CHEERFUL MESSAGE FROM ARCTIC DIRIGIBLE AFTER 48 HOURS SUSPENSE

All On Board Said To Be Well And Everything Else O. K.—No Indication If Ship Landed

MESSAGE RECEIVED AT NOME TODAY

U. S. War Department At Washington Also Is Notified—Alaskan City Prepared To Greet Hardy Navigators—Bunting And Flags In Streets Faded By Snow and Rain

VANCOUVER, B. C., May 15.—The dirigible Norge, from King's Bay, Spitzbergen, over the North Pole, arrived at Teller, Alaska, at two o'clock this morning, Eastern Standard time.

All aboard the Norge were well and everything else was said to be O. K. No indication of whether the Norge had been brought to earth was obtainable here.

Teller is 75 miles northwest of Nome and is on Port Clarence, an arm of the Bering Sea. Nome, the destination of the Norge, is also on the Bering Sea.

FIRST SIGNAL HEARD

The following message reached the Puget Sound Navy Yard station from the Navy Radio Station at Cordova, Alaska, reporting a message from St. Paul Island, which is in Bering Sea, 800 miles south of Nome.

"Following signal heard: 'LBT' from WXY: 'Received all clear. Go ahead when you are ready.' LBT is the wireless call of the Norge and WXY is that of the radio station of the signal corps of the United States Army at Nome.

The St. Paul-Cordova message was received here at 8:45 this morning, Eastern Standard Time.

WASHINGTON GETS WORD

The United States war department announced today that the dirigible Norge is at Teller, Alaska.

"The office of the Chief Signal Officer," said the department message received here at 11:15 this morning, Eastern Standard Time.

"Communication between Nome and the Norge was established at 11 p.m., May 14, Alaska time.

NOME PREPARED

Nome, Alaska, May 15.—For two days and nights, Nome has waited for the guests of honor at her big party. Bunting which adorns the main street, has faded in the rain and snow. Flags wave listlessly in the chill winds.

The strain of two sleepless nights began to tell on faithful watchers and many went to bed last night. Others refused to stay awake. Around iron bars they talked about Roald Amundsen, the Norwegian, who left in the Norge from Kings Bay, Spitzbergen, to fly here.

ENGLAND RETURNS TO WORK TODAY

Transportation Services Improved But Not Expected Normal Until Next Week—Stand of Premier Baldwin Generally Approved

LONDON, May 15.—John Bull, having first had a good fight to relieve his surplus energy, went back to work today with a grim—albeit a somewhat rueful—one.

If he was sore of muscle and perhaps chastened in spirit, still he tackled his duties with dogged British determination, resolved to do the best he could until his hurts disappeared.

He wasn't talking much about the fight or doing any boasting either, for like Davy Crockett, he figured that when lusty blows have been given and taken, both sides should shake hands and let that be the end of it.

John's offspring didn't walk to work this morning as they had been forced to do for the last 11 days, while the head of the family was having his scrap.

WHEELS TURN AGAIN

London's millions of wheels began turning again—trams, buses and trolleys showing their paces in bringing the people smartly to business, as though to compensate for the irksome conditions under which the metropolis labored so long.

The same thing was largely true in the provinces. The transportation services were not normal, nor can they be before next week, but on the whole they were good.

TALK LAW ACTION.

Among individual trades unions the aftermath of the general strike promises to be a serious and far-reaching one. Groups of members of several unions already are contemplating appealing to the law courts against the course of their executives in embarking on the strike unconstitutionally and thus exposing pending union funds unlawfully.

In times past such actions at law have been instituted with success. For months to come every union will have its own bitter domestic quarrel with possible dire effects upon the prestige of the leading officials thereof. This is likely to culminate in a wordy turmoil on a grand scale, when the trades union congress meets in general session in the autumn.

The miners are united in what they condemn as the milk and water policy of the Congress and they talk about withdrawing entirely from membership in that body. As the affiliation fee is a shilling per member, this would mean a damaging loss in the revenue of the congress.

Whether the employers who suffered loss as a result of the general strike, or the government, would be asked to recover damages from the unions either individually or as one organization formed for the purpose of taking legal proceedings, is not clear. Much may depend on the manner in which the unions and groups of workers accept the methods of the railways and other industries in taking their men back.

EMPLOYERS STAND PAT.

The employers also are likely to wait to see what legislation, if any, the Government will introduce in Parliament to safeguard the country against a repetition of the recent upheaval.

Practically every union was in low financial water when the general strike opened, and today the general fund in many instances is virtually wiped out. Realizing this state of things, the London Society of Compositors agreed to forego strike pay.

There are still individual trade unions in various parts of the country which have not yet solved their differences, with the employers, and it may be some time before everything is righted.

BRISTOL UNSETTLED.

Some of the railway unions are not yet able to swallow what they consider the too strong medicine administered to them in the settlement between the companies and the national union of railwaymen. Bristol is one centre where the railwaymen are still unsettled.

Some of the dock workers are remaining out pending adjustment of the

Tremors Reported in Outlying Districts With Houses Shaken—No Damage

PORTLAND VISITED BY AN EARTHQUAKE

Portland, Maine, May 15.—Portland and vicinity apparently suffered a slight earthquake at six o'clock this morning. Many people felt a tremor and heard a long, low rumble. Several houses were shaken but no damage resulted. Biddeford, Saco, Washburn, Poland, this city and South Portland reported tremors.

In South Portland a rumble also was heard at midnight, a number of residents believing that a ship at sea was firing guns as a signal of distress.

TELLS OF DANGERS IN ARCTIC REGIONS

G. W. Bartlett Addresses Fredrickton Audience—Doubts Hudson Bay Scheme

FREDRICKTON, N. B., May 15.—G. W. Bartlett, speaking before the Fredrickton Science Club, last night, gave some personal experiences of travel in the Arctic regions, explaining that much of the danger was caused by the fact that the ice is constantly on the move. In his own experience, the ship he was on was wrecked and Esquimaux guided his party to a cache of Capt. Bernier, the Canadian explorer, where food was obtained.

Mr. Bartlett, in answer to a question as to the feasibility of the Hudson Bay route for commercial purposes, expressed the opinion that at the most favorable season floating ice made the route hazardous and almost impracticable.

AMERICAN LEADS ON FIRST ROUND

"Bobby" Jones Takes 81 With Tolley, 82, and Von Elm, 83

SANDWICH, Eng., May 15.—Bobby Jones, of Atlanta, Ga., took 81 for the morning round in the 36-hole stroke play competition for the St. George's challenge cup here tonight.

Sixty-nine amateur golfers took off Cyril Tolley, British star, had 82, and George Von Elm, of Los Angeles, and Thomas A. Torrance, England, 83.

The weather was such as was common only to the English Channel and mile upon mile of golf fairway and greens skirting it. Driving winds across the course made scoring hard, and it was estimated that anyone beating 100 would stand a chance of winning.

DEVELOP PANGHAN FALLS NEXT YEAR

President Granstein Denies International is in Market For Eddy's

OTTAWA, Ont., May 15.—The Canadian International Paper Company will begin the development of Panghan Falls early in 1927. A. R. Granstein, president of the company, said last night. The power rights at this falls were recently bought from the Canadian Pacific Railway. He said that his company had purchased the Hull Electric Company in its entirety from the C. P. R. not merely a block of stock as had been reported. He, however, discounted all rumors that his company was considering the purchase of the E. B. Eddy Company Limited, or the J. R. Booth Limited.

In connection with the contract between the Ontario Hydro Electric Commission and the company for a supply of electrical power from the Galtwater River to be delivered in 1927, Mr. Granstein stated that he did not know when he would sign the contract. At that time the company would complete negotiations with the hydro electric commission on Monday, when the agreement would be signed, Mr. Granstein declared that he was still waiting to hear from the commission regarding the matter.

Dominion Alliance Calls On Federal Government To Stop Rum Running Across Border

TORONTO, Ont., May 15.—The Dominion Prohibition Alliance has issued an open letter to the Government and Parliament of Canada, which will be delivered at Ottawa today. The letter is signed by J. H. Gannon, president, and Rev. Ben H. Spence, secretary. An extract follows:

For the honor of Canada something effective and adequate should be done, and done immediately, to end the infamous and intolerable border situation created by rum-running. The evil is a growing one, has assumed enormous proportions, and is not only dishonorable in itself, but contributes to the violation of our own restrictive liquor laws.

