CHAS. A. MCCORMACK

During Sunday night Charles A. McCormack of Somerville died after about two months illness of stomach trouble. He was 74 years of age and leaves his wife and one son, Donald A., a graduate of the U. N. B. and a successful civil engineer, who has been with him during his illness.

Mr. McCormack was well known throughout the county as a most industrious and highly successful farmer. He was born and lived practically his whole life in the Parish of Wakefield and had lived on the farm where he died for 40 years. During early life he was a carpenter and later a bridge builder. He was twice married, first to a Miss Gallupe. It was about this time in his life he took what was then a run-down farm of rather poor natural soil. Proper methods of drainage and cultivation brought this to the present condition of being one of the finest farms in the St. John valley.

Mr. McCormack's second wife is a daughter of the late Thomas Ackerson of Lower Brighton, who bore him two children, one of whom, a daughter, died in infancy. He had one sister and several brothers, all of whom predeceased him. One of his brothers was left with a family of small motherless children and Mr. McCormack took three of these and gave them years of care. They are Arthur, now a successful telegraph operator in the west, Ella, the wife of George Letson of Hartland and Judson, now a student at the Agricultural College at Truro. Randolph A. Ridsout of Mount Pleasant also had his home with Mr. McCormack from the age of six to manhood.

Mr. McCormack was of Scotch descent and had the Scotch sense of dry humor in a marked degree, and "Bobby" Burns was his patron saint. In religion he was a Methodist, and the Liberal party in the death of this man has lost one of its staunchest supporters.

In the long agitation that resulted in the building of the Hartland bridge, Mr. McCormack was always active. He headed many a delegation to interview the government at Fredericton and on the last trip told them "we are here now with a sharp stick." They came home with a definite promise of assistance. Mr. McCormack was president of the company that built the bridge.

At the time of the Colonial Exposition at Glasgow Mr. McCormack sent an exhibit of wheat which captured the first gold medal. The same exhibit was shown later at Paris in competition with the world and it there was awarded a diploma.

The funeral was held at the house yesterday afternoon, Rev. J. B. Gough of Jacksonville conducting the service. The remains were laid to rest in the old burying ground at Victoria.

5,000 Facts About Canada

"Know Canada! make Canada known!" is a striking sentence in the War Year edition for 1915 of that popular booklet "5,000 Facts About Canada," compiled by Frank Yeigh, of Toronto, who knows Canada as probably few Canadians do. It is true that he who would know Canada and its wonderful growth in any one year will find this annual publication "worth its weight in Yukon gold or Cobalt silver," while as a means of making the Dominion known in other countries, it is no less valuable. Fifty chapters are devoted to such subjects as Agriculture, Area, Banking, Census,

Immigration, Mining, Manufacturing, Trade, etc., and a page of Canadian War Facts show how up-to-date it is. Sketch Maps are included of the Dominion in 1867 and 1915. Copies may be had from progressive newsdealers, or by sending 25c to the Canadian Facts Publishing Co., 588 Bloor Street, Toronto, Canada.

Letter from Saskatchewan

W. E. Shaw, a former Carleton county man, writes the The Observer from Oxbow, Sask.

"Am remitting $1.00 for the Observer for another year. I like this little paper as it is just like getting a letter from home.

"I don't suppose it would come amiss if I would say a few words about this part of Saskatchewan that we are living in now. The winter has been fine, so far the coldest has only been 30 below and very little snow, which makes it favorable for the stock to run out.

"The price of wheat is good. It is worth $1.35 on the street now. The crop was fairly good in this section, turning out about 20 bushels to the acre. There are a lot of well to do farmers here, some of them were homesteaders here 30 years ago when there was no railroad within 200 miles of the place and they have suffered a lot of hardships in the early days; but they have made good in the end.

