" the goods; that is, he proceeds much as an ordinary litigant would proceed to libel a ship on which he had a claim. The admiralty court would keep the ship in port until the claim was adjudicated. So the hoard of food is in the possession of the court until a summary enquiry is made, and then it is forced to sale and the profiteer punished. Some five hundred men are already under arrest in the United States for profiteering.

At Washington the other day officials tracked some greasy profiteer to his lair and there found hoarded five million pounds of sugar, millions of pounds of butter and cheese and fourteen million dozen of eggs. These stores were libeled and will be forced to sale. The profiteer himself is being dealt with by a special grand jury immediately empaneled by a federal judge. We have little doubt that he will be summarily punished. At Washington the house of representatives is busy putting more teeth into the laws against profiteering, and the president may be going forth by proclamation to fix the price of all commodities. Dealers selling at a price higher than that fixed by the proclamation will be liable to two years in the penitentiary. Attorney-General Palmer is on the job and his district attorneys, deputy marshals and special agents are everywhere at work.

What is going on in Canada? The Dominion government is not uncovering any hoards of food, forcing them to sale or bringing the profiteers to justice. The attorney-general of Canada is doing nothing, whatever to enforce the laws against profiteers. True he has no district attorneys or deputy marshals or special agents to do this work for him, but these should be provided at the earliest possible moment. We observe that the Royal Northwest Mounted Police and the Dominion police are to be consolidated, a press report says for federal enforcement of the federal law, but generally speaking the Royal Northwest Mounted Police has done constabulary work for the western provinces which should have been done by the provincial governments and municipalities. However, this consolidation may be the first step toward putting at the disposal of the attorney-general a force to ferret out hoarding and arrest profiteers.

But we have an attorney-general for the Province of Ontario, altho we are not reminded of his existence by anything he does to reduce the cost of living or punish the extortionate dealers. He has under him many crown attorneys. In every county and province there is a grand jury, and a special grand jury at any time may be empaneled upon the request of the attorney-general. But nothing is being done by the authorities in Queen's Park to uncover hoarded food or punish the profiteers.

The province passes the buck to the Dominion, and the Dominion, not to be outdone in generosity, passes it back to the province. We have created a board of commerce, but we have not given it the powers of a court. It cannot seize hoarded foods or send profiteers to the penitentiary. Its functions seem to be one of inquiry, and, as The Ottawa Citizen observes: Heaven knows we have had enough futile and money-wasting enquiries, commissions and what not to date.

Still, we have great faith in the ability and integrity of Judge Robson, the chairman, and W. F. O'Connor, K.C., the other member of the commission. They will do their best, but they can do little unless the fall power of the federal government is thrown into the struggle. The government must have federal courts, federal district attorneys and federal officials under the supervision and direction of the attorney-general, to do work like that which is now being carried on by the government of the United States.

For years W. F. Maclean, in the house and in the columns of The World, fought almost a single-handed fight for federal enforcement of the federal law. Now others are beginning to see that the national government itself must deal with a national evil like the high cost of living. The Ottawa Citizen contrasts the striking activity of the United States government with the somnolence of our government at Ottawa. The Globe splutters about constitutional limitation, but is forced to admit that federal enforcement of federal law is the only remedy for profiteering. The Star has been converted by The World and now shows all the zeal of the new convert. Only yesterday it announced that it had "for years" advocated federal enforcement of federal law. The "years" was doubtless a misprint for "days." Careless proofreader!

Our rulers at Ottawa had better wake up. W. F. O'Connor, K.C., has gone to Washington to get some pointers from the United States Federal Reserve Commission, and we only regret that Sir Robert Borden's temporary indisposition prevents his going to the same place to get some pointers from President Wilson. Our old friend Hon. C. J. Doherty, minister of justice and attorney-general of Canada, is in robust health after his months of holidaying overseas. Let him go to Washington and get some pointers from A. Mitchell Palmer.

When Mr. O'Connor returns we hope he will bring with him a lot of ginger. Ginger is what is needed by our Ottawa ministers, many of whom are away fishing, golfing and summer holidaying. Yet this is no time for holidays or merry-making. The bulk of our people today are insufficiently nourished, because they cannot buy the proper food. Nearly all of us are suffering privations because of the extortionate prices charged for so many necessities. If our rulers at Ottawa do not know this they will learn of it very soon from an indignant people. They will be held responsible for the inertia which prevails in Canada, contrasted with the activity in the United States. The Washington authorities are moving vigorously; the authorities at Ottawa on the subject of the high cost of living are inert as can see nothing in the demand for an Ontario Conservative convention but an attempt to oust Sir William Hearst from the leadership and, consequently, are opposed to it. To our mind that is both bad reasoning and bad democracy. If, as these papers claim (and we have no reason for doubting it), Sir William Hearst has the confidence of the overwhelming bulk of the party, then why should his friends fear a convention? And, quite apart from the personal aspect of the matter, is not a convention the only way in which the party can be united? No leader is bigger than his party. If the Conservatives of Ontario feel that Sir William Hearst's leadership is inadequate, surely it is their undeniable right to dispense with it. If, on the other hand, they feel that he is the man for the job, why should they could there be of expressing their opinion than by an open convention?

