There has been a dispute for some time between the members of this body on account of the pastor, Rev. J. E. Barker, allowing some parties to partake of the communion last spring. The tenets of the church state that no unbaptized person shall partake of the sacrament, and some members say that the church is to be received as members. The dissenting portion of the congregation contended that as the parties' names were not on the church roll they were not entitled to sit at the Lord's table. On account of this dispute the pastor sent in his resignation, and at a congregation meeting held shortly after it was refused by the majority. The dissenting portion, among whom were the gentlemen against whom the action is brought, withdrew from the church and asked that their names be struck off the church roll, which was done. The present action of the church was brought to test their power to collect the amount of their subscription, and the trustees have come out victorious.

Benjamin McIntosh, of Westover, has acted as deputy returning officer there for many years at Parliamentary and municipal elections, and on Monday of last week he celebrated an assertion of his municipal election. On Wednesday he walked from Westover to Rockton, something like five miles, through the storm, carrying his ballot box, to make his returns to Mr. McDonald, then returning on foot, seemingly hale and hearty.

QUIETING A MOB.
The world will never know how much of the boldness of the press has been inspired by the editorial "we." It is too common an experience in all the relations of life that men begin to "back out" when they are asked to fortify an assertion with a signature, or to "stand up and be counted."

Even revolutionists do not always have the courage of heroes. An amusing story of a collapse is told by the author of "Les Memoires de Paris."

On the evening of Aug. 7, 1884, there was a meeting of disaffected persons to discuss the action of the French Legislature, in session. The meeting became more and more noisy. After some comparatively temperate speeches by the ex-deputies Maret and Laisant, the Anarchists took the floor, and one of them proposed that those present should go in a body to Versailles, invade the hall of Parliament, and turn out the Opportunists, who, according to the speaker, were nothing but Orleansists in disguise.

Then Lisbonne, leaning on the stick which he was obliged to use, one of his legs having been nearly paralyzed by a wound received in battle, mounted the platform and cried, "Citizens, you wish to go to Versailles?"

"Yes, yes!" they shouted, fiercely.

"Very well! I am ready to go. You know me, and where I live. I am Lisbonne. You know my record. I am not content to talk, I act also. In May there were in Paris 200,000 persons who shouted 'Vive Commune!' only 10,000 of these did any fighting. I must not be like that now!"

"No!" roared the mob.

"Good!" went on Lisbonne; "there are 900 of you who cry, 'We will go to Versailles!' Do you mean it?"

"Yes, to Versailles!" thundered the Anarchists.

"We will go then. But you can understand since you all know me, that I wish to know you also. I will take down your names and addresses. Will all those who will go with me to-morrow morning to Versailles come to this side of the hall? Come, citizens, right life, right!"

There was a quick movement, and several citizens placed themselves on the side of the hall named by the orator.

Lisbonne counted them. There were nineteen! With an eloquent gesture he said:

"I salute you, heroes! I admire you, and in the name of our great cause I salute you; but you perceive that we twenty are not enough to clear the hall of Parliament."

Then turning to the others he said:

"Get out, chattering! I believe you will keep still for a while. Go home to your wives. Since there is nothing to be done, I am going on to the cafe. You can find me there, if you are not content," and he limped away.

There were murmurs of indignation among the crowd, but no one mentioned Versailles again.

London, Monday, Jan. 21.

LONDON AND PORT STANLEY LEASE.It has been suggested that the new City Council should take every precaution to make the best bargain possible for the city in connection with the London and Port Stanley Railway, the future of which must be settled this year.When the municipal contest was in progress Mayor-elect Spencer urged that, while it would be well for the people to finally pronounce upon any bargain agreed to, it would not be amiss for the aldermen to take into their confidence the leading business men of the city. The Board of Trade would give a fair representation. Mayor Spencer, we believe, adheres to the view, which seems to be most reasonable. Its adoption by the City Council would not relieve the taxpayers of any responsibility to the taxpayers, as has been alleged in one quarter. No matter what attitude might be assumed, or how far the aldermen were moved to assume it by the counsel of their fellow-citizens, he would be a foolish representative of the people who would go before the decision of the City Council that it was due to outsiders.
Neither the Mayor-elect nor any other advocate of the preliminary co-operative plan has ever given any ground for suggesting that this would be the outcome of the negotiations. The Mayor-elect and his associates on the Board, we take it, are not so foolish as to imagine that any conference with parties outside the Council will relieve them of full responsibility for what acts as representatives of the people. What is desirable, in the interests of the public, is that the mistakes of the past shall not be repeated, and that the welfare of the city shall be paramount. That has not always been the case, as many old residents who remember the methods adopted to carry through the last L. & P. S. agreement will remember.

