WEDNESDAY NIGHT.

THE SITUATION. CHICAGO, Ill., July 11 .- The most important development in the situation during the last 24 hours is the announcement made tonight from the headquarters of the American Railway Union that a determined effort is to be made to invoke the Federal laws against the members of the General Managers' Association, and that with this end in view a conference will be held tomorrow between W. W. Irwin, of Minneapolis, the principal counsel for the men arrested for participation in the Homestead riots, and a number of local attornevs.

Judge Grosscup and District Attorney Milchrist said today that justice would be meted out impartially to all violators of the Federal statutes, whether they were railroad presidents or brakemen. This reply is regarded as a hint that the grand jury may be asked to consider the question as to whether or not railroad managers have committed any offenses bringing them within the pale of the statutes that have been invoked against the leaders of the strike. It is known that this question was debated in the session of the grand jury yesterday that preceded their true bills against Debs and his associates, and that two of the body insisted that George M. Pullman himself should be included in the

THE MANAGERS BLAMED. In a general way, the claim is made that the obstruction of the United States mails and the interruption to interstate commerce has been due quite as much to the men responsible for the ordering of the strike, and that while it is true that the boycott was ordered, it is also true that the general managers agreed among themselves that no trains should be run on any of the roads until all had gained the points in dispute. PEACE AND QUIET. Peace and quiet were maintained throughout the city today. There were fewer white ribbons to be seen and ten times as many patriotic emblems. Many banks and other institutions and buildings not content with hoisting the Stars and Stripes on their roofs, decorated their fronts with monster flags. At the Stock Yards the blockade was effectually broken. Business was resumed on every road. The first incoming cattle train in two weeks steamed into the yards at daybreak, and by 4 o'clock 69 cars of live stock were brought Northwestern and 50 by the Santa Fe. The military was on guard at every important point, but there was no need of

For the 24 hours ending this evening not a single fire or police alarm was turned from the Stock Yards district, and Police Captain O'Neill, who is in command of the district, reports that the police are in full command of the situation and that there appears to be no further use for the troops. At the same time any attempt to withdraw the latter will be met by the general opposition of the packers and other business

THE BUSINESS TIEUP POSTPONED. The anticipated tieup of business as a result of the sympathetic strike order issued by the representatives of the allied of his cab. trades and the appeal to the Knights of Labor of Dr. Sovereign did not materialize to any visible extent. The most radical reports keep the total that has so far Grand Trunk has assumed more of the form responded within 15,000. It is claimed, however, that many of the unions are so is only taking back such engineers as they situated that they cannot shut down at once, and that the full effects of the tieup Shippers have been notified by the railroad will not be apparent before the end of the week. Considerable discouragement was to receive freight. The company is conexpressed by the leaders over reports from fident of resuming all business on the line other large cities that Mr. Sovereign's this week. appeal had met with but a limited response, and fears were expressed that this might induce President Gompers and the executive officers of the American Federation of Labor, who assemble here tomorrow, to take a more conservative course than has engineers under strong deputy protection. been expected.

THE PULLMAN COMPANY WON'T PARLEY. The officials of the Pullman company were afforded still another opportunity today for asserting the position of the corporation. This was brought about through a visit on the part of Mayor Hopkins, accompanied by Mayor Pingree, of Detroit. The object of the visit was to strike began last January. Manufacturers enable the latter to submit the telegrams he had received from the mayors of some 40 pleased at the satisfactory settlement of the large cities, urging that the Pullman company consent to a policy of conciliation shut down. The arbitration takes effect and arbitration. In order that there should be no question concerning resume work.
the exact tenor of their reply the Pullman CONGR officials summarized it in the official state. ment "that the question at issue, which was simply that of reopening the works and carrying them on at a ruinous loss, was not a proper subject for arbitration."

The members of the delegation were considerably chagrined over the outcome. although no real hope had been entertained that the company could be induced to waver from its determination.

AN ARMED TRUCE. The situation tonight is that of an armed truce. The railroad men say that they are policy is absolutely "no surrender." The union officers and directors also profess to be equally satisfied and adopt the same

Meanwhile, with a sufficient force of The Blockade at the Stock Yards | military to command the situation, immunity from serious riot or disorder may be regarded as assured. The General Managers' Association has quit hiring men. More men than are needed have already been employed. Gen. Man. Egan claims, and this morning he wired to all points where branch employment agencies had been established closing them. The re-ported disaffection of the Illinois Central trainmen did not materialize this morning. More suburban trains were run than upon any day during the strike in anticipation of the threatened tieup of the street car lines. Suburban service is still limited, and no trains are running south of Grand Crossing or on the South Chicago branch. Through passenger service is running smoothly, and this morning the company began receiving freight from connecting lines in Chicago.

Six empty Chicago, Burlington and Quincy cattle cars were burned this morning on the Illinois Central tracks south of the request. "The grand master work-World's Fair grounds. The blaze was the man has no power to order a work of a small gang of incendiaries, as no strike," said this official, "with-large mob was seen gathering at the scene out the action of the general execularge mob was seen gathering at the scene of destruction.

City Electrician Barrett said today that the prospects of having to shut down the city electric light plants for lack of fuel was apparently certain.

FUNERAL OF A STRIKER. The funeral of Striker Annesley, who was shot by Deputy Marshal Sharpe in the recent riot at Kensington, took place today at 10:30 o'clock. Fully 1,500 men were in the funeral procession and the streets were lined with the friends of the dead man. Much feeling was exhibited by the crowd, but beyond that no demonstration was made.

STOCK YARD TRAINS RUNNING. Union Stock Yards, Ill., July 11 .-Trains are moving in and out of the stock yards today on all roads without interference, and everything continues quiet. PULLMAN'S PETTY TYRANNY.

The Chicago Herald is authority for the statement that the Pullman employes did not strike solely because of a wage reduction. It says:

AN INFERNAL MACHINE. CHICAGO, July 11 .- An attempt was made on Monday afternood by a man, whose name the police will not divulge, to kill Vice-President Wickes, of the Pullman company, with an infernal machine. The man entered the building carrying a small bundle under his arm. He asked to see Mr. Wickes and was conducted to his office, where the special officers who guard the building quietly took his bundle away. It was found to be a glass bottle with a fixe attached and filled with some sort of explosive. HOW SOVEREIGN'S ORDER IS RECEIVED.

NEW YORK, July 11.—Dispatches from many cities in the west show that the strike ordered by Sovereign has failed to materialize. A dispatch from Chicago says only 1,700 trade unionists have thus far gone out. These are the cigarmakers. At Cleveland the complication caused by the order of Sovereign calling out the K. of

L. has not developed. In Syrocuse, N. Y., the Knights of Labor claim a membership of 2,000 to 3,000. A meeting will be held tomorrow night to take action on Soveregn's order. It is not thought there will be much of a "go out" of the Knights of Labor at Roch-

There is not likely to be any disturbance among the K. of L. at Albany, N. Y., owing to Sovereign's order.

At Haverhill, Mass., all the labor organizations, with the exception of the shoccutters, are affiliated with the American Federation of Labor, and there is absolutely no chance of any strike occurin by the Burlington and Quincy, 40 by the | ring here in sympathy with the Chicago movement. Reports to Debs in Chicago are to the effect that over twenty local trades unions have already struck. Grand Master Workman Sovereign said

THE LAW'S HEAVY HAND. DETROIT, July 11 .- At the United States Court this afternoon Judge Swan found Frank R. THE WAY TO DO IT. WASHINGTON, D. C., July 11 .- Senator James Smith (N. CONGRESS AND THE STRIKE WASHINGTON, D. C., July 11.—The House committee on interstate and foreign com-

sustaining the action of the President and his Administration in reference to the strike was adopted without a division.

The President is greatly gratified at the turn affairs have taken in the strike district, and for the first time for several days he gave up the entire morning to receiving senators and members.

OF COURSE THEY PULL TOGETHER. NEW YORK, July 11.—Henry C. Hulbert, one of the directors of the Pullman Palace Car Company, was asked today about the report to the effect that the stockholders of the company were preparing to revolt against Mr. Putlman. "I have yet to learn," said Mr. Hulbert, "of one single stockholder who is opposed to the course Mr. Pullman has pursued in this strike. The Pullman company will not arbitrate with the strikers, for the very good reason that there is nothing to be submitted to arbitration. I can state with knowledge and authority that there is no movement on foot to oust Mr. Pullman from the management of the company."

