Fire Chiefs And Police Believe Fire At Laval Was Set

One Expresses Conviction that Same Hand Was at Work at St. Boniface When 10 Lives Were Lost—Public Officials and Church Authorities Reluctant to Express Themselves.

WHAT IS LEFT OF ST. BONIFACE COLLEGE. The ruins of St. Boniface College, near Winnipeg, after a fire in which ten people lost their lives. Rumors of incendiarism are rife.

(Canadian Press.)
Montreal, Dec. 1.—The consensus of opinion amongst police officials and fire chiefs is that the fire which early this morning practically demolished the upper portion of the school and surgery building of Laval University, causing damage estimated at more than a quarter of a million dollars, was started by a fire-bug. This conviction is due to the fact that the ill-fated university is continually suffering from fire, this morning's outbreak being the second serious conflagration in which heavy damage to the institution within three weeks.

Police men and firemen are not conservative about voicing their opinions, and more than one was last night openly heard to say that the flames which set the Winnipeg college fire, in which ten lives were lost, was the same as that which started the third outbreak in the local university.

Various public officials were seen before noon today, but there was noticeable a decided reluctance on their part to commit themselves by making a definite statement as to whether they believe a deliberate hand was behind the fire. All, however, are unanimous in declaring that it is "very strange" that the same fire should be set in the Catholic Church is a common byword, and that it is causing varying degrees of perturbation throughout French-Canadian circles.

CLEMENCEAU AND DREYFUS

"The Tiger's" Notable Fight for Condemned Officer

A Sensational Episode in French History Recalled When Clemenceau, Against Whole Force of Public Opinion, Defended and Cleared the Maligned Man.

(Toronto Mail and Empire)

There is no episode in the long, brilliant and glorious career of Georges Clemenceau in which he is more entitled to take pride than in his championship of Alfred Dreyfus. It is true that there was not such another moment in his career as that when on November 12, 1912, the Chamber Deputies hailed him as the Father of Victory and he wept like a child. His general course in the war was filled with so many noble exploits that many people have forgotten that he was Dreyfus' first powerful defender, and that if there had never been a Clemenceau Dreyfus might now be living in a cell on Devil's Island. The qualities displayed in the fight for Dreyfus are typical of the qualities of Clemenceau. Even his bitterest enemies will admit that modern France has seen no such fighter, no man more courageous in advancing his opinions, no matter what the cost is likely to be, and at the same time no man who will more frankly admit a mistake.

The Fettered Press.

When Dreyfus was first condemned Clemenceau saw no reason to question his guilt. The sentence had been passed by seven of Dreyfus' fellow officers, and there seemed little doubt that they would arrive at a correct verdict. The trial was in secret, and the law of France does not permit the newspapers to comment upon a court martial's verdict when the case affects the national defence. Public opinion in France almost unanimously proclaimed the guilt of the Jew, and Clemenceau never espoused a more unpopular cause than when he began the fight to have justice done to Dreyfus. What led Clemenceau to take this course after he had expressed the opinion that there could be little doubt of the prisoner's guilt, was the discovery, made after his conviction, that the judges had based their decision upon the scrutiny of a document which they did not permit either Dreyfus or his lawyer to examine. This was manifestly unfair, and Clemenceau had the courage to suggest that a revision of the case was in order.

A Terrible Sentence

The Dreyfus case, which shook France to its foundations and threatened the very existence of the republic, began in the summer of 1894, when Captain Alfred Dreyfus, of Alsace, a member of the general staff, was arrested on a charge of having sold to a foreign power, presumably Germany, certain documents concerning the mobilization schedules of the army. The verdict was unanimously against him. He was sentenced to public degradation and to life imprisonment on Devil's Island. He was paraded handcuffed before his former comrades, with the insignia of his rank, and a fellow officer pronounced the doom of Dreyfus, who was unworthy to wear the French uniform. Then he was led away with the mob trying to attack him. The tears streamed down his face, but he walked with his head up and cried: "I am innocent, vive France." The fact that Dreyfus was an Alsatian contributed to Clemenceau's interest in him, for after the Franco-Prussian war Clemenceau was one of the deputies from Alsace who refused to acquiesce in the terms of the peace treaty which annexed Alsace to Germany.

Clemenceau and Zola.

In the whole French press when the verdict against Dreyfus was announced only one paper, "Le Sicle," had the courage to remark, "Military Judges, like civilian Judges, are apt to err." This was considered extremely daring, but it was nothing to the campaign that Clemenceau launched when he made the discovery about the document. Every day for three years, with the exception of a single day, he wrote an article about the Dreyfus case, at first in "Le Sicle" and then in "L'Avance." The day that he did not write an article he gave his space to Zola for his famous "J'accuse." He supported Zola through his sensational trial, at which Clemenceau's brother assisted Maitre Labori in the defence, and shared to the full the unpopularity of the French novelist. He was openly denounced. He fought duels. He was accused of having been bribed by Jewish gold. But he continued, not asserting the innocence of Dreyfus but asserting that he was entitled to a new trial.

Death Brings Discovery.

In the end it was the accident of a man's death that won the fight for Dreyfus and his friends. The chief of the intelligence bureau of the general staff died, and his successor was Colonel Picquart, an Alsatian. He discovered that the famous document that caused the conviction of Dreyfus was not in the hand of the condemned man, but presumably in the hand of Major Esterhazy, a disolute character. He at once communicated the fact to the chief of the general staff, who suggested that nothing should be said about the matter. Picquart refused to remain silent and thus a new weapon of tremendous power was put in the hand of Clemenceau. By this time most of the literary men, the elite of France, had ranged themselves on the side of Dreyfus. Suddenly Esterhazy, who had withdrawn to Brussels, disappeared, and when last heard from was in London earning a scant living by teaching French. At last the walls of the general staff and the French bureaucracy were down. At last a new trial was granted Dreyfus and his innocence was established.

The fortnightly dance of the New Brunswick Telephone Company employees was held last evening in the recreation hall. Those in charge were Mr. J. McConnell, P. J. Nesbit, E. Mason, N. Speedy and E. G. McKay. The winner of the door prize was Miss T. McKel.

Value of Co-operative Marketing Explained by Hon. Manning Doherty.
(Toronto Telegram.)
The weekly luncheon of the Knights of Columbus, held this afternoon in the Carles-Rite Hotel, was addressed on the subject of "Co-operative Marketing of Farm Products," by Hon. Manning Doherty, Provincial Minister of Agriculture.
"Co-operative marketing was being adopted by the great agricultural countries the world over," said the speaker. By means of this business principle, applied to farming, as it is applied to all successful affairs, great strides had been made by agricultural lands, of secondary importance before they adopted the system. The success of Ireland and Denmark could be traced to systematic production and marketing. Canada, on the other hand, dumps her produce on the market without the benefit of grading or of organized salesmanship.
Only by creating a surplus of exports over imports can Canada hope to pay off her great national commitments, said Mr. Doherty. He did not hesitate to say that every obligation would be met, but pointed to increased production in agriculture as the only logical way to raise the wind. Ontario is losing ground in the fruit markets, to British Columbia, and even Washington and Oregon, largely through the more aggressive marketing systems adopted in the west.