THE NEW CABINET "DEAL."

A dispatch from Ottawa says that Hon.
John Haggart, Postmaster-General, has been appointed Minister of Railways and Canals, and J. A. Oulmet, ex-Speaker of the House of Commons, has been selected as Minister of Public Works in succession to Sir Hector Langerin.These appointments are significant. They demonstrate that Mr. Abbott does not intend to take the advice of his friends, and try to improve his Cabinet by bringing into it better elements, relegating to the back benches men of the Haggart type.Hon. Mr. Oulmet, the new Minister of Public Works, owes his promotion to persistent kicking. He went into opposition at the time of the Riel agitation, and was the loudest-mounted agitator of them all, but the Speakership and its emoluments were dangled before his eyes and he succumbed to the blandishments of the Conservative leader. He now has his further reward for subservience.The promotion of the notorious John Haggart to the most important Cabinet position is a slap in the face to public opinion. We are confident that the appointment does not meet with the approbation of the majority of the people. The better class of Conservatives cannot indorse it. It is an outrage on public sentiment to place a man with grave charges of dereliction of duty hanging over his head in the best office in the gift of the Crown. It is a humiliation to the people of Canada to see office, emolument, preference heaped upon a man of whom so prominent a Conservative as Principal Grant has said:"Such a man should no longer insult the moral sense of the community by remaining an adviser of the Queen." Mr. Haggart has remained an adviser of the Queen. He has been refused by the Parliamentary majority, at the bidding of Sir John Thompson. And to show that it is the intention of the Administration to stick by Mr. Haggart, he is given the best position in the Cabinet next to that of the Premier.What is the secret of Mr. Haggart's influence over his fellow-Ministers? He knows their secrets, we are told. He could bring the Cabinet to the earth as easily as he could blow over a house of cards if he were to reveal the methods by which he and his associates have kept in power during the last eight or ten years. This is alleged to be the reason for the promotion of this man. When Principal Grant urged that he should leave the Cabinet to effect its salvation he was no doubt sincere in his advice. What does he think of the new shuffle?EFFECTS OF BAD EXAMPLE.
It has always been held bad form for newspapers to discuss such subjects. Hereafter when Judge Rose is en circuit it will be held dangerous form as well.—(Montreal Gazette.)That may be so, but who set the bad example. No less important a personage than the Ottawa Minister of Justice, who, in his recent speech at Almonte, was so grossly unfair and indecent in his arguments as to discuss election cases yet untried, and hold to be guilty men who had no opportunity to put forward their defense. What can the judges expect from laymen, when the supposed fountain head of justice so far forgets what is right?

OOME WEST, YOUR WORSHIP.

After the late Dr. Charles Mackay visited Canada he wrote humorously of how the British metropolis had a counterpart in Canada, built on the Thames, with Covent Garden Market, its Pall Mall, its Regent street, and many other marks of identity with the city founded by the Romans. The doctor seemed to think it was rather pre-sumptions on our part to set up a rival to the British metropolis in this western land; but if the reports that reach us from the old world London are correct, we are, even at this early stage of our existence, leading them in some things. The use of the telephone in this city is almost universal among business men and in fairly well-to-do families. In old London it is only now that the people are aroused to the importance of this time-saver. Then the city council of the English London is yet considering the introduction of the police patrol wagon, but there is a good prospect that this summary method of removing drunken and disorderly persons will be adopted soon. In this progressive western city, the patrol wagon has been an institution for years.We invite his lordship, the Lord Mayor of London to come this way for pointers.

JOHN BULL AS A TRADER.

