THREE CHARLOTTE COUNTY SEAMEN LOST

TWO MISSING IN ATTEMPT TO SAVE COMRADE

Captain's Son Swept Overboard During Fierce Blow

Saint John Man Aboard Disabled Schooner, Now In Maine Port

ONE seaman was drowned and two more seamen, all residents of Penfield, Charlotte county, are missing, and it is feared they have perished, as a result of the terrific storm which swept the coast on Saturday and which hit the schooner J. O. Webster, from Saint John to Miami, Fla., some distance off Peaked Hill Bar. The seaman lost was Stanley Bradford, aged about 19 years, son of Captain Beryn Bradford, of the schooner, while the two seamen missing are Fred Murray and Clarence Justano, who made a brave attempt to save the young man after he had been swept overboard.

Fred Murray was listed as cook. He has a wife and five children living at Penfield. Clarence Justano is about 19 years of age and his father is Captain Gilbert Justano of Penfield. His mother and eight or nine brothers and sisters also reside there. Stanley Bradford's mother resides in the same village and he has another brother and three sisters, all of whom live at home except one sister, who is in California.

LOCAL MAN ABOARD Another man on board the schooner whose home is in Saint John a large portion of the time although he is an American citizen, is Vincent Kendrick, mate of the vessel. His mother, Mrs. Margaret Murphy, resides here at 98 St. Patrick street, and he has two brothers and three sisters living here. He arrived safely in Rockland with the schooner.

According to the despatch received from Rockland, Me., the captain's son was attempting to tie up a loose sail when he was washed overboard. The two men went to his aid in the lifeboat and they were never seen again. The captain expressed the belief that they were dashed ashore on the Cape Cod coast.

LOST HER SAILS. The schooner lost practically all her sails during the storm and all of her deckload of laths and she was drifting helplessly when picked up by the coastguard cutter Red Wing and towed to Rockland, Me., where she arrived last night.

The Red Wing and a coast guard seaplane searched vainly for the missing men yesterday but could find no trace of them.

The schooner J. O. Webster is owned by Alexander L. Stockwell of Boston and R. C. Elkin, Ltd. are her local agents. She came here with a cargo of coal in September and sailed with laths on Oct. 17. She was built at Weymouth, N. S., in 1919. She is 895 tons net register.

East and West Urged to Get Together in Economic Plan

BY A. M. BELDING. Staff representative of The Telegraph-Journal and Evening Times-Star, who is now on an active canvass of Canadian importers and exporters in behalf of the more general use of Canadian ports.

TORONTO, Oct. 27.—I had a long talk yesterday with two gentlemen from Winnipeg. National affairs were the subject of conversation, and these men agreed that what might suit the Central Provinces in the matter of economic policy would not solve the problems of the Prairies and the Maritimes. The danger to Canada that lies in weak and ineffective government, due to lack of a decisive majority in Parliament, was dwelt upon; and that the people, east and west, must get together, each section realizing that it must not ignore the problems of the others was regarded by these men as essential to the formation of an economic policy that would save the country.

Equinoctial Storms Are Myth Says Weather Bureau Expert

WASHINGTON, Oct. 28.—"Equinoctial storms" are a myth and have no standing in meteorology. They are "fine squalls."

"There is no maximum of storm frequency, according to statistics, either in this country or in Europe, close to the date of either equinox," according to the American Nature Association which publishes an extended statement on the point in Nature Magazine.

"Of course in the long run many storms do occur about the dates, just as they occur at all other times," the writer points out, "but there is no scientific reason for supposing their occurrence can be connected in any way with the sun's passage over what the schoolboy described as a 'managerial lun running around the earth.'"

"An 'equinoctial' is looked for in the United States particularly in the autumn. The autumnal equinox occurs during the season of West India hurricanes, and it occasionally sweeps over our eastern seaboard within a week or two of the date in question, extending their influence far inland. These events have probably helped to foster the widespread belief in autumnal equinoctial storms."

"Violent upward and downward movements of the air prevail in all seasons and thunderstorms. This fact has been known for many years, but it has only recently assumed practical importance. Formerly only the birds and occasional balloons were whirled aloft or dashed downward by vertical gales, but today such gales threaten the lives of an army of aeronauts."

"Squalls, like tornadoes, are of such brief duration and generally of such limited area that they defy prediction by means of the ordinary machinery of weather forecasting."

"As to storms, the 'Big Wind in Ireland' January 6-7, 1839, according to contemporary newspaper accounts, was one of the great weather disasters of modern times."

"The 'Great Storm' of 1703 is supposed to have been the most severe tempest that ever visited the British Isles. It cost the lives of more than 8,000 seamen, including some 1,500 men of the Royal Navy."

"The Barbados Hurricane of 1780 was probably the most destructive hurricane that has occurred in the West Indies."

"Saxby's Gale swept over eastern Canada with terrific force October 4, 1869. It owes its name to the fact that it was predicted by a Lieutenant Saxby, of the British Navy."

"In the Backergunge Cycle, October, 1876, more than 100,000 people were drowned by the storm waves over the Ganges Delta."

"The Blizzard of March 11-14, 1888, also known as the Great March Blizzard, 'the New York Blizzard,' and, in New Hampshire, as the 'Townmeeting Storm,' is historic."

"The Samoa hurricane of March 16, 1889, wrecked American and German warships in the harbor of Apia, with heavy loss of life."

"The St. Louis Tornado of May 27, 1896, was the most destructive of the large tornadoes that have occurred in the United States since 1880 and the Omaha Tornado of 1918."

That the great romancers make direct use of occurrences in real life is doubtful. They note the occurrence of events, but of them, taken together, they form a foundation of knowledge, and it is this that yields the material for their imaginings, but they are not photographers or recorders of facts—not those with what are called creative powers.

The Best of Advice

BY CLARK KINNAIRD

IGNORANT, STUPID AND GROSSLY UNJUST! HOW easy it is to criticize and how little criticism is not ignorant, stupid and grossly unjust.

Critical Persons (few of us escape this classification) rarely take to heart the ancient truth, "NO MAN CAN SEE OVER HIS OWN HEIGHT."

You cannot see in another man any more than you have in yourself. And your own intelligence strictly determines the extent to which he comes within its grasp.

IF A MAN'S intelligence is of very low order, mental qualities in another, even though they may be of the highest kind, will have no effect at all upon him.

And he will see nothing in his possessor except the meanest side of his own nature.

Both of them were highly excited. She covered her face with her hands and shuddered. "Oh, Jack, this is dreadful, terrible."

"Aww!" he agreed, wiping the perspiration from his brow. "To think of the loss of ideals, hope, maybe even life itself, and she began to sob gently."

"Come, come, let's not think about it. Maybe things aren't as —" At this point the park policeman, who had been attracted, butted in. "What's the trouble, little girl, can I help you?"

"Why, why no, I guess not. We were just thinking how terrible it would be if we had never met."

Used Tins Made Into Organ

THOMAS DIXON, a sturdy old carpenter and wheelwright of Normandy, a lonely village on the moors between Scarborough and Whitby, has found a new use for old syrup cans. He has built a single-manual organ, on which he has been at work for twenty years, and its sweetest notes are emitted through pipes fashioned from old syrup cans, paper, wood and the common pipe metal used by plumbers.

CHARLES W. STOKES, assistant publicity agent for the Canadian Pacific Railway: "Tourist business is the largest industry in Canada today. COMPARATIVELY few persons are capable of appreciating the value of men who tower above the masses like Albert Einstein, Thomas Hardy, George Brandes to name a few, and so they are given none of the popular respect and adoration that is showered upon Jack Dempsey, Babe Ruth, Gilda Grey, the author of "It Ain't Gonna Rain No Mo'" and any movie star. WEARS LENIN'S MANTLE (San Francisco Argonaut.) Joseph Stalin, born Joseph Vissarionovich Dzugashvili, one of the triumvirate that ostensibly rules soviet Russia, is said to be the real inheritor of Lenin's mantle. The "inscrutable Georgian" is the son of a peasant, and though he carried but a scanty formal education, he is regarded as one of the best read and informed men in the Russian communist party, which was called by the czarist government on half a dozen occasions. He was so firm in his revolutionary beliefs and so determined in their advocacy that the name "Stalin," which in Russian means "steel," has stuck to him, though it was but one of the many aliases that he has used. Stalin is described as of the order of Tammany bosses—Crocker and Murphy—in that he cares solely for power, and achieves it by sheer force of will. He is the dictator of his party, and through it the nation.

considerate and thoughtful, and contrast sharply with their brethren over the line, whose chief concern, he thinks, is to "high-hat" their customers. This piece of news will come as a satisfying reminder that there is no sounder code of conduct than to be invariably courteous, not only on the part of those who come daily in contact with visitors from other countries in hotels and on trains as a matter of business, but on the part of all. The writer referred to came to Canada and was immediately impressed by the deference shown him by officials with whom he came in touch. They probably did no more than they ought to do, and very likely did not consciously exert themselves to be courteous. Yet what a great deal of good was done by Canadian courtesy. Mr. Kent was so favorably impressed that he went home again, and being a journalist, wrote upon the subject to let as many as possible into his secret. Parts of his article were reprinted in other newspapers (the quotation was taken from a New York paper) and so many thousands read about Canadian courtesy and had their favorable interest directed to the Dominion. This is about the best form of advertising possible—and it costs nothing.

New Brunswick, a Glorious Province

Pastoral Beauty of Country Nearest Approach to Homeland, Declares Belfast Journalist; Dwells Upon Hospitality of People and Points to Manifold Advantages For British Settlers; Source of Wonderment Why so Many People Go West When New Brunswick Supplies Most of the Amenities of Life, He Says

By JOHN SAYERS
In the Belfast Telegraph

Mr. Sayers was a member of the party of British Journalists that recently toured Canada.