NO COMMAND-BUT A REQUEST, PHILADELPHIA, July 1.-Advices were received at the national K. of L. headquarters today from Grand Master Workman Sovereign, making an appeal to all Knights of Labor to strike in sympathy with the railroad men. It was stated by an official in charge of the office that this was an order, but came in the nature of a tive Committee. The Knights of Labor go on strike only after each district acts for itself, unless under the order of the general executive committee. This appeal will therefore be sent out from this office to all of the 246 districts, 26 State assemblies and 3,700 district assemblies, with the request that all the assemblies strike in sympathy where such striking would benefit the present strike. Within the next two or three days the knights all over the country will meet and take what action each assembly deems necessary. We do not expect a strike in this city."

DUKE PULLMAN'S STEREOTYPED REPLY. CLAYTON, N. Y., July 11.—Geo. M. Pullman was interviewed here this afternoon by a reporter of the United Press. When questioned regarding his attitude towards arbitration Mr. Pullman said that the Pullman company had nothing to arbitrate. He said he supposed that his men would be satisfied to take a half of a loaf when they could not get a whole one, and considering the losses of the Pullman company of their contracts he thought that ought to be satisfactory. Further than this Mr. Pull-

PLOT TO BLOW UP CAR SHOPS. PULLMAN, Ill., July 11 .- A plot to blow was arranged to demolish the big buildings, which are among the most extensive in the country. Monday a private in the First Battalion found a bomb in one of the shops. It was in the form of a cast iron tube 3 inches in diameter and 18 inches long, and was tightly plugged at both ends with wooden stoppers. It contained enough dynamite to destroy the building and con-

BIG FOUR FIREMEN ORDERED OUT. CINCINNATI, Ohio, July 11.-Every firemen on the nine divisions of the Big Four Road was ordered out this morning by Chairman G. B. O'Dell, of the Brotherhood committee, acting on authority conferred by Chief Sargeant. This action was taken on the refusal of Vice-President Schaff, of the Big Four, to grant the demand of the firemen for a restoration of 1893 wages.

AT THE FALLS. NIAGARA FALLS, Ont., July 11.—The Grand Trunk and M. C. R. are again running their trains through from and to Chicago today. All trains from Chicago are running, but are attlittle behind schedule time. Freight is beginning to make a move westward, and it looks as far as the railways are concerned as if the backbone of the strike is broken.

TEN ROADS TIED UP AT TOLEDO. Toledo, O., July 11.-Ten roads are still tied up here. The only road on which men are working in the yards is the Toledo St. Louis and Kansas City.

DEBS' PAPERS RETURNED TO HIM. WASHINGTON, July 11.-The action of Judge Grosscup in Chicago today directing that Debs' papers seized last night be returned to him was the result of a telegram sent to Special Assistant District Attorney Walker this morning. Attorney-General Olney, upon reading of the seizure, immediately wrote this telegram and took it over to the President at the White House and flied it himself. The dispatch says: "The seizure of Debs' papers, if not according to law, should be publicly disavowed and the papers at once returned. Even if the seizure were strictly and technically lawful the papers should be returned. The Government in enforcing the law cannot afford to be itself lawless, nor even if they be within its strict right measures should not be resorted to which are unusual and come dangerously near the invasion of personal rights. The Government is too strong and its cause too righteous to warrant or require anything of that nature. Please wire at once what has taken place and what is done in pursuance of these instructions. STRIKE NOTES. At Sacramento the situation indicates peace. The city is under martial law, though thus far it has not altered things in any way. At San Jose, Cal., all is quiet, and trains are running without interference.

Ville Marie Assembly, K. of L., Montreal, adopted a resolution in sympathy with honest strikers in Chicago. At Youngstown, Ohio, every employe on the street railway went on strike at midnight. The situation among the striking miners of the Choctaw Nation is critical. Since the troops were withdrawn to Chicago the miners have again broken out. At Cleveland this morning the Erie Railroad men decided to go back to work, and the strike so far as that road here is concerned is over.

Since then the total payments made for Death Claims and Matured Endowments amount to the large sum of $982,253.00, and among these cases there is none on record where payment was not made on the same day that proofs were completed. Discussed in Committee and the Bill Reported.

A $750,000 Annual Subsidy To Be Voted for a Steamship Line-Prerogation Expected About Wednerday or Thursday.

(Special to the ADVERTISER.) OTTAWA, July 11 .- In the public accounts committee this morning Mr. St. Louis, the contractor for labor on the Curran bridge at Montreal, was examined, and professed his ignorance of everything wrong, and even contradicted his sworn evidence given before the commission in Montreal, where he swore that he himself destroyed his books and papers. Today he swore they were used by the servant in his house to light the furnace. His reason for destroying his cash books used in connection with the bridge job was that he did not want to show what he had paid in election subscriptions to the Conservative party. He denied all knowledge of the falsification of his sheets that he sent to the Government and drew pay on. Frigon, his timekeeper, who "peached" on him yesterday, was, he said, a deliberate liar. The investigation will be resumed tomorrow. In the private bills committee the celebrated Dillon divorce case was debated for an hour and a half and carried by eight to twelve. The matter will now come up in the House. In the House of Commons Mr. Daly introduced a bill allowing the C. F. R. to choose the balance of their land subsidy in one block. The bill was read a first time. Mr. Daly also secured a first reading for bill amending the Dominion lands act. On the orders of the day, Sir Richard Cartwright, in a bantering mood, asked the Government if they intended asking the House to mark in some fitting manner a certain recent auspicious and happy event in the family of the reigning sovereign. He made the suggestion because he knew that the Government had been busily engaged of late in celebrating the victory of the High Commissioner over certain malapert Cabinet Ministers who at long last had been taught their place. Another section of the Ministry had been busy whitewashing one of their friends after the fashion of the late lamented Tweed, but without being overtaken by his fate. The Ministry had also been busy with a tariff which made it more difficult for Canadians to purchase British goods. Now, however, Sir Richard continued, sending a sardonic smile across the floor at the First Minister, the Ministers were at leisure. They had eaten leek and applied the whitewash, and he would assume they were willing to move the adoption of an address of congratulation to the sovereign on an occasion which must have given great pleasure to that illustrious lady. It was a rare event for a reigning severeign to see no less than three direct heirs to the throne. Sir John Thompson fell into the snare laid for him by Sir Richard Cartwright, and was seized with sudden anger. He sarcastically congratulated Sir Richard on remembering after many years of forgetfulness that he was a British subject. There was no victory of the High Commissioner, no exclusion of British goods, and instead of a whitewash they had simply endeavored to protect the member of the House from a blackwashing, applied not in the interests of the country, but in the interest of "low party intrigue." The Premier uttered these ast words with that emotional quiver in his voice so familiar to the House as indicative of intense angry feeling. Mr. Laurier rallied the leader of the House on his failure to emulate the cheerulness and good humor of the member from South Oxford and the incident ended. The House went into committee on the bill ratifying the French treaty. A desultory discussion on the precise effect of the treaty on toreign wines brought Mr. Foster to his feet several times in explanation. From all he said it appeared that the treaty did not oblige them to give France preferential treatment. They were at liberty to reduce the duty equally on wines from any other country and from the colonies, and the Government did not intend to discriminate against any country. Later on Mr. Foster repeated that the Government were not disposed to treat the wines of any country any differently from the wines of France. Mr. Charlton and Mr. Scriver protested that the treaty would be still more obnoxious to the temperance people of Canada when it became known that the wines of all countries were to come in at a reduction of 30 per cent duty. The bill was at length reported and stands for a third reading. In committee on the resolution granting $750,000 subsidy per annum for a fast Atlantic service, Mr. Foster said the Government had concluded to ask for the additional $750,000 because the service could not be obtained for less. This service was part of a through scheme working in unison with the C. P. R. and the Huddart Line on the Pacific to Australia. The Colonial Conference had approved of this project and solicited aid from Great Britain for it. By this route passengers and mails could be carried from Sydney to London via Canada in from one to three days quicker than via the Suez Canal route. Mr. Foster described the sensibility of the membrane of the the arrangement with Mr. Huddart, who throat and air passages and is a sovereign was to be given three months from now to float a company and complete his arrangements. The subsidy of $750,000 per annum would be for ten years, and after that $500,000 a year for a second ten years to the port of terminus on this side. It had not been decided that Halifax should be the only port. The provisional contract would be amended so as to read Halifax or St. John or both as the terminus during winter. On the other side the terminal port in Great Britain has not been decided, and they would have a connection with France either directly or by a cross line. Mr. Foster dilated on the advantage to Canada of having a direct fast line of of our own, ministering to the pride of the people of Canada. It would afford the producers of Canada some advantage. It would benefit the farmers, because their best market was in Great Britain.