LOCAL NEWS
"A lady's clothes, from head to toe, from braided hat to silk hose, are now composed of cellulose," rhymed Dr. Louis E. Wise, head of the department of chemistry, New York State College of Forestry, Syracuse University, in a lecture delivered recently before the class in freshman chemistry. The exhibits, comprising a variety of materials for wearing apparel, from neckties, shirts, plush goods, hat fabrics and silk to hose, all wholly or partially made from wood constituents, suggested the wide field opened up by those engaged in research along the lines of chemical utilization of wood.
"When a man writes his name," said Dr. Wise, "reads his paper, puts on his shirt, his near-silk socks, his necktie, his shoes, his black suit, when he smokes his pipe, when he takes aspirin or quinine or when he takes acetanilid for a headache, when he goes hunting for a movie, when he plays a phonograph record, when he uses his radio-phonograph, when he paints his house, varnishes his floor, lights his fire, eats his sausage—how come into contact directly or indirectly with the chemical utilization of the forest. The chemistry of the forest—the chemical utilization of wood, whether we know it or not, is part and parcel of our daily existence."
The discovery of new uses for wood is keeping ahead of the discovery of substitutes for wood, which makes it important for the government to adopt some policy that will provide for the scientific handling of this great and rapidly diminishing natural resource.

The Evening Times and Star

The St. John Evening Times is printed at 27 and 29 Canterbury Street, every evening (Sunday excepted) by The St. John Times Printing and Publishing Co., Ltd., a company incorporated under the Joint Stock Companies Act.

THE PEOPLE DON'T COUNT.

Commissioners Frink, Thornton and Wigmore are responsible for a week of needless and expensive delay in getting on with the business of supplying St. John with cheap light and power.

The City Council is responsible for a delay that has already lasted two years. The Commissioners have got the habit. It may be fun for them but it is bad for St. John.

Mayor Fisher called a special meeting for yesterday afternoon. When it opened he explained that the hydro act provided that the governor-in-council must approve of the contract with the city.

It was in vain that the Mayor pointed out the urgency of the case. The sooner the civic power commission is appointed the sooner it can get organized, examine plans and specifications and be ready for prompt action.

Commissioner Frink is greatly distressed because things are being "jammed through." He may certainly be blind to the innocuous of any such intention. He has helped to waste two years and is still yelling for more time.

Mayor Fisher is doing his best he can to carry out the platform on which he was elected. He is being held up and hampered. Who stands to gain by this action? The New Brunswick Power Company. Who stand to lose? The people of St. John.

Dr. Geo. B. Cutten Derides "Delusion of Democracy"

NOVA SCOTIAN PRESIDENT OF COLGATE UNIVERSITY STIRS UP THE AMERICAN PRESS

He Would Restrict Ballot by Mental Tests and Raise Quality of Government—Canada the Most Democratic Country—General Suffrage a Failure, He Says.

(Silas Bent in New York Times) One of the most interesting books ever written is called "Extraordinary Popular Delusions." It tells about the Mississippi Bubble in France, the tulipomania in Holland and other manias in New England, among other manifestations, but says nothing about self-government.

"The theory that all men are born free and equal is an absurdity. Certainly they are not equal mentally. But you may say, at least they are equal politically, and this is what is meant by the phrase. No, they are not equal politically. If the Plutonium Building were for sale at a dollar, a man must have at least a dollar to purchase it.

"Manhood suffrage was our greatest and most popular failure, until we doubled it by granting universal adult suffrage. It was the height of folly to permit persons mentally incapable to vote merely because they were males, but it was just as foolish to deny the privilege to highly intelligent persons merely because they were females.

"That is like the old theory that the vote of the people is the voice of God. It is not. It is the voice of the people calling in the wilderness, and it is always at the mercy of the man who is in power. The voice of the people calls 'Crucify him!' By the time we catch up with the man who is in power, the divine right of the people has no more foundation than the divine right of kings.

"Everybody is looking for a substitute for thought, and some people seem to think we have it in a democracy. We escape taking thought in municipal government by the establishment of city managers and commissions. We escape taking thought in State government by passing our problems along to the Central Government.

"The reconstruction of a sham and delusional democracy into an intellectual aristocracy seemed to be a timely and appropriate topic for my inaugural address because it is largely a matter of education. We should, of course, educate every citizen to the limit of his ability and to the limit of the citizen's ability to take an education.

problem of government, and we must find it. We must recognize first that we are ruled by a small group, which I may call the intelligentsia. We must move toward a rule by an aristocracy, that is to say, a rule by the best. We cannot hope for a democracy, that is, a government by honor or worth, because there are yet no satisfactory laboratory tests for character, as there are for mentality.

Dr. Cutten dwelt chiefly in the inaugural address at Colgate to which reference has been made on the shortcomings, opportunities and duties of educational institutions. He was particularly interested in the question of the mental tests for the franchise.

Political Classification of Cutten. At this juncture Dr. Cutten tore from the bottom of a typed page a table of figures to illustrate how the classification is going on. The figures bore on scores made under what is known as Thurston's Intelligence Test No. IV.

1,075 students in ten normal schools, average score 74.8. 4,498 students in thirty-four liberal arts colleges, average score 86.6. 9,928 students of forty-three engineering schools, average score 88.8. 205 freshmen at Colgate University, average score 94.6.

"The highest score possible under this test is 100, and one of the Colgate freshmen, a Baptist boy, scored 100. Dr. Cutten regards him as a genius. At Colgate 500 applicants were examined and only 200 freshmen were admitted. The president of the university, returning to his theme, said:

"The mentally unfit were politically classified, and were forbidden to vote, the question may arise whether they would rebel, set up a revolution and themselves become the government, causing a situation actually worse than that which now exists.

"The value of an intellectual aristocracy would be that it would be open, the intellectually superior being selected early in life and trained for special service, without regard to the accident of birth, wealth or favor. No better bases for an aristocracy have been found. It is no mere accident that great intellectual movements have always been close in history to great moral and religious movements.

BROOKVILLE TEA. The Mission Circle of the Brookville church held an enjoyable tea, sale and concert yesterday afternoon and evening in the Brookville Hall. Miss Jessie E. Dixon was the general convener. The hall was prettily decorated as well as the many tables, which were under the direction of Miss G. Anderson, Miss Audrey Purchase, Miss J. Gillis and Miss H. Adams. Mrs. W. Sutherland was convener of the tea tables and members of the circle assisted as waitresses. At a meeting of the creditors of Reginald C. Rice, a merchant at Hillside, Kings County, held yesterday afternoon in the office of Barnhill, Sanford and Harrison, it was disclosed that the young man had left this part of the country when he got into financial difficulties. The creditors decided to turn the matter over to the sheriff of Kings County to collect the debts and pay off the creditors. The business was conducted by Mr. Rice was a general store at Hillside.

