Street Railway Will Fight Out Service Case in Courts—Level Crossing Delays Aggregate Four Hours Yesterday—Street Railway Lineman Has Back Broken in Accident at Barns—Bishop of London Commends Scheme to Assist Immigrants Proposed by Minister of This City.

STEEL DOOR BREAKS MAN'S BACK WHEN IT TOPPLES OVER

Pins Street Railway Employee
Beneath It, Inflicting Terrible Injuries.

VICTIM WAS HURT BEFORE

John Swanwick Was One of the Firemen Injured at Sterling Fire.

While endeavoring to place an immense steel door on its track at the street railway barns, Lyle street, John Swanwick, 354 Rectory street, a lineman of the London street railway, had his back broken and a number of ribs fractured this afternoon, when the door suddenly toppled over, pinning him to the ground.

Swanwick and William Blanchard, another employee, were engaged in the work. Just after the men commenced work at 1:30 Blanchard stepped into another part of the building to secure a crowbar. He had hardly left Swanwick's side before he heard a loud noise and a cry from where he had been working. With other employees he rushed into the barn and found Swanwick on the ground with the steel door on top of him. Just how the accident happened is unknown.

Motor Ambulance Called.
The police motor ambulance and Dr. Seaborn were immediately summoned. On his arrival the doctor found that the man's back was broken and a number of his ribs were fractured, and ordered his immediate removal to Victoria Hospital, where the man is now in a precarious condition.

John Swanwick has been an employee of the London street railway as driver of the auxiliary wagon for a number of years, and is one of the most popular employees on the street railway system. He was injured in a fire at the London fire department, and at the London fire department, and at the London fire department.

At the Sterling fire, Swanwick was working with the pump. Chief, John Aitken, and the latter's brother, Capt. Thomas Aitken, of No. 3 station, South London. The three firemen were taking down a 55-foot ladder when the wall suddenly toppled over. Tom Aitken ran toward the wall, and escaped the shower of bricks, but his brother and Swanwick were caught by the bricks. The ladder was smashed in kindling wood.

Terribly Burned.
In addition to being injured by the falling wall, Fireman Swanwick was terribly burned about the neck and shoulders from electric wires, carried to the street by the collapse of the brickwork.

Swanwick is a married man. He has a wife and daughter.

WANDERING ON STREET

Young Girl Picked Up by Police on Vagrancy Charge.

Ula Schuyler, a young girl, who was found wandering about the streets early this morning, appeared before Magistrate J. C. Innd today charged with vagrancy. On a promise from the girl's mother that she would look after her wayward daughter, the prisoner was given over to her parent.

The Schuyler girl created a sensation in London some time ago when she ran away to New York with a young fellow, and wrote home that she was a white slave captive. American and Canadian detectives investigated the story, which later proved to be a fiction invented by the girl herself.

LONDONER TELLS HOW WM. KELLY WAS KIDNAPPED

George Porter, of This City, Who Lived Near Big Irishman, Tell How He Was Ambushed and Taken To U. S. Prison.

"There can be no doubt that it was a piece of spite work on the part of the American officers," said George Porter, 810 Talbot street, this morning, referring to the alleged illegal arrest of William Kelly, a farmer of New Brunswick, which was the subject of a warm discussion in the House of Commons Monday night. Mr. Porter was well acquainted with Kelly, and resided only a few miles from his home near Woodstock, N. B. He remembers the details of the sensational case, and shares the opinion of practically all the people living in the vicinity, that Kelly was literally kidnapped by the American officers, dragged across the border, and sentenced to prison.

A Fine, Big Irishman.
"Kelly was a fine big Irishman, a most likeable man," Mr. Porter stated. "He had the sympathy of the whole neighborhood, and if the American customs officers had fallen into the hands of some of them they would have fared badly. Feeling ran very high for a long time."

"There could be no doubt that Kelly had been guilty of smuggling. Mr. Porter continued, but the temptations so near the border were strong, and the practice was common among the farmers. Kelly was driving across the line with a load of wheat one night in 1903 when an American officer hailed him, and ran to the head of his team when he did not stop. Kelly jumped from the wagon and the officer opened fire upon him with a revolver.

Montreal Bandit
Taken at Funeral

Beauchamp Was Kneeling
Amongst Mourners in Church
When Constable Jumped On Him.

(Canadian Press.)
Montreal, March 17.—Joseph Beauchamp, one of the three bandits wanted for the murder of Constable Bourdon last Wednesday morning at St. Laurent, and for whom the police have been scouring the whole province, was arrested this morning in St. Vincent de Paul Church, on St. Catherine street.

Beauchamp was kneeling among the mourners attending the funeral service of a little girl. The bandit was recognized going into the church by Constable Choquette, who followed him. When Beauchamp knelt down the policeman threw himself upon him. Beauchamp made an attempt to get his hand to his hip pocket, but Choquette frustrated his effort and himself pulled the gun secreted there and threw it away. Beauchamp, disarmed and held securely by the officer, then quietly submitted.

Disturbed Mourners.
When the policeman sprang at the murder suspect and threw his revolver up the aisle of the church, the little funeral party immediately rushed for the doors. Reassured by the prompt manner in which Choquette handled his man, the mourners returned to their pews and the service was continued even before the policeman and his prisoner had left the church.

Several other people had identified Beauchamp in the church and had notified detective headquarters, so that by the time the policeman and the wanted man got outside the building half a dozen plain clothes men, heavily armed, were ready to receive him.

Many Want Reward.
There was a reward of $1,000 out for Beauchamp's arrest or information leading thereto, and already four parties, beside Constable Choquette, are claiming it.

volver. The first shot struck him in the jaw, and a second shot was deflected by the buckle of his belt.

Put Up a Fight.
Despite his wounds, Kelly attacked his assailant and gave him a bad beating. Afterwards escaping into Canada. He was tried for the offence, but the New Brunswick courts decided that it was not an extraditable one and the man was freed. It was six years later when a man, giving the name of Black, came to his house and bargained for a cow. According to Mr. Porter, Mrs. Kelly was suspicious of the stranger, and warned her husband to have nothing to do with him. He sold the cow, however, and agreed to deliver it at the border. The stranger accompanied him when they drove with the cow towards the border, and Kelly stopped while still some distance from the line, which is marked by a series of granite posts, and refused to go farther. The stranger persuaded him to drive a little further until a clump of bushes was reached.

Lured to Ambuscade.
From behind this two men sprang out and all three turned upon Kelly and dragged him across the line, where he was arrested. He was tried and convicted on charges six years old, and is now serving a sentence of fourteen years in Atlanta prison. He is a man of about 70 years of age, and an effort will probably be made to secure his release.

BISHOP OF LONDON COMMENDS SCHEME

Praises Efforts of Rev. T. B.
Clarke to Establish Orphanage Near the City.

The Bishop of London, Rt. Rev. A. W. Winnington-Ingram, has publicly commended the scheme of Rev. T. B. Clarke of this city to establish an orphanage in the vicinity for the widows and orphans of immigrants.

Rev. Mr. Clarke is expected home on Thursday from England, where he has spent several months in endeavoring to raise funds for the scheme. Whether or not he has been successful in raising the sum of $50,000 which the committee appealed to the public for, is not known. It is every reason to believe that the appeal met with success.

Rev. Mr. Williams, who is chairman of the committee, stated that there was nothing for publication. The scheme was the one outlined in the advertisement several months ago, by which Rev. T. B. Clarke proposed to establish a farm east on the Hamilton road to care for widows and orphans of immigrants. When purchased and fully equipped the farm would be practically self-supporting, he believed.

FEWER DAYS LOST.
(Canadian Press.)
Ottawa, March 17.—The record of the department of labor for February shows that there was a pronounced decrease in the number of days lost through strikes and lockouts as compared with the previous month, although the number was somewhat larger than for the corresponding month of last year.

Advertiser's Next Serial
Readers of The Advertiser will learn with pleasure that the serial secured to follow the present one is "The Upper Crust," by Charles Sherman, the author of "He Comes Up Smiling," which ran through The Advertiser some time ago with great success. The new story is a rollicking romance of a masquerading young millionaire and his winsome young housekeeper and is full of delightful complications and swift action. The situations are mainly humorous, as befits a book by Charles Sherman, but there are serious points that grip the reader's attention. It is fresh in plot and the denouement carefully hidden until the very end. The first chapters will start within a few days, and will run through all editions.

DISASTROUS FIRE AT SARNIA FACTORY

(Special to The Advertiser.)
Sarnia, March 17.—Fire which has already done $150,000 worth of damage, and threatens more, is raging here, having broken out about 3 o'clock.

The blaze started in the storage sheds of the Goodison Threshing Machine Company, and 150 machines, valued at $1,200 each, were soon destroyed.

John Goodison's house is burning too, and an adjacent house has caught.

Reward For Physical Drills

One hundred and fifty young women from London and the surrounding country, who graduated from the London Normal School last year, were pleasantly surprised yesterday when they received checks from the militia department of Ottawa for fifteen dollars.

The money was paid by the militia department from the Strathcona trust fund. Normal students who had taken and passed the physical exercises approved by the trust.

Principal S. H. Radcliffe had charge of the money that came for this district and distributed $2,250 to the successful students who passed the examinations.

Building a Frame One.

(Canadian Press.)
Brechin, Ont., March 17.—Mrs. Thomas McCauley, her 10-months-old babe, her 5-year-old boy, John and Josephine Callaghan, a servant, lost their lives early today when the Brechin Hotel was destroyed by fire. Two children of Mrs. McCauley, a girl aged 2 and a boy of 10, were rescued along with another lad about 10 years old, a visitor in the house.

Two servants, Misses McGerney and Crosby, jumped from the windows and escaped serious injury. The flames were discovered by Victor Adair, one of the boarders, who, after making his own escape, succeeded in dragging out McCauley. He also assisted in getting out the children who escaped the holocaust. The building is totally destroyed and an effort is now being made to recover the bodies of the victims.

The fire was carried by a stiff breeze across the street and destroyed the residence of Dr. G. H. Clarke. The three hundred residents of the village were practically all on the scene, fighting the fire with a line of buckets, the only available means, but at 4:30 the fire had burned itself out. The body of Mrs. McCauley was found in bed, not burned, but smothered by the smoke. Mrs. McCauley slept on the ground floor, while Miss Callaghan and little John were on the upper floor.

The fire started in the basement, presumably from a defective furnace. The destruction of the hotel and outbuildings, including the hotel and outbuildings, while Dr. G. H. Clarke's loss is five thousand dollars. Brechin is a small village, ten miles north of Beaverton and fifteen miles southeast of Orillia.

STREET RAILWAY WILL FIGHT CASE

To Take Council's Demand For Increased Service to Courts if Necessary Declares Manager
C. B. King.

Though the London Street Railway Company has not yet decided on its formal plan of action owing to the absence from the city of its counsel, C. H. Ivey, Manager C. B. King stated today that the company would resist any effort that may be made by the city to enforce the new speed and service bylaw passed by the council on Monday night. April 1 is named as the date on which the new bylaw is to go into effect.

"The company is considering the matter," said Mr. King to The Advertiser, "and will certainly take the case into the courts rather than submit to the demands of the city. Mr. Ivey is out of town for a couple of days, and I cannot say whether the matter will pass through the regular courts or be laid before the railway board."

Calls for Forty Cars.
The new bylaw calls for the operation of 40 cars instead of the 36 at present in service, and provides for the creation of a new motor bus covering Dundas, Richmond, Chesapeake, and Adelaide streets, and running the Ottawa belt.

Objects to Double Belt.
The manager objected to the formation of a double belt and submitted several alternate schedules, but the controllers a few days ago, that the company was giving 19 per cent more service than a year ago, but that the earnings had increased only 8 per cent, his contention being that this increase in earnings was only a natural one, and not caused by the increased service.

Ottawa, March 17.—Extension of time and enlargement of powers were given the London and Lake Erie Railway and Transportation Company this morning by the railway committee of the Commons, without a single objection. The bill of the company extends two years the time for commencement of uncompleted portions of the line authorized, and allows their completion within five years.

