"GREAT WRONG HAS BEEN DONE"—WORDS OF COMMISSIONER PRINGLE

"I Want To Know Who is Responsible," Says Investigator of Pinder Road

Amazing Statements Mark Evidence in The Southampton Railway Inquiry at Today's Session—Pinder Referred to in Brown's Evidence—Discrepancy of $132,000

Fredrickton, N. B., July 10.—The climax in the Southampton Railway inquiry, already replete with sensational incidents, was reached this morning. The first witness was Engineer Walsh, who swore to a valuation, erring on the side of generosity, of $12,550 a mile. He was followed by Engineer David W. Brown, who supplied the figures showing a cost of $22,950 a mile on which double subsidy was paid.

Discrepancy $132,000

When the court opened this morning, the account for legal expenses in connection with the railway was put in evidence. The legal expenses in connection with the right of way were $89,181 and other legal charges $1,877.88.

Edmund Joseph Walsh, civil engineer of Ottawa, was called as the first witness. He said that he had been engaged by Commissioner Pringle with Engineers Kilburn and Milden to make an inspection and valuation of the Southampton Railway. He had been engaged on this work since June 10.

His report of the actual cost of the railway was as follows:— Clearing 65.5 acres at $26, $1,723.50; reported, $5,700; difference, $1,153.50. Close cutting, five acres at $80, $400; reported, $200; difference, $200.

Earth excavation, 183,987 cubic yards at thirty-two cents, $58,875.84; reported, $48,700; difference, $6,175.84.

CARSON AGAIN IS IN BELFAST

Volunteers Accord Military Honors To Leader

JULY 12 CELEBRATION

'Provisional Government' to Discuss Plans For Special Observance—Meanwhile Authorities Keep an Eye on What is Going On

Belfast, Ireland, July 10.—Full military honors were accorded by the Ulster Volunteers today to Sir Edward Carson, Irish Unionist leader, when he arrived accompanied by the Marquis of Londonderry, Viscount Castlereagh, Walter H. Long and Ronald McKinnon and other Unionist M.P.s, to attend a meeting of the Ulster provisional government.

The intentions of the provisional government have not been disclosed, but one object is the arrangement of an impressive celebration of July 12 to show the government and the people of Great Britain "that nothing but the absolute exclusion of Ulster from the operations of the Irish home rule bill will satisfy us."

Major General Sir Cecil Maccarty, in command of the military in the Belfast district, has been in conference with Premier Asquith and the police have been instructed to act with great care so as to give no excuse for an outbreak.

NEW TREATY TO BIND BRITAIN AND UNITED STATES MORE CLOSELY

London, July 10.—The Daily News, commenting on an announcement of United States Ambassador Page at a peace centenary meeting last night, that the United States and Great Britain, looking to the binding of the two countries, was being effected, containing the following article:

"This feat, which has crowned Secretary of State Bryan's life-long labor for peace, is the realization of a dream with which Sir Edward Grey roused the House of Commons to an astonishing display of enthusiasm three years ago but which the amiable weakness of President Taft was not strong enough to realize."

WANT $30,000 MORE FOR THE CARTIER MONUMENT

Montreal, July 10.—One hundred thousand dollars have been raised for the Cartier monument which is to be unveiled in Montreal in September, but $80,000 more will be needed. A special appeal will be made amongst the prominent financial and commercial institutions in this city.

VOTING TODAY IN MANITOBA

Winnipeg, Man., July 10.—Election eve in Manitoba found both parties conducting a whirlwind final. Sir Rodman Roblin, premier, has placed before the public a summary of the four years record of his government. T. C. Norris, leader of the liberal opposition, on a platform of what he describes as progressive and corrective legislation, progressive, in introducing new forms of government and corrective in the repeal of what he believes to be unwise legislation, instancing the Caldwell school amendments.

THE NURSES' CONVENTION

Halifax, N. S., July 10.—(Special)—The fourth annual meeting of the Canadian National Association of Trained Nurses opened here this morning. The president, Miss Marie Ard MacKenzie of Ottawa, superintendent of the Victoria Order of Nurses, was in the chair. Miss MacKenzie delivered a striking address as president, urging that the nursing profession had fallen short of its duty in the matter of identifying itself with all forms of social service. She urged fearlessly the hospitals should be under the management of experts and that there should be trained instructors of nurses. "We must have vision and faith to fearlessly follow it. This is my message to you today."

A Growing Asset

The cost of conducting a daily newspaper grows steadily each year. This is because newspaper readers demand an ever increasing service. The paper must furnish at once a trustworthy avenue of information, and a source of broad entertainment.

All Saved

New York, N. Y., July 10.—The steam pilot boat New Jersey, carrying a crew of seventeen and a complement of fifteen pilots, was rammed in the fog early today by a steamer and sank. All were rescued.

BEEF AT SIXTEEN CENTS TO BUTCHER

Chicago Packers Say Meat Prices Are to Be Higher Than Ever

Chicago, Ill., July 10.—Meat prices will rise above the recent figures of recent years, despite the bare grain crop, packing houses reports today asserted. They say that the present scarcity of cattle and the effect of dry weather on grazing lands will more than offset the enormous grain yield.

A beef price of sixteen cents to the butcher was predicted as an early possibility, and it was said by one packing house man that cattle, even now are higher than for sometime. Scarcity of grass-fed cattle was referred to as one cause of the predicted advance.

The day summer in the west year is the chief cause of the present scarcity, but the demand for meat exceeds the supply.

KILLED BY HIS TWO SISTERS

Murder in Hayfield Outcome of a Family Quarrel

Stirling, Ill., July 10.—Emanuel Byers, aged 46, was shot and killed in his hay field yesterday by his sisters, Mrs. Leo Hutton and Miss Lillian Byers. Each woman, it is charged, fired two shots from the same revolver. They were arrested.

Ill-feeling among the three, who are the children of David Byers, a wealthy land owner, has been common knowledge for years. There was a quarrel recently over the calling of a doctor for the aged father.

Byers threw his pick-axe at the two, the handle striking Mrs. Hutton in the mouth. He is survived by his wife and seven children.