FIFTEEN MINUTES OF RADIO EACH DAY

By Edward N. Davis Formerly Technical Electrical Expert For U. S. Government

Lesson No. 170.

RADIOTELEPHONY AS AN EXTENSION TO THE LINE TELEPHONE

The telephone system as we know it before the advent of the radio telephone was limited to communication between points on the same continent or nearby islands easily reached by short cables.

The way that conversations of this kind are carried on, partly over a radio system and partly over wires is clearly shown in the diagram.

Central office "A" is of course connected by means of trunk lines with the central offices of other nearby cities or through toll offices to the central offices of distant cities.

Cities "A" and "B" may be located on opposite sides of the ocean and it is merely a question of building an economical transmitter and receiver to cover this distance in order to realize this world-wide means of carrying on a conversation.

In order to minimize interference, the radio transmitters and receivers are mounted in carefully shielded buildings since considerable amplification is employed at the receiving stations and any local disturbance tends to render the voice signals indistinguishable.

HALF CANADA'S BABIES BORN WITHOUT CARE FOR MOTHERS

Neither Doctor Nor Nurse in Attendance Says Victorian Order Head in Plan to National Council to Help—Advocates Midwife Licenses.

One-half the babies born in Canada are brought into the world without either medical or nursing attendance.

Such was the amazing statement made in Montreal last week by Mrs. Charlotte Hanington, head of the Victorian Order of Nurses.

Mrs. Hanington gave startling details of the lack of attention for mothers in Canada's isolated districts.

"Remember what the Duke of Devonshire told us," said Mrs. Hanington, "the greatest immigration agent in Canada is the Canadian cradle."

Mrs. Hanington's solution of the problem of how to help mothers in Canada's isolated districts was to train and license midwives, such as they did in Britain and Europe.

But a few years ago, Mrs. Hanington confessed, both the medical and nursing professions in Canada would have been up in arms against such a proposal.

Dr. Ritchie England told of the splendid work done by European midwives. During her obstetrical training in Vienna she had worked in the midwives' clinic and it was there where she had received her asepsis training.

Even royalty there was attended by the court midwife.

Mrs. Horace Parsons supported Mrs. Hanington's disclosure of the fearful conditions faced by women in isolated districts. She told of taking a Northern woman to a Cochrane hospital where her baby was born but to die the next day.

OFFER PRIZES TO THE BEST BARGAIN FINDER

London Merchants Stage a Novel Contest Among the Shoppers of Metropolis. Should bargain hunters be rewarded? Merchants in London take the view that they should, as the plan tends to keep people in a buying frame of mind and helps to boost sales volume for the stores.

In co-operation with some of the newspapers, the stores offered $1,150 in cash prizes for the reader of the newspaper, who, in the opinion of the judges' committee, purchased the best bargain at any of the retail stores entered in the contest. The bargain is not determined by the price, but rather by the value received for the money. In this way every customer is eligible to compete for the prizes, from flapper who purchases a pair of sheer hose, to the bridegroom who buys a set of dining-room furniture.

ACCIDENT AT WESTFIELD.

A Welsford correspondent writes:—Robert Murphy of Peterborough, Queens County, who conducts a mercantile business, was on his way home from the city on the evening of Nov. 24. He was driving a spirited team of horses, with a fair-sized load of general merchandise. He was east, near the Westfield telephone exchange, by a truck auto, with no lights, and four male occupants. It was about six o'clock p. m. Mr. Murphy was given no warning by the approaching truck, and did not notice it until it was beside his team. The forward wheel of the truck and the forward wheel of the wagon ran in behind each other with such force that Mr. Murphy was thrown forward, falling across the pole of the wagon, and then going head first among the horses' feet. The occupants of the truck assisted him to get out and also helped him on where they belonged, and the reply was evasive. Mr. Murphy was able to drive his team to W. E. King's, at Sagwa, where he was made as comfortable as possible. Dr. Lewis of Welsford was called and said that he could find no broken bones, but that he had a severe shaking up. Mr. King's residence, and, although somewhat improved, is still unable to move without assistance. "Is there no person to see that this sort of thing is brought to a stop? Are there no traffic police on the Westfield Road? Are people allowed to drive auto trucks at night without lights and give no warning to the traveling public? They say, 'Get the number of the car.' How could a man get the number of a car in the dark when he was thrown on the ground and so badly hurt that it required the assistance of the four men to get him back on his wagon? The makers of the laws of our land should see to it that such reckless driving is brought to a stop and those who persist in driving in this way severely punished."

The reports of the various pastors as to the signs of the times furnished much information. The moral condition of the people is under review. The price question "where shall we place the blame for the present unhealthy condition of the morals of the people?" The meetings are open to the public.

COMMISSIONERS HEAR APPEALS ABOUT TAXES

Several Cases of Assessment Gone Into This Morning—Consideration This Afternoon.