T. H. Purdon, K.C., represented the company before the committee. He stated that the company had spent large sums in the improvement of its existing line between London and Port Stanley, a distance of 28 miles. Since 1910 the line had been operated by hydro power, as would the extensions which the company was by the bill asking authority to build, and which it expected to commence this summer.

The branches which the bill authorizes are from the village of Union to the village of Sparta, and from a point in or near St. Thomas through the townships of Karmouth and Malahide, through the village of Aylmer and thence to Port Burwell.

It also authorizes an increase of the bonding powers to $30,000 a mile from $25,000.

After hearing Mr. Purdon, the committee desired the chairman to report the bill without amendment to the House this evening.

The hydro-electric commission of Ontario has opposed the granting of other extensions, but in this instance had no objection to offer.

Ledges On Which Vessel Struck the Scene of Many Wrecks.

(Canadian Press.)
Halifax, March 17.—The steamer City of Sydney, from New York for St. John's, Nfld., is on the rocks at Sambro, a few miles from here. She struck during a dense fog early today and water in her stokehold put out the fires. She carries a number of passengers. Several vessels were dispatched to her assistance from here, and boats have gone out from Sambro.

Weather Thick.
The weather was extremely thick during the forenoon, and boats had difficulty in locating the steamer. Early reports said the Sydney had grounded on Stag Rock, which is at the southwest entrance to Halifax harbor, and was in a dangerous position.

The City of Sydney is a steamer of 1,600 tons, and ply between New York, Halifax, and St. John's, Nfld. She is believed to carry a crew of about 40. Capt. McDonald, her commander, is on board.

"The Ledges have been the scene of many wrecks. They extend for nearly two miles from the head, on which there is a powerful light, a fog signal and wireless station.

The City of Sydney left New York on Saturday with a small cargo and thirteen passengers. The weather was thick, though not boisterous, all the way up the coast, and the vessel made fair progress, arriving off the coast last evening. The fog was still dense, and Capt. McDonald, telling of his wife's visit of Sambro Head, apparently steered for the entrance to the harbor.

According to wireless reports received here the Sydney fetched up on the Stag Rock, one of the outer ledges of the Sambro group, about four o'clock this morning, and at once began pounding, as the deep ground swell from the broad Atlantic was crashing onto the rocks. Within a short time the rocks had punctured the steamer's hull in several places, and the sea sweeping in put out the fires.

Those familiar with the scene of the accident were of the opinion this morning that the steamer would hold together for some time, and that the life-savers and tugs would be able to take off the passengers in safety, provided the Sydney remained fixed on the ledges instead of rolling off into deep water.

NEEDLES THRU INTO BRAIN KILLED CHILD

Edmonton Negroes Arrested for Death of Stepdaughter—Heavy Life Insurance.

(Canadian Press.)
Edmonton, March 17.—The death occurred a few days ago of a 4-year-old girl named Lowe, who lived with her step-parents. Yesterday Dr. Campbell was called to the scene, and he was altogether satisfied with the circumstances attending the girl's death, he called in Coroner Dr. Forin, who made a post-mortem examination and found that there were five needles thrust into the brain through the skull. The child carried heavy life insurance.

The stepfather, William Lowe, and his wife have been taken into custody by the police pending an investigation which is now proceeding. All the parties are negroes.

Four Hours Lost Through Level Crossing

The level crossing over the Grand Trunk tracks at Richmond street was responsible for delays to London street cars aggregating four hours, Monday. Twenty-seven times the day. The Neapolitan boy in the fruit store has a big shamrock leaf in his coat lapel and you don't get angry when he gives you the green lantern. The celestial destroyer of shirt-fronts and lambs of starch water sends home your laundry tied up with green string. The wicked English bull terrier across the street that killed your favorite Angora last week has green eyes, you note, and peevy green teeth.

until 8:04. During this time other cars came up, and all were stalled for periods of from 10 to 15 minutes. Oxford, Richmond, Ridout, Normal and Ottawa cars were all involved in the tie-up and schedules were disrupted accordingly. The difficulty of maintaining a schedule is apparent when conditions such as exist at London's level crossings are allowed to continue.

Today's Best Moving Picture Story

A Modern Portia

[By Edwin M. La Roche.]

"It's a question of minutes, a stimulant and the resources of a clinic." He watched, peering up into the ghostly fog. "What a death!—burst into a hole in the street—unfaded save by a helpless alibi."

"Help, help!" His voice sounded like a wail in the night.

Then a glad, distant sound came down to him, the clang of an ambulance bell, and he almost swooned with the reaction its message brought to him.

Weeks flitted by, months flicked themselves off the calendar, and, with the swift passage of time, the emergency ward of the City Hospital came no more to know its own urgent patient. The time had come when Isabel Vincent, with her shattered frame starting to knit together again, had been picked up and wheeled off to a secluded room.

And with the face of the man bending over her, the dark, fixed face that had become an integral part of her resurrection, her hand sought his and was immeasurably comforted by its glow of warmth and strength.

"So it has come to this," she said the words half to herself.

"Yes, Isabel, I stood in the path of death and harried him while the hospital staff worked over you."

"You forget the long nights—I remember only your face alone."

"Ah! is it memory or desire that paints itself on your eyes?"

"Have it either way"—the first, new pink found its way into her cheeks—"I feel that you love me."

His strong hand closed over hers, and she lay in comforted silence.

In an hour she was awake.

"I'm stronger already," she said; "with your love comes strength. Have I slept long?"

"No longer than my hand has—it's quite lifeless."

"Then take it back," she smiled; "I want only the wilful part of you—the indomitable face of my dreams."

One could hardly believe such invalid words an engagement, yet each took it as such, and, with the passage of convalescent days—days of close communion for the brilliant girl and the famous specialist—the whispered word passed through the hospital that they were engaged to be married.

When the day came that Isabel was able to walk coitously and was sent back to her home, the wonder of her love-affair began to dawn upon her.

In her girlhood, in the breathing spells of her long periods of study, in the unaided fortress of her law-office, she had calmly faced the possibility of falling in love. First, it should be a meeting of the minds, a checking-up of congenial points, an analysis of secret thoughts—after that, love unbounded, if you will.

Now, with the lust for her work beginning to fasten on her again, and her mind filling with freshened thought, the twinkling stone on her finger caused her to stare at it in almost dismay.

But when the dark, compelling eyes of the doctor daily faced her, her soul felt only delight at their probe. She loved him; he felt it in her deepest core, yet her mind revolted at this panicky surrender of herself without restriction and covenant.

Soon, she thought, she would be mixing and battling with other people again, and her judgment would run clear.

On the day that Isabel Vincent prepared to journey downtown to her office and to pick up again the tangled reins of her practice, she had never felt more physically fit. Yet her nerves were not quite prepared for the shock that gripped them with eerie suddenness.

It was a street car, and two ladies sat in a cross seat with their backs to her. "Yes, he's engaged to marry Isabel Vincent, the talented and beautiful, they say, young woman lawyer."

"Do you suppose she knows he's gambled away everything he has?"

"You never can tell—what won't a girl do in the heat of infatuation?"

There was a pause, and Isabel listened, fascinated.

"It's a pity—they say she's awful nice."

Rather an anticlimax, this remark, but she turned off, and she swung off, at almost timidly, at her corner. A fiery, wavering path seemed to cleave her brain; on the one side, love, the best of her, holding forth for this man; and on the other, doubt, disdain, revolt, creeping up with sickening, forced strength.

Isabel bowed to her smiling office force and shut her private door behind her.

"Well, it's come at last," she said, half-aloud, "my trial of myself. Whatever the value of tattle in a street car, the thing has to be faced."

She flung her gloves on the desk and stared hard at them, her eyes gazing unmeaningly before her.

"It's got to work itself out—now, at the beginning of my life again. It's my one great case—myself, I versus my life and my happiness."

Doctor Carpel stood in the presence of Mrs. Norman, with the light of pity shining from his dark eyes. It was night, and, save for him, she lay alone, dying.

A shaken, fearful voice over the telephone had bidden him hurry to her bedside. And he stood there now, counting her measured breathing.

Not even her wealth could save her, he thought, nor could the bulwarks of her bank account stand between her and the Reaper. And the strangeness of it all! The whim of a remarkable woman. When he arrived, not even her most confidential friend and agent, Isabel Vincent, was near her. It was all a mockery, too, that Helen, her beloved niece and principal beneficiary, was absent from the great house.

At the dying woman's faint gesture, he bent close to her.

"It is—my wish to go, thus—alone and without pain—to my—"

A fit of violent coughing seized her and shook her transparent shoulders. Her eyes shone supernaturally.

"Over there, in the desk—a secret drawer—bank withdrawals—oh, God, let me finish!"

"Yes, yes," he said, "I understand everything."

She dropped her eyelids hopelessly, and he saw that the spark of life was preparing to quench.

"Quick—get—"

Doctor Carpel sprang to the massive piece of furniture and ran deft fingers over its array of drawers and compartments. A little brass knob, among a dozen looked significant to him, and he twisted and turned it, until he heard a spring uncatch, and a secret drawer lay open to him.

He glanced over his shoulder. The woman on the bed lay deathly still.

There they lay naked to his eyes, a sheet of one-thousand-dollar bills. A princely fortune, judging by the thick look of them.

Doctor Carpel picked the packet up, weighed it in his hand, closed the secret drawer, then calmly stowed the packet in his frock-coat pocket. No one else knew the secret of the desk; he felt positive, and here was a new lease of life, fortune, fame, and his head again, and a chill ran down his spine. His forehead broke out in clammy beads of moisture. Surely, surely the dead woman had not moved her hand?

She was utterly routed, according to the dispatch, with a loss of about 500 men killed, captured or wounded. The Federal losses were not stated.

In their flight the Constitutionalists were said to have left behind large quantities of arms and ammunition, and the Federals claimed the capture of many wagons, carrying arms and supplies, and 100 loaded pack animals.

[Special to The Advertiser.]
Aylmer, March 16.—Aylmer was promised a radial road to connect the town with either St. Thomas or London at a largely-attended and enthusiastic meeting held in the interests of the proposed road in the town hall here tonight. The speakers were Hon. Adam Beck and Philip Pocock, of London, and J. B. Lyons, of Ouelph. Mayor Wagner occupied the chair.

In the course of his address Mr. Beck stated that radial engineers would be sent to the town on Monday or Tuesday, when the local situation will be thoroughly gone into and a decision reached regarding the terminal of the proposed

Knee Joint Stiff Three Years CURED BY NERVILINE

Anyone would marvel at my recovery, writes Mr. Leonard Lotham, a young man well known about Chatham. I had inherited a rheumatic tendency, through my mother's family, and in my early days suffered frightfully. About three years ago the pain and stiffness settled in my left knee joint. I was lame and walked with a very distinct limp. Nerviline was brought to my notice and I rubbed it into the stiff joint four or five times a day. It dispelled every vestige of pain, reduced the swelling, took out the stiffness and gave me the full use of my limb again. I don't believe there is a pain-relieving remedy, not a single liniment that can compare with Nerviline. I hope every person with pains, with sore back, with lameness, with lumbago, with neuralgia—I do hope they will try out Nerviline, which I am convinced will quickly and permanently cure them."

If Nerviline wasn't a wonderful painless remedy, if Nerviline didn't quickly relieve, if Nerviline wasn't known to be a grand cure for all rheumatic conditions, it wouldn't have been so largely used as a family remedy for the past forty years. No better, stronger, or more soothing liniment made. Get the large 50c family-size bottle; small trial size 25c; sold by any dealer, anywhere.

line. The speaker outlined the progress of the hydro system and predicted success for the proposed lines throughout the Province.

ORIGINAL JOHN DOUGH VISITING IN LONDON

Arrived Here Yesterday for Ten Days' Stay, and Is Already "At Home."

Crusty he may appear on the surface, but at heart "John Dough," is the kindest of persons. John arrived in London yesterday. His first appearance in London streets was greeted with enthusiasm and it wasn't long before the walking bread man was made to feel right at home.

The animated "loaves of bread," for his costume is of many fables, is going to be a London visitor for the next ten days. He is going to visit every baker's, and grocery in the city in the interests of the Fleischmann Yeast. Already he has established lished an affinity between himself and the younger generation of the city, for there were hundreds who saw him yesterday and shook him by the hand.

