An Important Consideration

In selecting a RANGE is to buy one that is 1st—A Good Baker. We guarantee the Royal Grand to be a perfect baker. 2d—Has a Good Draft. The ROYAL GRAND has direct draft and will work in a chimney so bad that many other stoves would fail.

3rd—Economical in Fuel. THE ROYAL GRAND will burn but one-half the fuel that some ranges consume; therefore will pay for itself in a few years in the saving of fuel.

SPORTING MATTERS
JIM CORBETT MAY BE BOSTON BONIFACE

(Boston Post.)
"Jim" Corbett, the former prize ring champion, who defeated Boston's pet, John L. Sullivan, at New Orleans, Miss., it is said, to be a Boston boniface.
Information was given out last night that he is negotiating for one of the mid-time famous hotels near the corner of Washington and Boylston streets. Both the Lexington and Clark's are in the market.
The information was confirmed by two friends of the ex-champion. Owing to license conditions existing at the present time, some details are withheld.
Corbett came here two weeks ago secretly and made an offer of partnership to one of the best known sporting men in the city: "You get a place, I will come here and help make it pay, is said to have been his offer.
In this regard it may be said that the sporting man in question now has a successful saloon and that both are well enough fixed to run hotels.
Corbett will close in Brooklyn the latter part of this month and will jump on here, where he will be the guest of "Dennis" Kellher. In case it is necessary to close negotiations before then, the actor-fighter will hurry over and lay down his share of the purchase price.
Corbett's closest friend in Boston is "Dennis" Kellher. When seen last night by a Post reporter, he said: "Jim will be here on or before May 2. I know something of his plans. They are vague yet, but I think he seriously considers coming to Boston and taking a hotel near the corner of Boylston street."
"Is not I who is being considered as a partner, as I have my own business, and as no bargains have been made it is best not to commit yourself as to the hotel. He will be here May 2, however."

FIRE AT ACADEMY
MEANT CLOSE CALL FOR MANY BOYS
BIG BUCKET SHOP
SCANDAL UNearthED
IN WESTERN CITIES

EXETER, N. H., April 10.—Dunbar Hall, the only wooden dormitory at Phillips Exeter Academy, was destroyed by fire early today, and thirty-five students, the youngest at the academy being compelled to flee in their nightclothes, hurriedly jumping from the second story windows.
A hasty roll-call at 1:30 this morning apparently showed that all had escaped, and that no one had been injured. The loss is estimated at $50,000.
The building was four stories in height. A number of the boys were awakened about midnight by smoke pouring into their rooms and they ran into the hall; they found the rest of the occupants by their cries and without attempting to save any of their property or put on any of their clothes, they sought a means of escape.
The stairways, however, were found to be enveloped in smoke and flames from the two lower stories, and the boys were driven to the windows on the front part of the building. All the while they were shouting for help and help was given by the boys on the second and third and fourth floors managed to get down the stairs before the fire reached that portion of the building, and on getting down to the second floor they joined their fellow students at the windows. The boys waited, but a few minutes for help and then began jumping to the ground. The distance was not great, and all made the leap without sustaining any injuries. Those on the lower floor had no difficulty in leaving the building.

Dixon, Burt, Bond and Leonard Callahan, while Mr. Bond also gave bone solos, with accompaniment by Mr. Sandford.

It means lots of courage and faith in the local amusement loving people to bring an attraction like Prof. Demers here, but believing that the best is none too good for their patrons, the management of the Queen's Rollaway were only too eager to give it a try, and didn't stop when his salary was mentioned, notwithstanding the fact that it was an exceptionally large one. The local management know that he will create a sensation, not only amongst roller skaters, but amongst those who appreciate gracefulness, and that means nearly everybody.

CASTOR OIL AS A PUNISHMENT.
LONDON, April 9.—It was stated yesterday during a trial at the County Greenway Court of a suit by a governess against a chaplain that castor oil was given to pupils in large quantities as a punishment.
Several nominations came in just ten minutes before the close and some of the addresses who found they were to be the new candidates, Ald. Hamm challenged the nomination of Mr. Jones for Kings ward on the ground that he was not qualified. The common clerk after the usual search found that Mr. Jones was qualified for nomination.
When Mr. Green's nomination was handed in Ald. McCordick presented the invasion of his ward and the common clerk was asked to look up Mr. Green's standing. On the nomination of Mr. Green's name was signed as George H. Green. On the records his name was George Green. The nomination of Mr. Green's name was omitted and as soon as the matter is straightened out Mr. Green's nomination will probably be accepted.

