

FUSILIERS ARRIVE AT MILITARY CAMP

Local Regiment is Now Under Canvas

GOOD IMPRESSION

62nd Though Not as Strong as Expected Presents Smart Appearance Plans for Sunday and Dominion Day.

Special to The Standard.

Sussex, June 28.—After three days spent under canvas, the 62nd and soldier lads are beginning to really enjoy camp life. While the long hours of drill in the hot sun are very trying, especially in the new men, all have so adapted themselves to the requirements of a military camp, that little complaint is heard.

At 5:30 the infantry regiments are awakened by the sound of the reveille. There being no artillery camp this year, the time normally consumed in bringing a cannon to position and again to rights out, has been dispensed with. Early as the infantry are out, the cavalrymen have already been astride and have fed their horses. The mounted men are also required to perform on horse foot drill before morning mess and while the dew is still sparkling on the tall grass. At 8:30 all units march off to their respective parades grounded the music of a regimental band.

Until 12 o'clock noon the troops are busy practicing the various movements laid down in the camp syllabus for the day. At stated periods the brigade bugle sounds and a formal review is given by the commanding officer. This is very similar and lasts from 7 to 4:30. At 6 p. m. after mess is over, the non-commissioned officers of each regiment are given instructive lectures on their duties and responsibilities by the regimental sergeant-instructor.

Saturday night at 8:15 the first bonfire and sing song of the year will be given by the C.A.S.C. of the 62nd Regiment at the camp theatre—the well known natural amphitheatre just east of the staff lines. The C.A.S.C. has also challenged the 1st Regiment to a tug of war on Saturday night.

Church Parades.

Sunday morning at 10 o'clock the annual church parade will be held. Capt. Shurman, chaplain of the 62nd Regiment, will address the troops. Capt. Shurman has from Harbord and this being his first year at camp is the junior chaplain in the brigade. The service will take the usual form. On Sunday evening a sacred concert will be given at the camp theatre by the massed bands beginning at 8:15. The Monday morning, July 1st, drill will be taken up as usual. At noon the royal salute will be fired in honor of the birth of the Dominion.

In the afternoon field sports will be held beginning at 3:30. The following events will be pulled off: 100 yard dash; 220 yard dash; 1 mile run; sack race; running broad jump; shot put; 120 yards hurdle race for buglers under 15.

Tuesday evening, July 2nd.—An amateur performance of "The Mascotte" will be given at the Sussex Opera House under the patronage of the Camp Commandant and staff.

Thursday, July 4th at 4:30, mounted sports will be held, including: Half mile hurdle race—N. C. O's and men. Half mile hurdle race—Officers. Alarm race—Open. Victoria Cross race—Open. Cigarette race—Open.

Chaplain, Captain Thomas, of the 73rd regiment arrived in camp today. Among the visitors to the grounds this afternoon was Bishop Richardson of Fredericton.

A cup is up for the regiment making most points in Monday's sports. Three successive winners make the cup the permanent possession of the regiment. Each regiment is allowed to enter only one man for each event.

62nd Arrive.

The 62nd Fusiliers, commanded by Col. McDevitt, arrived by special train at 12 o'clock this morning, drill being over, many officers and men from the regiments already in camp, turned out to welcome them, and took great interest in the smart city regiment as headed by their bands they marched up from the siding to the parade grounds. While not as strong as had been hoped the smart appearance of the boys from the winter port and the music of their brass band in full marching order with haversacks, water bottles and rifles as they marched by elicited favorable comments from all sides. After medical inspection by chief medical officer, Major Foster, the bugle band played the different companies to their respective tents.

At 3 p. m. the Fusiliers made their first appearance on the parade ground, and drilled for an hour.

The camera man and peanut boys have been busy ever since camp opened. Perhaps the most welcome visitor is the newsboy who brings the

BIG SUIT AGAINST C. W. MORSE

The Former "Ice-King" Finds Himself in Difficulties Again.

New York Assets Realization Co. Institutes Proceedings to Recover Million Dollars—Violated His Agreement.

New York, N. Y., June 28.—A million dollar suit against Charles W. Morse, the former "ice king," when President Taft pardoned from serving his term in the federal penitentiary at Atlanta, was begun today in the New York county supreme court by the New York Assets Realization Co. which alleges that Morse is a debtor to at least that amount. United Copper Company stock, about 17,000 shares, figures in the complaint, which states that Morse purchased the stock from Arthur P. Helms with an agreement that he, Morse, was not to sell it for two years.

This purchase, the plaintiff alleges, was made in January, 1907, in October came the panic, and according to the complaint, Morse violated his agreement by selling some of the stock, thereby lowering the market price of the company's common stock and causing a loss of more than $1,000,000 to Helms. The latter has since assigned his claim to the company which is now suing Morse.

SOME COMMON DAY THOUGHTS

"Canada is destined to be the controlling power of the Empire." Earl Grey—29th January, 1912.

We believe in our Country—The Dominion of Canada. We believe in our King, our Flag, our Constitution, our Laws, our Institutions, and the principles for which they stand. We believe in our future—we believe in our vast natural resources from the Atlantic to the Pacific, our great possibilities—yea, our wonderful certainties.

We believe in the Canadian people, in their honesty, integrity, reliability, genius, in their brain and brawn. We believe that nothing can stand in the way of our advancement and prosperity.

The great thing to remember is that we are all Canadians—in our veins runs the blood of many an old and new world nation. We are kin to each and identical with one only. We should keep ever before our eyes the fact that we are British Canadian people, with high ideals and standards. Let us be true to ourselves, for then we cannot be false to any man.

We who live in Canada should be proud of the fact and live so that Canada will be proud of us.

INTEREST IN FARM TRAIN GROWING

Better Farming Special Attracts Many Visitors on North Shore.

Variety and Exhaustive Nature of Display Affords Surprises—Instruction Regarding Injurious Insects.

Special to The Standard.

Dalhousie Junction, June 28.—Interest in the college on wheels as the better farming special has been called, grows from day to day. This has been a very busy day for the visitors and for those in charge. The train spent the night at Newcastle, and went to Bathurst early in the morning. At nine o'clock the car was opened for inspection and was quickly filled with a crowd which evinced the deepest possible interest in what they saw and heard. The school children were given a half holiday and accompanied by their teachers visited the train in masses. Farmers and others had come in for several miles around, and fully eight hundred people passed through the car in the morning.

Five lectures were given in all at this place, each on a topic of practical interest to farmers. Leaving Bathurst at noon the train proceeded to Naashe's Creek, where another large crowd awaited it and where much interest was displayed in the various exhibits and addresses. Great surprise is shown on all sides at the variety and completeness of the displays which the department of agriculture has assembled for inspection and the education of the people. Many had regarded the project of taking education to the farmers more as a joke than as a practical scheme, but doubters are silenced once they have visited the train. Should the experiment be repeated another year farmers will avail themselves of its advantages.

Charles was the last place visited today, and here the successes of earlier in the day were repeated. It is especially gratifying to see the large numbers of school children visiting the train and receiving the instruction imparted by the various experts in charge. Naturally the children take the deepest interest in the displays of insects and mounted specimens, weeds and grasses. The information they received regarding injurious insects, methods of their destruction and prevention, and also regarding noxious weeds must be of incalculable value to the province.

After the exhibits tomorrow at Campbellton and Dalhousie Junction the train will be passed over to the care of the Quebec government.

Hon. Dr. Landry, who has accompanied the train for the past few days left it at Bathurst today and returned to his home.

DEMOCRATS DRAW UP PLATFORM OF PARTY

FIND LEAK IN DETECTIVE DEPARTMENT

Court Looks for Source of Information Appearing in Press.

Ex-General Manager of Farmer's Bank Difficult Witness in Nesbitt Case and Nearly Lands in Jail.

Toronto, June 28.—Although a motion was made to commit him for contempt of court, W. R. Travers, ex-general manager of the Farmers' Bank today refused to divulge to Sir William Meredith, government commissioner investigating the causes of the failure of that institution, where the proceeds of a $2,000 cheque marked "C" went. Sir William told him that he had the power to commit him to jail permanently until he answered the question, but Travers remained silent.

Efforts were made by Sir William and crown counsel holdings to find where the leak in the detective department was, whereby newspapers came into possession of certain documents. Walter Duncan, inspector of detectives, contradicted the evidence of Stewart Lyon, assistant editor of the Globe when the latter said he saw papers in Duncan's office over the latter's shoulder.

The matter of Dr. Nesbitt's escape was also inquired into. The commission did not quite clean up all the business today and a further sitting which it is not expected will last more than an hour, will be held tomorrow.

REPUBLICAN TARIFF SYSTEM CONDEMNED

WANT LOWER DUTIES

Lay Blame for High Cost of Living on Political Opponents and Suggest Remedies—President Taft Scored.