Inside of John Dough is John Kelly. This second John hails from York, Pa., and since January 3, 1910, when he left Tampa, Fla., on his tour of the continent, which is to end at the "Frisco Panama Exhibition in 1915, he has visited thousands of cities in Canada and the states.

His costume is a novel one and is a replica of the famous Fleischmann advertisements of "John Dough, Raised on Fleischmann's Yeast."

KILLS AN EDITOR TO AVENGE HER HUSBAND

Wife of the French Minister of Finance Slays Calmette of the Figaro.

[Canadian Press.]
Paris, March 16.—Gaston Calmette, editor of Figaro, was shot today by Mme. Henriette Caillaux, wife of Joseph Caillaux, the French minister of finance. M. Calmette died tonight.

Mme. Caillaux went to the office of the Figaro to carry out an act of vengeance against M. Calmette who had been waging a campaign characterized by great bitterness against the Minister of Finance. She fired at least three times, M. Calmette being wounded in the chest, in the side and in the abdomen.

While the editor was being transported to the hospital he said repeatedly: "I have done my duty! I have done my duty!"

Immediately Arrested.

Having committed the deed, Mme. Caillaux submitted to arrest, and while employees in the Figaro office were taking the pistol from her hands she said: "Since there is no justice in this country, I take upon myself an act of justice. Take me where you will."

Mme. Caillaux was immediately removed to a police station, where she underwent a preliminary examination, the substance of which was communicated to the press at her desire.

"I am sorry," she said, "for what I was obliged to do. I had no intention of killing M. Calmette, and I would be happy to know that he will recover. I desired only to teach him a lesson."

The disastrous winds of March and November, 1913, worked such havoc in the sugar bushes that many are out of the business entirely.

WESTERN ONTARIO PIONEER

LATE DONALD W. ROSS.
Native of Embro and former crown attorney of Bruce, who died yesterday in Toronto.

Government to proceed with business was manifested again in the Legislature today when the expected debates on Mr. Elliott's proposal to give the municipal franchise to women, and Mr. McCormack's (East Lambton) tax reform proposals were laid over.

Several bills were advanced to the second reading and passed on to the municipal committee.

J. C. Anderson (South Bruce) secured the consent of Mr. Hanna for a second reading to his bill to permit township councils to send out tax notices by mail, the same at cities, towns and villages. But another bill by this member to give councils the power to prohibit automobiles from using the roads 24 hours in the week was withdrawn on the frank admission of the member for South Bruce that there was a preponderance of feeling against it.

The new member for East Middlesex, J. McFarlane, wants to amend the municipal act to enable police villages to extend their boundaries. This bill also goes to the committee for consideration or annihilation.

The Kents, instead of being East and West, will be North and South. There is to be little change in the Lambtons and Essexes. The Northumberland, in Eastern Ontario, will be consolidated.

Tory Toronto and York County will get ten seats, the new Toronto seat being known as Parkdale.

The St. Louis Republic says that the British Government's proposition to allow the Ulster counties to vote on the question of remaining in Ireland "is only what Americans in a similar situation would have done in the first place." But we notice there were a great many Americans who were willing to spend much blood and money to keep them in.

We might say that, much as we regret it, all surplus space in The Advertiser will be devoted to a cause nearer home than North Dakota.

We have heard a great deal about the operations of millionaires, and the accumulation of vast sums. But the story of the greatest financial transaction we have heard of for some time comes from Philadelphia. A firm in the city of brotherly love has just gone into bankruptcy, with liabilities of $2,593,793 and cash assets of 76 cents. This throws the operations of Rockefeller and Morgans into the shade. Even the Tory Governments of Canada fall short, for they have always got some assets, no matter how high they run up the liabilities.

SHALLOW REASONING.

PROFESSOR Frederick Starr, of Chicago University, expects a hero to arise in Mexico to save the situation. "History has shown us that in the hour of need a hero ALWAYS arises," he says. (Capitals his or his reporters). This is very shallow of a professor. He seems not to remember anarchical Poland, or the long subjugation of nations such as Greece, Bulgaria, Egypt, Ireland, through internal disunion or outside oppression. Hindustan never achieved peace or stable government until England stepped in. The Mexicans are largely Indian, and Professor Starr might think of the desolating internecine wars of Indian tribes here in Western Ontario which had reduced this garden of the earth to a wilderness before the white man came.

Every one will hope to see order established in Mexico, if possible without outside intervention, but such optimism as Professor Starr's is not scientific. This world is full of uncertainties.

THE BRAZILIAN DISTURBANCE.

BRAZIL is now adding its share to the general unrest of Latin America. Ecuador, Columbia, Venezuela, Hayti, and above all Mexico, are disturbed by revolutions and riots. The addition of Brazil to the number only enlarges the area of turmoil.

Brazil is one of the largest countries on the continent. It covers more ground than the United States, though its population is only about 12,000,000. It has always been one of the most peaceful and orderly of the Latin American communities. For many years its government was monarchical, and its emperors ruled as nearly constitutionally as was possible. But the people got the idea that they were not free unless they had a republic and so the emperor left. And since then presidents have ruled instead of emperors. It is doubtful if there has been any more freedom under the new form of government than there was under the old. The present ruler, from all accounts, is a man with an iron hand. President De Fonseca does not seem to be as much of a constitutional governor as Emperor Pedro. Troubles have broken out in some of the northern states, and martial law has been proclaimed. Rio Janeiro, the capital, has also been placed under a state of siege, though it is many miles distant from the seat of revolution. That would seem to indicate that there is disaffection in the capital, even if it has not advanced to actual rebellion.

It may be that the prompt measures of the president will restore order. But it is very difficult for outsiders to realize the actual conditions of those countries. News from there is sure to be distorted by the channel through which it comes, and cannot be accepted implicitly. But one thing is certain, that the germs of unrest are always there. The majority of the people are uneducated natives, or half-breeds. And even among those of European descent, the idea of political liberty in conjunction with obedience to law is but little understood. Dissatisfaction with the government of the day is not allowed to show itself by constitutional agitation, and it breaks out in armed rebellion. That has been the history of Latin America, and there seems little prospect of a change for the better.

A CONSISTENT POLICY.

THE C. P. R. management have an extensive program for the year. They propose to expend some $80,000,000 in improving the condition of their road in the mountain sections, and making extensions. When originally constructed, like all other old railway lines, the chief object was to get it running as quickly as possible, and with as little initial outlay as possible. Steep grades, sharp curves, poor stations, anything was permissible that allowed a speedy opening of the line. Now that the road is established, they are doing just as other companies have done, and are laying out millions to make up the deficiencies in the original construction.

The managers of the C. P. R. are recognized as shrewd men, and their employees are capable. So our Government, anxious to improve its intercolonial railway, has borrowed an employee from the C. P. R.—a Mr. Gutelius—to look after its line. And Mr. Gutelius very sensibly proposes the C. P. R. policy—straightening it out, levelling it, and attending to all the weaknesses inseparable from its early construction. His recommendations are approved by the Minister of Railways, and will be carried out. To this no one will object.

But this same Mr. Gutelius, as a commissioner for the Government inquiring into the construction of the National Transcontinental vigorously condemns the policy of the Liberal administration in undertaking to construct the line in such a manner that it will not be necessary to do what is being done with the C. P. R. and the Intercolonial, and that is to spend money in reconstructing the line in the future.

This might look to some people as rather inconsistent. But there is an underlying consistency that goes beyond details. The Conservative Opposition was not in favor of the building of the Transcontinental. We can all remember the speeches of Mr. Borden and his colleagues on the subject. Now Mr. Borden is in power, with the Transcontinental on his hands. He cannot get rid of the road, but he can make it as useless and unprofitable as possible. He can not only through his commission condemn the road, but he can reverse the policy of his predecessors and make a second-class road of what was intended to be first-class. His appointee, Major Leonard, who has control of construction now, has already started on the second rate policy. He has been increasing the grades. He will go on and finish the road, if he can, in the cheapest manner possible. Mr. Gutelius indorses the cheap policy for the Transcontinental while he puts the Intercolonial in good condition, and his regular employers spend $30,000,000 to make the C. P. R. what the Trans-

The lawyer eyed the woman in the witness box in despair. "You say, madam," he began, "that the defendant is a sort of a relative of yours. Will you please explain what you mean by that?"
"Well, it is like this," replied the witness, beaming upon the court. "His first wife's aunt married brothers named Jones, and they were cousins to my mother's aunt. Then again, his grandfather on his mother's side were second cousins, and his stepmother married my husband's stepfather after his father and my mother died, and his brother Joe and my husband's brother Harry married twin sisters. I ain't figured out just how close related we are, but I've always looked on him as a sort of cousin."

Land Grants to Canadian Roads Bigger Than Many Nations

Dominion Has Made No Grants Since 1894—Canadian Pacific Has Received 26,135,882 Acres, and C. N. R. 5,718,192 Acres—None for G. T. R.

[Toronto Star Weekly.]

Railways in Canada in addition to the bond guarantees, cash subsidies, loans, "implements" of bonds, which failed to realize the desired sum in the money market, and subscriptions to shares of stock, have been granted land by the Dominion and the various Provinces to the amount of 43,561,449 acres. Of this amount the Dominion Government has granted 31,864,074 acres. Quebec has granted altogether some 20,000,000 acres, but with a peculiar provision that the grantees in certain cases could convert them into cash by accepting 52½ cents an acre instead. Of the total Quebec grants, 1,146,150 have been alienated, and 6,995,599 acres converted at 52½ cents per acre.

The grants by the various Provinces and the Dominion are distributed as follows:

Dominion, 31,864,074 acres.
Quebec (alienated), 1,146,150 acres.
Ontario, 2,824,232 acres.
British Columbia, 5,113,221 acres.
New Brunswick, 1,647,772 acres.
Nova Scotia, 160,000 acres.
Total, 43,561,449 acres.

An Official Analysis.
The Dominion has not made any grants of lands to railways since 1894. Following is the official analysis of the Dominion land grants to the different lines, some of which have, since the grants, been absorbed by the larger railway systems of the country. Land grants, of course, being included with the other assets of each company so absorbed.

Alberta Railway and Irrigation Co. (C.P.R.), 1,114,368
Calgary and Edmonton Railway (C.P.R.) 1,888,448

Canadian Northern from C.P.R. to Hudson Bay 2,624,128
Canadian Northern (formerly Lake Manitoba Railway) 798,400
Canadian Pacific (main line) 18,206,988
Canadian Pacific (Pipe Stone extension) 200,320
Canadian Pacific (Souris branch) 1,408,704
Great North-West Central (C.P.R.) 320,000
Manitoba South-Western (Colonization Railway (C.P.R.)) 1,396,800
Manitoba and North-Western Railway Company (C.P.R.) 1,501,376
Canadian Northern (Manitoba and South-Eastern) 680,320
Qu'Appelle, Long Lake, and Saskatchewan (C.N.R.) 1,625,344
Saskatchewan and Western Railway (C.P.R.) 98,880

Total 31,864,074

Not Much for the N. T. R.

This table of Dominion land grants figures out at 26,135,882 for the C.P.R., and 5,718,192 for the Canadian Northern. The Grand Trunk Pacific and the Transcontinental bought their right-of-way and with one exception received no land. Remains the Provincial land grants of 12,079,376 acres to account for. The Grand Trunk Pacific got its sole land grant, namely, from the Province of Ontario, for the branch lines down to Lake Superior, 624,232 acres. The Canadian Northern got 2,000,000 acres from Ontario for the line from Sudbury to Fort Arthur. The rest is divided among the roads in various Provinces, some of it dating back a considerable period.

KIDNAPPING OF KELLY WILL BE INVESTIGATED

New Brunswick Farmer Serving Term in United States Prison for Smuggling.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

Ottawa, March 16.—In commemoration of the event of St. Patrick's Day Parliament discussed the case of William James Kelly, a New Brunswick farmer of Irish blood, who smuggled potatoes across the international boundary into the state of Maine. Four years ago he was seized by an American customs official, who, when Kelly resisted, got two bullets into him, before the New Brunswick Irishman laid him out.