THE BOARD OF ASSESSORS OF Taxes for the City of Saint John, in the present year, hereby require all persons liable to be rated forthwith to furnish to the Assessors true statements of all their Real Estate, Personal Estate and Income, and hereby give notice that Blank Forms, on which statements may be furnished under the City Assessment Law, can be obtained at the Office of the Assessors, and that such statements must be perfected under oath and filed in the Office of the Assessors within thirty days from the date of this notice.
Dated this thirtieth day of March, A. D. 1907.

"Sec. 118. The Assessors shall ascertain, as nearly as possible, the particulars of the Real Estate, the Personal Estate, and the Income of any person who has not brought in a statement in accordance with their notice, and as required by this Law, and shall make an estimate thereof, at the true value and amount, to the best of their information and belief; and such estimate shall be conclusive upon all persons who have not filed their statements in due time, unless they can show a reasonable excuse for the omission."
"Sec. 138. No person shall have an abatement unless he has filed with the Assessors the statement, under oath, within the time hereinbefore required; nor shall the Common Council in any such case, sustain an appeal from the judgment of the Assessors, unless they can be satisfied that there was good cause why the statement was not filed in due time as herein provided." 80-1-1

SHAVES HUSBAND TO BUY CHURCH CARPET

Neighbors Divided as to Who Shaved the "Self-Denial."

TRENTON, April 9.—When the new carpet is laid in Grace Baptist Church, about four yards of it will be consecrated to the fortune of Henry Lonsdale. Every thread represents a waker which Lonsdale submitted to a razor wielded by his wife.
Mrs. Lonsdale is a member of the Ladies' Aid Society, which planned to buy the church carpet on the self-denial plan. There is some difference of opinion on this point, the men asserting that Lonsdale shaved himself, while the women are congratulating his wife.
While other women baked bread and sewed, Mrs. Lonsdale decided she would shave her husband, and charge him 15 cents for the operation. It is not on record how Lonsdale first received the proposition, but the fact that he consented to act the victim is proof that his wife has the true religious spirit.
For four months did Lonsdale go through the shaving process. He once believed that a shave once a day was a necessity, but under the skillful manipulation of his wife he discovered that he could get along on three shaves a week.
Only once did Mrs. Lonsdale ask: "Does the razor hurt?" He did not swear; he did not groan, but the look of anguish was enough.

TOO MANY BIRTHS, SO INSURANCE CO. QUILTS

Concern Was Chartered to Combat Race Suicide in Boston.

BOSTON, April 9.—The American Birth Insurance Company, chartered by prominent men and women, with an idea to help in the fight against race suicide, is now in the hands of a receiver, and the president has asked the Supreme Court what he shall do with $7,000 in his custody.
The company was to pay to policy holders from $150 to $200 upon the birth of a child, and there were some births in policy holders' families before the receivership. It was chartered about two years ago.
Its originators thought the dread of poverty-pinned parents, lest additions to their families would force them to extremities, would be relieved if they could by the payment of small premiums obtain upon the birth of each child enough money to pay doctors and nurses and leave a little margin for the bank.
Too large a birth rate was the reason for this action. It exceeded the numbers upon which the experts had figured. It was decided to cease business while the company was solvent.

INSANE THROUGH GRIEF, FLINGS CHILD IN FIRE

Little Girl's Clothing Ignited While Playing With Other Children.

GALETON, Pa., April 9.—The little daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Farcon, an Italian family living on the South Side, was the victim of a burning accident which resulted in her death. With several other children, she was playing about a bonfire in the street, and was pushed by them toward the blazing heap.
Coming in too close contact, her clothing caught fire. The screams of the little girl were heard by several men who were working near who ran to her and tore the blazing clothing from her body.
The child's mother appeared on the scene and apparently rendered insane through the excitement picked the child up and threw her back into the fire. It is said, The little girl was so seriously burned that she died in agony a few hours later.

Nebraska Ranch Woman Refused by Several Before She Was Accepted.

