ONE RAIDER SAID TO HAVE BEEN SUNK BY WARSHIP

The British Cruiser Glasgow Reported to Have Sent Down One — The Ortego Safe at Pernambuco

Buenos Aires, Argentina, Jan. 22.—La Prensa publishes a despatch from Rio Janeiro, saying that, according to a cablegram received at Pernambuco, the British cruiser Glasgow has sunk a German commerce raider 130 miles off the coast of Pernambuco.

London, Jan. 22.—Lloyd's announces that the Japanese steamer Kihangata Maru III, 2,408 tons, has been sunk. The British steamer Baron Scapell, 1,607 tons, is also believed to have been destroyed at Pernambuco.

Rio Janeiro, Jan. 22.—The British steamer Ortego, of the Pacific Line, concerning whose fate some anxiety was felt, has arrived safely at Pernambuco. The Ortego left Liverpool on December 28 and, after touching at Ireland, put in at Lisbon on January 17. From Portugal she sailed for Pernambuco by way of Dakar, French Senegal, leaving the latter port on January 15.

VEILED CONFESSION IS MADE BY GERMANY

Unless She is Victorious She Will Not Enter League to Preserve Peace After War

Washington, Jan. 22.—There probably will be no separate reply to Great Britain's supplementary note to President Wilson regarding peace. The reference in the British note to the necessity for some form of international sanction behind treaty agreements and international law, drew from German sources here an authoritative statement that Germany, under no consideration, would enter a league to preserve peace if she should emerge from the war much more victorious than her enemies. The Central Powers were represented as believing that the proposal to establish such a league at the end of this war cannot be realized if the ultimate result of the conflict is such as to permit a completely victorious set of belligerents to impose its own terms upon the vanquished Germany. It was said in making it clear that she stood ready to enter into a league, presupposed that the belligerents would result in a peace which all parties concerned would consider just and fair, which would not be the result of an imposed peace as the objects stated in its note to the president.

GOOD PIECE OF WORK

The efficiency of the local fire department and the good heartedness of citizens were evidenced last night when a fire broke out in the St. John County Hospital in East St. John. When Chief Blake received a message asking for assistance he ordered one of his men to sound an alarm on the whistle in King street east, in order to attract a sufficient number of men to No. 2 engine house to man the engine and handle the apparatus which was to be rushed to the scene. While this was being done telephonic calls were sent to firemen and soon a sufficient number had assembled. The chief, Commissioner McLellan and the firemen then started for the hospital taking with them the motor engine and No. 2 hose cart. While en route three men could be seen coming out of the kitchen windows of the institution. Citizens who learned of the fire hurried to the scene with coaches and automobiles thinking that perhaps the patients could render assistance. Fortunately the firemen were able to cope with the situation and it was not necessary to remove the patients. When the bell was rung many people heard it, but only thought that perhaps the wires had become crossed.

POLICE COURT

Albert Bowles, a street car conductor, was arrested this morning by Detectives Duncan and Briggs, on a warrant charging him with a serious offense. The case was commenced in the police court this morning and two witnesses were examined. The father and uncle of a girl with whom, it is alleged, the defendant was keeping company, testified. B. L. Geroy is looking after the interest of the girl's father, who is the complainant. John A. Barry is appearing on behalf of the accused. Bowles was remanded this morning and the case will come up again tomorrow.

In the police court this morning Walter Wilson was fined $8 for drunkenness. William Johnson was fined $20 for fighting in Water street in view of Sergeant Baxter on Saturday afternoon. Wallace Stevens was also arrested but he left a deposit and his sparring partner was left to face the court alone. Another prisoner was fined $8 or two months in jail for drunkenness.

TURKISH MUNITIONS FACTORY IN BAGDAD BOMBED BY BRITISH

London, Jan. 22.—It was officially announced here today that "on Saturday our aeroplanes dropped six bombs of 100 pounds each in and around the Turkish munitions factory in the Bagdad citadel."

IN GRIP OF THE WORST STORM IN RECENT YEARS

Quebec Swept by a 60 Mile Blizzard

TRAINS ARE TIED UP

Meetings in Dorchester County Political Campaign Interfered With But One Was Held This Morning

Quebec, Jan. 22.—With the wind blowing at sixty miles an hour, according to the official observatory here, and snow falling in dense and uninterrupted drifts, Quebec is, since last night, in the grip of the worst storm encountered in the last fifteen or eighteen years, say old residents.

A train is moving throughout all this region, and a number of trains are snow-bound in the outlying counties. There was no ferry service on the river since early today, and hundreds of business men and workers are kept from their work.

Campaign Interfered With. St. Henedine, Dorchester County, Que., Jan. 22.—A great snow storm during the night filled up the country roads and prevented the holding of the by-election campaign by making it impossible for the candidates to keep their meeting appointments.

This morning, however, a meeting scheduled for St. Margarets, four miles from here, was held. Mr. Sevigny spent the night at St. Margarets, and Mr. Cannon slept at St. Henedine. It is possible that the other meetings fixed for today, at St. Mary's, St. Nazaire, and St. Paul, will be cancelled owing to the weather conditions, which are becoming hourly worse.

Hon. P. E. Blondin, who spoke at St. Anselms last night in the interests of Mr. Sevigny, for the city. His opponent at the St. Anselms meeting was Ernest LaPointe, M. P. for Kamouraska. In Montreal.

Montreal, Jan. 22.—Railway traffic in this section has been seriously interrupted as the result of a heavy snowstorm which started last evening and is still in progress. Most of the freight trains, both in and out of the city, have been cancelled and passenger trains are all running on the street railway service. It was also considerably delayed, but is improving. The storm is one of the most severe yet, and apparently general all over the province.

German Realizing Some Things They'll Have To Do

VIEWS IN HIGH PLACES

South American Diplomat Reports Conversation With Imperial Chancellor and the Foreign Minister—Found Them Conciliatory to Alsace

London, Jan. 22.—The Daily Express Amsterdam correspondent telegraphs the following: "A South American diplomat, who is leaving Berlin, had luncheon last night with the imperial chancellor and Herr Zimmerman, the foreign minister. The possibility of peace was discussed, and the neutral diplomat gives me the following account of what was said: 'I do not speak officially, of course, but I can say with almost certainty that the chancellor and Herr Zimmerman agree with the Kaiser and Hindenburg that they must reinstate Belgium and possibly grant her financial compensation. They have discovered that neither the Allies nor even America will accept less.'"

"As to Alsace, I found them strangely conciliatory. Formerly they would refuse to discuss such a purely German question. Now they say: 'We shall discuss the matter in a broad and liberal spirit. If the Allies cannot or will not sacrifice enough to take Alsace, we will offer a bargain: we will not force the exchange of Alsace for French Indo-China.'"