Guadalupe Captured; Now on To Capital

Obregon Takes Second Largest City in Mexico and is Only Three Hundred Miles Away From Huerta

Washington, D. C., July 10.—With mediation proceedings at a standstill, interest in the Mexican situation today was focused on developments in the Constitutionalists' military campaign, that reached a climax in capture of Guadalupe, the second largest city in the republic.

While dispatches from General Obregon, who led the latest revolutionary triumph, asserted that few of his men had been killed or wounded, official Constitutionalists reports from El Paso stated that information received there asserted that losses had been "numerous" on both sides.

From Guadalupe, Obregon intends to hurl his troops against Mexico City. Doubt was expressed whether the army would be given any rest before beginning the crucial assault of the revolution.

General Obregon said the Federal loss was very heavy, but that his own casualties were small. The Federalists who captured, are being pursued by the Constitutionalists agents in Washington declared, although resistance by the Federalists at some points on the route was anticipated.

How Villa would figure in the movement against Mexico City, was a matter of much speculation. His troops, which had aided in the capture of Zacatecas, still were proceeding northward into Chihuahua. If Obregon moved up on Huerta's capital immediately, it appeared doubtful whether the northern force would figure in the preliminary fighting. There was a possibility, however, that they might go south later, particularly in view of assertions that differences between Villa and Carranza had been repaired.

Definite news from Carranza still was awaited as to the attitude of the Constitutionalists toward the proposal that they meet representatives of Huerta in an informal conference. Most of Carranza's military leaders, including Villa, were said to have counseled against any parley.

MAN WHO ORIGINATED "LITTLE EGYPT" DINNER

Herbert B. Seely, Grandson of P. T. Barnum, Dead in Maine

New York, July 10.—Herbert Barnum Seely, son of Nathan Seely, grandson of P. T. Barnum, the circus man, and daughter of the famous Seely dinner at Sherry's at which "Little Egypt" and others dined, is dead in Maine.

Mr. Seely, who married Miss Lucie Mitchell, daughter of the late Archibald Mitchell, of the late Archibald Mitchell, a son of Thomas W. Lawson. Mr. Seely inherited a large part of the $400,000 Barnum fortune and spent it largely, it is said in an attempt to be a turf king.

The dinner that brought Mr. Seely undesirable fame all over the country was given in honor of the approaching centenary of his brother, Clinton, and was raised by Police Captain Chapman.

The body of a man of McKinlon's size was taken from the Spokane river on November 6 of last year. It was positively identified as that of James McKinlon. A laundry mark "J. McK." seemed to clinch the conclusion, and the body was given a respectable burying in Fairmont cemetery as James McKinlon, ranchman.

Through the papers James McKinlon learned at his ranch in Alberta that he had been drowned and buried. Distressed by the circumstances, in which he foresaw a distribution of his estate and his reduction to a condition of poverty, he hastened from his ranch, which is remotely situated, to the nearest telegraph office.

He started in a blizzard, and was halted by having his feet frozen. For many weeks he lay at a bench house under the care of strangers before he could resume his journey. In the meantime an inquiry, which suggested a doubt as to his existence, came from a Spokane bank. When he had satisfied the bank he concluded to try his luck in Spokane, where he went to the undertaker rooms to view the record of his death and burial.

ARREST FORMER CITY ENGINEER IN MONTREAL ON GRAFT WARRANTS

Montreal, July 10.—Elienne Pelland, a former engineer of the city, was arrested last evening as the outcome of search warrants on the Notre Dame De Grace sewer. One warrant alleges that $75,000 was paid by the City of Montreal to various persons through fraudulent returns made by Pelland, while a city engineer, and a second warrant alleges that he made false returns with regard to the amount of work done on the Notre Dame De Grace sewer.

WOMEN DO NOT LIKE GOVERNMENT COURSE ON MATTER OF VOTES

London, July 10.—Denunciation of the imperial government's attitude toward the constitutional agitation for woman suffrage, and regret for the coercion of the unconstitutional agitators, formed the terms of the chief resolution adopted at the inaugural meeting of the British Dominions Woman Suffrage Union yesterday.

The imperial naturalization bill now before parliament was condemned by Mrs. Petibek Lawrence advised Australia and New Zealand to urge England and Canada to give women the franchise.

High in Air Across Whirling Niagara Waters

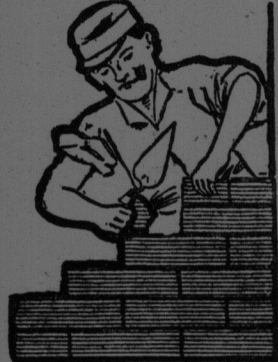

Toronto, July 10.—A Spanish company, incorporated in Bilbao, Spain, with Canadian headquarters in Toronto, has obtained concessions from the Niagara Falls Power Commission to construct and operate an aerial tramway across the whirlpool rapids at Niagara.

The span across the gorge will be 1,190 feet, the longest of its kind in the world, used for passenger traffic. The car will be suspended on six huge cables fastened permanently at one end, while at the other they will be suspended on great weights. The company already operates a similar tramway at San Sebastian, Spain.

Weather Bulletin. Issued by authority of the Department of Marine and Fisheries. R. F. Stewart, director of meteorological service. Synopsis.—The barometer remains high over the eastern and southern portions of the continent, and relatively low to the northward of the Great Lakes and in the western provinces. The weather continues fine and decidedly warm from Ontario to the Pacific and fair with moderate temperatures in Quebec and the maritime provinces. Thunderstorms have occurred at a few places in the west. Fine and warmer. Maritime.—Light to moderate southerly wind, mostly fair and somewhat warmer today and Saturday.

They Like Masterful Men

A woman (according to a close observer) likes to be ruled by a man. Indeed, a man who is wisely masterful in the very best kind of husband a woman can possess. This, however, does not mean that women like to be tyrannised over. They may fear a tyrannical husband but they cannot respect him. The masculine rule which they need is that of a firm-willed, but just and kindly man. Just why women love a strong-willed man is not easily to be explained. Whether it is a feeling of personal incapacity or an inner consciousness of general inferiority, is a moot point. The fact, however, remains that women like to be ruled, and ruled firmly, by men. They love the strong, guiding hand.