"The situation is one that should bring a blush of shame to the cheek of every right-loving Canadian citizen. It is despicable and outrageous. It ought to be ended."

"The Government and Parliament of Canada are the custodians of the honor of our country. Upon them rest responsibility for international relations and domestic legislation. The present border situation should be dealt with in a strong way by the enactment of measures and regulations that will be as meaningful and adequate as our present methods are trifling and insufficient."

TEAMS PROMISED

To date, eight teams have been promised the association for the cleanup day by the Colwell Fuel Co., Ltd., A. C. Smith and Co., Ltd., John M. Driscoll, Albert L. Kindred and the Union Ice Company, all West Saint John firms or individuals. John O'Brien, Lancaster, has arranged for teams to assist in the cleaning up of Beaconsfield.

The teams will be directed from Mr. Brittain's office. A helper will go along with each team to assist in the collecting of boxes and barrels. The teams will not start on their rounds until 1 o'clock Tuesday afternoon and this will give householders an opportunity to clean up their property in the morning.

As Tuesday is a school holiday, the youngsters will not doubt be able to lend a hand in ridding the yards and lawns of waste paper, tin cans, etc.

WORD FROM PRESIDENT

Lt. Col. N. P. MacLeod, chairman of the association, said this morning that it was imperative that the rubbish be placed in containers and put on the sidewalks in front of the houses by 1 o'clock at the latest. This would insure the removal of all boxes and barrels. He added that if any householders failed to do this, they should call Mr. Brittain's office.

It is expected that all the rubbish from the cleanup day will be collected and dumped before 6 o'clock Tuesday. The teams will discharge their loads at the Ludlow street dump.

Col. MacLeod also said that it was advisable that owners of West Side lots, who do not live on the premises, should clean up their property. The Board of Health will inspect the West Side when the cleaning up is completed.

New Westminster Stirred By Tales of Treasure Trove

Canadian Press

The Evening Sun yesterday published the following from the New Westminster:

Persistent rumors of a treasure trove in the royal city, are passing quietly among a select party of old timers, who refuse to deny or confirm reports that gold nuggets, buried 80 or 70 years ago by supporters of the British army, have been located. The story is that a large quantity of gold nuggets, valued at $200,000 or $300,000, was pilfered and buried by theappers. Gold from the Caribou country at this time passed through New Westminster.

This gold is said to have been cached in an old well, location of which is described in an aged document said to have been recently discovered. Quiet investigations started and are slated to have revealed several nuggets, but all information is withheld by those in the know.

REPLACEMENT WORK FINISHED BY JUNE 5

Superintendent J. M. Woodman Speaks of C. P. R. Operations on Line

The replacements in this division would be completed by June 5, it was said this morning by J. M. Woodman, superintendent of the N. B. division of the C. P. R., who returned last evening after a tour of inspection. He was at Woodstock, Presque Isle and St. Andrews and said that replacement work was going along very well. If the work was finished by June 5 it would be a very good record, as the work was about three weeks late starting, owing to the lateness of the spring.

NOTICE
There was quite a little snow in the woods yet, but there was no fear now of any water trouble, the superintendent said. The Saint John Rover also was falling a little up north. Conditions were normal now on the Aroostook branch, where trouble had been experienced this spring, the ice all having left the river, with the exception of a little grounded on the banks.

Some County Dealers and Authorities said to Be at Odds

Pending final arrangements as made by the special committee of Board of Health officials, government representatives and private citizens in arriving at a solution of the pasteurized milk proposals, it is said there has been some raw milk selling. The report is that some milkmen in the country, encouraged by recent political changes, have been evading the pasteurization regulation amongst those who demand raw milk. This demand, health officials say, is not great and the bulk of milk is still passing through the pasteurization plants. Those accused of evading the regulation have been threatened with a cancellation of license and report further states that this matter of license is also being ignored by those handling the raw product.

Examinations To Be Held On May 21
It has been decided that the examinations for the Canadian Life Underwriters degree will be held in this city on May 21. The presiding examiner will be F. O. Conlon. This subject was discussed at the monthly luncheon of the Life Underwriters' Association of New Brunswick today in the Admiral Beatty Hotel with Hugh Campbell, the president, in the chair. The luncheon was followed by a business session during which the recently imposed provincial tax on insurance companies also came up for discussion. It was decided to discontinue for the summer months the holding of meetings, except on call of the chair. The delegation that went to Fredericton to oppose the enactment of the insurance tax was thanked. The examinations for the C. L. U. degree were explained by F. O. Conlon, who urged the necessity of taking these examinations.

THORNTON SEES C. N. PAYING WAY BEFORE LONG

Railway Head Predicts Success For Gov't Ventures

QUOTES C. G. M. M.

Praises Loyalty of Employees and Recalls Start of Radio Feature

TORONTO, Ont., May 15—"Before long—before most people think—the National Railways will be not only self-sustaining, but will also return a substantial profit to the public treasury," declared Sir Henry Thornton, president of the Canadian National Railways, in an address at the annual banquet of the Canadian National Employees here.

The highest optimism for Canada's publicly owned transportation services, was expressed by Sir Henry, who gave as evidence of the financial progress which the services were making, the report of the Canadian Merchant Marine for the first four months of the present year, which showed a deficit of $518,000, to be turned into an operating surplus of $18,000. Such a showing, Sir Henry believed, strongly indicated that "there was life in the old dog yet."

LAUDS EMPLOYEES

Sir Henry commented upon the growing regard in which public opinion was holding the C. N. R. service and attributed the achievement of this good will to the loyalty of the employees. Referring to the coming second anniversary of the National's entry in radio broadcasting, Sir Henry recalled that at the time the service was inaugurated, the scheme was considered as only another evidence of his mild insanity. Since then, however, the service had been so appreciated by C. N. R. passengers that it had been taken up by many railways in the United States.

If Mentally Sound Will Be Returned to Scene of Death Sentence

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., May 15—Russell Scott, three times saved from the gallows for the murder of Joseph Neurer, a drug clerk, and finally sentenced to a hospital for the criminal insane at Chester, will soon be examined as to his sanity.

If he is found mentally sound, he will be returned to Chicago, where he was sentenced to death.

Coincident with announcement that Judge C. H. Jenkins, state director of public welfare, would examine Scott to make the test, it was learned that a recent attempt was made to smuggle saws to Scott in a box of candy.

British United Press.
LONDON, May 15—There are many stories current on the King's attitude during the recent crisis. When his trusted counselors, Lord Oxford and the Archbishop of Canterbury and Lord Balfour, persuaded him that early inflammatory reports of revolution were bogus, he turned violently against the scaremongers. It is stated, and based all his efforts toward peace and conciliation.

It is understood that Premier Baldwin, in dealing with several recalcitrant employers since the strike, used the constitutional power to interfere in such matters, but this social influence is so awe-inspiring that few of his subjects are able to resist him when he makes an appeal on grounds of public welfare.

A U. S. PRESIDENT ONCE ARRESTED

Grant Held Up For Speeding in Washington by Negro Cop.

A reader of "The Pathfinder" living in Helena, Mont., says that he was an eye-witness of the arrest of President Grant by a Negro policeman in Washington.

"President Grant," asserts the correspondent, "was a lover of fine, fast horses. M Street, from Fourteenth Street to Seventh street, in Washington was then a natural racetrack. Several of my small boys were talking to William West, a police officer, at the corner of Twelfth and M Streets, Northwest, when we noticed coming from the west a cloud of dust made by a horse and buggy, going at a 2.90 or better gait. Owing to the dust, the occupant of the buggy could not be recognized.

"Officer West ran out from the walk and grabbed the horse, and dragged half through the block between Eleventh and Twelfth streets, and brought the horse and buggy to the carriage step in front of a house. Of course, all of our boys were close up when West recognized the President. West was profuse in his apologies. The President stepped out of the buggy and said, 'Officer, do your duty,' and walked off down M Street.

IMPERSONATION IN COURT IS CHARGED

Boston Man Gets in Trouble Over Pleas Made in Another's Name

BOSTON, May 15—District Attorney O'Brien appeared unexpectedly at the Roxbury District Court and interrupted the session by conferring for an hour with Judge Ahern in the lobby. Later a complaint was introduced by Henry Ryder, assistant clerk of court, and James A. O'Connell was described in the complaint as being "otherwise known as Francis Carroll." He pleaded guilty.