Tax appeals occupied the attention of the Common Council which met in committee this morning. After hearing the appellants or their representatives, the Council decided to consider the matters presented this afternoon. Mayor Fisher presided and all the commissioners and E. Murray Olive, chairman of the Board of Assessors, were present. Dr. F. R. Taylor, K. C., appealed from the assessment on the value of his home in Germain street, which he had purchased last year from Percé W. Thomson. He said he had no complaint against the assessors, but as he had only $15,000 for the property, he thought that an assessment of $28,000 was out of all proportion. He said that he understood it was assessed at $28,000 before he bought it. The property consisted of a lot 46 by 208 feet, with house of three stories and basement and garage in the rear. Mr. Olive said that the assessment was made up of $20,000 on the house, $3,000 on the lot and $5,000 on the garage. Mayor asked if there was any competition in the purchase of the property. Dr. Taylor replied that Mr. Thomson had the house or the market for a year before he sold it. Commissioner Bullock asked if he would sell today for less than $20,000. Dr. Taylor replied that he would not have objected to paying on a valuation of $3 1-3 per cent, more than he paid for the property. To Mr. Bullock, Dr. Taylor said that he had paid the taxes under protest. Geo. E. Holder, baker, said in 1920 his assessment was $74.50. The rate was $2.98 and valuation was $2,480, including real estate, $2,800; in 1921 the tax bill was $75.50, the rate being $2.78; in 1922 the bill went up to $112.25, on $3,100 real estate, $400 income and $200 personal estate. He objected to the increase in the valuation of the real estate, which is in Cranston avenue and Rockland road. Dr. W. B. Wallace appeared for the estate of Lem Green, who on his death gave his property to his wife during her life. The tax on the property this year was $781.30. The previous year the tax bill had been reduced from $983.46 to $891.93. The assessment this year was on $4,000 personal and $10,000 income. There was no statement returned in 1922, as Mr. Green was dead and his executor, Hart Green, was in Winnipeg. The net income on the 1921 statement was $3,798.58. Dr. W. B. Wallace presented a sworn statement from Harry Green, acting for his brother, of the 1921 business showing gross income, $5,000; net income, $3,000; Victory bonds, $16.50; stock in trade, January 1, 1921, $5,176.43; balance, $200. He asked the tax to be assessed according to this statement. Mr. Olive said the 1921 assessment was made up on $11,200 income and $3,000 personal. H. A. Powell, K. C., appeared for Wm. P. Downey, whose home was in Windsor, N. S., who was assessed in 1922 for $197.60 for income. He appealed, as he was a non-resident, was assessed on realty, personal property and income in Nova Scotia, and was a commercial traveler whose district was in the southern portion of New Brunswick. He kept a room in St. John, and for this reason was assessed as a resident. He objected to dual taxation in income. Mr. Powell presented a certificate from Windsor, showing that he paid taxes here this year. He also submitted an affidavit from H. Gordon, secretary-treasurer of the Sherwin-Williams Paint Co., certifying that he was a commercial traveler and had no connection with the St. John office of the company. Mr. Downey was, under the law, a resident. Mr. Powell said that if that was the interpretation of the law, every commercial traveler doing business in St. John should be taxed. L. M. Farquhar, for H. G. Rogers, Ltd., said the statement of the net income to the assessors on March 8. The firm was taxed for $99.83 on an amount of $3,390, made up of personal property $490, income $2,900. He was of the opinion that the amount subject to taxation $1,288.90, made up of business profits $978.10 and fixtures $410.80, and the tax should be $41.39. He asked that the amount be reduced to that figure. The taxes paid in 1921, he said, totaled $374.95. Mr. Olive said he would make a report on the matter. Regarding the appeal of the Canadian Oil Co., the Mayor read a letter dated November 17 from the company and a sworn statement dated August 14 from the head office of the company stating that in 1920 $16,500 should have been deducted from the amount of the income of the office to pay the branch's proportion, making the net revenue of the St. John office $16,500 instead of $39,000. In the 1921 assessment the revenue, the statement said, was placed at some $7,000, but some $19,000 should be charged to the St. John office, leaving a loss of $11,000 on the year's business. The Mayor said that, according to the statement, the stock was charged at wholesale jobbers' prices, which did not include overhead expenses. The Mayor took exception to this and had written the company to that effect. Consideration of the appeals will take place this afternoon.

AMAZED TO LEARN HE HAD NOT KILLED MAN

Supposed Slayer Faints When Told Girl's Assaultant Shot Himself—Fired at a Suicide.

Huntington, L. I., Dec. 1.—The shooting here of Rose Sandriaser by her fiance, John J. Letich, and the killing of Letich immediately afterwards had a strange denouement. Edward Scudder, Miss Sandriaser's host, who had fired point blank at Letich with a shotgun because he believed he was trying to kill Mrs. Scudder, was in jail, believing himself the murderer and bewailing his unhappy connection with the tragedy, when the tragedy developed that Letich had killed himself with the same pistol which he mortally wounded himself.

Two remarkably features contributed to the belief held for hours by Scudder himself and by every one concerned that he had slain the young man. One of these was that when Letich fired a second time from his automobile, he was having wounded the girl, both Scudder and his wife believed the shot was aimed at Mrs. Scudder, and Scudder was in fact shot.

The second queer circumstance was that though Letich, who had started chiding the Scudders home the instant he jumped into his car, must have been instantly the car with the dead man slumped over the wheel kept on traveling in the Huntington town hall. Scudder to believe Letich was still alive and that he was making a hostile attack on the family who were particularly on Mrs. Scudder, who had denounced him for shooting the sweetheart from whom he had just received back his ring.

"After shooting the girl, Letich ran out to his automobile, fired the shot behind the house, started it and drove in a circle," said Biggs. "While the machine was going around the circle, the machine was moving, although the driver was dead. Scudder thought the shot was fired at the house. He fired the shotgun through the glass of the kitchen window. The machine stopped in a few feet. All the circumstances surrounding the shooting of the girl were confirmed in the hurried report.

President Page is said to have a scheme to include Peterboro, Ont., in the circuit, with another western city. This would make a fairly compact circuit of six clubs.

This question was brought forward at Princeton when it was announced that the number of students choosing Latin and Greek this year has decreased more than ten per cent, despite an increase in enrollment. CELEBRATE ST. ANDREW'S DAY

Scotland's Patron Saint Honored by Local Society at Dinner in Royal Hotel.

Many sons and descendants of "Auld Scotia" made merry last evening in the dining room of the Royal Hotel where a light royal feast had been prepared by the St. Andrew's Society in honor of their country's patron saint.

The dinner was under way soon after nine o'clock, and the menu, which was written in broad Scots, indicated that all the good articles of food to which the Scots are accustomed were available for consumption.

Hon. Dr. W. E. Foster, premier of this province, in reply to the toast thanked the members of the society for giving him the privilege of speaking at a special dinner.

Col. A. E. Massie gave an excellent speech, and in his address he gave a glowing account of the progress of the province since the day of the late Premier Foster.

On his visit to this part of the country the Governor-General would be welcomed by all Canadian soldiers for they knew him and they would see that his welcome was a fitting one.

In reference to the Lieutenant-Governor of the province, he remarked that Hon. William Pugsley had been connected with the government for the last forty years and he thought the people of the province felt their appreciation.

CHEERING MESSAGE BY VISITING BISHOP

Declares Ontario Has Place of Leadership in Temperance Act.

(Toronto Globe.)

The war against intoxicants is gaining strength in the United States, according to Bishop James Canon of the M. E. Church in the South, one of the foremost leaders of the Anti-Saloon League, in his sermon last night at Sherbourne Street Methodist Church.

Questions of Personal Liberty. Bishop Canon declared it was no restriction on a law that it infringes on the liberty of the individual. All laws restrain the individual in the interests of society. He asserted that a law is not bad simply because it is violated. If everyone agrees to a law, there is no reason for its existence.

The speaker gave a stirring indictment of the liquor traffic, tracing its effects in making paupers, lunatics, criminals and drunkards. He stated that, even if twenty million people in the United States were opposed to the prohibition law, the rights of the great majority were supreme.

An Encouraging Forecast. Latest developments indicate, he said, that the prohibition movement is gathering force. This message of encouragement was brought to Ontario by Bishop Cannon, in connection with his attendance at the prohibition rally in Toronto.