The Canada Manufacturer, a newspaper devoted to the "protectionist" theory, again points out that Great Britain buys Canadian products because she wants them, not from any sentimental considerations.
We all know that. The Britisher buys in the cheapest market and sells in the dearest, and that is the secret of the commercial success of England. If she had adopted the view suggested by the Canadian high tax advocates she would have clogged the wheels of her commerce by restrictive provisions, and kept herself poor through refusing to trade with those willing to buy from her and sell to her. But the John Bull family have better heads for money-making than to seek for wealth in any such absurd fashion.The Scotch are becoming alarmed at the increase of divorces among them. Last year 143 divorces and separation cases were tried in the Court of Session, an increase of 33 when compared with the previous year.

second yielding phosphorus to weakened and hungry nerve tissues, and the third, residing in the husk of the oat or oatmeal, to act as a laxative and anti-congestive on the stomach, liver and bowels.A food that has these positive virtues need not be apologized for.MR. BOWSER, of Hartford, Conn., at present United States consul in Sierra Leone, writes that Christian countries are flooding Africa with rum. This is a humiliating allegation. While the Churches send missionaries to try and Christianize the natives, the liquor producers dispatch their rum and other fiery drinks for the use of the aborigine. The defense is made for the traffic, however, that those who manufacture the liquor and send it to the heathen also contribute to the funds for sending the missionaries to counteract its results. And there are those who argue that the ultimate balance for good effected must be in favor of the liquor manufacturer!WAS NOT WANTED.

Facing the electorate is not so safe as holding down a seat in the political morgue at

QUARREL.
(St. Thomas Journal.) City grocers have been notified that the cost of Labrador herrings have been increased $1 a barrel. This is the result of the action of the Ottawa Government, in a spirit of vindictiveness that would do discredit to a street armer, increasing the duty on fish imported from Newfoundland. It was argued that the exporter would pay this duty, but the St. Thomas consumer will know better than that in a day or two.
Our petty quarrel with Newfoundland has already caused our millers to lose a profitable market, and our fish-catchers to pay more for their brain food.SHILOH'S

What is Scrofula

It is that impurity in the blood, which, accumulating in the glands of the neck, produces unsightly lumps or swellings; which causes painful running sores on the arms, legs, or feet; which develops skin eruptions in the face, ears, or nose, often causing blindness or deafness; which is the origin of pimples, cancerous growths, or many other manifestations usually ascribed to "humors." It is a more formidable enemy than consumption or cancer alone, for scrofula combines the worst possible features of both. Being the most ancient, it is the most general of all diseases or affections, for very few persons are entirely free from it.

How can it be cured? By taking Hood's Sarsaparilla, which, by the cure it has accomplished, often when other medicines have failed, has proven itself to be a potent and peculiar medicine for this disease. For all affections of the blood Hood's Sarsaparilla is unequalled, and some of the cures it has effected are really wonderful. If you suffer from scrofula in any of its various forms, be sure to give Hood's Sarsaparilla a trial.

WOMAN AS A 'CYCLIST.

An M. D. Says That Women Should Ride Bicycles.

Starter Caldwell's Pecuniary "Pium"—General Sporting News.

THE WHEEL.

The Columbia Calendar quotes from Ira M. Comstock, M.D., the answer to a question as to the wisdom of a woman riding a bicycle: "Certainly. She is not strong enough, you say? Let her ride and grow strong, invigorated, forceful and graceful, and rejoice in the happy results that are sure to follow."

ATHLETIC.

W. H. Quinn, of Cornwall, defeated R. N. Harrison, of Toronto, at Cornwall in a catch-as-catch-can match, winning three falls. They made a match for $200 to wrestle in Greco-Roman style within three weeks at the same place.

THE TURF.

The Australian racehorse Chester, by Yattendon, that sold for $10,000 as a 2-year-old, and won the double event of the V. R. C. Derby, died recently at Camden, N. S. W.

M. Ledat heads the list of winning owners of the cross-country race in France for the past season, which amount of $75,345; Baron Finot second, with $67,000; M. Camille, $60,000, and M. Stine Fould, $49,500.

