LA MARQUISE DE FONTENOY

Colonel de MacMahon, Descendant of Family Noted in English, Irish and French History - Lord Chesham to Visit Canada

Colonel Patrice (Patrick) de MacMahon, who has just been appointed to the command of the 35th Infantry regiment at Belfort, is the eldest son of Marshal de MacMahon who, after being Viceroy of Algeria during the last decade of Napoleon's reign, was the second President of the third French Republic.

The Colonel in appearance takes after his mother, a sister of the last Duc de Castries, rather than after his father, who, like her, is extraordinarily good humored, and disposed to ebullience. He and his wife have three children, the youngest a boy of seven—who will inherit the dukedom and estates—and also two brothers, Eugene, who is the black sheep of the family, and who after a most stormy career in France and the colonies—a cause of much sorrow and expense to his parents the Duke and Duchess of Magenta—finally vanished somewhere in the Orient, and Emmanuel, who, a soldier like his father, has for some months past commanded the 10th Regiment of Infantry at Combercy.

Descended of the ancient Anglo-Norman house of Fitzmaurice, whose name in Italy becomes MacMahon both the Colonel and the great grandson of the Irish physician, who settled down to the practice of his profession in 1762 at Aston. Marrying a very rich widow, he became through her the owner of a large estate in Burgundy, was created a Marquis by Louis XVI, and died in 1778.

It was his eldest son, the second Marquis de MacMahon, who, by his marriage to Mile. de Caraman of the ducal house of that name, became the father of several sons, one of the younger of these being the already mentioned Marshal of France, Duc de Magenta.

The first Marquis, the Irish physician, had a younger brother John, who in 1781 entered the Irish College at Paris, with the object of becoming a priest. Changing mind, he also turned to medicine, and was appointed a surgeon in the French army. Later he was attached in a confidential capacity to the French embassy at Berlin, where he became acquainted with Frederick the Great and Voltaire.

Remember Babies Also Have Nerves

HOW largely physical conditions affect what we used to think were wholly moral matters is something which we are realizing more fully each year. The other day a man who had been arrested for gambling told the judge that the mania was something beyond his control and asked to have his brain examined with the X-ray, to see if there were not something wrong in his brain structure, and, if possible, to have an operation performed that would cure him.

Bad temper, flightiness, hysteria, the desire for drink, and even the state of mind which leads a man to commit murder are nowadays considered in relation to the diseased brain or body which may be partially or wholly at fault.

Some people say all this is going too far. I don't think it has gone half so far as it will go and ought to go. It is a woman of the last generation, "nerves" were called plain bad temper. Yes, madam, and perhaps a great injustice was done thereby. Undoubtedly there is some bad temper which is nothing more or less than "plain easiness," but there is also much that is due to overwork, underfeeding, indigestion and one of a hundred abnormal conditions. Besides, who shall say how much "plain easiness" is a matter of brain structure? Surely, not anyone as ignorant as you or I.

But I am wandering far afield. What I started to say was this: Don't forget to give the children, and even the babies, their share in this philosophy. What do I mean by that? Well, let me tell you a little story of my neighborhood in answer:

A dear little baby, who had been very sweet and lovable during the first year of his life, seemed to completely change in his whole disposition as he grew older. He fretted, whined, and had tantrums when he was crossed until even his mother, who, if he belonged to anyone else, I should say was the most disagreeable child I ever knew.

One day the child had an ill turn, and his father called in a specialist. The specialist asked a number of questions about his patient and finally told his parents that they had been giving him too much sugar and he had undoubtedly been suffering from a form of stomach trouble known as enteric dysentery, of which his mother and irritable were invariably symptoms. The baby has been put on a diet and bids fair to be again his own sweet self.

Now do you know what I mean by giving the baby his share in this new philosophy? It is to be sure, it may be bad training, or a naturally bad disposition that makes bad babies, but don't forget that it may also be a bad stomach or liver.

What do I mean by that? Well, let me tell you a little story of my neighborhood in answer: A dear little baby, who had been very sweet and lovable during the first year of his life, seemed to completely change in his whole disposition as he grew older.