Baltimore, M. D., June 28.—Of the various votes taken at this evening's session of the Democratic national convention, Champ Clarke made slight gains, but at a late hour had failed to secure the two-thirds vote necessary for his nomination. Supporters of Bryan still expressed confidence that the protracted deadlock would eventually force the Democrats to nominate the veteran presidential candidate a fourth time.

The official platform of the party as expressed tonight, is strong in its condemnation of the Republican tariff programme.

The representatives of the Democratic party of the United States, in national convention assembled, reaffirm our devotion to the principles of democratic government formulated by Thomas Jefferson and enforced by a long and illustrious line of democratic presidents.

CANADA WILL KEEP BUNKER HILL TROPHY

Captured Cannon Will Not Be Returned, Says Col. Hughes.

Ottawa, June 28.—There will be no surrender of the Bunker Hill gun, Col. the Hon. Sam Hughes having declined to accede to the suggestion of the Massachusetts Peace Society that the trophy be handed back.

What happened was that Col. Hughes raised the question of exchange of trophies, a species of reciprocity in captured cannon, flags, etc. and that the American assistant secretary of war, General Oliver, expressed no disposition to accede. Thereupon Col. Hughes failed to see the point of an unreciprocated surrender.

General Oliver in his communication said that a certain number of British guns, largely trophies of the revolution are in the custody of the war department, that others are at various army posts where some of them form parts of monuments and some of them have been built into structures, and that other again, by act of congress have been bestowed upon states of the union.

It thus would be impracticable to collect them, while in addition, a certain number would be necessary and any steps leading to the restoration of that which would have to be organized through diplomatic channels. The diplomatic channels will not be moved.

PREMIER FLEMMING ATTENDS SESSION OF THE INSTITUTE

Teachers Hear of Efforts Exerted by Government to Advance Interests of Education in Province.

Special to The Standard.

Fredericton, June 28.—The sessions of the Educational Institute which have been in progress here during the past few days were brought to a close this afternoon. The chief incident of the closing session was the visit of Premier Flemming, accompanied by Provincial Secretary McLeod, and the adoption of a number of resolutions.

Premier Flemming and the provincial secretary were introduced to the session by Chief Superintendent W. S. Carter. Both the premier and provincial secretary delivered brief addresses. In their remarks they referred to the successful efforts of the government on behalf of the teaching profession of the province, by assuring the members of the profession through the pension act, and they assured the convention that the aim of the government will be to give every possible aid towards an advanced educational policy, and to advance the interests of the members of the teaching profession.

At this afternoon's session a committee on text books was appointed and is composed of the following: Dr. H. S. Bridges, H. H. Haggerman, G. J. Oulton, Miss Erle Barton, Miss Annie Hea and Dr. H. V. B. Bridges.

Several resolutions were adopted by the convention. Complimentary resolutions were tendered Dr. H. V. B. Bridges and Chief Superintendent W. S. Carter. Dr. J. R. Inch was elected a life member.

Another resolution was passed expressing the convention's opinion on the advisability of inserting a disability clause in the Teachers' Pension act.

The sixth Institute which closed this afternoon was one of the most successful ever held in the province. The attendance was large and many matters of interest and importance were dealt with.

RECORDS TELL AGAINST THAW

On One Occasion He Had to be Carried to His Room and on Another He Assaulted Patient.

White Plains, N. Y., June 28.—Harry K. Thaw's record during his confinement at Matteawan, was spread upon the record by his counsel, Clarence J. Shearn, during the progress this afternoon of the hearing on Thaw's application for release from the asylum.

Part of the record was a comparison of Thaw's mental condition with that of the average normal person of his age. It related further to Thaw's manner, conversation on his acquittal and other subjects. One day's record, signed by Dr. Amos T. D. Baker, reads: "Thaw is very fond of cards and gets angry when his partner makes a mis-play. Last night he called his partner a dunce and an ass. Today found him laughing over the funny page of a copy of the New York Sunday papers."

One portion of the record as read by Mr. Shearn showed that on one occasion Thaw sat on the tile floor, refused to go to his room when requested, and had to be carried helplessly, struggling and protesting. Another time was that Thaw struck a patient and knocked him down.

DISASTROUS FIRE AT POINT AUX TREMBLES

Damage May Amount to Hundred Thousand Dollars—Convent and School Buildings Were Saved.

Point Aux Trembles, Que., June 28.—Damage estimated at between $75,000 and $100,000 was done by a fire which broke out here late this afternoon and raged until eleven o'clock this evening. Fifty buildings mostly residences and small shops, were destroyed and two hundred people are homeless. The insured is very small. At one time it was feared that the entire village was doomed as a high wind was blowing, but the timely arrival of a section of the Montreal fire brigade and three fire tugs belonging to the harbor commissioners of Montreal, finally checked the progress of the flames.

The local fire fighting equipment was quite insufficient, but the village fire did good work under the direction of the parish priest and curate in saving the church, school and convent and other of the principal buildings.

The cause of the fire which had its origin in a house on St. Jean Baptiste street is still unknown. Once started, it spread rapidly through the wooden buildings devastating both sides of the street. There has been no rain here for a week and the stores and houses burned fiercely.

At first all was confusion but Fathers Roussin and Morin, parish priest and curate respectively, rapidly organized the frightened villagers and formed a bucket brigade which managed to save most of the principal buildings.

The homeless are being sheltered in the larger buildings which were saved.

The morning papers with news of the world at large and more particularly news from the home town.

The cool weather of the past two days has reduced the number of patients at the hospital. Several were discharged today. Capt. Sherman, chaplain of the 47th, who was taken to the hospital yesterday suffering from a severe chill is reported improved. Private McVicker of the Dragons is also improving slowly from injuries sustained from a kick several days ago.

The Y.M.C.A. is as popular as ever. Tonight's meeting was addressed by Capt. MacDonald, chaplain of the 71st Regiment.

TRAVELLERS' DAY IN OLD HOME WEEK AT RAILWAY TOWN

Baseball Attraction Proved Somewhat Disappointing—Nova Scotia Came Out on Top—Entertained Friends in Evening.

Special to The Standard.

Moncton, June 28.—This was commercial travellers' day in the Old Home Week and they made a noise something like a real celebration. They came to the number of about two hundred and proceeded to a good parade in the morning. In the afternoon they had another in decorated automobiles and proceeded to the athletic grounds where Nova Scotia was pitted against New Brunswick in a baseball game.

The Scotians won, 17 to 13, and while some of the players showed that they had been some class in their younger days, the game was more funny than scientific. The players lined up as follows: Nova Scotia, Brown, Neal Dakin, Yearley, McDonaid, Hoyt, Smith, Walker and Arthur. For New Brunswick, Hazen, Simmons Taylor, Day, Wilson, Bray, Tibbits, Larson and Gilmore.

The knights of the grip made the curling rink their headquarters and tonight they are assembled with their late friends for social enjoyments.

AGRICULTURAL DEVELOPMENT.

Few people in New Brunswick have any real conception of the agricultural possibilities of this Province. Even the farmers themselves, who ought to be well informed as to the capabilities of the soil which they cultivate, fail to realize what the future has in store for New Brunswick when better and more economical agricultural methods than those at present in vogue prevail. The older farmers have been slow to grasp the true meaning of scientific farming. They have been too eager to push aside all suggestion of change and continue in the old rut of their fathers and their grandfathers. But there are signs of a change since it has been discovered that, after all, the scientific methods of today are only the old methods employed in a different way and produce much better results with less labor.

Every year an increasing number of young men bred on the farm are taking advantage of a short course at an agricultural college, where they not only receive instruction in the best methods of agriculture, but are also taught how to apply this instruction practically. Every encouragement is given the young farmers by the Government to attend these short courses of instruction at the different colleges in the Dominion, and it is satisfactory to note that every year the number who attend is increasing. There is also greater interest felt in the agricultural societies of the Province. There are more of them and they have a larger and a constantly increasing membership. They have considerably widened the scope of their activities and are now doing much more useful work than they formerly did.

One of the greatest difficulties in the development of agriculture in this Province has been the fact that while it is our largest industry, the majority of farmers do something else besides working their farms. This has certainly retarded the growth of agriculture and made the problem of successful farming more difficult. Along the coast they are fishermen and farmers, and inland, particularly along the rivers, they are farmers and lumbermen. If they do not cut lumber on their own account the major part of their work, more or less, for the lumbermen.

The vast forest preserves of the Province have done much to assist agriculture by furnishing a ready market for farm products, but by detracting the farmer's attention from his farm, lumbering has delayed the progress of agriculture in New Brunswick and given the Province a set-back of many years. Fortunately for the country its two great industries are being more widely separated every year. Lumbering is not being neglected but more attention is given to farming.