"Such a move is evidently meant to establish deep sea blockade of British Isles from England and France. American Loan for six months ended December 31, shows surplus after charges of $9,360,834, increase of $808,094. Twenty active industrials average 97.48, up 18; twenty passive 104.70, off .06.

FRANCE TO USE SUGAR CARDS

Paris, Jan. 22.—Sugar cards are to be introduced in France. Their introduction in Paris and the department of the Seine will be accompanied by a census with a view of making the measure effective. It is officially stated that the objects of the measure are to diminish the sea transport, reduce purchases abroad and avoid the export of gold.

Huns Twice Sent Back By The French

Fail in Two Attacks on Right Bank of the Meuse on the Verdun Front

Paris, Jan. 22.—Two attacks were made by the Germans last night on the Verdun front on the right bank of the Meuse. Today's official announcement says they were driven back each time by the French fire.

The text says: "On the right bank of the River Meuse, after a violent bombardment, German troops last evening attacked on two different occasions the trenches to the northeast of Caurieres Wood. The fire of our artillery, together with that of our machine guns, checked these enemy attacks, and our lines were maintained without loss. "Artillery fighting proceeded actively during the night in the sector of Cole De Poivre. In Lorraine and Alsace there have been patrol encounters. The night passed quietly on the remainder of the Verdun front."

German Report. Berlin, Jan. 22.—Western front: Near Lens, a minor British attack was repulsed in a hand-to-hand engagement. "Rumanian front: Front of Arch-duk Joseph: In the eastern Carpathians forest engagements, with a result successful to us, occurred at several places. North of the Ostuz valley there has been interesting artillery firing by artillery on both sides."

British Builders Intimated to Divert Labor From Work on High Class Liners

London, Jan. 22.—The Crown Prince of Rumania and Premier Bradu have arrived at Petrograd for a conference with the Russian authorities on important questions in connection with the Rumanian situation, according to a Petrograd despatch to the Times.

The Petrograd despatch says that tens of thousands of Rumanian refugees continue to pour into Bessarabia and the adjoining provinces. Among them are 12,000 Rumanian Boy Scouts, whom the crown prince has offered to train and to divert the labor to the building of plain cargo ships.

IMPORTANT CONFERENCE RELATIVE TO ROUMANIA

Crown Prince and Premier Go in Petrograd—Bay Scouts Among Refugees

London, Jan. 22.—The Crown Prince of Rumania and Premier Bradu have arrived at Petrograd for a conference with the Russian authorities on important questions in connection with the Rumanian situation, according to a Petrograd despatch to the Times.

The Petrograd despatch says that tens of thousands of Rumanian refugees continue to pour into Bessarabia and the adjoining provinces. Among them are 12,000 Rumanian Boy Scouts, whom the crown prince has offered to train and to divert the labor to the building of plain cargo ships.

SINN FEINERS MAKE TROUBLE AT MEETING

Rush Platform in Limerick and Beat Thos. Lunden, M.P.

London, Jan. 22.—About fifty members of the Sinn Fein, carrying a Sinn Fein flag, rushed upon the platform from which Thomas Lunden, Nationalist M. P., for the east division of Limerick, was addressing a meeting in Limerick yesterday.

The attack on Mr. Lunden is attributed to a speech which he made in the House of Commons with reference to the disarmament of the Irish volunteers.

WASHINGTON NOW SEEMS TO GRIP IT

Washington, Jan. 22.—The supplementary and separate reports of Great Britain to President Wilson's peace note of Dec. 18 was generally regarded here as the opinion which the Allies had determined to have no peace that would not be permanent, and that the attainment of objects to which the Central Powers would never agree until forced to do so.

GERMANY WILL STAND NO INTERFERENCE FROM NEUTRALS

London, Jan. 22.—A demand that neutral interests shall not be allowed to interfere with Germany's struggle for victory was made in the Prussian Diet by Herr Friedberg (leader of the national liberal party) according to an Amsterdam despatch to Reuters. Herr Friedberg was one of several speakers who urged vigorous prosecution of the war and increased submarine activity. He said: "We must expect from every neutral that he do not lay stress on his own interests where for us it is a fight for existence. Such interests must not prevent us from gaining a peace that will satisfy German aspirations and safeguard the world from new and similar catastrophes."

WAR SOUVENIRS

London, Jan. 22.—An Exchange Telegraph despatch from Amsterdam says General Williams has conferred on Field Marshal Von Hindenburg and Chancellor Von Bethmann-Hollweg the new decoration similar to the Iron Cross, which the Emperor established last month for civilians engaged in the national auxiliary services.

Wilson Asks To Go Before The Senate

Important Communication Relative to Foreign Affairs—First Incident of Its Kind Since Days of Washington

Washington, Jan. 22.—President Wilson sent word to Vice-President Marshall today that he wished to address the senate on the subject of foreign relations. Arrangements for his appearance were at once taken. It is said no other president since Washington has made such an appearance.

Vice-President Marshall laid before the senate at 11 o'clock a letter from the president stating that he had an important communication relating to foreign affairs which he deemed it his duty to lay before the senate and which he would like to present in person.

The senate then adopted a resolution by Senator Stone to hear the president at one o'clock.

Senator Stone explained that the matter, as he understood it, would not require an executive session.

So many reports regarding the president's intention were prevalent that Senator Stone announced that the president proposed giving the senate an elaboration of the subjects contained in his note to belligerents asking for a statement of possible terms of peace. The contents of the president's address have been placed in the hands of all the foreign governments.

SORRY TO SEE WAR END UNTIL THE AIM OF ALLIES' ACHIEVED

French Minister of Manufactures Wants Crushed Nations to Obtain Reparations and Guarantees

Paris, Jan. 22.—Albert Thomas, minister of manufactures, speaking at the anniversary commemoration of the death of Jean Baptiste Semanes, Socialist mayor of St. Gervais, exhorted the Socialists to sink all their differences and merge their efforts toward winning the war. M. Semanes was a peace advocate who was wounded while fighting with his regiment and died in a German hospital.

M. Thomas told his hearers that France was not trying to win the right and that unless the right prevailed Socialism was lost.

"In the war of secession," said the minister, "when the American states fought, south against north or against slavery, the great president, Abraham Lincoln, deploring the miseries of several years of fighting, but, invoking at the same time the principle of liberty which guided him, said: 'We have accepted this war for an ideal, for a precious ideal and the war will end when this ideal is reached. I hope before God it will finish before.' I also hope that this war will not finish before the nations crushed by Prussian militarism have obtained the necessary reparations and guarantees. I hope it will not finish until the conditions of a lasting and substantial peace are realized."