Daily Hints For the Cook

MINT PEAS. Cook the peas in the regular way, but add one or two mint sprigs while cooking. This adds a delicate flavor of mint.

GINGER PUDDING. Make a gingerbread and add one-half of a cupful of seedless raisins on top outside a border of blanched almonds. Serve hot with a hard sauce flavored to taste with vanilla or orange flavoring.

HINDU SALAD. Shred some crisp white lettuce leaves and arrange upon the salad plates. Arrange four thick slices of tomato upon the bed of lettuce and upon two slices the shaved celery and upon the other two finely cut watercress. Garnish with pieces of pimento shaped with fancy cut-pipe or orange flavoring. The salad dressing just before serving.

PRINCESS CREAM. Whip one pint cream, add sugar and flavor with vanilla. Omit some cake (pudding cake preferably) and moisten slightly with milk or water. Make a glass bowl, put in a layer of the cream, then a layer of the cake crumbs, putting the pieces of jelly on top of the cake, then another layer of cream, and so on, the top layers of cream decorated with jelly. Good Housekeeping.

LIFTS BAN ON MIXED MARRIAGES

Rome, July 28.—The report that the Pope has repealed the decree "Ne Temere" is absolutely unfounded. Nor is it likely to ever be revoked, as it embodies provisions which have governed that church procedure for two centuries.

It is probable that the misunderstanding with respect to the repeal of the decree arose through the suspending of the provision relating to mixed marriages in Germany and Hungary. The other provisions of the "Ne Temere," however, are in full force in those two countries, while in the United States and England all the provisions of the decree without exception are still in force.

Thus a marriage between Catholic and Protestant without the sanction of the papal nuptials is null. It is declared that possibly the United States and England may later secure a change in that provision.

SAVES HIGH FREIGHT RATES CAUSED LOSS OF INDUSTRY

Chatham has so much better natural facilities for doing business, says the Chatham correspondent of the St. John papers, speaking of the removal of the Macdonald Foundry and Machine Works from Woodstock to Chatham.

Every well wisher of Woodstock is sorry to learn that the industry is to leave town, and anyone familiar with the country will doubt that "better natural facilities" are offered. Several industrial concerns have located here, with apparently the hearty support of the citizens, who have gone out, or ceased, doing business.

In this whole business there is something that should be the consideration of the citizens of the town. A reliable source of information comes that on a certain article to be manufactured by the concern in Chatham and to be delivered in Montreal, the freight is six dollars less than the same article can be shipped from Woodstock, although the distance from Chatham is nearly two hundred miles longer.

There are more interesting observations that could be made with present freight rates as a basis, that would explain why industries that give the people employment have been driven out of the town and others refuse to locate here. But it has reached the stage when a spirit of co-operation should be applied to the material development of the town, when the question of freight rates and other matters can perhaps be solved in a way that will promote the greater Woodstock for which we are all hoping.

CANADIAN SWINDLER WANTED IN LONDON

"Captain" Ansell Has Been Operating Successfully as President of Bogus Land Company. London, July 27.—Inquiries received a few days ago at one of the provincial government offices here had the fact that "Captain" Ansell, whose operations in Toronto, Winnipeg, and Vancouver were exposed by "Saturday Night," Toronto, has been operating on similar lines in London.

This information was promptly conveyed to the authorities with the result that the "Captain" is being closely looked for by the London police. Although slightly different to those employed in Canada, his methods have been as effective in getting funds. Acting as the president of a company selling Canadian land, he advertised for salesmen at high salaries and secured from many applicants "good faith" deposits of $100.

"We were all to meet at his office in Holborn for a last conference prior to taking up our duties," one of the duped told our correspondent. "But when we arrived he had disappeared and the billiard was in possession. With his expensive suite of rooms at the Savoy Hotel and elaborately furnished offices in Holborn we were confident that he occupied the position he claimed."