THE problem of New Brunswick is very much that of its neighbor, Nova Scotia. When the British Press party arrived there the province had just been through a general election which had resulted in the overthrow of a Liberal administration, and had installed in office, by an overwhelming majority, a Conservative government with Hon. J. B. B. Baxter as Premier. Mr. Baxter is concerned about the future, and in an interview with reference to New Brunswick and the Maritimes generally, stated: "We are not holding our natural increase. It is all very well to say that our principal exports are lumber, coal, fish and potatoes, but there is a far greater export taking place daily which is sapping the province of the most vital element. We are exporting brain and brawn in the person of our young people, who have to go afield in search of a living." This only confirms statements in previous articles and need not be further developed.

Nature has certainly been kind to New Brunswick. It is a glorious country, the nearest approach to the Homeland we saw in our entire tour of 15,000 miles. The pastoral beauty of the Saint John Valley by Woodstock was truly English, and, what is more, the province is predominantly English-speaking, containing no problems of assimilation of alien races, such as will presently vex Western Canada; there is there any lack of congenial society to the incoming settlers of English speech, who will also have in the remotest farms, what they would wish to have at home, a cheap telephone service, and in most places electric power from the flowing rivers that exist all over this lovely province in which there are still five million acres of Crown lands to be settled.

ENGLAND'S BLUNDER.

Our approach to New Brunswick was by way of Montreal, which brought us right up against one of the many stupid things done by British politicians in the past on the other side of the Atlantic. This was the Ashburton Treaty of 1842, which gave America a huge belt of territory in Canada, and now included in the State of Maine. The boundary between the two was long a source of friction, and in 1859 nearly led to war; the present boundary was fixed eight years later. The story is that Lord Ashburton thought the land no good, but, at all events, Maine got it, much to the disgust of the loyal New Brunswickers. The result is that through traffic for Montreal has to pass through a long stretch of United States territory before reaching New Brunswick. It was an unnatural geographical and economic boundary decision, which it is to be hoped will not be repeated nearer home one of these days. We made our journey by night, and early in the morning passed the town of Megantic, from which the well known Queen's Island Ferry White Star liner gets its name. Our introduction to the good people of the province was made at Woodstock, a town of 4,000 inhabitants, where began a series of luncheons, dinners, and receptions that would have ruined the digestion of all save the pachydermatous tribe of people known as Journalists. The hospitality of New Brunswick, which by the way, is a prohibition state, was overwhelming. There we quickly learned that the natives were not the ignorant and ignorant of the 70,000 United Empire Loyalists against whom edicts of banishment and laws of confiscation were passed in the United States and who sought a new home in 1783 in Canada. These were almost entirely persons of education and prosperity, and to this day the New Brunswickers are a cultured, well-informed people.

LONG CHAINS OF LOYALTY.

At a public function my right hand neighbor was the fifth generation from a family which owned a great part of a site upon which New York stands, and which was confiscated by the Americans, and on my left was a doctor, the fifth successive physician in the name in the town since the revolution days. Loyalty is in the blood of these people, and they show us an example in displaying the flag. Every township and hamlet has its war memorial, an observation which applies to every part of the Dominion of Canada. Woodstock interested us as being the place where Lord Beaverbrook spent his early years as a bank clerk, and we saw the humble abode in which he lodged and the bank in which he counted dollars. The Mayor and his Council insisted on driving us some sixty miles right almost to the Vermont boundary of the States, through a district fertile to the last degree and occupied by prosperous farmers, every one of whom seemed to have his motor car. The circular tour through the towns of Lakeville, Centerville, Florenceville, Hartland, along very passable roads, was but the precursor of another sixty mile drive in the evening to Fredericton, the capital, on the way to which we were met by the local notabilities, into whose cars we transferred. My host, Colonel Campbell, was an old friend of the late Brigadier-General Ricardo, of St. Mills, about whose tragic death he learnt particulars for the first time. As we hustled along this rich district it was difficult to realize that seventy years ago it was "the wild" inhabited by Indians and the happy hunting ground of bear, moose, caribou, deer, racoons, wolverines, martens, mink, otter, wild cat, muskrat, all of which are still to be found in abundance in the forest lands and constitute New Brunswick, a sportsman's paradise.

"THE CELESTIAL CITY."

It is not my purpose to recite the score of places we visited. Fredericton, "The Celestial City," is an exception. It is such a charming old-world place, just like an English cathedral city; in fact, it is a cathedral city, possessing one of the few edifices of the kind built since the Reformation. We arrived in time for the inevitable dinner, presided over by the Mayor. Then followed a reception at the Great War Veterans' Club, where we were informed that the proprietor of the local cinema was giving a special performance of New Brunswick films for our benefit. The entire population seemed to be in the grounds of the Veterans' Club, in which a band discoursed with unwearied energy during the evening. We were especially interested in the ladies of "The Celestial City," who were described to us as both useful and the kind the tourist needing a wife to accompany him over the tour of life should have, but as most of us were already provided we were unable to length, which may be operated independently or together. Adjacent to this dock is a breakwater 700 feet long, and a ship repair yard. The ship-repairing company that runs the dock is connected with Swan, Hunter, of Wallsend, and one of its principal men, Mr. Clarke, is related to Mr. Trevisan Clarke, managing director of the London and North Western Railway, and is the winter terminal of the steamers of the Canadian Pacific, the Head Line of Belfast and other companies.

WINTER THEIR BUSY TIME.

The closing of Montreal and Quebec by ice makes Saint John and Halifax busy in winter. The facilities of the port are to be increased once the Federal Government makes up its mind, by the provision of two 1,000 foot jetties in Courtenay Bay, an area of 88 acres, and of miles of railway tracks, which will involve expenditure on a large scale somewhat similar to enterprises carried out by the Belfast Harbor Commissioners. The port is well equipped with grain elevators, the biggest of which belong to the C. P. R., bunkering facilities, sheds, ocean berths, grain conveyors, and railway tracks, giving accommodation for 3,000 cars. The city itself is beautiful, and a drive around it and far into the country to Grand Bay, with excellent scenery, and a fine farm, revealed its charm to the full.

GUESTS OF ROTARY CLUB.

Next day we were the guests of the Rotary Club, a movement which is gaining a great vogue all over the Dominion. It was brilliantly hot, and the president, suiting his action to the wind, directed himself to his coat and waistcoat, the members and guests on his invitation promptly doing likewise. One of the most enthusiastic Rotarians in the city is Father Holland, a Roman Catholic priest, who led the singing on this occasion. A busy day included visits to the Parliament Buildings, in connection with its handsome war memorial extension, a fruit farm, a lumber works, and the agricultural experimental farm. They were all inspected, and we stood a column each, but space forbids. The particular lumber station on the Saint John River, which we visited, was founded in 1852, and has since that time been the rapidly with which the logs and tree trunks were sawn into timber ready for use as an eye-opener. In the older days of the Dominion, the lumber business was a salient feature of the New Brunswick ports of Chatham, Newcastle, Bathurst, and Richibucto. Except by steamer from the last-named this trade has now almost entirely ceased. A lumber magnate in New Brunswick told me that the Belfast importers demanded a very high class of timber and saw that they got it; in fact, he said cargoes that would now be taken by Liverpool or Manchester would not be taken in Belfast.

FOX FARMING.

The fox farm, one of many in the Dominion, represents a lucrative industry with a capitalization of millions of dollars. This one was devoted to the breeding of black foxes, whose skins, cured but not dressed, are sent to London, where they fetch from £30 to £130. The animals are generally killed when three years old, a slight blow on the nose stunning them and pressure of the fingers does the rest. There is money in this business, provided the owner has the skill of the trapper and the knowledge of these animals that only comes from long experience of their wiles and ways.

It was with regret that we said good-bye to Fredericton late in the evening, and on the way we were fresh one town, but we met no place quite like it afterwards. The place "Celestial" is apparently at peace with the world, and the river flowing by his door is a mirror of his mind. He is seemingly content with his lot, for if he is secure from sudden attacks of affluence, he is equally safe from the withering disaster of reckless speculation. Some of the early pioneers have become millionaires, but New Brunswick, as a whole, has neither the very poor nor the very rich within its borders. There is a happy mean of comfort, and the fair, old-fashioned city of Fredericton is typical of its peace that has not been disturbed by the conversion of its one-time grazing grounds for cattle and its snipe-infested ponds into brilliantly-lighted public thoroughfares. One hundred years ago it took 42 days to reach Quebec; today it takes less than 24 hours. But the city retains none of the charm that must have rested on it in the days when its fathers were quaintly attired in stove-pipe hats and knee breeches.

IN OLD SAINT JOHN.

Saint John, our next objective, saturated us with hospitality. Named by the intrepid French explorer, Champlain, because he visited it on St. John's Day, 1604, it is the largest city of the province, with a population of 60,000. A memorial at the foot of King street marks where 9,000 United Empire Loyalists landed in the days of the Revolution, and Saint John has since been known as "the loyalist city." It owed much of its eighteenth century glory to its famous shipyards, now a wilderness, the demand for wooden ocean-going sailers having gone. In their place the port boasts a magnificent graving dock, 1,150 feet long and 128 feet wide, larger than our Thompson Dock. It is furnished with two chambers, 800 feet and 600 feet in Wright, her niece, and little Miss Ruth Black, niece of the groom, acted as flower girls and wore dainty frocks of rose silk velvet, with poke bonnets of same shade with white fur trimmings and carried nosegays of sweethearts roses and sweet peas.

The ushers were the Misses Marlon and Lucy Black, Miss Marlon wearing green flat crepe with cream lace trimmings, black and gold hat and carrying a bouquet of pink chrysanthemums, and Miss Lucy was similarly gowned in honeydew flat crepe and carried cream chrysanthemums.