GERMANS SEIZE DUTCH MAIL STEAMER, TAKE THE MAILS

London, Jan. 22.—An Amsterdam despatch to the Times says that it is believed here that the chief reason for the seizure of the Dutch mail steamer Prinz Hendrick by German warships was to search its mails. There were 1,500 bags of mail matter on board and these were examined at Ostend.

It is reported that mail destined for German prisoners was returned, as also was American packages. The remainder is supposed to have been taken to the youngest Belgians on board who were held as prisoners of war. An American timber merchant who is above detention is connected with his business or financial position.

FORTY KILLED IN WRECK ON TRIESTE-VIENNA LINE

Amsterdam, Jan. 22.—A Vienna despatch to the Berlin Lokal Anzeiger says that forty persons are reported killed in the wreck of a Trieste-Vienna train at Styria.

The train was struck by an enormous rock and another train which went to the rescue dashed into the wreckage, causing additional deaths.

JAPANESE TROOPS TO EUROPE IF NEEDED TO WIN THE WAR

London, Jan. 22.—N. Kato, London editor of the Mainichi, at a meeting of the Central Asian Society, said his country had shown she was a trustworthy ally in time of need. To French enquirers who when he last visited the front in France, asked why Japan did not send troops to Europe, his reply was that Japan did not deem it necessary for the assured victory of the allies, but if it was found desirable that Japan give such help she would not hesitate to do so.

For the production of munitions for military supplies, chiefly for the Russian army, Japan has mobilized all her industrial resources. In addition the government arsenals and thousands of privately owned factories are engaged day and night and the greater part of her gold reserves are deposited in the Bank of England.

RUSSIAN CHIEF SEES COMPLETE VICTORY NEAR

Petrograd, via London, Jan. 22.—The Hussky Slovo says General Brusiloff, commander-in-chief of the Russian armies of the southwestern front, addressing his staff officers, said: "Information at my disposal and my personal conviction warrant me saying that I am as certain as I am certain I am standing before you that during the coming year the enemy will be completely routed."

Paid War Claims of $37,000,000

London, Jan. 22.—British institutions transacting life assurance business paid $37,000,000 war claims from the beginning of the war to last November, according to S. G. Warner, president of the Institute of Actuaries. An article on the subject in the Times says: "Many of those who assured during the last few years did not anticipate the European catclysm, and received as a rule, policies free of all restrictions. In some cases in the policies issued to civilians the war risk was specifically excluded, but the offices which issued these generally decided to waive their rights, partly in view of the fact that the great majority of the policies were free of all restrictions. It has been a testing time for the strength of British life assurance that there have been practically no signs of distress. During the war these offices have been an important factor in national finances. They are large subscribers to the war loan."

Yours truly, S. G. Warner

ALBERTA HORSES BEST FOR ARMY. Calgary, Jan. 22.—Whatever some people may say derogatory to "scrub" horses of Alberta and other parts of the west certainly is not endorsed by Lieut. Col. George A. Carruthers, the commanding officer of a divisional ammunition column who has been in Calgary looking over the section that has been recruited here by Lieut. Col. Gifford, the colonel saying that they are far and away the best on the western front. The remark, "That wonderful horse," he said, was one that was quite common in France in referring to the western Canadian animals. "They are second to no other," he said, "and are giving an enormous amount of satisfaction."

RESCRIPT BY CZAR MAKES DEEP IMPRESSION. Petrograd, Jan. 21.—A profound impression has been made here by a rescript addressed by Emperor Nicholas to the new Russian premier, Prince Goltzine, calling upon him, among other things, to set the government's attention to the question of the supplies for the armies of Russia.

Hunger's Grip is Tightening work going on as usual. At one place I drove along a road bordering on a considerable stretch of new railway line, and noticed that all the workers were Russian and French prisoners, guarded by very old soldiers and very young ones.

It is not true as stated in the English and French newspapers, which are sold here as freely as heretofore, that the diet of the armies remains as it was. There are bitter grumblings from the soldiers back from the eastern front, and the soldiers returning from the front are suffering from increasing diminution in the mixture of butter and margarine served out to them.

There are military bands everywhere as usual, but there is no military spirit left in any of the cities I visited. The German people generally are sick of the war. The only comfort is in their belief that food prices and the scarcity in Russia, England and France are worse than in Germany.

It is a fact, too, that Dr. Christopher Gittner, a famous professor of Gottingen, prophesied as late as the last century that before it had passed, the transmutation of gold would be generally known and practiced. "Every chemist and artist," he wrote, "will find gold; kitchen-utensils will be of silver and even gold, which will contribute more to the wealth of the world than any other discovery."

"Magical powers were commonly believed to be bestowed through the medium of animals. Foods and some other kinds of batrachians came under this category; hence liards which have been dried and stretched on bamboo splinters are still regarded in demand in China and other countries where the primitive medical man yet holds his own."

"In some parts of Japan the mere skin of a snake is still supposed to be a sovereign cure for poisons of the abdomen. Tortles are regarded with great awe in China and elsewhere, and so too are tigers' bones and carbonaceous keys' skulls, which latter are prepared by putting them into clay vessels exposed to heat until the medicinal quality has been exhausted."

"The exorcising of disease by a host of gods and goddesses is still credited in some parts of China, Japan, India, Korea, etc. For example, the Hindu goddess who has a powerful power over smallpox is approached with solemn ceremonies and presents to propitiate her. She is represented as standing with two uplifted fingers, threatening to strike on the right and left. Before her stands a band of the executors of the law, each holding a pair of grinning masks, black shields and naked scimitars."

"White lines, like rays, issue from the bodies of those, to indicate infection. On the right is another group of muscians with drums, beating the pety of the furious deity. From behind advances a boy of smiling young woman, gracefully carrying on a 'she' heads baskets with thanksgiving offerings, in gratitude for their lives and beauty having been spared. By such means the goddess is at last induced to stay her fury, and the diseased are cured or supposed to be—which appears to have answered just as well."

"In Java, idols are provided with bells for calling the attention of the deities to the need of their exerting powers in behalf of the sick and unfortunate."

"Ain to this kind of blind faith is the credulity of some classes of Japanese, whose doctors know very little more about anatomy and physiology than do their patients, and for purposes of diagnosis they rely mainly on the pulse, three of which they say can be found in each wrist, namely, the heart, controlling the right upper pulse; the lungs, the left upper pulse; the stomach, the right middle pulse; the liver, the left middle pulse; the right kidney, the right lower pulse, and the left kidney, the left lower pulse. By examining these six pulses the healer at once pretends to discover what ails his patient and proceeds to effect a cure—or, if any rate, to make him believe that he is cured!"