The United States applied for the extradition of Kelly and was refused. Six years after the murder Kelly was lured to the border by an American official, who pretended that he wanted to purchase from him. On the border a gang of officials seized Kelly, kidnapped him on Canadian soil, and carried him across the border to be tried, sentenced to four years in the penitentiary and sent to Georgia, where he has been four years serving his term. In the meantime his wife has died and his family disappeared.

Mr. Carvel demanded Judge Doherty continue the efforts made by Sir Allan Aylesworth to secure Kelly's release. Mr. Doherty promised to make representations.

The liability runs back to 1912, and according to a question on the order of Parliament the government of justice will be called upon to give its attention to this matter.

The revised statute of Ontario, 1914, chapter 11, section 10, declares that "No person holding any office, commission or employment, permanent or temporary, in the service of the Government of Canada, shall be eligible as a member of the Assembly or shall sit or vote therein." Section 16 fixes the penalty at $2,000 a day and provides disqualification to be "recovered by any person who sues for the same in any court of competent jurisdiction."

It is rumored that Mr. Evanurell may bring the suit.

THE PREVENTION OF WAR.

[London Chronicle.]
No sign of the times is more hopeful and more full of possibilities for good than the growing consciousness, all over Europe and not less in the United States of America, of the wastefulness of heavy expenditure on armaments, and the importance, socially and ethically as well as in the realm of finance, of maintaining international peace. The relations of the English-speaking peoples, which are cemented doubly by the common celebration of the hundred years' peace between England and America, have been a powerful factor in spreading the conviction of the crime and wastefulness of war while the newer propaganda on the economic as a means of settling international rivalries has operated in the same direction.

Thy life defend
Till journey's end.

Astrologers read in the stars warnings for today, which is not an auspicious time for travellers and speculators. The Sun yields an adverse sway, while Uranus and Jupiter are in evil aspect.

Wise employees will avoid contact with their superiors while this rule of the stars prevails, since the astral influences are said to cause moods which are exacting, faultfinding and unreasonable. It is an inauspicious astral government for seeking aid in any business enterprise.

There is a warning omen for dealing with lawyers, judges and police justices. Bankers, brokers and woolen merchants are under a sinister sway, which is believed to cause them to be difficult to deal with.

The aspect, which is said to disturb the liver, tends toward irascibility, unreason, and hasty action. Owing to the position of Uranus extra caution in connection with engines, cars, electricity and electrically propelled conveyance is recommended.

Natives of Uranus, born between January 21 and February 19, are likely to be impulsive, sarcastic and eccentric when the planet is evilly placed. A London astrologer predicts for Washington, D. C., a "convulsion of the earth," not necessarily an earthquake, but nevertheless exceedingly alarming. This same seer foresees fires and riots for New York City later in the spring.

Again many deaths by drowning are predicted. Floods will continue to do great damage this spring, which promises to bring much anxiety to farmers. The augury for agriculture is on the whole not discouraging except in the far west. California will lose on its fruit crops.

Warning against destructive tornadoes is seen in the stars. These will visit regions not hitherto devastated, the seers prophesy.

Cases of libel will attract attention. The increase of these actions, foretold months ago, will arouse wide discussion. Persons whose birthdate it is have rather an unfavorable augury for the year, which probably will bring anxieties in business. Women should be wary of the family misunderstandings. Changes are not likely to be advantageous.

Children born on this day may be impetuous and quick-tempered. Boys should be severely disciplined for business life, as they have the proclivity of loss through easy-going habits.

Persian—"A woman's wisdom is under her heel."

German—"Every daughter of Eve would rather be beautiful than good."

They Are Third Cousins.

Dear Miss Grey: Am coming to you for help again.

1. I love a young lady who is my third cousin, but she objects to our keeping company on the grounds that it is wrong for third cousins to go together and to marry. Is she right? If not, how may I tell her so?

Ans.—Jim, I think your cousin is right. It will seem hard to give her up, but honestly I think it would be for the best. I might say, however, that there is no legal barrier.

To Kill White Worms.

Dear Madam: Black-Eyed Susan wants to know what will kill white worms on the roots of flowers. Here is a sure remedy to destroy them: Take a teaspoonful of kail salt, dissolve in two quarts of cold water; use the same twice, say twenty-four hours apart, and she will never see any more white worms. Direction.—Use solution the same as you would when watering flowers. Just around the roots, not on the leaves, unless your plants are lousy. Yours, A. S.

Ans.—We are grateful for the hint and I am glad to pass it on to Black-Eyed Susan.

No Popular Songs.

Dear Miss Grey: I have read with pleasure your interesting and helpful column and hope you will answer these questions for me:

2. What are the meanings of the following names: Verne, Byron, Louise, Kate. Thanking you in advance, I remain, "BOOTS."

Ans.—The song you ask for is a popular piece and cannot be printed in our "old song" column.

2. Verne, spring-like; Byron, strong; Louise, desirable; Kate, purity.

About Cold Cream.

Dear Miss Grey: Seeing that you have helped so many of your readers, that I thought I would come to you for help.

1. In Miss Burke's recipe for face cream it says to boil the ingredients. Have you any idea how long it should be boiled?

2. Will you please tell me the price of mercurized wax and when and how it should be applied to the face?

3. Some time ago I noticed in the ladies' page of your paper in your column that Epsom salts and something else was good for reducing flesh where applied. Will you kindly publish it again as I would be greatly obliged?

4. Could you give me the price of Miss Burke's recipe?

5. Can you tell me any good book or books with readings and recitations, comic and others of good quality?

Thanking you, I remain, Yours truly, ALMAHET BROWN.

Ans.—I fear that the recipe has either been misquoted or that you have read it wrong, as cold cream should certainly not be "boiled," or allowed to become more than slightly warm. I will print the formula again so that you may get it right: Sweet almond oil, 1 ounce; rosewater, one ounce; spermaceti, 1/4 ounce; white wax, 1/4 ounce; break the spermaceti and white wax into tiny bits and put into an earthen bowl with the almond oil; set over a tea-kettle containing boiling water, and let them soften gradually; when they have thickened to look almost like cheese, pour into the mixture, drop by drop, the rosewater, and stir with a silver spoon; add a few drops of violet or rose perfume, and pour quickly into small tins. Do not let the mixture become hot.

2. This is a proprietary article, and you must ask about it at a drug store.

3. This is the reducer you refer to: Dissolve one pound of epsom salts in one quart of rainwater. Shave fine three parts of white soap and dissolve in one quart of boiling rainwater; when partially cool, beat in the epsom salts solution. At night rub the preparation on the body morning and evening. Besides, it might be well to take the juice of half a lemon in a cup of hot water, every morning before breakfast.

4. At most drug stores it should not cost more than 75c, or $1.00, and make quite a quantity.

5. The query is referred to some of our readers interested in elocution. Could any one recommend a reliable book?

Answer to Genifer.

I should advise you to insert an advertisement in our advertising columns. I feel sure that you would get some returns if you offered it for sale. Thanks for sending the song.

Re School Inspectors.

Dear Miss Grey: Could you give me the dates of the deaths of the late school inspectors, Mr. J. B. Boyle and Mr. Carson? I take the Evening Advertiser, and enjoy the woman's page very much. Sincerely yours, NIG.

Ans.—I am sorry to have kept you waiting so long for a reply. Mr. Boyle died January 28, 1891, and Mr. Carson, October 9, 1904.

Letter From Helper.

"A Helper" writes: I have certainly enjoyed reading your column, and have gotten a great deal of useful information from it, although I have never personally, through the column, asked you for any. As I saw the words of "The Orphan Boys of Switzerland" asked for, I am sending them to you, also a cure for burping which was requested: Just apply turpentine freely night and morning, and as a hard scale forms, remove with the fingers, and keep on applying till burping is entirely gone. The same will also cure corns.

Patience a Virtue.

Dear Miss Grey:—We are sending the songs asked for, "After the Ball," "Remember, Boy, You're Irish," and "Little Teddy," enjoy reading your corner very much, but often wonder if you are really human to have patience to answer so many questions, and the same ones over and over again. But patience is a great virtue, Miss Grey,—oh, I am afraid, that few of us possess. Someone was asking for a bunion cure. Here is one that I have found very good, and is also very simple: Let fall a stream of very warm water from a tea kettle at the highest elevation from which the patient can bear the water to fall directly on the apex of the swelling. Continue this once a day for a short time, and a cure will be effected.

Pot-Pourri

Conducted by "THE NOMAD."

A Lenten Penance.

We read in an exchange of a woman whose self-imposed "penance" during Lent is to learn to curb her tongue, and to have a more tolerant opinion of others. Isn't that a splendid Lenten resolution? We are so prone to be sharp with others who do not agree with us, or of whose actions we do not just approve.

We may find fault with Mrs. B., our next-door neighbor, because she prefers red window-shades where we would have green ones. The red shades may annoy our aesthetic tastes every time we pass Mrs. B.'s house, yet the dear soul is satisfied, and why should we complain? Or, perhaps, our patience is totally exhausted with Mrs. S., because she persists in wearing Alice blue, despite our hints that old rose is so much more becoming to her. What little matters these are, after all, compared to the really "worth while" things of life, and yet we allow them to vex us, and often work ourselves into a fever because other folk refuse to see just as we do.

And, to go deeper, this time, we may have heard a trivial bit of gossip about some woman. Nine chances out of ten, it may be absolutely untrue, and yet perhaps at once we jump to the conclusion that her life is not right, and attribute unworthy motives to even the most innocent act.

One soon gets a miserable feeling to be continually looking for flaws in the characters of the people one meets. And this Lenten season is an admirable time to turn over a new leaf—to put aside all the old, hateful suspicions, and to look upon people with new eyes. Look for virtues, not for faults; and this particularly in those friends of ours who "rub us the wrong way"—and you will be surprised to find how much good you can detect in each one.

If you want to turn the limelight onto anybody, turn it upon yourself—into every little crooked nook and cranny of your nature. Look for faults, not for virtues; and this particularly in those friends of ours who "rub us the wrong way"—and you will be surprised to find how much good you can detect in each one.

There's so much good in the worst of us. There's so much bad in the best of us. That really it seems that none of us should talk about the rest of us."

And once having formed this habit of more tolerance for others during Lent, let us not forget to carry the attitude throughout the rest of the year, when the "forty days' meditation" is over.

A much larger profit is made by the grocer on every other tea he sells than on "SALADA." Hence the others are often substituted when "SALADA" is asked for.

The Best Cough Syrup is Easily Made at Home

Costs Little and Acts Quickly. Money Refunded if It Fails.

This recipe makes 16 ounces of cough syrup, and saves you about $2.00 as compared with ordinary cough remedies. It stops obstinate coughs—even whooping cough—in a hurry, and is splendid for sore lungs, asthma, croup, hoarseness and other throat troubles.

Mix two cups of granulated sugar with one cup of warm water, and stir for two minutes. Put 5½ ounces of Pinex (fifty cents' worth) in a 16-ounce bottle, and add the Sugar Syrup. Take a teaspoonful every one, two or three hours. Tastes good.

This takes right hold of a cough and gives almost instant relief. It stimulates the appetite, and is slightly laxative—both excellent features.

Pinex, as perhaps you know, is the most valuable concentrated compound of Norway white pine extract, rich in gualacol and the other natural healing pine elements.

No other preparation will do the work of Pinex in this recipe, although strained honey can be used instead of the sugar syrup, if desired.

Thousands of housewives in the United States and Canada now use this Pinex and Sugar Syrup recipe. This plan has often been imitated, but the old successful formula has never been equaled. Its low cost and quick results have made it immensely popular.

A guaranty of absolute satisfaction, or money promptly refunded, goes with this recipe. Your druggist has Pinex, or will get it for you. If not, send to The Pinex Co., Toronto, Ont.

Lewis Approves the Tricorne Hat

The tricorne hat, recalling the days of our colonial ancestors, is the most appropriate of millinery modes for the coming season. There is plenty of dash and style in it if it is worn jauntily, and it is generally becoming. This model from Lewis of London and Paris, is in black straw with soft black velvet crown. Its chief feature is in the tall black ostrich fancy, two feathers joined in a tall "T" that flares up boldly from one side.