A gang of expert telegraphers is believed to have engineered the Guttenberg swindle, securing $100,000 or thereabouts. The spirit of the Times is authority for the statement that Starter James A. Caldwell has arranged with the Hudson County Jockey Club and the Saratoga Racing Association to receive in addition to a salary of $50,000 for the years 1892 and 1893, $10,000 worth of stock in the Saratoga Racing Association. In all he will be paid $60,000 for two years' duty with the red flag.

I remember reading a little while ago, in The Field, a remark of one of the able hunting correspondents to that paper to the effect that he could not understand how any lady could go out hunting-unprovided with a safety skirt. Miss Bevan, of Brixworth, when out lately with the Pynchley, narrowly escaped very serious injury through being dragged some distance hung up to the pommel by her skirt. As it was, Miss Bevan had the misfortune to be pulled out with the Warwickshire, was the victim of a stumble of her horse at a fence, but fortunately was not seriously injured, though her horse was so much so that it had to be destroyed. (Gentlewoman.)

BASEBALL.

Boston's salary list amounts to $80,000. A playing season of 154 games, each league club playing fourteen games with each of the eleven other teams is indicated.

Milwaukee, Indianapolis, Toledo, Buffalo, Rochester, Syracuse, Albany and Toronto are invited to send delegates to Columbus on Jan. 18, to organize a baseball league.

Frank S. Flint, baseball catcher, is trying to connect with the Chicago club eleven years ago, and helped materially to win the pennant five times. He was born in Philadelphia, Aug. 3, 1855, and on his 19th birthday was playing professional baseball in St. Louis.

CRICKET.

The veteran Dr. W. G. Grace astonished the Australians by his inning for Lord Sheffield's team against Victoria. Going in first, he carried his bat throughout the inning of 284 for 159 runs, and it is said that his hitting and impregnable defense were worthy of his best days.

CURLING.

Toronto, Jan. 11.—On Saturday twelve rinks of the Granite Club defeated New York State at curling by 15 shots. The four Brothers, of this city, also won a Grand National medal from the Nutmegs, of Hartford, Conn.

Chessists won the fourth game in the great chess match at Havana, making the score: Steinitz 1, Tschigorin 1, drawn 2.

TENNIS.

Peter Latham, the English champion racket and court tennis player, who has called for home, leaves a great record behind him, having won every match in which he played but one, and that resulted in a draw. Latham is seriously considering challenging Saunders, the present court champion of the world.

SHADOWS AND SETBACKS.

A Timely Lesson from the Dial of Ahaz.

God Controls Both the Gloom and the Sunshine—Talmage's Sunday Sermon.

BROOKLYN, N. Y., Jan. 10.—Dr. Talmage's text was II. Kings, xii, 11: "And Isaiah, the prophet, cried unto the Lord; and he brought the shadow ten degrees backward by which it had gone down in the dial of Ahaz." Here is the first time-piece of which the world has any knowledge. Ahaz, the king, invented it. Between the hours given to statecraft and the duties of office he invented something by which he could tell the time of day. This sun-dial may have been a great column. It might have been a flight of stairs such as may now be seen in Hindustan and other old countries, and when the shadow reached one step it was 10 o'clock a.m., or another step it was 4 o'clock p.m., and so other hours may have been indicated. The clepsydra or water-clock followed the sun-dial, and the sand-glass followed the clepsydra. Then came the candle-clock of Alfred the Great. The candle was marked into three parts, and while the first part was burning he gave himself to religion, and while the second part was burning he gave himself to politics, and while the third part was burning he gave himself to rest.

After while came the wheel and weight clock, and Pope Sylvester II. was its important inventor. The world got Victor's clock in the fourteenth century, and Huyghens, the inventor, swung the first pendulum, and Dr. Hooke contrived the recoil escapement. And the "ratchet and pinion" lever took its place; and the composition balance and the stem-winder followed, and now we have the buzz of the great clock and watch factories turning out what seem to be the perfection of time-pieces. It took the world 6,000 years to make the present chronometer. The early chronologists heaped up mountains of confusion and bewilderment, until in the sixth century Dionysius Exiguus, a Roman abbot, said: "Let everything date from the birth of Bethlehem of the Lord Jesus Christ, the Saviour of the world." The abbot proposed to have things dated backward and forward from that great event. What a mighty thing for Christianity!