"The vanity of women proved valuable to the magic healer in old England. If disgraced by warts, they were simply told to stick a piece of beef from the butcher's shop, rub the warts with it, bury it, and (presto!) the warts disappear. If they wanted their complexions to be more pink all they had to do was to eat some kind of plants, seeds and all sorts of things which noses took the place of sallow skin. In Algeria, women still follow this practice, using a plant called 'feruque' for the purpose."

"The wonder of all this kind of thing is that after countless failures must have proved the inefficacy for the purpose, the people should have gone on believing in them; but had it not been as human nature would have been different from what it was, it is and probably always will be."

S. C. McLean of the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company, will leave tonight for New York to attend the annual meeting.

WEEK-END FIRES

Only prompt action averted the loss of several lives in a fire which destroyed two dwellings in Chapel street on Saturday evening. The fire was first detected by a neighbor living at some distance about 6 o'clock. Two alarms were rung in, and before the fire was extinguished the three story dwelling, No. 51, owned by Morris Jacobson was completely gutted, the three tenants losing practically all their effects. In the house adjoining, owned by Mrs. Thomas Mallory, the occupants of the third floor lost nearly all their belongings, while the tenant in the second floor suffered severely by water and smoke. The total loss is considered between $6,000 and $7,000. Not one of the tenants who suffered loss in the fire is insured. Jacobson's dwelling is insured to the extent of $1,000, as is the house owned by Mrs. Mallory. The fire originated in the lower portion of the Jacobson dwelling, occupied by Arthur Nickerson. Mrs. Samuel White and Mrs. Louis Vinberg escaped with only what clothing they had on. Their children were rescued by the firemen. Mr. Mallory, with whom two children whose father was killed in the war, were living, managed to get the family into safety. He was later partly buried by a falling wall while attempting to save some clothing.

Why Drag Through Life Wearing Worthless Trusses?
 90% of the Suffering and Trouble Ruptured People Go Through is Caused by Spring and Leg-strap Trusses

Aren't you sick and tired of wearing trusses you can't make hold, which you can't feel safe in, or which hurt so that you scarcely give you a minute's peace? Don't you know that such contraptions will sooner or later let your rupture get the best of you? Don't you know they are almost sure to cripple you up, so you won't be able to keep at work, won't be able to make a living? Aren't you afraid they'll gradually let you get so bad that sooner or later you'll have to face a dangerous operation? Aren't you willing to make a sixty-day test—without having to risk a cent—and see for yourself what a relief it is to get rid of such misery-causing makeshifts?

No More Belts, Leg-Straps or Springs

We have found a way to hold any man's rupture without harmful pressure, without any belts or spring around your waist, without having to wear leg-strap. It is our guaranteed rupture holder. It is as big an improvement over elastic and spring trusses and so-called "appliance" as the modern locomotive is over the first steam engine ever built over the first steam engine ever built.

60 Days Trial to Prove It

We have so much faith in it—we have seen what it has done for so many others—that we are willing to make one especially for your case and send it to you for sixty days' trial. Willing to give you plenty of time to see for yourself just how good it is.

If it doesn't keep your rupture from coming out or from bothering you in any way, then you can send it back and it won't cost you a single penny for it. It is the only thing we know of for rupture that you can get on long enough trial to make sure, because the only thing good enough to stand a long and thorough test.

WILL IT LAST THE FULL 10 DAYS?
 Semi ready "Lonelies" May All Be Sold This Week at Present Rate of Sale.

The Semi-ready sale is advertised for ten days only, but Mr. Hollis says that if the present rate of selling continues he will hardly have any old garments to dispose of during the last days of the sale.

"I am only giving a general discount on my staple stock because our customers expect it," he said. The real "lonelies" which we will dispose of for the purpose of clearing out all old lines have been marked down below wholesale cost, and when these are sold the rest of the semi-annual sale will be better accomplished. I will keep faith with our advertising, but the last day of the month will be a day of relief. Every man in the trade knows that it is in a plan to sell good clothes at such reductions with prices of woollens advancing every month."

RECENT DEATHS

For many years he was Frederickton correspondent of the St. John Sun.

He was prominent in the legal profession and prior to 1886 was revising barrister under the dominion government and for some years a solicitor. He was the author of York county at one time and for the next seven years was city clerk of Frederickton.

He was the father of the Union of New Brunswick Municipalities, which was a director and a member of the People's Bank of New Brunswick. He was also a member of the Union of Canada and the United Brotherhood of Carpenters and Joiners of America.

Deceased was twice married, first to a daughter of the late Samuel Duddy, of St. Mary's, and secondly, to Miss Cooper, of Frederickton. Miles McCready, of Wickham, is a brother, and Mrs. J. M. Sherwood, of New Brunswick, and G. A. Green, of Wickham, are sisters.

The late Mr. McCready was suddenly stricken by an illness about a week ago, and never recovered from it. Within the last fortnight his condition became such that there was hope for his recovery.

Mrs. Kelly was a lady widely known in the city and the province. She was actively interested in all matters pertaining to church work and was a most valued member of the congregation of the Cathedral of the Immaculate Conception. The daughter is Miss Eugene, who resides at home. The late Mrs. Kelly was in the sixty-first year of her age. She was a native of the late village of Smith, in his time a prominent contractor of the city. The sympathy of many friends will go out to the family in their affliction. The funeral will take place this morning from the family residence, 17 Leinster street, to the Cathedral of the Immaculate Conception for solemn high mass of requiem.

James B. Pollock.
 A large circle of friends will hear with regret the death of James B. Pollock for the last ten years harbor inspector and which occurred yesterday at his home, Champlain street, West St. John. Besides his wife he leaves three sons, James, Ralph and Arthur, employed at the wintering of the late Mr. Smith, his brother, and two daughters, Mrs. Geo. Was Anaemic For Over a Year

Anemia, or blood turning to water, is caused by the heart becoming deranged, and if the heart becomes weakened it cannot pump the blood as it should. As a result the blood becomes impoverished, and it loses its nourishing qualities. The face becomes pale and thin, and the lips bloodless. There is a weakness, tiredness and loss of weight. When those suffering from thin or watery blood start taking Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills they can see a change from the outset.

Every dose introduces into the blood those vital elements necessary to make it rich and red. The pale cheeks take on the rosy hue of health, the weight increases, and the whole being thrills with a new life.

Mrs. J. Grey, Frederickton, N. B., writes: "I was a girl very thin and anaemic. A friend told me to try Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills so I got a box. It was done I felt and looked so much better I decided to get six more. When I had taken them I was able to do my work in strength, in flesh and color, and best of all was good health."

Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills are 50c a box; three boxes for $1.25, at all dealers or mailed direct on receipt of price to The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

Proof That You Quickly Get Bracing Health From Ferrozone

There's a real reason why Ferrozone cures. It's a true nerve tonic—not a stimulant—it feeds the nerves with nourishment—gives them vital activity. No other tonic in the world like Ferrozone, nothing else is so quick and lasting in its effects on a run-down, nervous system. "I used enough medicine to appreciate an honest one," writes J. B. Beattie, from his home in Newcastle. "From babyhood I was not overly strong and was always nervous. I smoked a good deal, but on the whole my habits were good. My trouble first began with a shortening of the hours of sleep. I would awaken too early, my appetite was poor, and to whip it up I used highly spiced and sweet foods. First thing I knew I had palpitation on doing a little extra work, and then an awful tiredness came upon me, and a strange feeling of dread—almost of fear myself. My power of memory weakened. My power of memory weakened. At one time I began to feel better, and permanently better I really was, for less than a dozen boxes made me a well man. Now I can do my work with any man and I am grateful to Ferrozone."

Ferrozone corrects all enfeebled conditions of the system, builds up and gives the body great restful power against disease. To use Ferrozone assures lasting, robust health. 50c per box or six boxes for $3.00 at all dealers. Try Ferrozone, do it today.

FRANCE AND ITALY NEED COAL

Activities of Submarine Make Serious Inroads on the Supply.

Washington, Jan. 22—Destruction of allied merchant ships by submarines is making it difficult to obtain the maximum amount of coal for the Entente countries, according to official dispatches received here that even the fixing maximum rates on coal transportation has failed to relieve the coal shortage in France and Italy. Neutral vessels are refusing to carry coal from British ports to the allied countries because neutral ports offer better rates.

SOCIAL RECONSTRUCTION

The Social Service Congress in St. John could not have had a more suspicious beginning than the outstanding address of Mr. Raymond Robins in the Imperial yesterday afternoon. The western man who said it was worth traveling far to hear an address by Mr. Robins expressed a feeling that is now shared by many hundreds of St. John people. It is worth while to sit under the spell of the eloquence of a man who has the broad outlook and the clear vision, and who can discuss with clearness and force the great problems of world-wide significance in relation to the life of all the peoples. Mr. Robins could put his finger on the weak spot in American life, in Australian life, and in the social organization of Germany. He made it clear that religion must have its place in the social organization, and that without the vision the people perish; but by religion he means the sort which finds expression in service and in sacrifice. Mr. Robins believes, moreover, in the development of the community spirit, and his story of what that development meant to a congested ward in Chicago conveys a lesson that should not be overlooked in Canadian cities.

There has been no finer analysis of German Kultur than Mr. Robins gave his hearers yesterday, nor any more clear enunciation of what the present war means to the world. As an American citizen of military age he would have welcomed such action after the destruction of the Lusitania as would have lined up American soldiers with those of Britain and Australia and Canada, on the battle-front in France and Flanders, to fight for the Anglo-Saxon principle of democracy as opposed to the autocracy represented by Germany. The last named country, whose great gift to the world was a marvelous social and industrial organization, had flung it all into a war for world-dominion, because that organization was not guided and inspired by the spirit of democracy and of all humanity.

But the Anglo-Saxon peoples have more to do than fight. They have to prove themselves worthy of those who are fighting the battles of civilization amid the mud and snow of the shell-torn fields of France and Flanders, and along the whole flaming battle front in Europe and in Asia. To be worthy they must throw into social reconstruction the same fiery zeal and energy that they slowly but surely winning the war. And by doing so in Canada will make a cleaner and a better country in which the help of our sons who return after the great struggle is over, we may work out successfully the problems of a democracy purged as by fire, and reach out to new achievements and new triumphs over the evils that beset the ways of men. Mr. Robins sees less danger for Canada than for his own country in this great testing time of the Anglo-Saxon race. He fears, with many other thoughtful Americans, that the very prosperity which the war has brought to our neighbors to the south may be their undoing, unfitting them for the practice of the sterner virtues and the solution of the social problems of the years to come. We in Canada have been very prosperous, but there are graves under foreign skies and maimed men in hospitals, and widows and orphans, and vacant seats at the home fireside which proclaim louder than any words a challenge to all that is noblest and highest in the nature of men and women.

The time is ripe for a great social service campaign in Canada. It will in no way interfere with the successful prosecution of the war. A serious awakening of all the people to a sense of the importance of social reconstruction will release for effective service a vast amount of energy now directed into worthless or unworthy channels. The world is at the parting of the ways. The dawn of a new era is on the hills. This young country has need of its best manhood and womanhood, devoted to the higher aims of Christian citizenship. Democracy will save the world in this war, but democracy must also save itself, and the burden lies upon us all. Mr. Robins rightly says that the old individualistic theory is wholly unsuited to the problems of modern life. People must recognize the relation and interrelation of all the elements in human society, and by a willingness to serve bring order out of the social chaos that is threatened.

ANOTHER REMINDER

Another police raid at an early hour on Sunday morning disclosed a condition of affairs so shocking as to amaze the most hardened reprobate. One more we are shown the need of proper institutions for neglected children and delinquent girls, and for men who should not be at large until they are given reformatory treatment. But, most of all, we are shown the need of community welfare work which would make it impossible for such conditions to exist in the city or its outskirts. Attention has been directed to the fact that there was an increase in the number of arrests last year. One explanation of the fact, that the police are making an earnest effort to clean up the city. Eight persons were taken in the Sunday morning raid. Is there anyone who will say those arrests should not have been made? As a matter of fact there would be a still larger number of arrests if the Children's Aid Society had a fitter large enough to deal with all the cases which should be brought into court. If in former years people could plead ignorance of conditions, that excuse is now denied them. The facts are being spread on the record. There is no blurring the fact that there is too much immorality, too many girls of tender years parading the streets at night without an escort, too many children growing up in ignorance. The latest raid brought in three boys of school age, one of them thirteen years old, who cannot read or write. Who cares? Who will lead a crusade in St. John against conditions that curse the city and lay ruin not only upon this but future generations? So far as the police are concerned, the chief will give prompt service in any case calling for police intervention, but the police alone can never reconstruct society on a right basis. They can only help.

SIR WILFRID WILL SPEAK

Sir Wilfrid Laurier in parliament this week, perhaps today or tomorrow, in the debate on the address, will make clear once more his position and that of the Liberal party in relation to the war, and in relation to the National propagandists of Sir Robert Borden's Quebec and his supporters. In advance of Sir Wilfrid's speech, and by a distortion of what Mr. Cannon said the other day in the Dorchester campaign, the St. John Standard goes into mock hysterics over the disloyalty of the Liberal leader and all who support him. Hon. Sir Wilfrid Laurier is a traitor and his supporters, though they are shedding their life blood for Canada, are not to be trusted for a moment. Well, everybody knows why the Standard assumes this attitude. It is afraid the patronage committee will lose its job, and that would be worse in the opinion of a newspaper organ of the machine, than civil war. The people of Canada know how to choose between the imperial statesman, Sir Wilfrid Laurier, and the Nationalist propagandist, Hon. Sir Robert Borden, even when the latter is given a certificate of character by Sir Robert Borden.