A law passed in Norway makes girls ineligible for matrimony unless they can show certificates of skill in cooking, knitting and spinning.

make sail when the tug cast off. They are looking for White Hopes to trim the big American lugger, Jack Johnson. I bet if he were living back in the sixties I could get half a dozen buxos out of them clipper packets what would put him to sleep in two shakes of a brace-block. Yes, sir! I've seen them trim bigger and abler men than Johnson many's a time and oft.

Carry sail? Why, sir, on that same Cutty Sark we broke more duff's' booms and yards in one watch than I could count on my ten fingers. We'd have everything on her in a breeze and as for losing a 'tallantmast 'twas a common occurrence. I've seen us driving her around Cape Stiff in them heavy westerlies with only the royals furled and the nights thick of snow and the maindeck buried to the 'tallantmast's. Aye, mister, them were the days. We had the ships to sail and the men to drive them. There ain't nothing like that now. They don't make them—men nor ships. She was built in '89 and she's able yet. I'm seventy-eight years old myself but I'm spry enough to lay aloft an 'take the carrying yet. So long!

And like the Cutty Sark, this old relic of a bye-gone seafaring age shambled off to end his days in less romantic environment than in the years when both were young.

HOUSING IN ST. JOHN

Letter From Real Estate Firm To Board of Trade

The board of trade staff has been looking into the question of housing in view of its intimate association with the industrial and other problems with which the board from time to time is called upon to deal with.

Messrs. Allison & Thomas, real estate firm, in a letter to the secretary on this point, allude to the importance of the housing problem and say it is one that is well worthy of consideration by the board.

"What you say in regard to the number of people looking for suitable houses is quite true," remarks the writer of the letter, "because in our office alone we have the names of about 150 clients who are looking for places to live. Of course, we also have a great number of houses for sale, but it seems very difficult to get the buyers and sellers together."

Messrs. Allison & Thomas say that they believe the greatest need at the present time in St. John is to do something earnest along the lines of town planning. We believe that a proper plan of the city should be made by an expert, showing certain portions of the city suitable for residential purposes, other portions for retail business and others for manufacturing purposes and so on; also laying out main traffic streets or trunk lines and providing such drainage as may be necessary in any new districts. We believe that if this were done it would be a great stimulus for people to build really good houses, as they would then have no fear of a deterioration in their values, but, on the contrary, would be assured of a permanent increase in value.

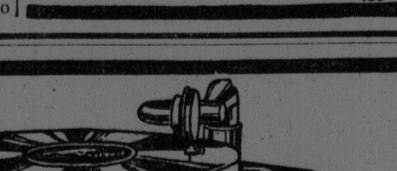

"We also believe that the board of trade should take a greater interest in the city's streets, many of which are certainly a disgrace to a city of our size and importance. The paving programme

One old shellback sat on a bollard and gazed over her with an air of regretful disdain and his comments savoured of the days in which "Mainsail haul" was paramount to steam. "Jest look at her now and compare her with the days when I shipped afore the stick on the same packet—London River to Melb'um. Sixty-three days we made it in and hand-drying all the way to lick them Yankee built packets in the Australian trade."

"Flaming her east from the Cape to Australia was when we had her smoking. St. John's out slow and aloft—squared yards and a main'skyl' hung and the log reading fourteen, fifteen and sixteen knots an hour. We had sailormen (then, men what knew their book and could hand, reef and steer. Aboard packets like her you had to be a sailor or else shank half—there was no place for shirkers. The officers were gentlemen when it suited them to be so, but they were sailormen first—real dyes-in-the-yeam shellbacks with every hair a poppyam and blood of Stockholm tar. Some of your afternoon tea and brass-bound royal navy rig-out with those jokers. Get cross-eyed with them and you'd never know what struck you—they be on you hands and feet."

FLOWERED PATTERNED FROCK. For this dress 4 yards of flowered material 48 inches wide will be required, with 1 yard of batista 48 inches wide and 1/4 yard of all-over lace 18 inches wide. In cutting the skirt the pleating for the puff and picking for the ruffle is laid on an open width of the material. The puff, ruffa, front gore and back gore are placed on a fold of the goods. To make the skirt, which is a splendid pattern to use with different waist, first pleat back gore, creating an slit perforation, bring folded edge to line of small "o" perforations and stitch. Slash down fold at center-line, then upper edge to large "o" perforation, finish edge for opening. Join gorse as notched. Pleat waist-line, creating on double "o" perforations, bring folded edge to single small "o" perforations on gorse. Close back seam of ruffa. Gather upper edge between double "o" perforations. Adjust to position on gorse, centers even; stitch upper edge along double "o" perforations, bringing single small "o" perforations to corresponding perforations in gorse. New close back seam of puff, from one free 1/2 pattern, 2 1/2 by small "o" finish edge above for placket. Gather upper and lower edges between double "o" perforations. Adjust to position on gorse, centers even; stitch lower edge over upper edge of ruffa, bringing single small "o" perforations together. Stitch upper edge of puff and gorse together, centers even, bringing small "o" perforation in puff to side seam. Adjust a webbing or a straight strip of canvas two inches wide to position underneath upper edge together. Finish with a fancy cash or plain trim.

A very pretty summer dress carried out in flowered lawn and plain white batista. It is trimmed with a sash of satin ribbon.

Flower patterned frocks are being everywhere, and they are made in a great variety of materials. Soft silk mill is used for the design shown here. There is an underbosom of white batista, with a vest of embroidered linen and yoke of lace.

LABOR LEADER HERE. J. C. Waters, of Ottawa, president of the Dominion Federation of Labor and official representative of the federation in the galleries of the house of commons at Ottawa, arrived in town yesterday and is registered at the Dufferin. To a Telegraph reporter, Mr. Waters explained that his business in St. John was mostly of a general nature, that is, to advise, educational and that of organization to some of the unions affected by its operation and to others it was not. Notably in this latter case the attitude of organized labor toward it. In the first place, it was fully recognized that the influx of this class of immigrants would tend to drag the standard of labor downward and with it the standard of wages. In the second place, it was contended that the Asiatic, Japanese, or Hindu was quite unable to assimilate into our Canadian nationality and in view of this very fact, from the broad outlook of Canadian citizenship, the acceptance of the Oriental would tend to elevate the Asiatic but would inevitably drag the Canadian downward.