O'Connell took the stand and answered the questions of the district attorney. On April 23, he testified, he was in court before Judge Ahern. There were three other defendants in court at the same time, but he did not know their names.

"Did you talk with any one previous to going to court?"

O'Connell said that the day before going to court, someone met him on a street corner and told him that if "I would go to Roxbury Court tomorrow he would make it right with me." Then, O'Connell testified, "I went to the home of Mr. Burke, a house of seven streets. I came to court and pleaded guilty to a case under the name of Carroll. My name, though, is O'Connell."

"Were you ever at 1107 Columbus avenue?" asked the district attorney. The address is that of a store in which a liquor raid is alleged to have taken place.

"O'Connell said he had never been there and never sold any liquor there. "What were you to receive for your services?"

"Twenty-five dollars. I was loafing at the time." The case on April 23 was continued, said O'Connell, and was put in custody and bailed out by Mr. Burke.

The district attorney then informed the court that the complaint against "Carroll" heard April 23, was signed by Michael J. Hartnett, police sergeant at Roxbury Crossing, and sworn to by Hartnett on April 17, together with complaints against Charles Russell, Martin Caneby and August Alvers. The three latter defendants were arraigned on April 18, charged with keeping and exposing liquor for sale, the same complaint as that for which "Carroll" pleaded guilty. All complaints originated with the same informant.

The district attorney asked that O'Connell's case be continued for disposition, with further investigation made. In accordance with the district attorney's request, Judge Ahern set bail at $2,000.

SAFE BREAKERS SET TRAP FOR POLICE

Saw Off Step in Ladder Before Opening Two Strong Boxes in Boston Building

BOSTON, May 14—Burglars forced open two safes in offices on Merrimac street, getting $150 in cash and stamps worth $5. Before beginning their work they laid a trap for the police or for any pursuers who might follow them over the route they took in entering the buildings.

By climbing to the roof of a one-story shed in the rear of 104 Merrimac street they reached a fire escape and got to the roof of the building at No. 102, where they opened a skylight and descended a fixed stepladder leading to the quarters of the Arion Manufacturing Company. They saved out the top step of the ladder so that any pursuer would have suffered a serious fall if he had made use of the ladder.

Next they went to the second floor where they threw their way into the office of the Hilo Varnish Corporation, cut off the combination knob of the safe and stole the money and estimates.

Inspectors Donovan and Rollins, sergeant experts of the Bureau of Criminal Investigation, found excellent fingerprints on the door of one of the safes which were photographed by special apparatus.

SECRET COMMITTEE MEETINGS

There has been a whisper in and about City Hall of late—not a serious one, we apprehend—to the effect that someone or other had proposed, or had thought of proposing, that the usual meetings of the Committee of the Whole on the Monday, preceding the Tuesday Council meeting, at which Committee meetings, the Council programme is really practically put through, should be closed to the public—that is to say, to the citizens who elect the Mayor and Commissioners and entrust them with the power of spending the taxes, which they, the citizens provide.

Incidentally—quite incidentally—the exclusion of the public from these committee meetings would involve the exclusion of the newspaper reporters. With the newspapers themselves, the mere reporting, or not reporting of the committee meetings, or even of the Council meetings, is not at all a serious matter, except insofar as the newspapers are obligated, as newspapers, to tell the citizens what their servants at City Hall are doing from week to week with the citizens' money, how they are managing the citizens' affairs, what their reasons are for taking, or not taking, certain lines of action, and, generally, letting the taxpayers know, by telling them what the Mayor and Commissioners are saying and doing, whether or not these public servants are worthy of the trust reposed in them for a short season by the people who constitute the City of Saint John.

To the average newspaper man, and to all the citizens who have followed the history of this matter since we introduced Commission Government in 1912, any proposal to close the clock twice a year, and to suggest, not to say actually arrange for, committee meetings behind closed doors, would be at once amazing and intolerable.

The Times-Star does not believe for a moment that the Mayor, Mr. Whitte, nor to speak of several Commissioners who personally recall with the utmost clearness, if they did not indeed participate in a year or so of fighting over this very issue, would template any such folly, any such breach of faith, any such violation of the terms of the Charter, by virtue of which they hold office at the will and pleasure of the taxpayers.

For the moment we shall leave out of consideration altogether Mayor White and his four associates at City Hall. We will turn back to the time when this matter of closed or open committee meetings—and the Charter provides that they shall be open, that public business shall be transacted publicly—was fought out in the course of a fairly lively campaign in Saint John.

At that time some of the Commissioners—very estimable citizens, but very much behind the times as to modern practice in civic legislation and administration—decided that they could serve the city better—we are putting the most favorable complexion upon their arguments—if they were relieved of the (to them) embarrassing and hampering presence of the common or garden variety of reporter.

It was not that the common or garden variety of reporter was obnoxious as such; he was the telephone connecting the committee room with the taxpayers whose money was being spent, whose property was being administered by the City of Saint John, a heritage beyond price, was being dealt with by public servants chosen for that purpose, not dragged into it, but placed voluntarily in office after solving the honor, and, for that matter, receiving union wage for such work.

Why did the misguided gentlemen of that day at City Hall desire that the meetings should be held in camera? Well, we will say it in their own words. They said, in the Council Chamber, in the streets, and occasionally from the houseposts, that they, in their wisdom and discretion, seeking only to serve the people of Saint John usefully, would perform that service much more effectively, more effectively, more satisfactorily, if the reporters were excluded—that is to say, if the public were excluded—and if they were permitted, among themselves, without witnesses, simply to go ahead and save the citizens from their own folly. They did not want their acts and policies and speeches discussed by the taxpayers, who were also the directors. What they wanted, they said, was to discuss matters frankly in committee, so that the author of any resolution might not necessarily be known to the people, so that words might not be printed; therefore, so that his motive, good or bad, might not be disclosed; so that—to take an extreme case—if a citizen who had been his ward chairman at the last election wanted some privilege, some profit, some contract which a score of others might want on equally good grounds or better, the people would not know about that, or must guess about it, only after the cut-and-dried committee programme had been put no newspaper is subject to any ruling by City Hall any more than City Hall is subject to any ruling by any newspaper. If the newspapers do wrong, any one who is aggrieved or injured has his remedy at law. Beyond that they use their own judgment, and manage somehow to muddle through.

The newspapers are heart and soul supporting and ready to support any enterprise or project for the advancement of Saint John, for its expansion, for the reduction of taxation, for the securing of new industries, for drying the harbor in its real place among the great ports of this Continent. Why lose eight of these real objectives and begin the discussion, or hint at the discussion, of closed committee meetings, of attempting to close doors? Some of the gentlemen of the Saint John, for all time?

The gentlemen of the Star Chamber told the people of England that they were serving England best by sitting behind closed doors. Some of the gentlemen of the Star Chamber were, indeed, utterly sincere about it. Need we go back to what happened in the end? No.

AN UNWANTED CHILD

Two inquests on children dying in the city of Saint John within a few days of each other have very rightly aroused the public interest and the jury's finding in the second case does not, as reported, appear very different. It states the conclusion that the unfortunate infant "died from natural causes, on account of being badly advised." That is evidently intended to clear Hazel Demerchant, but in so doing it throws the onus on some person or persons unspecified. Surely, in the interest of all, these should be named and their responsibility clearly fixed!

Further the verdict is strongly recomended that similar cases of this nature, presenting themselves, should be taken in and thoroughly investigated.

Who should take in and investigate such cases? Why did they not do so in this instance? The public should know.

But is there not a deeper question of humanity involved in this wretched case? A girl of nineteen gives birth to a child, an "unwanted child," and is wanted, not, one may assume, for lack of maternal instinct, but because society, with a cruel want of appreciation of values, condemns the mother of a child born out of wedlock—a young girl guilty of folly, perhaps, certainly of excessive trust in some man whose name is not divulged—because her neighbors point the finger of scorn at her, while those same neighbors are willing to condone crimes and offenses of an incomprehensibly more serious nature.

Because of this anticipated denunciation of public self-righteousness, the unwanted child's grandmother packs it off from one end of the province to the other in the care of its aunt, a girl of twenty, who has had experience with children, little or no money and scanty instructions beyond the placing of the "home in Saint John." That grandmother acknowledges she was made to hide the child's birth and states that the doctor in attendance agreed with her. The doctor probably did not understand that she intended to send the little one away so soon.

Was ever a more selfish lack of responsible sense? But is not public opinion also very culpable when it drives people to resort to measures such as this? Let him who is without sin cast the first stone.