The groom's gifts to the flower girls were silver mesh bags, to the ushers, organist and soloist, gold initialed pencils. Many beautiful gifts of silver, cut glass, linen, and furniture were received by the bride and groom, including a beautiful electric floor lamp

Weddings

Ellis-Purdy.
Zion United church was the scene of a very pretty wedding at 7 o'clock this morning when the Rev. George Orman solemnized the marriage of Miss Muriel Elizabeth Purdy, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank S. Purdy, of Wall street, and Harvey Leslie Ellis, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Ellis, of Mace's Bay. The church was prettily decorated by girls friends of the bride, with a whom she is a great favorite. The ceremony took place beneath an arch of greenery, trimmed with pink and white roses and with a bell hanging in the center.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, was becomingly gowned in a navy blue traveling suit, with white lace roses and fox fur and carrying a bouquet of Ophelia roses. The bride and groom were unattended. Mrs. C. H. Jones, organist of the church, played the wedding music. Wilfred Purdy, brother, and Frank Coleman, cousin of the bride, were ushers.

After the ceremony a wedding breakfast was served at the home of the bride's parents, after which Mr. and Mrs. Ellis left for Boston by motor for their honeymoon trip. They will reside in Saint John.

Mrs. Purdy, neither of the bride, wore a navy blue ensemble suit, with white lace to match, and Mrs. Ellis, mother of the groom, wore a navy blue crepe de chine gown, heavily beaded and with hat to match. Among many gifts received by the bride were several checks—one from the bride's parents—a chest of silver from the uncle of the groom, with whom he is in partnership in the Central Garage, and a Chesterfield table from the groom's parents. The groom's gift was a seal coat. The waitress of the breakfast were Miss Blanche and Miss Nellie Jones, Mrs. H. R. Coleman, Mrs. Annie Baxter, Mrs. Ernest Stay and Mrs. William Fudge.

Appley-Wright.
One of the prettiest weddings of the season took place in Fairville Baptist church this afternoon at 4 o'clock when the Rev. C. F. Clark, M. A., B. D., solemnized the marriage of Miss Edna Wright, only daughter of Bruce Wright and the late Mrs. Emma Wright of Fairville, and Willard S. Appley of this city, son of Mr. and Mrs. Burton Appley of Queens County, N. B. The church was artistically decorated with pine boughs, rowan berries and ferns by friends of the bride. Mrs. C. Girvan, organist of the church, played the wedding march from Lohengrin as the bridal party entered the church, and Mendelssohn's wedding music as they left. She also played during the ceremony and while the register was being signed. Purdy Cougle sang "I Love You Truly."

The bride was given in marriage by her father and was becomingly gowned in green and gold cut velvet, with hat and shoes to match, wore a champagne fox fur, the gift of the groom, and carried a bouquet of Ophelia and white lilies roses. Little Miss Dorothy from Scovill Brothers Co., Ltd., where the groom is employed. Mr. and Mrs. Appley left by auto for a short honeymoon trip. They will reside on Manawagash road.

Scovill-Mayer.
At St. James' rectory last evening, Rev. H. A. Cody officiated at the marriage of Miss Gladys Era Mayer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Mayer, and Walter Harold Scovill, son of Mrs. Scovill and the late Thomas Scovill. Both bride and groom are residents of Queenstown, N. B. The bride was becomingly gowned in a navy blue ensemble suit with hat to match, and she was accompanied by Mrs. Alice Reiker, Miss Polly Scovill and Miss Reiker. Mr. and Mrs. Scovill will make their home in Queenstown where the groom has a fine farm. They have the good wishes of many friends.

Blakney-Banks.
The marriage of Miss Nell A. Banks, R. N., daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T. Banks of Fredericton, to Alfred M. Blakney, son of Mr. and Mrs. Oliver Blakney, Loch Lomond, was solemnized in the Brighton Congregational church, Brighton, Mass., on July 6, the Rev. Silas Anthony officiating. Mr. and Mrs. Blakney will reside in Boston.

Deaths

Postmaster Percy Semple
EAST FLORENCEVILLE, Oct. 27.—The community was shocked and saddened last evening when the news spread that Percy Semple, postmaster, had passed away. He had been in poor health for the last three months, but no one suspected he was so seriously ill. He was about a short time before his death. Mr. Semple had been postmaster here for some years and also conducted a plumbing business. His good nature made him a general favorite. He was an active member of the United Church, and in politics was a Conservative.

Mrs. F. C. Cairns
The death of Mrs. Elizabeth Cairns, wife of Fred C. Cairns, 14 Sydney street, occurred last evening following a brief illness. She was taken seriously ill late last week and operated on in the Saint John Infirmary on Monday, as the only way in which there was hope to save her life. While she rallied for a time after the operation the gain was not permanent and she passed away about 8 o'clock last night.

Mrs. Cairns was a member of one of the best known families in Saint John county, a daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Ezekiel Johnstone, of Loch Lomond. Most of her life was spent there, but since her marriage to Mr. Cairns they had made their home in the city. She was a woman of excellent qualities of heart and mind, kindly and charitable and a warm friend. Her passing away will be mourned by very many in the city and in the community where her early life was spent.

Besides her husband there survive one sister, Mrs. George T. McCafferty, and five brothers, Ezekiel, of Salmon Arm, B.C.; James H. of Graham, Ont.; Roy G., of Callon, N.J.; Crawford R. and Guy P., of Loch Lomond, N.S.

three sons, John, Edward and Frank. One daughter, Mrs. Albert Vandenbergh, of Adelaide street, and one brother, Albert Belyea, of Brown's Flat, and one sister, Mrs. Thomas McKel, of Brown's Flat, also survive. The funeral service will be held on Wednesday evening with interment at Westfield on Thursday.

Eustache Bahn

MONCTON, Oct. 27.—Eustache Bahn died suddenly yesterday at his home in Palmace Settlement. He was a native of Minutide, N. S., where he was born in 1847 but had lived in Palmace Settlement since he was 12 years old. He was a successful farmer and stockman. Mr. Bahn was twice married, his first wife being Miss Elizabeth Belliveau, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Belliveau, of Scoudouville. Of this marriage there were five children, two of whom survive, one sister, Mrs. George T. McCafferty, and five brothers, Ezekiel, of Salmon Arm, B.C.; James H. of Graham, Ont.; Roy G., of Callon, N.J.; Crawford R. and Guy P., of Loch Lomond, N.S.

His Schoolgirl Wife Who Tried to Recapture Romance With a Boy Sweetheart—How Can a Married Man Prevent Young Girl's Infatuation?—Advice to Five Small-Town Girls on Husband-Hunting.

DEAR MISS DIX—I married my wife when she was nothing but a schoolgirl—I am twelve years older than she is—and she has been a good and faithful wife to me. Recently, however, a boy who was a school-boy sweetheart of hers crossed our path, and I find that she had a little flirtation with him. It amounted to nothing more than their going to a show or two together, and perhaps a kiss. She is deeply repentant, and says she loves only me. Shall I take her back and forgive her, or not? WORRIED HUSBAND.

ANSWER: Of course, you should take her back and forgive her—though forgiveness is a big word to use for such a small wrongdoing, and I wonder, oh, virtuous husband, if you are satisfied to cast even a pebble at her, much less such a heavy stone as you are leaving in her direction? Since you were married, have you never cast a roving eye at any pretty girl? Have you never stolen a kiss in the dark? BE REASONABLE and just, even if you are a husband. Consider this: you married a girl before she had her fill of romance. Have you continued to be a lover to her and supplied her with her daily ration of sentiment? Have you fed her up on sweet speeches and given her all the romance she craves?

If you haven't, you haven't any right to be horrified because she was tempted to nibble a little at the sweets that you deprived her of when you married her. You wonder that she felt that she would like to know what a kiss was like that had the thrill of passion in it, instead of being the flabby peck of duty on her cheek that are all that most wives get from their husbands. As for your wife's meeting again with her old bread-and-butter sweetheart, that is a cause for rejoicing rather than regret.

NOTHING does more to cure either a man or woman of lingering regrets for the lost loves of their youth than to meet up with their former flames after a lapse of years. Nothing is so disenchanted. A woman may remember an early sweetheart as a slim youth with curling locks, and an enchanting line of conversation. She finds him dull and stout, and knowing nothing except the grocery trade. A man remembers his first love as a fairlike creature, with soulful eyes, as fresh and innocent as a baby. He finds her fat and frowsy and dispirited, with the mind of a hysterical hen fussing over her brood of youngsters.

Nothing is more impossible to take up than an old intimacy, and not once in a thousand times can you breathe the breath of life again into a dead love. So if your wife wants to come back to you, and loves you best after having seen the old sweetheart, be sure that she is yours for keeps, and that even the ghost that haunted her dreams of the other man has been laid. She will never even think of him again. DOROTHY DIX.

DEAR DOROTHY DIX—I am a married man, devoted to my wife, and with four children. I find that the daughter of an old friend who has always been welcome around the house as a child is blossoming into womanhood, and that she has developed a mad infatuation for me, which she takes no pains to conceal. I am greatly worried about it. What shall I do? C. B. M.

ANSWER: The only thing you can do is to go to the girl's father, and tell him all about it, and ask him to send her away from home for a while, if possible, and at any rate, to keep her away from your house.

OTHERWISE, she will wreck her own life and yours, also, because there is an other habit of scandal that Madam Grundy is fonder of rolling under her tongue than an affair between a married man and a girl young enough to be his daughter. Certainly your home is in great danger because your wife will be a marvel among women if she doesn't become jealous and suspect you of being in love with the girl, for the obsessing fear of every married woman whose youth is slipping from her is that her husband will pass her up for a flapper.

I find that married men have a morbid fascination for very young girls. There is something about the man's age and sophistication, and knowledge of life that makes a special appeal to them, and also it makes themselves that they are doing something daring and wicked and vampish in taking a woman's husband away from her. This particular girl is lucky in finding a man who is honorable enough to try to cure her of her folly, instead of taking advantage of it.