He declared that Ontario, the United States, Australia and New Zealand are setting the lead for Great Britain and predicted the day when all Anglo-Saxon peoples would set their faces steadfastly against intoxicants.

NEW SANITARY MUSEUM. New York University to Have Models of Modern Devices.

A museum with models to demonstrate methods to eradicate rats and flies, ditching to do away with malarial mosquitos, a pasteurizing plant, sanitary plumbing and methods of sanitary handling of food and clothing, will be the feature of the new bacteriology building of New York University Medical College.

The new laboratory is a seven-story structure adjoining the main medical building. Five floors are being used for diagnostic and research work in public health and bacteriology. The top floor will house the museum, while the first floor will be occupied by a public health clinic, handling all the nutrition cases from the large out-patient department which the college supports.

The equipment in the new laboratory will enable the medical students to perform and observe the latest experiments along the line of public health and prevention. The Department of Health handles all the routine bacteriology work in communicable diseases for Long Island and Westchester County with the assistance of the New York University students. All similar tests for the New York University medical clenic are also made in this laboratory. All the work is under the general supervision of Dr. William H. Park, head of the Department of Bacteriology in the Medical College and also Director of the Bureau of Laboratories of the New York City Department of Health.

Dr. Willis C. Noble, also of the Faculty, is in direct charge of the laboratory. According to Dr. Park, the addition of this laboratory will greatly increase the scope of the work done by the students. "Prevention is becoming more and more necessary to the practice of medicine. In my student days we were taught how to cure disease, but now we emphasize the prevention. If we can not prevent illness we go ahead and cure it. But it is much simpler and more sensible to prevent it."

"The particular field of research which we are following is that of intestinal bacteriology and the development of a toxin anti-toxin to prevent diphtheria. The latter has been developed to the point where the skin irritation has been reduced to a small red spot about the size of a dime and in some instances even this is absent."

RECORD PAPERMAKING. In Germany a record was recently established when trees were turned into newspaper paper and sold as mid-day editions on the same day. The exact time taken in the process was three hours and twenty-five minutes.

The trees were felled at 7:38 a. m., pulped and turned into paper by 9:39, rushed in a motor truck two and one-half miles to the printing office, and at eleven o'clock newspaper boys were crying the "extras" on the streets.

PROHIBITION IN UNITED STATES

"An Economic Impossibility for Country Ever to Go Back on It."

(Toronto Telegram.)

"Conclusive and fundamental facts" to show why the U. S. was compelled to adopt prohibition, and must continue it, were set forth this afternoon by Dr. Ernest Cherrington, general secretary of the league, from Westerville, Ohio, in delivering the "keynote" address. "It will," he said, "be an economic impossibility for America ever to go back on prohibition."

"Under prohibition, fewer persons had been killed on railroads, fewer suicides, and child mortality and the general death rate were lower than in thirty-five years previously. No nation of the world was so remarkably suited to the testing of prohibition. Of the world's 3,424 languages and distinct dialects, 1,624 were to be found in the States; there are 1,404 foreign language periodicals and 100 foreign language daily newspapers there.

"America has today," said Dr. Cherrington, "one-tenth as many negroes as one the entire continent of Africa. America has 8,600,000 Jews, or one-third as many as in the rest of the world together; 1,800,000 of these are in New York. There are as many Jews in America as in Russia; there are fifty per cent. more Jews in America than in both Austria and Hungary, and five times as many Jews in New York as there are in Palestine and Armenia. One-Third Foreigners. "Almost one-third of the entire population of America is either foreign-born or the children of foreign-born parents. America has more Norwegians than Christians; more Swedes than Stockholms; more Canadians than Vancouver, Calgary, Regina, Winnipeg, Fredericton, St. John, Halifax, Toronto, Ottawa, Charlottetown and Quebec; more Germans than Bremen, Hamburg and Leipzig; more Czechs than Prague; more Croats, Serbs and Slovenes than Belgrade; more Englishmen than Liverpool. America has almost as many Poles as there are in Warsaw; almost as many Scots as there are in Edinburgh; almost as many native Irishmen as there are today in the Emerald Isle.

Rights of Determination. Referring to the economic pressure which Spain brought to compel Norway to abrogate its prohibition, Dr. Cherrington insisted that the smaller nations must be protected in their rights of self-determination. He declared that world economic and financial conditions of today show that this

"A sinking fund in which each year would be placed the amount of the drink bill of the world would absolutely wipe out of existence both interest and principal of all debts of all the nations of the earth within a period of eighteen years," he asserted.

A TELLTALE COMPASS. There is a ship's compass used by the French so mounted that as it swings round with the variations in the pointing of the vessels it produces automatically, through electric connections, a chart on a sheet of paper. By consulting this the ship's officers can see what the course was at any moment of the voyage. The same apparatus also registers the speed of the vessel by recording the number of revolutions of the screws, each stroke of the piston closing an electric circuit.

ILLUMINATING GAS DISCOVERED IN HUNT FOR ELKIP OF GOLD
"Wild Spirit" Revealed by Chance in Seventeenth Century. Not Utilized Until Many Years Later.

The discovery and utilization of gas marked the most important step in the progress of modern illumination, according to the Illinois Committee on Public Utility. Although gas was discovered about the middle of the seventeenth century, it was not until the later years of the eighteenth century and the beginning of the nineteenth century that man learned how to make it serve a useful purpose, members of the committee stated. Gas was the first public utility. Later came electricity, the telephone and the electric railway. Man's eternal search for riches and the futile endeavors of alchemists to change the baser metals into gold led to the accidental discovery of artificial gas. John Baptist Van Helmont, of Brussels, studied and practiced medicine and later turned to chemistry and research work with fuels in 1669 he discovered that he yielded what he described as "acid spirit." He found that "spirit" could be produced by means of combustion, fermentation and the action of acids on limestone. So phantasmic and elusive was Van Helmont's discovery that he named it for "ghost." It was nearly 600 years after Van Helmont's discovery that practical steps were taken to harness this elusive spirit. Natural gas was found several years later in England, one of the first descriptions of this being that of Thomas Shirley, in which he mentions that his attention was directed to what was considered to be a spring "where the water did burn like oil" and "old boy and heave like water in a pot." On investigation he found this to be "a spirit which issued out caught fire at the flame of a candle." He amused his friends with a candle made of "spirit" by distilling coal in an iron retort and conducting the gas through seventy feet of tinned and coppered tubes, succeeded in lighting his home at Redburn in Cornwall. Later he built an apparatus on a larger scale and lighted the factory of James Watt, developer of the steam engine, for whom he was conductor and erection engineer. On May 18, 1804, Frederick Albert Winsor, a German, obtained the first English patent for gas-making. The first public street light with gas took place in Pall Mall, London, January 28, 1807. In April, 1812, Parliament granted a charter to this company, "The London and Westminster Gas, Light and Coke Company" and thus the first gas company in the world came into being.