The soft and lustrous beauty of a RONUK floor is only half its superiority—the other half is its economy, and its ease to cleanse and polish.

Sarnia Anxious to Meet Berlin for Western Ontario Title

BERLIN AND WESTERNS MAY PLAY IN TORONTO

Home-and-Home Games Called Off, But Sudden Death Game May Be Played.

Owing to the condition of the ice in Berlin and in this city, the championship series between the Berlin team and the Western University seven has been called off, but an effort is being made to play a sudden-death game in Toronto. The Berlin management notified the local Varsity management that the game there tomorrow night could not be played owing to no ice, and investigation revealed the fact that the ice here was also unfit.

The Westerns are anxious to play in Toronto, and Berlin is considering the matter. No decision had been reached up to 2:30 o'clock this afternoon, but it is believed that the game will be arranged.

KNOTTY LEE MAY MANAGE TORONTO CANADIAN LEAGUERS

Hamilton, March 16.—It will not be surprising at all if George Washington "Knotty" Lee secures the berth as manager of the Toronto Canadian League team, and judging from appearances at the present time it looks as if "Knotty" will secure the berth. Eddie Holly, who was slated for the job, had a conference with J. J. McCaffery, at Toronto on Saturday, but he failed to come to an agreement, and Holly went back to his home in Rochester.

Eddie does not like the idea of leaving the International League and going to a team in a lower class, and it looks as if a good salary will be the only thing that will induce him to do so.

JAY GOULD WINS ALL FOUR SETS FROM COVEY

English Champion Failed to Win a Single Game on First Day of Championships.

Philadelphia, March 16.—Jay Gould, American amateur champion, today won all four sets in the first section of his match with George F. Covey, the English professional and title-holder, for the world's open championship at court tennis. Gould won 24 games to his opponent's 8, and scored a total of 122 points to Covey's 81.

The English champion failed to win a single game in the first set, although he scored the first point, and four of the games went to the deuce. He made the best showing in the third and fourth sets, in both of which he got within striking distance only to lose out in the final rallies.

Summary:

Second Set—Gould 4-4 4-1 15-26-6

TAFT REFUSES OFFER TO PURCHASE CUBS

Price of $750,000 Was Turned Down—Sum That Mr. Taft Will Accept Is Not Known.

Cincinnati, Ohio, March 16.—Charles P. Taft, majority stockholder of the Chicago National League baseball club, today refused an offer of $750,000 in cash for the club made by John T. Connerly and Frank D. Mayer, representing a syndicate of Chicago capitalists, who desired to purchase the club. The price that Mr. Taft has asked for the club was not announced.

After the meeting here today with Charles P. Taft, principal stockholder in the Chicago National League baseball club, John T. Connerly and Frank D. Mayer left tonight for Chicago, after Mr. Taft had definitely refused an offer they had made him for the purchase of his stock. What the offer was none of the conferees would say.

It is known that the price offered was far below what Mr. Taft considered his stock is worth. Although at the present time unwilling to meet Mr. Taft's figures, Connerly and Mayer said that the deal is not altogether off, as they intend soon to have a meeting of the syndicate which they represent to see what can be done in the matter.

MORRIS D. BROWN WON FROM DR. UFFENHEIMER

New York, March 16.—Morris D. Brown, of Brooklyn, defeated Dr. A. E. Uffenheimer, of Philadelphia, this afternoon in the twelfth game of the national billiard tournament, 400 to 350. Brown had high runs of 62, 44 and 43, with an average of 10.3-32; Uffenheimer averaged 9.17-31, and had high runs of 42, 37 and 31.

In tonight's game Joseph Mayer, of Philadelphia, defeated the international champion, J. F. Poggenburg, of this city, 400 to 254. Mayer averaged 12.28-31 and made high runs of 59, 49 and 43. Poggenburg's average was 8.14-30 and his high runs 37, 27 and 24.

MANAGER REISLING WILL BE HERE AT END OF WEEK

London Club Manager Expected To Arrive About Saturday or Sunday—President Stevely Will Be Back Then.

Manager Reisling, of the London team, will likely arrive in London on Saturday or Sunday next. In a recent letter to the local owners he stated that he expected to be in London about March 21, and as President Stevely is expected back on Saturday, it is altogether likely he will be here.

There are several matters which demand the presence of the London Club pilot in this city. He will have to look after the forwarding of the uniforms and other paraphernalia to Marietta and also make other arrangements for the trip. He will also pay a visit to Tecumseh Park and note any improvements that are to be made before the Canadian League season opens here.

LOCAL SOCCER ENTHUSIASTS WILL MEET FRIDAY NIGHT

City League Will Be Formed With Eight or Ten Teams This Season—Cup Donated By Mr. Cook.

A meeting of local soccer enthusiasts will be held Friday evening at 8 o'clock in the McClary dining-room on York street. The reorganization of the City Soccer League for the coming season will be undertaken. Mr. Jack Cook, of the King Edward Hotel, has offered to donate a cup for competition among the teams in the City League, and this has helped to stimulate interest in the formation of the league.

It is likely an eight or ten team league will be formed this season. The prospects for soccer in London were never as bright as they are at the present time, and it is likely the city will be represented in the W. F. A. by a strong team. There is lots of good material in London for several soccer teams according to all reports, and those interested are enthusiastic over the outlook.

Chicago, March 17.—The campaign of the Federal League for major league baseball players is at an end according to interpretations today placed on a statement of James A. Gilmore, president of the Federals, that he was "well satisfied" with the present make-up of the Federal League ball clubs.

President Gilmore said his league was not in urgent need of star players.

[Canadian Press.]

Vancouver, B. C., March 16.—According to telegrams received from the Victoria players, the Pacific coast champions are just as confident as ever that they can return with the Stanley cup.

One of the players wired home that it was the fining system of penalties that broke up Victoria's team play, the Toronto players taking all sorts of chances in slashing the Victoria team, while they always escaped with a fine.

WANDERERS WON FROM VANCOUVER

Second of Series of New York Games Went to Montreal.

FINAL SCORE WAS 12 TO 5

Game Was Much Cleaner Than First One, But Play Was Listless and Not Very Exciting.

New York, March 16.—In the second game of the Canadian professional hockey series at the St. Nicholas rink tonight, the Montreal Wanderers defeated the Vancouver by 12 goals to 5. The first period ended 4 to 2 in favor of the winning six. In the second period the Wanderers had increased their total to nine goals to three. The contest places the Montreal players in the lead with a total of 20 goals scored in the series to date. On Wednesday Vancouver will meet Quebec.

The showing of the winner was principally due to the excellent work of Moran at goal. On Saturday night he played a sensational game for Quebec. By mutual agreement he was permitted to play for the Wanderers tonight and put up his usual excellent game. Had Warwick, the regular Wanderer goal keeper, been before the nets it is a question if his team would have been victorious.

The game was decidedly cleaner than the first contest. Only one penalty was handed out by the officials. In the first period, Ross was given a five-minute rest for tripping. Kendall was the substitute. Throughout the game both sides repeatedly changed their players. However, the substitution was not as large as the game on Saturday night.

Though a large crowd saw the game there was very little enthusiasm. In spots the contest was slow and never did it come up to the accepted standard of Canadian hockey. The ice was heavy and sticky and this probably was responsible for the slow play. In addition the men did not appear to be working and there was little of the dash generally seen in Canadian hockey contests.

Hall and Malone, both of the Quebec team, were the officials. They caught every offside play attempted. Both did excellent work. For the Wanderers, the Cleghorn boys, Moran and Hyland did fine work. Nichols, Patrick and Taylor were the stars of the team from the far west.

The teams, etc.: Vancouver. Wanderers. Position. Vancouver. Moran. Goal. Lehman. Patrick. Defense. Nichols. Ross. Cover. Oatman. S. Cleghorn. Left Wing. Taylor. Roberts. Center. Nichols. Hyland. Right Wing. Harris. Substitutes—Patrick for Tobin, Tobin for Harris, Harris for Tobin. Referee—J. Hall, Quebec. Assistant—J. Malone, Quebec.

SARNIA "EXHIBITS" WANT TO PLAY BERLIN

Consolation League Champs
Are After Dutchmen.

HAVE SENT CHALLENGE

Claim That Intermediate Champions Promised Them a Battle After
"Dubs" Were Defeated.

Sarnia, March 16.—Sarnia's team, champions of the consolation series, has challenged Berlin, the O. H. A. intermediate champions, to a two-game series of a sudden-death battle to decide the supremacy of Western Ontario. They claim that Berlin promised them a game after the Dutch had accounted for the Sarnia "Dubs" in the O. H. A. semi-final, so it looks as if the disappearance of the ice is the only thing which will keep the two teams apart, for the Berlin management and team has a reputation for gamesmanship. The clash would be worth travelling miles to see. Sarnia thinks well of her team, while the Dutch are not the least bit modest when it comes to extolling the merits of their squad of home-brewed champions.

Lady admirers of the Sarnia team, Saturday, presented Dore, Farlow and McCarty who scored the goals, with boxes of candy. Louis Imbeau, the speedy Frenchman who captains Sarnia's exhibition team, has challenged big Jim Gramary, his comrade on the defence, to a duel. One of Gramary's fair admirers wrote him that she considered him worth a million Imbeaus, and she put it in figures, too—hence Imbeau's exhibition team has named Imbeaus as the weapons, the distance, 100 yards, and the date, July 1.

ELMER EKMAN MAKES FAST TIME ON ROLLERS

Detroit, Mich., March 18.—The fastest competition time thus far established in the world championship roller skating meet, which began here last Thursday, was made tonight by Elmer Ekman, of Chicago, who won the semi-final mile heat in 3:06. Ekman's victory enables him to start in the grand final for amateurs next Wednesday night.

In an exhibition mile against time Leon Kimm, of Chicago, the American amateur champion, covered the distance in 3:05 1-5.

A few years ago I was operated on for appendicitis, and was confined to the hospital for five weeks. When I returned home I contracted a severe cold which left me with a bad cough. A neighbor told my husband about Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup so I decided to try a bottle. When it was finished it had done me so much good I took another which completely cured me. I can very, very strongly recommend it."

GREAT SEASON FOR HOCKEY IN SARNIA

Tunnel Town Never Enjoyed
Such a Winter's Pastime.

OUTLOOK BLUE AT FIRST

O. H. A.'s Cancellation of Five Certificates Proved a Help to Club
Rather Than a Hindrance.

[Special to The Advertiser.] Sarnia, March 16.—The Sarnia Hockey Club has just completed one of the best seasons the Canadian winter sport ever enjoyed in this town. Both from a financial and a playing point of view, the season ended has been a record one. Although no official figures have been given out it is stated in local hockey circles that the local club has cleared over $3,000. The game has been well patronized by local fans and there is no doubt that the town is on the map to stay. Local people have been so firmly imbued with hockey this winter that the chief topic of conversation in these parts for the past several weeks has been the winter pastime and the great work of the Sarnia teams.

The outlook at the beginning of the season was a blue one. The O. H. A. put what looked like a decided crimp into local aspirations when it refused to grant Gramary, Imbeau, Farlow, Dore and Froot certificates. With these men unable to play, it hardly seemed worth while to continue in the O. H. A. intermediate series, but the local club decided to stick to the game and try to make the best of the situation. The town was also trying the experiment of a junior O. H. A. team and material had to be sought for it.

The showing of the "Exhibits" in the exhibition games however helped to soothe the feelings of the local populace over the deal handed out by the O. H. A. and when the "Dubs" came through with a win on local ice from the touted London seven, enthusiasm fairly oozed out of local rosters in bunches. When the "Dubs" put London out of the running, the town became hockey mad and it continued in that pleasing state for the balance of the season. The fans are thirsting to see the consolation champions run against Berlin for the championship of Western Ontario. If these games are arranged and the exhibit team is victorious, already plans for next season are being discussed and it would not be surprising to see a fine new arena erected before the end of the year. Perhaps that advertising at the beginning of the season which was looked upon so unfavorably at first, was not so bad after all.