A GRACIOUS ENTERPRISE

(The Telegraph-Journal.)

A project is on foot—one which will undoubtedly be successful to express in the fullest measure the esteem in which Lady Byng, wife of His Excellency the Governor-General, is held by the people of the Dominion, by making a gift to her from the people of Canada before her departure for England.

Lady Byng, because of her love for Canada, her understanding of its qualities, its aspirations and its accomplishments, a knowledge acquired in the case under consideration, or in a state of well advanced preparation, for many years past. To attempt to revive the discredited closed committee meetings at this hour would mean another fight on this issue, and the end of that fight would not be for one moment in doubt.

Why? If the Mayor and Commissioners desire to discuss in committee the purchase of a property, it becomes immediately clear that publicity of their discussion would enhance the price they would have to pay, and the newspapers have always been willing to omit wholly anything of that character from their report of the committee or Council proceedings. If the city has a case in court, or is going to have one, and if its real interests are likely to be prejudiced by publicity, the newspapers are now willing, as they always have been, to suppress the preliminary proceedings for the protection of the citizens.

The newspapers themselves are taxpayers. Even the common or garden variety of reporter is a taxpayer, and usually he has a vote. If at any time there are other matters under discussion, which it is desirable to suppress because the legal or financial interests of the taxpayers would be jeopardized by publicity, the newspapers, again, have always been willing to omit that particular part of the discussion. If H. H. King, wife of the Minister of Public Works, 190 Somerset street West, Ottawa, Madame Lapointe, in her letter to Mrs. Todd, has said that the smaller contributions would be very highly appreciated, all the more so be-

POEMS HOME

"How Sleep the Brave," by W. Collins.
BECAUSE I was forced to learn these lovely lines at school—as in the case of Longfellow's "Psalm of Life"—I came to dislike them exceedingly; and it took me years to overcome an early and justified prejudice. However, they seem to me to bear the test of time; and I think most readers will agree that one is right in giving them a warm place in one's heart. They may not be great poetry, but they are an honest and beautiful expression that gathers from the inner wells of feeling; and if the best anthologies can retain them, I think I can, too.

THE ONLY SECRET OF SUCCESS

THE good gentlemen who fill the magazines with offers to sell the Secret of Success and Happiness in ten volumes at one dollar down and so much a week, can only rehash what wise men have been saying for centuries.

The early Greeks taught that the first and most essential element in our life's happiness is what we are—a quiet and cheerful temperament, the enjoyment of a perfectly sound physique, an intellect clear, lively, penetrating and seeing things as they are, a moderate and gentle will, and, therefore, a good conscience—these are privileges which no man or woman can make up for or replace.

THE masses think of pleasure in terms of moving pictures, ice cream soda and the funny papers, but the wise know that the only pleasure of any importance are the pleasures of the MIND.

And the pleasures of the mind turn chiefly on the POWERS of the intellect. It is desirable that the number of subscribers, not only in New Brunswick but in the other provinces, should be so numerous as to really indicate the nation-wide sentiment of admiration and appreciation felt toward Lady Byng of Vimy, who, unfortunately, has felt it impossible to accept a seat on the committee.

THE Telegraph-Journal thus presents a clear and concise outline of what is proposed and desired. It should be very clearly understood that this newspaper or to the Evening Times-Star, but that all contributions should be sent as suggested by Mrs. Todd in the foregoing, so that the process of collection here and throughout the Dominion may go forward rapidly and smoothly.

THE manager of a factory recently engaged a new man and gave instructions to the foreman to instruct him in his duties. A few days afterwards the manager inquired whether the new man was progressing with his work.

Before a Girl Marries She Has the Right to Know a Man's Financial Status, His Plan for Dividing the Family Income and His Ideal of a Husband—A Man Should Know a Girl's Domestic Status, Her Financial Views and Her Ideal of a Wife.

A CORRESPONDENT asks:
"What sort of an understanding should a man and woman have about practical things before they get married?"

The fullest possible understanding, I should say. If it shouldn't be any "gentleman's agreement," either, in which each trusts the other to do the fair and honorable thing and his or her part toward making the marriage a success.

An engaged couple should get down to brass tacks and find out where each other stands on the domestic platform, and what each is going to demand of the other, and each expects to give to the other. If this agreement could be put into the form of a binding contract it would be all the better, for husbands and wives are prone to forget the promises they make in their courting days.

NO SANE human being would enter into a business partnership in which he or she put all of the labor and enthusiasm and energy of his or her life into the partnership and then find out before hand that his or her partner was to be in the new firm, what percentage of the profits he or she was to receive and how much the other part was putting in and how much he or she expected to get out of it.

Yet every day men and women rush blindly into a life partnership together without even inquiring into the kind of trade they are making or finding out what the other member of the firm considers a just division of the work and money.

And only too often the man finds that he is married to a woman who takes all and gives nothing, and who considers that her part of the partnership consists in her doing the spending, while he does the earning. Or the woman discovers that she has simply sold herself into slavery and that she is not only a silent partner, but a penniless one, as the senior member of the firm pockets all of the profits.

SUCH being the case, it is no wonder that the firm of Benedict & Co. ends so often in bankruptcy, and I believe that nothing would do more to prevent this and to make marriage a success than for men and women to spread all of their cards on the table before they marry. Then each could take it or leave it, as he or she chose.

A woman has a right to know before marriage, for instance, all about a man's financial status, yet the great majority of men never discuss business or money matters with their fiancées at all. They speak vaguely of being able to support the girl they are courting, and tell her that they want to protect her from every hardship, and that her lily white hands shall never do ought but soothe their fevered brows, and a lot of other high-faluting nonsense like that.

AND because they have been good spenders, the girls jump to the conclusion that the men are big money-makers, and that they will live lives of ease when they are married, when, likely as not, the men are going into debt for the very money on which they are showing the girls a good time, and they will have to economize after they are married to pay for the presents that were lavished on them before marriage.

Certainly the honest thing for a man to do is to tell the girl he is asking to marry him just exactly the size of his pay envelope and thus give her a chance to stay single if she doesn't love him well enough to do his cooking and washing and wear shabby clothes.

AND if she does marry him, knowing exactly what his income is, she has no right to whine because she can't have a car and wear imported frocks.

EVERY woman has a right to know, on the safe side of the altar, what a man considers a fair divide of the family income.

She has a right to know whether he will make a fifty-fifty split with her or whether he considers that the husband is the God-ordained purse bearer, and that she is not entitled to any wages for the endless work she does, but should come humbly to him and beg him for every penny and knock her forehead on the ground with gratitude every time he bestows a whole nickel on her.

EVERY woman is entitled to know before marriage whether the man she marries is going to be a fireside companion or one of the roasters who do not let matrimony interfere with their philandering and evenings out with the boys.

If a man has no domestic instincts, he should tell a woman so in time for her to save herself from becoming a neglected wife. If, knowing this, she takes him, she has no right to bemoan spending her evenings alone.

A WOMAN has a right to know what attitude a man expects to take toward her after marriage and what his general ideal of a husband is. There are husbands who surround their wives with tenderness and love, who do all in their power to make them happy. There are other husbands who are grouchy and glum and selfish, and who treat their wives as they would not dare to treat any other woman in the world. Certainly a woman has a right to know which one of these she is getting as a life partner.

A man has an equal right to know the kind of a wife a woman is going to make. He has a right to know whether she is going to make a real home for him or not, whether he is going to come home at night to find a tidy, cheerful woman waiting for him, with a good hot dinner smoking on the table, or whether he will come back to a dark house and wait for a woman to come in from the spare bedroom. He has a right to know whether a woman believes that a husband should be the little tin god of the household or a combination doorman and cash register for the convenience of herself and the children.

OH, there are a lot of problems that engaged couples should settle before marriage, instead of fighting over them afterward, and it is a pity that they don't stop billing and cooing long enough to do so.

Soft Lines, Wider Brims Distinguish Many New Hats

By MME. LISBETH
WIDEN brims but retaining soft lines and adjusting themselves to the wearer's head are the new hats for late spring and summer. Crushed effects are prominent and even the sailor, which is considered the most unbending of the hat family, has a conciliatory bend which softens its austere brim and makes it more generally becoming.

In the picture above the larger shapes predominate. At the left is one of the larger shapes in a blue ball-tinted bouffant and banded with navy velvet and further trimmed with a delicate taffeta in a crushed rose taffeta bow. This is a semi-poke shape with the brim bent sharply back on itself in the back where the trimming is placed.