So far as Mr. Cannon is concerned, if he conveyed in his speech the slightest intimation that he thinks Canada has done enough in this war—and this he denies—he certainly has not represented other Sir Wilfrid Laurier or the Liberal party. The Standard's whole tirade is based on a garbled report of Mr. Cannon's speech.

Fredericton and the province have lost a good citizen in the passing of Mr. J. W. McCready, city clerk at the provincial capital. He was a quiet and lovable man, whose friendship other men valued. His early newspaper experience was of value to him in later years, and he did much to advance the interests of Fredericton. His Board of Trade and Tourist Association found him a valuable member. He was the father of the Union of New Brunswick Municipalities, and was also active in the Union of Canadian Municipalities until illness came upon him three years ago. Mr. McCready had a wide circle of personal friends who regret sincerely that he is gone from their midst.

JEWIS RAISE $150,000 FOR HEBREW COLLEGE

Large Contributions Are Made at Baltimore Convention Following an Appeal
Baltimore, Jan. 20.—Following an appeal by Adolph S. Ochs, chairman of the Committee on Ways and Means, fifty-seven Jews pledged more than $150,000 in a few hours at a convention of the Union of American Hebrew Congregations to meet expenses of the Hebrew Union College of Cincinnati and synagogue and school extension work. More than $10,000 of this sum was pledged by twenty Baltimore Jews, in announcing the names of the contributors, Mr. Ochs said:
"The spirit is in Baltimore. It has shown that the Hebrew Union College, the centre of our intellectual life, is not a dead institution in Cincinnati, but one from which Judaism all over the land draws power."
The largest single contribution was made in the name of Cincinnati, $50,000, and the five Guggenheim brothers, of New York—Isaac, Daniel, Murray, Sol, and Simon—pledged $50,000 each. Mr. Ochs gave $10,000.

Ne'er sigh for home, while lovers and can be fired with the gunner either sitting on a saddle or lying on his back. The French gun is carried in parts and on the road is conveyed on pack saddles or in carts. At the front it is carried by soldiers. The barrel of the German gun is surrounded by a metal sleeve filled with water for cooling purposes; but when the gun becomes hot the water begins to boil, steam escapes, and the aim of the gunner is obscured. The steam also betrays the presence of the gun, and by means of damp grass to initiate the boiling machine gun. The German gun can be carried either on a man's back, or by cart, or automobile. It is not packed by horses or mules. Capt. Carre says that in the German Mercedes automobiles were certain nuts fixed in the chassis, the purpose of which nobody could explain. It has been learned since that the cars were constructed so that they might be fitted with Maxim guns.

How the Bullets Fly.
It is probable that of all the various models of machine gun now being used at the front one does not stand out. One excels in one point; one in another. For instance, the cooling jacket of the German gun, as said, discloses its presence when the gun gets hot. The British gun, on the other hand, is a very quiet machine. It has been learned since that the cars were constructed so that they might be fitted with Maxim guns.

Had Twenty to Allies' One
Bravest Men Man These Instruments of Destruction—Germans Turn Guns On Ours Comrades at Times

One of the things which Germany knew before the war and which the Allies did not know was the part that machine guns would play in the struggle. Therefore the Germans had twenty times as many machine guns on the front as their enemies, and the machine guns did more for their early successes than the famous howitzers which battered down the Belgian forts in the early days of their advance. Fortunately machine guns were easily made; the Allies learned the lesson, and now are supposed to have as many machine guns, if not more, than Germany.

Perhaps the bravest men in the German army are the machine gunners. Whether leading an advance or defending a retreat, they are a veritable formidible force, and time and time again they have shown their worth by shooting "kamarad" (comrades) who refused to surrender even though they saw certain death awaiting them. They are as savage as they are desperate, and have been known again and again to turn their fire on their own wounded, and also to sweep with murderous blasts those of their comrades who held their hands up in the sign of surrender.

French machine gun, which is translated in Current History. He points out that the mitralleuse, which is the common name of the machine gun in France, is really a misnomer, because the word designates grape shot, by which was used a weapon of fifty barrels, each of fastening several light guns together parallel to each other. It was not until the nineteenth century, however, that any marked progress was made along this line, and then by a Belgian, who devised a weapon of fifty barrels, each about the size of a rifle barrel, assembled parallel to each other in a prismatic bundle. This gun could fire one hundred bullets a minute, and its range was about a mile and a quarter.

The next step was the invention of the Gatling gun, with six or ten barrels, a crank turned by hand providing the motive power, and another development was the so-called "bullet cannon" of France, a bundle of twenty-five barrels containing twenty-five cartridges, each capable of discharging 150 bullets a minute to a range of a mile and a half. None of the weapons mentioned was automatic. All were operated by hand.

Two Cases of Eczema and How They Were Cured

Further Proof That Dr. Chase's Ointment is a Positive Cure for Chronic Eczema

If you read these letters you will find that Dr. Chase's Ointment is not to be classed among ordinary salves and ointments.

By actually curing itching, stinging eczema in many thousands of cases I had stood the most severe test to which any ointment can be put.

Mr. J. B. Brier, Temperance Road, Parry Sound, Ont., writes: "Just a line to praise Dr. Chase's Ointment for what it has done for me. I have had eczema for two years, and has spent no end of money with doctors and for ointments, but which did her no good. She had about given up hope of ever being cured, when someone told her of Dr. Chase's Ointment. By the use of this Ointment the trouble has left her entirely, so we have unbounded faith in it. I have told several people about the Ointment."

Sir Sam Favors Conscription

Sherbrooke, Jan. 19.—Sir Sam Hughes was the principal speaker at a huge patriotic rally held in His Majesty's Theatre in connection with recruiting for Col. Ballantyne's 24th Battalion, Canadian Grenadier Guards. The former minister of militia had a high compliment to Col. Ballantyne. Sir Sam Loomis and other commanding officers whom he had appointed, describing them as serious business men, who had made such courage, pluck and enterprise that he knew they would make a success of their work in the trenches. These qualifications, coupled with a spirit of manliness and the art of managing men were the first necessary things and he had yet to find an officer possessing them who had not made good at the front.

Sir Sam complimented Sherbrooke on having enlisted more than his share of the enrolled men and paid a tribute to Col. Harry Baker, of the 5th Mounted Rifles, and to the other splendid regiments recruited in the eastern townships who are now perpetuating the great cause of human liberty.