CAPE COD CANAL. Ever since the days of the Puritan Fathers men have talked and planned for a canal across Cape Cod and their dreams are about to be realized by the opening of a magnificent waterway on July 4. During the days of George Washington a survey was made, but nothing further was done. In 1869 the legislature of Massachusetts published an exhaustive report setting forth the feasibility of a waterway across the cape, and giving details as to routes and cost, but again the project fell through. Records show that during the last sixty years more than 2,000 vessels have been wrecked in the waters of Cape Cod and something like 700 lives have been lost. The number of craft which round Cape Cod every year is said to be about 25,000. These vessels carry about 25,000,000 tons of freight. The canal will shorten the route of these vessels and save them many dangers.

WESTERN CROP PROSPECTS. Meanwhile, almost every prospect pleases so far as the west's crop outlook is concerned. Here and there, as needs must be in so vast a territory, there are small districts calling out for rain. But "speaking broadly, the reports are hardly to be better"--again to quote an authority which no longer can be "dubbed the organ of gloom." The June acreage report of the Manitoba department of Agriculture is even more optimistic than the figures used in the foregoing computation. For all grain the acreage is given as 7,825,000 against 6,885,000 last year. In root and fodder crops there is an increase from about 285,000 acres to 385,000--or a gain of well over one-quarter. Another indication that mixed farming is on the upgrade is that cattle and horses have increased in number by around ten per cent, sheep by fifty per cent and hogs by over thirty. And the British Columbia fruit crop promises well--Canadian Finance.

FIRE IN MINE AT STELLERTON, BUT DAMAGE NOT GREAT

Halifax, N. S., July 10—Early this morning fire, caused by spontaneous combustion, broke out in the McGregor pit at the Albion mines, Stellerton. The fire was practically under control and it is thought little damage will be done. It will not affect the working of the pit.

BIG SHIPMENT OF CHEESE FROM CANADA

Montreal, July 10—The steamship Ionian will sail from here tomorrow for Havre and London with 40,000 cases of cheese, valued at $1,000,000, the largest shipment of cheese to the old country was just before the Balkan war.

AT THE OPERA HOUSE TOMORROW AFTERNOON AND EVENING; COUNTY SHERIFF

The most interesting story of real western life that has been put into play form, entitled "The County Sheriff," a new play, written by Lewis R. Parker, will be presented at the Opera House tomorrow evening with special matinee at 2.30 in the afternoon. It is delightful in its humor and stirring in its adventure, while its romance cannot fail to draw sympathy from the coldest audience. The cast is an exceptionally clever one, including Miss June Bridges, Amy Blodgett, Hayes Brant, A. M. Welch, Victor J. Bouvier, Bert James, A. S. Carman, Arthur Johnson, and many others. Popular prices.

ANOTHER MILITANT OUTRAGE AGAINST KING

Dundee, Scotland, July 10—While King George and Queen Mary were driving through here in an automobile a militant hurled a bundle of suffrage pamphlets, which narrowly missed the head of King George. He turned nearly to witness the arrest of the woman, a slight which has become common to him.

WERE NOT ST. JOHN BURGLARS

Montreal, N. B., July 10—Early Thursday morning several Italian men were caught through the streets by the local policeman who believed they were burglars from St. John. One of them was captured and was learned that they were honest men looking for work.

RECENT DEATHS

Benjamin Bederidge, formerly of Fredericton and Andover is dead in Vancouver where he had resided for some time. Many friends in the east will regret his death. He was a prominent and active Mason.

CALGARIAN MAKES RECORD

Montreal, July 10—The Allan line officers here reported this morning that the steamship Calgarian had set a new transatlantic record for passage to Canada from Liverpool of six days, eight hours and twenty minutes by way of Cape Race. This is six hours less than the previous record held by the C. P. R. Expresses. It is expected that when the Calgarian takes the shorter route the straits of Belleisle will be shortened.

CANADIAN GRAIN IN FRANCE

London, June 30—The announcement that elevator accommodation has now been provided at Havre to handle the increasing quantity of wheat which is latterly being brought from Canada to that French port is not only of commercial importance to Canada, but interest to Canadians who use this route. Frequently delays of one or two days have been caused as the grain could be unloaded only after being bagged in the hold of the vessel. Havre is a splendid jumping off place for those who desire to visit Rouen, see the famous tapestries at Bayeux, and visit these places in Normandy and Brittany which have been so identified with the name of Jacques Cartier and the earlier settlers of French Canada. At the same time the delays hitherto experienced have nullified against the use of the route via France by those bound for points in the United Kingdom.

CHOOSING SPOT FOR START ON AIR FLIGHT ACROSS THE ATLANTIC

St. John, Nfld., July 10—W. D. Walker, agent for Lieutenant Porte, who plans to cross the Atlantic in the flying boat America, has arrived here to select a starting place.

ONCE A YEAR

Toronto, Ont., July 10—Seven information have been laid against a man, Richard and Ontario Navigation Company steamers plying from this port for selling liquor in contravention of the law. This is an annual event. The fine is from $200 to $500.

The Best Quality at a Reasonable Price

The Sharp Eyed Man.
 He's usually a clear brained, energetic, successful individual, isn't he? And his sharp eyes have much to do with his success.
 The man with the poor vision is handicapped. He's at a disadvantage at work and at play.
 Most defects in vision can be corrected by properly fitted glasses. Such glasses mean fewer mistakes, increased efficiency, enlarged opportunities. Usually they have a very beneficial effect on the general health, putting an end to headaches, nervousness, exhaustion and other troubles.
 It pays big money, health and happiness to have sharp eyes—and it costs little at Sharpe's to have properly fitted glasses. The benefit that results is incalculable.