NAMES AID TO MANNERS.
Bus Conductors Find That Public Likes to Know Them.
(New York Times.)
The neat green and gold badges on the breasts of the F.R.A. Avenue bus conductors are beginning to have an effect. They announce the name of each employee with the conspicuous prefix "Mr." Now that the novelty is beginning to wear off the normal effect may be judged. "Mr. Jones," explained one of the conductors the other day, "the passenger who wants to be pleasant, and the one who wants to kick, both find the name plate convenient. People use conductor's names all sorts of ways. One will ask: 'Will you please let me off at the next corner, Mr. Jones?' Then there is the woman who wants to make a favor, such as being let off in the middle of a block near her front door. She begins by saying, 'Mr. A 'Good morning' or 'Good night'

TIES LAST TWENTY YEARS.
Railroads Use Preservatives to Extend Durability of Wood.
Nearly 6,000,000 cross-ties received a preservative treatment preparatory to being placed in tracks of the Pennsylvania Railroad last year, according to a report just compiled by John Foley, forester for the system. The life of railroad cross-ties, when treated, is extended from two to five times, depending upon the kind of wood. Their average life, considering the durable woods formerly used, is about eight years. Creating them makes them last fifteen to twenty years.
Cross-ties of the standard sizes which have had a year's seasoning in the open air will each absorb from two to three gallons of creosote oil. The process of treating a batch of ties requires from four to six hours. They are piled in lots of 500 on trains and shoved into large airtight cylinders into which the oil is forced under a pressure of 200 pounds to the square inch. While the initial cost of a tie is increased approximately fifty cents by creosoting, the extension of its life results in practically a twenty-five per cent reduction in the annual cost of the tie in the track. It is the policy of the Pennsylvania system to treat with a preservative all woods used where decay is a factor in their service, thus prolonging their life and assisting in the conservation of forest products.

MISARRIAGE OF JUSTICE.
(London Express)
The conviction of Sir Almeric for "wilfully interfering with and annoying persons in Hyde Park," was summarily quashed at the London Sessions yesterday.
The justice stopped the case before the evidence in support of the conviction had been completed, declaring that Sir Almeric had vindicated his honor. They awarded him costs against the police, on whose uncorroborated evidence he had been found guilty.
"Thus collapses another of the amazing decisions of Mr. Mead, the elderly autocrat of Marlborough street police court. An archdeacon, a banker, and a curate have all recently been convicted of Hyde Park offences by Mr. Mead on evidence so flimsy that the Sessions Court promptly quashed the convictions.
Now there is the case of Sir Almeric FitzRoy. What does the Home Secretary think about it? What does he propose to do?
Sir Almeric FitzRoy has already resigned his work as Clerk of the Privy Council. Immediately at the close of his case yesterday he retired to the country office, where he was heartily welcomed, and where he at once dealt with arrears of work which had accumulated during his absence.
"I feel sincerely grateful to the newspapers for the fair and impartial manner in which they have dealt with my case," he said. "My experience has shown me that a perfectly innocent person may unwittingly find himself in a very serious position."
When Sir Almeric FitzRoy entered the court every movement showed how acutely he realized that he was fighting for his good name.
Although young for his years—he will be seventy-one on Sunday—upright and quick in his movements, the ordeal through which he has passed since Mr. Mead convicted him on such slender evidence has left its mark on him. His hollow eyes told of sleepless nights. Sudden nervous movements of his hands and the inability to remain still proved that his nerves were on edge.
FitzRoy accompanied her husband to this seat at the solicitors' table, whispered a few words to him, and passed to a seat in the body of the court. Sir Almeric who was dressed in a dark coat, a brown waistcoat, and striped trousers, had a black felt and a pair of kid gloves among the legal papers before him, and composed himself to follow the progress of his appeal against one of the most remarkable miscarriages of justice of recent times.

WHAT'S DOING IN THE MONEY AND STOCK MARKETS TODAY

AMERICAN BUYING SENDS WOOL UP

British Activity Most Pronounced in the Combing Mills.

(Toronto Globe) Lively buying of raw and combed wool by American interests has advanced prices in primary markets. Despite the specific duty of 81 cents a pound on raw wool and the additional duty of 20 per cent. ad valorem on combed wool, American buyers have been extremely active in the British markets, and their purchases have been mainly responsible for the recent advance. The better state of business in the United States has induced heavy buying, despite the high tariff wall. The duties are not preventing the entry of large quantities of combed wool. Latest advices from New Zealand state that American interests have been buying actively at the last sale in Wellington and have forced prices up. The previous auction on November 6 saw United States buyers forcing the pace. The British market for both worsted and woolen fabrics has taken on more activity recently. The Americans are practically shut out of export markets by reason of the high tariff on raw materials. Much of the British business is with other parts of the Empire. Australia and New Zealand have been buying actively. Other export markets are coming back. Canada is taking a larger quantity of woolen textiles from Britain than was the case earlier in the year.

A special meeting of the Canadian Bible Society was held yesterday afternoon at the Bible House in Germain street and a committee was appointed to make arrangements for the annual meeting in February. Routine business was transacted.

The Textile Business. The highly satisfactory record of such widely known producers as Dominion Textile, Canadian Cottons, Wabasco Cotton and others in an outstanding feature of Canadian industry. STRONG TONE AT OPENING IN WALL STREET

Demand Embraced Practically the Whole List—Trading on Montreal Exchange Not Particularly Spirited.

New York, Dec. 1.—(10.30)—Extension of Wednesday's short covering movement, combined with some new investment buying of high-grade shares, imparted a strong tone to prices at the opening of today's stock market. The demand embraced virtually the entire list, with copper, oil, food and rail issues exhibiting the greatest strength. Union Pacific was pushed up 1/2 and Erie preferred one, with large fractional gains being recorded by St. Paul, Erie First preferred, Reading and Rock Island. Houston Oil rose 3/4 points, and Mexican Petroleum two, with more moderate gains among other popular shares in that group. Cerro De Pasco led the advance in copper with a gain of 1/2 points. Some of the other individual stock prices were Adams Express, Stromberg Carburator, International Nickel preferred, Coca Cola, American Oil preferred and Tobacco Products, all up one to two points. General Asphalt yielded 1/4 on profit-taking and Sears Roebuck dropped 1-8. Foreign exchanges opened firm.