Practical men from outside the Province are quick to discern the agricultural possibilities of New Brunswick and the present neglected opportunities. Farmers plead the labor question in extension of their limited area of cultivation, but farmers are not the only sufferers from a shortage of labor. In fact that question presents greater difficulties in the purely industrial sections than in agricultural districts. The manufacturer, if he is successful, overcomes the difficulty, but the farmer lessens his area of production and operates only such land as he is capable of cultivating with his own labor, united, perhaps, with the labor of his family. While this method prevails progress will be slow.

Lack of capital is another preventative of growth, but there is no instance on record where a prudent industrious farmer has been refused financial assistance by the banks, because he was engaged in agriculture. Go into any branch bank in any small town in the Province and a notice will be seen in some prominent place on the wall that farmers' paper is negotiated on favorable terms. The advertising literature of many large banking concerns also sets forth that they deal in farmers' paper.

All of this indicates that being a farmer is no bar to credit any more than being a merchant or a manufacturer is a means of obtaining loans. Bankers lend money on what they believe to be good security and the farmer has an equal chance with others in getting needed accommodation. A farmer whose business methods are reckoned sound has an even better chance than others to get a loan, for behind him is his farm, which in most cases in this Province is free from encumbrance.

Within the last few years there has been a great awakening among the farmers and the result is everywhere apparent. Without any considerable increase in population in the rural districts there has been an increase of all field crops. There are more horses, cattle, sheep and swine in New Brunswick than ever before. It is not long ago that the number of all classes of live stock was declining, but this has been stopped and there is now an annual increase. This is more noticeable in swine than in the other classes.

Hog products have gained in popularity in recent years and the farmers rear more and better pigs than they formerly did. Sheep-farming, which is quite as profitable as hog production, is increasing also, but not as rapidly as it should with the opportunities that New Brunswick possesses.

The success which has attended the efforts of the present Government to direct attention to the apple growing possibilities of New Brunswick has been marvellous. It was always known that good apples could be grown in this Province, but until a year or two ago Nova Scotia apples had the preference in this market and New Brunswick was a large importer of the fruit.

In the last two years 100,000 new trees have been set out in New Brunswick, and old orchards, that were not considered of much account, have been made profitable. Hard headed business men have looked into the question from a purely commercial standpoint and are convinced that the returns of existing orchards justify their confidence in dividends from the new investment. There is not the slightest doubt that apple exports will, in a few years, exceed in value all other agricultural exports from this Province and that potatoes will be a good second. Poultry raising, which has also been neglected, is coming in for a greater share of attention than it has ever had before and is already proving a source of profit to many farmers.

The interest that has attended the progress of the "Better Farming Special" of the Canadian Pacific Railway Company through the Province, is another instance of the agricultural awakening. The C. P. R., the I. C. R., and the Provincial Government have joined hands to make the trip of this train through every county of benefit to the farmers, and their efforts have been crowned with success. Wherever the train has gone it has been visited by hundreds of interested persons upon whom have been lost the lessons it teaches. The lectures on practical farming have been well attended everywhere, and the interest awakened is shown by the number and variety of the questions asked the speakers.

The last four years have been important ones to the agriculturists of New Brunswick, and what has been accomplished has paved the way to greater success in the future. The country has been given a start ahead and there will be no backward step. There never was a time when the farmers were more prosperous or more ambitious to win from the land the best returns for their labor. Like every other class in the community they put themselves in the march of progress and believe that New Brunswick is a good country for both poor and rich, and that the agricultural growth will be as great as the industrial development during the next ten years.

BRITAIN'S NATIONAL DEBT.

The recent announcement by Mr. Lloyd George that he will devote $25,000,000 out of his $32,500,000 surplus to the reduction of the National Debt, is satisfactory as far as it goes, but it will not go far, as the funded debt of Great Britain, exclusive of the capital of terminable annuities, very nearly amounts to $3,100,000,000.

Conservatives, or the Unionist party, when in power, had a more satisfactory record than Mr. Lloyd George presents, in reducing the country's liabilities. Just previous to the South African War they had reduced the "gross liabilities" of the United Kingdom, including the bonds, to £625,000,000, or about $3,175,000,000, which is almost £100,000,000 less than the total of the same account today. For more than forty years British Governments have set themselves to the task of reducing the gross debt, which in 1857 was nearly $4,200,000,000, and in 1899 was $1,900,000,000 smaller. Ever since the last mentioned year Great Britain has been struggling with the consequences of the South African War. The struggle has not, of course, led to financial embarrassment. It has strained the patience of financiers but not the National resources.

Mr. Lloyd George, with the desire to make as good a showing as possible, may be expected to make the most of the fact that he is able to pay off a fraction of one per cent. of the outstanding obligations. The reduction small as it is, will be considered good campaign material by the Liberals and will doubtless figure accordingly.

WEATHER REPORTS BY WIRELESS.

The proposal for an International North Atlantic weather service, which was accepted at the Radio Telegraphic Congress in London, opens up great possibilities in polling the elements for the benefit of seafarers. As at present formulated, this service would establish a median line through the North Atlantic. From vessels on either side of this would be required a daily weather observation which could be relayed by other vessels to the shore stations of the European or American continents. With these reports as a basis fairly authentic ocean weather charts could be furnished to outward-bound vessels.

The indications are that these ocean-going weather bureaus are the opening chapter of an international marine surveillance of the great routes of travel; later, chapters to include a permanent doryet patrol, an ice patrol, and even a possible policing of the routes to prevent the cutting of courses from one steamship lane into another.

In this proposal, it will be observed, the wireless is again the pioneer. Conceived as a great commercial possibility it is being still further adjusted to increase the safety of ocean travel.

INSANITY NOT INCREASING.

The general impression that insanity is on the increase is not supported by a recent article by Dr. F. W. Mott in the British Medical Journal. The increase, it seems, is more apparent than real. Dr. Mott submits that it is often difficult to draw the line between sanity and insanity; but that, as a general proposition, it may be asserted that a person is insane who, by virtue of mental defect or mental disorder, no longer feels, thinks, or acts in conformity with the usages and customs of the society in which he lives.

The conclusion that the great increase in insanity is rather apparent than actual is based on three reasons, as follows: First, the standard of sanity has been raised. Large numbers of harmless idiots and weak-minded persons who formerly were allowed to roam at large are now gathered into asylums. Second, the death rate having diminished in recent years, there is a tendency to fill the asylums with chronic incurable cases. Third, many aged persons suffering from dementia, who were formerly treated in infirmaries, are now sent to the asylums, where they can receive better care.

No great amount of thought is required to lead to the conclusion that Dr. Mott's position is at least tenable; and, being tenable, it is the most comfortable position to accept and maintain.

The Christian Guardian thinks that the unique holiday of a Methodist minister for four months as a fire ranger in Northern Ontario is just the kind of holiday that many other preachers would enjoy. At all events it is singularly appropriate that a minister should protect us from fire.

When You Buy a KRISTY CASE

It means years of satisfaction. A handsome case that does not work loose at the joints. Plate glass throughout. Easy running doors. A piano like finish that is easy to clean. Kristy cases do not get grimy like cheaply finished cases. The pores of the wood are filled and then varnished so that dirt cannot collect. The wood is stained so as to bring out all its beauty.

CURRENT COMMENTS ON PROVINCIAL ELECTION

NEW BRUNSWICK ELECTION.
(Victoria Colonist, B. C.)
Mr. Fleming's victory in New Brunswick is a triumph of honest and business-like government.

Like Sir Richard McBride in British Columbia, although not on such a large scale, Mr. Fleming made one of the planks in his platform during his campaign a railroad policy the line provided for by the bill to run down the valley of the St. John river. His ready-made farm policy was one which also appealed to people. Most of all, however, the record of the government during the past four years was what led to the immense support he received.

The old coalition government under the successive leaderships of A. G. Blair, James Mitchell, H. R. Emmerson, L. J. Tweedie, William Engley and C. W. Robinson, which was in power from 1882-1908, in the latter year gave way to an administration headed by Mr. Hazen, which has done much for the province in the way of progressive legislation. When Mr. Hazen occurred in Ontario to become Minister of Marine in the Borden government he was succeeded in the provincial premiership by J. K. Fleming. He secured such a notable triumph yesterday.

Liberal Hopes Blasted.
Any hopes which the Liberals of the country entertained as a result of the Quebec elections have received a rude set-back by the verdict of New Brunswick. During recent weeks the defeated Ministers of the former Laurier government and Sir W. Laurier himself have been delivering a number of speeches in which they have predicted a speedy return to power for their party. It is difficult to gather the source of their optimism. Since the Dominion election, Ontario, British Columbia and now New Brunswick have shown that they are overwhelmingly conservative. In their faith to offset this the Liberal government in Quebec made some gains in the election in that province. It is an extraordinary process of reasoning by which Dominion Liberals can reduce hope out of the situation in provincial politics. Indeed, the results in the provinces are any criterion of how the people of the country think in Dominion politics, Mr. Borden's government, if it went to the country tomorrow, would be sustained in power by a largely increased majority.