WOMEN'S RIGHTS ADVOCATED IN RUSSIA

Pioneer Leader Addresses Gathering of 2,000 Women At Odessa. (Times' Special Correspondence.) Odessa, July 28.—Mme. Kalkanovich, a pioneer leader of the women's movements in Russia, delivered a spirited address here to an attentive audience of some 2,000 women, chief of the teachers' class, sparsely interspersed with auditors of the other sex. The police made no attempt to molest the speaker.

Mme. Kalkanovich is a brilliant speaker and in tenor and substance the main lines of her address appeared to be largely based upon some of the public pleadings of the non-militant leaders of the women's movement in England. There was, of course, not the remotest hint of the newly organized association adopting any forcible methods for the purpose of bringing its proposals into public prominence.

The Ladies' Higher Course Institute in this city is now attended by no fewer than 1,800 students, and at least 80 per cent of them are qualifying for one or another of the learned professions.

The civil emancipation of women is a very live and interestingly progressive movement in modern Russia, and so far it cannot complain of any serious opposition arising from class bias and prejudice. There is a very wide field in various important directions for women's work in this country.

General disregard of the military regulations that he was asked to send in his papers. However, he was considered by his fellow officers of the 10th Hussars to have been abominably used, and moreover seeing that the Lieutenant Colonel was after all merely an officer of infantry, they loudly declared that he had not violated cavalry ethics, and therefore would remain one of them, whatever was done to him.

Anybody who has visited London knows the Burlington Arcade, extending from Piccadilly to Burlington street and Savile Row. Young Lord Chesham owns this extremely valuable piece of property as well as much real estate in the most high-priced residential districts. He has also about 15,000 acres around Latimer, his country place in Buckinghamshire, a grand old Elizabethan mansion standing in a park of over 1,000 acres, that has been the home of the Cavendishes ever since the reign of Queen Elizabeth.

Charles I spent quite a long time at Latimer when a prisoner of parliament, and according to contemporary records was fond of gazing out upon the peaceful view from the front of the house, across the river Chesham, to the woods of the Cheshams. The mansion has been modernized, though with so much taste and discretion that while still very stately, it is essentially homelike, with its walls covered and clothed with luxuriant creepers. It is full of family portraits of great value, and also of many old masters, Murillo, and Sir Joshua Reynolds being well represented on the walls.

CANADIAN TEACHERS ENGLAND

Delegates From the Dominion at Imperial Conference, London. (Times' Special Correspondence.) London, July 28.—Coming so quickly after the Imperial University Congress, the Imperial Conference of Teachers' Associations, which opens today, draws attention to the links which are newly forged between Canada and Great Britain.

The Imperial Conference of Teachers' Associations is of course, the first which has been held, and it is of interest to note that over four hundred delegates from the Dominion are present, and many in excess of that of any other overseas dominions.

Mr. H. B. Lucas represents the Ontario province, and his efforts in this regard are in Mr. Fred Ney's party. The provincial secretary of the educational department of Manitoba is thoroughly convinced that an interchange of visits between British and Canadian teachers is of the utmost value, and his efforts in this direction are thoroughly recognized by educationalists on this side.

What is considered the most important part of the conference is the questions of the recognition of certificates throughout the empire and the migration of teachers. Another scheme to be discussed, which many people claim would do much to remove the dullness of the school, both to the pupil and the teacher, is the proposal that teachers themselves might devise a course of study for their own schools.

On Saturday, the delegates will be the guests of the Archbishop of Canterbury, and will visit Lambeth Palace to witness a mystery play in the Crypt of the Palace. Speaking to your correspondent after the opening session this morning at the Hotel, Mr. Lucas said that no one could attend such a gathering without realizing the immense value of the work done. He is making a big effort to have the next conference held in Toronto.

"We are hoping this will be done," he said, "I hear, however, that Mr. Ney is anxious that Winnipeg should be chosen."

LEADERS END LONDON'S BIG DOCK STRIKE

Leaders of Dock Workers Declare It At An End on Saturday

ACTION REPUDIATED

Men at Mass Meeting Declared They Were Betrayed—50,000 Workers Nearly Starve Because of One Man

London, July 27.—The strike at the London docks which started early in May and has caused about 50,000 dock workers and their families to live in a state of semi-starvation for ten weeks, was declared at an end today by the strike committee. Work is to be resumed on Monday.