HYANNIS, Neb., April 9.—Mrs. Jeanette Hellman, who has made her home on the Hyannis range for a number of years, and who at one time ran a ranch and owned a large herd of cattle, has just married the fifth time, she having done the courting.
Mrs. Hellman lost her fourth husband about a year ago. He died of consumption in New Mexico, where his wife had sent him for his health.
Soon after Mrs. Hellman avowed her purpose to get married again and set to work to find a husband. She proposed to several men, but all refused her.
Nothing daunted, Mrs. Hellman kept on and finally met Willis McAllister, a widower, proposed and was accepted. They were married a few days ago.
Mrs. Hellman, now Mrs. McAllister, is a woman somewhere in the early fifties and is well preserved, not at all bad-looking, intelligent and generally quite attractive.
She was at first married in the Black Hills, when she was a slip of a girl. Her husband was killed in an accident in a mine less than two months after the marriage. Within six months she was married again. Her second husband deserted her, and she obtained a divorce. A year afterward she was married for the third time, and lived happily for a number of years, when her husband died.
A little more than a year after his death she was married to Hellman, who was an invalid, and who she was compelled to support.
"A woman has no business trying to live alone out in the Western cattle country," said Mrs. McAllister. "She needs a man in the house even if she has to stay out of doors and do the hard work."

It is possible for your STAR Want Ads. to be productive of more results by wording your advertisement properly. For instance, in renting rooms the answers will be better and more numerous if you tell the size, price, direction, locality, accessible car lines, etc., than if you merely give the street address. Tell the whole story, and readers will be interested. Think before you write. Word your ad. carefully.

WHY White Clover Bread
WHEN Butter-Nut Bread
is as good? The characters of the two are quite different. Butter-Nut is substantial and satisfying; what David said (1 Sam. 21-9) seems to apply. "There is none like that." It is very much like what you've been baking at home all winter, but probably a little better. Perhaps you want a change for a little while, some few may prefer a light bread all the time.

ANSWERED.
They were getting a kindergarten lesson. The teacher taught them simple subjects. She touched a table.
"What is this?"
"Wood."
"What is this?" she asked as she touched the fender.
"Iron."
"What is this?" indicating a bottle.
"Glass."
"What is this?" and she touched her watch chain.
"Brass," and she changed the subject.
NONE LEFT.
The late Baroness Burdett-Coutts used to relate with keen pleasure a story of the Duke of Wellington and South. On the first occasion the Duke took South into Apsley House the latter was surprised at the absence of pictures he had known in Madrid.
"How is it, Monsieur le Duc?" he said, "that you have so few of the Spanish masterpieces?"
"Monsieur, you forget," replied the Duke, "that my army was only in Madrid after the one commanded by yourself."

FREE KINDERGARTENS.
An institution which is in every way deserving of public support is the system of free kindergartens conducted in St. John during the past four years by a committee of ladies. The first school was established in a room owned by St. Mary's church, and so much good was done, so great a blessing did the class prove to the poorer families in the neighborhood, that it was decided to open a second. Accommodation was secured in the basement of Carmarthen street Methodist church, and this one has been in operation for over a year. Previously, however, North End people had provided a school in that section, and in September of last year it was added to those under control of the free kindergarten committee and has since continued its successful work. Plans are now matured for the opening of a fourth school in the West End, and when this has been accomplished all sections of the city will be served, though it is admitted that there are more needy children than can be easily accommodated under existing conditions.

This work has been of untold value. Into the schools have been gathered the little ones who, without otherwise have been, turned on the streets while their mothers were at work; the children have not only been taught in subjects suited to their ages and conditions, but have been in many cases clothed, housed and kept warm during the chilly weather. Their homes, too, have been visited, and assistance provided for the families when such was deemed advisable. Ladies and gentlemen, entirely disinterested, who have from purely personal motives investigated the work which is being done, have without exception spoken in terms of the highest praise concerning these schools.

The free kindergartens are not supported by any endowment; there is no public allowance of any sort; no civic or provincial grant towards the pay of the teachers; but all the money necessary has been raised by the committee of ladies who have undertaken the work. Citizens as a rule have been generous in their contributions, but from this source there is received scarcely enough to pay the expenses of one school. For the balance the committee have in the past been in the habit of holding concerts, lectures, sales and teas, all involving an endless amount of work, and necessitating a devotion to the cause which is perhaps greater than should be looked for from anyone. It might be stated that roughly, each school costs five hundred dollars per year, so that at the present time, outside of all subscriptions, the committee are called upon to raise $100 per month during the ten months of the school term. This is too great a burden, and it is feared that unless some other source of income is provided one at least of the schools must be closed. The opening of the Carleton school will not impose any additional burden on the central committee, for it will be managed by a number of west side ladies who undertake to raise the amounts necessary, and who are already promised one large single subscription for a period of four years. But in the city, and pending the arrival of that time when the free kindergartens will be taken over by the school trustees, something must be done to help the work, and generous public support will be of the utmost value.