For Universal Service.
Making a plea for universal service, Sir Sam asked why should a man send three or four sons to the front and his neighbor keep his boys at home earning good money in the shops. Enlistment was becoming a national concern and should be no longer a voluntary institution. He had always maintained that the youth of the country should be trained even when not at war and not participating war. Only 250,000 out of one million, one hundred thousand single men of military age in Canada had enlisted. It was ridiculous to say, factories could not be run if more men enlisted. He could raise two battalions in Sherbrooke from the boys who frequented the skating rinks. Montreal would have raised eight battalions, where she only had eight thousand men. As long as voluntary enlistment was going on, there was hope of early closing of the war nothing was done about conscription, but the time had arrived, in his judgment, when the Militia Act should be put into force as a matter of fairness. Why not apply the act and call out 50 per cent of the men to train for the defence of the country so that in the event of a mishap to the British navy, Germany could not make Canada another Belgium. The dominion was unprepared for home defence and enlistment in Quebec province had not been what might have been expected.

RESTORATION OF SOLDIERS TO CIVILIAN LIFE

Address by Principal F. H. Sexton

SPEAKS TO CANADIAN CLUB

He is Head of Nova Scotia Technical College—The Convalescent Homes, Vocational and Re-creative Training

The following is from an address delivered to the Canadian Club, Moncton, on Jan. 16, by Principal F. H. Sexton of the Nova Scotia Technical College on "Restoration of Returned Soldiers to Civilian Life."

You may properly ask what Canada has planned and what she is actually doing in technical training and re-education for our gallant heroes. She has made adequate provision that all of our men shall have adequate opportunity to get proper technical education and also that those who have been seriously disabled shall be trained for new vocations. The country is so huge and the problem is so new that we have not reached the high state of perfection in these branches which has been attained in France and Belgium, but rapid progress is being made. All of the work is under the Military Hospitals Commission.

Stretching across the domain are twenty-four convalescent homes and sanatoria in which our boys are receiving medical and surgical care until they have been made as well as possible. At the present time there are over 2,500 soldiers receiving treatment. Most of these men have a great deal of time on their hands. They may be in these institutions from two or three months up to six months or even a year. There is great danger that these men may get into a dependent of indolent frame of mind and that they will deteriorate mentally and morally. They may get into a state which is known technically as being "hospitalized." It is the provision of some interesting form of work. The old philosopher who was Ecclesiastes spoke truly when he said of the well-ordered existence that "There is nothing better for a man than that he should eat and drink and that he should make his soul enjoy good in his labor."

To Meet Conditions Therefore, there has been provided in convalescent homes technical training that is planned not only to interest the returned soldiers but that will also give him such knowledge as will enable him to take a more responsible position in his occupation when he returns to civil life. Instruction varies in the different homes according to the part of the country in which it is situated and the dominant industrial interests of that part of the domain. Thus in the west, agricultural training including poultry raising, bookkeeping, market gardening, etc., are emphasized, while in the east, most of the instruction is based on the manufacturing industries and business.

In all of the homes classes are offered in the general subjects, English and arithmetic. Said to say, some of our soldiers have never had the opportunity to get a good common school education and their period of convalescence is hailed as the chance of a lifetime to get a thorough training in the essentials of education. These men look forward with apprehension to the day when they will be discharged and their opportunity end. Some men, who work away like Trojans at the problems which our little boys and girls are doing every day in the public schools have had their course interrupted by being sent to a hospital for an operation or other cause, and have sent to the instructor to send their books to them, so that they might continue studying until they are well enough to return to the convalescent home.

There are classes in stenography, typewriting, automobile driving and repair, woodworking and cabinet making, architectural and mechanical drawing, shoe repairing and metal mending. In some of these classes the articles which are made are sold, the cost of materials deducted and the balance goes to the soldier. The great benefit of all this instruction is to keep the man's mind active and to keep him from brooding on his own condition and the terrible experience through which time he has passed. The soldier who returns is not in a normal frame of mind. He is sluggish mentally and his long military life has reduced his power of personal initiative. For months he has not had to think about his food and raiment or the support of his dependents. All of his action has been controlled by his officers. His emotions have been dulled by the extreme nerve tension of protracted periods of action. One eminent surgeon after a year's experience at the front and a close study of hundreds of cases states that the men will never be the same again.

His view of the matter is that many brain cells are destroyed when a brain is overwhelmingly stimulated and that these can never be replaced. Prolonged fatigue or nervous tension such as is often the condition in trench fighting, permanently impairs the individual. However this may be, it is certain that the soldier returned from the front does not relish taking up the old struggle for a competence in civilian life. He usually wishes only a prolonged rest during which time he may spoil himself forever by an idleness which saps and corrodes his initiative and ambition and a wage earning citizen.

One of the vocational training in the convalescent homes is very evident. It is justified by its re-creative and curative value alone. Medicine can do little for cases of nervousness and shell shock. But if the soldier can only be interested in some kind of work he ceases to brood about himself and regains his normal grip on himself. He finds to his surprise that his old power of work and interest in producing things gradually grows until he is ready to face the world again and wear a living from it. The vocational training is, however, made intensely practical. The English and arithmetic is based on the actual problems in every day work. The stenography and typewriting and bookkeeping are taught in just the same practical manner as is the fashion in the best business colleges.

THE MINISTER OF FINANCE REQUESTS THE PEOPLE OF CANADA TO BEGIN NOW TO SAVE MONEY FOR THE NEXT WAR LOAN DEPARTMENT OF FINANCE OTTAWA JAN. 6, 1917

One important principle that has been established and incorporated into an order-in-council is that no deduction shall be made from the amount awarded to a pensioner owing to his having undertaken work or perfected himself in some form of industry. This may not seem fundamental, but France and Germany found that disabled men would not enter any form of re-education, because they thought it was merely a device to cut down their pensions and thereby to increase their earning power. England has been able to do comparatively little in restoring the ability of her cripples to earn a living by technical education, because a man's pension is reduced as soon as it is found that he is able to earn part of a living. Re-education is worth much more to any man than any pension he is granted and it is more valuable to society to have a contented, busy, self-respecting worker than any number of idle pensioners. When it is decided that any disabled soldier is to be re-educated, he is sent to the proper institution, his living is provided and his dependents are supported by the Dominion government until it takes six months or a year to fit him well enough to take his place in England before being sent home. Canada has the advantage of France in that this merciful work is all centralized under one head, the Military Hospitals Commission. In France there is more or less confusion, and overlapping because of the fact that several departments of the government and by many voluntary societies. The provinces of England on account of the wide declaration that the training would not impair in any way the fact of their having artificial limbs. Some amputees were necessary and though it takes six months or a year to fit him well enough to take his place in England before being sent home. Value of Britain's Command of Gold From the standpoint of the British government's financial requirements, the recent heavy flow of gold to New York achieved two important objects, more or less of close relationship. The effect of the gold shipments in assisting and easing of the money market at New York, paved the way for the British government of $250,000,000. Then while New York rates were falling to a level in a matter of great ease, London's discount rate remained unchanged and the higher rates for money there attracted a flow of New York funds, no longer able to find profitable employment at home. The reduction in the Bank of England rate by only 1/4 of one per cent, rather than the one per cent that had been more or less expected, is probably an indication of an intention on the part of the British authorities to move cautiously and do nothing that will alter the materially greater attractions for American funds to carry balances at London rather than at New York. DEATH TOLL ON THE GREAT LAKES LAST SEASON REACHED 73