REGINA TEAM RETAINS HOLD ON ALLEN CUP

Grandmere Fails To Lift It, Losing
by Score of 6 to 4 in Fast

Regina, Sask., March 16.—Worn down by the tiring powers of the Regina Victorias and outgamed in the second half, the Grand Mere team failed to lift the Allen Cup on the strength of winning the championship of Eastern Canada, went down to defeat in decisive manner, losing by the score of 6 to 4. The half time score was three to two in favor of Grand Mere. The score is a fair indication of the play throughout the match.

The game was played on the Auditorium Rink, where the ice was in poor condition, being soft and sticky with water. The crowd numbered about 1,500, all that the police would permit inside the rink. A crowd of many hundreds surrounded the rink throughout the match.

The game sent the Victorias into the second battle of the series of two with a lead of seven points and the Grand Mere team must win on Wednesday night by three goals to take the Allen Cup back again.

FEDERALS WILL NOT PAY CLUBS FOR PLAYERS

Chicago, March 16.—Lloyd Rickert, secretary of the Federal League, left today for St. Louis, where he will begin the work of drafting the league's playing schedule. It was said efforts would be made to avoid conflicts with the better drawing teams in cities which have both National and American League clubs, and if possible to avoid them entirely in the others.

President Gilmore, of the Federals, was asked today in a letter from a club-owner in an Eastern league that he reimburse the club for a player who had jumped to the new organization. The club paid $750 for the player, but Mr. Gilmore declined to start a precedent by reimbursing it.

COOPER, OF GIANTS, JUMPS TO FEDERALS

Fort Worth, Texas, March 16.—Outfielder Claude Cooper, of the New York National League baseball team, announced today he had signed a three-year contract with the Brooklyn Federals. His salary was said to be $5,000 per year, of which he received one year's pay in advance.

Heart and Nerves Were Bad.

Could Not Sleep.

To the thousands of people who toss on a sleepless pillow night after night, or who pace the bedroom floor with nerves on the jump, the heart action all wrong, and to whose eyes sleep will not come, Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills offer the blessing of sound refreshing slumber, as they restore the equilibrium of the deranged nerve centres and correct the wrong action of the heart.

Mrs. Charles Teel, Horncastle, Ont., writes:—"Just a few lines to let you know what Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills did for me. My heart and nerves were so bad I could not sleep, and the least noise or excitement would make me feel so that I used to think I was going to die, and I would tremble until I could hardly stand. I took doctor's medicine, but it did not do me much good. At last I tried Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills, and can certainly say they did me a great amount of good. I can recommend them to anyone who is suffering as I was."

Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills have been on the market for the past twenty years, and have done more to steady shaky nerves and strengthen weak hearts, than any other known preparation. Price, 50 cents per box, or three boxes for $1.25, at all dealers, or mailed direct on receipt of price by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

PETROLEA WILL ENTER TEAM IN LACROSSE LEAGUE

Baseball League Will Also Be Formed in Oil Town Owing to Activity of Mr. Bruce Dunlop.

[Special to The Advertiser.] Petrolea, March 16.—The sporting part of Petrolea's population is high in its praise of Mr. Bruce Dunlop, chairman of the publicity committee. By his efforts it is highly probable that Petrolea will play in a lacrosse league formed in Western Ontario this coming season. Mr. Dunlop is also raising a baseball league here. As there are many fair ballplayers in Petrolea and lots of enthusiasm, there is no doubt Petrolea will witness many games of the American National sport, besides seeing games of our own Canadian sport, lacrosse.

KING GEORGE WATCHES SOME BOXING BOUTS

Sees Bombardier, Wells and Patrick
O'Keefe Do Some Exhibition
Work—Sport Is Booming Now.

London, March 16.—King George attained the distinction tonight of being the first reigning British monarch to witness a public exhibition of the "noble art of self-defence." As the guest of the Second Life Guards, of which he is colonel, he was entertained at a boxing and fencing tournament at the Regents Park Barracks. Bombardier Wells, the former British heavyweight champion, and Patrick O'Keefe, of Ireland, gave a fast exhibition of sparring and several clever amateurs also took part in bouts.

MONARCHS WIN ROUND FROM O. H. A. CHAMPIONS

Toronto Rugby Team Loses Out in Second Game by Score of 5 Goals to 1.

Winnipeg, March 16.—The Monarchs redeemed themselves tonight for their loss of the Allan Cup, when they put the Toronto R. and A. team to rout by the score of 5 to 1, and thereby won the round by one goal in the two games played on Winnipeg ice, the total being ten goals to nine. Playing on hard ice, the teams put up the fastest exhibition of hockey played in Winnipeg this winter, and with the Monarchs presenting their regular line-up, with the exception of Stuart in goal, who was replaced by Murray, of the Strathconas, the easterners were overpowered. The game was the first of the season in which the O. H. A. champions put up such a desperate defence that their work will be long remembered by the crowd. The visitors were minus Gordon Meekling, their regular centre.

Maxwell, the little rover of the Monarchs, was the star of the game. He outskated every man on the ice, and once went right through the whole team for the winning score. Gooch, at point, for the losers, was the pick of the visitors, but they could not penetrate the Winnipeg defence.

GRIFFITH'S MEN HAVE FIRST PRACTICE GAME

Charlottesville, Va., March 16.—The Washington American League veterans today defeated a team made up of Washington recruits, together with a few veterans, by a score of 5 to 3. It was Washington's first game of the spring training season.

A Fine Treatment for Catarrh

Easy to Make and Costs Little.
If you suffer from catarrh, head noises, sore throat, asthma, or hay fever, here is a fine recipe that invariably effects a permanent cure after all other treatments have failed.

Its effect in the worst cases is most striking and positive.
The catarrhal poison is quickly driven from the system, and its tonic action immediately increases the vitality, which is always lowered by this insidious disease. From your druggist obtain one ounce of Farmit (Double Strength), about 75c worth, take this home and add to it a quarter pint of brandy, and four ounces of moist or granulated sugar. Take one tablespoonful four times a day.

The first dose promptly ends the most miserable headache, dullness, sneezing, sore throat, running of the nose, catarrhal discharges, head noises and other troublesome symptoms that always accompany this disgusting disease.

Loss of smell, defective hearing, and mucus dropping in the back of the throat, and other symptoms that show the presence of catarrh, and which are quickly overcome by the use of this simple treatment.

Every person who has catarrh in any form should give this prescription a trial. There is nothing better.

Important.—In ordering Farmit always specify that you want Double Strength; your druggist has it or he can get it for you; if not, send 75c to the International Laboratories, 74 St. Antoine street, Montreal, P. Q., who make a specialty of it.—Adv. M. 10, 17, 24, 31.

WHEN we were kids Mother fed us on that good old-fashioned dish—bread and milk. She knew it would make us healthy and lusty, because it gives all nourishment the body needs in a form most easily digested.

As we grow older, we are apt to think of bread and milk as only for children and not as the nourishing and strengthening dish that it really is for all of us of all ages. Eat it tonight—it will prove as tasty as ever and a palatable change from heavier foods.

BALTIMORE BIRDS WIN FROM DOON'S MEN

Wilmington, N. C., March 16.—Burying the Philadelphia Nationals, under an avalanche of extra base hits, coupled with sensational fielding, the Baltimore Internationals won their first exhibition game here today, 7 to 2. THE HOLLOW OF HER HAND

By GEORGE BARR McCUTCHEON

Author of "Graustark," "Truxton King," Etc.

He was with her for an hour in that pinched little sitting-room, and left her there without a vestige of rancour in his soul. He would not give an inch in the stand she had taken, but something immeasurably great in his make-up rose to the occasion and he went forth with the conviction that he had no right to demand more of her than she was ready to give. He was satisfied to abide by her decision. The spell of her was over him more completely than ever before. Two days later he saw her off at the Gare de Lyons, bound for Interlaken. There was a complete understanding between them. She wanted to be quite alone in the Alpine world; he was not to follow her there. She had reserved rooms at the Schweizerhof, and the windows of her sitting-room looked straight up the valley to the snow-covered crest of the Jungfrau. She remembered these things as a young girl she had occupied them with her father and mother. By some hook or crook, Booth arranged by wire for her to have them again, not an easy matter at that season of the year. Later she was to go on to Lucerne, and then to Venice. The slight shadow of hope was left to Booth. Even though he might accomplish the task he had set unto himself—the conquest of her in respect to the untold story—he still had Hetty's dismal prophecy that after he learned the truth he would come to see why they could not be married. He would not doubt it. "We'll see," was all that he said in reply.

He suddenly remembered his companion. Turning with a shout, he brought the soldierly, middle-aged gentleman about-face with scant ceremony. "Hey! Colonel Castleton! See who's here! Doesn't this bowl you over completely?" Colonel Castleton, sallow, ascetic, deliberate in his movements, raised his glass to his eye as he came toward them. "Pon my soul!" burst from his astonished lips a second afterward. He stopped short and his jaw dropped in a most un-military fashion. "Pon my soul! It can't be my daughter!" He seemed to be having difficulty not only with his head but with his feet; neither appeared to be operating intelligently as a matter of fact, he stood for an instant on his toes and then on his heels. He was perilously near to being bowled over completely and literally. Hetty was the first to recover. She advanced with a fair assumption of warmth in her manner. Her heart, belying her, was as cold as ice. "Father!" she cried, holding out her hands. He grasped them, and looked wildly about. "Kiss me!" she whispered imperatively. He stooped and brushed her cheek with his long moustache. "God!" he muttered, still incredulous. She turned to the excited Leslie with a quivering smile on her lips. "We haven't seen each other in twelve years, Mr. Wrandall," she said. [To be Continued.]

DEMAND AN INCREASE

Carpenters Ask Minimum Wage of 40 Cents an Hour.

A written demand for a minimum wage of 40 cents an hour was served by the Brotherhood of Carpenters and Joiners on all contractors yesterday. A meeting of the contractors will be held within the next few days, when the demands of the men will be discussed. It is likely that the contractors will oppose the endeavor to have such a minimum fixed, but may compromise by agreeing on a slightly higher scale for the better class of journeymen than is now paid. The carpenters are now getting 35 and 37 cents an hour.

LIVES A GIRL

Who Suffered As Many Girls Do—Tells How She Found Relief.

Sterling, Conn.—"I am a girl of 22 years and I used to faint away every month and was very weak. I was also bothered a lot with female weakness. I read your little book 'Wisdom for Women,' and I saw how others had been helped by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and decided to try it, and it has made me feel like a new girl and I am now relieved of all these troubles. I hope all young girls will get relief as I have. I never felt better in my life."—Miss BERTHA A. PELOQUIN, Box 116, Sterling, Conn.

Massena, N. Y.—"I have taken Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and I highly recommend it. If anyone wants to write to me I will gladly tell her about my case. I was certainly in a bad condition as my blood was all turning to water. I had pimples on my face and a bad color, and for five years I had been troubled with suppression. The doctors called it 'Anemia' and Exhaustion," and said I was all run down, but Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound brought me out all right."—Miss LAVINA MYERS, Box 74, Massena, N. Y.

DYNAMITE FALLING ON ICE BLOWS ITS CARRIER TO PIECES

Walter Farrell Was Trying To Break an Ice Jam at Beach-ville.

THE ICE GAVE UNDER HIM

In Attempting to Save Himself,
He Jumped and Dropped the Explosive.

[Special to The Advertiser.]
Beachville, March 16.—Walter Farrell, aged 35, unmarried, employed in the Standard time works, was instantly killed late this afternoon, when dynamite which he was carrying fell on a cake of ice. The lower part of his body was blown away and also one hand.

Farrell with four other men had started out to blow up the ice in the River Thames, which threatened to cause a serious flood. He had gone farther out than any of the others, and suddenly the ice on which he was standing broke away and started downstream.

Farrell tried to jump back to the solid ice and in so doing let the dynamite he was carrying fall, and instantly there was a terrific explosion. His mangled body was quickly recovered by his companions, but he was dead.

The other men state that the explosion could have occurred in no other way than from the dynamite falling on the ice, as the wires by which it had been intended to explode it were not connected.

Coroner Dr. Cotteridge, of Ingersoll, was notified, but after making an investigation decided that an inquest was unnecessary.