THE POSSIBLE RESULTS.
Not much of a list to choose from, is it? It would have paid the city better to elect the old council by acclamation, and toss coppers for the additional aldermen at large. Judging from the names submitted there will be very little change in the make-up of the new board. Looking over the records of the past few years the following figures are found:
1902. Guys (Ward Vote Only) 152
C. F. Belyea 132
C. F. Tilley 31
W. D. Baskin 153

Looking first at the West Side records it is seen that Mr. Tilley has been beaten in his own ward of Guys at every election excepting in 1904 when he was not opposed. Mr. Baskin has on several occasions in recent years taken large majorities from Guys, and it would seem that unless there has been a great change of opinion very recently Ald. Tilley's career at the council board is approaching an end. It may be, however, that the three cornered fight will save him, though this did not prove the case in 1903.
In Kings ward Ald. Hamm has had opposition only once in the past four years, the occasion being in 1906, when he easily defeated Mr. Stocum who is now running for Wellington. His election, judging by the past, may be regarded as probable.
In Wellington Ward Alderman Christie went in last year by acclamation and there is no means of forecasting what may happen next Tuesday, but the odds are three to one on Christie.

In Victoria ward the present nominees are Ald. Pickett and Wellington Green. In 1904 Mr. Green defeated Mr. Robinson, a strong man in the ward vote, in 1904 in a three cornered fight he was at the foot of the poll, with Mr. Pickett in second place; and in 1906 the latter won from Mr. Kelley. Averaging up from these results it would seem that while the contest may necessitate active work, Ald. Pickett has a very good chance of winning.
In Dufferin ward there has never been a contest with the present incumbent. Last year Mr. Willett won in the city as a whole, but was defeated in his own ward by Mr. McArthur. This year his opponents are in no way as strong men as Mr. McArthur, and the three cornered contest will undoubtedly result in the return of Ald. Willett.

There is every indication of an exciting struggle in Lansdowne. The present competitors met at the polls in 1906, but on that occasion the presence of a third candidate led to a split vote though Mr. Rowan and Mr. Spragg were almost evenly matched. Now that they are against each other without any third party, there will be a better test of opinion as to their abilities. Mr. Rowan had only fourteen of a majority last year.
In Lorne Ald. Holder polls a large vote, but Dr. McIntyre, a new man, is strongly supported by his Esping friends and may be expected to put up a chance to prove this assertion. The vote in the ward is a very small one.
As to the aldermen at large the majority of those who are now candidates have such mixed up records that their probable success in the coming contest is hard to forecast. Unless there has been a decided change of opinion on the part of the electors, which indeed has not been noticeable, Ald. Lockhart, Dr. Frink and Ald. Lantulum will be the winners, and the fourth seat remains to be fought over by Mr. Allan who received 1,529 votes in 1904, Mr. McGowan who had 1,329 in 1906, and J. King Kelley, who is new in this, but who as a candidate for Victoria last year polled 2,061 votes. The measure of success achieved by Mr. Hunter in 1906 does not place him in the list of probabilities, unless he has canvassed the whole city and secured three times the support he had in his previous contest.