NOON REPORT. New York, Dec. 1 (noon)—Professional operators, apparently acting on the belief that the run-in of the shorts had progressed far enough to leave part of the market in a vulnerable condition, began selling off shares at the opening of the first hour, being aided by some profit taking on the part of buyers. Most of the oil recorded material recessions, carrying with them to lower ground a number of leaders, including Baldwin, Studebaker, Bethlehem B, Midvale and Marine Pfd. Toronto Railway fell 88, the preferred 2, Pierce Oil Pfd 2 1/2. Standard Oil of New Jersey 2 1/2, Marine Pfd 1 1/2, Bethlehem B, 1 1/2 and Pan-American A and B one each. Toward noon the market turned upward again in response to the demand for Cracville and United States Rubber, each of which gained two points. Lorraine Tobacco, General Electric and Westinghouse All Brake all gained 8 to 5 points. Call money opened at 3 per cent.

HUGE PAPER MILLS ON HUMBER

An Eighteen Million Dollar Plant to be Erected in Newfoundland

Sydney, C. B., Nov. 20.—The Sir W. D. Armstrong, Withworth Company of London, England, will commence work at once breaking ground on the Humber river, preparatory to the erection of an eighteen million dollar ($18,000,000) paper plant. The British Treasury has guaranteed $20,000,000 toward the project, and Newfoundland the other half. It is understood that John Powell, chief engineer for the Reid Newfoundland Co., will sever his connection with that organization and assume full control of construction.

The project was first broached about a year ago by the Humber Valley Development Company, but the scheme assumed such vast proportions, outside aid had to be sought, with the result that the original promoters merged with the Power Securities Corporation, Limited, of London, England, which corporation will carry on the work. This latter corporation has been incorporated under the British Corporation Act with a capital of nine million dollars, divided into 1,000,000 7 per cent preference shares of $9 each, and one million ordinary shares of the same value.

Of the latter, 400,000 have been subscribed for cash at $5 per share by Armstrong Withworth & Company, Limited; Babcock & Wilcox, Ltd.; The British Thomson-Houston Co., Ltd.; the directors of Balfour Beatty & Co., Ltd., and the directors of the Power Securities Corporation. An issue of half a million of the preference shares at par, and 100,000 of the ordinary shares at $5 per share was offered to the public on October 30, the last closing on Nov. 1st. The brevity of the period during which the list remained open would suggest that the shares were practically subscribed before publication of the prospectus.

The directors of the company are George Balfour, J. F. M. I. E. E., of Chislehurst, chairman; Sir James Kempson, P. E. S. E., of Chislehurst; Howard Cockup Lewis, Beerton Gardens, London; John Henry Brunel Noble, Park Lane, London; Andrew Henry Beatty, Putney Hill, S. W., and Wm. Shearer, Lauriston, Bromley, Kent; the two latter being the managing directors. The company's bankers are Barclay's Bank, Ltd., Glyn Mills, Currie & Co., and the Commercial Bank of Canada, Ltd., Walter John Selley, London, is the secretary (pro tem), and his office, 66 Queen St., is the registered office of the company.

OPINIONS ON THE MARKETS

(McDougall & Cowans, Private Wire.) New York, Dec. 1.—Evens say—"The market has turned definitely and decidedly upward. There may be a little more backing and filling and some hesitation for a few days, but I am still firmly convinced that before January 1 the bull market will be in full swing." Hutton & Co.—"Indications are that we have seen the worst of the liquidation and that the foundation is being laid for a consistently better market."

THOMSON McKINNON.—"There is not as yet sufficient assurance to warrant the belief in an immediate resumption of bull markets, therefore the present recovery may prove to be only a temporary matter."

Clark Childs—"Railroad earnings for October were better than might have been supposed for some of the big roads." Huseman & Co.—"For the time we would advise against following stocks on strong spots, preferring to await the chance of weak spots."

FRONTENAC TO BE LISTED

(McDougall & Cowans, Private Wire.) Montreal, Dec. 1.—The main board of the Montreal Exchange will soon have another brewery stock. Arrangements are being made to list Frontenac Brewery shares which are now traded in the Unlisted Department. On the present issued capitalization of about 3,000 Pfd. and 9,000 common shares there will hardly be any great activity in the new listing, as the shares are rather closely held.

CHILDREN'S AID ELECTS OFFICERS

Annual Meeting Hears Reports of President and Agent - Juvenile Court Matter Urged.

The annual meeting of the Children's Aid Society was held last evening in the Home in Garden street, with the president, A. M. Belding, in the chair and a large attendance of members.

M. E. Agar was made an honorary member of the board. Grant Smith, H. Usher Miller and James L. Sugrue were made members of the board.

President's Report. The report of the president, A. M. Belding, was as follows:

The work of our society has been carried on during the past year with success, although we have often found ourselves unable to deal with compassionate cases because we had not room enough for the children.

Rev. George Scott, the secretary of the board, was unable to attend last evening as he was confined to bed with a severe cold.

Once more, I must, on behalf of the ideal matron, but she needs just that sympathetic assistance which the ladies of the board are always ready to give.

Our experience from year to year reveals a need in St. John that is not met because existing institutions, if we except the Municipal Home, have neither the accommodation nor the funds to meet the requirements.

Once more it must be noted that the province is without a superintendent of neglected and dependent children, and frequent appeals come to us from places where we have no jurisdiction, urging that action be taken for the rescue of a child or children.

The past year has furnished fresh evidence of the need of a home for the feeble-minded. As the Provincial Health Department would also contemplate a psychiatric clinic in connection with the health centre, and as it is in possession of the facts revealed by a mental survey of the province, we may hope for progressive action.

Just wipe away the ugly dead cuticle

NEVER use a manicure scissors on the cuticle. This is what causes hangnails and that ragged, frowzy condition of the nail rims that makes any hand look ugly and unkempt.

The thin fold of keratin about the base of the nail is like the selvage edge of a piece of cloth. When it is cut or torn, the whole nail rim gradually reveals out—just as cloth reveals when the selvage is cut.

You can take off the hard, dry edges quickly, easily, harmlessly with Cutex Cuticle Remover. Work about the nail base with an orange stick dipped in the liquid, rinse, and when drying, push the cuticle gently downwards. The ugly, dead cuticle will simply wipe away.

Once you have begun to use Cutex you will have no more hangnails and the cuticle will always be firm and even.

Two new polishes—just perfected. Cutex now offers you the very latest and finest development of two highly popular forms of nail polish—Powder Polish and Liquid Polish. Cutex Powder Polish will give you the highest, most lasting shine obtainable in the shortest possible time with the least buffing.

Cutex Liquid Polish goes on with an absolutely uniform smoothness, dries instantly, and leaves a lustre that keeps its even brilliance for at least a week.

Cutex comes in four sizes: at 50c., $1.00, $1.50 and $3.00. Or, each article in the set separately at 15c. At all drug and department stores in the United States and Canada.

PHILIPPINE RECORD SET IN CROP AREA PLANTED

Agriculture Made Great Stride in 1921, But Failed to Get Benefits. Manila, Oct. 25.—(By Mail)—The high-water mark was reached in Philippine agriculture in the year 1921, so far as the area planted to the six leading crops of the islands is concerned, according to the annual report of the Bureau of Agriculture. In that year, 8,788,967 acres were cultivated, compared with 8,152,355 acres in 1920.