THE DOCTORS

Four Operations Performed At Clinic in Hospital

The work of the Canadian Medical Association turned this morning from the theoretical side to the practical, and the general hospital, the scene of activity. From 9.30 o'clock until after noon Dr. G. S. Armstrong, professor of surgery at the McGill, conducted a surgical clinic. Ward A, on the first floor of the building was used, and four different types of operations were performed on local patients.
 The first was wiring of the knee cap, a surgical operation to rectify, as far as surgery was capable, a fracture of the knee cap. The other operations were for duodenal ulcer, goitre and gastro-enterostomy.
 A Times' reporter was able to look on while one operation was being performed. The steps to the main doctors' and the patient, stretched out on the operating table, the silent, quickly moving nurses in their white caps and caps and the doctors, also clothed in white from head to foot and with nothing but their eyes, formed a picture not easily forgotten.
 Speed and surety were the predominant features, and yet there was no sign of hurry.
 During the operations, Dr. Armstrong explained the steps to the many doctors and nurses in the room.
 This afternoon Dr. Thomas McCree, professor of medicine at the Jefferson Medical College, Philadelphia, conducted a medical clinic at the hospital.

MASSIVE FLORAL PIECE SENT BY MONTEON LIBERALS TO MR. EMMERSON'S HOME

Montreal, N. B., July 10—Prominent Monton Liberals instead of sending individual floral tributes, have joined in sending a massive floral piece to the home of the late Hon. H. B. Emmerson. It is one of the most magnificent ever prepared in Monton and stands about four feet high on a pedestal. It will be sent to Dorchester by special messenger this afternoon.
 The mayor and town council and officials of Stadaec will attend the funeral tomorrow.
 July 10—The death of Hon. Mr. Emmerson causes the second vacancy in the House of Commons. The seat, open since Westmorland, N. B., and Jacques Cartier, formerly represented by the late Hon. F. D. Monk. It is unlikely that the by-election will be held before fall.

ROBBED ON WAY TO THE BEDSIDE OF DYING MOTHER

Monton, N. B., July 10—Allyre F. Bellevue of St. Paul's, Kent county, while en route home from Maine to the bedside of his dying mother, lost a suitcase at the I. C. R. station this morning. The policeman Danbury caught Geo. Logan, aged forty, with the suitcase and arrested him. The police say Logan is a tramp.

JOSEPH QUINN OF NORTH END DROWNED TODAY

Joseph Quinn, deckhand on the steamer D. J. Purdy, was drowned this morning near Gagetown. He was standing near the gangway with Engineer McVicar when it gave way on them and Quinn was thrown into the river.

An attempt was made to save him, but without avail, for he sank in a few minutes. He was about twenty-two years of age and belonged to North End. He had been in steamboat work on the river for the last few years, and was well liked.
 A funeral will be held at the residence of his mother, Mrs. Quinn, at 115 Duke street, on Monday afternoon at 2.30 o'clock.

O'LEARY CONTINUES TO IMPROVE A LITTLE IN HOSPITAL

Reports from the hospital as to the condition of Policeman Frank E. O'Leary continue encouraging. Doctor White said this afternoon that his condition remained about the same but was a little more favorable if anything than yesterday. "He is still quite serious however," added the doctor, "and we cannot say yet whether or not he is out of danger."

CONDENSED DESPATCHES

The damage to Dufferin Terrace, Quebec, by yesterday's fire was about $5,000 and on two houses burned, $20,000. The amended home rule bill will come up for its third reading in the House of Lords on Wednesday.

NEARLY ALL TUBERCULOUS

People Here a Small Focus of Disease Germs.
 Leeds, Eng., July 10—Sir William Osler, regius professor of medicine at Oxford University, started the huge audience attending the conference of the Association for the Prevention of Consumption by telling them that they were practically all tuberculous. He said: "If with the aid of radium and a microscope I could look at the chests of the audience I am addressing, in 90 per cent of you I should discover a small focus or area of tuberculosis."
 Sir William demanded, in the interests of the state, the establishment of rigid control over consumptives.

DISCUSSING THE SERMON

One Sunday morning three prominent members of a church walked home together discussing the sermon. "I tell you," said the first emphatically, "Dr. Blank can certainly die deeper into the truth than any preacher I ever heard of."
 "Yes," said the second man, "and he can stay under longer." "Yes," said the third, "and come up drier."

A Powerful Address On Health Matters

Dr. Hodgetts Says Things Which Should Arouse—The Milk Supply, Housing and Other Matters—The Doctors

One of the most important addresses yet delivered at the medical convention was given last evening at a largely attended public meeting in the Army, by Dr. Charles A. Hodgetts, M. D., L. R. C. P., D. P. H. In his address, Dr. Hodgetts paid particular attention to the housing problem and to that of the necessity of more rigid control of the public milk supply. His remarks were listened to with deep attention by the large audience present.

"The nationalizing of our health work is not as difficult as at first sight would appear," he said. "For this purpose the federal government should create a department of health. The desired end would be secured if the director-general of public health were given full power to organize the department, and if he be placed under one of the present cabinet ministers whose department is not as large as that to which he is now attached and in which he is swamped. Perhaps better results would be obtained in this manner than by placing health under a separate cabinet minister whose chief qualification for the office would be political rather than medical. Indeed, the person might be better served with a layman as minister provided the department is placed in charge of an efficient sanitarian. This officer could co-ordinate the various parts as now exist, couple them up in a consolidated department of health, vitalize them into activity by means of an adequately remunerated public health service, and then by co-operation with the provincial departments of health there would extend from Atlantic to Pacific a service equalled by none, a service which would exemplify the best in hygiene and attract to it the brightest of our medical graduates."

Census Figures Lacking.
The speaker went on to deprecate the absence of, and the decision of the dominion government not to publish any vital or mortality statistics in connection with the census of 1911. This was a distinct loss and one which should well concern the attention of this body.