THE LAST POEM OF DR. DRUMMOND.
Dr. Drummond's last public appearance in Montreal was at the annual dinner of the St. Patrick's Society of Montreal, held at the Windsor Hotel on the evening of Monday, March 18th. The well-known writer was received with great applause on that occasion, and told his audience a number of good stories, and finished by reading a poem which he had composed for St. Patrick's Day, and which was very warmly received. The poem is as follows:—
WE'RE IRISH YET.
What means this gathering tonight
What spirit moves along
The crowded hall, and touching light
Each heart among the throng,
Awakes as tho' a trumpet blast
Had sounded in their ears
The recollections of the past,
The memories of the years?
O! 'tis the spirit of the west,
The spirit of the Celt,
The bread that spurred the alien's breast,
And every wrong has felt—
And still, tho' far from Fatherland,
We never can forget
To tell ourselves with heart and hand,
We're Irish yet! We're Irish yet!
And they, outside the Clan of Conn,
Would understand, but fail,
The mystic music played upon
The heart-strings of the Gael—
His ear, and his alone can tell
The soul that lies within,
The music which he knows so well,
The voice of Kith and Kin.
He hears the tales of old, old days,
Of battle fierce by ford and hill,
Of ancient Senach's martial lays,
And race unconquered still—
The challenge of his mother's pride
And dares him to forget
That tho' he cross the ocean wide,
He's Irish yet! He's Irish yet!
His eye may never see the blue
Of Ireland's April sky,
His ear may never listen to
The song of lark on high,
But deep within his Irish heart
Are cloisters, dark and dim,
No human heart can wrench apart,
And the lark still sings for him.
We've bowed beneath the chastening
Of the cross,
We've had our griefs and pains,
But with them all, we still thank God,
The Blood is in our veins;
The angelic blood that knows no fear,
The Stamp is on us set,
And so however foes may jeer,
We're Irish yet! We're Irish yet!

HOPE FOR RELIEF
OUT OF SURPLUS
British Taxpayers Eagerly Await Coming Budget
A Graduated Income Tax—Prevaling Impression That Mr. Asquith Will Introduce One.

LONDON, April 9.—There is, naturally, much speculation in the forthcoming budget of Chancellor of the Exchequer Asquith. Income taxpayers, in particular, are clamoring for relief out of the surplus, which is estimated at about three and a half million pounds sterling, claiming, truthfully, that a shilling in the pound is a very large figure, but there is strong opinion that the figure will remain at a shilling, though the tax may be made to fall more lightly on moderate incomes by means of increasing the amount of income exempt from taxation. There is also an idea abroad that Mr. Asquith intends introducing a regularly graduated income tax.
The Statist, considering what it calls a "memorable budget," says—"It will show a larger surplus revenue than has been realized in any year since 1873, and will indicate that the work of effecting economies in our vast non-productive expenditure is progressing steadily. It will demonstrate that under normal conditions the revenue of the country appreciably expands and the annual growth of revenue is alone sufficient to take care of any ordinary, but not any extraordinary, increase of expenditure. It will show that the national finances are now being rapidly restored to order from chaos, into which they had previously fallen. Lastly, it will furnish conclusive evidence that the national credit will be substantially improved in a short time to a very large extent by unprecedented redemption of the debt."
REDEMPTION OF DEBT.
The Statist commends the thrifty, careful policy of the present Government. It says that there is now a prospect that in the next few years a vast amount of debt will be redeemed. It goes on to say—"Indeed, taking into account the ability of the National Debt Commissioners to purchase consols at 95 and 90, they are hopeful that during the term of the present Government nearly £100,000,000 of the debt will be paid off, and when the Chancellor of the Exchequer gives an account of his stewardship in 1912, he will be able to point to a greater reduction in debt than has been effected by any other Government in the history of the country in a corresponding period, and will show that the credit of the nation, which was so severely injured by the unsound financial policy of the Government from 1885 to 1905, has been fully restored."

PART PLAYED IN POLITICS
BY ENGLAND'S LATE QUEEN

Letters Written by Victoria During Her Long and Varied Reign to be Published Early in Winter Months.

LONDON, April 9.—The Letters of Queen Victoria, which C. Benson and Viscount Escher have been editing during the last four or five years, are to be published by authority of the King as early as possible next winter. Originally it was intended that they should have been published in October, but difficulties with regard to the American copyright have rendered a postponement necessary. On no previous occasion has the correspondence of a British sovereign been issued to the world officially, and the work will be undoubtedly the most important published during the present generation. The letters will be in three volumes, each consisting of 600 pages of medium octavo size, bound in red cloth, with gold lettering. The King himself chose the design of the white plaque on the cover.

QUEEN VICTORIA'S TRAITS. It has, of course, been impossible for the editors, in the space at their disposal, to enter fully into the minute history of many matters of high political importance. The object has been not so much to present a compendium of political history as to illustrate by episodes the characteristic and personal individuality of a devoted princess and even prejudices. These, of course, played their part in the drama of the time. It is equally interesting and even more instructive, however, to see through her correspondence how these preferences were gradually subordinated to a deep sense of personal responsibility in defining and maintaining the rights of the nation. The editors have endeavored throughout to show the personality of Queen Victoria, the methods of approaching and deciding great State questions, her outlook, her sympathies, her shrewdness, her perseverance and her diligence.