The dockers' strike which involved dock laborers, lightermen and other branches of laborers, and has caused so much distress in the shipping districts of London, was originally brought about by a dispute between the workmen and their employers over the engagement of a non-union workman. This man was a foreman, who refused to join the union, and the men, refusing to work under such conditions, locked out, upon which the committee of the men's union ordered several thousands of the men to strike.

Endeavors were made to get the transport workers and dockers at other points in the British Isles to join in a national strike movement, but with very little success.

The London packers, however, continued obstinate and Lord Devonport, chairman of the port of London authority and a leading employer, refused to give way. Several sharp conflicts occurred between the police and strikers and indignation meetings were frequently held to protest against the action of Lord Devonport. On Wednesday of this week 50,000 of the striking dockers met on Tower Hill, and Ben Tillett, their leader, asked the men to have heads and join him in prayer. They then sang in unison, "Oh God strike Lord Devonport dead."

Joseph Havlock Wilson, president of the International Seamen's Union, this week tried to organize a national strike once more, but his efforts failed because of the consequence the strike committee decided that work should be resumed.

The strike leaders admitted they have secured assurance that the agreements between the employers and the workmen which were in force before the strike began will be kept intact.

Men Furious at Leaders.

London, July 28.—Although the strike committee has declared the strike of the dock workers at an end, it is by no means certain that a settlement has been reached. This morning thousands of workers held a mass meeting in South-west Park today and unanimously rejected the manifesto issued by the committee respecting resumption of work.

Protesting that their leaders had betrayed them into conducting a strike which the men adopted a resolution not to resume work until they had consulted their unions.

MORNING NEWS OVER THE WIRES

Kidnapped

Kidnaped, of Pequotville, Gloucester county, N. B., told a peculiar story in Lewiston, Me., on being restored to her father, Joseph D. Legere, of the former town. She said that when she was but five years of age she was stolen from her home by some circus people and forced to go with them in their travels. She was made to act as a show-girl.

At the age of eleven she was taken from the circus by relatives, who had located her and she went to live with them. Trouble in their family forced her to leave them and she is now to be back with her father.

It is possible that, in the vicinity of Onanctou, a route nearer the river may be selected for the line. Residents of the locality are in favor of the river route.

PAUL GILMORE IN "THE HAVOC"

"IF HESSERT HAPPENS TO CHANGE HIS MIND, McDOWELL WILL IMMEDIATELY PLACE HIM UNDER ARREST."

Paul Gilmore, the eminent actor-manager, producer and stage director, will appear at the Opera House on Thursday, Friday and Saturday, in H. S. Sheldon's powerful drama, "The Havoc."

The production is made with Mr. Gilmore's own well known genius for details and is such an exact reproduction from life that an audience of Mr. Churchill has never been so impressed by a real work of art, said the New York Times.

20,000 UNIONISTS IN GRAND RALLY AT BLENNHEIM PALACE

Woodstock, Eng., July 27.—A great rally of the Unionist party, which sees in the recent differences of opinion between the Liberal and Labor forces loss of strength to the government as a result of home rule, disestablishment and other reform measures, an opportunity of regaining power, was held in the court yard of Blenheim Palace today.

Three thousand delegates, representing the various Unionist organizations throughout the country and some 20,000 members of the party, gathered for the occasion. The Unionist workmen's clubs, a new organization started to offset the advance of the Labor party which usually supports the Liberal in parliament, sent delegates here alongside the representatives of the Primrose League, the political association of the aristocracy, and the younger members of the party had an opportunity of conferring with the veterans.

The Duke of Marlborough received the delegates and guests at the entrance to the courtyard, which accommodates at least 20,000, and they were escorted through the palace and afterwards served with luncheon on the broad lawns.