For our part we feel that Sir William Hearst has been a good premier, and that his regime has been beneficial to the province. But we cannot see the sense in opposition to a party convention. A convention is a good thing for any party. It promotes unity; it would-be rebels to get "grouches" out of their system; it advances the "get-together" feeling and inspires enthusiasm. The recent gathering in London in Ottawa was a conspicuous example of this.

Conservatism both in England and Canada has advanced a long way since Mr. Gladstone not too truthfully described it as "disturbance of the people, qualified by some of our Conservative contemporaries, afraid to trust the party's leadership and policies to its rank and file, appear anxious to deserve the indictment.

IDA AT THE CITY HALL

Yesterday, at the city hall, there was more life than has been exhibited in that edifice for some time. This was due absolutely to the fact that there was both a board of control meeting, and a city council one. In the former the outstanding points were: Alf. Maguire's new grey suit, with the purple bouquet; the absence of Controller Cameron; Controller Robb's effort to show some fairness toward the civic employees, the mayor's good-looking neckwear, and Sam Mc-Bride's lack of excitement.

The business was nothing to tell you about, simply because it is not worth repeating even though there were almost one hundred motions on the order sheet. As usual, there was a soldier's insurance case, but as usual with these business cases, the matter had to be held over to another day. Anyone in need of money would certainly not want to apply to the good natured Toronto city council, else it is a safe bet, they would die of starvation.

In the council meeting, affairs progressed at a great rate of speed. So suddenly that the city council, which was unfortunately held back the members of the council being of the opinion that that particular pet hobby of the council, the school board, was additional, and incidentally very large sums of money. Therefore, the withdrawal to do building will lie over until the next meeting. Many of us are certain that the immediate past is going to remain a year of the past, and not prove to be a yearly disease.

While the members were slowly filing from the chamber, Alderman Baker still remained at his chair reading the fourth volume of speech. What his idea was, no one seemed to know, for that matter, care very much. He talked on, no doubt, with great eloquence, but at the same time, with no purpose. However, after the gentleman had another session in the chamber, he was promptly ejected, not on condition to receive, but on the ground that he was not to be allowed to speak again.

Alderman MacGregor was missed by few prescription hunters who felt that he was a good deal of a man. He was a member of the city council, and in addition to the coveted title of doctor, he would lose his title, and make himself agreeable. Knowledge is his right, and he will learn the ropes, and know when to talk and when to keep quiet. The latter stunt he pulled off about as well as he could. He was a member of the city council, and in addition to the coveted title of doctor, he would lose his title, and make himself agreeable.

Local civic employees had a narrow squeak yesterday when the badge of a car, which they had been offered for Niagara Falls, ran off the track. Fortunately, the car was running slowly at the time, and the motor was quickly able to bring it to a stop. Hamilton will be the new home of the firm known as the McAlpine Tobacco Co., which has occupied the factory on the corner of McAlpine and McCullough streets. A. S. Lewis, assistant manager, stated yesterday that arrangements had been practically completed, and that the firm would be moving out directly. The new quarters are a great improvement on the Toronto building, and are a part of one of the Tuckett factories in North Queen street.

GUELPH WELCOMES ALL ITS VETERANS

Celebration is Historic Civic Event - Public Holiday, Parade and Festivities. Special to The Toronto World. Guelph, Ont., Aug. 20.—Today was easily the greatest day in this city's recent history, for it was given over to a civic welcome to all its veterans returned from the front.

Guelph sent a great many men to the front, and these have been coming back in twos and threes and in large numbers since the war concluded, but anything except a handshake and a formal welcome to the veterans was not to be expected. Work was suspended and for once Guelph citizens loosened up their dignity and showed a large measure of enthusiasm.