Of course, time works a cure, and girls find boys of their own age. But in the meantime they have only too often had a disillusioning experience that has hardened their hearts and smothered their name and brought much suffering and sorrow to others. DOROTHY DIX.

DEAR DOROTHY DIX—We are five girls in a small town, and are considered the best looking and most popular girls in it. We have plenty of money and good clothes. There are no desirable young men in this town, and as we have all been to college, we do not desire to associate with the men who are not our equals. We are all in our twenties, and feel that it is time to hunt our equals. FIVE SMALL-TOWN SHEBAS.

ANSWER: Your illustrious name-mother, the Queen of Sheba, put on her glad rags, and went on a long journey in search of the man that she considered her equal, but how much it profited her we do not really know. Perhaps there is a tip for you in that. Perhaps not. Certainly I cannot point you to any happy hunting ground where you will find the husbands of your ideals.

THE matrimonial outlook for the well-off, cultivated girl in a small town is not promising for making and boys who are go-getters, the ones who are going to amount to something and who are worth marrying, leave as soon as they are grown, and go to seek their fortunes in far places. This reduces the husband supply to a choice between callow youths and widowers with many children and the crooked sticks that any girl is a fool to pick up.

The only chance for the girls to marry lies in emigration, since it is a waste of time and faith to dangle your line in a river in which there are no fish. Therefore, I should advise you, five Shebas, to add to your college course another course in a business college, and then fare forth to some city and get jobs. In business you will at least meet plenty of men, and have the opportunity that the small town denies you. DOROTHY DIX. Copyright by Public Ledger Company.

Sunshine In Voice Won Love and Holds It, Say Stars Who Join Career and Romance

By HORTENSE SAUNDERS

The voice with the smile wins! Put that down as a golden maxim and a first aid to matrimony, as well as mere propaganda on the part of the telephone company.

The success of the voice and smile combination is demonstrated in the romance of Sofia Charlebois, the opera singer, and Fortune Gallo, manager of the San Carlo Opera Company.

Sofia Charlebois was formerly a San Francisco girl who had studied music and had operatic ambitions. Signor Gallo was a bandmaster with dreams of branching out into grand opera.

He organized his initial operatic company in San Francisco and he issued a call for local talent. Many came and few were chosen, after the usual manner of procedure at such times. Among the last to try out her voice was Sofia Charlebois. She could sing and she could smile. She did both exceedingly well, according to Signor Gallo. Her voice won her an engagement with the opera company, and her smile won an engagement ring from the manager before the season was over.

This occurred in 1911, quite some time ago, but I have Signor Gallo's word for it that the voice and smile combination still holds him.

"Of course, after our marriage, which occurred at the end of the first season, my wife kept on with her career," he told me. "She has sung in my company ever since. We have traveled all over the country and Europe together, and have traveled all the ups and downs of good and bad seasons. We both are supposed to be temperamental, and I suppose we are. But never jeopardized our happiness, but have rather contributed to it. "I am sure my wife would not have been happy had her marriage meant the sacrifice of her career as a singer. And she very gratifyingly assures me that her career without marriage would have been most incomplete. As for me, she is so bound up in my plans and my successes that I cannot imagine what life would have held for me without her. So you can classify us as two happily married persons who believe that careers and marriage mix perfectly."

The musical career of Sofia Charlebois is that of an ambitious American girl who had advantages, studied, and made good, but it is not quite so colorful or typical of what this country offers as that of Fortune Gallo.

He arrived at Ellis Island, steered from Italy, with 11 cents in his pocket, a few clothes done up in a large kerchief, and no English words in his vocabulary. Incidentally he has a very nice smile himself, and I suppose it was his genial Latin manner, and his ability to land on his feet after any sort of a tumble that expedited his journey from clerk at $2.00 a week to opera magnate, and boosted his original capital of 11 cents into a very substantial bank account. He has been a gas collector, politician, and no English words in his vocabulary.

- Breakfast. Oranges. Baked rice with raisins and top milk. Whole wheat toast. Honey coffee. Luncheon. Baked stuffed onions. Rolls butter. Delmonico Apples. Milk. Dinner. Spare ribs and apples. Baked sweet potatoes. Cabbage salad. California grapes or other fruit. Coffee.

TODAY'S RECIPES.

Baked Stuffed Onions—Pare the onions and boil until tender, changing the water four times during the cooking. Scoop out the centres and chop them finely. Mix together equal parts of chopped ham and soft bread crumbs, add the chopped onions, two tablespoons of melted butter and season with pepper and a little salt. Fill the onions with the mixture, arrange them in a baking pan, baste with water and melted butter and bake until brown.

Delmonico Apples—Place in baking dish a layer of sweetened apple sauce, then a layer of crumbled macaroons and chopped, blanched almonds, a layer of sweetened, sliced peaches (either canned or fresh), another layer of macaroons and almonds, then more apple sauce with tiny bits of butter on top. Bake about one hour.

Brown Spare Ribs with Apples—Select fresh spare ribs enough for one pound to each person, cut into pieces suited to eating. Season with salt and pepper and arrange in layers in either frying pan or Dutch oven. Set the pan in the fire and allow meat to brown. It will be necessary to turn the meat a couple of times. Cut tart apples in thick slices when the meat has browned, but not quite cooked enough; place the rings of apples in a layer over the top. Cover and cook until the apple turns transparent looking. Serve the meat and apples together. Corn on cob baked in the fire is a delicious accompaniment to serve with this dish.

CHILD FEEDING.

Here are the foods that a child may eat to insure a rich supply of valuable minerals: Calcium, milk, egg yolk, cottage cheese, beans, spinach, lettuce, onions, prunes, carrots, turnips. Phosphorus, egg yolk, milk, cottage cheese, beans, onions, prunes, meat, fish, peas, potatoes, lentils, barley, whole wheat, oranges. Iron, egg yolk, beans, spinach, lettuce, macaroni, cabbage, asparagus, raisins, celery.

THE LAST FRONTIER Says Weather Conditions Cause Earthquakes

By DAVID DIETZ

WEATHER conditions are the fuses which set off earthquakes. This is the theory put forward by Dr. Robert W. Saylor of the University Museum of Cambridge, Mass., who bases his opinion upon the study of weather conditions which preceded recent earthquakes.

He does not attempt to upset the accepted opinion of scientists as to the fundamental nature of earthquakes. He agrees that earthquakes result from stresses and strains set up in the rock formations by the shrinking of the earth's crust. The quake occurs when the strains get so great that the rocks can no longer withstand them.

But what Dr. Saylor is attempting to explain is why the quake occurs just at the moment it does—why not a month sooner or three months later? His answer is weather conditions. These, he says, constitute the finger which pulls the trigger.

In this connection he points out that the strains in the rocks are such as to cause the land either to rise or sink.

Where the tendency is to rise, he says, the quake would be caused by a sudden lightning of the load on the land at the critical moment.

Where the tendency of the land is to sink, a sudden increase of the load on the land at the critical moment would precipitate the quake.

EVERYONE knows that the atmosphere exerts a pressure upon the land, which is approximately 15 pounds per square inch. It is changes in the atmospheric pressure, or barometric pressure as it is commonly called, coupled with abnormal decreases or increases in rainfall which precipitates earthquakes, according to Dr. Saylor. Where the land has a tendency to sink, heavy rainfall with high barometric pressure will act as "the straw which breaks the camel's back." Where the land has a tendency to rise, lack of rainfall and low barometric pressure. The land in New England, he says, has a tendency to rise.

LEST anyone think that changes in air pressure and rainfall could not be sufficient to have the necessary effect, Dr. Saylor calculated what the deficiency in rainfall and barometric pressure meant in New England at that time.

The drop in air pressure, he says, meant that a weight equal over wide areas to as much as a million tons per square mile was lifted from the land. The deficiency in rainfall amounted to eight inches of rainfall. This, he says, meant that the land was relieved from a weight which it would otherwise have had upon it, amounting to 88,200,224,000 tons.

Adventures of the Twins

By OLIVE ROBERTS BARTON

A QUEER INVITATION.

There were many surprises in store for the Twins in the Land of High Jinks. Indeed, it was just one great surprise. There were so many odd people.

A Jack O'Lantern came along and made a deep bow—as deep as a bow as a Jack O'Lantern can make. "Here is your invitation," he said. "It is an invitation to come from a party."

"To what?" said Nick in surprise. "You mean to go to a party, don't you?" "Oh, no!" laughed the Jack O'Lantern. "That would be too ordinary. Anyone can invite you to a party. I am inviting you to come from my party. It shows that I mean well, that I like you well enough to give you an invitation, and it saves me a lot of trouble. I don't have to give a party at all. Good-bye! I hope you will have a good time in High Jinks Land."

Away went the Jack O'Lantern, and Mr. Corn Dodger laughed.

"That's just a high sink he was playing," he said. "Sort of a joke, you know. Jack O'Lantern is one of my best friends and he wouldn't do anything mean for the world. See, he is giving invitations to everyone he meets."

Suddenly the Scare Crow, who had just received an invitation—began to laugh. He laughed so loudly and so long that half his straw fell out. Indeed, he burst his sides with laughing.

"What are you laughing at, you goose?" asked the Jack O'Lantern crossly. "Are you laughing at me?" "Certainly," said the Scare Crow. "Ha, ha, ha! Ho, ho, ho! It's my turn to laugh, and he who laughs last, laughs best, you know. How can we all come from a party unless we go to a party first, so we can come from it?"

"That's so!" agreed a tall clown with a surprised look and his hair done in a peak. "Your invitations mean that you are going to give a party so we can go to it so we can come from it," he said to the Jack O'Lantern.