We are told that Hezekiah, the king, was dying of a boil. It must have been one of the worst kind of carbuncles, a boil without any central core, and sometimes deathful. A fig was put upon it to draw it out. His son who was to take the kingdom had not yet been born, and Hezekiah's death would have been the death of the nation. So he prays for recovery and is told he will get well. But he wants some miraculous sign to make him sure of it. He has the choice of having the shadow on the dial of Ahaz advance or retreat. He replied it would not be so wonderful to have the sun go down. He asks that it be backward; in other words, let the day instead of going on towards sundown, turn and go towards sunrise. And while the king watches the shadow on the dial the king watches the shadow on the dial. Instead of going on towards 6 o'clock in the evening it goes back towards 6 o'clock in the morning. The fig poultice had been drawing for some time, and sure enough the boil broke and Hezekiah got well. Now I assure you will come with your higher criticism and try to explain this away and say it was an optical delusion of Hezekiah, and the shadow only seemed to go back, or a cloud came over it, and it was uncertain which way the shadow did go, and took Hezekiah expected it to go back, and took the action of his own mind for it. No, the shadow went back on all the dials of that land and other lands. Turn to II. Chronicles, xxxii, 31, and find that away off in Babylon the mighty men of the palace noticed the same phenomenon. And if you do not like Bible authority, turn over your copy of Herodotus and find that away off in Egypt the people noticed that there was something the matter with the sun. The fact is, that the whole universe waits upon God, and suns and moons and stars are not very big things to him, but he can with his finger turn back an entire hour as easily as you could set back the hour-hand or minute-hand of your clock or watch.

At the opening of a new year people are moralizing on the flight of time. Now I propose to show you how you may make the shadow of your dial like the shadow on the dial of Ahaz, to stop going forward and make it go backward. While looking at the sun-dial of Hezekiah and we find the shadow retreating, we ought to learn that God controls the shadows. We are all ready to acknowledge the management of the sunshine, but how slow we are to realize that the storm is from God and the darkness from the east wind as well as the west wind. My friends, I cannot look for one moment on that retrograde shadow on Ahaz's dial without learning that God controls the shadows, and that lesson we need all to learn. That he controls the sunshine is not so necessary a lesson, for anybody can be happy when things go right. But the shadow! Shadow of bereavement! Shadow of sickness! Shadow of bankruptcy! Shadow of mental depression! Shadow of persecution! Shadow of death! Speak out, Oh, sun-dial of Ahaz, and tell all the people that God manages the shadow! As Hezekiah looked out upon the black hand of the old clock known at that time and saw it move back, the shadow of the human race need this hour to learn that the best friend a man ever had he controls the shadow. The set-backs are sometimes the best things that can happen. The great German author Schiller could not work unless he had in his room the scent of rotten apples, and the decay of the fruits of earthly prosperity may become an inspiration instead of a depression. Robert Chambers' lame feet shut him up from other work, and he became the world-renowned publisher and helped to fashion the best literature of the age. The painful disorder like that of Hezekiah, called a carbuncle, is spelled exactly the same as the precious stone called the carbuncle, and the pang of suffering may become the jewel of immortal value. Your set-back like that of Ahaz's sundial may be recovery and triumph. In 1861 the shadow of a sundial of this nation was set back, and all things seemed going to ruin, and it was set back further in 1862, and further in 1863, and still further in 1865, but there is not an intelligent and well-balanced man, North or South, East or West, but feels it was set back toward the sun. But I promised to show you how the shadows might be turned back. First, by going much among the young people. It is a bad thing for an old woman or old man to sit looking at the vivacity of their grandchildren shouting.