Speeches were delivered in the courtyard, which possesses excellent acoustics by the palace building. Bonar Law, the leader of the opposition; Sir Edward Carson, the "latter leader," and J. R. Smith, another of the keen fighters of the party, delivered addresses which contained less

DANISH EXPLORERS, THOUGHT TO BE LOST, ARE ALIVE

Copenhagen, July 27.—Captain Ejnar Mikkelson, the Danish explorer and Engineer Svendsen, both of whom started in 1910 to cross Greenland, have arrived at Alesund.

Captain Mikkelson and his companion reached Denmark on May 29, 1910, where they found records left by Trichsen. They began their return journey nine days later and encountered terrible hardships. Several of the dogs died and the explorers were compelled to shoot those remaining for food.

They reached Shannon Island, opposite Kink William Land, November 29 and remained there throughout the winter and the following summer hoping to be picked up by a whaler. No vessel came and they proceeded to Shannon Island, where they spent the following winter. In the spring of 1912 they endeavored to make a sled journey to Cape Dalton, but had to give it up owing to working conditions. They had abandoned all hope of rescue when they were picked up by a Norwegian fishing vessel on July 17 last and brought to Alesund. They will start shortly for Copenhagen.

Looked Like Wild Beasts.

Christiania, Norway, July 28.—Captain Ejnar Mikkelson, the Danish Arctic explorer, and the engineer, Iversen, who were rescued on July 17 last on the coast of Greenland by a Norwegian fishing vessel after having spent more than two years in that region, looked like wild animals when their rescuers found them. They had spent the previous winter at Bass Rock Island, not Shannon Island as previously stated, and it was there that the Norwegians came upon them in a cabin which they had built.

The first sign that there was human beings in that neighborhood was a wooden bar with the date 1912 cut in it, set up as a signal which the Norwegian fishermen happened upon. An investigation disclosed the cabin.

The fishermen knocked on the door, and Mikkelson and Iversen rushed out, nearly naked, with guns in their hands, under the impression that the knocking was caused by beasts of prey. Mikkelson had been very ill on the long journey to Bass Rock Island, and Iversen had dragged him 100 miles on sleds. Fortunately the two men had enough ammunition to enable them at all times to procure food.

At a meeting of the Bible class of the church yesterday he was presented with a handsome leather suitcase.

Mr. and Mrs. Ebon Moon arrived in the city in a private New York Central car on Saturday and left again last night for Montreal. Mr. Moon is the son of the General Manager of the New York Central line and is spending his vacation touring. They expected to leave for Montreal Saturday night, but they were forced to remain over on account of their car catching fire. The damage done, however, was very slight.

The horse and carriage which were found by a county policeman on the Marsh Road last week have been identified as belong to an Amherst livery stable proprietor. The horse which was found has not yet been claimed. The stableman hired a horse and team for three days to a man and they were not returned to him. It is thought that the horse was traded for the one which was found last week.

Miss Eleanor Boyce has won Lieutenant Governor Wood's medal for high school entrance examinations, and a report from Frederick says that she leads the province for the 1912 competition with marks of 938. The successful candidate is thirteen years old and is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John E. Boyce, of Chesley street.

The band concert in King Square Sunday evening by the City Guard Band was enjoyed by a very large number. The evening was a beautiful one and was taken full advantage of. The programme was composed of sacred selections, and the popular musical organization was heard to excellent advantage.

W. Burton Stewart, vice-president and general manager of the Norton Griffiths Co., arrived here Saturday from Glasgow accompanied from Montreal by the firm's chief engineer, P. R. Warren. He was accompanied, he said, at the amount of work already done at Courtenay Bay and said that within another month there would be something worth looking at.

THE PASSING OF A NOTED LEADER OF LABOR MEN Wm. Abraham for Thirty-Five Years as Head of Welsh Miners A CHANGE IS WORKING

London, July 19.—To all who attempt to read the signs of the times, it is evident that there is a portentous movement going on among the laboring men of this country. In exactly what direction it is leading it is impossible for even the student of the working classes to say, but one starting result up to the present moment has been the deposition of several of the best known and most respected labor leaders in the country. And the passing of these men will be more regretted by men of all stations of life in England than that of William Abraham, M. P., who for thirty-five years led the South Wales miners in their fight for better wages and better conditions.