Sir Richard Cartwright dwelt on the large amount of capital necessary, the difficulty in getting either passengers or freight. Mr. Foster admitted there were many difficulties in the initial stages, but he anticipated a large trans-continental through traffic.

Discussing the impossibility of traveling close to land, especially through the Gulf of St. Lawrence, at a rate of twenty knots, Sir Richard Cartwright said he could understand, if a very quick pas-sage was the desideratum, run-ning the boats all the year round trom some port in Nova Scotia.
Then the British Government might feel disposed to assist the project because such a route would be 1,000 miles shorter than from New York. Sir Richard Cartwright

Mr. Tupper dwelt on the safety and advantages of the St. Lawrence route. Hon. Wilfrid Laurier demanded mere information and asked about the connection with a French port. Mr. Foster said there were two ways either to have steamers call at a French port or by a cross line from England, he could not say which. Mr. Laurier regarded the reply as unsatisfactory.

Mr. Kenny advocated the adoption of Halifax as the terminal port all the year

Mr. Foster stated that the freight capacity of the proposed steamships would be about 3.000 tons.

Mr. McMullen complained that in not furnishing required information the Government was trifling with the committee. Mr. Charlton warned the committee not to swell with too much importance because after all Canada was a small and poor country, not growing, as the census proved, and could not afford to indulge in these grand dreams. The resolution was near the hour of midnight reported, and will be received tomorrow. The House adjourned. In the Senate today Mr. Angers stated that prorogation was not expected till

OPIUM !

Its Use in the East as Told by Rev. Jonathan Geforth-It is as Bad as the liquor Traffic-Dens and Palaces.

A fair-sized an i once assembled in the First Presbyterian Church last night to hear Rev. Jonathan Goforth, missionary to Honan, speak on the evils of the opium traffic in the east, and the great drawback to missionary work caused through its extensive use by the natives of the Orient. attention was paid from start to finish. Rev. W. J. Clark presided.

Mr. Goforth spoke with great force, choosing as his text the words found in Proverbs that gave a numerical value, we have xxiv., 11 and 12. A few statistics were first CXDX., which added, give 620. This given, which showed a startling condition of affairs in China. His hearers, though Organum" and without doubt of "Box and doubtless being aware that the use of opium existed to a great extent in that country, could not but have been surprised at the condition of affairs as shown by the

In the Province of Honan 80 per cent of the men and many of the women and multitudes of boys and girls in their teens were under the influence of the drug. That province, too, grew opium enough to supply the home needs and exported great quantities to neighboring territories. Many a day could be seen hundreds of mules coming across the mountains loaded with large bales of the drug. In Mr. Goforth's district the information was given that 70 per cent of the inhabitants smoked opium, but the speaker thought the number would run about 50 per cent.

A comparison was here made which gave the audience some idea of the havoc which opium played among the Chinese. In this country the main evil which had to be fought was the liquor traffic, and what would Londoners think if as high a percentage of drunkards existed in Canada as there are of opium eaters in the east? What a horrible condition of affairs would have to be fought.

In speaking of the opium dens the speaker said that in some cities from 1,000 to 2,000 of these places were continually open. In Shanghai the number was 12,000, some of them fitted up like palaces-marble tables, costly decorations and furnishings, description and picture, of life on the and opium pipes which would cost frontier on two continents. Even more about $50 each. There were also exciting to certain other natures is the the low dives, where the pipes were filled for a few cents. He contented and so did the entire medical missionary staff in the country, that it ruined its victims physically, mentally and morally. It would wreck the constitution of a healthy man in about a year or two, deprive him of his mind and harden him against the pleadings of the workers in the districts. Its use degraded some men to such an extent that they would sell their land, then their buildings and finally their wives in order to procure opium. Mr. Goforth related many incidents in connection with the conversion of the victims of opium. No more meritorious volume of native Canadian poetry has been published in many years than that which lies before us. Mr. Livingston is a writer young in years, but he has the art and the heart that produces poetry which touches the feelings of members of the crew. his reader. In this handsome little work of 100 pages Mr. Livingston gives many good examples of his powers as a versifier. Probably in his love verses Mr. Livingston produces the best work. More than one of his exquisite little poems remind one of the best pieces of Burns and of Moore, so great are their charm. What could broidery. See our east window, be prettier than the description of the lovers "tiff" in "Love Lies Dead Between Us"? But there is patriotism in this volume as well as recognition of the universal sway of Cupid. There is something thrilling in "The Volunteers of '85." Let us give a couple of verses:

Many a woman gazed down at them longingly. Scanning each rank for her boy as it passed: Striving, through tears just to catch a last glimpse of him. Knowing that glimpse might, for aye, be the

Many a maiden's cheek paled as she looked at them. Seeing the lover from whom she must part

Trying to smile and be brave for the sake of him, Stiffing the dread that was breaking her heart.

Every heart of us, wild at the sight of them,
Beat as it never had beaten before;
Every voice of us, choked though it may have been,
Broke from huzza to a deafening roar.

Proud!! were we proud of them? God! they were part of us, Sons of us, brothers, all marching to fight; Swift at their country's call, ready each man and all, Eager to battle for her and the right.

Some time ago Mr. Livingstone appeared in the role of a novelist, causing a very pleasant impression. As a poet, he is also destined to make his mark. His writings show decided originality.

The Pall Mall Budget reports a remarkable literary discovery by "an advanced Baconian." The writer proves conclusively (cryptographically speaking) that Bacon, the great originator of all the English literature of his age, was also the author of "Box and Cox." This he sets forth evidently from the back of the first edition. where the name of the play is printed:

BOX AND

COX The lecture was interesting and the greatest | These columns, read from top to bottom, give BACON OXDX. Here the author not only actually signed his name, but gave the date also; for, taking out the letters stands for 1620, the date of the "Novum Cox" also.

> Very many Canadians will rejoice to learn that Dr. Wm. Briggs, Toronto, has issued a handsomely-bound volume of 358 pages, containing "Discourses and Adtresses by George Douglas, D. D., LL. D., Principal Wesleyan Theological College, Montreal." The volume is prefaced by an interesting biographical sketch, in which the career of the noted divine is traced from his birth in Scotland through all the stirring events in this country in which he participated to his death last winter in the home of his early manhood and later triumphs. A large number of the more notable of Dr. Douglas' deliverances, with the special addresses at Æcumenical Councils and other gatherings in Great Britain, in the United States and in Canada are given in this memorial volume. It is a work that will be welcomed and treasured in thousands of Canadian families as containing the best thoughts of the fertile brain of a great, gifted and good man.

The leading article of Frank Leslie's Popular Monthly for July is an elaborate illustrated description of the environs of Boston. Nothing of interest seems to have been omitted. Rough Riders From Far Frontiers," by Edwin Emerson, jun., is wild and exciting enough to please the most sluggish natures. It tells, both by exciting to certain other natures is the illustrated article, by Lee J. Vance, of "Salmon Fishing in Canada." With the pleasure of reading this fine description comes a pang of sorrow and righteous jealously to learn how the best fishing grounds in the world are rapidly becoming the monopoly of the rich. The other good things in this number are too numerous for mention, although we will mention the carrier pigeons and the elaborate account of lite in Siam.

Among the topics of international interest treated in "The Progress of the World" department of the July Review of for six years in Toronto trying to reform Reviews are the following: The Miners' the many drunkards in the low dens. The Conference at Berlin, the fall of the Casidrink traffic in this country was a curse of mir-Perier Ministry in France, the Anglogreat dimensions, but it was no greater Belgian agreement and the objections of than the opium habit among the Chinese. ### CRAZED BY HUNGER!

Terrible Story of Enforced Cannibalism.

Shipwrecked American Sailors Sustain Life by Eating the Bodies of Their Late Companions.

WASHINGTON, D. C., July 11.-A horrible story of enforced cannibalism is contained in a supplemental report made to the Treasury Department by Capt. Healey, of the steamer Bear, in connection with the rescue of a portion of the crew of the American schooner James Allen, from Umaka Island on June 14. She left San Francisco April 14 and was wrecked off Amelia Island, Alaska, May 11. There was no time to provision or water the boats, as the vessel sank within twenty minutes after striking the reef. The crew of 49 left the vessel and at daybreak the next morning but three boats were in sight. These made for Amelia Island, where they remained a few days and then started for Unalaska, 270 miles distant. In the passage one boat was swamped and four men were drowned; another boat became leaky and had to be abandoned. One man died on the way.