It is estimated that 20,000 people from the city and surrounding towns lined the streets when the most memorable parade that the city has since the return of the men from South Africa marched through the streets to see the exhibition grounds. It comprised all ranks and branches of the services, conspicuous amongst whom were Lieut.-Col. T. C. Coghlan, commander of the 29th Battalion; Lieut.-Col. W. Simpson, commander of the 16th Battalion; Lieut.-Col. P. J. O'Rourke, commander of the 15th Battalion; Lieut.-Col. W. Clark, a veteran of the Crimea; Mayor Carter and others. Many of the men wore coveted decorations. Fully 1,000 soldiers were in the parade, whilst several hundred others lined the route of the march, unable to walk the distance.

General Takes Salute. In the procession were many very handsomely decorated motor cars and some very fine floats, representative of local industries, and several of the conveyances were filled with V.A.D. and other war workers. Upon arrival at the grounds the march past took place, the salute being taken by Major-General Sir Archibald Macdonnell of Kingston, commander of the first Canadian division. Afterwards the general addressed the men. He spoke to the point, telling them that he was glad to see some of his "old boys" in Guelph. "First, and dealing with some of the exploits which that division went through in the trying early days of the war," Lieut.-Col. Coghlan also said a few words to the men, who were then dismissed, and started in to enjoy the amusements provided for the afternoon. About 8,000 were present. The returned men were then entertained at the armories to a splendid supper, over 1,000 sitting down. It was a tasty affair, and in addition to the splendid menu was presented with a package of cigarettes and a certified testimonial signed by the mayor of Guelph. At the close of the evening the general, Lieut.-Col. Coghlan, and other officers, addressed a few words to the men.

The night was given over to hilarity and fun. At 8 o'clock the main street was flooded, all vehicular traffic was shut off and after that people had it to themselves to have as good a time as they wished. Bands played, the G.W.V.A. band making its first appearance. Late in the evening dancing commenced on the paved streets and it kept up until an early hour in the morning.

London, Aug. 20.—An agreement has been reached between Sir Auckland Geddes, British minister of reconstruction, and the locomotive engineers and firemen, settling the men's demands, it was announced today. The insistence of the railroad men on August 14 that the long-pending wage dispute be settled immediately, threatened for a time to result in a strike that, railroad men said, would have disorganized the entire railway system of the country.

The government offered the locomotive engineers and motormen of electric lines fifteen shillings daily and the firemen eleven shillings, these wages being a substitute for the present system of wages and war bonuses. Representatives of the men recommended acceptance of the government's scale.

Admiral Sir Charles E. Kingmill, director of Canadian naval services, has granted permission to officers and ratings of the Royal Canadian Navy and the R.N.C.V.R. to wear uniforms during the visit of H. R. H. the Prince of Wales to Toronto.

The following justices will come before Justice Logie in the weekly court tomorrow at 11 o'clock: Re T. A. Coles, an infant; Ping Lee v. Grayford; Leslie v. Porteous; Carr v. Public School Board; Bell v. Chartered Trust; Willis v. Board of Education; Bailey v. Davy, and Suslunz v. Suslunz.

STORED FOOD WILL BE PUT ON SALE

Release of Millions of Dollars' Worth in All Parts of United States Planned as Means of Forcing Down Retail Prices. From The Christian Science Monitor. Aug. 18.

Washington, Aug. 18.—Food worth millions will be dumped into wholesale markets to force down prices in every section of the country, beginning on Wednesday, under plans being made by district attorneys and officials of the [federal] department of justice. Two million dollars' worth of butter, eggs, and sugar libeled in St. Louis, Missouri; Kansas City, Missouri; Chicago, Illinois; Toledo and Canton, Ohio, and Detroit, Michigan, will be sold first.

Food worth more millions will be seized this week under evidence now being gathered. Biggest seizures are expected in Boston, New York, New Orleans, Louisiana, and Chicago. Libel action is the first step in seizing the food. This is taken by district attorneys. It is a request to a federal court to enjoin the removal or sale of food from the place where it is stored or hoarded. The next step is a hearing at which the court determines whether the charge of hoarding is justified. When the court so decides, an order is issued from the bench directing the forced sale of the food libeled.

Federal attorneys in many cities now are preparing arguments in libel cases. Many federal courts will hold hearings today. Meanwhile other federal officials are continuing to collect evidence of hoarding in many cities, assisted by the local price-fixing committees organized by state food administrators at request of the attorney-general. Federal officials here estimated that 500 may be arrested and charged with profiteering and hoarding this week through efforts of federal and state officials. Grand juries in Ohio are considering complaints against more than 200 suspected hoarders and profiteers.

The campaign of seizure, sporadic at first, is now well under way. Reports reaching the attorney-general showed that in St. Louis 16,500,000 eggs had been seized, in Detroit 7,000,000, in Boston 800 barrels of flour, and in other cities stores in lesser quantities. In Kansasville, Mo., the local price-fixing committee has obtained the coveted title of doctor, he would lose his title, and make himself agreeable.