Abraham recently resigned the presidency of the South Wales Miners' Federation and a few days ago suffered a serious illness at the House of Commons and was removed to his home in Wales. Like his boon companion, Thomas Burt, a Welsh miners' representative, "Mabon" which, by the way, is the bardic name by which he is known throughout his native country—is one of the most picturesque of the 600 odd members at Westminster.

Born seventy years ago in the little town of Ononnet, in the Afon Valley, he attended the local school until he was twenty years old. Then the press of poverty compelled his father, who was a pitman in the Cambrian mines, to send his son to work "Mabon" has often spoken of the tragedy of his young days: how he worked sixteen hours a day underground, often, at the end of a bad week, tramped home with just a little more than 2s in his envelope. By day he worked as hard as his youthful muscles would permit and at night he made and mended his boots for his father. He discovered the path to a broader life. He possessed of an excellent tenor voice he joined the church choir. In turn he became conductor, orator and Welsh bard, and his fame quickly spread among his music-loving fellow workers.

When the great coal strike of 1871 broke out, "Mabon," remembering the sufferings of "Mabon," remembering the sufferings of his fellow workers, he stepped forward heartily into the struggle, and in that fight, Abraham stood head and shoulders above the rest, although the roughest in the mine. In 1875, he tramped Wales to organize his fellow workers and two years later took the initial steps in the formation of the old Cambrian Miners' Association for Rhondda and has held the seat ever since. So strong is he considered that he has been elected member of parliament in Rhondda and has held the seat in the House of Commons in the same year as "Mabon," and who remained until two years ago. Abraham is a big, good natured simple man who is beloved for his sincerity, earnestness, honesty and lack of "side." He and Burt probably possess the confidence of the South Wales mine owners in a great degree than do any other labor leaders in the country. He is a hard fighter but a clean one, never indulges in personalities, can see both sides of the argument, and has for years fought against the introduction of extreme measures. Especially of late years has he been at loggerheads with the mine owners and the leaders who have kept the South Wales miners seething with discontent. He has always insisted upon the men sticking to their agreements, and although his recent retirement from the presidency of the South Wales Miners' Federation was said to be a bitter opponent of the introduction of up-to-date machinery, believing that it would sound the death knell of a large proportion of the miners but upon his return he announced that he had been converted and believed that the introduction of machinery would result in great good to the workers. He further announced that he no longer believed that unions should interfere with production.

Harcourt. In the latter case, however, he warmly urged the claims of his friend and colleague, Thomas Burt. Twice he has been offered a knighthood but in both cases the king respected his unwillingness to accept the great honor. A year ago, however, "Mabon" became a privy councillor and up to the present time he and Burt are the only workmen who have enjoyed the distinction. One of the proudest moments in his life was when, seven years ago, he received a Welsh national testimonial consisting of a check for about $6,700 and a great silver salver, in recognition of his long services to the South Wales miners. Contributions to the gift came in small amounts from all classes throughout the country. His name is linked forever with the monthly local holiday which the South Wales miners enjoy as a consequence of his efforts and which is known as "Mabon's Day."

Ottawa, 100; St. John, 88.

Ottawa, July 28—(Special)—The St. John cricket club played a close game with the Ottawa cricketers on the Rideau Hall grounds Saturday afternoon, being only defeated by twelve runs, the score standing 100 for Ottawa and 88 for St. John. The visitors went to bat first and with the exception of Young none of them were at home with the Ottawa bowling. Young batted in splendid style and ran up a score of 40 before he was bowled by Farrell. Ottawa started out as if they were going to run up a big score, as Ackland, who first faced St. John's bowlers, soon mastered the same and rapidly knocked out 42 runs. The last six wickets for Ottawa fell rapidly.

It looked as one time as if St. John might pull out. Young, for St. John, performed a feat which has not been seen on the Ottawa grounds in a senior match for a long time. Young took five wickets for 22 runs. Popham took three for 15, and Sturdee two for 45. The score was as follows:

Ottawa, July 27—The Ottawa Capital had an easy time defeating the Montreal Shamrocks 7 to 1 this afternoon in a good game of lacrosse. This makes the seventh straight win for the locals, who started the season badly, and as Cornwall was defeated in Montreal it looks like a close race for the championship.