New Brunswick is to be heartily congratulated on the result of her election. In Mr. Fleming she has a wise administrator, who reacts to the address of the country, and who is giving all the aid that a government can give towards their development along the best and most conservative lines.

TO URGE IMPORTANCE OF SABBATH SCHOOLS

Representation of Presbytery of St. John will visit congregations from Moncton to Cabonoy.

The Presbytery of St. John has concluded arrangements for a tour of almost all of the Presbyterian congregations and mission societies from Moncton to Cabonoy the month of July, in the interests of the Sabbath school work.

Rev. J. C. Robertson, the general superintendent from Toronto, will lend his leadership to the work and will be assisted by the Rev. G. Ferguson of Moncton, and Rev. M. J. McPherson of Harvey.

The tour will begin on Sunday, June 30th, when Mr. Robertson will leave for Moncton on Tuesday, July 2nd, and will be in Fairville on that evening, and will be in Cabonoy on Wednesday evening, July 3rd.

The meetings throughout the Presbytery will continue until July 30th.

It is believed that her husband was working in Madison and was fully capable of supporting the family. An investigation into the case will be held this morning, and if everything proves satisfactory, the party will be allowed to proceed.

BILL OF LITTLE LOCAL INTEREST

Local fish dealers are not interested in the bill before the French chamber of deputies providing that all species of canned fish shall have the name of the country of its origin embossed upon the tin in which the fish is packed.

It is believed that North Shore lobster packers ship a portion of their products to France and they may be affected if the bill is adopted. Very few lobsters are canned in Charlotte county, and the sardine packers of that county only do a small business as yet, and probably do not make shipments to France.

John Jackson, fish merchant in the South Wharf, stated yesterday that when he looked up the matter last year, France was Canada's second customer for canned lobsters. Great Britain being first. The importance of the lobster trade with France may be judged from the report from Halifax stating that there are now $500,000 worth of lobsters en route to France which would be debared, if the bill is enacted.

OPEN VERDICT ON FLAHERTY DEATH
Coroner's Jury Cannot Determine whether Fred Flaherty was a Suicide—Coroner Calls Case Mysterious.

The inquest into the death of Fred J. Flaherty, whose body was found floating in Magee's slip on Tuesday last, was resumed before Coroner D. E. Berryman in the court house last evening.

William Daley, the employer of the young man, gave evidence that Flaherty worked for him for about four years. He smoked cigarettes to the extent of a package per day and worked regularly until about a month ago and then he was not so regular. He was absent minded at times.

Abel Tobin, a shoemaker identified the body by the shoes which he repaired about eight days before Flaherty disappeared.

Stanley Dunn, of Erin street testified that he saw Flaherty on Erin street at 12.20 o'clock Sunday morning, the 9th inst., and spoke to him. Leo Blizard stated that he saw Flaherty on the corner of Union and Charlotte street at 3.30 o'clock on that Sunday afternoon. That is the last time he was seen alive.

Police Sergeant Baxter gave evidence of finding the body floating in the slip. The clothing was disarranged and there was no coat or hat on it. He removed the body to the morgue.

Fearful Injuries.

Dr. Dunlop who held a postmortem examination gave evidence that there was a cut an inch long over the right ear and one four inches long on the back of the head. There was a fracture of the back of the skull about the size of a walnut. The body was badly decomposed and there were signs of hemorrhage. There was some water in the lungs, showing that the man had breathed after getting in the water. Five ribs on the right side and two ribs on the left side were fractured. The fracture of the skull was caused by some blunt instrument and the fracture of the ribs might be caused by a fall and by coming in contact with a hard substance. The injuries he had received were enough to have caused death and it was shown that the man had been in the water but a short time before he died.

William Flaherty, a brother of the deceased gave evidence that his brother was of a nervous disposition and had lapses of memory at times. He was temperate and regular in his habits and was always home early every night.

He knew no reason to give why his brother should injure himself. His brother had stated that he was thinking of jumping over the back of the fence that he laughed at the remark. His talk was never taken seriously. W. E. Rhea and Samuel J. Parson gave evidence that they were with Flaherty on the Saturday night previous to his disappearance and that he appeared to be all right.

DR. TRUEMAN GAVE LIFE FOR FRIENDS
St. John Man was Drowned in West while Attempting to Aid His Friends to Escape.

As was surmised by his friends, Dr. J. Douglas Trueman, of this city, who was drowned in Steep Rock Lake in the Rainey River district of Ontario, while on an expedition for the Dominion geological department, gave up his life for his companions' lives.

Further details of the tragedy were reached by telegram yesterday when Dr. R. W. Brock, director of the geological department, wired to the effect that at the time the accident occurred Dr. Trueman was in a canoe with Dr. Walcott, secretary of the Smithsonian Institute, and a young man named Knox, a second year student of Toronto University. Dr. Walcott was unable to swim and Knox was not familiar with the handling of a canoe.

When the canoe upset Dr. Trueman and Mr. Knox rescued Dr. Walcott and helped him to the overturned canoe. It was for help that Dr. Trueman went for help. Knox at the time the craft in its waterlogged condition would not support the weight of the three men. Dr. Trueman bravely decided to swim ashore. He was going strongly without signs of distress, when the two on the canoe heard him call for help. Knox at once started to his assistance, but arrived too late and Dr. Trueman sank in 30 fathoms of water, with a heavy pack on his back.

"Greater love hath no man than this, that a man lay down his life for a friend."

FISH PRICES HIGH AND MAY GO HIGHER
Bad Weather Has Interfered with Catch and Supplies of Fresh Fish in Stock are Very Limited.

Prices of fish at the present time are high in St. John with prospects of further increase. There has been a good deal of bad weather this season which has interfered with fishing operations in the Bay of Fundy and in the intervals during which the fishermen have been able to keep on the grounds, the catches have been light.

Most of the dealers have small stocks on hand.

The cod fishing in the bay has been particularly bad, and as the season for cod in this section is about over, it is probable supplies will have to be sought elsewhere. The bank fishermen here Nova Scotia have made fair catches so far this season, and in Norway the fishermen have made a phenomenal catch, amounting, it is reported, to 70,000,000 kilos against an average in past years of 30,000,000 kilos.

The harbor fishermen of St. John have done very well this season. They have made fair catches of salmon, gaspareaux, and the Lorneville fisherman have made fair catches of salmon.

BASEBALL TODAY AT 3 O'CLOCK

The second game of the series between the Marathons and the Fredrickton team will be played this afternoon on the Marathon grounds commencing at 3 o'clock. The game will afford the fans the first chance to get a glimpse of Winkler, the new pitcher, who arrived yesterday. Winkler will be on the mound for the Greeks and McGovern on the receiving end. There will be no other changes in the line-up with the exception that Chek Frazer will be in left field in place of Larry Connolly. Pinkerton remaining on second base. Reube Crum will pitch for Fredrickton and as he proved a puzzle to the Greeks on the occasion of his other games here it is felt by the admirers of the Fredrickton team that if he is going right he should pull out a win today.

On Monday there will be two games between the Marathons and the Fredrickton team. The Woodstock team has been strengthened during the last few days and is now making a great fight with the Greeks for second place. Larry Connolly will catch the morning game for the Greeks and the pitchers will be Fredrickton's Winkler and Taylor or Sweet. It is hardly likely that Winkler will be worked again on Monday after the game of yesterday. The Greeks have a busy week ahead and in the form the team is in at the present time it is expected they will call for help. Knox at once started to his assistance, but arrived too late and Dr. Trueman sank in 30 fathoms of water, with a heavy pack on his back.

BOMB WELLS KNOCKED OUT BY AL PALZER

New York, N. Y., June 28.—Al Palzer, the local heavyweight with white hair, today knocked out Bombarlier Wells, the heavyweight champion of England in the third round of a scheduled 10 round bout in Madison Square Garden tonight.

so far this season, and in Norway the fishermen have made a phenomenal catch, amounting, it is reported, to 70,000,000 kilos against an average in past years of 30,000,000 kilos.

The harbor fishermen of St. John have done very well this season. They have made fair catches of salmon, gaspareaux, and the Lorneville fisherman have made fair catches of salmon.

FLYNN-JACK JOHNSON FIGHT TALK

Las Vegas, June 28.—Jack Johnson today finds himself handicapped in his final training for the fight by lack of sparring partner. Geo. De Bray has wrenched a knee; Marty Cutler cannot stand the wear and tear of ten rounds daily which Johnson says he needs to get into proper shape and Rastus Reapers is too badly battered to give the champion enough ring work. Johnson is doing long stretches of road work, and declares he does not mind letting up on boxing for a few days before the fight. With the big event only six days away, Johnson is being groomed by Tom Flanagan, of Toronto, and is in the ring at 212 pounds, and Flynn is around the 194 mark. Yesterday was a day of comparative idleness in the Flynn camp, the Puchly man contenting himself with a 12 mile road run in the afternoon. Today Flynn resumed his routine of gymnastic and road work with a stiff boxing programme scheduled for late in the day. The Johnson camp promised to be the scene for fight fans today and Saturday. Johnson having announced that he would give $200 to any aspiring heavyweight who would survive a two round bout with him. Advance reservations indicate that the arena which seats 17,500, will be filled to capacity July 4.