The chapeau at the upper center is the small model and a cranial one. It is fashioned of nete visca straw with a band and facing of velvet. It is a smart and practical little hat for all the various activities of spring and summer.

Below is a larger brim in a combination of Ziegler (knitted) straw and felt and finished in shaded velvet ribbon in iris tones.

Another "picture" hat (at right) is designed of black chiffon velvet with a gathered and shirred flare-back brim. It, too, is a cranial model.

Nothing of the tailored, mannish hat is seen in these four models, which is as it should be, according to the opinion of one military expert—a man, by the way. According to him the feminine hat which flatters should be the choice of every smartly dressed woman. "No high, stiff crowns like those on the toppers of the 1860s, nothing harsh or bizarre or unadapted to the individual should be encouraged," this expert declares.

Quilted taffeta hats are largely taking the place of felt, according to the same authority. Another voice is for hats of grosgrain ribbon and a tam of one-inch red and white ribbon woven in broad checks affords a bright example of this type. Turbans are said to be well liked with novel ornaments for trimming.

Fashion Fancies

By Marie Belmont
Smart English women have introduced the double sweater costume, which makes a most effective and comfortable outfit for sports-wear. The one above depicts from strictly sporty lines, so that it may be worn for a daytime costume as well.

The one above depicts from strictly being crepe and the slip-on sweater of matching mohair, very thin and cool.

Over this is worn the sweater coat, this time of pale green yarn in coarser weave, showing an all-over painted design of flowers in suit colors.

A Thought

IN NEW YORK SEE-SAWING UP and DOWN BROADWAY

SEE-SAWING up and down Broadway I noted a sign announcing that "Abbie's Irish Rose" will soon celebrate its fifth anniversary. And many are the wheezes going about Broadway in this connection. One is about a woman who refused to admit she had attended the first performance "for fear of betraying her age." Another is that the company members will take a week off to have their faces lifted.

THE East Side begins to move out on the fire escapes. Nuremberg appears in droves along the Central Park driveways. Secretaries to professional men tell you politely that "Mr. Whatusit will not be in over the week-end." Fancy umbrellas in store windows. Gaily decorated raincoats in others. Cabries with polished handbags beginning to line up at focal points. Everywhere one turns the noises of subway diggers may be heard. Surely, summer has come!

SPEAKING of cabs: there's one grand lady who dwells at the foot of Fifth avenue who still goes cabbieing in the grand manner. A good half hour before the drive begins the cabbie, clad in silk hat and raiment to be found chiefly in old copies of Godey's Lady's Book, drives forth his charges.

He sits at attention outside the mansion while street gamins from Washington Square make fresh remarks from the sidewalk. By-and-by out peeks a maid who trips to the cab and makes it ready for the dowager.

Finally "her ladyship" arrives, steps in and all go laughily down the avenue. I rub my eyes. Can time have been standing still? Is that really an airplane circling overhead? Am I dreaming about the chaos of motor traffic? No, I am not. A shrieking motor horn warns me that if I stand rubbering another second I shall never get back to the office to write my daily stint.

SAW Barney Fagan, little known to this generation, though at '6 he still appears nightly in a Broadway production. But what granddaddy can ever forget "What the Robins Nest Again." Yes, Barney wrote it. And got the huge sum of $25 when, in 1880, he sold it to one Frank Howard. The song earned something like $75,000, thereafter. A really phenomenal sum in a day when present day methods of "juggles" were unknown.

SAW Jim Templeton, a name you'll see in the obituary of some day. Jim comes from Pendleton, Ore., where the round-ups grow. The title of his story is "When the Robins Nest Again." A peculiar mixture of the rough guy and the esthete. Came to New York from the northwest coast-country and wound up as a ballet feteer. He can still ride a horse. This summer he will teach society girls to do a fashionable mountain resort. Next summer he may go home and ranch a little. They mix strange drinks on Broadway.

ADVENTURES of the TWINNS by OLIVE ROBERTS BARTON

MISTER DUSTY'S SECOND HAND STORE
"Yes, you're on the right path," whined the Old White Horse. "Keep to the right when you pass the corn-crib, then turn to your left at the pump. That takes you right through the grape arbor and when you get to the end of it you will see the wood-pile. Mister Dusty's second-hand store is between the wood-pile and the barn."

"Why don't you go to the second-hand store?" he said. "They keep all sorts of things. And even if you can't find your own shadow, Whiffet, you may find one just as good."

"Where is the second-hand store, Mister Jack?" "It's kept by a fairy called Dusty, up behind the barn," said Jack-in-the-Pulpit. "Ask the Old White Horse. He'll direct you. And while you're at it, I started preaching, and I'm living on my savings."

"Have you lost your shadow, too?" said Nancy in surprise. "Never had any," said Jack. "The sun never gits in the woods here. But I'd sort of like to have one around if I take it into my head to go visiting. I may go to see my grandmother any day."

"The Twins and the Whiffet thanked Jack-in-the-Pulpit for his advice and promised to get him a shadow also if they could pick one up cheap. Then they said good-by and started off to find Dusty's second-hand shop behind the barn.

G. P. H. Graduating Exercises Will Take Place On May 26

Event Will Be Held in Reception Room of Nurses' Home; General Discussion Ensues Re Advisability of Having Function in Larger Quarters

THE GRADUATING exercises for the class of 1926 of the Nurses' Training School of the General Public Hospital will take place on the evening of May 26 in the reception room of the Nurses' Home, it was decided at a meeting of the Board of Commissioners of the Hospital yesterday afternoon.

A recommendation to that effect was made by the training school board and finally adopted after there had been general discussion of the advisability of holding the exercises in a large hall in order that the public might attend.

Mrs. J. V. McLellan and Lieut.-Col. J. McMillan, were appointed a committee to have charge of the arrangements. It is understood that twelve graduates expect to be present and at two will be unable to attend.

FOR LARGER QUARTERS. J. King Kelley objected to having the exercises in the Nurses' Home as considered its accommodation inadequate for the attendance of the public which was much desired since the hospital was a municipal institution. He advocated having the exercises in the Imperial Theatre in the morning so that a large gathering could hear Mayor White and Dr. W. F. Poirer speak on behalf of the hospital and its work and needs.

Mr. Kelley said the hospital wished to enroll as student nurses the best of the High School pupils of the city and that the public exercises would be the best means of bringing this about. He said that the social gathering for the nurses could be held at the Nurses' Home in the evening.

MRS. McLELLAN HEARD. Dr. Roberts discussed the matter as the chairman of the training school board and Mrs. J. V. McLellan said the superintendent of nurses was opposed to holding the exercises at the hospital because of the difficulty of getting the nurses to attend elsewhere.

Any movement to popularize the hospital had his approval, Mayor White said, but if the attendance was small the effect would be disastrous rather than beneficial and he doubted if a large audience would be present at a morning meeting.

An evening meeting in the High School Assembly Hall was suggested by M. E. Agar, president.

Mr. Kelley moved in amendment to the training board's recommendation that the evening meeting in the High School be arranged for. His amendment was lost and the original recommendation was agreed to.

STONEHAVEN, N. B. May 14.—A grandchild coming in from school shortly after 9 o'clock found the body of the unfortunate man sitting in a chair with a revolver in his right hand and a bullet wound through the temple. The son rushed home bringing with him Police Sergeant Scott, who notified headquarters, Sergeant Detective Fowler and Detective Biddicombe at once going to the house.

Coroner H. A. Porter was notified and after viewing the body gave permission for its removal. He decided that the facts in the case were plain and that no inquest was necessary.

A last message to his wife was left by Mr. Brown in which he attributed the cause of his act to the pain in his head which, the note said, he was unable to bear any longer.

SAINT JOHN FIRM OPENS NEW SHOW ROOM AND OFFICE

Victory Garage & Supply Co. Makes Fine Extension of Business House

The Victory Garage and Supply Co., Ltd., an aggressive Saint John firm, direct dealers in New Brunswick and Nova Scotia for Dodge Bros. motor cars, have extended their premises by opening new show rooms and offices on the corner of Duke and Charlotte streets. They will still maintain their service station at 92-94 Duke street.

The company is well known to the public, although organized only about seven years ago, as its name would indicate. Its manager, J. Royden Thomson, was four years in uniform during the war, saw service in France and was demobilized in May, 1919. Like many other young men, he found himself without employment. He decided to try automobile selling and became associated with Walter M. Sherwood, who had 12 years' experience in the business. Mr. Sherwood is service superintendent and part owner of the concern.

