

Hon. Mr. Fleming said he desired to give honorable members statements of the amounts received and expended in connection with the Jordan Memorial Sanatorium at River Glade. Honorable members all recalled that at the start of the enterprise Mrs. Jordan gave a very valuable property representing many thousands of dollars, but he wished to point out that Mrs. Jordan's giving did not end there in that time the board of commissioners had received a considerable amount of money, as considerable expenditures had been made. Mrs. Jordan has given very generously in the past and she will give more before the whole work is completed and the institution opened, which will take place during the coming summer. The commission never had a meeting with Mrs. Jordan when she did not express a desire to give something more and at the same time make the request that her gifts should not be mentioned in the newspapers. There was but one person, however, who might be displeased at his giving a statement of the money received and that was Mrs. Jordan, who did not desire publicity.

In addition to the valuable gift of property, which might be estimated at from $50,000 to $80,000, and which so doubtless cost a great deal more to establish, many improvements had been undertaken, as follows: Water tower, including fire protection to buildings and grounds, $25,000; power house with electric light and heating plant, also lighting grounds and buildings, $14,000; free ward, $10,000; moving and new foundation for free ward, $10,000; screening pavilions, $105; land, $600 of this amount the government had paid $300; heating cottage now used by hospital, $200; beautifying grounds, $1,000.

Since Mrs. Jordan had given this valuable property to the province she had built three cottages on the property opposite to the sanatorium, which she reserved only a life lease, and at her death these also will become the property of the province. In connection with the placing of the road to the sanatorium in proper condition, Mrs. Jordan proposed also to erect a dam and bridge and it was estimated that these improvements would cost $15,000. Mrs. Jordan had intimated her willingness to pay at least $15,000, and even if the expenditure did exceed that amount he did not think the province could be called upon to make up the difference. There were one or two other items that would aggregate about $4,000. He thought that Mrs. Jordan had given outside of her first magnificent gift, would cost $50,000.

The expenditure by the province up to the present time amounts to $100,047, which amount, however, was in excess of that the province had actually paid. Provision was made for an expenditure of $100,000 in connection with the erection of the Memorial Sanatorium and he did not think the actual expenditure by the province up to the present time would exceed that amount. The commission had undertaken the erection of two pavilions at an estimated cost of $50,000 each. Accommodation is afforded at each pavilion for ten patients.

Mrs. Jordan had intimated that Mr. Jordan's two daughters wanted to bear an entire cost of the erection of a child's pavilion and for the erection of a ward called for tenders for the erection of three pavilions. Last year Mrs. Jordan had paid $2,500 which was an account of work done on the pavilion erected by the two daughters, while since the beginning of the fiscal year another payment of $2,500 had been made. Honorable members would see that the cost to the province could be lessened by the cost of the pavilion so generously given by the daughters.

Mrs. Jordan, however, had not authorized by the province would be completed at a cost of $20,000. On completion of this small cost to the province, New Brunswick will then have an institution of which it is proud. It is true that Great Britain has no surplus of the Zeppelin type, but Colonel Seely says these have been deliberately rejected by the government for various reasons. A curious confirmation of his point of view comes in the news of the wreck yesterday of the great German military airship in America and the fact that it was secured it at a cost which was not one-fifth of the expenditure.

Dr. Morehouse asked in regard to the admission of patients and what fee would be exacted.

Hon. Mr. Fleming said that it had been decided by the board to make a charge of $7 per week, with another $300 for nursing and medical attention. No provision was being made at the present time for parents unable to pay, but it was felt by the commissioners that this provision would be an unreasonable charge inasmuch as it would not be more than one-half of the actual cost of maintaining a patient. It had been suggested that there might be cases where parties were unable to pay the whole of the fee, but who could pay a portion of it, and it seemed to the commissioners that this provision should be made.

Mr. Swin asked whether it is the intention to do away with the chief game warden for the various counties.

Hon. Mr. Fleming said that there were at present now chief game wardens for each county, but that there were four chief game wardens, each with his own district. It was the intention to have one chief game warden for the province and that official was appointed it was his function to consult with him and arrive at some plan which would give more protection for game, for the same expenditure as at present. It was likely that there could be one man in each county to whom the chief game warden could look in connection with the work in his particular county.