All the remaining men, 26 in number, were crowded into one boat. This boat stopped at Umaka Island and on the following day three of the men died from exposure. After several futile attempts Capt. Huntley, with a crew of six, left for Unalaska, where they reached on June 12, and the Bear immediately set out for Umaka Island to rescue the remaining

"They were found," says the captain of the Bear, "in a terrible condition. One man (Gibson) had died June 7, and the rest were in a starving condition. Mussels were scarce and the birds wild, and the men had given up all hope of ever being rescued. The body of the man who had died June 7 had been eaten entirely. They had even dug up the body of one of those who had died two weeks previous, and had partly consumed it. The men were completely demoralized. No attempt had been made to hunt or attract attention from seaward. Not even a watch had been set upon the bluff behind them. When found they lay around the fire in a hut doing nothing, looking at each other, with the blood of their shipmates on their hands and faces, and bones strewn about them on the floor. Not until the boats had landed and the door of the house been forced open did they realize that rescue was at hand.

A Key Found. My neighbor B., has found a key-a key to health it is, says he. If he is troubled with lassitude, constipation, biliousness, sick or nervous headache, cold feet, chilly sensations, fullness at the stomach, or any other of a long array of complaints, he takes Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets. They are so small, so easy to take, so prompt and thorough in their operation, and cost so little that they are sure to grow in favor with all who use them. In glass vials, 25 cents.

VISITING STATESMEN AND TRADE. Once more, at the Toronto Board of Trade to the delegates to the Intercolonial Conference, the unity of the Anglo-Saxon race was demonstrated. The speeches of the visitors were all expressive of the warmest feelings of regard for the Dominion, while the addresses of Sir Oliver Mowat, Hon. Mackenzie Bowell and others representing Canada, were equally strong in their appreciation of New Zealand, Australia and South Africa. All professed to entertain the sincerest esteem for the mother nation, which has set to her dependencies the best example of nation building offering.

There seems to have been unanimity of sentiment at the conference with regard to the ment will be asked to subsidize both.

The trade question came up. A number of the delegates, including those from Canada, urged that Great Britain should depart from her free trade principles and grant preferential terms but that being regarded as out of the question, they resolved that the colonies should be granted power to enter into preferential trade relations with one another.

It is significant that so strong a Conregards the preferential trade proposition, so far as Great Britain is concerned, as likely to lead to the ruin of British foreign trade. It is out of the question. If there Is to be a trading arrangement between the mother tree and her outlying branches it must be on the basis of trade freedom rather than as a "protective" system. This view was held by the delegate from New Zealand and by several of the Australian representatives. If the Earl of Jersey, who looked on for the Imperial Government, had spoken, he would have expressed a similar conviction. Canada and the other portions of the empire can have all the trade with Britain that they desire by simply pulling down the barriers that they have raised against the mother country, and letting trade take its natural channel. That course will not suit privilege and monopoly holders, but it is what the masses require. It is the only policy that will bring real and abiding prosperity to the whole people of this much-favored new land

-The ballot box is the best place to remove inequalities that ought not to exist. There will be fewer fruitless strikes when this view is more generally recognized.

LONDON'S NEW RAILWAY CON-NECTION.

London has a new connection with Georgian Bay and Northern Ontario in the link of the Grand Trunk Railway joining the Port Dover and Wiarton branch of the system with the town of Owen Sound. When this branch was built, Owen Sound could have been made the Georgian Bay terminus if its citizens had been willing to subscribe a bonus of $30,000. They refused, and Wiarton was chosen instead. Now to get connection with the Grand Trunk the people of Owen Sound link will give us direct connection with the chief lake port on Georgian Bay. It starts from Parkhead, eleven miles to the west of Owen Sound, and across the Pottawattomie, near Owen Sound, by a fine bridge. London, the railway center of Western Ontario, will be distinctly benefitted by this new connection.

REPEAL THE LAW.

Mr. Turcotte, a Quebec M. P., forfeited his seat by contracting for Government supplies. He was promptly whitewashed by Parliament at the bidding of Sir John Thompson. How could the Conservative the whitewashing of the far greater sinner, Caron? Better to repeal the Independence tinually show contempt for it, as is now velopment of mines in the locality. They, the case, look for a growing interest in the new

THE WAR CLOUD.

The East has another war cloud. This time the threatened bloodshed is in the Orient, and Korea, a peninsula running out of the great Chinese empire, is the center of disturbance. To all appearances unless better counsels speedily prevail, we will have the spectacle of two Mongolian nations pitted against each other, and using a strange mixture of barbarian weapons and more modern engines of war.

It is about the standing of the King of Korea that China and Japan are preparing to fight. An ambassador of his who was ambitious and not overscrupulous was assassinated in the Chinese city of Shanghai. The courtier had been a former Minister to Japan, and while serving his sovereign in that capacity had interested the Mikado in a very ingenious scheme to overthrow the Korean Government and make him, the Minister, dictator. The King of Korea, no doubt, repents his precipitancy in having his unfaithful representative put out of the way, for the Mikado, when he heard of the incident, at once occupied Korea with some 19,000 Japanese troops, which he refuses to withdraw, despite the protests of the Emperor of China, who, wanting a slice of Korean territory himself, has assumed his character of protector of that country, and has chartered several steamships to send an army to the disputed territory. China, too, has landed an army in the unfortunate land, which is resting on its arms.

It would never do to let the barbarian moguls fight it out alone, and so Russia appears on the scene claiming an interest in Korea because of the proximity of its Siberian territory. If the Czar could get possession of the fine Korean port of Turan, which is open all the year round and is infinitely superior to Russia's own port of Vladivostock, he could vastly improve its position is far eastern latitudes. It would be just like Russia to set China and Japan at each other's throats, and after they had exhausted their energies appear as peacemaker and claim the disputed territory for the Czar's own uses as his pay.

In any case it looks as if the Korean king were between the "devil and the deep sea." He may lose his head as well as his empire, and he no doubt bitterly repents the day when he adopted eastern habits and sent an ambassador abroad to get his head cut off and bring him no end of trouble that could have been saved if the head cutting had been undertaken in the public square of Funghwang.

-As its P. P. A. candidates were badly defeated in the recent Provincial election, the Hamilton Spectator now sagely proposes that Ontario should go without a Government for a few years. It desires to have Pacific cable and proposed fast Atlantic its Ottawa friends manage us, we supsteamship service, and the British Govern- pose. No, by a large majority. Ontario wants no Curran bridges in hers, thank you. She will stand by Sir Oliver.

PULLMAN'S CANADIAN DEFENDERS Canadian N. P. journals are defending Mr. Pullman, the Chicago autocrat. They to the colonies over foreign nations; argue that he is an ill-used man, and a victim of tariff reduction in the United States. Poor fellow; he needs the sympathy of our defenders of monopoly rule. He has only made $30,000,000 or $40,000,-000 since he began to operate under the Bervative journal as the London Standard system that our "protectionist" contemporaries applaud. His company was only able to pay 8 per cent on its watered stock last year. And while such independent journals as the Chicago Herald, which condemns the strikers, state that his men were underpaid and half starved, and characterize his conduct in refusing to submit the trouble to arbitration as "arrogant, brutal and indefensible," Mr. Pullman has defenders in Canada who quote his plea for the continuance of the McKinley tariff as the acme of wisdom, and as going to prove that what the United States and Canada needs is not a more equitable system of collecting the national revenue, but as big a dose of trade restriction as can be imposed!

ONTARIO'S HERITAGE.

The Prospects of Sault Ste. Marie and Neighborhood.

Former Londoners Who Are Prospering in Algema.

Mr. T. H. Purdom and Col. Leys have just returned from a business trip to Sault Ste. Marie, Ont. Mr. Purdom, in speaking of the future of new Ontario, expresses his belief that it will be decidedly satisfactory to those who cast their lot in it. There is, he says, many thousand acres of good agricultural and mining lands in the region of Algoma, most promising mines, and valuable water power running to waste. As to mining, that which is most needed, according to those who are experts, is a steadfast mining policy. With liberal treatment of capitalists, and a knowledge that their investments will not be subject to frequent changes in regulations, there seems to be no doubt that in a short time Northwestern Ontario will have a legitimate boom. The new canal at the Soo is nearing completion. It will still further improve the position of the Canadian Soo. That town has a magnificent water power at its disposal, and is grant a bonus of $75,000. This G. T. R. ready to liberally treat with anyone desirous of using it. In the Soo are many progressive business men, who have un-limited faith in the future of New Ontario, Among others Mr. Purdom met Mr. Fred Rogers, a former Londoner, who will be remembered by many as a student in the law office of Messrs. MacMahon (now judge), and Geo. C. Gibbons. Mr. Rogers has been in the Soo for about tourteen years, and he is contributing in no small degree to the making known of the merits of the rich, although comparatively undeveloped district in which he has his home. Mr. Rogers is the compiler of an attractive "Hand Book of Information Relating to the District of Algoma, which is being circulated in large numbers in Great Britain, and which contains many letters of appreciative leader do otherwise, when he countenanced former residents of this locality, who are now settled in Northwestern Ontario. Mr. Purdom also met Mr. Geo. Rankin, of this city, and P. C. Campbell, well known in territory, not only on the part of capitalists, but by farmers and dairymen. While on his way up, Mr. Purdom met Mr. Mc-Gregor, druggist, Gore Bay, formerly with Mr. Strong, of this city, and he saw several other Middlesex men, who are determined to make their way in Algoma. Mr. Purdom and Col. Leys had a pleasant trip by way of the G. T. R. to Collingwood, and the steamer City of Collingwood.