JOHNSON WILL KNOCK HIM OUT WITH THAT RIGHT UPPERCUT!

Special photograph made for this article, showing Champion Johnson using deadly right uppercut at his training quarters in Chicago.

BY JOHNNY KILBANE
Featherweight Champion of the World

Jack Johnson so far outclasses Jim Flynn that if they fight, there can be but one result—Johnson will win in any round he chooses—providing the fight isn't a frame-up.

Flynn knows little but slug, slug, slug.

Johnson hasn't an equal as a ring general. He's cool and crafty. He won't get a jab until Flynn is paralyzed.

In the latter case there won't be much doing in the early rounds, except Johnson's jabbing to get Flynn mad. And when he does this the fun will start—and Flynn's finish will be in sight. He will start swinging, rushing like a mad bull to reach Johnson's body and he will be stopped at every turn. The more Flynn rushes the wider will be Johnson's grin. With his great reach he can keep Flynn at arm's length.

Every time Flynn tries to mix it he'll get a jab that will shake him to his heels. Johnson's favorite punches are a left jab and a right uppercut. He'll jab until Flynn is weak and if he wants to knock him out he will use that right uppercut.

For this reason it was felt that it would be unwise to make any change in the section of the constitution covering such cases as it stands at present. Mr. Shaw admitted the justice of this view and the matter dropped.

KILBANE WRITES FORECAST OF JOHNSON-FLYNN FIGHT

MEETING MOST HARMONIOUS

The meeting was a most harmonious one and the visitors are loud in their praises of the hospitality of the Houlton representatives who placed the "Eika" handsome clubhouse at their disposal for the meeting and strove in other ways to make their visit a very pleasant one.

At the meeting Mayor W. S. Hooper, of Fredrickton, presided and the club representatives were: Fredrickton—W. S. Hooper and J. J. McCaffrey; Woodstock—Dan McMahon; Marathons—D. B. Donald and A. E. McGinley; Houlton—Herschell Shaw and Charles McCluskey.

NASAL DISCHARGE PROVES CATARRH IS ACTIVE

THE PURE BALAMIC ESSENCE OF CATARRHOZONE AF-FORDS SUREST AND QUICKEST CURE

Catarrhozone is certain to cure because its healing power is carried with the breath direct to the seat of the chest, nose or throat trouble. Being composed of the purest balsams and pine essences, it immediately allays irritation, soothes and stimulates the lungs and bronchial tubes. The marvel of the age in curing winter catarrh is that what thousands say about Catarrhozone. There is nothing so sure to cure, and to those in fear of changeable weather—those who usually catch cold—those who work among lung-chilling surroundings, or where dust, impure air, fog, or damp can affect them—let them get Catarrhozone and use it several times daily—it will cure every time.

BAD CASE CURED IN TWO DAYS.
"I was unfortunate enough to catch a bad cold from sitting in a draught in my bare head," writes Miss N. E. Jamieson, well known in St. Grand, N. B. "An acute condition of catarrh developed in my nostrils for three days my eyes and nose most copiously. The usual remedy entirely failed to relieve. I read in the Mirror newspaper about Catarrhozone, and sent to Smith Bros. store for a dollar outfit. In five days Catarrhozone cleared out my nose, cured the sneezing, coughing, and it was gone."—N. E. Jamieson.

Large size Catarrhozone, sufficient for two months' use, guaranteed, $1.00; smaller sizes 25c and 50c. Beware of imitations, and substitutes, and insist on getting "Catarrhozone" only. By mail from the Catarrhozone Company, Buffalo, N. Y., and Kingston, Ont.

IMPORTANT LEAGUE MEETING HELD IN HOULTON YESTERDAY

A meeting of the executive of the New Brunswick and Maritime League was held in Houlton yesterday afternoon when several matters which have been agitating the different clubs were taken up and disposed of. The most important business transacted and which affects the St. John team more particularly was the decision to increase the salary limit of the teams in the league from $1000 per month to $1150.

This will permit of an even faster class of baseball than has been played so far and will give the patrons of the game more action for their money.

The proposal to increase the limit was made by the St. John representatives at the meeting and was supported by Fredrickton. Houlton at first demurred, while the Woodstock representative said he had authority to go to a certain limit, but it was not as far as the St. John and Fredrickton representatives desired. Finally the sum of $1150 was named as a compromise and it was understood that should cover the salaries of all the players on the team. No extra allowance can be made to a playing manager but the clubs were authorized to pay additional sums to a manager provided he was not a playing member of the team.

The salary list of $1150 is the largest which has been permitted since the league was formed and should result in making the games faster than they have been.

To Eliminate Profanity.

Another decision reached and one which will do much to elevate the game, was that profanity on the ball field must be eliminated. Complaining words made by players in some of the teams had been guilty of unbecomingly language greatly to the disgust of patrons. The league executive decided that the patrons of the game should be protected in this regard, and a motion was adopted under which all team managers must notify their men that the use of profanity on the field will render them liable to fines. The time is to be strictly by the manager immediately upon any infringement of this rule being brought to his attention. The amount of the fine is in the discretion of the manager up to the sum of $5 for each offence, but the fine must be collected at once.

The Neptune-Fredette Fines.

The fines struck against Joe Neptune of the Houlton team, and Bobby Fredette also of Houlton, for unruly conduct on the field in the recent game with Woodstock, were reported as not collected, and the management of the Houlton team was instructed to collect them at once, as the league management is determined to keep the standard of the game high and to maintain absolute order on the field.

A dispute regarding a rain guarantee of $500 due from the Fredrickton club to Woodstock was considered, and ordered paid.

Frank Harrington's Case.

The Fredrickton representatives asked for a ruling from the league as to which team had the call on the services of Frank Harrington, the Wakefield, Mass. pitcher, who at one time pitched for the St. Peter's team in this city. Evidence was submitted from Fredrickton and Woodstock and the league decided that no team in the league has any call on Harrington and that player was free to sign with any team securing his services.

It is understood that Fredrickton will act at once on this decision and it would not be surprising if the Wakefield man joined P. J. Dugan's squad very soon.

In connection with the new salary limit it was decided that the teams should be given until July 10th to get down to it and that date afterwards as to the total salary list for players on each team must be filed with the secretary of the league. Three of the four clubs represented expressed dissatisfaction with the work of Umpire Duffy, but the league decided to take no action for test days.

A Hypothetical Case.

Herschell Shaw, of Houlton brought up the section of the league constitution which provided that before a team can sign a player released by any other team in the league the consent of all other teams must be obtained. Mr. Shaw wanted this

DOCTORS COULD NOT HELP ME

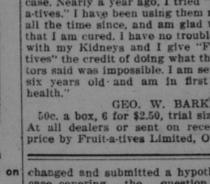

"Fruit-a-lives" Cured Me

Mr. Geo. W. Barkley, Chesterville, Ont., Jan. 25th, 1911.

"For over twenty years I have been troubled with Kidney Disease and the doctors told me they could do me no good. They said my case was incurable and would suffer all my life. I doctored with different medical men and tried many advertised remedies, but there was none that suited my case. Nearly a year ago, I tried 'Fruit-a-lives.' I have been using them nearly all the time since, and am glad to say that I am cured. I have no trouble now with my Kidneys and I give 'Fruit-a-lives' the credit of doing what the doctors said was impossible. I am seventy-six years old and am in first class health."

changed and submitted a hypothetical case covering the question. He thought that if Houlton for instance wanted a player which the Marathons were willing to release, it was unfair to make the trade conditional upon the sanction of Fredrickton and Woodstock being obtained.

Others present pointed out that such a situation might arise if the Houlton and Fredrickton teams were fighting it out for the pennant at the end of the season and any one of the two teams were hopelessly beaten. In this event St. John or Woodstock might have a player who was superior to anything in the league in a certain position and being unable to win themselves might be willing to permit this man to go to strengthen the Houlton team in order to beat Fredrickton out or vice versa. For this reason it was felt that it would be unwise to make any change in the section of the constitution covering such cases as it stands at present. Mr. Shaw admitted the justice of this view and the matter dropped.

The Tudhope "The Car Ahead"

This Car is Guaranteed for Two Years

If we did not know every pound of steel that goes into Tudhope Cars; if we did not make every part of our motors, and running parts; if we did not machine them, and grind them to the most exacting specifications in our own shops; we could not issue the liberal guarantee that goes with Tudhope Cars.

That guarantee is our assurance to the Tudhope owner that we have used the utmost care in building his car. It says that experienced men have watched every piece of material, as it passed through each process of milling, grinding, and polishing until, leaving our manufacturing department, it was ready to be assembled into the Tudhope Chassis.