A Guaranteed Medicine For Little Ones

Baby's Own Tablets are a good medicine for little ones. They are guaranteed by a government analyst to be absolutely free from the opiates and narcotics found in so-called "soothing" mixtures. They cannot possibly do harm—they always do good. Once a mother has given them to her little ones she will use no other medicine. Concerning them Mrs. Jos. Desrosiers, St. Alphonse, Que., says: "Baby's Own Tablets saved my little one's life when he was suffering from worms and I would not be without them." They are sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box from The Dr. William Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

WEDDING AT VICTORIA

Wednesday, Jan. 27, witnessed what is safely the most brilliant social event the West Side has enjoyed for a long time in the wedding of Henry Elliot of Hainsville, York Co., and Miss Marion A. Somers, second daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Geo. A. Somers.

Preparations were made on a large scale for this event and in response to 150 odd invitations, some few over the hundred mark were present to witness the impressive marital ceremony as preformed by Rev. P. J. Trafton, pastor of the Reformed Baptist church of which the bride is an active member.

At exactly four o'clock the bridal party entered the West parlor and took up a position under a beautiful evergreen arch with pendant bell, appropriate music being furnished the white by Miss Beatrice Lipsett. This room as well as the remainder of the commodious home, was tastefully decorated and arranged for extreme pleasure and comfort of the assembled guests.

The bride was charming in a very beautiful conception of white material with shadow lace trimming, and carried a bunch of white roses. The groom was ably supported by Wm. Somers brother of the bride, while Miss Kate Cook was bridesmaid and looked charming in white silk, she also carrying red and white flowers.

The principals in this event are well known, the bride having practically grown up in this community, while the newly made Benedict is connected with well known local families.

Seldom is a collection of bridal presents as well selected or of as practical a nature as those on exhibition at this wedding; and the number and quality of these speak volumes for the good will of those present and the high esteem of all invited friends. A fine piano case Thomas organ was the groom's present to his bride.

A well served and sumptuous dinner was served from five to seven o'clock and over one hundred guests were regaled with the best that culinary art could produce.

During the evening the wedding party was generously serenaded by the inevitable charivari, and those youthful "roysters" were made to feel that their friendly attentions were fully appreciated.

For some time Mr. and Mrs. Elliot will have their home in the white house on Jackson St. Later, we understand, Mr. Elliot intends locating on a farm in this country. —N.C.

Vol. VI. FEB. 4, 1915 No. 34

MIXED FARMING THE THING

On Saturday a young farmer at Fort Fairfield, hopelessly involved because he had staked his beautiful farm and home on one single crop of potatoes, shot himself. The low price of potatoes spelled complete ruin to him. He had no hay, oats, cattle or swine to depend on. "He carried all his eggs in one basket."

The case of this man is not unique in Aroostook county. There are others similar, and just as sad.

Such a happening through such a cause has never occurred in Carleton or Victoria county. A total loss of a season's crop has never been known. Our farmers depend on mixed farming, and because they do they always have something to sell. And the prices never go flat all around.

At the present time Aroostook farmers are on the verge of despair, many of them staring in the face of ruin, with potatoes, the only thing they have to sell, and the most expensive product to raise, at 80 cents a barrel.

Our farmers are grieved that potatoes here are only 50 cents a barrel. But none will be ruined by the low price. All are cheerfully optimistic in spite of the hovering war-cloud. All have something else to sell. Every day trainloads of hay are being shipped—an Aroostook county man here the other day expressed amazement at the sight.

Aroostook county imports carloads of horses every year. Last week Carleton county shipped two carloads away.

Carloads of cattle, of hogs, of sheep, hay, oats, products of all kinds, are keeping our farmers in good spirits the while potatoes are only 50 cents.

A farmer near Hartland keeps hens as a side-line and his flock produce a dollar a day right through this freezing weather. Other farmers sell hundreds of dollars worth of butter—another sideline.

And all our farmers have immense stocks of potatoes on hand—and a lot of other stuff too.

Stick to mixed farming. It pays.

OUR EARLIEST HUMORIST.

Sam Slick Was Born in Windsor, N.S., and Died in England.