"Members of the Medical Association of Canada," he said, "I leave this important question in your hands with the hope that pressure will be brought to bear upon those in authority not only to publish the vital statistics as collected by the census department in 1911, but to urge upon the government of Canada the nationalizing of those statistics by a co-operation with the several provinces whereby the same will be collected at least half-yearly upon a uniform system, such as the Bertillon, and their collaboration and publication be entrusted to a competent vital statistician who should act under the direction of the director-general of public health until such time as the federal department of health is organized. The fact must be

"If the twentieth century is the one to be marked by Canada's expansion, and no one doubts the statement, it is in the highest degree essential that we should be wise and see to it that none of the evils incident to the development of great industrial centres of other countries, particularly the way of insufficient, inadequate and improper housing accommodation, scar the fair name of Canada, and damn posterity."

"In this connection it is interesting to note that the foreign population of such manufacturing centres as Toronto and Hamilton and Bradford is about one-tenth while in Port William and Port Arthur it is over one-quarter of the total population. Another factor to be remembered, when considering the rapid growth of Canadian towns, is the sudden precipitation therein of thousands of newly arrived immigrants, all of whom must be provided with living accommodation on short notice. It is the movement of population, both rural and immigrant, which causes overcrowding in Canada."

"As a result of this sudden increase there is evidence on every hand of the conversion of the family home into the two, three or more family apartment house. In these once healthy homes it is not an uncommon thing to find twenty to thirty persons, of all ages and both sexes, living under conditions which would be the bitterest from our having lived here. These most desirable objects can be attained by individual effort on the part of each one of us to do his utmost to preserve the lives of those entrusted to our care and thus conserve the health of the community in which we live and the nation of which we form a part."

Senator Daniel presided at the meeting and there was a good attendance of the general public. The mayor moved a vote of thanks to the speaker, remarking that the work of the local board of health was hampered by lack of funds but that they were educating the people gradually. His Honor Judge Forbes seconded the motion, which was carried unanimously.

Senator Daniel, before introducing Dr. Hodgetts, read an announcement that the meeting of the community council to discuss the housing problem in St. John, which was postponed last evening would be held next Thursday evening in the High school assembly hall, and all citizens interested were invited to attend.

In the section of public health yesterday afternoon several interesting papers were read, concluding one by Col. J. A. Grant, of Halifax on "The medical profession and the militia service." He remarked that many of those present at the conference were officers in the militia, including the president, Dr. Murray MacLaren, Col. T. D. Walker, of St. John and Doctors Bishop, Curran, Anglin, Hodgetts, Amyot, Ford and Ross. A discussion of the paper followed in which Dr. Bruce Smith, Toronto; Senator Daniel, Dr. Ross, Halifax; Dr. C. A. Hodgetts, Ottawa took part.

In addition to the fifteen names already published of the members of the executive council the following were elected yesterday:

Drs. G. C. Vanwart, Fredericton; C. T. Purdy, Moncton; T. D. Walker, St. John; S. C. Murray, Albert; H. B. Anderson, Toronto; E. J. Hamilton, Toronto; D. J. Gibb, Toronto; R. W. Powell, Ottawa; T. Olmstead, Hamilton.

ton; A. S. Munro, British Columbia, and T. C. Gordon.

The annual meeting of the Canadian Medical Protective Association was held yesterday noon, with Doctor R. W. Powell, Ottawa, in the chair. The report of the president showed that everything in connection with the organization was progressing favorably.

The election of officers for the maritime provinces was as follows:

New Brunswick—T. D. Walker, St. John; A. B. Atherton, Fredericton; Murray MacLaren, St. John; W. D. Rankin, Woodstock; J. S. Bentley, secretary N. B. Medical Association, St. John.

Nova Scotia—John Stewart, Halifax; J. W. T. Patton, Truro; H. E. Kendall, Sydney; J. G. McDougall, Amherst; J. R. Corston, secretary N. S. Medical Association, Charlottetown.

Prince Edward Island—S. R. Jenkins, Charlottetown.

The Clam bake
The clam bake on the Bay Shore yesterday afternoon at which more than 200 of the doctors enjoyed themselves was a pronounced success and the way that the professional men tore themselves away from the discussion of "all the ills that flesh is heir to" and adapted themselves to this side of the programme, was to say the least interesting.

Dr. Bruce Smith of Toronto, said yesterday that the St. John meeting had been most enjoyable and the memory of the hospitality extended here would not soon be forgotten. The ladies, he said, deserved particular praise for their part in the entertainment of the visitors.

minister, E. W. McCready of the St. John Telegraph was elected to the executive of the daily section.

Walter Limerick has been appointed to succeed Col. J. L. Marsh as police magistrate in Fredericton.

Premier Borden is back in Ottawa and the government has resumed work. Several contracts were let yesterday, including that for the last section of the Trent canal, given to the Randolph Macdonald Co. for $800,000.

Hon. H. R. Emmerson's Funeral
The funeral of Hon. H. R. Emmerson will be held on Saturday. The body will be taken to Moncton and a public funeral service conducted by Rev. G. A. Leveson, pastor of the First Moncton Baptist church, on Saturday afternoon.

Hon. J. E. Wilson, Hon. Dr. Landry, Hon. John Morrissey and Hon. A. J. Murray were appointed yesterday by the provincial government to officially represent the province at the funeral.

GREAT ENGLISH
ADVOCATE IS SOON TO RETIRE

British Bench and Bar Will Pay to Sir Edward Clarke, as Head of the Legal Profession in England, a Tribute Previously Accorded to Only Two Men

(Times Special Correspondence)

London, June 27.—One of England's greatest lawyers and parliamentarians and the acknowledged head of the legal profession in this country is about to retire from the practice of law, as he retired from the political arena a few years ago. This is Sir Edward Clarke, K. C., who began life as a boy-clerk in a jewelry shop, and could have been Lord Chief Justice of England had he cared to quit the bar for the bench, and who, on his retirement, will be paid by the most distinguished members of his profession to which he belonged a tribute that previously has been paid to only two men.

Sir Edward Clarke, who is within a few months of completing his fiftieth year at the bar, and whose income is said to be not less than $150,000 a year, will retire from practice at the close of the so-called Trinity Sessions and on July 17 will be entertained at dinner by the bench and the bar in Lincoln's Inn Hall. The lord chancellor will preside over this gathering of the flower of the legal profession in Great Britain, and it is likely that both the prime minister and Sir Edward Carson, dropping their political feud for the moment, also will be present, not to mention the lord chief justice, the master of the rolls and a host of other legal luminaries.