Mr. Sheridan thought it would be well to have provisions in the law making it necessary for anybody when putting up a license to take it with him, and also to make it necessary for any hunter to show a license upon demand from any party.

BRITAIN HAS A BIG AERIAL FLEET

Announcement of Secretary for War Stagers Critics of Asquith Government—Have a Gun, Too, That Will Repel Any Attempts of Foreign Airships to Navigate British Air.

(Montreal Witness Cable)

London, March 20—Colonel Seely's reply to the panic-mongers, who have been telling the country that the land defenses of Great Britain have been allowed to go to the dogs, has created quite a sensation in England.

The wall of the inscriptionists, and it must be admitted, of the Conservative party generally, has been that while we have been paying great attention to the maintenance of our sea power, the land defenses have been allowed to become woefully inefficient.

And much repeated assertions that while Germany is forging rapidly ahead in creating battalions of aerial war craft, the British government has almost entirely neglected this important modern development, as applied to military purposes.

It now appears that while the war office has been doing nothing, it has, at the instigation of the government, been busily at work upon the aerial problem. Not only has it got what is claimed to be by far the most efficient type of machine, but it has been made ready for active service.

An Airship Destroyer. Then again, the war office has a new type of quick firing sky gun which it has been completing its approach of an aerial ship impossible.

It is true that Great Britain has no surplus of the Zeppelin type, but Colonel Seely says these have been deliberately rejected by the government for various reasons.

FREDMANN'S PATIENTS JOYOUS AT PROGRESS

Boy Operated on Twelve Days Ago Shows Marked Improvement

His Tuberculous Knee Nearly as Good as New—Shows it to Doctors at German's Clinic—Other Cases Seem on Road to Recovery—Hundreds Plead With Scientist to Treat Them, But Red Tape Prevents Him Doing So—Denies Receiving a Cent from Any One, But Has Refused Many Offers of Money.

Canadian Press. New York, March 20—In the presence of scores of physicians gathered from all parts of the country, many of them representing city health boards, Dr. P. F. Friedmann treated thirty-five patients with his tuberculous vaccine today. Twenty-nine of the sufferers were deformed babies. Before holding his demonstrations the Berlin specialist issued a statement advising out of town persons not to come to New York with the hope of being treated until after the government had passed on his vaccine at the conclusion of his inquiry.

Pathetic Appeals. At the doors of Hospital for Deformities and Joint Diseases Dr. Friedmann was met by a throng of sufferers who implored him to take them with him in out of the rain and administer his treatment with his tuberculous vaccine today. Twenty-nine of the patients he attended, however, were ones already selected, awaiting his arrival at the hospital and he had to force his way gently through disappointed men and women. A mother with a child sank his way knees, holding the baby toward the physician in outstretched arms.

Boy Says He's Cured. During the clinic a seventeen-year-old boy walked into the operating room. He was a patient treated with the vaccine twelve days ago. "Look at my leg," he said to Dr. Friedmann, hating his knee. "When you injected your vaccine I could hardly move. The leg was so swollen. Now I know that I get well."

The boy went through exercises to show the supporters of his vaccine that he had been cured, but generally maintained the composure that had characterized his bearing from the first.

Dr. Friedmann's clinic will be held today at Bellevue Hospital, treating pulmonary cases. Dr. Friedmann has requested government physicians who attended the clinic today to place Dr. Arthur Atkinson, a Wisconsin physician, on the list of patients to be treated at Bellevue. Dr. Atkinson, suffering from pulmonary tuberculosis, came east to urge Dr. Friedmann to treat him.

New York, March 20—Sixteen of the deformed patients Dr. Friedmann treated on March 3 at the office of Dr. George Mannheimer, 41 West Fifty-first street, met the Berlin physician at the same place Tuesday afternoon and every one of them showed marked signs of improvement, according to the physicians present and Dr. Friedmann's staff.

One of the patients who had been suffering from tuberculosis of the knee and who at the time of Dr. Friedmann's injection, could do little more than bear his weight on the leg affected, yesterday was able to bend his knee with ease.

Two patients who had been suffering from rheumatism and had been married before, the bride and groom said they were now secretly aware of pain and that in other ways they had had great relief.

The twelve cases of pulmonary tuberculosis which Dr. Friedmann treated at this time all reported that they felt stronger and physically improved in every way. One especially, who had been in a weak condition when the serum was injected, doubled up his fists, bent his arms to display the fitness of his muscles, and said he had developed such a good appetite that only a good thick steak would satisfy him.