Visitors to the Tudhope factory are surprised to see that we manufacture our own motors. Boring the heavy motor castings is a most important operation and one we feel we must do in our own shops. To ensure absolute alignment of the cylinders we bore them at one operation. We could buy these castings already drilled and ground—but if we did, we could not deliver a car as well balanced or as dependable as the Tudhope. We would not have absolute control over the construction. We could not avoid the possibility of variation in size nor the use of inferior material—we could not GUARANTEE IT FOR TWO YEARS.

To be sure of a finish that will last through sun and rain, we build and finish our car bodies in our own factory. We also do the nickel-plating on all the metal parts, so that we can watch and inspect them and know that they will not wear off quickly in service.

In those parts, such as the magnets, tires, lamps, rims, etc., which we do not make, we use the very highest type obtainable. This one can verify by comparing Tudhope equipment with that of high-priced cars. The Bosch Dual High-Tension Ignition is the best system we know. Continental Demountable Rims—Truffault-Hartford Shock Absorbers—Gray & Davis Lamps—Stewart Magnetic Speedometers are not found on any but the best cars.

GREEKS DEFEAT FREDECRICTON; HOULTON WIN FROM WOODSTOCK

It was plainly seen yesterday afternoon that George Winters and his Greeks have been getting in some good batting practice, and as a result they pounded Bates and Brown of Fredericton for 16 safe ones, with a total of 24 bases, and won the game on the Marathon grounds by a score of 12 to 0.

There was a good crowd present, and Chick Fraser, who arrived yesterday, was given an ovation when he went on the diamond. Winkler, the new pitcher, was also on the field, and looks like real goods, although he was not playing in the game.

Larry Connolly's place in left field was taken by Fraser—Connolly was the star catcher for the Greeks last season, and is a good ball player, and he showed up well yesterday while practicing with the team.

The visiting team went to bat first, and the manner in which they started in it looked as if they were going to have a walk over. In the first inning they had three singles, a two bagger, a base on balls and a bad throw by Tarbell resulted in four scores. In this inning the Marathons were blanked.

In the second inning a base on balls and a two base hit gave the team from the Capital their fifth and last run, and for the next seven innings they did not get but one man past first base.

The Greeks started in to bat in the second, and by the aid of four hits and a poor throw of Daggan from centre field to third base gave the home players three runs. After a base on balls and a hit had been made off Bates in the third inning Bates was benched, and his place was taken by Brown. This did not stop the Greeks from hitting, however, for they found him for two hits which resulted in that many runs.

In the third the Greeks were blanked. In the fourth a two bagger a single and a sacrifice hit, a stolen base and Tarbell being hit by a pitched ball, along with a bad throw of Murray gave the Greeks two runs.

Tarbell was hit on the pitching arm and retired from the game, his place being taken by Sweet.

In the seventh inning three baggers by Winters and Fraser, Williams being hit by a pitched ball, and Sweet getting a base on balls, gave the Marathons four more runs.

A base on balls and two singles gave the Greeks another run in the eighth inning.

Tarbell and Sweet twirled great ball. Joe was only found for five safe hits in five innings and Sweet for one single in four innings. Sweet struck out five men and Tarbell the same number.

The following is the score and summary of the game:

HOW I AM GETTING BONE AND MUSCLE TO WALLOP THAT "WHITE HOPE"

Heavyweight Champion of the World Tells How He is Training and What That Kind of Training Does for a Man.

(Heavyweight Champion Jack Johnson has commenced to train for his match with Jim Flynn, the first time he has been called upon to defend his title since he defeated Jim Jeffries at Reno, July 4, 1910. The men will meet at Las Vegas, N. M., July 4. Johnson's training until recently, has been confined to road work on Chicago streets.—Editor.)

(By Jack Johnson.)
I do not intend to do any training, except road work, for two weeks. I am overweight and my wind is not in good shape. By the time I have been on the road a couple of weeks I will be in condition to take on heavier training.

Road work is great for a boxer. The jogging takes off surplus weight and hardens the leg and back muscles. It strengthens the wind and builds up the endurance.
I have started easily, walking much of the distance for the first few days and only jogging for short distances to bring out the perspiration. Later as my wind improves, and I lose my alderman, I'll speed up until I do most of the distance at a run.
When I can do this without inconvenience I will begin gymnasium work—boxing and toning the medicine ball. I will do most of my boxing when I get to Las Vegas.
The medicine ball is one of the best things to toughen the body to resist blows and strains and put snap into a punch. I will box Flynn at about 215 pounds, and it will be all bone and muscle, too.
My friends need not worry about the distance to be fit. It will be harder for me to get into perfect condition this time than it ever has been before, but I'll be there and right, too, when the time comes.
I'm not worrying over the outcome. Flynn is tough, and he is better than

Special to The Standard.
Halifax, June 28.—A home run by Charley Foley this afternoon in the ninth inning was one of the features of the baseball game between Westville and the Socials. Westville was victorious after a hard fought contest, score 5 to 4. Both sides put up a good brand of ball and the result was in doubt right up till the ninth inning. An incident of note occurred towards the latter part when McLaughlin of Westville was declared out by Umpire Power. A verbal argument ensued between player and umpire, which resulted in McLaughlin being escorted off the field and out of the grounds by two policemen. Later he returned.
At Stellarton the Standards of Halifax defeated Stellarton 2 to 1.

When I beat him before, but he will have to be a lot better than I think he is to defeat me. I'm not going to take any chances with my title and haven't the least doubt that I will leave the ring July 4 carrying it with me.

GOOD WORD SPOKEN FOR THE OFT-MALIGNED COMPOSITOR

Held up as a Man of Feeling and Termed Greatest Living Exponent of Stoic-Epicurean Philosophy.

By John Hunter Sedgwick.

Some time ago in an article about the proofreader it was said that it were to say a kind word for this poor official, that we determined to have certain commingals of the subject of the compositor. There are more compositors than there are proofreaders, because there are very few men hard hearted enough to be proofreaders, while to the credit of a slandering humanity, it can be safely averred that there are plenty kind and brave enough to be compositors. The compositor is so named because he does not compose, but in many functions has titles playfully unconnected with their functions. On the other hand, the compositor does compose when he is set a compositor and takes to literature as a source of immediate wealth. Every one knows how Franklin, that simple minded philosopher, was a compositor at one time, and then stopped a number of years at the court of Louis XVI, and also applied himself to writing the excellent sayings of Poor Richard. But today our business is with the compositor that has a sterner task for us to put into glowing type the production of the talented writers that give the daily press its success and deserved fame.

The compositor must be more of a stoic than the proofreader: when the proofreader has stubbed his toe against a crumpled rose leaf, he can always ease his feelings by altering the spelling, assassinating a few blameless capitals or letting loose a plump semicolon. The monarch of all he proofreads, prince palatine of paragraphs and lord of initials will not so the compositor, who, with mailed hand upon the hill of his Mergenthaler, must obey orders, wrecking his superior officer's wigs in many a tiny little effort of genius. He is a man of feeling, the compositor, but orders are orders, and he must follow them. This fact has made the compositor what all professional men know that he is, the greatest living exponent of the Stoic-Epicurean philosophy.

Let us illustrate by an example. A very bright young correspondent puts in a thoughtful article on "The Use of Tooth Powder Among Cannibals," in which he takes one or two of those amiable liberties with the English grammar that are sometimes seen even in newspapers. But by accident the proofreader may not have noticed them and lets them pass unscathed. The copy cutters before the compositor, who of course notices these little divergences, as you and we have, reader. (He shares with us a tendency to be always right.) Does he betray any surprise, any indignation at the fortuitous "has went" or an innocent and misguided "is it"? Does the black ink blot escape from his lips or dark color mantle his brow? No. A light irradiates the strong, patient face as he smiles and breathes "However, Comma, which are the first two words of the first line of the compositors' national anthem. He does not lose his temper or worry, but in a large fortitude suffers the offense and thinks about what he shall have for luncheon, if he can get any.

They say that no man is a hero to his valet; those of our readers that employ valets can perhaps tell us whether this be so or not, but one thing is certain, that if literary men are heroes to compositors, then Bacon wrote Shakespeare with unceasing pen. The compositor sees the labored page with its painful writing, interlined, crossed out and changed. We ought to interject that the use of a typewriter obviates some of these phenomena; but then some very good spellers do not use a typewriter, and compositors really prefer hand manuscript, it has so much more character. To resume; the compositor sees the labored page, he sees how many times the distinguished author had to try before he could present to the public the spontaneous flash that is born only of talent; he sees how the writer has put a number of things that he might have put better, he sees all the framework at the back of the scenery, but does this make him bitter? By no means. He retains his genial outlook; he plays baseball and takes an interest in international politics, he is, in him, a compositor, but he is a human being. We would never dare to ask a compositor what he thinks of a piece of copy; we know too well; he regards it with reverence, but he draws the line at admiration, and we cannot well blame him, he lives entirely too near the rose to go into any raptures about a crimson rambler, and we respect his feelings.