INFLUENCE OF THE CROWN. To sum up the teachings of the letters it may be said that they show how continuous the influence of the Crown has been in shaping important measures of every kind, in reconciling seemingly implacable opponents and in giving the strongest moral and social support to the statesmen who for the time being voiced the deliberate wishes of the nation. King Edward has read through all the proofs of the three volumes, making alterations and corrections which he considered desirable. The interest of the letters will be greatly enhanced by the addition of specially chosen illustrations, which have been especially chosen by the King from the collection at Buckingham Palace, Windsor and elsewhere. The price of the three volumes will be $15.00, and the book will be published by John Murray.

AFTER THE GOLD
OF PAUL KRUGER
Believed to be Sunk off South
African Coast

Yacht Equipped With Latest Scientific Machinery for Recovery of Submerged Wealth.

LONDON, April 9.—With the cooperation of the Cape Government, the steamer Alfred Nobel, once the yacht of that famous inventor, will sail from London on Sunday for South Africa on a treasure-seeking expedition. She is equipped with the latest scientific machinery for the recovery of submerged wealth, of which it is estimated that $50,000,000 lies at the bottom of the sea on the South African coast. The chief objective of the expedition is the gold of Oom Paul Kruger, who was President of the Transvaal at the outbreak of the Boer War, and who died after the close of that struggle. Stories were told to regard to Oom Paul's gold reaching Europe at the beginning of the Boer War. It was said at that time that the President Kruger dispatched $50,000,000 to Europe from Pretoria, which was stolen by a party before it left South Africa and placed aboard the steamer Dorothea, which was wrecked on the Cape Coast. A company has been formed to salvage this and other cargoes known to have been sunk in South African waters.

KNOTTY POINTS FOR CONFERENCE

Colonial Premiers to Move
Important Resolutions

Consensus of Opinion is in Favor of Asking Mutual Concessions Between Britain and Colonies.

LONDON, April 9.—The fourth colonial conference, which will assemble here April 15, promises to be the most interesting and most important yet held, although the absence of Joseph Chamberlain, the ex-colonial secretary, whose imperialistic enthusiasm gave the movement its greatest impetus, and the death of personal antipathy, the bluff and picturesque Richard Seddon, premier of New Zealand, will be greatly felt. Popular interest in the conference is enhanced by the participation of Dr. Jameson, the famous Transvaal raider, who is now premier of Cape Colony, and Geo. Louis Botha, premier of the newly reconstructed Transvaal. Alfred Deakin, the Australian premier; Sir Joseph C. Ward, premier of New Zealand; Frederick B. Moor, premier of Natal, and Dr. Jameson, whose health is now precarious, have already arrived in London, and Premier Sir Will Laurier, of Canada, Premier Sir Robert Bond, of Newfoundland, and Gen. Botha are on their way here. Premier Botha embarked at Cape Town, March 21, with the declared purpose of convincing Great Britain of the loyalty of the Dutch subjects. He will be given a hearty and official welcome on his arrival at Southampton, which will echo public feeling. The most important questions slated for discussion during the conference are a project for a permanent council; preferential trade between the colonies and Great Britain, and among the colonies themselves; imperial defence; emigration and minor questions like penny postage, naturalization and patent laws. Preferential trade looms up as the largest subject in the preliminary talk. While the colonists are anxious to give the mother country advantages in the colonies, the latter are equally anxious to secure for themselves one-sided arrangements which yield them no return. Premier Deakin has already gone on record to this effect and the tendency of colonial opinion seems to be voiced by the following resolution, which Premier Jameson proposes to introduce at the conference: "That the conference should consider the principle of preferential treatment for products and manufactures of the United Kingdom, desiring to be supported by His Majesty's Government the opinion that the continuance of such preferential treatment to British products and manufactures is largely dependent upon the granting of some reciprocal privileges to British colonies."