Notwithstanding the increase in acreage, the year was one of general dissatisfaction from a financial standpoint, the report says. "Because of the record prices prevalent during 1919 and 1920, the cultivation of cubic crops, especially rice and sugar, was greatly extended. The area planted to rice in 1921 was increased by 127 per cent, to sugar cane by 28.3 per cent, to coconuts by 6.3 per cent, and to corn by 1.2 per cent.

"In yield per acre 1921 also shows an increase of 1.2 per cent in rice and 3.4 per cent in sugar cane over that of 1920, but market conditions were such that, in spite of the increases in area and yield, the value of all Philippine crops fell from $348,858,000 in 1920 to $201,623,000 in 1921, or about 40 per cent."

Ralph Connor Deals With the Problem of Industrial Troubles—Relations and Ethics on War Basis.

(Toronto Telegram.) Dr. C. W. Gordon (Ralph Connor) chairman of the Industrial Relations Board of Manitoba, set forth in an illuminative way the problem on industrial relations before the Canadian Club today and his points drew frequent applause.

Industrial relations today are on a war basis, not a peace basis," he declared. "Industrial legislation is war legislation and industrial ethics are war ethics." Everybody knew that war was futile and victory as expensive as defeat. They had learned that in the great struggle but seemed slow to learn it in industry. Strikes should be regarded to the last.

It was astounding how little knowledge men had of their own business and its fundamental facts.

He defined industry as "the application of co-operative energy to raw material for the service of the community."

There are four factors in such co-operation: capital, management, labor and the community. This co-operation on the basis of mutual rights and responsibilities was absolutely necessary to success. Capital was an absolutely necessary factor. It was potential. Capital must secure a fair return. If it was lost then the industry failed miserably.

Labor was the most interesting factor because it was the human element. Man was the biggest thing in God's world.

"The big question in industry is not the machine, or the profits or the pay envelope," he said, "but the man—what does he become out of it?"

Labor had its rights and responsibilities. It was entitled to a fair return for its use just as was capital. "An employer ought to know what that word meant, or he should not go on."

"The spectre of unemployment is always before the heart-breaking search for work. Labor has a right to be assured of employment just as has capital," he declared.

"If you give labor a fair return and security, you have solved the problem of industrial war," said Dr. Gordon.

"It is all bunk to say there are but two classes, the employer and the employed. A man could not often say to which he belonged. The community is the great class and it was made up of the buyers of the two products of industry, and without it industry cannot go on." The public should demand honest quality and be prepared to pay a fair price for it.

Getting the other fellow's point of view was the big step to peace. Knowledge, conscience and comradeship was the solution to most industrial difficulties. We are all bound together, no class can succeed alone, the failure of one is a loss to all, he declared.

RADIUM $10,000 A GRAM

$50,000 Drop is Due to Belgian Congo Find of Rich Ore.

Denver, Col., Dec. 1.—Radium has dropped $30,000 a gram in price, it was learned when the Standard Chemical Company closed its carnotite properties in Paradox Valley, in western Montrose County, Colorado, throwing 200 men out of work. Discovery of vast deposits of pitch-blende in the Belgian Congo is held responsible for the decrease in price of radium, which is quoted at $70,000 a gram now, compared with the old price of $120,000 a gram.

Pittsburgh, Pa., Dec. 1.—Discovery of rich deposits of radium ore in the Belgian Congo has caused a break of $50,000 a gram in the price, but the full extent of the find is not yet known, officials of the Standard Chemical Company of Pittsburgh said. The world with 75 per cent. of its radium supply, has been forced to refine from 500 to 600 tons of ore to obtain a gram of radium, while reports from the Belgian Congo are that the ore there yields a gram to every few tons refined.

The Pittsburgh company, which has arranged to market the radium from the Belgian Congo, explained that the discovery had not affected operations

BUNYAN TOMB RESTORED BY BRITISH ADMIRERS

Grave Given Through Repair and Renovation by the Free Churches.

London, Nov. 5.—(By Mail)—Bunhill Fields, in the City road, has been aptly described as the "Campo Santo" of Dissenters, says "The London Daily Telegraph." Its greatest occupant is John Bunyan, though many another among the band of English immortals lies in that crowded and desolate cemetery on the fringe of the city, and notable in their ranks Daniel Defoe, to whom half a century ago a monument was erected.

For some years past Bunyan's tomb has stood in a state of neglect which was not creditable, the nose of the recumbent figure crumbled away and a hand being also missing, present-day general appearance of decay through want of attention. Thanks to the care of the free churches it has recently undergone thorough repair and renovation.

It was not destined that Bunyan should rest in a tomb prepared for

DISCOUNT "CHECK" GOOD TILL DEC. 20

Seattle Clothiers Find That It Beats Others' Advanced Clearances—Better Than Reduction.

Customers of King Bros Company, dealers in haberdashery and men's clothing, of Seattle, Wash., receive a message in holiday dress a few weeks before Christmas, and what looks like a check for $10.

The letter is so folded and enclosed that, upon removing the contents of the envelope, a credit certificate, very much resembling a check in appearance, falls out. Man knows the pleasure of finding a check in a letter.

It isn't really a check, however, but rather a credit certificate, good for $10 on the purchase of a man's suit or overcoat before December 20. The certificate is printed on standard check paper, numbered and dated in red ink, with the amount printed in red in imitation of the printing done by a check protector.

An accompanying letter appeals for early Christmas shopping in this manner: "This year we are putting our 'shop early' appeal to a limited number of our valued regular patrons in the form of a money-saving inducement which explains the attached credit certificate issued in your favor. Please note that this certificate is good only until December 20."

The plan has behind it, however, more than a desire to crowd in Christmas shopping early. It was intended to overcome in some measure the seasonal lethargy in practical wearables, and also counteract the effect of advertising by competitors who push January cut price sales ahead into December. The King store figures that a ten dollar certificate, mailed to regular customers, is more effective than an advertisement of a ten dollar cut in price of suits and overcoats.

LONDON TRAIN WANDERS ABOUT AIMLESSLY WHILE LOST IN FOG

London, Nov. 12.—(By Mail)—One of the most extraordinary incidents of a recent London fog was the adventure which befell the early morning train to Bromley North, on the South Eastern Line, according to The London Daily News.

The train left Holborn Viaduct at 12:32 a. m., its proper time, and reached London Bridge safely, but between the latter station and New Cross it lost itself.

Between 1 and 1:30 a. m. it put in an appearance on the Brighton Line below Rotherhithe sidings. In the end the train was backed through Bricklayers' Arms Junction, and so into the S. E. and C. R. carriage