In the case of the man whose knee is affected by actual measurement. And in the case of those suffering from pulmonary tuberculosis the temperature charts showed a condition nearer normal condition.

Marked Improvement in Many. Dr. M. A. Sturm, one of Dr. Friedmann's assistants, who, however, was not with him in Germany, had this to say after the examination: "As the cases came in one by one and reported I could scarcely believe my eyes. They walked with fresh vigor and their color in their cheeks was natural and healthy. The two cases of kidney tuberculosis were so improved that nearly all the pain had gone and their condition was much better in every respect. Never in the history of medicine has such a thing been seen."

Some of the outside physicians who were present to witness the examination said they preferred not to express an opinion on the true significance of the improvement shown in the patients. Among these were Dr. Mannheimer, Dr. Samuel Stern and Dr. S. Kitchner. Dr. Friedmann's two assistants and his brother, however, showed no hesitancy in speaking of what they called the marvelous strides made by the patients. "The Berlin physician himself said: 'Oh, well, I should have been surprised if they had not shown improvement. I have seen so many cases in Germany march along toward good health after my injection that it has ceased to make me wonder.'"

Vienna Government Is Incensed at Balkan Methods

It is Asserted That Allies Are Forcing Catholics to Join Orthodox Church Under Pain of Death—Report That Priest Who Refused Was Beaten to Death.

London, March 20—Austria, possibly with the assistance of Italy, is contemplating isolated action to stop the bombardment of Bosnia, which, it is now alleged, is being directed against the town instead of the fortress, and finally enforcing the power decision that Albania shall be an autonomous state and that Serbia shall remain a part of it.

Of course Montenegro and Serbia will first be given the opportunity of withdrawing from the task of enforcing the power which even after its capture, if it occurs, must, according to the powers be given up by the allies.

Part of the Austro-Serbian fleet has already left for the Montenegro and Albanian coast and, while it is officially announced that the object of the warships is to carry out maneuvers, it is apparent that their presence is designed to impress Montenegro and Serbia with the determination of Austria to prevent the further canonading of the orthodox church of Serbians and to obtain satisfaction for the alleged direct conversion of Catholics and interference with the Austro-Serbian fleet.

Popovitch, speaking for the government, described as untrue or trivial the incidents for which Austria is demanding satisfaction. But whatever truth or error they have, the intense feeling on the part of Austria has been aroused and the press and public of Austria-Hungary are demanding action.

According to despatches received by the Vienna papers, 400 Albanian Catholics at Dikova were wailing and wailing were forced to join the Orthodox church, the soldiers ordering them to choose between orthodox and death. At six other villages the residents were similarly converted.

Various accounts are printed of the death of a Catholic priest named Palebut, but all agree that he refused to renounce his faith and was beaten to death.

The Austrian official account says that the Montenegro are trying to destroy the town of Scutari and that shells, instead of being aimed at the fortresses are directed against the town where the citizens are in a state of panic, some of them taking refuge in the cathedral.

It is held that the Austro-Serbian squadron which is being sent to the coast will prevent the Serbian transporters which left Salonika aboard six transports yesterday from landing on the Albanian coast. These transports have been despatched to the assistance of the besieging forces around Scutari.

Swirling Games Not So Profitable. Washington, March 20—The money obtained by get rich quick men and other fraud operators doing business through the mails and arrested during the year which ended June 30, 1912, was approximately $52,600,000, as compared with $77,000,000 the previous fiscal year, says Chief Inspector Robert S. Sharp, of the post office department, in his report. The decrease was due to the activity of the post office department.

WARNED MAYOR ABOUT BECKER

Brother-in-Law of Convicted New York Murderer Flayed His Relative

PAID LITTLE HEED TO IT. CAYNOR SENT IT TO POLICE COMMISSIONER, WHO TURNED IT OVER TO ACCUSED LIEUTENANT TO INVESTIGATE HIMSELF—LETTER MADE PUBLIC AT ALDERMANIC GRAFT INQUIRY.

New York, March 20—Letters were read today before the aldermanic committee investigating police graft showing that Mayor Gaynor and Police Commissioner Waldo were warned against the character of Police Lieut. Charles Becker as far back as August, 1911.

John E. Lynch, brother-in-law of Becker, who is now in the death house at Sing Sing for the murder of Herman Rosenthal, the gambler, bitterly denounced the former police officer in a letter to "all the mayor," the letter was referred to Commissioner Waldo who told the mayor that "this seems to be a family row," and "Becker is doing excellent work."

"One of my sisters is unfortunately his wife, works for him, teaches school," Lynch wrote of Becker, "and he, hero-like, took her money." "She being away, he asked another of my sisters to come to his home yesterday to cook, but immediately attempted to assault her. She successfully resisted him, threatening to cut him with a carving knife, whereupon he got his revolver and shouted that he would shoot her."

"By calling 'murder' she was able to escape," Lynch said, "but she was not able to catch her on the street some night and took her up for sollooting. She came home crying and her sister took her to the police. In a postscript to his letter to the mayor, Lynch said: 'As further evidence of his character, I would say that he has frequently expressed the intention of coming to my misfortune a year ago that Gallagher should be electrocuted for not having killed you.'"

The Gallagher referred to was the man who shot Mayor Gaynor aboard a steamship at Hoboken. Becker's wife stood by Becker staunchly during his exposure and his arrest, and is now aiding in his appeal to the higher courts.

Becker Asked to Investigate Himself. Another letter, written by the mayor last March by one Henry Williams asked that Becker be investigated.

"He is getting more money than a former chief of police," the writer said, naming the chief. This misgiving was sent by Mayor Gaynor to police headquarters; there it was turned over to Becker himself, who showed, "for investigation and report."

Becker's report was that he had assigned a detective to find the writer, and that the detective had failed to do so, after interviewing nine men named by Williams. Becker added that he feared that the writer could not be found and suggested that some other member of the force be assigned to the task.

Requests New York Yacht Club to Reconsider Refusal of Challenge

Says Donor of America Cup Never Intended That a Ninety-Foot Boat Should Be Matched Against a 75-Foot One on Even Terms—Irish Club Ejects Him Up.

Belfast, Ireland, March 20—A request was sent today by cable by the Royal Ulster Yacht Club, asking the New York Yacht Club to reconsider its refusal of Sir Thomas Lipton's challenge for the America Cup. This was accompanied by a long statement from Sir Thomas Lipton, with which the committee of the Irish club signified its agreement.

The committee hopes that the international relations of the two clubs will be better understood by another successful series of races and therefore requests that the New York Yacht Club reconsider its challenge of gift states.

"I deeply regret that the New York Yacht Club is unable to accept my challenge. After reading the explanation given of its refusal, I can only conclude that the challenge and the intentions of the challenger have been misunderstood. The deed of gift states: 'The competing yachts or vessels, if of one make, shall be not less than 60 nor more than 75 feet at the waterline.'"

SAVS MANY ARE COMING FROM BRITISH COLUMBIA TO FARM IN NEW BRUNSWICK

A. S. F. Marshall, After Looking Into Conditions in This Province, Decides to Settle Here Where Chances Are Much Better Than in the West—Old Country People Who Know of New Brunswick, He Explains, Prefer to Come Here.

With the coming of spring the first immigrants from western Canada to New Brunswick this season are arriving. From time to time The Telegraph has recorded particulars of correspondence between the local immigration superintendent, and others, and farmers in different parts of the west. In many cases the latter have expressed their intention of settling in this province, and several have arrived during the last few weeks and are at present looking for arable lands here. They have all intimated that they are well satisfied with the prospects of farming here, where the conditions are more favorable to them than in the western provinces.

MARITIME PROVINCES ARE RAPIDLY FORGING AHEAD

Maritime Merchant Refers to Hopeful Growth and Development—Its Spring Number—Real Estate News.

The spring number of the Maritime Merchant which has just come to hand is a book of 200 pages and is the most attractive spring number that has ever been issued by this enterprising trade journal, which has the maritime provinces as its special field. The cover is very appropriate, showing on a map-like background the coast-lands of the three maritime provinces, and showing also the rising sun with a strip of shore in a light blue foreground, the whole being illustrative of the new era of progress that is dawning in these provinces. The special articles in this splendid issue deal with Lunenburg, N. S., and its great fisheries; Chester, N. B., and the operations of the Davison Lumber Company, under the general heading of American Money on the South Shore; the Agricultural College at Truro, the National Transatlantic Express across New Brunswick, Fredericton and its railroads and bright prospects, Moncton and the Albert county gas wells, and other features of great interest. The illustrations include views of Lunenburg, Chester, the Davison Lumber Company's operations, construction scenes on the St. John Valley Railway and Gibson & Minto Railways, the Salmon River viaduct on the National Transatlantic, and Grand Falls on the St. John River. All the usual departments of a regular issue of the Maritime Merchant are contained in this number, with some additional, and there is also a section of letters from merchants in all parts of the provinces telling of the prospects for business this year. The number is an admirable index of the big business houses of the provinces. The advertisements are among the most striking features in the book, and there are some splendid examples of the beautiful color printing which the Imperial Publishing Company is able to do with its own plant.

The Merchant says: "Things have really developed faster than our most sanguine expectations, and if any one ever thought we were a province in our utterances, he must now change, if he can read the signs of the times aright, that we would have been justified in putting more westernism into them. We are without doubt in the dawn of a new era. All over the maritime provinces there are signs of abundance of prosperity. We have reached the day when things are to be done on a big scale. The millions that are to be made in the rapidly developing maritime ports must also press a rapid revolution in the business and industry of the provinces. Natural gas and hydro-electric power will favor industrial development. There is no doubt too that we are to witness the great expansion yet in our coal mining industry, and metal mining, both in Nova Scotia and New Brunswick. There is nothing more hopeful in the provinces than the outlook in our farming industry at a time when our farmers, and particularly our farmers of tomorrow, are commencing to realize at once both the possibilities of our country and the value of up-to-date methods. The transfer of the Corkery farm has been completed and the property is now in the name of Beverly R. Armstrong. OBITUARY

Dr. John Brittain.

Dr. John Brittain died at St. Anne de Bellevue, Quebec, at 2.30 o'clock yesterday afternoon. When word came to this city last night those of his friends who knew of it were shocked and grieved, although they had been known for some time that he was seriously ill. It was in this province that Dr. Brittain spent the best part of his life and here he had hundreds of warm personal friends mourning the death of the old school teacher, whom he taught when he was an instructor at the Provincial Normal School, and several former students who studied under him when he was a professor at the University of New Brunswick. He left several children, among whom is Professor Horace L. Brittain, at one time principal of Horton Academy, Wolfville (N. S.), and later superintendent of schools at Hazelton (B.C.).

Dr. Brittain was an educationist of high standing, and he was an author of several articles and books on nature lessons. He was the eldest son of Thomas B. and Elizabeth Carson Brittain, who was born near Sussex on Nov. 22, 1849. His early education was privately conducted and he attended the Provincial Normal School at Fredericton and the University of Cornell, Chicago and Columbia Universities. He was given the degree of doctor of science by the University of New Brunswick in 1905. For ten years Dr. Brittain was principal of the Superior school at Petfordville and for fourteen years he was instructor in natural science at the Provincial Normal School. From 1890 to 1909 he was professor of chemistry at the University of New Brunswick and was then appointed professor of nature study at MacDonald College. Some time ago he retired on a pension from the Canadian fund.

PROPOSED GREAT INDUSTRY HERE

What the Addition of the Londerderry Iron Works Would Mean

Many men would be employed. In connection with the discussion in the legislature on Monday evening on the proposed shipbuilding plant at East St. John, N. B., Mr. Grimmer said that he had been told the house and country that the Canada Iron Corporation, Ltd., was seriously considering the removal of their foundries and blast furnaces and immense plant from Londonderry, N. B., to a place where they would be more closely associated with the big shipbuilding plant, and if the land which the premier referred to at Courtney Bay were reclaimed, it would be an excellent opportunity for the work they had in mind.

Plant in Nova Scotia Town Which is Likely to Be Remored to Courtney Bay is a Large One—Handicapped Where They Are, it is Said—Foundries and Blast Furnaces.

At the present time the works of the Canada Iron Corporation, Ltd., are not running at full capacity in Londonderry, Nova Scotia. The pipe foundry is busy and about eighty men are employed. This department of the company's operations has always proved profitable and has been unvaryingly successful. The other branches of the Londonderry plant are idle but if they were all going, instead of eighty men, as in the pipe foundry at present, there would be a crowd of 200 men at work.