IMPERIAL DEFENCE. The next thorny question is that of imperial defence on which conflicting opinions are expressed. The inherent difficulty of the problem will be to draw the distinction between Great Britain's position as a world power and as the Mother Country of a great colonial empire. Thus, it will be argued, Great Britain could not expect the colonies to bind themselves to assist her in any European war in which they were not concerned, what at the same time, under existing conditions, any colony could embroil Great Britain in war without incurring any obligation to assist her. The idea is to endeavor if possible to arrive at some agreement or alliance insuring consultation and cooperation in any conflict arising from causes outside of purely European politics, all parties thereto contributing men and money for a common defence upon a population and a revenue basis. Dr. Jameson intends to propose the organization of some plan whereby contributions from each colony should be equitably fixed on the condition that colonies be represented upon the Imperial Council, at which questions concerning the peace of the Empire shall be discussed. Premier Ward, of New Zealand, favors increasing the colonial naval contributions to the imperial defence. Australia is determined to bring up the Asiatic exclusion question, and Premier Ward declared, on being interviewed on the subject, that New Zealand was against the admission of Chinese and Japanese, between whom and New Zealanders he sees the inevitable struggle for supremacy. The Premier said: "We object to being bound by treaties in which we have no voice to admit Asiatics freely."

TREASURE TROVE
PROVED A THEFT

Alleged Finding of Buried Pot of Fivefranc Pieces Agitated Village for Some Time.

LONDON, April 9.—In the Belgian village of Lamplave, in the province of Hainaut, a small tenant farmer named Braye, aroused curiosity and suspicion by spending more money than he had in his pocket, and by what he got with bright five-franc pieces. The local police took the matter up and made enquiries. Braye admitted that he had dug up in a field a pot containing 1,000 five-franc pieces of the time of Louis Philippe. The owner of the land thereupon brought forward a claim for money in the treasure trove to which he was entitled under the Belgian law. Afterwards Braye's father, a man of 78, cleared up the mystery by confessing that when he was a boy of 18 years he had stolen the money and buried it in the field, but became stricken with fear and never ventured to use it. What is left of the money probably will be restored to the heirs of the rightful owner. Meanwhile no action will be taken against the culprit, as the misdeed has long passed the time of liability for prosecution.

PRETTY ROMANCE OF BLACK HILLS

Girl, Disguised as Man, Strikes Gold;
Returns Home to Wed Invalid
Sweetheart.

CROOK CITY, S. D., April 9.—A story has just come to light of a young woman prospector in the Black Hills that fairly sends fiction stumbling after fact. No more picturesque character ever came into the hills, and no more romantic story has ever been told than that which is told of her. The young woman came to the hills wearing male attire and passing herself off as a man, and so clever was her disguise and so skilfully did she carry out the part that no one suspected that she was a woman until she herself let the secret out. After prospecting for gold without success in Idaho, Montana and other western states, she came to the hills last fall to prosecute a search for the precious metal. A short time ago she struck a promising lead in the hills near here, and now it comes to light that her lead has yielded a snug little fortune.

And now, too, she has thrown off her disguise and let her friends and associates know that she is a woman. BACK TO CANADA TO MARRY. She has sold her mine for more money than she ever hoped to have, she says, and has gone back to Canada to marry. She might have realized much more on her property had she chosen to hold and develop it, but she wanted returns from it immediately in order that she might carry out some long-cherished plans. The young woman went under the name of Kingsley Malcolm, when she was prospecting in the west, and masquerading as a man. Her real name is Ethel McNeill and her home is in Winnipeg.

It has leaked out that Miss McNeill used to be a school teacher in Canada, and that when she was teaching school there she became attached to Wilson McWhorter, a young man whom she met at a teachers' convention. Soon after the announcement of their engagement Mr. McWhorter fell ill of consumption and was compelled to give up his work. His loyal young avest heart made up her mind, so the story runs, to go out in the world disguised as a man and seek a fortune in order that she might marry her sick lover and take him to a warm climate where his chances would be much better than they were in the rigorous climate of Canada.

She drifted through the west prospecting for gold. As soon as she sold her mine in the hills near here she returned to Canada to marry McWhorter, whom she will take immediately to New Mexico in the hope of restoring his health.

F. Carleton Peters arrived yesterday from Boston. He had been spending the Easter holidays with his brother, Dr. Martin Peters. Owing to rough weather Mr. Peters discontinued his journey by water at Portland and came on to St. John by rail.

LAST NIGHT'S STORM

WAS A VERY WILD ONE

Wind Blew Sixty Miles an Hour at Lepreaux
 —Very Dirty Weather in St. John.