Seized about 100,000 pounds of beans which were held in local warehouses here during active period of war. A message from Knoxville, Tennessee, reads: "Havas filed 10 libel proceedings at Chattanooga, seizing 5,000,000 cold-storage eggs."

Lamb and Mint Sauce. The World must give credit to The Mail for taking some part in the discussion of the high cost of living, inasmuch as it published yesterday an article headed "The Why and Wherefore of Mint Sauce With Lamb," in which it gives the origin of the use of that useful herb which "doth stir up the mind and the taste of a greedy desire of meat." But will The Mail tell its readers how many of them are in a position to employ mint to increase their "greedy desire for meat" at the present prices thereof. But still The Mail is doing something.

TUIMEN ABANDONED BY KOLCHAK'S FORCES

Anti-Red Troops Have Occupied Several Towns on the Dnieper River. London, Aug. 20.—Retreating anti-Bolshevik forces of Admiral Kolchak have abandoned Tuimen, 150 miles southwest of Tobolsk, and just east of the Russian-Siberian border, according to Omak despatches received here today. Anti-Bolshevik forces have occupied Kherson, Nikolaev and Oherkany, on the Dnieper river, below Kiev, according to an official statement sent out by wireless by the Soviet army headquarters in Moscow. The statement adds that on the eastern front, Bolshevik forces have occupied Hietak after a fierce battle. Hietak is 40 miles southwest of Orenburg. A despatch from Omak says that two thousand Bolsheviks and Magyars who had escaped from prison camps at Krasnovorsk were surprised on July 30 by Siberian troops. DOUBLE 'EM UP OFFER IN SALES CLUB RACE CLOSED WITH A RUSH

"Double 'Em Up" offer in the Salesmanship Club ended with a rush at 11 o'clock last night. The campaign will end a week from tomorrow night, on August 29.

With the end of the race so near it is natural that there should have been big results yesterday. Members from the city of Toronto were reporting subscriptions up to the last hour of the offer and every mail is bringing in heavy returns from out-of-the-city members. Every one seemed to realize that last night marked the close of the most critical period of the campaign for those who expect to be among the big prize-winners at the close of the campaign. The offer of double credits on new subscriptions was a big incentive for the usual effort and the six extra cash awards were an added inducement. The winners of these six cash awards will be announced at the close of the campaign along with the other winners.

Standings Saturday

The list of standings will be published again on Saturday morning and will contain a great many surprises and unlooked-for changes. The number of credits held by the leaders will be materially increased.

According to the rules of the campaign every active member who does not win one of the ninety-one awards will be paid a cash commission of 10 per cent. on all subscriptions he or she has turned in. At the outset of the campaign, an active member was defined as one who turned in at least one subscription each week for the last two weeks of the campaign. The World wants to remind every member that this is the next to the last week and next week will be the last so that anyone who does not turn in at least one subscription this week and at least one subscription next week will not be qualified for a commission in case they fail to win one of the awards.

Interest Runs High

Interest is now at "top pitch" for members are straining extra effort to keep at the head of the list. Friends of members are anxiously awaiting the final outcome. There is hardly a reader of The World who is not directly or indirectly interested in the Salesmanship Club campaign and from now on until the close of the campaign will be rife as to who the winners of the big awards will be.

The $5,000 home which is the first award and which will be given to the member who winds up the campaign with the greatest number of credits is, of course, the centre of attraction. Any home would be an attractive award, especially one valued at $5,000, but when one considers that the offer of The World allows the winner to select any home, anywhere in Ontario, that can be purchased for $5,000 in cash, the offer is much more attractive.

High-Grade Autos

In selecting the four next highest awards, high-grade automobiles were undoubtedly the most popular prizes that could be given. Nearly everyone who does not own an automobile is anxious to have one. In selecting automobiles to be given this campaign, The World carefully investigated the merits of practically every car on the market within the price to be paid for it is realized that this newspaper could not afford to award cars that would not stand the test and that would not in every way be satisfactory.

The second award, which goes to the member closing the campaign with the second largest number of credits, is a $2125 Chalmers Touring Car which was purchased from the United Auto Sales, Limited, Toronto. The Chalmers is a car that is so well known everywhere automobiles are driven that it needs little comment. Perhaps the most desirable feature of the Chalmers is the "hot spot" which gives it an exceedingly smooth running motor.