Farrell came from North Hastings about a year ago. An effort is being made to locate his relatives. The remains were taken to Ingersoll this evening and will be held there pending funeral arrangements.

Wife, Orders Arrest on Attempted Suicide Charge.

As the result of a complaint laid by the wife, Magistrate J. C. Judd today issued a warrant for the arrest of John Straud on a charge of attempted suicide.

Straud last Thursday night, after a throat with a razor but was stopped by a boarder, and later rushed to Victoria Hospital, where it is reported that he is rapidly recovering, and is expected to be fully recovered within a week or so.

The police will place Straud under arrest as soon as the man's condition permits.

DIES SUDDENLY

Gibling, died unexpectedly Monday night

SIR JOHN MURRAY, FORMER LONDONER, KILLED BY MOTOR

Prominent Naturalist, ex-Pupil of Union School, Meets Instant Death.

HAD MANY RELATIVES HERE

Distinguished Pupil of Old Nick Wilson Received Early Education in London.

Sir John Murray, the noted naturalist,
and uncle of Archibald McPherson, Bert Morrison, Mrs. Jared Vining, Mrs. P.
Millman, and Miss McPherson, all of this city, was killed Monday afternoon when his motor car overturned near his home
at Challenger Lodge, Wardie, Edinburgh, Scotland.

Born in Cobourg, Ontario, March 3, 1841, he came to London with his parents
as a boy and attended the old Union School, where he was one of the many pupils of the late Nicholas Wilson, who afterwards attained wide distinction in the world. While still in his early youth he went to Scotland, where he attended high school at Stirling. Later he returned to Canada, attending Victoria University at Cobourg, and afterwards going to Edinburgh University. His father, Robert M. Murray, an auditor and bookkeeper, resided in this city for some years.

Held Many Degrees.

Sir John held degrees from Edinburgh,
Toronto, Cambridge and Jena Universities. He was member of the Order of the Bath, the Prussian Order of Merit, and a Fellow of the Royal Society. He married in 1889, Miss Isabel Henderson, daughter of the late Thomas Henderson, a Scottish shipowner. He was the recipient of innumerable medals, honors and scientific societies. He served as a naturalist on the historic voyage of the Challenger during her scientific cruise, 1872 to 1876.

Was Returning From Glasgow.

The press dispatch to The Advertiser states that Sir John was instantly killed in a motor accident which occurred while his daughter, Miss Rhoda, was driving.
Sir John was returning home from a visit to Glasgow, accompanied by his daughter and chauffeur. Miss Murray, who was at the wheel, took a road which was used as a short cut to the lodge. The car swerved, climbed a high bank, and turned over.

The occupants were thrown out and Sir John was instantly killed. The chauffeur was only slightly injured, but Miss Murray was conveyed unconscious to a hospital. An examination, however, showed that her injuries were less serious than at first feared.

Another daughter recently married to Lieutenant Marriott, of the British navy, is now on her honeymoon trip in Ceylon.
The other children are: Miss Winnifred, at home; John at Cambridge, and Thomas at Eton. Mrs. (Dr.) Johnston, of Mamie, Scotland, sister of Archibald Mc-Pherson, of this city, is another niece.
The late Sir John visited relatives in this city about ten years ago.

ONE KILLED; THREE INJURED IN WRECK

Injured Not Likely to Survive the Day.

[Canadian Press.]

Washington, March 17.—One trainman was killed and three others were hurt, probably fatally, when a freight engine on the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad jumped the track and crashed into the West Washington station, near here, early today. The injured are hurt so badly that it is not believed they will survive the day. J. E. Kinsley, of Benwood, W. Va., was killed instantly.

PROF. POWYS TALKS LADIES' COLLEGE IS ON GEORGE ELIOT DESTROYED BY FIRE

Tells of Her Work in English Literature and of That of the Bronte Sisters—Reviews
Mrs. Cross' Characters.

George Eliot, philosopher, moralist, free-thinker, and positivist, and the Bronte sisters, conventional, prudish, demure, without knowledge of the world and little of human nature, formed the subject for an extremely interesting lecture from John Cowan Powys, M. A., speaking here under the auspices of the Women Teachers' Guild, last night.

Mr. Powys dealt first with Mrs. Cross and her books. George Eliot, he said, was really the first great English philosopher to write fiction. She was of such a receptive mind that she embraced many religions and philosophies in turn, the last being positivism. Very vividly Mr. Powys sketched scenes from Mill on the Floss, Middlemarch, Adam Bede, and Romola.
George Eliot, he declared, delighted to take the pragmatic view of man for her hero, and to treat the petty girls of her stories cruelly. Mr. Powys detested such characters as Adam Bede, who should so soon forget Hetty, and marry Dinah.

With her positivistic creed, George Eliot tombstoned the human race, and it was this that influenced her to idealize the lower classes to such an extent. Mr.
Powys doubted if there was a single novel described could be found in Derbyshire today at least. George Eliot he deemed was at her best in the novel which she described her own childhood and girlhood with all its longings and disappointments.
In regard to Dinah Morris, the speaker pointed out that here the side of George Eliot that idealized duty was manifested.

Mr. Powys said that the existence of a God, or of immortality, but held that duty should go on forever, that the human race must go on, and that like does the actions, words and the very thoughts of each unit were like the ripples on a pond that each individual influencing others, and it was the demand of duty that each individual learn to command himself, suppress his vices, and lead a noble and heroic life without looking for a reward.

In regard to the Bronte Sisters, in spite of their secluded lives, their books were amongst the greatest in English literature.
In their powerful imaginative force and description of the master passion, Jane Eyre and Wuthering Heights, in both of which love was of the purest type, were masterpieces.

Only Green Ones Good.

Dick Griffith says there was a great falling off in the sale of workingmen's tickets this morning. Yellow tickets are taboo today. They all use green 'uns.

said P. C. Noonan.

Concerts Tonight.

St. Patrick's night will be royally observed in London by concerts, Irish plays, socials, suppers, lectures, skating parties, smokers and other entertain-

Among the events of this evening are the grand concert in St. Peter's parish hall; a play, A Bit of Blarney, in St.
Mary's Hall, East London; a concert at St. John's Athletic Club, Oxford street, Irish music, supper and dancing at the Street Baptist Church, and at St. Patrick's Day supper in the Y. M. C. A. residence, Wellington street.

In addition there will be many private parties and entertainments throughout the city in observance of the day.

shire, Eng. She is survived by four

Students at Wellesley Behave Superbly and No Lives Lost —Damage Estimated at $1,500,000.

[Canadian Press.]

Wellesley, Mass., March 17.—Two hundred and fifty Wellesley students and 100 other persons, including members of the faculty and maids, died for their lives when fire destroyed College Hall, the largest and most pretentious of the buildings in the college group, early today. No one was injured. The loss is estimated at $1,500,000.

Practically all those who had rooms in the building lost their personal possessions and all their clothing, except what they had worn last night.

The superb behavior of the young women in the hour of peril probably prevented loss of life or injury to many who were in the building at the time of the disaster, and down stairways and fire escapes to safety.

Miss Charlotte Bonnell, of Wisconsin, Me., and Miss Virginia Moffatt, of Orange, N. J., both seniors, were the heroines of the day, they saving the fire and sounding the fire gong.

HORSE BOLTS; WAGON
HITS POST; TWO INJURED

Frightened by Engine, Animal
Runs Away, Throwing Out Occupants of Wagon.

[Canadian Press.]

Frightened by an engine, a horse driven by William Fish, of East Dundas street, an employee of John A. McCullagh, coal and wood dealer of London Junction, bolted, struck a post under the heavy coal wagon. He was so badly injured that he was rushed to St. Joseph's Hospital in the police ambulance and is now lying also riding the wagon, suffered severe bruises on the right leg.

The horse took fright at an approaching engine, and swerved the heavy wagon into a post, throwing out the two men.

After an examination at the hospital by Dr. W. J. Stewart, it was found that Parish was suffering mostly from the shock. He was considerably bruised and shaken up.

TELEGRAPHING LONDON--
PARIS VIA NEW YORK

[Canadian Press.]

Paris, March 17.—Telegraphic and telephonic communication between Paris and many of the European continental countries was interrupted today by the storm which has raged since yesterday.

The bulletin boards in the telegraphic offices at Paris and London reflected the fact that the wires between Paris and Berlin, Amsterdam and Brussels are down and that there is no direct communication between Paris and London. Much of the stock exchange business between Paris and London was conducted by way of New York.

CITY OF SYDNEY

List of Passengers.

New York, N. Y., March 17.—The list of passengers follows:

Albert Blumlein, New York; Miss Margaret Heredige, New York; Albert T.
Johnson, Philadelphia; Lillian and Mildred, aged 19 and 14 years respectively, New York; James Baum, Philadelphia; and Mr. and Mrs. George Parsons, St. Johns. In the second cabin were the following, all of New York City: Mary Cullen, John Logan, Edward Kenney, Joseph McCrath and John O'Brien.

The ship's stockhold was filled with water, and her position on the rocks was dangerous, according to a message received from the forenoon by Bowring and Company, New York, agents for the Red Cross line. Bowring and Company said they had received a report from Hal-fax, based on a rumor current that the ship's boilers had blown. The agents gave no credence to the report.

Tug Rescues Some.

Halifax, N. S., March 17.—The tug Rosemary was one of the first of the rescue fleet to reach the stranded steamer and immediately took off eleven passengers and part of the crew. The Rosemary, which the Sydney was in a bad position, and likely to become a total wreck.

Remainder Eaved.

Other tugs reached the Sydney this afternoon and began the work of taking off the remainder of the crew. The transfer was made with some difficulty, as the sea had become rough since morning. It was practically decided to band-on the vessel temporarily at least, although representatives of the owners expressed a hope of saving her if the sea abated.

Captain C. A. MacDonald and several of the officers and crew will remain at the life-saving station at Sambro to take charge of the work of lightening the cargo in case weather conditions permit.

way places, cellars, shacks and outhouses.

I have had very little to eat and was very hungry often. I had very little except nuts for some time.

Cold and Hungry.

"This morning I was very cold. I had been out in a yard all night. Not daring to go in, I hid in a hole under the church because I was tired, cold and weary, and felt as if I could not drag myself away from the hole."

No better man than Chiquette could have been found for the work of capturing Beauchamp. He weighs 220 pounds and was formerly a miner in Montana, where he participated in many a rough-and-tumble fight.

Child Was Dead.

The fact that the infant child of Fou-chault was dying, the police thought, would attract the wanted man to his home. It was tipped off to the police that he had visited the child, and a rush was made to the house. When the police broke in they found Mrs. Fouchault waiting the floor with the child clasped to her,
and when it was examined it was found to be dead. No sign of Fouchault was to be found.

out a building permit for the erection of a story and a half brick veneer dwelling at 864
Stedwell street, to cost $1,595.

Vice-Chairman To Preside.—Vice-Chairman J. P. Moore will preside at the meeting of the board of control tonight.
Nothing more than routine business is expected.

Thur, of York street, an employee of the Canadian Express Company, caught the first butterfly of the season while returning from dinner on Tuesday afternoon.

Sues for Cattle.—Henry Hardy, of Caradoc, is named as defendant in a writ issued in the county court, in which John Jarmain, of Mount Brydges, seeks to recover cattle which he claims were wrongfully distrained by the defendant. Meredith & Meredith are acting for the plaintiff.

Disorderly: Fined $5.—George Mc-Knight, charged with disorderly conduct on the Graham Hotel premises, pleaded guilty in court this morning and was fined $5 and costs by Magistrate J. C.
Judd. Two citizens for breach of the traffic bylaws were assessed $2 each.

Entertaining.—The Collegiate Institute Orchestra last evening entertained the inmates of the Victoria Home for incurables. The program was one that was greatly appreciated.

Leaders T. Spence, Mayor C. M. R.
Graham, Philip Pockock, and possibly Hon. Adam Beck, will be speakers at the big hydro radial-waterways meeting on Wednesday evening. Ald.
Hannegan, of Guelph, will also speak.