There are risks connected with the work of a compositor. Some months ago in a suburban train much used by the most corpulent and serious men of affairs, spectators were surprised and shocked to hear a bank president and the head of a railway company burst into the requisite waltz from "The Rhubarb Bun," the opera that has been played all over Europe and America for six months to crowded houses. But the words of the lilting melody seemed to be: "Delaware's at 98 and Susquehanna a trifle firmer," and da capo. The whole affair was puzzling in the extreme and inquiries were instituted at once. To make a long story short, then, it appears that the compositor that set up the financial column from which these gentlemen were reading is a confirmed lover of light music, and that seated one day at the type-setting machine, into the story of the market he wove the notorious waltz of last night's memories, with the result that one simply must read that!

The Big Smoke. (Philadelphia Post.) Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor, was being discussed in connection with his famous trouble with the District of Columbia courts. "You know," said one member of Congress, "Gompers was once a cigar maker." "From the smoke he raises now," said Representative Sulzer of New York, "you would think his real trade was manufacturing gunpowder."

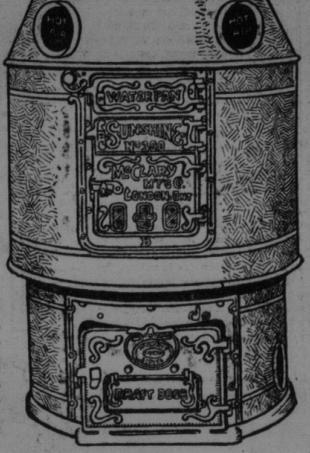

The Understudy of the Sun McClary's Sunshine Furnace

WHEN Old Sol swings low and far away he appoints an understudy for the purpose of keeping Jack Frost where he belongs— Outside.

Years ago McClary's "Sunshine" Furnace, by reason of its marvelous heating capacity and the balmy June air it suffused the house with, was specially appointed Understudy to the Sun. That appointment has been confirmed year after year, and—your "Sunshine" Furnace—Jack Frost's Master awaits your orders for the coming winter.

Remember the past winter—the Frost King was very active — He battered us with a three months' siege of snow and ice — Almost conquered the thermometer by chasing the mercury out of sight. But he failed to penetrate thousands of homes, because the Understudy of the Sun — McClary's "Sunshine" Furnace — was on the job in the cellars of these homes.

It's easy to keep Jack Frost at a safe distance with the "Sunshine" Furnace. He may storm and rave outside, but there is no place for him within—because, the Understudy of the Sun has demonstrated its mastery in the home.

Wind on the Stomach. A Well Known Westerner Tells of Suffering, Misery and Pain That He Cured With "Nerviline." "A few weeks ago I ate some green vegetables and some fruit that was not quite ripe. It first brought on a fit of indigestion, but unfortunately it developed into biliousness, accompanied by nausea and cramps. I was dreadfully ill for two days—my head ached and throbbled; I belched gas continually, and I was unable to sleep at night. A neighbor happened in to see me and urged me to try Nerviline. Well, I wouldn't have believed that any preparation could help so quickly. I took half a teaspoonful of Nerviline in hot sweetened water, and my stomach felt better at once. I used Nerviline several times, and was completely restored."

There is a gay, late, blossoming of summer here in the streets now-a-days. The town is filled with visitors who come to enjoy the delightful summer weather, which so many of us are wont to accept without conscious appreciation. While many of our townsmen leave St. John for the suburbs and elsewhere, the streets appear in no wise deserted, because the yearly increasing numbers of enthusiastic visitors recreate a population. The preparations for Old Home Week augur well for an unprecedented number of returning sons and daughters to the Loyalist City of their birth. The more immediate prospect of the return of a celebrated daughter of St. John has of course awakened very pleasant anticipations and interest throughout the province. What the Jewish boy experiences before leaving Russia for America and what he feels and thinks on seeing his native country again may be appreciated somewhat from the following interview with Hyman S. Ravven, naturalized citizen at the Boston Civic Service House, the sketch being presented as it was given originally, in biographic form, by the author, Mr. Ravven, on returning to Russia, noted a broadening of thought among Jews of the present generation there, but was unable to discover any inducement for them to stay in that country. He found, however, marked improvements in the manner of living among the Poles and Lithuanians who had returned to Russia from the United States.

I was born in Merez, a village in the province of Wilno. My education began at the age of 5. Being a Jew, I was debarred from entering the secular school, so was sent instead to the heder, which was a school but where the rabbi lived and instructed the 15 or 20 children placed under his care each year. He was a tall, gaunt-looking man who carried a strap, and with this he assisted us along the road of learning. First, we were taught elementary Hebrew, then instructed in the five books of Moses. Our hours were from early morning until sundown in summer, and until 10 at night in winter.

At the age of 12 I was ready to begin the study of the Talmud, so I was sent to a nearby town to attend the yeshivah, a higher school than the heder and conducted by several rabbis instead of one. Here, there were between 200 and 300 students, who, according to the custom of those days, boarded on the installment plan with the people of the town. By this I mean that we were apportioned among different families; at other times would be with the same family for a day or perhaps longer. Our curriculum included a study not only of the Talmud but also of history, geography and history, and practise in translating into Russian, although we did not attempt to obtain a speaking knowledge of the language. The rabbis, of course, taught us only the Talmud, and our instruction in the rest of the subjects was obtained from other teachers. I remained at the yeshivah two years, and then went only for the spring and autumn holidays.

Incentive to Learning. If I had not done as many Jewish boys do, I would have stayed longer at the yeshivah and continued my study of the Talmud in one of the synagogues, with the hope of some day becoming a rabbi. These young men who study at a synagogue are called perushim, and they are very much in demand as prospective sons-in-law. Ambitious fathers with marriageable daughters seek these young men out, and the more learning a young man has the more he is desired as a member of the family. After marriage he and his wife live with the wife's family and are supported by her father until the young man becomes a full-fledged rabbi or is able to make his living in business.

After I left the yeshivah I was apprenticed to a jeweler for a month, but I did not like the treatment I received from the older young men in the shop, so I returned to Merez and worked as an assistant in my father's general merchandise store. My position here was not distasteful to me but I had no intention of keeping it permanently, for already the desire for travel had begun to stir me and I longed to come to America. My three older brothers had already gone there and their letters were a constant stimulus to me to follow.

But as in the case of my brothers, so with me, it was far more than a wish to see the world which was influencing me to get out of Russia. If I stayed I should ultimately have to settle down to the monotony of existence in a small town. There would have been no opportunity for growth, for in Russia all avenues to professional, government positions or higher education are closed to the Jewish young man. He can live and travel only within a limited area, and is shut within a pale which is already over crowded and poverty stricken. Even in the pale he is driven from the villages and cannot own land and only such occupations as crafts and small trading are open to him. In addition, he is hemmed in on all sides by his traditional religion, which he finds too exacting.

There was still another reason, however—the strongest reason of all, perhaps—which made me dread to remain in Russia; if I stayed, I would at the age of 21 have to go into the army (cloves are never taken into the navy) and serve for a period of at least three years and eight months. During this time of captivity I would be learning nothing that would aid me professionally; being a Jew, I would never be permitted any rank save that of a common soldier, and I would be earning only 2 cents a day. I could avoid conscription only by disabling myself, as many young men do, but I did not wish to resort to such severe measures, so I quickly put aside enough money to pay my passage to America and then told my parents that I was going.

How to get out of the country was a puzzle, but I finally decided to hire out as a laborer on one of the barges which went down our river to Germany. My passport said that I would return to Russia, and I expected to, but not until many years later. My scheme worked successfully and at the age of 15 I arrived in Boston.

Since that memorable day in July 1901, I have seen a good deal of the United States, because I have visited one of my brothers in Chicago and another in Los Angeles. When I landed I could not speak a word of English, so I was taken care of temporarily by the brother who happened to be in Boston; and since then by attendance at evening schools I have acquired sufficient knowledge of the language to fit me for the position I now hold. When in Chicago I studied shorthand at one of the evening schools, and later I passed in Boston the examination for interpreters, which gave me the right to teach English to Russian immigrant pupils. I have done this work for three years in the Quincy evening school, and have also taught immigrant classes for two summers at the Civic Service House.

Return to Russia.

In 1908 one of my brothers and I decided to return to Russia for a visit. For nine days we had to remain in a German village, waiting for a chance to get over the border line. On the other side stood our father with only a chain between us, but we had no passports, so it was impossible to get past the chain. Finally my brother decided to take a passport which belonged to another brother, and I bought a passport for one ruble from a young man who was running away, and went into Russia under his name. We then went into the custom house in the authorized way and paid the duty on those who leave the country without permission. I remember how I trembled lest my deception should be discovered, for that would have meant imprisonment, if not something worse. When asked whether I could write, I did not know what to answer, but finally said I could. It was fortunate that I made this answer, for I learned later that according to the description in the passport I was credited with this ability.