Thomas Chandler Haliburton, popularly known as "Sam Slick," was for many years a judge in Nova Scotia. He was born in Windsor, N.S., in 1797 and at the age of twenty-three was admitted to the bar. In 1829 he was appointed chief justice of the Court of Common Pleas, and in 1840 became a judge of the Supreme Court. He was later he resigned that office and returned to England where he afterwards resided. He died at Isleworth, not far from London, in 1865. He is best known as the author of a series of sketches satirizing the New England character, which appeared first in a Nova Scotia paper and were subsequently (in 1837) collected and published in book form under the title of "The Clockmaker, or the Sayings and doings of Samuel Slick of Slickville."

These were followed by a second series which appeared in 1839, and a third in 1840. The hero of these sketches is Sam Slick, a Yankee clockmaker and pedlar, who is a sort of American Sam Weller. His quaint drollery, unsophisticated wit, and aptitude in the use of what he calls "soft sawdust" gained for him many admirers, though just how far the author succeeded in portraying the typical Yankee is a matter of opinion. One American critic says: "We can distinguish the real from the counterfeit Yankee at the first sound of the voice, and by the turn of a single sentence; and we have no hesitation in declaring that Sam Slick is not what he pretends to be; that there is no organic life in him; that he is an imposter, an impossibility, a nonentity." On the other hand the London Athenaeum asserts that "Sam Slick deserves to be entered on our list of friends, containing the names of Tristram Shandy, the shepherd of the Noctes Ambrosianae, and other rhapsodical discourses on time and change, who, besides the delights of their discourses, possess also the charm of individuality." Judge Haliburton afterwards wrote "The Attache, or Sam Slick in England," in which British society is amusingly depicted. He is also the author of "An Historical and Statistical Account of Nova Scotia," "Bubbles of Canada," "The Old Judge, or Life in a Colony," "Letter-Bag of the Great Western," "Rule and Misrule of the English in America," "Yankee Stories," "Traits of American Humor," "Nature and Human Nature," "Letters to Lord Durham," and "Wise Saws and Modern Instances."

BRITAIN'S RED ALLIES.

Home of Mohawks Near Brantford Has Historic Associations.

A visible link between the Red man and the white, the aboriginal and the civilized in Canada, is the Mohawk Church outside the city of Brantford, Ontario.

This old and historic sacred edifice was reared as a reward of the Redman's loyalty to the British Crown.

History tells us that before the Revolutionary War between the American colonies and Great Britain, the Mohawk Indian lived along the valley of the Hudson in the State of New York, where a church had been built for them by the British crown. When the revolution broke out Captain Joseph Brant and his Indian followers were compelled to leave the state, as they remained true to the English King, and they sent their families to Lachine and Niagara.

At the close of the war the Government selected a tract of land upon the Bay of Quinte, to be set apart for the use of the Indians, in recognition of their loyalty.

Capt. Brant, however, preferred an allotment on the Grand river and, after considerable delay, caused by disagreement among the Indians themselves, a meeting of the Mississaugas and chiefs of the Six Nations and Delaware was held at Niagara, and the sale of the land was made by the Mississaugas for the use of the Six Nations.

They were granted six miles on either side of the Grand river, from its mouth to its source, and the greater part of the Mohawks, Senecas, Cayugas and others settled.

The Government had promised to build a church to replace the one of the former Mississaugas settlement, and in 1824, Dr. Fowler let the church contract to John H. Smith, a United Empire Loyalist, and in 1825 Smith and his sons began the building of the new church now known so familiarly as "The Old Mohawk Church."

The building is of frame, and the timber for it was cut and sawn near Paris and floated down the river to where the church still stands. The old clapboards, beaded in those days by hand, may be readily distinguished from those added in recent years. Originally the pulpit was in the centre of the south wall facing north, and on the west side of that was a large pew reserved for the historic Brant family. Facing the Holy Table on each side were two pews reserved for the members of the congregation. The remainder of the old-fashioned high box pews were occupied by Indians.