"Now you have me all mixed up," said the Jack O'Lantern. "I'm all dizzy with so many words. Am I going to give a party or am I not?" "You are," said Old King Cole. "I have decided it. Someone has to give a party, so it may as well be you."

"I'll announce it," said Captain Kidd the pirate. "I have the loudest voice. Attention! I hereby announce that everybody in High Jinks Land is hereby invited to a party to be given at once by Jack O'Lantern. Everybody who expects to go, please sign here."

"Don't you mean 'beery'?" said the clown with the surprised look and the peaked hair.

"For goodness sake!" said Jack O'Lantern. "We've been at this thing for nearly an hour. If I am to give a party, let's have it at once and get it over. I have only one request to make."

"What's that?" asked the Scare Crow. "That everybody brings his own refreshments," said Jack O'Lantern. "It would suit me best to have a surprise party where each guest takes his own food."

"I'll take gingerbread," said the Muffin Man.

"I'll take apples," said the Old Apple Woman.

"I'll take a pumpkin pie," said the Pie-man.

"What had we better take?" whispered Nancy and Nick, or I should say, whispered Hansel and Gretel, now that they were dressed like Dutch children.

"A nice big round cheese," suggested Mister Corn Dodger.

And that's the way they took. They got it from the store man at the corner. To Be Continued.

THERE is no coat more useful for early fall wear than the straight line model of sports inspiration.

The camel's hair coat shown here is of soft brown plaid in a deeper brown. The coat has notched lapels and a double-breasted fastening.

It is also smart in frocks and we see fine woolen materials of colorful plaids in one-piece models with skirts which feature plaits.

Picture Fits Bebe Daniels Like a Glove

By JACK JUNGMEYER.

NEW YORK, Oct. 28—Once in a blue moon a picture star gets a story precisely fitted to bring out that player's fullest talent.

"Lovers in Quarantine," a Paramount production, provides such a vehicle for Bebe Daniels.

Miss Daniels' capacities as a comedienne have often been indicated, but too infrequently exploited.

Without disparaging her own style and velvet charm, it may be said that Miss Daniels' frisky ebullience in "Lovers in Quarantine" is strongly reminiscent of Mabel Normand's manner in that great actress' film prime.

Bebe is cast as the hoydenish younger sister of an unscrupulous girl whose amorous double-dealing re-ounds to the flapper's hard won happiness in a sea of troubles. Used as a cat's paw for her sister's dalliance, the younger maid's love for the older comes at once a beautiful and hilarious set of escapades, as Miss Daniels develops the comedy with Harrison Ford, Alfred Lunt, Helen Gray and Edna May Oliver.

The deliciously naive air of perplexed innocence, sustained pitte remarkably by the tom-boyish Bebe, the earnest genuineness of Harrison Ford in his dilemma, and the solemn befuddlement of Edna May Oliver as the shock-absorbing aunt—these are especially fine elements of the film.

Commentation is due Frank Tuttle, director, and the adapters of the stage play, for having kept from the movie the salacious taint which too often is allowed to creep offensively into films of this character.

MRS. NICHOLAS LONGWORTH
on keeping one's appearance up to the mark

ALICE ROOSEVELT LONGWORTH, daughter of the late Theodore Roosevelt, and wife of the Speaker-elect of the United States House of Representatives, is her illustrious father's own child.

A gay unconscious toss of her head every now and then recalls that "Princess Alice" who, as the daughter of the President, captured the imagination of America. Her keen grasp of public affairs has drawn about her the most personable of Washington's inner circle. No woman has the same influence in the shaping of political events.

Mrs. Longworth carefully guards her beauty because the dignity of her life demands that she keep her appearance up to the mark. Knowing the true foundation of attractiveness to be a clear, healthy skin, she believes in the cleansing and protection which Pond's Two Creams afford:

Every night before retiring and always after exposure to the weather, cleanse your face and neck with Pond's Cold Cream, patting it lavishly over your skin. Let it stay on long enough

"It's important for the woman who is active in the many-sided life of today to keep her personal appearance up to the mark. Brains, ability and social gifts are none the worse for being supplemented by charm and loveliness. The foundation of both is a clear, healthy skin which any woman may possess. She need only give it the proper care by the daily use of Pond's Two Creams."

OVERDRAFT FOR SCHOOLS LARGE

Chairman to be Asked for Information on $94,000 Sum

City Comptroller's Annual Report to Common Council is Commented on.

The report of the city comptroller as auditor of the books and accounts of the Board of School Trustees was presented yesterday afternoon to the city council. In this report the auditor calls special attention to the large overdraft of $94,000 and suggests that some steps be taken to pay off this overdraft. The council decided to ask the chairman of the school board to furnish them with information when this item would be taken care of.

The report was as follows:

October 22nd, 1925.

To His Worship the Mayor and Members of the Common Council of the City of Saint John.

Gentlemen—I have the honor to present my annual report upon the accounts and books of the Board of School Trustees of the City of Saint John.

I audited them for the year ending the 30th day of June last. The statement of assets and liabilities is correctly prepared from the books of the said trustees.

Statements of receipts and expenditures, current and capital, I also present. Vouchers were produced for all expenditures and were correct.

The bonded debt at June 30th 1925 was $1,177,000.

The trustees owe the Bank of Nova Scotia $94,821.47. This is largely made up by overexpenditures of past years and should be taken care of, thereby doing away with the heavy charge for interest on this overdraft account.

I counted the sinking fund securities in their safety box with bankers, and found them correct, viz:

Bonds (face value $151,500.00) $144,854.48
Cash, Special Account 19,798.70
Bank of Nova Scotia..... 156,847.15

The securities for the Parker Medical Trust I also looked at and found correct.

The fire insurance on buildings and contents is $684,200.00 as per schedule. Boiler insurance is also carried to the amount of $10,000.00.

Buildings and furniture during the year was $23,671.60, for coal $25,387.47, for teachers salaries $281,447.58, for janitors' salaries $25,487.16 and for rented buildings $32,950.14.

I also audited the books and accounts of the Vocational Committee of the City of Saint John. The statement of assets and liabilities is correctly prepared from the books of the said committee. The expenditures were properly vouchered and were correct.

Respectfully submitted,
ADAM P. MACINTYRE,
City Comptroller.

VERY SERIOUS SAYS FRINK.
Commissioner Frink said that it seemed to him that an overdraft of $94,000 was a very serious matter and there should be some explanation from the finance committee of the school board about it. It was costing a great deal in interest to carry this overdraft and it should be wiped out. He moved that the chairman of the Board of School Trustees be requested to inform the council when and in what way this overdraft would be disposed of.

Commissioner Wigmore seconded the motion and in doing so said he would like to know whether this overdraft was increasing from year to year or not.

Mayor Fotts expressed the opinion that the city should compel the Board to pay the overdraft from assessment.

The motion of Commissioner Frink carried.

OPEN FAIR TONIGHT

Veterans All Ready For Event Arranged in St. Andrew's Rink.

Commissioner J. H. Frink, representing the Mayor, will formally open the G. W. V. A. Fair this evening in St. Andrew's rink. The Fusillers band will be in attendance.

The rink, decorated with a profusion of flags, bunting and evergreens, presents a truly gala appearance and the varied attractions offered the patrons, combining several "old favorites" with those more recently popularized, make the fair a real "carnival" event.

A special feature is the grand triple prize drawing conducted under the auspices of the Loyalist Temple of the Pythian Sisters who have a special booth in which the prizes are displayed.

The direction of the fair is in the hands of President J. G. Dryden, the chairman, and Messrs. J. V. Shea, A. D. Rolfe, P. K. Moore and A. I. Machum.

With every probability of the local association being called on to meet some heavy expenditures between now and springtime in connection with the unity program instituted by Earl Haig at the time of the British Empire Service League Conference last summer and the probable holding of the G. W. V. A. Dominion Convention here next year, generous support of the fair is hoped for.

Famous Old Recipe for Cough Syrup
Easily and cheaply made at home, but it beats them all for quick results.

Thousands of housewives have found that they can save two-thirds of the money usually spent for cough preparations, by using this well-known old recipe for making cough syrup at home. It is simple and cheap but it has no equal for prompt results. It takes right hold of a cough and gives immediate relief, usually stopping an ordinary cough in 24 hours or less.

Get 2½ ounces of Pinex from any druggist, pour it into a 16-oz. bottle and add plain granulated sugar syrup to make 16 ounces. If you prefer, use clarified molasses, honey or corn syrup, instead of sugar syrup. Either way, it tastes good, keeps perfectly, and lasts a family a long time.

It's truly astonishing how quickly it acts, penetrating through every air passage of the throat and lungs—loosens and raises the phlegm, soothes and heals the membranes, and gradually but surely the annoying throat tickle and dried cough disappear entirely. Nothing better for bronchitis, spasmodic croup, hoarseness or bronchial asthma.

Pinex is a special and highly concentrated compound of genuine Norway pine extract, known the world over for its healing effect on the membranes.

Avoid disappointment by asking your druggist for "2½ ounces Pinex" with full directions and do not accept anything else. Guaranteed five absolute satisfaction or money promptly refunded. The Pinex Co., Toronto, Ont.

3 Ex-Premiers In Move For Golden Health Age

Form British Society With Physicians and Hygienists For Primary Object to Prevent Disease; Believe New Race Can Be Created By Another Life Way

LONDON, Oct. 27.—The Daily Express says today that three former prime ministers of Great Britain, the Earl of Oxford and Asquith, the Earl of Balfour, and Ramsay MacDonald, with a number of prominent physicians and hygienists, have formed a remarkable society, aiming to bring about "a golden age of health" in England.

This organization, which is to be formally inaugurated early in December, will be called "The New Health Society." Its primary object will be the prevention of disease.

The promoters, according to the Daily Express, believe that "a new race can be created by a new way of life." A nation-wide propaganda campaign is to be launched when the society is inaugurated.