ATHLETICS. DANGERS OF ATHLETICS. "There is very great danger of an athlete dving of lung trouble if he ever ceases his sports," said Prof. A. C. Mathews, "In athletic exercises large lungs are required, and they become inflated beyond their natural size. If the athlete ceases his practice and adopts anything approaching a sedentary life the lungs, talling largely into disuse easily decay and the result is quick consumption. It is frequently the case that young men in college who are athletic leaders, after graduation go into stores, offices or counting-rooms, and in a few years die of consumption. Everyone is surprised and it is said 'such a strong, healthy man when he left college. Who would have thought he would die with consumption? Must have been hereditary.' As a matter of fact he brought it upon himself by failing to keep up the practice that expanded his lungs."-[Cincinnati Inquirer.

Arrangements for the S. B. C.'s annual meet on Aug. 15 are progressing swimingly. The track is being put in record-breaking shape and some fast riding may confidently he expected. Sarnia's racing string are training hard and good judges predict that more than one S. B. C. rider will cover himself with glory on that day. The meet will be and is being extensively advertised, all the west will be there, and the attendance bids fair to break all previous records. "Does it pay to get sunburnt ?" the interesting query put some time ago by a rather audacious correspondent, would lead to her annihilation if she had not taken the precaution of withholding name and address. The subject is one which is apparently of immense interest to the fair safetyist of the period, but the general trend of opinion-especially of the nom-de-plume orderseems to incline to the conviction that a girl who rides a safety, is a person to whom personal appearance is of no moment whatever. On the other hand, the fair cyclists themselves aver, to a man, that sunburn is

It related that a poor fellow dropped down dead while planting kidney beans in his allotment, the cause being stoppage of the heart's action, "You had better look at that bit," I quietly remarked," handing back the paper. ### LONDON PRESBYTERY.

Appointment of Commissioners to the Assembly-Rev. Jonathan Gotorth Speaks-Examination of Students.

ST. THOMAS, July 11 .- The bi-monthly meeting of the London Presbytery was held in Knox Church lecture hall yesterday afternoon. The moderator, Rev. W. J. Clark, London, presided. Two students, James Johnston and Wm. Wilson, were examined and certified to the senate of Knox College for the ministry. Leave was granted the moderators of Knox Church, London, Vanneck and Wardsville to moderate in calls. A very interesting item was the reception of Rev. R. The immediate cause of the meeting was the second outbreak of smallpox at Spanish River, where one case and another death occurred.

A number of resolutions were passed among others it being urged upon the medical profession of the Province to use all legitimate influence to not only have vaccination carried out among their patients, but also to urge the adoption of systematic vaccination on the local boards of their respective municipalities.

SHORT TALKS ON ADVERTISING.

(By Charles Austin Bates.) People generally read advertisements more than they did a few years ago. The reason is to be found in the advertisements themselves.

Advertisers are more careful than they used to be. They make the advertisements more readable. Some of them even become in a way a department of the paper, and people look for them every day with as much zest and pleasure as they turn to any other feature. This is true of many stores all over the country. In many cities there is just one who appreciates the value of such interest. He breaks away from the old set style. He tells something interesting in his space There are lots of interesting things in business. Look over the miscellany page Rev. Robert Aylward Received Into of any paper—looks at its local news QUILTS, columns and its telegraph news for that matter, and you'll see that the majority of the items are more or less closely related to some business fact. Dress these facts up in a becoming garb of words and they will find readers even though they be in a "mere advertisement." Let the merchant come down off his pedestal and talk in his ads. He needn't be flippant-far from it; but let him not write as if he were addressing somebody afar off, and telling him about something at even a greater distance.

The newspaper goes right into its readers' house-goes in and sits down with him. It is on the table when he eats and in his hands when he is smoking after the meal. It reaches him when he is in an approachable condition. That's the time to tell him about your business-clearly, plainly, convincingly-as one man talks to another.

We mean three great selling lines of Ladies' Cashmere Hosiery. Three very special prices that we do not believe are equaled in the city for value and quality.

First is Cur Wonderful 25c Hose. This is an All-Wool Full Fashioned Cashmere Stocking, with spliced heels and toes, and which we know cannot be touched for the money anywhere.

This Beautiful Cashmere Stocking

Truly a wonderful production for the price. A very fine heavy make and full fashioned; as good an article as the majority of ladies require, and very cheap, indeed, at the figure we have them marked at.

Ask to See

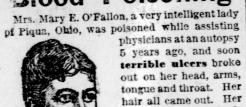

Besides the above we carry a fine range of Children's sizes, from 41 inches up to 81 in several qualities. We can serve you well for Children's Hosiery, both in regard to price and quality. Buy a pair or two Saturday, and see if we do not give extra value.

Is needed by every man and boy, and everybody wants the very best value for their money. We think our clothing rooms offer to purchasers CHEAPER CLOTHING than any other store. Not only cheaper, but at the same time STYLISH CLOTHING that any man could wear with comfort and pleasure. Splendid results from our BIG SUIT SALE. Customers pleased, because they got value for almost double the money paid. Even if you don't want to buy, come in Saturday and see us sell clothing; it'll do you good.

HOOD'S PILLS should be in every family medicine chest. Once used, always preferred.

DANGERS OF ATHLETICS. "There is very great danger of an athlete dying of lung trouble if he ever ceases his sports," said Prof. A. C. Mathews. "In athletic exercises large lungs are required, and they become inflated beyond their natural size. If the athlete ceases his practice and adopts anything approaching a sedentary life the lungs, talling largely into disuse easily decay and the result is quick consumption. It is frequently the case that young men in college who are athletic leaders, after graduation go into stores, offices or counting-rooms, and in a few years die of consumption. Everyone is surprised and it is said 'such a strong, healthy man when he left college. Who would have thought he would die with consumption? Must have been hereditary.' As a matter of fact he brought it upon himself by failing to keep up the practice that expanded his lungs."-[Cincinnati Inquirer.

"Health, recreation and lovely inspiration" are the chief benefits of riding a bicycle, according to Miss Frances Willard. Hensel, the well-known bicyclist, who was injured by falling from his machine on Dominion Day, was admitted to the To-ronto General Hospital on Tuesday for treatment of his injuries.

Arrangements for the S. B. C.'s annual meet on Aug. 15 are progressing swimingly. The track is being put in record-breaking shape and some fast riding may confidently be expected. Sarnia's racing string are training hard and good judges predict that more than one S. B. C. rider will cover himself with glory on that day. The meet will be and is being extensively advertised, all the west will be there, and the attendance bids fair to break all previous records.

"Does it pay to get sunburnt?" the interesting query put some time ago by a rather audacious correspondent, would lead to her annihilation if she had not taken the precaution of withholding name and address. The subject is one which is apparently of immense interest to the fair safetyist of the period, but the general trend of opinionespecially of the nom-de-plume orderseems to incline to the conviction that a girl who rides a safety, is a person to whom personal appearance is of no moment whatever. On the other hand, the fair cyclists themselves aver, to a man, that sunburn is really a contributor to beauty. Perhaps, the world !

"There, my man, look at that," exclaimed a friend of mine who loathes cycling and all its works. It was a paragraph in a Lancashire paper setting forth that a lad had succumbed to a weak heart through over-exertion on his machine in a stiff gale. Having marked, learned, and inwardly digested this precious information, I happened to glance at the succeeding paragraph. It related that a poor fellow dropped down dead while planting kidney beans in his allotment, the cause SHORT TALKS ON ADVERTISING being stoppage of the heart's action. "You had better look at that bit," I quietly remarked," handing back the paper. It was a palpable hit; my friend makes up his hatred of wheeling by his love of gardening .- [London People.