"That racket!" Better join the fun. Let the 80-year-old grandfather join the 8-year-old grandson or granddaughter. My father and mother lived to see over 80 children and grandchildren and great-grandchildren and a more boisterous crew were never turned out on this sun-dial of life. And they all seemed to cry to the old folks, "Keep young," and they did keep young. Don't wear glasses stronger than necessary, putting on number tens who the eighties will do as well. Don't go into the company of those who are always talking about rheumatism and lumbago and shortness of breath and the brevity of human life. Remain young. Hang up your stockings in Christmas time. Help the boys fly the kite. Teach the girls how to dress their dolls. Better than amuse for the stiff joints and catnap for the sleepless nights will be a large dose of youthful companionship.

Set back the clock of human life. Make the shadow of the sun-dial of Ahaz retreat ten degrees. People make themselves old by always talking about being old. They wish for the good old days, which were never as good as these days. From all I had as the grandchildren are not half as bad as the grandparents were. Matters have been hushed up. But if you have ever been in a room adjoining one where some very old people are sitting and talking over the top of their deaf ears, and that this age does not monopolize all the young rascals. That man who has so little patience with childish exuberance was in olden times up to pranks, one half of which if practiced by the 8-year-old of to-day, would set him crazy. Revive your reminiscences of what you were between 5 and 10 years of age, and with patience join with the young. Put back the shadow of the dial not ten degrees, but 50 and 60 and 70 degrees. Don't be putting off the harness. When God wants it off he will take it off. Don't be frightened out of life by the grip. At the first onset of influenza many give up all as lost. No new terror has come on the earth. The microbes as the cause of disease were described in the Talmud 1,700 years ago as "invisible legions of dangerous ones." Don't be scared out of life by all the talk about heart failure. That is what all the people that ever passed out of this life have died of—heart failure. Adam had it and all his descendants have had it or will have. Some of you will have symptoms. Symptoms are often only what we see times see in the country, a dead owl nailed up on a barn door to save living owls. Put your trust in God, go to bed at 10 o'clock, have the window open six inches to let in fresh air, sleep on your right side and get nothing. The old maxim was right: "Get thy spindle and distaff ready, and God will send thee flax."

But now, looking at this sun-dial of Ahaz, and I see the shadow of it move. I notice that it went back toward the sunrise instead of forward toward the sunset. The Lord who turned it back that day from going toward sundown and started it toward sunrise is willing to do the same thing for all of us. The theologians who stick to old religious technicalities until they become asperities would not call it anything but conversion. I call it a change from going toward sundown to going toward sunrise. The man who tries to turn things and the man starts toward sunrise instead of sunset. The Captain of Salvation gives him the military command, "Attention! Right about face!" He was marching toward infidelity, marching toward prayerlessness, marching toward sin, marching toward gloom, marching toward death. Now he turns and marches toward peace, marches toward light, and marches toward comfort, and marches toward high hope, and marches toward a triumph stupendous, and ever hoist and hallelujahs that ever roll. Now, if that is not the turning of the shadow on the dial of Ahaz from going toward sundown to going toward sunrise, what is it? The sunrise of God's love is all the help of the soul, and it illumines all the depths of the soul and whelms all the faculties, all the aspirations, all the ambitions, all the hopes with a light that sickness cannot efface or death extinguish, or eternity or anything but augment and magnify. As I look at that retrograde movement of the shadow on Ahaz's dial, I remember that it was a sign that Hezekiah was going to get well, and he got well. So I have to tell all you who are by the grace of God having your day turned from decline toward night to ascend toward morning that you are going to get well, well of all your sins, well of all your sorrows, well of your earthly distresses. Sunrise!

Pat's Great Wonder.
We are surrounded by dangers all the way from the cradle to the grave. "The great wonder is," as Pat says, "that after getting out of the cradle, we live long enough to reach our grave." Thousands are out of health—more so, morbid and miserable, because they do not avail themselves of the remedy within easy reach of them. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery would cure them.
For all chronic or lingering Coughs, Weak Lungs, Spitting of Blood, Bronchitis, Shortness of Breath, Asthma and kindred ailments, it is a most potent remedy. It cleanses the blood, invigorates the liver, improves digestion, and builds up both flesh and strength. Dose small and pleasant to taste. Large bottles, $1. Of all druggists.
A Georgian discovered that a chicken snake had taken three of his young chicks. He killed the snake, recovered the chicks, placed them under the hen and they now bid fair to make good broilers in time.