MILITARY MEN

Realizing the value of securing the services of overseas men, the firm secured James Scott as assistant manager and J. Roy Bell to take charge of the stock room. Mr. Scott was in France with the 1st Canadian Siege Battery and Mr. Bell also served with the artillery. Both these officials are still with the company. Several of the mechanics also have overseas records. The name of Victory Garage was chosen because the business was established in the victory year, 1919. The first agency taken was for Dodge Bros. motor cars. Later the company also sold Federal trucks and Oldsmobile and Nash cars, but about three years ago they dropped every line except the Dodge connection, for which they have exclusive agents ever since.

There being two provinces in their jurisdiction it became necessary to organize the territory and this was immediately undertaken. As a result there are 20 associate dealers throughout the field and Dodge service available in every town of any size in New Brunswick and Nova Scotia.

Mr. Thomson stated last night that the company had sold more than 1,000 cars in these provinces and that the business was increasing year by year. Last year the results were the best in the history of the firm, but he believed that the sales in 1928 would be at least double that of the year before.

The amount of business being done, he said, and the large number of customers to be served, had necessitated more floor space as a result of which the office had been moved to its new location. The public, Mr. Thomson went on, were always welcome at the show rooms and the staff would take

FEWER SETTLERS TO N. B. THAN TO 2 OTHER PROVINCES

C.N.R. Immigration Official Says Demand Greatest From N.S. and P.E.I.

MONCTON, May 14—This province is not getting as many settlers as the other Maritime Provinces out of those that the Canadian National Railway are bringing to this country, F. C. Biette, C. N. R. Commissioner for Immigration in the Maritimes, said today. There is not the demand and the enquiries for farm help are few and far between as compared with those from Prince Edward Island, where apparently they cannot get enough men, he added.

Mr. Biette said that within the next week 28 single men and four families of settlers would be brought to the Maritimes, most of whom were going to Nova Scotia and Prince Edward Island. This work had been going on all winter and the total brought out was more than 100 bona fide settlers on lands in the provinces, or agricultural laborers who had taken jobs on farms.

MONCTON BUILDING WORK PROGRESSES

Roof Going on New Empire Theatre—Army Citadel up Two Stories

Special to The Times-Star
MONCTON, May 14—Good progress is being made on all the main building projects under way in the city at the present time. Workmen are immediately undertaking. As a result there are 20 associate dealers throughout the field and Dodge service available in every town of any size in New Brunswick and Nova Scotia.

At the Salvation Army Citadel, the walls are well upon the second story and work is being done in the interior. The Graham Bros. Foundry and Machine Works, where D. A. McBeath is to erect a big new business block, the factory the men were engaged in jacking up and it will soon be moved to its new position to the rear of the new brick building.

Mr. Thomson further stated that a constantly increasing volume of business had resulted from the recent acquisition by the Dodge interests of Graham Bros. truck manufacturing business, he said, was the largest in the world. Their ton and a half trucks had been handled and serviced by Dodge dealers for years but their taking over by the Dodge people had consolidated the whole line under one management.

He explained the popularity of the Dodge cars by saying that they were a merchandising proposition, that is, they were something that people wanted. The cars were good and the price was right. An article of this sort would almost sell itself.

A car of this type, Mrs. Thomson designated as almost as much a commodity as a telephone or a bath tub, and he said, one could not look on any one of the three as a luxury.

He concluded that probably the largest single factor in the firm's success was the fact that it had made service a reality and not a promise.

ARE BIG BOOSTERS.
They had always tried to make the owners feel that they could call upon the firm at any hour of the day or night and their wants would receive prompt attention. Ninety-eight per cent. of the Dodge owners came in for service and the majority of them were so well satisfied with the cars and service that they were the firm's biggest boosters and greatest sales help.

With the enlargement of the plant it was hoped that even better service could be given. Service would be available to every Dodge car user day and night and seven days a week.

CRONYN TERMS COKE PLANT SCHEME BEST TO HELP NOVA SCOTIA

Says Such Industries Would Solve Problems of Industry From National and Provincial Standpoint and Urges Subsidy

KITCHENER, Ont., May 14—Major Hume Cronyn, K. C., of London, Ont., member of the Royal Commission which investigated the coal mining industry of Nova Scotia, addressing members of the Waterloo County Canadian Club here tonight, suggested that the most generally satisfactory solution of the industry's problems from both a provincial and national standpoint, was putting the Nova Scotia coal industry on a sound economic basis by establishing at Montreal, Toronto and other large centres of population in the central provinces coking plants to handle Nova Scotia coal, extracting the valuable by-products and putting the coke on the market.

It involves the construction of a number of dams between the islands at the mouth of the bay so as to make use of the rise and fall of the tide which amounts to more than 25 feet.

He mentioned the development in British Columbia and in Manitoba where great copper and gold areas have been uncovered that are tremendously rich, and said that he might have an announcement to make shortly which would be of great interest to the Maritime Provinces. The announcement would be in connection with the mineral resources.

QUERIES THE MARITIMES

Coming to the Maritime Provinces, Mr. Green asked the question often put by Upper Canadians: "When are the Maritimes going to feed themselves?" In his opinion this appeared to be one of the great difficulties in these provinces. Mr. Biette, who has charge of the immigration work into the Maritime Provinces for the Canadian National and who was present, pointed out that remarkable results were being achieved already and he predicted that more would be accomplished. Twenty-four swine clubs in which boys and girls took part had been organized in New Brunswick alone, with a membership of at least 240, which meant that 480 fine hogs would be raised this year at least and this, he predicted, would have a stimulating effect everywhere. He said that outlying districts seemed to be taking more interest in the question of production than those nearer to centres of population. Giving figures showing the growth of swine production in the Maritimes in the last three years, Mr. Biette said that three years ago not a single hog had been shipped out of Nova Scotia or to a packing plant. A year later there had been two carloads and last year eight. This year it was expected that the province would produce twenty tons.

TOAST TO Y. M. A.

A toast to the Y. M. A. was proposed by Harry Magnusson, who gave a short review of the recent history of the Y. M. A., and paid a warm and heartfelt tribute to the leader, W. C. Cross. Mr. Cross in reply said it was a noteworthy fact that in the Germain street Baptist church, now and for some years past, there were more men than women taking active part in conducting the activities of the Sunday school. He had been a teacher of boys and men since early in his youth and found great interest in the men's class carried on at present.

BALDWIN LAUDED BY BRITISH PAPER

LONDON, May 14.—The Daily Mail, which issued a single sheet this morning, expresses high admiration of Premier Stanley Baldwin in an editorial. "In his (Mr. Baldwin) handling of the strike situation he has shown a steadfastness which has filled the country with respect for him," the Mail says. "Indeed, the qualities he has revealed have established his position as one of the greatest British prime ministers. We are particularly glad to pay him this tribute because there have been some occasions upon which we have been obliged to differ from him and to criticize his actions, but in the past fortnight his leadership has never been at fault and the cheers which everywhere greeted him upon the termination of the general strike were thoroughly earned." Lord Beaverbrook's Daily Express, which like the Daily Mail, has been a thorn in the premier's side in connection with general politics, makes no mention of Premier Baldwin in connection with the ending of the big strike, but ascribes the "failure to paralyze the national life" to the strong spirit of the British people themselves.

LONDON, May 14.—The Morning Post contains a long account of the bringing into being of the British Gazette, the Government official paper published during the general strike.

TORONTONIAN IS OLD COLONY FIRM HEAD

MONTREAL, May 14.—Sir Glynn West, who recently resigned the presidency of the Newfoundland Power and Paper Company, will be succeeded by Bernard Smith, of Toronto, it is stated here.

Andrew Whyte, of Montreal, will replace Henry Reid, of St. John's, vice-president, who also resigned. John Stadler, formerly manager of the Belgo-Canadian Paper Mills and for some time past general manager of the Newfoundland enterprise, has also relinquished his post.

The Newfoundland Power and Paper Company operates the Cornerbrook Paper Mills towards which the British and Newfoundland governments each guaranteed £2,000,000.

Editorially the Post pays tribute to Lord Beaverbrook and Lord Rothermere for assistance during the strike, as well as to Winston Churchill, Chancellor of the Exchequer, who was the editorial chief of the Gazette.