Only twice before has a member of the English bar been so honored. The first was in 1853, when the late Justice P. Benjamin, a famous queen's councillor of American birth, was entertained in the Inner Temple Hall, and the second when Herbert Henry Asquith, the present premier, was feted in the same hall in celebration of his appointment to the highest executive office in the land. At the last mentioned feast, the toast of the evening was proposed by Sir Edward Clarke to whom, in the course of his reply, Premier Asquith paid a fine tribute. "I have always felt," he said in conclusion, "that there is no one among our contemporaries whom I should more readily advise a young man entering the professional arena to look to as a model, whether of temper, of method, or style, or of the whole art of advocacy."

That this tribute was deserved, though Sir Edward has not been without enemies, and powerful ones at that. One of them was Joseph Chamberlain, whose tariff reform policy Sir Edward criticized bitterly and who drove the great lawyer, temporarily, from the Unionist party. It is doubtful, too, whether Algernon Charles Swinburne liked the frankly expressed opinion of Sir Edward, no mean literary critic, that the former's "Rosa-mund" should be burned, nor Rudyard Kipling his dictum that "Starky & Co. was a disgrace to modern literature," but among lawyers the great advocate has naught but enthusiastic admirers.

Made $500 in First Year

Taken all in all, the commercial annals of this country contain few stories of self-made men to match the hundred and one that have come from the other side of the Atlantic, but that Sir Edward Clarke certainly may be claimed as one of these few. We have, for example, one picture of him as a boy-assistant, who slept under the counter of his father's shop in King William street, bringing down the paternal wrath on himself by his avowed intention of quitting the business. And then we have another of him, not only as a prodigiously successful lawyer but also as a victorious parliamentary candidate, taking his seat in the House of Commons, while his father aged eighty, and his little son watched him delightedly in the gallery.

In the interim Sir Edward had been a "writer" in the India Office and a stenographer in the press gallery of the House of Commons, and meanwhile had succeeded in winning the Tancred law scholarship.

He was admitted to the bar in 1864, and during his first twelve months as a barrister made just under $500. In less than thirteen years, however, he had brought his income up to $15,000. Of his beginnings, as well as of his later triumphs, many interesting stories are told. Here is one. In his father's shop he was employed all day in cleaning the silver and now and then looking after a customer. To one of these young Clarke confided that he hoped to be a lawyer some day. The customer held up his hands in horror. "I have been a lawyer for twenty years," said he, "and it's a starving game." Soon after Edward Clarke started his legal career, chance ordained that he and this former customer should be on opposite sides in an important case and Clarke won. After the verdict the older man came up to Clarke and said, "I told you once this you would starve if you went into law. But I have changed my mind. You will make your fortune." And so, indeed, he did. Incidentally he is the only K. C. who has refused a judgeship.

In his parliamentary career, too, Sir Edward Clarke made quite a lot of his- tory. He was first returned, as a tory, for Southwark, in 1860, and Lord Beaconsfield thought he saw in this capture of a seat from the Radicals the endorsement of his policy by the electors, so he dissolved parliament and suffered a general rout. Sir Edward, however, kept his seat, and achieved a political reputation, and when the Unionists returned to power in 1866, he was appointed solicitor-general and kept that position until 1869. In 1868 when Gladstone moved the second reading of the home rule bill, Sir Edward Clarke was selected by Balfour to make the reply on behalf of the government and scored a great triumph. But "Joe" Chamberlain succeeded in getting him drummed out of the party because he would not endorse tariff reform.

His Own Shorthand
Among other things, this great lawyer and ex-stenographer, has found time to invent a system of shorthand of his own and also an abbreviated form of long hand which he calls, I believe, rather late.

A boy from the country was spending a holiday in a city suburb. One day he was talking to a lady in the adjoining villa, and mentioned that his grandfather, who was ninety years old, was still on the farm where he was born. "Ninety years old, eh?" "Yes, grandfather is close to ninety." "Is his health good?" "I don't much now, he's been complaining for a few months back." "What's the matter with him?" "I don't know, but sometimes I think farming don't agree w' him."
The hair of the head grows faster in summer than in winter.

PINDER ON THE STAND IN THE SOUTHAMPTON ROAD INVESTIGATION

Fredericton, July 9—An uneventful afternoon session of the Southampton Railway inquiry was preceded this morning by one of the most interesting sessions of the investigation. The afternoon sitting was short and was devoted chiefly to J. K. Pinder's testimony regarding the cost of right of way. The highest estimate for this that could be secured was $4,664, while it was reported at $8,000. E. V. Johnston again took the stand when the inquiry opened in the afternoon. To the commissioner, witness said that it was the custom in his department to take the figures of the engineers, in his knowledge for the last twenty years. To Mr. Teed, witness said that his inspection showed the road to be well built, the materials of the best and the general character such as to give him the impression that it would be entitled to the double subsidy. The construction compared favorably with other roads of the same class. Witness said he thought the Minto road would cost more, but the country through which both roads ran and the materials used were much the same. Mr. Johnston was allowed to stand aside.

James K. Pinder. James K. Pinder took the stand and was questioned by Mr. Carter. Q.—You are president of the Southampton Railway? A.—No. Q.—What are you? A.—General manager, I suppose, or something like that. Witness said that he arranged for the right of way. He had no accounts or vouchers but a statement had been prepared. He identified a statement shown him and said it was correct. The total cost shown was $4,304.98, including a claim for Mr. Pinder's own land at $1,200 and a claim of the Partington Company for 28 acres at $7 an acre. Mr. Pinder said the land paid for would average about $2 an acre.

Mr. Carter—And you do not intend to pay more for the Partington lands? Witness—Not if I can help it. Mr. Teed—it might be better to do so rather than go to law about it. Mr. Carter—That is peculiar advice from a leader of the bar.