The church was the first built in Ontario, and the first Protestant church in either Upper or Lower Canada, yet it has no regular minister in charge during the first forty years of its existence.

Early records of the church may be found in "Hall's Travels," where Lieut. Hall writes of his visit to the church in 1816. He describes the services conducted by "Aaron, a grey-headed Mohawk, who touched his cheeks with a few spots of vermilion in honor of Sunday. He wore a surplice and preached."

In the records of Dr. Stuart, a still earlier visit to the Mohawks in 1793 may be found. He describes the village as consisting of a great number of good houses, with an elegant church in the centre. "It has an elegant steeple and bell, and is well furnished within." He also mentions that the pulpit was accompanied by an organ, and there was a service of plate and crimson furniture for the pulpit.

In 1823 the Six Nations Mission was assumed charge of by the New England Company, which charge is still retained to the present day. The Rev. Wm. Hough was the first missionary and a parsonage and two schools were built.

In 1829 the church was considerably altered, the spire being rebuilt to form an entrance, porch, vestry and bellry.

Y. M. C. A. at Valcartier.

The Y. M. C. A. has a staff of thirty men working at Valcartier camp and has also a canteen, bar, shop, moving picture hall and post office in operation there. A representative of the association said that this camp was about the biggest operation that the Y. M. C. A. in Canada had ever handled. A supply of thirty thousands sheets of note paper at the association's stand, for instance, lasts only about four days, and its postoffice sells 600 to 700 worth of stamps a day. The canteen did much to keep down prices of foods owing to the exorbitant demands of the dealers. A camp order regulates food prices and the Y. M. C. A. was only asked to cut the price of one article.

The sanitary department has been very careful about the milk supply, and soldiers were permitted to use only the condensed article at first. As to the character of the men, "They are the cleanest crowd that I have ever seen," said a Y. M. C. A. official who has returned to Toronto from a visit to the camp. "There is no drinking and the soldiers are all happy and cheerful."

Canadian Consuls.

Never was there a time when Canadian consuls in foreign countries could be of more service than just now. Not only could they give advice and assistance to Canadians resident abroad, but they could inform our exporters what goods are required. Some advice has been sent out from Ottawa to the effect that Canada should try to capture some of the German trade with South America. But without consuls there export trade is difficult to handle. Such advice is cheap. What the Canadian Government should do is to send trade agents there at once to find out what Canada can supply.

A system of Canadian consulates abroad has been discussed in several Parliaments and has even been promised, but—that is the Canadian way.

ATTEMPT TO BLOW UP BRIDGE

The war was brought near home on Tuesday when the news came of an attempt to blow up the C. P. R. Bridge at Vanceboro.

The deed was done by a German named Werner Horne, who claims he is an officer. Eighty pounds of nitro-glycerine enclosed in a suitcase was the explosive used, and the result was some damage to the bridge but not so bad that traffic was seriously delayed.

The man, almost immediately arrested at Vanceboro, is being held by United States authorities pending extradition proceedings.

IN NEW ONTARIO.

Progress of Settlers in Clay Belt is Remarkable.

To a person from old Ontario the push and pluck of the settler in New Ontario is a tonic well worth inhaling or imbibing—that is, you can take it as hot air or you can inhale it as a stimulant, says John N. Lake in Toronto Globe. Certainly, no careful observer can fail to notice that the greater part of the people are under forty-five or fifty years of age; few grey hairs are seen amongst them, but virile, energetic and optimistic characteristics are shown.

It has been my good fortune to visit several times a small portion of this interesting section of our province during the past three years. My first visit was soon after the great fires of 1912, when I pushed through to Cochrane and found the town in ashes. The people were not like the disconsolate of old, "casting ashes on their heads" in their despair, but were planning how best to secure temporary comfort while rebuilding, which has now been accomplished to some good extent.

But my objective point being Uno Park (which I had passed on my way north), I soon returned to that station on the T. & N. O. Railway. Here I found three fine settlements—one at Uno Park, another at Milberta, five miles directly west, and the third at Hanbury, five miles east of Uno Park.