The rink, decorated with a profusion of flags, bunting and evergreens, presents a truly gala appearance and the varied attractions offered the patrons, combining several "old favorites" with those more recently popularized, make the fair a real "carnival" event.

Easily and cheaply made at home, but it beats them all for quick results.

Thousands of housewives have found that they can save two-thirds of the money usually spent for cough preparations, by using this well-known old recipe for making cough syrup at home. It is simple and cheap but it has no equal for prompt results. It takes right hold of a cough and gives immediate relief, usually stopping an ordinary cough in 24 hours or less.

Get 2½ ounces of Pinex from any druggist, pour it into a 16-oz. bottle and add plain granulated sugar syrup to make 16 ounces. If you prefer, use clarified molasses, honey or corn syrup, instead of sugar syrup. Either way, it tastes good, keeps perfectly, and lasts a family a long time.

It's truly astonishing how quickly it acts, penetrating through every air passage of the throat and lungs—loosens and raises the phlegm, soothes and heals the membranes, and gradually but surely the annoying throat tickle and dried cough disappear entirely. Nothing better for bronchitis, spasmodic croup, hoarseness or bronchial asthma.

Pinex is a special and highly concentrated compound of genuine Norway pine extract, known the world over for its healing effect on the membranes.

Avoid disappointment by asking your druggist for "2½ ounces Pinex" with full directions and do not accept anything else. Guaranteed five absolute satisfaction or money promptly refunded. The Pinex Co., Toronto, Ont.

HAS CRITICISM OF AMBULANCE

Hon. J. R. Armstrong Sends Suggestions to Common Council

Tannery Assessment Matter Must Await Special Legislation—Bond Issues Approved.

A complaint that the city ambulance was a very uncomfortable vehicle to ride in and not suitable for injured persons to be carried in was read at the meeting of the Common Council yesterday afternoon. It was written by Hon. J. R. Armstrong and suggested a remedy for this condition.

veance of the sick and injured. Having ridden in many motor cars, not my own, of various makes, I can truly say I never before rode in one so rough and jolty as the ambulance.

I am not a motor expert, but I am told that the springs are entirely too stiff and unyielding. Besides this there is no provision for heating the interior. I am informed that these two great defects can be easily remedied by reducing the number of leaves in the springs, and by the addition of shock absorbers if found necessary, and that the interior could easily be heated by the use of the exhaust from the engine, both of which improvements could be made at trifling cost.

VALUATION QUESTION. The city solicitor wrote that under the existing legislation no relief could be granted to C. H. Peters Sons, Ltd., in the valuation of the property, Erin street, and that if it was decided to lessen the valuation special legislation would have to be secured.

PETITCODIAC BUILDINGS GO IN NIGHT BLAZE

Hotel and Other Valuable Property Threatened Before Fire Controlled

RESTAURANT, TWO HOMES DESTROYED

General Store and Hardware Business Are Among Places Burned

PETITCODIAC, Oct. 28—Fire which broke out about 11.45 o'clock last night near the scene of the start of the disastrous blaze of last February, destroyed seven buildings and threatened to spread to the Burlington Hotel and several other valuable properties before it was believed to have finally been got under control at 2 o'clock this morning.

The blaze started in the barn of B. T. Stockton & Son, completely destroying that building and a shed attached to it. It then spread rapidly to the store of S. C. Goggin, wiping out that building. The farm implement and hardware emporium of J. Clark & Sons was the next to go down before the sweep of the flames and it was thought then that the hotel and other buildings across the Pollett River Road were doomed.

The residence and restaurant owned by John Campbell and occupied by Mrs. Parker Bennett, the small grocery store and residence of Mr. and Mrs. Collier and a garage used by A. G. Parkin were also destroyed.

COW THOUGHT BURNED

It was thought early this morning that a cow, owned by P. B. Deynolds, in the stock barn, was burned. The Campbell building was of concrete and had been erected only about three or four years ago. The others were all of wood but, with one or two exceptions, were fairly new.

INVALID CARRIED OUT

Mr. Collier, who is an invalid and practically confined to his bed, had to be carried out of the building when it took fire. The volunteer fire fighters were using two streams of hose, one from a nearby and one from a large tank in the J. Clark & Sons building before it was burned. They had large trucks loaded with big pumps of water and three hand chemical pumps.

DANGER SEEN OVERCOME

It was believed at 2 o'clock that the fire was at least under control. The Burlington Hotel, a hardware store, owned by J. Humphrey, and Drysdale's harness shop are all on the opposite side of Pollett River Road and the fire would have to cross that thoroughfare to burn them. With the various bands working to keep the flames down, it was considered that the danger had been practically overcome and that these buildings were safe.

What The Maritimes Need

DR. MURRAY MACLAREN, C. M. G. Physician, soldier, your representative at Ottawa for the last four years.

THOMAS BELL Lumberman, former athlete, one of the men who "put over" the Admiral Beatty. A man with faith in Saint John and the Maritimes.

A Solid Maritime Bloc at Ottawa which will fight for the Maritime Provinces—a bloc—which, if questions arise where the interests of the Maritimes, and the interests of Party Conflict, will stand four-square for the Maritimes.

For the last four years the Liberals had, at Ottawa, a solid bloc of 26 seats from the Maritime Provinces.

What did this Liberal bloc do for these Provinces? They were dumb blind followers of party to the detriment of their own constituencies.

The Conservative Candidates have pledged themselves to stand four-square for Maritime Rights.

Rt. Hon. Arthur Meighen has promised by reduction of freight rates and other forms of compensation to improve conditions in the Maritime Provinces.

On October 29th elect to Ottawa a solid Maritime Conservative Bloc and give Mr. Meighen and your representatives an opportunity to carry out their promises.

If they fail you as your solid Liberal bloc failed you, then will come the time to consider the necessity for the formation of a Maritime bloc separate and distinct from either party.

But they will not fail!

The Difference

Ex-Premier Foster tried for four years while Premier of a Liberal Government here to induce a Liberal Government at Ottawa to take over the Valley Railway.

Premier Baxter says he will make one visit to Ottawa after the election of Mr. Meighen and when he returns the Valley Railway will be the property of the Dominion Government, relieving this Province of an annual interest expenditure of $250,000.

Put men "inside" who will be of some use to you. Vote the ticket—MacLaren and Bell.

Don't split ballots. Vote for the party which will do something for the Maritimes, not for the party which has spent four years doing nothing and promises if elected to spend four years doing nothing more.

MEIGHEN CALLS KING PREMIER OF LONG PROMISES

Never Was Campaign With Harbor of Victory So Near for His Party

NO GOOD HAS COME FROM TARIFF CUTS

Massey Went to Cabinet, Crowbar in Hand, Says Ex-Premier

Canadian Press Despatch.

BRAMPTON, Ont., Oct. 27—Alluding to Premier Mackenzie King as "a prime minister of long promises," Right Hon. Arthur Meighen declared this afternoon, speaking here in the interest of Sam Charters, who is being opposed by W. R. P. Parker, the Liberal candidate, that never was there a campaign where the current seemed so unimpeded and the harbor of victory so near for his party as in this.

NO GOOD TO ANYONE.

"No good came to anyone, much less the farmer, through such reductions," said the Conservative leader. Mr. Meighen said the agricultural industry did not suffer because Mr. Massey "went to the door of the cabinet, crowbar in hand" and secured free entry from abroad of the materials that went into the manufacture of farm implements.

MANY OF MASSEY TYPE.

"Mr. Massey is in favor of protection for his own product. There are many of his type. More than a half of the Liberals in parliament are protectionists today. They are all in favor of protection for something. Even Mr. Parker would protect flour, because he is running for Peel. Yet his party is on record as favoring free entry for foodstuffs.

Mr. Meighen declared that there was a "Progressive in the West, living in the coal area, and he was a protectionist on coal."

The Conservative leader said: "We have either to have a protectionist policy or not in Canada, and if we have one, it must function adequately for the farm, the mine and the factory alike."

BRITAIN WONDERS ABOUT FRENCH DEBT

Question Arises if Plan Caillaux Agreed to Will Stand.

Canadian Press Despatch.

LONDON, Oct. 27—The fall of the French government and the disappearance of M. Caillaux, from whom so much had been expected in the rehabilitation of French finances, has an interesting side for the British people.

It was Caillaux who negotiated the tentative agreement with Winston Churchill, Chancellor of the Exchequer for the payment of £12,000,000 yearly for a period of years in settlement of the French war debt to Great Britain and the question arises whether with the advent of a new French ministry, this tentative agreement will lapse and new debt negotiations will be required with the new French finance minister, or whether the new cabinet will be content to adhere to the original program.

Says Rectors' Loss To U. S. Difficultly

SHEDDIAK, Oct. 27—Bishop Richardson, of Fredericton, who was here recently, says that one of the difficulties of the Anglican diocese is the resignations of rectors to go to parishes in the United States. The Bishop says that since he became head of the diocese more than 40 of his priests have gone to the United States. Of this number two were former rectors of Shediac. Three others, formerly of Shediac, had gone previously.

Potato Prices Rise To New High Mark

PRESQUE ISLE, Me., Oct. 27—The potato market opened this morning in the biggest flurry for several years, the town being alive with growers and buyers, and prices went to a new high mark. Bulk Green Mountains went to $3.25 a barrel measure cash to growers and several small lots went as high as $5.00. Growers are holding back for higher price.

Mercury Down At Calgary To 2 Below Zero

WINNIPEG, Oct. 27—Winter took a firm grip on mid-Western Canada today with freezing temperature reported throughout the prairie provinces and heavy falls of snow at a number of places. Indications were that the cold spell would continue, the forecast tonight being for "very cold" weather in Manitoba and Saskatchewan with a "moderating" temperature in Alberta.