CRICKET. A CURIO. A British paper says: "In a match between the Whitgift grammar school and the Crystal Palace school of engineering on Saturday last the latter were all disposed of for 7 runs. Another bowler named Crawford followed this by taking three more wickets with the first three balls of the over. This is a cricket curio of the most pronounced kind."

Appointment of Commissioners to the Assembly-Rev. Jonathan Gotorth Speaks-Examination of Students.

ST. THOMAS, July 11.—The bi-monthly meeting of the London Presbytery was held in Knox Church lecture hall yesterday afternoon. The moderator, Rev. W. J. Clark, London, presided. There were present Rev. Messrs. Henderson, Miller, Sutherland, Little, McNeil, Wilson, Barnett, Sawers, McIntyre, Brown, Courtenay, Talling, Cooke, Stewart, Scott, Macdonald and Proudfoot, and Messis. Watson, Shields, Closson, D. K. McKenzie and other elders. Two students, James Johnston and Wm. Wilson, were examined and certified to the senate of Knox College for the ministry. Leave was granted the moderators of Knox Church, London, Vanneck and Wardsville to moderate in calls. A very interesting item was the reception of Rev. R. Aylward, a minister of the Congregational Church, on whose behalf the Presbytery had made application to the General Assembly. Leave to receive Mr. Aylward into the ministry of the Presbyterian Church having been granted by the assembly, the customary questions and Bicycle Club. There are nearly 300 entries formula were read to him and satisfactorily answered, after which he was formally re-

> Messrs. Sawers, Miller, Stewart, Sutherland and Dr. Proudfoot reported attendance on the General Assembly in St. John. Attention was called to the fact that the majority of the commissioners had not reported attendance to the Presbytery. Several members characterized such treatment of the Presbytery as lacking in respect. Dissatisfaction having been expressed with the present system of selecting commissioners to the assembly, Rev. John Currie gave notice of motion that in September he would move that the system be changed. Strong objection was taken against sending to the assembly ministers who are not in pastoral service, and who do not attend the Presbytery. One such, it was stated, had been sent twice in three years, while other members of the Presbytery had not been sent at all.

Rev. Alex. Miller, of Mosa, read a paper on the subject of infant baptism. At the evening sederunt Mr. J. A. Mustard, a graduate of Knox College, Toronto, was examined for licensure, and was formally licensed to preach. The Presbytery adjourned to meet in London on the second Tuesday of Sep-

TO STAMP OUT SMALLPOX.

Emergency Meeting of the Ontario Board of Health-General and Systematic Vaccination Urged.

TORONTO, July 11.—An emergency meeting of the Provincial Board of Health to consider the smallpox question was held in Dr. Bryce's office this evening. The immediate cause of the meeting was the second outbreak of smallpox at Spanish River, where one case and another death occurred.

A number of resolutions were passed among others it being urged upon the medical profession of the Province to use all legitimate influence to not only have vaccination carried out among their patients, but also to urge the adoption of systematic vaccination on the local boards of their respective municipalities.

Catherine Nolan, aged 22, and her sister, Elizabeth, aged 16, were received at the county jail in Ballston Spa, N. Four members of the family have died suddenly since last September, the father, mother, sister and brother of the accused. The motive is presumed to be the securing of insurance money.

(By Charles Austin Bates.) People generally read advertisements more than they did a few years ago. The reason is to be found in the advertisements themselves. Advertisers are more careful than they used to be. They make the advertisements more readable. Some of them even become in a way a department of the paper, and people look for them every day with as much zest and pleasure as they turn to any other feature.

This is true of many stores all over the country. In many cities there is just one who appreciates the value of such interest. He breaks away from the old set style. He tells something interesting in his space

There are lots of interesting things in business. Look over the miscellany page Rev. Robert Aylward Received Into of any paper—looks at its local news QUILTS. columns and its telegraph news for that matter, and you'll see that the majority of the items are more or less closely related to some business fact.

Dress these facts up in a becoming garb of words and they will find readers even though they be in a "mere advertisement." Let the merchant come down off his pedestal and talk in his ads. He needn't be flippant-far from it; but let him not write as if he were addressing somebody afar off, and telling him about something at even a greater distance.

The newspaper goes right into its readers house-goes in and sits down with him. It is on the table when he eats and in his hands when he is smoking after the meal. It reaches him when he is in an approachable condition. That's the time to tell him about your business-clearly, plainly, convincingly-as one man talks to another.

The couple settled near Brockville, where they resided until 1865, being engaged in farming. Mr. and Mrs. Murphy then came to this city, where they resided continually since. To them were born two daughters and five sons. Miss Annie resides at home, and Miss Elizabeth is engaged in the millinery business in Toronto. The sons are all dead. Rev. Wm. Murphy, the eldest, was well known as a leading clergyman in the diocese; another son died while attending Huron College, and a third was a physician in Detroit, Mich. Mrs. Murphy is still living, and has reached the age of 85. Deceased was an active member of St. George's Church, London West, and the funeral tomorrow will be conducted by Rev. G. B.

ERITANNIA WINS AGAIN

Beating America's Prize Yacht for the Sixth Time.

The Vigilant Shows Up Better in Strong Wind - The Britisher Better Handled-Noted Detroit Cricketers Coming.

BRITAIN VS. AMERICA AGAIN. ROTHSAY, July 12 .- The last of the Clyde regattas was sailed today over the quadrangular course of the Royal Northern Yacht Club, where the Vigilant was badly worsted yesterday, largely on account of baffling winds and calms. The length of the course is about 50 miles. There was a moderate westerly wind blowing across Rothsay Sound. The race Prescriptions was for a prize of £60. The sky was cloudless.

The starting gun boomed at 10:30 a.m. The wind was on the starboard bow. The Vigilant crossed the line at 10:30:30, somewhat to leeward of the Britannia, which was timed three seconds later. Both carried jib topsails and club topsails. The Britannia cut the weather of the center boarder and forged ahead. The Vigilant soon closed up the gap. Then in pursuance of its summer custom the wind dropped to merely a soft breeze and came in pulls. Both boats heeled a little as they bore off shore near Ascog. The wind was freer in the channel. The Yankee stuck to the Britannia. Approaching Mount Stuart she reached short and booms went far to port. The Britannia increased her lead to about 100 yards. The yachts rounded Mount Stuart in the following time: Britannia, 10:45:40; Vigilant, 10:55:

In the ten and a half leagues with the wind, from Mount Stuart to Largs, spinnakers were set to starboard. The Yankee boat gradually drew up on the Britannia. Near Tomont, about threelee of the Great Cumbrae the breeze was the damaging evidence. steadier. The Britannia rounded the Largs mark boat at 11:39:30; Vigilant at 11:40:30. These figures show that the Yankee craft picked up nineteen seconds in the run before the breeze.

The wind freshened and the towering sticks of the giants heeled to starboard under the pressure on their wealth of canvas. At Knock Castle the Britannia was leading by two minutes and eight seconds. The Vigilant set a small jib top sail, apparently expecting the wind to today via the L. E. and D. R. R. to attend increase. The Brittania rounded the Wemyss buoy mark at 12:69:57; Vigilant, 12:13:34. The Britannia gained 2 minutes and 37 seconds on this 41 mile leg. She was 3 minutes and 37 seconds ahead. It was weather work from Wemyss to the home mark. The Vigilant again demonstrated that she was better at pointing than her rival, which appeared to be a trifle superior in footing. The Britannia fetched the home mark in two long legs, and rounded at 12:48:10; make the trip on their wheels. Vigilant, 12:52:08. The Vigilant was 3 minutes and 58 seconds astern. She had lost 21 seconds in the tacking from Wemyse. The wind, still holding true from the west, had freshened. The big lead of the Britannia as she bowled down the coast with the wind about on the starboard beam lessened the interest in the combat, which was assuming the aspect of a walkover. The Mount Stuart mark boat was rounded the second time thus: Britannia, 1:08:19, Vigilant, 1:11:18. The Britannia quickly set her spinnaker flying in the breeze. The Vigilant was slow in breaking out her great silk sail. The wind fell about, and as she felt the influence of the drop first she lost several minutes more. The Largs mark was passed thus: Britannia, 1:34:03; Vigilant, 1:43:06.