Detroit, Mich., Jan. 22.—Seventy-three lives and fourteen vessels were lost on the Great Lakes during the season of 1916, according to the annual report of the Lake Carriers' Association, made public today at the annual convention of the organization. This heavy casualty record is the most serious since 1913, when a fearful November storm claimed the greatest toll of lives and of ships in the history of inland navigation. Three weeks last year caused the death of sixty-seven seamen. The first serious casualty took place on May 8, when the steamer S. Kirby went down in a gale on Lake Superior, off the coast of Ontario. Only two members of her crew of twenty-two were saved. The Great Lakes grain trade in 1916 closed down with the wharfbreak, James B. Colquhoun, and the steamer America was lost with her entire crew of twenty-three persons. The gross tonnage of the fourteen ill-fated vessels was 16,817. The remainder of the boats, recorded in the casualty list are: Steamers—City of Midland, Panther, Topoka, Saronic, St. Ignace, Roberval, Marshall, B. Butlers. Berges—Rob Roy, D. L. Filer, Sam Pilot. Schooner—James H. Hill. The tremendous business handled last year by lake vessels is emphasized by the report, which declares that the tonnage movement in 1916 was 64,784,198 tons, as against 59,070,478 tons in the similar banner year of 1915.

Recovered From Wounds. Hon. B. Frank Smith, minister of public works, has received word from his son, Sergeant G. P. Smith, stating that he has recovered from his wounds received at the front, and at the time of writing was preparing to take a ten days' trip through Scotland. Sergeant Smith enlisted as a private with a Montserratian unit of the 10th Battalion of the British Expeditionary Force in the field. He was wounded 300 days ago and has been in the hospital in England.

A CLEVER SPY

W. J. Burns, Famous Detective, Recounts of Experience With Woman Mentioned in "Leak" Investigation

New York, Jan. 19.—Mrs. Ruth Thomson Visconti of Washington, named by Thomas W. Lawson in his "Leak" testimony, formerly lived in New York. According to William J. Burns, she was sent here in connection with the West Virginia senatorial scandal of 1913, and was placed in the offices of the Burns Detective Agency as a spy. Mrs. Visconti was placed in our office," said Mr. Burns, "by agents of certain political interests. While with us, she carried on a secret correspondence with one McClure of Washington. She came to us through stenographers. Later investigation showed me that one of our operatives, now no longer with us, was partly instrumental in getting her employment with us. In addition, the stenographic agency was imposed upon.

"We were investigating the bribery case in West Virginia at that time and were working for the late Colonel William Seymour Edwards. The result of our work was that seven members of the legislature were sent to the penitentiary for various terms. Very Clever Woman. "Mrs. Visconti, a very clever woman, was employed as a typist, and was capable and efficient. I had no suspicion of her real status until she came to me one day and asked if she could not be allowed to do my private work. She told me that she thought she was the sort of stenographer I needed. I did not connect because I had a stenographer in whom I placed absolute trust. However, that incident set me thinking, and I began to have her watched, with the result that her connection with the other side and her place in my office as a spy was soon established. "I have a letter which she intercepted, addressed to McClure, in which she told him that we had only one man working in West Virginia and that, she had made arrangements for every report of his activities and every letter sent to him should come under her observation. In this letter she enclosed a copy of a report made by one of our agents. Actually, we had seven or eight men in West Virginia at that time. "It was decided not to let her know that we knew of her activities, and to let her go. In some way, Mrs. Visconti managed to get away from us, and she disappeared."

"To show how clever she was, it was not until some time after we had resumed our business to bring to audit all the routine letters for his signature. She would lay these letters on his desk and he would sign them, hardly glancing at their contents. Just before she left she brought him the letters as usual. The same sign with the others. "While with us she sent under the name of Mrs. A. Ruth Thomson, and the reports she signed to McClure were signed 'Tom.' From New York she traced her to Washington. After satisfying ourselves that she was unable to interfere in our business further we ceased to keep track of her."

United States Trade Dangers

Vice-President of C. P. R. Says to New York Audience That There Will Be Preferences—Benefits for Allies

New York, Jan. 22.—A warning that serious dangers to this country's interests and trade development will probably be met after the war was uttered by Senator James Hamilton Lewis, of Illinois, administration leader in the senate, in the annual dinner of the New York Creditmen's Association. The future credit of this country in the world would depend upon the terms of peace at the end of the present war, Senator Lewis declared. He warned, too, that the United States was liable to become involved after this war in a conflict over territorial rights in North and South America, and that this country's insistence on the Monroe Doctrine would be urged, as a justification for excluding the United States from trade in Europe and Asia. Many of the business men who heard the senator's warning were anxious to hear Senator Lewis' warning because of a statement made in an earlier speech at the noted resort, Mrs. Chestnut's daughter, Mrs. A. H. Tweedie, who was in England with her husband, Lieut. Tweedie, of the 104th Battalion, reached home Saturday evening.

John C. Stewart, of Chatham, died on Friday night. He was born in Loggville about fifty-five years ago, and leaves his wife, one son and one daughter. The son, Clyde Kerr Stewart, is manager of the Newfrew Mercury, and the daughter is Mrs. J. A. Hennessy, of Blackville. PUBLIC NOTICE is hereby given that a Bill will be presented for enactment at the next session of the Provincial Legislature, intitled "An Act respecting public streets in the City of Saint John." The objects desired to be attained by this Bill are: (1) To authorize the City of Saint John in Common Council to make By-laws regulating the making, maintenance and closing of openings through the surface of public streets by the abutting owner, tenant, or other person; (2) To authorize the City of Saint John to impose charges for such use; (3) To provide for the enforcing of such By-laws by fine, or imprisonment in default of payment of any such fine; (4) To relieve the City from liability for any injury caused by the making or maintenance of any such opening by reason of any permission granted. Dated at the City of Saint John, N. B., the nineteenth day of January, A. D., 1917. HERBERT E. WARDOPPER, Common Clerk. T. P.