In the customs house we were searched for concealed literature, and at every railroad station our American made grips were regarded with suspicion by every official. Many times we had to open them for inspection. Of course, Russia was not afraid that we were going to blow it up, but it feared that we were bringing in republican ideas set down in print. An English Bible which I had with me was carefully examined and for some time I was in doubt whether it would be allowed to keep it. On every train was a gendarme whose business it was to see that no literature objectionable to the government as read on the train. These gendarmes are not the regular police; they belong to that great spy system which covers the whole length and breadth of Russia and which was organized for the purpose of exercising a close guard against liberal tendencies.

When we got to the town where we belonged we had to pay the local toll, not to molest us, for it is their practise to bring you before a magistrate on the trumped-up charge of having brought the country without permission. After we had paid out fine at the customs house for this very thing we were still in danger of being fined by the magistrate. We stayed in Russia three months, and when we left our escape was again made by the means of the gendarme. In every town and they make it their business to pay the gendarmes along the route and the sentinels on the line to let certain people pass without question. We at last reached the border line, but the sentinel said he had not received his money and so would not let us by. I paid him a tip myself, and then early in the morning, when most of the world was asleep, we ran across the line, as hundreds of people do constantly. When any one is across the Russian guard has no right to attempt to bring the fugitive back.

During my three months visit in Merez I noticed many changes that had gradually been taking place during my absence. We at last reached the border line, but the sentinel said he had not received his money and so would not let us by. I paid him a tip myself, and then early in the morning, when most of the world was asleep, we ran across the line, as hundreds of people do constantly. When any one is across the Russian guard has no right to attempt to bring the fugitive back.

Peasant Life Improving. Among the peasants, who are either Poles or Lithuanians, I observed The Weak, Lame, Aching Back Comes From The Kidneys.

These who have never been troubled with kidney trouble do not know the suffering and misery which those afflicted undergo.

On the first sign of backache Doan's Kidney Pills should be taken immediately so as to avoid days of suffering from kidney trouble.

They go right to the seat of the trouble, heal the delicate membranes of the kidneys and make their action regular and natural.

Mrs. Joseph Throop, Upper Pointe du Lac, N.B., writes: "I cannot speak too well of Doan's Kidney Pills. For two years I was so tired that I was unable to get up more than when I went to bed, and my back was so lame I could hardly straighten up. I took different kinds of medicine, but none of them did me any good until a friend advised me to try Doan's Kidney Pills. I did so, and to-day I don't know what it is to be tired, and my lame back is all gone. I can establish to any person suffering with lame back and the terrible tired feeling."

changes also. Many of them had returned from the United States as these peasants usually do after saving a money, and on coming back they had built better homes than before, houses that were larger and more sanitary than the huts they had formerly been used to in Russia. They no longer kept pigs in the front part of their dwellings, but put up separate buildings for them. They also dressed very much in the American style, and seemed to have no desire to go back to the coarse linen and woolen garments of their earlier days. The women belonging to the families of these returned immigrants no longer went to church barefooted and wearing sheep-skin cloaks.

I saw any number of derby hats, something that had been quite unknown to me in my boyhood days. Life among the peasants under general to be improving, and the change was due, it seemed to me, to the spread of American ideas, and ideals. It is like that this improvement will continue for the peasants will continue to return from America. Their purpose in going is mainly to save money, but they do not as a rule intend to stay permanently, as they much prefer farming in Russia to a laborer's existence in a congested American city. With the Jews the situation is far different; when they go to America they plan to become citizens, since there is no good reason why they should ever wish to return for permanent residence in a country where every official position is closed to them and where they are not even permitted to purchase land.

No doubt he will tire of his toy in a few days, and everything will then return to normal.

May Not Have Drowned. Although grappling operations were carried on all yesterday afternoon and evening in an endeavor to locate the body of Walter Clark, the six year old boy who disappeared on Thursday evening while playing about the wharves at Indiantown, no trace of the missing boy was found. Hope is now being held out that the little lad may not have been drowned after all. The only thing to give rise to the drowning theory was the fact that the boy's hat was found floating on the water. There is a possibility that he may have stowed himself away in some dark corner of the river boats and been carried up river. If this is so his father will no doubt, receive word in the near future.

GIVES ADVICE TO THE WORKING MEN

Mass Meeting of Unionists Addressed by President of Trades and Labor Congress of Canada.

"There is no need for the workers of St. John to go west in order to improve their condition," said President Watters, of the Trades and Labor Congress of Canada, addressing a mass meeting of workers in the longshoremen's hall last evening. "There were more men out of employment in Vancouver last winter than there were in big cities like Montreal. In Victoria where I have lived for 17 years, there were, when I left, fully 1500 workers out of employment. If 1500 unemployed workers were admitted in St. John, you would soon know it."

"If the workers here stop at home and strengthen their unions, they can get just as good working conditions and as high wages as they do in Vancouver, or any other part of the world. It is not true that the reason wages are high in that city is that the cost of living makes it necessary to pay high wages. The prices of manufactured goods and other commodities are precisely the same here as in Vancouver. Some things are higher in the west, but the difference in the cost of living is not so great as to matter much. The only reason why we have an eight hour workday and high wages, because all the workers are well organized. We found we could not go any further west in search of the promised land, so we got together, put our shoulders to the wheel and fought for better conditions."

Advices Organization.

"My advice to the workers," continued Mr. Watters, "is to organize and work for a general eight hour workday. Never mind the wage question. Give your attention to the question of reducing the hours of labor, and wages will take care of themselves. I was staggered when I came to the Maritime Provinces and found that so many men were working 10 hours a day, and even twelve hours. Our experience out west has shown that the men working eight hours a day do not spend their leisure in dissipation. On the contrary, they spent the two hours in improving their minds, and making themselves better workmen and better citizens, with the result that they take measures to secure a higher standard of living for themselves and their families."

An interesting address.

Mr. Watters, who is a very able speaker, gave a very interesting exposition of the modern labor movement, described its worldwide organization, and claimed that it was the only agency which could secure for the workers their rightful share in the fruits of civilization. Taking up the question of internationalism, he said that for every dollar paid by Canadian members of international unions in dues, they had received from the internationalists at least three dollars to aid them in improving their conditions. He said that the attitude assumed by the workers of Great Britain, France and Germany had prevented war over the Morocco affair.

After the address an interesting discussion followed, in which many of those present took part.

PLAN A BANQUET IN OLD HOME WEEK

Notable Function will Commemorate Formal Opening of Courtenay Bay Work—Federal Ministers to Attend

At a meeting of the council of the Board of Trade held yesterday it was decided to hold a banquet in connection with the formal opening of the work at Courtenay Bay, and to invite representatives of the federal and provincial governments to attend. The banquet will be held on the 10th of July, during the Old Home Week. Hon. W. T. White, minister of finance, who has accepted an invitation of the Norton Griffith people to be present at the formal inauguration of work on the Dry Dock, will, it is expected, attend the banquet, and it is hoped other federal ministers will also come here to share in the festivities. All the members of the local government will be invited to the banquet. While the details of the arrangements for the banquet have yet to be worked out, it is the intention to make it a notable function worthy of the importance of the occasion which it is intended to commemorate.

NO FORUM FOR THE SOCIALISTS

Commissioner Decide Against Application for Open Air Spaces in which to Hold Socialist Meetings.

In reply to the request of the Socialists that the city establish a public forum, the city commissioner has sent a communication to the organizer of the party stating that while they had no desire to prevent any body exercising the right of free speech, they were of the opinion that there were no places in the city suitable for holding open air meetings.

A meeting of the Socialists will be held next week to consider what to do about the matter. They say they know a number of places that would serve them quite well as a forum, but whether they will occupy them and

BAD SIDEWALKS IN NORTH END

Citizens Complain of Conditions There — Say Asphalt Crew Has Disappeared — Commissioner Talks.

A number of ratepayers of the North End have sent a communication to the Standard complaining of the disappearance of the asphalt crew from that section of the city, and stating that there is a growing belief that said crew must have been sent to Italy or Turkey to take part in the war. The communication also complains that unless the commissioners do something with the sidewalks in the North End very soon they will be liable for damage.

When his attention was called to the complaints, the commissioner of public works stated that it was the intention to put on another asphalt crew in a few days. "We are trying to do the best we can with the appliances at our disposal," said the commissioner. "The city's asphalt plant is altogether too small for the requirements, and until we enlarge it, we cannot do so much work as we want to. We are fixing up the sidewalks and crossings as fast as we can, but there is a good deal of work to be done with a limited appropriation, and we can not please everybody at once. I know that there are many places in the North End where the sidewalks need repairing, and I will have the repairs made as soon as possible."