Calgary was the coldest point on the prairies today with an extreme low temperature of two below zero and a maximum temperature of 8 above. At Medicine Hat the thermometers registered zero, but later climbed to 12 above. Winnipeg experienced the coldest weather of the year today with 14 degrees above.

CONTEMPT FINE FOR GLORIA SWANSON

Court Penalizes Star For Not Appearing in Separation Suit.

NEW YORK, Oct. 28.—An order adjudging Gloria Swanson guilty of contempt of court and directing her to pay a fine of $250 or go to jail has been issued. The order was handed to Sheriff H. Warren Hubbard for service when the Marquise de la Falaise de la Courday comes home from Paris.

The document was issued by former Supreme Court Justice Robert McCurdy Marsh, sitting as a referee in habeas corpus proceedings involving custody of 4-year-old Robert Wyndham Hoffman, pending trial of the cross suits for separation filed by Janet Beecher, the actress, and her husband, Dr. Richard Hoffman. The order was sought by Arthur Butler Grassam, attorney for Miss Beecher.

Currie Looks For Farmers To Thrive

EDMONTON, Oct. 27—That agriculture in Western Canada, and throughout Canada generally, must prosper, and that already signs of this coming prosperity are not wanting, is the belief of General Sir Arthur Currie, president of McGill University and former commander of the Canadian Expeditionary Force, who is here on his way to Montreal after officially opening the new university of British Columbia.

Sir Arthur sees three reasons why Canadian farmers must prosper—wider markets, more scientific farming and improved marketing methods.

The Saint John Globe Is NOT Independent!

IT IS KNOWN as one of the staunchest Liberal papers in Canada, and the attempt of the Liberal campaign managers and advertisement writers to present its editorial views on political matters as an expression of independent thought is ridiculous.

The Globe was a valiant champion of Saint John as against Portland when the Conservatives were in power. Read what it said in 1921 about Canadian goods going through Portland and remember this was before the Canadian Government had fully taken over the Grand Trunk Railway and consequently had some excuse for not being able to control goods going through that port.

The things the Globe complained of then exist today, yet they are not subjects of criticism, by that paper now that the blame lies at the door of the Liberal party.

SAINT JOHN, HALIFAX, PORTLAND. (From a Globe editorial, November 17, 1925) IN AN EDITORIAL calling on the Eastern Superintendent of the C. N. R. to provide a "few business essentials" such as wharves and warehouses in Saint John for his own road, the Globe said: "At Portland, Maine, Canadian grain routed there by the Canadian National System in preference to either Saint John or Halifax is being shipped overseas providing work for American port labor at a time when the port laborers of Saint John are without work. These facts of the railway situation which cannot even by any process of misrepresentation be charged against the Laurier government. That government gave fair treatment to Saint John, but it remained for the Borden government to give Halifax the preference with that National Railway and it remained for the Meighen government to put Portland ahead of both Saint John and Halifax."

SAINT JOHN, HALIFAX, PORTLAND. (From a Globe editorial, November 19, 1921) TODAY under Meighen government control of the shipping section, freight which should go to Saint John and Halifax is actually going to Portland. There is every reason to fear, and absolutely no reason to doubt, that when comes complete government ownership of the Portland connection—and remember it has been arranged for by the government—the conditions instead of being more favorable to Saint John will be infinitely worse. Saint John cannot afford to leave anything to chance on this question. It is a bigger issue, a far bigger issue than the tariff. The Globe was a true prophet. Under the Liberal regime it has been worse. A Liberal vote on Thursday is a request for four more years of government neglect for Saint John.

CANADIAN GRAIN. (From a Globe editorial, November 14, 1921) IF we return Meighen to power we are told that the Laurier policy of Canadian goods through Canadian ports will be worked out all right. Meanwhile we have the Meighen government in power and Canadian goods through Portland—in violation of both the Laurier and Borden railway compacts—routed that way by Canadian National Railway employees scattered through the Canadian West as agents of the government-owned and government-operated railway system. Written four years ago and just as true, but ten times as bad today, after four years of Liberal neglect. A vote for Foster and Hayes is a request for four more years of it.

THE RAILWAY CRIME. (From a Globe Editorial November 30, 1921) TODAY it is the Canadian Government which ships Canadian grain to Portland. It is the Canadian Government which improves and repairs facilities at Portland, in a year when economy is preached at home, and not a dollar is provided to better the Saint John facilities of the Government-owned system. This "crime" continued until three weeks ago when the Liberal Government suddenly started work on Courtenay Bay. After four years that government authorized the expenditure of $300,000 on a job which will take millions. Merely a trap to catch votes. If you want that sort of treatment for the next four years vote for Foster and Hayes on the 29th.

WHAT ABOUT SAINT JOHN? (From a Globe Editorial, November 28, 1921) ASK yourself what the Government has done in the ten years since the Liberals went out in 1911 to help develop Canadian trade through Saint John? The breakwater is not yet extended, the railway station has been torn down, but not yet rebuilt; millions have been spent on the construction of Canadian ships but not a dollar on the construction of terminals for those ships at Saint John. A strange question indeed! Of course no one knows what took place in the ten years between 1911 and 1921, but in the past four years we do know there was no World War. Yet four years after this was written the Liberal party, which the Globe today so ardently champions, is guilty of four years of further neglect, and the Globe has not one word of criticism to offer. Vote for Foster and Hayes if you are satisfied with the past four years.

What was an error in 1921 has become a crime in 1925. Vote to put an end to it on Thursday. Mark your ballot for McLaren and Bell.

How To Get The Best Results From Your Want Ad.

The small cost of a "Want Ad." is a secondary consideration. The object is results.

Therefore, never chesepare here and there to save an odd cent or two. By doing so the value of the entire ad. may be destroyed.

Your flat may be a $60 a month home, but if you don't say so in your ad, the $60 a month tenant may not reply, thinking perhaps it is a $15 a month flat.

To make doubly sure of the right party seeing your "Want Ad." it is a good plan to use both "The Telegraph-Journal" and the "Times-Star."

A special rate covers both morning and evening papers. The rate for your "Want Ad." in the "Times-Star" is two cents per word per day, but you can have your advertisement appear in both papers for the combined rate of three cents per word per day.

POSITION GOOD BUT BUSINESS SLUMPS

Canada Steamships President Denies Rumored Arrangement With Besco.

Canadian Press. MONTREAL, Oct. 28.—No announcement has been forthcoming from yesterday's meeting of the directors of the Canada Steamships Lines. President Coverdale, in discussing the company's situation, merely stated that the expectations outlined by him in his talk some weeks ago, had been realized. He stated that the company at the present time, was about half a million ahead of its net position a year ago and that liquid conditions remained very comfortable. He stated, however, that at present, the company was experiencing a slump in business.

NEW BRUNSWICK, A GLORIOUS PROVINCE

Continued from Page 5. one hundred thousand people fewer than the city of Belfast. The climate is admirable, and the soil is well adapted for agriculture. The settler is coming to a country already developed, there being always farms in various stages of improvement to be purchased in the settled portion, as well as large unoccupied spaces in the Crown Lands which can be obtained by the man without capital under the Labor Act; while those with limited capital can engage in farming under the Farm Settlement Board, particulars of which can be had from the Department of the Interior, Ottawa, or from the Provincial Government at Fredericton. It is not difficult for any man, let his circumstances be what they may, to obtain a farm in New Brunswick, and it is a source of wonder to many people here who have gone West, when in New Brunswick one is in the midst of most of the amenities of life. It is that geography again. The province is so centrally located on the map and too often overlooked.

MOCK TRIAL BY CLUBS PLANNED

St. David's Organization Makes Proposal to Kirk Society

Rev. J. S. Bonnell Gives Second Address in Course of Public Speaking.

St. Andrew's Kirk Young Men's Club has proposed a mock trial to be held in the hall of the Kirk Society. The letter was referred to a committee for a report. John J. Murray presided for the first time since his election as president and was heartily welcomed. He expressed appreciation of the honor paid him. Additional members were enrolled. The honorary president, Rev. J. S. Bonnell, gave the second lecture in the course of public speaking and discussed the five general ends in public speaking. At the next meeting he will speak on the construction of a model speech. The club orchestra met for an hour's practice before the general meeting and afterwards six games of volleyball were played. The first games of the volleyball league will be played next Tuesday.

WOMAN CALLS BLIND GIRL "LOVE PIRATE"

Wife Brings Suit For Divorce; Faints Twice While on Stand.

CHICAGO, Oct. 28.—Miss Belle Bay, blind since childhood, was named as a "love pirate" yesterday in the divorce trial of William H. Hunt, a radio salesman. The unusual story was told by Hunt's wife, who said the blind girl had stolen her husband's love. Mrs. Hunt fainted twice while testifying before Judge Joseph Sabath, the famous divorce judge. "My husband told me a year ago that our marriage could not continue," Mrs. Hunt said. "He was in love with the blind girl and said I would have to release him. He said he must be free to protect Miss Bay. "Several days later Miss Bay came to me and said she was the only one who could make William happy. Their love was sacred she told me."

AGONIZING RHEUMATISM

OF 5 YEARS STANDING COMPLETELY RELIEVED BY "FRUIT-A-TIVES"

"So good enough to publish for the information of Rheumatism sufferers how 'Fruit-a-tives' relieved my Rheumatism which had lasted five years' standing. The trouble was in my right hip and shoulder; the pain almost unendurable. This kept up until I started to take 'Fruit-a-tives'. After a continuous treatment for about six months I am now in first-class condition. This I attribute to my persistent use of 'Fruit-a-tives'. The above is the letter which Mr. James Dobson of Bronte, Ont., wrote after trying the wonderful Fruit Treatment - 'Fruit-a-tives' - which consists of intensified fruit juices combined with tonics. If you suffer with Rheumatism, 'Fruit-a-tives' will make you well and keep you well. 25c and 50c at dealers. SIK is the cheapest form of clothing material in Madagascar. U.N.B. WIN TOMORROW AT ACADIA GIVES THEM WESTERN TITLE

BOTH FIFTEENS ON EDGE FOR ANNUAL TUSSLE

Next Game Is On Nov. 5 Between Acadia and Mount A.