Questions will be asked in Parliament next week as to the cost of producing the British Gazette, how much revenue was derived from advertisements in the temporary journal and what compensation is payable to the Morning Post in connection with the Gazette.

INLAND WATERWAYS PAYING INVESTMENT

NEW YORK, May 14.—The annual dividend to the American people from its investment in inland waterways under suggestions of the board of engineers for rivers and harbors is $150,000,000 a year, or 20 to 40 per cent on the investment. This is the estimate of Brig-General Edgar Jadwin, senior member of the board, in a report to Major-General Harry Taylor, chief of engineers of the army, made public by the War Department.

Jamaica to Act In Dominion Trade Treaty

BURGOS CATHEDRAL NEEDS RESTORATION

MADRID, May 14.—The critical state of the beautiful Gothic cathedral at Burgos is arousing much attention and anxiety for it is feared that unless steps are immediately taken this splendid monument of medieval architecture, the shrine of thousands of pilgrims and wondering visitors from all parts of the world, is doomed to ruin. Built in the thirteenth and fourteenth centuries, Burgos Cathedral is one of the chief glories of Spain; yet, strangely enough, it is mainly the work of two foreigners. The original building is supposed to have been erected by the British Bishop Maurice, while the additions of the fifteenth century are the work of John of Cologne. Like so many other Gothic churches—especially those in Germany, the Mainz Cathedral, for instance—Burgos Cathedral stands amidst a cluster of houses which in all their simplicity still seem to form an integral part of the mass of architecture, with the cathedral in its elaborate splendor as their head.

AMERICAN OWNED MERCHANT MARINE

NEW YORK, May 14.—More than one-half the gross vessel tonnage of the American merchant marine is now in the hands of private American owners, according to the quarterly report of the Bureau of Research, United States Shipping Board, on the status and employment of sea-going American steam and motor vessels as of April 1, 1926.

Over One-Half of Tonnage Now in Private Hands, Report Shows

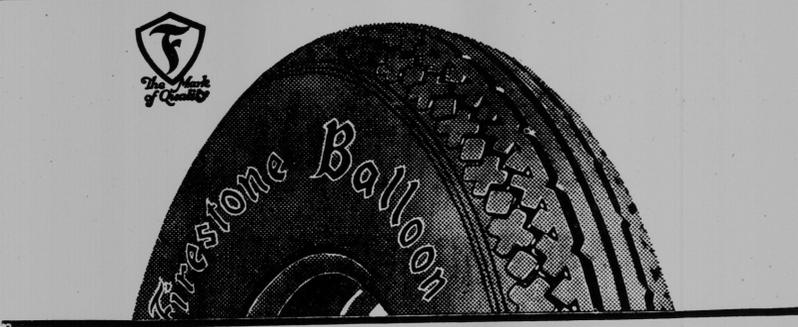

Through various changes in ownership during the quarter ending March 31, the privately owned American merchant fleet increased 31 in number and 181,512 gross tons, bringing the tonnage to a total of 8,624,470. Of this total, more than 92 per cent (5,302,434 gross tons) was in active service on April 1. This is an increase of 169,132 tons over the total gross tonnage in service Jan. 1, 1926, and the number of active vessels increased from 1,026 to 1,068. The 42 additional vessels placed in active service include five passenger ships, 34 general cargo carriers and three tankers. On of the five passenger carriers was added to the West Indies and Caribbean trade and the other four were assigned to coastwise routes. Included in this number is one newly completed passenger ship. The general cargo boats were distributed, six to the West Indies and Caribbean trade and 28 to coastwise service. The addition of 11 tank vessels in the West Indies and Caribbean trade indicates an increase in the import of Mexican crude petroleum. Four tankers were added to the trans-pacific trade and one to the transatlantic. These shifts were supplied by transfer of 13 tankers from coastwise routes and the three added vessels mentioned.

One vessel was assigned to the navy for employment in connection with Polar exploration. The Canadian Raider, which arrived on Thursday, also had two stowaways on board, it is learned, and these men will be handled in the usual manner.

MONDAY WILL SEE BULK OF INDUSTRIES LIKELY RESUMING

General Situation Evinces Rapid Improvement in Past 24 Hours... READING MENTIONED AS BOARD CHAIRMAN... Will Probably Head Proposed Body to Adjust Coal Problem

LONDON, May 14.—The heavy clouds which lowered last night cleared today and the present prospect is that next Monday will see most of the industries, which were compelled to suspend operations because of the general strike, working again with the possible exception of the mines.

Likewise there is a greater hopefulness than ever before that a satisfactory solution of the mining difficulty will be reached before long.

The outstanding event of the day was the announcement of the government's decision that as a mutual agreement between the miners and mine owners was impossible if they were permitted to come together of their own accord, it must act on its own responsibility if any solution was to be found.

The recent coal subsidy was paid at the rate of about $9,000,000 per month, so that the $20,000,000 now proposed should carry the industry over for about six weeks, as against only the fortnight hitherto proposed by the government.

ENDURANCE

THE quaking shocks from Battering Rams and the smashing blows of huge stones flung from catapults were used in ancient warfare to break down the walls of cities under siege. Sometimes these walls withstood the battering of the enemy for years.

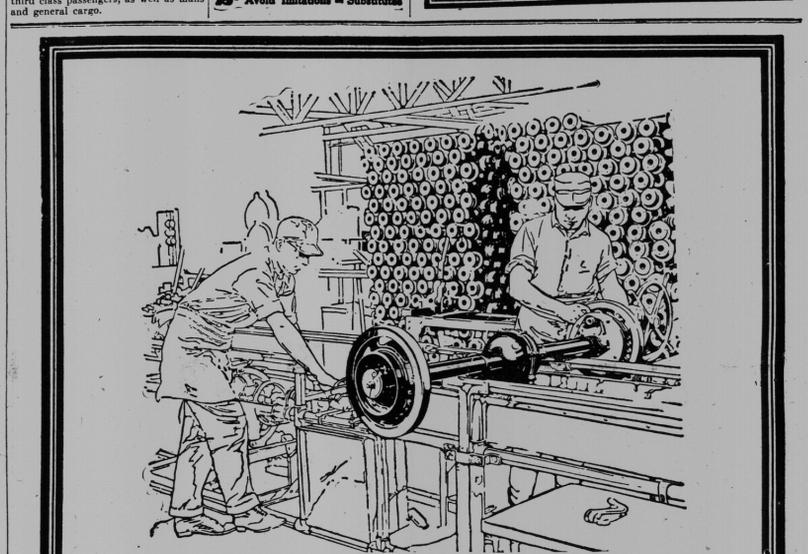

WHY did they make city walls so Enduringly strong? To protect their lives, their property, their liberty and their happiness. There is war to-day between the motor tire and the destroying enemies of the road.

DOES anything have a rougher life than a Tire? You can't match it for an existence of constant warfare against fearful odds. From the day a tire goes on, it is skidded and bumped; bearing a ton's weight, it is pressed upon sharp obstacles that would cut any other substance to shreds; it is subjected to side strains that call for thousands of pounds of resistance.

One of the vital parts of a motor car is the rear axle. So much depends upon its proper operation that it must be as perfect in design, materials and workmanship as human skill can make it. Before any Ford rear axle is permitted to pass to the assembly line, it is subjected to one of the most drastic tests that any piece of mechanism could undergo. The axle is placed on the testing frame and the drive shaft connected. Doctors Tell of Victim's

Witness Tells of Being Called to Scene of Shooting in December

ST. ANDREWS, May 14—The Circuit Court, presided over by Mr. Justice Byrne, this morning commenced the case of the King vs. Lloyd Johnson, charged with murdering James Lord at Deer Island on December 6, 1925. Considerable time was occupied by argument of counsel, on motion of N. Marks Mills, appearing for the prisoner, to quash the indictment, which motion was refused by the court.

The following jury was then empanelled: David J. Libby, Frank Gillis, Fred McCurdy, Harry Ashley, P. L. Hanson, N. H. Maxwell, Frank Byrne, George Howe, John A. Thompson, Herbert Higgins, Kenneth McLaren, Frank Chafey, Earle B. Smith, Crown prosecutor, addressed the jury and pointed out the facts that the Crown expected to prove.

DR. MINER CALLED.