Charged With Theft.—Victor Hendrick, of Adelaide Township, appeared before Squire Chittick Monday afternoon on a charge of stealing an overcoat from Trunk train at Greenwood station.
Grand Trunk detectives laid the charge.
He pleaded "not guilty," and was bailed to appear at the June sessions of the peace.

St. Patrick's Concert.—The seventeenth of Old Ireland will be celebrated at St. Peter's Auditorium tonight by a grand old St. Patrick's concert. Several numbers will be rendered by the Hod-sons, cloutier and entertainer, of Toronto. Vocal selections will also be rendered by Miss Katie McLaughlin and Messrs. Ed. Webster and Jas. Fowler.

Another Smallpox Case.—Jennie Hayes, 364 Ridout street, is ill with a mild attack of smallpox. The house is quarantined, and a constable is on guard. There are now six known cases of the disease in the city, three at the Cove hospital and two in the Protestant Orphan Asylum, which is under quarantine. All the patients are doing nicely.

Col. Hodgins' Lecture.—"The Shenandoah Valley Campaign" will be the subject of a lecture by Col. W. E. Hodgins, commanding officer of the First Division, in the lecture room of the Armories, at 8:15 Wednesday evening.
All officers, non-commissioned officers and men of the London garrison and their friends have been invited. Attendance is voluntary, and plain clothes will be worn. The lecture will be the fourth of an interesting series on military subjects.

Will Start on Sewer Work.—Wills Chipman, of Toronto, the engineer who is in charge of the storm sewer construction work, arrived in the city last night.
Chipman and his assistants are still busy on plans, and just at the present time are working on the Ridout street end of the system. Weather conditions are favorable at the present time for a commencement of operations, and as soon as tenders are in and contracts awarded for the portions of the work which are to be done first, the big project will be under way.

Unintended Praise for Schumann-Heink.

—Mine, Schumann-Heink, the famous contralto, who is to appear at the Grand Tuesday evening, March 24, gave the program which is to be presented in the city at Boston one week ago, and Philip Hale, the eminent critic, said
"that never had this great artist been heard to greater advantage." It is often said that Schumann-Heink has a song for every mood. She is equally attractive in songs of vivacity and in expressions of grandeur and sublimity; the humorous and the pathetic and the wanton are at her command in every slightest variation of color and shading. Her very greatest difficulties have been overcome and have been the very greatest that could possibly come to any one.

St. Patrick's Concert Success.—The Presbyterian Church last night by the Young People's Society was both a social and financial success. The church was prettily decorated with Irish emblems and the table at which a supper was served at the close of the entertainment was also decorated with Irish flags and symbols. The program consisted of the vocal and instrumental selections by the following: Miss Edna Weston, Miss Jessie Duguid, Leonard Burr, Miss Margaret Allen and Messrs. W. J. Harris, Ian address by Rev. F. C. Harper, who acted as chairman on "The Life and Work of St. Patrick," the speaker described the life of the patron saint, showing his relation to the whole Christian Church.
There were a large number of adults and young people of the church in attendance.

Painting of London, City Now on View

An Advertiser representative, based on Mahaffy Bros., Limited, to see their painting of London City, advertised recently as on free exhibition at 170 Dundas street.

One is surprised at the correctness and detail shown. The painting (executed by one of the best known artists in his time) is about twelve feet long and about four and a half feet wide, and it shows the whole city on both sides of the river so correctly and faithfully that one has no difficulty in picking out almost any of our many churches, schools, railroad stations, factories, or well-known buildings. The picture appears to be entirely free from any exaggeration or undue accentuation of any particular part, and is, as a matter of fact, as well as in information, well worth a visit from everyone.

A careful study of this painting gives a much more comprehensive idea of London as it actually is. From an examination of the picture, and taking into consideration the great amount of detail and consequent work required, one comes to the conclusion that the expenditure of the required amount to attain such a result certainly shows that those who have had it done have unbounded confidence in the growth and prosperity of London. The painting will be on view for a few days longer.

PASSES STREET RAILWAY BYLAW; GIVES $1,000 GRANT TO OLD BOYS

City Council Adopts Recommendations of Board of Control to Improve the Street Car Service and Restrict the Reunion Grant to $1,000—A Warm Tilt Between Mayor and Ald. F. G. Mitchell.

In a four-hour session last night, the city council put through the new street railway service bylaw, confirmed the recommendation of the board of control to guarantee only $1,000 for the proposed old boys' reunion, blocked a motion introduced by Ald. W. A. Wilson to defer immediate action on the Federal Square project, discussed the proposal to change the location of the Western Fair, endorsed the enfranchisement of married women, met the request of the school board for $173,000 debenture issue, and considered many other matters of business.

The session was remarkable from at least one standpoint. The very measures that were naturally expected to occupy a great deal of time went through with practically no discussion, while others, of a seemingly unimportant nature, were raked fore and aft, until the chairman ran short of breath, and decided at 11:40 that it was time to shut up shop.

Bylaw Not Opposed.
Probably the most interesting item of the evening's business was the passing of a bylaw to compel the London Street Railway Company to operate a schedule of speed and service recommended by City Engineer W. N. Ashplant. The bylaw was recommended by the board of control and went through without any opposition. It calls for a new north end belt line and a number of other changes in the present schedule, and will require 40 cars instead of the 35 at present in the service.

Contrary to expectation, officials of the company were not on hand to fight the measure, although they had previously intimated that if it was put through, the courts would be asked to decide on the question before they would consent to meet the demands of the city for what was considered will be a very decided improvement on the present service.

Mitchell versus Graham.
The recommended grant of $1,000, with the usual privileges to the London Old Boys' Association, ran true to form and brought forth a fiery interchange of remarks, principally between the mayor, who opposed the schedule to place the Old Boys' shows on the market, and Ald. F. G. Mitchell, a prominent member of the Old Boys' executive. The association asked the council to guarantee $5,000 for the reunion expenses, and the controllers recommended $1,000. An amendment was made to increase the amount to $10,000, but it was lost on an eight to seven division of the council.

Pumpkins and Hay.
"All we want is the guarantee," said Ald. Mitchell. "We can't collect from the same sources now that the shows are not to be on the market. You've cut away the revenue we had. We'll have to put on something downtown for your pumpkin show and hay market won't amuse the Old Boys. You ask us to collect the money, do all the work and stand the responsibility of the whole thing. It's all very well to say that the citizens will subscribe, but that's purely a theory. You can't expect us to bring in thousands of people on our own responsibility. If the whole thing is not worth your guarantee, it isn't worth having. As a member of the executive, I don't think the association will put on the reunion if we can't get more than $2,000 guaranteed. It's all right for the ministerial association to talk its and that, but there are others to be served and entertained besides its members. The homecomers will think we're dead ones unless something exciting is provided for them, and they'll advertise London as a dead town. I'm out of it if the council won't guarantee us the money."

There was more crossing of swords between the mayor and Ald. Mitchell, and Ald. C. H. Merryfield and W. A. Wilson said they were prepared to go out and canvass for the money, while opposed to the granting of $2,000. "You're willing to give a grant to a dinky little convention," said Ald. G. H. Haney, "that is a convention that is

Ald. Haney.
"We've got to get them to sell first," answered the mayor.
Votes for Married Women.
The motion adopted by the London Suffragette Society in favor of securing votes for married women, got a favorable reception, the council adopting it and deciding to petition the Legislature for a suitable enactment to give the women what they desire.

There was more or less discussion over the proposed changing of the Western Fair location, but no action was taken. Ald. Haney, who moved for the appointment of a committee to investigate suitable sites, said he wished to secure more information on the matter.

Ald. Gwalchmai's complaint that the street railway company was not carrying out the regular schedule on Sundays was referred to the engineer for investigation. Ald. F. G. Mitchell complained of the filthy condition of the paved streets, and was told that the work of cleaning up had been commenced.

Ald. Tancock decided to hold his motion to cut the mayor's salary down $1,000 until the estimates were taken up. Draymen Demand Rights.
A committee consisting of Controller Hubert Ashplant, Ald. Mitchell, Stein, Merryfield and Wilson was appointed to see what could be done for the city draymen. A number of the men asked for a square deal from the council. They had been driven off York street, they said.

East End Library.
The request of the public library board for the use of three stores in the East London town hall for a term of three years for the purpose of establishing a branch library was granted. Ald. J. E. Gwalchmai dissenting on the ground that the branch institution was not needed and revenue could be secured from the stores.

Ald. J. A. Tancock objected to the city as a whole paying about 30 per cent. of the cost of old streets, but it was pointed out that the city was virtually a benefit others than those living on the streets that were old.

The board of control was authorized to take preliminary steps for the securing of plans and specifications for the new city hall despite the objections of Ald. W. A. Wilson, who moved that action in this matter be deferred until it was seen if the Government was going to come across with its $130,000 share of the Federal Square expense.

Doubts the Hon. Sam.
"I don't think we'll ever get that $130,000," said Ald. Wilson. "I know Sam Hughes and I wouldn't give two straws for his word."

Controller W. G. Coles did not agree with Ald. Wilson and said that he felt perfectly sure that the money would be forthcoming. The citizens had voted for the scheme, and he saw no reason why it should be blocked.

Ald. Wilson started after Col. Hughes again and was called to order by the mayor, after Controller J. P. Moore had protested against a public man being so attacked in council.

"I'll say what I have to say to his face," was Ald. Wilson's parting shot. Ald. Wilson's amendment was ruled out of order, as it negatived the original motion to secure plans and data.

Pass School Debentures.
The board of education's pared-down request for the issue of debentures totaling $171,300 was put through. Controller Hubert Ashplant moved to cut $55,000 from the amount, but he got no second, the consensus of opinion being that the estimates could stand no further trimming.

When the street railway bylaw came up, reference was made to the proposal to put air brakes on the cars. Some of the aldermen thought they were necessary if greater speed was to be made by the cars.

The alderman question is one to be taken up separately, replied the mayor. "Wouldn't it be a wise thing to buy out the street railway instead of tolerating the service we are getting now?" asked and were practically driven out of business by being forced to stand on the vacant lot south of the G. T. R. tracks. Ald. J. A. Tancock opposed giving the park commission the care of trees and boulevards, but a large majority of the council did not agree with him.

All By Day Labor.
The council accepted the recommendation of the controllers, to do all sidewalk and curb and gutter construction work by day labor. Twelve and one half cents per square foot is the price for sidewalks and from 24 to 41 cents per lineal foot, the figure for curbs and gutters. The city engineer's department was the only one to tender for the work.

The long-drawn-out session closed with the reading of a letter from City Solicitor T. G. Meredith upholding the mayor in a recent ruling. It was contended that after a motion had been put and declared carried that the yeas and nays called for, did not affect the first vote. The mayor ruled, however, that the yeas and nays were for the purpose of confirming the vote, no other business being transacted in the meantime.

Worry Stops Digestion and Destroys the Nerves

This Letter Tells of Case Which Baffled Doctors—Lasting Cure Effected By Dr. Chase's Nerve Food.

If you only worry enough digestion will stop entirely. Worry and anxiety consume nerve force at a tremendous rate. Blood rushes to the brain to renew the wasted nerve cells and other parts of the body must suffer accordingly. When nervous energy is being consumed by the brain in worry, there is not sufficient left to run the machinery of digestion. This is why nervous, irritable, worrying people usually suffer from indigestion and fail to derive from the food they eat the nourishment essential to the maintenance of health.

"Laugh and grow fat" is an old saying laden with value for nervous people in particular. Drop the worry habit and use Dr. Chase's Nerve Food and you will soon get the nervous system restored to good condition. Digestion will improve, appetite will return, and you will find such symptoms as headache and sleeplessness fast disappearing.

Mrs. Fred Jensen, 60 Gladstone avenue, Windsor, Ont., writes: "I have used Dr. Chase's Nerve Food for nervousness and stomach trouble and never found anything to equal them. I was a nervous wreck. Doctors gave me up as incurable, but now I feel well again and have recommended Dr. Chase's Nerve Food to several people suffering as I did, and they have also been cured by its use. I am fifty-one years old, do all my own work, and am very thankful that I learned about this great medicine. I am satisfied that my cure is lasting and want others to benefit from my experience."