The Britannia got a fine lift from a sudden increase in the wind as she rounded and went up to Wemyss for the second time. She was seven minutes and three seconds in the lead and the stern chase of the Vigilant looked as if it were a hopeless one. But the Yankee yacht in a good breeze is a hummer and she decreased the cutter's lead by 24 seconds. The time at Wemyss was: Britannia, 2:04:01; Vigi. lant, 2:10:40. The time at Large on the second round was; Britannia, 3:12:30; Vigilant, 3:16:30. The yachts are now beating home to finish. The wind had shifted to the northwest body that the Vigilant was Lining. It Lordon the box with an air of triumph. The case was now a piping breeze, the kind the Yankees had been sighing for, and to prove the correctness of their judgment that the centerboarder is a mug-hunter in a breeze, She made the reach to the home mark in 32 minutes, beating the Britannia in the 41 mile stretch by 2 minutes and 19 seconds. This cut down the lead of the Britannia by just that much, but she was still 4 minutes and 20 seconds ahead. The time at the home mark on the second round was: Britannia, 2:38:20; Vigilant, 2:42:40.

Later-The yachts finished thus: Britannia, 4:00:30; Vigilant, 4:02:10. WRIGHT'S EASY WIN.

London, July 12 .- In the Bedford regatta today the first heat in the race for the senior sculls was awarded to Joseph Wright, of Toronto, who rowed over the course without a competitor. THE WHEEL.

The usual weekly run of the Meteor Bicycle Club will be held from their club rooms this evening at 7:15 sharp. All wheelmen are cordially invited to participate. A large number of the members are taking advantage of these runs each week. The run will be to Hyde Park.

There will be a practice match on the grounds of the London Cricket Club Friday afternoon at 3:30 between teams to be chosen on the grounds.

A strong eleven of Detroit cricketers, who intend playing matches in Hamilton and Toronto during the fourth week in July, will play a two days' match here on July 20 and 21 on the asylum grounds. Detroit has added greatly to its playing strength this year by the engagement of Burrows, an English professional of reputation. With his aid Detroit the other day dismissed the strong batting eleven of Chatham on their own grounds for 36 runs. BASEBALL. ODDFELLOWS PLAY BALL.

More Disgraceful Revelations at Ottawa -St. Louis Burns His Books to Conceal Entries.

(Special to the ADVERTISER.)

OTTAWA, July 12 .- In the public accounts committee to-day Mr. St. Louis, contractor for the labor on the bridges over the Lachine Canal, resumed his evidence. He told Mr. Lister he frequently and constantly subscribed for political purposes. He would not give checks nor would he give the money direct, but through third parties. He was a cousin of Hon. J. A. Onimet, Minister of Public Works. He destroyed his books in order to conceal entries of political subscriptions. He could not remember how much he had given. He might have subscribed shortly after this job to the Vaudreil bye-election.

James Villeneuve was examined. He was a permanent employe of the Government on the canals. He was paid by the year, and went on this work as chief time keeper, being paid by Contractor St. Louis $4 50 a day. There was no Government time keeper. He received a gold watch from men under him, So did Coughlin, another time keeper, supposed to be acting for the department. A fund of $700 was subscribed for Kennedy, the superintendent of the canal. The witness contributed $5. He put down his assistant quarters of a mile from the turn, the time keepers in the pay list as stone-Britannia seemed to do better. Out of the cutters, masons and foremen. This closed

Gratified Ambition.

The average small boy's ambition is to be a trapper, a pirate or a song and dance performer. "When I wath a little boy," isped a very stupid society man to a young lady, "all my ideath in life were thentered on being a clown." "Well, there is at least one case of gratified ambition," was the reply.

Hardly Worth Mentioning. "There's one thing," he remarked, facetiously, as the tax assessor finished enumerating the various items on the list, "that I never tax."

"What is that?" asked the assessor. "My brain," laughed the funny man.
"Oh, well," replied the tax assessor, as he took a good look at him, "there are lote of little things we never ask about."

CHAPTER XIV.

"I really think we shall get things properly in order after all, if we persevere or the next two days," says Fanny, in a satisfactory tone, regarding her working party with a beaming eye. And indeed so she well may. Anything like the energy displayed by all present has seldom been seen before in a private drawing room. seen before in a private drawing-room.

"For heaven's sake, don't touch my elbow," says Larry to Geoffrey O'More, who is leaning over his shoulder, watching his every movement with an excitement that borders on delirium, "If you do, I'll rend you limb from limb."

Larry is engaged on frame-making in the gorner, and there are two or three little water-color shetches in the usual youngwall, lying beside him, waiting for their mountings. Larry is quite on expert at delicate carpentering, and has been pressed ato the bazar service to-day, though rather against his will. He has now, however, entered into the spirit of his task, and is tremendously busy.

Miss Anson, not far from him, is bending over a table, enameling, with really exquisite taste, some scallop-shells in pale blues and greens and crimsons, touched charmingly, here and there, by a little gild-

ing. "What are they for?" asks Trefusis, stopping for a moment by her table to look down at them.

"For a dressing-table, to hold pins. Pretty, aren't they?"
"Charming. But a bit wobbly don't you think? The pins will be all sea-sick. Those shells will want to be propped up on every side to keep them steady.

"Will they? It doesn't matter. I shan't have to prop them, says Miss Anson, indifferently. The answer so exactly describes her mental attitude at all times that Trefusis smiles a little, as he leaves her to take over some shreds of gold and silver tinsel for the beautifying of the dolls that Terry and Mrs. Adare are raising from a shame-less state of nature to one of a high-class respectability.

Somebody calling for Fanny at this moment, she leaves Terry and hurries across the room "I hope you feel rested," says Trefusis, stopping beside Terry. He tries to catch her eye, but fails. It is the first time he has been able to speak to her since that last curious half-hour the night before, or, rather, early this morning. She had not appeared at breakfast, and indeed had come on the scene only when every one else was well settled down to his or her work. and had then glided to a seat next to Fanny and begun a diligent crusade against the dolis, who seem rather to resent being dressed. It seems impossible to make them stay this way or that way whilst their things are being "fitted." They wriggle, and wobble, and behave as frivolously as any living person of their own years—which are tender. 'Yes, thank you," says Terry, in a low tone. She leans a little away from him, and plunges her hands suddenly among the soft masses of the silks and satins he has brought her, as if in frantic anxiety to find something to make the toque for the doll now in hand. "You look a little pale," says he, lowering his own tone in turn. There is something distinctly confidential about him; something loverlike. This attitude, so new, so unusual. seems to harass Terry.

"Oh, no," says she, quickly. And now, indeed, she verifies her denial. She has flushed a painful crimson. She makes an impatient movement, and the poor doll she is holding, who has done nothing at all, slips from her lap to the ground and comes to a violent and hideous death. When they lift her up they find her nose is broken.

"There," says Terry, with a rather neryous laugh, "see what you have done, Artists should not be interfered with when "see what you have done, at their work. You must go away now, and let me undo your guilty deed. Poor doll, and she was looking so nice, too!"
"Must you take off all those things again ?" asks he, aghast. "Yes, of course, and put them on

"Don't." says he. "Let her stay like that, and I'll promise to buy her, nose and all, for any sum you like. It is the least I and do. It is a sort of reparation."

"Very well," says Terry, laughing. "I'll ticket her as 'sold.' Poor old thing," eyeing the doll ruefully, "I must try and patch her up a bit. The first thing I have sold to you, too: and so little worth having."
"Oh, not the first thing is it?" says Miss

Anson, who has just come up. Her tone is innocence itself, her smile quite guileless, and yet something in her voice makes Terry's heart almost stop beating for a moment. Her pretty color dies away.

What is it she means? 'What was the first thing, then ?" asks Trefusis, with an interested air, looking at her, challenging her, as it were, but apparently without a trace of suspicion.

Miss Anson laughs. "Don't you know?" says she-"Don's you know?" This to Terry, who shakes her head faintly and feels as if she could not speak. "No? How dull you both are! I know, and, in my opinion, it certainly is worth even less than this last purchase," pointing to the dis-

'You fill me with curiosity." says Trefusis. "Pray let us into the secret; I shall be in Miss O'More's debt if you do not. What else have I bought from her, then?" "Ah, I leave you to find that out," says she, smling her large, bland smile, and making a movement as if to go away, but Trefusis steps, as if by accident, before her. He has now his back to the room. She alone can see his face.

"No. You shall tell me now," says he.

His voice is a command. Miss Anson hesitates for a second, and then feels it will be dangerous to go any further.

"Have you forgotten last Thursday night, then." says she, with a shrug of her fine shoulders, "when we were looking over Mrs. Adare's bits of bric-a-brac for her stall ?- and that litt'e swinging monkey, and Miss O'More's asking you to buy it for luck, just to start her ?