Those who were unfortunate enough to be on the streets last night, had much difficulty in making progress against the terrible wind which was blowing. Several fences were blown down and a number of signs were torn from buildings by the force of the gale. Yesterday's snowstorm was over at 5.30 o'clock in the afternoon, and for a while the weather brightened and it looked as if a fine night would follow. Shortly after six o'clock, however, rain began to fall and this continued until after midnight. The total rain fall was slightly over half an inch. At 11 o'clock last night a northeasterly gale sprang up and at midnight it was blowing at the rate of 48 miles an hour. The barometer fell rapidly. At or shortly after one o'clock this morning snow again commenced to fall and continued until 11 o'clock this morning, when it turned to a misty rain. The snow which fell yesterday was taken away by last night's rain, and the snow which fell this morning has now been converted into slush which makes the walking very disagreeable.

The highest temperature yesterday was 40 above, and the lowest last night was 30, or two below the freezing point.

St. John did not have the worst of the storm. A regular hurricane was in progress at Point Lepreaux yesterday afternoon. The gale, gathered in the Bay of Fundy and Point Lepreaux was one of the first places to get a touch of the storm. The highest velocity of the wind at that place was 60 miles an hour. The gale subsided there at 8 o'clock last night and worked its way inland, and St. John received the worst of it at 11 o'clock.

The storm signal which was ordered up at noon on Monday, is still displayed. The wind is still blowing from the northeast. The weather brightened somewhat at noon today and cold weather may set in. If so the sand men will be again needed. One year ago today a heavy snowstorm was in progress. It continued until the following day. Four inches of snow fell, which was quickly dispersed by the rain which immediately followed.

CHINESE MUST KEEP THEIR SHOPS CLOSED ON SUNDAYS

Not Allowed to Deliver Goods Hereafter Later Than Midnight on Saturdays.

From the present aspect it seems that in future the citizens who get their washing done in the Chinese laundries will have to get their work from the Chinese before midnight on Saturday, or wait until Monday.

In the police court this morning Sam Wah and Lee Sui were charged by Sgt. Fong with doing business on Sunday, April 7th. The officer laid the charge because he saw a young man come from the store after receiving his laundry. The two Chinese were also engaged in ironing clothes.

H. A. McKeown was in court representing the Chinese and in his opinion a laundryman known as Charlie who acts as interpreter for the Chinese colony. Mr. McKeown explained to the court that the laundrymen were not aware that they were violating the law. They were only washing some of their own clothes, but the shop was used by them for delivering laundry to customers who could not conveniently get their washing on Saturday. There was no objection to being found guilty if the fine was allowed to stand and it could be arranged that the interpreter could go to all the laundries in the city and inform the proprietors that they must keep their doors locked on Sundays.

The magistrate said that as the case rested there was nothing before him and he told the Chinese they could go.

BROUGHT TO THE HOSPITAL WITH AN INJURED FOOT

The ambulance was kept busy answering calls today. It met the Shore Line train which arrived in Carleton early this morning and conveyed Geo. Chambers, one of the passengers, to the hospital. Mr. Chambers had been working in a mill at Musquash, and had his left foot quite badly injured a few days ago. He was obliged to come here for treatment. Just as the ambulance returned from this call it was again summoned to Carleton to convey a sick man from the Lake Champlain to the hospital.

POLICE COURT

There were seven prisoners on the police court bench this morning. Three first offences drunk cases were fined $4 each. John Clancy, the magistrate said, ought to be on the interdiction list. He had to be carted to the police station. He was fined $5 or two months.

Hugh McAdam, a frequent visitor, was sent to jail for two months in default of paying an eight dollar fine. Another drunk left a deposit of eight dollars, which was forfeited.

James McDonald, who came from Glasgow on the steamer Kastalia, and who remained in the city in search of work, was arrested yesterday for trying to work the citizens. Thomas Ryan was arrested for the same offence. He was given a severe lecture and told if he ever came back again he would get nine months in jail.

OPENING OF THE RIVER WILL BE LATE THIS YEAR

Last Season the First Steamer Started on April 11th—The Reach Still Solid.

The record made by the river steamer Hampstead will not be broken or equaled this spring. A year ago tomorrow she sailed up as far as Public Landing. It was the first trip of the season, and the other steamers followed her closely, the Springfield having made the trip two days later. This year it is doubtful if the boats will be able to open navigation before the end of the month. The ice in the reach is about 9 inches thick and heavy rains and warm weather will have to come before the river at this place will be open.

Work is completed on most of the river steamers and they are now ready to get up steam and make a start as soon as the ice moves out.