Much to Be Desired

The third highest member will be given a $1510 Briscoe "Special" touring car which was purchased from the Bailey-Drummond Co., Toronto. The Briscoe car is the car that has the "half million dollar motor" and is an exceedingly popular car in this part of the country. One advantage of the Briscoe is the small cost of upkeep. It is known as one of the most economical cars on the market.

A $1890 Maxwell touring car which was purchased from the United Auto Sales, Limited, Toronto, will be awarded to the fourth highest member. The Maxwell is one of the best known of the moderate priced automobiles and is made by a factory that knows how to produce cars that will give absolute satisfaction.

Something For Everyone

The fifth highest member will be given a $1875 Briscoe "Standard" which was also purchased from the Bailey-Drummond Motor Co. The Briscoe "Standard" has the same high-grade engine and is in nearly every way the same as the higher priced Briscoe, which is known as the "Special," the only difference being in the style of trimming and in a few of the minor details. Eighty-six other members will be awarded merchandise orders ranging in value from $100 to $25. All other active members will be paid commissions in accordance with the rules.

Ottawa, Aug. 20.—For the first four months of the fiscal year ending July 31, the grand total of trade for the Dominion was to the value of $658,787,387. This represents a falling away in trade of approximately forty-two million dollars as compared with the same period last year, when the value of goods imported and exported totaled $700,727,567.

EXPLAINS POSSESSION OF MANSION HOUSE KEY

Officer Says Sailor Stole It, and He Himself Forgot to Return It. New York, Aug. 20.—The key to the front door of the Mansion House in London, handed recently at Camp Devens, Mass., in the baggage of Lieut. Ira I. Hodges of Brooklyn was stolen at an entertainment for American wounded by a sailor, who was caught in the act and sent the key to the officer's office, Lieut. Hodges said.

The lieutenant explained that soon after the key was sent him he was stricken with influenza and forgot to return the key, which later was packed into his bedding roll by the porter of his hotel. The bedding roll, he added, was mislaid and only recently recovered.

Lieut. Hodges denied a report that the key was offered Gen. Pershing as a symbol of the freedom of the city on the occasion of his visit to London.

The officer asserted also that another key found in his baggage and turned over to him at a curiosity shop.

BOGUS CHECKE ARTIST AT WORK IN BRANTFORD. Passed Checks at Men's Furnishing Stores and Received Change in Substantial Amount.

Special to The Toronto World.—Brantford, Ont., Aug. 20.—The police were notified this morning that a slick cheque worker had been going the rounds here yesterday. The man, who was apparently a French Canadian, registered at the Kerby House as P. Jean Deboy. He went shopping among men's furnishing stores where he made numerous good purchases, giving a cheque for one hundred dollars, apparently marked in each case.

There was no question as to causing the cheques and in each case secured a considerable supply of change. The goods were ordered sent to the Kerby House, but he had left when they were delivered. This morning the banks gave notification that the cheques were no good and the police were notified. It is a story that a man of this description, about 28 years of age, prepossessing and well dressed, had been working the same trick in Ottawa, Montreal, Sherbrooke and London.

Brest Storekeepers Will Close Unless Business is Protected. Brest, Aug. 19.—Business men and storekeepers at a mass meeting here tonight unanimously decided to close their establishments if the authorities do not take steps to protect business. The resolution was communicated to the prefect of the Department of Finisterre, who replied that he had given orders that violence against stores be prevented.

the book has made a smashing, sensational reality in the picture. The great racing scene, the burning train going thru an open draw bridge and into a river, the rescue by a seaplane of a boy and a girl drift in an open boat in mid-Atlantic, the most astounding other thrills, the most astounding spectacular feats ever posed before a camera, have all been incorporated in "Checkers" for the Madison Theatre today and for the balance of this week. The "boy" meets with a lot of surprising adventures, when he leaves home on the arrival of a step-mother, and there is not a dull moment in the play.

SERVICE TO PUBLIC, THEME OF BANKERS

Ontario Branch Managers of Union Bank in Conference Yesterday.

Points emphasized yesterday at the convention of Ontario branch managers of the Union Bank of Canada, held at the King Edward Hotel, were service in its relation to the public and the need for national thrift.

These are the first conventions of their kind in Ontario, and Mr. Shaw, Superintendent of Branches J. S. Hiam, Western Superintendent William Chandler, and Chief Inspector Vibert.

Need of Thrift. The need of personal thrift was emphasized by Mr. Hiam, manager of the statistical department at Toronto.

Personal Thrift is Just as necessary today as it was in the days of the gold diggers.

It is reasonable to assume that the bank's shareholders are entitled to a return of 8% on their investment.