The new settlers had been in from ten to fifteen years and already in many cases had large clearings and good buildings equal to their requirements. I saw fields cleared of stumps, fenced with wire or timber; crops in good condition; in some cases fairly heavy stocks of cattle and horses; besides everything to make their families comfortable, and many stretches of good roads, with churches and good schools convenient.

Take an example: An old acquaintance of mine from Oxford county had located near Milberta, eight years before with quite a family, including two stalwart sons. In that time they had cleared up ninety acres, fenced it with wire, built a frame house worth $1,500 and a new bank barn, 40 x 38 feet, which he said was none too large for his crop. He had a good herd of cattle and several fine horses, and plenty of water and wood. Adjoining this farm I saw in bloom the finest field of timothy that I had ever seen in Ontario.

This month I made another trip, my objective point being east of Uno Park to Hanbury neighborhood, which brought me near the boundary between Ontario and Quebec provinces. I found a section fully equal to the Milberta and Highland sections, with a slightly different character of soil. The clay seemed closer to the surface. A tenderfoot like myself might think it was not so good as Milberta, but the residents said they had equally good crops as the other, and certainly the neighborhood looked prosperous. The country was well cleared, in every direction, and you could see for miles. Three churches grace this district. The Presbyterians and the Anglicans each have a small church in which service is held once each Sunday, while the Methodists have just completed a fine church, 28x40, with a large porch, stone basement, with concrete floor and a fine furnace.

Chinese Sympathy.

The other day a British reservist living with his family on Upper Park avenue, Toronto, received the call to join the colors immediately. He decided to take his wife and children to England to stay during his absence. He found the most convenient arrangement would mean leaving Montreal the following day. But it was mid-week, and the family wash was at the Chinaman's. The lady went over to the laundry. The "boys" shook their heads—the wash could not be sorted out before Saturday—but just then the house laundryman came in.

"Your husband going to the war. Velly brave man. Me work all night to get your laundry."

Next morning it was brought home by the "boss" himself.

"How much?"

"Nothing. Your husband go to the war. If you stay here all winter me wash all the clothes for the family. Not a cent."

What a contrast between this foreigner's practical sympathy and the raised prices that too many of our own merchants are charging without a shadow of justification.—Montreal Herald.

To Help Settlers.

The Canada Gazette states that, owing to the widespread failure of crops in the Moose Jaw, Swift Current, Maple Creek, Medicine Hat and other districts, it has been necessary for members of the settlers to leave their lands for the purpose of securing employment, and the intervention of the Government has also become necessary to provide such settlers with work, and in some instances with hardship to themselves and their families.

The Government has, therefore, decided that the time of all newcomers in these districts spent in employment elsewhere this year shall be counted as if they performed the residence duties.

Big Fish Story.

The biggest pike that was probably ever taken from a stream in this section was brought into town recently by Messrs. James Skelton and John Lockhart, who corroborated a big fish story by producing the goods, and measured 3 1/2 feet and weighed 21 pounds, was caught in the Mud river, Greenock, by Mr. John Cassidy, of Chepstow, and required the combined efforts of the Chepstow and Walkerton talent to land it. Served on a side dish, it later played a big part in reducing the high cost of living in certain quarters here.—Walkerton Herald-Times.

A POSITIVE CURE FOR RHEUMATISM

Hundreds of People Found "Fruit-a-tives" Only Help

READ THIS LETTER

Superintendent of Sunday School in Toronto Tells How He Cured Himself of Chronic Rheumatism After Suffering for Years.

55 DOVERCOURT ROAD, OCT. 1st, 1913.

"For a long time, I have thought of writing you regarding what I term a 'Fruit-a-tives' cure effected by your 'Fruit-a-tives'. I suffered from Rheumatism, especially in my hands. I have cut a lot of money without any good results. I have been 'putting up' for me a lot of money, and am pleased to tell you that I am cured. The enlargement has not left my hands and perhaps never will, but the pain is all gone and I can do my usual work. I have gained 35 pounds in 18 months!"