The first witness called was Doctor W. M. Miner, who is manager and treasurer of the Calais Hospital, where the deceased, James Lord, was taken on December 6 last, the day following the shooting on Deer Island. The doctor explained the condition of Lord on admission to the hospital and the position of the wound in his neck. He had probed for bullet but could not find it. It was later found by X-ray. Lord showed slight rise in temperature during his stay at the hospital. After the X-ray picture he showed the bullet, an incision was made and search made for the bullet, but owing to hemorrhage and the condition of the patient, the search had to be discontinued.

KNOW HE WOULD DIE.

At the afternoon session of the court, Dr. Miner was cross-examined by Mr. McNair, counsel for accused. Witness stated the patient knew he was going to die three or four days before his death and he made a statement to witness thirty-four hours before his death, while in hospital at Calais, when he was fully conscious of his approaching death and was without hope of recovery. The patient said he was very sick and he would die. At this time he had a temperature of 104 and respiration of 64. The doctor asked him if he wanted a clergyman and Mr. Traflet of the Baptist church was called in.

PATIENT EXONERATED JOHNSON.

Lord told Dr. Miner that he was satisfied with what had been done with the papers that had been signed and the matter had been straightened out that way; that he felt confident that Mr. Johnson (the accused) would not be blamed. Lord referred to the matter as a drunken mixup and said they were all to blame.

In a previous conversation Lord said they had all been drinking, the three Lord brothers and himself, it being a drunken crowd. He did not want anybody to consider Johnson responsible and was anxious to have that statement made by himself before the notary that it might be in evidence to protect Johnson should anything happen to him (Lord). The patient expressed himself with "I don't want Lloyd blamed." He insisted they

SCALLOP FISHING TO BE DEVELOPED IN BAY CHALEUR

Establishment of Plant at Charlo, N. B., to Fol-

EXTENSIVE BEDS
FOUND LAST YEAR

Industry Will Mean Distribution of Much Money
Among Fishermen

CAMPBELLTON, May 14—It is understood that parties interested in the possibilities of scallop fishing will make arrangements for the reception and shipping of this sea product at Charlo, N. B., where scallops will be shelled and shipped in ice to outside points. Several prolific scallop beds are accessible from the New Brunswick side of the bay and it is said that several Restigouche fishermen are becoming interested in the opportunities offered by this new phase of fishing activities.

A significant move toward the development of a new department of the fishing industry on the Bay Chaleur is now under way, according to information received here yesterday. This has to do with the taking, canning and shipping of scallops, large beds of which were discovered in different parts of the bay last summer through investigation work carried on by the Department of Marine and Fisheries.

FACTORY AT CARLETON, QUE.

Details of the plan now under consideration are not yet available, but it is understood that scallop fishing will be encouraged and a canning establishment opened by Messrs. Robichaud and Bujold at Carleton, Que.

On the Quebec side of the bay a large bed of some seven miles in length was located near Carleton last summer and there would appear to be an abundant supply of scallops available for the proposed canning factory.

The contemplated development of this industry, new to the North Shore district, is something of considerable importance. There is a good market for this delicacy of the sea and in view of the high prices obtainable in some

This is why the New "70"

Out-performs any Car of Its Size, Type and Class

WILLYS-KNIGHT 16

IN the new Model "70" Willys-Knight Six the inherent features which made the following amazing records possible are embodied in a sedan of surpassing beauty and refinement, superbly equipped and finished in the height of luxury.

A Knight-type engine won the world's record for continued operation at full speed, full load, in a ten day, non-stop, endurance test conducted by the French Government.

A Knight-type engine made a record for the highest sustained speed ever attained by any stock car (Voisin, France—106.7 miles per hour for 500 miles).

A Willys-Knight engine won the greatest European hill-climbing test ever attempted in high gear, at Klausen Pass, Switzerland.

As to economy, thousands of owners have driven their Willys-Knight 50,000 miles and more without a dollar's expense for engine repairs.

And now—combining these world renowned advantages of the Knight Sleeve-valve motor (smoothness, long-life, simplicity, economy) with revolutionary achievements in six cylinder engineering, has resulted in the new "70," a car that in speed, power and pick-up out-performs any car of its size and type and class.

It has the only type of engine that actually improves with use. No carbon to remove. No valves to grind. Better and smoother at 50,000 miles than at the beginning.

Drive it at 2 to 65 miles or faster; the engine quietly purrs on; not a semblance of vibration. At all speeds there is a complete absence of all road shocks. As a result of its advanced engineering there is absolutely no wandering, no shimmying, no wheel-tilt.

The manifest superiority of the engine of the new "70" embodying the sleeve-valve principle, is everywhere freely granted. The newness of its beauty and smartness is distinctly refreshing. Its unique comfort and compactness write a new chapter in motoring satisfaction. Four-wheel brakes and other details of advanced engineering are of course standard equipment.

Come and see the "70"—compare it in every way you know. Its remarkably low price, plus its many distinctive advantages, place the "70" Willys-Knight Six in the front rank as an outstanding value in the moderate priced six cylinder field.

For those who want the finest—the Willys-Knight Great Six: 7 Passenger Touring, 4 Passenger Coupe, 5 Passenger Sedan, 7 Passenger Sedan.

VALUES IRREGULAR ON MONTREAL EXCHANGE

Several Losses and Gains Reported at Canadian Financial Centre This Morning

NEW YORK, May 15.—(Opening)—Return of sterling exchange to gold parity failed to arouse much enthusiasm in the stock market, which continued to drift within rather narrow and irregular limits at the opening of trading today. Attention was attracted by the fact that the market for gold and silver dropped over two points to a new low for the year at 40, and White Sulphur ore dropped one to a new low at 19.

MONTREAL, May 15.—Trading on the local stock exchange at the opening this morning was fairly active and well distributed in a wide range of issues. Values were irregular and several losses and gains were recorded. Brazilian, the leader, opened at 96 for a gain of three-eighths point, subsequently sold at 95 1/2, and reacted around 10.20 to 95 1/2 for a net gain of one-eighth. Smelters were particularly inactive, opening at 10 1/2 for a gain of a half point. Loyal at 41 was up one point, Woods Manufacturing lost two points at 45. Breweries gained a half at 59 1/2, and Cement lost a fraction at 94. On a three share transaction the Bank of Commerce, ex-dividend, sold down three points at 217.

ENDING OF STRIKE RESTORES BOOKINGS

Passenger Business Among First to Get Favorable Rebound

NEW YORK, May 14—"Cancellation of cancellations" was the order of the day in the steamship passenger business following receipt of cable advices early Wednesday announcing the ending of the British general strike.

The spreading of the report of the end of the strike brought an immediate response to the trans-Atlantic lines in the form of renewals of cancelled reservations, indicating the re-establishment of public confidence in conditions abroad.

F. G. Mitchell, vice-president of the I. M. M., stated that innumerable telegrams and telephone calls have been received requesting accommodations on the Majestic, of the White Star Line, which reached New York Tuesday.

According to cable advices received from their London office, the French Line announces that despite the strike in England arrangements have been made whereby the special boat-train service between Plymouth and London is now running regularly and that passengers booked for London via Plymouth on steamers Paris and France will be transported direct from that English port to London on arrival of steamers.

These arrangements insure the continuance of the service New York-Plymouth-Havre as usual, and French Line agents in the United States and Canada have been instructed that there would be no interference in service as far as Paris and France are concerned under present conditions in England.

THE star pupil rose at the school entertainment to declaim his piece, "and me your ears!" he bawled. "Ha!" sneered the mother, who sat all whom he had defeated for honors, "that's Sarah Jane Doran's boy, all right. He wouldn't be his mother's son if he didn't want to borrow something."

ATHLETIC MEET SEES 128 BOYS IN COMPETITION

Contests On Loyalist Day Promise Big Success This Year
Entries for the schoolboy athletic meet to be held in Hazen avenue on next Tuesday afternoon, Loyalist Day, have been tabulated and classified by Y. M. C. A. officials. The only buildings not represented are LaTour, Beaconfield, St. Thomas, St. Patrick's and Holy Trinity. In some of these schools athletic organization was a bit difficult because of the absence of male teachers but it was hoped by officials today their entries will be forthcoming next year through the assistance of male parents or big brothers.

Now Hold Shields
The present holders of the championship shield are St. Vincent's school, Cliff street, in two classes and New Albert of West Saint John in another class. These buildings received championship shields and dated pennants to be flown from their flagpoles. New shields and new pennants will be awarded this year. The only building making the most number of points a silver trophy donated by the Y. M. C. A. Club to be held until won by another school.