Of course they both remember now. It was such a trivial thing, and it happened so many nights ago, and meant so little. Terry's color comes back in a delicate flood, but Trefusis's gaze is still contemptuous as it rests on Miss Anson. "Really, Miss O'More," says that fullblown damsel as she moves away, "I should take Mr. Trefusis to task if I were you. People in love should never know what it is to forget even a sigh of the one beloved." With this little dart, which falls very flat, she takes her buxom way to the other end of the room.

"Truly it wou'd have been better for some people if they had never been born ! Bays Trefusis, looking after her. "I feel that often," says Terry, slowly,

"Surely," quickly, anxiously, "you haven't taken to heart her miserable in-

"No, no, no," putting up her hand quick-ly. "What I meant was," with a heavy sigh and a sudden rush of tears that drenches her sweet eyes, "that it would have been better for me if I had never been sinuations-her

"Or if I had not," he replies, bitterly, and leaves her.

GENTLEMEN, -My medical adviser and others told me I could not possibly live, when I commenced the use of Northrop & Lyman's VEGETABLE DISCOVERY for Dyspepsia. My case was one of the worst of its kind. For three years I could not eat meat and my weight decreased from 219 to 119 pounds. All the food I took for thirteen months previous to taking the VEGETABLE DISCOVERY consisted of milk. I am now entirely cured and have regained my usual weight, can eat anything with a keen relish and feel like a new man. I have sold over 30 dozen VEGETABLE DISCOVERY since it cured me, as I am well-known, and people in this section know how low I was, and thought I could not possibly be cured. They are eager to try this grand medicine. It certainly saved my life, as I never expected to recover when I first commenced using it. I am not exaggerating anything, but feel glad to be able to contribute this testimonial and trust it may be the means of convincing others of its merit as a certain JEAN VALCOURT, cure for Dyspepsia.

THE LAWSON SCANDAL.

In Seeking His Child the Father Is Charged With Theft.

Somebody Fired a Pistol-An Affection ate "Ceusin"-Charge of Theit Dismissed.

[Hamilton Times, July 11.] The marital troubles of William Lawson and his young wife, referred to in yesterday's Times, were aired at considerable length in the police court this morning, as the result of a charge of theft laid against Lawson by his mother-in-law, Mrs. Sarah Norah Hull. The charge was the outcome of Lawson's second visit to the home of his wife's mother at the head of Wellington street yesterday afternoon.

Mrs. Lawson, the pretty wife of the defendant, stated she and her husband moved from Hamilton to London in Octoper last. She had frequent trouble with her husband, and on Monday last ran away from him, taking her baby with her and coming back to Hamilton and going to her mother's house. Fred Edgson, her husband's partner, came down from London on the same train and has since been staying at her mother's place, Edgson was a distant connection-evidently by her own explanation, very distant. His mother married her mother's brother, and on the latter dying married again, Edgson being her son by the second union. She did not know of this relationship until July 1. She discovered the relationship through a letter from her mother, but did not tell her husband about it. Nevertheless she looked on Edgson as

A COUSIN, and told him that she was going to run away from her husband. She said she did not know that Edgson was coming to Hamilton with her. When her husband called in the afternoon she left him talking with Edgson outside the house. Thinking there was likely to be trouble she said to Edgson, "Come inside, Fred." But before he could get in her husband burst the door in with his shoulder and attacked her in the diningroom. Fred rescued her and he and her husband had a scuffle, while she made her escape to her mother's bedroom. Her husband followed her, and seizing her mother's loaded revolver from the bureau, placed it at her temple and tried unsuccess. fully to pull the trigger. Fred again came to her assistance and she picked up her baby and ran out of the house. She was overtaken by her husband, however, and he took the child away from her and made his escape over the fence and away in a back which he had in waiting. Her husband had accused Fred of running away with her and also with taking some of his (Lawson's) property with him. The $15 which her husband was charged with stealing was on the bureau beside the revolver and could not be found after the row. The weapon, a six shooter, was produced in court. It had but five cartridges in it, one having been discharged in the morning at some birds in a cherry tree by witness' mother. UNDER CROSS-EXAMINATION. Mrs. Lawson said that Edgson had lived with them in London since June 1. Her husband was at work when she ran away. Mr. Gauld-What did you run away from London for? A .- My mother sent

She had fired the revolver in the morning at a cherry tree,

THE "PARTNER." Alfred Edgson admitted coming down from London with his partner's runaway wife. He told about the same story of the trouble at Mrs. Hull's place as that told by Mrs. Lawson. He did not give any explanation of his own sudden departure from London, although he admitted having left Lawson in the middle of a building contract. He said he rescued Mrs. Lawson twice from her infurfated husband, but did not see the revolver.

Mrs. Hull's adopted daughter stated positively that there was no scuffling in the dining-room, the only row being that in the bedroom. She saw Lawson running away with his child in his arms.

THE DEFENSE, Lawson gave a lengthy explanation of the affair from his standpoint. He told of his surprise on returning to his home in London to find his wife, child, partner, $10 in cash, a trunk, a pair of pants, and a vest gone, and thinking he would find the whole outfit at his wife's mother's house immediately took the train for Hamilton. He had an encounter with Edgson yesterday afternoon, but decided in the afternoon that if he could not get the child and clothes he would return to London. He saw Edgson outside the house, and after a little talk, learned that about over. Nine of the fourteen cases the door was locked and the child inside. He burst in the door and found his wife in | the other five cases are doing well. a bedroom. She picked up the revolver, referred to so frequently, and fired at him once. He wrenched the weapon out of her hand, she at the same time calling; "FRED! FRED! SHOOT HIM!" When Edgson obeyed this call witness had shoved the revolver in his pocket, but told Edgson that it was behind the bed, and left him hunting for it while he chased his wife and took the baby away from her. During the struggle to get to his wife in the bedroom, Lawson says Edgson struck at him with a knife, cutting a gash in the back of his coat. He never saw any money in the bedroom. Paul Wirtz, who accompanied Lawson to the house, swore to hearing sounds of a struggle inside as he turned to go away after Lawson had entered, and also heard a revolver shot. This was followed by the appearance of Lawson with the child and

drs. Lawson. O. sing recalled Mrs. Lawson said she wo illing to let her husband have the chi. a if he could care for it. Mr. Logie, for the prosecution, applied for a summons, charging Lawson with assault with addition to theft. He also wanted an order of separation for Mrs. Lawson and Lawson bound over to keep the peace.

The magistrate dismissed the charge of theft and said he would consider Mr. Logie's many requests later.

Old Lovers Reunited,

HAMILTON, July 11 .- Rev. Dr. Fraser on Monday night married Thomas Richmond and Miss Jessie Macdonald. Years ago Mr. Richmond and the bride were lovers in Scotland. They were engaged to be married, but something happened to prevent the wedding, and they separated. In a couple of years Mr. Richmond married another girl, and came with his bride to Canada. He was in the grocery business here for a number of years, and six years ago he received an appointment in the custom house. Mrs. Richmond died two vears ago. A year ago Mr. Richmond wrote to Scotland to find out if his old weetheart was alive, and if she was married. The reply came back that she was alive and unmarried. A correspondence was opened, and it ended in Miss Macdonald coming to Hamilton to marry her jover of years ago.

Engineers Make Borings and Strike

Rocks at 140 Feet. NEW YORK, July 11 .- A number of civil engineers and surveyors, under the leadership of Engineer Brush, boarded a small flat scow at an early hour the other day, and were towed to anchorage in the North River, directly opposite the foot of West Sixty-eighth street. The actual work of locating a site for the erection of the new North River bridge was begun. The large and new deep water drill which has been especially designed for this work was aboard the barge and put in use. The first drilling took place near the New Jersey shore. The depth of the river at this point was twenty feet. The drill was kept in constant motion until it had bored a distance of 140 feet, when rock was found. Mr. Brush was jubilant, because his men had succeeded at the very outset. There are to be made about twenty more distinct borings.

St. Clair! St. Clair! ia belle St. Clair!
July 14—we'll all be there:
At eighty cents, who wouldn't go
To feel her balmy breezes blow?— Escape the city's heat and roar, To linger by her lovely shore; Or, better still, to take the boat, And down her ample bosom float 'I ween banks so beautiful and green-In all the land no fairer scene To soothe the senses, charm the eye.
Her waters, bluer than the sky.
Teem with fish of every class—
Trout, salmon, pickerel and bass;
The very atmosphere's a treat We inlanders too seldom meet. And, if you wish, you have the chance To plow Lake Huron's broad expanse, Or visit cousins o'er the stream,
And hear the Yankee eagle scream.
Are manifold means of delight. Are manifold means of delight.