INTER-COLLEGIATE football swings to the forefront of Maritime sport interest tomorrow afternoon at Wolfville when Acadia and the University of New Brunswick clash in what promises to be a bitterly-fought game between two evenly-matched teams. Any delusions entertained by U. N. B. following the Mount Allison debacle were rudely shattered by Acadia's crushing defeat of Dal on its home campus and the Fredricton one which has centred its hopes now on securing a tie at least a win. The team led by Frederick yesterday for Truro, stopping there last night and proceeding on to Wolfville today where light workouts will be held.

A win for U. N. B. at Acadia would give them undisputed right to the western section title and the right to figure in the finals for the Maritime college title. In case of a tie, total scores will count at the end of the schedule and in this respect U. N. B. has a heavy lead. The next game in the western section is carded for Thursday, Nov. 5 at Sackville when Acadia and Mount A. wind up the season.

TIMOTHY TO REFEREE Referee Timothy, of Halifax, is expected to handle the game; he had been agreed upon by the management of the two teams prior to U. N. B.'s departure this morning. The only question was as to Timothy's ability to get away from Halifax for the game.

U. N. B. supporters believe that the Red and Black is sending the strongest team which the college has ever sent into the Acadia camp for an intercollegiate battle. The following will be U. N. B.'s line-up with the numbers of the individual players: Fullback—Hickson (1); halves—Sealey (2), Steel (8), Fraser (9), McCaffrey (6); quarters—Keene (5), Currie (3); Babbitt (4); forwards—Wood (15), McLennan (14), Macaulay (11), Daisell (12), Odell (13), McPhail (9), Donohue (10). Acadia—Fullback, O. Noble; three-quarters, Hamilton, J. Wilson, Bartheaux, Blair, Elderkin; halves, Davison, McLatchey, J. Elderkin; forwards, Creelman, Miller, A. Noble, Estey, Shaganer, Kierstead and Lane; spares, Morse, White, Crossman and Woodworth.

Hon. W. E. Foster Deals With Matter of Valley Railway

Tariff and Other Subjects Deal With at Two Liberal Meetings.

In a campaign address last evening Hon. Dr. W. E. Foster, Secretary of State, charged Hon. J. B. M. Baxter with gross negligence in the matter of the Valley Railway.

Dr. Foster, Dr. W. P. Broderick, Hon. Dr. W. F. Roberts and R. T. Hayes, the other Liberal candidate, were the speakers at last night's meetings.

Hon. Dr. Foster spoke of the advantages that should accrue to the constituency of Saint John-Albert by electing a Cabinet minister. He made a plea for his colleague, Mr. Hayes, in order to strengthen his position and back him up in his requests for harbor improvements and other legislation that would be an advantage to New Brunswick and the Maritime Provinces.

After going into the Valley Railway matter at some length, Hon. Dr. Foster continued: BAXTER'S PROMISE. "It is all very well for Mr. Baxter to say that he will take the memorandum prepared by myself, that he will make one visit to Ottawa when Mr. Meighen comes into power, and that he will come back with the Valley Railway the property of the Dominion of Canada, or that he no longer will support the Conservative party. No memorandum of that kind would have been necessary, nor for me to spend so many hours in preparing it, had he carried out his duties to the people of New Brunswick, and had it been specified in the contract that as we were relieving the government of Canada of some three millions of dollars, that they should take it over when completed and relieve the province of the burden.

CHARGES NEGLIGENCE. "I, therefore, charge Mr. Baxter with gross negligence in not seeing that the rights of the province were properly safeguarded and that, when we were relieving the Dominion Government of an expenditure of three millions of dollars, that we should get something in return. The responsibility is not mine in any way, shape or form, nor is it the responsibility of any Liberal Government.

"I cannot believe that Mr. Baxter would have made the threat to leave the Conservative party had he thought for one moment that Mr. Meighen would be returned to power." OFFER TO MACLAREN. "The policy of the Government is to extend the trade of Canada as far as possible into the markets of the world," said Dr. Foster. Let me tell Dr. MacLaren that there is one firm alone in the City of Saint John which,

MR. HAYES SPEAKS. R. T. Hayes dealt with Maritime rights, the West Indies trade agreement and the tariff. He said: "The policies of the two parties are clear cut—on the Conservative side it is higher protection—high as Hieman's galloway—on the Liberal side it is a gradual reduction in tariff. At the same time I will not support any reductions that may affect adversely any industry."

"The Government has appointed a tariff commission, subject to ratification by Parliament, who will study the whole question from a scientific basis. Their findings will be submitted to the Government and legislation will be enacted making their findings effective."

Sea Gull Annoys Gopher. Walmer and Kingsdown golf links was the scene the other day of an extraordinary incident, in which a golf ball and a sea gull were concerned. The member who saw the incident thus describes what took place in "The London News": "After driving a ball from the fifth tee, I saw a sea gull follow the ball and take it in its mouth and come slowly toward me with it. In the meantime, I was walking to the spot and when near the gull I thought that perhaps the bird could not release the ball and was in distress."

"To my surprise the bird dropped the ball and tantalized me by immediately picking it up again in his beak. I tried to catch it, but the sea gull would not allow me to get within arm's length. "I sat down on the grass, while the bird remained still, a few feet away.

Intently watching me, but absolutely fearless. "For several minutes we gazed at each other. Then the bird released the ball and I picked it up and walked away, the bird watching me the while. "A greenkeeper who saw the incident said he had never seen anything so extraordinary."

POWER COMPANY ASKS UTILITIES FOR RE-HEARING

Car Line Extension to Little River Before Utilities Board

PHONE COMPANY ASKS STOCK ISSUE

Saint John and Provincial Matters Set for November Meeting

Notice that the New Brunswick Power Company has been authorized to issue a hearing in the matter of extension of the street car line to Lee's Corner, Simonds, was given the New Brunswick Board of Public Utilities this morning when the board met in monthly session. The board decided to hold a special meeting in St. Stephen on November 28 to hear arguments in support of approval of the contracts between the Maritime Electric Co. and the towns of St. Stephen and Milltown.

OFF TILL NOVEMBER

Hearing in the matter of the New Brunswick Power Company vs. the City of Saint John which discrimination in the charges for water is alleged, and a return of $11,000, said to have been overpaid, asked for, was postponed until the November meeting of the board, owing to the fact that Hon. J. B. M. Baxter, K. C., city solicitor, was unable to be present.

On the request of Francis Kerr, solicitor for the petitioners, who ask for the running of the "loop" car in West Saint John hearing was set for the November meeting.

TELEPHONE STOCK

A petition of the New Brunswick Telephone Co. for authority to issue stock was set for hearing at the November meeting. In the telephone matter, A. N. Carter, for the New Brunswick Telephone Company, presented a petition for authority to issue $500,000 worth of stock to pay for improvements and extensions made between June 30, 1921 and June 30, 1925, and for already planned for. The authorized stock issue of the company is $4,000,000 and of this $2,968,410 has already been issued.

POWER CO. REQUEST

Dr. F. R. Taylor, K. C., representing the New Brunswick Power Company, said they would like to have a re-hearing in the matter of the extension of the street car lines to Lee's Corner, as they had secured certain information about the cost of this extension and the number of people who would be served which was not available at the former hearing.

W. A. Ross, representing the petitioners of Simonds who had asked for the extension, said the order of the board had been made six weeks or two months after the application had been filed and that should have been sufficient time for the company to secure all information. He thought the board should order the company to pay a fine for not having carried out the order, rather than grant a re-hearing. The chairman said he did not think the matter of cost and number of people served entered into the matter, but the re-hearing would be granted. The application will be filed this afternoon.

LOOP CAR SERVICE

Dr. F. R. Taylor said he had prepared a reply to the petitioners for the operation of the "loop" car and the holding of the West Saint John car for the arrival of the ferry, but as the solicitor for the petitioners had left the city he did not know on whom to serve it until this morning, when he learned that Francis Kerr had been retained to act for them.

Mr. Kerr said that he had just been engaged and would like a postponement to study the case.

This was granted and the matter will come up at the November meeting. The chairman expressed doubts that the board had any jurisdiction in this matter.

MILLTOWN LIGHTING

N. Marks Mills, K. C., submitted a copy of the contract between the Maritime Electric Co. and the Town of Milltown for street lighting and asked for its approval. It was decided to hold a special meeting in St. Stephen on Thursday, November 26, at 10 a. m., at which the contracts between the Maritime Electric Co. and the Towns of St. Stephen and Milltown would be considered.

M. L. Hayward, solicitor for the Maritime Electric Light Power Company, sent the board a copy of a letter sent under date of October 8 to the town council of Harland notifying them that, after October 14, the wires to the transformer of the pumping station would be disconnected as the town had decided to use a gasoline engine for pumping the town water and the company did not propose to act as a standby.

The secretary was instructed to notify the company that they had no right to disconnect the wires, but they did have the right to apply to the board for an order establishing a rate for a standby charge.

The chairman reported that he had been informed by N. F. Nutter that the interferences between the distribution systems of the New Brunswick Power Company and the City Power Commission would be cleared up during November.

The chairman reported that authority had been granted to Apple Kripin, Ltd., and Moore's Mills Creamery, Ltd. to sell stock in New Brunswick.

The chairman and G. Earle Logan were given authority to sign checks for the commission.

At the opening of the meeting Chairman Trieman read a copy of the order in council appointing G. Earle Logan as the secretary of the Commission. He welcomed Mr. Logan and expressed the pleasure of the Board at the appointment.