Montreal, July 27—The Nationals of Montreal defeated the Tecumsehs of Toronto 6 to 4 this afternoon in a fast but somewhat rough exhibition of lacrosse. Toronto, July 27—The Toronto lacrosse twelve, who were defeated by a score of 12 to 6 last week in Montreal in their match with the Irish-Canadians, got their revenge this afternoon when the Montrealers were entertained here and decisively beaten, the score being 10 to 5.

The St. John County Rifle Association held their annual match for the Corporation Cup and P. R. A. medal at the local ranges on Saturday in the worst shooting weather they have had this season. The rain came in heavy squalls, at times closing out the targets and making it very difficult sighting. Notwithstanding this the winning score of Corporal Gladwin is the highest with which the cup has ever been won. The prize winners were:

Montreal, July 27—The Cornwall Lacrosse team, leaders of the National Lacrosse Union, were decisively beaten this afternoon by the Montreal twelve, the score being 9 to 3. For the three periods the visitors were unable to score but in the last stages of the game found the net three times. Cornwall had beaten Montreal three times this season and the result came as a surprise.

WILSON ONCE FAMOUS AS GRIDIRON COACH

Middletown, Ct., July 28—Woodrow Wilson, the Democratic candidate for the presidency, was professor of history and political economy at Wesleyan University from 1888 to 1890, but is best remembered here for his success in coaching the famous Wesleyan football team '89, which defeated Pennsylvania, 10 to 2, and won over a long list of less formidable rivals. Professional coaches were rare in those days, and Wilson, as one of the younger members of the faculty, was chosen by the students as advisor of the football team. He was particularly effective in putting ginger into the squad, and it is said of him that he could give a "call down" in a manner that would put to shame even some of the modern coaches.

AMUSEMENTS ARE BIG FEATURE OF TUBERCULOSIS CURE

Band Concerts, Dances, and Outdoor Sports For the Patients—Result of Founder's Own Experience

Los Angeles, July 28—A sanitarium where patients may have the advantage of a band concert whenever they wish and where they may get out and dance the Texas Tommy or the Turkey Trot if they are so inclined, has been planned by Mrs. Louisa K. Northam of 116 1/2 East Twenty-fourth street, the wife of Colonel Bob Northam. The work on the sanitarium and grounds which will cost about $125,000 when completed, has begun. Mrs. Northam proposes to make this sanitarium a retreat for tubercular patients. One building will be reserved for charity patients. Mrs. Northam has some remarkable and advanced ideas about effective cures. From a long personal struggle with tuberculosis, she believes she has mastered the details of its cure and she intends to apply these ideas to the patients at her sanitarium. There will be as little of the sanitarium and as much of the home life as possible. Rhoda, daisies and gardens will be on a tract some distance from the main grounds. An artificial lake and an amusement pavilion will be features. There will be a band or orchestra and a dancing floor will be provided. Croquet grounds will be built for the use of the patients and billiard rooms will be installed in the main pavilion.

PAN-AMERICAN MOVE TAKING TANGIBLE FORM

Washington, July 28—A quiet movement began some time ago looking to a tightening of the bonds of sympathy and interest between the states of the Western hemisphere is beginning to take tangible form and in the near future it is expected a great Pan-American conference will be held, perhaps in Washington, although some other American capital may be selected as the meeting place. Recognizing the existence of suspicion and distrust on the part of the smaller states of Latin America toward their more powerful neighbors, an effort is to be made to link together men of high intelligence and movers in great public affairs in the various countries, for the common purpose of diminishing international friction and the tasks of war, by a Pan-American international law conference. The plan contemplated the creation of a conference on a basis for the dissolution of the chamber of the membership of five commissioners in each state.