Continuing, Mr. Carter asked what he based his estimate of the value of his own lands and witness remarked that if it had been the Frasers or any one else it would have been $15,000 instead of $1,500. It was higher than for other lands because of the damage to his mill property. Mr. Carter—You built the road for the benefit of the mills and your constituents. Witness—I am paying my neighbor $3 a thousand more for lumber than I was before and they benefit by it. Q.—It is not settled, but you are claiming $1,500? A.—Yes, and I think it is little enough. Q.—And the total is $4,404.98, including the claims unsettled.

Regarding the Partington company's claim, witness said: "A gravel pit was located on their property. When I took it Mr. Gibson was the owner, and I did not expect to pay much for it. Now the Partington company has made an extortionate claim of $8,800 for it." Com. Pringle—is not that included in the item for ballasting? Mr. Teed—The company had to furnish the material. Mr. Carter—What is the value of the ballast? A.—I don't want to say while we are still negotiating. The N. T. R. paid $100 an acre for some gravel pits. Mr. Pringle said the legal expenses should be included in this account and Mr. Richards promised to submit an account. Counsel agreed that in addition to the cost of $4,804.98 shown in the statement they might allow $160 for value of land presented to the company, and $200 for the gravel pit, a total of $4,964.98, exclusive of legal expenses. The cost of the right of way was reported as $8,000. To the commissioner, the witness said that the construction of the road had not increased the cost of insurance on his mills yet, but there had been some talk of it. He had not figured the value of the railway to his mill. Mr. Pinder stood aside and Claude McDonald was recalled to give an estimate of the value of the six acres owned by Mr. Pinder, taken for right of way. He estimated it as worth $50 an acre. To Mr. Richards, witness said that the damage to the mill would be considerable. He did not think $1,500 was out of the way.

To Mr. Carter, witness said that the railway had been an advantage to the mill; it might have done more good than harm. He added that the rest of the land left is more valuable than before. The court adjourned to secure the report of the other inspecting engineers.

Wealth may be either a blessing or a curse, according to the use made of it. Riches only bring happiness to people when they use them for the good of others. When they are accumulated for the gratification of avarice, or are used for obtaining personal aggrandizement, respect, adulation, or fame, they are very badly applied, and may be a curse to a man.

Your Stove Should Have These Good Points

THERE are at least three extraordinary points in a Gurney-Oxford Stove. The first is a point in fuel economy; the grates are so designed that the fire gets plenty of air; the fire is bright and snappy; there are no smouldering, wasteful linkers. The second is a point in economy and comfort. The Gurney-Oxford Economizer is the only damper on the stove. The fire can be dampened to a mere spark but it never goes out, and by moving the handle it will be hot and bright again. The heat is conveyed from the fire through divided flues over and around the oven. The oven is always evenly heated. We would like to demonstrate these points to you, because they have made the Gurney-Oxford the favorite stove in thousands of Canadian homes. You are invited to see the Gurney-Oxford.

BELIEVE GANG RESPONSIBLE FOR OTHER BREAKS RECENTLY

Further Evidence in the Mecklenburg Street Robbery—A Tip That Might Have Prevented Much

In connection with the break made in Mr. Adams' house on Sunday, Detective Killen today located a cash box in which all the valuables of the household were kept. The box was found in the basement of the house, where it had evidently been taken by the burglars, and where the spoils were probably divided.

It developed today that there seemed a possibility, had general police been followed, that at least some of the more recent burglaries perpetrated by the "gang" now in custody, and others about the city, and maybe the shooting of the gallant young police officer to whom credit must be given for the arrests, could have been prevented.

CHIEF LINTON IS AT POST AGAIN

Resumes Place at Head of Fairville Fire Fighters—The Thursday Night Closing

At a meeting of the Fairville fire department last evening matters relating to the resignation of Chief W. J. Linton were discussed and a satisfactory adjustment of all difficulties was made.

While no details of the meeting are available, it is understood that the action demanded by Mr. Linton at a previous session was complied with.

The closing movement last evening was a pronounced success. It is said that all except two stores located up at the appointed hour and they are likely to fall into line next week.

The interesting game of ball played in the Fairville League for weeks took place last evening between the Cubs and Athletics.

In the third inning, George Clark hit three runners to right field in the fourth Grey sent the sphere into centre for a two base hit and scored a man from first.

Murphy, playing short, is developing into quite a player. Jack Driscoll, right fielder, is also showing promise.

Tea Members of New York Gang, One of Them a Woman, Indicted

New York, July 10.—That at least fifty girls have been lured from their homes and held prisoners by a gang of white slave dealers who made their headquarters in the Bronx and Westchester counties, that these girls have been deceived into selling their bodies, was one of the testimonies given by detectives to the Grand jury.

The testimony followed the handing down of indictments against nine men and one woman, on evidence given by Mrs. Della Neely Johnson, a Bridgeport widow, who was found almost crazed by abuse and neglect in a home in East 164th street, after having been a prisoner of the gang for several weeks.

In addition to the ten true bills, three secret indictments were found against a man said to be the leader of the gang, and two other members, all three of whom are at large.

Mrs. Hanson was taken from Lebon Hospital on a stretcher to testify before the grand jury. The woman told of having been lured to New York, dragged, robbed and made prisoner, and she went further into the operation of the dealers in women and girls.

She told of having seen a county official in the Porchester saloon of Francesco Macchioti, who is under arrest. According to her statement she was a prisoner for a time in Macchioti's place and that she was one of the white slave stations. The woman, according to District Attorney Martin, said his county official frequently was a visitor there, and she added that one man got $10 a month for protecting the white slave station from police interference.

Police Judge Louis C. Levin of Pretzler, who sat at the hearing in February last when Macchioti and James D'Annunzio were arraigned on charges of running a disorderly resort, and discharged both defendants, putting the costs of the hearing $10 on the complainant, also testified before the grand jury.

Phillip Bielo also was arrested. Mr. Martin said Bielo was in a coffee house at 222 East 149th street when an agent of the white slavers received $10 for delivering Mrs. Hanson to the gang. The man who paid the $10 is said to be the real leader of the gang. He is described as an ex-prize fighter. Bielo is said as a material witness.