R. A. WAUGH

Rheumatism is no longer the dreaded disease it once was. Rheumatism is the latest one of the "neuritic diseases." "Fruit-a-tives" has proved its marvellous powers over Rheumatism, Sciatica, Lumbago, Gout, and all such diseases which are a mismanagement of stomach, bowels, kidneys or skin.

"Fruit-a-tives" is sold by all druggists at 50c. a box, 6 for $2.50, by post 25c. per box, postpaid on payment of price by Fruit-a-tives Limited.

Find New Mountain.

A mountain 11,000 feet high which Miss Mary L. Jobe, the western explorer, believes has never been mapped, was discovered by her in the wilds of British Columbia, and a report concerning it will be made to the Canadian Government.

Miss Jobe has just concluded her exploration trip which lasted six weeks and announced her discovery. She located the mountain, to which she will give a Cree Indian name, as about 150 miles north of Mt. Robson. The topographical survey of Canada extends to a point only a few miles north of Mt. Robson.

Miss Jobe and several companions arrived at the foot of the newly-discovered mountain on Aug. 22 and began the ascent in a heavy snowstorm. After covering six miles, they were forced to return to camp. A flock of geese enabled them to proceed, and the ascent was begun once more. On Aug. 25 they reached within 300 feet of the summit. Here great ice caves, with icicles sixty feet in length at their mouths, blocked progress.

The trip was Miss Jobe's seventh into the Canadian northwest.

Pickering's Lords.

Lord Hyde, who went over to England a few weeks ago, is expected back in a few days at his home here, and will then leave for Ottawa to join the Governor-General's staff. Lady Hyde has offered her services as a nurse to the Red Cross Society, and consequently will not be able to return home for some time. It is expected that Lord Somers will now be in the fighting line in Northern France.—Pickering News.

Concerning War Prizes.

In connection with the prize courts of Canada, notice is given that Ottawa that "all persons having any interest in cargoes other than enemy ships captured or prizes, and requiring a release of such cargoes, or portions thereof," should enquire of the Deputy Minister of Justice at Ottawa, and at the offices of his agents at the port of export, the latter being obtainable from the customs officer.

Historic Coins Turn Up.

Mr. J. W. Makin, of Earlecourt, a Toronto suburb, while digging a well on his property, found at the depth of seven feet below the surface, a "Watsonian halfpenny" bearing the image of Wellington, and the words "The Waterloo Wellington" on the obverse, and on the reverse a harp, the date 1816, and the words "Waterloo Halfpenny."

Dr. Chase is No Stranger

In This Home—Receipt Book and Medicines Kept at Hand All the Time.

There is no better safeguard against disease and suffering than a good cathartic medicine. In the great majority of homes Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills are constantly kept at hand, because they quickly awaken the action of liver, kidneys and bowels, and cure the most common ills of life.

Mrs. Thos. Smith, Jamestown, Ont., writes:—"Dr. Chase is no stranger in our home, for we have two of his Receipt Books in the house. My father and my husband's father each had one, and I have been familiar with it ever since I can remember. It was only natural that we should use the Kidney-Liver Pills, and we found them so satisfactory in regulating the digestive system and curing the common ills of life that we always keep them on hand. Many a time these pills have saved me much suffering and prevented serious disease. We also keep the Ointment in the house all the time."

It's No Wonder He Smiles!

YOU can have a Smile at Our Expense!

THE BARGAINS offered at this store for the next few days will bring on that glad feeling that is usually expressed by a smile. "Laugh and the world laughs with you"—and not AT you—when you get these two dollars worth of goods for one. That is about what we are offering now in our clearing up sale. There is no time like the present to take advantage of an offer like this. This time we have a few odds and ends of which we are going to practically give away. Well, we are going to give our profit away at any rate. Come in, look them over, and if they suit offer us a price. We are not going to sell below cost—no business man does.—but if your offer comes close to the edge the goods are yours. Our new spring goods are on the way and we want room for them, so these remnants must go at once.

