VICTORIA COUNTY ELECTION.

Our young but prosperous and important sister County has at length redeemed herself from the imputation of choosing strangers for her representatives. We congratulate her most hearing on the fact, notwithstanding that we do not hold that non-residence should be considered as of necessity and insuperable objection. The telegram elsewhere shows that the choice of the electors has fallen upon Messrs. Daniel B. Ray-mond and John Costigan. We believe both to be good and true men—men who while keeping a careful watch over the interests of their own constituency will also take a fair and indepen-dunt view of the general politics of the Province —men who will be found following subservently wither in the wake of a Government or an Op position, but who whether in support of the Ministry of the day or in opposition to it, will exercise their own judgement as to the policy which the legislature should pursue, and follow out the dictates of that judgement. We look upon them also as men who will not sit quietly by and see the interests of the River Counties neglected to the United States, and of course could not say Tuesday the second day of July next, at noon, with the legislature should pursue, and follow out the dictates of that judgement. We look upon them also as men who will not sit quietly by and see the interests of the River Counties neglected.

that the contractors, Messrs. Walker and Johnstone, are again at work, and that the prospect is that the Road will be opened to Eel River by the first of December, and to the O'Donnei Road, twelve miles from Woodstock, by the beginning of January next. Two trains are constantly employed in ballasting. Next season will see the completion of the Road to the terminas on the Houlton Road. We trust that it will see yet more—that it will see a commencement made unmore—that it will see a commencement made under the authority and with the assistance of the Province for a continuation of the line forward of the 6th inst. His death caused a prefound sentowards Canada. Another session of the Legislature should not be allowed to pass without lepose we trust that there will be spirit, and energy and independence in the members from the River Counties to bring the Executive to a sense of its duty and if the tenure by which its members hold their positions.

New Publications.—Godey for June we, to curvery considerable regret, did not receive, but Godey for July is already on our table. In illustrations it is even richer than usual. The steel engraving of "The Pisherman's Family," every one who sees it will agree with us in promouncing capital. The coloured "fashion plates contains five figures, and the other plates and cuts are numerous. We find in the copy sent us the following announcement, which we readily copy:

"To meet the times the interest of the positions of the plates and course are numerous, and the interest of the plates and course are numerous, which we readily copy:
