COMMISSION SAYS GUELPH RAILWAY HAS NEVER PAID

The City, Under the Hydro Commission Agreement, Has Not Benefited.

Only Difficult Remedial Legislation Could Better the Situation.

Canadian Press Despatch. Toronto, May 4.- The royal comnission investigating matters of expenditures and administration by the Ontario Hydro-Electric Power Commission has submitted its report on the Guelph radial railway and its acquisition by the Hydro-Electric Commission to the government. The report stated that the railway never had been financially successful. The purchase price, $150,000, payable in 20 years, half-yearly. "Under the agreement, which was ratified by the Guelph Railway act in 1921," the report says, "the city was to provide the Hydro Commission with the funds which the commission pays to the city for the railway."

Comment is made on the "involved and complicated" procedure in connection with the Hydro Commission's acquirement of the railway. No recommendations are made in the report, but it contains some unfavorable comment on matters connected with the agreement between the city of Guelph and the Hydro-Electric Commission. With reference thereto it says: "It is difficult to understand why the involved and complicated procedure which was taken to place the administration of this railway in the hands of the Hydro Commission Ino legislative authority for making twenty-five schools taking part. the agreement which had to be validated by special act, at variance in some respects with the hydro radial

Referring to the Hydro-Electric commission's engineers having estimated the cost of rehabilitation at $197,000, and the expenditures thereon having been practically $265,700, an excess of $68,700, or 35 per cent above the estimates, the report gives the commission credit for having "apparently carried out its usual policy of innocence doing the work along the most per-license manent lines."

If you decide that it is necessary to water the kitchen garden, do this the last thing in the evening, after the warm part of the day is passed. Besides your onions, the garden peas should be up now and these should be cultivated as soon as they should be cultivated as soon as they make their appearance. A fairly deep cultivation not too close to the roots is probably the best method to use in the growing of peas.

Yes, London is a Good City.

A walk through the "Made in London" exhibit that the users of their product than is warranted. is being held in the Smallman & Ingram store this week gives a fair idea of why London has so few business failures. There is a diversity that is hardly exceeded in any locality. No one line of industry is specialized ne to a standstill.

From its location, London is the distributing center Western Ontario; it has a wholesale section around which much of the trade in this district has been built for years. The development of good roads for truck hauling is increasing the radius of London's trading acres almost in the heart of the city. It has all the advantages of a large city without the disadvantages. London can stand on its merits as a clean, wholesome place for any family to live.

It is Time to Close the Door.

To what poor, low depths has discussion sunk in the Ontario Legislature when the lying hours of an sembly that is maintained by the money of the people e used to discuss these questions:

Did Andrew Hicks say what he meant about Mr. Drury, or was there anything more that he could say that was left unsaid?

It is not a place to discuss what took place at a U. F. O. or a Liberal or a Conservative caucus.

It is not a place to wash the soiled garments of disgruntled members.

It is well that the key is to be turned in the door in policy would no doubt win in debate. a few days. The situation has gone beyond control, and the public is suffering, rather than benefiting, by the continued sitting of the legislature.

London Acts and Gets Action.

It brings tears to the eyes of Toronto to think of London getting a new station that will be used for railway purposes. The Toronto Star says:

"A new day dawns for London. Sir Henry Thornton informs that city that level crossings are to be done away with and that he favors the building of a new union station. This is great news for any city to receive. Toronto has a new union station, and it is a fine thing to look at."

Toronto station is, as the Star says, a fine thing to Aook at. Residents down there have worn their pointer finger down to the first joint showing it to visitors.

There is good reason, though, for this new station in London, and for taking away all the level crossings. Sir Henry Thornton, when he was here, saw some of our street cars, reg'lar old ram-rods. He was quick to see the folly of leaving his fine big mogul engines on a level crossing where one of our street cars could come along and bore a hole through it. It takes a long time to repair one of those big engines. Sir Henry was quick to see the danger in the situation, so we're going to get

The Toronto Telegram ends one of its bombastic editorials in this way:

. . anti-public ownership Liberalism and antipublic ownership leaders such as F. Wellington Hay, M.P.P., and Hon. W. L. M. King."

London has had occasion in recent days to look closely at the affairs of Canadian National Railways as they serve this district. It has come in contact with the man who is working seriously and intelligently to ring the great organization of 100,000 men and 22,000 miles of road into a state of operating efficiency.

It is the greatest public undertaking on record. The work that is going on today is proceeding on a business basis, because Hon. W. L. M. King, maligned and ridiculed at every turn by the Toronto Telegram, had the courage to lift the Canadian Nationals out of political interference and give it a chance on a straight business

Mr. King did this thing in defiance of the wishes of ne in his own political camp; he did it in the face of emphatic "It can't be done" from the financial world. Now, in spite of this, the Toronto paper that gets its ditical vision through a knothole seeks to hinder the work by silly references to the "anti-public ownership Hon. W. L. M. King."

Too Much Money a Drawback.

John D. Rockefeller, junr., has a number of police en on guard around his place to protect his property

Yesterday he was trying to leave his home when he was accosted by a man who had a dagger and several other instruments of a like nature. Rockefeller evaded him, and the police had to have assistance to club the interrupter into a state of submission.

It is not all sunshine being one of the world's Thy righteousness is like the great mountains; thy judgments are a mighty deep.—Psalms 36:6.

The mountains and the sea are alike in grandeur, but in the quality of their greatness they are very different.

For the sea is ever moving, changing, flowing to and fro. ut the mountains are fixed, durable, undisturbed in majesty.

Even so to faith the central fact of the universe is the unalterable righteousness of the Eternal, who can do no evil, tell no falsehood, commit no injustice. He changes not; and in this we can rest secure, that He will right every wrong, and deal fairly with every creature.

But His judgments-the ways and means by which the Eternal Will is now working in conjunction or in conflict with human wills-seem to us as changeful and mysterious as the flowing tides and currents of the ocean and all the secrets that they cover. They are unsearchable; at times they seem cruel and hostile; they sweep over us like billows; they are like a flood of destruction. Then, if our souls would escape shipwreck, we must look beyond the tossing, changeful, incomprehensible sea of life, to the immutable mountains of Divine righteousness—the unshaken pillars of the world. -(Copyright, 1923, by the Republic Syndicate.)

Engineers Explain the Proper Method of Placing Product in Furnace.

Major R. B. Ross, of 35 Gerrard avenue, has received a report from Milton Hersey & Co., industrial chemists and engineers of Montreal, as to an analysis made by them of a sample of Alberta coal supplied by The Advertiser. This analysis shows the following results:

Total combustible matter, per

Only a little coal should be fired at a time, and this should be put on immediately in front of the fire door, and after it has coked shoved back over the body

The report contains analysis of Alberta, American bituminous and anthracite coal in tabulated form, and

"You will note that the Alberta coal has only a little lower heating value han the average anthracite coal received in Ontario today. It is, of course, a bituminous coal, and would naturally be compared with American bituminous coals."

Associated Press Despatch. London, May 4.- Lawyers and laymen are eagerly gossiping over the Birkenhead-Simon tussle in the House of Lords, with the lords sitting as a judicial court, and evidently the last of the matter has not yet been heard. Sir John Simon has announced his intention to obtain the opinions of the lord chancellor and attorney-general on the question of the Lord Birkenhead's right to reprimand him, because he was not present on Wednesday, when a case was called, in which he was counsel. Sir John wishes to know what the ead of the bench and the head of the bar think about it.

In announcing the steps he intend-ome than a square meal to the big string of senior contestants, for they delayed one to play in it, and the turnout at Tecumseh Park brought a smile of contentment to Coach Gil Forgue's visage. After the gloomy weather conditions of last Monday, the summery warmth generated plenty of action, and the boys were sent through the best workout yet staged.

Some of the new lads are labelled as 'finds," more because they're new or comparatively new to London fans than because they have their jobs cinched. None of the aspirants has reached that stage yet, but some of them have shown something like an edge over other competitors.

This Coleman, a husky youth, at present attending Western University, displays all the earmarks of a third tacker, and, from his showing at that station yesterday, has covered the sack He was digging them out of tne dirt from both sides, and not occasionally made some of the hard ones courate. He'll bear watching, this boy, although Southcott, for one, is eading him a dizzy pace for the job.

Then there's our old friend Dunc McLean of Toronto University, he of the old "Y" junior basketball champs, and quite some ball-tosser too in those days two or three years ago. Dunc deserted the home field for the Northern Ontario bushes, or thereabouts, a few seasons back, and in odd moments was found wearing a Timmins uniform around the northern wilds.

farently, was to give him the pink fush of excellent health, an eye for all He worked out at short yesterday, and he looked good. So did Mulhall, Toots Loherty and others—so there you are. It's going to be some fight for the shortstopping job, and it's altogether too soon to pick 'em, even on paper. Reilly, on first, seems to be the only man whose measurements for a suit taken with safety.

Coach Forgue had the pitchers shag-ging flies for a while. They and the outfielders were running the floaters down nicely, and for probably the first time since the workouts have started the boys have "worked up" a sweat. Tomorrow will be a big day, and Manager Stein and Coach Forgue have planned a full day's work. There

ORIENTS OUT, TOO.

ORIENTS OUT, TOO.

Orients, although they have lost several of last year's stars, should be strong again this year. Manager Frank Tucker seems to have grown a fresh crop of youths to fill the holes with, and he has them fighting for the few odd jobs.

They drilled again last night, and some of the kids showed surprising speed, even on that old infield of hills and valleys and stones at Queen's Park.

"Tuck" has as many, as eight heavers nicely lined up to show their wares. After a club loses its entire hurling corps there's nothing to do but scarch. The pitchers out last night were held well in hand, but there is plenty of time yet to cut loose.

The eight hurlers Manager Tucker has signed up are: "Yankee' Flint, Minhinnick, Quick, Warner, Olliver, McVicar, Schute and Russell. So far he has succeded in landing just one catcher to replace Armstrong, but that one is a good one, in Gardiner, last year with St. Michael's C. A. A. A. team.

There are ten contenders for the four infield assignments, and by the finish of Saturday's drill it should be pared somewhat. "Dutch" Logan is back in town, and turned out last night. "Hal" Watts, Johnnie Burgess, Finlayson, Bennett, Walker, Devinney, Mohan, W. Rowe and Barrows were run through a fast infield test.

The outfielders signed are "Dooley" Milligan, G. Smith, E. Boss, Ruddy, in Harold Logan and H. Gillies.

Down the Line In All Sports

The fact that Hamilton and London have both been getting drubbed over in Michigan and good and plenty has the fans scratching their brows. It had been freely whispered that if there was any weakness apparent in the Mint this year it would be from the clubs who had their mail sent to the late Central League. Muskegon club doesn't look very weak when they the late Central League. Muskegon club doesn't look very weak when they outslug Hamilton. Some of the fans have thought perhaps that Mackey's the vagaries, hops, skids, jumps and twists that a grounder is known to take, and a beautiful throwing arm. just likely a case of getting caught starting off on the wrong foot.

Saturday's senior workout will perhaps be a game between the "Regulars" and "Yannigans," which will give Messrs Stein and Forgue a chance to see their willing squad work under actual conditions. The affair is getting more and more complicated every day, with new finds being made for various positions. There is a scrap on for every infield berth except one, and outfielders, and good ones, too, are so numerous that the choice here will take a lot of fine, careful combing.

Sailing for England on the Homeric are A. Walpole Craigie and Tex O'Rourke. In the midst of this matter-of-fact age here are two men putting to set in quest of a dream.

Columbus sailed westward, led by a vision of a land he had never seen. These two sail eastward, led by a vision of a man they have never seen. They are going to try to discover a Briton who can be shaped into a heavyweight champion of the world.

They have long dreams across the water of finding a fighter capable of battling for the heavyweight crown. For a moment they have thought they glimpsed him in such fighters as Bombardier Wells or Joe Beckett. Their disappointments have been many.

Now they propose to go about the thing scientifically. Backed by syndicate of British sportsmen, Mr. Craigie is taking Tex o'Rourke over to is really comb all England for the most likely prospect, and, having found him, to the spring. This does not hold at all. Instead of being optimistic about baseball recruits in the springtime the expert now gives them a very cold look through a very fishy eye.

Take the case of Fred Johnson, the recruit pitcher who was acquired from San Antonio this spring. Frederick did not look good to anybody in this spring workout agreed that Frederick never would make the majors.

If I remember correctly, the Giants wanted to dump Frederick is to that his beloved ones can see him action. When a fighter with a "rep" is a mood of that sort promoters are never lacking to meet his needs. Specifically, that live wire firm of Taylor and Gunnis, who are going to run open air boxing at the Phillies ball park, is interested in fitting Firpo with an able opponent. Floyd Johnson, Gibbons, Frederick never would make the majors. If I remember correctly, the Giants wanted to dump Frederick right did not want Johnson, he said. Nobody wanted him. The Giants had

The Giants had taken him over and were responsible for seeing that he was carried beyond the city limits of San Antonio. So it was that Mr. Johnson was tucked into an upper berth and taken North. They kept him in the car to balance Long The other day, with the rest of the Giant pitching staff going not so him, got out and beat the Dodgers. The same experts who had sentenced him to the minors for life discovered suddenly that he had everything.

Change that baseball axiom to "They all look bad in the spring."

A studied effort to find a real English heavyweight is not new. It has been tried several times before. It was as a result of a trip to England in search of talent by Billy Madden that Charley Mitchell was discovered. But none of the other attempts had either the personal or financial backing that this will have. The names of the men forming the syndicate have not been disclosed, beyond the fact that John McE. Bowman, Canadian born and greatly interested in the project, will handle the American end of affairs. Our own Tommy Burns, who runs a "pub" up Newcastle way, has been on the lookout for a British heavyweight, and his search hasn't been very successful.

The northern season will open May 5 at the Maple Heights track, Cleveland. Improvements in this track, one of the newest in the country, have made it one of the finest racing places in the northern section, and judging from the orders from owners for stable room the first meeting's going to be a hummer. Stables from New Orleans, Tia Juana, Mobile, Maryland and Kentucky, the big racing centers, already are being

An indication that easterners and southerners, greatest followers of the game, are taking an nterest in the Ohio meet is seen in the fact that the New York Jockey Club, comprising in its membership the blue blood of the racing followers, will watch several of its entries in the meeting. REAL INSPIRATION

Mrs. Williams Impressed By Value of Provincial I.O. D.L. Organization

"It was my first out-of-town I.O. convention, and I can assure you I found it most inspiring, rub-bing shoulders with so many women who are doing the same kind of work we are attempting to do here."

The speaker was Mrs. Williamss, 'Bishopstowe," after her return home from Hamilton, where she repre-sented the London Municipal Chap-ter I.O.D.E. this week at the annual neeting of the Ontario Provincial

"One thing which impressed me," she continued, "was the value of the provincial chapter in this province. If it is necessary in Ontario, where we have the national headquarters in Toronto and whom we have the second the in Toronto, and where we have such a large I.O.D.E. membership, closely connected, it struck me it must be very much more necessary in say provinces like those of the west, which are so far away from the na-tional center, and have a very scattered population.
"It struck me also that the provincial chapter must be doing a great deal of work, probably detail work, that was formerly done by the national organization, thereby reliev-ing the national for larger work of a national character.

Approves Tax.

"A new policy inaugurated at this meeting, which I strongly favored. was imposing a small per capita tax on primary chapters for provin-cial expenses. The provincial offi-cers have a great deal of work to do, for which clerical assistance is a necessity, or at least would save them a great deal. The fund raised will provide for this, and also make possible visiting of chapters by pro-vincial officers where this is asked, in order to bring new inspiration, or to elucidate difficult problems." "We all regretted very much that Mrs. Burkholder, the provincial president, was unable to preside, owing to illness. A life membership was sent to her from the convention, and she sent back a most gracious and grateful letter of thanks."

Flowers were showened upon all the officers, in token of appreciation, and gold pens presented to Miss Margaret Edwards, retiring treasur-er, and Mrs. Malcolmson of St.

The next general meeting is to be held in Windsor in November. By the way, Mrs. A. E. Miller is again a councillor.
"I was pleased that London was very well represented by delegates from the primary chapters."

CHATHAM CLUB.

The Chatham Women's Canadian Club re-elected Mrs. W. H. Westman president at the annual meeting this president at the annual meeting this week. Other officers are: First vice-president, Mrs. Wm. Anderson; second vice-president, Mrs. M. Punchard; recording secretary, Mrs. D. McLachlan; corresponding secretary, Miss M. Austin; treasurer, Mrs. W. N. Sexsmith; council, Mrs. C. R. Chauteris, Mrs. W. J. Twohey, Mrs. H. W. Crews, Miss J. Houston and Miss L. Green.

Mrs. Westman gave a summary of the year's activities, the club having had addresses by Nina Moore Jamieson, Mr. Fred Landon, Miss M. Black, Victor Lauriston, Mrs. R. F. McWilliams, Dr. A. E. Marty, Inspector J. H. Smith, R. L. Brackin, K.C., W. N. Sexsmith, Miss M. Abraham, and Professor Dale.

All the work in the way of improving the grounds for the use of tourists and picnickers will be completed within a short time.

ABOUT DEPORTATION

Opposition Leader Claims That Changes Made During 1919 Were Not Unjust.

Canadian Press Despatch Ottawa, May 4.-Changes made in the immigration act during the Winnipeg strike of 1919 found an echo in the house yesterday during discussion of a bill to amend the act. The reference was particularly to a clause in the bill regarding prohibited or undesirable classes.

Right Hon. Arthur Meighen, op-osition leader, said the old legislation had tided over a very difficult period and resulted in no injustice to anyone. J. S. Woodworth, Labor member for Centre Winnipeg, de-clared it had been little more than Progress was reported on the bill, which therefore, will again be before the house in committee. E. J. McMurray (Liberal, North Winnipeg) protested against the clause, because, he said, it would permit the deportation of a British citizen who had, perhaps, been in Canada for four years, and who became involved in any way in a riot. It was going too far to deport a British citi-zen who had made his home here for a number of years without giving Right Hon. Arthur Meighen thought the minister intended repealing section 42 of the old act, which provides deportation of British citizens for certain causes.

AVERAGE PRICE LEVEL UNDER YEAR'S RECORD

Declines General and Not Justified by Present Business Conditions.

By STUART P. WEST.

Special to The Advertiser. New York, May 4 .- New low prices for the year were reached on the stock exchange today. In other words, the average level was well under its lowest of January, before the extraordinary recovery of the two ensuing months. With all that is to be said for the let-up in the buying movement in various industrial lines and the easing of ous industrial lines and the easing of prices, this decline has been altogether excessive. It cannot be justified by any same reasoning either with regard to present business conditions or with regard to the future.

It simply illustrates that in the type of market which Wall street has had for the last year or more, where the investing public has been a small factor and where big speculators are in control, the swings are equally extreme in both directions.

The market went to undue lengths in both directions.

The market went to undue lengths in the break last November, as was quickly demonstrated by the promptness of the December recovery. It went just as far the other way in February and March, when exaggerated ideas regarding the "trade boom" were the fashion. It has gone quite as much to an extreme in the reaction of the last six weeks.

it has gone quite as much to an extreme in the reaction of the last six weeks.

What happened during the first half of the trading today was nothing more than forced liquidation, which always comes toward the culmination of a prolonged and severe decline. Those who were pitching over stocks for anything they would bring were, of course, doing so regardless of any question of value, but simply because their individual position had become such that they were compelled to sell. The most violent decline naturally occurred in some of the industrial specialties which had been put up the most recklessly in the winter, campaign. But it was also astonishing to see railway stocks sell at new lows for the year in face of the latest figures on car loadings, showing that the present volume of traffic is heavier than at any time so far.

This was an instance of which many more could be cited of the small relations between today's price movement and business conditions on the outside. Similarly, the urgent selling movement in the sugars has entirely lost sight of the fact that a number of the Cuban producers, whose stocks have been going down so fast, have sold the bulk of their 1923 output on the rising market which ended ten days ago. Therefore, they have no cause to be seriously alarmed whether anything comes of the "sugar boycott." The low prices were reached in the early afternoon. Buying by people who are in the habit of waiting for just such a period of demoralization to enter the market then began to show and prices turned upward.

WALL STREET FEATURES.

Coffee was quoted: May, $10.33; July, $9.73; Sept., $8.73; Dec., $8.30; March, $8.28; Raw sugar: May, $5.36; July, $5.44; Sept., $5.51; Dec., $5.02; Jan., $4.47; March, $4.02. Sugar shares melted away as the trogress of the so-called sugar boycott was brought to attention. Refiners took cognizance of the fact, and dropped their prices. Cuban raws were sold down to 6c a pound, and shares of companies most affected declined in proportion. Cuban-American and Cuba Cane issues, as well the Punta Alegre, representing some of the principal growing countries, lost from 2 to 4 points, while American Sugar's decline was confined to about a point.

Company, apparently were disregarded, notwithstanding their optimism.

Stop-loss orders were apparently caught near the close, this opinion strengthening as Alcohol declined 1½ between sales, for a net loss of 3% on the day. Bullish gossip still was heard on tobacco shares, but insiders were giving no outward evidence of support, unless it be in American Tobacco, which maintained a strong position when others of the group were declining.

NEW YORK CURB Reported for The Advertiser by Jones, representing some of the principal growing countries, lost from 2 to 4 points, while American Sugar's decline was confined to about a point.

There was irregularity in the equipment group, which the street considered all the more significant, as it had borne up bravely through recent attacks on the industrial list. With Pullman off 4. American Locomotive off 3 and Baldwin down 4, the extent of selling may be realized, as it invaded high-priced issues along with the cheaper-priced stocks. And in the wave of heapy selling the published remarks of Samuel V Varieties.

That no market was complete without effect on Studebaker was demonstrated in a three-point drop in this industrial leader. It had been strong early, as virtually the entire list appeared to be right after the opening, but floor traders were credited with putting out some new short lines, and, after a period or two of rallying spurts, they motor shares fell back as the onslaught against values became more general.

General Motors again came to the fore as a leader among the motor stocks, and in the early activity got to within a small fraction of its previous top price. That unusual efforts were being made to make the market for these shares look good was the opinion among commission brokers, a fact that seemed to be borne out in part by the appearance of two houses as large buyers of the stock, each taking 10,000 shares in one block. It was natural that the rejuvenation of this stock as a speculative leader should infuse new life into Dupont shares, which were marked up some five points before the general reaction developed.

Stop-loss orders were apparently conditioned to the property of the stock of the stock

New York, May 4.—The market for cotton cloths was extremely quiet to-day, in spite of the slightly stronger tone of the raw cotton opening. Business in the standard print cloths was of small volume, with 64x60s about unchanged at 10%c, and 60x72s at 12c.

There was less evidence of willingness on the part of second hands to shade prices, however. Sheetings were dull, and buying of sateens, drills and twills was confined to small losses.

Ra wsilk was slightly lower in quotations on some grades, and sales both here and in Yokohama were of small proportions.

Boston, May 4.—The wool market here today failed to develop any enthusiasm and practically all dealings were confined to foreign wools, as but little of the 1923 domestic clip has as yet reached Boston. This is regarded as equivalent to about $1.15 in London.

WEEKS HAY OFFERNGS

TOTAL HUNDRED LOADS

Winnipeg, May 3.—Trade was largely of a loctal character on the wheat market here today, with a little spreading between May and July going on Ellevator interests are carriers were taking May at 2½c to 2½c discount. The close was ¾c lower for May, ¾c down for July and ½c down for October.

In spite of the fact that the receipts of hay at the local market tor the first four days of this week ran into a total of $0 loads, there were slightly over 20 deliveries this morning. The heavy offerings of the forepart of the week more than met the demand, with the result that sales at present are very slow and prices have receded to the week more than met the demand, with the extent of another dollar or so a ton. The quotations are now $10 to $12, as compared with $14 to $16 per ton on Monday last. New York, May 3.—The raw sugar market was easier today under increased offerings of Porto Ricos, with only a light demand. There were sales of 15.000 bags of Porto Ricos to a local refiner at $7.91 for centrifugal, equal to 61/2c, cost and freight, for Cubas, or 1/2c below the last previous sales.

The refined market was easier, owing to the decline in raws, and prices were lewered 50 points by one refiner to the basis of $9.50 for fine granulated. Others were unchanged at $10 to $10.15. Busi-

Hardly Believable So Much Gold Exists In Any One Area

"Who are behind it?"

Isn't that one of the first questions you ask yourself before investing your money?

Do you realize what a big factor the board of directors play in any enterprize?

The reputation of a successful business man in any community is too valuable to permit him to associate himself with any but reputable companies.

No gold mining property has ever had on its board of directorate a stronger group than that associated with the Matachewan Canadian

Gold Limited. These men would never have allowed their names to appear as directors of the Company if they had not first convinced themselves that this Company had something more than a prospect.

How did they find this out? By a comprehensive and intelligent program of development, comprising over 19,000 feet of surface trenching, shaft sinking, drifting and diamond drilling. Seventy diamond drill holes were put down to an average depth of 250 feet. Every one of them showed the presence of gold, and payable values were maintained to a depth of 350 feet. And the most striking result of this diamond drilling was the remarkable uniformity of the run of the ore, and all indications point to this ore extending to great depth.

In only one or two cases was ore encountered which was not of commercial value.

The ore bodies were unusual, measuring in most cases many feet in width. No other known mine in Northern Ontario at the same stage of development has shown such a quantity of profitable ore.

If you live in or near Toronto, it will be worth your while to visit our offices and see the results of the diamond drilling and records of other work.

It is hardly believable that so much gold exists all over any single area as has been encountered in the Matachewan Canadian Gold,

After you have examined the results of the diamond drilling, you will say, as so many others have, "This certainly looks like another Hollinger."

If it is not convenient for you to come to our office, why don't you write to-day for prospectus?

It gives you some facts about the results of the diamond drilling, and other work done, the names of the directors and other interesting information about this property. We are now offering for public subscription 600,000 shares of the stock of the Matachewan Canadian Gold Limited at $1.00 (par Already over $500,000 has been spent in acquiring and developing the property to its present stage, and it is to mine the ore and build a mill that the present offering is made.

the development and working of the Matachewan Canadian Gold Mines, Limited, have arrived at the property. The latest shipments includes motors and hoists for shaft sinking and general work. The Great Northern Power Company is rushing completion of the power plant at Indian Chutes, and expects to be in a position to supply power to the Matachewan about May 20.

Latest word from the north is to the effect that a section four inches wide Clarkson, liquidator of the L. R. Steel

Symms has filed with the master of the supreme court a statement of the claims of creditors of the company.

The total ordinary claims are $887,213.57 and the total preferred $4.695.14.
The ordinary claims are subdivided as follows:

At the annual meeting of the Mon treal-Ontario Mines. Limited, it was stated that the company has ample money on hand to do the necessary development work in order to put the property on a producing basis. The president reported the mine was in operation, working day and night, cross-cutting into the vein in the porphyry, and that exciting news could be expected in the pear failure. expected in the near future.

The Tonopah Mining Company has lost no time in implementing the deal with the King-Kirkland. Immediately following the ratification by the share-holders of the latter company, M. B. Huston, representing the Tonopah, left for Kirkland Lake to take possession and begin development. It is expected that the monthly expenditure on the king will be at least $10,000. Before the end of the summer there should be some results of a decisive character as to the future of the King. The Tonopah have invariably pushed operations on all the properties in Canada with which they have heretofore been connected.

The Matachewan Canadian Gold, Limited, which has an issued capital of $3.330,007, is making its first public offering of treasury stock at par, or $1 per share. The company, which has a toard of directors made up of men of strong financial and business standing, adopted the favorable course of proving up a large body of pay ore at their properties by exhaustive diamond drilling and underground development work before appealing to the public for capital. Initial development work which cost nearly half a million dollars was carried on some time ago with such The Matachewan Canadian Gold, Limcost nearly half a million dollars was carried on some time ago with such favorable results that the erection of a mill and development for production was warranted. Now that hydro-electric, generated by the Great Northern Power Company, is available, development for production and the building of a 300-ton mill can proceed, and it is for this that the offering of 600,000 shares of treasury stock is being made. The property is a large one, and the ore bodies opened up and indicated are of big proportions, apparently of average bodies opened up and indicated are of big proportions, apparently of average high grade. The properties are located in the Matachewan camp, and engineers who have examined the areas view them favorably, because of the excel-lent formation of the shear zone and their extent. The enterprise has evi-dently passed beyond the prospect stage.

Desrochers informed him that the doctor was not in. The sufferer moaned. "Will you take it out?"

WANT AD TIPS

"MAKE ME AN OFFER" The etiquette of trade gives to the seller the first overture -the setting of a price on the offered article or service. This suits sellers in most, but not all, situations. The best plan for the seller sometimes is to put in his Want Ad, instead of a price, the invitation, "Make me an offer." This will often produce a sale. "Make me an offer" was the solution, for example, of the owner of a stock of second-hand lumber. He was going out of business, and wished to sell the entire lot. Buying the material. he planned to sell in small lots to farmers and others, and he proceeded along this line for several months, when circumstances compelled him to close out the enterprise. A very little investigation sufficed to show that he had something to sell which it was difficult to sell in a hurry. A "special sale," through Want Ads, to retail customers, had reduced the stock, but left it still large. The retail market, the owner felt, temporarily, was saturated. Other buyers of a stock of second-hand lumber he could not find-until he used a "Make me an offer" Want Ad. In the language of trade, "Make me an offer" usually means that the seller is anxious to sell, perhaps must sell, and will take the best that he can get. Three Want Ad readers sized the situation up thus: One was a retired farmer, intrigued by the thought of a little side speculation. Another was a blacksmith, who believed he was situated to sell the material out. A third was an auctioneer. The advertiser sold to the highest bidder of the three. This general method is one to try after others have failed. You have something which is difficult to sell quickly. Attempts to find a buyer have failed. Then you use a Want Ad containing the request, "Make me an offer." You find buyers you did not suspect existed! The fact that they are keen for a bargain will not seriously disturb you, since you face an emergency.

The Colonel's Story.

They were sitting around a stove and the tobacco was passed around. They began to grow introspective.

The talk turned upon their old homes, and the changes that the cycling years bring about. They had lived in Houston for many years, but only one was a native Texan.

The Colonel hailed from Alabama, the judge was born in the swamps of Mississippi, the grocer first saw the light in a frozen town of Maine, and the major proudly claimed Tennessee as his birthplace.

"Have any of you fellows been home since you left there?" asked the colonel.

The judge had been back twice in itwenty years; the major once; the grocer never.

"It's a curious feeling," said the colonel, "to go back to the old home where you were raised, after an absence of fifteen years. It is like seeing ghosts to be among people whom you have not seen in so long a time. Now, I went back to Crosstree, Alabama, just fifteen years after I left there. The impression made upon me was one that will never be obliterated.

"There was a girl in Crosstreer once that I loved better than anything in the world. One day I slipped away from everybody and went down to the little grove where "There was a girl in Crosstreed once that I loved better than anything in the world. One day I slipped away from everybody and went down to the little grove where I used to walk with her. I walked along the paths we used to tread. The oaks along the sides had scarcely changed; the little blue flowers on either hand might have been the same ones she used to twine in her hair when she came to meet me.

"Our favorite walk had been along a line of thick laurels beyond which ran a little stream. Everything was the same. There was no change there to oppress my heart. Above were the same great sycamores and poplars; there can the same brook: my feet to harry hie, and telling her to leave her answer in the old tree. She must have done so, and I never got to it; and all those years have rolled away since."

The crowd was silent. The major wiped his eyes, and the judge sniffed a little. They were middle-aged men now, but they, too, had known love.

"And then," said the grocer, "you left right away for Texas, and never saw her again?"

"No," said the colonel. "When I didn't come round that night, she sent her father after me, and we were married two months later. She and the five kids are up at the house now. Pass the tobacco, please."

BOUGHNER

So Golden-Haired Bride-Elect Bought All She Tried

WAS FRIEND ENVIOUS

Type Declared Her Hus ad Would Not Tolerate Them.

"My husband simply won't permit me to wear boudoir caps. He thinks they are so untidy. He abominates them," said the young matron virtuously as the June bride-to-be headed her yesterday in the direction of the boudoir cap section of a big London

June bride smiled a wicked little smile as much as to say, "Now I wonder why!"

She knew perfectly well that boudoir cap, even in its most glorified edition, never looks its best on the sleek haired type of person, who parts her shiny brown hair in the middle, draws in a neat knot at the back of her neat head, dons sports or tailored attire and looks her very best. She may be an ideal home-maker, a born interior decorator, an affectionate wife and tender mother, but she just naturally doesn't fit into a fluffy setting.

Bride-to-be is another story. Her locks aren't bobbed, even if they give the impression. Her golden wig (all her own) just can't help curling up cheerfully and lightly. Her big, dark brown eyes are never so shin-ing a contrast to the waves of gol-den hair, the delicate rose and cream white of her complexion as when neering husbands. "Show me boudoir caps," she said sweetly to the young woman in smart black who was immediately all admiring attention.

Whips Off Hat.

June bride whipped off her saucy little spring touque and turned her attention first to a morsel of pale pink georgette for a crown, combin with dainty creamy lace, decked with knots of little French flowers in pastel shades, and finished with twisted band of rose satin ribbon and perky bows.

She tried it on, turned to the mircor, and the deed was done.
"I'll have that," she said.

Just then, her attention was caught by the blue she liked best in crepe de chene, a deep band of lace to de chene, a deep band of lace to fit around her head, points sticking out saucily over the ears, and, a contrast in a narrow sash of old gold grosgrain ribbon, tied in bows and ends to hang down at the back So irresistibly mischievous the vision which flirted back at her from the mirror that she exclaimed "I simply must have that to wear with my raw silk kimona. It's so for traveling."

Then she spied one of apricot mauve and filmy lace with an emphasizing touch in violet. Her "Tweeds."

"Won't I look just like a sad, young widow," she exclaimed audaciously, managing to look very demure. "Yes, I'll take the mauve." protested the bewildered. and rather shocked young matron friend, "You don't want all those caps? I wouldn't wear out that umber in a life time

"I will," said the charming young "Of course, I just intended to buy one, but, really, don't you think these are fascinating?" "On you, perhaps, but my hus-

Polite as she is, as a rule, brideto-be didn't wait for the latest bul-letin about "my husband." She had something else which chained her attention and overpowered her economy and prudence. It was crepe de chene, just in the shade of the loveliest deep rose pink roses, made like a regular bonnet The fabric gathered into an elastic made like a regular bonnet. at the back, the fullness in front distributed along a wide band of reamy beige lace, which flapped out in forward curling scallops on either side, just where the shell-like ears were in hiding. Band was held in its place by invisible wiring, and loops of rose ribbon added just one more touch of coquettishnes Beneath it peeked out the golden

Bride-to-be was in ecstasy, and even young matron admitted it was just the one thing needed to go with a "heavenly" rose negligee, about which opinions had been divided a few minutes before.

"Of course," said young matron,
"if you want to squander your money that way, and you think Jim will approve of boudoir caps, why, I suppose it is all right, but, now, my

June bride wasn't paying attention. She was counting out the money for the caps, and figuring out in her pretty head to see if she had enough left to buy the negligee, too.

THE IRRITABLE CHILD. Most grown-ups seem to forget that child cannot describe his physical symptoms the way they can. PRESENTS ABLE PAPER ON SIR LOMER GOUIN

Mrs. Detwiler Advises Educational Chapter To Watch His Career.

Giving an illuminating paper on the subject of "Sir Lomer Gouin, Canadian Statesman," at the meeting of the Nicholas Wilson Chapter, I. O. D. E., held in the home of the regent, Mrs. G. L. Macdonald, Mrs. J. D. Detwiler referred to the fact he had been spoken of as "The Sphinx of Canadian Public Life.'

"He is a man of outstanding ability, efficient, cool, collected, impassive," she continued. Introducing the subject, the speaker drew attention to the position in which the Liberal government finds itself at Ottawa, due to the French bloc, led by Sir Lomer. Following this, a careful review was given of Sir Lomer's life, and the qualities which fit him for administration of public affairs.

"Sir Lomer's administration in his native Province of Quebec," she said,

"was marked by important reforms and advancement in the realms of education, finance, agriculture, commerce, colonization, etc. He has broad views, great energy and unimpeachable integrity. At present he is probably the most interesting figure that has arisen on the political horizon of our Dominion. We will do well to follow the career of the power behind the throne in Canada."

Arrangements were made at the meeting for the presentation of a patriotic picture to the Central Colegiate next week by Mrs. G. L. Macdonald on behalf of the chapter, and also for presentation of the gold medal offered for an oratorical contest in the school, and captured by Miss Ruth Fox. This will be done next Wednesday morning, it is understood. At the tea hour the hostess was assisted by Mrs. Fred Whitton.

Outside, she said hastily: "Come in here. Mother Bee has a case on her hands. A girl has come here with a man's address on a slip of paper and the address reads this house, and we never heard of him.