J. T. Allen Dibblee, one of Woodstock's leading merchants died Sunday morning after a week's illness from la grippe and other complications. He was aged sixty years. He had not been enjoying the best of health for some years, but was able to attend to business. He is survived by his widow, two sons, W. Jack and George and five daughters. He has held many leading public positions, having been a member of the legislature for several years, mayor of the town on different occasions and only retired a fortnight ago as a member of the town council with which he has been connected almost continuously for a quarter of a century. He was president of the Board of Trade for many years, as well as a member of the school board. As a Mason he held the leading offices in this society and was a leading worker in St. Luke's Episcopal Church. Few men in Woodstock possessed as many friends as did deceased and in business and social circles he will be much missed.

TAKES OFF DANDRUFF, HAIR STOPS FALLING

Save your Hair! Get a 25 cent bottle of Danderrine right now—Also stops itching scalp.

Thin, brittle, colorless and scraggy hair is mute evidence of a neglected scalp; of dandruff—that awful scurf. There is nothing so destructive to the hair as dandruff. It robs the hair of its lustre, its strength and its very life; eventually producing a feverishness and itching of the scalp, which if not remedied causes the hair roots to shrink, loosen and die—thereby falling out fast. A little Danderrine—now—any time—will save your hair.

Get a 25 cent bottle of Knorr's Danderrine from any drug store. It surely can have beautiful hair grow of it if you will just try a little Danderrine. Save your hair! Try it.

This letter is from a lady who gained 14 pounds by using the great food cure. It did wonders for her in improving her general health. She is enthusiastic in its praise, and refers to her neighbors as witnesses of the splendid results obtained.

Mrs. Susan Dobson, Spring Hill Mines, N. B., writes:—"It is with pleasure that I write to you in praise of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food. I was troubled with dyspepsia, and could not eat without suffering much pain; also had sick headaches frequently, and my nerves were in bad condition. About ten years ago I took a thorough treatment of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, using altogether 21 boxes, and since then can eat anything, have been freed from headaches, and my health has been greatly improved in every way. I gained 14 pounds in weight, and feel sure I owe everything to Dr. Chase's Nerve Food. You may use this letter, and my neighbors can tell you of my condition before using this treatment."

DISFIGURING ECZEMA DUE TO BAD BLOOD

Can Only be Cured Through the Rich Blood Dr. Williams' Pink Pills Actually Makes

You cannot cure eczema or remove disfiguring pimples by the use of ointments, washes or salves applied outwardly. The trouble is due to impure blood and can only be cured through the blood. That is the reason why Dr. Williams' Pink Pills cure eczema and other forms of skin diseases. They act directly on the blood—make it rich, red and pure, and thus enable the system to expel the impurities that have broken out through the skin, disfiguring the face and other portions of the body and causing great humiliation to the sufferer. Mrs. M. McArthur, Byrne, Sask., says: "I can most strongly recommend Dr. Williams' Pink Pills as a cure for eczema, as they restored my little boy after doctors and other medicating failed. His head and face was covered with excruciating sores, which itched so badly that we frequently had to tie his hands to prevent him from scratching himself. We tried salves and outward washes given by the doctor, but they did not do him a particle of good. After consulting my husband we decided to give him Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. It was not long before we found we had the right medicine, and in the course of a month or so every sore had disappeared and his skin was as smooth and healthy as any one's." These great blood-building Pills can be procured through any medicine dealer or by mail at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 from Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Duchess Is of German Birth. The Duchess of Connaught, who to-day is regarded as an English princess, is nevertheless the daughter of Frederick Charles of Prussia, the Red Prince, "whose name the mothers of Lorraine villages invoke to-day as the Scottish peasants of old invoked the name of the Black Douglas to terrify their children." He was a conspicuous figure in the Franco-Prussian war.