MONTREAL FAILS TO SUPPORT THE PONIES

Montreal, July 28—Locally there has been a deal of trouble brewing round the half-mile race track. Racing has been gradually usurping lacrosse from the public favor, and with its advent have come the familiar betting ring charges. A syndicate running a half mile track meeting, making very lucrative profits, in the north end of this city, and realizing the gullibility of the public, ran another meeting some thirty miles out of town early this summer. Encouraged by the coin they took in, another meeting was started on the same old track which was little better than a glorified cart run plus a grandstand. Innumerable regularities which had been existing all along cropped up through the judges' stand and the betting ring coming into sharp conflict and the newspapers, scoring good copy, exposed the whole affair.

"TEA RECESS" KILLING CRICKET IN ENGLAND

Intermission for Dawdling Over The Cups and Spiritless Players Responsible for Game's Decline

London, July 28—Too much dawdling and too much professionalism are the chief charges brought against modern cricket by the majority of correspondents in answer to the question: "What is the matter with cricket?" which has been put to its readers by the London Daily Mail.

In the old days county cricket was restricted to one or two days' play, and definite results were arrived at. Today, even with three days' play, many matches result in a draw, and this kills public interest. The introduction of a tea interval has undoubtedly done much to keep spectators away from the game.

Unpleasantly on the part of the players, their lethargic movements in the field, the tedious delays in the game between the departure of the outgoing batsman and the arrival of the new batsman—all have harmed the great pastime which had always been looked upon as England's national game.

The fact that so few amateurs take part in the county matches nowadays has undoubtedly affected the game. Excellent players and sportsmen though the professionals be, they cannot play the game with the dash and enthusiasm that an amateur can impart. To the professional the game is his bread and butter, his means of livelihood; to the amateur, it is merely a pastime and relaxation, to be enjoyed as such. Consequently it is to the amateur the public look to find the true spirit of the game, and these are lacking.

CADETS AND SCOUTS LOOKING FORWARD TO CAMP AT ALDERSHOT

Must all be Vaccinated — Their Equipment—Local Army Medical Corps Also Will Go Into Camp at Aldershot

While they are making ready, in other ways for their going to camp at Aldershot next month, it is understood that the members of the local cadet corps will have to attend to another matter before they will be permitted to take their drill, and that is being vaccinated. According to word received here, orders have been issued by Brigadier-General Drury, C.B., A.C.D., to the effect that all cadets, before entering camp, must be vaccinated, and that any of those found in camp without being so protected, must be returned to their homes. This, of course, would apply to Boy Scouts as well.

Quite a number will go to the Nova Scotia camp from this city, and there will be more from other centres of the province. Each of the lads will be required to bring with him a suitcase, soap, spoon, cup, two pairs of stockings, towels, brush and comb, tooth brush and a few other necessary articles. The boys of the local brigades and corps who are planning on being in attendance at the camp are already at work "brushing up" on their military drill, and each is trying to make a good showing.

Besides the cadets there will be another local body at Aldershot Camp this year, namely, the Army Medical Corps, No. 8, commanded by Colonel T. D. Walker, who have received instructions to render hospital duty at the militia grounds. Their place at Aldershot this year was taken by the No. 2 C. A. M. Corps of Nova Scotia and the local Red Cross lads will be called upon to replace them at Aldershot on return. The time of their going will probably be early in September, while the cadets will go in August, from the 16th to the 21st.

SEEKS INFORMATION REGARDING WOOD-WORKING INDUSTRY

Manufacturers of Maritime Provinces Will Be Asked to Furnish Material for Searching Study

Ottawa, July 29—Preparations are now under way in the office of the Superintendent of the Department of the Interior for a searching study of the wood-working industries of the Maritime Provinces. The first step will be the compilation of lists of manufacturers whose schedules for information may be sent. Only those industries will be included which bring the wood to a form beyond which it is not usually manufactured, such as products of the planing mill, furniture, musical instruments, agricultural implements, veneer, vehicles, cars, wood distillation, boats, cooperage, etc. The hearty cooperation of manufacturers is expected in these researches. The resulting bulletin will be of very great value to the public at large, and in particular to those engaged in the wood-working industries.
